Congressman Tom Evans Announces Harrington Conference

On January 20, 1979, Congressman Tom Evans and Harrington Mayor, Arthur B. Cahall, will sponsor a conference entitled, "Harrington: Giving the Future Direction" from 9:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon at the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company on Harrington Avenue. The purpose of the conference is to acquaint federal, state and local officials with Harrington's needs, identify those agencies which could be helpful in the city's future development, and to determine what policies would be most effective in achieving the City's future goals.

The conference will consist of two sessions focusing on (1) Economic Development, and (2) Housing and Public Facilities.

Elected state and local officials as well as representatives of federal and state agencies have been invited to participate. The conference is open to the public and public participation is encouraged.

Congressman Evans said that "It is my hope that this conference will provide a meaningful dialogue between city officials and those agencies involved in the future development of Harrington.

Congressman Tom Evans

Harrington: Giving the Future Direction

Conference Participants Announced

Participating in Saturday's conference will be leaders and representatives from the local, county, state and federal levels of government.

Serving on the panel from Harrington will be: David Jones, Howard Wagner, Charles Peck, Dick Johnson, Carl June, Robert Wilson, Charles Anderson, a representative from the fairgrounds, the mayor and council. From the county: William Paskey, Don Culver and Jack Nyland (Kent County OEDP). Representing the state and federal governments will be: Congressman Evans, Tom Maloney ( HUD), Dave Brandon ( EDA), Al Arnett ( Conrail), and representatives from the governor's office and the Farmer's Home Administration. Also expected to participate are Senator Nancy Cook and Representative Ronald Darling. The conference will take place on Saturday January 20th from 9:30 to 12 noon at the fire hall. The public is invited and encouraged to attend. There will be a question and answer period following each topic of discussion.

Harrington Public Hearings

HUD Grant The Topic

Harrington must decide by February 5th what is most needed in the city, then must submit a pre-application by that date to be considered for a HUD grant. The request is one of the many being filed in Kent and Sussex Counties for a share of the $1.1 million allocation for the two counties.

With the purpose of identifying needs foremost, Harrington residents will be given the opportunity to express their views on this matter. Two meetings for public input are scheduled. They will be held on Friday, January 19th and Friday, January 26th at 8:00 p.m. in the fire house.

Citizens are urged to attend and to submit the ideas, suggestions and proposals.

The funds are available through the Community Development Block Grant program at HUD. The main objective of the program is "the development of viable communities by providing decent housing, economic opportunities and a suitable living environment principally for persons of low and moderate incomes."

Conference Topics

From Fact Sheets Prepared By Mayor Arthur B. Cahall III

Economic Development

If economic development or strength can be measured by the unemployment rate, Harrington is not strong in these areas. There exists a strong need for development of a plan to lure business and industry to our community. In order to implement this goal, the City of Harrington must correct or improve existing problems.

The slow improvement of the City's economic climate is not a result of a lack of resources. The City and the immediate surrounding area is very rich in potential. Harrington has been labeled the "HUB" of Delmarva. Going north and south are U.S. Route 13 and the ConRail lines. Going east and west is State Route 14, giving access to Baltimore and Washington D.C. Within a 24 hour period, one can reach a population of over 50 million people. An estimated population of 100,000 people can reach Harrington in half an hour. There are available sites, some with all utilities, waiting to be used.

Steps should be taken to develop the above mentioned resources and also to find new ones. The proposed development of a large switching yard north of the City should be pursued. The goals set forth by this conference must be pursued. The City of Harrington and the Chamber of Commerce must work with Federal, State, and County governments to revitalize economic progress.

Public Facilities And Housing

Harrington's public facilities can best be described as being in definite need of improvement. Areas needing improvement are listed below:

[1] Sewage System - The City of Harrington built a new sewage treatment facility in 1967-68. The bonds taken to support this project have cost and will cost the City a tremendous amount of money. At present the City is faced with another series of improvements totalling over $400,000. The City's share of this total will be in excess of $60,000.

[2] Water System - The water system in Harrington is, for the most part, old and in need of constant repair. The system was put in during the Depression.

[3] Volunteer Fire Co. - The Harrington Volunteer Fire Company is located almost directly in the center of the City. Their facilities are old and grossly inadequate for their equipment and related activities. The Fire Co. raises money in every conceivable way, and after operating expenses are met, there is no funding left for expansion.

[4] City Hall and Police Department - Frequently, these functions of our government are housed in an old, rented house, one that is totally inadequate for the needs of a growing City operation. The meeting room is very small, and police facilities likewise.

[5] Public Recreation Areas - The City of Harrington has no park or recreation area, other than those at a local school. A private park recently closed.

[6] Housing - Certain areas of the City have a high percentage of old, dilapidated buildings. There is a three year old public housing project adjacent to the City limits. More adequate housing is needed. Perhaps general economic development would help solve this.

The above problems did not happen overnight and will not all be corrected overnight. The City must develop a strategy to help limit further deterioration of existing buildings, and the City must also find financial sources to upgrade inadequate public facilities and build new ones.

Frederica Discusses Water System; To Meet Again Wednesday

By Linda Fleming

Two years ago the town of Frederica applied for federal aid to replace its antiquated water system. The Economic Development Administration turned them down. Now the town is trying again, this time applying for a portion of the $1.1 million the department of Housing and Urban Development has allocated for specific purposes in Kent and Sussex Counties. Frederica will submit an application for a $200,000 single purpose community block grant on February 5th.

According to Guy Weinbrunner, an engineer with Edward H. Richardson Associates of Newark, the HUD money is intended to benefit low and moderate income families. Projects which may be funded are: public housing, support facilities to assure adequate housing and economic development programs.

With 20 to 30 governmental units in the two county area applying for funds, competition will be keen. For this reason, a ranking system has been established by HUD. Projects will be evaluated according to impact and need. Particularly important is the intended effect the projects will have on areas with a high concentration of low and moderate income families and minorities.

While upgrading the water system is one recognized need in Frederica, there may be other needs as well. Two public hearings were scheduled to identify these needs. The first was held Thursday evening with just a handful of citizens in attendance. The second hearing is scheduled for Wednesday, Jan. 17th, at 7 p.m. It will be the last opportunity for citizen input before the HUD pre-application must be submitted.

At Thursday's meeting, Weinbrunner was present to explain the HUD program and the proposed water system improvements. Richardson Associates had drawn up plans in 1976 for replacement of the system. These plans have been adapted to update just a portion of Boys or parents interested in Boy Scouting for youngsters ages 11 through 16, should meet at the Harrington Journal, 19 Commerce Street on Thursday evening, January 18th at 7:30. There are a number of boys interested in rejuvenating the Harrington troop which disbanded in 1977. Equipment is available, however, leaders are needed.

Cahall And Layton To Work Together

It was bitter cold election day, but the two candidates for mayor braved the wintry winds to greet voters as they neared the polling place.

At one point they retreated to the incumbent "Buck" Cahall's car. The resultant conversation found the two opponents often in agreement on the issues and always in agreement on the potential of Harrington. Only one candidate could win the election, but each won the respect of the other.

The two, Mayor Cahall and Irene Layton, will join forces for the January 20th conference, "Harrington: Giving the Future Direction." Cahall has been instrumental in organizing the conference. Layton will serve as secretary.

Mayor "Buck" Cahall and Irene Layton discuss Saturday's conference. Cahall organized the conference in conjunction with congressman Tom Evans. Layton will serve as secretary.

Houston Council Meets

By Irene Layton

Mr. Charles Sampson of CATV General was present at the Houston Town Council meeting regarding his firm's desire to place CATV service in Houston. Houston council members decided to postpone any decision until January 29th at which time a meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m., with the public invited, to discuss fees, etc.

In other business, contracts were received for trash removal from four firms; award was made to Greenwood Trash Removers. Persons owing delinquent taxes will be sent reminders. Council had sent a letter to Conrail regarding the speed of their trains passing through Houston or the need for more advance notice (signals) before the trains reach the road intersections. Other matters concerning the Town are old rail ties cast aside by Conrail, dirt piles near a crossing intersection blocking view of traffic, and other trash discarded by Conrail within a short distance of other property owner's lots. The Town has not as yet received any reply from Conrail, and will continue to attempt to obtain satisfactory results.

A letter will be sent to various State representatives requesting their appearance at the regular February meeting concerning Houston's need for curbing.

Rumors have circulated that the Council is considering passing an ordinance whereby horses and ponies would be prohibited within the Town limits. Council assured those citizens present that no discussion has ever taken place concerning any such ordinance.

Registration for elections will take place the last Saturday in February (24th) and elections will be held the last Saturday in March (31st).

Felton Community Fire Company- The Way It Was And Is

By Linda L. Fleming
Paul Woikoski and Walter H. Moore remember what it was like years ago when Felton had only a hand pumper to fight fires. Woikoski who will be 80 in March and Moore whose 80th birthday will be in November are the oldest living members of the Felton Fire Company. Both are charter holders. Woikoski was vice president some years ago and Moore is past chief (1941) and past president (1947).

They recalled the extensive main street fire of 1929 when six buildings burned. Felton firemen formed a bucket brigade to keep the hand pumper filled. But it was the railroad that really saved Felton. An engine and caboose were dispatched from Harrington to carry water to the flaming town of Felton.

The old wooden hand pumper which still bears its original markings is a source of pride for the company. Made in Felton by Mr. Jones, a wheelwright, and the father of Mrs. A.C. Dill, the pumper was designed by Mrs. Moore's uncle, William Waldman who worked for the railroad. The old pumper has appeared in many parades and in 1975 was pulled to Seaford by the Ladies Auxiliary to the State Firemen's Convention.

It wasn't until 1939 that Felton had its first motorized fire truck and it was in that year that the company officially incorporated.

A committee of five was formed to write a constitution and thirty-one men became members.

On the charter committee were Ollie Brittingham, Sr., William A. Berry, Cliff Milbourne, Johnson Stewart and Walter H. Moore. The company had been unofficially organized since 1883.

"We had not one nickel when we went to buy our first truck," recalled Moore and the banks were unable to extend credit to the firemen. It was with money loaned them by Mrs. Moore that Felton firemen were able to purchase a used Sea-1929 hand pumper from the Denton Fire Company.

The purchase price of $737.50 seems small when compared to the $54,000 the company recently spent for a single piece of apparatus.

The fire house itself was built in 1948 on the site of the old Presbyterian Church. Prior to that time, the fire company was located in what is now the town hall. Over the years there have been periodic additions to the building.

As the need arose, the fire station expanded. This is again a possibility according to fire company president, Ken Ryder. A feasibility study is being conducted and depending upon availability of funds the fire company may again expand.

The fire house has long been a center of community activity. Over the years various town functions are held there. Private parties use the facility, Boy Scout troop 141 meets there and the building is used for a multitude of breakfasts and dinners. The Ladies Auxiliary is instrumental in many of these activities. According to President Joyce Sipple, the organization served 54 dinners last year. The auxiliary which has 40 active members and a total membership of 150, also provides coffee and sandwiches for firefighters experienced firemen up to date. Practice may include driving, operating equipment, and fire-fighting techniques. There are also cardio-pulmonary resuscitation and advanced first aid courses given. Each ambulance by decree of the fire company, must have a certified Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) and has accumulated a huge array of trophies. They are displayed in glass enclosed shelves which run nearly the length of one wall. The biggest night of the year at the fire station is probably Ladies Night. Held each April, the occasion is a dinner dance and awards ceremony where both firemen and auxiliaries are honored. This year's awards will go to Glenn Whitt who answered 117 of the 390 ambulance calls and Carl Moore who responded to 117 of the 145 fire calls. Anniversary pins will also be awarded. The Felton Fire Company prides itself on constantly trying to improve and upgrade the quality of service it gives to the community. Currently, the company is in the process of installing a 125 foot tower to improve the communication system in the entire southern portion of Kent County. The cost of the $1800 tower is being shared equally between the Felton company and Kent County Levy Court.

