Margaret Rhodes Farrow
Editor
Jan. 13, 1942 - Nov. 8, 1977

HARRINGTON - Del. - Margaret (Margo) Farrow, 35, of 103 Hanley St. died Tuesday, Nov. 8, 1977, in the Delaware Division, Wilmington, Del. after a long illness.

She was the co-owner and Editor of The Harrington Journal founded by her husband's family in 1913. She and her husband purchased the newspaper in April of 1974. At that time, her husband was actively engaged in the real estate practice with offices in Dover, Del. Although he continued in the field of real estate, he worked side by side with her in restructuring the newspaper. She attended elementary school in Upperville, Va., and junior high school and high school at Marshall High School, graduating in 1959. She was a 1963 graduate of Roanoke College with a B.A. in English. Upon graduation, she received a teaching position at Loudoun Valley High in Purcellville, Va. and was married to Harry G. Farrow, Jr. in August 1963. Mr. Farrow had graduated from the School of Law Washington & Lee University, Lexington, Va. in June of 1962. He worked for a law firm in Fairfax, Va. in 1963 and in 1964 the couple returned to Delaware where Mr. Farrow joined the Attorney General's staff of David P. Buckson while Mrs. Farrow joined the faculty of Caesar Rodney School District. She taught from 1964 to 1969 leaving CR in February of that year on maternity leave. The Farrow's first child, John David, was born July 12, 1969. The second born was Christopher Todd born on October 8, 1974.

interested in music and sang in the Delaware Choral Society of Dover and the St. Stephens Episcopal Choir where she was a member of that church in Harrington. She was also a member of the Alpha Phi National Sorority, Roanoke College Alumni Association, Harrington Chamber of Commerce and a past member of its Board of Directors. She was also a past Director of the Youth Group at St. Stephens' Episcopal Church, Harrington.

assumed her duties as Editor of The Harrington Journal, and after six months of operating the newspaper under the letter press style changed the process from letter press to offset primarily under the tutoring of Tom Brauce at The Seaford Leader. She wrote a weekly column "From The Frying Pan."

Surviving are her husband, Harry G. Jr., two sons, John David, 8, and Christopher Todd, 3, her parents, John and Charlotte Rhodes, Upperville, Va., and a brother John Tyler Rhodes of Winchester, Va. Church services were held at 11:00 a.m. at St. Stephens Episcopal Church, Harrington, De., where friends called Thursday evening between 7 and 8:30 at the Price Funeral Home, 6 Dorman St., Harrington. Interment was Saturday at 3:30 in the Baptist Cemetery, Middleburg, Va. In lieu of flowers contributions may be made in her name to the American Cancer Society, or The Margo Farrow Memorial Fund at St. Stephens Episcopal Church, Harrington, De.

Santa Is Coming

Christmas Parade Set For Dec. 3

The annual arrival of Santa Claus in Harrington is approaching fast as the Harrington Jaycees are slowly beginning to finalize plans for the annual Christmas Parade.

This year's parade will be held on December 3rd beginning at 1:30. All units participating are asked to be in line not later than 12:30. There is still time to register for the parade and this can be done by contacting Ray Blanchette at 398-3206 (day) or 398-3225 (night). Deadline for registration will be on Friday November 25.

This year as in years past the Jaycees will also be sponsoring an antique car show which will be held in the First National Bank parking lot and a Van show which will be held in the Peoples Bank parking lot. These activities will begin at 11:00 on the 3rd.

Prizes will be awarded in the following categories this year: Commercial Floats 1st, 2nd place trophies; Non-commercial floats 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th trophies; Senior Bands $150, $100, $50, cash prizes; Junior Bands 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place trophies; Fire Companies 1st 2nd, and 3rd place trophies; Decorated Autos 1st, 2nd place trophies; Marching 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th place trophies; Individuals 1st, 2nd, 3rd, place trophies; and a Grand Prize for the top entry in the entire parade.

The theme for this year's parade is "Peace at Christmas Time".

Lions Club Auction A Success

HARRINGTON - Taylor and Messick held its annual charity auction Saturday night, proceeds of which go to purchase hospital equipment. Business establishments in the community donated numerous items of wear as well as food.

For the past three years, the annual event has been held on the business grounds of Walter and Marie Messick's Taylor & Messick John Deere Dealership. Everyone donates their time and energies. This year's auctioneers were Tom Brown, George Simpson and Paul Garey.

Journal Appoints Composition Editor

Miss E. Elaine Watson of Harrington has been named Composition Editor of the Harrington Journal.

E. Elaine Watson

Miss Watson has been a staff member on the Harrington Journal for almost 2 years. Prior to that she was on the staff of The Maryland Baptist, a weekly newspaper published in Lutherville, Maryland. She served as secretary to the editor for five years and as assistant editor for almost four years.

Miss Watson was born in Philadelphia, Pa., but has lived most of her life in Maryland. She was graduated from Bel Air Senior High School, Bel Air, Md., and attended Harford Junior College in Bel Air.

She is the author of several children's stories including "Where Are You God?" a new book published by Broadman Press.

Miss Watson lives with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Duke Watson. Rev. Watson is the pastor of the Harrington Baptist Church.

DELAWARE 1977

The 1977 Christmas Seals feature children's artwork representing each state. Delaware artist for the state Christmas Seal is Suzanne Powers, age 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Powers, Bear, Del. Suzanne's original artwork will be on exhibit in the Library of Congress, Washington, D.C., during December.

Milford Plaza Opens Nine New Stores

At the Milford Plaza on Friday morning, Nov. 18, at 11:30 a.m., the ribbon cutting ceremony for nine new stores will be held at the Milford Plaza Shopping Center. The developer, Thomas H. Draper of Milford said that Milford's Mayor, Herman McNatt will do the honors.

Five hundred dollars ($500) worth of prizes and gift certificates will be given away this weekend.

New stores opening are: The Wigwam, a western clothes store, Walls Maternity and Children Store, Blue Hen Florist, Custom Gems, The Hair Designers, The Laundry Basket, The Office Restaurant and Lounge and The Mustard Seed, a religious book store will not open until December.

This phase of future plaza development consists of 18,600 square feet. The project was designed by Cal Clendaniel of Lincoln, Delaware and constructed by Richard Y. Johnson & Son also of Lincoln.

Also under construction and scheduled for spring and summer of 1978 openings are five additional projects: The Acme Store expansion (11,200 square feet), Leggett's Department Store (32,000 square feet) Englishes Family Restaurant (4000 square feet) Realty World & Allied Association (1200 square feet) and the Spinning Wheel (1200 square feet).

Harrington Baptist Church To Host Thanksgiving Service

The annual community Thanksgiving Service will be in the Harrington Baptist Church at 7:30 on the 23rd, with the Rev. William Miller of the Wesleyan Church as the speaker. The host church will provide the special music according to Pastor Watson. The Rev. Bruce Shortell will read the first five verses of Psalm 103. The Rev. J.S. Justice will have the invocation, and the Rev. Wayne Grier will lead in the Responsive Reading. The public is invited to attend.

Crafts Shoppe To Open

Country Crafts Shoppe will be opened by Alexander and Connie Pondok on Nov. 17. The C. C. Shoppe is located at 32 N. Walnut St. formerly Boulevard

Electric. The Country atmosphere of their store will carry all types of arts & crafts. The decorating & woodwork and other work was done by the Pondok's and Mr. Pondok's parents.

Mr. & Mrs. Pondok moved to Milford from the Wilmington area.

Harrington Town Council

Public Hearing On Budget, Trash Collection Set

At their meeting last Tuesday night the Harrington City Council set November 29 as the date for a public hearing about the city's budget.

The hearing, which will be at city hall from 7-9 p.m., will be used primarily to discuss the budget which currently shows a deficit of $20,500 dollars. However, the large question of whether or not the city residents will continue to pay for their trash collection on a weekly basis or not will also be discussed.

Currently city residents pay 75c a week for collection whether they use the collection services or not. If this fee were to be done away with the city residents would have to have their tax rate increased by probably about 37c.

The largest estimated revenue which the city will receive during the next year, other than water and sewer collections, will come from the 78,838.00 dollars which is raised from taxes and the 50,000 dollars which should be received from revenue sharing.

Extra money could be raised by a reassessment of the entire town. Recently the town of Smyrna had all their property reassessed for a cost of 25,000 dollars or 15 dollars a unit.

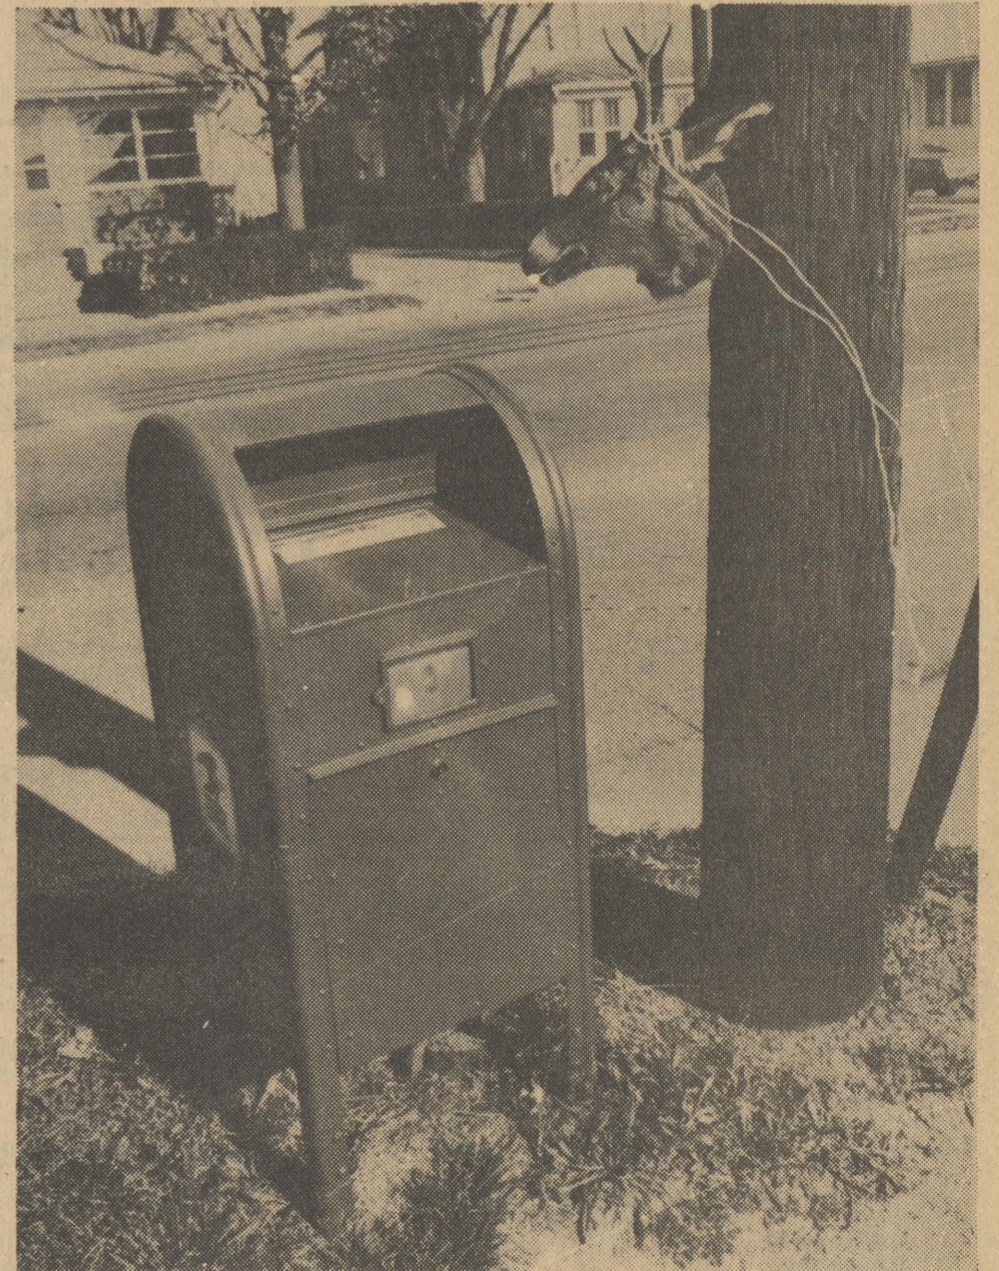

Once again the never ending question of truck traffic on Reese Avenue was discussed. Reese Avenue residents Mrs. Dewitt Tatman and Ms. Anna Brennan were present at the meeting to voice their opinions.

