Replacing Griffin

Lynn Zimmerman Named New Principal at Lake Forest

FELTON. During a special Lake Forest School Board meeting, Wednesday, July 6, an assistant high school principal in the Milford School District was selected to head the Lake Forest High School.

Named to the post is Lynn Zimmerman, a 39 year old Ohio native.

According to William Cline, Lake Forest District's superintendent, Zimmerman was selected from a field of 20 applicants. The new principal is an Educational Specialist in administration and holds a Master's degree in educational guidance.

Zimmerman has been in the Delaware school system for a year, serving as assistant high school principal at Milford. Prior to coming to Delaware he had served in a variety of educational roles, with teaching experience from sixth grade through high school, as well as working in junior and high school guidance in the Ohio school system since the early 1960's.

Previous administrative experience has also included serving as an assistant junior high school principal and then a junior high school principal for three years in Wooster, Ohio. Zimmerman has a record of taking an active part in the community as well, serving as Sunday school teacher in the Presbyterian Church, and being active in Cub Scouting and the Little League program. He also was co-founder of the Big Brother program in Wooster, Ohio.

Reportedly, the Zimmerman family, which consists of three sons, aged 12, 10 and three years, had been fond of the ocean and deecided to take up permanent residence in Delaware because of the attraction of the ocean held. Zimmerman will assume new duties as the high school principal in the Lake Forest District July 27.

He was named to the position vacated by William E. Griffin, who has been named superintendent of the neighboring Woodbridge School District.

High Winds and Rain Hit Harrington Area

Harrington. High winds came up suddenly last Wednesday afternoon in advance of a heavy rain storm. The storm lasted for about 3 hours. Richard T. Johnson, District Manager of Delmarva Power at Harrington, reported that there were some homes without electricity "...but they were only without electric for a very short time", according to Johnson. The line south of Frederica where the Rt. #113 by-pass meets with the old Rt. #133 the line there was temporarily knocked out due to lightning. According to Johnson "...the lightning will simply blow out a fuse on the line". This seemed to be the largest number of disorders. On the road past Barretts Chapel "...lightening hit the line twice there knocking it out each time", according to Johnson. The other area was just north of the Felton light where about 10 people were out of electric for a short while.

Other than that, some towns in the Lake Forest District experienced limbs being blown off, but no real major damage to property or live. The area was in need of water for it has been one of the driest spells on record.

Bicycles Recovered

Burgularies Plague City

Burgularies and bicycles continue to head most of the news from the Harrington Police Department.

Police reported that six bicycles, some in numerous parts, had been recovered in the Harrington and Houston areas. The bicycles had been reported stolen in Harrington during the past month. Several juveniles are being questioned with regards to the thefts and charges are pending against all. Other bikes admitted to have been stolen are yet to be recovered.

The police department is still receiving many complaints about stolen bicycles. They warn that residents should secure all bicycles when not in use. The bicycles are being taken and stripped and the serial numbers filed off.

On July 7 the police department received a complaint from Tom Peck that his Southern States business had been broken into. Entry was gained through a side door and once inside the thieves tried to open the safe but failed and left. The only items reported stolen were one pair of work boots and gloves. Several clues were obtained and the investigation is continuing.

Also on July 7 police assisted the Delaware State Police with a preliminary investigation concerning a burglary at Norgas on route 13 south of Harrington. Thieves entered sometime during the night through a small window in the rear of the building. They took various tools, sodas, and an undetermined amount of cash. Information gained in the investigation and several clues also obtained were turned over to the Delaware State Police for further investigation.

On July 9 City Police were called to the residence of Clyde Mullins, on the Harrington-Vernon Road, to investigate a family disturbance. Upon arrival the police found the situation to be under control. Mr. Mullins then became abusive with Harrington Police Chief Ed Layton and threatened to do bodily harm to the Chief. Mr. Mullins was arrested for terroristic threatening and released pending trial in JP Court 6.

The final burglary of the week was reported by William H. Outten of Outten Insurance. His new office was entered through the back door on July 11 and thieves ransacked the offices and left with a stereo and speaker system. The incident is still under investigation.

Also on the 11th Mrytle Karcher owner of the Harrington Newstand reported that children had been sticking their arms in the soda machine and snatching them out without paying for them. Sergeant William Jopp of the Harrington Police Department contacted the children involved and this incident eventually led to the recovery of the stolen bicycles.

HARRINGTON. The Council at their monthly meeting on Tuesday night authorized the Mayor to sign forms and other legal documents in preparation of the Town's attempt to get Federal funds. Under the recent proposal where the Town was to go with the Fire Co. in building a new Town Hall on Dixon St. and Liberty St., the architect for the new building, Frank Clendaniel of Lincoln, has presented a cost figure of $1,097,000 for the construction of the new building, according to Mayor Cahall the final plan and forms can still be filled in properly and delivered to the proper places on Thursday and meet the deadline set by the Federal People. Mayor Cahall said that he had learned that Congressman Tom Evans that Delaware is slated to receive $30,000,000 from the Federal people. The money is supposed to be divided through out the State. Cahall also said that he had learned that some $9,000,000 was slated for upstate, and that there was $8.4 million in limbo. According to Cahall, Congressman

Evans had requested Congress to allow the State of Delaware to decide where the $8.4 million would be distributed.

In other matters, Councilman Jack Wyatt invited Elwood Brown, an accountant, to the council meeting for the purpose of getting his to recommend a better system and in particular departmentalizing the accounts. This is also being done with the idea of setting up a new budget in September or October. The new requires public hearings on the budget.

Mr. Melvin and Hopkins of West St. extended appeared before Council to ask if the water line in front of their properties could be lowered so that the same thing which happened this past winter could be avoided this coming winter. The line was frozen this past winter and Hopkins said it was due to the fact that the line was in the ground only 18 inches. Hopkins carried water for three months during this freeze.

