Michael McGuire holds his 10 month-old son Eddie who now has hope of escaping from SIDS (Sudden Infant Death Syndrome).

SIDS There Is Hope

by Carole Glasspool
Young Eddie McGuire, ten month old son of Sharon and Michael McGuire of Woodbury Acres, is a vital happy, bright-eyed, active baby with a smile and disposition that can totally charm you. To see Eddie in action you would never guess that he had any kind of medical problems but Eddie has had five attacks of apnea and cyanosis since December 17.

prolonged results in cyanosis, a lack of oxygen in the blood stream. Eddie's attacks of apnea and cyanosis have always occurred between nine and ten o'clock in the evening.

He always uttered a small cry which alerted his parents to his distress. Had any of these attacks occurred at two or three o'clock in the morning while his parents were sleeping, Eddie might have been a victim of sudden infant death syndrome (SIDS). SIDS claims one out of every three hundred thirty babies in every country every year.

Because Eddie had suffered four attacks between December 17 and January 27, his pediatrician had arranged for him to be admitted to Delaware Division Hospital in Wilmington on January 31st for testing. However, on January 29, Eddie had a fifth attack and was admitted immediately.

Dr. Charles Bean, a children's neurologist, at Delaware Division, examined Eddie and ran every conceivable neurological test on him in addition to other testing. The results were all negative. Dr. Bean had served a year's residency at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston and knew that research was being done there on SIDS and apnea victims by Dr. Daniel Shannon, Chief of the Pediatric Intensive Care Unit, and Dr. Dorothy Kelly. Dr. Bean called arrangements were made have Eddie transferred there. More tests were run to eliminate all other possible causes. Then specific diagnostic tests were run to establish that Eddie suffers from apnea. Eddie simply stops breathing. Although these children are said "to have apnea," apnea is really not a disease. "It is a symptom which generally reflects a delay in the development of the nervous control of breathing." The

School Board Looks At Local Tax Monies

FELTON. The Lake Forest School Board viewed the possibilities of raising the local school taxes 18.2 cents per hundred Monday night.

The possibility of seeking funding locally would be to raise $78,000 to pay local supplemental benefits for teachers in the school district. The State of Delaware is footing the bill for the benefits at present.

The district may be forced to find the funds if legislation introduced this session is passed. According to board member James Pizzadilli, there are two choices to the state legislature who can either leave out the funding for the fringe benefits or pass bills permitting the state's school districts to raise the monies locally.

The district also acted on the proposed corporal punishment proposal, approving it unanimously, after hearing the four-page proposal following suggestions at a district-wide public hearing earlier in the month.

The change elaborates on the device to be used in administering corporal punishment. A paddle if used must be "50 cm. in length, 10 cm. in width and no more than 2 cm. thick. It shall be made of non-perforated wooden material. One to three whack on the buttock constitutes a spanking or paddling."

Mrs. Margaret Phelps stated she thought there was a need for a reading specialist at the high school. William Cline was appointed to study possible funding for the suggestion.

William Comer was hired as vice principal at Lake Forest North. He replaces Mary Celine Phillips, who will become principal at Lake Forest South.

In other action, Board approved the purchase of a Universal Gym at a cost of $3650, which allows ten students to workout on the equipment.

The money to buy this machine will come from surplus gate receipts taken during athletic contests at the school. "This way we will be putting the money right back where it came from" stated School Board president E. B. Warrington.

Melvin Luff was named project coordinator for the public works project that will bring an athletic complex to the high school.

Bids to spend $15,000 in federal funds for new business machines were approved.

Factory Land Sold

The Thomas Minner, Jr. sale was held Saturday at the site of the former basket factory operated by Minner near Masten's Corner.

It was estimated around 500 people attended the sale of personal property and four parcels of land.

The following were top bidders of the parcels involving a total of 401 acres. Joseph Taylor, Jr., Robert Fitzgerald, Johnson Logging Company and FrankHrupsa. The sale is subject to approval by the Court of Chancery.

The basket factory was a major industry in this area for many years before it ceased operations. The building was destroyed by fire last year.

In a 6:51 p.m. accident last Friday the driver of the above vehicle was charged with careless driving. The driver Paul J. Barr of Dagsboro was southbound on route 13 when his car left the roadway and struck 1972 Ford which as operated by William Hemphill of Dover that was stopped at a stop sign on county route 287. Barr's wife Magaline was treated and released for possible back injuries at the Milford Memorial Hospital where she was transported by the Harrington Volunteer Fire Department Ambulance. Rabies Clinic Held Here

A rabies vaccination clinic for dogs and cats will be held here Saturday.

A contribution of $2 per pet will be requested to cover the cost of vaccine. All dogs must be on leashes, and all cats must be in carriers. Pets must be four months old to be vaccinated.