Ms. Brennan stated that she had her walls fixed due to cracking from vibrations of the trucks and also talked about the noise of the trucks at night.

Ms. Brennan also stated that she has heard screeching tires as cars go off of Reese Avenue onto Hanley Street during shift changes of the Burris Plant. Councilman Gary Homewood stated that although arrests may not increase due to police surveillance that it might slow down some of the speeding in the area.

A group of four students from Delaware Technical and Community College were present at the meeting to discuss the possibility of starting some kind of recreation in the city and asked for possible funding support. The council suggested that letters be written to several of the politicians in the area in the hopes of finding funds.

Santa's Reindeer?

The Harrington Jaycee Christmas Parade which annually ushers Santa Claus into town is approaching fast. This week one of Santa's reindeer was undercover checking out who's naughty and nice. Santa will arrive on December the 3rd as the annual parade will begin at 1:30. [Staff Photo by Ray Blanchette]

By Harry G. Farrow Jr.

On March 17, 1963 a meeting took place between a young girl and a young man in Lexington, Va. that resulted in a whirlwind courtship, marriage, children and in inseparateness that spanned a period of fifteen years with fourteen years of a happy marriage.

The young girl was Margo and from the very beginning she brought a lot of joy and comfort to my life. Both of us seemed to have a certain kind of loneliness that drew us so close. I met her when she was a junior at Roanoke College in Salem, Va. some 50 miles west of Lexington where I was in my last year of law school. We met on Saturday, March 17, 1962 as a result of a blind date. We missed very few weekends after that of being with each other. I was very busy at law school...attending classes in the mornings, running the intramurals at Washington & Lee University, selling Fuller brushes in the county, and maintaining a laundry route at the law dorm and all the fraternity houses. I came to know everyone inside and outside the university in Lexington. They all soon came to know her and liked her very much.

A few months after meeting her we went to her home in northern Virginia where I soon discovered that her family was just as nice as she. The memory will always be with me of this particular occasion, for it described her true and lasting love of the mountains and the green valleys of her home. We were heading east on U.S. #50 trying to make Mosbey Pass at Paris, Va., which sits "right on top" of the Blue Ridge Mountains, before dark. We made it in plenty of time to see this beautiful site. As we broke across the mountain range at the pass the view on the other side was truly breath-taking. The mountains were so "blue" and the valleys were green as poison. Many man made ponds dotted the countryside and cattle grazed peacefully along the meadows. She turned to me and said "...this was my surprise for you."

Although she loved her country very much, she moved to Delaware with me in 1964 trading mountains for sand dunes. We later purchased five acres in the mountains near this area of importance to her overlooking the Shenandoah River.

She gave me many things, but those I cherish the most are the two boys, David, 8, and Todd, 3. She was extremely proud of her two sons. The fourteen years we were married we never spent a night away from each other except for a time in 1965 when she attended summer school at the University of Delaware. There are many things that I could write about her, for I have many warm memories. One of the most important things worth mentioning is the fact that Harrington was her home of record. She loved this community and its people, and I want to express my sincere appreciation to this community for making her feel wanted, welcome and at home. The doors to this newspaper and our home shall always be open to you.

The Great American Smokeout

It has been more than ten years since the surgeon general's warning about cigarettes and health. Delaware shouldn't need additional reminders that cigarettes are dangerous. Still, many millions of us smoke. Some population groups, including teen girls, are smoking more every year.

The American Cancer Society has told us in endless variation why we should quit. While estimates vary, it's a conservative guess that at least half of Delaware smokers would like to quit. What seems to defeat most smokers is the thought of an endless future without cigarettes. The very idea is so threatening to many a smoker that he has to light up a cigarette to relax.

THE GREAT AMERICAN SMOKEOUT is the Cancer Society's pragmatic approach to this dilemma. Smokers are being urged to pledge not to smoke on just one day, November 17. If the next morning begins with a cigarette as usual, the smoker will still know that the habit is his to control. And he'll be one day healthier. Some will get through the day and stick with it. Some won't. The Cancer Society has set realistic objectives for this promotion. They hope that 1 out of 5 smokers will stop smoking on November 17.

When nearly 100,000 Americans die annually of lung cancer, the victory on any scale is worth it. The Cancer Society stands ready to offer support in the battle of will power. We urge your support of THE GREAT AMERICAN SMOKEOUT and the many people who are working to make it a success.

The Evans Report

by Congressman Tom Evans

I have often said that there should be a rule of regulation in the United States Congress requiring a three month work period "at home" for every Congressman, Congresswoman, and Senator.

Too often, the newly elected Members of Congress move to Washington and with that move begin to cut the ties (or weaken the bonds) with the very people who they are elected to represent. The problems of the Nation which confront the Congress on a broad scale each and every day are of monumental consequence but too often the individual member sees those problems on a national basis rather than as a direct reflection of the interests and needs of his constituents.

Members of Congress would find it worth while to meet with the people of the district on a one-to-one basis as well as in the larger groups that attend civic meetings, political functions, and service clubs. These contracts are all necessary, but it is in the individual discussions that one can take a measure of the feelings, desires, and frustrations of the people.

In sitting down with the senior citizen and hearing about problems regarding property tax rates a Congressman can learn first hand of the hardships the elderly face.

In one-on-one meetings with small businessmen and women, the Congressman can learn directly of their problems with the new minimum laws and the Social Security payment burdens they must face.

In talking with the ship- pers who use Conrail, the Congressman will learn of the frustrating delays and break-downs in equipment that complicate business operations and jeopardize economic growth.

Farmers can speak of their problems with Federal farm policy and the ever shifting import and export quotas that play such a significant role in their economic survival.

Congress is in a brief recess now until shortly after Thanksgiving and it is the ideal time in this mid-session break to take the pulse of the people.

Then, when the Members return to the floor of the House or the Senate, to the committee hearings, where the legislation that affects us all is written, to the moment when the vote is taken that affects us not only as a composite group, but as individuals, the Congressman can draw on that one-to-one experience of communication with his constituents.

Weekly Report

by Senator Joe Biden

Most Delawareans are aware that as of January 1, 1978, the government will be extracting at stiff increase in taxes from everyone's paycheck. This increase in the Social Security payroll tax is already law. In addition, on November 4, the Senate passed the Social Security Financing Amendments of 1977, which would raise the Social Security tax by about $70-75 billion through 1983, on top of the increases already scheduled in existing law.

Legally, the payroll tax is equally divided, on a 50-50 basis: that is between the employer and the employee. In economic reality, however, it is the extension of the employee who carries the burden. Employers, generally regard both shares as an extension of the employee's wage along with other taxes and fringe benefits. Keeping that hidden truth in mind, the consequences of the Senate vote are more readily apparent to the naked eye.

The key feature of the Senate bill would require employers to pay taxes on a higher wage base than the employees would. For the first time, the so-called "employer's share" will accelerate faster than the "employee's share."

In scope, it is not just a matter of ascertaining the true impact of the tax wages and the economy; but rather, this change suggests a significant deviation from the founding principle of the system.

Since the inception of the Social Security Act, a workers benefits have been directly related to the payroll taxes that they have paid—legally defined as the "employee's share." Intrinsically, raising taxes should mean raising future benefits. However, in raising the "employer's share", on above-average wage earners, the Senate has found a method for raising those taxes without increasing the benefits to those contributing.

If this change becomes effective, the Social Security system will have adopted still more characteristics associated with welfare. Historically, it has contained traits common to our welfare program. The system presently favors those who are in the lowest wage brackets. Above-average wage earners are now carrying a disproportionate share of the taxes in relation to the benefits they accrue. In large measure, this tax has provided an existence for millions of elderly Americans who would otherwise be destitute. Undoubtedly, this is the way it should be. But if the Senate bill prevails, financing our insurance plan with a regressive payroll tax becomes more a point of contention as the inequities become more pronounced.

The limitation imposed on earnings after retirement demonstrates further the short-comings of the present system. If you earn more than $3,000 a year, in a part-time job, you are no longer entitled to collect full benefits; because theoretically you do not need the assistance. But if you happen to retire with a private pension and securities totaling in excess of say $80,000 annually, you will be eligible to receive the full benefit of your Social Security check—because you are not working. The logic of this injustice leaves something to be desired.

Unfortunately, another effect will be to make labor increasingly expensive to the employer at a time when unemployment is already high.

As the system becomes more costly, and more important to our way of life, the irregularities become more intolerable. There is no question that we need an actuarially sound Social Security system. But there is also no doubt that we should not rush hastily through such a monumental piece of legislation without reviewing further the complaints about the bills entitlements, raised by the Appropriation and Budget Committees. Coupled with the additional burden of energy taxes on the economy, which will be enacted this year; I felt it was ill advised to burden the middle class taxpayer, without a more in-depth study by the Congress of the Social Security system.

Did You Know?

America's first Thanksgiving was observed in Virginia in 1619, not in Massachusetts in 1621. Site of the observance was the Berkeley 100, a land grant on the James River, a tributary of the Chesapeake Bay. Berkeley later built on the land grant, is one of the famous James River plantations that are now open to visitors.

Thoughts

by Senator Bill Roth

The Department of Defense decision last week to keep open the Property Disposal Office at Dover Air Force Base was good news for Delaware. In May, when we first learned that consideration was being given to closing the Office, I have endeavored to keep it open through meetings with Defense Department officials and state and local representatives and through letters and telephone calls because of its importance to our state.

In June a meeting took place in my office with Assistant Secretary of Defense Dr. John White to stress the importance of the office to Delaware.

Many states have three or four surplus property facilities within their borders. Some have more.

But only Delaware and one other state—West Virginia—have only one. These property disposal yards are agencies of the Defense Department. They collect excess or worn-out government vehicles, machinery, and appliances from government bases and facilities. This surplus equipment is read-

"Read All About It"

A monthly selection from the W.T. Chipman and Lake Forest Elementary Schools

Group Does Creative Writing

A combined fifth and sixth grade reading group under the guidance of Miss Sharon Lynch at Lake Forest South is being challenged to do some creative writing.

