

Trash Still A Problem In Harrington

Trash, or the removal of it, was the main issue at the Harrington City Council meeting Tuesday night.

Council members agreed that the trash ordinances need to be revised, and this item was placed on the agenda for a further meeting.

Concerning the trash problem, Councilman Gary Homewood stated, "The city will have to admit to its past errors and start fresh."

The hearing of Mrs. Ken Meredith, who is currently in litigation with the city concerning trash collection, has been scheduled for February 28 at 11 a.m.

In other business, the Council voted to authorize the city manager to seek legal advice from the City Solicitor on city business without going through the council.

Two members of the Harrington Jaycees, Ray

Blanchette and Jim Callaway, were present to thank the city council for their donation to the annual Jaycee Christmas parade. They also reminded the council of the Mayor's Prayer Breakfast which will be held on March 5.

Ewing Resigns Commissioner's Seat

BRIDGEVILLE - Kyle W. Ewing, who had successfully run for a second two year term of office as a Bridgeville Commissioner, resigned his seat effective January 31st. The Board of Commissioners, comprised of T.C. Grey, John Simons (current President of the Board and longest active Board member with twenty some odd years of service), Earl Willey, second in seniority to Simons, and William Hartzell were thrown into a quandry as to how to deal with Ewing's resignation. The Charter according to Simons does not specifically spell out how the problem should be dealt with and legal advice from the town attorneys, Betts & Schrader, have according to Simons, "... given us a couple of options which we do not wish to elaborate on as yet. Give us four or five days to come up with an answer from the Board as a whole." T. C. Grey, Secretary to the Board, has been ill and confined to bed due to the flu. They would have a quorum without Mr. Grey. Simons indicated the Board wanted time to reflect on the matter.

Sussex County Council

By Molly Murray

An application for review of appraisal or assessment was approved by the Sussex County Council on Tuesday, February 14.

The application could result in more paperwork for Sussex Countians. However, County Administrator, Joseph T. Conaway hopes that the new application will eliminate the need for some hearings before the Board of Assessment.

According to Conaway, the application is based on a similar form used in Charleston, South Carolina. He claimed that in South Carolina the appraisal and assessment application alleviated the need for hearings in many cases. "As people respond Center in 1977. Cahall chaired Harrington's Planning and Zoning Commission in 1975, and took the office of mayor in January of 1977.

His major goals as mayor are to improve Harrington's town image, to coordinate the city budget, and to open the channels of communication between the city council and the community. How is this working?

Houston Council Approves Charter

The Houston Town Council last Thursday approved the draft of their new charter and discussed voting registration procedures.

The charter has been turned over to their attorneys, Ridgely and Ridgely, for preparation.

The council voted to retain the current voting laws. Anyone paying town taxes, and over eighteen years of age, may vote in Houston.

The second floor of the firehouse will be open February 25 from 2-4 p.m. to accept the names of those running for town council.

A survey report of the town is in preparation for submission to the Federal Government.

to the questions on the application they often figure out the answers to their questions", Conaway explained.

"Basically, the application will give the taxpayer a confirmation that he will have a hearing and it will let him know when he will have it", Conaway said.

In other business, Conaway informed Council that Sussex County had applied for the nine National Achievement awards. These awards are given by the National Association of Counties. Council was also informed that the snow removal budget had been drained. Conaway indicated, however, that it would present no problem unless there would be another snow storm.

More people are turning out at the council meetings, according to Cahall, and they are speaking up. They are more open to coming forward with their complaints.

"This really is a self-sufficient town," he said in an interview. "We have it all right here..."

The Outstanding Young Man will be chosen at a banquet on February 18 in Wilmington.

SSR To Continue

By Gloria Lynn Dill

Following a successful pilot program, the Sustained Silent Reading (SSR) project at Lake Forest High School will continue throughout the year during alternate class periods.

The SSR, which consists of weekly 30-minute reading "breaks" was tested at the school during December and January. Everyone was required to participate, including office and maintenance personnel. The reading is strictly for pleasure, and students were told to bring in "anything of interest to them, even if it's the back of a cereal box." Often, this is the only time some persons have to read for fun.

One secretary admitted to feeling guilty about sitting at her desk reading a magazine.

The program has been active in Delaware and Maryland schools for nearly seven years, according to reading specialist Mary Jane Kee, with the results that both

DuPont in Houston; Seeks Offshore Oil Bases

Governor du Pont left for Houston and New Orleans this week for a round of economic development talks with oil industry officials in a continuation of his effort to bring offshore oil support bases to Delaware.

"This trip is designed to acquaint the oil industry with Delaware's desire to be the site of the onshore support bases for the anticipated drilling of oil in the Baltimore Canyon off our coastline," the Governor said.

Governor du Pont noted that the trips to New Orleans and Houston will be similar to previous economic development trips he has made to New York City and Chicago.

"This is part of our continuing effort to expand the businesses and jobs we have already in the state as well as to bring new jobs to Delaware," Governor du Pont added.

Traveling with the Governor to New Orleans will be representatives of his administration, the General Assembly, Sussex County, and Lewes, De. The delegation of officials will meet with oil representatives during two working dinners and will tour support bases outside New Orleans.

In Houston, the Governor, along with James H. Gilliam, the Secretary of Community Affairs and Economic Development, Carl Oldach, the Governor's Industrial Development Assistant, and Austin P. Olney, the Secretary of Natural Resources and Environmental Control, will have a series of private meetings with petroleum officials on Monday.

The Governor leaves for Houston Sunday afternoon and return to Delaware from New Orleans on Friday. The Governor will also visit Dallas on Tuesday on personal business.

Attending the New Orleans meetings on Wednesday and Thursday will be the Governor; Gilliam; Oldach; David Brandon, Acting Director of the Division of Economic Development; Nathan Hayward, Director of the Office of Management Budget and Planning; William J. McDermott, State Industrial Development Coordinator and Austin P. Olney.

Also, State Representative William H. Vernon of Rehoboth Beach and Rep. Karen J. Miller of Dover will attend, as well as Joseph T. Conaway, Sussex County Administrator, Mayor Alfred A. Stango of Lewes, and other Sussex County officials.