Cosponsoring the clinics are the Delaware and Kent County SPCAs, the Delaware Humane Association, local kennel clubs and civic groups, the state Division of Public Health and members of the Delaware Veterinary medical Association.

Veterinarians are volunteering their services, and the clinics will be staffed by community volunteers.

Dr. Ernest S. Tierkel, chief of the Division of Public Health's Bureau of Disease Control, said the clinics are being held to "facilitate a state law which requires canine rabies immunizations as a prerequisite to obtaining a dog license in the state." The Delaware Code requires that dog licenses must be purchased by March 1 for all dogs over 6 months of age.

Dr. Tierkel said dogs and cats vaccinated in last year's public clinics do not need another shot this year, because the vaccine used protects for three years.

Rabies still is a problem in Delaware, according to public health records. During 1976, 22 cases of animal rabies—all in bats—were confirmed by the Division's laboratory. Twelve of these cases came from New Castle County, with five each from the two lower counties.

The clinic in Kent County will be held from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. at the Harrington Nat. Guard Armory.

In Sussex County the clinic is held from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Georgetown Fire Co.

Prayer Breakfast Planned

The JAYCEES are once again the annual Mayor's Prayer Breakfast, this year to be March 6 at 7 a.m. at the Harrington Fire Hall.

According to a JAYCEE spokesman, this year's featured speaker will be newly elected 32nd. District Representative Ed Bennett whose topic will be "Involvement of Young Adults in Government".

The breakfast, although traditionally has been an all male event, is also open to women, according to the spokesman, who encourages anyone interested to attend.

Tickets for the annual breakfast are $3 and may be purchased from any JAYCEE or at Taylor's Hardware on Commerce Street.

The breakfast will be catered by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Harrington Volunteer Fire Department.

Pride Sentenced

DOVER. Raymond Pride Jr., 49, of near Houston, has been sentenced to 13 years in prison on 12 charges relating to a series of fires in vacant buildings and fields in Kent and Sussex counties last year.

Robert Morin [l], plant manager of consolidated Thermoplastic, Harrington, received a three-year safety award for the plant from DART Industries, Inc. last Thursday.

The award was presented by Ralph Knight, group president, chemical division, of DART Industries, Inc.

The award is for three years of operation without a major accident. Visiting industry officials included Thomas Mulloney, president of DART Industries, Inc. and Jerald Stanners, president of Consolidated Thermoplastics Company.

Motor Vehicle Changes

This newspaper in conjunction with your Delaware State Police would like to inform the motoring public of recent changes in the Delaware Motor Vehicle Code.

Since August 5, 1976, several new laws have been in effect. One such law is Section 4155, which now reads:

(b) A signal of intention to turn or move right or left when required shall be given continuously during not less than the last 300 feet or more than one-half mile traveled by the vehicle before turning.

Should you desire further information regarding this law, contact your nearest Delaware State Police Troop.

Conserving Energy In The Kitchen

There are more ways to conserve energy at home than just turning down the thermostat. By pre-planning meals several days in advance, you can reduce the amount of energy that goes into cooking. You'll save not only money but time. Consider these suggestions from Delaware extension home economist Sue Matusiak.

If you're going to use your oven, plan a complete oven meal, plus a few extras if there's room. A roast, baked carrots, baked or scalloped potatoes, and apple crisp can all be prepared at the same time. Just jot down when each item should go into the oven so that everything is ready at dinner time.

While the oven is being used, bake some rice pudding, banana bread or other dish that can be served cold the following day. You'll save energy, and meal preparation will be simpler.

Prepare double or triple the quantity of food you'll need for one meal, then refrigerate or freeze the extra portions. Meat balls, spaghetti sauce, an extra meat loaf or several loaves of bread in the freezer can cut back on total energy used as well as save time in future preparations.

Methods of cooking also affect energy use, reminds Ms. Matusiak. Some frozen foods, such as vegetables or macaroni and cheese, can be thawed before cooking so that they'll require less cooking time. However, such items as frozen pies will have soggy crusts if thawed first, she warns.

Preheating the oven also wastes energy, and isn't always necessary, according to the home economist. Preheating requires up to 28 percent more energy used during the cooking period. Cakes, pies and other similar items do need a preheated oven, but most meats and vegetables do not.

Prolonged low-temperature roasting at 185° F uses up to 56 percent more energy than shorter roasting periods at a temperature of 325° F.

Ms. Matusiak suggests cooking as the Chinese do, using thinly sliced ingredients cooked for a short period of time. You'll save time, energy and nutrients. Take it one step further and eat more fruits and vegetables raw.

