

At night, the State Fair takes on a different face as bright lights and whirling, spinning rides illuminate the sky.

Charley Pride remembers.....

Harrington, De.-- It was nine years ago that country singer Charley Pride last performed at the Delaware State Fair and he still remembers that date. That night nine years ago produced one of the largest crowds to ever witness a show in the open-air grandstand at the Fair and Pride was bathed in the warm adoration of the crowd.

Fair officials have been in contact with Pride during the intervening years and for one reason or another, could never get together again for a return engagement. This year, however, his schedule was free for the night of the 28th and the Fair agreed to up their talent budget and everything seemed to fall in place.

When Pride sang at the Fair in 1970, he had only been recording music for five years and was just beginning to be recognized as a top performer. Since that time he has gone on to establish himself as a country music giant and a popular stage and television entertainer.

His list of credentials is not only a reflection of his talent but a testament of respect from his peers and fans--out of 36 albums, 12 are gold. He has been nominated for 17 Country Music Association Awards including six for the prestigious "Entertainer of the Year." He lists his winning of this award in 1971 as one of his biggest thrills. He's also won 2 Grammy's and been named for various others by Billboard and Cash Box magazines.

Although he has lived with fame and success for many years now, Charley's philosophy has remained basically consistent. "Even though I appreciate the fame and adoration, I remember once I used to pick cotton, and I felt like even then I was somebody," he says. "I have the same feet, hands, and heart like everyone else. I'm just blessed with a good voice."

Such an attitude is, most likely, the result of humble beginnings. Charley was one of 11 children born to the Pride family of Sledge, Mississippi--a small town 60 miles south of Memphis. He earned his living picking cotton (for $3.00 per 100 pounds) alongside his brothers and sisters

Four are victims of violence

An attempt at obtaining illegal drugs early Wednesday morning netted four people nothing but the experience of being victims of kidnap, robbery, and rape. Delaware State Police at Bridgeville are investigating an incident that began at approximately 11:30 last Tuesday night when four members of the James E. Strates Shows, currently at the Harrington Fair Grounds, went with three black males allegedly for the purpose of finding and purchasing marijuana. They were driven north to Canterbury, then back to Stayton's Trailer Park on Cty. Rt. 286, 2 miles south of Felton. There the men reported having car trouble and set the four carnival workers out to walk back to the fair. At about 1 a.m. when they were half-way between the trailer park and U.S. 13, another car passed them, turned, and came back to them. Two black males got out, one with a shotgun, while a third man remained in the car. Alvin Toney, 23, of Angen Street, Greenville, South Carolina; Roy L. Lewis, 24, of rural McMinnville, Tennessee; and Clyde W. Watson, 36, of Green Street, Lebanon, Tennessee, were ordered to lie on the ground while the 17 year-old girl from New Mexico was ordered to come to the car. After the three men were robbed, the three black males fled, taking the girl a few miles away where she was reportedly raped and forced to commit sexual acts on each of them. She was later let out somewhere outside of Harrington.

Delaware State Police detectives are still in the early stages of the investigation.

Norma Prettyman to fill vacant seat

In a special session called last night, the Woodbridge School Board selected Norma Prettyman to fill the seat left vacant by Charles G. Davis. Davis, who had served as the Board's President for 1978-79, stepped down recently to accept the position of principal at Woodbridge High School. Last night's session was called when the Woodbridge Board failed at Monday night's regular meeting to agree upon any successor for Davis. Their indecision at that point left the Board's status in legal limbo, with the question open as to how long or whether it could operate without the full complement of five members.

The Board spent four hours in executive session Monday night before returning to an open meeting at which several attempts at nomination were made and failed. The names William Hartzell and Kyle Ewing were placed in nomination, splitting the Board's vote. Members William Tull and Joann Conaway voted for the two separate nominees. William Vanderwende and Elwood Webb were opposed. One or two other nominations died for lack of a second, and the Board was forced to adjourn in the early hours of Tuesday with nothing decided.

The recent selection of Charles Davis as Principal and William Degen as Assistant Principal at the high school have capped a long list of personnel changes in the District this year. The resignation of Regina Foster and a leave of absence granted to Louis Huffman, high school social studies teacher, brought the total to 28. Dealing with many of these has entailed six special sessions between the regular meeting on June 11 and the July regular meeting which was postponed until the 23rd.

A number of the personnel changes are related to retirements and various types of temporary leaves of absence. Many are in staff positions other than teaching. However, a fair number of teachers have been leaving Candow will begin approaching the town merchants asking for support of a Child Safety and Drug Education program starting the first week in August. Jopp, McLroy and Candow will meet with approximately 700 children ages 5 through 12 to discuss general safety, pedestrian safety, school bus safety, crime prevention, drug abuse, lightning and child molesters. Over 3,000 pieces of material are needed at a cost of 95c per child.

Police Beat-----

Police report that on July 12 the Wilson Bradley residence in Harrington was burglarized and an antique watch stolen. Through investigation the watch was recovered and three arrests were made - Ricky Mitchell, Ronnie Leslie and Kenny Adams all of Harrington. They were all charged with burglary, theft and conspiracy.

An attempted rape occurred in Harrington on July 14th. At 3:30 a.m. a subject allegedly entered a residence on Ward Street by climbing a back roof, removing a screen and entering the bedroom of the intended victim. The alleged perpetrator attempted to get in bed with the woman but she woke and screamed which caused the subject to flee. Police investigation led to the arrest of Angel Luis Miranda, an employee of the James E. Strates Shows. Miranda was unable to raise bond and was committed to the Sussex Correctional Center in Georgetown.

Robert Gygyryuk was hit by a car while riding his bike at the west gate of the fairgrounds on July 17th. The car was driven by James Myer of Harrington. Gygyryuk suffered a broken leg and Myer was charged by police with driving under the influence of alcohol.

Robert Risser and Larry Kibler, both of Harrington, were involved in a motorcycle accident on July 18th. Risser and Kibler were traveling north on Route 284 when a car pulled out of a driveway which caused the motorcycle to go down. Kibler was treated for leg cuts and released from Milford Hospital while Risser was admitted with internal injuries.

A domestic argument brought the Harrington Police Department on Friday, July 20th. Theresa Patriella of Harrington was allegedly assaulted

Heritage Update -----

Additional voices are needed to complete the Harrington Chorus which is presently rehearsing patriotic and traditional songs to be performed on Heritage Day, August 11. Church members and other interested citizens are asked to participate. The chorus is directed by Harrington Historical Society member Mrs. Agnes Harris. Mrs. Harris will be remembered as the director of a similar chorus which organized to perform at the town's Bicentennial celebration.

