Chipman Students Win State Press Honors

Four Chipman Students captured honors at the Spring Convention of the Delaware Scholastic Press Association held at Christiana High School on Thursday, April 20. Competing against junior high school students from six or seven other schools, David Marhefka won first place in newswriting. Three of his classmates also came home winners. Donna Blessing received a second in editorial writing, and Bruce Warrington was second in sports writing. Third place for drama review went to Marty Davis.

In the drama review section, a skit was presented for critique by the contestants. Bruce Warrington's efforts here won him third honors. The Delaware Scholastic Press Association Competition was the first of its nature entered by Chipman students. Accompanying the four Chipman contestants was their advisor, Mrs. Amy Coker. Mrs. Denise Coates is also an advisor to the Chipman Newspaper Club which produces a monthly paper, the Jr. Journal. Judges for the competition were Rex Schultz, Edward Kean, Darren Langston, Gail Stuart and Phillip Sczubelek of The Weekly Post; Fred Comegys and J. Gundel of News Journal; Kathleen Graham of Delmarva Dialog; Marjorie Nudges of the Delaware Association of Press Women; Joyce Lindsay of the Delaware Scholastic Press Association and Dave Pugh and Paul Niles of the Delaware Art Museum.

Sussex County Council

By Molly Murray The Seaford-Laurel area has been tapped as the pilot area for the "Great Towns" program in Sussex County, according to Robert Bernard, director of industrial development in Sussex County. This federally funded program is sponsored by the Delaware Division of Economic Development and the Federal Economic Development Agency (EDA).

According to William McDermott, industrial development coordinator with the Delaware Division of Economic Development applied for on a local basis or directly through the county. Sussex County chose to initiate the program through the county. The "Great Towns" project, according to McDermott, has been used extensively in South Carolina. Basically the pro-

Fair Headliners Announced

When you get two hot rock groups, one "Grammy" award winner, a Nationally Sanctioned Rodeo, two "Grand Ole Opry" stars, a Country Music Talent Contest, a Double AA Sanctioned Tractor Pull, two stock car races, plus Wonderwoman and so much more together in one 9 day period, it can only mean one thing... The Delaware State Fair will again be a part of the Summer fun on Delmarva. The annual event is scheduled to run from July 21st thru July 29th. For various reasons, one of which is their varied assortment of grandstand talent, Fair officials readily predict they will shatter all attendance records this year and have billed their 1978 extravaganza as "A Fair To Remember". In keeping with the old adage of "Give the people what they want", Fair officials started early in the year to book a group that had been selected by high school students last year as the one they would most like to see appear at the Fair. The name of that group was "Wild Cherry". Due to a schedule con-

Harrington Moves To Preserves Heritage

Harrington may get a Historical Society. A group of interested citizens met last week at City Hall to discuss plans to form the Harrington Historical Society. Dale Fields, executive director of the Delaware State Historical Society and four other state members met with the group. Included in the local group were Mayor Arthur B. Cahall, Mr. and Mrs. W. Tom Parsons, Mrs. Amanda R. Quillen, Mrs. Martha K. Sneath, and Mr. Kenneth McKnatt. According to Fields, there are 21 societies at present in Kent and Sussex counties, with Bridgeville being the newest. He told of various phases of the state group and offered suggestions on the establishing of a local society and various activities possible. The importance of preserving our heritage and collection of our past for preservation was noted. He also emphasized the need of preserving our present, which according to him, does become history and the need to interest the young as well as the older citizens. Help in making the Harrington Historical Society a reality and cooperation in formulation and planned activities along the way were offered by Fields and other state members. Questions on various phases of the proposed society and ideas on several aspects pending formal organization were advanced by the local group. Progress on this worthwhile and needed project will be carried by the press as they continue.

Kent-Sussex Students To Get Three Day Weekends

By Molly Murray Students in Public Schools in Kent and Sussex Counties will be celebrating Memorial Day on Monday, May 29, due to a ruling by the State Board of Education Thursday, April 20. Prior to this decision, students throughout the state would have gone to school on Monday, May 29, and would have celebrated Memorial Day on the traditional date, May 30. Holidays have begun to cause headaches for educators and almost all employers. The reason for the problem is the trend set by the Federal Government of declaring specified Mondays as the new holiday. This practice results in three-day holidays which seem to please just about everyone.

According to Dr. Kenneth Madden, however, the Veterans' Administration was upset with changing the date of Memorial Day every year. Madden explained that the Veterans were afraid that people would forget the traditional meaning of the holiday and thus, all significance of the event would fade into oblivion. Delaware, according to Madden, was one of seven states in the United States to take the Veterans to heart. In 1976 legislation was passed which would declare Memorial Day as the 30th of May in Delaware. No problem arose last year, because Memorial Day, May 30, just happened to fall on a Monday. This year, however, Memorial Day falls on a Tuesday, and this is where the problem begins.

The Federal Government and most major corporations, as well as small businesses, will be celebrating Memorial Day on the Monday before the traditional date. The state, however, will be observing Tuesday as the holiday. Consequently, schools throughout the state were bombarded with complaints. Unless everyone in a family were employed by the State of Delaware, chances are a family could not be together on Memorial Day.

Kent County Levy Court

By Molly Murray Kent County will be getting a mobile recreation unit within the next few weeks thanks to a change in budget that was granted to Kent County Parks and Recreation Department by the Levy Court, April 18. The commissioners voted to allow the Division of Parks and Recreation to change its budget so that $3,310 dollars could be set aside to refurbish the Bicentennial Trailer. Once the refurbishment is completed, the trailer will be used as a mobile recreation unit. It will, according to Joseph O'Neill, Director of Parks and Recreation, travel from town to town to supplement day camps for children. O'Neill explained that the county sponsors day camps for two week periods in towns throughout the county. These camps provide recreation for children. In the past camps have been held in Farmington, Houston, and Cheswood. Firehouses have been used. O'Neill said, however, that the firehouses sometimes lack all the facilities that are needed. In other business, the Levy Court opened bids for a sludge truck and a heavy duty tractor and tank trailer. This equipment will be used to service the county sewer system. Rickle Manufacturing Corporation was the apparent low bidder on the sludge truck with a bid of $41,233. Warner Fruehauf was the apparent low bidder on the tank trailer with a bid of $40,982 for 2 trailers. C.F. Schwartz was the sole bidder for the truck. They bid $34,490.

Democrats To Host Bash At Fairgrounds

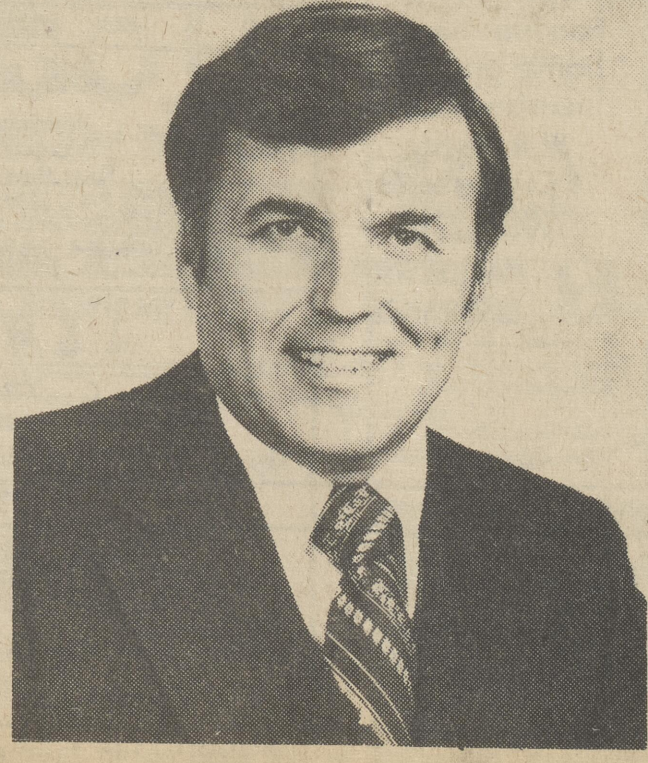

Sherman W. Tribbitt

The dinner will begin at 7 p.m. at the Harrington Fairground Restaurant. Price of tickets for the gala testimonial feast will be $5 per person. Governor Tribbitt served as Governor of Delaware for 4 years. He is now U.S. Commissioner with the Delaware River Baisan Commission. Prior to his term as Governor, Tribbitt served as minority leader in the Delaware House of Representatives. He was Lt. Governor under Governor Charles Terry. Before serving as Lt. Governor, Tribbitt was speaker of the House. During his lengthy political career, Tribbitt has been known for his down-to-earth approach to government. A native of Maryland, Tribbitt moved to Delaware after he graduated from high school. He owned and operated a hardware store in Odessa for many years. He and his wife Jeanne now reside in Dover. Lt. Governor Jim McGinnes came to Delaware in 1954. He was born in Illinois and raised in Baltimore, Md. McGinnes has been active in Delaware politics since 1962. At that time he began a 2-year term in the Delaware House of Representatives. Following this, McGinnes served for 2 years in the Delaware Senate. In 1972, McGinnes again served in the House of Representatives. McGinnes resides in Dover.

