

DSEA President Blasts State Supreme Court Reversal Of Teachers' "Personal" Day Off

"Completely prejudiced. A shockingly unfair decision that ignores the clear cut intent of the law," comments Wally Young, DSEA President, concerning the decision of the Delaware Supreme Court yesterday (April 20) which reversed a Superior Court ruling stating that teacher absences for personal reasons are not subject to the approval of chief school officers.

"The Delaware Supreme Court didn't like the lower court ruling and simply chose to disregard legal scholarship," Young adds. "It made a politically expedient decision at the expense of thousands of teachers. It's just one more indication that teachers, and all public employees, cannot rely on our institutions for justice and equity. Public employees can rely only on the strength of their organizations, on their unity and on their developing political power."

Young says the Supreme Court's "cursory and shallow" opinion gives a "green light" for chief school officers to make dictatorial and arbitrary decisions regarding teacher absences. "The Supreme Court has blatantly catered to a management point of view." "School boards already have more than enough leeway to commit unfair labor practices and circumvent the law. But this unwarranted decision hands school management a blackjack with which to bludgeon its employees," Young concluded. The original suit was filed in 1975 by Thomas A. Sinclair, a teacher, against the Board of Education of the Marshallton-McKean School District. Sinclair, the plaintiff, claimed that under Delaware law, 14 Del. C. 1318 (f), an employee may be absent one day for personal reasons without a loss of pay and approval by the chief school officer of the leave is not mandated by the law. Sinclair was absent without leave during a one day "job action" in September 1974. Superior Court agreed with Sinclair that the chief school officer cannot disapprove an absence if it is listed as one of the ten reasons given in the statute. And absences for a personal reason clearly is in the code. (#10) "If the result or consequence of the current state of the law is unacceptable, then recourse must be had to further legislative action," commented the Superior Court.

Harrington Lumber and Supply Sold To U. L. Harman Company

The Harrington Lumber and Supply, Inc. which took its name shortly after the Downing family of Milford purchased it in 1942 has been sold to the lumbering Harman family of Maryland, Md.

The Downing family purchased the present business from I.D. Short of Milford in 1942. Fulton J. Downing was put in charge of the business at that time. The Downing family was from Salisbury where N.B. Downing had worked for the E.S. Adkins & Co. N.B. Downing while employed by Adkins & Co. had been principally involved in mill work. Desiring to pursue this trade on his own he moved his family to Milford and settled there. He started the N.B. (Norris Berwick) Downing Co. from which they rapidly grew from mill work like the construction of staircases and fireplace mantels to lumber business and the related products traded in this field.

When Fulton Downing moved here in 1942 to manage the new business, they continued to pursue the millwork business as well as continue the already deersified business which they had purchased. I.D. Short Co sold coal and prain as well as the general lumbering products. Downing continued to expand the business operation into the construction field. From small jobs of remodeling homes to the construction of new homes in the area, they expanded the business into the commercial construction field where they built shopping centers in Maryland, Pennsylvania and Delaware.

Upon the death of N.B. Downing and his two sons Clarence and Fulton the running of the business passed to the grandson Richard, who last year retired from the business. He was succeeded by Bernard Clements a native of Milford now residing in the Wilmington area. Clements issued a statement Tuesday that the lumber, hardware and paint business comprised the sale of the business. The Downing Fuel Oil Co. was not sold nor the land where the tanks are placed on Hanely Street not the Downing Construction Co. The fuel Oil Co. will be head-

Correction Of School Report

In the headline story "29 Teacher Get Letters of Dismissal" in The Harrington Journal of April 20, was incorrectly reported that the entire Lake Forest English Department was included in the list of non-tenured teachers.

Only two of the English department teachers are reported to be non-tenured, that is, teachers in the Lake Forest District for less than two years. The Journal Regrets the error.

