Lifetime Member

Neeman Named Top Fireman by State Association

Harrington Volunteer Fire Co. lifetime member Paul Neeman was named Fireman of the Year by the Delaware State Volunteer Fireman's Association at their recent convention in Dover.

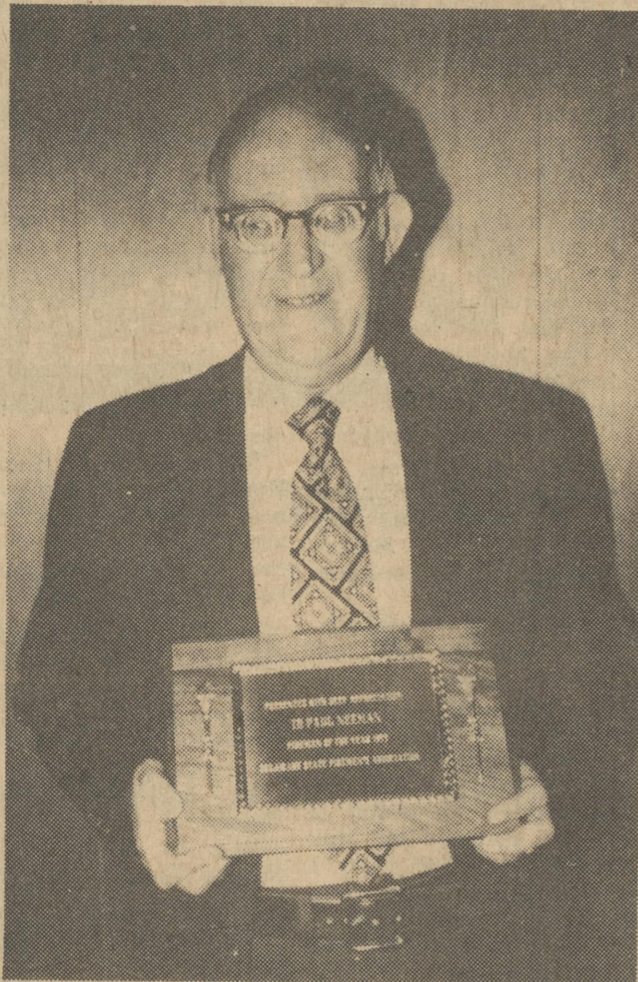

Neeman, who at the same convention was re-elected to the post of state secretary for the fifteenth consecutive term, has been a member of the Harrington Fire Co. for the past 35 years. He is a past president, secretary and treasurer of the local organization, as well as having helped start the first ambulance squad in Harrington. When that first ambulance squad was started in 1950, Neeman was the first ambulance captain and held that position for 13 years.

In addition to being very active in the local organization, the 58 year old magistrate has also been very active on the state level. In addition to currently holding the post of secretary, Neeman is also a past president of the organization having served in that capacity during 1958-1959. Also a past president of the Kent County organization (1950), Neeman was instrumental in starting the first fire school which was held in Camden-Wyoming. Neeman also made legislative appearances to help get money for fire school and also to put the Fire Marshall law into effect.

Neeman who is currently the president of the Delaware Magistrates Association was graduated from Felton High School in 1937. He was also a past president of the Alumni Association for that school.

In order to be selected Fireman of the Year Neeman's name first had to be submitted by the Harrington Volunteer Fire Co. to the State Organization. The state then screened all the candidates and selected Neeman as the winner but it was not announced until the Convention lunch on Friday of the convention.

'Fireman of the Year'

Harrington Volunteer Fire Co. lifetime member Paul Neeman was recently named Fireman of the Year by the Delaware Volunteer Firemen's Association and was presented with a plaque which reads "Presented with Deep Appreciation to Paul Neeman Fireman of the Year 1977." A duplicate plaque will be hung in the Harrington Fire Hall.

Police Protection Blasted

HOUSTON FIRE HALL. Last Thursday night at the regular meeting of the Houston Town Council, Mrs. Anna Boone blasted the so-called police protection for Houston. Houston has one police officer, Tom Francovic, who holds down another job at the Seaford Nylon plant.

Mrs. Boone aided by the recent killing of an older person in Clayton said "...Houston has many old people living here, and I feel that we are being ripped off as far as police protection is concerned." She went further and added that "...what I would like to see is more patrolling of the streets... move around. We are paying this man good money...our money...to give us protection. Why we don't even have his phone number. It is unlisted and would you tell me how we are to get in touch with him if we needed him. We need to be protected right here...and let these other areas like Blairs Pond get protection from the State Police. I don't mean to get mad or get upset about it... but that's the way that I feel". Council members will hold another meeting on the matter.