he began a 2-year term in the Delaware House of Representatives. Following this, McGinnes served for 2 years in the Delaware Senate. In 1972, McGinnes again served in the House of Representatives. McGinnes resides in Dover.

Lt. Governor Jim McGinnes

The Board of Education voted to alter this dismal situation by declaring Monday as the holiday that will be taken off for Memorial Day in Kent and Sussex County schools. New Castle County school districts will decide individually which day will be observed as the holiday. In other business, the State Board voted to support a national testing program. A national testing program for schools has been proposed by several members of the Legislature and this move by the Board endorses the concept of testing. The Governor's Commission of the Future of Education in Delaware has recommended that a statewide testing program be established wherein each student, grades 1 through 12, would be tested on a national normed test each year. At present, students in grades 1, 4, and 8 are tested in this way. The cost of such a program has been estimated as $230,000.

Harrington Man Runs Into Truck

MILFORD - Douglas H. Legates, 21, of Harrington, received facial fractures after driving under a Mack tractor and trailer, Friday, April 21, at 10:45 p.m. Milford police said that Legates was speeding in a southbound lane of Del. 14 near the intersection of U.S. 113 when he failed to stop for a red light. Legates' vehicle plowed into the rear of the trailer and went under it. This tore the roof off the vehicle and removed the insulation from the underside of the trailer, police said. Legates' car was totaled, and damage to the truck was estimated at $5,000, according to police. Vincent R. Fausset, 22, of Pocomoke, Md., the driver of the truck, was unharmed. Legates was reported in stable condition in Wilmington Medical Center after the accident.

Greenwood

By Pat Hatfield

Report from Greenwood United Methodist Church: Greenwood United Methodist Church has been the scene of a series of preaching missions "Seven Hours of Preaching Power-Easter to Pentecost" on Sunday evenings through April and May 7 and 14 at 7 p.m. The church has been full of worshipers the past four Sunday evenings. The preaching has been exceptionally good, and the singing has been enjoyable.

This Sunday evening, April 30, the guest speaker will be the Rev. Hubert F. Jicha, Jr., pastor of Zoar United Methodist Church near Millsboro. The featured singers will be the Wheatley Family.

Several men met at the church in Greenwood Monday evening for the purpose of organizing a men's fellowship. Their first project is a father and son day with the Phillies. Gary Bollinger and Jack Scott are co-chairmen for this event. Any fathers who were not present at the meeting and are interested in the trip to see the Phillies contact Gary or Jack.

Gene Carlisle, president of the Greenwood Lions Club, accompanied by Lion Jake Hatfield and Lion Allison Davis made a visitation to the Clayton Lions Club on Wednesday evening. Lion Hatfield and Lion Davis, who are charter members of the Greenwood Club were honored guests because of this. Incidentally, Lions, they brought back our gavel which was confiscated by the Clayton Lions when they visited here!

Report from Hickory Ridge Congregational Methodist Church: There were 105 present in our Sunday morning service. We invite children to come to Sunday School. On Sunday, April 30, all attending will receive a kite (with a Bible verse).

On Saturday, April 29, a group from our church (especially youth) plan to go to Teen Haven, near Lancaster, Pa., to help in work detail. The Rev. William Drury is director of this summer camp for underprivileged youth from Philadelphia and surrounding areas. All help will be appreciated, and you can know that you are contributing to this ministry of leading someone to Christ. Contact the pastor if you wish to go.

Report from Spirit and Life Tabernacle: On April 29, there will be a Youth Fellowship meeting at 7:30 at the Living Water Church, Laurel, Del.

Enroll now for Whispering Pines Christian School, grades K-12. Qualified teachers individual teaching to reach his potential.

State Legislative Notes

By Thurman Adams, Jr.

As you may have read elsewhere, the Maryland State Highway Administration is presently considering plans for a new bridge over the Nanticoke River at Vienna, Md., to ease traffic congestion on U.S. 50 through Vienna. Unfortunately, one of the plans calls for a fixed span bridge which could be as low as 45 feet above the water.

Such a low bridge could have a serious economic impact on Western Sussex County by interrupting commerce on the river and preventing larger ships from coming into Seaford to unload cargoes.

I have joined with Senators Richard Cordrey and Lee Littleton in sponsoring a Senate Concurrent Resolution urging the State of Maryland and the U.S. Coast Guard not to build a bridge less than 60 feet above the mean high water mark.

I'm sure you remember the dispute between Delaware and Maryland over the earlier proposal to build a bridge at Sharptown. We're hopeful we can win this one, too.

As this is being written, it is expected there will be action this week on legislation to fund an experimental weather modification program this summer. House Bill 860, of which I'm a co-sponsor, would appropriate $135,000 to the Department of Agriculture for a three-month project which will be evaluated by a special committee in cooperation with the University of Delaware.

Pilot tests elsewhere in the country have demonstrated that rainfall can be significantly increased and hail damage reduced by so-called dynamic cloud seeding. If the project is successful, the benefits to Sussex County farmers could be dramatic.

Last week I supported, and the Senate passed and sent to the Governor, a bill (HB 656) to allow a Delawarean on vacation on general election day to vote by absentee ballot. Earlier, we had passed a Constitutional amendment allowing the broadening of the absentee ballot requirements, and this bill carried out the mandate of the amendment.

Personally, I favor making it as easy as possible for citizens to vote as long as it isn't so easy it encourages fraud. It's impossible for some people to program their vacation around election day, and these folks should have a chance to vote absentee rather than losing their franchise.

I'm opposed to one bill (SB 540) introduced in the Senate last week. The bill would completely remove the present Coastal Zone Act prohibition against all types of heavy industry, such as refineries and paper mills, in the coastal zone.

I favor amending the Act to allow on-shore non-manufacturing support facilities in case oil or natural gas is discovered in the Atlantic Ocean off Delaware, but I'm convinced that SB 540 goes too far. The bill has been assigned to the Senate Committee on Natural Resources and Environmental Control, whose chairman, Sen. Jake Zimmerman, is opposed to cracking the coastal zone wide open.

I will report more on this in the weeks to come in my future letters.

Students Seek Summer Jobs

The University of Delaware Student Employment Office is seeking jobs for students this summer.

Many U. of D. students depend on part-time jobs to help defray the cost of their education, and they are looking for work in addition to summer classes. Other students who do not plan to attend the university this summer are looking for full-time work.

Under the direction of Michael Lee, the Student Employment Office acts as a clearinghouse where employers may list job possibilities for Delaware students.

Anyone with a job for a student is asked to send job information to Student Employment, 220 Hullahen Hall, University of Delaware, Newark 19711 or call 738-2873.

Miss Jo Ann Calvert and Miss Zena Graham recently visited Disney World and points of interest in Florida.

