HUD Monies Still A Question

HARRINGTON - City Manager David Peterson is continuing to try to determine whether the city, a contracting firm or the federal government may have been the snag that may cause the city to have $93,000 in HUD monies withdrawn from the city.

At a council meeting earlier this month, it was announced by mayor Arthur Cahall that the city had received word from the Department of Housing and Urban Development that because the project for which the monies were designated had not yet been completed, the city would have to lose the grant.

According to Peterson, the firm of Richardson Associates had been contracted to apply for the funds and had made some beginning studies on the project.

No actual work was done in the designated area, however, which involved Mispillion and Coleman Streets. This area was to have a water main and some sewer work done.

According to Peterson, although the grant was approved in August of 1975, the city did not receive a letter of credit which would have allowed the city to draw on the funds until February of this year.

According to a spokesman for Richardson Associates, the firm is trying to determine what happened by consulting the firm's files.

Peterson said the city was not totally to blame for not proceeding with work which would have used the funds since the federal paper work prolonged the time before the federal money actually reached the city.

Peterson said he is still trying to locate the official verification for the project go-ahead in the city's minutes.

He also told the Journal a HUD representative will be coming to the city in the near future to discuss the project with Peterson.

Lake Forest Board Hears From Parents

FELTON - Concern over split classes and several instances of large elementary classes occupied much of the Lake Forest School Board's time Monday night.

The Board had a total of 21 items to consider, but a group of parents from Lake Forest North, and three individuals from Lake Forest East and Lake Forest South quizzed the Board about the conditions.

At Lake Forest North overcrowded classes exist in first and fifth grades, some with classes as high as 38.

Mrs. Rebecca Scarborough, whose son is in a split second and third grade situation at Lake Forest East apparently informed the Board of a furthering of split classes at the Frederica school, which has three split situations, with 2nd and 3rd graders, 4th and 5th graders and a split 5th and 6th grade.

Mrs. Scarborough charged that this situation was a "return to coach and buggy days". Her comments were rebutted by Sol Markowitz director of education for the district, who said these conditions were desirable under certain circumstances. Mrs. Scarborough, a Latin teacher in the Caesar Rodney School District responded that split-classes depended much on teachers that were experienced in the area, and who had been informed in advanced of such a situation as well as working in an entire school philosophy that adhered to split scheduling.

Mrs. Charlotte Gagne of Harrington questioned the Board on why the sixth grades at Lake Forest South were the size they were, with 35 in some classes.

Mrs. Gagne also questioned the Board on how the class sizes could become their present size in some of the overcrowded classes.

Several of the Board members told the concerned parents that they were aware of the situations and that they would try to deal with the problems when the unit count is firm up on September 30.

Albert Price asked the parents gathered to contact their state legislators, who, Price charged, were the right people to see about changing the unit composition, which according to the Board and Administrators present, is the root of the problem.

In other matters the Board heard an update of the Lake Forest and Woodbridge boundary dispute, which is now in a state of appeal by Lake Forest.

In the matters of personnel, the Board did the following: approved a leave of absence for Mrs. Ann Chambers of South B kindergarten; granted maternity leave to Marion Gussett of Lake Forest East; and accepted Tom Muelheisen's resignation, an eighth grade science teacher of W.T. Chipman. Susan Layton was hired to replace Muelheisen and Lee Ann Funk was hired to teach drivers education at the high school one day a week.

The Board also approved work on a CETA project that might save the district 15 percent of its fuel bill with the hiring of six people who will man a one year energy conservation project in the district. The project is primarily federally funded. Melvin Luff is in charge of this project.

The Board went into executive session to consider the position of principal left by the death of Mary C. Gilbert. It was not learned by press time what the Board decided.

Kent General To Expand

Kent General Hospital, Dover, announced this week a $5.6 million expansion and renovation program which will increase medical-surgical bed capacity by 19 beds, provide new and enlarged ambulatory surgery, Physical Therapy and Respiratory Care Facilities, and permit the expansion of several overcrowded departments in the existing building. The announcement was made by Walton H. Simpson, President of the Hospital's Board of Directors, who said that this program will also enable Kent General to replace 61 medical-surgical beds in the oldest hospital building that do not conform to federal and state standards.

