Felton To Select Miss And Little Miss

The Miss, Little Miss Felton Pageant to select the 2 representatives to the Miss Del-Mar-Va Pageant, other parades and activities for the town of Felton in 1978 will be held on Jan. 14, 1978. Look for further details later in this paper. In addition to representing Felton CASH and other prizes will be awarded to the winners.

Contestants for Little Miss must be 3 years old now, and can not be 5 by June 1, 1978. All contestants must be residents of the Felton, Frederica, Viola area. Registration ends Dec. 23, 1977 (this Friday), to register, call Sue Killen, 284-9059.

The Pageant's Chairman this year is Bob Draper. We have made several changes in the pageant this year, which we think will make it much easier for the contestants and their parents. Contestants for Little Miss Felton will be expected to do a small talent presentation such as reciting a nursery rhyme etc., in addition to the other Pageantry activities. Miss Felton Contestants will be expected to do a talent presentation such as singing, dancing, pantomime, etc, and will be in a short musical number. It should be mentioned here though that they do not have to have outstanding singing or dancing abilities. The individual interviews with the judges have been eliminated this year, all questions asked will be during the pageant, as usual. This interview has been eliminated, because it became lengthy in previous years, and caused the rehearsal the night before the pageant to become very long.

For more information or to register, call Bob Draper, 335-5718, or Sue Killen, 284-9059.

Examining Treasure

People's Bank Hosts Sunken Treasure Exhibit

HARRINGTON - The world famous Melvin Joseph treasure of Spanish gold and silver was on display last Friday in the all new Peoples Bank of Harrington. According to Howard Wagner, Executive V.P. and Cashier, "some 500 people came by and witnessed the exhibit". I first saw the exhibit on a trip to a Millsboro Bank and thought it would be nice for the townspeople to see it as well", said Mr. Wagner.

The treasure was shown by Melvin Joseph's daughter, Jo Ann Pusey of Georgetown and retired State Police Captain, George Dick, who offers security protection.

The exhibit at the Bank was valued over one million dollars. It featured a large silver disc, a 50 lb. clump of silver coins fused together, which is supposed to be the largest single collection of silver in one lump, emerald necklace and cross. Much of the treasure was found in water depths of about ten feet. The digging represents about 10 years of searching for treasure.

According to Mrs. Pusey, one of the cannons excavated was presented to the King and Queen of Spain when they visited this country last year.

The largest find was the "Atocha" (Lady of the Field), which was the name of a Spanish galleon. The find comprised among other items of gold and silver, a emerald necklace valued at $400,000 and an emerald cross valued at $250,000. There have been rare coins found as well. One on display was a gold coin believed to have been minted before the birth of Christ. There were no dates on the coin. It is one of two such coins known to exist. Most of the gold and silver findings have been made about 70 miles off the coast of Cuba or 30 miles off the coast of Florida.

The State of Florida on each excursion to the ocean to look for treasure sends a government agent along. The State of Florida claim 25% of each find. According to Mrs. Pusey, "they go through the discovery and determine what they want". Currently most of the Joseph findings are housed in a Tallahassee jail. Florida has several other museums with the findings on display. The are planning to build a museum to house the treasure. The ones in the Tallahassee jail are not open to the public. There is research still being conducted on this part of the treasure. The most common finds are "pieces of eight". Mrs. Pusey said, "...we are very willing to display the exhibit, and we usually find them to be appropriate at grand openings, building dedications and schools". She added that she would like to come back to Harrington once again with the exhibit.

Bridgeville Minister Begins 20th Year Of 'Wings Of The Morning'

The Chrismon Tree

BRIDGEVILLE - The 12 foot Christmas Tree which stands erect in the sanctuary of the Union United Methodist Church of Bridgeville symbolizes the Christmas season. The symbols used on the tree are known as Chrismons a combination of the first syllables of "Christ" and "monogram". The Christ symbols or Chrismons are all handmade. The colors are white, the liturgical color for Christmas, symbolized the purity and perfection of Christ, and gold which symbolizes the glory and majesty of the Son of God. The white lights also symbolize Christ as the light of the world. The star at the top of the tree symbolized God the Creator and is directly above the hand of God representing God the Father.

The symbols on the tree are made from three basic designs or combinations of them. They are the cross, monogram, or symbol, standing for Christ and God. The crosses are a reminder of Christ's saving work in redeeming mankind, His sacrifice for our sins. The different forms of the cross point to different aspects of Christ's work. Monograms are Greek letters with reference to Christ and His life. Early Christians referred to Greek initials since much of the New Testament was composed of letters written to the early church principally in Greek speaking areas. The Rev. Gerald Foster and Kay Lewis stand beside the 12-foot Chrismon tree.

BRIDGEVILLE - Rev. Gerald and Elizabeth Foster are starting their 20th year on the air this month. The Wings of The Morning program was first in December 1957 over WDEL in Wilmington, De. According to Rev. Foster this is the only radio station which has an organ. His sermons are more devotional and spiritual in nature.