On Saturday evening open house was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Ryan for the 50th wedding anniversary of Wally's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elver Ryan.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Gallo, Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stokes and daughter Lisa have returned to their homes

Gab Fest

By Pat Hatfield

If I seem a bit breathless, it's because my day has been filled to the brim... and I arose early, too, thus letting myself in for it. Tomorrow morning I am expecting one or two friends in for a coffee hour, so, today, I planned to make up a couple loaves of cinnamon bread to serve. I was also aware of the fact that this column had to be scribbled down and typed up for this week. So we finished breakfast, Dad went out to the shop, and I sat, musing over my second cup of coffee, and contemplating the day before me.

Then Ellen called and wanted us to run down and see some marvelous pottery they had found for one of their collections. She was busy with the birds and two of the children were under medication for colds and sore throats. So, we took off and admired the dishes and played with the birds and then brought the kids and their medicines back with us to help clear Ellen's day.

Neither youngster was sick enough to stay put, so they were restless. Teddy asked if I could possibly make them some cupcakes, and then while I was trying to fit that in with the bread problem in my mind, he asked if he and little sister could make them. Well, why not? I had no cake mixes on hand, but I hunted up a simple recipe and proceeded to instruct and explain as I worked with the bread. Everything went well, right down to the frosting and the bread got into its bowl, the children were deliriously happy with their project, and, Praise the Lord, never once did I "blow my cool" as these modern youngsters say.

Some of the garden is in and we are eagerly watching for it to grow. We do seem to be blest in our little state of Delaware. The weather is sometimes erratic, but less severe than some places.

A Continuing Look At Historical Frederica

In the 1920's the state of Delaware began building the Coleman DuPont Highway. Around Frederica the biggest problem was filling in the marshy land in order to have a solid base upon which to build the road. Forty foot pilings disappeared like match sticks. It was several years before a fairly solid causeway was finally ready for the concrete. The road ran across the site of some of the carpenter's sheds of the Lank shipyard, which was closed. Expanded roads speed the traffic past the sleepy town. Those who do venture off the well beaten track are often delighted by the charm and self-sufficiency of the town.

Immediately to the south of the frame commercial buildings is a small brick restaurant. This is one of only 2 buildings in the historical district that have been built since 1930.

North of the restaurant stands a 2-story 5-bay frame house. It is covered with beaded clapboard siding. The box cornice is trimmed with modillion and dentil motifs. The 1-bay portico is supported by modern iron pillars. The 4-pannelled door is surmounted by a 3-light transom and is framed with narrow pilasters.

Number 6 David Street is a frame 5-bay house. It has a central cross gable that was popular in the area during the nineteenth century. The gables are decorated with fish-scale singles.

At 2 David Street is another 2-story, 5-bay frame house. It contains modillion trim on the cornice. The front door, covered by a 1-bay portico, is unusually wide and shallow; it contains a 5-light transom. The west parlor contains a reeded mantel of the Federal period, while the east parlor contains a later marble mantel.

The Victorian frame house at 109 Market Street has a cross gable in the center of the attic story with a central bay window in the second story. On either side of the front of the home are 2-story half-hexagonal bay windows. The door in the center of the facade is double, with glass panels and deep mouldings. A nineteenth-century gazebo stand to the north of the house.

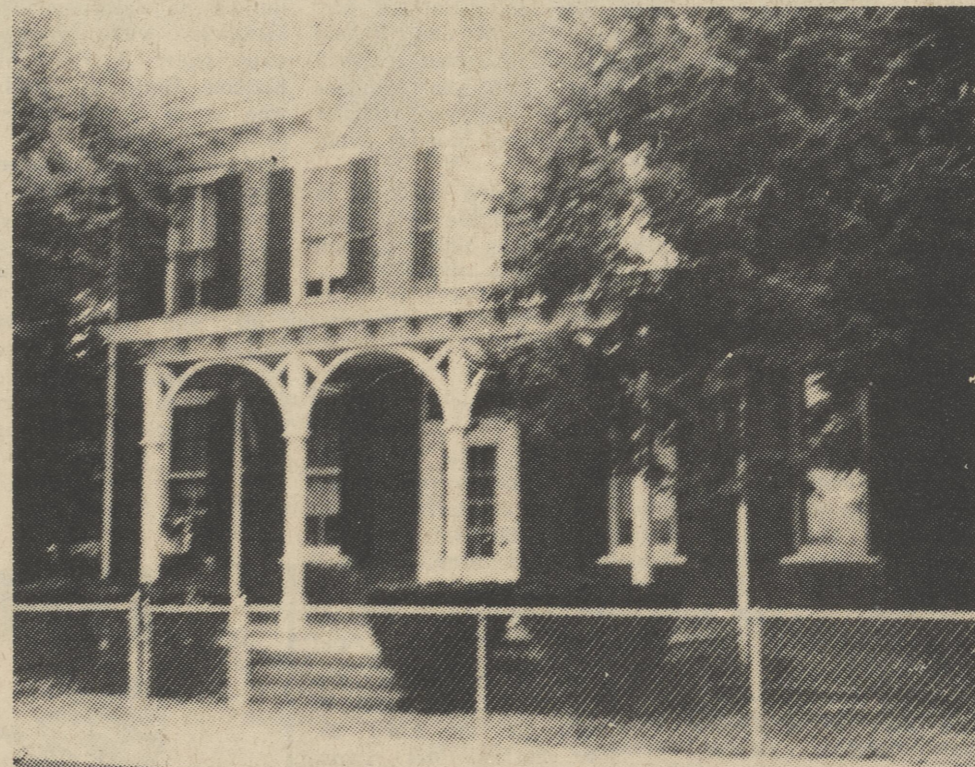

At the northwest corner of St. Agnes and Market Streets is a mid-nineteenth century brick house laid in common bond. A frame summer kitchen and porch on the rear have been enclosed to form integral parts of the house. The front and south sides contain porches supported by reeded pillars and scroll cut arches.

flict. Wild Cherry was unable to play the Fair date last year and Fair officials were not about to let them slip from their grasp again this year. Consequently, they were the first act booked for the 1978 Fair.

Another group which was high on the list of those students priorities was a group called Brass Construction. Brass Construction's nine man line-up began as a junior high school group who stuck to music as a way to escape the streets and stay out of trouble in Brooklyn's notorious Brownsville section.

Recently, New York nightclubs and discotheques have been turning out a new wave of hit making bands and Brass Construction is one of those riding high on the crest of that wave. Their first three albums, Brass Construction I, II, & III have all been million sellers.

Another act currently at the top of the music industry is "Grammy" award winner, Crystal Gayle who will be making a two show appearance at the Fair. Besides her recent Grammy achievement, Ms. Gayle received the coveted "Outstanding Female Vocalist" award in October of 1977 presented by the Country Music Association.

Attending to her overall appeal, rather than strictly "country", Ms. Gayle currently has songs listed on the pop charts, easy listening charts, as well as the country charts. In fact, the only chart her songs aren't listed on at present is the soul chart... but give her time!

Two of the more recent songs that have brought Ms. Gayle high acclaim on all charts are "Don't It Make My Brown Eyes Blue" and "Ready For The Times To Get Better", plus her Gold album, "We Must Believe In Magic."

Strict country music buffs will be able to hear "Grand Ole Opry" stars Jean Sheppard & The Second Fiddles, plus Roy Drusky - The R.F.D. Express on Governor's and Senior Citizen's Day at the Fair.

Rounding out the country music scene will be the "2nd Annual Delaware State Fair Country Music Talent Contest". Last year's event drew over 30 contestants and was such a huge success, in terms of audience appeal, that the Fair's Board of Directors voted to bring it back again this year.

The semi-finals will be held on Sunday evening of Fair Week and the finals will be held on Tuesday evening in conjunction with the Children's Day program.

Along with the Talent Competition, a "Super-Kid Variety Show" has been booked for Children's Day and it includes such costumed characters as Pop-eye The Sailor, Tom &

Jerry, Sylvester & Tweety, Flash Gordon, The Tasmanian Devil, and the super heroine of them all - Wonderwoman.

Various "Wheel" shows have been interspersed throughout the week at the Fair. These include the ever popular Stock Car Races, Demolition Derby, and Hell Drivers.