Construction of a three-story addition to the hospital is slated to begin in June 1978, with renovation and enlargements in existing areas to start as soon as the new building is completed.

Mr. Simpson said that projections for medical-surgical bed needs at Kent General Hospital contained in the State Plan, in the State Health planning Report, and in the hospital's own studies, indicate that KGH will need from 125 to 130 medical-surgical beds by 1985 to keep pace with population growth anticipated in Kent County.

"This program will increase our medical-surgical bed capacity, which includes the Intensive Care Unit, from 111 to 130 beds," Simpson said. "Total hospital bed capacity will increase to 153 beds."

"We plan to continue our emphasis at providing as much service as possible on an outpatient basis," Simpson continued, "which frees hospital beds for use primarily by very ill patients, and thus helps contain the rising cost of health care."

Simpson noted that a formal application for program approval by the Health Planning Council for the State of Delaware is now being prepared by hospital officials. He said that the hospital has been keeping the appropriate governmental planning groups regularly in formed as to the progress of the hospital's planning process and initial construction concepts.

The ground floor of the new wing will contain an ambulatory surgery operating room, adjoining the present surgical suite, and a preparation and recovery room with a capacity of 12 surgical outpatients. The ground floor will also house a new and larger Physical Therapy department, and Respiratory Care and Electrocardiogram services.

The 2nd and 3rd floors of the new wing will each contain 40 medical-surgical beds, making a total of 80 new beds. All new patient rooms will have their own lavatory and toilet facilities. Sixteen of the new beds will be in private rooms, which will double the number of private rooms available.

"An alternate plan for the ground floor envisions providing for a larger Emergency Department, as that section continues to experience an explosive increase in the demand for service by the community," Simpson said.

More than 40,000 persons were treated in the emergency room in the past 12 months, four times as many as in 1968. Comparative construction and operating costs and the long-term expansion capability of the alternate ground floor plans will be the primary factors in determining the final design, which Mr. Simpson said will be approved by the Hospital's Board of Directors this month.

Schools Close

Schools of the Lake Forest School District will dismiss their pupils at 12 noon on Wednesday, September 28, in order to provide an in-service day for teachers and administrators.

Paula Jean Simpson, Little Miss Denton, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Simpson and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Simpson of Harrington. The four year-old queen was given her title on September 11, selected from a group of eight contestants.

City To Repair Streets

HARRINGTON. The city will work on the following streets for its 1977 street program: both ends of Peck Avenue to have hot-mix; Milby-Franklin to Hanley to be hot-mix; Liberty-Railroad to Dorman to be hot-mix; Mispillion-Hanley to Franklin to be hot-mix; Franklin Street-Mispillion to Milby to be hot-mix; Franklin Street-Reese Ave. to Milby to be surface treatment; Reed and New Street to be surface treatment.

Harrington Manor was considered but not passed.

The motion to do the work was made by Councilman McColey and seconded by Councilman Jack Wyatt.

Councilman Gary Homewood moved to surface treat all dirt streets, which consisted of two sections of Peck Avenue, Franklin Street, Reed Street and New Street. Motion was seconded by Councilman Lobo.

Following discussion Councilman Homewood was the lone councilman present to vote for the motion.

Girl Scouts Seek Leaders

The Chesapeake Bay Council is seeking adults to serve as leaders and assistant leaders of Girl Scout troops. The need for leaders is particularly great this year because the Council's girl membership has increased by nearly 6 percent.

Resource persons who can teach a skill, crafts, camping tips, singing or dramatics also are needed to work with groups of girls on an occasional basis.

Because of the changing lifestyles of women, the Council is eager to tap non-traditional sources of leadership. Men, working women and couples -- as well as homemakers -- are encouraged to apply for leadership positions.

Adults need not have scouting experience to volunteer as leaders.

Girl Scout leaders work with girls ages 6 to 17.

Leaders reap the satisfaction of working successfully with girls and improve their supervisory and managerial skills. Girl Scout leadership experience and training has proven particularly helpful to women planning to re-enter the job market.

Adults interested in Girl Scout leadership positions are asked to contact:

Wesley U.M. Church, S. State St. & The Plaza, Dover, DE 19901, or call 302-734-3204.