Rehearsals are being held Wednesdays from 7 to 8 p.m. at Asbury United Methodist Church. Participation of thirty or more voices is needed. Those interested in singing and obtaining music should call 398-3884.

It has also been announced that James Olsen will be the conductor for the Harrington Chorus, and Thelma Miller will serve as pianist.

Outstanding Young Men Of America Chosen

The Board of Advisors for the Outstanding Young Men of America Awards Program, an affiliate of the United States Jaycees, announced last week their selections for 1979. Among those chosen for the honor were Raymond Blanchette and Arthur "Buck" Cahall, both residents of Harrington.

By being included in this year's listing, Cahall and Blanchette are honored for "their outstanding civic and professional contribution to their community, state and nation."

They were selected from nominations received from Senators, Congressmen, Governors, Mayors, State Legislators and civic groups - including the national Jaycees which endorses the Outstanding Young Men of America Program. The criteria for selection include voluntary service to the community, professional leadership, business advancement, cultural accomplishment and civic participation.

Blanchette, an active member of the Harrington Fire Company, and Cahall, Mayor of the City of Harrington, will be featured in the prestigious annual awards publication.

Senior Center News

by Dorothy Graham

I spent an enjoyable Monday morning talking with Mrs. Clark Brittingham about their visit in South Walls and England. Margery and Clark left Felton on June 24th for Carmarthen and arrived home the 19th of July. Carmarthen, population 10,000, approximately 200 miles from London is Margery's hometown. Margery met Clark 34 years ago when he was stationed in Carmarthen. She came to the United States as a G.I. bride.

Margery and Clark haven't been back to Carmarthen for ten years and they received a wonderful welcome, visiting Margery's relatives, old friends, making new friends and talking about old times.

They found Carmarthen changing into a tourist attraction with numbers of Americans making their home there. Margery's home, along with three others had been torn down. She was told the whole row of houses will be gone in the future. They are glad they made the trip now so she could see the street where she lived the way it was when she left.

Visiting closer to home, Sandra Warren and friend Sally went to Washington D.C. to visit friends of Sally's. While there, they went to the Smithsonian Institute, The Washington Zoo and several of the restaurants. They both arrived home exhausted Sunday night.

I want to thank the people of Felton for their response in helping me with my column and especially the Harrington Journal staff for being patient with me.

A lot of old houses had been torn down in another part of town and a lot of new houses had been built for the aged. They have a lady care for them called a warden. All in all Margery says it's nice to go back home to South Wales and it's nice to return back to her home, children and grandchildren in America.

Margery's relatives and friends told her they were coming over for a visit in October.

Bible study was more discussion this week. Singing made the burdens lighter for the day. Everyone likes the oldies best and when they sing them they ring out loud and clear. Mabel Jean Donovan was here Monday afternoon and showed us how to put together the angels from Readers Digest, also made more snowmen from baggies. Both cute as a button. Thank you so much Mabel Jean, your peach! Florence, Velma, Dick and Irene brought in vegetables. Jolly Timers cut a caper Tuesday morning. They are super. Mrs. Meredith was at the piano, all the rest were at their usual stand.

Birthday party time Tuesday afternoon was fun, though there were only two at the table the gaiety was good. Tony Perrone played his trumpet and Larry Krommer the piano as we sang birthday greetings. Dorothy sang a couple of verses of some old timers. The bells were ringing, cards opened and enjoyed. Ice cream and cake was served by very smiling faces. George Goodge presented a beautiful movie of Holiday in Pictures of Canada making it a positively lovely day for all 70 present. Sorry you other Birthday people couldn't make it.

Atlantic City was invaded by the Harrington Senior Citizens Wednesday, July 18, 1979, know it will never be the same! Thirty-five left Harrington Center at 7:30 p.m. time enough for some to lose and some to win, some to eat and look. All seemed glad they had gone, maybe not go again but happy to have seen the supposedly new Atlantic City. At the Center on Wednesday in the kitchen was Charlotte, Mr. Anthony, Mabel Perry, Annabel Morrow, Thearsa Selders, Anna Mae Short, and Sallie Needles serving the room full - Williamsburg chicken, potatoes, peas, peaches, and salad bar. After dishes were done - Bingo and ceramics and pool.

Thursday morning was lovely so we exercised with Dorothy - made faces - limbered up our hips and laughed. Played Bingo again. Ceramics, folding books - some china painting, arts, cleaning, changing furniture.

Mr. and Mrs. William Haldman of Felton donated a rocker in memory of her mother Mrs. Mary Keller of Felton. We would like the Haldmans' to know that when the center is open, the rocker is surely busy! Thank you again!

Alice Houston and Jim Konencki had high scores at Milford Lanes Thursday afternoon. Their names pop up pretty often, must be extra good. Huh? Best Wishes Alice and Jim.

Birthday Bells to do, Christmas angels appearing on the table and snowmen - sorta takes your mind off of the hot weather.

George Goodge had a movie on the Salvation Army and though it may not sound interesting, it was, came took some local shopping Friday.

Something I heard this week - somewhere - some place - "I am going to do something the devil won't do - leave."

Best wishes to all. Be kind to each other. See you at the center. Manna served some tasty food this week, sorry you missed it - chicken, roast beef, tuna salad and ham and desserts too. Told you!

My Opinion

by Bruce Levy

The beginnings of presidential politics combined with media manipulation can probably be traced to Franklin Roosevelt. The "Fireside Chat" started a trend that has reached grotesque proportions today, a trend that threatens to destroy our current president.

Roosevelt understood, and used to the hilt, the power of network radio. He knew that if he could reach into the homes of the average American family, he could establish a presence and relationship that would prove impossible to counter. He remained in office as long as he did through this mastery of symbolism over the network wires. Suddenly, it was important to establish a popular public relations stance rather than a solid ideological program. The era of "tell 'em what they want to hear" had begun in earnest.

John Kennedy was clever enough to take it a step further. He was the first presidential candidate to employ a professional pollster, Mr. Luis Harris who now plies his trade for ABC News. Kennedy would send Harris into a town to learn what the people of the area wanted most out of the government. Once the results were tabulated, the Kennedy team would write their speeches accordingly.