Wings of The Morning is a subsidiary of Global Missions, Inc. a non-profit religious charity, incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware, with Rev. Foster as its President. Global Missions has been instrumental in building churches in Latin America, and assisting in evangelistic and missionary endeavors in various parts of the world.

Rev. Foster said that "...I worked Channel 12 in the old days" but that radio is his performance of the two.

Rev. Foster was born on a farm near Brown City, Michigan and graduated from their public schools. Prior to attending college, he worked for the Ford Motor Co. at Dearborn, Michigan. He holds degrees in the following institutions Taylor Univ. (Ind), Ashbury Theological Seminary (Ky.), Princeton Theological Seminary, Temple Univ. and Phila-thea College (Canada) with further study at Denver Univ. and Iliff School of Theology. He has served five missions to Europe, four to Near East, two to Bermuda, six to Latin America, and one to India. Pastor of Aldersgate ington and served as Pastor of the Union United Methodist Church Wil-

The Foster family is also blessed with the many talents of Mrs. Foster. Elizabeth Foster majored in music with a music degree from Asbury College, Ky. and Temple University in Education. She is a native of South Jersey (Cedarville, N.J.) where her father was an attorney and judge. She was the former Elizabeth Stanger. She taught in secondary levels at Sweedesboro, N.J. and Azusa, Calif. College. Her life has centered around the church and music. She plays the organ for the program Wings of The Morning. She has also served on the advisory panel at the Vineland, N.J. Training School for the mentally retarded. The Fosters have two children, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson and James Foster.

We approach a period marked by religious overtones, and it is a time of counting blessings. Many times it is very difficult to find happiness and comfort, especially when we are separated from our loved ones for one reason or another. We usually feel that our situation is the very worst, but in looking around us, many times we find our own tragedies are not as bad as what others face.

During these times of tragedies, even the strongest of believers, such as myself, are put to the great test of believing in a supreme being and eternal life. What we do to compensate for this becomes a personal thing for each of us. In order to understand or to be able to understand a broader spectrum of things now or in the future, it is necessary to bear in mind certain things.

First, humility and with that an attempt to understand the other person's point of view. The other person may not believe, and if that person doesn't, we should not condemn. Instead we should try to understand. From this comes knowledge and from knowledge comes wisdom. Sometimes this sort of approach is necessary in order to get a better grip on your own ideas.

As we enter this very important week of the year, count your blessings, be happy with whatever you have...and try to understand your fellow citizen.

WHY WHAT YOU KNOW IS RIGHT-IS RIGHT.

Most Americans feel in their bones that free enterprise works—that on the whole it offers average people a better life than does any other economic notion. But "knowing" this is so is not the same thing as knowing why it's so.

And that's too bad—because the facts which support what you "know" is right about free enterprise are simple and easy to remember. All you have to do is remember this equation:

$$NR + HE \times T = MMW$$

NR stands for the world's Natural Resources. HE stands for Human Energy—both physical and mental. T stands for Tools. The combination of these factors equals Man's Material Welfare or MMW—the good life we're all after.

Today, we know better than ever before that there is a limit to the natural resources available to us. We know, too, that there is a limit to human energy. What we must not forget is that we can multiply the sum of our resources and energy through the application of tools—and tools are not limited in numbers or effectiveness. New tools can be made and old tools can be improved.

In short, tools hold the key to every human's standard of living. Because of this, it's easy to understand why it's important who controls our tools. In our society, tools are controlled by a large number of people who invest money in every kind of business imaginable. As stockholders, these people ultimately decide how the tools of their businesses will be used.

Throughout history, tools have always been used most efficiently and with highest productivity per person in competitive societies in which economic decisions are made by many individuals, rather than in those "state-controlled" societies in which the economic fate of all is determined by a few all-powerful leaders—regardless of how well-meaning, unselfish, sincere and intelligent those leaders may be.

Free enterprise is the system which allows a great number of people to take part in the control and use of tools in a competitive society. And that's why what you've always known is right about free enterprise—is right. And now you know why.

Governor duPont Reports

By Gov. Pete duPont

Budgets, prisons, financial disclosure, and offshore oil are just some of the issues the State of Delaware faced in 1977. As the year winds down, it is time to reflect on the year 1977 and what was and what wasn't accomplished.

On that cold and blustery day in January, I said at my inauguration that we must put our priorities in perspective. Government cannot be all things to all people, nor should we demand that it must be. I still hold firm to that principle.

In January, the problem was the state's budget and potential deficit. Later, in the Spring, the overcrowding at the state prison reached a crisis level. And, at year end, we addressed the difficult problem of desegregation. I am happy to say that those first two problems are nearing solution. Our budget appears to be on the right track towards being balanced (the first time in four years). We might even have a small surplus. The overcrowding and related problems still exist in the prison system, but the funds and the programs now exist to ultimately solve the problem.

