Delaware 'Arctic' ...

The beach at Bowers doesn't look very inviting this time of year during the frigid temperatures Delaware continues to experience. One could almost imagine a polar bear or penguin finding himself at home in the present setting. Delaware seems to be in for more of the cold as long range forecasts call for further temperature dips.

...at Bowers Beach

The Bowers dock with a few of its many boats usually tied up alongside are encased in ice as the weather continues to be more of the same, cold. A few ducks take advantage of the ice ledge to rest before venturing out into the water. Most humans, however, would like to see the ice leave. Photos by Ray Blanchette

Lake Forest Views Corporal Punishment

FELTON. The Lake Forest School District will hold a hearing Tuesday night to discuss the district's policy regarding corporal punishment. The meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. at the Lake Forest High School cafeteria.

The district has been working on the draft to be presented Thursday night since October. The resulting draft has been through weekly meetings and the efforts of a committee of 18.

The district must formulate a policy dealing with punishment within the district in accordance with a ruling from the State Department of Public Instruction as through dictate of the State Board of Education.

When the draft is completed, it will be given to the local school board for final consideration before passage.

The proposed policy returns corporal punishment to individual teachers where necessary, according to Delaware Code. It will include spanking, paddling, forceful pressure on the shoulder or arms to gain students' attention or to restrain them, or slapping a student on the hand.

"Physical contact in any vital area such as the head, neck or solar plexis, use of the feet or fists, throwing objects at students' will be prohibited.

The current policy prohibits corporal punishment by teachers. It may only be administered by a principal or superintendent.

William Griffin, Lake Forest High School principal says he hopes there will be parent input into the formulation of the new policy.

Anyone interested in obtaining a copy of the three-page proposed draft should contact the school offices prior to the meeting.

The Houston Council held a special meeting Tuesday night after press time.

The subject of the meeting was unknown, but is believed to concern town leadership, a question in recent weeks.

Watch next week's paper for details.

Alumni Offer Scholarships

The Felton Alumni Association has announced applications are now available for their annual scholarships to Lake Forest seniors.

All seniors who attended the Lake Forest High School who intend to further their education are urged to apply for the scholarships. There are no limitations established as far as the type of training, whether it is college, nursing, business school or a vocational school.

The requirements necessary include: a personal interview before the scholarship committee, attendance at the Association's annual banquet April 30 if selected as a scholarship recipient, relinquishment of the scholarship if recipient receives a scholarship from another alumni association.

Applications are available at the Lake Forest High School Guidance Office and must be submitted to the guidance office by March 1. No applications will be accepted after this date.

May Deal 'Crippling Blow'

Rail Hearings Begin Again

DOVER. A series of public hearings conducted by the Rail Services Planning Office of the Interstate Commerce Commission began Monday, at the Department of Highways and Transportation, and will run the course of the Delmarva Peninsula during this week.

Concern over the handling of this branch of the Penn Central by Conrail prompted the hearings, the content of which has primarily been said before. However, concern is being registered because federal subsidy for the rail system terminates on April 1.

Among those calling for action was Senator Bill Roth, who stated a cut in rail service for southern Delaware "could deal a crippling blow to the area's economy." He cited the poultry and farming industries as particularly dependent on the railroads, whose products' prices without the railroads could be forced higher than those from competing states. He called the preservation of the rail service in Delmarva "absolutely imperative."

To quote freshman congressman Tom Evans "The carfloat operation across the Chesapeake Bay will probably be forced to stop, thus severing the North-South railway artery unless action is taken. If and when that happens the Delmarva will become an unused siding for commerce, instead of a mainline partner."

In the summer of 1974, several were eying the Delmarva branch of Penn-Central with a great deal of interest. Among these were Southern Railroad and the Eastern Shore Railroad Company. Southern did not have a representative spokesman at the hearing in Dover Monday, and Mark Love, a director of the Eastern Shore Railroad Company, said he and Martin T. Dyke, another director of Eastern, had received notification of the hearings. Otherwise they could probably not have attended.

Dyke presented a four and a half page comment on his company's view regarding the current position his company holds, which calls for Congressional legislation to enable a buyer to take supplemental transfer of the Delmarva portion of the line and to amend the Regional Rail Reorganization Act of 1973, which currently prohibits any concern other than an existing railroad from acquiring the Delmarva Rail, which is in the geographic area encompassed by the Act. (Continued to page 9.)

Woodbridge Board Plans Superintendent Selection

BRIDGEVILLE. With Dr. Foster Flint's formal announcement of retirement at last month's Board meeting, the Woodbridge School Board members started in motion at last Wednesday's meeting a proposed plan for screening applicants for the Superintendent's position of the Woodbridge School District as well as the procedure to follow for the replacement of several positions in the District.

Charles Davis, the most recently elected member to the Board, submitted detailed plans for selecting a successor to the vacant positions at Woodbridge for the coming academic year. The following motion was made by Davis:

"I move that for the positions (openings) of Superintendent, Administrative Assistant, and all building principals a Screening Committee be established. The Screening Committee shall consist of all Board members (The President of the Board shall be the Chairman of the Screening Committee), all administrative personnel (excepting those that have applied for the position), and no less than five (5) teachers with these stipulations: 1) For the position of Superintendent and Administrative Assistant there shall be one (1) teacher from Woodbridge High School; one (1) teacher from Bridgeville Elementary; one (1) teacher from North Bridgeville and two (2) teachers from Greenwood (one Jr. High and one Elementary). In the case of a building principal, all five (5) teachers shall be from that building. In the case of the Reading Supervisor for the District, at least two reading personnel should be in attendance for the interviews. All Screening Committees shall have one (1) representative from each P.T.A. Organization in the District.