That broke the dam and the presidency has never been the same. It had become a theater populated by actors, aided and abetted by the press, all for the purpose of pleasing the most voters through symbolism and style. Action by conviction went out with war bonds.

President Carter gained the highest office in the land through just such a program. The short snappy slogan, the big smile, the staged event (Salt II to name an earlier instance) and the latest round of Camp David meetings are all part of the same orchestrated P.R. blitz. Perhaps the crowning glory of the whole episode was Carter's jaunt into middle America to seek the advice of a few "common folks".

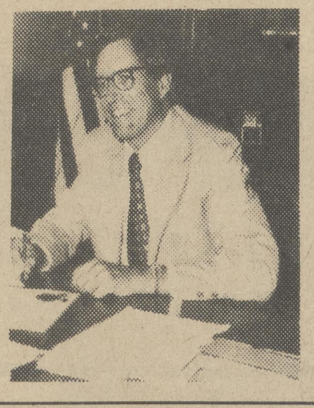

I believe the public has long since grown weary of such posturing, we have been down the road so many times it lost any impact it may have once had. We are bombarded with slick ad campaigns and sales gimmicks to the point that a presidential version of Madison Avenue selling probably hurts more than it helps. We just don't trust it any more.

It's time for the president to map out his principles and stand behind them. It's time for straight talk, straight answers and action through conviction - not public opinion.

Make no mistake, Mr. Carter, many of us "ain't buyin' it no more." Be yourself and let the chips fall where they may.

Thoughts From Dove

By Governor Pete du Pont

President Carter's long-awaited energy address to the nation last week addressed the result of our nation's reliance on foreign sources of oil and natural gas, as well as the malaise the President believes is sweeping the country.

The President was correct on the two major points in his speech. First, as a nation, we must set aside the special interest for the common interest, and secondary, we must take coordinated action as a nation to reduce reliance on foreign sources of natural gas and oil.

For many months, I have been urging Washington to face up to our nation's energy shortage. I believe this must be done through domestic energy sources.

While the President's speech centered upon the need to expand the use of synthetic fuel from shale and other sources, I was disappointed he did not encourage near-term development of available domestic resources. While we could certainly proceed with haste to develop those alternative fuel sources, such as solar energy, we should not fail to seek greater production of domestic energy, such as coal and oil.

I was disappointed that the President did not place a greater reliance upon the coal reserves of our nation by working to reconcile the federal regulations restrictive coal usage. One such way would be to develop a comprehensive environmental, transportation, economical and energy program around the use of coal.

Bringing together the Congressional and federal officials to resolve the often conflicting government regulations would help the nation's economy by putting the coal mines into full production. Currently, about 10 percent of the nation's coal miners are out of work, which should be unacceptable in these times of energy shortages.

The nation should also take steps to increase the domestic production of natural gas and oil, by encouraging the oil companies to increase their exploration activities. We should also work with the government of Mexico and Canada to increase their production of gas and oil deposits.

Most importantly, it is essential that this nation develop an energy consensus for the remainder of this century. Leadership in Washington and in each of our communities is needed to ensure that we will have the energy to power our industries and heat our homes.

Sen. William Murphy writes....

Just a few comments on some last-minute actions by the General Assembly I didn't have a chance to write about in my last column. During the last six hours of the final regular session of June 29, we enacted several pieces of legislation of special significance to the 18th Senatorial District and its residents.

The $32 million bond bill which was enacted contains $375,000 for preservation of Delaware Bay beaches such as Bowers and South Bowers, $65,000 for improvements to the Dover Motor Vehicle Inspection Lane, $165,000 for a Kent-Sussex Alcohol and Detoxification facility in lower Kent County, and $90,000 for improvements at the Capital Orthopedic School. Kent County school districts will benefit from legislation enacted at the zero hour which will give them some of the money "saved" in teacher salaries during the New Castle County school district strike last fall.

The upstate district, created by the federal courts, wanted the entire $4.3 million returned to it for use in the coming school year. Many of us felt that such an action would in effect reward the teachers for an illegal strike, and I was among those who balked at the suggestion.

After hours of negotiation, which threatened for a time to endanger passage of the bond bill, a compromise was worked out under which the upstate district would get $2.9 million of the "savings" and $1.8 million would go to increase educational advancements funds, or equalization funds, in districts throughout the state.

As a result, the unit appropriation for each school district was increased from about $1,600 to $2,165 per unit. This means additional dollars for education for the Caesar Rodney, Lake Forest, and Dover School Districts as a result of the upstate teacher strike. That's poetic justice for you!

Another bill which passed without my support would have set up a $1 million program to put the poor to work. In my views, the program would merely duplicate the federal CETA program and create a new bureaucracy which would be with us forever.

I was glad to see that the Governor vetoed the bill, which was poorly drafted and had more loopholes than a Swiss Cheese. It would have cost you and I about 1 million a year to put just 160 unemployed people to work in state government agencies. Spend an equal amount to create jobs in the private sector or lure new industries to Delaware, and you'd have something a lot better and more permanent.

TUNES TO TRIM TAXES, SONGS TO SLASH SPENDING

Last week was the second birthday of the best known un-passed bill in legislative history - Roth-Kemp II ... tax cuts and spending reductions.

At that time, I announced I would offer Roth-Kemp II tax cuts as amendments to the Windfall Profits Tax Bill in the Senate Finance Committee during markup which began July 24.

Our energy problem must not be viewed in a vacuum - the economy embraces energy, but we must not lose sight of individual taxpayers - the ultimate consumers of oil and gas. It would be a tragic mistake to have gas at the pumps and not be able to afford it or have a job to drive to.

In his address to the nation July 15, the President spoke of a crisis of confidence. He worried that people no longer believe the days of our children would be better than our own. He worried about our falling productivity and about our low savings rate. Mainly, he worried about our lack of faith in the future.

I agree with the President's analysis of the symptoms of our problems. But I hope he is not attempting to blame the American people for the government's mistakes.

I believe the oppressive tax system is one of the main causes of the American people's lack of faith in the future.

The harder people work, the more taxes they pay. The more people save, the higher their tax bills.

I believe we can restore hope and confidence in the future by lifting the staggering tax burden now imposed on the American people.

The economic policies of the Carter Administration have been disastrous to the average American worker and, by failing to endorse tax cuts, the President has missed a golden opportunity to get this country moving again.

The cure does not always have to taste bad. We can reach new highs; we do not have to adjust to new lows.