Finally, your choice of cooking equipment is important in conserving energy. Consider these study findings from the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Francisco:

1. A small eye-level oven saves 25 to 50 percent more energy in comparison to the large lower oven, depending on temperature and cooking time.

2. Microwave ovens use 30 to 70 percent less energy than regular ovens when reheating or cooking in small quantities. When cooking a complete meal in a microwave oven, each item must be cooked individually. Therefore the energy consumption is 28 to 130 percent more than if all items were cooked at one time in a range oven.

3. Continuous-cleaning ovens use up to 22 percent more energy than self-cleaning ovens, depending on temperature and cooking time.

4. Pressure cookers reduce cooking time and save 26 to 42 percent more energy than cooking in a saucepan on top of the range. This applies to foods requiring steaming (puddings) and, simmering (corned beef), braising (less tender cuts of meat) and stewing (chicken).

5. Crockery or slow cookers use more energy than other types of surface cooking. A higher temperature for a shorter cooking period uses 12 to 22 percent less energy than a lower setting for a longer cooking period.

6. Portable ovens, fry-pans and broilers (in most instances) can save from 9 to 44 percent energy when baking or broiling in small quantities.

7. The gas pilotless ignition system saves approximately 40 percent energy consumption.

When stacked, 490 U.S. dollars weigh one pound.

Flu Shots Available Again

Influenza vaccine will once again be made available in the state, on a limited basis, according to an announcement by Dr. Nicholas P. Haritos, acting director of the state Division of Public Health.

A bivalent vaccine which protects against two types of influenza-A/Victoria and A/New Jersey (the "Swine" flu)—will be offered to people at "high risk" from flu. These include persons over age 60 and anyone with a chronic disease such as diabetes, heart, kidney or lung disease.

Flu shots became available, beginning Tuesday, February 22, at selected health units and State Service Centers. Clinic hours will be 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

KENT COUNTY: Williams State Service Center, U.S. Highway 13 and River Road, Dover. SUSSEX COUNTY: Sussex County Health Unit, S. Bedford St., Ext., Georgetown; and the Pyle State Service Center, on the Omar-Roxana Road near Frankford.

Everyone who receives the vaccine will be asked to read and sign a revised "consent form," which outlines the advantages and possible reactions to the shot.

The partial lifting of the moratorium of influenza vaccinations was approved by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare because of a recent outbreak of A/Victoria influenza.

High risk persons under age 25 who received an initial vaccination at one of the public clinics last year, may receive the recommended bivalent booster shot.

From The Frying Pan

Dear Congress,

We have been asked time and again to tighten our belts, pull up our boot straps, eat hamburger instead of steak (or sometimes dog food, if we're on fixed incomes) and take other as unpleasant measures in order to save our money to stretch it further.

This winter we were asked to keep our thermostats at almost uncomfortable settings for those of us who didn't downright freeze from exposure because we couldn't afford to keep warm. With all due consideration, we are writing to say we feel you could have set equal examples and have done without your generous raises this month. True, you haven't had a raise since 1969, and perhaps some of you are worth $57,000. But, why was the raise set at $13,000 and why couldn't it have wound its way out of committee (or from whatever pigeon hole it was lodged in) to go through an open vote on the floors of the House and Senate?

We are told here in Delaware our three Congressmen were strongly against the raise, as we are told, are others across the country.

We have heard several Congressmen state they can't live on $47,000 and are worth the raise or could make more money pursuing a private business. Perhaps we should remind you to peruse the unwritten contract you agreed to when elected...and that is to serve us, the public. If we can live on less, it seems you can live on less too. Many times we feel we are worth more in the jobs we hold but don't often take home pay equal to what we think we are worth.

To the Congressmen who say they can make more money in private business, we suggest they find the nearest exit from public life, and as soon as possible...we wonder how they can serve us if they are speculating about their maybes when we need answers to our realities.

We are wondering how a person with an income of $50,000 plus is able to identify with the problems of someone with an income of $6,000 or less, or with someone without any job at all.

The last thing we are wondering is this: if so many are against the raise, why can't measures be taken to rescind the so unpopular raise, no matter how it came into being? It isn't popular with many people around these parts, and we are wondering where it will stop?

It would be gratifying to get a straight answer to our questions, because so far, what we've heard doesn't begin to be satisfactory.

Sincerely,
John Q. Public

Last week's edition of the Harrington Journal contained an editorial "From the Frying Pan" warning citizens of the results apathy can bring and urging them to participate in the workshop session that was to be held that evening relative to Harrington's new city Charter.

It's sort of a case of "if you don't take advantage of the opportunity to have your say in advance, then you relinquish your right to gripe about the resultant end product."

Apathy - it surrounds us like a giant malignancy! You find that offensive? Sorry about that but it's true.

