City Election Set, Two Residents File

Two city residents have thus far filed for the City Election to be held on January 10th.

The two seats available on the council in this year's election are the 5th and 6th ward seats which are currently held by councilmen John Satterfield and Earl McColley respectively.

To date, only the incumbent McColley has filed for the 6th ward seat.

Thus far, only William Dill, a resident of 121 Fleming Street, has filed for the 5th ward seat. Dill who stated "Getting out to get the signatures needed for my filing petition helped me get to talk to a lot of the people in my ward. If elected, I will be there to represent them. I will be especially conscious of the issues that will take dollars out of their pockets."

There is still time for any interested parties to file for the election if they so desire. Deadline is January 1 and the election will be held on January 10 from 12:00 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Local Auto Parts Business Sold

HARRINGTON - Discount Auto Parts in the Quillen Shopping Center has been sold and the new owners will take over the 2nd of January. Darcey Hampshire, the current owner, decided to sell and gave as his reason for selling "...that the business was just too confining." Asked what his plans were for the future, Mr. Hampshire, a retired Air Force Sergeant, said "...I plan to return to a semi-active status with the Air Force Reserve where I will be flying two or three times a month either on training missions or flying cargo to Europe." He will be flying the C-5s.

Mr. Hampshire purchased the business from Ken and Suzanne Chipman Jones in March of 1976. He would have had it two years this March. The new owners are Allen Arthur and Paul Pettit. Both men are from Farmington where they serve as members of the Farmington Fire Company. Arthur is the current President of the Farmington Fire Company, and Pettit is the 1st Assistant Chief. Arthur, a native of Bedford, Va., came to Delaware by way of the U. S. Air Force stationed at Dover Air Force Base. He retired in 1971 after 26 years of active duty. He was an air craft mechanic. He and his wife, the former Faye Walls of Jonesboro, Ark., have three married children. James and Joseph both live in Florida while the daughter Janice lives in Oklahoma.

Mr. Pettit, a native of Anderson, South Carolina, has been employed for the past eleven years as a road salesman for Wharton & Barnard. He will continue to act in a similar capacity with Discount Auto Parts while his partner Allen Arthur works the inside. He is married to the former Shirley Carroll of Milton. The Pettits have one son, Keith, who is a student at Woodbridge High School. Mr. Pettit spent three years in the Army, and gives trap shooting as his hobby.

Journal To Resume Name Game

The name game will resume again starting with the January 5th issue of the Harrington Journal.

Remember how to play? At least one and possibly two names will be "buried" in an ad somewhere in the newspaper. When you, the reader, find the name call that person... not the newspaper...and tell that person to call The Harrington Journal for their $5 prize. When two or more names are used the winners will receive $2.50 each.

The winners will receive a check payable to them and one of the merchants who advertise in The Harrington Journal. When you call, specify the name of the merchant whose name will appear along with the winner's name on the check.

A Cold, Cold Swim

Several hundred swans took to Killen's Pond this past week but for some reason, this one swan strayed off from the rest. Cold temperatures have just about frozen Killen's Pond over with more cold weather predicted for the rest of the week. (Staff Photo by Ray Blanchette)

Former Harrington Teacher Is Dead In Colorado

Mr. Paul Hawk, Physical Education and Science Teacher at Harrington High School before the war, died in April of 1976 in Colorado Springs, Colorado, according to information received at this office.

Before leaving the district in 1941 for active service in the U.S. Navy as an Ensign, both Mr. Hawk and his wife, Charlotte, were active in the affairs of the community. Mrs. Hawk was here teaching music in the schools when Mr. Hawk arrived as instructor in the Physical Education and Science Departments of the high school. Both were graduates of West Chester State College, West Chester, Pa.

Mr. Hawk developed many fine athletic teams while in Harrington, among them an outstanding soccer team each season, and will be remembered for the memorable physical education circuses held in the old gymnasium each spring. Mrs. Hawk began the tradition of an annual Christmas Candlelight and Carol Service at the high school and later at Asbury United Methodist Church where she and her husband were responsible for the founding of the Chancel Choir composed of teenagers in the community, and of which she was its first director.

After their marriage, Mrs. Hawk left teaching to become a mother and housekeeper but continued her work with church music and piano teaching until the war years when both left the community.