E.G. Lloyd who is a member of the Brotherhood of Engineers (railroad) appeared before the Council to notify them that shortly trains will be running through Houston at 40 M.P.H. The two crossings in Houston are deemed to be "substandard", which according to Lloyd means no lights or watchman. There have been two fatalities in Delaware this year according to Lloyd due to substandard crossings. He said that if the Towns in the State will initiate requests to Osceola Sebastian of the Safety Planning Section of the State of Delaware, there is a very good possibility that lights could be installed in Houston for the two crossings. "As it is right now someone is going to get hurt", said Lloyd. The track from Harrington to Ellendale is being rebuilt so that the speed can be increased from 10 M.P.H. to 40 M.P.H. The reason for the rebuilding this part of the line is to haul faster and easier to Millsboro for the Delmarva Power plant there. Lloyd said "look from 75 to 90 cars loaded with coal will be traveling over these tracks in the near future." The town agreed to work with Lloyd to secure lights for the two crossings for the safety of the people of Houston.

In other action Connie Morgan, a recently elected Council member was selected to be the acting Chairman of the meetings in the absence of the President of the Town Board, Tom Surdukowski, who is required to be away from the meetings for the next four months due to a work schedule. Miss Morgan's father, the late Frank Morgan, was a former President of the Council.

Penn Central has offered to pay $21.90 as back taxes on the land occupied by the rails. The total bill was $30.04, but in the organization of the rail lines, the outcome has been to settle with the various Towns in the State and on the peninsula for something less. The members of the Board felt they should take what was offered since they had very little recourse in the matter.

In the police report, Police Chief Francovic reported an arrest of Elmer Jefferson for being in violation of a Town ordinance which calls for the removal of grass, weeds and rubbish. He was found guilty in Magistrate Court in Harrington and fined $5 with $9.50 in costs. The Magistrate ruled that Mr. Jefferson's point about what constituted rubbish should be defined for his benefit. From the ruling, it seemed, as some Council members felt, that a meeting with Mr. Jefferson should be arranged and tell him what constituted rubbish.

The survey of the Town has not been completed but is in the final stages. It is being conducted by Mann-Talley of Milford. The street repair and resurfacing of Sunset St. has been halted because there appears to be a dispute as to where the right-of-way lines along the street are located. The fence on Francis Simpson's property, according to Council member Ted Yerkes, is approximately 8 feet into the right-of-way. Therefore according to Yerkes, the street cannot be resurfaced at this time. To do so according to Yerkes "would make the street crooked at that point". Yerkes went on to say that Warren brothers would not be able to get their machinery down the street in the area without going over further to the opposite side, which according to Yerkes is why the street would be crooked at that point.

Harrington Girl Meets Loretta Lynn

HARRINGTON. Cheryl Porter, 18 year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Porter is a country music fan, and her idol is Loretta Lynn.

That's where the story could began end, with two exceptions. Cheryl is a special young lady and her idol is more than a voice.

When Cheryl was born her doctors were not optimistic that she would survive, yet she is approaching her nineteenth birthday. Much love and devotion from her family have helped this severely handicapped youngster along the way.

Several years ago, Cheryl's mother noticed that her daughter would react when Loretta Lynn music was played and seemed to prefer her music to others when they were played on the special system that is piped into Cheryl's room.

It so happened then, that last summer when Loretta Lynn appeared at the Delaware State Fair, they asked at the country singer's trailer after the show when she would be in the area again. When Miss Lynn personally inquired why the Porters wanted to know, she found out at that time that Cheryl was her fan and that she was a handicapped child.

Miss Lynn had a later performance in the year at Sunset Park, a country music spot at West Grove, Pa. which the Porters decided they would take Cheryl to see.

When they arrived at the park, they had been told to notify Loretta Lynn's bus driver, who helped to situate Cheryl in her wheel chair close to the stage. Mrs. Porter recalls that Miss Lynn directed part of her performance at that time to Cheryl. They also had a brief personal interview with her at that performance.

Since that time, when the trip was reported, Don DeShield and David Lee,

Forty Racing Nights

Raceway Opens Sunday

HARRINGTON-Harness racing returns to Harrington Raceway starting this Sunday, September 11th. The downstate Delaware track will operate for 40 nights this Fall, racing every Wednesday through Sunday until Nov. 5th.

Track officials report that veteran race announcer, Roy Shudt has been engaged to call the races. Shudt, known by many as the "Dean of Racing Announcers" has been active in the sport for many years and is the voice behind the colorful commentary at Brandywine Raceway.

Track General Manager, George Simpson in making the announcement said;

"We are honored in having a person of Mr. Shudt's ability agree to announce at Harrington and know that his many fans will be equally excited."

Simpson also announced that Herman Brickel will again serve as Race Secretary. Brickel is coming off a successful season at Northfield Park in Cleveland, Ohio and has served as Race Secretary at Harrington since the Spring of 1975. Simpson describes the Race Secretary's duties at a track as one of the most important and outside of monetary success, is the person responsible for the success or failure of each individual race. In other words, the Race Secretary is the one that determines the quality and competitiveness of a race.