The state and Sussex County are trying to establish an offshore oil support base in Lewes. Lewes is about 60 miles west of the Baltimore Canyon. The base, which could include housing, office space, a helicopter pad, port facilities and light manufacturing, would be used to service development of the lower Baltimore Canyon, one of the locations for offshore oil development in the Atlantic.

The state's proposals to the oil industry also include the possibility of the development of a monobuoy off the Delaware coast which would eliminate potential oil spills from tankers in the Delaware Bay. The state is currently reviewing proposals for the construction of a monobuoy.

In addition, the state will tell the oil industry officials of efforts to eliminate red tape on both the county and state levels to facilitate the development of the bases, and of the tax structure in the state.

Board Approves Boundary

By Molly Murray

New attendance boundary lines were passed, as proposed by the Lake Forest School Board, Monday, February 13.

As the snow fell outside the school board shoveled through drifts of pending business to adopt the new attendance boundaries.

The change will eliminate grouping two or more elementary school grades together. This system had been criticized by some parents as archaic because many thought it resembled the days of the one room school house.

The School Board also voted to go on record as being opposed to certain State Library Policy changes that have been proposed by Ms. Sylvia Short, state librarian.

Ms. Carol Reid addressed the school board as to the nature of some of the policy changes that Ms. Short has proposed. Ms. Reid indicated that policy changes one and four would affect students in the Lake Forest School District.

Policy Change number one states that individuals may not check out materials from the state library. According to Ms. Reid this would include school librarians. Ms. Reid explained that this would adversely affect students in the Lake Forest School District because presently elementary school librarians use the state library to supplement the books held by the district.

Proposal number four states that the State Library is not for public use. This would mean, according to Ms. Reid that individuals, including librarians would not be Christians Without Partners are meeting every second and fourth Saturday evenings at The Lord's Open House.

Report from Hickory Ridge Congregational Methodist Church: We are thankful that the big storm which struck Delaware did not come a day sooner. 87 people attended our morning service.

Saturday evening we had a good time of fellowship also. About 90 people came out for our covered dish supper. We were glad to welcome several visitors. We are grateful to Mrs. Delema Smith for playing the piano and to Bro. Jerry Marando for leading singing.

Our dedication service, Feb. 12 at 2 p.m. Special music by William Fleischer, III and our choir under the direction of Mrs. Shirley Everline. We appreciated the contribution made by Mrs. Mary Uhler and Mrs. Pat Paynter of Millsboro. Service concluded with refreshments.

Mrs. Helen Workman enjoyed a recent luncheon at the Dutch Inn in Laurel with her guest, Mrs. Grace Brown of Hattington.

Cheer Center News: Week Feb. 6-10: The blizzard of '78 has been the main topic of conversation in our area. High winds and the drifting snow stopped many vehicles along the roads and filled the driveways so that people could not get their cars to the highway. Our bus that transports our senior citizens to our cheer center was unable to get to our members. Therefore, the site was closed for two days. It opened on Wednesday, but our attendance was small compared to other days, but once there, activities were soon going with everyone busy.

Several of our members are still quite sick: Mrs. Beatrice Horner, Dorothy Kefauver, Mr. Wm. E. Horner, Rowalie Hamilton, Leonard Harriw, Birdie Forbes, and Myrtle Calhoun.

On Feb. 20, Monday, the Center will be closed in honor of George Washington's birthday.

Feb. 21, Tuesday, Bill Phillips will present a program "Infectious Diseases and Man Made Defenses."

Feb. 22 Is Arts and Crafts Day with Gladys Yeako. Come in and share some new ideas for Center pieces for our own dining room tables.

Feb. 23, Thursday will be the shopping trip to Seaford.

Feb. 27. Notice! A new date for our Public Health nurse for this month only at 1 p.m. for checking our blood pressures.

There is also available a newly established Health Screening Clinic in the Bridgeville area. Transportation can be provided for Senior Citizens. All services free of charge. Those available are as follows: Intake and Health History, Blood pressure and pulse, Multi-Phase Blood Analysis, Hearing screening, Mjltistick Urinalysis, Pap test for women, Hemoglobin Hemoerit, Chest Auscultation and Hemocult. Please call 856-5246 or 349-5237 for further information and appointments.

So many business and social meetings have been cancelled due to the snow, there is not much news going on in our area. Many are sick with flu and various viruses, as I am, at present.

Cheer Center News: Week Jan. 30 - Feb. 3 A four day and three night trip is being planned for Aug. 28 through Aug. 31 to Plymouth, Hyannis and other historical sites in Mass. and Cape Cod. If you are interested call Mrs. Doughten at the Cheer Center for information 349-5237.

We all extend a hearty welcome to our new site assistant, Mrs. Lydia Griffin from Milford. She is pleasant and cooperative we know we will enjoy working with her.

We were glad to have Mrs. Ann Booth join us as a member of our Cheer Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Meredith and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield attended the Patchwork Playhouse's presentation of the comedy, "Send Me No Flowers" on Saturday evening in Dover. After last weeks blizzard, many of us know what it is like to be snow-bound. Fortunately for local residents, the conditions improved greatly when some area men took things into their own capable hands, and decided to get out their tractors and plow the roads themselves. Thanks go out to Ron Jarrell, Bob and Bill Thompson, Paul White, and the many people who rescued stranded motorists, shoveled their neighbors driveway or gave a helping hand to someone who needed it.

Thomas H. Price, formerly of Viola, and Beth Lovelick, of Glenolden, Pa., were married Dec. 31st, at St. Francis

De Sales Church, Philadelphia, Pa. Thomas' twin brother, the Rev. Michael L. Price, associate pastor of Avenue Methodist Church in Milford, Del., and Father Ignatius Szal officiated at the ceremony. The newly-married couple traveled to Hawaii for their wedding trip and are now living in San Francisco, Calif. Everyone is about back to normal after the blizzard last week. Have you had enough snow? According to the forecast more snow is on the way. At the most we only have about four weeks of Winter. Spring is not far away.

There are still many who have just overed or are sick with a virus or the flu.

A number of people from the area went to see the Ice Capades on Saturday at the Capital Center in Maryland. Some went on the Chartered bus from the Burrsville Ruritan. Others went on the Chartered bus from Seaford.

Mr. and Mrs. George Collins and daughter, Shelly and Mrs. Elizabeth Collins have returned to their homes after a two weeks vacation in Florida.

