

Dover's Troop 278 sponsored the 5th annual Boy Scout Handicamporee over the weekend at Killen's Pond. Handicapped scouts from 9 states participated in the big event as 255 scouts tasted the pleasures of physical exercise in the beautiful State Park. Lenard Zerhusen of Dover was in charge of the festivities. He said that he "gets rewards when the kids do more than they think they can." At the same time 5000 Girl Scouts from Delaware, Maryland and Virginia convened at the state fairgrounds for the first Lively Arts Fun Festival. Cloning was the favorite activity, but there was also drama, folk dancing, string art and much more. Sponsored by the Chesapeake Bay Girl Scout Council, the LAFF was a day of fun and activity stressing an appreciation for all branches of the arts.

Lake Forest loses boundary appeal

By Barbara Brown

"We've taken this about as far as we can go," was the general reaction of the Lake Forest School Board to a ruling in Delaware Superior Court which upheld the action of the state school board in the matter of a disputed boundary between this district and Woodbridge. The state board had sided with Woodbridge in deciding that the area under question belongs in that district. Lake Forest disagrees and subsequently took the matter to the courts.

The latest decision ends the appeal process as far as the Lake Forest Board is concerned. Board members, in discussing the situation at Monday night's meeting felt they were "back to ground zero" in the matter. The courts have upheld the legality of the state board in acting as it did, but the Lake Forest Board still has some questions about the correctness of the decision as well as concern over whether legal procedures were followed in notifying property owners in the boundary hearing. However, the local board was in general consensus that any further steps would have to be taken by the property owners concerned. Members indicated they would be more than willing to help in providing information and moral support should those property owners decide to petition the state board. The boundary in question is in the Farmington area near U.S. 13.

In other business Monday night the Lake Forest School Board

- heard from Supervisor of Instruction Sol Markowitz that there is a possibility of some restoration in Title I funds for next year.

- approved a job description and authorized High School Principal Dr. Margaret Phelps to advertise for an Aquatics Coordinator. This will be a twelve month position carrying authority for the operation of the new pool and all its programs.

- withheld permission for Kent County Parks and Recreation to use the pool for 80 days in July and August until scheduling a meeting with them to make it clear that the Lake Forest Aquatics Coordinator would be in full charge.

- approved the issuing of tickets for seating at the June 3 graduation exercises which will be held in the new athletic stadium at the high school. Further details will be made public next week.

- approved the retirement of John Buel, English teacher at W.T. Chipman.

- accepted the resignation of Sharon Haller (Special Educate at Lake Forest East) and Ruth Koble (Home Economics at Lake Forest High School).

- approved Cheryl Shulties to fill the Home Ec position on a regular basis. Ms. Shulties has held that position during the year. Ms. Koble has been on leave.

- approved a maternity leave for Kathleen McCormick (high school, English) and a year's leave for Betty Stone (W.T. Chipman, English)

- hired George Earl Taylor as custodian in the district.

- set the tax rate for the coming year. No changes were made.

- approved a .20 per hour pay hike for district cafeteria workers for 1979-80.

- approved a trip to King's Dominion for the Lake Forest High School Stage Band on June 12. The band has been invited to play there on that date.

- congratulated the girls' softball team on their win over Sussex

Central to take the Henlopen championship.

- commended Dave Adams, Paul Gladden, Jim Blades and Richard Moretti on their handling of the Henlopen conference and regional track meets at the high school.

Houston school to remain open

Houston's elementary school is safe for at least another year, the Milford Board of Education decided Monday evening.

There had been a possibility that both West Elementary and Evelyn I. Morris Elementary School in Lincoln would be closed in an effort to cut district operational costs.

West was lucky this year, as no change was recommended. Morris School, however, will see several of its classes moved to Banneker School in Milford. Plans are to shift Learning Disabilities Classes, accommodated in two double wide trailers, to the city school.

According to district superintendent, Dr. Michael Woodall, more savings could be realized at Morris than at West. In addition, moving both West and Morris students to Banneker would have required extensive remodeling.

The decision affects only this year's program. Next year, another feasibility study will be done, Woodall said, and the Board will again be faced with the same decision.

Hazardous sidewalks concern Lobo

By Linda Fleming

"The charter and city ordinances are for the protection of the people," Councilman Vincent Lobo explained. The seven-year council veteran was referring to city laws governing sidewalks.

Lobo addressed the problem of hazardous walkways at last week's council session using his own ward as an example of sidewalk deterioration. Lobo pointed to a section of Mispillion Street, just off Commerce, where nearly half the concrete has crumbled in spots.

Lobo, who is frequently seen on foot, said walking has increased his awareness of the potential for danger.

As a physician he is "very aware of liability." But his major concern is that someone may be hurt because of a hazardous sidewalk.

The problem with sidewalks, though, is that concrete and labor are expensive -- and property owners are responsible to bear the cost of installation or replacement.

With the going rate for concrete $1.00 a square foot, a normal sidewalk, four feet in width, would cost $4.00 a running foot to replace. And at some spots an entire length of sidewalk is crumbling.

It is cost that concerns city officials, who would only have to order sidewalks to be replaced, if they so desired. And there are no federal or state subsidies to underwrite that expense in most cases.

For city manager, David Peterson, the problem appears even more complicated. "When is a sidewalk no longer functional?" A judgment is involved, and judgment is open to second guessing.

The charter spells out procedure, clearly, though. "The City Council may direct the property owner to lay or replace sidewalks."

The city manager must give the property owner 15 days notice to plan for improvement. If he fails to do so, the city manager "shall cause the said sidewalks to be laid or altered or improved...the cost shall be payable by the owner."

A group of citizens can also petition to have a portion of walkway laid or improved.

According to Peterson, a number of property owners have already repaired broken sidewalks. A particularly bad stretch at the First National Bank was replaced several weeks ago. And private property owners have also taken the initiative on some streets.

Now that warm weather is here, and people are more apt to notice the damage done by the past harsh winter, citizens may improve sidewalks without the city's prompting. At least, Council is hoping that civic pride will be incentive enough.

"Midgies" Are Under Control
Sewer "midgies" are under control now that an intensive spraying program is underway.

Peterson said crews have sprayed lagoons at the sewerage treatment plant every other day for the past two weeks.

The insect, officially known as Chironomid Midge, breeds on the bottom of sewer ponds and matures in the water. The adult is a flying insect.

Depending upon water temperature, the life span may be as short as 27½ days or as long as 73 days. However, the insect spends an average of 21 days in the larvae stage, where it is most susceptible to chemical extermination.

According to Peterson, as long as the chemical is readily available, the pest should stay under control.

It was because the chemical was slow to arrive this spring that the problem got out of hand, Peterson told a group of citizens at a Council meeting earlier this month.

The only product registered for use against the midge is ABATE. With only one manufacturer producing the chemical, the city had no choice but to wait until the manufacturer could fill orders.

While the city had a start-up inventory of ABATE held over from last season, the chemical loses 20-25% of its potency in storage.

Early spraying began with the stored chemical and city officials borrowed an additional amount while waiting for a fresh shipment. But this apparently was ineffective.

According to residents along Route 14, just east of the city limits, the insect was never a problem until waste treatment lagoons were constructed. Since then insect populations have increased every year until last year when it became "ridiculous." Nancy Ricker, unofficial spokesperson for residents, who complained to council, said "it was impossible to eat outside, to paint or even to walk in the yard last summer."

"It's like a swarm of bees, but they're so small, they go right through the screens."

It was the severity of the problem last summer that prompted city officials to enlist the aid of a University of Delaware entomologist.

Dr. Robert Lake suggested the city either use natural predators such as bottom-feeding fish or institute an extensive spraying program.

The city chose to spray, with the understanding that spraying must be done early for maximum results. Early spraying is necessary to kill midgies still in the larvae stage where the insect is capable of wintering-over. The ideal method is to begin spraying before initial generations of the insect have the opportunity to complete a life cycle.