"The Screening Committee shall review all completed applications, as a Committee. The Committee shall be involved with all interviews. The committee shall recommend to the Board, but the Board shall have final approval on all applicants, and finalization of the position.

"Teachers for the Screening Committee shall be selected at a full staff meeting of teachers in each building involved."

The motion failed to receive a second, and after much delay Board member Robert Messick of Farmington moved to table Davis' motion, which was seconded by William Vanderwende. Messick then explained to the other Board members and in particular Davis that "...I am not opposed to the motion setting up a screening committee. I feel the motion enables too many people to become involved in the actual selection of the applicants. There is a danger that nothing could be accomplished". President of the School Board Dr. R. Beckert requested Davis to revise the screening plan to enable the process of final selection of Superintendent, Administrative Assistant, and building principals to be accomplished swiftly.

Board member William Tull suggested that people within the school district be given preference over applicants from outside the school district. The proposal was put down by Davis and Sussex County Administrator, Joseph Conaway, a former principal in the Woodbridge School District and who also served under Dr. Flint, when called upon to explain whether or not this would go against the standards set by EEOC (Equal Employment Opportunity Commission) said "...that it would". Conaway remarked that other school districts have followed this practice which some reports would indicate to be the situation "...that this would be an abuse under the standards set up by EEOC and could be struck down in the Courts". While Conaway had the floor, he mentioned the fact that he was not present at the meeting to discuss personnel practices, but that he was present to propose that the Board prepare a retirement dinner for Dr. Flint, which the Board had already begun preparations for.

Earlier Charles Davis had submitted a letter to the Board President, Dr. Beckert, in which he praised Dr. Flint for his faithful service to the Woodbridge School District, and his appreciation for having been associated with him as a fellow school administrator. Davis had served earlier under Dr. Flint. Both Davis and Conaway had, during that earlier association, disagreed with Dr. Flint on many issues, but had at this meeting praised Flint for his outstanding service at Woodbridge.

In other matters before the Board, Robert Sutton, Administrative Assistant, explained why the District had been turned down on their request for $31,675 which funds were to be used for the completion of the new agriculture building which is located behind the high school buildings. Sutton explained that the Federal authorities reported that two projects for the same locality would not be allowed. A request by the Town of Bridgeville for extensive sewer and water facilities had been awarded, and therefore this request by the Board would not be allowed. (Continued to page 3).

Sunny Side Up

Turn up the thermostat, put on the coffee, feed the cat, and stare glassy-eyed out the window. This used to be my regular routine upon stumbling into the kitchen each week-day morning at 6:30.

But Christmas changed all that. Now, first thing every morning, I switch on a small fluorescent light, turn on some bouncy Bach or hearty Handel, and murmur a little incantation over my cactus plants.

The family indulged my passion for the American Southwest by giving me a Register Feb. 7 For Adult Ed. Courses magnificent cactus planter for Christmas. There are five large, spiky specimens rising from pale sand, with a few crystallized rocks and pieces of weathered wood artfully strewn about.

How to keep them healthy! How to give them enough light!

Dave Tatnall, extension gardening specialist at the University of Delaware, offered help in the form of an extension fact sheet called "Cacti and Succulents." (For a free copy write to the Mail Room, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark, DE 19711.)

Dave says sunlight is a key factor in growing desert plants in the home. Windows with a southern or western exposure are best. Many will thrive under incandescent or fluorescent lights. My cactus plants have their own little light that I keep turned on during the day. Thousands of green-thumbed claim that plants will respond and thrive if you talk to them, pray over them, fondle them and surround them with music. (Well, who wouldn't?)

Research conducted at Purdue University indicates that plants grow bushier and greener if they are shaken, touched, or stroked each day.

So I've decided to conduct my own research on cactus plants, with a morning ritual of music and friendly chit-chat. I sing "Home On The Range" to them. I tell them how gorgeous they are, how jealous all the other plants on the block will be, and how I am planning to water them in March.

And every once in a while I stroke their prickly surfaces with one finger—ever so gently.

Sutton cited this to be one of two errors which he said offered the School District the right of appeal. He pointed out that he had sent a letter to the Federal authorities citing the fact that Newark and Wilmington had dual projects going on at the same time. He also learned that another project which had finished second had been missed, and that this was grounds for appeal. The appeal process is under way, and the District will wait for a reply.

David Winski, principal of North Bridgeville Elementary, reported on a possible program for the "gifted student". Winski said that much had been done over the past few years for the handicapped student, but nothing had been put forth for the exceptional student who was a gifted one when it came to academics. Board member William Tull spoke out in favor of such a program to be carried on within the School District, but asked that a report be made on what is being done in other states.

The Board awarded the following contracts: roof repairs at Bridgeville Elementary and North Bridgeville Elementary to Tri-State Roofing with a bid of $2,916.00; for renovations to lavatories for boys and girls at Greenwood to Conventional Builders of Harrington, Bid Item #1:$9,568; and Bid Item #2:$12,985.