Brickel will have his hands full classifying all of the horses that have applied to race at Harrington. With better than 550 stalls filled already, officials report they have had to be very selective in naming the horses which have been granted stall space. In an over-fill-situation such as this, privately owned stables near the track are used by horseman who then ship their horses to Harrington's oval to train and to race.

Among the top horses which have been granted stall space at Harrington and which shouldn't provide Brickel with too many classification worries are two locally bred horses. Each should be classified at or near the top of their class when they race. One is Rattlethecash, who is coming off a 2:02 1/5 race time at Laurel Raceway for owner Howard Brown. The other is Field Master, holder of a 1:59 4/5 record for owner and trainer, Olin Davis. Both should provide area race fans with exciting action.

Post time for Sundays race card is 6:30 p.m. and for those who wish to dine in the air-cond. enclosed clubhouse, reservations can be made by calling 398-3840.

Lake Forest Hires New Teachers

Johnson Sisters Retire, Comer Resigns

At a special meeting called last Tuesday, August 31, the Lake Forest School Board received and accepted the resignations of Hazel and Lydia Johnson, Cafeteria Managers at Lake Forest South Elementary and W.T. Chipman Jr. and Lake Forest South B. respectively.

Hazel Johnson retires after a cafeteria career of thirty-eight years in the Harrington and Lake Forest School District. She began work here in the cafeteria in 1939. Lydia Johnson began in serving for forty-one years. Both are familiar faces to hundreds of school children attending Lake Forest Schools as well as to many of their parents who were once local school children. They are residents of Houston, Delaware.

The Board also received the resignation of Bill Comer who was slated to be assistant principal at Lake Forest North Elementary this year. Comer had served as Director of Special Education at North. He was also associated with the Marion Tracy Dance Studio of Dover and Milford and was well-known for his work with dramatic and musical presentations in the Lake Forest School District. One of the latest of these was "The Wiz of Oz" at Lake Forest North this past May. Comer leaves the Lake Forest District for a special education teaching post in Montgomery County, Maryland. He will be also studying toward a Master's Degree.

Several new teachers for the district were hired at the special meeting. At W.T. Chipman Junior School Barbara Adams replaces Sally Jacoby as reading specialist. Ms. Adams previously taught at the Valley Central Middle School in Montgomery, New York. She completed her undergraduate work at Bloomsburg State University in Pennsylvania and did graduated work at Scranton University. Ms. Jacoby leaves here to teach at Hodson Vo-Tech in Newark.

In Special Education at Chipman, Margaret Rafter was hired to teach reading and English. She comes to Lake Forest with four years teaching experience in Milford, Pennsylvania.

Ms. Rafter did undergraduate and graduate work at Marywood College. Approved at the regular meeting of the School Board August 15 was the appointment of Kevin Docherty as SEM teacher in Special Ed at Chipman. Docherty graduated from Jersey City State College and has taught at a Vo-Tech school in Bayonne, New Jersey.

At Lake Forest North in Felton Mrs. Robin Dean fills in this year for Colleen Lowe who is on maternity leave. Mrs. Dean who is a May 1977 graduate of Delaware State College, will be teaching art.

At Lake Forest High School, Mrs. Cynthia Kemp was hired to fill a spot in Physical Education and Health. She will also be the Junior Varsity Field hockey coach for 1977. Mrs. Kemp replaces Barbara Dougherty. She comes from a year at Loller Middle School in Hatboro, Pennsylvania. Her undergraduate work was completed at Westchester College. Her husband is a teacher in the local district for the past ten years, resigned to take a position at Claymont Middle School in Claymont Delaware. Muehleisen taught eighth grade science.

A correction to the Journal story of last week is needed. Mary Jane Kee (Not Keith) will be the new reading specialist at Lake Forest High School.

Milford School District.

both disc jockeys of WSDS radio station in Dover have been playing Loretta Lynn's recordings with dedication remarks to Cheryl throughout the day.

Earlier this summer, then, when the Porters and Cheryl set out for a Texan reunion with Mrs. Porter's family, it was only natural that they turn their mini-home toward Loretta Lynn's ranch at Hurrican Mills, Tennessee on the return trip.

When the Porter trio arrived at the gates of the camp site at Hurrican Mills, the woman at the desk seemed to mull over the name Porter. When she called the main house where Miss Lynn and her family live, Leon Porter recalls she told Miss Lynn "The Porters have arrived and Cheryl is with them."

The Porters stayed at the camp there for four days, and it was during this time that Cheryl got another close view of her idol. Miss Lynn came to the Porters' minihome, and what began as a ten minute chat soon turned into a three-hour 'down home' visit.