Revenue for the company is derived from various sources: donations, Bingo, suppers, state and county appropriations, insurance premium distribution funds, and the Family Ambulance Plan (a $15.00 yearly fee entitles policy-holders to ambulance service to and from local hospitals.) The Felton Company operates with a budget of $150,000.

Membership roles list 200 people but only 60 are currently active. The Felton Company also has several members who are active in county firemen's organizations. Larry Sipple is president of the Kent County Volunteer Firemen's Association and C. O. Smith is vice president of the Kent County Fire Police.

Officers of the Felton Company who were recently elected for one year terms are: President, Ken Ryder; Chief, Bill Sipple; Ambulance captain, Steve Childers; Vice president and asst. chief, Wayne Wheeler; Secretary, Sherman Stevenson; Treasurer, Ronnie Draper; Asst. treasurer, Joe Sherwood; Bingo chairman, Roland Neeman; Ambulance secretary, James Tatman; Fire Recorder, Larry Sipple; Public Relations and historian, C.O. Smith; Chairman of the Board, Ronald Jarrell; Rescue Captain, Gary Melvin; Asst. Engineer, Donald Woikoski; Asst. Chief, Wayne Sipple; Fire Captain, Bill Chandler, Charles Bostick and Robert Fisher, Board members.

Felton Referendum Passes

Felton area residents were undaunted in the face of two storms Saturday. They weren't kept away from the polls by miserable weather or by the more figurative storm surrounding the establishment of a sanitary sewer district.

Residents of the district turned out in large numbers. The outcome was 231 in favor of the district, 98 opposed. This ends the more than two year struggle by Mayor William Myers to include the Felton area in the County-wide sewerage system.

With the first hurdle behind, the plan goes into a final design stage. It is expected that construction will begin in six months. The project will take approximately two years to complete.

Greenwood Candidates

Three people have filed for two positions on the Greenwood Town Council. Seeking re-election are Harry Torbert and Charles Todd. The third candidate is Robert Adams. Greenwood residents go to the polls on Saturday, January 20th.

Felton Cherry Trees Vandalized

Six of Felton's ornamental cherry trees were destroyed late Sunday night in an apparent act of vandalism. The four foot saplings were among 76 trees planted in 1976 as a bicentennial project.

State and town police are investigating the incident. A reward has been offered by the Felton Town Council for information leading to conviction of the person or persons responsible.

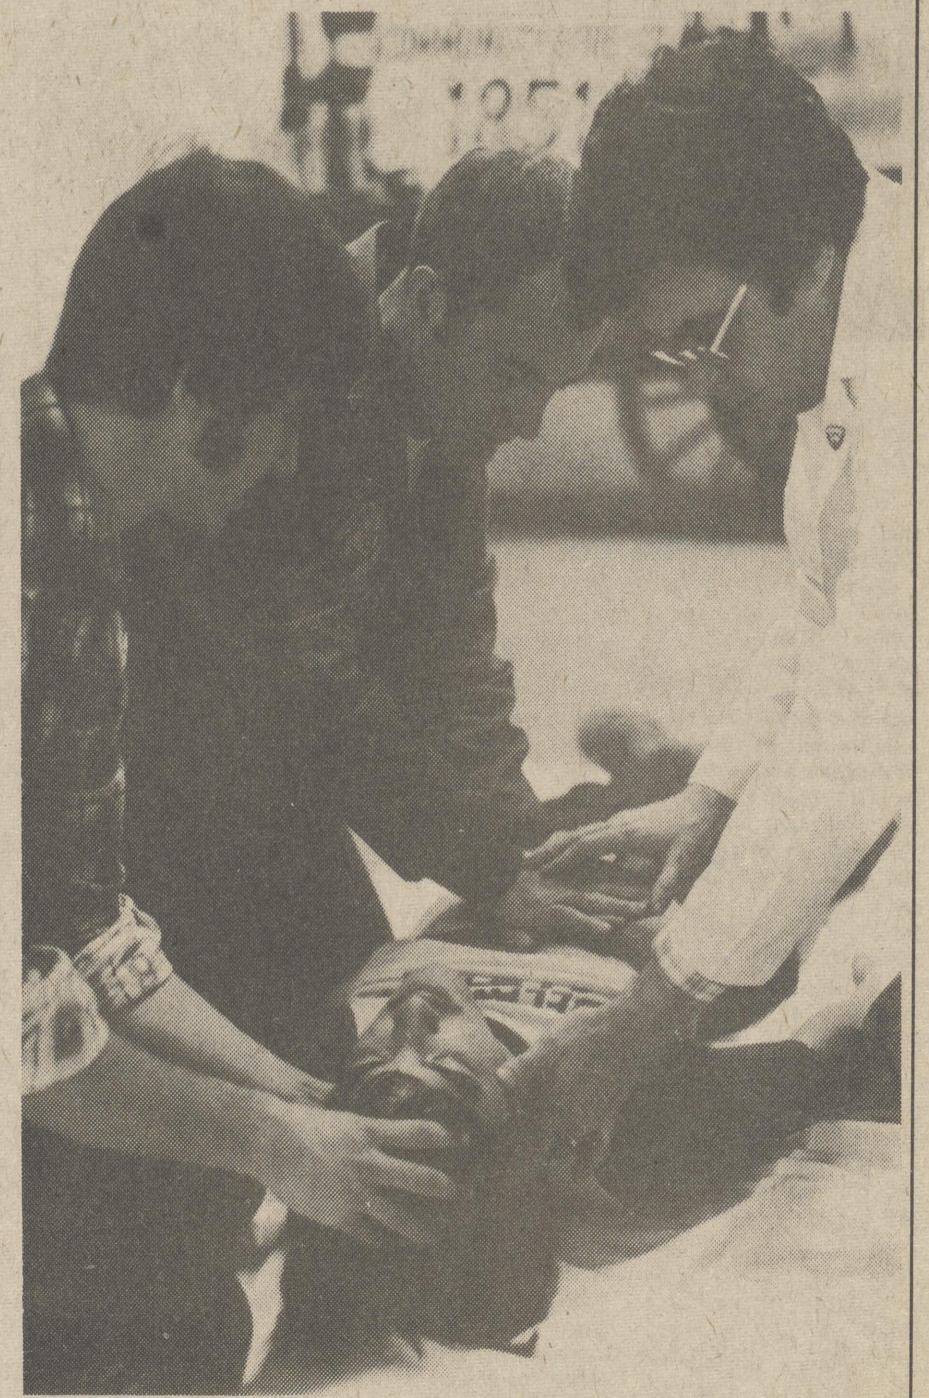

How does the cardiovascular system work? What is a heart attack? What are the signs and signals of heart disease? What can be done to save the life of a heart attack victim? These questions and many more will be answered in the CPR course soon to be offered by the Felton Fire Company Ambulance Squad. The four hour Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation course will be taught by Jim Sluter, a certified instructor for the Delaware Heart Assoc. Persons who satisfactorily complete the training will be certified as Heartsavers.

According to Sluter, the training is detailed and comprehensive, involving both theory and practical experience. Topics covered will be anatomy and physiology of the cardiovascular system (heart and blood vessels) signs and signals of heart attack and prudent heart living.

The practical instruction includes identifying "landmarks", the bony processes of the chest that aid in the placement of the hands for chest compression. It also covers body positioning for effective mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. Trainees will learn both one and two man CPR. After completion of the course, a written and practical examination must be passed for certification as a Heartsaver.

The CPR course will be given on Sunday, January 28th and Monday, January 29th from 7p.m. to 9p.m. at the Felton Fire Station. Persons interested in this important training are urged to call Ambulance Captain, Steve Childers, 284-3488 before January 24th.

Be A Heartsaver

Jim Sluter, certified instructor with the Delaware Heart Association explains the importance of proper hand position when administering cardiopulmonary resuscitation. Norm Kristic and Steve Childers practice. Mark Todd is the patient.

Community Action Group Prods Council

By Linda Fleming

In September Roxie Sturgis took a course in community organization at Del-Tech's Terry Campus. That course has changed her life and affected the lives of many of her friends and neighbors.

The Frederica mother has organized the black community into an action group to lobby for neighborhood improvement.

The group's foremost goal is to acquire a second access road into the several square block area where approximately 200 people live. "Right now there is just one way in and out," said Sturgis, and residents fear being trapped during an emergency. The most practical solution, they feel would be to extend 5th Street to reach

Route 12. Such a road, though would cut across private property. A second possibility would be to build a road around the school property to the west. However, this land is not within Frederica's town limits.

In addition, many of the existing streets are in need of repair and widening, said Sturgis. Jackson Street, the main thoroughfare into the community is pitted with holes which are "patched temporarily, but really need resurfacing."

Another concern is fire protection. "There are just three fire hydrants among the seven streets." One of these hydrants "should be relocated." It sits right in the street," she added. This will be done if Frederica is approved for the $200,000 HUD grant for which they've applied. The Community Action Group for the Black Community is led by a core of 13 individuals.

They meet the last Thursday of each month, a week before council meetings, in Hubert A.M.E. Church on Jackson Street. While just a few are actively involved, 160 persons signed the petition which was presented to council in November. The petition outlined the goals and objectives of the group. In December, representatives, including Sturgis and President, Ray Kirk, returned to the council meeting. They were prepared again to discuss knowledgeably their particular concerns.

The council listened and acknowledged that problems do exist. However a pre-application for a HUD grant was already in progress. The proposed plan would improve the town's water distribution system. Extensive street work would therefore have to be postponed until some future time, but water distribution in the black community would be greatly improved.

Meanwhile, the group continues to meet periodically and maintains an interest in town affairs. And Roxie Sturgis continues to think and to prod her neighbors into taking an active part in their community.

The Community Action Group for the Black Community presented the Frederica Town Council with a list of goals and objectives. Among them are the relocation of a fire hydrant and the resurfacing on Jackson Street.

Roxie Sturgis-Community Leader

Roxie Sturgis in private life is a recruiter packager trainee with N-Call Research Corporation. The private non-profit agency offers technical assistance to people or groups who are interested in constructing housing for low and moderate income families.

While she had no previous experience in community work, Sturgis apparently learned very quickly. Her supervisor, Roland Ridgeway, spoke with obvious admiration and pride of her accomplishments. "She came from a chicken factory and in one week was interviewing clients on her own." Sturgis assists elderly and low income persons in filing the lengthy form Farmer's Home Administration requires of 502 and 504 loan and grant applicants. She is also involved in the new self-help program at N-Call which encourages groups of individuals to organize into construction teams. This approach would cut labor costs to a minimum and enable many low income families to construct housing.

Sturgis, the mother of five children, has lived in Frederica for 12 years. She is a native of Exmore, Virginia, moving to Bowers Beach at the age of four. She grew up there in an oyster camp, attending the two room Mt. Olive school in Little Heaven and later William Henry High School in Dover. She is currently in the process of continuing her education at Del-Tech, Terry Campus where she is taking human service related courses.

the system with the $200,000 available.

According to the proposed plan new large gauge mains would be installed down a portion of Market Street to St. Agnes, including a new main to the water tower. New mains would also be installed down the length of St. Agnes, Jackson, Thomas, 5th Street, along the perimeter of the school and down a portion of Route 12. This would create a loop and effectively increase water flow which would be beneficial for the entire town, explained Weinbrunner.

Construction cost is estimated at $167,000 with 10% set aside for contingency expenses. Another $14,000 would cover the engineering design phase and inspections. $2300 would be set aside for administration costs. There is no cost for submitting a pre-application to HUD. However, should the town be invited to submit a final application a $1000-$1500 charge would be incurred. This is fully reimbursible should the project be approved. According to Weinbrunner approval is 90% to 95% assured for all projects that reach the final application hurdle. At the moment, the town has committed no funds to the project.

The water system in Frederica has been a problem to firemen for years. Some pipes are reported to be an inch or less in diameter in parts of the town. Ideally these small pipes should be replaced and hydrants should be of one design supplied by no less than 6" mains said Weinbrunner. Pumps and wells at the present time are sufficient to handle the increased flow the proposed improvements would create, he said.

Citizens are being urged to attend the last of the public hearings on Wednesday evening at the fire house. The proposed water system improvements will again be discussed and the opportunity given for citizens to present their views. A map of the system will be available.

