

The town of Felton last week purchased the long empty Felton Railroad Station, located in the center of town on Railroad Avenue. Also part of the purchase was that portion of Railroad Avenue directly in front of the 110 year old building.

Costing the Town $5,000, the railroad station will be completely renovated to be used as a town hall. According to Felton Mayor Donald Jacobs, renovations to the station will cost approximately 25,000 dollars, although most of the work is expected to be performed on a voluntary basis by interested persons. High on the list are plumbing, heating, interior work and complete restoration of the ornate windows.

The historic building, and short stretch of Railroad Avenue, were purchased from the Penn Central Company after four years of effort by the Town of Felton. One of the major turning points in the long process was Senator Biden's support of the project which came two years ago. Felton had originally planned to have the building purchased and completed in time for the nation's bicentennial celebrations in 1976, but Penn Central's longstanding bankruptcy proceedings prohibited the sale.

The railroad station last saw passenger action in the 1950's although it was used for a while as an equipment storehouse for Penn Central. The building is located almost exactly on the geographic center of Delaware.

Council receives deed

Four or five years of quiet negotiations came to fruition Monday night as Councilman Don Jacobs presented the Felton Town Council with the deed to the railroad station.

According to Mayor William Meyers, it may take that much longer before the Council's dream of having the town offices located in the fully restored building is realized.

The immediate problem will be ways and means. The town has purchased the 110 year old station from the Penn Central Company for $5,000. But the task of restoring it and converting it into a town hall will require another $20,000 to $25,000. The town does not have that money, and does not intend to borrow it. Town officials expect to explore the possibilities of federal funding. There is a chance that the railroad station could be placed on the National Register of historic buildings and thus qualify for matching federal funds that would help pay for its renovation. The terms of qualification would require that the exterior of the building be restored as close as possible to its original condition. Reconstructing the station's ornate windows would probably present the biggest problem in doing this. The process of qualification for the National Register is a lengthy one, and the town may also explore other forms of federal funding.

Council members also hope that a community spirit will prevail in the project with citizens volunteering their skills and time to help in the renovation. In addition to the exterior work, heating, plumbing and electricity will have to be installed.

For the present, the Council plans to get the station properly boarded up and closed in for the winter. It is suspected that unauthorized persons have been using the building.

Once the renovation is complete the town hopes to relocate all its offices including city hall, tax office and police headquarters there.

In purchasing and renovating the historic building, Felton will be joining other individuals and

Highways claim two lives

Until shortly before 10 o'clock last Wednesday night, Delaware's highway fatality count was matched at 70 deaths for both this last year. However, at approximately 9:55 p.m., the 1979 death toll suddenly jumped to 72 when a car ran under a bed of a truck trailer parked across the roadway on a dark country road.

Jasper Jones, Sr., 30, of Cheriton, Virginia, driving for Perdue Farms, Inc., of Salisbury, was westbound on DE RT. 14 near Vernon when he realized he had missed a turn for the chicken house that he was enroute to. He was 5 miles west of Harrington when he attempted to back the tractor-trailer onto Cty. RT. 305 so that he could turn around. The tractor was still in the westbound lane facing traffic, but the trailer was across the eastbound lane when the driver saw a car approaching from the opposite direction.

Charles W. Baker, 82, of 1990 Highland Avenue, Dover, was eastbound on Rt. 14 returning from a Methodist camp meeting in J.Denton. Apparently unable to see the trailer, he drove under the trailer bed. Charles Baker, his wife Lida M. Baker, 74, and a passenger in the rear, Elizabeth D. Walker, 77, of 29 W. Walnut Street, Magnolia, were removed from the wreckage by Harrington Fire Company employing a Hurst Tool. Two Harrington ambulances transported the injured to Milford Memorial, where Lida Baker and Elizabeth Walker were pronounced dead upon arrival at 10:40 p.m. Lida Baker sustained multiple facial fractures and a fractured skull, and Elizabeth Walker received a severe neck and chest laceration, and multiple abrasions about both knees. Charles Baker was treated for a lacerated scalp, multiple abrasions, possible nose fracture and head injuries, and then transported to Delaware Division by Milford ambulance.

Lowber House to be restored

Restoration plans are currently underway in Frederica to save the town's oldest standing building, the Lowber House located at the head of Market Street.