Another "wheel" show proved popular at last year's Fair was the Tractor Pull. Last year's Pull was an experiment according to Fair officials, but based on the sell-out crowd it produced, the Fair agreed to up the purse structure this year in order to bring a Double AA Sanctioned event.

According to tractor pull enthusiasts, a Double AA Sanction is about the highest rating a tractor pull can achieve and they expect some of the biggest names in the country to compete at this year's event.

A new attraction being added to the Fair's line-up this year is a professional rodeo. All of the traditional rodeo events including bare-back riding and wild brahma bull riding are expected. This will be a Nationally Sanctioned event and as such, over 100 cowboys from all over the country are expected to participate.

Although the Fair officially opens on the 21st, a free preview is being planned for Thursday prior to the opening on Friday.

Twenty Years Ago

Fri., April 25, 1958

The Harrington High track team turned in another good effort as it placed second in a triangular meet with Caesar Rodney and Laurel. C.R. led with 64 points, Harrington had 42 and Laurel 17.

The monthly directors meeting of the Harrington Lions Club was held Monday evening at the division office of the DP and L. Baseball season was discussed. James O'Neal reported 74 boys signed up for Little League at last week's practice session.

The following were given safe driver awards at the Harrington Post Office: William B. Anderson, 28 years; Robert J. Wix, 28 years; Keith S. Burgess, 10 years; Lewis K. Wroten, 2 years; and Roland H. Stayton, 1 year.

Keith S. Burgess, "the singing mailman," has announced his candidacy for a post on the Board of Education. In line with its policy of adhering to the requests by patrons, the Reese Theatre is presenting a special presentation of Walt Disney's "Old Yeller," April 25-29. No picture released in the past year has received so many raves from public and press alike.

Thieves took some $75 in small coins from a restaurant here known as "Heavy's" sometime between closing on Sunday and opening on Monday. Police say intruders smashed open a juke box and a pin ball machine. Owner is Isaac Jarman.

The marriage of Miss Louise Layton, daughter of Mrs. Florence Layton and the late Arthur T. Layton of Harrington, to Fred W. Gritz, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gritz, took place Easter Sunday at Grace Methodist Church, Denton, Md.

For Your Information Dear friends, When is a funeral well conducted? We would say that when those in attendance are not conscious that it is being conducted at all. When the details of direction are unnoticed, when the program moves quietly and smoothly. We try always to make our own presence as inconspicuous as possible. Respectfully, BERRY FUNERAL HOMES MILFORD 422-8091 FELTON 284-4548

How to Choose a Career

By Connie Abbott
"What do you want to be when you grow up?" Every child is asked this question many times during his growing years. The answers of five-year-olds -- a fireman, a doctor, a lawyer, a teacher or a policeman -- are simple and spontaneous, but the question becomes more difficult to answer as we grow older and begin to examine ourselves and realize the vast number of jobs which are possibilities. Confusion about career directions can occur at any age. Making a responsible career decision requires the consideration of several important points. The first of these is yourself. You are a very complex individual. You have your own unique set of skills, aptitudes and interests. Thus, the first step in any career consideration is to do some self-examination. Thought and introspection are very important but there are also some tests available which can assist you in these efforts. Reliable aptitude and vocational interest tests can be administered by counselors in private practice, schools and public service agencies while personality inventories are usually handled by psychologists who may also work in private or public service agencies. Finding a job that matches your skills, aptitudes and interests is very important, however, there are also some other points to consider. A prime factor is geographic location. Do you want to stay in your present area or would you consider moving? In metropolitan areas most types of jobs are available, however, this is not true in less populated areas. If you want to stay where you are, you must choose a career field which offers opportunities in your area. Another important consideration is working conditions. This includes any factors that exist in the working environment. If you tire easily of sitting at a desk, you should not consider most office jobs or if you abhor being outdoors in bad weather, never consider the construction business. Other environmental considerations will include air or noise pollution levels, hours or shifts worked and the location of equipment and co-workers. Money is an important consideration in more ways than one. Checking the present salary that the job pays is not enough. You also need to know about the opportunities for advancement and pay increases for the future. Another financial consideration is the expense for education or training. How much money will you need to invest in preparing for the career? In some cases the training involved costs thousands of dollars. If you do not have the money required, you will need to check out financial aid opportunities. Much tax money is spent each year to subsidize educational and training costs. One of the largest programs is the Basic Grants program which awards millions of dollars annually for college and vocational school training programs of all types. The amount of time which you want to spend in training and on the job is another question of paramount importance. Many jobs require years of education and training to develop necessary skills while others require little preparation or training. By the same token, some jobs have a very steady work schedule while others may require you to be on call at any time you are needed. These are a few of the basic considerations in career choice. Perhaps the most important emphasis here should be placed upon the word "choice." Whether you are seventeen or forty-seven, a career should be by "choice" not by chance. That is why these considerations are so important. Remember, a good deal of your adult life will be spent on the job. Try to choose the career which meets your needs.

Melinda Knox, Lisa Drummond and Marcia Smith, all members of the Future Teachers Activity group, display their handiwork in a bulletin board which uses the signs of the zodiac as its theme.

What do you want to be when you grow up? If you ask any one of 19 girls at Woodbridge Junior High School, you are likely to be told, "I want to be a teacher."

Nineteen 7th and 8th grade students participate in the future teachers activity club during their activity period. The girls help teachers in the elementary school by giving special help and attention to various students who may be having trouble grasping certain concepts. They also help run off class room material on the mimeograph, make dittos, and put up bulletin boards.

Desields, Lisa Drummond, Kim Hall, Michelle Hayes, Melinda Knox, Janet Morris, Rosalind O'Neal, Della Quillen, Crystal Sargent, Marcia Smith, Jackie De Carlo, Teresa K. Hastings, Debbie Landon, Cheryl Jefferson, Judy Adams, and Susan Kernodle have chosen future teachers as their activity.

On Tuesday, April 10, at the end of the day in Mrs. Davis' 2nd grade class at Woodbridge Jr. High they were not finishing their day with work but they were having fun Eating Ice Cream. The students in Mr. Davis' class were awarded ice cream by Mrs. Parsons head of the Woodbridge P.T.A. because their parents had the highest percent of membership in the P.T.A.

Calculators in the classroom! What next? At the Greenwood Junior High School the calculator is alive and well in the classroom. Watch out, though, because besides giving you a speedy square root, you just might find it talking to you.

Students in Mrs. Van Pelt's 7th Grade math class are finding that math and spelling can be fun. Mrs. Van Pelt teaches students the basic concepts of math. She said they have to understand what they are doing before they can use the calculator; and then she teaches them a section on calculators.

The calculators, when flipped, spell words. 1=i, 3=e, 6=g, 8=b, 0=o, 4=h, 5=s, 7=l.

Mrs. Van Pelt had her students make up mystery problems. Lori Hamstead and Karen Hawk won the first place award for their mystery puzzle. The question they asked was, "What do you say when you break your mom's favorite lamp?"

To find the answer, you need a calculator. Divide 16160 by 2 because she has 2 lamps like that but she wanted them both. Multiply your answers by 3 because you know that mom will smack you three times. Subtract your answer by 8080. Multiply that answer by 2 because she might hit you 2 more times. Divide that answer by 8 and turn the calculator upside down.