From The Frying Pan

The recent city elections have prompted interest not experienced in city government around here for some time. Hopefully, this interest is not a passing thing, and will be felt throughout the months ahead.

The mayor and council are elected, although unpaid, representatives of the people, and take action on city as well as individual needs. Since the squeaky wheel is the one to receive oil, it should be as easy as possible for ward residents to be able to get in touch with their councilmen.

With this in mind, the following list of wards and councilmen is being published: the city of Harrington is divided into six wards (using the present city charter for description): (1) all the territory within the City limits lying south of the center of Liberty Street and east of the Delaware Railroad shall be the first ward (Councilman Jack Wyatt); (2) the territory within the city limits lying north of the center of Liberty Street and east of the Delaware Railroad shall be second ward (Councilman Gary Homewood); (3) all the territory within the City limits lying west of the center of Dorman and Commerce Streets shall be known as the third ward (Councilman Dr. Vincent Lobo); all the territory within the City limits north of the center of Liberty Street and east of the center of Dorman Street and west of Delaware Railroad shall be the fourth ward (Councilman William Shaw, Jr.); all the territory within the city limits lying south of the center of Liberty Street and north of the center of Clark Street and west of Delaware Railroad and east of the center of Dorman Street until the said Dorman Street intersects with Commerce Street; then all that portion west of the center of Commerce Street until it intersects the center of Clark Street shall be the fifth ward (Councilman John Satterfield); and that territory within the City limits lying south of the center of Clark Street and east of the center of Commerce Street and west of the Delaware Railroad shall be the sixth ward (Councilman Earl McColley).

Until such time as the city fathers see fit to revamp the six wards into a more equitable arrangement, both by population and geography, this is how the city of Harrington is divided. Citizens should use their rights to be heard... a little approval of a job being done well would also be appreciated by the city fathers too... after all, they shouldn't have to sit out on the limb all the time and not be thanked occasionally.

He Wants Letters

January may be one of the coldest months in history, but the inauguration of Jimmy Carter took place on schedule. The president has promised to keep in touch with 'the people' and announced a special address to which 'the people' could write. President Carter wants suggestions on how we will be able to avoid feeling "isolated."

Rotary Continues Grant Search

Rotary International District Governor Edwin Pierce has announced the availability of 2 Rotary Foundation educational awards for young people in his District for study abroad during academic year 1978-79. The awards cover the costs of language instruction, transportation, food, lodging and tuition. Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor: There is much truth in your editorial concerning candidates, elections, and write-in ballots. We too often forget that elections are only the process by which we hire personnel for various salaried jobs. Candidates for public office are simply applicants for those jobs, who promise to do a certain amount of work for a certain amount of dollars and/or whatever reward they expect to get from their employment.

Any citizen applying as a candidate for a vacant position should be examined by his employer, the tax payer voter; and the process of filing provides us with this opportunity to examine future employees. However, it is conceivable that a dishonest control of government could threaten by harassment and intimidation and so refuse access to citizens who were attempting to file to unseat an incumbent party.

Most important is the freedom of choice the write-in vote provides to the citizen voter. It allows him to protest and refuse that candidate or candidates on the ballot if he does not approve of any who have followed the usual filing process.

Abolishment of the write-in vote would limit our freedom of choice and destroy another of those checks and balances that prevent our democracy from becoming a dictatorship. So despite the fact that there will always be those unscrupulous people who take advantage (remember Nixon? Watergate?) as long as we retain control of our government by the power of our vote we can "fire" those "employees" who are deceitful or who for any reason are not doing the job they are being paid "our Tax dollars" to do. Sincerely Frances J. Jefferson Harrington City Manager Dave Peterson [1] Dewese Fisher [c] and Dale Phillippi [r] are among the city employees who have been kept busy thawing out pipes during the continuation of the cold snap in Delaware. Some residents have been without water since last Wednesday, the case of the Baker residence on Milby Street. The situation has been caused by the moist ground freezing to a depth below the lines. The freeze line in this photo was estimated at 18 inches, some residents report they have frozen ground as deep as 24 inches.

Thoughts... by Senator Roth

Former President Ford's proposed budget for fiscal 1978 is a blueprint for less government and lower taxes that would commit the Government to annual tax reductions. The basic message in the President's budget is that inflation pushes taxpayers into higher and higher tax brackets, producing increasing amounts of Federal revenues which should be returned to taxpayers rather than spent on new Federal spending programs.

According to the long-range budget estimates, if current tax laws and spending programs are continued, inflation and economic growth will produce a budget surplus of $70 billion by fiscal year 1982. This huge budget surplus is not caused by restraints on Federal spending. It is caused because inflation and economic growth push taxpayers into higher tax brackets, increasing the tax burden on middle-income working people and allowing the Government to collect more and more of their hard-earned income.