Dead Cat And Cement Swan Keep Police Busy

After a quiet week, the Harrington Police report a number of complaints for the past week.

Mrs. Frances Needles reported a stolen lawn ornament from her front lawn on September 12. It seems a 30 pound swan was taken from her front lawn some time Sunday or Monday. The police are continuing to investigate.

On September 15, Joann Sullivan and Shirley Maloney complained that Charles David Hurd had shot a cat in his yard. Warrants were signed and Hurd was arrested for discharging a fire arm in the city limits and for cruelty to animals.

Hurd is presently awaiting trial at Court 6. Fines for discharging fire arms in the city limits can go to $100 and cruelty to animal charges could go to the Court of Common Pleas.

According to police, Hurd told them the cat was scratching his car.

On September 16 Robert Barshney of Swain's Hotel reported the theft of a six-channel portable CB radio, apparently taken from his room at the hotel. Through police investigation the radio was recovered and arrests are pending.

On September 19, Gary Smith, of Harrington, reported a criminal mischief to his van. According to police, unknown persons sliced the left front tire of the van and smeared butter over the van. The incident is under investigation.

On September 19 at 11 p.m. through a routine stop of a person riding a bicycle without a light it was discovered by the police the bike had a registration, but not for Harington. A trace was placed on the bike and determined by the Milford Police to have been stolen from the Lincoln area about two months ago.

The bike was in the possession of Ray Anderson of Mispillion Street, who reportedly purchased the bike from someone near Williamsville. According to police, Anderson is to be questioned by Troop 4 regarding the purchase.

Also on September 17, Morris Willey complained that someone had thrown a rock through the telephone booth on Center Street. The suspects involved are juveniles, and according to police, their parents are making arrangements to have the windows replaced.

Feltonian Questioned

FELTON-Howard Patton 57, is being questioned by Delaware State Police after he was found Saturday with bullet wounds in his head.

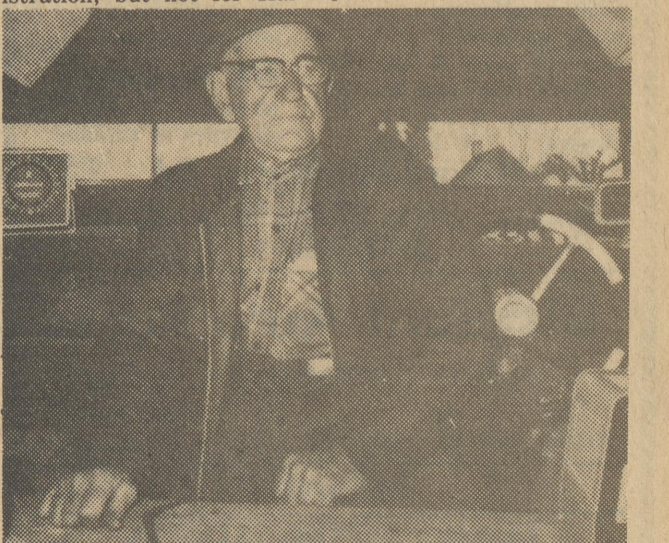

Police are not certain whether Patton was shot by someone else or was the victim of self-inflicted wounds.

He was found concious and bleeding by a neighbor at about 1 Saturday in his home on Kent 239 in Felton, police said.

Patton was taken to Kent General Hospital, Dover, where he was treated then transferred to Delaware Division in Wilmington for observation.

Patton is in serious condition.

He was shot with a 22-caliber rifle, according to police.