The owner of the mansion, Mrs. Jeanette Betts Dodd of Medford, New Jersey, will finance the restoration project with the help of a $25,000 matching funds grant from the government. Mrs. Dodd was born in the house and was married in the living room. She looks forward to returning home when the house is completed.

The actual restoration work will be performed by Bill Harkins, a Wilmington architect who plans to begin immediately. The magnificent structure will be restored as completely as possible.

Lowber House was reputed to be a part of the Underground Railroad for runaway slaves. It was built in the mid 1700's, before Frederica officially became a town.

The bees were all over, but Norman Toadvine kept his cool as he collected the swarm. Toadvine is a professional beekeeper as well as a taxidermist and has the knowhow to deal with a situation such as this one. This scene took place in front of the office of Dr. Vincent Lobo in Harrington. Honeybees were swarming, and Toadvine was called in to help. Just a little more nervous was The Harrington Journal photographer who didn't dare ask a bee to say "Cheese."

Frederica approves Cable TV

FREDERICA At last Wednesday's Town meeting, the commissioners approved the installation of Cable T.V. for the community. Cable T.V. is currently based in Harrington. The Town will allow the franchise to install a receiver on top of the town's water tower. The signal will be beamed over from Harrington. The new franchise will be carrying two additional channels. The contract between the Town and the company will be for ten years with the Town getting 50c per month per installation as rent.

Chase leaves one dead, two injured

A Delaware State Trooper was injured, a Farmington man killed and his brother injured when an accident in a Seaford parking lot ended in a high speed chase that lasted for 20 miles last Sunday.

John E. Tribbett, 20, died when his car ramed the side of a house in Bridgeville and the chimney toppled onto the vehicle. Seriously injured was Tribbett's brother, James. Trooper Lee S. Daugherty sustained minor injuries when Tribbett's car struck the police vehicle.

According to State police reports, Tribbett and his brother were "spinning wheels" in the parking lot of the Mylon Capital Shopping Center when a Seaford patrolman ordered them to stop. Instead, Tribbett sped away and a chase ensued which, at its end, involved Bridgeville police, Greenwood officers and seven patrol cars.

Trooper Daugherty attempted to block Tribbett's speeding car in Bridgeville but Tribbett managed to get away after ramming the patrol car and injuring the officer.

Saturday was election day in Bowers Beach. Winning uncontested seats on the town council were incumbent James Parker and new member Stephan Koerner. The election was described by Bowers Beach Mayor June Donovan as "a formality that was strictly routine."

Donovan did not expect a heavy turnout, and she was correct: 20 votes were cast for Koerner with Parker cornering 18.

Parker works as a fisherman; he is a retired State Police officer, Koerner is a masonry contractor.

Donovan said she is "well satisfied with the make-up of the new council."

Saturday is Heritage Day

Harrington will celebrate history and community this Saturday, August 11, as its first annual Heritage Day gets underway.

Events of the day are scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. on the lawn of the Harrington Public Library which is marking its first anniversary. Also celebrating a first anniversary and co-sponsoring the day is the Greater Harrington Historical Society.

Local librarian, Jackie Davis will welcome visitors and introduce special guests at the ceremonies: Ken McKnatt, President of the Greater Harrington Historical Society; the Honorable William Paskey, President of Kent County Levy Court; Joan Burritt; Pre-School and Cultural Supervisor for Kent county Parks and Recreation, and Dr. Claudia Bushman, Delaware Humanities Scholar, who will keynote a special program on Harrington's Heritage later in the day.

Council will decide

HARRINGTON: The chief item on the agenda for next Tuesday night's council meeting will be the rezoning request by property owner Dudley Willis on the land bordering Peck Avenue and formerly known as the Trane Lands.

The request is to have 10 acres rezoned from Industrial classification (1 MP) to apartments (R-4). The original plan if rezoning is granted to Willis is to have 40 apartments erected on the site. The total area to be built on will be 8 acres or 5 units per acre, which is considered light density. Willis will seek a zoning change on a 3 acre parcel adjacent to the first one from Industrial Park

(IMP) to commercial, for a neighborhood shopping center. Willis has the 13 acres under option to sell to Case/Edwards too.

The City of Harrington will receive $45,000 in Federal grants to enable the Senior Citizens Center to purchase the burned out house on the corner of Fleming Street and Mechanic Street and pave that area for their parking lot. "The local government has another chance to help solve the housing problem in Harrington with this proposal of Case/Edwards", said one spokesman. The meeting will be at 7:30 on Tuesday at the Town Hall.