"...now is the time to consider a personal income tax as a sole means..."

We see it every week in the real estate business where people from northern most states of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and New York principally relate to us the high real estate taxes in these states as well as other states.

Those who are in the labor market and earning a fair wage...or at least a wage that will earn them the right to purchase and pay for real estate can certainly cope with the problem of rising taxes. Those who are on a fixed income cannot in all cases deal with this problem particularly where the taxes are out of sight. Taxes are one thing, but the rising costs of utilities are still another problem facing people on a fixed income.

I believe, in most cases, government officials across this nation have forgotten to take into consideration our "senior citizens" particularly when it comes to taxes on real property and the cost of utilities. When you combine the two categories, the result is inevitable. Those on fixed incomes are forced to sell their homes and look elsewhere "to exist".

I think that our State should begin to study the prospects of taxation primarily through personal incomes rather than through property taxation.

There are many reasons for this and very few against. For one thing it would tend to curb in some way the inflationary spiral, for as taxes go up the price of housing must follow to cover the expense. In other states as well as ours, as improvements on real estate are made the taxes for improvements rise correspondingly. This tends to work a reversal for the property owner for instead of keeping his property up with a pride of ownership, he allows it to depreciate by failing to make necessary improvements. People are misled about real estate and appreciation of the product. It is the land which appreciates each year not the dwelling, necessarily, for the dwelling is personality. It, like an auto, depreciates.

With a personal income tax which is leveled at what it says, there would be an equal and proper distribution regardless of what it costs to administer the collection or supervision of the collection. Which is more of a detriment...to tax those out of their house and homes...or make a great expenditure to administer to a system that would be fair and equitable.

It would appear that the better thing to do now while there is still time to do so is to look for other means to tax rather than tax through real estate taxes. It is just simply not fair or equitable.

Governor duPont Reports

By Gov. Pete duPont

One of the foremost priorities of my administration has been finding new jobs for Delaware and keeping the jobs the state has already. Therefore, we've put together an economic plan designed to provide the very best state service to businesses located in Delaware as well as to seek new companies to locate here.

Delaware is blessed with splendid natural resources. Our location, our land and our people make Delaware a prime area for business to settle.

That is primarily the "pitch" I am making to oil industry representatives this week in Houston and New Orleans. Along with state, county and local officials, I am in both cities to meet one on one with those oil company representatives and try to urge them to settle their offshore oil support bases in our state.

As you know, the expected drilling for oil off our coast in the Baltimore Canyon area will start soon. Each of those drilling sites will need an on-shore support base from which to launch their supplies, workers and equipment.

Along with many other Sussex County officials, I believe that Lewes is the best site along the entire East Coast for those facilities. And that is one reason I am taking our case directly to the oil industry representatives.

Other states are interested in these facilities as well. And no wonder, judging from the minimal environmental impact, the number of jobs to be created, the influx of money into the state's economy and the increase in state tax revenues that the facilities will generate.

The competition among states is keen. But I believe that by taking our case directly to the oil industry, we can be successful in bringing the support bases to Delaware.

Lewes Mayor Alfred Stango, Sussex County Administrator Joseph Conaway, Representative Karen Miller of Dover and Representative William Vernon of Rehoboth Beach will also attend the New Orleans meetings with me as will other state and county officials.

It is also important to note that we are making progress on other economic development fronts. Late last month, we traveled to New York to meet with officials of J.C. Penney's, a large department store, to see if they were interested in building in the Delmar Mall. Late last year, we traveled to Chicago to meet with Container Corporation and other companies interested in Delaware.

Bringing jobs to Delaware is not an easy task. It takes time and plenty of hard work. While I do not anticipate overnight results, I believe down the road we will see more new businesses in the state.

Weekly Report

by Senator Joe Biden

Last week, the Senate completed work on the overhaul of the nation's federal criminal laws. This project, which is of considerable proportion, represents the first solid commitment by Congress to recodify and bring order to the existing laws that have been placed on the books during our 200 years of legislative activity.

For the past several months, as a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee and Chairman of the Subcommittee on Penitentiaries and Corrections, I have been working on a few relatively new concepts that will impact on the entire area of sentencing and sentencing procedures. I am happy to see that my colleagues have incorporated these ideas in this historic piece of legislation.

Highlighting the new sentencing approach, which provides for a fixed rather than indeterminate prison term and allows parole only in an exceptional situation, is the creation of a sentencing commission. The Federal Sentencing Commission would write sentencing guidelines as nearly fixed as possible for various crimes. Federal judges would have their discretionary powers severely restricted and would be expected to follow the guidelines established.

Over the years, our sentencing process has been based upon the erroneous assumption that we can successfully predict, encourage, and bring about the rehabilitation of criminals. Almost all of the available evidence, statistical and theoretical, points to the opposite conclusion. One need only look to the high rate of recidivism to see how unsuccessful we have been in rehabilitating criminals. As yet, I don't believe we really even know how to go about it.

It seems to me that once a person has been convicted of a criminal act, then that person should go to jail not because he should be rehabilitated but, rather, because he or she deserves to be punished for committing an act detrimental to our society.

The theory behind the presumptive sentencing legislation that I have developed is: once a person has been found guilty of a crime then that person should be sentenced to prison for a time certain, to serve out his sentence in its entirety. Thus, every crime will carry with it a specific sentence. Each sentence would be set for a definite period of time thereby eliminating the large discrepancies that now exist. It is hoped that the swiftness with which the person is sentenced and the surety that once found guilty the person will serve time in jail, will act somewhat as a deterrent to future crimes.

allowed to use the stacks. If this policy were to go into effect everyone would be forced to use the book mobile. She indicated that the book mobiles do not have card catalogs; therefore it is difficult for a school librarian to know what books are available.

In other business the school board approved an overnight trip to Dover by OEA. Also granted was permission to sell chances to benefit the American Field Service. The board also approved the School Calendar for 1978-79. In addition, the date for the School Board election was set. This will be the second Tuesday in May.