In October students in the group wrote and illustrated stories which were displayed on a bulletin board for the benefit of parents attending the school's open house.

Recently students were asked to draw from a selection of titles on a Thanksgiving theme. Each student had to create a story to fit the title he drew. The titles were created by Miss Lynch.

Several stories representing the best efforts of the class were chosen by an outside panel of judges. They appear below:

"Cranberry Catastrophe"

By Mike Cole

One day on November 23rd in Cranberryville all of the women, men and children were getting ready for the big Thanksgiving celebration. The men would go out and look for the biggest and plumpest turkeys that they could find. The women were busy making cranberry sauce, stuffing, turkey, apple cider and pumpkin pie. The children were outside playing hide and seek and chase. Some of the older boys and girls were sent to the cranberry bog to pick the biggest and sweetest cranberries they could find for their mothers' homemade cranberry sauce.

When the oldest boys and girls got home from picking cranberries at the cranberry bog, their baskets were filled with beautiful red cranberries. The women busied themselves with the task of making the cranberry sauce for the big supper. When the cranberry sauce was done the women set the cranberry sauce aside to cool.

Meanwhile two children were done playing kickball when all of a sudden they just came busting through the door and bumped into mother who had the cranberry sauce in her hands. Well, that's what started the cranberry catastrophe!

The cranberry sauce hit the floor and flew all over. Mother yelled, "Oh, my beautiful bowl, you, you broke my beautiful bowl!"

Just then the oldest brother came through the door and he started to slide on the cranberry sauce. He slid till he hit father who had the stuffing in his hands. The stuffing landed on the oldest brother's face and he said, "Hmmm, my favorite." The same thing happened to sister, only she got a piece of pumpkin pie in the face.

After a couple of minutes when everyone felt better, father was the only one left standing and he said, "I guess luck is running with me today."

Then after a while they were all helped up by father, they started to clean up the mess. Afterwards, they all went out to McDonalds.

The Turkey Who Couldn't Gobble

By Brian Hawkins

One day in May I went to my turkey pen. All the turkeys were out of the pen. I went chasing after them. Quacker was one of my own turkeys. The reason why I called him Quacker was because he couldn't gobble, but he quacked like a duck.

Quacker was the first one in the pen. When I got them all in there, I gave them some corn to eat.

The next day my mother said, "Why don't you take the turkeys to the field?" I took them to the field where the cows were eating in the grass.

Quacker came to me and I didn't know what was going on. All the turkeys were fighting up a storm of dust and dirt.

Some men, about three of them, were shooting at them. All the turkeys were running for their lives. Quacker was in back of them running away from the hunters. I tried to call him but he wouldn't come. I kept on trying. He was shot and I went after him. When I got there, he gobbled and then died. I was sad to see him die.

I went home and told my mother. She was as upset as I was. The next day my father gave me a mother turkey with her six babies. I called her gobbles, after Quacker.

Trouble At the Turkey Farm

By Ivan Coleman

One day at the Turkey farm, old Tom Turkey was gone. His wife Alice was worried sick.

Alice said, "I'd call Turkey Five-O, but they're out of town." Then it happened. Robert Conrad, the famous turkey star was turkynapped. A ransom letter was found. The turkynappers demanded 200,000 pounds of turkey feed and two turkey trucks.

The chief of police called the T.B.I. They called the T.I.A. They called Teve Austin, the Bionic Turkey. "He'll be here in five minutes," the chief said.

The turkynappers now want 300,000 pounds of turkey feed. But Teve Austin was there and saved the day by smashing through the gate and running at 90 miles an hour. Teve was the hero but the T.B.I. and T.I.A. booted and hissed as Teve drove down the road with nineteen female turkeys under his arms.

They are getting it all together - Mrs. Marian Wolak (teacher) and Mrs. Elma Price (aide) have had the task of welding a new first grade class [1F] formed from the overcrowded first grades at Lake Forest North in Felton. Mrs. Wolak, who substituted in the district last year, is a graduate of Duquesne University of Pittsburgh, Pa. She says the 28 students who make up the new class have adjusted well to the change of teachers and location.

"Christmas With A K"

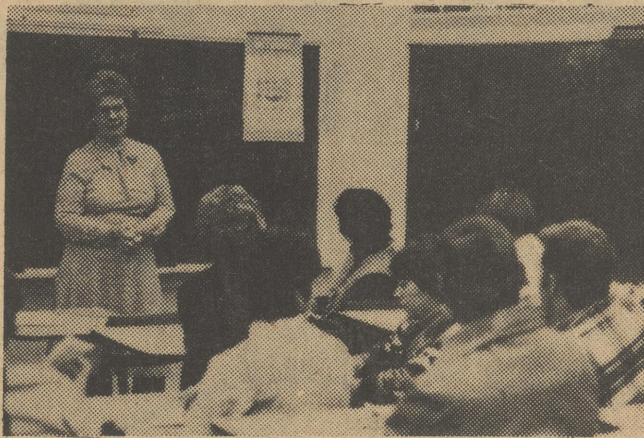

"Christmas with A K" - No, that's not Christmas with a spelling error. It's the title of the annual Christmas musical spectacular set for Thursday, December 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the gym at Lake Forest North Elementary in Felton. The date and title of the forthcoming production was announced by Mrs. Jane Singleton who offered the information that the production was based around an old-fashioned Christmas. But of the mysterious "K" she would only say "Wait until you see...."

As in the past, the stars of the show will be the children at Lake Forest North. Right now first graders are practicing to be toy soldiers and second graders are planning to be Raggedy Ann and Andy. In addition the fifth and sixth grade Glee Club is learning a variety of Christmas music. During the performance they will be inviting audience participation in a sing-along of traditional carols. All this will involve some six hundred children.

Faculty will be performing too with teacher elves and the Kazoo Symphony scheduled to put in appearances.

The musical is an original production which

Picking Apples And Telling

A trip to a nearby apple orchard was the subject for this story written by Donnie Harrington, a student in Mrs. Nickle's first grade class at Lake Forest North in Felton.

"We took a bus to the apple orchard," said Eddie. "We looked at apples," said Angie. Randy said, "We took the apples for a snack." "We made apple-sauce" said Pam. We had fun.

..... has been written and put together by a faculty committee headed by music teacher Jane Singleton. Other members of the committee are Joyce Simmons, Maggie Drury, Ed Gabrielson and Lynn Sedgewick. This group has been meeting regularly on Wednesday nights to plan the show.

Admission is set at $1 for adults and 50c for students. Proceeds will go toward the purchase of a grand drape curtain for the stage. The curtain fund has been accumulating over several years of dramatic and music productions at North. It is expected that the money from "Christmas With a K" will put the fund over the top.

P.T.A.G. Meets At LF East

The Lake Forest East Elementary Parent Teacher Action Group held its first official meeting of the year on Monday, Nov. 14, at 7 p.m. in Fredericka. Mr. Richard Seyler, Principal welcomed the guests and parents and introduced the P.T.A.G. officers, Mrs. Louise Betts, Mrs. Rebecca Scarborough, Mrs. Timmons and Mrs. Caldwell. Mrs. Louise Betts, President, discussed the function of the P.T.A.G. and outlined the planned activities for the coming year. Mr. Seyler displayed the elementary school jackets that were being sold in the district by the Voltex Company. Mrs. Caldwell's kindergarten classes provided entertainment for the evening.

We Are Thankful.....

Last week Mrs. Conner's third grade reading groups at Lake Forest South decorated a classroom with "thankful" Thanksgiving thoughts. As a representative sample, three stories are presented here.

Penny Sue Dennis

I like Thanksgiving a lot because we go to our Mom Mom's house and we get to stay up late and get ice cream. That's the good part about Thanksgiving. I like stuffing in the turkey. I never been to Plymouth Rock, but I know it would be fun though.

Brian Schurman

We are thankful for our home. We are thankful for our car.

Lorraine Lake

I am thankful for corn we eat. I am thankful for turkey we eat. I am thankful for pumpkin pie we eat. I am thankful for the food we share.

Paul Spence

I am thankful for food. It is good. I am thankful for life.

Patty Hilton

I am thankful for the food we eat. I am going to have company for turkey dinner. I love turkey.

Tammy Wix

I am thankful for all God gives us. I am thankful for God to take care of us. And for the food He provides us.

Kellie Draper

I am thankful for the Mayflower because that is how we have our boats. And we are thankful for the turkey too. And the corn. And our fruitbasket. I love Thanksgiving.

Amy Way

Indians. The Indian showed the Pilgrims how to plant crops. The Indians made friends with the Pilgrims.

Dana Hicks

I am thankful for the Pilgrims. That the Pilgrims discovered America.

Marlene Powell

I am thankful for the world. I am thankful for God. I am thankful for Mother and Father.

Renee Green

I am thankful for turkey. I like it. I go down to my Mommom's for Thanksgiving. I like cranberries too.

Mary Reirden

I am thankful for the things we eat. And the things we do in work or play to be more loving every day. I am even glad I have a body.

Melissa Boyer

I am thankful for the Pilgrims. I am thankful for the United States because there is a lot of

Susie Pardee

I am thankful for my mother and my father. And I am glad I have a teacher. And my sisters and brothers.

The Stated Opinion

The following commentary was offered for publication in The Blue Banana by a student at W. T. Chipman:

A column of opinion by Bruce Warrington. It would seem the U.S. has a lot of problems. Our economic situation has been going up and down like a basketball. The negotiations with Panama seem to never settle down but they're trying. And we have an even bigger problem. Our nationwide defense.

It seems as though the Chinese are slowly going trigger-happy with the testing of nuclear bombs. which isn't doing us much good except poisoning some produce. While in Russia they're building up their defenses and we're slowly trailing behind them.

Donna Wilkins, 4th grader at Lake Forest East, had the honor of being named a first place county winner in the Fire Prevention poster contest sponsored by the local fire company. Other county winners were Donna Blessing [W.T. Chipman] and Newlin Kimmey [LF South]. First place county winners go on to state competition. Other winners are pictured on pages 9 & 14.

Of course we have almost every bomb you can think of, Cobalt, Athium, Neutron and even old style hydrogen bombs. But they've got the same thing, probably more.

Then we've got our crazy little man in Africa ready to push the button at any time whenever it strikes his fancy.

World War III is coming pretty fast. And you can be sure we'll all be gone by the year 2000. The future is dim.

Chief Halftown Visits

On October 24 several classes at Lake Forest South were entertained by an Indian visitor, Chief Halftown.

A number of fifth graders wrote about the experience. Some of their stories are included below:

By Mike McColley

When Chief Halftown visited us October 24, he showed us some wampum over one hundred years old. He said that the Indians wouldn't make a speech unless he had it on. He even had a buckskin pouch that the Indian Chief used on long journeys to take arrow heads so he could have them if he needed them.

He sang two Indian songs. One was one for good luck and one for fun. The teachers even sang the second song. He showed sing language to us. He told us what it meant. We had a good time.