Mr. Ford's new budget proposes that the revenue from this budget surplus be returned to taxpayers through individual tax cuts. But there is no guarantee that Congress will enact these tax cuts. In fact, many other members of Congress are already planning ways to spend these extra tax dollars on new and expanded Federal spending programs. That is why I believe it is so important for Congress to enact legislation to automatically adjust income taxes every year by the rate of inflation. By reducing the amount of taxes the Government can collect every year, this legislation would automatically return the projected budget surpluses to taxpayers, and prevent Congress from creating and expanding Federal spending programs. This legislation would ease the growing tax burden on working Americans, and help slow down the rapid annual growth of Federal spending programs.

at higher levels in what they do best while they continue to receive remedial work or work at a different level where this seems advisable. State requirements, such as for health and physical education, the Title 1 reading center, vocational lab, band, foreign language, advanced math classes, and other special experiences must be fitted into our basic academic program. Meanwhile, personal problems and routine matters continue and must be dealt with.

This week I shall be meeting eighth grade classes for the first time this year. After our initial meeting we shall be interpreting the results of the Differential Aptitude Tests which these students took in early December. I hope to be giving those results out the week of January 31. We will be using these results as we make plans for ninth grade courses; so I would appreciate your encouraging your boy or girl to put the report sheet into his notebook so that it is there when it is needed. Seventh grade students are still welcome to come to my office, and I hope they will. They have all been instructed how to contact me if they should happen to come to my office when I am not there. Here's hoping that this will be a very profitable semester for us all. Let us remember that the slate is clean and that we are only in the middle of the book. Let us make wiser choices as to the use of our time and talents so that the second half of this book may be the better half. The more involved your student becomes in his or her school work the more interesting it will become for him or her, and then success is just about guaranteed! As a counselor I must remind you that social-emotional development is, in the opinion of many, the groundwork upon which all other development is built. Please be a sensitive, observant caring parent and let your child know it. It takes time together to build the kind of relationship I am talking about. Will you plan for some of this for your family? Sincerely, Sarah S. Webb

Open Letter To Chipman Parents

Dear Parents, For both teachers and students this is an extremely busy time. Social studies and science teachers exchange groups. Eighth grade students take art, music and guidance classes in place of the five periods of home arts they have been taking while the reverse is true for the seventh grade students. All of these changes require some extra adjustments; but they also make possible a fresh beginning, a chance to do better if we choose. Plans for all these changes must be made while the first semester classes continue. Mr. Griffin and I have spent many after-school hours trying to incorporate teacher recommendations and student and parent requests into workable schedules to provide them with opportunities to work by Buck Thompson Graduates of the Class of 1977 can look forward to the best job-hunting season in years in 1976-77, according to the College Placement Council's December survey of more than 600 public and private employers. After two straight years of decline, hiring of new college graduates is expected to increase by 12 percent overall compared with last year, the survey shows. And for the first time since December 1973, the Council is projecting a rise in employment of liberal arts majors, perhaps by as much as eight percent. Among the private employer groups, the biggest hiring surge -- plus 54 percent -- is forecast by the glass/paper/packaging companies, followed by automotive and mechanical equipment, tire and rubber and aerospace/electronics/instruments firms, with predicted increases in the 41 to 47 percent range. Next are building materials manufacturers/construction, metals, petroleum, and nonprofit and education institutions, all anticipating gains of about 20 percent. Obviously, many of these businesses will be looking for engineering graduates and, as usual, the Council survey shows engineering in highest demand of all disciplines with a 24 percent increase in hires projected. In the second spot, showing a 13 percent surge, is the "sciences/math/other technical" category, with prospects for Ph.D. candidates even better at 19 percent. Students of metallurgy and the geological sciences, particularly those at the graduate level, will be the most sought after, according to the Council. There will be openings in computer fields as well, says CPC. Business grads are at the low end of the scale, with a seven percent increase overall, but a 17 percent jump is pegged for MBA's. Though generally optimistic, employers cautioned that hiring will remain selective this year. Top-quality candidates may have a number of offers while those less skilled continue to struggle to find a job. The prime example is liberal arts. Since about 40 percent of the nation's college students will take home a liberal arts degree, competition among them for available jobs will be very tough. At the same time, only five percent of undergraduate degrees will be in engineering while 26 percent of the jobs reported for bachelor's candidates are for engineers. In any case, the impact of the right percent increases in hiring of liberal arts graduates will be minimal in terms of actual numbers because the market has been so depressed in recent years. Likewise, though the demand for graduates in mathematics, chemistry, physics and accounting is up, the Council warns, the supply in these fields is plentiful. Finally, while 90 percent of the companies reported good job opportunities for minorities and women, especially in technical areas, they added that these job-seekers may find things more difficult in the future as the supply grows.

Gab Fest

Guess what we had at the bird feeder this morning! Five fat, gray doves. They were so beautiful as they stepped daintily around on their pink legs. "How can anyone bear to shoot anything so beautiful," Ellen said, as we watched them. This remark was ignored by Gary who is a sportsman and a hunter. Dad does not care much for hunting at this stage of his life. He enjoys talking to the bunnies as they sit on their hind legs, eating his cabbage and clover.

NOW, before all the sportsmen descend on me with their guns ready to beat me up, let me say that I know that hunting must be, and I know that those who bear guns can give all kinds of logical reasons for their activity. I understand a little why this must be this way, but I still love the true story of the gentle man who played "Ben" Cartright on the old Bonanza show. He would not allow his three sons to have guns...not, he said, "until the animals start shooting back!"