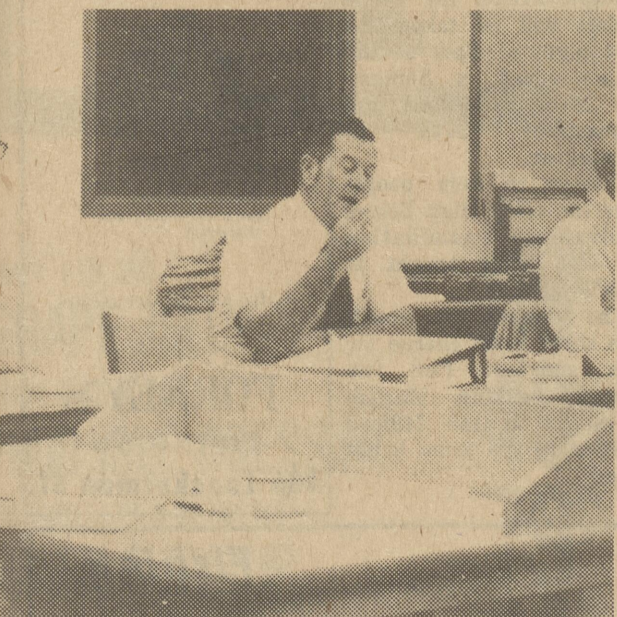

Celebrates 93rd Birthday

Mr. Clarence Morris celebrated his 93rd birthday Wednesday and is reportedly the city's oldest resident. Mr. Morris was the first mayor of Harrington under the mayor and city manager system. He recalls voting his first time for William Jennings Bryan, and has remained a faithful Democrat all his life, never missing an election.

Morris is also quite a fisherman, preferring salt water varieties. He is shown in the photo which he took himself on his boat. Mr. Morris pointed out his depth finder and ship to shore radio, which was stolen from him since the photo was taken.

He lives on Hanley Street with his daughter Jennie.

Albert Price of the Lake Forest School Board makes a point during Monday night's lengthy meeting.

Woodbridge Teachers Attend Workshop

On September 6, 1977 fifty-six Woodbridge School District teachers attended a reading workshop as part of the inservice training program connected with the district's recently approved Right to Read Project.

Marie Shockley, the district's Reading Supervisor/Right to Read Coordinator, conducted the workshop for elementary classroom teachers, Title I reading teachers, and the learning disability and reading teachers from both the Woodbridge Junior High and the Woodbridge High Schools. Workshop participants were trained to construct and administer informal tests to determine the reading levels of their students. On October 14, 1977, Woodbridge teachers will attend another workshop where they will learn how to determine the reading levels for their entire class by using group tests and how to determine the reading levels of the textbooks which they assign to students.

If a textbook is too difficult for a student to read, he will experience failure and frustration and he will be unable to learn. Only when a textbook appropriately matches his reading level will a student be able to achieve academic success; therefore, it is important that high school teachers as well as elementary teachers be aware of the reading ability of each of their students. The objective for these workshops, therefore, is to provide teachers with techniques for determining which textbooks are appropriate for each of their students.

From The Frying Pan

by Margo Farrow

At last week's city council meeting, the Harrington Police Department was mildly raked over the coals because of their use of the city's radar, particularly on U.S. Rt. 13. Several councilmen expressed the fear that Harrington might become a radar trap with the reputation of several surrounding towns, Magnolia in particular. If there is one thing we do in Magnolia, it is to drive inside the speed limit. To do so otherwise invites a ticket.

We frankly do not see anything wrong with our city streets being known as a radar trap, especially in front of the city's two schools, the larger portion of which has small children in attendance.

We have been at Lake Forest South on three separate occasions now that school is back in session in two weeks and have seen several cars and one large, but not tractor trailer size, truck roar through, as students were dismissing.

How would our city like to have the reputation of being a place where our children can get squished on the street where they go to school or in front of their homes?

We feel that having the reputation of upholding the law is nothing to be ashamed of.

If we're going to prosecute no parking in specified areas of the city in court to a possible tune of $500, we feel the city speed limits should also be strictly enforced, and speeder beware.

Fluffy Returns Again

Fred Fritz, formerly of Harrington, called the Journal Tuesday morning to bring the readers up to date on a recent article about his barn owl, Fluffy.

Fritz had become owner of a young barn owl who get loose one night and remained at large for several days this summer when the Fritzes lived on Hanley Street in Harrington.

It was partially because of that experience that Fritz decided to release Fluffy to the wilds of the Petersburg Game Refuge north of here.

Fluffy didn't follow the script, however, when she (or he) turned up last week at the home of Mrs. Purnell Friedel of Viola.

She called Fritz about the owl when neighboring youths decided to give Fluffy a hard time.

Tuesday Fritz went out to the Friedel place to see if this was his former owl pet. He told the Journal Fluffy zeroed in on him right away, showing her owlish delight by flying right into Fritz's face.