Consider this. Last Wednesday night there were two meetings held simultaneously at the Lake Forest North Elementary School. One meeting was the Lake Forest North Elementary School P.T.A. The population of that school is approximately 860 children. You know how many parents showed up? Twelve.

The other meeting was the Felton Little League and Auxiliary meeting. Felton Little League involves over one hundred children. Attendance was slightly better. Fifteen people were there.

Think of it - a total of 1,000 children and only a total of twenty-seven people at two separate meetings.

All those children will be adults someday - that is the "end product." If their parents are not willing to give some of their time to the activities of these children now, then they may very well wind up having a lot of crying to do about the "end product."

Apathy, apathy, apathy! To paraphrase Winston Churchill "Never have so many cared so little about so much!"

The apnea monitor, [left front] the harness of the monitor and portable intercom work together to detect breathing irregularities.

cause is unknown but at Massachusetts General Hospital they have the diagnostic tools to determine if a child has apnea. They also have discovered that the tendency to have apnea is higher in some families. If a family has an apnea victim or has lost a child to SIDS, tests are run on subsequent babies born to those families to determine if they have apnea. Because of these tests apnea can be discovered before a child has an attack that could be brain damaging or result in SIDS.

There is a theory, the result of sleep studies conducted at Massachusetts General, that the child is in a deep stage of sleep and what is a normal reflex in older children, to breathe, is not developed in these children who usually are under two years of age.

Most children have outgrown apnea between the ages of 12 to 18 months but most of them have also had their first attacks between the ages of two and 4 months. This particular point is one which makes Eddie's case very unusual. Eddie was eight months old before he had an apnea attack, therefore, it is difficult for doctors to predict when Eddie might be symptom-free. The fact that Eddie was eight months old may also be the reason he survived his attack. The cry that Eddie uttered at the onset of his apnea attack is virtually unheard of by doctors.

Doctors at Massachusetts General felt that the fact that Eddie was older than most children are when they have their first apnea attack could account for his outcry.

Happily there is help for Eddie and his parents - the help is an Apnea Monitor. This is a device which operates electronically. Two small electrodes are attached to a harness which is put on the infant. The electrodes rest on the upper abdomen and if the baby ceases breathing for a period longer than twenty seconds on alarm goes off to alert the parents. The reason for the twenty second delay is because infants and very young children will often have breathing lapses of this duration. There is an intercom beneath Eddie's crib and Sharon and Michael McGuire have the other portable intercom wherever they are in the house. Sharon said the intercom is so sensitive it even picks Eddie's movements and thumb-sucking. The first two nights he was on the monitor at home the alarm went off several times but Eddie resumed breathing on his own.

If Eddie stops breathing and the alarm is sounded, Sharon and Michael have been taught how to stimulate his breathing. They also have a resuscitator and have been taught how to use it, and if these measures fail, they have also been instructed in external cardiac massage.

It is necessary for family living to be changed in many ways to adjust to life with an apnea monitor patient. There must always be someone within ten seconds, of reaching Eddie if the monitor sounds an alarm while he is sleeping. Therefore, a mother can't hang out the clothes on the clothesline while the baby napped, she cannot shower because she wouldn't hear the alarm, she can't run any noisy appliance, and the list goes on. It is restrictive but it is necessary to protect the baby's life. It is recommended by Massachusetts General Hospital that parents who have a child on an Apnea Monitor also have a registered nurse, trained in monitoring and resuscitation, to relieve them for at least eight hours bi-monthly.

The McGuire's aren't sure they can afford this. They're not even sure how much of the cost of the rental of the monitor at $100 per month will be covered by their medical insurance. They only know it is a necessity for them and for a little charmer named Eddie and they're grateful that there is an Apnea Monitor.

Thoughts..

From Senator Roth

The state of the economy is considerably better today than it was two years ago, when inflation was raging, factories were cutting back production, and unemployment was soaring. But even though we have made progress in restraining inflation and reducing unemployment, the economy is still not growing and expanding fast enough to assure full employment and higher incomes, and further steps are needed to get the economy moving again.

President Carter has proposed an economic package consisting of $50 tax rebates and increased Federal spending on public service jobs and public works projects.

I believe a better way to encourage long-term economic growth is a permanent cut in taxes. Permanent tax cuts, rather than temporary tax rebates or increased Federal spending, was the approach taken by President Kennedy in the early 1960's when he wanted to get the economy moving. The tax cuts he proposed, for both individuals and business, did stimulate the economy, and the record shows the economy grew so much that Federal revenues increased, even though taxes were cut.

This is the approach we should take to expand the economy. Significant tax reductions would immediately increase everyone's take-home pay, increase consumer purchasing power, and help offset the inflation-induced tax increases of the past few years. Most importantly, a permanent reduction in the tax burden will increase consumer and business confidence in the economy, further stimulating economic growth.