After the war, Mr. and Mrs. Hawk lived in Oak Park, Illinois, where he was employed in the local school district, but after the death of his wife, Mr. Hawk taught one more year before leaving to live in Colorado Springs where he was located at the time of his death in 1976. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Nancy Smiley, of River Forest, Illinois, and Charma, of Oak Park, and Charma, of Oak Park. As far as is known, there are three grandchildren.

Both Charlotte and Paul Hawk will be remembered by their many friends in the area as devoted workers in their respective fields. They found satisfaction in service at school, church, and in their community.

Preparing For Winter

Schools should be warmer this year as the Lake Forest School District in cooperation with Kent County Levy Court is busy winterizing area schools. This involves caulking doors and windows and eliminating drafts throughout the schools. All this work should reduce fuel costs and provide better working conditions for teachers and students. Shown here are John Thornberg, District Maintenance Man (right rear) and James White and Billy Fountain (Levy Court). The latter two are employed by Kent County through the CETA program.

Governor duPont Reports

By Gov. Pete duPont

At the risk of sticking my neck out to make a few innocent predictions, I am going to attempt to forecast what Delaware can expect in 1978.

Last week, I cited some of the accomplishments of the past year, my first as Governor. I fully hope that the new year will be as productive, and perhaps more so, as 1977.

In 1977, our budgetary problems lessened, a major portion of our prison crisis was alleviated, we addressed the issues of pornography, jai alai, harness racing and the Coastal Zone. A tough new oil spill liability law was enacted and full financial disclosure was required of my appointees.

But let us look ahead to 1978 and see what the new year will mean to Delaware.

First, the problem of balancing the budget. We got off to a strong start with my new financial program, and I think it might result in the first balanced budget in four years. We might even have a small surplus. We cut back on the amount of debt service the state must pay. We've kept a firm hand on the budget and not allowed excess spending. And, we have begun a zero-based budgeting program. For the new year we must maintain the firm hand on state spending, find better ways of predicting revenue, and not bow to the wishes of every special interest group. Furthermore, we must not ask the taxpayer for more taxes.

Along the same lines, 1978 will bring my first budget to the General Assembly. That budget will reflect my concept of state priorities and my commitment to cut some one million dollars in waste from the state government. Also, I hope 1978 will finally bring a constitutional limit to state spending which I sought last year.

Secondly, my administration will continue to seek a buyer for Farmers Bank at a fair market price. I am committed toward selling the bank and getting Delaware out of the banking business; however, I am also firm in ensuring that we receive the best possible price for the bank.

Thirdly, my goals include bringing more jobs and businesses to the state in order to cut unemployment and improve state revenues. That will mean expansion of transportation and shipping facilities in the state, bringing an offshore oil support base to Sussex County and attracting clean and light industry to all areas of the state.

Fourthly, I hope that we can improve the internal operation of our prisons and criminal justice system. And, finally, I want to cut out the waste and inefficiency out of all departments of the state. After all, the primary function of government is to provide services to all the people as fairly and quickly as possible.

So, 1978 can be a good year for Delaware. Elise and I hope that it will be a good year for you and your family as well.

The Evans Report

by Congressman Tom Evans

In the time honored tradition of welcoming the New Year I would like to offer a few New Year's resolutions for the second session of the 95th Congress: Be It Resolved:

That the Congress will balance the budget. It's high time that the Congress begin to act in a manner consistent with its objectives, and balancing the budget would be the best place to begin.

That the Congress enact a meaningful tax cut. An across-the-board tax cut that will put money in working America's pockets will do more to cure the ills of our economy than any other single piece of legislation. A tax cut will stimulate the economy, thereby creating jobs, and will in the long run increase federal revenues resulting in a decreased federal deficit.

That the Congress begin removing the morass of burdensome red tape that is strangling our economy. The bureaucracy is like a wild stallion that must be tamed; the inefficient and unnecessary over-regulation must come to a halt.

That the Congress enact a sweeping overhaul of welfare programs. The entire welfare program should be reformed so that people are given the incentive to work and stay together as families, rather than to separate in order to benefit from an archaic welfare system.