Why Johnny (Can) Read

A Special Lab Helps

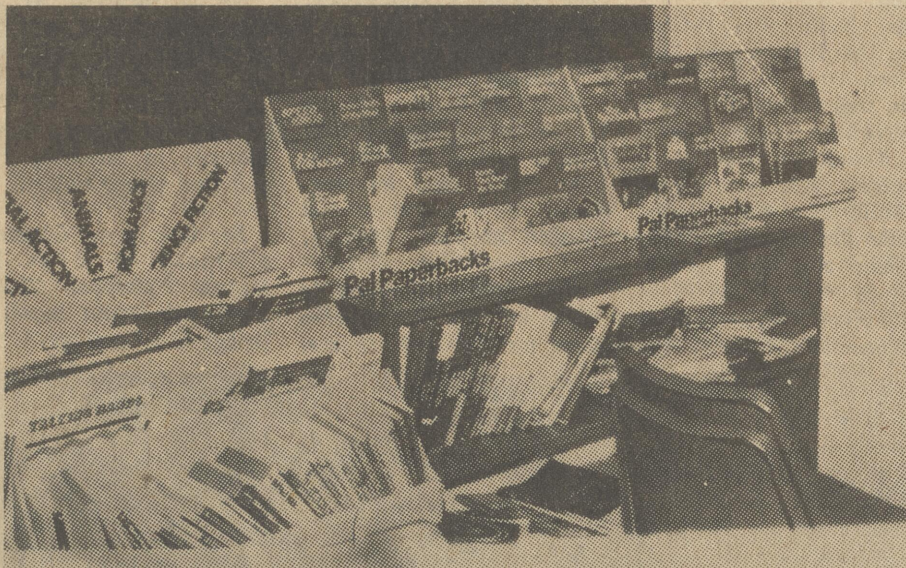

By Gloria Lynn Dill

They may work together in small groups or study by themselves. They will practice special skills, such as word comprehension, or merely take "armchair journeys" to the exciting places that the printed word provides. Restrictions are minimal, and the goal is this -- to help students acquire the reading skills essential to everyday life.

This year, Lake Forest High School has added special reading instruction to augment some students' daily programs conceived by junior high school principal Margaret Phelps, as part of her doctoral project, the Reading Lab is headed by reading specialist Mary Jane Kee, and is staffed by other teachers and selected students.

The facilities for the Reading Lab were provided by a grant from the Mideast Learning Resource Center, under Title 4B funds for "innovative programs." The atmosphere is informal -- tables and chairs, rather than desks, are used; paperback books line the walls.

Mrs. Kee has a B.A. in English and social studies from the U. of D. and taught English for four years before she "took the plunge" and went back for an M.E.D. in reading.

A wide selection of paperback books is available in the Lab, on a variety of subjects. The Lab encourages reading for fun.

The choice of "Book of the Week" coincided with NBC's airing of the miniseries Black Beauty. The TV special prompted great interest in the novel that week. Mrs. Kee admits that while television encourages passivity on the part of children, it can be an aid to reading.

While everyone will not tackle War and Peace, says Mrs. Kee, persons need certain survival skills, including the understanding of simple road signs, package directions, and medicine labels. Work in the lab helps to improve this practical reading ability, as well as concentrates on special reading problems such as poor perception or vocabulary.

Each student attending the lab takes a preliminary test of word recognition and an informal reading inventory administered by Mrs. Kee. The student may or may not have been recommended by his teacher. He receives a separate with his weekly schedule and assignments. Grading is relative. It is mostly individual work, according to Mrs. Kee, and "no student fails who tries."

There is nothing quite like this program in this area, says Mrs. Kee. Several English teachers work with their own students in the lab, leaving Mrs. Kee free to serve as a "resource person." Also, several seniors spend their free time as tutors.

There are many reasons why a child has problems with reading and "I don't think anyone is at fault." Often a child of six years is not ready for the demands of first grade. As each year of instruction builds on what was learned before, the child continues to fall behind.

Problems in the home often dwarf the responsibility of learning to read, or a child can react negatively to the pressure of learning brought by his parents.

Children often will not realize the importance of reading because their parents do not exercise the skill themselves. Area teachers have frequently encountered the "what's good enough for my father theory."

Developmental reading, according to the encyclo-

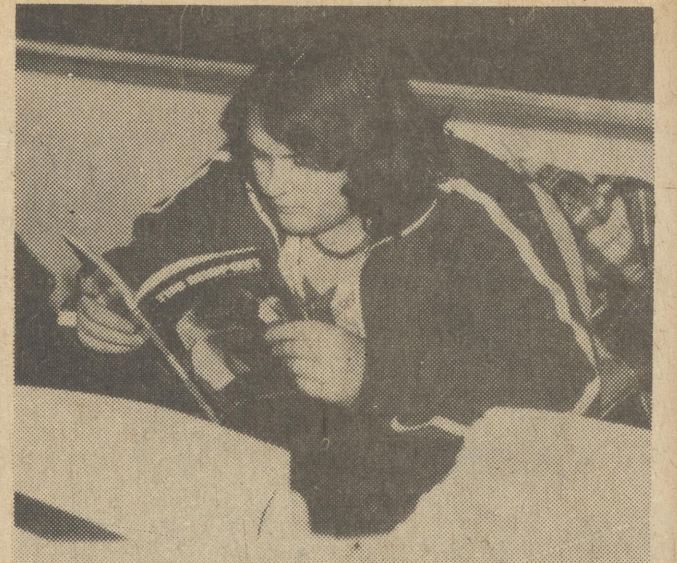

"Be a model," says Mrs. Kee. Read aloud to the child whenever possible. Even a father reading the sports page aloud to a small child helps him to hear words and get a sense of sentence formation. Most of all, let the child see you reading often.

Mrs. Kee wants the lab to become "the kind of place kids will come to when they need help." She hopes to add a pro-pedia, includes both vertical and horizontal growth. In vertical growth, a child attains higher degrees of skill in specific aspects of reading according to his ability to learn. He reads faster, learns more words, and reads with greater understanding. But enrichment must occur at each stage of development. This horizontal growth includes the broadening of interests, knowledge, and attitudes learned through reading at given levels of advancement.

What can parents do to help their child learn to read?

Reading opens the door to learning. A good reader can experience the knowledge and the lives of people who have lived before.

gram for college-bound juniors and seniors, and perhaps expand the lab area to provide "a place to browse."

Colleges are dismayed to find that incoming freshmen are unable to read university-level material with any comprehension. This is often the cause of poor grades, though a student may be capable of college work.