And instead of spending tax dollars on public service jobs, I believe this money should be used to give tax incentives to encourage business, small business in particular, to hire and train unemployed teenagers and other unskilled, unemployed people. This approach, combined with the tax cuts, will increase business production and investment and create permanent, tax-paying jobs rather than temporary public service jobs.

Permanent tax cuts would stimulate the economy much more effectively than a $50 tax rebate. In addition, permanent tax cuts would provide tax relief to middle-income taxpayers, the most forgotten men and women in America. This would allow the American

by Buck Thompson

One of the best ways to prepare for a good career is to obtain a career education at an accredited private vocational school. These schools provide intensive training in dozens of careers.

Getting the right training at a good school is a key to a sound career future. The first step in choosing a school is to write to three or more schools offering training in your chosen career. Ask for their catalogs. Then compare each school according to the checklist below.

(1) State licensing. Is the school licensed by your state's post-secondary school licensing bureau? Check with the Department of Education in your state for the department or bureau which regulates private vocational schools. Make sure the school is operating in accordance with the laws of your state. A few states do not require licensing but most do.

(2) Accreditation. An important indicator, accreditation means the school has passed a thorough examination of its business practices and teaching ability by an accrediting agency approved by the U.S. Office of Education. Accreditation is usually listed in the school's catalog, and it's a good idea to double-check with the accrediting agency itself.

Farm Bureau
Supports Private Rails

Delaware Farm Bureau is joining other groups throughout the Delmarva Peninsula in an all out effort to assure continued rail service.

State Farm Bureau President O. Joseph Penuel of Milford stated that Delaware Farm Bureau agrees with other groups in favoring private ownership of the Delmarva line and that Con-Rail's operation of the line has only added to the dissatisfaction of its service. He quoted American Farm Bureau policy in stating that Farm Bureau rejects the concept of nationalization as the answer to the railroad problem, we do not consider public ownership as a solution. The experience in other countries indicates that nationalization would not result in better service or lower cost.

Penuel went on to say that an all out effort by businesses, agriculture, and service groups throughout the state would do much toward assuring rail service throughout Delmarva and suggested that citizens of Delaware should contact elected representatives in Washington advising them of the importance of continued rail service to the state and stressing that rail service is important to agriculture because it is needed to receive such items as fertilizer, chemicals, machines, and containers to ship processed food stuffs and grain.

Penuel stated that he felt farmers and citizens of Delaware in general would stand to lose if the rail service was stopped and urged every Delaware citizen to make their feelings known.

Mr. Penuel suggested contact by private individuals, businessmen, farmers, and consumers to the White House expressing concern would be helpful at this time.

East 4th Graders Know For Sure....

How Cold Is It Out There?

"20 degrees or more, we go outside; 19 degrees or less we stay in." In the words of a fourth grader at Lake Forest East Elementary in Frederica, that's the formula for decidng whether students at East spend recess in or outdoors. And that's not just taking the thermometer's word for it. Fourth graders in Mr. John Davidson's class at East measure the wind velocity, and they know just how cold it really feels out there.

In an on-going project Mr. Davidson's class each day measures the wind velocity, takes a temperature reading and combines the two each day to determine the wind chill factor which governs the temperature actually felt on the skin. The class project serves the whole school in deciding whether or not to risk it out there.

The second step is to get the temperature reading from an indoor-outdoor thermometer in the principal's office. Then the two figures - wind velocity and temperature - are used to calculate the wind chill factor from a chart in the classroom. The results are posted on a chart in the hall near the nurse's office.

All this is done around 11 a.m. each day. Thus, by 11:10, Lake Forest East has the weather word for the day.

In a recent visit, Mr. Davidson's fourth graders told The Blue Banana about the steps they follow in finding the wind chill factor each day.

First the anemometer (an instrument for measuring wind speed) is taken out and held up near the school flag pole. Two ten-degrees Fahrenheit to a Celsius reading. 7 Celsius is the "Go" or "No-Go" dividing line.

Posting the wind chill factor are Leonora Sturgess and Andrea Mollohan, 5th graders at East.

What This Country Needs Is A Good 5'....

Look For The Junior Journal

The number of things still available for a nickel is extremely limited. One of those things is the Jr. Journal ("Still only 5c) published monthly by the Journalism Club of the W.T. Chipman School in Harrington.

February's edition which was out last week is a ten-page offering reporting activities of various school organizations such as the Student Council and the Ebony Club. Brief critical reviews of current films and TV shows are included as are an assortment of puzzles and brain twisters. Among the latter this month are a crossword for French students and a "Sports Find" for those so inclined. These were submitted by Lee Cramer and Lori Fournier, respectively.