That the Congress speedily consider the Older Americans Property Tax Relief Act of 1977 which I introduced. This program will give senior citizens on fixed incomes a much needed financial break and allow them to keep their homes.

That the Congress will continue to recognize the need for the revitalization of the Delmarva rail lines, the economic life line of our state.

That the Congress will enact a comprehensive energy policy that recognizes not only the need for conservation, but the critical necessity of adequate supply and production. Development of alternative sources of energy must also be a top priority item.

That the Congress will also pass a zero-based budgeting requirement which would force a comprehensive evaluation of all federal programs at regular intervals.

As we approach 1978, we find America at a cross-roads. Not only Congress, but all of us as individuals must determine what kind of country we want. Do we want bigger and bigger government or do we want to call a halt to run-away growth? Do we want government to do everything for us or are we ready to recognize that government cannot do it all?

It is my personal hope that in the coming year all of us will develop more respect for one another as individuals and adopt a less selfish approach. I hope that both in and out of government we begin to have a better comprehension of long term problems relying less readily on the quick and easy answers that often generate even more complex problems.

My very best wishes to all Delawareans for a healthy, happy and meaningful New Year!

Dear Sir:

I lost my wallet in a store crowded with Christmas shoppers. Someone found it and then threw it away. I wish to thank Mr. Melvin Smith for finding it and returning it to me. This shows me that there are still some honest people in this world.

Protect Your Housing Investment

Dampness, cracks and termites are problems many homeowners must face because of the nature of construction materials, method of construction and location of the house.

Since many construction materials deteriorate with dampness, it's important to take measures against moisture. Patricia Wilson, Delaware extension family living agent, offers these tips:

Make sure your lot is graded away in all directions from the house, she advises. This will keep water from collecting near the foundations and eventually finding its way into the house.

Waterproof the foundation and basement walls if the house is located in an area that receives heavy rain or snow.

Add fill dirt where improper grading prevents runoff.

Avoid planting trees or shrubs close to the foundation. This can cause dampness in the basement.

Condensation in the basement area can be prevented by good ventilation, plus pipe insulation that is protected by a waterproof covering.

If your house has a crawl space under the first floor, cover the ground with moisture-resistant material, and be sure ventilation is adequate.

Vapor condensation is another special problem homeowners may experience, says the extension agent. When there is plenty of moisture inside a house from washing, bathing, clothes drying and cooking, a difference in vapor pressure between the inside and the outside may result.

Vapor pressure may move moisture into the walls and attic, where it condenses.

This condensation may peel paint, dampen insulation and reduce its effectiveness, rot wood framing and ruin interior decoration, especially ceilings.

Protect your house from vapor condensation by having vapor barriers installed, recommends Ms. Wilson.

Shrinkage and expansion of construction materials also cause problems.

Knowledge of the nature of construction materials is a great asset to the potential homeowner.

Masonry as well as lumber will shrink to some degree, according to the extension agent. Masonry shrinks during the curing period after installation. Lumber shrinks as it is seasoned, or as the moisture content is reduced.

Lumber used in construction should have a moisture content of less than 19 percent and should be allowed to dry over an extended period, she advises.

If lumber with a high moisture content is installed, it will dry in place, shrink, and possible twist so much that cracks will develop in finished walls, ceilings and floors.

Although these cracks are not large enough to cause structural damage, they are unsightly.

Another common annoyance is the appearance of cracks between bathtub and bathroom walls, or between tub and floor. These cracks can be patched with tub seal or tile putty.

If a crack is very large and the house is less than a year old, Ms. Wilson suggests reporting the defect to the builder.

Don't buy a house with structural cracks, she adds. These cracks are easy to identify because they are usually large, well defined and extend across the surface and through plaster or concrete.

To repair plaster cracks, widen the crack in order to force sufficient fresh plaster into it to form a good bond with the old plaster. Also, dampen old plaster before you start work. This will keep it from drawing away from the fresh plaster.

Cracks which develop in basement or foundation walls or in exterior masonry walls usually indicate structural deficiencies, says Ms. Wilson. In this case, consult a builder, architect or engineer to determine the cause, and how to prevent further damage.

If you live in an area where termites are common, periodic inspection by professional exterminators should be made at least every six months, no matter what protective measures you take.