By Nancy Fleming

Chief Halftown came to Lake Forest South Elementary School Oct. 24, 1977. He talked about the ways of the Indians. Also Chief Halftown said they only wear their headress only wear their headress, vest, half skirt and necklace on special occasions. Well I say that Chief Halftown is really a great singer and a great Indian. He sang a song that brings good luck and he sang a song that will put a smile on your face. They he sang 10 Little Indians. Last but not least he sang Old MacDonald Had a Farm.

Then he showed us a 10 year old Indian doll. He never goes any place without it. He also showed us old eagle feathers.

Chief Halftown also goes to Europe, any place around the world. Then he showed us a necklace made out of bear claws.

By Rebecca Brown

Chief Halftown is a full-blooded Seneca. On October 24 he visited the fifth and sixth grades of Lake Forest South. He showed us a few artifacts over one hundred years old. Chief Halftown sang a few songs that had been handed down for thousands of years. He sang them in the language that the Senecas speak so we could not understand him.

By Robert Lee Kopp Jr.

Chief Halftown came to visit Lake Forest Elementary South. He was very funny. He showed the Indian fan that was made out of an eagle wing. He showed a necklace made out of bear claw and he is different. He's not different. He's one of us.

By Beth Keed

On Oct. 24th, 1977, Chief Halftown visited Lake Forest South Elementary School. We had lots of fun. Every time he would say something to us, he would pat a funny us, he would put a funny wha wha whaaa at the end of his sentence. Of course, we would all laugh because it was funny.

Then he taught us how to say "I am happy to be with you" in sign language. I'm sure almost every student in the school was practicing it all day long.

He said he would sing us some songs and if we knew them to sing along.

Now to explain Chief Halftown is not easy. He's an Indian and is not really different at all. Just because he's a different color doesn't mean

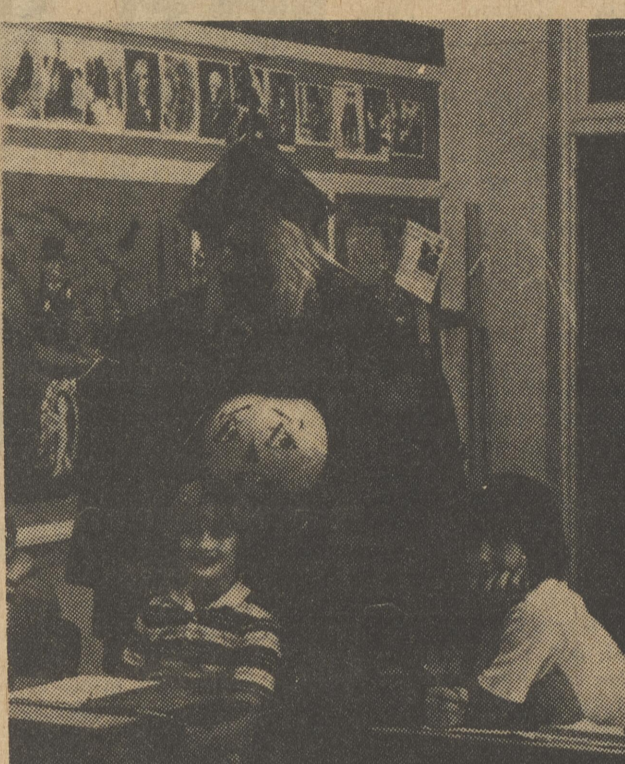

he is different. He's not different. He's one of us.

By Elizabeth Watkinson

When Chief Halftown came to our school, Lake Forest, he showed a necklace made out of bear claws. He showed us a doll that his Indian friend made. The doll was dressed like the Indian wives dressed. It had two braided pigtails, and a long skirt. He even showed us some hand language. Chief Halftown said that he had a TV show on Saturday. He has been on the TV program for 28 years.

the afternoon. The apples were provided through the afternoon class which took a trip to Fifer Farms. Both classes got to make applesauce. Mrs. Evelyn Winebrenner [not shown] serves as aide for the classes.

You always knew this was one of your teachers. The problem was - which one? The identity crisis was solved on October 28 (Odd Day at Lake Forest South) when Witch Hazel, alias Miss Sharon Lynch, flitted about the halls. Witch Hazel, who claims to have been born about 1865, says her true identity is only revealed at certain times of the year. Most days she looks like an ordinary teacher. Other strange identities were uncovered as fifth and sixth grade students and their teachers took part in the day's fun.

Geese And Students Flock To Bombay Hook

November marks the high point in the arrival of ducks, canada geese, snow geese and other waterfowl at Bombay Hook on what has become a major stop-over their long migratoris journey. It is also the height of the visiting season for those who wish to catch sight of the wildfowl on their way. On Thursday November 1, three third grade classes from Lake Forest South Traveled to Bombay Hook to take advantage of the presence of so seasoned visitors. On the way back by bus they were treated to a ride through Amish Country West of Dover.

Several stories written by students in Mrs. Stempien's room give some details and impression of the day.

Lois Kay Baker

On the Bus it was kind of boring. When we got there it was not what I thought it was like. When we saw all those geese, I said: I wish I could take a picture of them. When we got back to head quarters, We talked to a Ranger. I was going to take a picture of him but there was too many people in the way. Then we had lunch. We almost had bugs for lunch. (because there was so many bugs!) After lunch we went on nature trails and I took a few pictures of Bombay Hook Wild Life Refuge.

Michele Zdranski

When I went on my trip yesterday I saw a lot of ducks, geese and goose. I seen dikes that opened and shut for water to go in when too much water was on the other side of the pond and they had to let some of it out. Or the dikes were used for when they didn't have enough rain so they took some of the water from the other side and put it on the opposite side. We went on a nature trail and walked on boardwalks. Some of them were small and some were long. I liked it at Bombay Hook because we asked questions and then our guide answered our questions and I asked him three questions. I forget what they are. We each had a chaperone to walk with. My chaperone was Mrs. Wroter. She has me and Teresa.

Darrin Simpson

Our trip to Bombay Hook. We took a trip to Bombay Hook. We saw fields and fields of geese.

When we got back to headquarters we left. Miss Raymond talked about people did not believe in cars and electricity. They rode buggies with horses. The horses pulled the buggies and we saw them. Sapp can't go on the trip with us. I had fun on our trip to Bombay Hook.

Anna Levers

When we got to Bombay Hook we saw almost 15,000 geese. And we saw a flock of snowgeese and ducks. The rocks I picked up while we were walking

Jr. Journal Starts Year

The W.T. Chipman student newspaper, the Jr. Journal started the 1977-78 school year with the November issue and the announcement of a historic last.

According to the paper, this would be the last time anyone could buy the Jr. Journal for a nickel. Costs of paper, electricity and labor would force up the price of the next issue. The amount of the price hike was not announced. The Jr. Journal is published once a month by the Newspaper Club.

Officers Attend Workshop

The W. T. Chipman Executive Council of the Student Council and their advisor Mr. Workman spent Thursday, October 20th, at the Fall Officers Training Conference held in the Sheraton Inn, Dover. The Conference was sponsored by the Delaware Association of Student Councils, Middle School Division. State Student Council Leaders, both student and adult, provided assistance to the conference participants in the 5 primary areas of concern to an active and growing student council.

The 5 areas were: Administration, Communication, Student Voice, Activities and a Newsletter. Each delegate to the conference was rotated through the 5 seminars. An informative and enjoyable day was had by all the students. This was a time to interact with other student council members from the entire state. This time of idea sharing and development is one important part in the educational growth and maturation of the W. T. Chipman School students.

year is Mr. Docherty and Manager is Mr. Vansant. Just wait till next year.

By Donna Blessing

The W. T. Chipman Field Hockey Team ended their season with a 2-3-3 record. The season started on October 4 with a 1-1 tie against Selbyville. On Oct. 6 we were defeated by Laurel 6-0 but we came back on the 11th winning over Caesar Rodney 2-3. On the 13th we won again over Seaford, this time 1-2. On the 20th Chipman and Selbyville battled to a scoreless tie. The 25th brought defeat when we lost to Laurel 5-0. On the 27th we tied Caesar Rodney 2-2. The last game of the season ended in defeat when we lost to Seaford Nov. 1. The score was 3-1. You had a good season and good luck next year.

Football ..

W.T. Chipman football team has done very well for themselves because this is only their second year playing. Last year their record was 1-3-1. This year they are 0-2-1 led by Quarterback Billy Scott and halfback Dale Benson. Their coach this when we got to the boardwalk the rocks sank in the water. We went on a tower and we went to talk to the ranger we asked about things. After that we had lunch We walked through trees we saw seeds that animals were eating. We were in different groups. I was with Brian, Derek, Darrin, and Carol. We got back at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Stempien read a story and Mrs. Sapp can't on the trip with us. I had fun on our trip to Bombay Hook.

Gab Fest

By Pat Hatfield

When we heard about all the snow blizzards in many of the states we thought our own temperature would change quickly, but this morning the thermometer outside the kitchen door still says sixty degrees, the mockingbird is singing and the roses are blooming. Surely the cold will come shortly. I find it hard to believe that Thanksgiving is almost here and Christmas coming hard upon its heels.

The children are already Christmas-minded and sit, poring over the catalogs, planning what to ask for. Of course, small Garth is in this, too, and she wants everything she sees. Teddy was quite disturbed about this and came into the kitchen asking if she was going to get all she's asking for. We hastened to explain to him that he, too, was like that at three years old and that when Christmas morning comes and you open your presents you forget all that, in the joy of what you have.

Our Christmas shopping has to be sandwiched in with all the other autumn activities. We did get the Hot Dog Relish made yesterday, and, like most other tasks, it was much easier in doing than in anticipating. Anna, a dear, kind friend, had left-over red and green peppers still in her garden and she gladly shared them with us. We got everything into the salt brine by noon and then went over to the luncheon at The Lord's Open House. When we came back in the afternoon, we finished it up, fourteen pints of it. Now if we can just find some cucumbers, we'll make Bread and Butter Pickles.

Being pickle-minded yesterday made me think of something my "Aunt Em Martin" used to make when I was a little girl. They were called Stuffed Peppers. You cut the top off the green pepper, cleaned them and filled them with a mixture of ground cabbage and spices. I think perhaps there might have been horseradish and onion, too. After stuffing the peppers they tied the "lid" on with string and then they were put down into a stone crock into some kind of vinegar solution and kept to be used all winter. I wonder if anyone does these now?

There are the special oyster months with the "R", although modern freezer methods have given us oysters the year round. I came across a clipping in my scrap book the other day by George Wither, year 1641, thus: What can be more foolish than to think all this rare fabric of heaven and earth could come by chance, when all the skill of art is not able to make an oyster! All very true and this could apply to many other marvelous things in our world.

What do people do when they do not care for reading? All my life I have been a reader. As a child they could always find me curled up in a corner with a book. Now I read between household tasks (sometimes when I shouldn't take the time) and I read to relax me in the evenings, and I read to enrich my life.

Last night I was reading an article from a home-maker in Virginia and she, too, loves the little things. She first quoted from the Bible, Phillipians 4:8. "Whatever things are lovely...think on these things." And she gives us a list of some things she loves: "Brown crusty loaves of bread, freshly baked, a planter of scarlet petunias, sparkling windows that frame our farm scene, four small heads bowed in prayer." She goes on to say, "Being short on leisure and luxury, I have learned to look for the small things. The milking chores that are so distasteful to some women are a joy to me. I hear a meadowlark trill on my way to a barnful of contented cows. I scrub the utensils under the owl-like scrutiny of several cats lined up on the windowsill! Outside the door a duck smugly fluffs her feathers, well knowing I cannot find out where she hid her nest."