The President's attempt to balance the budget through higher taxes is pushing the economy into a recession and his opposition to tax cuts offers only higher taxes, higher prices and lower wages to the working people of this country.

Under the Carter Administration, federal taxes have skyrocketed and take-home pay has plummeted. Americans now pay more in taxes than they pay on food, clothing and housing combined. And the average worker's take-home pay has dropped to its lowest level in four years. It's no wonder Americans have little hope for the future.

The high tax rates have lowered the standard of living for all Americans by retarding the savings, investments and productivity necessary for economic growth.

We are not proposing tax cuts to pump up consumer demand. This old fashioned response to economic slowdowns would merely keep the economy on the same old roller coaster ride to higher inflation and greater unemployment.

We are proposing tax cuts to reduce the barriers to economic growth. Roth-Kemp is a supply side tax cut designed to increase the incentives to produce and grow.

The high rate of taxation imposed on the American people is the largest single barrier to healthy non-inflationary economic growth. These high tax rates have lowered the standard of living of all Americans by retarding the savings, investment and productivity necessary for economic growth.

With Tom Evans

Our tax system penalizes the saver because all interest earned from savings accounts in banks, savings and loans, credit unions and mutual savings banks is taxed. I have introduced legislation to help savers keep their money. Under my measure, "The Savings Encouragement Act of 1979", the first $100 of interest paid on an individuals saving account, or $200 for a family's would be exempt from taxes.

Trying to save money which fighting inflation at the same time has become an uphill battle. Savers are hard-hit by today's economic conditions because interest payments on savings accounts have not kept up with inflation rate. My bill would help halt this wasting away of savers' buying power.

I am concerned over the decline of savings in this country. The rate of savings has dropped from 7.7 percent in 1975 to 5.3 percent in the first quarter of 1979. This serious situation must be corrected. Other industrialized countries of the world are saving far more of their income than the United States. For example, Japan has a savings rate off 20 to 25 percent, which many countries in Western Europe save between 15 to 20 percent.

The decline in savings causes a reduction in capital investment, lowers productivity and increases interest rates. Congress must have taken action to curb this trend. My proposal is one step in the right direction toward breaking the inflationary cycle because it increases the incentive to save by at least partially removing the tax penalty for savers.

Agriculture is our state's backbone and most important industry. Prime examples of Delaware's farming-interests are on display at the Delaware State Fair. The Fair is an opportunity to get a first hand look at the board spectrum of agriculture in Delaware. I feel it's important for everyone to develop a better understanding of the role played by farmers in our nation's economy.

The Fair is also an opportunity to see how our state's youth are preparing themselves to further develop this important industry. 4-Hers and FFAs account for approximately 10,000 different exhibits at the fair. It's the efforts of these young people that future advancements will be made in all areas of agriculture-poultry, crop development, animal husbandry and processing to name a few.

I hope to see you at the Fair. My booth is located under the grandstand in the same location as the last two years. You can discuss your concerns, give your ideas on important Federal issues and pick up some helpful consumer information. Each evening an American Flag which flew over the nation's Capital in honor of the Delaware State Fair will be presented to one of the day's visitors to my booth.

If Your Child Stutters ..

Advice for parents of children who stutter is offered in a new booklet just published by the National Easter Seal Society.

"Understanding Stuttering: information for parents," by Eugene B. Cooper, Ed.D., Tells parents how to determine when a child who stutters needs professional help in overcoming the nonfluency.

Cooper says the booklet is "to help remove some fears, banish a good deal of guilt with while parents have been burdened, and convey a real sense of hope by what is known about the problem of stuttering.

The author points out a common misconception about stuttering—that it is caused by some underlying emotional condition.

"An increasing amount of research data suggests that persons who stutter may have 'timing' problems related to the body's control system" Cooper says. He compares that control system with teh way a car worked on different morning-on damp morning the motor is hard to start, whereas on dry mornings there is no trouble. In the case of the car, the weather is the determining factor in its performance. In the case of the body's timing system. Many outside factors (not all of them known) affect performance.

The author advises parents with children who stutter to talk openly about the problem and prevent stuttering from becoming a "big issue". He urges parents not to become angry or to either themselves or the child for the stuttering problem.

Cooper is professor and chairman in the department of communicative disorders, and director of the speech and hearing center at the University of Alabama. He has authored more than 50 publications on stuttering.

"Understanding Stuttering" is available for 35 cents, plus 25 cents for postage and handling, from the national easter seal society, 2023 W. Ogden Ave., Chicago, Illinois 60612. Discounts are available for orders in quantity.

The calendar insists that it is July, and the weather is hot, humid and muggy enough to believe it. But, in the early morning, I could well believe it to be August. It is so trippy. All the grass is wet and the window screens are hung full of dew drops. I've even seen some spider webs spread on the grass and glistening with sparkles.

Soon the lima beans will be ready; and, as I work among them, I shall watch out for big yellow and black garden spider. They are so gorgeous in their size and coloring. Last summer we had one who made her web between two pieces of lumber near the antique shop and another in back of the pony shed. But always, there will be one or more on the lima beans vines. I watch her with awe and admiration...and keep a respectable distance. Her black is so shiny and her gold is such a deep butter-yellow. I think I have told you before that years ago I saw one with a salmon pink body instead of the yellow.

My friend, Shirley, told me a bird story that I loved. She was planting clumps of flowers in her yard and a little humming bird was so anxious to get the flowers it just hovered over them while they were still in her hand, paying her no mind at all. Wasn't that a thrilling experience?

When I was putting up pickled beets yesterday and mopping my dripping brow, I thought about my mother and grandmother standing over a red-hot wood stove to accomplish the same thing and, farther back, great-grandmother stirring her food in the black iron kettle over the fireplace. After the nine quarts of beets were safely in the jars, I made a blueberry pie for dinner. Then I dropped into a chair, put my feet up, and counted by blessings.

Are you having a battle with the Japanese beetle? We were almost free of them for some years, but now they are here in full force. And the aphids joined them and held a convention on the roses. Dad got out the sprayer and finally freed them from their enemies. Now here is an odd thing. The roses, pink, red, white, yellow and apricot are lined up along the antique shop. The beetles will not touch the red roses.

Does the heat affect your appetite? It does that to me. I told dad the only thing that appealed to me in the food line was cold boiled ham and cheese on a roll, so we went out and got some. With the blueberry pie and some iced tea, we shall be well fed. Nikki, the Cocker loses his appetite also in the heat.