Walter Messick, Harrington businessman, was recently named to the Board of Directors of the Peoples Bank. His appointment brings the total of directors on the Board to eleven. Messick is also a Vice President of the Delaware State Fair and was named Harrington's first Citizen of the year in 1978.

Messick named to board

HARRINGTON The Peoples Bank of Harrington has tapped a Harrington Businessman as the next appointment to its Board of Directors. Walter Messick, 61, a native of the Harrington area, will become the 11th Director of the Bank.

Messick and his wife, Marie, are the present owners of Taylor & Messick, Inc. having purchased the business from J. Edward Taylor in 1965. The business, Taylor & Messick, Inc., is the largest dealership for John Deere tractors and

To sell Johnson property

HOUSTON - In a much heated issue that has carried through two administrations (Leonard Ralston and Connie Morgan), the Town Council of Houston has moved to sell the Nan Johnson property in Houston. The current investment that the Town has in the property is approximately $3,500 based on legal fees for condemnation proceedings and related charges. At Thursday night's council meeting, it was disclosed that it would cost an additional $800 to bulldoze the structure to the ground and level the lot with fill dirt. That would mean, the Town would have $4,500 in the lot, which is far more than they could expect to get for the lot.

Darry Carmine of Congressman Tom Evan's office addressed the council on Thursday and explained how the Town might receive Federal grants in aid in order to construct a Town Hall for Houston together with a recreation site. Carmine's remarks did not attract much enthusiasm.

Under Connie Morgan's past administration, it was decided to condemn and level the Nan Johnson property with the idea of placing a mobile home or modular on it much like the Town of Frederica has. The Town has an ordinance against mobile homes within the Town limits. Under Carmine's explanation of the Small Cities Discretionary plan, Houston would get 100% financing in the way of a grant. The plan is designed to provide for town halls, convention centers, and parks. The Town of Houston would be liable after the town hall, in the case of Houston, was finished for maintenance and insurance. It was the latter reasons which caused some in the audience last Thursday to turn the plan aside as being too expensive.

Pierce Thompson who heads Conventional Builders offered to pledge $1,500 to the Town to help defray costs of the Nan Johnson property or in the alternative to be used to purchase the lot owned by Conrail on the south side of the tracks across from the Fire Hall. The proposal brought an immediate question from Mrs. Boone "...as to why Mr. Thompson was doing this..." His

School Immunization Regulations

This year, the final phase of Delaware's school immunization regulation will go into effect, requiring high school students to have completed immunization records before entering school.

When school opens in Sept. all students--kindergarten through grade 12--will be required to show proof of completed immunizations. The regulation has been implemented in several phases. For the past several years, immunization requirements were enforced for entry into the primary grades; last year, the regulation was extended through the eighth grade.

Public health and school officials urge all parents to check their children's immunization records before school starts.

Immunizations required by the regulation include three doses of DPT or DT vaccine, which protects against diphtheria, pertussis (whooping cough) and tetanus (lockjaw); three doses of polio vaccine; and one dose each of measles and rubella vaccine.

According to the regulation, "all parents (or legal guardians) of children attending Delaware public schools must present evidence that their children have completed the basic series of immunizations." Dates of the immunizations will constitute acceptable evidence. At his or her discretion, the school superintendent may require confirmation from the provider of the immunizations.

If children are not in compliance, parents will be notified and given 30 days to provide evidence of immunization. Children whose parents do not respond in 30 days may be excluded from school until parents do respond.

Exemption from the regulation may be granted under special conditions for medical or religious reasons.

Parents whose children's immunizations are not complete are urged to obtain the remaining shots from their normal source of medical care.

If parents have any questions about immunizations, the school regulation, or their children's record, they may call the Division of Public Health's toll-free "immunization hot line" at 1-800-282-8672.

Thoughts From Dover

By Governor Pete du Pont

A special task force comprised of five members of my administration have just completed a report on the state's compliance with federal and state hiring practices to see whether the state has been fair in the pay and responsibilities of its employees.

The Affirmative Action Task Force has sent to me a series of seven recommendations -- many of which will be implemented by Executive Order over the next several weeks -- designed to rectify the state's failures in the past in the hiring of women, the aged, minorities and the handicapped.

Those recommendations, which are currently being reviewed by cabinet officer, are designed to ensure fair hiring and employment practices by the state and to meet accepted standards for the hiring of women, the aged, minorities and the handicapped.