Porter said, "We didn't talk shop, I figured she had enough of that." Instead, the group talked about one of Miss Lynn's favorite pastimes...fishing. She and her husband had just returned from a two-day fishing trip, which took up two of the days the Porters had spent at the campsite.

During the visit, the Porters asked if it would be possible to visit Loretta Lynn's home, which was a mountain cabin in Butcher Hollow, near Van Lear, Ky. Not only was it possible but Miss Lynn directed the Porters to her brother, Herman Webb, who operates a grocery store near the childhood home.

The star's home is occupied by an older couple, said Porter who showed them around, even to the present garden site, which the host warned might just have a copperhead or two in it.

Brother Herman Webb recalled to Porter some of the past times of the family of eight children. One of the things they all did was to keep the family in soft coal. There was a vein of coal that ran near the cabin where the family lived and the children would hack off what they could from it, and devised small explosive devices from socks and gunpowder when the going got too hard to chip off the coals by hand.

All was stored under the cabin where Loretta Lynn and her family lived. Miss Lynn is known as the "Coal Miner's Daughter", the title of her popular autobiography. The Porters also met several other members of the Lynn and Webb family including Miss Lynn's niece, Herma Webb, who has begun to sing on the country circuit.

Last weekend, a third encounter with Cheryl and her favorite took place, again at Sunset Park in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Porter said when Miss Lynn began her performance she had sung about half her first song, and then came near to Cheryl's wheelchair on the edge of the stage and announced "Cheryl honey, this song is just for you." It was a very emotional time recalls Mrs. Porter for Cheryl and the audience.

Cheryl has her own collection of Loretta Lynn memorabilia, which includes about 18 records that her family plays nearly continuously for her in her own room. She also has a personally written letter from the star who has written to her number one fan, not only here but probably in the whole country, "Thank you for being such a fan. I need more like you that are so devoted to me."

If Cheryl could write a reply she would probably thank a star who has taken time out to be a friend for a very special young girl.

Miss Loretta Lynn and Cheryl Porter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Porter of Harrington visit during a trip to Miss Lynn's home in Tennessee. Miss Lynn is a popular country music figure, and Cheryl is probably her biggest fan.

"...time, tide and ripening crops...."
This past week at the Houston Council meeting a member of the Brotherhood of Engineers (the Union) by the name of E. G. (Eugene) Lloyd appeared before the council to make a very serious plea...a plea which revolved around the safety of the citizens of this State and more particularly the citizens of Houston.

The seriousness of his plea was almost unreal. Why? Well...here was a young man who was taking time out without pay...and a union man too mind you...to tell the people of Houston that they should look out for somewhere in the near future trains...yes trains...would be zooming over their tracks again at approximately 40 M.P.H. In as much as the crossing at Houston and other small out-of-the-way places in this State are also unprotected, sure as God made little green apples...someone is not only going to get hurt, the likelihood of many people being killed is also great.

According to Lloyd there is so much red tape--bureaucracy--at the State and Federal levels that he has been unsuccessful in getting done what he wants done. He wants electric gates installed at these crossings and all crossings which are unprotected. This way the safety of the people will be insured.

It would appear from the record and from the stand point of how much in the way of tax money is pouring into Dover for such a small state that our government would get off its hands and this time SPEND SOME MONEY FOR THE BETTERMENT OF THE PEOPLE WHO ELECTED THEM. It was pointed out in the Council meeting at Houston...in sort of a joking way...that probably until the Governor's people (God forbid) or some other elected official experiences a personal involvement...that nothing will get done.

We have been so accustomed to being without railroads that now the unsuspecting public is going to forget about the need to stop at these out-of-the-way places and the result is that there are likely to be several fatalities until something is done about it. It is an old slogan that...time, tide and ripening crops wait for no man. You can also add to that...ships and trains. Now is the chance for our elected officials to do something with our hard earned tax dollars. Not only will you be doing something for your fellow man...and tax payers, but you might be protecting yourselves. After all, gentlemen, in this type of case, God won't give you any more protection than He will us poor mortals. For remember the saying.....time, tideripening crops.....and now trains.....wait for no man.....be they unselected or elected.

Letters To The Editor

Editor:

This letter is in response to Mr. Scott's editorial which appeared in the Harrington Journal for which he seems to have the answers concerning Delaware's troubled prison system.

Mr. Scott, you seem to ignore the biggest problem, which is rehabilitation, and your wonder solution of a new prison facility with a capacity of 1000 is NOT the answer. It is because of those, as yourself, that the prisons are flooded now with your lock them up and forget them attitude. It would only be a matter of months before a facility of 1000 would be flooded, without successful programs to rehabilitate those who have made mistakes.