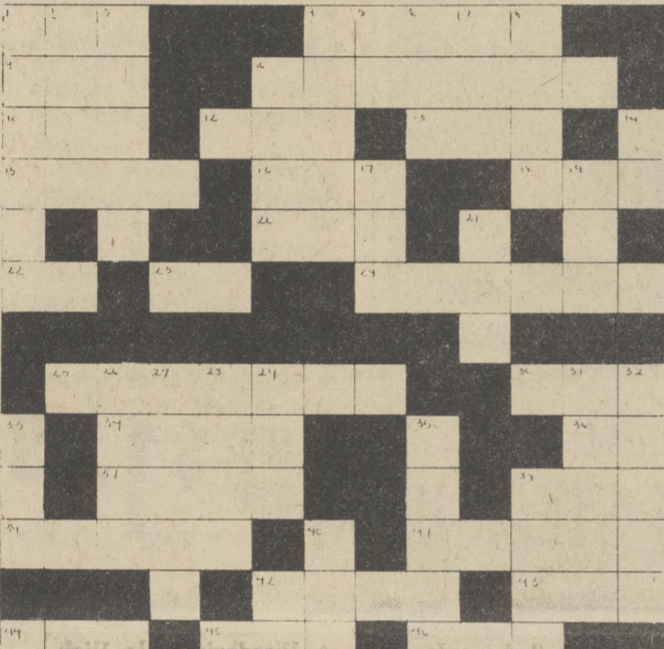

Two sets of students tied for the second place honors. Andrea Fooks and Carol Milbourn asked, "What do you do at a dance?" Well, to find out, start with 300,000. Add 18 people drinking. Subtract 10 people who went home. Add 10,000 chaperones. Add 900 more people who came. Subtract 300 chaperones who got a headache and went home. Add 9000 people who were left at the dance. Subtract 3600 sandwiches that fell on the floor. Flip your calculator. To find out what he looked like multiply 45 x 13. Add 923 to the answer. Next, multiply by 7 to the last answer you got; then subtract 2481 from that answer and turn your calculator over. To think up your own secret messages write the message in number form and reverse the order of the digits. Then think up five or six math sentences that, if computed correctly, will produce the final number. If you don't think you're ready to think up your own problems yet, you can try your hand with the calculator crossword puzzle.

Teachers Participate in Reading Workshop

"...And the caterpillar just does what he does!" exclaimed Dr. Charlotte Brooks as she read to a group of captivated educators. "I recommend reading aloud every day to all students. In fact, I even read to my college classes every day," she explained.

Dr. Brooks spoke before all elementary teachers, Title I teachers and Title I aides, and all secondary reading, learning disability and educable mentally retarded teachers in the Woodbridge High School cafeteria Thursday, April 13. Dr. Brooks did more than speak, however; she got the faculty members involved.

One teaching technique that Dr. Brooks advocates is having students act out stories. To demonstrate the effectiveness of this method she read from a children's book by Morton Botel. Calling on various faculty members, Dr. Brooks re-read the story. Each faculty member portrayed a different animal. As she got to the various parts the faculty member would act out the role. This method not only calls on creativity on the part of the student, it also captivates those who are not actively participating.

Dr. Brooks suggested that students do not always learn under the same conditions and with the same teaching methods. She encouraged the educators to explore a variety of teaching methods.

She also spoke about testing. She indicated that often times tests which are prepared to indicate national achievement levels are not very accurate measures of a child's intelligence. Dr. Brooks said that vocabulary differs regionally. To show this she asked the educators if they knew what certain words meant. Most of the people assembled claimed that they had never seen or heard the words. Dr. Brooks went on to explain that they are a part of every-day vocabulary in the Mid West. She also said that pronunciation can inhibit a child's learning. Here she used the example of roof. "Some people pronounce this word as 'ruuf,' others pronounce it as 'ruof.' How do you pronounce it?" she asked.

Dr. Brooks suggested that educators might try to have children tell stories from a different point of view. For instance, she suggested that the story of "Cinderella" could be told from the point of view of one of the ugly step sisters. She said that this helps a student develop a sense of time, place and sequence.

She also suggested that slow learners might be aided in their struggle to learn to read by tracing words. She said that one time a student of hers suggested that this procedure caused the word to travel off the page and up the arm to the brain.

Dr. Brooks is on the faculty of the American University. She serves as a professional consultant in English and Reading for the United States Office of Education and is the past president of the National Council of Teachers of English. She has experience as a teacher of English, reading and journalism in public schools, has served as the Director of the Department of English for the Washington, D.C. public schools, has been a Fulbright Exchange Teacher, and has served as both the NCTE Representative for the White House Conference on Children.

She is the author of five books and numerous articles in professional journals, the co-author of four books, the editor of the Holt, Rinehart and Winston secondary English series, and for several years served as the National Language Arts Consultant for the D.C. Heath Publishing Company.

Dr. Brooks' presentation was the 4th reading workshop this year provided by the Woodbridge School District's Right-to-Read program. The next Right-to-Read workshops for Woodbridge teachers will be offered in August. These two 5-day workshops will be conducted by Dr. T. Stevenson Hansell and Dr. Carol Vukelich; both are on the faculty at the University of Delaware.

Record Drops to 1-3

Spartans Drop Pair To Conference Unbeatens

The Lake Forest High School baseball team dropped to 1-3 with a pair of losses on the Henlopen Conference baseball scene.

The first loss was a 3-0 decision to Dover and the second a 9-1 loss to Seaford.

Against Dover the Spartans played fairly sound ball except for one fatal inning when they committed three of the seven errors they made on the afternoon. This inning, the third, with the help of the three errors gave Dover their only runs on the afternoon. The Senators managed only three hits on the afternoon with Ron Knight, Tom Smith, and Mark Greenage each managing a single off loser Jim Carroll.

Carroll allowed only the three hits while striking out five on the afternoon. His opposing pitcher Chuck Coker finished the afternoon with nine strikeouts as he gave up just two hits and scoring came in the first inning when leadoff hitter Eric Wise lined a single up the middle. After Wise took second, Louis Hendricks grounded out to first with Wise taking third on the play. However, Coker retired the next two hitters Mark Smith and Larry Smith to end the threat. Jack Spencer had the Spartans only other hit on the afternoon, also a single.

On Monday against unbeaten Seaford the Spartans were never really in the game as the Blue Jays banged in six runs off losing pitcher Louis Hendricks in the bottom of the second inning. The Blue Jays collected twelve hits on the afternoon while the Spartans managed only five off Seaford starter Bobby Vantrease who hurled the first four innings and his replacement Dane Clark. One of the Spartans five hits also accounted for their only run of the game as senior Jim Carroll smacked a solo home run in the top of the fourth inning.

Thad Ellis led the attack for the Blue Jays against Hendricks as he went 3-4 on the afternoon while Seaford also had one home run that coming from Jim Jenkins.

This week the Spartan baseball team will meet Southern Division foe Indian River who is currently sporting a lowly 1-3 record on the season. Next Monday the Lake Forest squad will take on Smyrna who is currently winless in the Southern Division with a 0-5 record on the season. Both games will be home for the Spartans and will be played at the W.T. Chipman field.

Custis Shatters Record

Trackmen Score First Ever Victory Over Seaford

By Keith S. Burgess

Jerry Custis shattered the Lake Forest 120 yard high hurdles mark of 15.7 by covering the distance in a swift 15.2 seconds highlighting a 97-44 Lake Forest victory at Seaford Monday afternoon. Such records usually see a reduction of one or two tenths of a second. But this time, Big Jerry put it all together in the first event of the afternoon to start his team off to an impressive victory. Custis later doubled by annexing the 330 intermediate hurdles in 42.6. Jerry's only competition came from Pete Hinson in the highs and Tom Ott in the intermediates.

Dan Parker made another solo try at his personal goal of 4.28.3, which would break one of Lake Forest's finest records, the 1970 mark of Chris Wetherhold. Dan did 4.30.2 at Glasgow Saturday in the wind and 4.33.3 on Seaford's dirt track. Louis Thomas was next at 4.59.

Parker captured the 880 in 2.07.2 with a determined David Richter pressing him all the way in 2.07.5.

Stacy Sams also doubled for the Spartans in the long jump (19-10 1/2) and triple jump (40-6). Charles McDougall was third in the latter event. Ken Thorpe edged a Blue Jay to clock a 10.2 100 yard dash. Thorpe and Baron Harmon went 2-3 in the 220.

Thorpe, Harmon, Lauren Burris and Milton Justice raced home first in the 880 relay in 1.35.6. A Spartan freshman quartet of Marvin Scott, twins Jeff and Jeffrey DeShields and Harry Brown ran 1.40 to also beat the Blue Jays. Jerry Custis replaced Thorpe and the Spartans captured the 440 relay in 46.5 getting some pressure this time.

