

Farm Group Takes 100 Percent Parity Plea To Washington

A delegation of Delaware and Maryland farmers took their 100 percent parity plea to the ears of Robert Burgland, the Secretary of Agriculture. According to Wayne

Eakin, spokesman for the group of 13 who went, the Secretary "...has no intention of changing anything in the farm bill." Eakin said Bergland thought the welfare section belonged in the farm bill and that he was more capable of administering it than the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Eakin stated that if farmers wanted to get anything done they would have to unite.

Tuesday night after the third round, the Sussex Farm Bureau passed the slogan 100 percent parity, making it the only county in the state to do so. New Castle and Kent Counties had both rejected the 100 percent parity plea when it was presented at their farm bureau meetings. Eakin says the next step for his group is to try to enact some legislation through working with Senator Joe Biden, who met with the farmers Tuesday morning at the Parity Headquarters in Greenwood.

While the contingent was in Washington, a group of around 100 were at headquarters in Greenwood hearing from several speakers, including Tom Elliott, Ronnie Webb and Richard Carlisle.

Eakin says one of the things his growing group would like to see is the right to elect the A.S.C.S. officials and the Secretary of Agriculture, both of which are currently appointed.

Teachers & Parents Still Protest L F Conditions

FELTON Several mothers and teachers turned up on Monday night to register their displeasure with the conditions as they exist in the elementary levels of the Lake Forest School District. One mother, Mrs. Leo (Barbara) Grodkiewicz of near Bowers Beach registered strenuous criticism for the number of pupils per classroom in the Lake Forest East Elementary school. At one time last month there were some 41 pupils in one 4th grade classroom. Although that situation has corrected itself in that the solution was to go to split classes, Mrs. Grodkiewicz has protested as being bad for the pupils and the entire situation.

State Slashed Budget

The Board explained to Mrs. Grodkiewicz that due to state slashing of the educational budget and throwing the bulk of the funding back on the local level has cost the local board an additional $70,000. Richard Collins, the LFEA representative, said that he had spoken to teachers at East, North South, building principals prior to the board meeting and it was their opinion that even though the situation at East was critical the most important item that needs immediate correction is another teacher at L.F. North at the first grade level.

District Units

The Board was told at the meeting by Sol Markewicz that the district has accumulated approximately 176 units. This of course is subject to an audit by the State Department of Public Instruction.

Extra Teacher, Maybe

This would allow the District to hire an extra teacher if this is the case. The local union representing the teachers and its representative, Richard Collins, said the most crucial problem exists at North. Cliff Chambers said that according to a letter he held aloft by him cited the real problem to be at North. According to Chambers, this area would be dealt with first and not East Elementary.

Heating Homes- There Are Options

There hasn't been so much interest in wood as a heating fuel since the old tin heater was discarded years ago. Credit the energy crisis with the revival.

But before you get carried away trying to keep yourself warm with a "Cozy" fireplace, take a look at some of the facts about burning wood, advises University of Delaware extension agricultural engineer Ernest Walpole. If you don't know what you're doing, you could be wasting your money.

There are two important points to consider when you talk about wood as a heating fuel. The first is the heat-producing capacity of the wood itself. The second point-how you plan to burn it-is even more important.

The degree of heating quality varies widely among woods of different tree species, explains the engineer. The heaviest woods have the greatest heating values, as measured in BTU's. One cord of well-seasoned hardwood, for example, is generally considered equivalent in combustion value to one ton of anthracite coal. But the same amount of soft wood may produce only half as many BTU's.

Shagbark hickory and white oak are some of the "hottest" fuel woods, with a value of between 22-24 million BTU's per cord. White pine has a value of only about 12 million BTU's per cord. If the wood is green (i.e. not yet dry), two or three million of those BTU's could go to removing the moisture when you try to burn it.

If you're too young to remember the tin heater, the crosscut saw and the woodpile, you probably don't know what a cord is either. It's the space occupied by a pile of wood with four-foot long pieces stacked four feet high and eight feet long.

Since few people burn four-foot lengths in their fireplaces these days, though, most wood for this purpose is now sold in terms of a face cord. A face cord, fireplace cord or rick cord are terms used for wood cut to lengths of 16, 18 or 20 inches and stacked four feet high and eight feet long. This is enough wood to fill a half-ton pickup truck.

Aside from the wood itself, the critical factor in heating your house with wood is the efficiency of your burning system. According to Walpole, the standard fireplace is only 10 percent efficient, which means you'd better forget it, if you had any romantic ideas of using this method to cut your winter fuel bills.