Peterson also said spraying will continue later into the fall this year. This should result in the least number possible wintering-over to begin next year's midge population.

While Ricker says the swarms of midges are gone, she is less confident the insect won't again be out of control.

Peterson, however, says as long as the chemical is available, the problem can be controlled.

In the meantime, spraying continues every other day at the lagoons. Later, when the amount of larvae is judged to be within an acceptable range, spraying will be done weekly.

The sewer midge is an insect approximately 3/4" in length from antennae to extended legs. The slender body is about 1/4" in length and is capable of passing through screens.

Special Meeting, May 29
Harrington Council will hold a special meeting next Tuesday, May 29, beginning at 7:00 p.m.

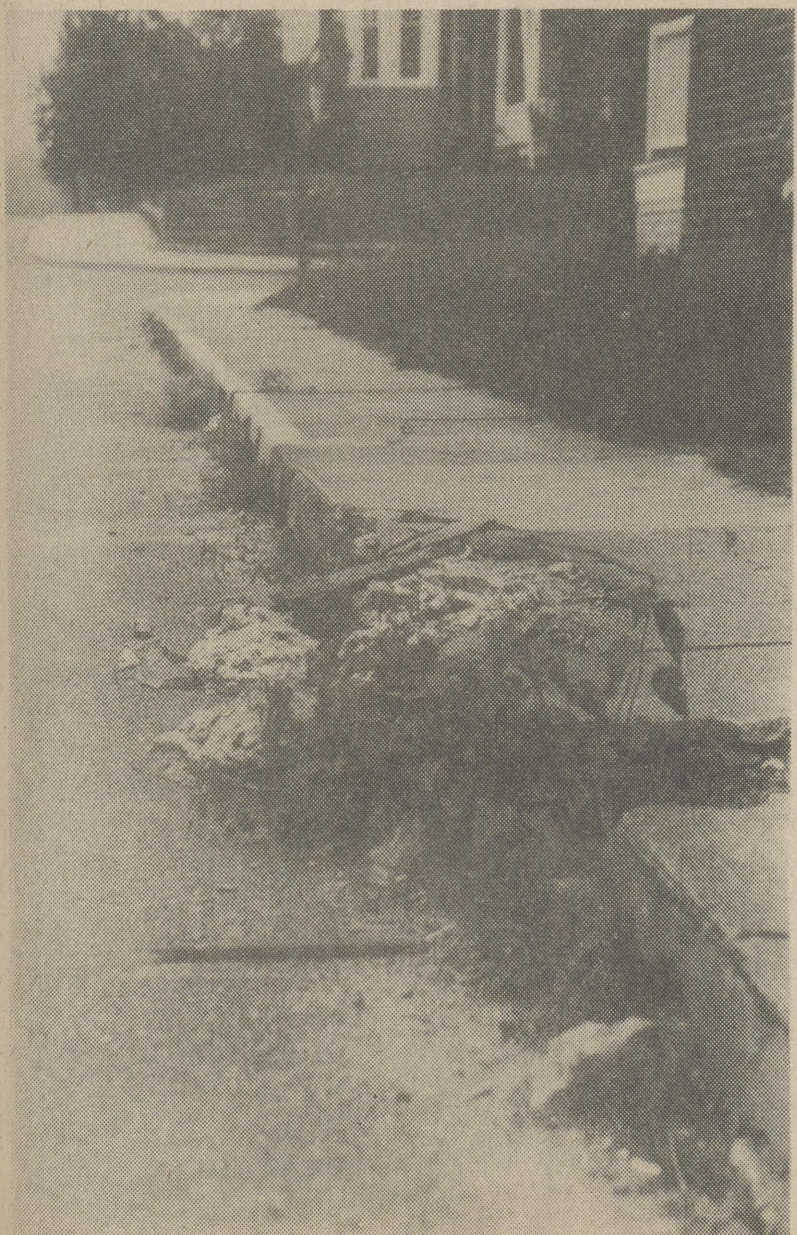

Members of the Harrington Chamber of Commerce have been invited to hear an explanation of economic development possibilities via the federal grant route.

NOTICE

The City of Harrington Office will be closed in observance of Memorial Day on May 28, 1979.

Sidewalks like this one on Mispillion Street prompted Councilman Vincent Lobo to express his concern for citizen safety at a recent Harrington Council meeting.

Sussex offered free sewer lines

Sussex County Council was presented with an offer hard to resist, at their meeting last week. Carl M. Freeman Associates, Inc., developers of Sea Colony North near Bethany Beach, has proposed to construct a wastewater treatment facility for the beachfront condominiums which would become part of the regional sanitary system.

The sewer branch would be constructed at no cost to the county, but would be incorporated in such a way as to provide a collection system for the area from Bethany Beach to Indian River Inlet.

According to a letter submitted by Freeman Associates, Sea Colony North alone with a proposed 432 units, would generate $130,000 if added revenue for the county, with a potential for $600,000 worth of revenue as the area develops. In addition, as more users are added to the system, it becomes more cost efficient, thus reducing per unit cost.

Sea Colony North has been at the crux of a zoning dispute between some area residents, who are opposed to the beachfront high-rise, and the County Council.

In other business, Council agreed to submit a full application with the department of Housing and Urban Development for a $200,000 grant. The federal monies will be used for sewer connections, a sewer subsidy, housing rehabilitation, household plumbing facilities, and a community service building.

*Agreed to inform the city of Rehoboth that the county is willing to enter into a sewer and water service agreement for Dewey Beach with the city of Rehoboth.

*Reported that Seaford's DuPont Company will be unable to provide a bubble enclosure for the ice skating rink at Delaware Technical and Community College in Georgetown. However, Council will again contact the plant to see if this can be done as an employee-related program.

*Approved conditional use of land zoned agricultural-residential for a beauty shop. The business would be attached to a dwelling in Little Creek Hundred, located on Route 54, just west of Route 453.

*Denied conditional use of land zoned agricultural-residential for a sales and service station for motor and recreational vehicles. The 6½ acre parcel of land in Cedar Creek Hundred is located on Route 1 just south of route 206.

Mary Jane Johnson pins a poppy on David Jones during poppy days Friday. The American Legion Auxiliary will again sell the flower this Friday at both Harrington banks and at Quillen's Shopping Center. Proceeds benefit disabled veterans and their families.

Levy Court hears ITC plan

The governor's Intergovernmental Task Force has recommended that an economic development corporation be created in Delaware. The corporation, an alliance between business and government, would help implement the goals of the state economic development plan.

Kent County Levy Court commissioners heard details of the plan last week at their regular meeting, Tuesday, May 15.

Specifically, the economic development corporation would assist existing or new businesses to expand or establish facilities in Delaware. It would also provide assistance to the 50 individual governmental jurisdictions within the state.

The primary focus will be industrial or business development of publicly held land.

The corporation would also provide specialized services to local governments. This might include assistance with procurement of funds, site selection and management.

A small core of individuals would form a permanent staff, which would be under the direction of a board of directors. Businesses of the state would provide $100,000 for start-up expenses and the state would provide another $100,000 subsidy. Local jurisdictions may also have to help support the first year's operations.

While the corporation is similar to existing governmental agencies, it would not replace them. As a business-government coalition it would be unique, augmenting rather than displacing existing programs.

No position was taken by Levy Court commissioners regarding support for the program. According to Barbara Remus, Chief Deputy to Levy Court, there are no eligible publicly-owned lands presently in Kent County. However, commissioners have taken the proposal under consideration.

In other business, William Eliason was administered the oath of office as assessor to the Board of Assessment.

*A letter of withdrawal was accepted from Fred Lord who had been offered an appointment as Kent County Assessor. Lord is a former Levy Court commissioner.