The ability to read well is essential in any effort at self-improvement and Mrs. Kee feels that she is teaching the basic tool.

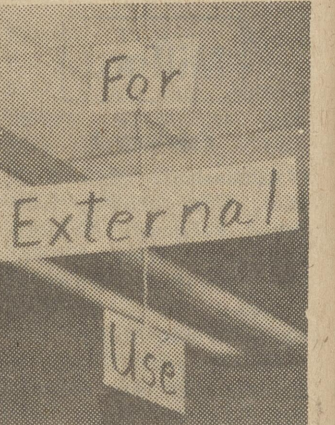

"If you teach a child to read with understanding, you don't have to teach him anything else. He can read it for himself."

Mrs. Kee serves as a "resource" person, aiding students with any problems that they may encounter with their individual assignments.

In a letter addressed to the Board, Ewing said as follows (in part): "In light of recent developments and information brought to my attention, I find myself in a position in which mutual cooperation between me and the Board seems most difficult. I believe that I can no longer make significant contributions to the operation of the Town." Ewing went on to explain that with his resignation it would allow the Town Board to appoint a suitable replacement who can give the electorate "...justifiably what it expects with dedication and devotion."

Even the labels of medicine bottles can be difficult for some. The Reading Lab stresses "practical" reading skills.

Don Godfrey Lays it on the Line

"Egg producing with Perdue is enjoyable and Profitable!"

Don Godfrey and his family came back to the Shore for 2 reasons: first, to buy a farm for producing hatching eggs with Perdue, and second, to settle down after 20 years in the Air Force. Don says they didn't even consider growing with any other company, because he and his wife had confidence in Perdue's reputation for quality and top-notch service. "My serviceman, has always been here when I've needed him, and Perdue even went to the bank with me to help with the financing," Don said.

The Godfrey's really enjoy producing hatching eggs with Perdue, because they are the bosses of their year 'round, weather proof operation, and are assured of a minimum yearly income. Don and his wife have full time jobs while staying at home with their 3 children-- and they like that! In a few years their 10 room Perdue Planned Breeder Hen House will pay off the farm, and help put the children through college.

According to Don, "Egg picking sure beats commuting," any day of the week! Last year he put 3,000 miles on his car, and with the price of gas these days, that's quite a savings alone!

Besides Perdue's Breeder New House Guarantee, which assures you $65,800 in 5 years, there are lots of other advantages to egg producing with Perdue. Why not give our housing specialists a call and let them lay it on the line for you?

The Funniest Thing That Ever Happened to Me

One day when my mother, father, sister and I went shopping I saw this lady in the Mall. I thought it was my old neighbor Janet Moore. So I said Hi Janet, what are you doing in here? Well, the lady turned around and it was not Janet. My sister teased me all the way home. I felt dumb. Everytime we go someplace I always remember that. So from now on when I see somebody I think I know I make sure that I know who they are before I say anything. I believe that was the funniest thing that ever happened to me anywhere.

Petunia Plant

It's tiring sitting around all day with nothing to do. But I do get a drink once in a while. I never get to stretch my roots. I'm always sitting down. My face is gay some days and some days it's facing toward the ground. In the spring I turn red. People enjoy looking at me all summer. In the fall I drop to the ground and go to sleep.

-Kimberly Thompson

One day I was riding my pony and she went to eat grass. I did a flip down her neck and fell in the mud puddle and got all muddy and our neighbors laughed at me. Then I started to laugh too.

Willy Workbook

Hi, I'm Willy, Willy Workbook that is. Let me tell you a story. Well, at first, I was in this box. I always have had luck, in fact I was at the bottom of the book! Once, it was raining and the children couldn't play. Well, one of the kids decided to play with beanbags. A kid stepped up and threw it! It hit me! Oh boy, I'd like to mess up his paper.

Another time, I was riding the school bus home, and this pea-headed blob of flesh smacked me on the side of this hard headed boy. Well, the bus driver stopped the bus, and took his paddle down and wacked him until his rearend was purple.

Next year, the school will give me to a junk yard, and me to a paper mill.

Safety Tip

If you are toasting toast and it doesn't come up, don't stick a fork or a knife in it to get it out. You might electrocute yourself. Unplug the toaster before trying to dig out the stuck piece of toast.

Yearbooks On Sale

We asked Miss Deiter about the yearbook and she said this year's yearbook is going to be paperback. The reason for this is the cost, which is $4.25. The student council will pay for some of the books. The cover is light blue with dark blue lettering reflecting '78.

Boys Are Just Getting Warmed Up

The boys' basketball team is also "superbad" as the cheerleaders say. They just take a little longer getting warmed up. They lost against Caesar Rodney, Sussex Central and Seaford. But they chewed Laurel and Sussex Central up. They blew Laurel and Sussex Central clear out of the gym. The high point players are Thomas Jacobs, Brett Evans, Bruce Banks, Anthony Scott and Marvin Morris. -Valerie Shahan

Girls Start Out Winning

This year the girls' basketball team started out on the right foot. They won their first game against Caesar Rodney. They just stomped them terribly. They went on and played Sussex Central just getting beat by a narrow margin. They then lost to Seaford and Laurel. But they went on to beat Sussex Central. The high point players are Veronica Armwood and Regina Batson.

The Life Of Milly Blackboard

Hi I'm Milly Blackboard. I'll tell you all about my life. But first let me draw a face on me so you can look at me. There, that's better. I was born in Kansas. They were fixing me up. When I was born I wasn't small and cuddly like you were, I was all black and on my way to school already. I was sad. I had no face, arms, or legs. I didn't have any school books or an eraser or chalk. I was so scared about going to school. All those kids writing and playing with my body. But I found out I was going to fourth grade. They were nice and knew how to act. They were smart. They didn't write on me much. But when they did I was proud. In no time I learned to read and write and all that stuff. It was fun. Now I'm still in fourth grade and Mrs. Theil's my teacher so I'll see you next year in fourth grade. Bye. -Shelby Jean Everline

Sonnets

A sonnet is a fourteen line lyric poem. The first eight lines are called the "octave", which tells the theme of the poem. After the octave there's a break or change in the sonnet. The "sestet" is the last six lines in the poem, and it comments on what the theme said.