Walkathon At 9:00 Saturday

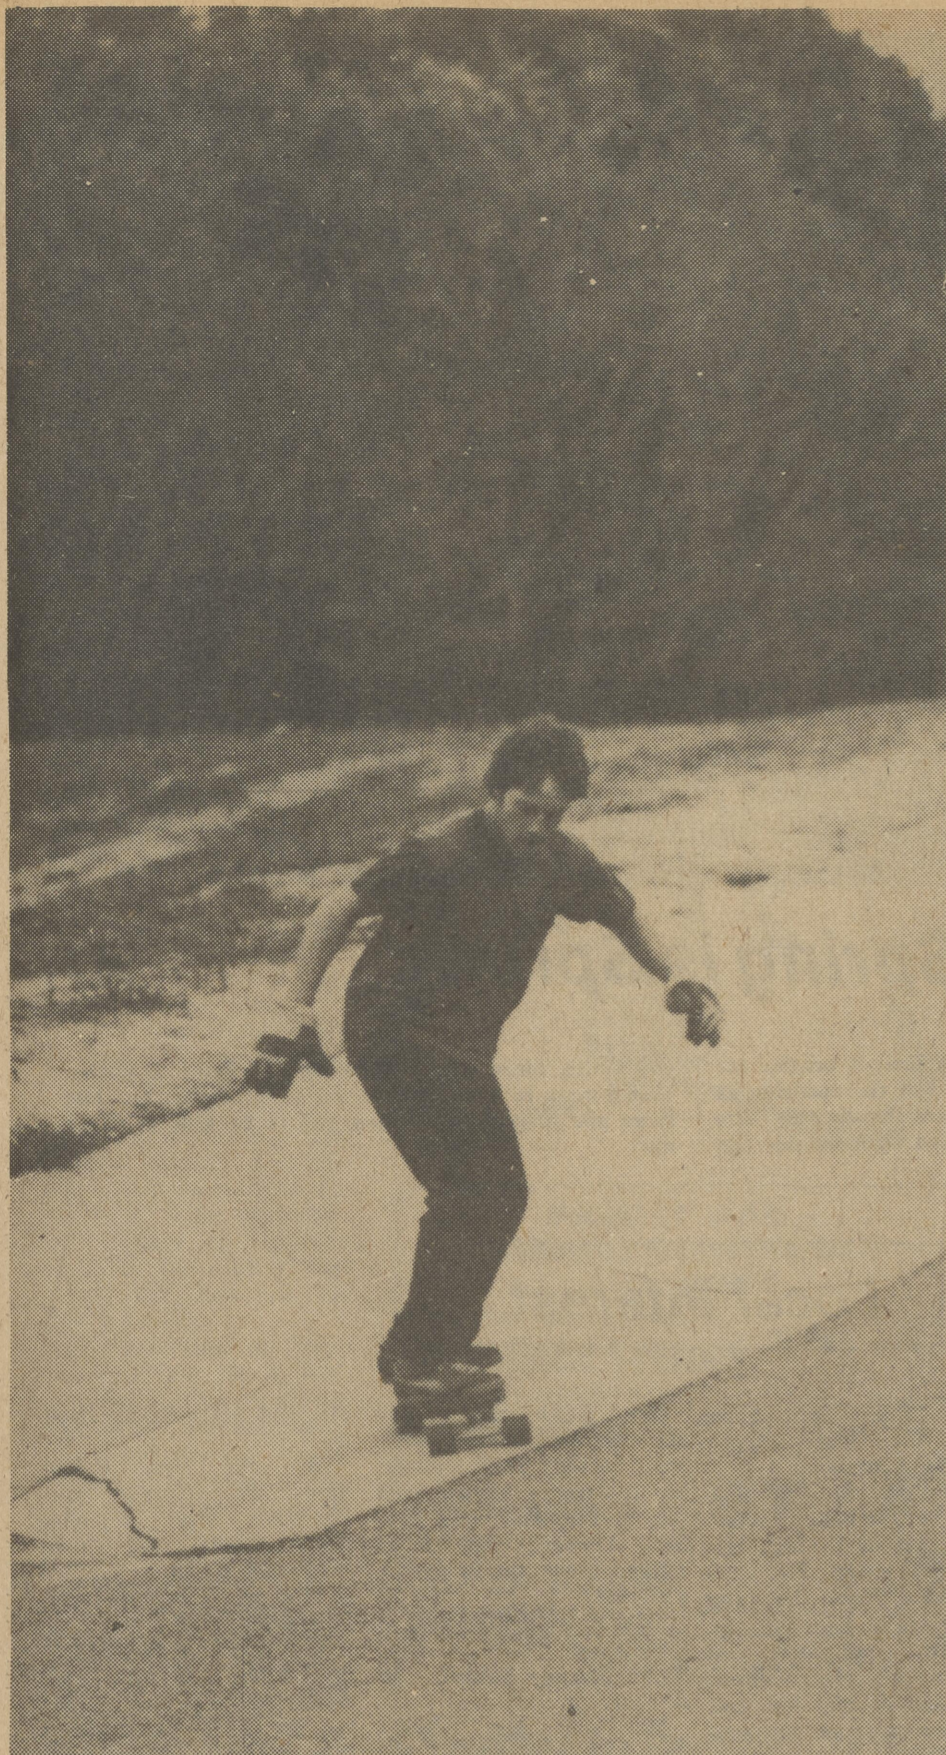

The AFS Walkathon will begin promptly at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, April 30th from Chipman School parking lot with Harrington Mayor Arthur "Buck" Cahall cutting the ribbons to signal the start.

More than 100 walkers have signed up to begin the 15 mile trek over a circle route that will end at the Chipman School where refreshments will be served.

The Lake Forest Chapter of AFS and the AFS Chapter of both the Lake Forest High and Chipman Schools have been in charge of arrangements.

Funds raised by the walk will be used to support the Foreign Exchange Student program which brings a student to Lake Forest High School and also helps to send students from Lake Forest to a foreign country for either the winter or summer program.

Uts Wichels, the current AFS Student is expected to be present for the walk also.

Bingo Bandit Makes Off With Winnings

Sunday night began as a lucky night for Mary Dehaven of Harrington but ended being not so lucky.

Mrs. Dehaven had won three of the bingo pools offered last Sunday night at the Harrington Volunteer Fire Co.'s regular weekly bingo session only to end up losing it all when someone made off with her pocketbook in the last fifteen minutes of the final game.

In her pocketbook at the time of the theft was eighty dollars. The case is currently under investigation by the Harrington City Police department. Anyone with any information about the pocketbook should contact the police at City Hall.

Also reported in the city were three other thefts during the past week. William Stoltzfus reported having had stolen a carburetor, ignition, coil, and distributor cap from his 1970 Oliver tractor. The police have a suspect and charges are pending further investigation.

Spring Is Sprung

Despite the possibility of a high fine, if caught, for dumping trash people continue to use the roadside as a dump. One of the worst areas locally for this problem is Weiner Avenue extended right outside the city limits. Since it is outside the city limits it is the county's job to keep it clean but as witnessed by this large pile of trash they seem not to be able to keep up.

Senior Center News

by Cleota Willey

Dr. Elizabeth Lloyd was here on Monday morning for fun and fitness. She is in charge of exercise at Dover Y.M.C.A.

Later it was band rehearsal as is the usual procedure on Monday.

Rev. Willink was with us on Tuesday morning with Bible Study. It was enjoyed very much by one and all. There were about 30 members and friends present.

After lunch it was our monthly birthday party with around 61 members and guests present. There were 7 members at the birthday table. The ice cream and the cake made by Mrs. Roat was delicious as it always is.

We were shown a film by Mr. George Goodge.

Mrs. Powell and Mrs. Holden were here with slides on the care of food, also some nutrition preparation.

Mrs. Dorothy Graham was back again for ceramics. Mrs. Elsie Vineyard is still coming in to teach knitting and crocheting.

We had no bus for a trip to Milford Friday. The team went by private cars.

Mr. Phillips was here with a film on health.

Our most sincere sympathy to the family of Mrs. Viola Jacobs who passed away last week.

She was a member of the Senior Center.

Report from Hickory Ridge Congregational Methodist Church: Our attendance was down a bit in the morning, but the evening was better. We enjoyed special music provided by Elwood Graebner and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Adams.

Don't forget the work night at church. Thursday this week and Tuesday nights thereafter. There is a lot of work to be done if we are to have our pews and carpeting installed by Christmas.

Report from Greenwood United Methodist Church: On Sunday evening Epworth Church was in charge of the Family Fellowship Covered-Dish supper and program afterward.

Next Sunday, May 1, there will be a dedication and Open House at the Community House, next to Hatfields. The time is 5:30 p.m. Everybody Come!!

Circle your calendars for May 21. The Greenwood United Methodist Women will sponsor a "Birthday Party" in Fellowship Hall of the church, for the entire charge. Adults $1 and 50 cents for preschoolers. Tickets are limited. Ice cream and cake will be served and there will be entertainment.

Congratulations to Mrs. Helen Wilson on a new grandchild. Her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Linda and Marvin Wright of Milford welcomed a son, Jeff Christopher, 9 lb. 3 oz. Young Jeff has a little sister, three and one-half years old.

Also congratulations to Mrs. Irene Willey on the birth of a new grandson. He is the child of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Willey.

Mrs. Delema Smith attended the first meeting of the newly formed Ki-Wives at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Graham, on Thursday evening.

Easter week house guests of Mrs. Helen Wilson were her sister, Mrs. Chiquita Meyers of Philadelphia, and her daughter, Miss Donna Kay Wilson of Chicago.

Mr. James Smith and his mother, Mrs. Delema Smith attended the wedding of Miss Pamela Jean Oliphant to Mr. Dana Glenn Black in Wesley M.E. Church, Dover, at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

On Sunday, Mrs. Delema Smith and son, James, visited Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. Bessie Howard at Rehoboth.

Mrs. Luther Messick and her daughter, Mrs. A. Robinson of Seaford, co-hosted a bridal shower for Teddyann Cook on Friday evening, April 22. A special feature of the occasion was a beautiful blue and white cake with the shower theme carried out with parasol and raindrops. This was made by Miss Brenda Zott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Zott. She is specializing in cakes appropriate for different occasions.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bolinger and children, Hilary,

Teddy and Garith, were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bollinger in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania. While there they participated in a two-day antique show.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield were Friday evening callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Laughery were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Case and Blair of Newark, Mrs. Irene Vincent and Debbie of Farmington, and Wendy and Lisa Laughery. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield joined them for coffee and dessert in the evening.

On Monday Mrs. Alice McIlvaine and Mrs. Edna Hayes motored over to Easton to visit Hilly's Garden Shop and enjoyed lunch together. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph

Davis of Federalsburg were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alison Davis.

The following persons attended the Delaware State Congress of parents and teachers held at Concord High School on Saturday: Mrs. Mary Parsons, Mrs. Marie Betts, Mrs. Eliza Foreman, Mrs. Maggie Benson, Mrs. Shirley Hayes, Mrs. Betty Lofland and Mrs. Veronica Cannon.

The local P.T.A. is sponsoring a Candidate's Night for the school board election for Woodbridge District, on May 2 at 8 p.m. in the Band Room. The three candidates are Mr. Donald Green, Mr. Thurman Hicks, and Mr. Elwood Webb. The public is welcome and urged to attend.

Cheer Center News: Week April 18-22

The Public Health Nurse visited at the Center to check on our members blood pressure.