*A bid of $4,180 was accepted from Sherwin Williams for venetian blinds in the Kent County Administration Building.

Local restaurant to change hands

By Linda Fleming

Barbara and Kenneth Smith look forward to opening their business in Harrington next Tuesday. The young Lincoln couple will take over operations of Moore's Dairy Store that day - beginning at 6 a.m. with a full breakfast menu.

Smith's Luncheonette on Commerce Street, will be open seven days a week, from 6 a.m. until 10 p.m., offering daily specials and serving the same basic foods for which the restaurant has always been known.

The Smiths, both graduates of Milford High School, have a background in management, having managed HPS service stations in both Milford and Dover. While Mrs. Smith has worked in restaurants in the past, this venture will be a new experience for her husband.

The couple plans to work together, although Smith will also have a second job, at least for the present.

This week found Barbara Smith busy with ordering and making plans. "It's been a lot to handle, but I'm looking forward to actually getting into the restaurant."

"I hope everyone will come in to say hello. We'll still have a large selection of ice cream and we'll continue to serve good meals, including breakfast."

The Smiths, who reside in Lincoln, have one daughter, Dawn, 2 months. Smith also has two children from a previous marriage, Candi, 6, and Jamie, 2.

For Genevieve Moore, next week will begin at least a temporary retirement.

Mrs. Moore, who owned and operated Moore's Dairy Store for 12 years, has mixed emotions.

While looking forward to a well-earned rest, she revealed that her customers "who are like friends," will be missed.

P.O. issues new rules

"Use up your small and undersized envelopes and cards before July 15," Superintendent of Postal Operations, E.W. Clarke, Sr. reminds customers. That is the date when the Postal Service's new size standards become effective.

The Harrington S.P.O. said that after July 15, envelopes and cards measuring less than 3½ inches high or 5 inches long will be returned to the sender if mailed.

The regulations also prohibit flimsy cards.

Undersized pieces and flimsy cards are being banned because they can become trapped in other mail, tear and jam mail processing machinery. As a result, the letters of others can also be damaged.

The standards also affect oversized and odd-shaped piece of mail, Clarke said.

For first-class mail weighing one ounce or less, there will be a surcharge of 7 cents for pieces more than 6 1/8 inches high or 11½ inches long.

"...Fuzz Busters...used in self defense...or allowing you to break the law."

Recent statistics released on the accuracy of radar or other devices designed to clock speeds of moving vehicles indicate that about 30 percent of these devices are in error. These statistics were released from Washington from data collected across the nation. In one case, a judge put some 30 cases in a "hold position" until the matter could be resolved. Heretofore the radar devices were just about next to errorless. Many a good trial lawyer found that it was next to impossible to win a case for a valued client who was "captured" on the screen.

With the good lawyers unable to come up with some good legal defense, the technicians went to work, and some became instant millionaires with devices designed to detect radar and other speed recording devices. The politicians got to work and caused their State Legislatures to enact laws that make such detectors illegal. It became a vicious circle.

It would seem to me that the issue boils down to one of two things. Query: Are these devices which detect the radar instruments being used 1) in self defense, for if 30 percent of the speed devices in the country are inaccurate then yes...they are good or 2) are they really in effect nothing more than enabling a speeder to break the law...with the safety of others at stake. Therefore they are illegal.

It is such an elementary point of law that if you break the law whether in view of a witness or all alone with the law breaker...it is still illegal and wrong. When you speed you break the law and you do so with a reckless disregard of the safety of others as well as yourself in jeopardy. The law against speeding is there for your protection. Many times the citation from the public officer is designed to save your neck too. To now admit that speed detecting devices are used really to put in check the radar which is 30 percent wrong is nothing more than trying to wiggle out of a situation which is illegal. But...you be the judge...should speeding be protected and Fuzz Busters be legalized on the grounds of self-defense. My answer is unabridged...NO.

Point Of View

BY LINDA L. FLEMING

On August 11 Harrington will host the first of many yearly celebrations, "Heritage Day." The library advisory council and the local historical society have pooled their resources to assure a really spectacular first effort at creating an appreciation for the city's historical significance.

The railroad will, of course, be the central theme. With Conrail's cooperation, the depot will be opened to visitors as a temporary museum. It will be the perfect spot for a pictorial review of Harrington as it has evolved from the eighteenth century to the present.

As very little of Harrington's history is preserved in the Delaware Archives, it is imperative that the historical society compile a collection or listing of documents and family records. Once a permanent museum is established, individuals will be able to place memorabilia on display.

For the historical society, "Heritage Day" will also be a fund-raiser. Whether we have a museum or not will depend largely upon local support, including financial support.

For the library, "Heritage Day" will be a day of honor for the city's newest cultural contribution. The day, in fact, was originally planned as "Love Your Library Day," a grand birthday celebration to commemorate the public library's first anniversary. With the historical society also planning a summer celebration, it was decided to combine the two, and create a "really big" event.

A Day in Old New Castle, Christmas in Odessa and Bridgeville, Old Dover Days, Autumn in Duck Creek, Parson Thorne Day -- they all began with an inspiration and with a few dedicated individuals. From all indications, Harrington has the enthusiasm necessary to begin such a project and to carry it off in grand fashion. And there are already many interested people -- willing workers who want to rejuvenate the spirit this city once had.

With the railroad so important to Delaware, and to the Delmarva Peninsula, a heritage celebration in Harrington, once the railroad center, should be well attended.

So, what can we look forward to on August 11? Carriage rides to historical landmarks, with a narrator to tell of the homes' past occupants and of its significance. Tours of the antique farm machinery museum, with jittney rides to the building. Displays in store windows, conjuring up images of the past. An old-fashioned barn dance at Welch's Mill with square dancers, cloggers, and fiddle playing. A flea market, including white elephants, baked goods, and hand crafts. Demonstrations of every variety -- from basket-making, carving and quilting to karate and a spelling bee. A book sale of hard cover, paperbacks and autographed copies. Music -- folk guitar, barbershop quartet, a combo -- and for the kids, a street dance. A gigantic sidewalk sale with summer's end and back-to-school bargains. And much more.

It sounds like such fun! And, if it awakens a spirit of appreciation for Harrington, it will have been well worth the effort.

Of course, it takes many hours of work to carry out so extensive a project, and the dedication of individuals and groups. Letters have already been sent to community organizations enlisting their support and talents. There's always room for more, though. And if you have a talent you wish to share or if you just want to help, a list of contacts follows. Call these people -- they'll be thrilled to hear from you. The deadline is June 1 for program suggestions, so do it soon.

For general information and to make suggestions call Jacquie Davis at the library, 398-4647. To donate hand crafted items or baked goods call Grace Welch, 398-3635. To donate flea market bric-a-brac call Tom Parsons, 398-3997. Used books are being collected by Jeanne McDonald, call 398-8525.

And mark August 11, "Heritage Day" on your summer calendar!

My Opinion

BY BRUCE B. LEVY

A few months ago in this space I wrote an open letter to the new ruler of Iran, the Iyatolla Khomeini. I wished him luck in his new venture and asked him to use a little reason and restraint in his new job.

Events over the past few days lead me to write another one, obviously the man isn't paying close attention. Iyatolla Khomeini
Tehran, Iran

Dear Mr. Khomeini:

I have been following your actions since you came to power. If you'll remember, I wrote and wished you luck and asked you to follow the true teachings of the Koran in your decisions.

Obviously, you paid no attention. I understand you are very displeased with us for condemning the over 200 executions that have taken place since you came to power. I understand you have threatened Senator Javits and his wife and barred any new U.S. Ambassadors from coming to Iran.

I just want you to know that I have written you off as a reasonable man. Far from being a follower of Mohammad, I believe you are a hindrance to world peace and stability. When the western nations develop an alternative fuel, may you wallow in your own private fiefdom and just fade away.