Fritz, who has a federal permit to keep the raptor, says he guesses he will keep Fluffy now.

Fluffy has obviously seen which side of the bread (or mouse) is the buttered one, and will apparently opt for meaty morsels of beef cubes to crickets, grasshoppers and other offerings of the wild.

Letters To The Editor

To the editor: Something is happening at the Elementary level in the Lake Forest School District that is robbing a large number of students of their right to an equal education. The methods used to compensate for cutbacks in operating funds and rising costs are costing too much in the classroom. Of the four facilities in the elementary system—one is very overcrowded—one is showing signs of soon being overcrowded—one has a declining population and empty classrooms. In the North and South schools there is overcrowding and understaffing with teachers expected to handle classes as large as 38 & 39 at First Grade level and upwards of 34 at Fifth and Sixth Grade levels. This is an impossible charge and leaves me thinking that teachers must be spending more time keeping order than in teaching. In the East school there is a loss of population causing a combining of two grades in order to make up units.

The foundation for all future learning is laid in the first six years of formal education and I object to the drops being knocked

by Senator Joe Biden

Last week, I co-sponsored a bill to prohibit union organization of the American Armed Forces. I consider this legislation to be a common sense imperative, -- to insure a strong national defense.

The intent of this legislation should not be considered as a reflection against unions or unionism but rather as a measure to maintain a strong and responsive defense force. Our national security is of paramount importance, and in no case should the loyalties of the individual military man be divided between his shop steward and his commander.

There is a critical difference between military and civilian life. Command authority must not be negotiable. An effective military outfit, is one that is based on discipline and authority.

I am, however, conscious of the fact that many responsible civilian employees enjoy the representation of union organizations and should not be denied this right merely because they work at military installations, or belong to Reserve, or Guard forces, in their non-civilian time. For this reason, I have supported a motion to strike a section, that includes these people, that was added to the bill after I originally sponsored it.

Legitimizing military unionization only gives credence to the idea that the military is just another job.

I can't believe that patriotism has fallen by the wayside. I don't think that we can afford to further detract from our citizenry's sense of national duty and pride.

For the sake of argument, let's suppose that our armed forces were organized—and that the contract contained a no-strike clause. Any union leader will tell you, that often times, it is difficult to control certain individuals, or factions of an organization, when they believe they are right—whether it's the army or some other union.

Imagine a military strike.

Imagine for a moment, a unionized force that does not like the political direction that the leadership of our country has taken. —It's a frightening idea.

They say, that union grievances and procedures could be withdrawn during a national emergency. —I'm not so sure that forces trained under a union's direction can suddenly suspend that jurisdiction and still function properly.

There are obvious differences between the ordinary citizen and those in our military communities. Each of us has the right to speak his mind, to associate with whom ever he pleases, to unionize. But, an officer's orders are not proper items for the bargaining table. I don't want to open the door to the possibility of divided loyalties in time of national crisis.

Career Corner

by Buck Thompson

Industry is looking askance again at the educational funnel that squeezes out graduates who are unrealistic about and unprepared for the career paths that are available to them. Criticism comes from Harvey A. Rubenstein, president of one of the West Coast's largest executive search agencies, who is urging nationwide adoption of a program that would force colleges to study the job market — present and future — and relay this information in a required career planning course to all entering freshmen before they are permitted to select a major.

"The young people today just are not being told the cold, hard facts of life," Rubenstein charges. "We see it every day in my field — all the education, anthropology, art majors. Do you know how many annual job openings are estimated in such fields between 1974 and 1985?"

Rubenstein points to Labor Department statistical projections for anticipated job openings: 600 political scientists, 900 actors and actresses, 600 radio and television announcers, 750 sociologists, 650 geographers, 250 anthropologists, 100 oceanographers.

"Such limited opportunities make for keen competition," he says. "Compare those with estimated annual openings where employment opportunity is good: 52,500 engineering occupations, 6,400 chemists, 1,300 geologists, 1,700 physicists, 1,250 statisticians, 3,600 surveyors, 3,000 architects, 5,200 psychologists, 45,500 accountants, 11,700 purchasing agents, 17,300 drafters, 16,000 bank officers, 4,500 credit managers."