I have been incarcerated since 1975 at Delaware Correctional Center for selling one ounce of marijuana in September of 1974. Am I to be classified as "Sick and Dangerous"? It is not a term I appreciate being referred to as being. The ones who are sick and dangerous are those who believe in the lock them up and forget them approach as the solution to crime in Delaware.

I ask you, does it work?

The present furlough program at the Smyrna facility, which I have been in since April, is a constructive tool towards rehabilitation as it enables those inmates who want to do right to get out and work instead of lying in prison stagnating. Many of those inmates who have never been self-supporting now have the chance to do so. Many of us have lost our wives and children because we made a mistake. We are human beings with the ability to love and feelings to be hurt.

Mr. Scott, I believe you should incorporate your ideas towards rehabilitation programs instead of voicing your opinions on the worst of us at Delaware Correctional Center

Weekly Report

by Senator Joe Biden

Last week, I received the welcome news that Jack Sullivan, the Federal Railroad Administrator, had accepted our invitation to personally tour the Wilmington maintenance shops and report his finds to the Secretary of Transportation, Brock Adams.

For some weeks now, one of the hottest issues raging in the political arena has been the selection of a site for a high-speed heavy locomotive repair shop. The proposed shop will cost thirty million dollars to build and when completed will employ seven hundred and fifty full-time workers.

Some months back the Federal Railroad Administration conducted a study to determine the best possible location for this shop. Washington, Boston, and Wilmington had been under consideration by the Department of Transportation as possible sites for the repair shop. At that time, upon completion of the study by the FRA, the logical choice for the shop seemed to be Wilmington. Wilmington, which is an approximate mid-point in the Washington-Boston northeast corridor apparently had been selected because of its accessibility and the cost-efficient economics of locating here. Moreover, Wilmington presently houses a repair shop that employs nine-hundred people, many of whom would be displaced by a shift in the site of the shop.

The Railroad Rehabilitation Act guarantees those displaced under these circumstances a job at equal pay in the system or insures their home for the remainder of their working life.

So it was little more than an exercise in sound judgement that tentatively established Wilmington as the site for the new shop. It came as somewhat of a shock then, when I learned six weeks ago that Boston was again being considered.

I immediately wrote to Brock Adams, the Secretary of Transportation, to request a meeting to discuss this matter with him.

Career Corner

by Buck Thompson

Ben Franklin's dictum about a penny saved being a penny earned is particularly important in the search for college money. This is where realistic planning comes in.

Setting your sights high is fine, but too often failure to adjust them in the face of reality leads to disappointment and failure.

Sure, everyone would like to begin work with a degree from a school everyone recognizes. But everyone can't go to Harvard or Yale, and frankly, everyone shouldn't.

If you want to be an accountant, for example, it is not always necessary to have a four-year degree. Many two-year colleges offer associate degrees in such subjects, and often this is enough to qualify you for life after college.

Such institutions are usually cheaper and there is nothing to prevent you from moving on to a four-year college after graduation. Usually credits are transferable, and having the associate degree can help you earn the money you'll need when you enroll in a four-year college.

Many high schools accommodate bright students by allowing them to enroll in college-level courses during their junior and senior years. This isn't a bad way to earn credit toward the degree, and it's cheaper once you arrive at college.

Attending a college near your home can be a huge saving. No room rent, meal costs, cleaning bills, or automobile costs. Of course this dents the normal urge to seek independence from the family, and it adds to your parents' living costs.

But it isn't all that unusual. Studies show that more college students live at home than move away to college, and 80 percent of all college students stay in their home states.

Public colleges are usually less expensive to attend than private colleges, and the degrees they confer are just as good.

Some students take on extra subjects during their college career, speeding up the time and lowering

The Evans Report

by Congressman Tom Evans

As I return to Washington from the recent recess I would like to pause and reflect about the first seven months of my term in office.

Seven months in Washington has convinced me that we need more men and women in Congress who believe in limited government power and limited government regulations.

It is no wonder people question whether government is doing something to them rather than something for them. It is difficult to conceive, but last year alone there were 57,000 pages of regulations published in the Federal Register. These are the regulations that, in one way or another, diminish the freedoms of every American citizen.

One of our greatest national assets has been the free market system. It has been the cornerstone of economic growth in our nation and has provided us with the highest standard of living of any country in the world. By way of contrast, you need only to look to the economy of Great Britain to understand what excessive government regulation and restriction can do to damage the free market and its benefits.

A specific example of Americans' desire to maintain that free market system is in the field of agriculture, our number one industry. Without exception farmers want the right of a free market for their products and understand that their success, not only in terms of profits, but in supplying our country and the world markets with foodstuffs, depends upon the free market system.