The state's financial picture has greatly improved because of a number of important controls. Debt service has been greatly reduced and we have instituted a policy to reduce the debt service to just ten percent of the general fund revenues by 1980. Furthermore, we have maintained a firm hand on the budget, controlling actual expenditures and seeking cost savings at every possible way. (One example is the self-insurance of workmen's compensation.) Next year, we hope to be able to further reduce the state's expenditures by cutting one million dollars in waste from the budget.

The prison program has finally passed both houses of the General Assembly. We have renovated two existing prison facilities and soon will renovate a third to handle the furloughed prisoners who are now out of prison because of the federal court order. We have begun planning for new facilities in the northern New Castle County, one which will house women, and another for male inmates serving short term sentences. We have also begun revision of our bail, work release and pre-

Christmas At Philadelphia's Wanamaker's

The above two pictures are of the interior of Wanamaker's Store in the Grand Court section. The picture of the tree and the figures are of the giant screen which measures 70' x 120' high and extends from the 2nd floor to the 8th floor of the store. The screen is electrically controlled. The screen is 20 years old, and it flashes the different figures on the screen as the Christmas Carol is being played. At the end of the playing of all the carols, all the figures appear on the screen at once. Seen in this picture are "Frosty The Snowman", "The Nut Cracker", and "Rudolph The Red Nose Reindeer". The Nativity scene is also from the 2nd story to the 8th floor. Another feature of the Grand Court is the world famous Wanamaker organ and pipes which measures 2nd floor through the 8th floor. There are 30,000 pipes which vary in size from the 2nd floor to the 8th floor. It was purchased from the St. Louis Exposition in 1904 which celebrated the La. purchase. It took 13 flat cars to move it to Phila. Mr. Wanamaker displeased with the size of the organ decided to double its size. It is the largest organ in the world. Three concerts are given daily by Mr. Keith Chapman at 10, 12 and 5:30, and three performances on Sunday.

State Chamber Of Commerce Adopts Statement On Law

The Delaware State Chamber of Commerce's Board of Directors, at their regular meeting on Tuesday, December 13, 1977, adopted the following statement:

The Delaware State Chamber of Commerce believes that it is the responsibility of all individuals, as well as governing bodies such as the State of Delaware, to uphold the laws of the land. Further, the Delaware State Chamber of Commerce supports a peaceful, lawful and legitimate process of changing laws when such change is necessary. Therefore, until such change comes, if ever, the Delaware State Chamber of Commerce believes that Delaware's citizens, through their own elected representatives, should reorganize the school districts to comply with the law and not stand by and watch a Federal court do what we should do ourselves.

The Evans Report

by Congressman Tom Evans

As we enter the holidays, I want to express to my fellow Delawareans very best wishes for a joyous season and join you in heartfelt hope that 1978 will find our world at peace.

We especially appreciate our country at this time of year because we enjoy its freedom. Unlike the citizens of some nations, we have the freedom to join together as families, the freedom to worship in the manner of our choice, the freedom to join in reunions with loved ones, to remember the happiness of Christmases past and to anticipate future pleasures.

We should take time from our busy round of activities to remember the real meaning of Christmas—casting aside all the material trappings of the season to remember the birth of a child over 2000 years ago, a child who brought eternal hope to our world.

As the New Year approaches, the element of hope for peace in the Middle East is a reality. The recent events in Middle Eastern diplomacy are a portent of hope for all men of good faith everywhere.

The complexities of President Sadat's visit to Jerusalem, of the Cairo conference, of Prime Minister Begin's visit to the United States are many faceted. We cannot yet draw sound conclusions from the overtures that have been made to date, but the very fact that

How does $16 an hour appeal to you as pay for a specific skilled job? That's better than $600 a week, if you put in a 40-hour week.

This is the average pay a mason earns in the United States today. Depending on where you live and work, the hourly rate could go higher or lower than this national average.

However, it's important to keep this pay rate in perspective. Rarely, if ever, does a skilled mason work a full 52 or 50 weeks a year since the skill is not always in demand.

But it is not uncommon for a good mason to be kept busy 35 to 40 weeks a year, which still means earnings of $20,000 to $25,000 annually...a respectable income in anyone's terms.

Right now, there are approximately 200,000 bricklayers (masons) in the United States, yet there is a shortage! Even though local bricklayer unions and mason contractors are training some 9,000 apprentice masons to be brought into the construction work force, there are not enough of them to handle the workload.

report by the U.S. Department of Labor, the construction industry will need a minimum of 7,000 masons for each of the next five years to meet the demand for this skilled craft. This is in addition to the thousands presently being apprenticed by local unions and contractors.

A high school graduate interested in becoming a mason couldn't be at a better age. In fact, Bricklayers, Masons & Plasterers International Union and the Mason Contractors Association of America prefer an apprentice to be at least 17 years old but not more than 24.

This age bracket is ideal, point out union officials, since training a mason, and the performance of a trained mason on the job after apprenticeship, require intelligence, strength and fast, accurate hands. It is in this age range that students possess all of them.