At that rate it would take a whole cord of seasoned hardwood costing somewhere between $40-$60 to give you as much heat as 41 gallons of fuel oil. Even at 45 cents a gallon, the oil only comes to $18.37, points out the engineer. Looked at that way, a fireplace is good for atmosphere--but not much else.

If you have a Heatilator or tube grates in your fireplace, you can double its efficiency, but even then you'll only get as much heat from your cord of wood as that which could be provided by $36.74 worth of fuel oil. That's still no savings, unless you get your wood free.

A Heatilator--for those of you not familiar with this term--is a sheetmetal liner that can be installed in a masonry fireplace at the time of construction. This unit circulates air from the room behind the metal fire box and out into the room again. Such a liner can boost combustion efficiency to 20 percent in a fireplace. Tube or hollow grates are another way to provide additional heat by air circulation. These can be installed at any time.

One of the biggest problems with an open fireplace is that a great deal of the heat produced is carried right up and out the chimney. You have to go to some kind of enclosed, in-room unit before you start realizing any significant benefit from

Alderman Suffers Fall

Mrs. Anna Hampton, the City of Harrington's alderman, had the misfortune to fall down a flight of stairs early Monday morning which resulted in a broken collar bone and several ribs.

Mrs. Hampton reports she is resting more comfortably. She is in Milford Memorial Hospital.

St. Bernadette's Oldest Member

Board Names Cafeteria Manager

FELTON - Mrs. Robert (Dorothy Messick) Collins was named the new cafeteria manager at the Chipman Jr. High School. Mrs. Collins has been the acting manager since the official retirement of Miss Hazel Johnson in August.

A dispute arose as to what the new manager would receive, and Mrs. Hinzman the cafeteria supervisor said that the State rules must be followed. Board member Donald Garey said that "...since the State did not pay these people he did not feel at this time that the State could tell the local board what to pay the workers. Mrs. Hinzman said the Board was required by law to follow the dictates of the State. The State law requires the Board pay Mrs. Collins $7,045. The Board voted to pay her the figure less 10 percent for a one year probationary period. At the end of one year she would be reviewed again for salary promotion.

To Have Haunts

Have you noticed the added activity going on in downtown Harrington? Joseph T. Richardson has donated the use of an empty building to the Harrington Jaycees and they plan to make good use of it. The members have been working day and night lately to complete the preparations for their Halloween extravaganza.

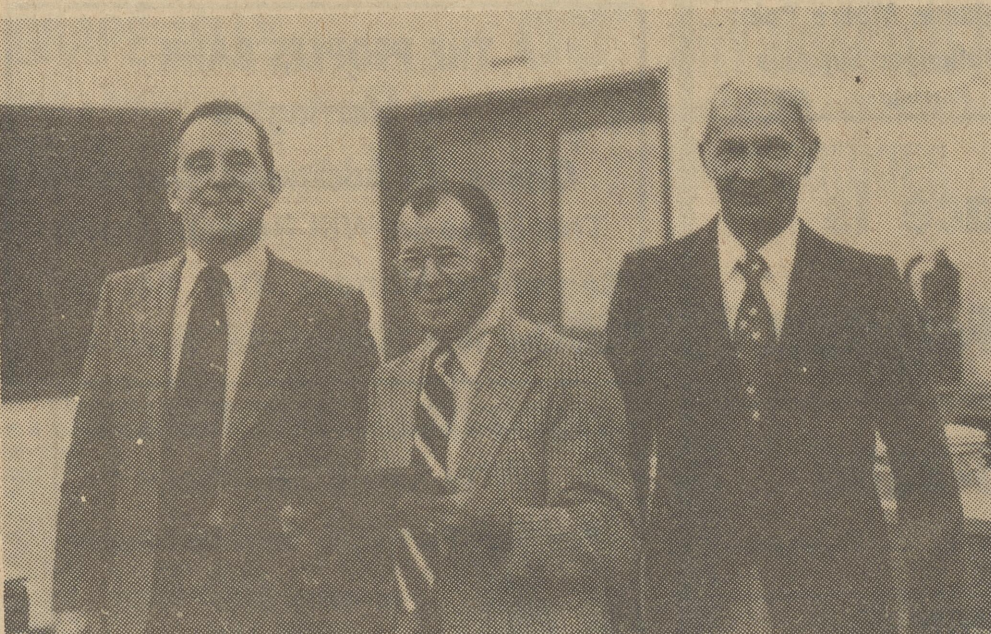

Jaycees can promise you some great surprises and scares.