"...some people serve on committees...others use them for launching pads for..."

The President must be supported for his actions last week when he elected to fire former Democratic Representative Bella Abzug of Brooklyn, N.Y. His actions must not be construed as a defeat for equal rights for women. The removal of Ms. Abzug from the committee was in fact a means of clearing the way so that the committee could continue to act in a productive way.

From the beginning, Ms. Abzug's career has been dotted with incidents that have tended to be disruptive. Not content with doing her job of serving her constituents when she was an elected Congresswoman from that district in Brooklyn, she has always managed to be just a little too showy...a little too outgoing, for her own welfare.

The world and life has had a history of people who use their position to better their interests rather than the interests of others...or in this case the interest of the committee. This has been true long before the Lord was a little boy. In most cases it is a one on one situation and one where one side feels put on and consequently on the defensive. It can be a stand off. The big mistake that Ms. Abzug made...as others in the past have made...is that in attacking through unwarranted criticism the man (President Carter), she in fact rose up against the Office of the President of the United States. That was a patent mistake and one the President was justified in demanding. For in the alternative had he not taken action against this, it would be giving license to others to do the same. The Office of the President, I believe, should be protected short of all costs.

To some, namely Ms. Abzug, the point of protecting the Office of the President would not be fully appreciated. They would take it as a personal attack on them. When Ms. Abzug lost her seat in Congress and therefore lost her power base, she did not blame it on her shortcomings...for it had to be the work of other forces and events. When she was appointed to serve on the all important committee designed to aid in the plan for equal rights for women, she was not there to serve the women in this country designed to be the beneficiaries of this plan...but there to enhance her own self interests. Some people serve on committees for the purpose of having those committees steer and design the best for the good of all...not to use those committees for launching pads for other pursuits...and over the heads of higher rank...namely the Office of the President.

Point Of View

by Linda Fleming

Area office holders have learned at least one thing this year - voter apathy is a thing of the past.

Harrington voters braved wind and cold to elect a mayor and councilmen in numbers described as "tremendous", "great". Then a few days later voters sloshed through rainy streets to approve Felton's sanitary sewer district. Perhaps citizen involvement has become more than just wishful thinking.

With numerous public hearings on the local agenda, there's plenty of opportunity to get into the act. Frederica's first HUD pre-application meeting was disappointing though. Only a few citizens came. But there is a second chance. The last hearing for public input is this Wednesday at 7:00 p.m. in the Frederica Fire Hall.

Harrington has scheduled two similar hearings for consecutive Friday evenings: January 19 and 26, at 8:00 p.m. in the fire house. These meetings are terrific opportunities to present one's view of the town's needs. Dialogue is the only way we can communicate our perceptions of need to each other.

Why are all these public hearings cropping up suddenly? The department of Housing and Urban Development has set aside funds to be used by small cities to improve the quality of life in their environs. The money is to be spent in upgrading housing and public facilities to minimal standards for safety and health. This may include revamping old water and sewer systems, acquiring land for public facilities, housing rehabilitation and a myriad of other purposes. It is up to the local governing body with input from citizens to decide in which area the improvements are most necessary. Pre-applications must be submitted to HUD by February 5th. There is just $1.1 million available for these grants in all of Kent and Sussex Counties...20-30 applications are expected.

Which brings to mind the next point...$1.1 million is just a drop of water in a large pail when compared to the costs small cities are up against today. Where is the money going to come from to upgrade water systems, install central sewerage facilities, rebuild roads, provide better services and pay employees a decent salary?

There seems to be a small glimmer of hope - Levy Court has promised to reassess countywide at some future date. In the meantime local councils explore every angle to increase revenues without increasing an already high tax rate. Does it not seem appropriate that now is the time to pressure Levy Court into taking affirmative action? Kent County is dotted with small communities, towns with similar problems that might have similar solutions. Does it not seem appropriate that they work together to reach those solutions? To do otherwise would surely duplicate costly efforts.

There is also the knack of knowing where to go with what need to appeal to which sentiment. It surely takes an expert to weed through the many funding programs with their differing regulations and purposes...then to write a proposal, slanting it in just the proper degree to coax HUD or EDA funds. It appears that one must be both legalist and psychologist.

A few final points, strong perhaps, but heartfelt - maybe now is the time to place our problems in the hands of the experts. Maybe now is the time to draw together in common cause. Maybe now is the time to learn all there is to know about our governmental structures and what they can offer us. Maybe now is the time more than ever before when we must become involved.

My Opinion

by Bruce Levy

The news last week was filled with reports from the department of Health, Education, and Welfare regarding the evils of smoking. No substantial new findings or information were reported, but Secretary Joe Califano didn't miss the opportunity to trumpet in the new year with more big-brotherish anti-smoking zeal and, of course, still another new round of government spending.

I do not condone nor do I encourage the use of tobacco. As a long time cigarette smoker myself, I can testify with authority of its ill effects.

What I do object to is the spending of public monies to influence private citizen behavior. Senator Roth's office tells me that Califano's budget for this "education" will be approximately $30,000,000 in 1979.

Originally, the U.S. Government was charged with preserving the freedom of its people. "Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness" to borrow a long honored phrase. Somewhere along the line we have strayed from this simple mission and the only result has been the outrageous inflation that eats at your paycheck and mine. People will do what they wish - history tells us that repeatedly - and the government simply has no business in the morals field.

Smoking is a private decision, as is jogging, eating, or watching TV. What is good for our neighbors is not necessarily good for us. When will governments learn that trying to influence the population one way or the other on issues of private behavior will never, and could never really work?

Our inflation rate is a direct function of government overspending. For far too long now we have stood idly by while our hard earned money has gone to one worthless "program" after another.

I have a suggestion: How about Califano driving himself to work from now on and sacrificing his private chauffeur's $28,000 salary for his pet smoking campaign. At least then we would know it wasn't all a joke on us.

Dear Mr. Farrow: I am writing this letter primarily for thanks to my mother when I wrote you of canceling the subscription. She has been unable to comprehend or read the Journal since March of last year. Your letter was very nice, complimentary to me I thought, and all my friends in Harrington and Felton. I will not mention any names but everyone, including your

To The Editor: Many Delawareans are again planning to travel to Washington, D.C., on Monday January 22, the anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision striking down State anti-abortion statutes, to join the "March For Life" from the Ellipse across from the White House along Pennsylvania Avenue to the

Thoughts From Dover

By Governor Pete du Pont

Delaware will be getting better representation and probably more federal funds out of Washington now that we've hired a full-time director of the State's new Washington office and received approval for Delaware and four neighboring states to join together in a regional commission.

Getting a better rate of return on the tax dollars Delawareans send to Washington has long been a problem. Delaware receives one of the lowest rates of return of any of the fifty states. That is why we've set up a Washington office and begun work with our neighboring states.

Last week, two significant developments occurred which will mean better representation for the State:

First, we've hired Mr. Goodrich H. Stokes, Jr., an expert in federal regulatory matters, to be the director of the Washington office. His job will be to keep the State informed of pending changes in federal regulations and to find programs which may be helpful to Delaware's government. Almost every state and business group in this county has a Washington lobbyist. It is about time that Delaware had a person in the capitol to protect our interests.

From my experience as a Congressman I know it is difficult for our elected representatives to keep track of federal funds destined for Delaware. It is essential that we have a person who is wise to the ways of the bureaucracy watching our interests.

Second, we received last week the long-overdue approval by U.S. Secretary of Commerce Juanita Kreps for Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania to join together in the Middle Atlantic Regional Commission, which will develop long-range solutions to common problems. Those common problems include transportation systems, housing, job development, unemployment and development of natural resources, among others. That group will lobby for more federal funds for our region to help solve these problems.

Now we have a professional grantsman in Washington and a committed group of five regional governors, I am confident that we will be able to secure the federal dollars that we need to help make Delaware a better place to live.

Thoughts From Washington

By U.S. Senator Bill Roth

NOW YOU SEE IT, NOW YOU DON'T

Did you notice anything unusual about your paycheck this week? Was it smaller than last year? I hope you weren't surprised; I've been saying the $18.7 billion tax cut would do little once increased Social Security payments and inflation took their first-of-the-year toll.

Increased Social Security taxes alone will knock down purchasing power by $93 per family in the next two years, contributing to an estimated loss of $1,124 of family purchasing power due to government-mandated actions.

The Roth-Kemp Tax Reduction Act and the "Son of Roth-Kemp" would have more than offset these increases - in both taxes and federal spending. They would have promoted growth in the economy by creating new jobs, taking people off welfare rolls and out of federal job programs and, instead, placed them in tax-paying work in the private sector.

Though Roth-Kemp didn't pass in 1978, Congress and the President have another chance to really do something for the hard-working middle income taxpayers.

The fight is not over. I will again introduce a tax cut for ALL Americans when the Senate convenes in the form of Roth-Kemp II. There is a tax revolt in this country and it's here to stay. It's up to the new 96th Congress to accept that as fact and begin to play the game of making taxpayers number one!

Meanwhile, if it's any consolation, you're not alone. Most American families of four earning $8,000 or more a year face a loss of take-home pay, even after the highly lauded "tax cut" enacted by the 95th Congress.

That's because last year's "linker tax cut" does not fully offset the higher Social Security taxes and the tax increases caused by inflation.

Instead of payroll taxes of 6.05 percent on $17,700, the new rate is 6.13 percent on $22,900. Under this new formula, maximum Social Security taxes will increase from $1,071 to $1,404 - a whopping tax increase of $333!

American workers and employers needed a REAL tax reduction in 1979 and they need restraints on Federal spending to ease the burden of inflation. Americans are tired of feeding the blubbery, glutinous fat cat, Uncle Sam, and I intend to continue my fight for lower taxes and less government spending.

Tom Evans -- keeping in touch

This year the 96th Congress will be addressing a number of issues affecting all Delawareans, but the one issue which I think should demand the most attention is curbing and controlling inflation.

The primary cause of inflation is the great number of irresponsible government policies. Excessive spending by the Federal government compounds the problem of inflation. Again this Congress, I will be a member of the Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs Committee, and that will give me the opportunity to be in the center of the debate on inflation. In that committee and on the House Floor, I plan to press my colleagues to take specific action which will help to reduce the inflationary spiral.

I will again co-sponsor a Constitutional Amendment requiring a balanced Federal budget, except in times of war or national emergency. I will also scrutinize each program looking for opportunities to make realistic reductions. Congress must say "No" more often to new programs which are attractive, but which the American taxpayer simply cannot afford.

Another important measure I will again co-sponsor is "Sunset" legislation. This bill requires the review of every government program at least every five years and the elimination of those which are unnecessary. Government regulations add substantially to the cost of goods and services in this country. Because of this burden, I will again push for action on my bill requiring an "economic impact statement." This legislation would measure the cost of regulations to the consumer and allow either House or Congress to veto unwise regulations before they are implemented.

Taxes will also be an important issue. I strongly believe that Congress must enact a realistic tax cut, and I hope each of you tied to a reduction in growth of spending. I will work hard to roll back the excessive Social Security taxes which Congress passed in 1977 over my objections. These are important steps that should be taken to assure a healthy economy.

The defense of our country affects each and every Delawarean. The recent growth of Soviet military strength greatly concerns me and must be recognized. We must trim the fat from the Federal government but not at the expense of our National security. I will continue to support realistic defense appropriations that meet the needs of our great Nation and which enable our military to react quickly and effectively to any challenge which would threaten our National security.

Environmentally, I intend to sponsor and work in the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee for strong oil spill liability legislation which will protect our precious natural resources and guard the tourist and fishing industries in our State from potentially catastrophic accidents. I will also lead the Committee in monitoring Philadelphia's efforts to meet the ban on dumping of harmful sewage sludge off Delaware's coast, as required by the Hughes-Evans Amendment.

Above all, my goal is to actively represent the people of Delaware in the House of Representatives, and I hope each of you will let me know often of your views on the issues affecting all of us.

A Message From Senator Adams

By Thurman Adams, Jr.