Some of the projects to be done were presented for consideration. The painting of the water tower both inside and out is estimated to cost between $10 and $12,000. Homewood reported that several streets in the Town should be resurfaced, but the Grant St drainage problem is one he felt should be given "...some sort of priority". The Grant St. problem has been hanging fire for well over a year in actual planning of trying to correct the problem.

A study is being made to install a flashing light at the intersection of Commerce St., Reese Ave., Farmington Rd. and West St. Recent accidents have prompted this action. According to Mayor Cahall discussions with City Manager Dave Peterson indicated that the area is maintained by the State but the Town might have to pay for the light and its installation. The cost is believed to run around $4,000.

Councilman Wyatt requested that a CB be installed in the new police car, and that another purchased and installed in the van driven by Dale Phillippi. The council agreed on this and authorized Chief Layton to shop for prices.

The CETA program of putting youths to work during the summer and being paid through the County is now offering 5 employees for the Town. The Council was divided on this saying that there are already 5 from the CETA now working for the Town plus the regular force of 5 street men one supervisor, and a City Manager. According to councilman Homewood this total 10 with the police officers extra plus the office force, and it makes it difficult to properly supervise your regular people plus 5 extra ones. I don't see how we can properly do the job of supervising these people and keep them busy at all times". The matter was postponed to a later date for final determination.

Peoples Bank of Harrington had requested parking in front of the new bank building. Action was postponed on this until a proper sketch could be presented.

The Mayor and Council went into session to discuss the disposition of run down buildings in the Town and personnel matters.

Bridgeville Reviews Municipal Expenditures

BRIDGEVILLE. The Town Commissioners at their regular monthly meeting on Monday night reviewed and assessed municipal expenditures currently underway through either the Federal Government or those being offered from the State's budget.

The current Federal program through EDA (Economic Development) calls for an improvement over the present sewer complex. The improvements include extension of the present lines and enlarging the water capacity to the various sites around the community. In most cases, the Town will have an 8 inch line as opposed to a line that is 4 inches in diameter in many areas around the Town. Another important factor considered is the separation of surface water from the water which passes through the pumping station. The funds made available for this program are $386,000. There are two contractors working the sewer improvement program, Teal Construction and Warren Bros., both from Dover.

Commissioner Earl Willey reported on a project which he has been working on for the past 6

Wharton Street To Be Paved

Houston To Have Boundary Lines Defined

HOUSTON. At last Thursday night's Town meeting, the Commissioners for the Town heard from Andrew Talley of Mann & Talley a surveying firm regarding the surveying of the Town to define the boundary lines for the Town. The situation has come about and developed over the past several months because the Town wants to pave several streets in the Town. As Town Commissioner Ted Yerkes said earlier in the year at a Town meeting "...we only want to pave those streets which belong to the Town." Talley described the project to be one of setting corners with the following procedure: starting with the centerline and intersection of Railroad

At Frederica Council

Sewer Bill Discussed at Length

FREDERICA. At Wednesday night's regular council meeting, Mayor Nashold began his usual procedure of paying bills incurred by the Town over the past month. Most of the time the procedure is rather routine. There are still bills coming in or to be presented as a result of last winter's severe cold snap, which left many small Towns such as Frederica with huge plumbing bills.

The last bill which the Mayor "saved" for special attention was the fact that the Town Hall has received its first sewer bill. The sewer for the Town which is currently hooked to the County system was the topic of many Town meetings with local citizens, County heads as well as State. The sewer has not received its final inspection for the community as a whole. The other thing as Mayor Nashold pointed out "...we have our first bill from the County in the amount of $8 for the Town Hall, but we have not been hooked up as yet." Reports have been circulating recently about the monthly charge, and it was announced at the meeting that the annual charge will be $104.52 per household.

School Board Elects Officers

FELTON. During a special meeting of the Lake Forest School Board that went into executive session three times Wednesday, July 6, a high school principal was named, and several policy decisions were made.

During the special meeting Clifford Chambers was sworn in for a five year term as board member. Marvin Brown will head the Board, while Donald Garey was named vice-president. Albert Price was appointed delegate to the State Board Advisory Council and Donald Garey was named Legislative Chairman.

Senior Center News

by Cleota Willey

On Friday, July 1, 40 members and friends boarded one of Bowman's Busses with Mrs. Bowman as driver for Three Little Bakers for an evening of fun and relaxation. We left the center about 3 p.m. and returned about 1:15 a.m. Most everyone reported a good time, and wants a return trip.

Mrs. Ruth Nasser was at the center with a movie on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Clara, Judy, Mrs. Amy Price, and Mr. Sam Short had Bible Study Tuesday morning. Mrs. Dorothy Graham was here again with her ceramics class, also as is the custom on Wednesday afternoon is Bingo.

Mr. Bowman was back again with one of his busses to take some of the members to Rehoboth for lunch and a short spell on the boardwalk.

Thursday was bowling and shopping at Milford.

High lady was Marian Russum and high man was John Sang.

Friday was just a slow day for all.

Our center is in the state of being repaired at this time with new floors central heating system also being well treated for termite control as a precaution. When the other work is finished we hope to get wall to wall carpet.

4-Her's Clean Up

On June 28, 12 Harrington Sunshine 4-Hers picked up trash along Route 14. The group with three advisors cleaned up a 4-mile stretch from the edge of town to Prospect Church, resulting in 21 bags of trash. Afterwards they enjoyed a picnic lunch under the trees at Prospect Church.

Singing Players Plan Workshop For August 27

John Dickinson, General Chairman of The Singing Players, announces a workshop, sponsored by The Singing Players, to be held at the First Presbyterian Church in Dover on Saturday, Aug. 27, 1977 at 9:30 a.m. preceded by a Coffee Hour and Registration. Anyone interested in exciting new choral and vocal techniques is welcome to come to this Free Workshop which will explore the latest in Christmas music along with some tried and true favorites. No audition is necessary.