The author can make the sonnet rhythm according to the way he wants it to. The last word in every line may rhythm or the last word in every other line. Sonnets are usually about love or the beauty of the earth. Most of the time they begin by telling of someone's love for another and then work in something about the earth's beauty. A sonnet is more thoughtful than a song. It talks, also, of an experience and may be very philosophical. A long poem composed of a series of sonnets is called a "sonnet sequence". There were quite a few people who wrote these sequences, but the two most popular are Elizabeth Barrett Browning and William Shakespeare. -Susan Calvanesa 7th

Layoff Doesn't Hurt

Spartan Boys and Girls Rout Delmar Varsity Teams

32 Points

Lake Forest's Lauren Burris was once again the top scorer in the Spartans' victory over Delmar on Friday night. Burris scored a season high 32 points as the Spartans defeated the Wildcats 102-66. (Staff Photo by Ray Blanchette)

Snow covered roads which forced school closings during the past week kept both Lake Forest High School basketball teams from competing on Tuesday but the layoff didn't hurt either team as both won by big margins on Friday.

The boys team manhandled Delmar as they topped the century mark for the first time this season defeating the Wildcats by a 102-66 score. Again the Spartan leading scorer on season Lauren Burris was the game's high scorer as he too came up with a season high by dropping in 32 points. Phillip Bowers added 18 points for the home team while Mark Smith chipped in with 14. The Spartans defense also managed to hold the conference's leading scorer in Eric Morris to only 19 points.

The Spartan boys were consistent throughout the whole game as they opened up a ten point lead at half-time before blowing the game wide open in the second half. They managed to score at least 24 points in each period scoring just that in the first and third periods while scoring 26 in the second and 28 in the fourth.

Lake Forest has two games remaining against Caesar Rodney who they have yet to battle this season and one game each against Milford and Dover. The Spartans will be facing a tough well-improved Caesar Rodney team led by ex-Spartan Bill Moore. Earlier in the season the Spartans defeated Milford, which is the only team the Spartans lead in the Northern Division, while they fell short to Dover.

The girls preceded the boy's one sided game with one of their own as they continue to close on a state tournament berth. Laura Newnom had fifteen points to lead the girl's while Gwen Scott who has been taking up some of the scoring slack lately added 14 points and Cindy Dukes chipped in with 10. The girls took a quick 10-8 lead in the first period and rolled up their lead by outscoring the Wildcats 11-2 in the second period.

Although Delmar did manage to narrow that lead in the third period when they outscored the Spartan girls by a 14-10 score Lake Forest didn't give up and crushed the visiting Wildcats in the final stanza when they outscored them by a 25-8 margin.

The girls now have a 9-5 record on the season and still trail both Milford and Dover in the Northern Division. They are to meet both teams this week before closing out their season with two games against Caesar Rodney.

Earlier in the season the Spartan girls upset Milford but fell short to the division leading Senators who are at the time undefeated but have since lost to the Southern Division leading Indian River Indians.

Quail On Top

Lake Forest's Mike Quail has the upper hand on his Woodbridge opponent Larry Purnell in the 185 pound match on Monday night. Quail went on to decision Purnell 6-2 and the Spartans went on to defeat the Raiders by a 37-41 score. (Staff Photo by Melanie Cline)

At Cape Henlopen

Conference Tournament Begins Friday

This weekend the plush gym of Cape Henlopen High School will be the site of the 1978 Henlopen Conference Wrestling Tournament.

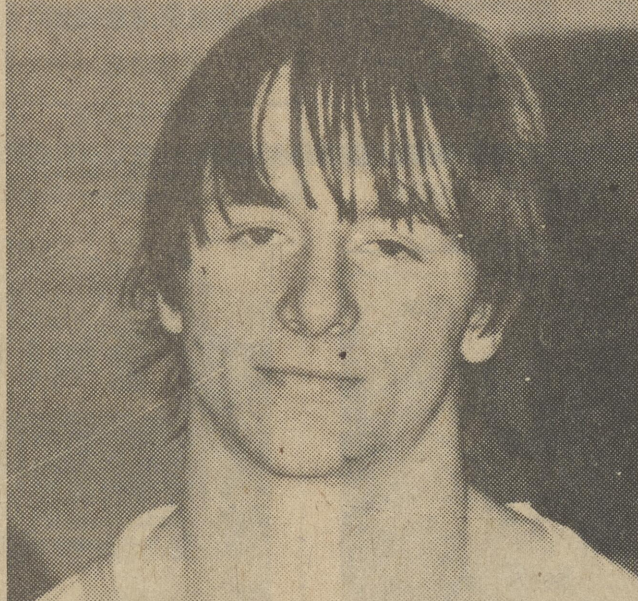

are really the highlight of the season according to Coach Hyatt with the dual as he captured the Milford Invitational title in his weight class but suffered through a mediocre season.

Along with Larry other good possibilities for a finish in the top three and a trip to the State Tournament the following weekend will be Tim McCombs, Ron Kosiorowski, Louis Hendricks and Mike Kosiorowski. McCombs is a senior who has been a steady wrestler in all the years he has wrestled varsity. Ron Kosiorowski is wrestling his first year of competition for Lake Forest and has been a steady performer all season. He started the season by finishing second at the Milford Invitational Tournament before capturing the title in his weight class at the Salisbury Invitational Tournament.

Louis Hendricks is another one of the Spartan junior wrestlers who will have one more season of varsity competition before he graduates. Hendricks has lettered for the Spartans in each of the wrestling seasons since his freshman year. Hendricks has come on strong of late and is a good possibility to finish in the top three of his weight class. Mike Kosiorowski is another of the wrestlers who has come on strong of late and could surprise some people in his weight class.

Undefeated Larry McCombs

meets really just a preparation for the tournaments. According to him the team has been improving all season and should be at their peak just in time for the tournaments.

The Spartans top hope for a championship will probably be Larry McCombs as he needs only to top Caesar Rodney's Chuck Groce this Wednesday to have an undefeated season in his junior year. Last season McCombs started off the season with a bang

Coach Justin Hyatt

The tournament will begin at 4:00 p.m. on Friday afternoon with the preliminaries and will continue on Friday night with the quarter-finals. The tournament will pick up once again on Saturday afternoon with the semi-finals while the finals and consolations will be held on Saturday night.