All cabinet secretaries and agency heads are encouraged by this report to take prompt action to eliminate any problems of under-representation within their agencies of any minority group, women or handicapped. The report adds that they should make every effort to increase the number of women, minorities, the aged and the handicapped employed by their respective departments or agencies within budget limits and on the basis of qualification.

Also, the report urges that the State Human Relations Commission staff be strengthened so that it can monitor compliance with federal and state employment laws. Moreover, a study of the state's merit system rules, which discourage fair employment practices, was also recommended by the task force. That study would be designed to improve recruitment efforts to attract more women, minorities, the aged and the handicapped; revise job qualifications which impose unnecessary or artificial barriers; the restructuring of certain jobs; and the development of job-related and valid selection criteria. Also, the report says a system should be implemented to assure upward mobility of these groups on the same basis as other employees.

This very important report will serve as a standard for state employment practices and will encourage state officials to make certain that the employment rights of each citizen is protected and strengthened.

With Tom Evans

The week before a scheduled recess is usually a very busy time for Congress as members consider the more pressing pieces of legislation before returning to their home states to work in their districts. The week before this District Work Period was particularly busy for me because on top of my regular duties, I had an additional responsibility--Assistant Minority Leader.

Generally, the Assistant Minority Leader has the responsibility of protecting the rights of the minority party on the House floor. While serving in this role, I represented the minority party on issues being debated, monitored all the legislation and amendments, and explained the votes to the members who could not be present during the debate because they were working in committee or their offices.

I spent most of my week as Assistant Minority Leader on the House floor. However, I also attended my committees and subcommittees when important testimony was scheduled. In one instance a DuPont company representative testified before the Coast Guard subcommittee on hazardous substances in our marine environment. In another instance, I participated in a hearing on solar energy.

Now that the Congress is not in session, I'm looking forward to talking with you about the issues facing our state and nation. Traveling throughout Delaware, appearing on radio two-way talk shows, and attending community meetings are key items on my work schedule for the month.

The record attendance at the Delaware State Fair was encouraging. A lot of people turned out to see the numerous agriculture exhibits and take part in the festivities. I enjoyed discussing the issues with those of you who stopped by my booth. Eight Delawareans who visited the booth were selected to receive American Flags which flew over the nation's Capitol in honor of the Delaware State Fair. Flags were presented to Mildred Windsor of Laurel, C.W. Foltz of Hartly, Brandi Brown of Felton, Blanche Williams of Ocean View, Millard Walls, Sr. of Lincoln, Bill Sipple of Felton, Sara Nechay of Sandtown and Stephen Constable of Newark.

hosting Veronique Kabouche from Brest, the seaport city on the west coast of France. Also in Felton, the Donna Bell family has Catherine Linotte from near Paris as their August guest. And, the Clough family in Harrington is hosting Pascale Saint-Pe from Beauchamps, another Paris suburb. In addition, Mr. Louis Gueret, an English teacher from Thonon-les-Bains, a town along Lake Geneva in the French Alps, is spending a couple weeks visiting Mr. Boyd at his home in Harrington.

All the families involved in this French-American exchange have daughters who have either completed French III or IV at Lake Forest. The North Atlantic Cultural Exchange League is handling the details. The students who are visiting our area are all taking English as a foreign language at their schools in France. They are visiting the United States to learn about our way of life and, of course, to improve their English. The Lake Forest students, then, have the option to visit France to live with French families during July of Next summer.

An occasional "get together" for the students is anticipated during the month. Mr. Boyd is also planning a trip to Washington, D.C. on August 20, which will, if possible, include a visit with Senator Biden.

The French students are to return to France on September 1st, hopefully with many happy memories of their "American Experience".

former home of Howard Jurly located on corner of St. Agnew and Market Streets. The purchase price was $36000 with a down payment of $15000.

The question of whether the town should use town funds from collection of taxes to help pay for and renovate the new center became an argument our Councilwomen Helen Powers felt the benefit the town would gain from this would be a large influx of people into the town for the benefit of other merchants. Other members of Council felt they should not spend taxpayers money to benefit those who lived as far as 8 miles away from Frederica. The center would serve residents of Felton, Viola, Canterbury Bowers Beach and all of the census in between.