The goal, set by The Singing Players for themselves, is to start their new season where they finished last year in professional development. Therefore, all who plan to join them this year should make every effort to attend this Workshop, planned with that goal in mind. The day will end at 4:30 p.m. with a reading of the entire concert program.

The workshop leader, Jack Burnam, is Choir Master and Organist of Immanuel Baptist Church in Wilmington, having previously served in the same capacity at Immanuel Baptist Church. For the third year, he has been Co-Director of The choir Training School of the Delaware Episcopal Diocesan held at St. Andrews School in Middletown in June. Mr. Burnam is a member of the conducting Seminar held each year at the Philadelphia College of Performing Arts. He is affiliated with the Voice Studio of Lorraine Fleming as Vocal Coach and accompanist and also served as accompanist for the New Castle Choral Society.

Not only is the Workshop open to the public without charge, Free Nursery for Pre-School children is provided those who request it in advance. For further information call Mrs. Storey at 734-2094 or write Barbara Deakynne, 154 Lake Drive, Smyrna, Del. 19777. Advance registration is most desirable as the first sixty registrants will be accommodated. Plan now to sing in these five exciting concerts in all parts of Delaware and in Salisbury, Maryland.

Play It Safe With Summer Food

Summer is a favorite time for picnics, barbecues, camping, pool parties and other outdoor activities. Such activities often include a variety of exciting foods. Unfortunately, the same sunny, warm weather which beckons us outdoors requires special food safety precautions on our part, cautions Delaware extension home economist Suzanne Matusiak.

The food we eat is constantly in contact with many types of bacteria, mold and yeast. Some of these organisms are helpful, giving us fermented drinks, various types of cheeses, and aiding our body's digestive system to assimilate food. However, other bacteria, molds and yeasts can be harmful, causing foodborne illness and spoilage.

For illness or spoilage to occur, the contaminating organism must be present and it must have proper conditions for its growth or the production of toxins. Food safety is the control of these organisms in contact with our foods and limitation of their growing conditions.

Foodborne illness can cause diarrhea, vomiting, stomach cramps and other unpleasant symptoms which may last for several hours or even days, points out Ms. Matusiak. With young children and elderly people, the results can be more severe. Often, people mistake such illness for a simple "bug" or virus. The real cause may be food that was not properly handled, prepared or served. This hazard can be prevented.

Plan your outdoor menu with food safety in mind. Select items which do not require refrigeration or heating or which are less susceptible to bacterial growth. Safe choices for a summer outing might include peanut butter and jelly sandwiches rather than meat sandwiches, cole slaw with an oil and vinegar dressing rather than mayonnaise, fresh or dried fruits and vegetables, non-fat dry milk or dry non-dairy creamer, dehydrated foods and canned foods.

Anything that comes in contact with food should be clean. This includes the hands of the person touching the food, cooking and serving utensils, and work surfaces. This may be particularly difficult when you are preparing food outdoors so be sure to include the hand soap and detergent with your supplies.

Bacteria grows rapidly within the temperature range of 40-140 degrees F. Therefore, cold foods should be kept below 40 degrees and hot foods should be held above 140 degrees. As food warms up or cools down, it begins to reach the 40-140 degree range. It should never remain within this danger zone longer than 2 to 3 hours, cautions Ms. Matusiak. Take special care to keep products containing milk and/or eggs (ice cream, milk, cheese, mayonnaise, deviled eggs, etc.) at proper temperatures as these products are very good mediums for the growth of bacteria.

Be sure as you transport your food—from the store to home or, from home to the picnic—that perishable foods do not sit in a hot car for long periods of time. If you are traveling to a picnic or barbecue site, use a cooler with ice to maintain your cold items. If you don't have a cooler, improvise by using a metal pot or basin large enough to hold the food plus ice. Cover this with a lid or plastic and newspaper to insulate the items. For camping trips, freeze food you won't be using the first day and this will help keep the cooler below that critical 40 degree mark. Also check ice periodically and replace it as it melts.

If you are serving food outdoors from your kitchen, be sure your refrigerator has been turned up to keep the larger quantity of food properly chilled. Also, don't serve all the food at once. For example, transfer some of the potato salad to a smaller serving dish and refill this when necessary. And hold back some of the hamburgers and hot dogs when you begin cooking them on the grill. This insures that food won't be without refrigeration for long periods of time.

If you have any doubts about the safety of a food item—such as the length of time it has been sitting out in warm weather—don't remix it with other food or bring it home as leftovers, dispose of it carefully.

Foodborne illness can put a damper on any event. But if you observe the rules for food safety, you and your family can enjoy a summer of fun and safe good eating.

Weekly Report

by Senator Joe Biden

This week I released the results of a recent state-wide survey of Delaware public opinion concerning energy issues. The overwhelming number of responses to this mail survey reflects strong support for Executive and Congressional efforts to develop a comprehensive energy policy, with some exception taken to specific energy-saving proposals.

Six out of every ten Delawareans who responded said that they felt, "there is a shortage of energy in the United States", the solution to which another 74 % believed would "require significant changes in our life-styles". Yet, some 59 % of the survey respondents felt "that natural gas supplies were deliberately withheld during last winter's shortage in order to drive up prices". Two out of every three respondents were opposed to "increasing the tax on gasoline prices... (as)...a desirable way to conserve fuel." The same percentage of Delawareans polled, however, did "favor a system of tax penalties and incentives in order to urge automobile manufacturers to improve the gas mileage of their cars". A majority of state opinion favored "special tax treatment for homeowners" who make energy saving improvements to their homes. And a majority (59 %) of the respondents favored some form of government subsidy to electric companies for the cost of coal conversion if "done in an environmentally sound way".