But students instead are being educated to fill slots that don't exist, says Rubenstein. He cites a recent survey of U.S. companies, showing that they plan to hire 3,845 engineering graduates and 876 liberal arts graduates. "That means they'll be hiring four times as many engineering as liberal arts grads," he says, "but universities are turning out five times as many liberal arts students as engineering students."

Rubenstein suggests that business start participating more actively with educators and students to rebuild the bridge over the widening gap between work and education: "The days are gone," he says, "when companies could not afford to get involved."

Thoughts

by Senator Bill Roth

At a time when the American economy and the American people need a tax cut most, the Congress has beaten back eight attempts by Republicans during the present Congressional session to cut the tax burden on the American people.

In the latest attempt last week to reduce the tax burden, I was joined by several colleagues in the Senate. But our efforts to reduce the budget revenue level to accommodate a tax cut in the upcoming fiscal year were defeated.

My proposal, offered as an amendment to the budget resolution, would have reduced revenues to allow room for an 11.4 billion tax rate cut in fiscal year 1978. This would have allowed room in the budget for an immediate 10 percent across-the-board tax cut. My proposal is in line with the Tax Relief Act of 1977, introduced by me and Representative Jack Kemp (R-N.Y.) in July. Our bill, on which no action has yet been taken by either House, would cut individual income tax rates by an average of 33 percent over a three year period.

We know that cutting taxes provides the economy with new vigor and impetus by producing jobs and increasing prosperity for all. This is exactly what happened in the early 1960s when President Kennedy's tax cut proposals were enacted by Congress. The healthy economic surge his tax cuts produced provided an unprecedented period of economic revival through the 1960s.

But the increase in Federal spending over the

Spartans Battle To Second Tie

HARRINGTON Cape Henlopen looked as though they would go home with a conference victory over the local Lake Forest team Friday night, until the fourth quarter.

Fans were treated to an all-together Spartan team in the 4th quarter who were battling against a 12-6 score. Lake Forest began its touchdown drive on the Viking 15 yard line that would ultimately end in the season's second tie. The ball was brought to the 25 yard line by Milton Justice, when a Spartan penalty dropped the team back to the first and 25 at resumption of play, with about three minutes in the game.

Greg Shortell hurled a 75 yard pass to Kenny Thorp, who went over the Spartan scoring line to tie the game. The attempted kick for the extra point failed.

The pressure was really on both teams and Lake Forest was playing determined football but the Cape drove to a first and goal inside their five yard line with 26 seconds left to play. A Viking holding penalty drove the team back to a first and twenty situation and an interception with two seconds left to play in the game by Billy Moore left the ball in Spartan possession, but the time ran out.

It marked the second tie of the Spartan season, which at this time last year, was two losses and no wins. The team earned one point in the conference standing with its tie Friday night.

In earlier play, Cape Henlopen dominated the first half when they scored their two touchdowns, with a 12-0 score by half time. Scoring for the Cape were Noland Hazzard and Mike Maull.