Gladys Taber once remarked to her friend, Jill, that they should take their Irish setter hunting because she would look so beautiful in a field of pheasants, but "What would we do if we killed something?" I had a letter from Mrs. Taber recently, sending me two autographed labels for her last two books. She says she will have a new book out in February if she makes the deadline. Do read the Taber books; they are a great experience.

Incidentally, I goofed in giving you the name of the Truitt book which I am reading. I said it was "Breakfast of the Revolution"; it is "Breadbasket of the Revolution". Sorry about that.

Our weather experts tell us we will have a heat wave by Sunday. It is supposed to warm up to 30. Snow is predicted for tonight, so I'm glad the grocery shopping is over. We have stocked our shelves and will ride it out. As usual, when coming winter storms are announced Dad delivers his famous line, "Better make up a pot of beef soup, and some black-eyed peas would be nice." So I will hasten to replenish the larder with that old-time country fare. This will also be easy for me to eat while I am toothless. It is not as bad as I anticipated...is anything? I find that about the only foods I cannot eat are nuts, raw salads and meats. But I am enjoying scrapple and creamed dried beef. If I am successful in learning to use the new teeth, I am planning a real binge with nuts, tossed salad, thick juicy steaks, crispy fried chicken and the whole bit.

With the snow promised for tonight we must see that the bird feeders are filled. We do not use whole corn since the year I found a cardinal dead with a grain of whole corn crosswise in its little throat. It could not get it up or down and I did not find it in time. I do not know how the English sparrows manage to get at the sunflower seeds, but they do.

A jug of milk had been bursted and spilled at our kitchen door when someone slipped on the ice and last night we discovered a possum trying to lick up the frozen milk. I sent the children out with a small sweet potato for him and this morning part of it has been eaten.

Town And Country

If there is anyone who wasn't able to attend the educational program to prepare for the Pesticide Certification Test given by the Cooperative Extension Service, we would urge you to call us at 736-1448 so we can notify you when the subsequent meetings will be held. Pesticide certification by the Delaware State Department of Agriculture is required for those who will be applying restricted use pesticides on your own land. At this point the EPA has not made public which pesticides (herbicides, insecticides, fungicides) will be included. However, they have indicated most pesticides bearing the signal words: Danger, Poison, and a skull and crossbones will be restricted use pesticides. The Delaware Cooperative Extension Service is making every effort to prepare growers to become certified if they wish it.

Some people may be thinking about growing their own vegetable and bedding plants for spring planting. Many people also save their seed from year to year whether bought or home grown. Before investing your time and money in starting these seeds, it may be a good idea to test them for viability. Are the seeds dead or alive? To test them, wrap a dozen or so seeds in a moist paper towel and place them in a plastic bag. If most of the seeds begin to grow within two weeks, then last year's seeds don't germinate, buy new seeds.

Mrs. Gilbert Will Be New Principal At South

It was announced last week that Mrs. Mary-Celine Gilbert, Assistant Principal at Lake Forest North in Felton, will take over the helm at Lake Forest South in Harrington, when the principal's post there is vacated July 1 by William Cline, who will become Superintendent of schools for the Lake Forest School district.

Assistant Principal at Felton for the past three years, Mrs. Gilbert came to the post out of extensive education and experience in Montreal and Quebec.

She was born in Montreal and received her elementary and secondary education in the schools there.

She earned a B.A. in English from Loyola College in Montreal, a B. Ed. from the University of Montreal, and a graduate certificate in theological studies from Loyola College. Her M.Ed. in the field of administration came from St. Michaels College, Vermont.

Currently she is working on a doctorate, also in educational administration, at Nova University in Florida. This requires two summers of work in Florida as well as the first Saturday of each month spent with lecturers flown in to Dover.

Her experience ranges through elementary and high school teaching as well as administration. She is certified as a teacher from Nursery through senior high school and holds a permanent certificate as an elementary school principal in Delaware. In addition, she has a specialist's certificate in Kindergarten.

Before coming to Delaware she spent eight years as a high school administrator and five years in teaching at both elementary and secondary levels. This included one year at the elementary level on an Indian reserve at St. Regis, Quebec on the northern border of New York State. The other four were in the public schools of Quebec.

Her residence is in Dover where her husband, Dr. Arthur Richard Gilbert is employed by the Capitol School District. Their son, Robert Phillip is a student at Holy Cross.

The family is active in church work in the Holy Cross parish which Mrs. Gilbert says is an important part of their family life.

Mrs. Mary-Celine Gilbert

Mrs. Gilbert says she is happy to be remaining in the Lake Forest School District with the opportunity to maintain many of the pleasant associations she has had with faculty and staff at Lake Forest North.

5th Graders Are Student Teachers At East

Student teacher Allison Miller helps Shani Palmer and Lisa Neilsen, kindergarteners at Lake Forest through "Things We Like To Do."

Student teaching is not always reserved for those in college who plan to be teachers. Twelve young people from Mrs. Marie Ernie's fifth grade class at Lake Forest East in Frederica are student teachers. They work with students in Mrs. Caldwell's kindergarten classes helping her students in various selected activities.

Before Christmas fifth grade student teachers helped kindergarteners paint a mural in the hall near their room. Sometimes the selected activity might be teaching a game. At present, students are taking the kindergarteners in pairs to another room where the 'teacher' reads a book, "Things We Like To Do" and helps them with related activities on sequence cards.