The house the senior citizens purchased had been rented by the senior citizens. It was pointed out that they could have rented for a long time for far less than the purchase price. Mrs. Powers claimed... "that might be true, but there are things you would like to do to a property if it were yours". Mayor Nashold was asked to table the issue until the next meeting.

In other matters, Mayor Nashold announced that the Town had made settlement with the insurance company for damages sustained when lightning hit the water tower. The Mayor also told the other commissioners that the Town was to receive a price for painting the inside of the water tank. "At the time of the painting and until it is sufficiently dry, we will use the direct feed as we did once before", said Nashold.

It was also announced that CETA will terminate the maintenance position for the Town. Mr. Ellwanger of Harrington has been filling that government subsidized job. CETA will cut off funds as of September 30th.

Mrs. Jennelia Forhaker presented the Town with the American flag which was presented at the funeral of her former husband, Harry Flanagan, Jr. a native of Frederica.

farm equipment on the east coast. The business was established in 1935 as a division of Taylor's Hardware. Messick has been associated with the Company for the past 36 years. The Company is located on the Vernon Road.

"I am proud of this appointment to the Board of Directors, and I plan on doing whatever is necessary to serve the Bank and its customers", said Messick about his appointment. In addition to this, Mr. Messick also serves as the 3rd V.P. and Director and Chairman of the Wheel Show at the Delaware State Fair. He became a member of the Fair Board of Directors in 1965. He has been a member of the Board of Directors of Milford Memorial Hospital since 1976.

In 1978, The Harrington Chamber of Commerce held its first "Outstanding Citizen Award", and Messick was the first recipient of this award. Messick has been a member of The Harrington Lions Club for 27 years with perfect attendance for the past 25 years. He has served in various offices of that Club as well as being a past president. He is also a member of The Harrington Volunteer Fire Co. and recently received a 20 year card. Taylor & Messick, Inc. sponsors a local softball team.

In 1976, the Messick family erected a building to house their private antique collection of farm tractors and related equipment. There are estimated to be 400 different pieces of antique farm implements in the collection. The museum, which is open during regular business hours, is regarded by many to be a "...better collection of farm equipment than the John Deere Museum in Moline, Ill."

The Peoples Bank was founded in 1905 at the site now a vacant lot on the south side of the Salvation Army Building. In 1931, the Bank moved its operations directly across Commerce Street which was a one story structure. In 1958, the Bank constructed a 2nd floor on that building. The Bank presently sits on the corner of Hanley and Commerce Streets across from the Post Office. That building was built in October of 1977. The original Directors totaled 13 in number. The past Presidents of the Bank have been as follows: Ora C. Sapp, 1st President from 1905-1923; S.L. Sapp, 2nd President from 1923-1954; C. Fred Wilson, 3rd President from 1954-1959; E.B. Rash, 4th President from 1959-1966; J. Edward Taylor, 5th President from 1966-to date.

Speaking at the opening ceremonies will be the Honorable Arthur Cahall III, Mayor of Harrington; Sylvia Short, Director of the State Division of Libraries and Charlotte Gagne, President of the Harrington Library Advisory Council. The Reverend Leah Coleman will give the benediction.

With the help of the Harrington Lions Club, which has volunteered to be the work organization assisting in preparations for the day, all is expected to be in readiness at 10:30 a.m. This will include all the booths in the Flea Market/Crafts Bazaar which are to be set up by that time.

Following from the opening ceremonies is a crowded schedule of activities, all set for the time period from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The library lawn will be the site of story telling and puppet shows by The Children's Caravan.

The American Legion will hold an auction on the Peoples Bank parking lot. Jimmy Temple is the auctioneer. A Bicycle Safety Rodeo sponsored by the Harrington Police will be open to participants of all ages. This will also be held on the parking lot of the Peoples Bank.

Several area craftsmen will give free demonstrations of quilting, making strawberry cups, chair caning, cross cut sawing, woodcarving, basket making and soap making. Except for the quilting, these will be held on a Dorman Street lot just across from the library. The quilting display and demonstration is planned for the Century Club on Dorman Street.

Musical intervals will intersperse the day's activities. These include Reach Out (a gospel group), the Lost Orphans (a folk guitar group), the Moose Hillbilly Band and the Harrington Chorus.

Two square dance groups [Levis and Lace and The Diamond State Twirlers] and a specialty group [The Stoney Creek Cloggers] will perform.

A karate group under the direction of Reese Rigby and Joseph Selph will give an exhibition.