With respect to expanding domestic energy supplies, 61 % favored "drilling for oil and gas along the Delaware coastline". And another 64 % of respondents believed "that the use of nuclear power should be considered as a major alternative energy source."

The largest majority response recorded in the survey was the 86 % of Delawareans who felt "that the President and the Congress should develop a comprehensive energy policy this year".

This statewide survey was mailed on April 21, and over 23,000 responses have been recorded.

Thoughts

by Senator Bill Roth

Probably the most important foreign policy change under the new administration has been the new emphasis on human rights in other countries. In many respects, this new emphasis is a welcome and needed change, but in other cases, it has had a negative effect on American diplomacy. I believe very strongly that America must stand for democracy and the exercise of human freedoms, but at the same time, we must exercise our human rights policies in a consistent and understandable manner.

During the past few months, President Carter has met with or expressed support for a number of Soviet citizens who have sought greater liberties. This country has spoken forcefully for observance of the human rights provisions of the 1975 Helsinki Accords. One result has been that the Soviet Union has been put on the defensive around the world. European newspapers that used to be critical of America's role in Vietnam have now been criticizing the Soviet Union for not permitting its citizens to enjoy freedom, democracy, and the exercise of their religious and philosophical beliefs. It is clear that at the Belgrade Conference (a follow-up to the Helsinki Conference), the main issue has been the failure of the Soviets and their Eastern European satellites to adhere to the human rights accords.

Elsewhere in the world, there have been some changes as a result of the new emphasis on human rights. For example, the Philippines recently announced that military courts set up under the martial law regime would be abolished, and Indonesia has announced that it will release political prisoners.

On the negative side, there has been a good deal of confusion about what the United States means by human rights. In particular, it is difficult to understand why the new administration has been so eager to improve relations with Cuba and Vietnam, two of the world's most notorious violators of human rights.

Moreover, there is growing concern that the deterioration of relations with the Soviet Union could prove detrimental to dissidents in that country as well as jeopardize important arms control negotiations. If not handled carefully, for example, criticism of Soviet policies could result in a much greater repression in that country so that we would never hear of the dissidents who now at least have some opportunity to meet with Western newsmen and others to express their grievances.

In summary, human rights will continue to be an important aspect of America's foreign policy.

Felton Town Council Hears Residents' Complaints

FELTON - Three Felton residents appeared at an otherwise quiet, routine meeting of the Felton Town Council Tuesday evening to complain of an unpaved road, open drainage ditch, some uncut grass and the lack of street signs.

Ms. Darlene Eller and Mr. and Mrs. Al Salsbury were on hand to make the commissioners aware of some conditions they felt unsatisfactory in the recently developed section of town west of Walnut Street.

Ms. Eller explained that the drainage from an unpaved street in the section was causing water to back up in her yard after a rain and leaving a green scum. The drainage problem, she said, was also making it impossible to get grass started. She was also concerned about an area of uncut grass that was growing up in weeds too tall and on ground too rough for individual homeowners' mowers to handle. The strip of uncut weeds is in a section that may be set aside later for a small park or recreation area.

Lack of street signs in the area was another concern of both Ms. Eller and the Salsburys. Mr. and Mrs. Salsbury also noted that an open drainage ditch, possibly a part of the tax ditch authority, was improperly maintained and was a breeding ground for mosquitos.

Don Jacobs, presiding in the absence of Mayor Myers, gave assurance that the grass would be cut in the problem area. In addition, the Council voted to order the needed street signs for North and Walnut Streets and West Sewell and Walnut Streets.

The unpaved road, according to the Council is still the responsibility of the developer, Myers and Corporation, until it is completed and deeded over to the town.

The problem with the ditch would probably have to be referred to state and/or federal authorities in question.

In addition to the street signs already mentioned the Council voted to order a Post Office sign to be added to the Main and Railroad Streets tier.

There was also brief discussion resulting from Al Salsbury's question inquiring whether older homes in town were reared to keep pace with their increasing market value. Jacobs said that while the entire town has not been reassessed as a unit, many older homes had indeed been revalued, this usually occurring when property changed hands or major renovations had been made.

The possibility of getting someone through the CETA program to do town maintenance was touched on. However, it was mentioned that Bill Tribbett had been voluntarily and often without thanks cutting grass along the railroad track and elsewhere in town. It was felt that he certainly deserved commendation if not compensation for his work. No positive action was taken. In other matters the Felton Council:

Defered until future meetings or a special meeting on the revision of the town charter a suggestion that commissioners might receive some form of compensation for their service. The suggestion was brought up by Treasurer, Mary Ann Stumpf.

Heard in a letter from the Delaware League of Local Governments that HB 508 which includes permission to change the town charter, having passed the legislature is now before the Governor.

Approved the purchase of an adding machine. Approved payment of routine bills and heard that exterior painting of the town hall is not quite complete and the drapes for the meeting room not yet purchased.

'Project' To Bring Safety Message To Farmers

"Project Well Aware" will again be available to farmers, farm workers and their families this summer, reports University of Delaware extension farm safety specialist Ronald C. Jester. The special safety program will be conducted at the Delaware State Fair, July 27-29, and at the University of Delaware's Farm and Home Field Day in Georgetown, August 10.

According to Jester, "Project Well Aware" is designed to alert farmers to some of the health hazards that exist on the farm and to show them what can be done to protect themselves from them. The service is sponsored by the Delaware Cooperative Extension Service in cooperation with the Division of Public Health, the Delaware Heart Association, the Delaware Lung Association and the Beebe Hospital School of Nursing.

"Project Well Aware" is an opportunity for farmers their families and full-time farm employees to learn more about the noise, dust and chemical hazards on their farms and how to safely cope with them. Special emphasis will be placed on the various types of respirators and hearing protectors which are available, and on identifying the conditions which dictate their use.