Two stories "Night Terror" and "My UFO Experience" by Jeff Armour and Bruce Warrington also appear in the February Jr. Journal.

Faculty advisor for the Jr. Journal is Mrs. Amy

Coker. The publication is one phase of the Chipman school's varied club program.

An upcoming activity of the Jr. Journal staff is a bake sale to be held Tuesday, March 1 in Mrs. Coker's room during club period. Profits from the sale will be used toward a trip and end of the year awards.

by Miss Myers' 5th Grade Class

Miss Myer's fifth grade reading class at Lake Forest South is reading a unit on islands in the Pacific. One of the islands mentioned was Hawaii. Miss Myers brought in some Hawaiian flowers. Their names were: Bird of Paradise, Orchids, Wood Rose, Red Ginger, and Anthurium. There were also some Ti Leaves from which hula skirts are made. The class also saw slides of Hawaii and sampled Macadamia nuts.

Chipman Student Council

On Tuesday February 15 several members of the W.T. Chipman Student Council visited classes in Milford. The trip was in reciprocation of a similar visit by representatives of the Milford Student Council to Chipman on February 8.

In other activities the W.T. Chipman Student Council recently awarded eighth grader Paula Boyd $2 as winner in a poster contest with the clean-up of the halls and cafeteria as its theme.

Paula Boyd was winner in the Chipman Student Council poster contest.

Set up a committee to discuss cafeteria problems with the cafeteria manager. Among those things to be discussed were the portions served and the cost of second helpings, the menu, the closing of the line at 1 p.m. and the possibility of music in the cafeteria.

Promoted a "Spirit Week" at the school on February 14-17. Honoring the girls' and boys' basketball teams and wrestling teams was a special part to the week.

East Paper Project Rolls On

Paper - old newspapers in particular - is being collected at Lake Forest East in Frederica with two projects in mind. One of these is a collection of paper to be redeemed for cash at the Reclamation Center; the other is the making of logs to be sold for use in fireplaces. Goal of both projects is accumulation of funds to finance out-of-state trips.

Rolling it up - Anna Schuyler and Dale Simpler, fifth graders at Lake Forest East, roll old newspapers through a soap and water solution to form fireplace logs.

The log rolling project is proceeding through students in Marion Gusset's learning center room. Logs are made by treating newspapers with a soap and water solution and cranking them through a wringer-like device which forms compact rolls. The logs are then tied with string and left for the drying, a process which, according to Ms. Gusset, requires a considerable amount of time.

The log making got off to a late start this year. But the next year Ms. Gusset expects students will have completed a sufficient number to be 'in business'. Learning center students earn the privilege of making the logs in such various ways as mastery of multiplication tables.

The collection of newspaper for other recycling has been continuing throughout the year. As of February 18 a total of 6,040 lbs. had been turned in. Mr. Seyler, Principal at East, has handled the job of hauling the paper.

Tying it up - Dale Simpler ties up a completed log. Behind him a row of logs waits in the long drying process.

South 3rd Grades Stage Valentine's Assembly

The third grade production was the result of the efforts of all three third grade classes under the direction of teachers Linda Conner, Connie Raymond and Eleanor Stempien.

The third grades at Lake Forest South Elementary in Harrington recently entertained the school and invited parents with an assembly production of the Valentine play, "The Tiniest Heart" as well as various songs and poems on Valentine's and patriotic themes. Of all the special days in February, Ground Hog Day was the only one not honored.

Wednesday, February 16, was the date of the assembly.

For the first half of the program, the emphasis was Valentine's Day with samples of poems and songs from the traditional to the modern as a quartet of young ladies sang along with the Captain and Tenille's "Love Will Keep Us Together."

Climaxing the Valentine portion was the performance of "The Tiniest Heart" with Tiny being rewarded with a proper name and stingy, grumpy old Uncle Diamond coming across with a heart of gold and a loan. Featured in the production were Billy Haggerty (Tiny), Michael Gyrynuk (Uncle Diamond), Bill White (King of Hearts), Leslie Harpster (Queen of Hearts), Jimmy Olson (Jack), Glenn Allen (Ten), Tracey Phelps (Nine), Melinda Baynard (Eight), Dawn Tribbett (Seven), Bruce Patrick (Six), Valerie Smith (Five), Faith White (Four), Teresa Taylor (Three), Theresa Henderson (Two) and Michael Zdradzinski (Messenger). The patriotic section of the assembly appropriately honored Washington and Lincoln in music and verse. Its grand finale was the mass presentation of "Fifty, Nifty United States" and the singing of God Bless America.

A valentine bulletin board advertises the third grade assembly given last week.