If your home is financed through an FHA-insured mortgage and is located in a termite-prone area, HUD requires protective measures against termite infestation.

Chemical treatment of the structure and adjacent soil will drive hidden termites to the surface, where their tubes can be seen and destroyed.

Career Corner

In the wonderful world of computers, the three biggest areas of employment involve computer operators, programmers and systems analysts who numbered more than one million persons the last time the Labor Department counted them.

Computer operators include persons who need not necessarily have any college training but learn the basics at vocational, business or computer schools. They include keypunch operators, who start at around $125 a week, console operators, whose pay ranges from $140 to $160 to start, and lead operators, starting at $210 to $250.

Computer programmers, who need college degrees in engineering or math and an ability to think analytically, can start anywhere from $170 to $240 a week, rising to over $300 as they gain experience.

Systems analysts, who should study accounting, business or economics for work in finance and physical science, math or engineering for scientifically oriented companies, must have college degrees.

Beginning salaries range from $230 to $250 a week, rising to well over $300 a week with experience. Some lead systems analysts now make close to $400 a week, depending on the area of the country.

Gab Fest

By Pat Hatfield

Happy New Year! No, I'm not making New Year's resolutions. I just make them every day when I get up in the morning; and, unfortunately, they're so often broken before the setting of the sun...but I'm trying. I'm trying hard, and maybe some day...some beautiful, golden day, I will be able to say that I have kept the faith, that I have lived at least one day the way I wish to be able to live, and it will make all the struggle worthwhile.

One of my favorite modern writers, Elaine V. Emans, says it well: "Had I not swept the old year out so many times previously, half-glad to see it go, yet sorry, too, and turned to the new-penny brightness of every New Year with a glow of irresistible anticipation. Knowing so clean a thing must bring me good, accepting eagerly its invitation to grow a little, as I knew I should, and never once been disappointed, then this morning I should not be wishing you Happy New Year with confidence again...Certain, for every gray day, there'll be blue and gold ones! Sure. If you seek, this year holds good for you not visible from here."

And so, we will march forward together and; painting upon the clean canvas of our New Year, we will select our paints and our subjects with exceeding care.

Dear readers, how I wish I could write each and every one of you a very, long personal letter. Without you out there, I would not exist. Thank you for reading Gab Fest; thank you for the many kind things you say; thank you for your letters and your telephone calls. Some of you, when you call, say that you hesitated for fear I might be too busy. I am never "too busy". It gives me a lift to chat with you and I can always turn out the fire under the frying pan, you know.

A reader from Milford called me yesterday and said she had had a similar experience with coconut turning dark and gray. Someone told her this story. She does not know if it is the truth or if they were "pulling her leg" as the English put it. This friend told her that the coconut "milk" is now used commercially, and they insert a needle into the coconuts and withdraw the oily liquid and fill the cavity with water. Could this be true? If so, I daresay that is the problem. The natural oil would act as a preservative.

Peace AND HAPPINESS IN THE NEW YEAR

Hyatt Begins First Season

Grapplers Open Against Dover on Jan. 4

Following their outstanding showing in the Salisbury Invitational Tournament, the Lake Forest Spartan wrestling team is currently preparing for their season opener against Dover next Wednesday.

The Spartans managed to bring home five trophies from the Salisbury tournament as Ron Kosiorowski, Louis Hendricks, Larry McCombs, Tim McCombs, Mike Kosiorowski all brought home hardware. Freshman Darryl Voshell finished a surprising fourth.

It looks like Ron Kosiorowski will be looked at as one of the team leaders following his first-place finish at Salisbury, one week after his second-place finish at Milford.

Kosiorowski is a junior who is wrestling his first year for the high school team following his transfer from a Maryland school. Ron with his aggressive style should be responsible for several six point wins this year if he keeps up his never quitting style of wrestling.

Louis Hendricks at 142 pounds is currently in his third season of varsity wrestling for the Spartans. After a disappointing tournament at Milford, Hendricks went to the finals at Salisbury only to lose a close match and have to settle for second place.

Ron Kosiorowski's little brother Mike is perhaps the most aggressive wrestler in the entire Henlopen Conference and it showed at Salisbury during last week's tournament. Mike finished a strong third place and probably should have been either first or second. In his semi-final match he held a 15-2 lead at one point only to lose when his over-aggressiveness caused him to get a little careless and end up getting pinned.