Commercial and residential remodeling business, involving masonry materials and skills, is a multi-million business annually. This year it will reach $300 million, and next year, it is expected to

East Theme "Christmas Activities"

Parents and friends crowded the gym at Lake Forest East in Frederica Tuesday evening for a program featuring the activities of Christmas. Prepared and directed by the music teacher, Mr. Richard Collins, the program starred East students in grades one through six. The activities of Christmas Day were featured in song illustrated in various ways. Beginning with "Deck the Halls", the four graders of Mr. Davidson's class proceeded to decorate the stage. The decorating theme continued as sixth, second and first grades, respectively, sang "Silver Bells", "Little Fir Tree", and "O' Christmas Tree." The stage decorations complete, the festive scene became a party to the tune of "Jingle Bell Rock", as rendered by the fourth grades. A highlight of the evening was the showing of transparencies of the children's art work prepared by Mrs. Bernadine Butler. These were shown as the sixth grade sang "White Christmas." "Angels We Have Heard On High" as sung by the fourth and fifth grades sounded the religious theme of the season. Then there were the gifts to open by second graders as Laurence Benson and Tammy Roth did solo work on "Nuttin' For Christmas."

When the sixth grades sang "32 Feet and 8 Little Tails", second graders as reindeer and Santa tapped through the audience. This was followed by the "Boar's Head Carol" by the fifth and sixth grades with soloists Brian Mullins and Rosita Sturgis. The evening's climax came as a candlelight procession of fourth and fifth graders sang "O Come All Ye Faithful." And as a finale, the fourth, fifth and sixth grades were joined by the audience in the singing of "Silent Night." During the evening the Parent Teacher Action Group (PTAG) raffled off an afghan. Proceeds from the raffle were slated to go toward the purchase of a backdrop curtain for the stage at Lake Forest East.

Laurie [Laurie Arrington], Santa himself and K2R [Richard Schmitt] appear on stage in the musical presentation of "Christmas With A K" at LF North.

Santa has a message in this bulletin board created by Kathy Simmons, Dawn Ford and Kyle Kelly of LF East.

Santa and his Mrs. confer during the performance of "Christmas With A K" last Thursday at Lake Forest North in Felton.

An interview with Santa Claus [David Gagne] is conducted by TV reporter Ivy Green [Allyson Coppock] at the North Pole. Also in the picture are Mrs. Santa [Karen Garey] and three elves [David Reirden, Jake Wilson and John Donato].

Students Care

The W.T. Chipman Health Careers Club cares about kids enough to do something nice for them. This active concern was demonstrated recently as the Club donated a large box of fruit - apples and oranges - to the children at the Harrington Day Care Center located at St. Stephens on Raughley Hill Road. The fruit was delivered to the Center by club members on the Ways and Means Committee.

While they were at the Center the Chipman students visited the children and talked with them about Christmas. The Health Careers Club meets every Tuesday. Its president is Lynda Saloz; its faculty advisor is Mrs. Carrie Brown, director of the Harrington Day Care Center was on hand to receive the visitors and the fruit.

"We Interrupt This Program.."

Play Highlights South Christmas Program

Headlined by a fifth and sixth grade presentation of the play "We Interrupt This Program..." students at Lake Forest South Elementary presented a Christmas assembly for their classmates on Friday, December 16, and a repeat program for their parents on the evening of the 20th. In addition to the play, the program included caroling and special recitations by students from grades two through four. The play revolved around TV news coverage of some strange events on Christmas Eve when a rocket bearing some exotic cargo was captured by General Revel and his military establishment. The whole mystery was unraveled at the North Pole where Santa received a surprise from the Children of the World. Cast of the play under the direction of Miss Sharon Lynch was as follows:

Master of Ceremonies - Lisa Coker; Steven Jamison - Steve Layton; J. Holly Barberry - Troy Dennis; Two cameramen - Mike McColley and Brian Hawkins; Ivy Green - Allyson Coppock; General McCormack, Elizabeth Watkinson, April Testerman, Jeff Carroll and Denise Donato; Narrator - Steven Moore and Lighting Technician - Patricia Hogan. The play also included a group of carolers from the fifth and sixth grades. This group was under the direction of Mrs. William Minner. Other fifth and sixth grade teachers instrumental in the production were Mrs. Joseph Green, Mrs. William Shaw and Miss Betty Myers, who were in charge of props, and Mr. Al Drummond, who built the sets.