Your ex friend,
Bruce Levy

Sen. Thurman Adams writes....

The House of Representatives last week passed legislation (HB 174) which I co-sponsored to fund for another year the present experiment in weather modification, or rain-making. The experiment started last summer indicates that such a program can substantially increase rainfall downstate, but results are not yet conclusive.

The bill appropriates $184,000 to continue the program this summer and I expect it to pass the Senate sometime this week. It is important that the contracts be awarded as soon as possible so that the weather modification program can get started early in June.

Since the Fiscal 1980 budget contains funds for the program to be continued next summer, I feel we should not abandon it this summer and start it again next year. The experts tell us it will take about four years before we will know for sure how much such a program actually affects rainfall.

Recently, I introduced and the Senate passed legislation urging the State Board of Education to reconsider in public session its previous decision to retire Dr. Kenneth Madden, superintendent of Public Instruction, a year early.

The decision had been made in a secret session last month in apparent violation of the state's Sunshine Law.

Last week, in open session, the outcome was a great deal different. The Board voted unanimously to rehire Dr. Madden for another year at the same salary.

Dr. Madden has made outstanding contributions over the years to the cause of education in Delaware, and will now serve the remainder of his term without the state having to pay a duplication of salaries for this position.

One piece of legislation floating about in the Senate concerns me a great deal, and I've had a difficult time making up my mind what to do.

The legislation would authorize Delaware doctors to prescribe marijuana as a medication for their patients, while the use of marijuana is still illegal in the state. There is some evidence that smoking marijuana helps ease the suffering of seriously ill persons, such as those suffering from cancer.

While I sympathize with anyone who suffers, I wonder whether there would be any way to control these prescriptions if we pass this law. I'm sure you have all heard and read about the abuse of Valium and some of its serious consequences, largely because doctors prescribe the drug for almost any ailment and it is almost impossible to control the sales.

For the above reasons, I plan to oppose this bill.

Sen. William Murphy writes....

Last week I supported and the Senate passed legislation (SB 216) to clarify the law so that small towns may, if they choose, eliminate the requirement that write-in voting be allowed in uncontested elections.

As you probably know, there have been numerous challenges to town election results recently, including the hassle which still is going on in Frederica. I felt that corrective legislation was so important that I promptly reported SB 216 out of the Senate Banking, Insurance, and Elections Committee which I chair so it could be debated on the Senate floor.

The legislation won't affect contested elections, where state law requires the use of voting machines and there must be a place for write-in votes on the machine. But in uncontested elections, where all candidates have had ample notice and opportunity to file, the write-in requirement could be waived by a town.

I don't think the proposal will in any way restrict free elections, but it will eliminate what has been a thorn in the side of many small communities.

The Senate last week passed my bill (SB 202) designed to make it easier for the handicapped to register and vote. It's obvious, for instance, that a person with no arms might have difficulty operating a voting machine, but it's not so obvious that a person confined to a wheelchair and paralyzed can't even reach the voting levers. This legislation will provide assistance from the Department of Elections to such persons and help make it easier for them to participate in their basic right as Delawareans and Americans. I hope the House moves swiftly to pass the bill and send it to the Governor.

I voted against a bill (SB 53) to prohibit employers from using a so-called voice stress analyzer on their employees as a condition of employment or a requirement of continued employment. I voted against the Republican bill because I'm convinced it is unnecessary and merely clutters up the law books with more gobbledygook.

Present Delaware law prohibits employers from using a polygraph or lie detector of "similar device" on their employees. The sponsor of (SB 53) admitted during debate that a voice stress analyzer is "similar" to a lie detector. So, in my opinion, use of such a device is already prohibited and the bill was just wasting our time.

Im going to have to reluctantly support one bill pending before the Senate and expected to be acted on this week. The legislation (SB 161) would allow Delaware doctors to prescribe marijuana for their patients suffering from terminal diseases in which regular drugs are ineffective.

A couple of years ago, I voted to authorize the manufacture and use of Laetril in Delaware because there was some evidence that it helped relieve the suffering of some cancer victims. For the same reason, I plan to vote for (SB 161) because I think we should do anything we can to ease the pain and suffering of those afflicted with incurable diseases. And there is substantial evidence that smoking marijuana has helped some seriously ill persons achieve relief which can't be provided by standard drugs without serious side effects not associated with marijuana.

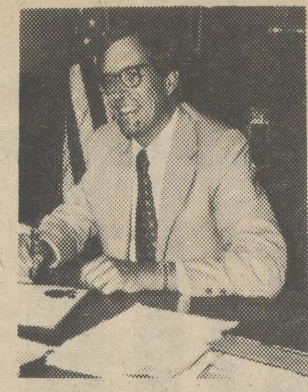

IT'S A BOY!!

Congratulations to Betty Jane, Buck, Carol and Kathy Cahall on the new addition to their family -- a ten pound baby boy, Andrew Brian, born May 17th at Milford Memorial Hospital.

Buck [Arthur B. Cahall III] is serving his second term as Harrington's chief executive.

Thoughts From Dover

By Governor Pete du Pont

NEW VESSEL WILL HELP CLEANUP OF BAY

The protection of Delaware's fragile coastline has always been of special concern to the people of the state. Delaware's geographical character has been shaped by both the Delaware Bay and the Atlantic Ocean. Obviously, it is important that we take the necessary steps to maintain the integrity of the coastline and the waterways of our state.

An important step toward protecting the beaches and coastal waters was taken in July of 1977 when I signed landmark legislation drafted by my administration and passed by the General Assembly setting an oil spill liability law. That law requires oil-carrying vessels in Delaware waters to carry up to $30 million in insurance against oil spills; compels owners of land-based oil docks, pipelines and tanks to carry insurance of up to $50 million; and requires speedy cleanup of oil spills in the state.

Businessmen and women who suffer financial damage because of an oil spill are able to collect damages from the carriers of oil under this legislation. It is a model law and one that is being emulated throughout coastal states.

Several oil companies with refineries along the Delaware Bay and River and oil transport companies have recently joined together to build and operate an oil spill cleanup ship. Currently, undergoing sea tests near its building site in Rhode Island, the new vessel -- the "Delbay" -- will be anchored at Lewes.

This vessel will be the first of its kind in the United States. A similar vessel is already at work in the North Sea, where it stands ready to retrieve spilled oil from those highly-productive underwater oil fields.

While the Baltimore Canyon area off our coast has yet to yield significant amounts of oil and natural gas, this vessel would certainly be helpful if an oil spill occurred. More importantly, however, the tanker traffic in the Delaware Bay and the lightering operation just off our coast raise the possibility that an oil spill may occur. This has not yet happened, but if it does, the Delbay and the 1977 Oil Spill Liability Law will play significant roles in the cleanup operations.

The current energy shortages point out the need for this nation to increase its domestic production of oil and natural gas so that we can reduce our reliance on imported oil, the availability of which is subject to world-wide political opinion. On the other hand, we need to maintain a domestic environmental policy that sees the importance of an adequate energy supply coupled with sound environmental laws that protect areas such as Delaware's coastline.

Letters to the editor

donations asked

Dear Sir:

Because of recent cuts in the Lake Forest High School Library budget, due to the reductions in state funds to the school, money to purchase much-needed materials has become increasingly scarce. In hopes of remedying this situation, the Lake Forest High School Student Government Association is planning to sponsor "A Mile of Coins for a Pile of Books" this Saturday, May 26. Students will try to collect a mile of coins, and the proceeds will be donated to the High School Library.

Student Government Association members are in the process of contacting businesses in the Lake Forest School District, asking for donations of rolls of coins toward this worthwhile project. In addition, tables will be set up in Harrington, Felton, and Frederica this Saturday, in hopes that area residents will support the project by donating their loose change. A plaque will be given to the town in which the most money is raised, both from businesses and residents of the town. Please support your town and your school on May 26 by helping to raise "A Mile of Coins for a Pile of Books."