The Haunted House will be open Friday, Saturday, and Monday, October 28, 29, and 31. It will be open from 6 until 11 each evening. The final night the Jaycees will treat you to games, prizes and a costume contest.

The cost for this big event will be $1 for adults and 75c for children. The proceeds from this worthwhile project will go to the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation. So be sure you come out in your Halloween finery and be the first in line to be-witched.

By October 28, the old 5 & 10 cent store will become a haunted house. From its front door to its back you will encounter all kinds of ghosts, ghouls, goblins, and...well come and see for yourself. The

Steward Retires, Is Honored By Board

Ray Stoops, busing director of the Lake Forest School District and Marvin Brown (right), president of the Lake Forest School Board present Johnnie Steward with a citation during Monday night's meeting. Mr. Steward retired this year with 46 years of safe driving of school buses for the many thousands of students who rode his bus over the years.

FELTON - Lake Forest School Board honored G. J. "Johnnie" Steward on Monday night upon his official retirement from the school bus contractorship. Steward who started driving school buses in 1931 as a hired driver for a Mrs. Raughley of that area decided not to continue the operation this school year. He promptly sold his buses and discontinued a business which had begun as a private carrier in 1935.

On hand to honor Steward was Bill Warren, sales representative from I.G. Burton Co. of Milford, who sold Steward the buses he used in those years. In addition to the awards presented by I.G. Burton which came from the Blue Bird Co. which makes the buses, his wife Pauline received a hidden helper award.

"...BAKKE...SMAKKE"

The California case now before the Supreme Court has caused nationwide turmoil. The case involves a white student, Bakke, who was denied admission to the University of California School of Medicine. Bakke argues that he was discriminated against in that his personal rights and freedoms have been violated. Bakke says he was denied admission to the medical school, because the medical school had an admissions policy whereby 16 black students were admitted to each class based upon lower standards...or at least that is what Bakke alleges.

This case may have been made out to be a civil rights case where certain human and civil rights as well as freedoms have been violated, but the case does not point up the real underlying factors involved. To be sure rights have been violated... somewhere. The real factors involved here are a public display of what is happening to our school and educational systems in this country.

The real question I want answered is why is it essential to "water down" our educational system. Why should it be easy to get into medical school... medical school of all places? Don't we want the best when we are being treated medically? Why should 16 seats be filled in a graduate school by candidates whose credentials are less than required...or in the alternative why should part of the class be required to maintain certain standards and others in the class be excused. The case argues 16 black students, but it doesn't make any difference whether the 16 are red, yellow or white. The fact that we even lower our educational standards...and in particular to get into graduate school like medical school makes it even worse. What has happened to our standard of practice where the highest goals...the highest marks are the supreme attainment.

My understanding of postgraduate studies...and in particular medicine...should not be short of anything less than maximum effort and attainment. It takes years and years of study to become a doctor...and rightly so because of the nature of the profession. A person's life is in their hands...would you want your life to be in the hands of one of those 16...I whomever they may be? No...the answer is no.

The trouble did not start with Bakke at the post-graduate level. It started way back in his formative years of education. This is not to fault the teachers or administrators...but the system. Whatever government gets into it seems to corrupt or abuse or misuse before it is over. The government brought up forced busing and school consolidation both of which seem to be completely out of kilter. Instead of practicing the three "r's"...we are busy plotting methods in the courts to complicate the school system even more.

In Bakke some fair-brained lawyer came up with a cute phrase... "reverse discrimination" and this more than anything else has carried the case all the way to the Supreme Court. So much so that there are those around the Supreme Court justices who seem to think this is the greatest case since Brown V. The Board, which made school equal and not separate. It is not that important if for no other reason than the fact that no one has yet proven that Bakke could have gained admission to the medical school had there not been the 16 seat situation. Does Bakke have the grades?

In the many years that education has been caught up in the courts...even the Scopes trial (monkey trial) teaching the teaching of Darwin's theory of evolution in the classroom, the people who should have been polled to get their views but weren't and haven't are the students themselves. Did anyone get their thoughts and opinions on busing before some sophisticated judge and likewise lawyer came up with brilliant theory. Would those judges or lawyers like to ride a bus for an hour each way when they could walk to school from their neighborhood in less than 5 minutes. Had they sought the children's views maybe the mess would not be what it is today. Maybe all students of all races would be getting a better education. I am not opposing integration...on the contrary I think the ones who are the players on the stage of life should be interviewed and polled for the best possible answers.