The first week of a new General Assembly session is generally taken up with the details of organization and last week was no exception.

I was especially pleased that the Senate majority reelected my Sussex County colleague and very good friend, Sen. Richard S. Cordrey of Millsboro, to serve another two years a President Pro Tem of the Senate.

A newspaperman asked me whether or not I was satisfied with the leadership of the Senate. I told him that when the top spot goes to someone from your county and one of your best friends, you are not only happy for him, but for all of the people of our state.

The other two Senate leaders are Sen. Tom Sharp of rural New Castle County, a young and energetic legislator who won his second term in November, and Sen. Calvin R. McCullough of Holloway Terrace, the dean of the entire General Assembly in terms of service and a veteran of every leadership post during his 28 years of service. I think they will work well with Senator Cordrey and the rest of the senators.

I was also pleased with my committee assignments for the 130th General Assembly. I will retain the chairmanship of the Senate Agriculture Committee, which handles legislation of critical importance to Sussex County and Kent County agriculture.

I also will retain for another two years the chairmanship of the Senate Executive Committee, which handles all nominations sent by the Governor to the Senate for confirmation.

Although you may have read or heard that the Governor and I have had some disagreement over appointments to key state jobs, I'd like to emphasize that the Executive Committee and the Senate have confirmed about 80 percent of all the Governor's nominations sent down so far. There is a feeling among many senators that a person doing an excellent job on a state board or commission shouldn't be replaced just because his political affiliation isn't the same as that of the Governor. As a result, I am reluctant to ask for a Senate vote on some of the Governor's nominations because I know they'll be rejected. I just happen to think that it's better to try to line up enough votes for confirmation before calling for a vote.

As chairman of the Executive Committee, I instituted a rule that we would hold a public hearing on every nominee unless he or she was a reappointment and nobody filed an objection. I firmly believe that the public has a right to the chance to meet these nominees in person and file any objections or offer any support it desires. I'm going to continue the practice, and from time to time in this column I'll announce such public hearings so you may come to Dover and take part if you wish.

My other committee assignments are on the Public Safety, Community Affairs, and Grant-In-Aid Committees. On the latter committee, I'll be able to personally involved in screening state grants to volunteer fire companies, senior citizen centers, veterans organizations, and a variety of other service-oriented organizations which touch the lives of so many of us.

Church News

A nationwide program of sending the gospel of Jesus Christ into every home is coming to Delaware. The program is called PLEA, Plan for Literature Evangelism of America. The purpose of PLEA is to send the gospel message into every home in America on a systematic basis. This will be accomplished by the use of direct mail covering the nation state by state. It is this direct mail aspect of PLEA that will make it possible to immediately reach every home in America. The states of Wyoming and Alaska have already been covered with the gospel message through the PLEA program and Delaware is next. The Churches of Christ in Delaware are cooperating in this outstanding effort to bring the word of God into every home.

The Star Magazine, an excellent sixteen page Bible-study publication, will be used to introduce the gospel to over 220,000 homes in Delaware.

The theme of the Star is THE FAMILY. Offered in the Star will be many free tracts and a free correspondence course. PLEA is sponsored by the Dallas Metro Church of Christ.

Ivy Conner, elder at the Dallas Metro Church said, "We hope that the residents of Delaware will prayerfully study the contents of this important magazine. It can very well be the most important peice of mail that they will every receive."

Independent Bible Fellowship Church

In our Sunday evening Praise and Bible Study services for the next several weeks, we will be studying "The Tabernacle of the Old Testament." The Tabernacle was the place of worship and sacrifice for the people of God in the Wilderness. It vividly pictures our Lord Jesus Christ and God's plan of salvation through His substitutionary, sacrificial atonement for sins.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIAL - There will be a young people's social in the home of Mr. Larry Larimore on Jan. 27 at 7 p.m. This will be for all those who participated in the Christmas program, any others who are in our Sunday School, and any guests you may want to bring. We will have some comedy films from the silent film era for entertainment, and ice cream for refreshments. Please let Mr. Larimore know if you plan to come and if you plan to bring a friend.

LADIES FELLOWSHIP MEETING - The Ladies Fellowship will meet on Tuesday, Jan. 23, for its regular monthly meeting. The meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Sharon Larimore at 7:30 p.m.

MEN'S FELLOWSHIP - We will have a Men's Fellowship prayer breakfast on Jan. 21 at 7 a.m. at Moore's Dairy Store, Clark Street, in Harrington. Please let Pastor Newman or Klein Moore know if you plan to come.

HARRINGTON BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

BAPTIST MEN'S DAY - Sunday, January 28th, is our annual Baptist Men's Day. The men have already planned a very full program for the morning and evening worship services. Bro. Roger Carrier will be bringing the morning message for us. Also, the men will bring a special message in music.

At the evening service there will be three different men bringing short messages on forgiveness.

You will not want to miss either service. Bring your friends that they might see and hear what God can do with dedicated Christian men.

SWEETHEART BANQUET - Although this banquet is still a month away, you ought to make plans now to attend. Last year we had a wonderful time with our "Sweethearts" at the Twin Roads Restaurant - remember? This year we'll be meeting in our fellowship hall and dining on a catered dinner. As far as we know now, the dinner will cost about $5 a piece. We shall have a good speaker who will bring a message on family relationships.

Invite your friends to come with their sweethearts. You don't have to be a member of this church to attend, nor do you have to be married and "old." You young couples are invited too.

Make your dates now for Feb. 14th.

For Your Information

Dear friends,
 The United States is a nation of mobile people. Each year, 10 percent of those who die do so in a community other than in which the funeral is conducted. To make funeral plans by prearrangement, not knowing where or when one will die, is obviously difficult. However, it is wise to leave behind a written preference to guide those who are entrusted with the funeral arrangements.

Respectfully,

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

Greetings for January... my least-favorite month, with August a close second. January is cold, bare and bleak; August is hot, wet and humid. But, here we are, practically half way through old January. My two granddaughters have birthdays on the 21st and 23rd respectively. Wee Garith says that she can't understand why she is not older than big sister, because her birthday comes two days before Teddy's birthday will follow on February 15.

It is so cold outside, but I can cope very well if only the wind does not blow. Wind really "blows my mind," and I have to fight very hard with all the faith I have to keep it from disturbing me too much. This is a month for kettles of hot soup and rich, nourishing stews in the old iron pot, simmering slowly and filling the warm kitchen with their hearty fragrance. Stews are my choice over soup, but we have both.

I am not one to follow a recipe for the stews because I feel that the writers of the recipes get carried away. I saw one in the paper last week for Beef and Yam Stew. The yams were a great idea. When the stew is about half done, peel the orange yams and cut them in small pieces (not too small) and add. We do not like white potatoes in our stews, so I usually add slippery dumplings, noodles or some kind of pasta, but the yams make a nice change. For the rest of the stew, I proceeded in my usual way, adding onions, celery, green peppers, carrot sticks, green peas, etc. But the newspaper recipe called for orange juice and pieces of orange, and I guess I'm old fashioned. No way would I put orange juice in a stew. To me, orange juice and oranges are for breakfast or in jello puddings or fruit cup. No doubt this is due to my country upbringing. I can't bring myself to put nutmeg in the Swedish meatballs either. At our house, nutmeg was a spice for dessert, or for cakes or to sprinkle on custards. When I'm cooking meat, I use pepper, sage, oregano, etc. To each his own!

With soups and stews

we like some kind of hot bread. That, with a salad and dessert makes a well-balanced meal. Tonight, Nikki has to go for his checkup and shots at 5 p.m....a most inconvenient time, since we like to eat between five and five-thirty. So we shall eat beef soup, thoughtfully frozen for just such an emergency, and I will make a pan of hot Sally Lunn. Did you ever make this delicious hot bread of the old South? This will be the baking powder kind, but some day I shall try the yeast kind. It is really a muffin batter, but put into a baking pan instead of muffin tins. This is how: 1/2 plus 1/8 cup margarine or veg. shortening and 3/4 cup sugar creamed together; Add 2 eggs and beat well. Into a bowl measure 2 cups flour, 1 heaping teaspoon baking powder, 1/8 teaspoon salt. Add alternately with 3/4 cup milk. Do not overbeat, just until mixed. Pour into square baking pan, 375, about 30 min. or until tests done. If you have a large family you may double this recipe and bake in a tube pan 375 about 1 hour.

We have a new boarder down at the shop. She appeared one of those cold nights. She is a jet black kitty with a white spot under her chin. Shelter is provided in the workshop and food is sent down daily, and she responds with much purring and affectionate rubbings. Each day I murmur to myself, "we're going to regret this!" I'm sure she will present us with kittens in the springtime. Snooty old Morris says, "Well, that's one thing you can't blame me on, even if some of the kids have yellow coats. And he's right!"

Singing in the early morning, singing as the moments fly and others who hear you will answer by and by; and that is just what the members do every Monday morning in Bible study. This past week, Mrs. Meredith and Mrs. Judy led the members in a most interesting hour. Members meeting was called to order by Pres. Herb Hussey, prayer by Mr. Brown, minutes by Sec. Andy Anderson, financial report by Merle Roth - both reports approved. Spring bazaar discussed, no decision. We are starting graduates, both pixie and natural in ceramics, also personalized Easter eggs, etc. The Jolly Timers and Men's Chorus sounded so good. Mrs. Meredith was at the piano. George Gooch presented a movie both Tuesday and Wednesday - both were excellent. Ceramic owls and quail filled the table on Wednesday. Dancing and regular activity kept us on our toes. The shelves are filled with ready to put to gether Mrs. Santa books, honestly it's really funny our doing Mr. and Mrs. Santa now right after Christmas but they are so cute and Mrs. Leon Donovan is so gracious to come and put them together, Leon makes the glasses for Mrs. Santa.

Thursday everyone was doing what ever craft he or she wanted or playing games including pool, cards, dominos, and bowling. Miarion Littman and Jim Kineochi were high scorers in bowling.

The members at the center played bingo and happy they were. Even if you just listen it's fun for while they play every once in a while someone says something funny or one person may get a run on wins. Anyway it's all in fun. As usual you can see some doing needlework also.

Board meeting Thurs. night.

Fun and fitness was dancing and singing and the truth of the matter is we should do more.

Reed Hughs and Annabel Morrow were high scorers in cards. Just can't get a bid in when you are at their table. Left the center early because of the weather.

All during the week we had conversation, games, movies, band, men's chorus, TV, ceramics, Santas, bingo, bowling, needlework, selling, etc.

Monday, Jan. 22, Milford seniors will have lunch with us and we will play Candy Bingo. Health nurse will be here Jan. 23. She's always willing to aid you where she can; tasty meals all week, and a pleasant center.

Best wishes to all home-bounds and those who are ill. Kind thoughts to everyone. Something I heard as a member was leaving the center, "Make yourself happy."

Editor's View

By Bruce Levy,
Sports Editor

As you'll notice, the Chipman basketball games finally got some coverage this week. I certainly haven't omitted them on purpose since coming to the paper, it's simply been a case of bedlam around here for these first few weeks and I'm afraid the junior high players bore the consequences. Sorry, everyone, I'll do my best to make it up.

Anyway, in the process of covering these games and meeting the coaches, I was again struck by the kind of people we have around here.

Kevin Docherty's girls play their hearts out, folks. If you haven't seen one of these contests, I suggest you see one before the season ends. Watching Cathy Johnson alone is worth the price of admission.

These girls had been winless in the past 3 or 4 seasons, which I find hard to believe but Docherty insists it's true. To his credit, Kevin has brought this team a long, long way in his two years of duty.

Steve Van Sant, boys' coach, is another example. He told me something that I think should be seriously considered by all coaches of junior high level, sports in general, and basketball in particular.

It seems that Van Sant is trying to place a high priority on not only winning the ballgame, but in allowing as many kids as possible to participate as well. His approach is to allow only those boys who did not start at the beginning of the game to play in the second quarter. Of course, and rightfully so, he is limited by cooperation from his opposing coach who may or may not believe it's a worthwhile idea.