To my Reader in Mt. Holly, N. J. who says I don't tell enough about Nikki, let me say this. You should have walked into the kitchen with me this morning. He had opened a plastic trash bag and distributed the garbage all over the kitchen floor. Tiring of that, he discovered that the door into the utility room (where Morris resigns) was not hooked, so he pushes out there, and when he is tired of mauling poor old Morris, he pushes the bathroom door shut and fastens him in there. When I arrived on the scene he was gaily tossing newspapers all around the utility room and a highly indignant Morris was yelling to be let out of the bathroom. Never a dull moment!

What every electric customer should know about his local "peaking unit"

Bruce McClenathan
Supervisor of Peaking Units

A "peaking unit" is a small generating station that sits and waits for the summertime "peak" of electrical demand. Then when all those air conditioners are running non-stop, the unit kicks in to supply the extra energy to keep those air conditioners running. But there's a catch. Peaking units are less efficient than baseload generating units, so every kilowatt hour of energy they generate costs more. And, in this day of higher energy costs none of us needs to boost costs even higher. The answer is to use energy so wisely during the hottest days that the peak is lower and the peaking units are kept off as much as possible. That way electric costs will be kept as low as possible. Remember that on the hot afternoons ahead and trade a little less cool for a little less cost. At Delmarva Power we're working hard every day to protect your supply of energy.

A Day For Donald

In June 1977, Donald Cohee, a Bridgeville painting contractor, met with a tragic accident. Donald fell from a ladder that has left him paralyzed from the neck down. Since this time, Donald has been in and out of hospitals many times and has had thirteen major operations in the past eighteen months. Soon after his accident, Preston and Brenda Minner (formerly Brenda Passwaters of Bridgeville) developed a great measure of love and devotion for Donald and have taken Donald into their home as a member of their family. They reside at 51 N. Skyward Drive, Breezewood, Neward, DE 19713.

Donald underwent his last surgery approximately two months ago, and at the present time is enjoying possibly his best health to date. However, Donald's expensed continue to be ever present, and in an effort to help Donald, Union United Methodist Church in Bridgeville announces their Annual Flea Market will be held on August 18, 1979, 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and that all funds from space rentals and church sponsored booths will be given to Donald. Hence, "A DAY FOR DONALD"! This year the location for the affair will be on the newly purchased tree shaded property on the west side of the existing church property.

Spaces are available at $10.00 each and reservations can be made by contacting Milton and Margaret Manlove at 629-9350. Church sponsored booths will include: 1) Home-made Ice Cream; 2) Sandwich Booth; 3) Plant Booth; 4) Baked Goods; 5) Attic Treasures and 6) Luncheon (Chicken Salad and Dumplin's) served in the Fellowship Hall.

Plan to attend this "A DAY FOR DONALD" Flea Market and help make it a happy time of fellowship and giving for Donald. For Your Information

Dear friends,

From experience, a funeral director is often able to detect an abnormal grief situation-one that borders on mental illness. He can then direct that person to a proper professional-psychologist, doctor, minister- for counseling. This is one part of the role and responsibility of the funeral director.

Respectfully

William C. Berry

Contest rules revised

The Division of Fish & Wildlife, Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control has announced a revision in its rules for the 1980 Delaware Freshwater Trout Stamp Contest.

In an effort to encourage wider participation in the contest, the stipulation that the winning entry will be retained by the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control has been dropped. With this revision all entries will be returned to their respective artists.

A trout stamp is required for all licensed anglers fishing the Delaware designated trout streams. Delaware trout stamps are also quite popular with philatelists and collectors of fishing memorabilia.

Last year's winning entry by Ms. Beebe Winterbottom of Trappe, Maryland featured a Rainbow Trout breaking water to feed on a may fly.

Rules for the contest are as follows:

1. Entries are to be submitted to the Delaware Division of Fish and Wildlife no later than August 31, 1979.

2. Each design must be an unpublished original in any medium and accurately depict a scene of freshwater trout fishing in Delaware.

3. The minimum size of the design will be eight (8) inches by ten (10) inches. The maximum size shall be 24 inches by 30 inches.

4. The contest winner will be announced by September 30, 1979.

5. All entries will be returned to the artist.

6. All reproduction rights to the winning design will remain with the artist.

7. All employees of the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control and members of their immediate families are prohibited from entering this contest.

For additional information on The Trout Stamp Art Contest, contact the Division of Fish and Wildlife, Tatnall Bldg., P.O. Box 1401, Dover, DE 19901, phone: (302) 678-4431.

Two games were all they needed

by Mark Barczewski

Two games were all that were needed to decide the winner of the Felton Minor Division Little League. The Cardinals beat the Pirates 7-2 on Monday and 5-1 on Tuesday. The sweep was not an easy one by any means reported the Cardinal manager Bill Garton. "Both teams were evenly matched and all the players deserved to be in the playoffs", said Garton. "Anyone who enjoys Little League action and couldn't make it to watch missed two good games."

The win on Monday seemed to be a little one-sided with the Cards dominating by scoring three runs in the second inning and four during a rally in the fifth. Despite the good hitting by the Cards, the Pirates managed to score the first runs in both games. The hitting didn't seem to hurt the Pirates in the first game as much as the below-par defense. Jeff Lambert was the winning pitcher for the Cardinals in game one.

Charlie Carlson pitched for the Cardinals against Wayne Kemp in the second game. After the game, the managers and coaches agreed that the game was a pitchers' battle. Cardinal players that hit well included Jeff Davis, Charlie Carlson, Kevin Carter, Cricket Morris, Michael Kouse, Jimmy Reed and Mike Kersey who hit a home run in the park. Manager Garton stated that the Cards would have had more runs on the board if the Pirate defense had been like the night before. A key play occurred for the Cards when Jeff Lambert threw home from center-field to stop a Pirate threat on third. A few double-plays were executed during the second game by the Cards. The last out was made by Jeff Davis who threw to Kevin Carter.

Manager Garton was pleased with the performance by both teams especially after considering that both teams were formed this year. "The improvement seen in the teams since first practice back in April was phenomenal". Another thing Garton said was that the girls that are now allowed to play have as much potential as anyone.

Out of six teams in the Minor division, the Cardinals captured the first half of the season with an eight and two record, while the Pirates finished seven and three in the second half.

Pirate manager Terry Freer and coach Larry Mannering as well as Cardinal manager Bill Garton and coach Alan Lambert wish to thank the Little League Fathers and Mothers for their support throughout the season.