Each activity is continued until all of the students in the morning and afternoon kindergarten classes have had an opportunity to complete it.

Fifth graders selected for the program must qualify by keeping up with the work at their own grade level.

Mrs. Caldwell is pleased with the program which is now in its third year. In addition to its success with the kindergarteners, she sees benefits for the student teachers in increased responsibility. She often notes their concern for their younger charges as they encounter them in the halls and boarding buses. The fifth graders are frequently greeted by her students with, "There's my teacher."

Anne Chambers Goes To Kindergarten

Going from fourth grade to kindergarten is not the usual procedure. Neither is spending 17 years in the fourth grade - unless you are a teacher. This is just what Mrs. Clifton Chambers who joined the faculty at Lake Forest South as a kindergarten teacher this year has done.

For Anne Chambers the move is one she has wanted to make for several years. It has also presented a challenge and offered a lot of hard work.

Anne Chambers was born Ann Moore, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Moore, in Felton. She attended school there and graduated in 1951.

Following high school she attended the University of Delaware, graduating in 1955 with a major in elementary education.

For her student teaching she returned to Felton where her own fourth grade teacher, Ina Hughes supervised her as cooperating teacher. Her first job was at Felton school in the fourth grade where she worked with her former teacher for eleven years until Ms. Hughes' retirement.

Mrs. Chambers remained to teach fourth grade for seventeen years interrupted only by two or three years taken off for the births of sons Scott and Tommy.

She also took one year off as a disability leave.

In 1974 Anne Chambers received an award for 15 years of service. The presentation was made by her first fourth grade class, the Class of 1964, at its tenth reunion.

About one week before the opening of school this year, Anne Chambers was hired to take the second kindergarten section at Lake Forest South. Along with Mrs. Rosalie Cline she faced the task of sorting and dividing equipment and materials in the two rooms that had been used by just one kindergarten section last year. In 1975-76 one of the rooms had been used as a classroom, the other as an activity room.

The problem in September 76 was to reorganize everything into two completely independent classrooms.

Anne Chambers describes the mountainous pile of equipment she and Mrs. Cline faced as they began the sorting. She says she is just now getting the room in the order that she would like.

Mrs. Chambers finds less paper work but a lot more planning and organization in kindergarten than she did in fourth grade. There is also more room for creativity and variety in the teaching.

She reports one conversation overheard in her classroom this year. Left-handed kindergartner struggling to 'sign in' in the morning, "I can't do it!" Second kindergartner, "Don't say 'I can't,' say 'I'll try.' Mrs. Chambers will help you if you say 'I'll try.' She can't help you if you say 'I can't.'" The first kindergartner did learn to write his name, a triumph managed with the aid of Mrs. Chambers, a left-hander herself.

Anne Chambers feels the kindergarten year should be a happy experience for the child, one which will give him a good feeling about school, and more important, about himself. "Self concept" is a term important in kindergarten phraseology. To Anne Chambers this is defined simply in terms of getting a child to have a good opinion of himself, -- "to be proud of things he can do", rather than discouraged about the things he can't.

Part of learning to be proud of the things you can do is learning to take increased responsibility. Jobs assigned in the classroom are thus very important to the program. And the children take pride in doing them. She reports one child was upset to the point of tears when she did an errand that he thought was his responsibility.

Along with achieving a good opinion of oneself, Mrs. Chambers thinks an important part of the kindergarten year is learning to respect the rights of others and work as an individual who is also part of a group.

In all the hubbub of this initial year in kindergarten, she has relied heavily upon the experience and help of her aide, Martha Porter, Mrs. Porter's six years' experience as an aide at Lake Forest South and her patience and dedication have been invaluable according to Anne Chambers.

She has also worked closely in joint projects with Mrs. Cline, the other half of the Lake Forest South kindergarten faculty. Together they conducted their kindergartners through a haunted house in a Halloween program for the parents. At Thanksgiving Mrs. Chamber's Pilgrims hosted Mrs. Cline's Indians in a replay of the original event. They also prepared a Christmas program together and took a trip to a local market where Christmas trees and decorations are sold. In all of these projects and more, parents were of great help.

Totaling the morning and afternoon classes Anne Chambers works with about 45 children each day. She likes the quiet environment at the South B. school which houses the first grades and kindergarten and feels the children in the Harrington area have a real advantage, almost the setting of a private school, in having it set up this way.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Chambers are residents of Canterbury. Their two sons are students at Lake Forest High School and Lake Forest North Elementary.

On the defense - Chipman girls [white shirts] fend off Selbyville in last week's game.

Looking for the best shot - The Chipman team faced Selbyville in a 27-32 loss last Thursday.

Chipman Girls Drop First Two

With two games down out of a ten game season, the Chipman girls' basketball team stands at 0 and 2. However, Coach Dave Zinkham is pleased with the improvement in the girls between the first game at Milford and the second with Selbyville on the home court. He feels that with continued improvement the Chipman girls should begin winning before the end of the season. In the Milford game a 2-32 loss, Cheryl Kennedy was the only scorer. In the 10-30 match with Selbyville last Thursday, Diane King and Sherry Calhoun scored four points each, and Brenda Thomas had 2. Not scoring but cited by Coach Zinkham as playing exceptionally well was Tina Lyons.

