

William E. Griffin

Selected From Twenty-Nine Applicants

Griffin Named Woodbridge Superintendent

BRIDGEVILLE. Last Wednesday night at the regular school board meeting at Woodbridge, the Board named William E. Griffin, High School Principal at Lake Forest, as Superintendent of the Woodbridge School District. The office of the Superintendent was left vacant upon the retirement of Dr. Foster J. Flint, whose official retirement is July 1, 1977.

The Woodbridge School District had designated a screening committee to select the new Superintendent. From the 29 applicants for the position, the board was presented with a "final five". From that final number Griffin was selected.

Mr. Griffin is a native of Oxford, Maryland. He is married to the former Ruth Anne Elliott. They have three children, Ruth Ellen, 17; Phillip, 14, and Karen 12. They are presently enrolled in the Lake Forest School. Mr. Griffin's educational background: graduate of Wicomico High, Salisbury, Md.; attended Salisbury State College, United Wesleyan College (Allentown); Glassboro State College (New Jersey); Univ. of Del. (M. Ed. and Nova University (Ed. D. candidate). He holds the following: lifetime teachers certificate in New Jersey all subjects from K to 9th; Standard professional certificate in Md. all subjects K to 6th grade; standard elementary certificate in Delaware for grades K-6; standard secondary certificate in Del. for Social Studies grades 7-12; standard elementary principal's certificate in Del.; standard secondary principal's certificate in Del.; standard chief school officers certificate in Del.

Mr. Griffin offered the following teaching experience: English, social studies, and reading at Westville Junior High School Westville, N.J. taught sixth grade Point Pleasant Elementary School, Glen Burnie, Md. taught English and social studies sixth grade Greensboro School, Greensboro, Md.; taught sixth grade Lake Forest East Elementary, Frederica; Principal, Lake Forest East Elementary, Frederica, De., and Principal Lake Forest High School, Felton, Del. In addition to these, Mr. Griffin was immediate past president Southern Delaware Principals Assoc.; member and Chairman of many committees on evaluation of Lake Forest and other school districts, and coached football and basketball in New Jersey.

In addition to education, Mr. Griffin has held several community posts like City Councilman for the City of Harrington, and Chairman of Executive Committee for the Cub Scout Packs in Harrington. He is active in church work and is a minister in his church.

In a published statement to the Woodbridge School Board, Mr. Griffin stated "...schools should provide an adequate program of learning activities at each level of the child's school life which will encourage the pupil to: appreciate our democratic way of living; plan and evaluate plans cooperatively; develop a respect for authority...develop...self discipline; operate at the highest level of their individual ability; learn to make wise choices and to live with their decisions, and practice and appreciate the things that build good citizenship". He also added "...by working together, with the parents and the community, the school can foster an atmosphere in which learning can be challenging and effective for our young people." It was this latter which reflected Griffin's role in forming the first Parents-Teacher Advisory group at the Lake Forest High School, which represented a better working arrangement between the school and the community.

Civic Leader

Head of Ace Dress Co. Lawton W. Shroyer, Dies

SHAMOKIN, PA. Lawton W. Shroyer, President of Ace Dress Co. in Harrington died on May 23. Mr. Shroyer was the President of Shamokin Dress Co. and Shroyer's Inc. All of the firms were related to the manufacture and processing of dresses. Mr. Shroyer was 65.

A native of Shamokin, Pa. he grew up in the soft wear industry taking over and running the founding company Shamokin Dress Co. from his father. He attended schools in Shamokin, Pa. and graduated from Shamokin High School in 1930.

Mr. Shroyer was a Republican, and was active in local and state (Pa.) politics. At the time of his death, he was Chairman of the County Board of Commissioners. He was serving his third term as a County Commissioner. He was a former City Councilman for the Town of Shamokin, and had served as its Mayor in 1966. He was the Chairman of the Shamokin Redevelopment Authority and had been instrumental in implementing various community projects for the Town of Shamokin including a neighborhood swimming pool, a neighborhood playground, and the Bunker Hill project, an area north of the main community, which involved a sewer system for that area and in addition a general updating of the subhousing for the area to bring it to standard acceptance.

Mr. Shroyer's funeral was conducted from the 1st United Methodist Church of which he was a member. He was very active in church work having served as a lay delegate to the Eastern Pa. Conference, and a national delegate to the 1st United Methodist Church Conference. He had served as a Church Trustee for 35 years, a Sunday School Teacher for many years, and active in Boy Scouts having received the highest Scout award recently, the Silver Beaver award.

Mr. Shroyer was President of the Board of Trustees of Lebanon Valley College in Annville, Pa. a church related college. He was a member of the following organizations: Shamokin Kiwanis Club and past president of that club, Masonic Order Knights Templar, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, Member of Lodge of Odd Fellows and member of BPOE. He was active in bowling and was a co-owner with his brother John of the Sun Bowl Lanes in Sunbury, Pa.

Mr. Shroyer is survived by his wife Leotta, 2 daughters Susan Ervin and Jean Banford, 1 son David, 3 grandchildren, 2 sisters Ruth Lark, Betty Evland, and 3 brothers John, George and Harlan.

Mr. Shroyer was buried on May 28.

Athletic Budget Cut At Woodbridge

BRIDGEVILLE. The Woodbridge School Board at last Wednesday night's meeting voted to hire William E. Griffin to be the next superintendent for the District. (See related article).

In other business, the Board approved June 12 at 4 p.m. as the time for commencement with rain date following night. The Commencement will be held at the athletic field.

Dennis P. Harcum the Ag. teacher at Woodbridge has been awarded a scholarship to study for a masters degree at the Univ. of Del. He asked the Board for a leave of absence, which the Board granted to be good for one year. At the end of the year, Harcum will assume his duties at W.H.S. Mrs. Diane Munson, Guidance Counselor at Greenwood Junior High School was acknowledged as being the recipient of the Counselor of the Year award, which was covered in last week's JOURNAL. Mrs. Munson insisted in giving credit to her associates for making it possible for getting the award. Dr. R. E. Beckert, President of the Woodbridge School Board said "...expertise in any field is not chronological in anything...hard work and know how win out". The athletic budget has been cut at Woodbridge, which has for several of the meetings in the past caused a great deal of concern. As of this date the school does not have a head football coach. The budget under went an across the board cut of 10%. Board member Bobby Messick asked if "...some of the 10% could be put back into the budget if some games were not played...or in the alternative, cut out of the schedule". One game, Messick said, could amount to 10%. It was agreed that where there was a savings of this nature, the money could be used for equipment if this was the most needed thing. Some of the coaches did not write into their budget request for shoes, because it had never in the past been allowed in the budget. With the possible 10% savings, items such as footwear could be written back into the budget. The athletic budget was made up and submitted to the Board by Athletic Director George Durig, who plans to leave his post also at the end of this school year. He will remain on the faculty however. The next school board meeting will be held on June 15 at 7:30 p.m.

Pageant Begins at 7 p.m.