Sadly, Steve tells me that none of his brother coaches in the league except Dave Campbell of Woodbridge has agreed to do this.

Admittedly, in all situations, substituting wholesale fashion may not be in the best interest of the team as a whole. Victory is still the overall object and I am not suggesting otherwise.

However, I don't see why the junior high coaches in this conference can't consider such an idea. If both teams do it - what can the possible objection be? A coach might have to work a little harder on the entire squad, but doesn't it seem worthwhile?

Sports for an age group of this type should be spread around as much as possible. Let them play, there's plenty of time to "win at all costs" later in life.

Junior High is a place for learning who you are and what you can do, both mentally and physically. Is winning so important that the second team can't have a period to call its own?

I would appreciate anybody's comments on this issue. Feel free to write or call the Journal and enlighten me.

And now, brought to you by those same good folks who gave us Woody Hayes, we have the NCAA play-offs!

Where is this going to end, are we going to soak and squeeze the stone until it no longer produces magic dust?

Are we going to continue to place college players and coaches under further pressure to win, win, win to feed the seemingly insatiable thirst of the TV machine?

For those who may not have heard the reports from the annual meeting of NCAA personnel, the august body has agreed to place on the schedule next year a proposal to organize the bowl games into a semblance of play-off games similar in format to the NFL.

Of course putting the idea on the agenda to be considered is not a guarantee of final implementation. In fact it is probably a stalling play to "test the wind" of public approval before anyone commits themselves.

But I think I can see the handwriting on the wall. The networks want it, and they are prepared to pay and pay big to get it. Just think how much more advertising time they could sell at $1,000 a second if they extended the college schedule for another month.

Think of the hype they could generate - who is REALLY number one and all that. And as we have all seen, where the networks go, so goeth the nation.

I object to the idea on two grounds.

First, I don't think a long drawn out playoff to theoretically determine the national champion is a benefit to the athletes. Hey, aren't these guys supposed to be in school?

Second, there is the question of over-exposure. A case in point is the Super Bowl.

Mark my words; after two weeks of build up, meaningless interviews, endless speculation on who will out play whom, and interminable hoopla with the jet set, the actual game will be a letdown.

Very few Super Bowl games have lived up to their respective billing. How could they possibly do so?

We overpromote these contests at our own peril. Football is a great game and an enjoyable spectator pastime. Let's leave it at that.

All alone, Cathy Johnson drives in for a score after forcing a Woodbridge turnover. Bruce Levy Photo

CHIPMAN GIRLS BREEZE BY WOODBRIDGE

By Bruce Levy
The Chipman girls' basketball squad proved beyond doubt that last week's victory over Caesar Rodney was no fluke as the Spartans rolled to an easy win over Woodbridge Junior High Thursday 40-8.

Saying he was "very pleased and proud," coach Kevin Docherty's season record now stands at 2-0 as Chipman looks balanced, talented, and aggressive.

The two wins are extremely gratifying to Docherty as, in the previous four years, the Chipman girls' team had gone winless. Said the coach, "It all seemed to start in our scrimmage with Woodbridge at the very beginning of the season. We took it 38-11 and everyone got excited and enthused about playing again."

"Then came the first game with C.R. It took overtime to do it, but the final score was 30-25 and Chipman was on the map again. Our girls have a lot to be proud of."

Docherty's team is made up almost completely of 8th graders who are in their second year of basketball. "I tried last year to play this group almost exclusively so we would have the experience. The strategy seems to have paid off," Docherty said.

One of the secrets of Chipman's recent success is the type of defense they employ. Two guards, Cathy Johnson and Leona

White, play a man to man while the remainder of the team is in a zone. "It forces turnovers," Docherty explained, "and is always confusing to the other team."

Another reason for Chipman's surge this year is their foul shooting. In seasons past, the junior high girls had trouble making the free throws but the problem seems to be history now.

"We shot 3 for 6 from the line Thursday," Docherty said, "and that can make a very big difference on the outcome of the game."

Statically, Cathy Johnson led the team scoring against Woodbridge with a game total of 12 points. Leona White followed with 10 as did Anita Sherwood. Pam Harris had 6 and Pam Pierce scored a total of 2.

"The game was a walk-away. I was able to substitute for the first team after the first 5 minutes," commented the coach.

Chipman kept the Woodbridge squad from scoring for almost the entire first half of the game. Woodbridge didn't get a point until 10 seconds before the buzzer to end the half when the score stood 22-2.

The girls ran the total to 32-4 at the end of the third and added 8 more in the final period.

CHIPMAN BOYS DROP O.T. THRILLER

By Bruce Levy
Usually coach Steve Van Sant awards one of his Chipman Junior High basketball players a "most valuable player" title after each game. After the game with Woodbridge Thursday, Van Sant gave the nod to the entire starting team: James Brown, James Lofland, Jerome Scott, Brian Gladden, and Vince Thorpe.

The reason for all these plaudits was not a win;

in fact Chipman lost to Woodbridge 45-44. The reason was the all out effort Chipman gave in the nailbiting double overtime contest.

Not mentioned in Van Sant's MVP list, but certainly deserving of a mention, was Rodney Young who came off the bench in place of James Brown with a few minutes to go in the last period and sparked the team in the first overtime period. Brown had fouled out in the closing minutes of the regulation play.

Said Van Sant, "No doubt about it, this was our best game of the season."

And what brought this about? "Our shooting percentage improved from an average of 15% to over 40%," explained the rookie coach, "and we outrebounded them."

"In the second overtime period, we didn't control the tip-off and we didn't draw first blood like we had done on every other occasion in the game. I think this gave them an edge."

Doing heavy damage for the Woodbridge Raiders was game standout Bruce Banks. Banks had a game total of 23 points and was responsible for the go-ahead foul shot to finally sink the Spartans. He was also a terror on the boards.

Chipman played tight, excellent ball in the first period and, working out of the 2-3 zone, held Woodbridge to 8 points for a one point lead.

The second period was a battle of the non-starters.

Coach Van Sant originated an innovative concept for involving more boys in actual competition that adds an extra dimension to the Chipman contests.

In the second period, Van Sant plays non-starters when the opposing coach does the same or if Chipman is not in a close scoring battle. Coach Dave Campbell of Woodbridge consented to the idea and for the second period, the non-starters had it out.

It looked as if the Woodbridge back up crew had the edge in the second period and the score at the end of the half was 18-12 Raiders.

The third period saw Chipman open up quickly and rush to a four point lead. Woodbridge came right back and kept the third period scoring close and at the buzzer, Chipman was ahead by two, 26-24.

Neither team let up and neither team died in the fourth and final regulation quarter as the play became defensive. Adding to the suspense, Chipman's key player, James Brown, was benched with five fouls with three minutes to play in the game.

Not only was Brown's scoring going to be missed but he had also handled the lion's share of the defensive duties which, to that point, had been handled with authority.

It was Chipman's Rodney Young who stepped in and proved to be the stopper.

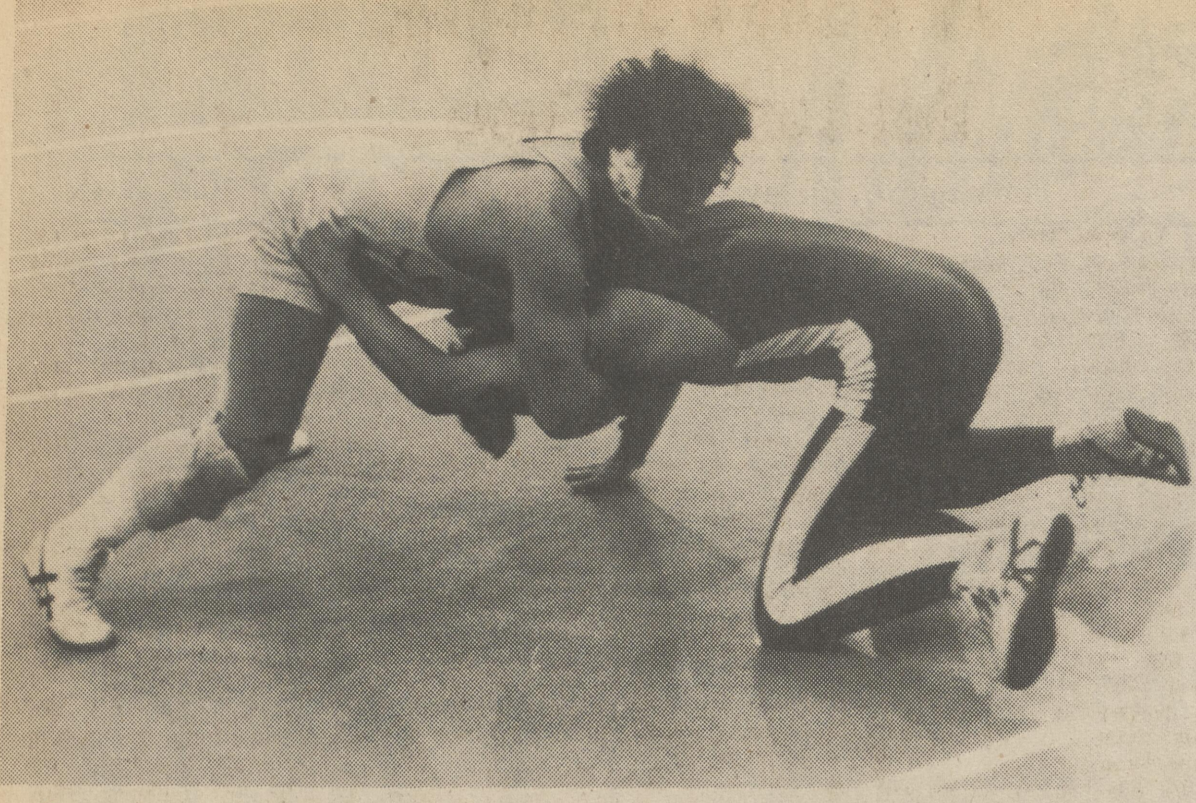

Chipman held Woodbridge to a 32-32 tie at the end of the fourth quarter to force a three minute overtime period.

At the start, Van Sant's troops came out swinging and jumped to a four point lead.

But again Woodbridge battled back to tie the score and force the game into another three minute overtime.

Chipman held their ground and the scoring was even at the closing seconds. A foul on Bruce Banks proved to be the undoing as the hot-handed Banks put the ball where it belonged and Chipman came out on the losing end of the 45-44 score.

Spartan Richard Dennis scored a convincing upset win in the heavy weight class against Smyrna.

SMYRNA TOPS LAKE FOREST 43-17

By Bruce Levy

The Spartan varsity wrestlers lost to Smyrna Wednesday night 43-17, but "we gave them all they could handle," according to Coach Justin Hyatt. "I was especially pleased with the performances of Larry Kosiorowski and Richie Dennis. These two showed me more than I had ever expected Wednesday and, even though we ultimately lost, I came away with some good feelings. Everyone gave it all they had which is all a coach can ask," added Hyatt.

Smyrna, one of the state's top squads, came to the match at Lake Forest expecting a tough contest. Smyrna's mentor, Buddy Lloyd, said, "We knew what Lake Forest was capable of from their performance at the Milford Tournament earlier this year. They showed me a lot of strength, especially with the likes of Jeff Grove, Charles Jones, Larry McCombs, and Louis Hendricks."

"I wasn't too surprised at the outcome Wednesday, we had expected to give up 3 or 4 matches," Lloyd added, "but I have to say the heavy weight match did catch me off guard. Our Russ Hall was feeling a little sick, but that's not meant as any kind of excuse - he was flat beat by Dennis who really did control the entire match."

"Justin has done an outstanding job this season. I'll predict right now that Lake Forest winds up 3rd in their division. If they weren't in a race with the likes of Caesar Rodney and Milford, they would be even higher I'm sure," said the Smyrna coach.

Starting off the evening's program for Lake Forest at 100 pounds, Charles Jones drew a 1-1 tie. There was no scoring on either side in the first period, but Jones chalked up 1 point in the second with an escape.