Free blood pressure and breathing tests will also be conducted.

"Good health is important to the farmer," notes the safety specialist. "Project Well Aware" will show you how to reduce the risk of a heart attack, respiratory disease and noise-induced hearing losses. Farming entails vigorous activities and stresses that if not dealt with properly may have adverse effect on your health.

Plan to participate in this important project, urges Jester. Your health can't wait!

The Evans Report

by Congressman Tom Evans

This past week I made a trip to Georgetown, I'm always glad to get back to Sussex County, but I had mixed feelings on this occasion. I was there to hear the views of Delawareans on the continuing question of ocean dumping by Philadelphia at a hearing of the Environmental Protection Agency.

I deeply regret that such hearings have to be held at all, but I welcomed the opportunity to once again protest the EPA's policy of allowing Philadelphia to continue to dump its treated waste -- 95 million pounds of toxic sludge in the coming year -- 35 miles of Delaware's coast. That's 173 pounds of sludge for every man, woman and child in Delaware.

I am simply sick and tired of watching Philadelphia use the ocean off the coast of Delaware as their private cesspool. I think we are being "interim permitted" to death.

Already, EPA has granted Philadelphia four interim permits. The last interim permit, granted in 1976, contained a detailed schedule of over 50 compliance dates. Yet, during the period from June through September, 1976, Philadelphia failed to meet 34 out of 46 deadlines.

These failures confirm what Delawareans have known for a long time -- Philadelphia is not serious about finding alternatives to ocean dumping.

The only way to force Philadelphia to find other methods of sludge disposal is to tell them in no uncertain terms that all ocean dumping will end by a certain date.

That's what the House

Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee said recently when it adopted an amendment offered by Congressman Hughes of New Jersey, and me to prohibit all ocean dumping as soon as possible, but in no case later than December 31, 1981.

This ban, which now goes to the full House, would give cities like Philadelphia, Camden and New York over four years to clean up their act.

Philadelphia's reaction to that amendment was a further indication to me of their unwillingness to find alternative ways to dispose of sludge.

In testimony before the Merchant Marine Committee on June 15th, the Honorable Carmen Guarino, Water Department Commissioner for Philadelphia, advised the Committee that Philadelphia was planning to end ocean dumping by early 1981. Yet he still indicated the City's opposition to our December, 1981 deadline.

This inconsistency highlights the plain and simple truth -- Philadelphia is going to continue dumping massive amounts of sludge into the ocean until someone orders them to stop.

The ocean is not a garbage pit. Rather, it is a priceless source of aesthetic, recreational and economic benefit to Delaware and its people. The continued dumping of sludge presents a clear and dangerous threat to that resource.

We must put Philadelphia and cities like this who abuse our ocean and our beaches on notice that ocean dumping must end -- permanently.

Milford Hospital Rates Raised

Room rates at Milford Memorial Hospital have been increased by about 5 per cent due to inflation, according to Joseph E. Ahlschier, hospital president.

The increase, which is the first since December 1974, went into effect July 1, raising the price on all classifications of rooms by $4. Even with the increase room rates at Milford Memorial remain the lowest in the state, according to Ahlschier.

The breakdown of the new rates is as follows: private, $87-$89; semi-private, $74-$75; intensive care units, $164; and nursery, $44. The rate increase was attributed to the increased cost of equipment, supplies and services.

Cheer Center News: Week July 4-8:

A well-fed and satisfied group of Cheer and Community members returned Saturday night from a trip to Vermont. The scenery was beautiful. People were very friendly, and our food was cooked and prepared by a chef. It was delicious.

Our capable bus driver gave us a feeling of security as he drove over and around the mountains of Vermont on our tours. We enjoyed a boat ride with a picnic lunch. Also unforgettable was a night at the theater. You would have had to be there to experience the joy of that evening in Vermont.

Those enjoying the trip were Ella Dimes, Emma Everline, Alberta Allen, Rita Seely, Anna Elliott, Beulah Watson, Ann Brenner, Delema Smith, Gladys Kalinevitch, Bernice Campbell, Clarence Dixon, Barbara Young, and Charlotte Shea.

Our manager, Mrs. Doughton and Mrs. Kathleen Willey were away this week on vacation. Mrs. Charlotte Shea was in charge.

Our Center was very quiet this week due to the weather and illness that has kept several from being with us.

The Public Health nurse plans to be with us July 18th to check on our blood pressure. Come out and avail yourself of this service. It is free for everyone in the community whether you are a member of Cheer or not.

On July 19 Bill Phillips will have a film "The House Fly" for us to see. On July 20, Pat Voshell will visit us and demonstrate Arm Chair Karate.

July 21 will be our birthday party for our July people. It is also the date for our shopping trip to Seaford.

Mark your calendar for July 24. Old Time Gospel Sing on the lawn of the Lord's House, beginning at 2 p.m. Bring yard chair or blanket.

Wednesday afternoon visitors at the home of Mrs. Theresa Ottey were Mr. and Mrs. John Hedl of Springfield, Pa.

On Sunday, July 3, Miss Mary Morris of the Swartzentruber House was an all-day guest of Mr.

and Mrs. Alfred McIlvaine.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Case of Newark were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield.

The group that call themselves "Christians Without Partners" met on Thursday evening and enjoyed a fine time together, under the hosting of Mrs. Charlotte Shea. The next meeting will be held at The Lord's Open House on the evening of July 21. The group will meet at 6:30 for fun and games and then will have a covered dish supper at 7:30. This is for everyone who is without a partner in the surrounding area or nearby towns. Come and fellowship together for conversation, music and recreation.