Chicken Festival Kicks-Off on Friday

It's food, it's fun, it's frolic! It's contests, contestants color! It's the 1977 Delmarva Chicken Festival, Friday and Saturday, June 3 and 4, on the campus of Delaware Technical and Community College, located on Rt. 18, just off of Rt. 113 south, at Georgetown, Delaware.

Sponsored by Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc. in cooperation with the community of Georgetown, the Festival will kick-off activities at 4 p.m. on June 3rd when the doors open and the public is welcomed to educational displays, commercial exhibits, a young peoples' art show, the Delaware Art Mobile and a variety of food concessions offering homemade baked goods, cold drinks, ice cream, chicken frankfurters and plenty of Delmarva's best fried and barbecued chicken. Chicken platters at $2 each are certain to be the best food buy in town.

Official opening ceremonies are scheduled for 5 p.m. Local dignitaries will be present to launch the 30th Festival, enjoy a concert by the Sussex Central Junior High School Band and view an aerial flight demonstration by a Sussex County crop dusting team.

Pageants for the selection of a Delmarva Poultry Princess and Little Princess will begin at 7 p.m. on June 3rd. The public is invited to attend the evening of entertainment. Tickets, at $2.50 for adults, $1.75 for students, will be on sale at the door.

The new princesses will reign over an activity-packed day on Saturday. Thousands of visitors are expected to begin arriving by 10 a.m. for an all-day flea market and the return of displays, exhibits and food booths. Highlighting Saturday's opening will be the Delmarva Chicken Cooking Contest featuring 30 chefs from Delaware, Maryland and Virginia. Contestants will man their ranges and set to work preparing their chicken entries at 10 a.m. The public is invited to watch the cooks in action and view the finished products on display.

Entertainment during the day will include music by local barbershop quartet, a demonstration by the Delaware State Police Canine Corps, magic shows starring Frito-Lay's Mr. Magic, children's games with the Walking Egg, other children's events, square dancing and music by the Banjo Dusters.

At 1 p.m. Chicken Capers will return for the third time as a major Festival attraction. (Continued from page 14)

Mrs. Alice Roper was here again for her physical fitness program, but everything was too busy, with band practice for the music festival at Georgetown on Tuesday.

After lunch Mrs. Kirby was here to get her class started on sewing. There was one long dress to be made and a street length also some blouses.

Rev. Huff was with us for another Bible Study. The state nurse was also here for blood pressures. After lunch Dr. Adams came from State College with some flowers and a talk.

Mrs. Dorothy Graham was with us again doing ceramics. That seems to be a slow project at this time.

We had our monthly covered dish luncheon on Wednesday with 40 members present for a delicious lunch and entertainment with Jim Emberlain.

Mrs. Elsie Vineyard is still with her class on knitting.

After lunch on Thursday about 15 members went by D.A.S.T. bus to Blue Hen Mall for the art show for senior citizens.

Friday was bowling, shopping or whatever at Milford.

The high lady this week was Mrs. Marian Russum. The high gentleman was

Mr. James Konienci. Just a note of interest to the grandparents of the Lake Forest High School Band. They were at Harrisburg recently and competed with 101 bands. All came home happy and tired.

We, the grandparents of these children, are real proud of their achievement.

Area Students Honored At University of Del.

The eight undergraduate academic units at the University of Delaware cited their top scholars during annual Honors Day ceremonies held Tuesday, May 17 on the campus.

Students were honored for their accomplishments in scholarship and leadership and for their personal contributions to their respective colleges and divisions and to the entire campus community. University President and Mrs. E. Arthur Trabant were hosts at a reception for honored students and their parents held in Clayton Hall before the honors convocation began at 11 a.m.

From funds made available by the university Alumni Assn., the university honored three graduate students with $300 awards for excellence in teaching. The recipients were selected on the basis of letters of support from their students in laboratories and recitation sections.

One recipient was Allan G. Dallas, a graduate teaching assistant in mathematics of R.D. 1, Milford.

Named to membership in Beta Gamma Sigma, a national honor society that encourages and rewards scholarship and accomplishment among business administration students, was James H. Woodland, Frederica.

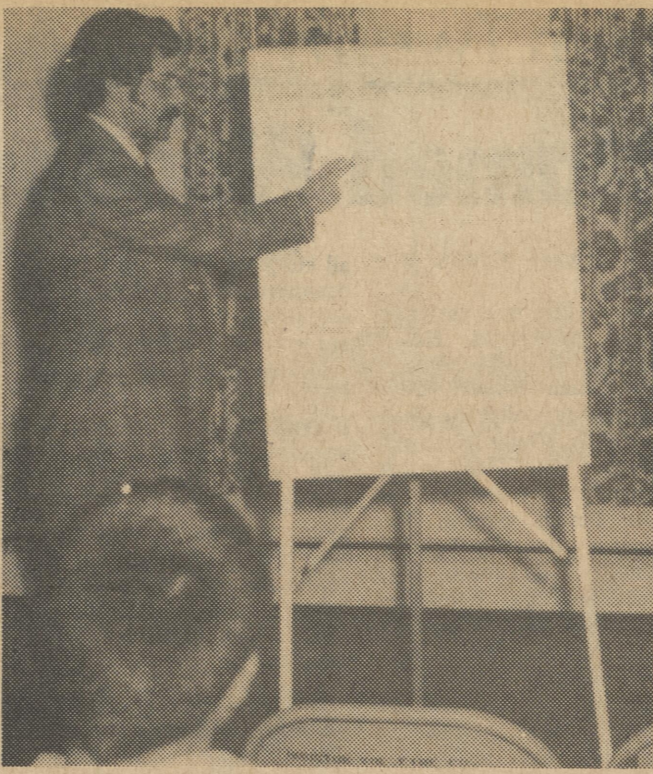

Kappa Delta Pi, an honor society in education that encourages high professional, intellectual and personal standards, tapped for the first time, Danette Lynn Jones, Bridgeville and Valerie Ann Sapp, Milford.

Newly tapped for membership in Omicron Nu, a national academic honor society recognizing superior scholarship, leadership and potential for research in home economics, was Kim M. Hatfield, Milford.

New inductees into Phi Kappa Phi, a national honor society for superior scholars from all colleges and divisions of the university, included, from Delaware: Stephanie D. Betze, Bridgeville; and Nicholas E. Subashi, Harrington.

Sigma Theta Tau is the national nursing honorary, whose purposes are to recognize scholarship of superior quality and development of leadership qualities, to foster high professional standards and to encourage creative work. Newly inducted members of the nursing honor society are Delawareans: Barbara A. Sylvia, Bridgeville; and Judith A. Caldwell, Milford.

Last week's winner in the "Little Charmers" contest was Miss Nikki Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randy Ferguson of Harrington. The runner-up was Miss Lisa Marie Thompson. We regret the error.