Dale Johnson, Joe Custis and Leroy Parker swept the quarter mile. Johnson (53.3) in the 440, Joe Custis, Dave Richter and Milton Justice breezed home in the mile relay in 3.44.5.

Wilson Fry continued his Henlopen Conference win streak in the two mile beating Seaford's Dowd in 10.31. Fry lost the Blue Jay early this time.

Tim McCombs cleared 5 feet, 11 inches, a very good effort, to take the high jump with Joe Nored third.

Allan Walth added a foot to his best height in the pole vault and won the event on fewer misses as Seaford's Genesee and Spartan Gusto Voshell also jumped the winning height of eleven feet.

Mike Barner was second in the discus spinning the platter 111 feet. Eugene McBride had one of his better throws in the shot put, hurling the 12-pound ball 38 feet 3 1/4 inches.

Brett Asbury's leap of 18 feet, 1 inch was his best yet. He's closing in on the scoring column.

Thursday, the battle of the unbeaten takes place at Cape Henlopen. It could go either way depending on which team gets the breaks.

The Vikings should be favored since they are at home, plus the Spartans are without a track this campaign, forcing the locals to practice under makeshift conditions.

Girls Down Holy Cross

By Melanie Cline

The Lake Forest girls softball team finally got their stuff together Monday, April 17, and beat Holy Cross 17-3. Laura Newnom was the winning pitcher. Best batting averages for Lake Forest were Laura Newnom, 3-5 with a homerun, Gwen Scott, 3-5 with one double and two triples, Chris Morrow, 3-5 with one double and one triple, and Maria McClellan, 1-3 with another homerun.

Record Now At .500

Morrow Leads Spartans Attack In Two Wins

The Lake Forest girls softball team picked up the pace during the past week as they won both of their games to raise their record to the .500 level at 2-2.

The girls first victory of the season came against a Dover squad that was previously unbeaten on the season. The Spartan girls took a 5-0 lead in the game after just three innings and managed to hold on and win by an 8-7 score. Chris Morrow was the batting star in the game for Lake Forest as she slammed out three hits. Morrow's hits were all of different varieties as she hit a single, double, and a triple. Maria McClellan and Joyce McClellan also were a big boost to the Spartans attack as each managed two hits.

On Monday the game was never in doubt for the Spartan girls as they slammed their way to a 23-8 win over Seaford. Again it was Morrow who led the hitting attack but this time she received help from a different source in Tammy Warren as they combined for six of the Spartan hits. Laura Newnom was the winning pitcher in both games for the Spartans and raised her pitching record to 2-2 on the season.

This week the Spartan girls will play two games at the W.T. Chipman field as on Thursday they meet Indian River and on Monday they meet Smyrna.

Score In 14 of 16 Events

Spartans Finish Second to Dover at Nine Team Glasgow Invitational

By Keith S. Burgess

A couple of years ago Lake Forest won three events in the state meet held at Delaware State College. In nine years of track at Lake Forest, that may be the only instance where the Spartans performed better than they did at the Glasgow Invitational Saturday afternoon.

Lake Forest scored in 14 of 16 events, showing more depth than anyone else in the nine-team field and missed by only three points winning all the marbles.

Dover tallied 83 points, Lake Forest 80, Glasgow 72, Christiana 71, Newark 57, Brandywine 45, A.I. duPont 37, McKean 30, and Dickinson 20. Obviously the two front running Henlopen squads did the job against the upstate Blue Hen Conference powers.

The Spartans were without the services of three key men, had bad luck in the form of two injuries to 12-foot-pole vaulter, Kelly Woodward, and had a couple of athletes who were unable to hit their peaks this particular outing. Woodward's second mishap occurred when his pole broke, severely curtailing the efforts of Kelly and the other Spartan vaulter, Gusto Voshell. Using a borrowed pole, Woodward did well to get over 11 feet. Voshell did 11-6 for third, while 12-foot won the event.

Many other Spartans did excellent work, also.

Seasonal and lifetime bests were the order of the day.

Dan Parker charged into a stiff wind and ran all opposition into the ground in the mile run. His clocking of 4.30.2 was the second best in Spartan history, missing the record by less than two seconds. But for the wind, he would now be in the record book. Parker came back in the 880 to record a sizzling 2.02.2 for second place, despite being boxed in and despite facing a fresh opponent who did not run in the mile.

Jerry Custis won the 120 high hurdles in 15.7 seconds, tying his school record. Jerry's 42.2 gave him a fourth in the intermediate hurdles.

Ken Thorpe ran 10.5 for second place in the 100 yard dash and 23.4 for fourth in the 220.

Senior 440 ace, Dale Johnson, a track novice, seems to get better all the time. Dale qualified for the final with a 54 second plus clocking, then finished third with 53 seconds, almost a full second off his best previous trip and only one second off the school mark. Finally, he anchored the mile relay to a third place finish in 3.37.9, five seconds faster than 1978's previous best. A new school mark might have been achieved here, but for bad racing luck. On the second leg, Joe Custis had a full head of steam but had to brake sharply when a rival pulled out in front of him. Until this incident, Custis was threatening to blow by everybody.

Dave Richter and Milton Justice ran very well in the mile relay also. Richter won his heat in the 880 with a good 2.07.3. Since only three runners surpassed that time in the seeded heat, the Spartan got a fourth place.

Justice, Thorpe, Lauren Burris and Baron Harmon made up the second-place 880 relay team with a seasonal best clocking of 1.33.9.

Wilson Fry got the fifth-place points in the two mile run. Fry ran close to his best ever time with a 10.24. Considering he had to run into that wind for eight laps, it was his best 2 mile ever. The same applies to sophomore Bill Mitchell's 10.47.

Stacy Sams' 20 feet, 1 inch leap was fourth in the long jump, missing second place by inches. Probably his lifetime best triple jump of 41-6 3/4 netted him a sixth.

Tim McCombs was the other Spartan scorer with a good jump of 5 feet, 10 inches, giving him sixth place.

Jim Blades' squad, handicapped this season by lack of a home track, is doing outstanding work. Surely they're the most versatile team in nine years of track here. Hopefully, they are laying the foundation for even greater teams, once the new all-weather track is completed at the high school.

Spartan Girls Pull Out Victory Over Dover Air

By Keith S. Burgess
Lake Forest's Spartan girls' track team, coached by Dave Buck, are 2-0 after a 59-55 squeaker over Dover Air.

The Spartans won only four of fourteen events, but pulled out the victory by amassing a lot of points on seconds and thirds.

Barbara Williams' personal record toss of 79 feet in the discus led Joyce Ewing and Judy Moehlenkamp to a 1-2-3 sweep.

Tina Durant and strong-running ninth grader, Carol Payne, had the first two spots in the 220. Hilary Haines and Beanie Pizzuto did the same in the high jump.

Pint-sized Jowanna Daniels took the 110 yard low hurdles with Payne finishing third.

Phyllis Caskey, Hilary Haines, Tina Lapinsky and Maxine Harris, a strong mile relay unit, finished well ahead of Dover Air, but were disqualified for discarding the baton before the finish line was crossed. 64-51 should have been the final score but for this mental error.

Durant, Payne, Lapinsky and Phyllis Watson made up the winning 880 relay quartet. Watson was runnerup in the 100 and third in the long jump.

Harris racked up two valuable second places behind Dover Air's hard-working Sherry Brillhart in the 880 and mile runs. Maxine was competing in her first 1978 meet and is a long way from her form of 1976 and 1977.

Freshman Kathy Moulton and teammate Lois Russum did 14.20 and 14.27 to get second and third in the two mile run.

Phyllis Caskey was second in the 440. Barbara Williams and Joyce Ewing went 2-3 in the shot put. Williams is smaller than the average weight person, but does a good job.

Eighth graders Pandora Scott, Elva Mosley, Maranda Parker and Karen Gibbs ran exhibition 440 and 880 relay clockings that would have been good enough for second place finishes if they had been competing officially with the two varsity squads.