Dwayne Anthony pitched the Greenwood Trust softball team to a Harrington League Championship.

the district, and Dr. William Griffin, Woodbridge Superintendent said an end had probably not yet been reached.

Asked why there should be so many changes, Dr. Griffin said there were two basic reasons. The first, he contended, is that the Woodbridge salary scale is the lowest (or one of the lowest) in the state. When teachers can go elsewhere and get from $2,000 to $4,000 more, he said, "...we can't compete."

The second reason he cited was the number of people leaving education for private business and industry. According to Griffin, teaching is not the respected profession it once was. Griffin said this "...troubles me more than anything I've seen in the past twenty years in this business."

In other business the Woodbridge Board:

hired Eugene Fitzgerald to fill a Guidance/English position at Woodbridge Junior High School, Sandy Blackwell to teach English at the high school and Don Sisson for Social Studies at the high school. In addition, Sisson will be assigned to duties as head boys' basketball coach and assistant football coach.

discussed the problem of youngsters driving to school despite the fact that state funds go to provide bus transportation for them. The State Legislature, through a joint resolution of House and Senate, is seeking to discourage such unnecessary driving.

decided kindergarten classes will not be held on days that are half days because of afternoon in-service sessions.

"House Doctors" plead guilty

As a result of an investigation by the State Division of Consumer Affairs, two "House Doctors" have been convicted of conspiracy and 25 counts of felony theft for swindling consumers in Kent and New Castle Counties out of an estimated $44,000.

George Kaetzel, 65, and his son, James P., 27, formerly of Smyrna, now face criminal penalties of up to seven years in prison on each theft count and are liable for any fine the court may impose, according to Deputy Attorney General Christopher J. Curtin, assigned to the Consumer Affairs Division.

The Kaetzels will be sentenced pending completion of a presentence investigation.

The father and son were convicted two months ago of cheating 17 Kent County consumers out of nearly $20,000 by failing to perform home improvement work as contracted by their Smyrna firm The House Doctors.

On Monday, they pleaded guilty to cheating an additional nine New Castle County consumers out of more than $24,000.

"I am extremely pleased our investigation has brought an end to this home improvement scheme so costly to Delaware consumers," said Division Director, Frances M. West. "We hope that our efforts will prevent other consumers from being similarly defrauded."

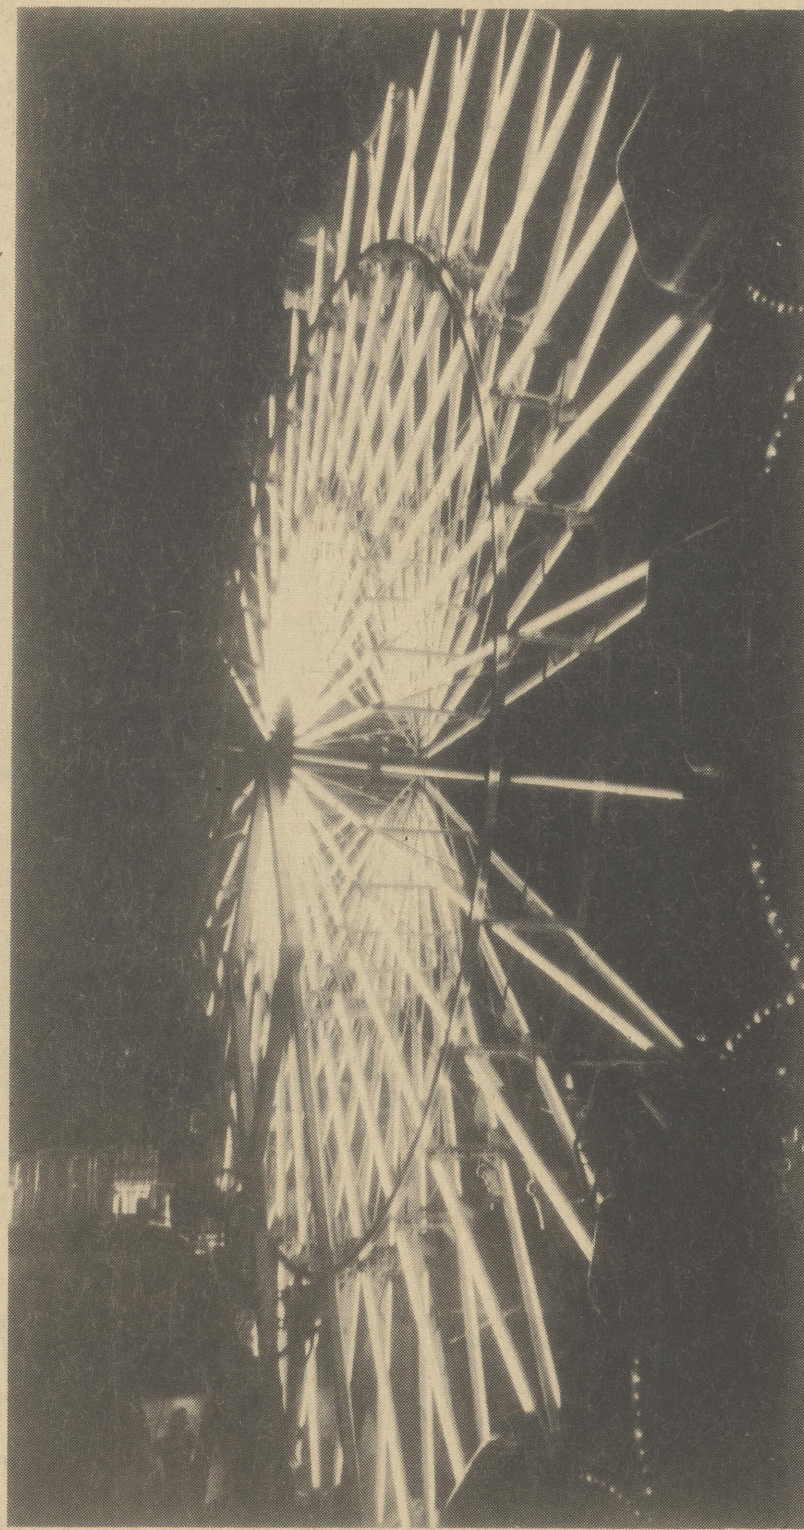

Under a plea bargain with the State, five charges of felony theft against the Kaetzels will be dropped when they are sentenced. The former contractors promised restitution as part of the agreement.