We did not get to have our regular monthly birthday party as the Site was closed for two days while the carpet was being installed in the Educational Bldg.

On Thursday, our members visited with the Columbia Center members and on Friday they visited the Laurel Center members, each day was very enjoyable. It was pleasant to visit other clubs and see what the members are doing in the way of activities.

Mrs. Belle Allen has been under the doctor's care this week.

Mrs. Mae Kelley of Millville and Mrs. Harriet Graves of Georgetown visited with Mrs. Lena Barwick on Saturday.

Forever and Always

Sam Shipley, recent Delaware Democratic candidate for Congress, once told us a remark he heard from Lyndon Baines Johnson. "A president, if he is a good one, spends his term in office spending his popularity and has very little of it left when he leaves the office."

Speculators within the news media in recent weeks have forecast all manner of doom and gloom in the matter of energy generally, and the Carter cure in particular. And especially, they have predicted such a reaction from Congress as to trigger a major split within the government.

Then along comes Carter on television, presumably to spend all his popularity in fifteen minutes.

And behold!
He smiles. The Congress smiles back. Members of the cabinet smile. The President gave a masterful speech as he tossed the energy ball to the Congress. Nobody got mad. The sky didn't fall and such disagreement as exists appeared to be friendly. The mood appeared to be one of general acceptance that the President has assessed the problem correctly, with the differences being on matters of method in dealing with it.

There was a catastrophe though; a catastrophe for the media which saw its predicted controversy evaporate, the controversy on which it depends these days for headlines to suggest all the devils in hell loose at each other.

Alas, the President spoke, and no blood got spilled on the sands of the troubled city by the Potomac. And, deprived of blood to grease the machinery of their trade and the swivel chairs on which they rest their brains, the media commentators which offered up the televised autopsies telling all of us dummies what the president said, plainly showed their discontent.

Their noses were more pinched than usual,
Their lips a bit more tight.

One seemed to snarl when deprived of the fight.
He hinted recession of destructive might,
In a nation all wrong and the media right,
Forever and always, day and night!

In My Opinion

by Carol Glasspool

The lead editorial in last week's edition of the Harrington Journal was a "little gem" entitled "Johnny Go Home" by Reginald B. Rockwell, General Manager of the Journal. It was so nebulous in content that it nearly defies answering; however, I feel compelled to give it my very best effort.

"Johnny Go Home" could serve as a teaching aid in any high school journalism class as a prime example of how not to write an editorial and journalistic "running off at the mouth".

When one is granted the privilege of having their editorials printed in a newspaper there is a responsibility that accompanies that privilege. While it is true that editorials are basically opinion, the opinion should be formulated from and based upon fact. Because the editorial writer hopes to influence the reader's thinking the same necessity for accuracy that is basic to good news reporting is or should be required for an editorial writer.

The Journal is a weekly newspaper and its circulation is pretty much limited to this rural area which includes the Lake Forest and Woodbridge School District. Mr. Rockwell's editorial makes such sweeping generalizations as Delaware school administrators and "non-teaching personnel exceeding or equalling the number of teachers in the three counties in Delaware". I believe some clarification is needed and some questions are raised that Mr. Rockwell should answer. Exactly where is the bureaucracy that should be cleared out? Is it the D.P.I.? Is it a specific school district? What positions would he have eliminated?

There are sixteen administrators in this school district for three elementary schools, one junior high school, one high school and one hundred eighty-two teachers. The sixteen administrators are one principal at each school, two vice principals at the high school, one vice principal at the junior high, one vice principal at North Elementary who will be the principal at South Elementary next year, one superintendent, one assistant superintendent, one transportation supervisor, one supervisor of instruction, one school lunch supervisor, one buildings and grounds supervisor and one special education coordinator. Who could or should be eliminated? Is Mr. Rockwell aware that there is no tenure involved with administrative personnel? Because they do not have tenure protection administrators must be notified six months prior to the end of their contracts that they will not be employed the next year. In other words, any administrator who is not going to be rehired this June should have been notified by December 31st of last year.

Last December this school district did not know the present Governor was going to cut our funds by 70%. The point is this: if we did have an overabundance of administrators, there is nothing that could be done about it now anyway.

With reference to his remark that administrators get "palsied" over proposed budget cuts, I would remind Mr. Rockwell that we hire administrators to run our schools and part of their job, by necessity is to be concerned about whether or not they will have the funds to do so.

Your absurdity, by your own admission, that "children can best be educated by covering them over with money" is indeed an absurdity and has nothing whatsoever to do with logical deduction. The fact is that the cost of education does not just include paying teachers and buying instructional supplies. There is a very large portion of the budget that is concerned with transportation costs and the operation and maintenance of the buildings. School districts have no more control over the sky rocketing cost of gasoline or fuel oil or electricity than the private consumer does. Since 85 to 90% of our students must be transported on school buses and we have several buildings to maintain, we surely would have rotten administrators were they not concerned about budget cuts.

Mr. Rockwell relies heavily on the trite, often-mouthed "Johnny Can't Read" statement. Has Mr. Rockwell made any investigation of what this school district is doing to remedy that situation? In fact, how much do you know, Mr. Rockwell, about this school district in any given area? Is it a case of lumping all school districts together without any regard for their differences in problems and the competency with which each district handles its problems?

I do not mean to suggest that this district is totally problem free; but let's deal in specifics. It is the responsibility of an editorial writer to identify a specific problem that his or her readership can identify with and relate to and then offer his or her opinion of a constructive solution or alternative.

Editorials like "Johnny Go Home" appear in some daily newspapers in some cities when they need to fill space. They debase the quality of a newspaper. The publisher and editor of this paper have been trying to build its quality over the last couple of years. "Johnny Go Home" was definitely not a contribution to that effort!

I respectfully submit the following advice to you, Mr. Rockwell. Consider the area of circulation of the Harrington Journal; let's be specific, constructive and know what we're talking about before we take up our pen or strike the first key on our typewriter!

The Evans Report

by Congressman Tom Evans

This week President Carter delivered his energy message to Congress. I commend the President for focusing attention on the energy crisis; I agree with him that we do have an energy crisis in our country.

The President spoke of conservation and I also agree with him that we must conserve our energy resources. Unquestionably, we waste too much, but I don't believe that conservation alone is the answer. We must also improve and increase production of energy sources. His message contained little in terms of incentives and initiatives to improve energy production. We have to look at alternative sources of energy such as solar and geothermal. Many of the energy sources we have today, such as oil and natural gas, are exhaustable. We need to develop inexhaustable resources for the future, not only for ourselves, but for future generations.

The most serious concern I have about the President's message is the bureaucracy it would add to the government, which in turn, would eat up more tax dollars. The President spoke out in the 1976 campaign against regulation and government interference in our lives; these proposals belie that position. We've already had too many freedoms taken away from us and I believe that such an energy program may take even more. If these proposed excise taxes are levied and rebates accepted, the monies must be collected and distributed by the government, hopefully in an equitable manner.

The question of a gasoline tax is of great concern to all Americans and Delawareans. A gasoline tax will hit the average working man and woman hardest. It will particularly hit those who live in the suburbs and in rural communities (particularly farmers) who rely on the automobile to get to and from work -- their livelihood depends on their autos. I'm convinced that such a tax will cause even greater inflation.