Dear Sir:

On May 16, 1979, I wrote the following letter to Mr. Arthur B. Cahall, Mayor of your Town of Harrington, with copies to the editor of Delaware State News and Mr. Wheeler. With second thoughts, I felt that maybe you might also be interested in receiving this same letter as follows:

It is with deep sadness I read the article appearing in Sunday, May 13, 1979 Delaware State News entitled "Wheeler Park Falls Victim to Time."

Mr. Wheeler has made a fine contribution not only to the community of Harrington but the surrounding areas and the State of Delaware.

I can remember as a child, it was a great area to go to on a Sunday School Picnic or just for something to do on a Saturday or Sunday with the family.

It certainly seems to me, especially in our present times with gas shortages that this would be very nice to have this park in a close proximity as it is for family recreation. It could be a useful community project not only for Harrington but surrounding communities.

We have Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Brownies, Clubs, eg: Lions, Rotary, Jaycees, etc., local churches with their youth organizations, eg: MYF, etc. as well as businesses that could utilize this park as a worthwhile local project. The Scouts as an example could earn merit badges on projects as well as a camping and meeting area. Business could again have their company picnics there and churches their social functions without using a lot of gas to go to one of the resort or camping areas.

We have so few of the traditional things left, it seems a great shame to me to lose one more thing...one man's dream and worthwhile contribution of wholesome entertainment to his town and his community.

will explain the Urban Development Action Grant program administered by the Department of Housing and Urban Development. UDAG is a matching funds program with local money supplemented by federal funds. The purpose is to foster commercial and industrial development in economically depressed areas. Harrington was recently designated a high priority area for UDAG funds.

Flood will also submit an estimate of his fee for writing the HUD proposal for $51,000 in improvements at the Senior Center. The city's pre-application was among those chosen for full application submission. Applications must be written to comply with HUD guidelines. Final selection of funding projects will be made after June 1.

Water Tower Bids Opened

Adams Company of Salisbury, Md. submitted the low bid of $16,800 for water tower painting. Final selection of a contractor pending approval of Council.

Painting must begin within 90 days of notification that a bid has been selected.

Once begun, the painting itself should take about three weeks, according to Peterson. The time the tower will have to be drained for painting, however, should be only a week.

During that time, Peterson said, ample water will be available within mains to maintain a normal supply. Pumps will simply run more frequently.

Peterson also assures residents that fire protection will not be compromised.

Tankers at the fire house are always filled and the fairgrounds water tower holds an 80,000 gallon reserve. Arrangements for standby are also anticipated with nearby fire companies on alert.

Hospital Fair rescheduled

Have "Fun on the Farm" Saturday, May 26, as the Milford Hospital Woman's Auxiliary hosts the 22nd annual hospital fair on the grounds of the Milford Middle School.

Postponed when the rains came this past Saturday, fair officials vow the event will be held this weekend, rain or shine.

A full day of diverse activities begins at 10:00 a.m., winding down sometime in the late afternoon.

Proceeds of this year's hospital fair will be used to replace and update monitoring equipment in the hospital's coronary care unit.

Robert and Elma Stauffer of 317 Weiner Ave., Harrington, celebrated their 50th anniversary on Sunday, May 20. They were the guests of their children and grandchildren at the Blue Coat Inn for dinner.

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

All things are bright and beautiful this sunny May morning. Even Nikki insisted on breakfast. Most of the time at the age of eight months he does not require breakfast, but this morning he ate with great gusto. The wind had a chill to it, so we had a hearty meal, of old-fashioned buckwheat cakes stirred with yeast the night before. These are no problem with my non-stick pan. Ellen comes and enjoys them with her Dad, but small Garith and I have the regular Aunt Jemimas.

Yesterday, it rained, so I was slated to help Dad in the shop to put a rush bottom in a ladder-back chair. I am very stupid when it comes to anything mechanical that requires the use of one's hands. So, we started. It is my job to hold the coil of wet rush in my hands and poke it back and forth to him so that he places it in line and pulls it taut. In the first place I cannot remember the rhythm. "Under and over, under and over," Dad repeats with great exasperation. I seem to reverse the order and go, "Over and under" and then I do not know where to do, or which corner, or which open space. For a few times, he yells, then he grabs the rush and pushes it through and hands it back with that long-suffering look on his face...until I either am reduced to tears or I get the giggles, neither attitude helping the operation very much. However his skill and my willingness finally get the job done and the chair is finished. There are a set of four and we have two completed, without having to fall back on that nervous breakdown I've been thinking of.

Maybe the honey treatment will help in this area. I've been reading Fred Malone's book, "Bees Don't Get Arthritis." Mr. Malone seems to have his facts sorted out well and presents many cases of healing by bee stings and the use of honey. Honey is a natural sweet and I know there is some healing in it because my little grandmother used to give us a big spoonful of honey for sore throat. "Hold it in your mouth as long as you can before you swallow it," she would say. They claim it will heal canker

Women attend convention

The 82nd Annual State Convention of the Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs was held at the Sheraton Inn, May 16-17. Those attending from Harrington were Mrs. Joseph Brinster, State Conservation Chairman; Mrs. Francis Winkler, member of the State Finance Committee. Mrs. Charles Rapp and Mrs. Herman J. Minner served as delegates. The president, Mrs. David Winkler, was unable to attend due to the birth of a new daughter.

The highlight of the convention was the presentation to Gov. and Mrs. duPont of over $2,500 in china for the governor's mansion.

Another highlight for Harrington was bringing back to their club and president a silver ladle for holding a "Federation Day" and having a special federation cake baked and decorated by Mrs. Gary Homewood, one of the members. The complete program was devoted to Federation.

How to cut out a ship silhouette is demonstrated by Master Bruce Baugus, age 4, at the Crafts Tea at Harrington Baptist Church last Thursday afternoon. (Right) The trick is getting the tongue in the right position in order to achieve the finished product (below). Bruce is the son of Albert and Diane Baugus of Denton, Md. The crafts tea also included display tables, refreshments, and a short talk on the purpose of the Baptist Women's groups in the church.

Greenwood Church News

By Sharon Morgan
On Sunday, May 27, St. Johnstown United Methodist Church in Greenwood, will host a special service in commemoration of Memorial Day for the Ellendale United Methodist Charge. Members of the church, along with their pastor, Rev. Michele Russell, invite you to share in this service which begins at 2 p.m.

The liturgy will be shared by Rev. Russell and Rev. William Fleischer, pastor of the Hickory Ridge Congregational Methodist Church in Greenwood.

The message, appropriately entitled, "God and Country" will be delivered by the Honorable David Elliott, Insurance Commissioner of Delaware. Insurance Commissioner Elliott also serves as a trustee of the Peninsula Methodist Homes and Hospitals, and is superintendent of the Sunday School of Trinity United Methodist Church in Laurel, Del.

Along with his Memorial Day message, the service will have three other special features. There will be a choral selection by the Hickory Ridge Congregational Methodist Church Choir. There will also be a reading of "...That From These Honored Dead" from the book, "Listen to the Land." Mr. William Horner of Greenwood will conclude this year's service by playing a moving rendition of "Taps."

Church Of Nazarene

This Sunday night there will be a Hymn Sing, May 27.
Board meeting - June 6.
Missionary meeting - "Japan"
Father's Day - All dads honored.
Communion Memorial Service for the loved ones in our country who died for us; also Jesus died for us too. Let's not forget Christ on this day too, but He is not associated with a quiet spot in some cemetery but a triumphant resurrection. Our Saviour is risen and seated in Glory.
Birthdays - Robert Darling, Rev. Robert Burdette, Shirley Green, John Green Jr., George LeGates, Harold Jump, Lois Jump, Jane

Stubbs, Donald Welch.
Anniversaries - Joanna and Bob Darling, June 24; Rev. and Mrs. James Jones, June 21.
Congratulations to our 1979 graduates: God bless you! Jane Stubbs, Donald Welch, Tony Hughes, Betty Smith, Jim Smith, David Hughes.