Larry McCombs at 155 is beginning to regain the form that made him the Milford Invitational Champion last season. McCombs lost his semi-final match at Salisbury on a controversial call but then manhandled his opponent in the consolation match. Larry is only a junior and will have this year and next in hopes of gaining a conference or state title.

Tim McCombs like his younger brother came on strong in his consolation match to capture his third place trophy. Tim is a senior who has been wrestling in this tough 167 pound weight class for a couple of years. Last season Tim finished with an 8-6 mark in dual meets.

Voshell, who as already mentioned finished a surprising fourth, will start the Spartans off in all their dual meet matches in the 98 pound class. Following Voshell will be sophomore Jeff Grove who according to first year coach Justin Hyatt is a hustler who needs more experience and should improve with just that. At 112 pounds will be Dave Brown or David Shultie (depending on the severity of his injury). Shultie held down the varsity spot for most of last season. Co-Captain Dennis Wheeler will hold down the 118 pound spot.

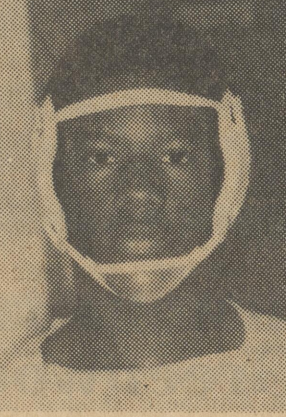

The Spartans strength in most matches should be in the next six weight classes where scrappy Mike Kosiorowski will begin things at 126. Wrestling in the 132 pound class will be either Mark Miller who wrestled in the Milford tournament, or Larry Kosiorowski, who wrestled at Salisbury. At 138 pounds will be Ron Kosiorowski and following him at 145 will be Hendricks. The McCombs brothers will then follow at 155 and 167 while Mike Quaille will wrestle 185 and Mike Barner will handle heavyweight.

Coach Hyatt is hoping that the squad will continue to improve with experience and the Spartans will be able to top last season's performance.

Flem, Correll to Lead Team

Raiders Battle Inexperience as Season Approaches

Woodbridge High School wrestling coach Gary Bottiger is currently preparing his young team for their season opening match on January 4 at Laurel.

Last season the Raiders managed a 4-8 record led mainly by conference and state champion Alonzo Frisby and conference champion Rocky Flem. Frisby has since graduated and Flem, now a senior will be counted on to help lead the team.

Flem started off this current season pretty good finishing fourth in the Milford Invitational but after missing practice the following week he was not allowed to wrestle in the Salisbury Invitational Tournament. Flem will be an important part of the Raiders team as he is the only Raider who will be able to wrestle in the 167 pound class.

Also counted on heavily this year to lead the Raiders will be junior Landy Correll. Landy has had two excellent tournaments to begin the season finishing second in the Milford Invitational and fourth at Salisbury. Correll lost two close matches at Salisbury being defeated 3-2 by Marvin Marshall of Indian River in the semi-finals and losing again by one point in his consolation match. At Milford Correll dropped his match in the finals after leading with little time left, only to be tied and lose in overtime. Correll will be wrestling in one of the toughest weight classes in the Henlopen Conference at 112 pounds. He will receive tough competition all season from both Marshall and Caesar Rodney's Mike Santy who won the Milford Tournament.

Bottiger's team overall will be young and inexperienced as only Flem and 132 pound hopeful Mark Wheatley will be seniors. Starting with the lightest weight 98 pounds will be manned by freshman Jeff Busby. At 105 pounds will be David Johnson who is a sophomore. Following Correll at 112 will be sophomore Kenny Wilson or freshman Jay Armwood at 119. Wrestling at 125 will be sophomore Joey Busby while either the aforementioned Wheatley or sophomore Mike Calvert will handle 132.

Bottiger is beginning his ninth year as coach at Woodbridge and has about 29 wrestlers all together for this year's squad. In the heavier weights Bottiger will have to be satisfied with the wrestlers he has now as there is no backups.

Following their season opener at Laurel they will meet the Indian River team on Jan. 6 at Dagsboro.