The Bakke case is not a best case test for discrimination or "reverse discrimination"...for the Bakke case is an exemplification of a product from a watered down education process in this country. Because of government intervention the educational system cannot flourish on an academic or vocational level where students are made to meet the challenges in the classrooms.

Her Life..A Success

Ed. note: The following was given to Sara Webb of W.T. Chipman who usually writes a column for this paper.

It was written by a teacher at Chipman, Russell Knaub and deals with the recent loss of Carla Langford, a Lake Forest senior, who died last Thursday from auto injuries.

The measure of a person's success or failure in life will be measured by the impact he or she has had on the persons who, in one form or another, were a part of their lives.

The other Friday night the Lake Forest football team won their first game of the season. A convincing victory over Delmar. My son recorded the first touchdown in his four year football career. After the game I expected to hear screams of joy, see back slapping from teammates and happy fathers, victory hugs and kisses from mothers and girlfriends; but I saw none of this. I saw tears of sorrow, remorse, sadness. I went to my son to share his moment of triumph. There was no joy in his face, only tears in his eyes. "Carla has taken a turn for the worse, 'Bad' was his only remark as he passed his mother and me on the way to the locker room. I followed and as I entered, the all too familiar odor of sweat met my nostrils; but that was the only thing I recognized. This was not a victory locker room. I was met with an eerie silence, tears of sorrow not joy, strong young men consoling each other, visibly shaken by the news of their classmate. In the true tradition of our namesakes, Spartans rallying around a fallen warrior. I turned to leave but the scene outside was no different.

Cheerleaders, classmates, all feeling the impact of the news; but in all the sorrow I saw something beautiful. I saw the greatest of all God's gifts to us being manifested before me. The gift of loving, giving, receiving, sharing, caring; parents loving and caring enough to share the sadness with their children. Underclassmen offering comfort to seniors, not really understanding for they didn't know and love Carla as her classmates did, but fully understanding the need for comfort and sharing at this time. A Delmar player expressing his sorrow and offering his good wishes to one of our boys. A wife sharing the sorrow felt by her teacher-husband because she knew he shared a year of Carla's life in Junior High School. He had grown to love her as he loved her brothers and her parents. Where else but in a God-created universe can beauty be found in tragedy, for loving and caring are beautiful no matter where or under what conditions you find them.

Upon returning home that evening, my son said simply, "She won't die, dad," and I believed him. Carla Langford will live for a long time in the hearts of her friends, her teachers, her parents because she lived life the way it's supposed to be lived. She met it unafraid, ready to accept the good parts as well as the bad and making no excuses if things didn't go the way she wanted them to. Instead she looked forward to the next great adventure. We could all take a lesson from her in that respect. She loved people for what they were and not for what she thought they should be. Her classmates loved her; the community loved her. She was a beautiful person in every sense of the word. Carla Langford will live for a long time. Her life, short as it was, was a success.

Thoughts

by Senator Bill Roth

By its irresponsible decision not to review the Wilmington School Desegregation Case, the Supreme Court has shirked its Constitutional responsibility.

It has allowed confusing lower court orders to stand and thus provided the lower courts with no direction on how to tackle the school busing issue. Furthermore, the citizens of every major metropolitan area in the nation -- virtually millions of Americans -- were waiting for a Supreme Court decision on this issue. A clear and concise decision on the case was essential, not only to the citizens of Delaware, but to citizens throughout the nation.

I believe the court's non-decision makes it even more essential for Congress to act. The Roth-Biden bill, introduced by our Delaware delegation, was drafted to reflect the thinking of the court in past decisions, particularly in the area of discriminatory intent and we believe it is a step in the right direction. But the confusion generated by the court's refusal to hear the Wilmington case -- in which unlawful discrimination was found without discriminatory intent -- has clouded the issue. The court decision, in effect, reinforces my belief that the only sure way to stop busing is by a constitutional amendment.

I have introduced such an amendment and will be addressing it and other alternatives in more detail in a later column. At the same time, I believe it is highly desirable to proceed in the effort to enact the Roth-Biden busing bill. As a practical matter, this bill, which is sponsored by Congressman Evans in the House, appears to be one of the few legislative initiatives which has a chance of being enacted by this Congress, which includes strong pro-busing forces.

We should not deceive ourselves that the road to passage will be easy. In the Senate, where a filibuster could occur, the vote is likely to be very close. In the House, with Speaker Tip O'Neill (D-Mass.) and Judiciary Committee Chairman Peter Rodino (D-N.J.), both pro-busers dealing with this issue, passage would be even more difficult.