In The 'Winners Circle'

Owner Robert H. [Harry] Quillen, shown holding the horse, recently went to the "Winners Circle" at Harrington Raceway with his 5-yr-old gelding, Noble Theodore. The current racing season at Harrington will run another two weeks and officials at the track indicate pleasure with the success of this year's Spring Meet.

Custis, Thorpe, Parker, Are Double Winners

Spartan Trackmen Crush Dover Air 103-88

By Keith S. Burgess
Jerry Custis, Ken Thorpe and Danny Parker were double winners as Jim Blades' Lake Forest trackmen outran Dover Air 103-88 Thursday afternoon at Dover Air.

The 5-0 Spartans won 13 of 17 events, losing only four field events, the long and triple jumps, the shot and discus.

On a cold and windy day, impressive performances were few and far between. In fact, Jon O'Toole's 43 foot plus shot put was a top effort for Lake Forest, although it did not win. O'Toole, a part-time performer, threw almost two feet further than any Spartan in 1978.

Jerry Custis won both hurdle events, with Tom Ott getting thirds in each. Pete Hinson was second in the highs.

Thorpe annexed both dashes with Lauren Burris getting a third in the 100 and Baron Harmon a third in the 220.

Dan Parker coasted to victory in the mile but had to work a little harder to beat a rested Falcon in the 880. Louis Thomas had a second in the mile with Dave Richter coming in third in the 880.

Kelly Woodward, Gusti Voshell and Allan Walth swept the pole vault. Milton Justice, Lauren Burris and Baron Harmon ran on the winning 440 and 880 relay teams. Ken Thorpe completed the quartet in the 880 while Jerry Custis did the same in the 440.

Craig Fry, Joe Custis, Dale Johnson and Milton

Justice captured the mile relay with Johnson and Custis finishing 1-2 in the 440 yard run. Wilson Fry and Bill Mitchell did the same in the 2 mile.

Tim McCombs and Joe Nored were 1-3 in the high jump. Jon O'Toole had another second in the discus with Mike Barner racking up thirds in the weight events. Charles McDougall was second in the triple jump, third in the long. Stacy Sams was second in the long leap while Mark Todd was third in the triple.

Record Now 2-1

Girls Edged By Seaford

By Keith S. Burgess
Seaford's girl track team edged Lake Forest's girls, coached by Dave Buck, 60-53 at Seaford Monday afternoon. Lake Forest is now 2-1.

Each school won seven events, but the Blue Jays capitalized on a couple of breaks and piled up other points in second and third place finishes to get the decision.

Phyllis Caskey had one of the top Spartan efforts. Caskey had only a short rest after running in the 880 relay, but courageously held on to win the gruelling 440 run in 67.6. Phyllis later ran the opening leg on the mile relay unit, giving the Spartans a lead which was expanded by Tina Lapinsky, Hilary Haines and Maxine Harris.

Harris earlier had captured the half mile in a good 2.42. Haines cleared 4-4 to get second in the high jump and was third in her first mile run.

Tina Durant annexed

the 220 despite mistaking a chalk line around 210 yards for the finish.

Freshman Carol Payne tied for first with a Seaford girl in the 110 yard low hurdles in 18.1. Jowanna Daniels was third. Payne also ran a fine leg in the 880 relay coming from behind to put her team temporarily in the lead. This 14-year-old is one of the brightest prospects on the squad.

Joyce Ewing was the discus winner and was runnerup in the shot. Judy Moehlenkamp and Barbara Williams had thirds in the shot and discus, respectively.

Freshmen Kathy Moulton and Valerie Moore went 1-2 in the two mile run. Moulton now has won her varsity letter. Moore was trying the arduous eight lapper for the first time. Patsy Watson's 11.9 100 yard dash and Sheila White's 6.37 mile were fine second place efforts on a day when Dame Fortune didn't smile on the Spartans.

Local Pharmacist on Winning Team

Junior Varsity Remains Undefeated

Lake Forest's junior varsity baseball team continued their undefeated season on Monday as they defeated the previously undefeated Seaford junior varsity squad by a score of 4-3.

Doug Collins was the winning pitcher for the Spartans as he gave up seven hits along the way. Previously during the season the Spartans had defeated Caesar Rodney 1-0, Cape Henlopen 8-2, and Dover by a 6-4 margin. The pitcher for the Spartans in all those games was Randy Hammond.

The junior varsity's next game will be this Thursday when they travel to Indian River and next Monday they will remain on the road as they travel to Smyrna.

Ned Jarrett Recalls Past Events At Martinsville

MARTINSVILLE, Va. - Back in the early 60's when stock car racing was on the rise from the dirt-track ruffians to the magnificent asphalt tracks and beautiful plants like Martinsville, Ned Jarrett was big in racing and right in his prime. Ned Jarrett won friends on and off the track as well as 50 lifetime victories on the circuit, plus two Grand National Driving Championships, and induction to the Hall of Fame.

Jarrett retired from racing about 10 years ago and traded the hot stocks for a microphone where he has a daily spot on the radio and also with the Motor Sport line which broadcasts the races on the circuit. The cars back in Jarrett's time and before were really "...stocks...", and many times reflected the idea "...of right off the showroom floor". The cars today although called stocks reflect a more sleeker and modified look about them. The cars at the start of Sunday's race at Martinsville were shining and polished inside and out, but after the race they all looked like they had been put through the metal grinder. Also very noticeable about the style of the cars was the fact that the hood lines slope down over the tires ever so closely taking the front end almost to the surface of the track.

Other changes have come about too with adjustments necessary for Daytona and Talladega which have seen chassis changes such as winged cars and carburetion restriction...it has virtually stood still at others. The Martinsville Speedway is one. This compact oval now one of the most beautiful tracks on the circuit features the long straights and tight corners which still bewilder and deviously racers today as it "...did in my day", said Jarrett at Saturday's interview. The former owner of the Old Hickory Speedway in N.C. said further "...from what I can remember and recall Martinsville was the toughest then...even when it was dirt...as it is today.

Setting up the car for Martinsville has never been an easy task. Parsons who seemed at the start of the race festivities this year at Martinsville is one who has finished second the last two years running to Yarborough. Brakes and rear end problems are the devils at Martinsville. Jarrett related further "...that racing on these tight corners make brakes a real premium, and back then it was even more of a problem for we had conventional brakes (drum), which weren't anything like the disc brakes of today." Then Jarrett said, "in choosing a gear was also a tricky matter for a driver could go with a gear generating higher rpms to jump off the corners with the car to add to the necessary speeds coming down the straights. But...you ran the risk of creating excessive heat, which as you know would put you behind pit wall in a hurry." This is what Parsons elected to do on Sunday and what kept him out of contention during Sunday's race.

As harsh as Martinsville is on driver and car, the drivers in Jarrett's day enjoyed the popular H. Clay Earles' track as they do today. Mr. Earles a perfect gentleman from the old school knows how to "...treat the folks..." who come to his plant. Jarrett never won at Martinsville and his best effort was third in a Ford. He said "...after years of racing here I finally discovered that you had one tight groove, and if you got one foot out of that groove, you were in trouble. Jarrett, an accomplished dirt track speedster said "...it was sort of like racing in the dirt. You didn't go broad-sliding into the curves... but you needed the groove and if you got out of it you were in trouble." Another thing about short tracks is that they allow race cars to "...whack each other, and you will see plenty of it on Sunday", said Jarrett. (That we did, and it got better (or worse) as the race came closer to becoming history.) This is allowed because the speeds on the short tracks allow it whereas on the bigger tracks the high speeds prohibit it. Asked if any feuds erupted as a result of the tapping, Jarrett said "...you had some naturally, but the tapping and rubbing was for the most part unintentional. Let's face it when you are out there on the track competitively you might have to tap a guy in order to get by him or push him out of the way. This might put someone into the wall, and it happened plenty of times in Martinsville's past. This caused tempers to flare. One of the best remembered feuds was between Bobby Isaac and Curtis Turner. Both were really racing that day. Bobby was just starting and new to the game, but Curtis was already a living legend. Well...Bobby was knocking Curtis rubbing metal and fighting for the lead. Sure enough down on the third corner, he got under Curtis and went screaming into the fourth turn. Each crashed into the wall and wrecked. Curtis was first out of his car and walked back to Bobby. He said to Bobby "...are you deliberately trying to wreck me boy?" "No, sir", said Isaacs..."I don't even know you." That was Bobby though. Years later it was Bobby Allison and Richard Petty sharing each's paint job and more recently George Follmer teed off drivers but pleased fans at Martinsville with his wild and willey driving style.