Ruritans Meet

The concern of the Cedarfield Ruritans about state finances was somewhat relieved when Ron Mosher, Delaware State Budget Director was guest speaker at the regular May dinner meeting of the Cedarfield Ruritan Club. The subject of his talk was the growing deficit of the Delaware State Budget for fiscal years 1976, 1977 and 1978 together totaling some $124 million, and the various ways the new administration has planned to cut spending and also increase revenues by the use of temporary and permanent tax adjustments.

Greenwood Graduate Now Working And Living In Spain

by Pat Hatfield

Graduation time is upon us again and our thoughts turn to the young people who are leaving school days behind and going out into life. Oftentimes, requests come to our desk concerning those who left Greenwood High some time ago as to where they are and what they are doing. Our town and our school can be very proud of this young man whose story I am glad to tell. Ralph Harmon, who is the son of Mrs. Helen Harmon Workman and the late Conrad Harmon, was graduated from Greenwood High and attended the University of Delaware, studying General Engineering from September 1952 to November 1954. On November 1954 he went into the Naval Air Force for three years and during that period he was graduated five times. He was Legal Advisor to his Squadrons in Oak Harbor and was advanced to Co-Pilot. He did not wish to continue in the service as he was asked to do, so left, after being honorably discharged.

Ralph returned to his studies at Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas, where he received his B.A. in Geography. He, then, went to work for Geophysical Services, Inc. as a surveyor and junior engineer. His work took him to St. Croix, Aruba, Columbia and Peru. He married Ann Marie Hart of Port of Spain, Trinidad and Caracas, Venezuela. Ann was a senior stewardess for British West Indian Airways. In 1966 Ralph received his Bachelor Degree in Foreign Trade from the American Institute of Foreign Trade. From January 1967 to November 1968 Ralph was Engineer with Chicago Bridge & Iron. From January 1969 to November 1969 he was a real estate developer in Fredericksburg, Va.

At one time Ralph and Ann made their home in Liberia, West Africa where Ralph was superintendent on a natural rubber plantation for Firestone. Later they made their home in Harbel, Liberia where he was Construction Engineering Manager for the Firestone Plantation Company. Their son, Kyle Colin, was born June 30, 1972 in Harbel. Ralph and Ann later moved to Indonesia where he was Coast Engineer for Fluor Engineering and Construction of Los Angeles. He helped put up an oil refinery. Their daughter, Kelly Crystal was born September 16, 1975 in Jakarta, Indonesia. After a leave to the United States and Trinidad last fall, Ralph is now working in Algeria as Construction Engineer for Stone and Webster Atlantic Corp. of N.Y.C. Ralph, Ann and their children live in Barcelona, Spain. He travels from Spain to Algeria, works six weeks and off two.

As you can see, this homesown boy from Greenwood has made for himself and his family a most interesting life. Ralph says he much prefers the jungles and tropics to the desert. Ralph, Ann, Kyle and Kelly were born in four different countries. Ralph plays and enjoys all sports especially soccer.

While Ralph and his family were living in Indonesia and was on the staff for the Fluor Oil Company, he and his family made many trips, visiting Hong Kong, Bangladesh, Singapore, Malaysia and other points of interest for sightseeing and shopping. They really enjoyed the Far East.

Now that he is living in Barcelona, Spain he is being sent by his company on many trips to London, England. While in London, he has attended church in Westminster Abbey, where Queen Elizabeth attends.

Aircraft Display Set For June 11

The first of a series of C-5 Galaxy aircraft displays this summer at Dover Air Force Base, Delaware, open to the public will take place Saturday, June 11.

The aircraft will be on display the second Saturday of each month through September.

The C-5 Galaxy, world's largest aircraft, will be open to the public from 1 to 4 p.m. during each display. Crewmembers will be available throughout the aircraft to answer questions. Visitors can enter Dover Air Force Base through the north gate and follow the signs to the display area.

Dover Air Force Base is located on U.S. highway 113 about three miles south of the city of Dover.

Mr. Taylor Workman, of Ten Acres, near Wilmington, attended the funeral of his cousin, Mrs. Elizabeth Workman on Wednesday morning and also visited with his aunt, Mrs. Helen Workman, on his way down to Richmond, Va. on business.

Miss Patti McCreary is spending a few days with Miss Garith Bollinger at her home in Bridgeville.

Mrs. Jacob Hatfield and Mrs. Helen Maloney were Thursday evening callers at the home of Mrs. Theresa Ottey.

Mrs. Jacob Hatfield, Mrs. Gary Bollinger and Mrs. Gary Davis joined Mrs. Kenneth Green of Mardela for lunch on Tuesday at the English Grill in Salisbury.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bollinger and family were Mr. and Mrs. William Bollinger and daughter, Wendy of Lewisburg, Pa. On Saturday evening they enjoyed a cook-out with the Gary Davis family, after which they attended the wedding of Miss Deborah Green of Mardela. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield were also guests. And on Sunday, the group enjoyed a picnic lunch in Salisbury Park, also visiting the zoo.

Cheer Center News Week 23-27

The Public Health Nurse came on Monday, May 23 to check on our blood pressure. We are always glad of this service.

On Tuesday, May 24, our Musical trio with the addition of a friend, Mr. Bowden, joined them to play at Georgetown. This was the last of the concerts for the present time.

Mrs. Eliza Foreman arrived home after her week's stay in Washington D.C. assisting as one of Senator Roth's interns. She reports a wonderful time. There were 95 in the group at the hotel. They were all cautioned not to leave the hotel at night alone.

The May birthdays were celebrated on Thursday afternoon. Refreshments were served, many songs sung and Bingo was played. Several won prizes playing Bingo.

On Friday, May 27, Mrs. Beatrice Horner and Mrs. Eliza Foreman and our manager, Mrs. Evelyn Doughten, attended a council meeting in Georgetown.

The site will not be open on Monday, May 30, honoring Memorial Day.

Greenwood Lions Club

On Saturday evening, May 21, the Greenwood Lions Club entertained their wives to a lovely banquet, held at Docksides Murphy's in Salisbury. About 20 were present to enjoy the delicious food and good fellowship.

This marks the end of a successful winter season of service to their community. The weekend of Memorial Day will see the opening of their chicken barbecue stand for the summer on route 13, and 16.

Last summer in a period of seven weeks the Club cooked 12,410 lbs. of chicken, serving 9,520 platters.

The Club is cooperating with the Youth Forum in our community, and on June 4, at the barbecue stand they are allowing the young people to have a Bake Sale in order to help with their expenses for their project to aid the needy in the community. There will be pies, cakes, cup cakes, brownies, breads, etc. on sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Bromberg and Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCreary are representing the Greenwood Club at the Convention in Atlantic City this week.

Many people can't get through a sweltering summer without the help of a fan or air conditioner. But because of the energy situation, these and all electrical appliances should be used sparingly.

Pat Wilson, Delaware extension family living agent, offers several tips for keeping your cool while conserving electricity.

Close draperies and pull down shades before noon, when sunlight and heat begin to be intense. If everyone leaves the house in the morning, do this before you leave.