The ordinary pot-bellied stove and its Franklin cousin get about 30 percent of the available heat out of a wood fire. Here your fuel cost begins to balance out. A $40-60 cord of hardwood burned in one of these stoves gives you about what you'd get from 122 gallons of fuel oil, costing $55.10. Especially if you have access to inexpensive wood, this proposition could begin to appeal as you feel the pinch on your pocket from an oil furnace this winter.

You have to go to the most sophisticated wood burners, though, before you realize impressive savings from wood fuel. These modern airtight stoves get about 50 percent combustion efficiency. Which means a cord of wood in one of them will produce as much heat as 204 gallons of oil. This much oil would cost $91.84 at 45 cents a gallon -- nearly double the cost of the wood. Such potential savings as this can make wood fuel look pretty attractive, says Walpole.

THE BLUE BANANA

"Read All About It"

A monthly selection from the W.T. Chipman and Lake Forest Elementary Schools

Welcome... And A Salute...

Jesus Davilla

Welcome to the Blue Banana for the 1977-78 year. As last year, we hope to highlight some of the doings in the W.T. Chipman Junior and Lake Forest Elementary schools. As we begin this year we would like to salute Jesus Davila a student at Lake Forest East, who suggested the title for these pages during competition last year. Starting in November 76 the W.T. Chipman Lake Forest became the Blue Banana in January after a student vote picked Jesus' suggested title.

Parents Follow Class Schedule

Parents welcomed by Principal Earl Griffin to W.T. Chipman's annual Open House last Wednesday evening, October 12, got a chance to go to class as they followed a typical Wednesday schedule of their children. Before reporting to class parents gathered in the cafeteria for welcome, brief business and announcements, and some entertainment. Providing the evening's entertainment treat were two segments of the W.T. Chipman Band under the direction of Alex Becton. The first selection was performed by an ensemble. This was followed by a saxophone quartet in which the director was a participant. Included in the evening's brief business was the approval of a slate of five parents who will serve on the Title I Parents Reading Advisory Council for the year. Elected were Wilma Edwards, Laura Smith, Deborah Gray, David Durant and Lawrence Kibler. Mr. Griffin also announced that W.T. Chipman is now a Middle States accredited junior high school, and joins only five other junior high schools so accredited in the state of Delaware. He also reported this year's seventh grades adjusting well to the environment of junior high school and the eighth grades were old hands at the whole thing. Following the business, parents were off and running to complete a schedule of seven ten minute class periods which offered the opportunity to meet their students' teachers and find out in general what is being presented in classes. Like typical seventh graders, a few were temporarily lost and some were late for class. During study halls, they were invited to visit the library, guidance office and other areas of interest. No homework was assigned. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria at the end of the schedule.

East Students Participate In Contest and Project EDITH

Students in grades 1-6 at Lake Forest East Elementary participated in a fire prevention contest recently. In conjunction with fire safety, teachers in grade five are helping their students develop emergency exit plans in the home. This program is entitled Project EDITH (Exit Drill In The Home), sponsored by the Delaware Safety Council.

Awards will be given to each group (1-2) (3-4) (5-6) on the local level by the Frederica Fire Company and on a state level by the Delaware Volunteer Fireman's Association. Each child discussed exit areas in their homes, who to call in an emergency, and other home safety precautions. Each student was responsible for drawing a floor plan of their home and labeling all exits.

By completing the exercises above, children increase their knowledge of fire awareness and fire prevention where it counts the most, in themselves. Both programs are encouraging persons to develop warning systems in the home in case of a fire or other emergency situations.

South B Holds Annual Open House

On Monday, Oct. 10, the Lake Forest South B in Harrington conducted its annual open house. Parents had an opportunity to visit their child's classroom and meet their child's teacher.

Mr. Seyler, principal, welcomed the parents and introduced the faculty and staff. Mrs. Patricia Bunting a graduate of the University of Delaware, was recognized as being the kindergarten teacher hired to replace Mrs. Ann Chambers, who had been granted a leave of absence by the Lake Forest Board of Education.

Mr. Seyler explained the existing Title I program and stressed that parents were needed to form a Parents Advisory Council for Title I in the district. He also discussed the special education program and the importance of identifying learning difficulties as early as possible in a child's education. Teachers prepared a short presentation for the parents; goals for the year were stated, parent involvement was encouraged and programs were reviewed.

Mr. Seyler is also principal at Lake Forest East in Frederica. This year is the first that South B and Lake Forest East Elementary schools have been linked together.

Open House At East

Open house was held at the Lake Forest East Elementary School in Frederica on Tuesday, October 11.