Jones was called for locking hands in the third period to give his opponent the only point he was to score in the match. "Charles would have won if he hadn't been called," said coach Hyatt, "and he continues to look good."

"This was only his second match at the varsity level. Jones could be the state champ in the next two years if he has the desire."

At 107, Bryon Eecenrode faced last year's state champ and was soundly defeated 13-0. The score may have been lopsided, but Hyatt expressed no disappointment. "Bryon just simply met his match," he said.

114 pounder Jeff Grove was in control of his match for the total distance and scored a 6-4 decision as the home crowd voiced their approval. He scored two near fall points at the closing seconds and was moving his man at whim.

At the end of Grove's match, the overall score stood at 5-7, Smyrna.

Kenny Williams was pinned by Smyrna's Bill Johnson who Justin Hyatt calls, "the next state champ" in 1:12. "Johnson pinned the existing state champion at the Milford Tournament and just can't miss taking it this year at 121 pounds," added Hyatt.

Smyrna added more points in the 128 pound class, registering another pin. This time it was at the expense of Lake Forest's Nathan Morris who had his shoulders on the mat in 2:27.

David Brown, weighing 134, was the third pin victim in a row for Smyrna. Brown was pinned in 2:34 by one of Smyrna's best. Said Hyatt, "Dave did all he could but against someone like this, it just wasn't enough."

Larry Kosiorowski pulled the Spartans off their losing streak with an 8-3 decision in the contest that followed. Kosiorowski, at 140 pounds, put on an impressive show of aggressiveness and took his opponent down a total of four times in the match.

"Best I have seen him in two years," said his coach. I guess he is finally beginning to learn just how good he really is."

With Kosiorowski's win, Lake Forest trailed in the overall scoring 25-8.

Carrying 20 pounds over last years wrestling weight, Mike Kosiorowski represented the Spartans in the 147 pound division for his first match of the season. He was slightly out of shape due to job responsibilities in the earlier part of the season, but lacked no enthusiasm Wednesday.

Now a junior, Kosiorowski got off to a fast and furious beginning but his well seasoned opponent used the aggression against him as Kosiorowski succumbed to a pin in 2:31. Kosiorowski's man seemed to wait for him and, judo style, turned the movement around in his favor.

"Mike just needs conditioning," commented Hyatt, "aggression is the name of the game and Mike shows plenty of that."

Larry McCombs maintained his reputation as one of the best in the state, winning a convincing 6-0 decision in the following 157 pound class. McCombs stayed in control the total six minutes and would have had a pin but his opponent seemed extremely skilled at staying off his back. If the contest would have lasted a few seconds more, a pin was definitely on the horizon.

Taking up the slack due to an injury to Louis Hendricks at 169, Jimmy Fleming fought hard but was pinned in 4:36.

Hyatt forfeited the next bout, 187 pound division, due to no available wrestler. With Hendricks healthy, Fleming is the usual starter at this weight.

Richard Dennis finished the evening's activities with a spectacular upset win for Lake Forest in the heavyweight class.

To Justin Hyatt, this was "the high point of the whole match. I didn't expect anything like this at all."

Dennis was setting the pace and tossing his opponent around like a toothpick. He registered a pin in 5:21 and was winning by a whopping 13-2 at the time of the decision. This marked 2 pins in as many contest for the awesome heavy-weight.

The overall final score was Smyrna 43, Lake Forest 17. The Spartans now stood at 1-1 on the duel meet season.

CAPE MATMEN CAPTURE LATE MATCHES TO SLIP BY WOODBRIDGE 35-25

By Harry G. Farrow Jr.

LEWES - On paper it appeared as though Cape Henlopen wrestlers won their match Saturday against Woodbridge going away. The turning point as I saw it was the 128 lb. class. I thought Jay (Armwood) should have won his match, but that's the way it goes sometimes. The other key match was the 147 lb. class. I thought Jay (Armwood) should have won his match, but that's the way it goes sometimes. The other key match was the 147 lb. class. I thought Jay (Armwood) should have won his match, but that's the way it goes sometimes. The other key match was the 147 lb. class. I thought Jay (Armwood) should have won his match, but that's the way it goes sometimes.

"Jay (Armwood) is one of the better wrestlers for Woodbridge...and a boy we can always count on," said Coach Bottiger. In the Armwood match by the match ending in a tie, each team received 2 points "...where had we won we would have picked up 4 points and Cape would not have gotten a point. As it was Cape picked up 2 points on us there," said Bottiger. In the 128 lb. match Jay (Armwood) got over on his back a few times in each of the first two periods. At another point, he got a head scissors on his opponent (Downing), which had the scissors been made at the knee instead of the calf of the leg he would not have been charged with a point. As a result he was charged with a 1 point infraction. On the other hand, Armwood might have been lucky, for Downing laid on the mat for quite a while complaining of neck problems. Had he been injured as a result of the illegal hold and not able to continue, Armwood and Woodbridge would have been charged with 6 points. "I believe that Jay (Armwood) might have won the match with a pin for in the 2nd period, he had his man in a Figure 4 and about to apply the pressure when the period ended," said Bottiger.

Bottiger said Scott Wilson gave him a real good match, and he was real pleased with the way Scott wrestled. "At one point Scott was down 9-0 but he was able to cut the margin to 7 points and saved the team from giving up 4 points to Cape," said Bottiger. "The other kid was real strong, and Scott has been out with a cold and pulled back muscle. Johnson seemed strong, but the week before he had wrestled 128," said Bottiger. "Scott did not quit...and he did not lay down. I was real pleased with his effort," said Bottiger.

According to Coach Bottiger, the 147 lb. class was also a key match. "We had the superior wrestler, but for some reason, the Cape boy won the match," said Bottiger. Bottiger said that had Woodbridge won this match, "...we would have won the (overall) match," said Bottiger. Greg Mervine was to wrestle the 157 lb. class, but with his coach they decided to wrestle the next higher class (169 lb.) They figured they could possibly get a draw or in fact win by decision. Mervine was slightly light for this pound class, but the strategy worked out for the team.

All in all Bottiger was pleased with his early wrestlers, but felt they should have won the match. "You figure with a ten man squad we must forfeit two matches and 12 points. So...you start by giving them 12 points right off the bat. We cannot afford to make many mistakes. We (assistant Coach Walter Gliefski) teach basics and also impress upon the boys that they must try to minimize mistakes and capitalize on the other team's mistakes," said Coach Bottiger. In the 187 lb. class Flowers for Cape pinned Bailey in 1:00 of the 1st period. Flowers is a senior and was 4th last year in the Conference. This is Bailey's first year. He weighed in at 160 which was light for his class.

Coach Bottiger attended a wrestling clinic this past summer at Bloomsburg State College where 3 instructors performed for the clinic. The instructors included Dan Gable, Univ. of Iowa and former Olympic team member, John Fritz, a national champ while a student at Penn State, now coaching at F & M College, and Bill Lamb of the Univ. of N.C., former National champion at Oklahoma Univ.

Bottiger's team was 3 and 9 last season. He hopes for a .500 season. He felt that with a few breaks this season his team could be 4-0. Landy Correll and David Johnson are two mainstays on his team and both of these boys were 2nd and 3rd in the conference, Greg Mervine of Woodbridge wrestled 10 lbs. over his weight at 169 lbs. against Cape on Saturday putting up a real tough fight.

Tougher than expected Seaford nips Chipman in close match

By Bruce Levy

The Chipman matemen gave a good effort against Seaford Friday, but lost a close one, 48-33. Coach Ed Wheatley said he underestimated the Seaford squad as he had looked for a quick victory.

Starting off the match, 76 pounder, Tim Stump was pinned in the first period. Stump is a 7th grader and Wheatley feels he can be one of his best in the year to come.

At 82 pounds, Greg Eecenrode put the first points on the board for Chipman shutting out his opponent 7-0. "Greg handled him well," said the coach, "he came as close to a pin as you can get in the late going but just couldn't put his man down."

Brother Craig Eecenrode did battle for Chipman in the following match, 88 pounds, and lost what Wheatley called a "heartbreaker" 3-0. "We were really looking for a pin there," he added Craig drew a tougher man than I thought."

Tim Noble was on the losing end of a pin in the 94 pound class in the second period. He was losing 5-0 when the boom was lowered.

Wayne Kelly had what may have been the most interesting match of the day. Wrestling his first match of the season, Kelly drew an opponent from Seaford with an artificial leg. Kelly had his man 9-5 at the end of the second period but a quick reverse turned the tide and Kelly lost a close one, 9-10. Commented the coach, "It was good to see the boy being allowed to compete. He had great upper body strength and certainly deserved to be out there. Look for a good rematch when we meet Seaford again on February 22nd."

David Lipinski showed what he was made of in the following contest, meeting perhaps Seaford's top wrestler. The match was completely even in the early going but Lipinski scored a nice double reverse to win by pin after 1:17 had expired. Said Wheatley, "It could have gone either way. Both boys were well prepared and well matched for each other. This will be one to watch when we meet again."

In the 112 pound division, Kenny Kline kept up the pressure and won another match by pin for Chipman. He was in control the whole way and got his man at 1:29 into the contest.

Dwayne Wooters dropped his first one of the season in the 118 class. He was pinned at the close of the second period with two seconds remaining.

7th grader, Lee Hicks was representing Chipman for his first time in the 124 pound match and was pinned in 37 seconds. "He'll be a winner," commented the coach, "he is big, strong and shows a lot of ability. Watch him after he gets some mat time under his belt."

Alan Giddens held up his end in the following match at 130 pounds getting a pin at 1:21. Giddens seems to improve with every meet.

136 pounder, Sheldon Powell drew a very tough competitor in his match but stuck his shoulders to the mat in 2:40 for a win by pin. Powell is a first year wrestler but certainly doesn't look it.

Said Wheatley, Sheldon is very intelligent and he thinks all the time out there. He looked impressive, we'll hate to lose him next year."

At 142 pounds, Dave Reirdon was beaten in 39 seconds but looked tough. The 7th grader never gave up.

Paul Rash gave up considerable weight to his opponent in the 148 pound match and was pinned in the early going.

Drawing another top Seaford wrestler, 155 pound Jeff Muehlheisen didn't let it bother him and went after his man. Aggressiveness payed off and Muehlheisen won by pin at 2:26.

Both squads forfeited the next contest, 160 pounds, for lack of wrestlers. Commenting on the match in general, Wheatley said he was pleased with the overall performance of his boys.

"Nobody quit and we drew some very tough fellows. We'll get them at home on February 22nd."

In Mondays match with Cesear Rodney, Chipman lost, 42-27

Robbie Rennie; PP&K Standout

By Bruce Levy

Felton's Robbie Rennie, along with 1,500,000 other youngsters across the nation between the ages of 9 and 13, registered at his local Ford dealer last October. He was going to try his hand (and foot!) at the annual punt, pass and kick competition that he had watched so many times before on TV. Bolan Motors of Dover would be his sponsor.

When the dust finally settled in December, Robbie had achieved what no other boy from lower Delaware had done - he made it to the national divisional finals, representing the Philadelphia Eagles. Robbie won the local, zone, district, and area competition as an 11 year old and placed 6th in the division to be among the top 20 boys in the country for his age group.

Gordon Rennie, Robbie's dad, said of the PP&K program, "It was a fantastic program and a great experience for the whole family. The whole thing was well organized with the emphasis on the kids' enjoyment. We met a lot of very nice people and had the chance to travel to places we had never been, I just wish I had something like this when I was young."

Said Sandell Luff, sales manager at Bolan's "We were extremely pleased and proud of Robbie's performance. Robbie worked very hard and, with his competitive spirit, showed a great desire to win. We all thank him very much."

After registering in October, Robbie had a week to practice before his first competition: the locals.

Punt, pass and kick scores are determined by the total footage distance of all three events. 1 foot equals one point. The person with the highest total wins and moves on to the next level.

Robbie swept the locals with a combined score of 214½. He passed the football 106 feet, punted for 53 feet, and place kicked 53½. His closest competition had a combined total of 209 and Robbie was qualified for the zone's.

Zone competition is statewide. Everybody who won their particular local contest in Delaware was qualified to enter.