In conclusion asked if any driver ever mastered Martinsville, Jarrett said, "...that possibly the best of the entire crowd was Rex White who always ran well here, but possible the best all around was Richard Petty." Petty before the start of the 23rd annual Virginia 500 had 14 victories at Martinsville, the most ever for any driver. The sway is to Cale now for he has won 5 times...the last 4 in a row. Still all in all the drivers today like yesterday look for the challenge. Even some things at the races never change...if you don't believe me go ask Ned Jarrett...the gentleman from North Carolina.

Herb Nab, chief mechanic of the Lennie Pond team. Nab, left Junior Johnson at the end of last year to hook up with Pond. He has kept Pond up near the top this year.

Dave Marcus eyes the Spring 150 Modified race on Saturday. Marcus is currently running near the top in the National standings. Maurice Petty is at his left.

Bonnett Puts On Driving Show At Martinsville

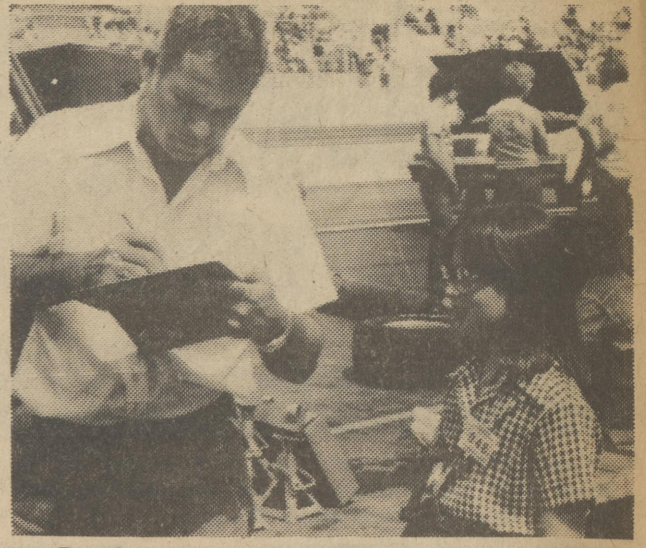

The man who proved to the enthusiastic capacity crowd of 40,000 was Neil Bonnett, "the other guy from Hueytown, Alabama", who drove for so many years under the watchful eye of the all time great Bobby Allison. As a student, he must have learned his lesson, because he put on a driving show Sunday unmatched by anyone at the small oval at Martinsville. With less than 50 laps remaining of the 500 lap race, Bonnett and Petty were racing for the second spot. At the time they were each one lap behind Darrell Waltrip, the eventual winner of the big race. As they gunned down the back stretch racing door handle to door handle, they picked up Dave Marcus on the apron lane who went to the third turn with them. Three cars abreast on the curves at Martinsville is "...too tight for comfort." Marcus was at the time 11 laps behind Waltrip and 8 laps down of Petty and Bonnett. There were but a few options open to Bonnett and the only one which seemed reasonable was to bounce Marcus. Petty was an innocent bystander to the whole thing, and he was out on the wing unprotected. When Bonnett hit Marcus, his car in turn hit the rear end of Bonnett's driving him over the hood of Petty's car and forcing Petty's car into the wall causing extensive damage. Bonnett's car continued into the wall blowing the front right tire. Bonnett got the car down on all fours again and got ahead of the pace car making it to the pits ahead of the pace car to get a new front tire. Bonnett said later "...that it looked as though the car was totaled." After the quick tire change he was back on the track and finished the race in second position. Bonnett told The Journal that their race plan today was to run close to the leaders all afternoon (he started fifth) wait to the end of the race, staying in the same lap with the leader and then gunning it home." Their strategy worked through the race except that the Armor All Dodge heated up near the end of the race, and "...I had to drop back and let her cool off. This caused me to fall a lap down behind Darrell, and I was not able to make a run at him at the end." Rumors circulated all week at Martinsville that Harry Hyde, the car builder for the Bonnett piloted Dodge that the Jim Stacy owned team will switch from Dodge to Oldsmobile before the Talladega race on May 7th. It comes from a real good source that the Oldsmobile is already in the Hyde garage at Harrisburg, N.C. The Oldsmobile which Stacy bought is the one Donnie Allison won with at Talladega last year in 162.524 m.p.h. Buddy Baker also gunning for the big purse has been the inability of Hyde to get racing blocks from Chrysler which takes a different type of casting than the regular block. Two of the three from Chrysler had to have sleeves put in them and the third had a sand hole in it the size of your thumb. Not only are they having problems with the gram helps small communities in rural areas gain increased business through industrial development.

The program will seem as a liaison between participating towns and industries that are seeking new areas for development.

County Engineer, Fred McKee informed the Sussex County Council of Farmers Home Administration Grant and Loan Applications that are being submitted for Waste-water Projects in Sussex County. McKee said that the County could apply for in excess of 5 million dollars in grants through this program which focuses on rural areas.

He stated however, "We are not going to get the whole package in a grant." He said that Farmers Home Administration also provided an extensive loan program. He explained that loans may be taken at 5% interest over a 40 year period under this program. McKee thinks that the loan and grant applications should be considered as an entity. "We've already asked for more money than they've got for grants," McKee explained.

Areas that are included in the loan and grant proposals are Henlopen Acres -- $65,000 request; Fenwick Island -- 1.9 million request; Blades -- .5 million request; South Coastal Outfall -- 2.5 million request.

County Administrator, Joseph Conaway informed councilmen that the C.E.T.A. program has employed 621 people this year. He said that when the summer program began the number of C.E.T.A. employees would increase to 1350. The summer program includes the youth employment blocks, but the Dodge Mangnum does not handle very well. It is too wide and too high. It was strange but Bonnett had his car under control Sunday, and he said after the race "...the car handled real well." This does not change their decision to go with the Olds. In the stands on Sunday were "...all..." the Chrysler officials in an effort to halt Hyde's move to General Motors. It does not look as though the movement can be halted.

Bonnett also told The Journal Monday night by phone from Hueytown, Ala., that they did not use any extra ducts to the brakes on the car. On Saturday after the Modified Spring 150 race won all the way by Geoff Bodine of Bellingham, Mass., Cale Yarborough practiced on the racetrack. After taking a few practice trips around Martinsville, the rear end and brakes got heated up. When he reported to Junior Johnson, the latter installed an extra air duct to the brakes. Yarborough had been running with the customary two ducts. The installation of the third duct seemed to help ease the heat situation. When Yarborough made this change, it set off a change in reaction down pit row. Parson's crew immediately did the same thing.

The addition of the extra duct to Yarborough's car was not enough, because on Sunday the car caught on fire in the trunk and rear end area. When Yarborough pitted around the 200 lap mark and hit the brakes in the pit area, the rear end of the car burst into flames sending a scampering Cale Yarborough leaping out of the car in "...less than a second." As Yarborough fled the scene Junior Johnson moved in and tunned off the ignition with flames leaping from under the car. The pit immediately got the fire out, but less than five minutes later, fire again broke out in the trunk area. This was put out and the crew continued to work on Cale's car. He got back in the race some 30 laps down. He was never able to make them up... but he gave it a real run

Card Of Thanks

I wish to thank the Harrington Chamber of Commerce and their selection committee who awarded me the Citizen of the Year Award at their recent Chamber banquet. I wish to give special thanks and tribute to all those persons who have worked with me down through the years in order to make this possible for me to receive this award. I would also like to give special recognition to my wife, Marie, for being a good mother in that role to our children, for being a good partner in making our business a success, and a loyal and loving wife. Many thanks to all.