Mr. Seyler, principal, introduced the faculty and staff. Several items were discussed at the general meeting.

Mr. Seyler explained the Title I program and solicited for parents to represent the district's Parents' Advisory Council.

A new parent-teacher organization was formed to replace the existing PTA. The new group is called the Parent Teacher Action Group.

Nominated and elected were: Mrs. Louise Betts, president; Mrs. Rebecca Scarborough, vice-president; Mrs. Mary Ann Timmons, secretary and Mrs. Janice Caldwell, treasurer.

The officers and principal will meet at a later date to discuss goals and planned activities for the school year.

Seventy persons joined the organization and pledged their membership.

Mrs. Gemmill, the school nurse, presented a plan where attempts will be made to achieve total immunization for children in grades K-12 during the coming year.

After the general business meeting, the parents were invited to visit their child's classroom. Each teacher had a planned program for the evening.

Also during the evening parents had the opportunity to inspect the Economy Reading Program, the Holt mathematics materials the Wisconsin Skills Program, and the new metrics visual aids which were displayed on tables in the gymnasium. Questions were answered by Mr. Seyler and a group of teachers in this area.

There Have Been Some Changes Made

There have been a lot of changes this year. Among the first to notice were the teachers at the W.T. Chipman and Lake Forest Elementary schools. As their students poured in after the summer vacation they seemed taller, more grown-up. And there were some new faces as well as some familiar ones that were missing.

But the students were also faced with some changes, at L.F. South, Mr. Cline was still to be seen in the building, but he had moved out of the principal's office and was wearing a new hat as Lake Forest Superintendent.

At North Mr. Comer had left, the most obvious changes to be replaced by Mrs. Grace Bradford as assistant principal.

Mr. Seyler at East was commuting between Frederica and the South B are:

Prayroot Size, a Chipman seventh grader from Frederica, has recently become an American citizen.

Chipman SC Officer Is New Citizen

He is a new citizen, a new student at Chipman, and he is taking on firsthand the responsibilities and privileges of representative government. Prayroot Size, just elected vice president of the W.T. Chipman Student Council, officially became an American citizen on September 18, climaxing a process that began in Philadelphia last April.

Prayroot was sponsored in his bid for citizenship by his father, Donald William Size. The Size family makes its home in Frederica.

Prayroot, who was born in Bangkok, Thailand, has been living in the United States since he was six. Among his special interests are making models and playing soccer.

A new seventh grader, he finds junior high a lot different with more privileges and responsibilities. This situation he likes a lot better (than elementary school) since, he says, "Most of us are more mature."

Students at Chipman felt enough confidence in this new citizen to give him the responsibility and privilege of serving on their Student Council this year.

Pentecostal Church Starts Bible Study

The First United Pentecostal Church of Seaford is now holding a Thursday evening Bible Study beginning at 7:30 p.m. This new mid-week service comes as a result of numerous requests from area residents, as well as church members.

During the past few decades men have not taken time to study the Bible as they once did, but in recent months there seems to be a "Religious Awakening" taking place throughout the world. All of this renewed interest in spiritual matters is one reason a Bible study is necessary says Pastor Torbert.

Any one desiring to delve into the Word of God is welcome to join the group each Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the SNEC building (across from Edgell Pharmacy) Middleford Road, Seaford.

For Your Information

Dear friends,

Here is a thought that I'd like to share with you. On a tombstone in a cemetery in England the following inscription appears:

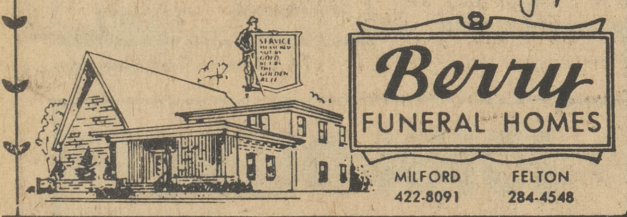

"Who plucked that flower?", the gardener asked.

"I" said the Master, and the gardener held his peace.

As we stop and ponder about it, it's a rather beautiful and consoling message.

Respectfully,

William C. Berry Jr.

The Purolator Mercury team will be looking for their 3rd victory of the 1977 season when the man start of the season in an Oldsmobile Omega owned by Barry Divers of Fairfax, Va. Allison said he also plans to bring his own AMC Hornet to run in the Modified race.