More accustomed to the procedure at this point, Robbie bettered his local score and PP&Ked for a 231 total. His pass sailed 112 feet, his punt went 85 feet, but he place kicked a disappointing 33 feet. "I hooked it," Robbie said.

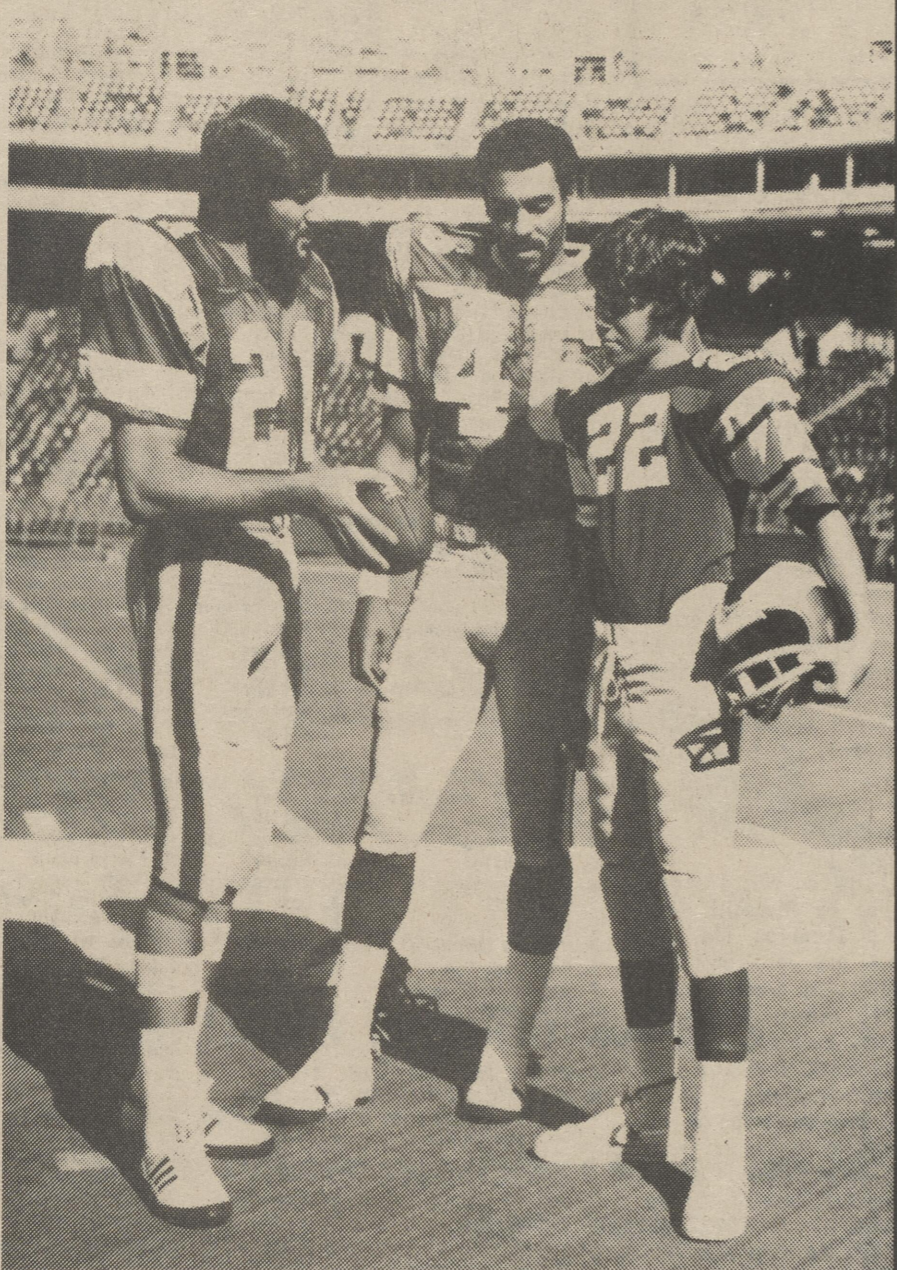

The strong pass was good enough to make up for the kicking though and Robbie again took a first place. Now it was on to the districts at St. Joe's University in Philadelphia.

District competition included all the winners of the zone contests in the entire state of Delaware, the eastern portion of Pennsylvania and the southern half of New Jersey.

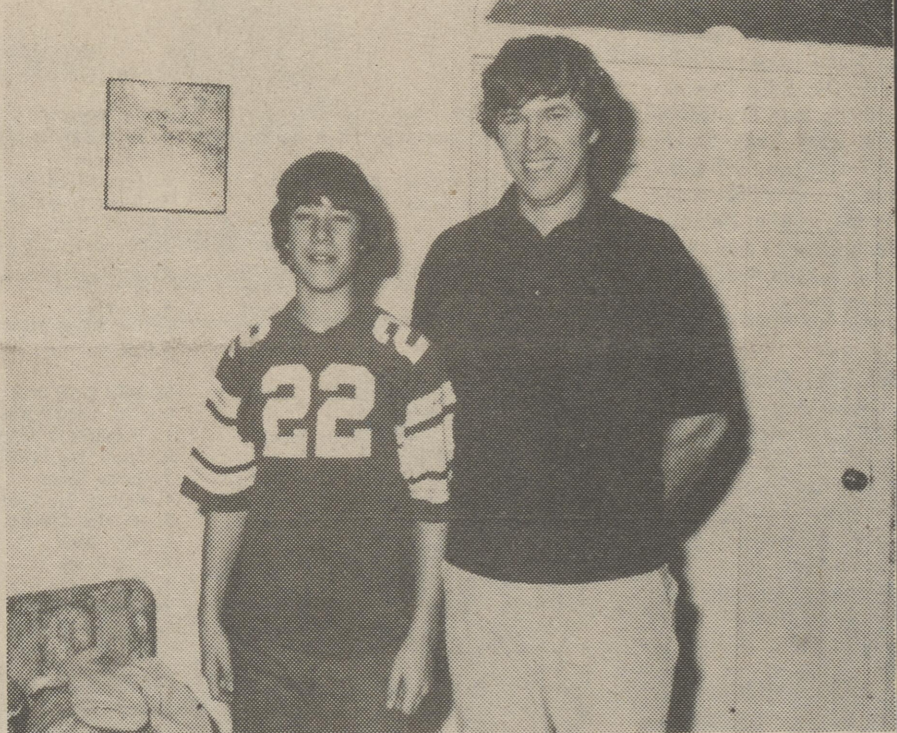

156 kids were involved in the districts and Robbie says he "was nervous for the first time." Nerves or no nerves, Rennie came out on top of the 11 year old heap with a total of 256 points as he continued to improve his scores and dominate the competition.

Now it was time for the big test - the area competition at Vet Stadium for the privilege of representing the Philadelphia Eagles at the divisionals.

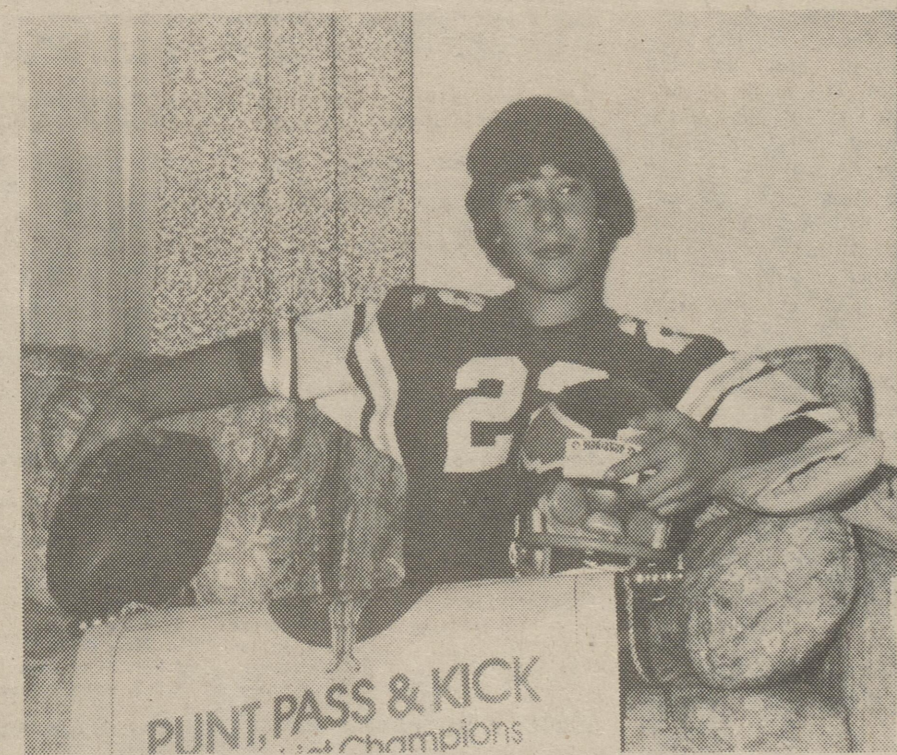

Robbie faced his opposition during halftime of the St. Louis game and this time, "I wasn't nervous a bit."

Commented Gordon Rennie, "I'm sure the parents were far more nervous than the kids at that point."

Robbie coolly went about his business, throwing and kicking for a combined total of 231 points which was 14 big points better than his closest competition. Again, Robbie had taken the 11 year old honors and the family was Detroit bound to face the toughest test yet.

14 boys met in Detroit on December 17th, each representing a team in the NFC.

14 other contestants met in Houston on that date to vie for the AFC honors.

Robbie got off to a good start, throwing the football 107 feet. His place kick was a solid 79 feet and Robbie was near the top with one event to go - punting.

The boys had one chance at each event and one chance only so the punt had to be on the money. Disappointingly, the punt sailed for only 48 feet and Robbie's chances at further glory ended.

"I shanked it," said the 11 year old, "but there's always next year, right?"

In the final tally, Robbie's effort was good enough for a combined total of 233 points. The winning PP&K totaled 293.

For his efforts, however, Robbie's name will rest for eternity in the Football Hall of Fame.

After working on his kicking for the next year, Robbie plans to return to the PP&K wars under the Bolan Motors banner as a 12 year old in the season to come. He also plans to compete as a 13 year old two years from now.

Look out all you Pop Warner hopefuls - Robbie Rennie shall return.

JV's Show Strength, But Lose To Cape

By Bruce Levy

A hustling, aggressive Lake Forest JV basketball team battled division leading Cape Henlopen Friday afternoon and, although they lost 48-31, showed they could play with the best.

Foul trouble with their big men was the primary reason behind the defeat as the Spartan JV's ran their record to 2-2 on the year.

Said Coach Don Sisson, "It may sound odd, but I was 110% pleased with the performance of this team even though we dropped the game."

"We were coming off a heart breaking loss to Dover in our previous game - a game we lost by two points," continued Sisson. "It was a situation in which luck played a major role and basically either team could have taken it."

"The fact that we didn't let that demoralize us, and we kept our momentum, says a lot to me about this team. We'll win quite a few this year I'm sure."

Sisson started the contest with his men in a tight 2-3 defensive zone.

"I didn't think we could run with Cape, they have some absolutely outstanding talent," he explained. "It's always been my philosophy that when your opponent is superior, deny them the opportunity to score through defense."

The 2-3 zone, when played tightly, is a ball control defense. The Spartans used it effectively in the first period and held the potent Cape squad to just a two point lead, 8-6.

The second period of action saw Lake Forest stick to their defensive game plan and the score continued to remain close.

Eric Cain, team center and play leader, had an outstanding day, scoring and rebounding particularly well in the first two periods. He sparked the team with his efforts but found himself in foul trouble near the end of the second quarter.

When the halftime buzzer sounded, Lake Forest trailed by a close two points, 15-13, and Cain had four fouls.

Returning to action in the third period, Cain continued to provide firepower for the Spartans, but with two minutes to go in the third he was called for his fifth foul and forced to leave the game.

Cape took advantage quickly and ran the score to 35-25 at the end of the period.

Said Sisson, "At that point we had to get out of the zone because getting the ball became our priority."