Foam-lined draperies help keep the hot rays of the sun from entering a room, says Ms. Wilson. Also try the new "Bottom-up" window shades, she suggests. These shades are installed with the roller at the windowsill and the shade is pulled up toward the ceiling.

The advantage is that this type of shade shuts off the hot rays of the sun at the "living level" of the room, allowing fresh air to circulate from the top of the opened window.

If you operate your central air conditioner, keep the thermostat at 78 degrees F. A low fan speed and mid-point thermostat level are recommended for window-type air conditioners.

Don't turn the air conditioner on and off several times a day, or move the thermostat up and down. This consumes more electricity, points out Ms. Wilson. Instead, take advantage of the automatic setting switch usually found on central air conditioner thermostats. It is also important that windows and outside doors remain closed when an air conditioner is running. Otherwise, you will defeat your purpose. Take advantage of the cooler night air by opening the windows instead of using the fan or air conditioner. However, wait until the coolness created by the air conditioner disappears, reminds the extension agent. You will be amazed at how long the house remains cool after the air conditioner has been turned off, she says.

Keep in mind that lighting amounts to 3.5 percent of a home's total energy bill, and up to 16 percent of the total electric bill. Since lights also generate heat, you will stay cooler if you use fewer lights.

Solid-state dimmer switches make it possible to regulate the lighting level according to activity. For rooms requiring more light, consider using a single high-watt incandescent bulb instead of several low-wattage bulbs. For example, one 100-watt bulb produces about the same amount of light as two 60-watt bulbs, but uses 20 percent less energy.

Better yet, use fluorescent lighting, suggests Ms. Wilson. Fluorescents are three to five times more energy-efficient, last seven to ten times longer, and generate less heat than incandescent bulbs.

McDonald Receives Award

Major James J. McDonald, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. McDonald of 322 Dorman St., Harrington, is commander of the organization which recently received the Tactical Communication Area Outstanding Achievement Award for the year.

Major McDonald serves at Seymour Johnson AFB, N.C., as commander of the 2012th Communications Squadron, that earned the award for superlative performance in air traffic control, telecommunications and communications maintenance services.

Major McDonald, a 1960 graduate of Harrington High School, received his bachelor's degree in 1964 from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where he was commissioned through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program. He earned his master's degree in 1975 at the University of Southern California, Los Angeles.

Class History

For the senior class of 1977, this has been an unforgettable year. The friendships that were shared in the previous years seemed so much more meaningful as we all got together once more to share our good times and laughter in our final year of high school. Class officers were immediately elected: President-Cindy Stephens, Vice-President-Cindy Loper, Secretary-Denise Gygrynk, Treasurer-Chris Palmisano, and Historian-Janie Warren. Everyone anxiously anticipated the senior trip, but first came the money situation. Fund raisers were organized, and the seniors, some more ambitiously than others, went to work.

First came our float, "Spartan Pride". We loved it, but unfortunately the judges didn't. Oh, well, the fun we had more than made up for the money we didn't make.

For Thanksgiving we had a food drive and easily managed to supply four families with a big turkey and lots of trimmings.

At Christmas we had a five foot Christmas stocking filled with goodies, which we chanced off. At the same time, we raised money to enable Ute Wichels, our foreign exchange student, to make a telephone call to her home in Germany.

Besides the food drive and the Christmas stocking, the 1977 seniors also brought another new fund raiser to Lake Forest High - the Singing Telegram. For $1 anyone could have our singing group go to the person of his choice at the time of his choice and sing a song to suit the occasion--anything from a birthday to a speeding ticket; the latter was a popular one!

Along with the other classes, we served in the concession stand at the basketball games and wrestling matches. We also sold Current stationery.

In March came our annual slave auction, which brought us $800! Who can forget one certain person going for $100! WOW!!! On the 24th, 25th and 26th, our Senior Class Play, "The Mouse That Roared" was successfully presented, thanks to the patience and hard work of all people involved.

In April we had a bake sale at Carroll's Sale on a less than warm day. Profits were not overwhelming, but they helped. At the end of the month we held a Chicken Barbeque at the Harrington Moose Lodge, which was a giant success.

Finally May 11 arrived and we were all ready at 5 a.m., some much sooner, to head on to our Senior Trip at Mount Airy in the Poconos. WOW! Who could forget the two days and the night we spent there. Everyone, including the advisors, wanted to stay longer. There was never a dull moment, that's for sure! Nowhere else could we find advisors as great as the ones we have.

Next on the agenda was the Prom presented by the juniors for us. All their hard work was rewarding and deeply appreciated. Clearly, it was another unforgettable night, featuring the band "Kickback".

As the year comes to a close, all that is left is our commencement--the parting of friends and the tears. These four years spent together have disappeared all too quickly, but their memories will be kept and relived over and over when we meet again.

Woodbridge Class Of 1977

Class History

It has been a long time since that hot September day of 1973 when the Woodbridge Class of '77 began their high school career. Now, four years later, on June 12, 1977 the glorious days of high school are over, sad for a few and an opportunity for adventure for others but any way one may look at it, Woodbridge High School to the Class of '77 is a past remembrance.

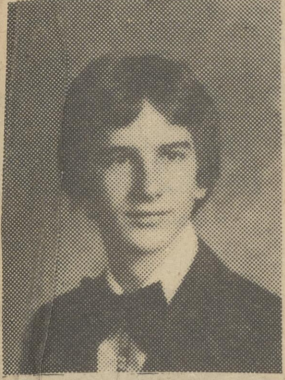

During the class's freshman year the class president was Mark Belcher who has since moved to Dover. The class's homecoming float, "Scat Cats", referring to the Delmarva Wildcats, placed runner up and none of our floats has managed to place any higher during the last three years.

President of the class during our sophomore year was Terry Rider. The sophomore dinner turned out to be very successful earning money for the prom put on the junior year and for the class trip the senior year. The homecoming float, the sophomore year was titled "We're Sure" (Lake Forest).

President during the junior year was Carla Vanderwende. One of the high school's best proms was built by the class and was titled "Precious and Few" with the Generation Gap as the band. The homecoming float for the year was "Barbeque the Birds" (Dover Air).

For president during the class's last year of high school, the class elected Terry Rider. The senior cheering section won first place in the homecoming pep rally cheering contest. The homecoming queen was senior Tracy Hamstead. "Carton the Spartans" (Lake Forest) was the theme for the float. The theme for the prom given for the seniors by the class of '78 was "Midnight Blue" with Sixpense as the band. On May 10, the senior class took unexpected "Skip Day" which was frowned upon the next day by the administration. On June 3, the class went to Kings Dominion to primarily see a rock concert. On June 8, the class had a beach party. Finally on June 12, members of the class will receive their diplomas and memories of Woodbridge High School will be filed away.

Trice Captures First Modified - Sportsman Feature

Patience was the key Friday evening as Gary Trice of Parsonsburg, Md. captured his first modified-sportsman feature of the season at the Georgetown Speedway.