For Your Information

Dear friends,

Because no one can determine in advance when the need will arise, there is always someone on duty at the funeral home to answer the call for service. This creates an item of expense even when no call is forthcoming. However, promptness and being 'on call' at all time is part of our assumed responsibility.

Respectfully,

William A. Berry, Jr.

Rail Hearings (Cont.) Rabies Vaccination Clinics Set

The Eastern Shore Rail Road Company is a rail road in name only, not owning an existing railroad, and according to Dyke, his company's hands are tied although they are still interested in the possibility of purchasing the Delmarva portion of the Penn Central.

The two representatives of Eastern estimate 600 people on the Delmarva Peninsula are dependent on the railroad for their jobs. If this branch of the rail service falters more, or fails, it could result, according to them, with approximately 1,200 related jobs in jeopardy.

They told the Journal they now feel they have the interest of the Congressional members from Delaware and expressed some hope something would be accomplished in the legislature. Any action from Congress would take at least six months at the earliest.

Railroad Directors Address Rotarians

HARRINGTON. Mark Love and Martin Dyke, owners and directors of The Eastern Shore Railroad, spoke to the Harrington Rotarians Monday night. The dinner had followed an all day session of testimony in the conference hall of the Department of Highways and Transportation Building.

Speaking extemporaneously to the Rotarians, both men emphasized the importance of a sophisticated means of access on the Delmarva Peninsula.

A series of rabies vaccination clinics for dogs and cats will be held throughout the state during late January and February.

Locations, dates and hours of the clinics are listed below, by county.

A contribution of $2 per pet will be requested to cover the cost of vaccine. All dogs must be on leashes, and all cats must be in carriers. Pets must be four months old to be vaccinated.

The Green Thumb

by S. Derby Walker

When gardeners prune trees and shrubs in winter, they often find strange looking objects on their twigs and stems. Katydid eggs and praying mantis egg cases are two of the objects that are often found.

Katydid lay their eggs in two rows of 10 or more eggs per row. You'll find the eggs on either side of small twigs. The eggs are laid so that each one slightly overlaps its neighbor. The eggs are dull white, oval and flattened. They closely resemble small cucumber seeds.

When you find this type of egg cluster, destroy it. Katydid are close relatives to grasshoppers and have about the same feeding habits. Although katydids are plant feeders and their eggs are common during winter, fortunately they're rarely numerous enough to cause much damage.

Airman Berry Receives New Assignment

Airman Leslie L. Berry, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas I. Berry Sr. of R.D. 1, Felton, has received a new assignment following graduation from the automatic flight control systems specialist course conducted by the Air Training Command of Chanute AFB, Ill.

Airman Berry, who studied navigation, aerodynamics, pneudraulics and electronics, will go to Dover AFB, for duty with a unit of the Military Airlift Command. Completion of the course enables the airman to receive academic credits through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Berry is a 1970 graduate of Lake Forest High School and attended Ryder Technical Institute, Pennsauken, N.J. His wife, Arleen, is the daughter of Ethel Wright of 185 North Governor Blvd., Dover.

Public Health's Bureau of Disease Control, said the clinics are being held to "facilitate a state law which requires canine rabies immunizations as a prerequisite to obtaining a dog license in the state." The Delaware Code requires that dog licenses must be purchased by March 1 for all dogs over 6 months of age.

Dr. Tierkel said dogs and cats vaccinated in last year's public clinics do not need another shot this year, because the vaccine used protects for three years.

Rabies still is a problem in Delaware, according to public health records. During 1976, 22 cases of animal rabies—all in bats—were confirmed by the Division's laboratory. Twelve of these cases came from New Castle County, with five each from the two lower counties.

Spartan Wrestlers Top Last Season's Record

by Ray Blanchette

With last Friday's 34-17 victory over Seaford High the Lake Forest High School wrestling team has already won more matches this year than they did all of last season.

This year's Spartans are currently sporting a 3-2 record while last season they could only manage two wins while dropping ten all season. The squad, under the direction of first year head coach Dean Wern, is a young squad which along with having a fine team this year is also looking ahead to future seasons.

The team has but three seniors, two of which are the squad's team captains and top two wrestlers record wise. These men are Lane Lapinsky and John Moffett. Lapinsky is 3-0-2 on the season, while Moffett has won his last four matches after dropping his initial one.

Two other members of the Spartan squad which have won three of their five matches are senior Jamie Simpson and junior Tim McCombs. Simpson competes in the 119 pound weight class while McCombs wrestles at 167.

In last Friday's match it was Lapinsky who got the Spartans off to a fast start as he recorded a first period pin, giving Lake Forest a 6-0 lead. Next, freshman Dave Brown picked up a three point decision victory as he recorded a 7-1 win. After 112 pounder David Shultie was edged 7-6 Simpson got the Spartans back on the right track with another pin win.

Although the Spartans lost three of the next four matches, with only Moffett winning, they cleaned up at the end as the final three Spartans won, the last two by pins.

Coach Wern stated that so far this season the team has showed a lot of "cohesiveness" which is really rare in a sport that is mainly individual. He also stated that his emphasis on conditioning this season is paying off as the team has been in better condition than every other team they faced, with the exception of Caesar Rodney.