Allison, who never has been in victory land in Grand National competition on the .525-mile track, won a 100-lap Modified race at Martinsville ten years ago. His last Modified appearance here came in the spring 150 in 1976 when he led the first 142

Eddy Wins Marty Robbins 500

NASHVILLE, Tenn. The Marty Robbins 500 was won on Sunday by Mike Eddy of Midway, Mich. driving a Chuck Thruene Camaro.

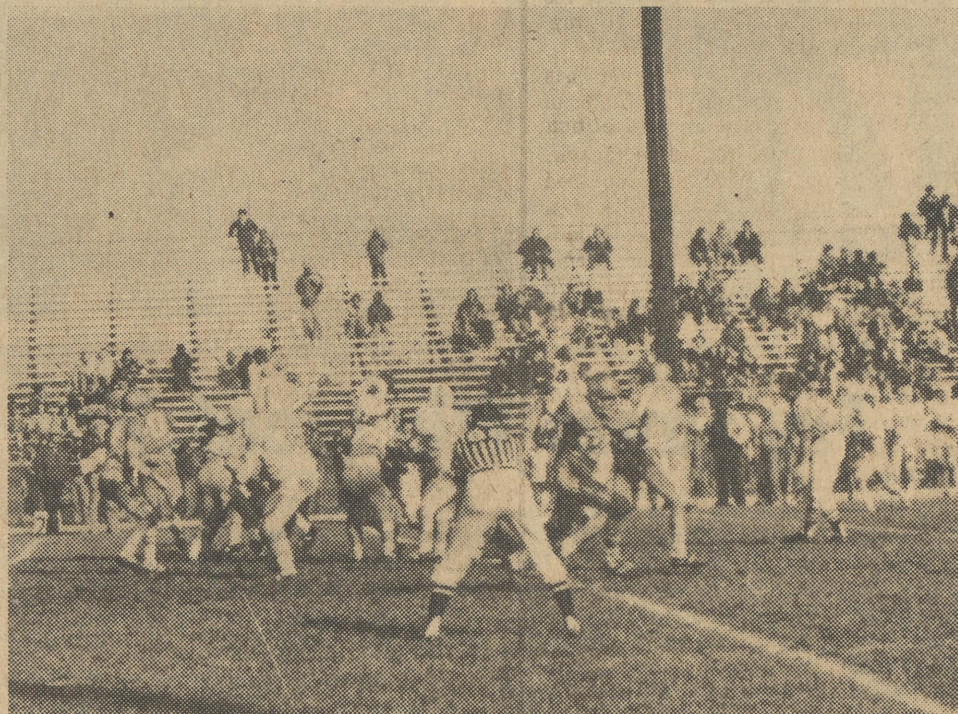

The NASCAR event was open competition which allowed the non-NASCAR cars to have an advantage on tires and cubic inch size. The tires were 13 1/2 as opposed to NASCAR requirements of not more than 12.70. This also allowed them to have a maximum of 440 cu. in. as opposed to NASCAR size of 360 cu. in.

Most of the midwesterners finished in the first five with sixth place going to NASCAR driver Morgan Sheppard of Dover, N.C.

Another NASCAR driver, Neil Bonnett, driving a Jim Stacey car finished 34th. There were 40 cars entered in the race with 20 finishing. The race was run in 3 hrs. 20 min. and 27 sec. with an average speed of 93.539. During qualifying 30 cars broke the record by turning the oval in 19.22 sec. for a speed of 117.07. Most of the racers came from the Midwest of American Speed Association.

SPARTAN SCOREBOARD

Who's got the ball? It looks like a tossup as the referee watches. This was one of the action scenes during the game against Dover.

Penalties Plague Spartans In 6-0 Loss

"I think we outplayed them," reflected Coach Jim Fleming as he reviewed the Lake Forest-Dover game played Saturday in Dover. Although the score was 6-0 in favor of the Senators, Fleming said he was "...extremely pleased with the offense and defense plays" and the coaching staff had assessed the game as Lake Forest's best for both offense and defense.

The Spartan offense was plagued with penalties, however, logging 100 yards in the game. When they began to move the ball well, said Fleming, "We kept getting offensive penalties."

Also helping the Spartans were two Dover fumbles in Spartan territory in the first half.

With less than two minutes to go in the half the Senators drove to the Spartan 16 line, to be held there by the tough defense. In the conference Lake Forest now has two losses and one tie.

The team travels to Seaford Friday night for another conference game.

The lone score of the game came in the third quarter by Senator Seeney and Lake Forest blocked the kick.