The Division investigation found that the House Doctors solicited home repair and construction work for which they collected substantial down payments, but provided little or no work to complete the projects.

A ploy the Kaetzels used was to tell consumers they could obtain a discount on supplies from an out-of-state builder if they received a substantial cash down payment in advance, according to Curtin.

Operation Ease

On July 15th the Delaware State Police completed its ninth week of OPERATION EASE. During the ninth week, the Delaware State Police made 319 speed arrests and an additional 8 miscellaneous arrests. Radar was operated at 20 locations throughout the state for a total of 70 hours, for an average of 4.55 speed arrests per hour of operation. This brings the total number of arrests for OPERATION EASE to 2,667 speed arrests and 68 miscellaneous arrests. OPERATION EASE is an acronym for Energy and Safety Enforcement, and the program calls for concentrated enforcement of the 55 mph speed limit on applicable highways.

until he was 17 years old. At that time Charley made a bid for what, as a child, has been his first-love baseball.

Although the career in baseball never fully materialized his dreams of playing have never died. Charley goes to spring training with the Texas Rangers every year.

Attracted to music, (along with baseball), at an early age, Charley learned the songs heard on his family's radio, which was usually tuned to the WSM Radio in Nashville. His attraction to country music grew stronger with age, and he eventually purchased a Sears! Silvertone guitar and started singing alone.

Charley likes to downplay his importance in the music world, but his low-key, straight-forward style speaks for itself. He has not only established himself as an industry leader, but has been instrumental in the careers of country artists Dave & Sugar, Ronnie Milsap, Gary Stewart, Johnny Duncan and Johnny Russell. His show at Harrington will also include another new performer, David Willis.

That show will come about on Saturday night, July 28. There are two performances at 7:15 and 9:00 p.m. Tickets are available at the Fair at $5.00, $6.00, $7.00 and $8.00.

Consumers' Guide now available

(DOVER)-- An 18 page publication entitled "The Delaware Consumers Guide to Insurance" is now available free of charge to Delawareans, according to Insurance Commissioner David H. Elliot.

The Consumers Guide was compiled with helpful suggestions from the public, the State Division of Consumer Affairs, the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, and from the insurance industry itself, said Commissioner Elliot. "The guide will assist you in making decisions regarding problems with life insurance, health insurance, auto insurance, homeowners insurance and liability insurance."

IN THE MATTER OF: C.A. No. 1979

CARL BRIAN GREEN, minor. PETITION FOR CHANGE OF NAME

Petitioners, R. Jefferson Reed, Judith A. Reed, his wife, and Carl Brian Green, all of 45 Prestwick Court, Dover, Delaware, respectfully represent as follows:

1. Petitioners are bona fide residents of Kent County, State of Delaware.

2. Petitioner, Judith A. Reed, is the natural mother of Petitioner, Carl Brian Green, born July 24, 1965. Petitioner, R. Jefferson Reed, is the husband of Judith A. Reed, they having been lawfully married on August 7, 1961. The said minor child resides with Petitioners, R. Jefferson Reed and Judith A. Reed, his wife, at 45 Prestwick Court, Dover, Delaware 19901.

3. Petitioners desire to change the last name of Petitioner, Carl Brian Green, to Reed, the last name of his mother and her husband for the reasons hereinafter set forth:

a. Petitioner, Carl Brian Green, hereinafter referred to as "Carl", was born July 24, 1965, his natural mother being Petitioner, Judith A. Reed, and his natural father being Carl Joseph Green. At the time of Carl's birth, his mother was known as Judith A. Green, and was lawfully married to Carl Joseph Green.

b. On or about January 15, 1971, Carl Joseph Green and Judith A. Green were legally divorced and Carl continued to reside with his mother until the present time. Carl's mother was married to Petitioner, R. Jefferson Reed, on August 7, 1971 and Carl continued to live with his mother and her husband, R. Jefferson Reed.

c. From the time of the marriage of his mother to R. Jefferson Reed, Carl has used the last name of Reed and is generally known as Carl Brian Reed. His friends and classmates in school know him as Carl Reed, his public school and Sunday school teachers know him as Carl Reed, his doctors know him as Carl Reed and all of his records, including medical records, are in the name of Reed with the exception of his basic school records which list his last name as Green in conformity with his birth certificate.

d. The relationship between Carl and his natural father deteriorated greatly following the divorce of his natural parents, and continued to deteriorate after the remarriage of his mother to R. Jefferson Reed. Little if any visitation occurred without violent protest by Carl. In November, 1975 Carl Joseph Green filed a petition in the Family Court of the State of Delaware for the purpose of seeking a court order of visitation. Although visitation was ordered by the Court, the exercise of that visitation was quite difficult because of the reluctance of Carl to visit with his natural father. An agreement was reached between Carl's mother and natural father in April of 1976 which provided that Carl's father would be under no obligation to provide support for Carl and Carl would be under no obligation to visit with his father without the consent of Carl and his mother.

e. Since the agreement was reached between Carl's mother and natural father in April, 1976, Carl has not visited with his father nor had any contact with him to date. The present whereabouts of Carl's father, Carl Joseph Green, is unknown, his last known address being RD 6, Box 29, Dover, Delaware 19901.

f. For all practical purposes, Carl has adopted the name, Reed, as his last name, although legally his last name remains Green. Under the terms of the agreement between Carl's parents dated April, 1976, the lack of support and visitation cannot be deemed evidence of abandonment for the purpose of terminating the parental rights of Carl Joseph Green. That agreement, however, does not forbid the change of Carl's last name to Reed.

4. Petitioners are aware of no person who will be defrauded or prejudiced by the requested change of name, and Petitioners have no intention of so defrauding or prejudicing any person.

5. Petitioners desire to change the name of Petitioner, Carl Brian Green, to Carl Brian Reed.

WHEREFORE, Petitioners pray that an order of this Court may be made changing the name of Carl Brian Green to CARL BRIAN REED.

Save Money By Saving Energy

Laundry And Bathroom Energy Saving Ideas

The following article is one in a series of articles appearing in the REAL ESTATE supplement on how consumers can save money at home, on the road and in the marketplace.

Material for the series is taken from a publication of the U.S. Dept. of Energy, "Tips for Energy Savers."

The following article tells how to save money in the laundry and bathroom.