The outlook for the passage of the President's energy proposals does not look like an "easy road". I know that I will look at all the proposals very carefully. Conservation is essential; several months ago I co-sponsored legislation calling for tax credits for home insulation. I firmly advocate energy conservation design of homes, shopping centers, public buildings and plants. But, at the same time, we've got to look to increasing our energy supply because we have an energy-related economy. Without energy we won't have jobs, the permanent jobs that we need so badly in America and Delaware. Speaker O'Neill has set up a special Ad Hoc committee to oversee the proposed energy legislation. Many of those standing committees already in Congress will also be considering various aspects of the President's energy proposals, including several of the committees on which I serve. I look forward to working with the President and other Members of Congress on the development of a comprehensive energy

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,
I completely agree with your editorial "Johnny Go Home", that quality education has a lot more to do with spending money on teachers and books than it has to do with money spent on bureaucracy that doesn't teach.

It has been reported in another newspaper that one out of every six employees in the State works for a government, either Federal, State, or Local.

It is time we cut out a lot of the red tape at the top and put the money saved to a better education for the children.

Sincerely,
Earl Yoder

The Village Idiot

by R. B. R.

Back in 1796, an Englishman named Henry Winterbotham published a multi-volume work on the history and geography of America. In it, he described each state.

Included in the list was Delaware, formerly the three lower counties of Pennsylvania. Among other things, Winterbotham described Delaware south of the Brandywine as "much given to swamps, plagues and fevers, and generally not fit for human habitation."

Elsewhere in old Winterbotham's labors it became apparent that he'd never visited Delaware. Otherwise he'd have realized that while he was correct in the matter of part of Delaware being unfit for human habitation his facts were backside to.

His error was that north of the Brandywine, not south of it, is where humanity encounters tribulation and trial in the matter of survival. Also, he failed to reckon with the cause of the "plagues and fevers of the swamps of southern Delaware. The cause was of course mosquitos and Winterbotham, writing no doubt in some garet beside the Thames, didn't take into account that the mosquitos of Delaware, while formidable indeed, are easily controlled with a shotgun.

This is especially true in the heat of the day when you can catch 'em roosting. And, as anybody downstate knows, it isn't too tough to knock 'em off in flight if you lead 'em about a foot and a half.

Now all this proves nothing except to suggest the ignorance of historians, particularly English ones. Frequently they lie.

Probably they are as inept with a shotgun as they are loose with truth. Maybe we should arm them all with a shotgun and send them on an Ellendale Swamp mosquito hunt. Surely they'd fire and miss.

A near missed mosquito gets an awful headache. A mosquito with a headache gets mean and.....

Thoughts

by Senator Bill Roth

During the Congressional Easter recess, at President Carter's request, I spent eight days in the People's Republic of China with a bipartisan House-Senate delegation. This trip was part of an ongoing series of exchanges between the United States and China, agreed upon at the time of former President Nixon's visit in 1972. Therefore, in this first of two columns on my trip, I would like to share with you some of my impressions of the most populous country in the world.

China presents a vivid contrast to the United States in almost every conceivable way. Imagine a country of 900 million people where nearly everyone dresses alike, thinks alike, and has little contact with the outside world. There could be little frank conversation between our delegation and the Chinese leaders and people we spoke with. Everyone -- from the highest officials to nursery school children -- repeated the same themes in the same Marxist jargon. The themes we heard, repeated over and over again, were how the Chinese people had crushed "the gang of four" (Mao Tse-tung's widow and her radical followers who were accused of plotting to take over the government) and the dangers of Soviet imperialism. The leaders were more interested in lecturing us than in listening to our views.

There is little doubt that China and the United States share a concern about Soviet expansionism. Interestingly, however, China's leaders do not regard China as the primary target of the Soviet Union. They constantly say that Western Europe is most in danger and that the United States must strengthen its defenses in Europe. They are also deeply concerned about Soviet inroads in Southern Africa and accused the United States of pursuing a policy of appeasement there.

It is ironic, however, that despite these statements, China continues to revere the memory of Josef Stalin, whose huge portrait, along with those of Marx, Lenin, Engels, and Mao, adorns the main square in Peking. I told the Chinese that I regarded Stalin as one of the most evil and expansionist-minded men of all time.

In my next column, I will discuss what I feel is the future of American-Chinese relations.

Weekly Report

by Senator Joe Biden

This week I cosponsored an amendment which will prevent the retroactive application of a change in the tax laws that could increase the taxes of many of our senior citizens.

The change has to do with the elderly tax credit, formerly called the retirement income credit. Under some conditions, the tax provisions allow for a 15% credit against taxes for elderly citizens. In 1976, Congress took action to make the credit available to more people. However, at that time Congress also placed a ceiling on the amount of income an elderly couple or individual could have and still receive the tax credit. Because Congress made the change retroactive many people discovered that they owed back taxes which they had not expected.

Changes in the tax laws like this are made retroactive with the expectation that people will be made aware of the change when Congressional committees hold hearings on them or propose them. This kind of notice may work well for corporations and for people who are wealthy enough to afford lawyers to follow the constant changes in the tax structure, but the average citizen cannot possibly keep track of all the changes -- nor should he or she be expected to. A retroactive change in the tax law can increase taxes unexpectedly and thereby create many financial burdens and perhaps even requiring elderly people to have to borrow money to pay for taxes which they never expected. I think that we should take every possible step to avoid this kind of action in the future.

In addition, I believe that the restrictive element in this new law should be carefully re-examined when Congress considers tax reform at the end of this year or the beginning of next. I have long favored the reformation of our entire tax system. Ideally, I would like to see most, if not all, of the special exemptions and exclusions eliminated from our tax laws. At the same time, I do not want to tighten up on exemptions for middle income and lower income people until we can eliminate the special tax shelters that benefit the large corporations and wealthy individuals. Last year, we tried to get rid of some of the special tax breaks for the wealthy in the "Tax Reform Act of 1976". We had limited success. In fact, it now appears that we had greater success in tightening the laws applying to millions of our citizens who have few opportunities to cut down on

IRS Asks Taxpayer Form Input

Taxpayers, tax practitioner groups and other interested parties or organizations will have the opportunity to suggest improvements in Federal tax return forms, instructions and related schedules, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

The suggestions are being solicited as part of the IRS annual Forms Review Program. The comments and suggestions, in sufficient detail to communicate what is being recommended, should be submitted in writing by May 16, 1977.

While careful consideration will be given all comments and suggestions received, the IRS said that because of the anticipated volume of correspondence, it will not be possible to respond to each submission.

Felton Fire Co. held their annual ladies night on Sat., April 23. A delicious roast beef dinner was served by the Ladies Aux. of the Roytan Club of Viola with their President in charge, Mrs. Fern Harrington of Felton. Some of the highlights of the evening were Ladies Aux. of the fire company presenting the firemen with $4500 worth of new equipment; air pax, hot stick, exhaust fan, ice machine were some of the things they needed.

Joseph Sherwood's name will be brought up for nomination at the state firemen's convention to be held in Dover this Sept. for the Fireman of the year award for heroism. He pulled a man out of a burning truck after an accident on Hiway 13. Congratulations, we are proud to have you in our community.

A big congratulations to Joyce F. Sipple who received the Outstanding Young Woman award for the year 1976-77. This award was presented to Joyce from Mayor Wm. Myers. Joyce is the wife of Larry Sipple of Felton Heights. They have three children, twins Kevin and Karen, and Steven.