North Gives Original Christmas Musical

An old-fashioned Christmas with a little something extra was the theme of the Christmas program presented at Lake Forest North on Thursday, December 15. That something extra was the appearance of the robot K2R (played by Richard Schmitt) who was the mysterious K of the program's title, "Christmas With A K." The program was largely musical in nature with students in grades one through six as well as teachers and the audience participating. An original creation by a faculty committee, "Christmas With A K" was directed by Mrs. Jane Singleton. Others on the committee who served as script consultants were Maggie Drury, Lynne Sedgewick, Ed Gabrielson and Joyce Simmons. In addition to Richard Schmitt (K2R), the cast included Mr. and Mrs. Santa (from the North Pole), Laurie (Laurie Arrington), a Cazoo Symphony (Local Talent), Elves (Maggie Drury, John Pizzadilli, Randy Ward, Georgiana Bagby, Lee Kersey, Rae Ann Redman and Lynne Sedgewick). In addition to the individual class musical presentations, there were performances by the fifth and sixth grade Glee Club, a Symphony Choir as well as by Jane Singleton (vocal) and Sarah Herster (piano). Others behind the scenes but instrumental in the program were Robin Dean (Artistic Director), Bill Comer (Set Design) Sarah Herster and Barbara Fournier (piano), Kent Productions and Steve Clute (Light and Sound), Judy Craig and Barbara Trent (ticket and usher chairwomen), Thelma Gabrielson (Santa's costume), and grades 3, 4, and 5 (wall decorations). LF North faculty and staff were supportive of the program as were Mr. and Mrs. Arrington, Mr. and Mrs. Schmitt and the Marion Tracy Dance Studio. The program had two performances, one on the morning of the 15th for the school and one on the same evening for parents and public.

Finishes Second

Lake Forest's lone bright spot in the weekend Milford Invitational wrestling tournament was Ron Kosiorowski who managed to finish second in the

Prepare For Tournament

Spartans Capture First Victory

In a battle of two winless teams last Friday the Lake Forest Spartans boys' basketball team came up with their first win of the young season, a 54-47 victory over Milford.

Both teams entered the game with identical 0-2 records as the Spartans had dropped games to Cape Henlopen and Seaford during the past week. Friday the Spartans once again got off to a fast start as led by their ball-hawking defense featuring the use of a full court press, the Spartans opened up a 16-8 lead at the end of the first period.

The tables turned quickly in the second quarter as Milford, led by balanced scoring managed to outscore the Spartans 18-8 in the second stanza and take a 26-24 lead to the locker-room at halftime. The third period saw the teams play on a pretty even basis as the Spartans gained back the two points they trailed by at the half to enter the final period all even.

Unlike their game a week ago Friday when the Cape Henlopen Vikings had dominated the last period of play, the Spartans did so this week as led by the hot scoring of Lauren Burris the Spartans gained their seven point margin of victory.

The game was a rough one all night long and both teams suffered from lack of ability to score from the foul line as Milford hit for just 13 of 30 from the foul line while the Spartans hit a meager 12 of 30 from the charity stripe.

It was Burris along with Custis who led the Spartans in scoring as they divided 28 points between themselves. Eugene Dixon added 10 points while Mark Smith chipped in with six.

The Spartans' 1-2 record currently leaves them in fifth place in the early season Northern Division standings trailing powerhouse Dover and Seaford (who defeated the Spartans earlier in the week) both with records of 3-0. On Tuesday night the Spartans met Sussex Central who like Milford are at the bottom of the Division with winless records.

Following their Division matchup with the Golden Knights the Spartans will begin tuning up for their participation in a Christmas Tournament at Salisbury State College on Dec. 27-28. They will then return to conference play with home games on Jan. 3 and 6th against Dover Air and Sussex Central respectively.

The Lake Forest and Woodbridge wrestling teams pulled off a couple of surprises in this past weekend's Milford Invitational Wrestling Tournament.

For Lake Forest that surprise came in the form of Ron Kosiorowski who managed to finish second in the 138 pound weight class. For Woodbridge, the surprise came when Landy Correll took second place in the 112 pound class.

For the Spartans, Kosiorowski wasted no time in showing the unknown fans his strength as he managed to finish off Dave Menden of Dover Air in the opening round by pinning him in a quick forty-six seconds. The second match of his Spartan career was no different as although it took him until the second period the result was the same as his victory again resulted by a pin.

His third victory of the tournament was again by way of a pin. However, Kosiorowski almost didn't get that chance for the pin as only a last second reverse by him in the final regulation two minute period gave him a shot at an overtime victory. He wasted little time in recording just that as he pinned Dave Swain of Sussex Central in :43 of the first overtime period.

His final match against the much more experienced grappler Victor Viridin, of Smyrna, ended with a different result as Viridin recorded a 7-0 victory over his Lake Forest foe. Kosiorowski did manage to stay off his back long enough to keep from getting pinned although Viridin came close to doing just that.

As for the Raiders Correll he appeared to have won the 112 pound championship as he took a three to nothing lead into the final two minute period of his championship match. However the tide quickly turned as the never quitting Caesar Rodney wrestler Mike Santy pulled off a reversal and closed the score to 3-2. Correll was then warned for stalling and later called for stalling again giving Santy a 3-3 tie. This call occurred with just under thirty seconds left in the match. Correll took the lead quickly when he escaped from Santy for one point but Santy took the lead back just a few seconds later when he scored a two point take-down. Correll still didn't give up and managed to escape at the buzzer causing a 5-5 tie.