Legislatively, I have had some satisfying accomplishments during this first seven months. A bill I wrote to lower the tariff on an important cancer treatment drug was passed. Strict legislation to prohibit Philadelphia from dumping sludge off our coast was adopted in the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee. The Delmarva Rail bill, which would improve Delaware's vital north-south rail artery is under intense committee consideration and I am pleased that the chairman of the ICC has enforced the legislation. Hopefully the rail bill will be acted on favorably.

I am concerned about a number of critical issues

Open House Held At Welch's Seed Service

Which Seed Is That? William Sloane see analyst with the State Board of Agriculture challenges farmers to identify seeds at Welch's Open House and Field Day.

Grace and Carroll Welch of Welch's Seed Service hosted their second annual open house and field day here last Thursday, September 1. The days festivities began at 9 a.m. with 45 minutes of gospel music supplied by the Reverend Royce Andrus and Friends and continued through a full schedule of tours and displays to an evening's old-fashioned barn dance in which Welch's Seed Service entertained their friends and customers to the music of the Home Sweet Home Boys. The open house and field day marked a 21st year in business for the Welches. A highlight of the day for many Harringtonians taking advantage of the Welch's hospitality was the presence of John Parks, former owner of Harrington Milling Company. Parks, a North Carolina native, bought the Harrington Milling Company from Horace Quillen and Frank Langrell in 1939. He operated the business here until November 1956 when he retired, renting the company which then became Welch's Seed Service, to Carroll Welch. The Welches subsequently purchased the business.

Upon his retirement John Parks returned to North Carolina where he lives near Durham. Since leaving business here in 1956 he has, he says, "worked full time without pay". Parks is involved in a local homeowners group which has succeeded in establishing a volunteer fire company and building two firehouses. Money for the buildings was raised when the local group voted to tax themselves 10c on the dollar. The effort was so successful that local insurance rates have dipped and the tax had to be reduced to 8c because too much money was coming in. Parks is also involved in church work, particularly with an LC (50-100) Bible Study class for which he organizes tours to scenic and historic sites. In addition, he is an active member of a group of Rotarians numbering over 200.

Parks, who made a special effort to be present for the day, complimented Welch Seed Service on its progress, saying the firm had achieved far beyond what he had dreamed for it. Among others present for the day were Mr. and Mrs. Jehu Camper with their woodcarving display, William Sloane, seed analyst with the state Board of Agriculture and Janet Gozvyk of the University of Delaware Extensions Service. Ms.

Gosvyk demonstrated ways of using edible soybeans, treating visitors during the day to samples of chili made with soybeans and soybean salad.

Among the displays were papers and artifacts from the old milling company, including state licenses from 1915 to 1917 and letterheads listing "Choice Blends of Flour, Feed and Meal" as offerings of the business.

For Your Information

Dear friends,

When death occurs in a family, prompt notice should be given to any religious, military, or fraternal organizations to which the deceased may have belonged. They often provide impressive commemorative rites to honor the good services of the deceased during his lifetime.

Such organizations often provide cash death benefits, similar to V.A. and Social Security, which may be lost if not applied for within a specified time.

Respectfully,

William A. Berry

Super Taylor & Messick Night This Friday

Breeding Captures Twin Twenties

Walt Stevie Breeding of Federalsburg could do no wrong as he won both twin twenties for the Fisher Auto Parts nite at Georgetown Speedway. In the first twin twenty Sportsman point leader Bud Coverdale displayed a yeomans effort to keep the lead. As the race wore, Coverdale's small block chevy proved a little under muscled to the monster modified of Breeding and Bill Towers of Harrington. Towers while able to stay ahead of the hungry pack was no serious threat to the charmed Taylor and Messick racer of Breeding. Following Coverdale was John Leach in fourth with Haines Tull earning fifth. The second twin twenty with its customary reverse lineup found Breeding threading his way from the back of the pack. When the checker flag fell it was once again the Taylor & Messick Smithville Farms ace over Mark Lenhart, Haines Tull and Paul Richards. Gary Trice settled for fifth, Stan Busby sixth with Donnie Joseph holding down seventh. Ronnie LaVerre emerged victor in the hotly contested and highly emotional late model division. Early leader Bob Wilkins held on until the last minute when cooling problems knocked the peak off his racer's performance. Dave White tied down third in his beautiful new Camero ahead of Larry Andell, Chuck Graves and Kelly Hastings. Winner of modified heat race #1 - Bud Coverdale; race #2 - Larry Kline; consolation race - Snookie Vent. This week coming up will be the Super Taylor & Messick Nite at the Georgetown Speedway.

Wesley Hopes For Second Unbeaten Season

DOVER - Bicentennial Year "1976" was a banner season for the Wesley College football team - posted 10-0 record and copped the Coastal Football Conference title for the second time in 7 years - ranked second in the nation - was one of the top teams considered for the Junior Rose Bowl - led the nation in rushing defense and lacked one point of winning the overall defensive honors.