A New Year of Hope and Peace

Hopefully, this coming year will see hope and harmony renewed, and peace throughout the world. For a great past year, we thank our loyal customers and friends.

Spartans Down Sussex 74-63

The Lake Forest Spartans boys' basketball team evened their 1977-78 record last week by downing Sussex Central 74-63.

For the Spartans it marked their second straight win following their season opening two losses. After playing the Golden Knights on an all even basis in the first quarter, as each team scored sixteen points, Sussex Central exploded in the second period. They managed to out-score the Spartans by a 22-15 margin and take a seven point lead into the lockerroom at halftime.

Sparked by the once again outstanding play of Lauren Burris who scored 27 points on the night, the Spartans managed to take command of the game in the third period as they got back the seven points they trailed by and added another seven on top of that. They then stretched that lead to the final eleven point margin in the final period.

Following Burris in the scoring parade was Philip Bowers who added 13, Eugene Dixon who chipped in with 12, and Jerry Custis who had 11.

The Spartans are currently tied for third place in the Henlopen Conference Northern Division with a 2-2 record along with Cape Henlopen. They trail Seaford and Dover both with 4-0 marks. This Tuesday and Wednesday the team will be competing in a Christmas basketball tournament at Salisbury State College. They will return to their conference schedule on January 3 against Dover Air and will once again take on Sussex Central on January 6. All games begin at 8 p.m.

Record Drops to .500

Girls Suffer Second Loss 55-50

The Lake Forest High School girls' varsity basketball team dropped their second game of the season last Tuesday night to Sussex Central by a 55-50 score.

The loss came on the heels of their upset victory over Milford on the preceding Friday and dropped them into a tie for fourth place in the Henlopen Conference Northern Division.

Unlike the boys' team which took advantage of the third period in their victory, it was the third period that spelled the girls' doom. They had taken a 25-21 lead at half-time only to see Sussex Central outscore them by a 22-8 margin in the third period.

Lake Forest managed a comeback in the final period but it was a case of too little too late as they could only manage to chip five points off the Golden Knights lead.

Laura Newnom led the girls in scoring with 19 points while Cindy Dukes added 18. Chris Morrow added eight points for the losers.

Lake Forest trails division leader Dover who are 3-0 and also Sussex Central and Milford both with 2-1 records. The girls' next game will be on January 3 when they will meet Dover Air at home. Game time is 6:30.

Farmers Plan Trip To San Diego

DOVER - A group of farmers and their wives from New Castle, Kent and Sussex Counties are planning an Agricultural Tour to San Diego, California. The date of departure will be February 12, 1978 and the group will return February 18, 1978.

Educational tours of this nature have given Delaware farmers a look at what farmers are doing in other parts of the United States. The area to visit this year is very diversified and should be of interest to Delaware farmers. The County Agent in San Diego has made arrangements for two days of agricultural visits. The balance of the week can be spent sightseeing or whatever you wish to do. The cost of the tour will be $440. per person. This will include everything except meals.

For further information contact David Woodward, County Agricultural Agent, Dover - 736-1448.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. - For the second year in a row, NASCAR's Winston Cup Grand National series claimed the world-wide lead in attendance over all other auto racing series.

NASCAR's 1977 attendance figure totaled 1,483,506 fans, an increase of more than 52,000 over last year, according to an annual motor sports attendance survey made by Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company.

The world-wide Formula One series drew 1,420,490 to finish second to the Winston Cup total, and ahead of all other U.S.

racing series, according to the Goodyear figures.

The popularity of NASCAR's Winston Cup circuit is evidenced by the fact it outdraws the combined total of USAC's Championship Trail (842,948), IMSA's GT Series (328,500), and SCCA's Can-Am Series (202,000).

Prospects look bright for a new attendance record in 1978 with ticket sales for the season-opening January 22 Winston Western 500 at Riverside, Calif., going at a brisk pace and advance sales for the Feb. 19 Daytona 500 are at an all-time high.

Fashion, especially in winter, begins with a smart coat that suits the occasion and the clothes being worn with it.

Since a coat is often a major investment that is expected to last several years, it's wise to buy the best quality you can afford, advises Janet Gos-zyk, Delaware extension home economist.