Thomas E. Cannon entertained to a cookout this weekend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cannon, in honor of his father's birthday. Those present were Jeffrey, Nora Kay and Kenneth Cannon, Miss Anne Cannon of Hyattstown, N.J., Miss Mary Cannon of Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Cannon of Greenwood, and Mr. Paul Lopez of Bordentown, N.J.

Mrs. Ellen Bollinger and Mrs. JoAnne Davis visited the Emmaus Home for Girls at Fredericksburg, Va. which is under the supervision of the Rev. and Mrs. Earl Tyson. They enjoyed lunch with the girls and staff and were much interested in hearing about the program.

Spirit - that's what Sussex County 4-H'ers are gifted with! For the past two weeks 4-H'ers from all over the state have been to Camp Barnes. While at Camp Barnes 4-H'ers learn many things and have a lot of fun making new friends. Each week a few are selected to represent each "H" in 4-H, which are Head, Heart, Hands and Health. A "spirit" is also chosen which represents a combination of all the H's. This year many Sussex County 4-H'ers captured these honors. In fact, the spirit of camp for both weeks were from Sussex.

Monty Bryan, from the Hollymount Club was named Spirit the first week. Monty is a born leader - being president of his local club helped him to carry the responsibility of chief of the Seneca Tribe at Camp. His projects include dairy, swine and woodworking.

Vance Phillips, followed in Monty's footsteps the second week. This 4-H'er also captured the title of "Spirit". Vance is another 4-H President of the Mount Pleasant Club. He is also a member of the Seneca Tribe. These Seneca's must have something going Vance takes the self-determination project. Receiving H's were Landy Correll and Sam Hopkins. Landy received the "Hands H". He is President of the Bridgeville Wildcats 4-H Club. His projects include Woodworking, Tractor, Field Crops and Gardening. Sam Hopkins, of the Broadkill Kool Kats received the "Heart H". Sam is treasurer of his club and takes Dairy, Conservation, Safety, Field Crops and Automotive projects. Landy and Sam worked very well together at camp. Landy was Chief of the Susque Tribe while Sam was Sagamore.

Two other Sussex Countians had the honor of being a tribe leader. Janet Cannon, of the Bridgeville Livewires was named "sag" of the Seneca Tribe while Pam Knopp of the Hollymount was named "sag" for the Delaware Thunderbirds!

Bradley-Welch Wedding Held

The wedding of Miss Barbara Ann Bradley and Mr. Louis C. Welch, Jr. took place on Saturday, May 21st, at 7:30 in the evening at Asbury Methodist Church in Harrington.

her sister was Kaye Bradley of Felton. Mrs. Irene Bradley, sister-in-law of the bride and Miss Millie Welch, sister of the groom were the bridesmaids.

The parents of the bride are Mrs. Ruth L. Bradley of Felton, and the late Ralph Earl Bradley. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Welch of Harrington. The Reverend Alvin Willink officiated at the candlelight service, which was followed by a reception at St. Bernadettes Church Hall in Harrington.

Best man was Bobby Reed of Harrington. Ushers were Donald Welch, brother of the groom, of Harrington and Francis Morris of Felton. Mrs. Barbara Reed was guest book attendant for the couple. The bride is a 1971 graduate of Lake Forest High School, and is employed by WTHD-WAFL Radio of Milford. The groom is also a 1971 graduate of Lake Forest and is employed by Taylor and Messick of Harrington. Following a wedding trip to Williamsburg, the couple is living near Harrington.

'Praisemakers' To Sing

"The Praisemakers" of Milford and Lincoln, Delaware, will present a concert of gospel music at the Greenwood United Methodist Church, W. Market Street, Greenwood, during the Sunday School hour and also during the worship hour, this Sunday, July 17th. The Sunday School begins at 10 a.m. and the church session begins at 11:15 a.m. The other churches of the Greenwood Methodist Charge, Epworth and Todd's Chapel, will attend the 11:15 session. (Todd's Chapel will hold their Sunday School at 10 a.m.)

"The Praisemakers" is a new gospel music group on the scene of the Peninsula and have been well received every place they perform for the Lord Jesus Christ. The group is made up of Debbie Adams, vocalist; Jimmy Doughten, Rhythm guitar; Danny Morton, Bassguitar; Doug Morton, Lead Guitar; and Dick Stoops with his fiddles. Everyone is welcome! And come as you are! Feel free to dress informally to suit your own comfort.

For Your Information

Dear friends,

Our religious practice is to honor but not to worship the human body. We use the custom of viewing the deceased to offer relatives and friends a last look at the face of the departed - to confirm the reality of death for the bereaved - and to focus the need for continuing concern by relatives and friends for the welfare of the bereaved family.

Respectfully,

Atlantic Coast '300' Postponed To August 21

Dover - Dover Downs International Speedway announced today that the Atlantic Coast "300" NASCAR National Championship Modified race, originally scheduled for July 17th, has been postponed and rescheduled for Sunday, August 21st. Starting time for the race will remain at 1:30 P.M. In making the announcement, Dover Downs president and general manager, John Riddle said, "We arrived at a joint decision with NASCAR to change the rules of the race in order to allow more cars to enter the Atlantic Coast '300'." Specifically, he continued, "the rules have been modified to make 15-inch tires and enclosed front ends optional on the cars.

"Additionally," Riddle went on, "we have shortened the starting field to 33 cars. The same purse of $49,225 will be posted," Riddle said, "and the money has been redistributed over the new 33-car starting field."

Riddle concluded by saying that the decision to change the rules would produce a far better field for the August 21 Atlantic Coast "300" and that Maynard Troyer, Richie Evans, and Charlie Jarzombek have already committed themselves to compete in the race following phone calls made immediately after the decision was reached. Many other well known modified drivers are also expected to enter as a result of the rule change.

Previously entered and expected to be among the front runners for the August 21 event are: Geoff Bodine, Jerry Cook, Jerry Makara, Satch Worley, Lennie Pond, and Merv Treichler.