Lake Forest still has one match to wrestle that being against Caesar Rodney. Caesar Rodney to date leads the Northern Division of the Henlopen Conference having only lost to powerhouse Symrna. Coach Justin Hyatt of the Spartans stated that on paper Caesar Rodney has to be the favorite but Cape Henlopen was also the favorite on paper and the Spartans wrestled well enough to win.

Junior Varsity Wins Over Cape Henlopen and Woodbridge

The lake Forest vs. Woodbridge match resulted in a score of Lake Forest 41, Woodbridge 5.

But 24 of those 41 points were forfeits. There are only 6 boys on the Woodbridge team while there are ten on the Lake Forest team.

Brian Eckenrode was the first Spartan wrestler to make points by getting a pin. His time was 4:48. David Hilton finished with a tie.

Ken Williams, David Brown and Randy Ramirez all got decisions. Joe Custis was the only Lake Forest wrestler to be defeated. He lost a three point decision.

The forfeits were awarded to Raymond Acocella,

Jim Fleming, Dilmus Rogers and Curtis Harmon. The final score was Lake Forest 41, Woodbridge 5.

The J.V. match against Cape Henlopen was not quite as upsetting to the spectators as was the varsity match.

The Cape Henlopen team was very good, but just the same, our boys kept up with them as best they could.

For Lake Forest, Bryan Eckenrode got a tie in his match. He did very well as he wrestled even though he had the flu. Many times during the match he looked as though he might collapse. That, however, was when he wasn't wrestling. When wrestling he put his all into it.

There was one decision made by L.F. and it was made by Randy Ramirez. He wrestled very well; not even giving his opponent breathing room most of the time.

Who knows? Dave Hilton may have gotten us two or three points but, unfortunately he was injured.

While still in the first period, Hilton's opponent picked him up and threw him on the mat. You see this happen often, I suppose, but not quite the same as this time. His opponent, after dropping him on the mat dropped himself on top of him; knocking the wind out of Hilton. Mrs. Moffett says also that she called his parents and suggested that they take him to the hospital for x-rays of his shoulder blade. It may have been cracked. Better safe than sorry!

The points and victories Cape acquired were two pins, one decision and one tie. David Brown and Dilmus Rogers were pinned by their Cape opponents. Ken Williams was defeated by a decision and Eckenrode tied.

After the match Joe Custis, who didn't make his weight, wrestled an exhibition match. The score was Lake Forest 29; Cape Henlopen 29.

McCombs Remains Undefeated

Wrestlers Trounce Raiders 37-14

By Melanie Cline
After several cancellations because of snow, the Lake Forest wrestling team met up with the Woodbridge Raiders on Monday, Feb. 13. The result was a 37-14 Spartan victory.

The match started out on the wrong foot for the Spartans with their first man, Dennis Voshell, losing by a decision.

Spectators were beginning to believe that that loss was a bad omen for Lake Forest as the next two wrestlers, Jeff Grove and Doug Jarrell, were defeated. Grove lost by a decision and Jarrell was pinned. The first three Woodbridge wrestlers were T. Parks, D. Johnson and L. Correll. This summed up the score at this point to be Woodbridge 12, Lake Forest 0.

After these three losses for Lake Forest, David Shultie went out on that mat and wrestled like made. He and his opponent, K. Wilson, were closely matched but Shultie emerged the victor bringing Lake Forest out of its rut.

After Shultie, the Lake Forest boys all followed suit. With the score Woodbridge 12 and Lake Forest 4, Mike Kosiorowski won a 14-3 superior decision.

Kosiorowski had his opponent down on the mat ready for a pin several times, but never quite succeeded.

There were two pins made for Lake Forest. The first was made by Ron Kosiorowski, who not only got the takedown but put his opponent on his back.

Louis Hendricks has been improving since the beginning of the season as on Monday night he got an even faster pin than did Kosiorowski, 40 seconds.

Larry Kosiorowski and J. Busby were the centers of attraction. It was a tense match with the points evened up at the end giving Lake Forest and Woodbridge both 2 points.

Larry McCombs stayed on top of his man the whole time, winning 6-0.

Mike Quail and Mike Barner also did their parts with Quail taking a 3 point decision, and Barner also taking a 3 point decision to make the team score Lake Forest 37 and Woodbridge 14.

Tim McCombs got a forfeit since there was no one to wrestle in his weight class.

Spartan Loss Rests on Conference Decision

By Melanie Cline
Exciting! Confusing! Rowdie! These are all words that could be used to describe the scene Saturday night at the Lake Forest - Cape Henlopen wrestling match.

Controversial is a more effective and accurate description.

The match opened with Dennis Voshell getting a decision and 3 points in the 101 pound weight class. Following Voshell was a L.F. defeat; Jeff Grove (108) lost by a decision to Walls.

This was a forecast for what was to come. Each weight class was pretty evenly matched.

There were only two pins the whole night in the varsity match. Everything else was either ties or decisions.

One of the closest single matches was between David Shultie and his opponent Thomas in the 122 lb. class. Again they were evenly matched. Shultie was the victor with a three point decision.

In addition to Shultie's the Spartans got two other decisions, one by Louis Hendricks (148) and one by Larry McCombs (158).

There was one tie on the night which was in the Mike Kosiorowski (129) match. He started strong in the first period spending most of his time and energy being called back to the middle of the mat by the referee. At the end of the second period his opponent went for a pin but did not get it. By the third period both, he and Bryan, were tiring. That kept them fairly evenly matched.

The only pin for Lake Forest was by Ron Kosiorowski (141). He wrestled very well and worked for his pin throughout the first and second periods staying on top the majority of the time. Finally, with only seven seconds left in the second period all of his hard work paid off. He got his pin. He wrestled Cape's Gallo.

For Cape Henlopen, the points were just about equal to Lake Forest's. There were four decisions. They were made by Walls, Downing, Beckett and Quint.

Two points were awarded the team by Bryan tying with Mike Kosiorowski.

The one pin made for Cape was by Winstead against Mike Quail.

There was only one forfeit awarded during the game and it was in Cape's favor.

Tim McCombs was disqualified at the very beginning of the varsity match for alleged weight loss methods. He protested the disqualification and at the end of the match wrestled an unofficial match with his Cape opponent, Flowers, who he decided.