There is more to tell, but I daresay I've used my space. People ask me how do I find things to write about. Well, the only trouble with Gabby old Me is finding a place to stop!

Kent County Emergency Food And Fuel Fund

The Kent County Emergency Food and Fuel Fund, which has existed now for 4 years and has distributed more than $150,000 in cash and food stuffs, is making an effort again this year during the months of November and December to restock our food pantries, our clothing closets and our treasury.

A brief word of history of this group for those who are not familiar with what the group has done since its beginning in 1974: The organization was formed in November 1974 as a result of a pressing economic need that was forcing many people who had never before sought help, to do so, because they were financially burdened with fuel costs, as well as necessary food and clothing. We have helped thousands of persons, working through Catholic Social Services and the State Division of Social Services, who interview and screen all those who ask for help to determine the need.

We are having a food drive November 17, 18 and 19 to restock three food Pantries in the Dover area.

One serves the Harrington Felton area and another serves the Clayton-Smyrna area. With the help of local churches we will have people stationed in front of the major food stores in Dover, Harrington and Smyrna collecting food and money from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday - November 17, 18, and 19th.

Please join us in this community effort. If you miss us at the food stores you can send your contribution to "Kent County Emergency Food and Fuel Fund", Box 913, Dover, DE 19901.

Harriers End Henlopen Schedule Unbeaten

Jim Blade's thinning harrier ranks managed to "hang in there" long enough to record a second straight unbeaten Henlopen Conference dual meet slate. The Spartans defeated Laurel by a 21-33 score at Laurel on Thursday, Nov. 3, to finish 8-0 in League competition.

Of the seven cross-country runners who gave Lake Forest a victory in the season opening Lake Forest Invitational in September only three were left in good enough shape to have any bearing on the Laurel result. These three, Danny Parker, Louis Thomas and first year runner Joe Custis, finished 1, 2, 3, to guarantee a Lake Forest victory.

Parker set another course record racing 2.7 miles in 13.31. Thomas and Custis ran 14.13 and 14.18 respectively. Custis, a natural runner, has helped this team greatly in a year of unparalleled misfortune in the area of injury and illness.

David Richter and Billy Mitchell who were running in the top four locals early in the season are apparently on the sidelines for the rest of the year. Wilson Fry, way below par for most of this autumn, had more bad luck at Laurel as he turned an ankle and did not finish.

Kelly Woodward, a senior, was seventh followed by a pair of surging sophomores, Doug Caskey and Randy Ramirez, who have now earned their varsity letters. Coach Blades is counting on these two to play an important part on the 1978 team which appears to be another strong combine. Thomas, Fry, Mitchell, Custis are returning along with Craig Fry and seven others, plus several strong contenders from the unbeaten Chipman team, including Maurice Coverdale, Doug Stephens, Bob Aycoth, Mike Bishop, Albert Burns and Sherry Colburn. Coach Blades has a gaudy 50-5 dual meet record at Lake Forest which is probably the best in the state over the corresponding period of time, not to mention the many great performances in multi-team invitationals, plus conference and state meets.

The Spartan harriers, unlike most local scholastic teams, are not restricted to competing exclusively in Kent and Sussex counties. In recent years, the cross-country runners have competed in New Jersey, New York City, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Salisbury, Washington College, Chestertown, Md., plus many outings in the Newark and Wilmington areas. The locals have beaten many teams from a dozen Eastern States, including a number of squads from the large Eastern cities. There is really nothing like these unique kids in local scholastic sports history, it says here.

Mark Smith, Lake Forest sophomore No. 18, was also a standout player on defense against the Falcons last Friday. Above, Smith makes a possible game saving tackle against the Dover Air quarterback near the end of the game. Smith also intercepted a pass in the Falcons' first drive which led to a Lake Forest touchdown.

Parker Finishes 3rd In State Meet

Danny Parker, Lake Forest's star cross-country runner, was a third place finisher in the Delaware High School Cross Country Championships, held at Brandywine Creek State Park, last week.

After four consecutive Group II championships Lake Forest's enrollment is now large enough to place the locals in Group I, the large school division. Chronically, this happened in a steady siege of illness, that lasted throughout the campaign. At full strength, the locals would have finished high in the Group I race, instead of their eventual seventh place finish, in a 15 team competition.

Parker had beaten Christiana's Wade Thorpe, earlier this year, in Salisbury and had also turned in a better effort, than did this year's state champion, on another neutral course in the Hereford Invitational, at Parkton, Md. But Thorpe had the upper hand this time, on a layout undoubtedly much more familiar to him than to the downstater. The Spartan further demonstrated his ability by again outrunning Chris Delmonte of St. Marks, the 1976 Group I state titlist, who was fourth.

Louis Thomas was 25th of the 135 runners competing. Wilson Fry and Bill Mitchell, two of Coach Jim Blades' running wounded, did a good job, along with seniors Tom Ott and Kelly Woodward running their last Cross-Country race.

Lake Forest did very well in the jayvee test coming in third, behind Salesianum and St. Marks. This is very encouraging for next year's Spartan team.

Doug Caskey was the first Spartan to finish, clocking 18.05 for the rugged, near-three miles course.

Eighth grader Maurice "Reese Cup" Coverdale, the No.1 Chipman runner, beat most of the older junior varsity runners coming in 15th of over 200 runners, in 18.10. Pete Fraley, Craig Fry, Randy Ramirez, Eugene Butler and Dale Jarrell were only 25 seconds apart. Only Fraley and Butler will not return from this group. John Veith, Sam Lammier, John Green, Allan Butler and Bruce Humphrey are all freshmen, who may run for three more years.

Derrick Chodkiewicz, a tough runner on hilly courses was the second Chipman finisher, with Robbie Manaraze one second back, followed by Mike Bishop. Other Chipman harriers doing well were: Jerry Mosley, Dave Emory, John Layton, Chris Caskey, Dan Green, Albert Burns, Allan Buckley, Tom Silkworth, Sherry Colburn, Ken Kline, Joe Fournier, Mike Grogan, Larry Gussford, Dave Weber, Melissa Lewis, Karen Warrington, Tony Scott, Herb Hertzberg and Elaine Grant.

Spartans In State Open

state in the annual Delaware State Open Cross-Country Championships, held at Rockford Park's 2.1 miles course on Saturday.

The result was a draw. With six trophies up for grabs in the 12- and under, and 13-15 divisions, this school district captured three of them.

John Layton and Robbie Manaraze were second and third in the 12- and under division. Bill Mitchell, still not up to par, after a recent illness was third in 12.15, after running second in the same race last year. Healthy, he could have been the winner.

Maurice Coverdale, 14, was fifth in an excellent Prizes will include turkeys, 12.31. Randy Ramirez and Doug Caskey were eighth and ninth, breaking 13 minutes. Craig Fry was 10th.

Derrick Chodkiewicz and Jerry Mosley were fourth and fifth, behind Layton and Manaraze, in the 21-entry, 12-and-under division. Brian Barthlow, 9, was eighth. Mike Bishop did a good job in the 13-15 event.

Next Saturday there will be a similar series of races at Killens Pond State Park, sponsored by the Kent County Department of Parks and Recreation.

Events will be held for every age group and for both sexes. Tentative age classifications are 9-and-under, 10-11-12, 13-15, 16-24, 24 and over. Distances are 2 and 4 miles. Prizes will include turkeys, patches, and T-shirts.

Facts & Figures On Smoking

1 Who smokes and how much do they smoke? In 1970, a statistical breakdown of the smoking population in the U.S., based on population figures over age 17 of 59,000,000 men and 65,000,000 women shows 43 percent of men smoked; 31 percent of women smoked.

Twenty six percent of the above survey of males smoked more than a pack a day compared to only 18 percent of the women.

2. Health consequences of smoking. Medical findings have noted that cigarette smoking blocks the filtering activity of the lungs' air sacs, thus permitting cancer-causing materials to collect.

Drives up the level of fatty acids on one's blood that may cause the deposit of artery-clogging plaques. The action of nicotine restricts the blood vessels and breathing movements of unborn babies in women who smoke, while carbon monoxide reduces the oxygen level of their blood.

This hinders normal growth so the babies of smoking women weigh an average of six ounces less at birth than those of non-smoking women.

3. Death Rate And Risks. The death rates of smokers and non-smokers is convincing proof of the health hazards of smoking. Smokers die younger than non-smokers.

Callahan Speaks At Fram Conference

PROVIDENCE, R.I.—Mark C. "Curt" Callahan, Jr., Sales Manager of Wharton & Barnard, Inc. in Milford, was a major speaker and sales training participant at the national conference held by Fram Corporation at the Doral

Hotel in Miami Beach, Florida. Callahan addressed the 300-person Farm sales force on techniques of good salesmanship. His speech, which focused on how to sell automotive parts to warehouse distributors, was based on more than 35 years' experience in the industry.

Callahan also participated in a "Process Discovery" program which made innovative use of closed circuit television as a sales training aid.

Five sales presentations were made to Callahan, who acted the role of automotive buyer. Each presentation was recorded on videotape and was viewed simultaneously by members of the participating zone on a TV monitor. After the taping, Callahan and a panel of three other judges rated each presentation according to a points system. The winner named by Callahan and his co-judges was Robert E. Hardesty of Marietta, Georgia.

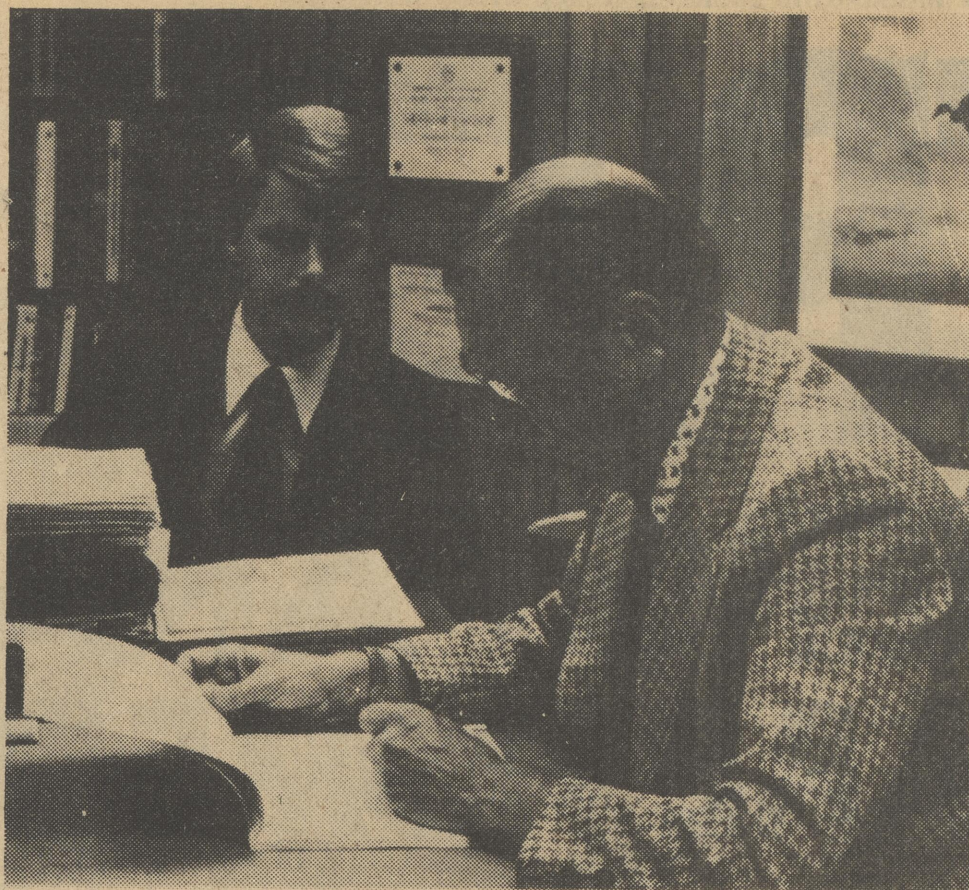

Right-To-Read Council Meeting Set

The first meeting of the Woodbridge School District's Right-to-Read Parent Advisory Council will be held in the reading resource center at the Bridgeville Elementary School at 2:00 p.m. on Tuesday, November 22, 1977.