At the drop of the green it was a three car sportsman battle between Larry Grier of Dover, Tom Walker of Milford, and Will Fergesson of Paulsboro, N.J.

Wayne Todd spun off the third turn on the first lap causing a complete restart. Fergesson got the jump on the restart while Walt Breeding in the Taylor & Messick modified moved into the second spot.

Todd, who was having first night handling problems, spun once more in turn three on lap ten bringing out the caution as Breeding darted into the pits to change a flat tire.

Trice got the jump to pull out a one car length head.

It looked as if Busby had the race sewn up until his front suspension broke with only five laps to go. Trice inherited the number one spot and the checker, followed closely by Bob Passwaters of Milton, Breeding, Haines Tull and Jerry West.

Oscar Fields, taking over the driving duties for injured Bodie Bodenweiser finished in the first sportsman spot driving in his first race over. Bud Coverdale of Frederica was second and Larry Grier of Dover was third.

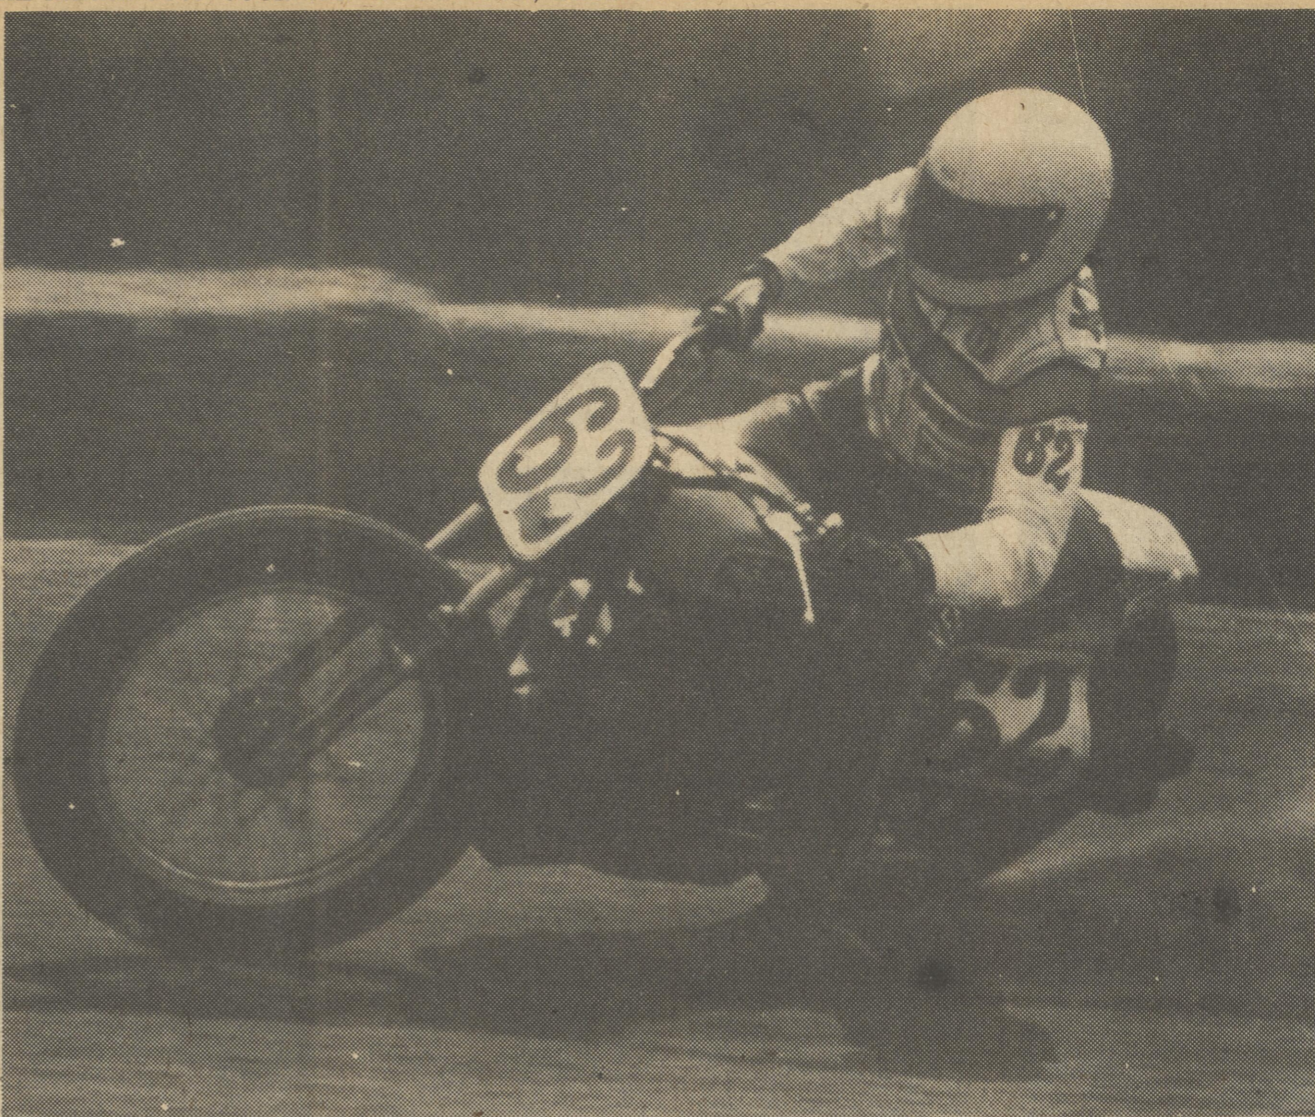

Young late model star, Ronnie LaVere, made it two in a row in a contest which had the crowd on its feet. LaVere moved quickly from his twelfth starting spot as a battle developed for the front spot between Jimmy Goslee of Sharptown, Chuck Graves of Gravel Hill, and Lewis Lilliston of Onley, Virginia.

By lap twelve, LaVere had moved into second. For the next five laps Goslee fought off the high riding LaVere but on the final lap, Ronnie pulled by going into turn one and held on for the win.

Goslee settled for the runner-up spot and Lilliston, who's engine blew as he crossed the finish line finished third.

Heat Results: Late model-Lewis Lilliston & Vernon Collins; Sportsman-Larry Grier & Jonny Parken; Modified-Stan Busby & Richard Jarvis.

Keener Tries For Two Straight

31 years old and still racing in a sport where top competitors are often washed up by 21 -- Clifford "Corky" Keener still wins, too! He rode his factory Harley-Davidson to a convincing win in last year's FULL HOUSE CLASSIC and is entered in the June 11 event scheduled at Delaware State Fairgrounds, Harrington for 8 p.m.

At State Fairgrounds

3rd Annual Cycle Classic This Saturday

Clifford "Corky" Keener is the defending champion at the $20,000 3rd Annual

FULL HOUSE CLASSIC national championship motorcycle races set for 8 p.m. Saturday evening at Delaware State Fairgrounds, Harrington.