He had weighed in before the J.V. match and he was at his weight (170). This is their defense.

The team should have been notified before the J.V. match so that they could get a substitute lined up. Anything is better than a forfeit.

McCombs beat Flowers by a decision and the case will be taken to the Henlopen Conference for a decision on the matter.

At the end of the match the score was Cape - 26; Lake Forest - 20.

If the decision of the Henlopen Conference goes in favor of Lake Forest the score will be Lake Forest - 23; Cape - 20. If not, the score will remain as stated above.

"General" Lee Edwards thought seriously about quitting drag racing last year, but weathered the storm and went on to capture the coveted Pro

Stock championship of the IHRA Winston Challenge series.

Pit Chatter

By Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

CALVERTON, Va. - The beginning of the 1978 International Hot Rod Association season may have its discouraging moments, but Lee Edwards probably won't harbor any thoughts of quitting like he did during the first half of last season.

"I almost gave it up early last year," admits Edwards who weathered the storm in the Pro Stock class of the Winston Challenge series and went on to capture the coveted championship and a $5,000 bonus from Winston cigarettes.

"We had plans of running for the points title at the very start (of '77), but things went so bad early in the season that I almost quit."

After losing to Roy Hill in the finals of the Dixie Nationals at Atlanta, Edwards lost an engine during the World Nationals at Amarillo, Texas, and then missed the Spring Nationals at Bristol, Tenn. But he returned to the Winston Challenge series at Union Grove's Summer Nationals.

"I helped the competition by selling some motors at Union Grove," relates Edwards, affectionately referred to as "General Lee" by his colleagues and admirers. "Once they found the combination, it hurt me."

A weak performance at Union Grove set Edwards to thinking of quitting. "It was a week before Milan (Mich., Northern Nationals) that I began to think seriously about quitting, but I decided to go to Michigan. I took a sorry motor up there -- and won."

Edwards took that same "sorry" engine to Atlanta for the Winston Nationals and defeated John Brumley in the finals to lift his spirits and fuel his season-ending charge to the Winston Challenge series title.

"At Rockingham, we used a new engine and set both ends of the Pro Stock record with an 8.20-second run at 171.10 miles per hour," he adds. "I kept fooling with the engine and we were really pleased with the results because I felt that we couldn't afford to race much more. That kept me going."

The Fall Nationals at Atco, N.J., loomed as the "biggest race of the year" for Edwards, and again a superior engine performance vaulted him into the championship with a solid victory over Hill in the final run.

"It meant a lot to win the Pro Stock championship," says Edwards who progressed through the ranks of modified and gas classes in his early days of drag racing in the mid-1950s.

"I think it's a favorite class for the fans because they can relate to these full-bodied passenger cars. It's the most exciting class I've ever raced in."

That's saying a lot. Edwards began his career in 1955 racing a stock '55 Chevy. After wading through the modified and gas classes, his first all-out race car was a '39 Plymouth which he ran in B-Competition Coupe. Seeking more speed, he moved to an A/FD dragster later, but then decided he wanted to become part of the popular match racing scene.

A big block Chevy engine was placed in an English Ford, and Edwards enjoyed immediate success in match racing. He switched to an A/G Vega and ran consistently in the 8.70s and 155 plus m.p.h.

Edwards captured his first major title in 1972 by stunning the field at the IHRA Winter Nationals and winning the Pro Stock Eliminator. He then began concentrating his talents on engine-building and today he is considered one of the best in the business.

In 1975, he finished in a tie with Scott Shafiroff for second in the Winston Challenge series point battle. In 1976 he spent most of his time on the match race trail and had a great deal of success in the Southeast. By mid-season he had unveiled his new Vega with a completely removable body, the car which carried him to the 1977 title.

"I've been in the business a long time, and it's still a lot of fun to me," declares Edwards. "I still get pretty excited about making a run, whether it's in a national meet or a match race. I still get butterflies in my stomach when I hear a new engine start up; it really gives me a charge."

Edwards will get another kind of charge when the 1978 IHRA Winston Challenge series gets under way at Darlington, S.C. on March 17-19 -- the charge of a host of Pro Stockers who will be out to stop the one-man operation known as "General Lee."

Martinsville Dogwood 500 To Carry Record Posted Awards

MARTINSVILLE, Va. - Record posted awards of $105,890 for the Dogwood 500 Classic on Sunday, March 12, have been announced by Martinsville Speedway president H. Clay Earles.

The unique, NASCAR National Championship double-header consists of a 250-lap Late Model Sportsman race and a 250-lap battle for the 100 Modifieds.

Last year's Dogwood purse was $80,160, showing an increase of $25,730.

"More money for the drivers means better racing for the fans and this will be a fine way to kick off our 31st year of racing," Earles said. "Last spring, if a driver finished tenth in the race, he received $500. This year, 29th place in each race is worth $500.

"Modified and Late Model Sportsman are two of our most important racing divisions and we want to help them grow," Earles said. "This is one way to help."

The winner of each 250-lap, 131.25-mile race will earn $8,000 while there is a $1,000 bonus in each event for the driver leading the most laps. Last year, Paul Radford of Ferrum, Va., swept both races and led the most laps. Such a feat this time would be worth a cool $18,000.

Last season, first place was worth $7,800, second $3,825, third $2,450, fourth $1,400, fifth $1,000, sixth $900, seventh $800, eighth $700, ninth $600 and tenth $500.

In the upcoming Dogwood, the runner-up will receive $4,000, third $2,500, fourth $1,400, fifth $1,300, sixth $1,200, seventh $1,100, eighth $1,050, ninth $1,025 and tenth $1,000.

Even last place in each 40-car starting field has been increased from $200 to $225.

Late Model Sportsman cars time trial on Thursday, March 9, with the fastest 20 earning starting spots. Modifieds time trial on Friday, March 10, with the fastest 20 gaining starting positions.

Six, 25-lap qualifying races, three for each division, on Saturday, March 11 will complete each 40-car starting field.

"We are happy to say that despite the increase in our posted awards, there will be no increase in ticket prices," Earles said.

The Dogwood 500 Classic gets the green flag at 12:30 p.m. on Sunday, March 12, with the Late Model Sportsman race to be run first.