For Your Information

Dear friends,

Psychologists tell us the grief should not be suppressed, but should be expressed aloud. Giving vent to grief is in itself healing.

"The tendency to hurry thru a funeral with a few impersonal sentences and prayers is a failure to understand either its purpose or the real needs of those who mourn", says Rev. Dr. Paul E. Johnson. In short, the only remedy for grief is to grieve.

Respectfully,

William C. Ramsey, Jr.

Girls Avenge Early Season Loss

The Woodbridge High School girls' basketball team avenged an early season conference loss with their 51-42 victory over Indian River High School Friday night.

The game, was non-conference, but matched the two top teams in the Southern Division of the Henlopen Conference. Both squads finished 10-2 on the season but Indian River got the berth in the Henlopen Conference title game by virtue of their 50-46 regular season victory over the Raiders.

In last Friday's non-conference game against the Indians, Woodbridge quickly fell behind but a rally just before the end of the first half put them in the lead to stay. The Raiders were led in scoring by Alena Conaway, who scored 26 points while Lois Sampson chipped in with 17.

With this conference season behind them, the Raiders are now preparing for the State Tournament, which will get underway February 28.

They will play against the Blue Hen Flight B number two team by virtue of their second place finish in the Southern Division. Other teams representing the Henlopen Conference will be Seaford, Milford, and Indian River.

What a difference a year makes especially in the case of Alonzo Frisby of Woodbridge High School. Last year Frisby finished fourth in the Conference

Raiders Frisby and Flem Capture Titles In Conference Tournament

by Ray Blanchette by Conference wrestling powers, Smyrna and Caesar Rodney, small Woodbridge High School managed to steal much of the show in the annual Henlopen Conference Wrestling Tournament.

The Raiders suffered through a season where injuries and sickness several times decimated their squad. However, last Friday and Saturday they managed to advance two conference champions to the State Tournament to be held this weekend at Cape Henlopen High School. Of these two champions, 107 pounder Alonzo Frisby, was anticipated. Frisby went through his second straight undefeated dual match season, and for the second straight year entered the conference tournament as the top seed in his 107 pound class. Last year Frisby was upset twice in the conference tournament, thereby finishing fourth and not advancing to the state tournament.

But what a difference a year can make. Frisby, who on Friday afternoon had a bye in the opening round, took on his first opponent in the tournament in the quarterfinals Friday night. In that opening match Frisby wasted no time asserting his authority as it took a quick 48 seconds to pin John Abbott of Seaford.

Saturday, Frisby again won by pin, this time in the second period. Rodder Purnell of Sussex Central was his victim. In the finals Frisby had a little harder time but still was in command the whole way as he decided Dave Johnson of Smyrna 7-1. Frisby was very much in the running for most valuable wrestler of the tournament as voted on by the coaches but the award went to John Moses of Milford instead.

As for the Raiders' other champion it was 167 pound Rocky Flem. Flem has been inconsistent all season, despite losing only one match. He like Frisby, had an opening round bye on Friday but unlike Frisby had an extremely tough match that night. In the toughest match that Flem had in the tournament he managed a 3-2 decision win over Robert Foods of Laurel.

On Saturday, Flem had an easy time of disposing of Art Carrow of Smyrna by a 10-2 decision win which was surprisingly easy considering Carrow earlier in the season had won the Milford Invitational Tournament.

Flem was rated the underdog in his finals match against Ron Finney of Caesar Rodney, who was previously undefeated on the season. Flem and Finney battled it out through the whole match, but Flem finished on top by a 9-7 margin. Flem is only a junior while Frisby is a senior.

Frisby and Flem will be the only wrestlers representing the Raiders in this weekend's State Wrestling tournament which gets underway at 6:30 on Friday evening at the new Cape Henlopen High School.

Solid As A Rock

The second of Woodbridge High School's two champions was Rocky Flem who won the 167 pound weight class. Above Flem readies himself for his final match where he defeated previously unbeaten Ron Finney of Caesar Rodney High School.

Colonel Irwin B. Smith of the Delaware State Police also awarded four awards for the rescue of a truck driver from his burning vehicle last June 10. Above Captain Edward Montague and Mr. James Spicer, former Troop Commander at Bridgeville watch Colonel Smith give the award to TFC William Groton III. Looking on as Groton is given the award is Groton's wife. Civilians who were awarded for this incident were Gary Donaway of Laurel, James Adams of Milford, and Stan Craft of Greenwood.

Awarded for rescuing a man from the top of the Bridgeville water tower after he climbed up there under the influence of alcohol and passed out were: Corporal James A. Johnson Leads Spartans Over Milford

by Millard Ellingsworth III
Friday night Lake Forest Spartans extended their winning streak to six games by beating Milford 66-54 at Milford.