At 31, the Burton, Michigan native is the oldest competitor still following the coast-to-coast, grueling 10 month long, 28-race Camel Pro Series circuit.

"As long as you're still winning, why quit", says bachelor Keener. "Racing is a great way to make a living, and a good living. I enjoy the racing and the travelling and as long as I continue to do well, I'll keep at it."

In a sport dominated by teenagers who rely on their nerve, quick reflexes, and knowledge they are still immortal. Keener's skills stand out. In a fifteen year career his racing talents have been finely honed, tuned, and adjusted.

Proof positive is that Keener still wins races. And he has a factory ride with the demanding mile tracks. In 1976 he Harley-Davidson team.

In 1976, Keener won the FULL HOUSE CLASSIC, and went on to finish second at Albuquerque, fourth at Columbus and fifth at San Jose.

Keener was ranked ninth going into the August 22 event at Peoria, Illinois, with many of his favorite mile and half mile races ahead. His season ended very abruptly that August afternoon in a multi-motorcycle pileup which left Corky with a broken leg.

He was philosophical about the first injury ever in his career, vowing to be back in 1977. The Harley-Davidson factory showed their confidence by signing the injured veteran to a contract for this year with full support.

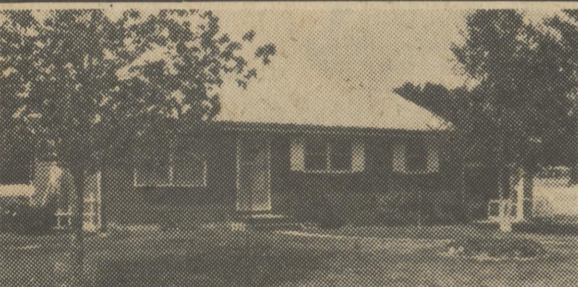

Keener stunned caustic observers by coming out of retirement in 1974 to resume his racing at the "old" age of 28. He silenced the critics by taking two National wins on half won another two Nationals and finished fourth overall in the Camel Pro Series standings. 1976 was shaping up as the best yet when his crash occurred.

So far in 1977 he has won several non-nationals and placed third at the traditional dirt track season opening San Jose mile race.

Even though he's ten years past the time many "veteran" racers hang up their helmets, Corkey Keener will be back again this year, and, silver hair, black Fu Manchu moustache and the crazy helmet with the smile on it -- must be considered one of the favorites for the June 11 FULL HOUSE CLASSIC.

Tickets to the 8 p.m. event at the Delaware State Fairgrounds, Harrington, range in price from $15 to $6, and are available at Ticketron, Diamond Motor Sports on U.S. 13 in Camden, DE, and at the gate on the race day.

Spartans Lose Final Meet

Riders Edge Spartans 81-60

Lake Forest lost its boys' track finale 80-61 to Caesar Rodney, but ended the campaign on the plus side with a 6-4 log.

The Spartans got off to a good start and led most of the way, before the Riders pulled the fat out of the fire near the meet's end.

Jerry Custis and John Moffett finished 1-2 in the 120 yard high hurdles with Moffett turning in his fastest trip ever.

Freshman Ken Thorpe

and junior Baron Harmon duplicated this feat in the 100 yard dash. Later Thorpe, Harmon, Milton Justice and Ron Loper, narrowly missed winning the 440 relay. Inability to win any of the three relays was one of the key factors contributing to the Spartans' downfall.

Gusty Voshells' 11 foot clearance assured a Spartan win in the pole vault, while Mike Benson the locals' top point scorer this season, won the long jump with 20 feet, 3 1/2 inches. Dan Parker's excellent 4.39 clocking beat back C.R.'s Brad Poe in the mile, but Poe came back to win the 880 in 2.05.4. Poe and Bill Freeman, the two mile winner, give the Riders a strong suit in the distance events, an area where the Spartans usually score heavily.

Tom Barner annexed the 440 yard run in 54.3, while Bill Moore took the 330 yard intermediate hurdles in 43.5.

Girls Beaten By CR 70-35

Lake Forest's girls' track team were beaten 70-35 by Caesar Rodney last week, but did a good job when it is considered that the lady Riders are the most powerful distaff scholastic squad in Delaware.

Joyce Ewing was a double winner for the Spartans, throwing the shot 28 feet, 9 1/2 inches and the discus 85 feet, 10 inches.

Maxine Harris won the 880 yard run in 2.35.5, tying Anne Scovill's Lake Forest Record. Maxine, who is Spartan record holder in the mile run, was second in that event to C.R.'s Wendy Weller, the Henlopen Conference champion.

Karen Singleton was first in the 110 yard hurdles in 17.6 seconds.

Bensen Takes Second In Long Jump

Lake Forest senior Mike Benson narrowly missed a state championship in the long jump at the Delaware state meet held in Dover Saturday. Benson was nosed out by Ty Roberts of Tower Hill.

If our arithmetic is correct, both youths exceeded 22 feet. Benson may have actually lost this meet two weeks ago. After winning at two big meets against stellar competition, Mike became ill, was hospitalized and missed a couple of important starts, including the Henlopen Conference championship.

Dave Richter, Chris Palisano and Dan Parker

ran well in the 3200 meter relay, but the Spartans didn't finish among the frontrunners here.

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

I was wading through my big scrapbook of poetry clippings yesterday to find some special Mother's Day poetry for a friend...

The garden is coming along well since the rain. As soon as the corn is planted, here come the crows...

Ellen and I got around to doing a bit of digging and weeding in our flower beds this morning...

our fat baby bunny from under a clump of columbine. What a lovely fragrant pink satin bed he had made for himself.

This week the moment of truth has arrived. I am coping with the new dentures. How the years have changed our mode of expression...

Attention, Recipe Lovers: Have I got a goodie for you. Did you ever dread making lasane...

Heat 1 tbsp. cooking oil in large skillet. Add 1 and 1/2 pounds of lean ground meat. (She uses chuck). Stir in 1 can tomatoes...

two minutes. Have ready 13-9-2 baking dish and 1 package lasagna noodles. Oil the baking dish and cover with a thin layer of the meat sauce...

No, the noodles will be not be tough. But here's the way. Take heavy aluminum foil, two thicknesses and cover dish, sealing tightly all around...

The pick-it-yourself season for fresh fruits and vegetables is under way again. Fresh strawberries have been available for about a week in lower Delaware...

Heat 1 tsp. cooking oil in large skillet. Add 1 and 1/2 pounds of lean ground meat. (She uses chuck). Stir in 1 can tomatoes...

15 to 20 minutes. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and either parsley flakes or fresh chopped parsley. Cut in squares and serve. Quick and delicious.

To everything its season. Now I do not hear Mother Robin singing her joyous song at 5:30. I'm sure she is busy with the cares of motherhood...