LAUNDRY ENERGY SAVERS

You can save considerable amounts of energy in the laundry through conservation of hot water and by using your automatic washers and dryers less often and more efficiently.

Wash clothes in warm or cold water, rinse in cold. You'll save energy and money. Use hot water only if absolutely necessary.

Washing Machines

Fill washers (unless they have small-load attachments or variable water levels), but do not overload them.

Use the suds saver if you have one. It will allow you to use one tubful of hot water for several loads.

Don't use too much detergent. Follow the instructions on the box. Oversudsing makes your machine work harder and use more energy.

Pre-soak or use a soak cycle when washing heavily soiled garments.

You'll avoid two washings and save energy.

Fill clothes dryers but do not overload them.

Keep the lint screen in the dryer clean. Remove lint after each load. Lint impedes the flow of air in the dryer and requires the machine to use more energy.

Keep the outside exhaust of your clothes dryer clean. Check it regularly. A clogged exhaust lengthens the drying time and increases the amount of energy used.

If your dryer has an automatic dry cycle, use it. Overdrying merely wastes energy.

Dry your clothes in consecutive loads. Stop-and-start drying uses more energy because a lot goes into warming the dryer up to the desired temperature each time you begin.

Separate drying loads into heavy and lightweight items. Since the lighter ones take less drying time, the dryer doesn't have to be on as long for these loads.

If drying the family wash takes more than one load, leave small, lightweight items until last. You may be able to dry them, after you turn off the power, with heat retained by the machine from earlier loads.

Save energy by using the old-fashioned clothesline. As a bonus, clothes dried outdoors often seem fresher and cleaner than those taken from a mechanical dryer.

Ironing

Remove clothes that will need ironing from the dryer while they still are damp. There's no point in wasting energy to dry them thoroughly if they only have to be dampened again.

You can save ironing time and energy by "pressing" sheets and pillow cases on the warm top of your dryer. Fold them carefully, then smooth them out on the flat surface.

Save energy needed for ironing by hanging clothes in the bathroom while you're bathing or showering. The steam often removes the wrinkles for you.

BATHROOM ENERGY SAVERS

Take showers rather than tub baths, but limit your showering time and check the water flow if you want to save energy.

It takes about 30 gallons of water to fill the average tub. A shower with a flow of 4 gallons of water a minute uses only 20 gallons in five minutes.

Assuming you use half hot and half cold water for bathing, you would save about five gallons of hot water every time you substitute a shower for a bath.

Thus, if you substituted just one shower for one bath per day, you would save almost 2,000 gallons of hot water in a year.

Consider installing a flow restrictor in the pipe at the showerhead.

These inexpensive, easy-to-install devices restrict the flow of water to an adequate 3 to 4 gallons per minute.

HOW TO SAVE ELECTRICITY BEFORE IT COMES TO YOU

During the late afternoon and early evening hours the load on the Nation's electrical systems usually reaches its peak.

To meet the heavy demand, electric utilities often must use backup generating equipment that is not energy efficient.

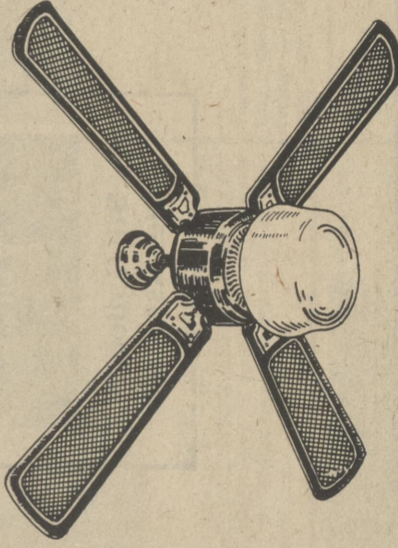

Try to use energy-intensive appliances such as dishwashers, clothes washers and dryers, and electric ovens in the early morning or late evening hours to help reduce that peakload.

If everyone scheduled household chores during offpeak hours, the utilities' daily fuel use would be reduced and the Nation's energy would be conserved.

NEXT: The focus turns to saving money on lighting.

Here's How

Marble Stains

by Gene Gary
Copley News Service

Q. For a number of years I have searched for a method for spot removal and continued protection from stains on travertine marble. The advertised marble cleaners do not serve my needs for this very porous marble. Since past suggestions have not been effective, I am now encouraged that perhaps your column could provide me with a successful method. These are old stains — coffee cup rings, etc. — Jane L.B., Scottsdale, Ariz.

A. I do not have any stain-removing remedy especially recommended for travertine, but I can pass along recommendations from the Marble Institute of America, which I hope will prove satisfactory.

The institute says to start with washing any marks on marble with clear water. If the stain remains, apply a poultice of white blotting paper, white paper napkin or a white cleansing tissue soaked in an appropriate solution, described as follows: For organic stains caused by tea, coffee or leached colors from paper or textiles, use hydrogen peroxide (20 volume) or household ammonia (full commercial strength). For oil stains caused by butter, milk, cream, salad oil, etc., use amyl acetate or acetone. For rust stains, use commercial iron rust remover.

covering it with a piece of glass or a sheet of plastic. Leave it on for up to 48 hours, depending on the stubbornness of the stain.

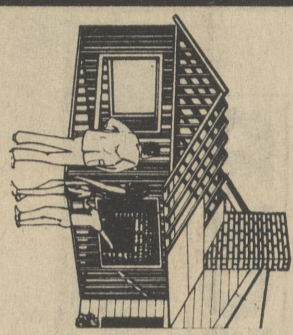

When the marble is clean and thoroughly dry, apply one or two coats of colorless terrazzo sealer. Also washing with a water wax will give the surface further protection.

Q. I live in a two-story frame house built in 1915. After this length of time, I'm still getting cracks in the walls. Even though I have these repaired, after several years there is a recurrence of the trouble, plus additional cracks. The cracks seem to be more prominent above windows and doors and in the corners. Do you have any suggestions as to how this condition might be remedied, other than paneling? — Kenata L., Hartford, Wis.

A. Interior cracks in plastered or dry walls and ceiling can be repaired with a product called Krack-Kote. This bridges wall and ceiling cracks instead of filling them and is pliable, allowing contraction and expansion that causes original cracking. So it should be a long-lasting solution to the problem of cracks. The product is available at most paint stores. It is manufactured by Tuff-Kote Co., Inc., Woodstock, Ill.

Questions on building, home maintenance and repairs may be mailed to Here's How, Copley News Service, in care of this newspaper.