Moving to a gambling man to man defensive set-up, Lake Forest went after the ball. The talented Cape Henlopen squad capitalized on the change and were able to widen their lead with easier access to the basket.

Making things worse for Sisson, he lost the talents of forward Kenny Baynard who was also retired with four problems. With Baynard out, the Spartans played without both of their tall men.

The combination of the man to man defense without the services of both Cain and Baynard finally led to Cape's breaking the game open. At the final buzzer the score stood 48-31, and Cape Henlopen remained undefeated on the year.

The defeat had its bright spots for Sisson however. Particularly the play of freshman Dale Benson.

Benson looked effective the entire game and scored a total of ten points. "He has really begun to come into his own," remarked the coach, "and is adjusting to this level of play very well."

"I can say that Dale played his finest game," he added.

Injuries Contribute To Spartan Defeat

By Bruce Levy

Depth on the bench handed Cape Henlopen a victory over the Lake Forest girls' JV's last Friday in a hard fought contest played on the Spartan home court.

Running their record to 3-2, the JV's lost by a score of 31-15.

Said coach Carman Hardcastle, "Actually, it was a good game, but we didn't start to play until the second half."

If we played the entire game like we played the third period, the score would have been close," she added.

Pit Chatter

By Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

Norris Reed of Smithville, Md., who is a farmer by trade and stock car owner and promoter on the local level, flew to North Dakota Monday guest of Hooper Bros. of Sudlersville, Md. to see the new line of Steiger tractors. "I am going out there to look at Brand X", said Reed.

We talked to Clifford Todd this week as he prepares for another racing season. Todd, one of the more consistent leaders on the racing scene experienced quite a few mechanical mishaps last season. He ran only Delmar (U.S. 13 Speedway last year, but this season he will be running both tracks. "I know the new officers at Georgetown for this year coming up. I am personally known to Harold Wingate the new President of D.A.R.A. He is a tremendous person, and I believe under his leadership the track should do well. I know that I am looking forward to running at Georgetown this year," said Todd. Todd said he felt that one of his problems last year was the fact that he ran only the one track. "I want to run twice a week this year, because it allows you two changes instead of the one which I had last year. If you have problems on Friday night you can get it together by Saturday night. Of course...if your problems are major on Saturday...then you are done, but I really believe that I will have a better chance this year by running both tracks," said Todd. Todd expects to have his same basic crew back with him this season. He said he felt that his brother Wayne might field his own car this year. Wayne has driven in the past and favors a small block. Wayne is one of the mainstays in Clifford's operation at the track. Clifford will have Doug Lofland with him again this season and Lofland is the one who helped Clifford with his handling problems late in the season last year.

Although Clifford has not made the Georgetown meetings since the end of the racing season, Clifford will support the Georgetown racing season. Asked what he thought about the discussions had at the meetings regarding restrictions, he had this to say, "...I really feel that Georgetown will have to follow the other track (U.S. 13)...however I am in favor of doing away with drag tires. I feel drag tires are unsafe and safety is a most important factor to bear in mind for racing. Drag tires have thin side walls and are to my thinking unsafe."

Todd said he will not make any changes on his car for this season. Right now he is going over the car replacing parts, sand blasting and painting. Asked if he favors the "automatic transmission" in race cars. Some were using them toward the end of the season namely Mike Hager in the late model sportsman, and Clifford had this to say "...the equipment which you make mention is still in the "untested" stages. I think that it has a long way to go to prove itself. It is something that you would have to get used to also, because when you let up on it...it will quit...you know...so when you hit the turns and let up you would have to remember to get back on it coming out of the shutes. It would also seem that the cost of between $700 and $800 would be pretty high versus the $400 for the quarter master. Asked about doing away with the fuel injection, and he said, "...well, before I started using it, I was totally against it. I really fought it because it appeared to be hard on the drive train, and you do have to change bearings more often with the fuel (injection) than with the gas. I have been using it now for several seasons, and I really like it. Why? Well...the motor runs cooler for me so that eliminates a lot of problems, you've got a lot of horsepower which is what it is all about. I think that if you do away with drag tires you would eliminate a lot of wear and tear on the equipment...so that you could still run the fuel injection. On the other hand I am willing to go along with anything the rest of them are... in order to cut back on costs. I would even favor a small block modified class," said Clifford. We look forward to seeing Clifford Todd at both tracks this coming season for in Clifford Todd auto racing on the peninsula has a great competitor...one who never gives up. Good Luck, Clifford!

By Bruce Levy

In drag racing news, it seems the big question now for area drag racers is just what the program at the U.S. 13 Dragway in Delmar will be for '79. The Super Pro division is currently up in the air as to format. The options track manager, Charlie Cathell is considering are: 1. To remain the same as last year and qualify the fastest 8 cars of the day during time trials for the Super Pro field. 2. To qualify the fastest 16. 3. Qualify only those cars that clock under 10.99 seconds in the quarter mile run. Opinion seems fairly mixed at this point as to what could work the best. Cost is always a large factor and probably a decision will be based on what saves the racers the most money while still putting on a good competitive show.

In other news, the Hooper and Gor Racing Team out of Maryland will campaign a new Super Pro car this coming season. Last years Camaro has been put to pasture and a Vega will take its place. We hear it will contain a small block chevy with a 4-speed Lenco trans. Look for mid 9's for Hooper & Gore in '79.

By Charles B. Lockhart

Many horsemen at Dover Downs took a busman's holiday this past Saturday to attend the Cloverleaf Annual Awards Dinner/Dance held at the Brandywine Hilton in Wilmington. With more than 400 people in attendance, the banquet was the Association's most successful.

Harry W. Kelley, Mayor of Ocean City, Md., was elected to his sixth term as president of the Association. Other officers that were elected were Dr. Max Fischer, physician and standardbred owner from Washington, first vice-president; Jack Parker, trainer-driver from Harrington, second vice-president; Dana Irving, breeder, owner and trainer from West Grove, Pa., secretary and Lorimer Midgett, owner and bank president from Elizabeth City, N.C., treasurer. All officers serve a two-year term.

Also elected as Directors for three-year terms were Ralph Holloway, Frankford, Del.; Bob Moffett, Chestertown, Md.; Lance Eller, Onley, Va.; Del Cameron, Pinehurst, N.C.; and Jay Brinsfield, Rising Sun, Md. Cloverleaf SOA, an organization comprised of over 1,300 members representing owners, trainers and drivers from Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia and North Carolina were honored to have Governor Pierre S. du Pont IV attend the function and address the group. Grandville Adds New Rules
Grandview Speedway race organizer Bruce Rogers has made a few rule-changes for the 1979 season and competitors planning to take part in events at the high banked one third mile clay track in 1979 can read all about the changes in the new rule book which is presently available. Rogers has announced that automatic transmissions will be allowed in sportsman stock car racers for this season but mag wheels have been made illegal. In the past sportsman racers were allowed to run with one mag wheel. Rogers has also increased the tire size to a 14 1/2 inch maximum for the sportsman racers. Other minor changes are outlined in the rule book.

School Board Grants Construction Extension

Monday night, January 15, was the original deadline for the completion of Phase II of the federally funded construction program at Lake Forest High School. However, Phase III, the natatorium which will house the swimming pool, is not complete, and the Lake Forest School Board has granted the contractor, John L. Briggs another 90 days in which to finish the project. Since there was no penalty clause attached to a time overrun in the original contract, the Board suggested that for the granting of the extension the contractor include the construction of an exterior access ladder to the roof of the natatorium. The ladder was deleted from the original construction plans and would otherwise add an additional $600 plus to the cost of the project. Phase I and II of the outdoor athletic complex which included the new football stadium were completed in the fall.

A separate construction project funded by state and local bonds is still in progress. This includes the extension to and repair of the gym is back in use, but the auditorium remains to be finished. Some classrooms which were a part of this project have been completed. The School Board Monday night agreed to delete the purchase and installation of a horizontal bar for the gym from the original construction orders and to add an exterior ladder for access to the roof of the auditorium. The reconstruction of the gym, classrooms and offices damaged by fire at Lake Forest East in Frederica is complete and ready for a final inspection by the Board members. Progress Board Member Albert Price announced there has been some progress in getting a traffic signal installed at the intersection of Route 284 and U.S.13 where the heavy flow of traffic from Lake Forest High School meets the State's main artery. Price said the highway department has ordered and will install a manually operated light at the intersection. The next problem would be getting someone to operate the light at the times when it is needed-school mornings and afternoons and when special evening or week-end events bring crowds to the high school. Price thought it might be necessary to get State legislation to authorize Kent County Levy Court to hire someone to operate the light. Superintendent William Cline said he was looking into the possibility of having someone provided through CETA funds. Other board members thought it would also be desirable to have some warning device placed ahead of the light on the northbound lane of U.S.13 so that motorists coming up over the hill in that direction could be warned a stop might be forthcoming. Sandra Parker, Phyllis MaSTEN Hired at South The Lake Forest Board approved the hiring of Sandra Parker as kindergarten teacher and Phyllis Masten as kindergarten Title I aides at "B" in Harrington. They replace Patricia Bunting, teacher, and Martha Porter an aide whose resignations the Board accepted. Price of Band Pictures Questioned Several Board members who had been contacted by concerned parents questioned the price of band pictures taken at the high school. The parents were concerned because the cost of the pictures had risen from somewhere between $7 and $10 last year to a reported range of $19.95 to $30.00 or more this year. Both Superintendent Cline and High School Principal Dr. Margaret Phelps were to look into the situation and see if the Assistant Principal Canned The idea of creating a post for an assistant principal at Lake Forest South was dropped. South does not have the units to qualify for state funds to support a separate administrative post, and the idea had been to give a teacher there extra administrative duties and the official title to go with it. The principal at South must divide his time between buildings "A" and "B" and is out of the main building at least once each day. With opposition from the teachers' organization the LFEA to creating an administrative position tailored for one individual, the Board dropped the idea. However, it was decided to compensate Al Drummond, sixth grade teacher at South, for extra duties and responsibilities he assumes when Principal Earl Griffin must be out of the building. FFA Ski Trip Approved A FFA ski trip scheduled for a resort in Pa. was given official sanction by the Board. The trip will be on February 9-11 and will be attended by 36 FFA members and four chaperones. Cost of the trip is to be paid half and half by the individual members going and the local FFA chapter. State Board Appropriates Handicapped and Childfind Funds Member Albert Price reported the State School Board at its December meeting had awarded federal funds for the handicapped and for Childfind project of these monies Lake Forest District is to get $31,866 for the handicapped and $43,378 in Childfind grants. In other business the Board approved a change to the Delaware School Board Association's constitution. The change would provide for the selection of a permanent alternate from each district. This would facilitate the gathering of a quorum at meetings in the event that regular delegates could not attend. Albert Price is the current Lake Forest delegate to the DSBA

KEEP UP WITH PIT CHATTER

OLD-FASHIONED, NUTRITIOUS BEEF STEW helps brighten today's food budget blues.

Your modern kitchen will take on the warmth and charm of a country kitchen when filled with the marvelous aroma of old-fashioned beef stew. Flavorful chunks of beef, carrots, onions and prunes combine for a hearty winter entree that's delicious.
Beef for stew is an excellent beef buy, according to the National Live Stock and Meat Board, for it is economically priced and contains no bone and little waste. It brings good nutrition as well as good flavor to the table, for beef supplies high quality protein and important B vitamins and minerals.
Country-Kitchen Beef Stew
Combine 3 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons salt and 1/2 teaspoon pepper; dredge 2 pounds beef for stew (cut in 1 1/4 to 1 1/2-inch pieces). Brown meat in 3 tablespoons lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Sprinkle 1/2 teaspoon ground savory over meat. Add 1 1/2 cups water, cover tightly and cook slowly 1 1/2 hours. Stir in 6 medium carrots, cut in 1-inch pieces, and 1 medium onion, cut in 6 wedges. Cook, covered, 30 minutes. Stir in 18 prunes and cook, covered, 15 minutes or until meat and vegetables are tender. 6 servings.