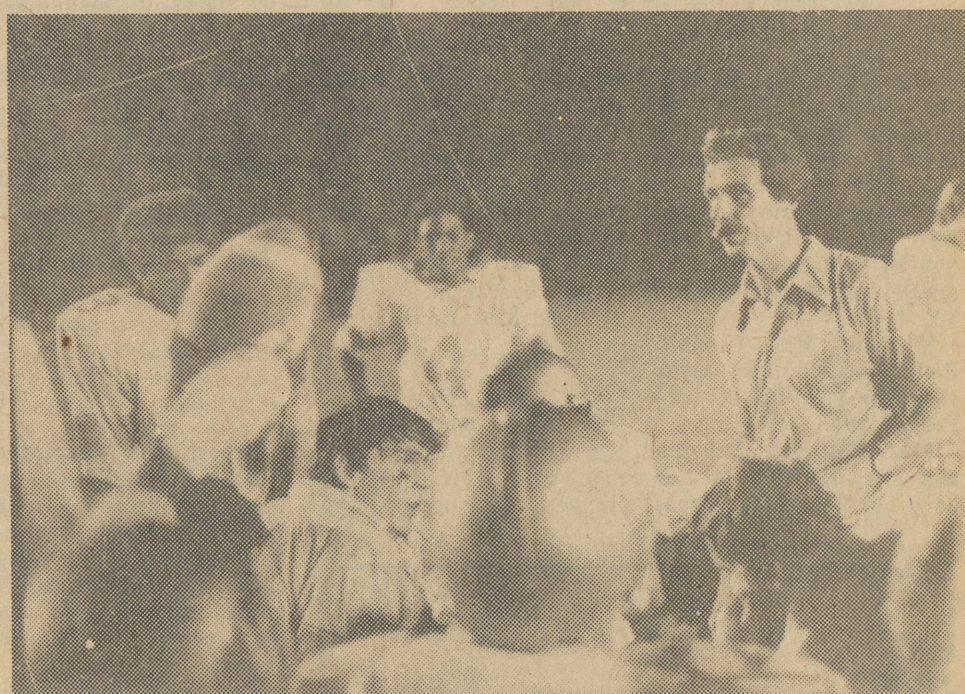

Quarterback Greg Shortell connected with his receivers for the two Spartan touchdowns, which came in the second half, one in the third and one in the fourth quarter. A 15 yard pass to Marty Voshell for 15 yards and the 75 yard pass to Kenny Thorp gave the Spartans their 12 points.

The Spartans had a total of 68 yards rushing for the night and 196 yards passing, to give a total of 264 yards.

Greg Shortell connected with eight of his 17 attempts, two of which became touchdown passes.

Billy Moore had 31 yards to his credit on nine carries and Orlando Burris had 31 yards on nine carries.

Lake Forest had a total of four interceptions for the night, two of which were nullified by penalties. Making the interceptions were Louis Hendricks, Mark Smith and Billy Moore.

The grim faces of the Spartan coach Fleming [standing] and his players kneeling and standing around him following Friday night's tie with Cape Henlopen. Time ran out while Spartans held sway in the fourth quarter.

Tackles were led again this week by Billy Moore, who had 5 unassisted and 7 assisted tackles. He was followed by Mark Smith and Marty Voshell, both of whom had three unassisted and two assisted tackles apiece. Larry McCombs had two unassisted and five assisted tackles.

In receptions Kenny Thorp led with two catches for 125 yards, followed by Billy Moore, who had two catches for 30 yards. Milton Justice, Marty Voshell and Larry Smith had catches that totaled 39 yards.

Cape Henlopen's offense showed 125 yards running, with 6 of 17 passes completed for a total of 100 yards, with total offense of 225 yards.

Friday night the Lake Forest Spartans travel to the home of the state champions, Caesar Rodney, who have not been defeated in two years. Coach Jim Fleming told the Journal the Spartan team will be facing "probably the biggest challenge they'll meet this year".

Game time is at 8 p.m.

LF Invitational Is Saturday

by Keith S. Burgess

Nine cross-country teams have entered to date in the 20th annual Lake Forest Invitational set for Saturday.

The teams, from three states, will be divided by enrollment into two divisions. Host Lake Forest, Oxford, Pa., Kent High of Worton, Md., Christiana and Glasgow, both from the Newark, Del. School District and Henlopen Conference schools, Caesar Rodney, Smyrna, Cape Henlopen and Woodbridge are the early entries.

Spartan coach Jim Blades hopes to have at least eight schools in each division by the 11 a.m. starting time, at Killen's Pond State Park.

The locals are not in top shape but hope to be in contention by race time. Dan Parker, Dave Richter, Louis Thomas, Wilson Fry, Bill Mitchell, Joe Custis and another starter, to be named later, will carry Lake Forest's hopes around the 27 miles hill-and-dale layout.

Twenty-four varsity candidates are augmented by 36 W.T. Chipman School aspirants, including a half dozen girls. Pandora Scott and Karen Warrington are two of the leading distaff warriors.

Maurice "Reese Cup" Coverdale, a veteran of five years of distance running is no. 1 at Chipman, followed by Robbie Manaraze of Frederica, who looks like the find of 1977.