Since the Right-to-Read Program is designed to improve the reading achievement of all children in the district, parents of any child in grades readiness through grade six are invited to attend this meeting. Information concerning the district's Right-to-Read Project which has been approved for the 1977-78 school year and copies of the proposal will be disseminated to parents who attend this meeting. Parents are encouraged to offer suggestions for the Right-to-Read program that could be incorporated into a proposal that would be submitted to the United States Office of Education for next year.

Since Right-to-Read funds are granted on a year-to-year basis, there is no guarantee that the Woodbridge School District's project will be funded next year. The United States Office of Education has informed the district that next year only half as many projects will be funded as were funded this year; therefore, it is extremely important that a considerable amount of planning go into developing a proposal for next year.

Parents, members of the Board of Education, Parent/Teacher Association members, and members of civic organizations are invited to attend this meeting. Refreshments will be served at the meeting.

Airman John P. Parker Jr., whose father is U.S. Air Force Chief Master Sergeant Richard J. Parker of 8 East Lane, Willingboro, N.J., has been assigned to Lowry AFB, Colo., after completing Air Force basic training. During the six weeks at Lackland AFB, Tex., the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations. Completion of this training earned the individual credits towards an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Airman Parker will now receive specialized training in the munitions and weapons maintenance field. The airman, a 1974 graduate of Northern Burlington High School, Columbus, N.J., attended Burlington County College, Pemberton, N.J. His mother, Mrs. Delores Parker resides at 175 Holley Drive, Frederica.

Volunteers Needed To Help Teachers

The Woodbridge School District is trying to recruit a group of parents who are willing to provide volunteer services to teachers and children in our district. Parents and members of the community who volunteer will be given training by personnel from the Department of Public Instruction and the district's reading supervisor. Volunteers will make materials for classroom teachers to use with the children and in some instances work with individual or small groups of children.

Any one who is willing to devote a half day twice a month to work as a volunteer is asked to contact Marie Shockley, Reading Supervisor, at 337-7600 or Mrs. Jane Clifton at 337-7793. As soon as we have a list of parents who are willing to participate in the volunteer program, an introductory meeting will be scheduled. We need as many parents as possible; so if you are willing to devote a portion of your time helping the teachers and the children in the district, please contact either Ms. Shockley or Mrs. Clifton. WE NEED YOUR HELP!!

In Delaware alone last year $750,000 worth of surplus goods were procured by state agencies. Delaware is extremely dependent on its volunteer fire fighters, who estimate that 25 percent of the equipment they use is from the Property Disposal Office. Countless trucks, generators and other equipment from the Surplus Property Office are in service throughout the state, many serving as a back-up to services at Dover Air Force Base.

The Defense Department has made the right decision in determining that the Surplus Property Office in Dover should continue operating.

Chance For .500 Season

Moore Leads Romp

The Lake Forest football team for the first time in a few years has the chance to finish at a .500 mark for the season. They can do so with a victory at Milford this Friday.

the annual "Battle of the Bell". The winner of the game receives an old train bell from a train that used to travel between Milford and Harrington.

Last Friday the Spartans raised their record to 3-4-2 on the season as they knocked off Dover Air 14-6. The victory not only was a big one for the Spartans but also virtually ended any hopes that Dover Air had of making the state tournament.

Lake Forest wasted no time getting on the scoreboard as sophomore defensive back Mark Smith made a diving interception of a Chris Marlowe pass. The Falcon defense looked tough as they drove the Spartans back eight yards on the first two plays but on third down an apparent incompleteness by quarterback Greg Shortell turned out to be a big first down as Dover Air was called for pass interference. The Spartans leading scorer of the season Orlando Burris then went in from six yards out to put the Spartans ahead six to nothing. Bill Moore's extra point kick was blocked and the score stayed 6-0.

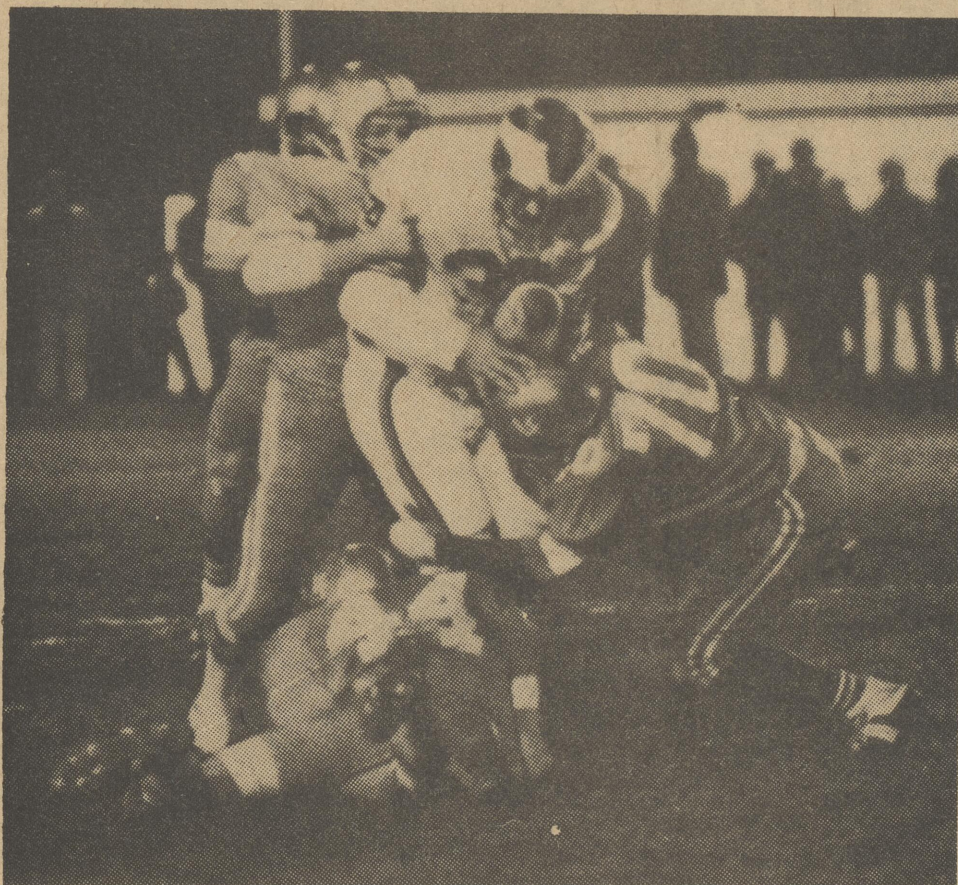

After the Falcons tied the score the Spartans wasted little time taking the lead back as on the ensuing kickoff Moore romped 65 yards for the touchdown. Orlando Burris then took the ball in for the two point conversion accounting for the final 14-6 score.

Moore was a standout for the Spartans all night on both offense and defense. Several times Moore was hit for no gain as he carried the ball but somehow managed to break through for sizeable gains. On defense Moore intercepted two passes and once again was one of the leading tacklers of the night.

This Friday the Spartans travel to Milford for their final game of the season in

. . . on Defense

Moore was a standout not only on offense but also on defense as, above, he, Eugene McBride and Mark Smith tackle a Dover Air ball carrier.

Congratulations and good wishes go to our friends, Faye and Bill Seibert, who have opened the Railroad Station Antique Shop. The community is indeed proud to have this old landmark so beautifully restored.

Report from Hickory Ridge Congregational Methodist Church: Several visitors were present at our Sunday morning service which we were happy to welcome along with everyone else.

The covered dish supper on Saturday evening was well attended (an estimated 70 or more) and enjoyed by all. It is amazing how such a wide variety of food is brought in without being planned, and all so delicious. We also appreciate Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Adams and Elwood Graebuer providing music for our enjoyment and having this time to fellowship with each other.

Following the Ladies Bible Study at the pastor's home on Tuesday, Nadine had some nice surprises awaiting her. Since it was her birthday, they had called a few others and planned a little birthday party. Thank you all for your love, your cards, gifts and prayers.

We're glad that Suzanne Jones, Edna Sharp and "Buff" Taylor have all returned home from the hospital. Tammy Lindsay had an emergency appendectomy Tuesday night at Nanticoke Hospital.

On November 19, beginning at 10 a.m. the WMS of Hickory Ridge Church will hold a Bake Sale in front of Reynolds Store. The proceeds will go toward the carpeting.

Greenwood Kiwanis Report: The second monthly meeting of Greenwood Kiwanis was held in the Fire Hall Thursday evening with nineteen members attending.

President John Lyons conducted the meeting and after dispensing past and future business, he introduced secretary, Charles Parks who was Program Chairman. He, in turn, introduced the speaker for the evening, Laurence Bell, Supervisor of the Harvest Center in Laurel. Mr. Bell, with his assistant, Mabel Savage, conducted a slide program with commentary on how and why the Harvest Program came into being.

Mrs. Flora Snyder is much improved from her recent bout with viral pneumonia and hopes to be out again soon.

Cheer Center News: Week of Nov. 7-11: Don't forget to come in for our Mini Bazaar on Monday, Nov. 21, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. If you want to stay for lunch, call 349-5237.

The Public Health Nurse will again be with us on Monday, Nov. 21. This is a free service, so please take advantage of it. She comes at 11 a.m. So don't be late.

Our November birthday party and Thanksgiving dinner will be on November 23 at the Center. Wouldn't you like to join us? Just call our number.

The Center will be closed on Thursday and Friday, Nov. 24 and 25.

We are looking forward to visiting the Georgetown Center on November 29, Tuesday. The Greenwood Center will be closed that day.

We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. George Abraham, John McCullough and Linda Spicer as visitors this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Abraham left for home on Sunday, November 13, but they plan to return to us during the Christmas holidays.

It was a pleasure to welcome back Edna Short and Anna Elliott this week.

It is for the purpose of the canning of foods at a reasonable price to help people cut their food budget and to advise and help them in the preparation of nutritional and low cost foods.

There was a question and answer seminar in which many members were involved. The meeting was closed with a round of applause for a program well presented.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peters and family were recent Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Holcomb of Union Bridge, Md.