Individually coach Bob Andrus was voted the Coastal Conference "Coach of the Year". Three Wolverine players - Dave Rocco, Wayne Irby and Kevin Carson - received All-American recognition.

Can the Wolverines repeat? Andrus and members of his coaching staff - Bob Langrell, Bob Reed, Keith Hinkle, John Leone and Dick Ward - feel confident they will be a top contender.

At the opening meeting of more than 100 candidates, Andrus told the group, "1977 is a new year and we can't live on past laurels. I feel we have the talent to be even better than last year - it is all up to you players. We have a good nucleus of experienced players and some outstanding freshmen talent - saw duty at center last season but this year the 6-2, 195, former Eagle, may be shifted to a defensive end. Reese, a transfer student who played his freshman year as a standout at Potomac State College, adds much strength at a guard position in the offensive line. He has good size at 6-3, 240.

In the freshman ranks, George Jefferson, Woodbridge graduate, who played well in this year's Blue-Gold game, at 6-2, 205, has shown much potential in practice sessions.

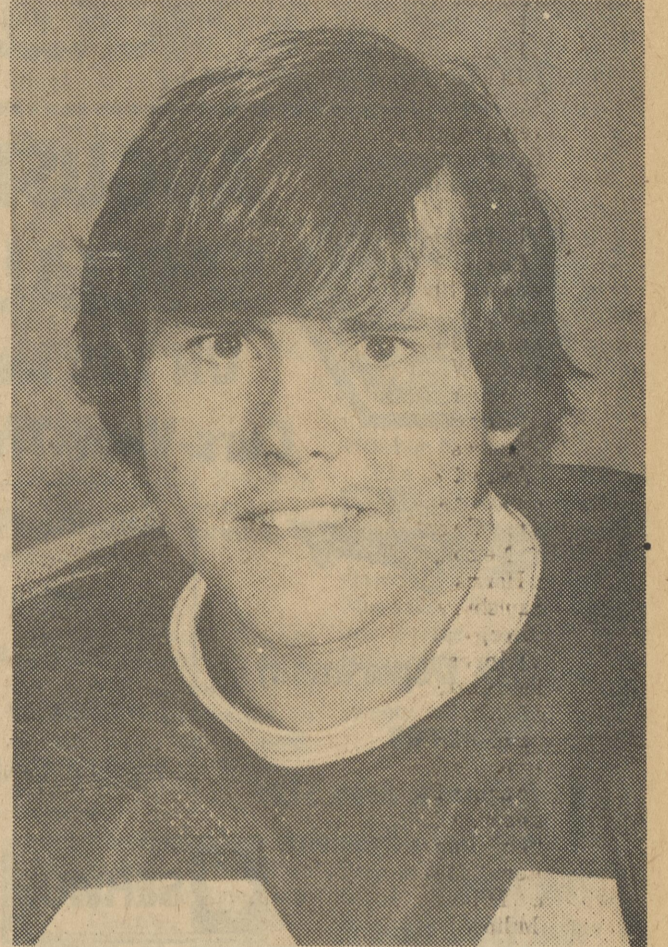

Rex Dickerson, Cape Henlopen graduate who also excelled in this year's Blue-Gold game is showing much promise and has all the tools to bolster the Wesley squad. Bill Harris, Smyrna High graduate, has demonstrated great desire in his bid as a defensive back.

Wesley will play a 10 game schedule with the opening home game at the Dover High Stadium on Saturday, Sept. 24, at 1:30 as they host the powerful Ferrum College eleven.

The schedule:
Sept. 17, Lees-McRae, Away, 1:30

Delaware 500 Is Sunday Sept. 18

DOVER-Cale Yarborough is at the top of his field right now. Driving his Junior Johnson prepared Holly Farms Chevrolet, he's the winningest driver on the NASCAR Winston Cup circuit and seems to have a very good chance to become the Winston Cup Champion for the second consecutive year.

He's at the stage of his career when everyone recognizes him wherever he goes and everyday it's "Hi Cale, can I have your autograph?" One wonders how a man as busy as Cale is copes with the constant demands for his time and attention. Would he rather lead the life of a normal every day man?

"No, not really," says Cale. "Maybe one of these days I would prefer that kind of life, but right now I'm enjoying everything that's going on in the stock car world and we just hope we can keep it that way the next few years."

Yarborough, who is one of the heavy favorites to win the September 18th Delaware "500" NASCAR Winston Cup race at Dover Downs, works hard at what he does. There's a tough 30-race Grand National schedule to contend with, not to mention the many personal appearances and his responsibilities as a Timmonsville, SC, businessman and politician. How does he handle it all? "Well," says Cale, "it gets pretty hard at times, like when you have a race every week for seven or eight weeks in a row."