The fireman who responded to the most fire calls for this year was Lee Moore. The ambulance attendant who responded to the most ambulance calls

Leggett Store Expansion

Thomas H. Draper of the Milford Plaza Shopping Center in Milford has announced plans to expand the center by 70,000 square feet. Leading the expansion will be a Leggett's Department Store with 32,000 square feet and a 12,000 square foot expansion of the existing Acme store. Leggett's has had a store in downtown Milford since 1966. Representing Leggett's in the negotiations was Mr. William Leggett of Charlottesville, Virginia. The local Milford store is managed by Mr. Randy Rice. The Leggett Store will open in the summer of 1978 and the Acme addition should be completed by late fall of 1977. Draper also announced plans to construct 26,000 square feet of other stores. Leases have been signed and construction will start next month on the following stores: The Wigwam, a western clothes store featuring Levis, Lee boots and tack equipment; Walls Childrens Store, Blue Hen Florist, Angelo's Pizza and Italian Restaurant, and Shirley's Beauty Salon. Several other leases are pending. Existing tenants in the Milford Plaza's 105,000 square feet include Drug Fair, Acme, Ames Dot's Card and Gift Shop, Alice's Clothes Tree, the Plaza Cinema, Milford Liquors, Radio Shack, Household Finance Company, Mister Donut, Hardees and Farmers Bank.

If you desire further information, call Tom Draper, 422-7575 or Mr. Peter Leggett in Lynchburg, Virginia, 804-845-5931.

Construction will be financed by the Wilmington Savings Fund Society.

Leggett's has 65 stores in five states.

84% Favor Tax Incentives

Roth Poll Results Announced

Sen. Bill Roth (R-Del.) said last week that the results of his 1977 poll of Delawareans show that 84 percent favor tax incentives to encourage energy conservation.

Roth said that nearly 22,000 individual responses to the questionnaire "provide a revealing profile of Delawareans' concerns and attitudes."

Roth said the poll indicates that Delawareans overwhelmingly favor a cutback in the growth of federal spending. When asked how the U.S. government could best speed economic recovery, 88 percent of the respondents said they favored decreased federal spending. At the same time, 94 percent favored decreased federal taxes towards the same goal and 65 percent wanted a balanced budget. The poll cited 23 special categories of federal spending and asked whether there should be increased outlays of tax dollars in those areas. Only four -- crime, energy, mass transit and senior citizens -- were seen by the majority as issues in which there should be increased spending.

In a separate energy category, 79 percent of the respondents favored increased government spending on research and development and 72 percent favored further construction of nuclear power plants.

In a letter to Delawareans reporting on the poll results, Roth said: "My proposals to provide specific relief for taxpayers -- tax credits for college expenses, tax incentives to conserve energy, adjustment of income taxes to the tides of inflation, deductions for money saved for home purchases, and tax relief for those who house senior citizens -- received generally enthusiastic majority approval."

Roth added that the poll also showed that Delawareans continue to favor "overwhelmingly" Constitutional amendments that would forbid the busing of students to achieve racial balance (85 %); to allow the right of prayer in public schools (80 %) and to require a balanced federal budget (76 %).

Phone Company Plans Dual Listings

The Diamond State Telephone Company this week proposed a plan for providing dual name listings of residence customers in its directory assistance records and in telephone books published in the future.

In a tariff filed with the Delaware Public Service Commission to become effective in 60 days, the company outlined a plan for showing two first names in a single directory listing for customers with the same surname residing at the same address. For example, a typical listing might show "Jones, John-Mary."

Customers known by two first names will also be permitted to show "Smith, Charles-Chuck."

If the request for a dual listing is made at the time when new service is established, there will be

"And he rolled off into the sunset in his blue Camaro, tape deck rocking to the sounds of K.C. and the Sunshine Band." Something like this might appear in any thirteen-year old's dream of the good life in a world free of the restrictions of parents, teachers and homework.

"But how will you finance the Camaro and the tape deck, not to mention a few bothersome necessities such as food and clothing?"

"Oh, I'll get a job."

"A job doing what....?"

Therein lies a crucial question or a series of them: What things can I do well? What am I terrible at doing? What interests me, bores me, drives me crazy? Just what kinds of jobs are there? What skills and education do they require? And how available are they? Will there be a job for me in that field when I am ready for it?

This series of questions and others relative to it underlie the Vocational Lab program taught by John Melling at the W.T. Chipman Jr. School. Vocational Lab is an exploratory career education program. Its goal is not training in any specific area - vocational or otherwise - but acquaintance with a number of job fields or possibilities and some knowledge of the requirements for entering them.

Currently there are about fifty students enrolled in the program which was initiated in the 1975-76 school year under a state-directed federal grant. For most seventh and eighth graders involved, Vocational Lab consumes two periods a day. Half of the time is spent in more conventional class activities such as individual paper work and class discussion. The other half is a lab session offering the opportunity to handle tools and to plan and complete concrete products.

The lab session serves as an exercise in problem solving and often provides the reinforcement of a successfully completed project as motivation for the student to try another area, perhaps one in which he has experienced little but failure in the past. And since lab work is the more popular half of the day, the knowledge that class work must be completed first and satisfactorily, serves as additional motivation.

Not the least important motivation is the incentive just to come to school, a place that for many students has otherwise been associated only with the continuing pain of failure.

Projects in the lab vary through work in wood, metal, plastic, a sampling of foundry work, or a chance to operate a press or pour some concrete. There are also cooking and sewing lab sessions. In all of this other school departrabet, (dado, miter). These had to come out square or be done again. The joints were later employed in projects such as shelves and boxes.

Not every project is a to know, long before he decides to go into carpentry or be a mason, that while he's pretty good at finishing concrete and can be proud of constructing a brick wall, the smell of sawdust makes him sick and he can't drive a nail without splitting a board.

He also needs to know that talents and skills in any area need to be developed and that there is an area in which he can develop success.

The Vocational Lab program began last year in a bare bones class room which has since been outfitted through projects done by the students. They have constructed various kinds of shelving and overhead storage. Through them a large tool cabinet was unloaded, brought into the classroom, put together and stocked with various tools in their proper places. They have also constructed a desk put together without hardware and built a lumber rack to organize some of the materials.

Individually students have built shelves and boxes, made rings from laminated plastic, devised candle holders from wood and plastic, printed Christmas greeting cards, made games, worked with sheet metal and baked and iced a chocolate cake.

The program at the end of its second year is still building and changing. It is innovative, but it builds upon and reinforces the basic academic subjects as they apply in the everyday world.

Funded at the outset through a federal grant, the Chipman Vocational Lab presently receives various sources of financial support. Some federal money is certain for next year. But according to John Melling, the extent of other funding is uncertain as is the long range effect on the program of the current fiscal crisis in Delaware and its impact on education.

A concentrated effort is put forth by Tondia Edwards as she shapes a laminated plastic ring. Tondia started with three squares of plastic which had to be laminated and drilled before the final shaping could take place.

ments such as the home economics and industrial arts areas are supportive.

Projects are mostly chosen by the students rather than preselected by the teacher. However, there is a progression of projects in terms of difficulty. And reasonable standards are expected to be met.

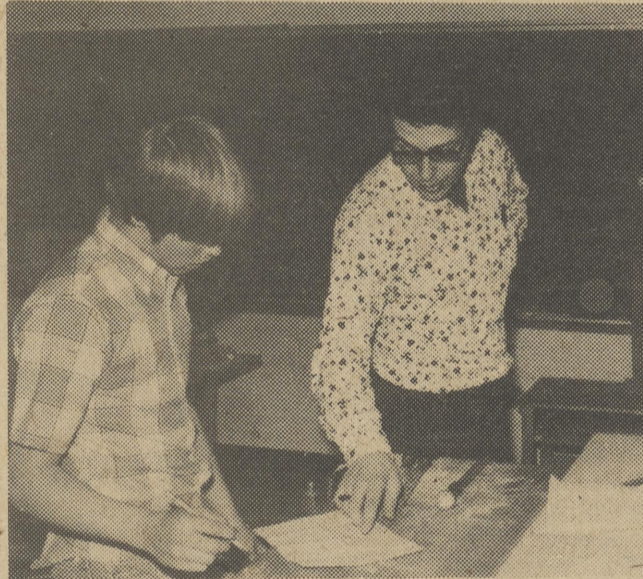

This year, for instance, a beginning project in wood was a simple wedge as a doorstop. Simple? Well, at least one student confesses that it was one of the more difficult and possibly disagreeable projects to do. Students began with a block of wood about half of which had to be removed with the use of some unfamiliar tools. Sanding and finishing took a lot of work. And in the process each student found he had to follow directions and work to a plan.