Wern doesn't believe a .500 season or better is beyond reach and their next chance for victory will come Wednesday against Indian River and then they take on Delmar at home on Saturday.

Father-Son Race Postponed

DOVER-The second annual Dover Downs Father and Son Championship has been postponed due to a shortage of horses ready for competition.

Track officials cited the extremely cold weather experienced during recent weeks as the reason for the lack of available standardbreds. "The ground has been frozen for weeks now," reports Dover Downs Racing Secretary, John Pietila. "When it gets like this, the horsemen are not able to get their horses out of the stable in order to train them; the ground is just too hard. As a result, a lot of horses in the area need exercise before they will be able to race again.

"It will take a few weeks to get things back to normal," Pietila said, "and I anticipate that we'll reschedule the Father and Son Championship for early March."

Toughest Games Are Still Ahead

Hickman Leads Undeatefated Woodbridge Girls Team

by Ray Blanchette
Following on the heels of last year's fine squad that narrowly missed a berth in the State Tournament is this year's Woodbridge High girls' basketball team, currently undefeated.

Their latest victory of the season was last Friday when they easily handled last year's Henlopen Conference Champion Milford High by a 44-36 margin. The team is currently 6-0 in the Southern Division of the Henlopen Conference and also has a 9-0 overall record on the season.

Leading the team in scoring this season has been guard Zarata Hickman who is averaging about fourteen points a game for the team. Hickman, along with starters Alena Conway and Terry Rider, are the only three of the girls on this year's team who saw considerable amounts of playing time last season.

The team uses a three guard offense since head coach Kaye Smith has definite lack of height to work with. Her tallest player is Rider who is only 5'7". Including the three players already mentioned Miss Smith has three other players which she also likes to term as starters. These are Lois Sampson, Susie Harmon and Maxene Matthews. Sampson, only a freshman, led the team in scoring in the Milford victory with 17 points.

The team this season has been playing either a

2-1-2 defense or a 3-2 defense depending on what the situation calls for. The heart of this defense has been Rider, the team's lone senior who has reversed her roles from last season. Last season Rider was the team's top scorer while this season she has concentrated mainly on defense but has also managed to average around eight points per game.

This year Coach Smith stated "we have the speed we didn't have last season and we're using it." The way she is using it is with a fast break type offense of which leading scorer Hickman is the key. However, Coach Smith stated "You can count on any of the six scoring at any time."

Other players on the member squad are Tanya Hayes, Vicky Morrone, and Joyce Banning. The girls' next game is Friday at home against Sussex Central. Coach Smith and her squad still have a lot of tough games to play as she stated "The last six games are probably the toughest."

Spartans Drop From Unbeaten Ranks

Last week the Spartans dropped a game to Cape Henlopen at Cape Henlopen. With the pressure of the Dover game mounting, the Spartans lost focus on the Cape game.

Before the game, Coach Starkey said that he wanted "to play them (the games) one at a time and win as many as possible." Unfortunately, the team didn't see things his way.

Cape started out by taking a quick lead. The first Spartan basket came with 2:45 remaining in the first period on a shot by Sam Carey.

By the end of the first quarter the Spartans had gotten started and closed Cape's lead to 10-8.

Frank Corsey put the Spartans in the lead early in the second quarter on a foul shot following a basket, 11-10. Cape held the Spartans, however to only seven points during the rest of the quarter while scoring 15 of their own to make their half time lead 25-18.

Cape continued to dominate the game. The Spartans bounced back to take the lead 32-31 late in the third period. Cape and the Spartans fought within a two point margin for several minutes until Cape broke away and mounted a five point lead which they kept the rest of the way. The Vikings handed the Spartans their first conference loss after seven wins, 51-45.

Earlier than this Lake Forest defeated Laurel 59-44, Sussex Central 50-49 and Dover Air 62-28.

Injuries, Sickness Plague Raider Wrestlers

by Ray Blanchette
This year's Henlopen Conference season has been an extremely up and down one for Coach Gary Bottiger and his Woodbridge High School wrestling team.

After opening the season with two successive victories, the Raiders have dropped their last four matches, including a 46-12 loss to Dover Air last Friday.

Coach Bottiger blames much of this downward turn on the injuries and sickness his team has incurred over the first half of the season. No less than three of his regular wrestlers missed last Friday's loss, three of whom are the squad's top grapplers.

Mike Fields, at 98 pounds, who is 3-0 on the season missed the Dover Air Match because of illness. Tom Jefferson, a 155 pounder, is still having problems with his head after a football injury, and heavyweight G.L. Jefferson, who is 4-0 on the season, sat out with a twisted knee.

Other wrestlers who have fared well on the season have been Alonzo Frisby (107) who is 6-0, Rocky Flem (167) who is 5-0, and Landy Correll (119) who is 4-2.

Although the team has several good wrestlers throughout the team when healthy, Coach Bottiger stated "It takes balance throughout the whole team to have a good record teamwise."

The Raiders' next match is another extremely tough one as they take on the undefeated Smyrna Eagles in Smyrna before coming home Saturday afternoon against Dover.

The Raiders fared well in two tournaments before the season began and are looking forward to having everybody healthy for the Henlopen Conference tournament at the end of the season, where they could qualify several wrestlers to go on to the State Tournament.