That's really what gets tough, but the rest of the time it's not so bad. When you have a weekend off every now and then, it makes it a lot better. You know, he continued, "when you have everything going good, like the way our Holly Farms Chevy has run this year, it makes it that much better. The better you run the easier it is."

Yarborough has run especially well at Dover Downs in recent Winston Cup events. He's won the last two races there and threatens to become only the second driver in Dover Downs history to score three consecutive victories at "The Incredible Mile". His success at Dover has not come without difficulty however. In each of his last two races he's had to overcome black flag deficits before he could go on to win.

In last May's Mason-Dixon "500" he had his rear bumper knocked half off in a brush with Darrell Waltrip coming out of turn #4. This caused Cale to make an unscheduled pit stop, but instead of enduring a lengthy stay in the pits, Cale was right back out on the racetrack after Junior Johnson ripped the dangling bumper off with his bare hands. "I didn't know how hard the bumper would be to get off," Cale remembers. "I thought it may take 2 or 3 laps. But thanks to Junior, we didn't loose very much time."

Cale will have his work cut out for him once again in the upcoming Delaware "500" regardless of any black flag penalties. With the likes of Richard Petty, Darrell Waltrip, Benny Parsons, and David Pearson to contend, with another win won't come easily.

information. Qualification will be mandatory and will be incorporated into Refuge hunting regulations. Successful shooters will be issued a card for proof of qualification.

To qualify, shotguns must place 3 consecutive rifled slugs in a 12-inch target at 30 yards, firing from the offhand position. Muzzleloaders must place 3 consecutive rounds in a 12-inch target at 50 yards, firing from the off hand position. Archers are required to place 3 out of 5 arrows in the 9 x 14 inch chest area of a standard deer size target at 25 yards. The archery test must be completed with hunting arrows tipped with broadheads.

Hunters using any weapon are reminded that their qualification cards are good for only three days. Hunters who qualified in 1974 must requalify this year.

Times and dates for additional qualification sessions which may be arranged for shotguns and muzzleloaders will be announced at a later date.

Hunters should note that permits, in addition to their qualifications card, are required by all deer hunters on both the regular deer hunting area at Bombay Hook and Prime Hook Refuges. Muzzleloaders and archers possessing valid qualification cards are issued daily permits at Bombay Hook and seasonal permits at Prime Hook. Shotguns must apply by mail postmarked no later than October 8. Successful applicants are selected at a public drawing. The number of shot-gun deer hunters admitted to Bombay Hook at one time is 50 and at Prime Hook is 25.

Further information regarding refuge hunting programs can be obtained from either the Refuge Manager, Bombay Hook National Wildlife Refuge, RD #1, Box 147, Smyrna, Delaware 19977 (302-653-9345), or Prime Hook National Wildlife Refuge, RD#1, Box 195, Milton, Delaware (302-684-8419).

the overall expense of getting the degree. Extra credits usually cost more, but the saving comes in campus living costs for the semester or more that you're not attending school. Going to school all year is another way to shorten the time between enrollment and graduation.

Many colleges offer credit for skills learned in the military, such as languages, electronics, or office management. It's best to check with the college on this to make sure you're not missing out on something.

Great Things Expected

Lake Forest expects great things of its football team this year, doing much better than their 7-3 record of last year. Barring injuries to their first squad, they could go all the way.

They have an abundance of returning starters, including tackles Doug Warrington and Dennis Childress, guards Michael Quail and John O'Toole and center Mike Banner. Quarterback Greg Shortell and fullback Billy Moore are already impressive feelers from the University of Maryland, and is a real tough hitter on defense, and a good receiver and gainer on offense. He is impressive at 6-3 and 190 pounds after a winter of weight lifting.

The Spartans also have Doug Warrington at tackle, Louis Hendricks, Milton Justice, Kevin Hutchins and Ken Thorpe as running backs. Larry McCombs will go at secondary, Mark Smith at quarterback.

Jim Fleming returns as coach for his third year. The first game is Sept. 9th with Smyrna on the home field.

Milford High graduated 32 football players last year, including Bryant Lake who scored 94 points and George Marshall and Gus Walker, also impressive backs. Defensive back Sam Hearn who made the Del. New Coach Hopes For Improvement

Woodbridge Hopes For Better Year

Woodbridge High School has a new football coach in their Jack Hassman. Hassman comes with lots of experience and enthusiasm, having taken an Epping N.D. High School team from a losing streak of 99 games to a 10-8 season. Then a few years ago he helped build St. Marks toward their Delaware state championship status. Lately he has been coach of the VFW Capt'l Trail Football League for 13-15 years and led them to two divisional championships.

Woodbridge needs all the coaching help it can get, after last year's poor showing. But Hassman believes in hard work and lots of hard practices. He won't go with a set lineup, but will try to find the right place for each player, against Smyrna at Smyrna