Successor to the doorstop was a wooden trivet designed in the shape of a puzzle with four interlocking pieces. Those who worked on this had to start by making their own design for a puzzle in which the four pieces would hold together. Again they had to follow the design and complete the step-by-step process in order to finish the project.

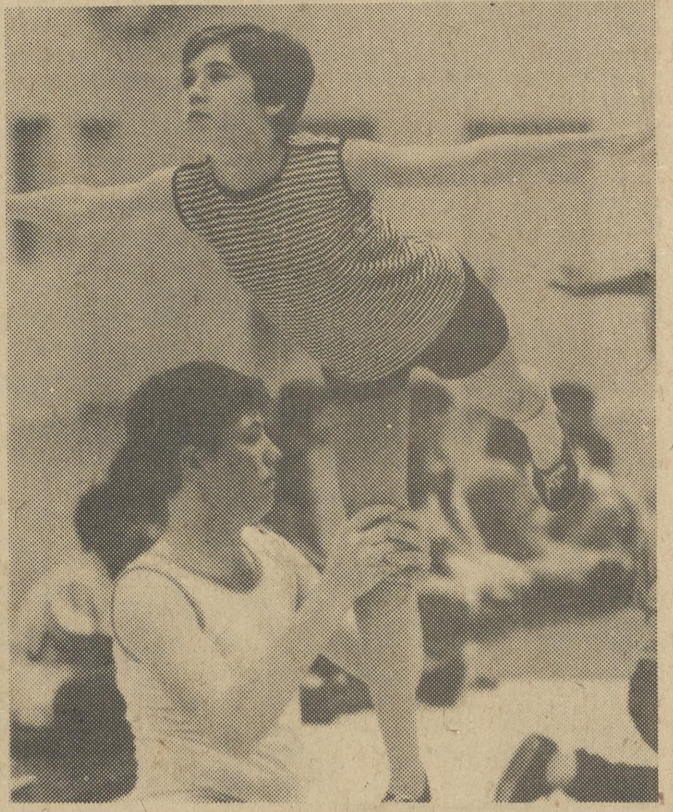

Another step was a series of wood joints (butt, resounding success. There are varying degrees short of perfection and some dismal failures that collapse. But the failures can provide as much information as the successes. Maybe the flop indicates that the student needs to begin again and revise his plans or follow directions more carefully. Or perhaps the information gained is that, while there are some areas in which he is good, this is not one of them.

Such information can be of value. The future owner of the blue Camaro needs

"Should your next step be...?" Mr. Melling helps Mark Gosser over a hump in making his plans. Although the teacher is there for assistance, students are encouraged to tackle problems on their own.

Vegetabella Triumphs

Milk and Cheese build bones with ease
Bread for health and calories
Cereal to help the bread
To give you lots of energy
Vegetables for vitamins
Meat to fill you full of vim
Fruit the best thing for a snack
Now I think you've got the hack,
So ran the theme song for the recent Lake Forest East production of "Vegetabella" a musical based on Cinderella but boosting good nutrition.

The whole production in which the fairy godmother (or the Avon Lady) helped Vegetabella find that the way to the prince's heart was indeed through his stomach was directed by Donald Zimmer.

The production was staged as an assembly and as an evening program for parents and public.

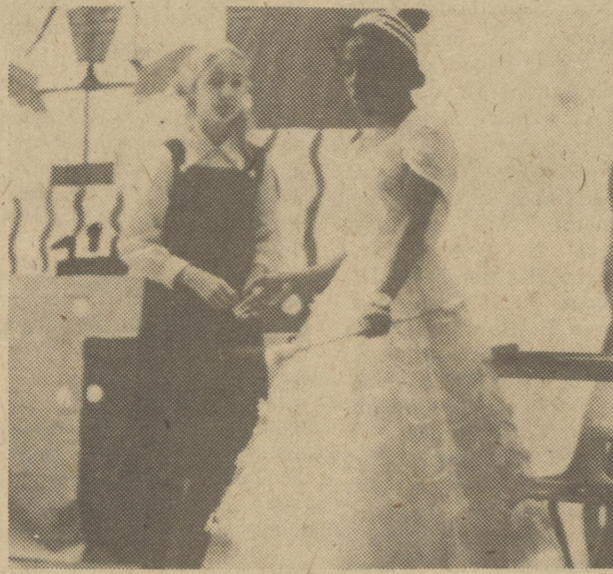

Major characters were - Vegetabella... Darlene Wyatt, Pepsita... Nancy Fleming, Chocolita... Angela Torbert, Fritolita... Lillian Burns, Fairy Godmoth-

A line up of vitamins parades across the stage as Innus Parker, Nauleen Sturgis, Dawn Cohee, Michelle Dodd, Gayle Carney and Loretta Clark (not in that order) demonstrate good nutrition.

South 5th Graders Perform

The fifth-grade presented a school program Friday, April 1st. A tumbling exhibition was presented by 18 of the fifth graders.

The play "Murder at Mother Goose's Place" was done. Jeff Carroll, Tracey Kennedy, David Gogne, Mike Lamphier, Jeff Minson, Christi Wise, Robin Lares, Sharon Burton were the lead characters. A baton routine was done by Stacey Horseman, Katrina Draper, Christi Wise, Deanna Appt and Debbie Edgar.
Lori Ann Wyatt performed a musical number on her guitar while singing "Skip to My Lou".
David Jarrell played "The Bagpiper" and "State Fair" on the piano.
An original "Starsky and Hutch" play written by Dennis Dill, was performed. The story involved a bank robbery and the capture of the robbers. Tommy Carroll was Starsky and Dennis Dill played Hutch. Other characters were Danny Donovan, Deanna Aapt, Lee Hicks, and Scott Swafford.
The fifth grade instrument students played five selections.

Second Graders Celebrate Spring

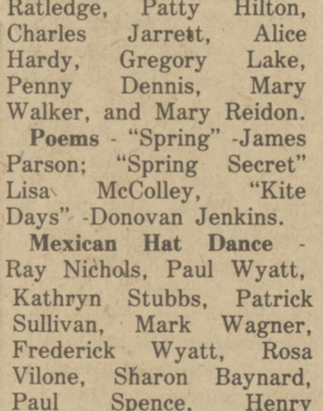

Second graders at LF South presented a pre-Easter entertainment for their parents and schoolmates in the form of a Spring Festival. The morning's program featured a number of songs and dances. Highlights were a musical rendition of Bambi featuring readers and a third grade chorus and a mini Easter Parade which wound up the event.

Participants were as follows:

Coming! Coming!! "The Wiz of Oz"

The "Wiz of Oz" a musical update in the round of the children's classic arrives at Lake Forest North in Felton on May 25 and 26. The two-night production will begin each evening at 7:30 in the school gym.

Musical Director for the whole gala production is Jane Singleton. Its producer is Bill Comer. Pam Comer serves as costume mistress, and Joyce Simmons, Sharyn Williamson, Maggie Drury, Ed Gabrielson and Rae Ann Redman of the LF North Faculty are all involved.

According to Jane Singleton, "The Wiz of Oz" will feature the music of the original, some in the traditional form and some in a rock version. This will include "Ease On Down The Road", "Everybody Rejoice", "Somewhere Over the Rainbow", "Ding Dong the Witch Is Dead", "Slide Some Oil to Me" and "Follow the Yellow Brick Road". There will be solo numbers as well as groups and a grand finale done by the entire cast which numbers in excess of 600. Keying the musical numbers will be Sarah Herster at the piano and Honey Voshell on the drums.