The Buccaneers got off to a good start, taking a 14-12 first quarter lead.

In the second quarter, the Spartans tightened up their defense and Ron Shockley hit for eight points to boost them past Milford 30-24 at half time.

After the half, under the shooting of Bill Johnson, Lake Forest continued to strengthen its lead. Johnson hit for eight points in both the third and fourth quarters.

The win gave the Spartans a 13-3 record for the year to take with them to Dover Tuesday night.

Johnson has scored an average of 19.5 points per game over the past four games, and has been the team's top scorer for these four games.

Against Milford he scored 20 points, followed by Ron Shockley and Lauren Burris with 12 points and Sam Carey with ten points.

On the Tuesday preceding the Milford game, Spartans walked over Delmar 85-48.

At the start, Lake Forest took a slim lead of 5 points, 18-13. By half time, they had only lengthened their lead by two more points, 35-28.

The Spartans exploded during the third and fourth quarters, scoring 25 points in each quarter. They held Delmar to only three points during the third quarter. The Wildcats scored 17 points in the fourth quarter.

Bill Johnson led the scoring with 20 points, followed closely by Jack Coker with 18, and Lauren Burris and Bill Moore with 12.

Several wrestlers had their ups and downs in last weekend's Henlopen Conference Wrestling Tournament and in this case Lake Forest wrestler Lane Lapinsky is up but is about ready to be put down. Lapinsky for the second straight year finished second in the 98 pound weight class, this time by a 2-1 decision to freshman Marvin Marshall of Indian River.

Lapinsky Will Represent Lake Forest

by Ray Blanchette

Lake Forest High School's wrestling squad will have but one representative in this weekend's State Wrestling Tournament by virtue of competition in last weekend's Conference Tournament.

This lone representative for the Spartans will be Lane Lapinsky. Lapinsky was also a representative for the Spartans in last year's state tournament. As in last season, Lapinsky was again relegated to a second place finish in the Conference Tournament.

Lapinsky during the season dropped one match while tying two. He had an opening round bye on Friday afternoon before beating Gary Hay of Dover, 8-4, in the second round to advance to Saturday's semi-finals.

In Saturday's semi-finals Lapinsky wasted no time in revenging an early season tie against Ed Rolloff of Caesar Rodney as in a quick 1:55 he recorded a pin win. In the finals he had the task of avenging his only season loss, that to Marvin Marshall, a freshman sensation from Indian River, but couldn't quite do it as he lost a 2-1 decision.

The only other Spartan to come close to advancing to the State Tournament was Senior co-captain John Moffett. Moffett who was seeded third entering the tournament finished fourth. After an opening round bye Moffett won his quarter-final match but then lost two straight to finish fourth. One loss came to Gary Ramos of Dover Air, while the other to Gene Short of Milford.

Last season Lapinsky finished fourth in the state Tournament. The tournament gets underway at 6:30 on Friday at the New Cape Henlopen High School.

Three students from Woodbridge High school will participate in the Delaware State Chorus concert to be held February 26, 1977. They are [r-l] Franklin Gray [baritone], Penny Connelly [Alto], and Chris Andrews [baritone]. The concert will be held at the Glasgow High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. [Staff Photo by Ray Blanchette]

The Green Thumb

In the past week several homeowners have called about bleeding maple trees. When they look at the tree a row or rows of holes found.

This is the work of the yellow-bellied Sapsucker which is a woodpecker that feeds on sap and soft inner bark. They will also feed on ants, beetles, and other insects, also, some wild fruits.

Even though the holes may completely girdle a tree, permanent damage is usually insignificant. Bleeding doesn't hurt the tree either but wet bark is unattractive.

The full grown male is usually about 8" long and is black and white with a yellow breast. Males have a patch of red on their throat and on the top of their head. The female is smaller and lacks the red color on the throat.

If you are listening to hear the drilling, you will probably have a long wait. Contrary to popular belief, most woodpeckers don't make a lot of noise when feeding. They are noisy when the male is trying to mark his territory or they are working on a dead limb.

The sapsucker is unpredictable, there are no practical preventive or control measures. If you could supply him enough food he may not want or need to drill your tree.

Dormant oil treatments for control of mites, aphids, scales, mealy bugs and gall insects are applied at or before bud break. This spray smothers the eggs of these pests. It is probably the most important fruit tree spray and is a very important shade tree treatment. To control leaf and stem galls on oaks, hickory, willow and maple, apply as buds begin to open. This treatment is much more effective if you use 70 sec. oil plus ethion combination. Dormant oil should not freeze on the tree but should dry on it. Apply when the temperatures are above 40 degrees fahrenheit and will remain above 40 for at least a day. If the oil freezes on the tree it causes bud damage. Check the label for rates and plants that can be treated.