Woodbridge Future Farmers Hold First Annual Banquet

F.F.A. members, Parents, Faculty and Administration members all helped to make the first WOODBRIDGE F.F.A. BANQUET a huge success.

as follows: Agriculture Mechanics, Robby Thomas; Agriculture Sales and Services, Guy Conaway; Crop Production, Doug Corey; Dairy Production, Jay Green; Electrification, Donald O'Bier; Home Improvements, Steve Chupp; Horse Production, Randy Webb; Ornamental Horticulture, Jeff Adams; Placement in Agriculture Production, Loyal Bender; Poultry Production, Harry Vannicola; Public Speaking, Vickie Morrone; Swine Production, Kenneth J. After the banquet everyone toured the new Ag building.

Pick-Your-Own Season Starts, With Lots To Look Forward To

Expected to be around Memorial Day, according to Carl German, extension crops marketing specialist at the University of Delaware. He advises people to start watching local newspaper ads and listening to local radio stations for further details on available picking sites.

Delaware strawberries are reported to be in fine shape, in spite of the fact that recent cold weather and heavy winds reduced supplies considerably. A few growers also report that their berries will be in shorter supply than in previous years...

situation. One grower told him that he'll definitely have good berries for picking they just won't be as plentiful as last year.

Pick-your-own as a marketing alternative for farmers appears to be holding its own in Delaware. The state has the same number of operations as last year, according to an early April survey taken by the Cooperative Extension Service.

When A Demi-Demon Is Loose In Your Kitchen

Most mothers eventually turn grey, and it starts when a babe-in-arms becomes a demon in diapers-crawling faster and faster, reaching higher and higher, emptying drawers, bookshelves, cabinets, waste baskets, the whole world in a heap on the floor.

This is when mothers learn to climb walls, either from sheer frustration, or just to get out of the way.

It's in the kitchen that crawlers and toddlers have the most fun. That's where the pots and pans are. That's also where mother usually is, and it's much more satisfying to have an audience when you're wrecking a room.

According to the latest survey by Terrible Two's Inc., cooking utensils still rank as the favorite playing thing among the diaper set. Metal pots and pans are preferred. They create such a marvelous din, and if you pound hard enough you can make such pretty dents and scratches.

A mother may guide a little one to the plastic cups and bowls, but Junior will unerringly veer away in the direction of the Reverend Ware, which makes dandy cymbals, or a Chinese gong.

Coral Morris, ever-practical extension home management specialist, thinks crawlers and toddlers should be allowed to have their fun. You can't stop them anyway, so why try, she says.

Why not go to a garage sale or junk shop and collect some beat-up metal or enamel pots and pans? Keep these in the kitchen cabinets under the counter along with some old silverware and aluminum measuring spoons.

If you have cabinets with finger-pulls instead of knobs, slip long combination locks through two pulls at once, and keep several cabinets off limits. (This has been known to injure some stout-hearted babies, however).

with finger-pulls instead of knobs, slip long combination locks through two pulls at once, and keep several cabinets off limits. (This has been known to injure some stout-hearted babies, however).

The best plan is to put the unreachables up high. Remove everything from counters and high cabinets that you don't use regularly, and use that extra space for no-no's such as glass baking dishes, your copper omelet pan, and the electric fry pan-not to mention sugar, flour, pancake mix and that big box of instant nonfat dry milk.

Put an extra table (preferably tall and sturdy) against one wall to help hold things. Hang some of your treasured utensils overhead, and make like a gourmet cook. Put up a few temporary shelves.

Coral emphasizes the importance of guarding your investment in high-quality cookware from babies and other dangers. Warped bottoms, dented sides, scratched and scoured surfaces, loose handles or badly-fitting lids all cut down on cooking efficiency.

For best cooking results, she recommends checking your utensils for the following important points:

Straight sides. They help distribute heat evenly and make stirring easier. Flat bottoms for even heating. This also keeps liquids and fats from collecting at low points.

Rounded joints between sides and bottom for easy cleaning.

Rounding out a year of activity, six local Girl Scout Troops held Fly-Up and bridging ceremonies Monday, May 23, at Asbury United Methodist Church in Harrington. These ceremonies mark the advancement of girls from one age level of scouting to the next. Troops involved in the evening's program were First Grade Brownie Troop 332/684 led by Pat Downes; Brownie Troop 332 led by Irene Layton; Brownie Troop 684 led by Gene Morris; Junior Troop

686 led by Barbara Brown and Lena Paskey; Junior Troop 879 led by Linda Kates and Cadette Troop 905 led by Barbara Evans. As the troops gathered in the traditional horseshoe formation, Troop 879 led off with the flag ceremony and the reaffirmation of the Girl Scout promise. This opening was followed by fly-up and bridging activities in which girls advancing to new levels were recognized by their leaders and welcomed into their new troops by individual scouts. First Grade Brownies became Brownies; Brownies reaching the age of nine became Juniors, and Juniors became Cadettes. Brownies "flying-up" to become Juniors received their wings from their Brownie leaders and donned their new Junior berets. Juniors going into Cadettes received the distinguishing cocarde for their hats. As each girl was welcomed into her new troop, she was received with the girl scout handshake and renewed the promise: On my honor I will try To serve God, my country and mankind And to live by the Girl Scout Law (Girls who advanced are pictured at left) The evening's activities were concluded with a candle ceremony emphasizing the Girl Scout Law conducted by Junior Troop 686 and the singing of "On My Honor", "Make New Friends" and "Girl Scouts Together."

Leading the list of "capers" will be the Delmarva Chicken Plucking Contest in which heads of broiler companies on Delmarva will compete for the title of champion plucker. Flight time for the first internationally sanctioned Delmarva Chicken Flying Meet is 2 p.m.

Making the first appearance in the area, The Maryland National Guard Parachute Demonstration Team, better known as the "Minute Men", will give a spell-binding exhibition at 5:30 p.m. on the campus athletic field.

The grand finale of two action-packed days comes at 9 p.m. on Saturday when the Del Tech campus will erupt in color as a spectacular fireworks display brings to a close the 30th Delmarva Chicken Festival.

Festival admission is free, so bring the whole family to Delaware Technical and Community College in Georgetown on Friday and Saturday, June 3 and 4.

Girl Scout News

There are still a few openings for girls to attend Girl Scout camp or go on a motorcoach camping trip to Savannah, Georgia, this summer. Sponsored by the Chesapeake Bay Girl Scout Council, the events are open to any girl.

The Council still is accepting reservations for two sessions at Camp Todd, near Denton, Maryland:

Boating Preps -- devoted to teaching basic sailing skills on Lake Williston -- is open to girls entering seventh grade or above. Dates are June 26 to July 8th. Gypsy Day -- designed for girls entering fifth grade or above who wish to learn creative crafts and experience gypsy camp life -- will be held July 24 to 30th.

The Heritage Tour to Savannah leaves from Camp Todd on July 9th and returns on July 17th. Girls will travel by motorcoach and camp enroute to the birthplace of Girl Scouting's founder, Juliette Gordon Low. Applicants must be entering seventh grade or above.

Registration information on the camps and tour is available from the Camp Department of the Chesapeake Bay Girl Scout Council, 1503 w. 13th St., Wilmington, De. 19806, or by calling (302)658-4258.