Practice and qualifying formats for the rescheduled race will remain the same with the exception that fewer positions will be awarded in each qualifying session. Atlantic Coast "300" starting positions 1 through 15 will be determined in time trials on Saturday, August 20th at 2 P.M. Starting positions 16 through 25 will be determined on the same day at 5 P.M. On Sunday, August 21st, starting positions 26 through 33 will be determined in time trials scheduled at 12 noon.

Following conclusion of their 1977 season all-stars from the Harrington Little and Senior leagues have been picked to represent the City in the District All-Star tournaments.

All-Stars from the Harrington Little League will begin play on July 25 at 6:15 p.m. with a game against Camden-Wyoming at Camden-Wyoming.

Coaches for the team will be Bill Morris and Jack Sapp.

Representing the league will be 13 boys and one girl who were selected as the best during regular season play in the league. They are: Dwayne E. Wooters, Scott McKenzie, Joseph A. Wyatt, Terry Lee Morris, Richard A. Sapp, Michael J. Collison, Patrick Larimore, Kevin L. Willink, Richard L. Collins, Francis J. Sargent, Joseph R. Watkinson, Ralph L. Taylor Jr., Cathy Johnson, and Albert J. Silbereisen. The senior league all-stars will get into action on July 19th when they play Milford at Harrington. Coaches for that team will be Ben Potter and Charles Bebeau.

The players representing the league are: Ben L. Potter, Todd Gruwell, Kenny Cerklefskie, Randy Hammond, Randy D. Ramirez, Mark A. Smith, Jeffrey DeShields, Jeff DeShields, Adam D. Hobbs, Bill D'Andrea, D. Leroy Garey, Jr., Quinton N. Hendricks, William A. Scott, and R. Douglas Collins.

Should either of the two teams win their district the team would then continue onto the State Championship.

Joseph And Breeding Split Victory

followed by Stan Busby, Haines Tull, Jack Sapp, and sportsman driver Johnny Bennett.

Walt Breeding of Federalsburg, Maryland, had the Taylor & Messick Gremlin flying in the second 20 lap feature. The first caution of the event came on lap number two when Glenn Wilson got into the front straight wall. Breeding shot into the lead on the restart and was never headed in the remainder of the event. This feature victory tied Breeding and Trice at three apiece.

Stan Busby of Bridgeville finished in the number two spot followed by Trice, Jack Sapp, Joseph, Haines Tull and making a clean sweep in the sportsman division, Johnny Bennett.

Late model star, Ronnie LaVere, had the fans on their feet as he twice charged from the rear of the field to capture his fifth victory of the season.

A real bone-jarring crash on the first lap retired the cars of Steve Ellingsworth, Dale Moore, and Mike Hager but none of the drivers were injured. Chuck Graves took the early lead battling with Sonny Ritter. On lap eleven, Jimmy Goslee collided with the spinning car of Don Breeding bringing out the second caution. LaVere shot into the pits during the caution but was able to return in time to join the pack at the rear of the field.

LaVere worked both the high and low grooves and by the twenty-third lap was challenging Graves for the lead. Graves slid just a hair too high coming off the fourth turn on the final lap, allowing LaVere to slip under for the win. Graves' super effort earned him a very respectable second followed by Sam Davis, Sonny Ritter, H.R. Bailey, and Larry Andell.

Heats L.M. 1) Graves 2) Ritter 3) Les Nailor 1) Davis 2) LaVere 3) Don Breeding Modified 1) Joseph 2) Busby 3) Tull

Donnie Joseph and Walt Breeding split the victory honors in the "Twin 20's" Friday evening at the Georgetown Speedway.

Bridgeville's Donnie Joseph picked up his first victory in the first half of the twin card. Joseph shot to an early lead in the Bob Wright Pinto and was never seriously challenged throughout the entire event. His impressive victory made him the fifth different modified chauffeur to enter victory lane this season.

Last week's feature winner, Gary Trice, made a late race charge but had to settle for the runner-up spot. Walt Breeding finished in the third spot

Merv Treichler Joins Atlantic Coast '300' Field

DOVER - Merv Treichler of Sanborn, NY has become the latest entry for the Aug. 21st Atlantic Coast "300" NASCAR National Championship Modified race at Dover Downs International Speedway. A 12-year veteran of the racing wars, Treichler will compete in his superspeedway Monza 2t2 powered by a 427 cu. in., Chevy engine.

Treichler will be one of but a few Atlantic Coast "300" drivers with former modified racing experience on the high-banked superspeedway at Dover Downs. He competed in the 1970 modified events at Dover and recalls his impressions of those earlier days: "Well," he said, "at the time it was kind of new to us being on a track of that size, especially on one as fast as Dover is and one with such steep banking. Back then we had mostly straight axles, but now with the way the cars are designed and built, I think the Atlantic Coast "300" is going to be one awful nice race."

Treichler is high on the idea of running modifieds on the superspeedways. "I think the modifieds have taken a back seat long enough," he said. "I feel that this series is going to bring them the recognition they deserve and I'm looking forward to competing in the series."

Treichler began his racing career driving Late Models and after 3 years switched over to racing modifieds where he has enjoyed considerable success. Among his accomplishments are numerous track championships and victories in major modified races such as the Race of Champions of Trenton, the NASCAR "200" at Daytona, and the modified event at Watkins Glen.

Runner-Up Miss Delaware

Barbara Blackman Debuts in Philadelphia

Publisher's Note:

REHOBOTH BEACH In an exclusive interview this week, Miss Blackman told The Journal the history of belly dancing so the reading public could better understand this ancient art.