On Mother's Day the following were recognized: Mrs. Tyle Elliott - eldest; Mrs. Bonnie Smith - youngest; Tie between Mrs. Joann Darling and Mrs. Pauline Lord for most children.
All mothers received flowers on their day.

St. Stephen's

Diocesan Cycle of Prayer - All Saints' - Delmar.
Birthdays - Madelin Hoff, May 21; Elva Warren, May 21; Mary Breeding, May 25; Earleen Stanley, May 25.

Confirmations - John Melling, May 20; Robert Evers, May 25.
Wedding anniversaries - Mr. and Mrs. Sewall McCabe, May 21; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Saulsbury, May 25.
Rogation Sunday is a day in early summer put aside for prayer and fasting on which is made intercessions especially for the harvest. This is the Christianized form of the pagan "robiglia" which took the form of a procession through the corn fields to pray for the preservation of the crop from midew. These Christianized processions through the planted fields were suppressed in England in 1547 but were later re-instated. Here at St. Stephen's the members used to put a piano on a truck and drive to some of the members' farms to pray for the crops and sing and then have a parish picnic.

Wednesday, 7 p.m. - Evening prayer and healing; 7:30 - Bible study group.

Reformation Lutheran

Children's Choir will meet this Friday at 4:15 p.m. for a picnic at the parsonage.

Spirit & Life

Mrs. Lolly Fagan, an instructor at Spirit and Life Bible College in Elkton, Md. brought forth the message on Sunday morning, May 13. She taught how to be not just a good Christian, but a best quality Christian. Rev. Wayne Fagan preached during the Sunday evening service. The presence of the Lord was with us in a mighty way.
On Tuesday, May 15, we enjoyed the preaching of Mrs. Irene Chisenhall, as she shared many of her past life experiences to the glory of the Lord.
Baptism service was held following the morning worship service on Sunday, May 13. Dee Lockhart and Rhonda Crumble were baptized in water.
The teens of Spirit and Life Tabernacle visited the Country Rest Home on Saturday, May 12. They carried gifts which they had made for some of the ladies.
Applications are being accepted for the 1979-80 school year at Spirit and Life Christian School. Class size is limited to give individual attention. There are openings in all classes. Call now.

For Your Information

Dear friends,

A clergyman says, "Of all attributes in physicians and nurses, none is more highly valued by dying persons than compassion. Compassion cannot be feigned. Moreover, it is learned at a price. The word com plus passion means to 'suffer with' another person. This is what is most helpful for anyone who would work well with the dying or bereaved."

Respectfully,

William C. Berry Jr.

When we lived for a time in Virginia we went to call on some new friends we had made. These were native Virginians and the man in the family worked for Dad at the Nylon Plant. In the course of the evening they asked if we like honey and on learning that we did, they said, "Do y'all like Sourwood honey?" We did not know so they brought us a sample. We liked it. It was a shade darker...more like our buckwheat honey here...so they insisted on gifting us with a five-pound pail! It

The motion was made and seconded to ask to have our site manager's salary raised, finding out we couldn't do that, a petition was circulated to report to the board. Smithville Inn, June 8, 1979, the dinner is $7.80, must know by May 31, 1979 if you want to go - 398-4224. Plans were talked over for a trip to Music Festival at Valley Forge in October and a fishing trip for the men. Anna Mae Short adjourned the meeting at 2:10 p.m. and Mildred Vincent seconded it.

Birds flew (well not really) over the birthday table for the last time Tuesday as the year ended for them as gifts to our members. The next gift is going to be a big noisy (a bell). So don't forget your June birthdays. Elwood Morris recited and all enjoyed hearing him. George Goodge presented a movie, the beautiful, beautiful Carribean, ice cream and a delectable cake, 80 in attendance, the singing sounded super!

Wednesday we had Frederica Adult Center as our guests. They were met at the door by our hostess for the day, Mrs. Pearl Hickman. She presented each one with a colorful bird. They reported an excellent visit and commented on our nice center. Which is exactly right, because the people make it so! They brought some very pretty slides, it was good to share them. The nutrition program was in the afternoon and the salads were tasty and easy.

covered our waffles, pancakes, ice cream and hot biscuits for months to come.

My own father was extremely fond of hot biscuits and honey. He said it was such delicious food, it should not be called just hot biscuits and honey...but rather, something like hot biscueees and honey i o ees, or something equally as fancy. I knew and loved him only as my dad, but I wish he could have lived until I was mature enough to appreciate him as a person.

'Whadditellya' about Spectacular Bid! Did you see him come from behind? If you want to wager on Belmont, just give me a call. I've got three secretaries manning the phones!

Speaking of picking winners, it's time for the first annual Levy World Series picks. I am now ready to tell the world how it's gonna be in October. Ready? Here goes:

The Phillies will win the National League East. Montreal is just a flash in the pan and they should die by July (remember the Cubs?).

The Pirates will make a late season charge but the Philadelphia bats should keep them in check. (Sorry, Mr. Parker, you're good, but there is only one of you.) The Mets will finish 25 games behind.

San Francisco will give us a few thrills in the National League West but it will only be for a while. They'll go down hard by mid-season.

The Dodgers have been abandoned by that Guy In The Sky and will finish a dismal third. Cincinnati and Houston will wrestle for control all season but Cincinnati will persevere. There is a lot of mileage left on baseball's best second baseman - Joe Morgan.

In the American League East, it'll be very, very close but how in the world can you not pick Jackson and Co.? The Yankees will go their usual up and down route but will crush Boston in the end.

In the American League West, it's going to be close. There are 4 teams capable of making a good run at it but I've got to go with California in the end. Kansas City will be in second place, Minnesota in third with Texas in fourth. Ya see, Carew has some pitching on his side now and he will take the Angels to the playoffs. Are you getting this, Mr. Nixon, I'm picking your team!

So OK, we have Philadelphia, Cincinnati, New York, and Anaheim after the regular season. Philadelphia will sweep Cincinnati like a hot knife through butter. New York will whip California and send them home to await the earthquake.

Then the Phillies will go down in 4 straight.

Girls clinch championship, stun S.C. with 4-3 win

By Bruce Levy

Running their record to a flawless 10-0, Laura "Machine" Newnom struck out 6, walked 6 and allowed 6 hits as the Spartans crushed visiting Dover Air on Thursday 13-2.

It was a balanced, team effort attack that scored so many runs for Lake Forest. Newnom, Kosiorowski, Scott, Moore, Calhoun, Welsh and Dopirak all hit twice for the winning effort.

"We had no problems at all," said Coach Al Wood, "they are a comparatively weak team."

It was a little different on Monday as Wood's bruisers met Sussex Central for the long awaited showdown of the Conference powerhouses. S.C. is not what you could call a comparatively weak team. In fact, many were saying that Central, behind the pitching of superstar Sara Marvel, would walk away with it easily. The winner of the game would sit on the number one spot in the Southern Conference and things were serious in Felton at game time.

Central lost no time letting everyone know they had come to play as they scored a quick run in the top of the first inning.

The Spartans answered it and tied the score when their turns came as the game got down to a pitching duel. Said Wood, "It kind of surprised me the way it developed. Marvel usually throws as hard as anyone you would ever see but on Monday Laura seemed to be throwing it faster."

To prepare the team for Marvel's velocity, Wood had the girls practicing with a fast pitch fireballer from the Milford league over the weekend. The strategy seemed to pay off for the Spartans as they confidently answered two runs scored by Central in the fourth to keep the score tied and the game a nailbiter.