Parsons Wins Delaware 500 At Dover Downes

A record crowd of 32,000 watched as Benny Parsons of Ellerbe, N.C. recorded his third Winston Cup victory of the 1977 NASCAR Grand National season by winning last Sunday's 7th annual Delaware "500" at Dover Downs International Speedway. It was the second career win for Parsons at the one-mile superspeedway.

Parsons, a former Daytona "500" winner and a consistent frontrunner at Dover Downs, started his First National City Travelers Checks Chevrolet in 7th position and didn't get to the front of the pack until lap 113 as Cale Yarborough, Donnie Allison and Neil Bonnett ran off with the early lead.

Parsons and Allison then took over the battle and exchanged the lead back and forth until Parsons got in front to stay on lap 251.

David Pearson, who finished second driving the Wood Brothers' Purlator Mercury, was the only driver to have a chance to catch Parsons during the closing stages of the race. Pearson got into the lead lap with Parsons, and pulled to within 25 seconds of the leader before time ran out.

Parsons picked up $13,900 for the win while Pearson earned $8,200 for second. Cale Yarborough finished third, Donnie Allison fourth and Darrell Waltrip fifth.

For the first time since the track opened in 1969, Richard Petty failed to finish a race at Dover Downs. Prior to the Delaware "500", Petty had completed 6995 out of a possible 7050 laps in 15 races at Dover, but his string of complete races was broken as he retired from the Delaware "500" on lap 303 with a broken valve. Petty finished 23rd.

Kenny Brighill of sinking Springs, Pa., driving in his 5th Winston Cup event ever, escaped without serious injury from the most spectacular crash of a Grand National stock car at Dover Downs. Brighill spun his Jim Makar owned Mercury in turn #1 to avoid contact with Jim Hurtubise and Tighe Scott who were tangling in front of him. Brighill's car rolled completely over, but landed on its wheels and rolled to the edge of the infield. Hurtubise crashed into the outside wall with Scott becoming the only one of the three to be able to continue.

Shortly after the termination of the Delaware 500, the track ambulance was summoned to the hospital station situated in the garage area. The reason as confirmed by Denis McGlynn of Dover Downs, was that several drivers were overcome by heat exhaustion brought on by the endurance of the race as well as the temperature which was 120 degrees at track surface level. The five drivers were lying on the cold concrete trying to cool off their steaming bodies. David Pearson who in good stride takes a great deal of ribbing on the circuit as being the "old guy" came upon the bodies in the room on the floor. One observer overheard Pearson say something to the effect that I guess these young ones can't take it...shook his head and walked into the shower, bounded out shortly thereafter fresh as a daisy and left for South Carolina.

Numerous people gathered to quiz the driver (left). Most frequently asked questions were How fast will it go? 200 miles per hour and How much did it cost? $40,000. Weapons Qualifications Tests Set

Dates for the final shotgun and muzzleloader hunter weapons qualification tests have been announced for individuals wanting to hunt deer on Bombay Hook and Prime Hook National Wildlife Refuges this season. The qualifying tests are part of a continuing effort to reduce crippling losses and to improve hunter safety.

Tests are scheduled for Saturday, October 8 at the Dover Air Force Base firing range. Shotgunners may qualify between the hours of 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. and from 3 p.m. until 4:30 p.m. Muzzleloaders may qualify from 1 p.m. until 2:30 p.m.

To qualify, shotgun hunters must place 3 consecutive rounds in a 12-inch target at 30 yards, firing from the offhand position. Hunters must qualify with the weapon with which they plan to hunt.

Qualification will be mandatory and will be made a part of the Refuge hunting regulations. Successful shooters will be issued a card for proof of qualification which is valid for three years.

All hunters wishing to qualify at the Air Base must enter the Base through the Kitts Hummock (Rt. 9) gate. Hunters must follow the posted signs to the parking lot where they will be checked in and escorted to the firing range by Fish and Wildlife Service personnel. Qualification tests will begin at 8 a.m. Check-in will begin at 7:30 a.m.

Further information regarding refuge hunting programs can be obtained from either the Refuge Manager, Bombay Hook National Wildlife Refuge, RD 1, Box 147, Smyrna, DE 19977(302-653-9345), or Prime Hook National Wildlife Refuge, RD 1, Box 195, Milton, DE (302-684-8419).