This Thursday night, Miss Blackman of Canterbury, will make her professional debut at the Middle East Restaurant at 126 Chestnut Street Philadelphia. Miss Blackman, a native of the area and a 1973 graduate of Lake Forest High School and this past June from the University of Delaware, has for several years, trained in the Danse du Ventre (belly dancing), she received an advanced certificate and a professional certificate this past Spring from the Arabasque Studio in Philadelphia. Her final credential on her professional certificate is to perform with a live band. This she will do this coming Thursday night.

Miss Blackman recently participated in the Miss Delaware contest, which was carried in the June 29 issue of the Journal. She finished second as runner-up to the winner. She plans to continue to work in the field of dancing and this fall become a first grade teacher at Caesar Rodney in special education. Miss Blackman is very serious about her professional lives both in dancing and teaching, she says that the general public "...should know that there is a definite difference between Middle East belly dancing and the strip tease... the difference between should be made aware of this so that the dance can be performed as it was meant to be". Miss Blackman said that she would have like to have explained to the audience the night of the Miss Delaware pageant the history of belly dancing so that they would better understand. According to Miss Blackman, Danse du Ventre (belly dancing) dates back many centuries and was believed to have originated in Egypt which was a left over from the 400 year occupation of Egypt by the Turks. Miss Blackman was a AFS representative from Lake Forest to Turkey in 1972. This is where she first got interested in this ancient culture. History has it that young girls would dance for coins, and from the coins they would make a necklace or bracelets. The amount of coins someone would mean a greater chance of becoming married. Other coins were sown to their costumes. Other theories have it that the belly dance suggested child birth and fertility, and for this reason the movements of the body were emphasized in the middle part.

The dance itself is for the most part left entirely up to the individual dancer as to the length of the dance and the pattern. Most bands, such as the one at the Middle East Restaurant where Miss Blackman will perform on Thursday night play by ear. So they follow the dancer. The minimum time of each dance is 15 minutes, with 3 minutes per segment with 5 segments. The first part the dancer make the grand entrance where the music is lively and with a fast tempo. The dancer will make her way around the tables bordering the small dance area, which for the most part like the Middle East Restaurant is about 6' x 10'. The second movement, the dancer makes her way out to the surrounding tables weaving in and out and working at all times with the veil. This is the seductive part of the performance. At the end of this movement she will leave the veil around a customer's neck. The third movement is similar to the first. The music picks up again with a fast tempo. The dancer goes to the other tables always moving out to more and more tables. She is constantly enlarging her area of the dance so that at the end she has touched all tables. The fourth phase, the dancer returns to the main stage and does what is known as the floor work. This according to Miss Blackman is the most strenuous part, for here the dancer uses her stomach muscles in slow rhythm as well as back bends. Here the shoulder, by kneeling and bending backwards touch the floor. Here again begins the slow rhythmic stomach, or belly rolls. The movement is usually down and up... or the snake arm movement, or bending from the front with snake arm movements, hip circles, or heel brushes

(Where the rear part of the body touches the tops of the heels in a circular motion) the fifth and final movement is the Kash Limar. This is where the dancer does the shoulder to hip shimmeys very fast. This is supposed to be the most exciting part. The Kash Limar is a different beat with finger cymbals or zils, which is the Turkish word for finger cymbals.) The band which performs for the belly dancer is usually composed of 3 to 5 members. The customary instruments are the accordion, violin, organ, cymbals, guitar. Other than that the food is usually lamb, egg-plant, and shishebab. The Journal extends best wishes for a successful engagement to Miss Blackman, for her debut and for her teaching career this fall.

Coming Events

years and that is the improvement of Railroad Ave. from Delaware Ave. to Grey's Crossing. This amounts to $300,000 and will include the extension of sewer lines down Railroad Ave., straightening of Railroad Ave., improvement of the intersection of Railroad Ave. and Delaware Ave., and finally the widening of Railroad Ave. The Town was recently granted an easement to the Adams property (T. G. Adams & Sons) to enable the project to project to that area for the purposes of implanting storm drains to handle surface water which has heretofore collected in this area.

In other business, the Town Commissioners presented the Bridgeville Fire Co. (Richard Thomas) with a check earlier in the meeting in the amount of $3,500 for the purchase of fire fighting equipment. This figure represented half of the needed figure necessary to complete the refitting of this type of equipment.

The Bridgeville Recreation Program received a check for $3,500 to take care of needed programs for this program. The Town also recently paid for the installation of a practice tennis back stop. This cost $1,000. The program currently has 115 children enrolled.

The President of the Commissioners, Kyle Ewing, brought up the fact that earlier the Board had passed into and made it law that anyone 65 years or older making $3,500 or less, or married couple making less than $5,000, could be excused from the payment of real estate taxes. Some time in the past this has been made in the form of a law, but evidence could not be found on the books. It was necessary to re-enact it with a vote in order to confirm it for the record.

Commissioner Earl Willey, who has served on the Board longer than any other Commissioner, brought up the need for voter registration. Currently any property owner can vote. Willey wants to see a registration program of all citizens regardless of whether or not they own property.

then you have found the boundaries of the Town," said Yerkes. Another Commissioner Connie Morgan, whose father, Frank Morgan, served as President of the Board prior to his death said "...it will also clear up some property matters on School St. (survey to be from School St. through to Sunset Ave.), because some of the surveys on that Street were from the centerline of School St. and some surveyed from the edge of School St. north to Sunset Ave." The Town will request Talley to put in writing his price to complete the job.

Bids were opened for the resurfacing of Wharton St. The following were bidders on the resurfacing and their respective bids: Warren Brothers ($4,200); George & Lynch ($5,290) and James L. Webb Paving Co. ($4,467.50). The bid contract was awarded to Warren Brothers with the following stipulation: scrape grass where presently growing through existing road way; sweep all debris off existing roadway and overlay existing roadway with 2" asphalt and grade shoulders of street to hot mix. The Street dimensions are approximately 18' wide by 800' long.