In the fifth, the game was decided. Stephanie Dopirak opened the inning with a walk then advanced to third on two subsequent wild pitches. Then Gwen Scott came to the plate. She socked the ball to the shortstop, got called out, but it didn't matter; Dopirak sprinted home with the go-ahead run that stood up as the winner as Newnom kept them scoreless in the next inning.

Lake Forest won the game 4-3 to remain unbeaten and on top of the Henlopen Conference South standings.

Did it surprise you Al? "No, not at all. I wasn't saying it publicly, but I felt we were this good at the start of the year. I told the girls before the season started that the only thing that could beat us this year was ourselves."

The Spartans will play the runner up of the Blue Hen Flight B conference in the opening round of the single elimination tournament. The team has not yet been determined.

Can you win it Al? "I certainly don't see why not."

Lake Forest goes 1-1 this week

By Bruce Levy

Mark Smith's health means a lot to Bill Falasco. Mark Smith's health means a lot to the Lake Forest varsity baseball team too. Mark Smith wasn't healthy last Thursday, he had muscle spasms, and the Spartans couldn't hold on to a hard won slim lead as they eventually fell to Dover Air, 8-6. Smith had started the game on the mound but lasted only an inning and a half. Quinten Hendricks was charged with the loss.

Coach Falasco was particularly dismayed at the prospect of being out of the Conference playoffs picture. "By losing this one," he said, "we lost all hope of getting into the tournament. Now the best we can do is a 7-5 record, which isn't bad - don't get me wrong - but we are capable of much better."

What has the primary problem been, Sicilian one? "Inconsistent defense," was the coach's reply. "We couldn't seem to get our act together in the infield particularly, and only Smith gave us a degree of consistency on the mound. We can hit with the best of them, there really isn't a weak spot in the lineup, and we should have won three that we gave away in the late innings. It's been an up and down year so far. We could be doing better, but we're a solid team. I think we are good enough to be going to the tournament but we lost the ones we should have won."

Thursday's game started well enough. Smith fanned the first three hitters. It was the second inning that caused a few problems. Smith lost his control and hit two batters in a row which allowed them two runs. Then Falasco brought Hendricks in and the umpires turned against us. Two poor calls at home allowed Dover Air two more runs making it 4-0 and the Falcons had not yet had a hit.

The Spartans then came alive on offense, scoring a run in the third and five more in the fifth to go ahead 6-4.

Dover Air came back with a run of their own in the sixth to tie the score. Falasco made another pitching change after the Spartans failed to score in the bottom of the sixth, going with Jerry Johnson on the mound. He allowed two runs in the last inning which Lake Forest couldn't answer when their turn came which resulted in the loss.

After Thursday's game the Lake Forest record stood at 5-5.

On Monday, the Spartans hosted a weak Sussex Central team and pulled out a resounding 9-1 win.

Behind the power hitting of left fielder Todd Gruwell, the Spartans scored five runs in the first inning to set the tone of the contest. Mark Smith was 100 percent healthy for the game and turned in a masterful performance. He struck out 9 and allowed 7 hits as he went the entire distance.

Not only was the hitting up to par, the defense looked good also. Leroy Garey made a play that brought a smile to his coach's face.

"Leroy played some heads up ball out there on Monday," Falasco said. "He backed up a play at third and threw a runner out at home that took the fight out of them. I was very happy with the entire infield and with Leroy in particular."

Continued Falasco, "We played well against Central because we were relaxed I think. This team does not play well under pressure but when we are relaxed we play to our potential."

One game remains on the Spartan schedule this season, Thursday versus Larel. "We are going to be playing that one for pride and pride alone," Coach said.

Surprise! Spartans take third

By Keith S. Burgess

Jim Blades' track Spartans have not had a great season, but got their act together just in time and finished a surprise third in the Division II State Track Meet.

Track powerhouses Woodbridge and Howard occupied the first two slots in the 17-team meet.

The Spartans set two school records and tied another during the afternoon. Assistant coach Jim Fleming's sprinters ran 800 meters in 1:32.6 for a new Spartan standard. Jeffrey DeShields, Darrell Voshell, Milton Justice and Ken Thorpe were one tick behind the winning Howard quartet.

The same locals upset Howard in the 400 meter relay and tied the old school mark of 44.4 seconds.

Joe Custis cleared the final hurdle in the 300 intermediate hurdles, trotted the remaining distance, then discovered he'd broken his brother Jerry's Spartan mark of 41 flat. Joe did 40.77.

Lake Forest's distance runners did well also. Louis Thomas, Milton Justice, Wilson Fry and Joe Custis ran 8:25.4 to win the 3200 meter relay. Thomas later was fifth in the 1500 meters, as was Billy Mitchell in the 3000 meters. Mitchell's 9:33 is a personal best. Bill, a junior, expects to break Chris Palmisano's 9:24.5 Spartan mark in 1980.

Ken Thorpe missed second place in the 100 meters by an eyelash.

Allan Walth was fifth in the pole vault while Tim Kemp's near-129 foot discus throw also got him fifth place. Kemp, at 175 pounds, was one of the smallest weightmen on the grounds.

Felton Dodgers unbeaten still

In Felton Little League last week, starting with Wednesday, the Cards bested the Pirates by a 1 run margin, 5-4. The early stages of the contest belonged to

Spartan girls take a 5th

By Keith S. Burgess

Lake Forest's girls' track team, coached by Dave Buck, finished fifth in the state meet held at Lake Forest Saturday.

The lady Spartans set two school marks in relay events in what has been a record-smashing campaign.

Juana Moorman and Annette Baynard, both newcomers, joined Tina Durant and Carol Payne to run 800 meters in 1:51.3 for third place. All these girls will return next spring. Three of them are only sophomores.

Mooreman, Baynard, Tina Lapinsky and Phyllis Caskey set the second mark with 4:13 in the 1600 meter relay, also for third place. This fleet quartet has broken this mark several times this season.

Moorman, Durant, Payne and Cheryl Manaraze were fifth in the 400 meter relay, in what has to be a new Spartan mark, or very close to it. Manaraze, a fine long jumper and sprinter, has been hampered by injuries all year. We hope to see this sophomore prospect hale and hearty in '80.

Durant was fifth in the long jump as was freshman Sherry Coburn in the 1500 meter run.

Hillary Haines, third in the long jump, is among the Spartan qualifiers for the individual "Meet of Champions" at Del State College this weekend.

Darrell Voshell takes the baton from Jeffery DeSheilds in the 440 relay on Saturday. We won it.

12 Chipman trackmen lose to 40 Riders,

By Keith S. Burgess
An almost unbelievable track meet took place at Caesar Rodney Junior High last week. Tom Shaffer has been drilling a dozen seventh and eighth graders in the rudiments of track and field competition. The "Dirty Dozen" Chipman students took on an undefeated Caesar Rodney squad and came within one point of scoring a gigantic upset.

The host Riders numbered some 40 strong and came out chanting their declarations as to how bad they were going to beat this upstart squad. After all Chipman had not been in a meet and had only a skeleton squad.

Caesar Rodney's representatives had a rude awakening for Chipman's talented youngsters turned in some excellent performances and led by four points going into the final event. The Riders won this last event, a relay, by a fraction of a second as the four Chipman runners were very weary, since they had all been in several events. The final score 46-45 must rank as the greatest of moral victories for the gallant Chipman dozen.

Jerome Scott, a seventh grader, was a double winner, annexing the 110 low hurdles in 16 seconds and the triple jump with an excellent leap, just short of 35 feet.

James Lofland was first in the 440 yard run in 59.4 seconds on one of Delaware's slowest scholastic tracks. Lofland then tied the Riders' Andy Cattrell in a 2.19 half mile run. Cattrell has a statewide reputation but could not defeat Lofland who was making his first track start.