No matter what fabric you choose, look for these marks of quality, she says: Fabric that feels alive and springy when crumpled, with a minimum of wrinkling.

Seamlines that are evenly stitched, neatly pressed, smoothly shaped.

Well-constructed pocket corners, buttonholes and other areas subject to wear of strain.

Buttons with smooth edges that slip in and out of buttonholes easily.

A coat front that is cut on grain with adequate overlap.

Lower front edges that meet at an even hemline.

Generous seam allowances and hems in both the outer coat and the lining.

Machine stitching in matching thread with proper tension for the fabric.

Interfacing weight that is suited to the outer fabric, to retain the shape of the coat.

Serviceable and attractive lining, with a smooth texture so that the coat will slip on and off easily.

Lining that is neatly fitted and wrinkle-free, with an expansion pleat down the entire back.

Lining seams that are in line with coat seams, and that are tacked securely around armholes, along shoulder and side seams, and around the hem edge at intervals.

Fit is as important as fabric, says Ms. Goszyk. There should be no strain across the front when the coat is buttoned. The back should be smooth, but with enough ease across the shoulders to facilitate picking up grocery bags or bending over to fasten a boot.

The collar should feel comfortable and not ride up in back.

Sleeves should be roomy. If full length, they should extend to the point just above the hand where the wrist bends.

A full-length coat should be at least half an inch longer than the garment underneath, preferably more.

It is fiber content rather than weight which determines warmth, reminds the home economist. Wool is the warmest fiber, with acrylics ranking next.

Fabric construction also helps determine the warmth of a coat, she adds. Twill weaves, tightly constructed regular weaves and piles are the warmest. Cotton, polyester and nylon fibers may be woven to appear warm, but really are not.

Labels on winter coats may contain the words virgin wool, reprocessed wool or reused wool.

Virgin wool means that the fiber has never been used before.

Reprocessed wool was woven into a fabric that was never used, then processed again into a new fabric.

Reused wool comes from fabric that has been used by a consumer. It is cleaned, processed, and re-woven into another fabric.

Reprocessed and reused wool have a rougher texture than virgin wool, but are just as warm, says Ms. Goszyk. The consumer should have no doubts about these fabrics if a coat meets the other quality tests.

Coming Events

4-H News

ended with an Easter Egg hunt!
 Summer is a busy time for 4-Hers. Between the State Fair, Horse Show and Camp, 4-Hers hardly have enough time to make a trip to the beach.
 As the summer closes, National 4-H Week comes to mind. This year's theme, "Freedom to Be" was very successful. Our 4-Hers did a great job telling the community what 4-H is all about.

 This year's winner was the Bridgeville Livewires 4-H Club. Our Annual Achievement Banquet follows National 4-H Week and what a great way to honor 4-Hers who have shown us their outstanding workmanship.

Time really flies when you're having fun, doesn't it? Another year has already passed and our Sussex County 4-Hers have been busy all year long. Let's just highlight some of the main events.

In January, 4-H leaders and links traveled to see the Ice Follies in Baltimore. I'm sure they remember how exciting "Big Bird" and "Little Leto" were on ice! The month was ended with the Public Speaking Contest. Trophy winners were Mike Roberts, Hilo Iwato, Karen and Janelle Taylor.

The highlight of March was Junior Leader and the Leader's Weekend. Everybody remembers making coke can lamps and the 50's party and don't forget the flag pole venture! We all learned the do's and don't of applying make-up. Ted Palmer and Ernest Young will be more than glad to answer any questions you girls have!

April was highlighted with the Annual Dress Revue. We're sure Pam Knopp won't forget this event. Pam was crowned the 1977 Queen. Good workmanship, holding those shoulders back and a big smile helped Pam to capture this title.
 Younger members enjoy week-ends of their own. This year's was centered around Mother Goose. Remember, Jack and Jill, Little Miss Ruffing and the spiders, Red Riding Hood and the Wolves, Goldilocks and the Three Bears and of course, that Old Woman who lived in the Shoe and all of her children. The week-end

HARRINGTON HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION Special Meeting Of Association Membership

 2) Consider other minor changes to update the bylaws.
 3) Transact such other business as may properly come before the meeting.