In overtime, three one minute periods, Santy managed the only score as he cashed in on a reversal just halfway into the first overtime period and held on for the victory.

Kosiorowski was the Spartans lone bright spot on Saturday as he was the only Lake Forest grappler to make it past Friday night's opening two rounds. Darryl Voshell, Ray Grove, Dennis Wheeler, David Shultie, Mike Kosiorowski, Mark Miller, Louis Hendricks, Tim McCombs, and Mike Quaile all suffered opening round losses. Spartans Larry McCombs and Mike Barner succumbed in the second round leaving only Ron Kosiorowski to advance.

For the Raiders they had a little bit more luck as defending conference champion Rocky Flem managed to make it to the consolation round. Flem had scored an opening round pin win and a decision win in the second round.

Flem lost his shot at the title match when Bill Valencia of St. Marks

High School scored a 17-13 win in the semi-finals in a match which both men led several times. Nathan Fooks of Laurel kept Flem from winning a trophy when he scored a 3-2 win in his consolation match.

Lake Forest will next compete in the Salisbury Invitational Tournament on the 21st and 22nd. They will then be off until they begin their conference season, under the direction of new coach Justin Hyatt, at home on January 4th against Dover.

On Defense

Lake Forest's Laura Newnom was a standout not only on offense against Milford but also on defense. Newnom led the girls in scoring with fourteen points in their victory over the Buccaneers last Friday night. [Staff Photo by Ray Blanchette]

Two Finish Second

Girls Upset Favored Milford 43-35

The Lake Forest High School girls' varsity basketball team pulled off a mild upset Friday when it defeated Milford by a 43-35 margin.

Milford had entered the game with a 2-0 record while the Spartans were 1-1 on the season following their one point final second loss to Seaford on Tuesday. Coming into the season, Spartan coach Pat Dyal had Milford as one of the teams to beat for the conference title.

In the early going Friday it looked like the Spartans should be the team to beat as they quickly got sixteen points on the board while holding Milford to just three. It was the scoring of the Buccaneers that the Spartans had worried about but on this night they managed to hold all-conference player Theresa Kugelmann to only nine points on the night.

Dover Downs Raceway, currently closed for the traditional Christmas break, will resume racing next Tuesday, December

Milford did manage to increase their scoring in the second period as they doubled their first period output but Lake Forest still managed to stretch their halftime lead to a surprising fifteen points.

The visiting team from Milford didn't quit as they managed to close the gap to as close as one point in the second half but the Spartans each time rallied to keep the lead and control the outcome of the game.

Again it was Laura Newnom and Cindy Dukes who led the scoring as Newnom scored fourteen of her team's points while Dukes added 13.

The girls right now are in a tie for second place with their 2-1 record sharing that spot with Milford and Seaford. They trail division leading Dover who are 2-0 on the season. Following their game on Tuesday against Sussex Central, the girls are off until they entertain Dover Air on January 3rd. Remember that this season all girls varsity basketball games will immediately proceed the boys' games and will start at 6:30.

Donald Dancer, battling with Herve Filion for the North American Driving

Championship, will compete at Dover Downs during the entire final week of December 24th to Liberty Bell raceway being closed during that week.

Up-Up and Away

Lake Forest basketball player Jerry Custis has been a standout for the Spartans all season both in scoring and in rebounding. Friday against Milford was no different as Custis along with Lauren Burris led the Spartans in scoring with 14 points apiece. [Staff photo by Ray Blanchette]

He Flies Through the Air

All-everything at Virginia-Wesleyan college for the past two seasons former Lake Forest and Milford standout Bob Jacobs just recently finished his final soccer season. In the future Jacobs hopes to play either professional soccer or baseball.

Named All-South

Jacobs Ends Soccer Career at Virginia Wesleyan

VIRGINIA BEACH - NORFOLK, VA - What better way to end a college soccer career than to score a goal in your last match?

"It definitely was a highlight of my career here," says Bobby "spook" Jacobs, fullback for the Virginia Wesleyan College soccer team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Jacobs of Milford, De.

About halfway through the first period of play in the final match of the season, a Blue Marlin was fouled about 25 yards from the goal.

"I shot directly at the wall. The ball bounced off one opponent's leg and off the fingers of the goalie and went in. I was as surprised as they were," he says.

Virginia Wesleyan won the game against Liberty Baptist College, 2-0, and finished the season 8-7-1. For the second straight year, the Blue Marlins won the Dixie Conference title with a 5-2 record. The other five non-conference losses were all one goal losses, primarily to NCAA Division I and II teams.

Both the conference and the Blue Marlins' NCAA Division (III) prohibit the awarding of athletic scholarships.

Jacobs thus closed out a most illustrious amateur career with the Blue Marlins.

He finished the year with two goals and tied for team-high assists with four—quite an offensive performance especially for a defenseman.