Week of Nov. 9

The Center wishes to welcome home our hospitalized members: Mrs. Gertrude Wheaton, Mrs. Anna Elliott and Edna Sharp.

Happy birthday greetings are extended to the Rev. James Doughten, Bootsie Sipple (our fast driver) Elmer Trice and John Dickerson.

Mrs. Belle Allen joined Mrs. Mary Armour on Sunday for lunch at the Thomas England House in Smyrna.

On Saturday, Nov. 5, Mrs. Beatrice Horner and Mrs. Belle Allen had luncheon at the Yacht Club in Cambridge with Mrs. Bess Orem.

On Sunday, Pam and Patti McCreary enjoyed a visit with their aunt, Mrs. Vivian Cahall of Church Hill, Md.

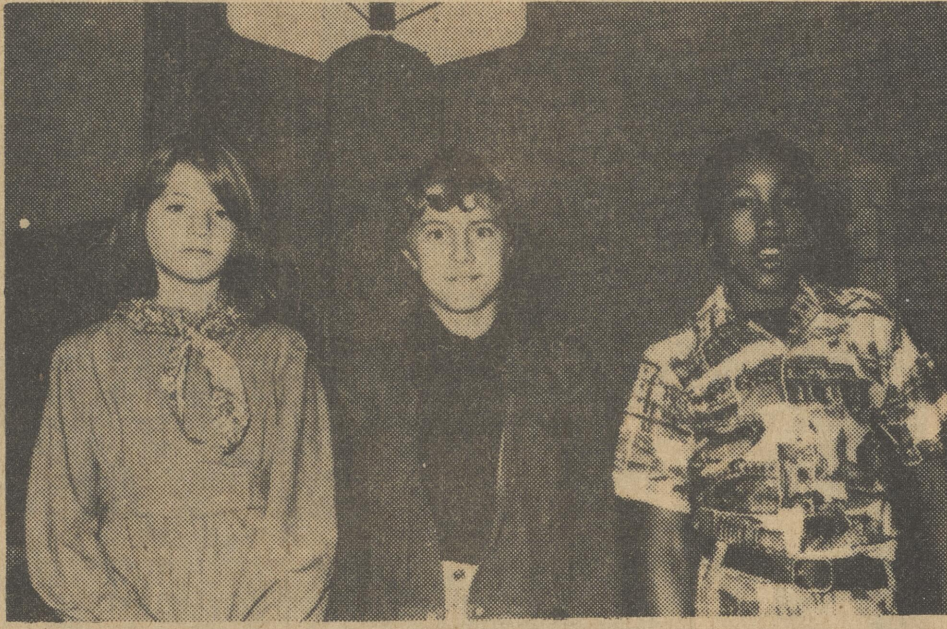

The Youth Group from Greenwood United Methodist Church and some of their friends, 40 in all, enjoyed a hayride on Saturday evening. They ended up at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott where they enjoyed games and also a weiner roast.

On October 23, Jennifer Shahadi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shahadi, celebrated her 4th birthday which fell on Oct. 21. Those who were present to help celebrate were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Assad Shahadi and children of Boothwyn, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. William Steeley of Oak Hill, Wilmington; aunts, uncles and cousins as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Shahadi and children of Aston, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. George Shahadi of Boothwyn, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lepore of New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. William Steeley Jr. of Blades, and Don Ferniger of Ardencraft; her two cousins were not able to come, Sheryl and Donna Ferniger because of chicken pox. A ham dinner was served followed by cake and ice cream.

Woodbridge Toy Drive

The Woodbridge High School Key Club will be sponsoring a Christmas toy drive beginning on Saturday, November 19, and lasting throughout the Christmas season. The toy drive is starting in conjunction with National Key Club Week which is November 13-19.

Key Club members will be collecting the toys door to door Saturday morning and afternoon on November 19 in Bridgeville and Greenwood. Residents are asked to have their toy donations ready to be collected.

Also, collection boxes will be located at the Woodbridge High School, Union United Methodist Church in Bridgeville, and Greenwood United Methodist Church in Greenwood. Any toy or game suitable for children would be appreciated. The toys will be given to needy children of the Woodbridge School District who otherwise might not receive a Christmas gift.

The club under the direction of President Mike Sipple, secretary Greg Rowe, vice-president Landy Correll, and treasurer Dennis Lockerman will be assisting its parent organization, the Bridgeville Kiwanis Club, in installing the two Christmas lights on Saturday, November 26. The club's major project for December will be the painting of the boys' locker room at the High School. The Key Club will provide the paint and the manpower.

4-H News

By Mike Everline
The November meeting of the Harrington Sunshine 4-H found the club very busy planning activities for the upcoming months. Reports were given on the Achievement Banquet, favors for Nursing Homes, flower beds and entries for the Public Speaking Contest which members have been busy preparing for.

Health reports were given on "Burns" by Melinda Larimore and "Smoking" by Kelly Ryan. Dale Jarrell gave a safety report titled "A Safe Medicine Cabinet." Upcoming events that members are preparing for are Public Speaking, Operation Reindeer, Christmas Parade, Thanksgiving favors and a project dealing with the food pantry service.

Doug Crouse attended a NEPPCO convention Nov. 13-15. He gave an egg-food demonstration representing Delaware.

The club is selling calendars to raise money for other activities during the year. Demonstrations were given by Kirk Ryan and Ruby Moran. Refreshments were served by Laura Anderson, Dale Jarrell and Sandy Testerman.

Bridgeville Second Annual Christmas

The Second Annual Christmas in Bridgeville has been scheduled for Saturday, December 3, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The event, sponsored by the Bridgeville Historical Society, again will be staged in the Fellowship Hall of the Union United Methodist Church. Mrs. Daniel P. Jones is this year's General Chairman. A country store and craft booths will be located in the Fellowship Hall. Homemade and hand crafted gift items will be on sale, along with baked goods, poinsettias, apple products, ceramics and Christmas greenery. Mr. & Mrs. Lawrence Melson are heading this phase of the project.

A soup luncheon will be available at St. Mary's Episcopal Church from 11:30 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. under the direction of Mrs. Joseph H. Evans. Tickets are priced at $2.50 per person.

An antique chess table, valued at over $400.00, donated by Five Points Antiques and a beautiful large hand made quilt will be handed-off at the conclusion of the day's activities. These items are on public display in the lobby of the Baltimore Trust Company building on Market Street in Bridgeville. Mrs. Thurman Adams, Jr. is Chairman of this committee.

The Christmas Home Tour will commence at 10 a.m. and continue until 2:00 p.m. Tickets may be purchased for $3.50 each at the Fellowship Hall.

Bridgeville homes open for this year's tour are those of Mr. & Mrs. LeRoy D. Holland, Mr. & Mrs. Victor E. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Rider, Mr. & Mrs. F. Joseph Willey and Mr. Thurman W. Adams. Added to the tour this year are St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Union United Methodist Church, which will feature a large "Chrismson" tree with hand made decorations, and the old Fire House. This building, dating back to 1911, was purchased early this year by the Historical Society and has been undergoing

Pit Chatter

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

The 1977 Dixie 500 at Atlanta Georgia is of course now history, but during the many interruptions due to rain our correspondent Bryant McMurray was able to get some candid comments and opinions from many of the top runners.

Donnie Allison: "It was as plain as the nose on your face. James (Hylton) took me high. I thought James would let me go since we got the white flag, but he just carried me out of the park. When he did Darrell ducked under me and here came Cale. I figured I had the fastest car here. I got behind at the first of the race when I came down pit road and the car started bottoming out on me. I hit so hard that the left fender bent the hood. That's where all the smoke was coming from, the tire rubbing against the fender."

David Pearson: "It was too wet to restart the race. Bobby Allison told them that. I did too. It was too wet on the bottom and on the top of the track. I don't think they realize we had those dark windows in the car. Man it was dark out there. Too Dark. But they did restart the race and I lost. I thought I had it won at one time. I guess you can see how fast those Chevys are now."

Richard Petty: "Man it got exciting at the end didn't it? All I can say is this, I think this proves a point that if and when those Chevrolets want to take off and leave us, they can. If there is any doubt in anyone's mind, it was plain as the nose on your face today. They have the horses. If I can mess around with the chassis a while I can run with them for a while. But, when it comes down to plain old horsepower, they have it on us. When they red flagged the race because of the rain, I had a flat tire. I guess I'm lucky they stopped it. I think everyone thought I was losing the car coming off the fourth turn, but I wasn't. I had a flat tire and I almost spun Cale out once."

Sam Sommers: "We cracked a head and tried our best to patch it. But, it would get hot and start running hot. We sealed it twice, but the same thing happened, it run hot again."

Cale Yarborough: "Donnie got too high. I don't know why. Maybe another car forced him too high. But the opportunity was there. Darrell (Waltrip) ducked under Donnie and all I tried to do was follow Darrell."

"Donnie got sideways and drove down into me. It was the last lap. We were all trying to win. That's what we came here for. That's why we race."

"Really, I thought it was probably too dark and too damp, but when you come to race, then what you're thinking about is going under that checkered flag first."

Donnie Allison: (during rain break) "Sure, it's nice to win the $10,000 bonus, but right now I'd trade it to win the race. Winning money is why we race, but winning the race is the big deal."

Benny Parsons: "Oh, yes, I had hopes. There was just a chance that I might get lucky. But our chassis hadn't been quite right all day, and it wasn't in the final sprint. I don't mean that as an alibi, the facts are we just weren't down to that fine edge that some of the others were."

"Darkness didn't seem to be a factor, and the track didn't seem too wet to me. I don't know what happened on that wreck. All I saw was a bunch of smoke. I had a glimpse of one or more cars on the outside wall, so I steered left, and got through."

Dave Marcis: "I don't know what's wrong with the car. It kept wanting to hit the wall. We've got a lot of work to do, but I'm looking forward to it."

"We're putting together a team, and we've got a test coming up soon at Talladega. We're going to test a Buick. Hey, don't get surprised, that Buick might be the hot tip next season."

This past weekend we learned some of the changes for the 1978 Nascar season. Cale will stay with Jr. Johnson but will switch from Holley Farms to First National City Travelers Checks. King Richard Petty will switch to either Dodge Magnum or Diplomat. David Pearson, Donnie Allison, Darrell Waltrip will stay with the same terms but still haven't made the decision on what make of car they'll use.

Dave Marcus says he'll be in a Buick by Daytona. Bud Moore will probably go with a Thunder bird without Buddy Baker. Dick Brooks & Bobby Allison are the prospects to take over Buddy's ride while Baker moves to the M.C. Anderson car driven this year by Sam Sommers and Benny Parsons lost his crew chief and engine builder which of course is the heart of any crew.

Carl Rainer a Kentucky Coal mine operator seems to have taken a likin' to Lennie Pond, enough so as to try to form a new racing team for '78. If the team evolves as presently predicted J.C. Elder and Wadell Wilson late of the L G DeWitt/Benny Parson team will be recruited into their folds. The team would be housed in Charlotte N.C.