John Layton was second in the long jump with 17 feet, 8 3/4 inches, second in the 220 in 26.6, then teamed with James Brown, Marvin DeShields and Marvin Parker to win the 440 relay in a swift 50.4 seconds. Parker and Brown also went 2-3 in the 100 meters.

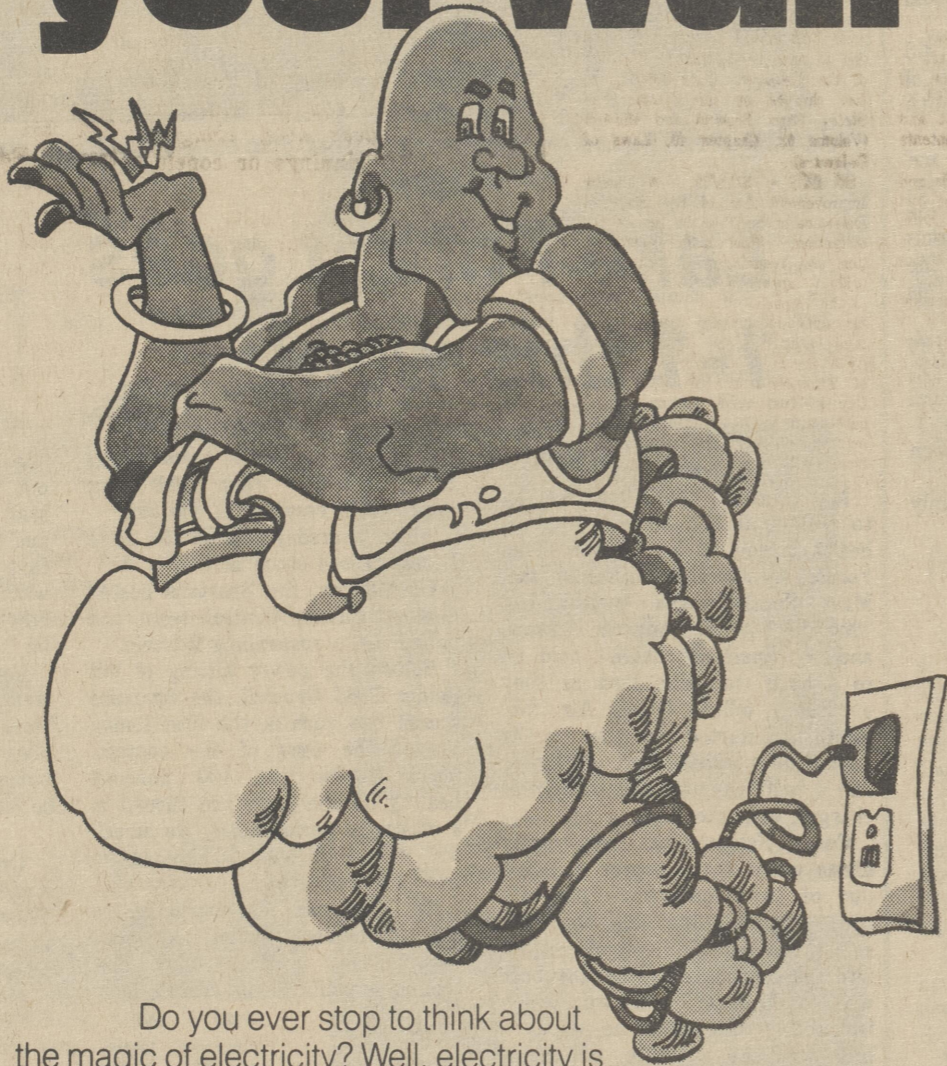

Greg Bell won the shot put with a toss of 38 feet 4 inches. Sheldon Powell was second. Another Chipman lad named Chuck did well here.

Powell was third in the 220 and ran with Lofland, DeShields and Scott in a fast 1.48.7 second-place 880 relay effort.

DeShields was third in the long jump (17-1) while Robert May had a good triple jump effort.

Robbie Manaraze and Jerry Mosley did well, as did Claritha Clarke who was second and third respectively in gv v 9 jump events.

The genie in your wall

Do you ever stop to think about the magic of electricity? Well, electricity is magical. It's almost like having your own private genie hiding inside your wall, waiting to help you with hundreds of different tasks.

But, as wonderful as that may be, some folks are a little miffed at the genie these days. They say "how come he's done his magic for so many years without asking for a raise, and now in the past few years he's asked for several?"

Well, maybe those folks have forgotten a couple of things, like the fact that his basic food is oil... expensive imported oil, to meet environmental standards. And that new generating stations that send the genies out, cost 2 1/2 times more to build than they did six years ago! The environmental equipment alone for a new plant now costs more than the whole plant used to cost. The genie can do a lot of magical things, but even he can't stop inflation and regulations from driving up costs. So what he is doing, is making sure that he's there when you need him... even if he does have to ask for a raise once in a while. At Delmarva Power, we're working hard every day to protect your supply of genies.

run with the bases loaded. Pitching for the Cards' winning effort was Jeff Lambert.

The Yankees and the Phils squared off on Thursday only to have the game called due to darkness with a 14-14 tie in the 5th inning. The Yanks scored 4 runs in the first inning and appeared to have the game under complete control but the Phils chipped away steadily. They scored in each of the last four innings, getting six in the final frame.

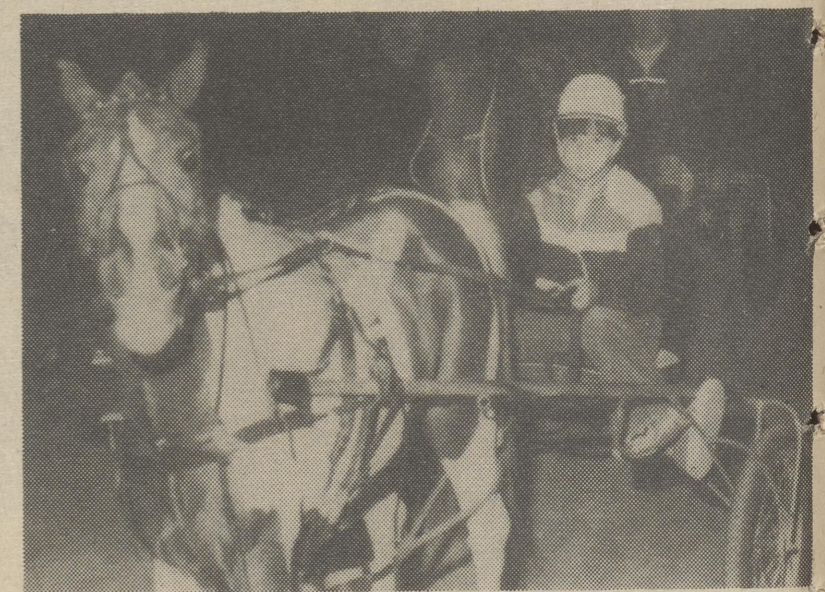

The Dodgers played the Yanks on Saturday and, by virtue of a 4-1 win, remain the only undefeated team in the Felton League. The Dodgers were led by winning pitcher Karen Sipple who pitched a flawless contest. They are now 5-0 on the season.

Also on Saturday, the Cards

continued their winning ways with a 11-10 squeaker over the Orioles to bring their overall record to 4-1. The Cards scored four times in the top of the 5th to take an 8-6 lead before the Orioles came back in the bottom of the inning with 3 more to make it a 9-8 game. But the Cards didn't die. They came back in the 6th with three of their own to take the win. Heather Hughes had a triple for the Orioles. Charlie Carlson was the winning pitcher while Jason Bell was charged with the loss.

Standings as of May 20th:

Dodgers	5-0
Cards	4-0
Orioles	2-3
Yanks	1-3
Pirates	1-3
Phils	0-3