Several players had impressive carries for the afternoon for the Spartans. Leading the number of carries was Billy Moore, with 9 carries for 28 yards; Orlando Burris carried the ball 8 times for a gain of 48 yards. Following these were quarterback Greg Shortell with 6 carries for 11 yards; Kevin Hutchins with 6 carries for 34 yards and Milton Justice with four carries for eight yards.

The game for the Spartans Saturday was a non-aerial one, with no passing yardage totaled.

The three defensive tackles leading the group were Billy Moore with 2 unassisted tackles and 18 assists; Larry McCombs with 3 unassisted and 13 unassisted tackles and Greg Shortell with one unassisted tackle and 13 assists.

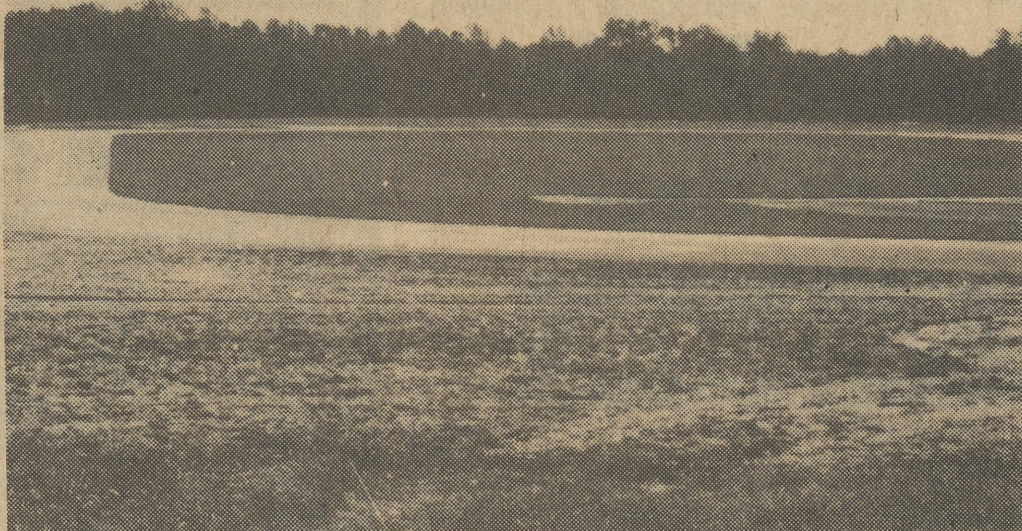

Also giving good showing were Mike Quail with one unassisted tackle and 10 assists; Louis Hendricks with 3 unassisted and 10 assisted tackles; Eugene McBride with 1 unassisted and seven assisted tackles. Doug Warrington had two unassisted tackles and six assists and Kevin Hutchins had 4 unassists and 6 assists.

Help support the Spartans..

cheer them on in their games

Quarterback Greg Shortell listens as Coach Fleming makes a point during a time out in the Lake Forest-Dover game.

The future football stadium at Lake Forest High begins to take shape as one can see a good catch of grass on the playing area. The football field is part of the federal program to employ area persons. Future students and adults will have the benefit of the complex.

Mitchell beat him in three invitationals.

Cape Henlopen held a three point edge here but Wilson Fry and Joe Custis came in after Mitchell to put Lake Forest in the driver's seat.

With victory assured, both Dave Richter and Kelly Woodward beat Cape's fifth man to widen the margin to three points.

The Lake Forest jayvees edged a strong Viking group 27-42 after which W.T. Chipman School stayed unbeaten by a 15-48 score over Rehoboth Junior High School. Chipman won despite not having any ninth graders in the lineup as did Rehoboth.

Doug Caskey, Craig Fry and Randy Ramirez were second, third and fourth to lead the winners.

After a fifth place Viking, Eugene Butler, Pete Fraley, Charles McDougall, freshmen John Veith and Bruce Humphrey, and Lee Turner cemented the win.

Maurice "Reese Cup" Coverdale who is in his sixth year of distance running cruised in first for Chipman in 16.43 for 2.7 sandy miles. Another eighth grader newcomer Doug Stevens was next followed by seventh graders John Layton, Derrick Chodkiewicz and Robby Manaraze. Rehoboth's first finisher was fifth followed by Jerry Mosley and Chris Caskey, also seventh graders.

Ken Kline, Tony Scott and Dave Emory also ran well for the winners. Sherry Colburn, a strong-running, very determined young lady, always is the first girl across and she does not mind beating a few chauvinists too. Sherry clocked an excellent 20.48 followed by Pandora Scott in 21.17.

Karen Warrington, Melissa Lewis and Elaine Grant also ran well.

Allan Buckley, Dan Green and Mike Grogan are showing improvement.