Sunny Side Up

The U.S. is full of roly-poly people. And if that isn't depressing enough, the country is also full of roly-poly dogs.

We humans can go on a diet if and when we have a mind to. But fat Fido can't because he doesn't know (or care) that it's unhealthy to be overweight. And as for knowing how to go about eating less, he wouldn't have a clue. With dogs, it's gulp, slurp, swallow, and wag--and look around for more.

It's dangerous for pets to be fat for the same reasons it's dangerous for humans. Extension veterinarian Dr. Charles Dobbins (associate dean of the College of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Georgia) says extra pounds threaten the heart, liver and circulatory system of animals. So if your pooch is pudgy, you'll be doing him a favor if you put him on a diet.

According to Dr. Dobbins, you don't need to buy the new low-calorie dog food. Most regular dog foods aren't fattening, he says. The problem is that dogs eat too much, exercise too little, and get too many table scraps (that statement also applies to a lot of people I know.)

He recommends using your current brand of dog food, but cutting out the table scraps and increasing the exercise. The dog will hate the former but enjoy the latter.

Weigh the dog initially, wait several weeks, then weigh him again. This is easier said than done if you have an extra-large or extra-wiggly dog. He's unlikely to cooperate by hopping on the bathroom scale with all four feet tucked in and touching. So you'll have to weigh yourself first, then pick him up and weigh both of you, then subtract your weight from the total to get HIS weight. This could be complicated if you own a St. Bernard or aren't very good at math.

If there is still as much dog as when you started his diet, take things a step further. Have a veterinarian check him over. Dr. Dobbins says sometimes hormonal problems may interfere with weight loss.

As a last resort, gradually reduce the servings of his regular dog food, following the guidelines on the label.

With hard-hearted persistence, your weight-reduction plan should show results in a few weeks. And after shedding those extra pounds, your dog will be livelier, healthier, and his self-image will be improved.

Dr. Dobbins adds a note of caution, however. Dieting is not recommended for show dogs or hunting dogs during the season. Neither is it advisable for pregnant or nursing dogs, hard-working dogs, and dogs recovering from surgery.

From Junior Troop 879 to a Cadette Troop go Regina Benson, Shannon Swafford, Faye Kates, Katrina Draper and Teresa Smith.

Most of you have a rose garden or at least roses growing someplace in the yard. It has to be America's favorite flower.
Have you tried a miniature rose? If not, why not? These plants are perfect miniatures of our standard roses, growing from 12 to 16 inches tall. The blooms range from the size of a nickle to that of a quarter. Perfect in design, and colors. The miniature rose can live a double life. Use it as a garden plant in the summer and a house plant in the winter. Simply plant your rose in a 4 or 5 inch clay pot, using a good peat and soil mixture. Be sure to add stones or broken pot pieces for drainage. Sink the pot in a small flower bed for the summer and watch it bloom. Then in early fall, pull the pot, prune the rose if necessary, and place it inside on a southernwindow sill. It will bloom most of the winter. Not like it did outside, but you should get several roses through out the winter. If you have fluorescent plant lights, miniature roses make a good addition to your light garden.

Plant Talk

The miniature roses are winter hardy, so they can be left in the garden all winter to bloom again and again, just like any other rose. Being so small, these roses should be planted with other smaller flowers, or you may want to place them around the edge of your rose garden. Mari-golds seem to do a good job at keeping the aphids away from these roses. Miniatures are also very easy to root from cuttings. They will root well in water or you can use a soil rooting mixture and cover with a plastic bag until new growth starts. Miniature roses are fun to grow. Why not try some? They are available in several area plant and garden shops.

Insurance Claims

Truck Mashes Dentures, Cow Held For Ransom

Ed. note: The following is among the many "Canned" news items that come to our attention daily. Since life has its ups and downs and since the news media is so often accused of being the villain in the type of news seen in print, here are some gleanings from Aetna Life and Insurance Casualty, not really news, and definitely in the lighter vein.
A motorist experienced the misfortune of having his teeth run over by a truck. A forlorn farmer's cow was kidnapped and held for ransom.
These are some of the zany-but true-insurance claims culled from among the more than 20 million cases handled last year by Aetna Life & Casualty, the nation's largest investor-owned insurance company.
Consider first the butcher who found himself the victim of "fowl" play when a disgruntled employee assaulted him with a frozen chicken. Responding in kind, the butcher smacked his employee with a pullet, and a major fracas ensued. Within minutes, the air was full of naked, icy bodies.
The not-so-cold war suddenly ended when the employee stumbled over a petrified rooster and broke his leg.
A battle of a different sort erupted in New York, when a woman motorist slowed her car to avoid hitting a pack of stray dogs. The mutts returned her kindness by jumping all over the car and scratching up its paint job.
The cool voice of reason did not prevail in Chattanooga recently, where a gas station owner thought a motorist was taking his advertised "Free car wash with fill-up" too literally.
After topping-off his tank with an 87-cent gas purchase, the man drove into the station's automated car wash, only to be confronted for payment when he emerged.
The motorist refused, one word led to another, and the station owner lowered the overhead doors of the car wash, announcing he intended to keep the driver locked up "until I get what's coming to me." He didn't have long to wait.
The irate customer quickly accommodated him by hopping into his car, revving up the motor, and crashing through the closed glass doors to freedom.
But not all motorists last year escaped the perils they encountered.
A San Francisco driver was in tears when he reported that his brand new luxury car -- equipped with very expensive water bumpers front and rear--had been hit broadside in a parking lot.
Some motorists didn't even have to be driving to find trouble.
A New Jersey man, after lunch in his car, removed his dentures. A heavy sneeze seized him, the dentures flew out the window and, as the wayward choppers bit the dust, a passing vehicle squashed them.
Winner of the "George Whipple Broken Fingers Award" was the Too Tough Toilet Tissue, built of such sturdy stuff that it refused to disintegrate, causing septic tanks to clog.
Picture the dilemma of the store owner whose mannequin (reportedly) kicked a customer. The customer couldn't see any humor in the situation and filed a claim.
And then there was the rancher whose cattle acted like pigs. Tired of their bland and never-changing diet, they wandered off the open range in search of fancier fare. They found a neighbor's vegetable patch to their liking, and promptly trampled down her fence to get to it.
The neighbor, less than sympathetic with the bovine intruders' goals, lassoed a cow and threatened to hold it for ransom until she was reimbursed for damages. A suggestion by the Aetna claim agent that the ASPCA might take exception with her action led to the animal's speedy release.
A young Milwaukee citizen sporting a face full of hair had his pride singed recently while consuming a local tavern's house specialty. Drinking a concoction called a "Flaming 151," the flame licked his face and ignited his beard.
A quick-witted bartender, taking his cue from the Three Stooges, swiftly brought the flames under control with a heavy spritz from his seltzer gun.
"The moral of the story," wrote the Aetna agent in reporting the claim, "is that people with beards shouldn't drink fire-water."