The cast includes about 50 students from the LF North Creative Drama group. In lead roles (most of which are double cast because of pressure and fatigue) are Deanna Arrington and Diane Young (Dorothy), Lester Hobbs and Duane Hammond (scarecrow) Bryan Hughes and Kenny Kline (Lion), Brian Gladden and Debbie Simpson (Tinman), Richard Schmitt (Oz) and Valerie Voshel (Wicked Witch of the West).

Students in the group musical numbers are the Munchkins (third grade), Blackbirds (fourth grade) and people of the Land of Oz (fifth and sixth grade gleeclubs).

A group of high school students, many of them familiar from last year's "Godspell", are doing some solo work and helping the younger students learn some of the more difficult numbers. They are Robert Draper, Clint Graham, Jimmy Callaway, Maureen Granfield, Susie Hughes and Cindy Hurd. Dawn Knipe from Caesar Rodney is also helping with the group.

Proceeds from the production, it is hoped, will complete the necessary down payment on a complete set of stage curtains. The public is invited and encouraged to attend.

Planning For College Seminar Set

To assist parents in planning their children's post-secondary education, the Terry Campus of Delaware Technical and Community College, Dover, will sponsor a one-day seminar entitled "How to Finance a College Education."

Hosted by Mr. Paul Fleming, Terry Campus financial aid officer and the Delaware representative to the DE-DC-MD Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators, the course will be held on Thursday April 28, 1977, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. in the Downes Lecture Hall of the Terry Campus. The program is free to the public, with seating available for approximately 100 persons.

The course will help answer the many questions parents have regarding: sources of funds at different institutions; application procedures; the difference between state and federal aid, and the financial information needed to complete an application. To register for the course, please call 678-5419, or stop by the college at 1832 N. DuPont Parkway, Dover.

The company's filing indicated that recently completed studies estimate 12,000 of Diamond State's 224,000 customers will order dual name listing service. The proposed one-time charge is designed to cover the costs involved in processing of orders and changing customer records as well as directory changes.

If the new tariff becomes effective as scheduled, dual listings will be available immediately in directory assistance records and in directories with the closing dates in July 1977 and thereafter.

Spartans Capture Fourth Straight

Laurel High's Bulldogs, coached by Bill McCants, became the fourth straight scholastic track team to fall to the Jim Blades-led Lake Forest Spartans. The Thursday afternoon test was held on Laurel's all-weather track and saw the locals prevail 88-53.

Danny Parker was a double winner with a 2:09.9 half mile and a 4:43.5 mile.

Ken Thorpe, a powerfully built freshman, rejoined the team after sitting out a month and made his high school track debut by winning the 100 yard dash in 10.7 seconds.

Tony Barner annexed the 440 yard run in 53.2 seconds and must be regarded as a threat to erase, Fred White's Spartan mark of 52 seconds flat.

Spartan distance standout Chris Palmisano missed the meet, but Dave Richter and Louis Thomas backed up Dan Parker so well that Laurel was blanked in both the half and mile runs. Wilson Fry, freshman Billy Mitchell and Paul McLellan swept the Bulldogs in the two mile run.

Mike Benson was runner-up in the 100, second to teammate Stacy Sam's 40 feet, 5 inches in the triple jump and then took the long jump with Sams second.

Ron Loper recorded seconds in the 220 and 440 yard runs, then teamed with Barner, Bill Moore and freshman Wm. Leroy Parker to capture the mile relay in 3:41.9.

Tim McCombs took the high jump with 5 feet, 10 inches. Joe Nored was third. Milton Justice had thirds in the 220 and triple jump.

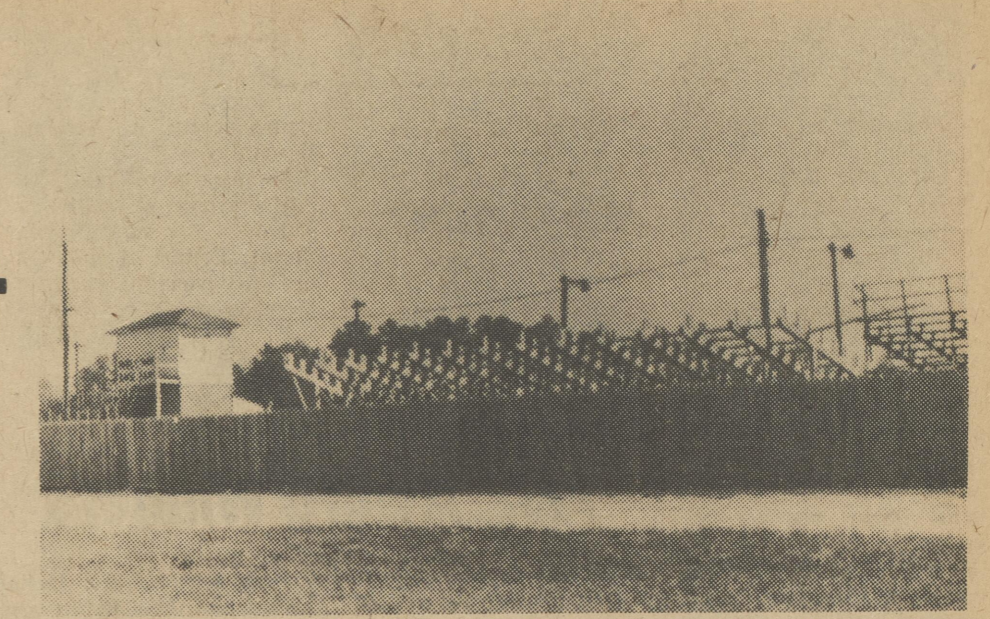

Gusty Voshell (10-6) and Allan Walth (10 feet) were second and third in the pole vault.

Jerry Custis captured his specialty, the high hurdles, while Bill Moore was runnerup in the intermediates. These lads have set new Spartan hurdle standards already.

Lake Forest travels to Dover Air Thursday and can insure a winning season with a victory.

Soccer Skill Contest

On Saturday, May 21, the Sussex County youngsters will get an opportunity to see just how good their soccer skills are this Spring. The Salisbury Coca-Cola Bottling

There has been lots of action at the Georgetown Speedway the past few weeks but the vehicles involved have not as yet, been race cars. Instead of the roar of the mighty modifieds, passers-by have been hearing the roar of bulldozers, forklifts, graders, trucks, saws, and hammers.

The "home of racing on Delmarva" is one of the few co-op managed tracks in existence and for the first time in several years it is undergoing a major facelift. Drivers, wives, children, officials, and fans have been working side by side in an effort to have the track in top condition for its opening day.

The Delmarva Auto Racing Association is a non-profit organization comprised mainly of owners, drivers and mechanics who not only promote and manage the track but also put on the show.

May 21 is Set For Mini 500 Bicycle Race

The Greater Dover Chamber of Commerce and the YMCA of Dover and Kent County are planning the third Delaware Mini 500 Bicycle Race. The event, patterned after the largest single bicycle spectator race in the Nation, (35,000-45,000 fans at the University of Indiana) is akin to NASCAR Racing except bicycles are used in a relay fashion as in the Sebring 24 hour endurance race. The race will be held at the Dover Delaware High School Track, off Walker Road and consists of four riders per team racing a total of 200 laps. Team riders are 16 years of age and up, male and/or female, using a single bicycle in relay fashion in the competition. The oldest rider in previous races was 46 and there have been 17 females who have competed. As there are no specified laps per rider, each team uses whatever strategy the situation dictates in order to try and win.