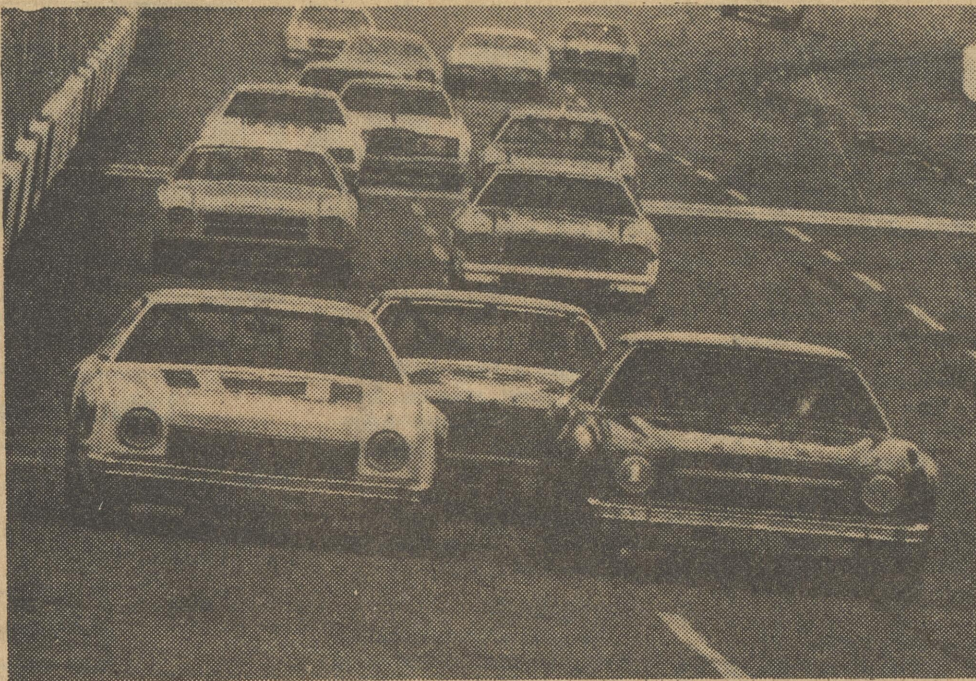

Wilson one of the most respected names in engine builders, started with the Holman Moody Team back in the days of Freddy Lorenzen and has turned out many engines for local racing celebrity Norris "Speedy" Reed of Federalburg Md. It is reported the Harry Hyde Jim Stacey are in high hopes of retaining his services for 1978.

Eldee & Wilson's employer L.G. DeWitt was in Las Vegas this week and could not be reached for comment.

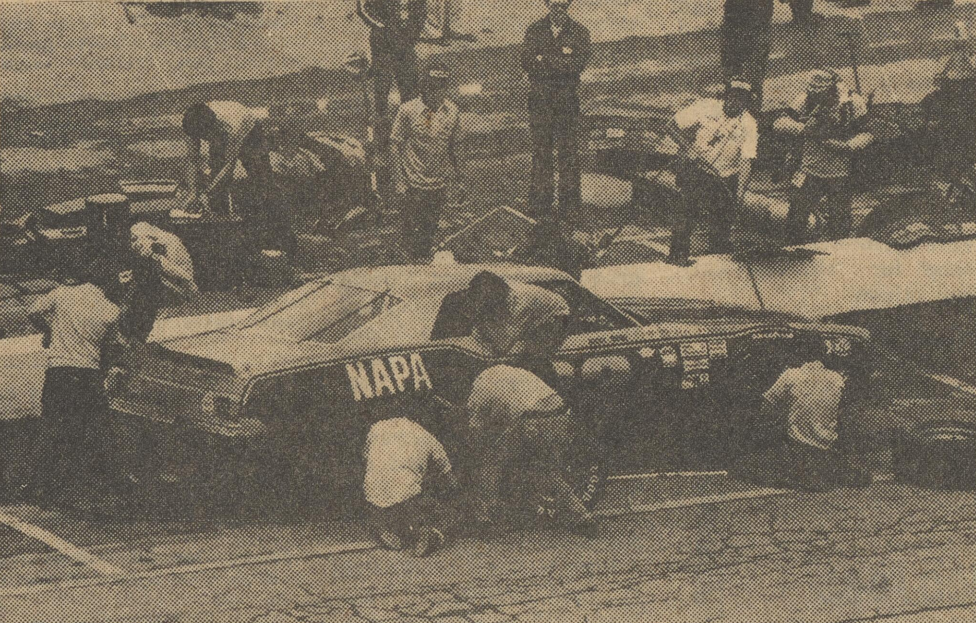

Going into this weeks Times 500 at Ontario Ca. Ricky Rudd of Chesapeake, Va. has a 7 point lead over Sam Sommers of Savannah Ga. The least little misfortune during the race could throw the rookie of the year Award into the lap of either contender.

David Pearson will be using every available edge he can muster to win the Times 500, as it is his last chance to score his 100th career win in 1977.

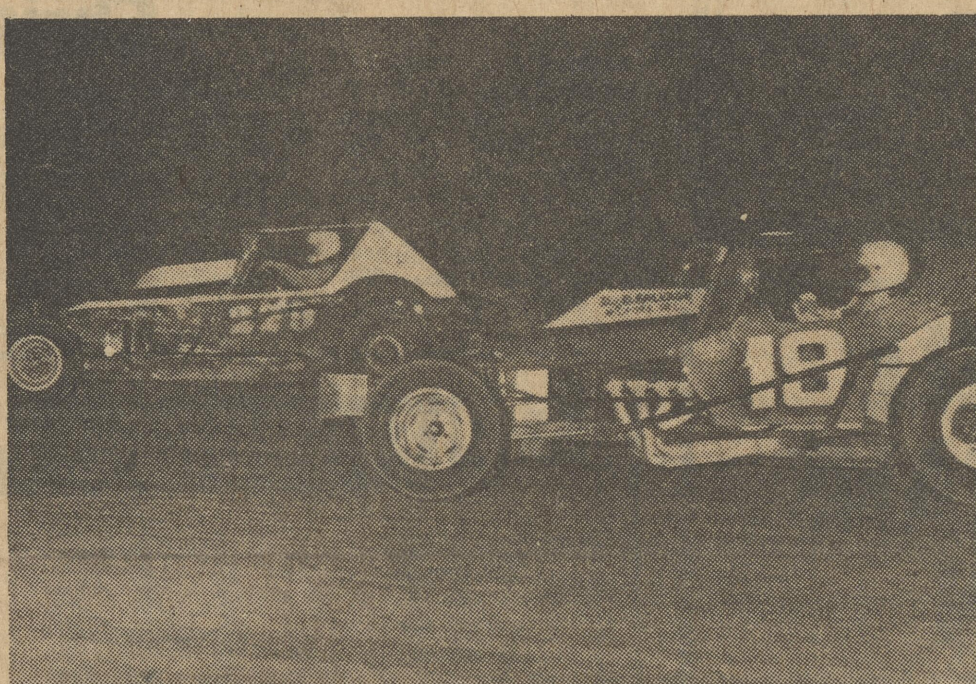

The next Grand National race is scheduled for Jan. 22, 1978 in Riverside, Ca. However between now and then at least all the current Chevrolet teams will be experimenting with other GM bodies. For example, both the week of and after Thanksgiving, many of the teams will be testing every possible sheet metal combination at the Daytona International Speedway.

NASCAR Releases Technical Specifications

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. NASCAR officials today released the technical specifications for the 1978 Winston Cup Grand National season.

Model years 1975-1978 will be eligible, continuing the policy instituted this season of making four-year models eligible for Winston Cup competition.

"We feel, after many conferences and much review, that we have come up with a set of rules that will insure the NASCAR racing in 1978 will be on the same close competitive basis that it has been, particularly in 1977 where we have had seven different winners so far," said Lin Kuchler, NASCAR executive vice president. "These rules are the result of our review of the overall competition and numerous discussions with car owners and drivers," Kuchler added.

The GM-LM1 350 engine has been approved for use in Buicks, Chevrolets, Oldsmobiles and Pontiacs. This engine can be used in 1977 approved models listed in the 1977 NASCAR Rule Book, including the specified 1978 General Motors cars. Officials also stipulated that the 1975 and 1976 Chevrolet Laguna S-3 will be required to use a Holley 4150 series carburetor with a 1 1/16" venturi and 1 7/16" throttle base opening and a NASCAR flat restrictor plate with a maximum one-inch opening. No additional modifications will be allowed on this carburetor, according to NASCAR officials.

The eligible 1978 models are: American Motors-Matador (2-door coupe); Buick-LeSabre, Electra, Riviera; Chevrolet-Impala, Caprice; Chrysler-Cordoba, LeBaron; Dodge-Diplomat, Magnum; Ford-LTD II, LTD II Brougham, Thunderbird; Mercury-Cougar; Oldsmobile-Delta 88, Delta 98; Plymouth-Fury; Pontiac-Bonneville, Catalina. Minimum wheelbase will continue to be 115 inches. NASCAR officials also noted that minimum car roof line heights will be announced as soon as 1978 car heights have been determined and they are evaluating the possibility of a standard roof line height for all cars.

ITD Offers Course In Auto Body Repair

DOVER - A seventeen-week auto body repair course will begin on Monday, November 28, 1977, offered by the Industrial Training Division of the Terry Campus of Delaware Technical and Community College, Dr. Gary Frank Petty, campus director, announced today.

The course is part of CETA-funded offerings made possible by grants from the Kent County Levy Court and the Inter-governmental Manpower Service, and is open to unemployed and underemployed Kent Countians who wish to learn a new trade to improve their earning income potential. The class will be taught in a local auto body repair center by certified instructors who will focus on topics like tools, construction, finishes and auto body adjustments. Class members will receive a certificate upon graduation from the course, and will receive aid from the Industrial Training Division in finding a job.

No experience is necessary to enroll in the course, but interested persons are requested to contact the Industrial Training Division prior to November 25 for complete information on CETA requirements, counseling, and other admissions data.

The Industrial Training Division is located at 217 Carroll's Plaza on U.S. Route 13, Dover. Contact may be made by calling 678-5428

James White Departs For Mediterranean

James P. White Jr. Navy Mess Management Specialist Seaman James P. White Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. White Sr. of Felton, recently departed for an extended deployment in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is serving as a crew-member aboard the guided missile destroyer USS Sampson, homeported in Mayport, Fla. While deployed, his ship will operate as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

The missions of the Sixth Fleet are to protect U.S. citizens, shipping and interests in the Mediterranean; to deter aggression against our Western European allies by maintaining mobile striking forces; to promote peace and stability in the Mediterranean area and to create goodwill for the United States.

During the cruise, he and his shipmates are scheduled to participate in training exercises with other Sixth Fleet units and with ships of allied nations. Additionally, port visits are scheduled in several Mediterranean coastal cities.

His ship is 437 feet long, displaces 4,500 tons and carries a crew of 354 officers and enlisted men. She is outfitted with guns, missile launchers, torpedo tubes and an antisubmarine rocket launcher.

He joined the Navy in January 1976.

Stop Smoking

The lung cancer death rate among women has increased over 600 percent since 1930, and is rising faster among women than among men.

Increased by eight times the risk of death from lung cancer among asbestos insulation workers who smoked, compared to asbestos workers who did not smoke.

4. Quitting. An ACS poll showed that among 37 percent of all adult cigarette smokers about half expressed definite interest in quitting. Stop Smoking Clinics are available through the American Cancer Society.