Part of the reason may be that Jacob's heart is still in offense. "I was switched to defense my sophomore year by the coach. Although I hated to leave the front line, I realized it was best for the team," he comments.

After graduating with a major in Native American Studies, Jacobs hope to become a professional athlete. "I really feel I have a better chance as a baseball player, since I've played it all my life," he says.

"But I'm also willing to give soccer a try." Jacobs starts at second base for the Virginia Wesleyan College baseball team.

Soccer coach Bill Davis, who classifies Jacobs as the key to this year's defense, feels Jacobs has a chance in the pros. "He'll probably have a better chance as a forward though, because of his size," Davis comments. Jacobs is 5'9" and weighs 150 pounds.

As for replacing Jacobs next fall, Davis moans, "He'll be tough to replace. It's as simple as that."

"Spook always played a fine game and gave 100 percent. But most importantly, he was one of those rare individuals who put team welfare ahead of personal glory. He was always thinking of how to help the team win rather than scoring a goal or hogging the ball. He will be sorely missed."

Jacobs, who played his high school soccer at Milford High School, Milford, De., has already won several trophies this year including Most Valuable Player in the Tidewater Soccer Invitational, Blue Marlin Most Valuable Player for the second straight year, Outstanding Senior team member, All-State, All-District, and All-Conference. (The three latter awards were also awarded to Jacobs in 1976).

On December 12, he was notified that he had made All-South which includes all NCAA Division I, II and III colleges and universities in the South which play soccer. He is a Southern All-American candidate for 1977.

Jacobs concludes, "All-in-all, it's been an exciting four years. I played on the first Virginia Wesleyan team to post a winning season and on last year's Dixie Intercollegiate Athletic Conference Championship team. I feel I've been a part in this improvement, and I hope the team continues its winning ways."

"Oddly enough, I won't miss the playing and practicing as much as the fellowship. The team is made up of a great bunch of guys, and we've done a lot of fun things off the field. This I'll miss the most."

Woodbridge's second place finisher in the 112 pound weight class last weekend at the Milford Invitational was Landy Correll. Correll came close to capturing the championship losing barely in overtime. [Staff Photo by Ray Blanchette]

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. -- Bud Moore is the most recent car owner to schedule testing at Daytona International Speedway in order to prepare for the upcoming February 19 Daytona 500.

Moore who has replaced Buddy Baker with Bobby

Allison as driver, is expected to run the first Ford Thunderbird at Daytona in recent years during the test session this month.

With many changes in cars over the off-season, several of the NASCAR Winston Cup teams have chosen Daytona to set the cars up for the richest race on the 1978 schedule...the Daytona 500.

The first actual race for the Winston Cup drivers on a high-banked superspeedway will be the February 16 Twin 125-mile Qualifying races for the Daytona 500.

SPEED WEEKS '78 will begin February 4-5 with the 17th annual running of the 24 hours of Daytona and will conclude with the February 19 Daytona 500.

Daytona Speedway Makes Ready For Winter Racing

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. -- Two past winners of the Daytona 200 Motorcycle Classic are at Daytona International Speedway this week conducting tire testing for Michelin tires.

Gary Carter, who has become a common fixture at Daytona Speedway whenever cycles are around, and Gene Romero, who insists that Daytona is his favorite track, are aboard their bikes for the testing.

While the tire tests are primarily for the benefit of Michelin, both riders are getting valuable practice time around the 3.87-mile Daytona road course prior to the March 12 Daytona 200.

Nixon won the 1967 Daytona 200 and has been a strong challenger any time he competes in the cycle event. Romero was the 1975 winner of the Daytona 200 and will be joining Nixon in seeking his second Daytona win when the riders return for the March 12 race.

Also joining Nixon and Romero in the testing sessions at Daytona is John Long, who finished 11th in this year's 100-Mile Expert Lightweight Road Race at Daytona and finished a respectable 30th in this year's Daytona 200 among 80 riders.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. -- Entries for the December 28-30 World Karting Association's Winter Enduro Olympics at Daytona International Speedway have already topped the 200 mark, and with the entries come a wide variety of ages.

The youngest entries are from 12-year-old competitors and there are several in this age group. The oldest...well that remains to be seen.

Willie Saul of Elon College, N.C. is 60 years of age and will be competing in the B-Limited class race at Daytona. Another entry from Roy Bystrom of Chicago, Ill. listed his age as "old."

Heading the list of family entries is the Griffith family from Harrisonburg, Va. Father, Benray, races along with his son, Dennis, and daughter, Arron. The mother doesn't race but is a vital part of the family effort...she starts the engines for them.

The WKA races at Daytona Speedway concludes the racing season at the high-banked superspeedway and is the first race of the 1978 season for the karters.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. -- Manfred Schurti of Liechtenstein and Rolf Stommelen of Germany have formally been offered the $10,000 Daytona-

Ted Boody [No. 12] overtakes Chuck Palmgren during one of the 1977 Camel Pro races in which Boody excelled. The teenager finished second in the American Motorcyclist Association point standings, but that didn't satisfy him. Boody plans on winning the Camel Pro title in 1978.