Qualifications of each rider riding one lap to determine starting position will be held on May 7 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Each team will be given three attempts to either qualify or to improve their time. The main event will have the 33 fastest qualifying teams racing 200 laps on May 21st at 1 p.m., pre-race activities start at 11 a.m. A new feature within this year's race is a high school "Superstar" category. The schools were asked to form a team of their star athletes to compete against other local high school athletes in a "Superstar" challenge. A special trophy will be given to the high school whose team first crosses the finish line. Those high schools which have indicated participation in this event are Smyrna, Dover, Caesar Rodney, Holy Cross, Dover Air Force, and Lake Forest. Representation is still needed from Milford High School.

In addition to team qualifications on May 7th, a special Junior Sprint Race will start at 1 p.m. for boys and girls ages 8-12. A one lap race will be held for each age category.

The major event will be on May 21st, with activities for the entire family. For each age group 3-7 a special 40 yard Big Wheel, Hot Cycle, Green Machine Race will start at 11 a.m. Parents are urged to bring their kids and racing machines to the track. At 11:45 a special cycling exhibition will take place. Part of the exhibition will be ramp jumping.

Starting promptly at noon, a ten lap pre-main event will feature the 13-15 age group. The Mini-500 Race will start with Governor Pierre S. DuPont IV, Dover Mayor, Charles Legates, Chamber of Commerce President, Donald Culver and YMCA President, Dr. Ruth Laws; leading the 33 teams around the track for a parade lap.

This will be followed by a pace lap starting the most exciting Bicycle Race ever seen on the east coast. A general admission ticket which is valid for both days is $1. Tickets may be purchased at the Dover High School Track on the day of qualification or race day. Tickets may also be purchased prior to the event at All Season's Garden Center, Bilton Bicycle Shop, Buchanan Firestone, McClary's Floor Covering, YMCA, or the Chamber of Commerce. Rain dates will be May 8th and May 22nd. For details on entering any of the races, call the YMCA at 674-3000 or the Chamber of Commerce at 734-7513.

Sets New Record

"Chanak", a 8 year-old gelding from "Down-Under", broke the track record at Harrington Raceway two Saturday nights ago by pacing the mile in a fast 2:01 flat.

Owned, trained and driven to victory by John Stadelman of Townsend, Delaware, "Chanak" led the field at one point in the race by up to 15 lengths. This was his second victory in as many starts in the U.S., both coming at Harrington.

According to his wife, Stadelman owns 28 other "foreign" horses, either Australian or New Zealand, and 1 American-bred horse. He has owned "Chanak" about six months, although he hasn't raced since last July. According to track officials, the old record was held by trainer J.D. Dennis's "Elsie Butler", when she won last Fall at Harrington in 2:01. "Elsie Butler" has since gone on to achieve a personal record at Brandywine of 1:58.4.

Stadelman trains on his own farm in Townsend and has lived in Delaware approximately 2 years. Before that, he and his wife made their home in Monticello, New York.

As of this writing, it is unknown whether "Chanak" will race again at Harrington, but for those that witnessed his thrilling victory, he will be remembered for years to come.

Lake Forest Finishes Fourth in Wilmington

The Wilmington Relay carnival held at Baynard Stadium is divided in two groups by enrollment. Lake Forest is in Group II (smaller schools). One would think Group II would be the weaker division, but such was not the case. The smaller school division had better performances in six events, the big schools did better in only two and one was a standoff.

Thus, Lake Forest's showing, scoring points in ten of eleven events entered, was a very good one indeed. The Spartans tallied 33 points to finish fourth behind sprint-rich units from P.S. duPont, Howard and Cape Henlopen.

The Spartans won ten individual medals with a third-place finish in the two-mile relay and second places in the distance medley and long jump relays.

Louis Thomas, David Richter, Chris Palmisano and Dan Parker each ran 880 yards in the two mile relay, with Thomas (2:07) and Richter (2:06.7) probably hitting lifetime lows as LF logged 8:36.6-Richter, now aware of how tough he can really be, scored an even-faster scratch 880 of 2:05.6 to start off the distance medley quartet.

Ron Loper, 54.2, 440, Milton Justice 23.6, 220 and Dan Parker 4.40, mile combined to log a swift 8:05.2, just 1 1/10 seconds off the Lake Forest school record.

The long jump duo of Stacy Sams (20 feet) and Mike Benson (19 ft., 11 inches) has been consistently tough all season.

High jumpers Tim McCombs and Joe Nored each cleared 5 feet, 8 inches for a fourth place finish.

The Spartans 440 and 880 relay units came in fifth with their fastest trips this season. Baron Harmon, Milton Justice, Mike Benson and Ken Thorpe made up the 440 team. Ron Loper replaced Thorpe and the 880 group then did a fine 1:35.4.

With No. 1 Spartan quarter miler, Tony Barner, unavailable, Coach Jim Blades inserted sophomore Craig Fry into the mile relay lineup. Fry turned in a very respectable 56.7 leg. Regulars Bill Moore, Dave Richter and Ron Loper completed the mile in 3:44.3 for another fifth place.

Spartan sprint medley runners were sixth with Baron Harmon and Grayson Barthlow recording 25-second 220's, followed by a 55.4 quarter by Bill Moore and a surprising 2.11 half mile by two miler, Wilson Fry.

Lake Forest's freshman 440 and 880 relay quarters were clocked in 48.6 and 1:40.3 respectively. These are unusually fast performances when it is considered that miler Harold Dixon ran with sprinters Randy Maloney, Marty Barner and Kenny Thorpe.

Girls Survive Disqualification and Win 52-48

Dave Buck's Lake Forest girls' track team survived a questionable disqualification of its winning 440 relay quartet and held off Laurel by a score of 52-48.

Tina Lapinsky, Jennifer Jandak, Sharon Morris and Karen Harris relayed the 440 yards in close to 56 seconds, but might have been the victim of a "home-town decision." This loss made the final score 52-48, instead of a much more comfortable 56-43 Spartan edge.

Maxine Harris was a double winner for Lake Forest, breaking six minutes in the mile and doing 4 feet, 4 inches in the high jump.

Karen Singleton won the 110 low hurdles in 18 seconds and got a third in the high jump.

Patsy Watson's 12.7, 100 yard dash and Joyce Ewing's 82 feet, 8 1/2 inches discus throw were other Lake Forest individual firsts.

Coach Buck entered two teams in the mile relay. The "A" team of Paul Mosley, Valerie Davis, Karen Harris and Maxine Harris was first in an excellent 4:36, but the unofficial "B" group ran very well and narrowly missed beating the Bulldogs, too.

PERSONAL

In Memory of Tony Brown who passed away May 3, 1965. Though his smile is gone forever And his hand we can not touch. We shall never lose the memories Of the one we love so much. He had a nature you could not help loving And a heart that was purer than gold, And to those who knew him and loved him His memory will never grow cold. Sadly missed by family.
Even though my stay at Milford Memorial Hospital was unwelcomed, it was made very bearable. I was really treated like a royal guest. Everyone on 2 West, I.C.U., and Dr. Graybeal were so good to me. Special thanks to the Harrington Ambulance, neighbors, and relatives for the beautiful cards, visits and flowers. I thank you very much. May God bless each of you in some special way. Violet Wix

Appreciation and thanks from the family of Odis C. Hitchens and granddaughter to Milford Hospital and personnel on second floor. The greatest appreciation to Dr. Bodie and Rev. Cox for being a great friend helping us in time of need. May God bless each and everyone of my friends and loved ones. God bless you all from Mrs. Francis Hitchens and The Baker Family. 3T5/11