Phones Will Be Busy At Christmas

Santa may come down the chimney to say hello Christmas day but a record number of Delawareans are expected to use the telephone to convey holiday greetings to friends and relatives.

Diamond State Telephone Company says it expects its customers to uphold a Christmas tradition again this year by making December 25 the busiest holiday ever.

The Company estimates that 444,000 long distance calls will be placed by residential customers during the 3 day period starting Christmas Eve thru Monday December 26.

There will be approximately 168 operators and support forces on the job throughout the state to assist customers over this holiday period.

The calling rush usually begins Christmas Eve and ends late Christmas night, with a letup in the surge from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Christmas afternoon.

Since Christmas falls on a Sunday this year, long distance calls placed on Monday will be billed at the holiday rate.

Complete details on reduced rate calling periods and dialing instructions for both long distance and overseas calls are shown in the front of your telephone directory.

Car Sense

Presented as a Public Service By Your Local Superior Muffler Dealer

Rainy weather holds many dangers for you as a motorist. In addition to increased difficulty in seeing other drivers and in their seeing you, rain-slicked roads reduce your car's traction and directional control -- sometimes to zero.

Tire engineers have learned that, at certain car speeds, the film of water on the roadway can lift the tires off the road and produce a situation similar to driving on glare ice. This loss of road contact is called "hydroplaning" and it can be experienced at normal highway driving speeds on relatively new tires and at virtually any speed on worn or bald tires.

All tires designed for conventional city and highway driving are grooved to provide multiple road-gripping edges for traction and to carry off water squeezed out between the tread and the road in wet weather driving. As the water is squeezed to the outside of the tire and into the tread grooves, the tire maintains its contact with the road. At higher speeds in rain, however, the grooves may become unable to channel off all the water, the tires start to lift off the road, and control of the car is lost until speed is reduced.

The tread grooves are shallower or completely non-existent in a worn or bald tire and cannot perform their vital, water-channeling function.

According to the Consumer Automotive Advisory Council at Superior Muffler Centers, in New York, tires with a tread groove depth of less than 1/16-inch are un-safe because they can "hydro-plane" at very low driving speeds.

Badly worn tires also are dangerous in dry-weather driving because they are more susceptible to punctures.

A precision gauge is used by tire men to determine tread depth, but

Sunny Side Up

By Lynn Hershey

"How are we going to keep it alive?" he wanted to know. "We'll water it," I countered.

"We'll just slide it across the floor on a sheet of plastic," I soothed.

"How are we going to keep the water from running all over the living room floor?" He sounded tense.

"We'll be very careful," I cooed.

So on December 24 the tree was hauled into the house with great difficulty by a purple-faced father and two sweaty little boys. It was decorated, praised and enjoyed until the 27th. Then it was dragged outside again to be planted, lest it succumb to the rigors of a warm, dry house and we lose our sizable investment.

"We hardly had it in the house at all!" the boys wailed.

The hole we had pre-dug was too small, and the ground had frozen in the meantime. As we hacked away trying to enlarge the opening, the temperature plummeted even further, and a mighty blizzard swept down from the arctic. The rest of the details are equally distressing.

The tree however, survived and today is a regal 20-footer. But somehow we could never bring ourselves to try another one. If you wish to try the Living Christmas Tree Experiment, you have my blessing. Even better, you have some practical suggestions for making it work from Dave Tatnall, extension gardening specialist.

First of all, dig the hole when the ground is not frozen, measuring the ball of earth to be sure the hole is big enough. Put the soil into the garage so it won't be frozen when you plant the tree.

Keep the tree inside the house no longer than five days. If possible, avoid sudden temperature changes. An anti-desiccant spray will help keep the foliage from drying out.

Water the ball of earth frequently and thoroughly. Don't let the soil become dry or water-logged.

Keep the room as cool as you can. Locate the tree away from direct sunlight and other sources of heat. Restrict the use of tree lights—they also give off heat.

grow by 15 percent. Many efforts have been made to develop brick-laying machines, but nothing has been invented yet to match the mason skill, versatility and speed.

An accomplished mason, who gains a reputation in his or her area, can launch a one-person company or find work with an active building contractor who knows how to keep a steady flow of projects coming into the office during the year.

Either way, a skilled mason will always be assured of the favorable, local hourly rate of pay, which will provide a comfortable living.

If you're interested in investigating the profession before you talk to the local union, set up a meeting with the masonry department at the Sussex Vo-Tech School in Georgetown. They can give you the latest information on opportunities in this area.

trial programs. But 1977 also saw Delaware finally enact a comprehensive oil spill liability law which will protect property owners and our coastline. We also required financial disclosure of public officials, enacted a new death penalty, and signed a new pornography statute.

So, 1977 was a good year. I hope 1978 will work out as well.

My family joins me in wishing you and your family a very Merry Christmas. Please have a safe holiday.