Forty booths in a Flea Market/Crafts Bazaar will offer everything from fudge to art. The crafts and the goodies can be found on the parking lot of the First National Bank and may extend down Dorman Street. Along with other good things to eat, Harrington Moose Lodge No. 534 will be selling barbecued chicken, and the Ladies Auxilliary of the Fire Company will be having a homemade ice cream festival.

Local and visiting history buffs will be treated to a special program on the lawn of City Hall. Dr. Claudia Bushman, who conducted a five week course last winter on the history and geneology of this area, will return to speak on "Harrington's Heritage". Her address will be followed by a panel discussion "What Happened Here and What Can Happen" and an oral history recording. The last mentioned will be at the Harrington Senior Center.

Visitors will be able to hop on a shuttle to visit an antique car show and Messick's Antique Museum.

Conrail will play host to residents and visitors, offering tours of trains and the railroad station.

Children will be treated to miniature train rides on the parking lot of the Nazarene Church.

The singles and doubles finals of the Heritage Day Tennis Tournament will be held on the courts at W.T. Chipman.

There will be an old fashioned spelling bee at the Harrington New Century Club.

For those interested in walking tours of Harrington, brochures identifying old homes and churches and their locations will be available at the Harrington Historical Society booth in the flea market.

At 6:30 p.m., the First National Bank parking lot will be the site of a gong show that has attracted a number of contestants. Entries are open through tomorrow, Thursday, August 9. The number to call is 398-4647.

An evening of dancing will conclude the day. Two street dances will be held from 8 to 10:30 p.m. For the rock generation, Past Tense will hold forth on the parking lot of the First National Bank. Those of a different persuasion can dance to the music of "In The Mood" on the Peoples Bank parking lot.

Festivities will actually begin an evening early with a barn dance at Welch's Seed Service on Friday, August 10 from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Except for the flea market and food items, Heritage Day activities will be offered at no charge.

If it Rains.....

Rain may dampen enthusiasm, but it will not cancel the day's activities. In the event of an uncooperative weatherman, most of the booths and displays will move to the cafeteria and auditorium at the W.T. Chipman School on Dorman and Center Streets.

Additional funding for many of the day's activities has come through the Delaware Division of Libraries, the Delaware Humanities Forum and Kent County Parks and Recreation.

Attention, Quilters

Mrs. Eddie Cooper will be hosting a display of antique hand made quilts on Saturday. Mrs. Cooper of near Mastens Corner plans to have a display area set up inside the Century Club Building. Thoughts From Washington

By U.S. Senator Bill Roth

The dollar may be more and more difficult to spend...that is, if it is the Susan B. Anthony dollar. Many people are not accepting the new dollar coin. The debate over the dollar coin completely missed the point. The discussion concerned who should be honored on it. I am delighted Susan B. Anthony was the choice but another prime consideration should have been cost-benefit.

From the taxpayer's point of view, the issue should have been whether the coin would be accepted and widely circulated, enough so that the long term savings of a dollar coin would exceed the immediate costs. If the new coin fails to circulate or continues to circulate with no reduction in the number of bills, it will be costly to the taxpayer instead of offering the intended saving.

Minting the Susan B. Anthony coin has already cost the American people a total of $15 million. Unfortunately, prospects for this investment do not look promising. The cost of remodeling machines to accommodate the new coin has been estimated at $200 million. There are other disadvantages: The dollar coin and quarter are similar in size, causing slowdowns and mixups during monetary transactions. Many retailers are reluctant to accept the coin, for this very reason.

A cycle of rejection of the Susan B. Anthony dollar may occur. Failure of this coin should be no surprise. The two dollar bill failed and should have been an indication the unique dollar coin would have circulation problems. Needless of this sign, the Department of Treasury conducted neither survey nor marketing research. The Department claimed, "A statistically reliable household survey of consumer attitudes and preferences toward coinage alternatives was not feasible within the constraints of the study." A University of Michigan survey was conducted and results predicted unpopularity; minting was discouraged. The Treasury, unconvinced, went ahead with production.

The Susan B. Anthony coin is an unpleasant reminder of the ravages of inflation and the shaky state of our dollar. It is easy to confuse with a quarter and no marketing strategy was ever attempted. A very deserving American woman is being honored, but at the expense of the American taxpayer.

We all want more money. Unfortunately, minting the Susan B. Anthony dollar will not make us any richer. The government must become more conscientious about such decisions. These mistakes are costly to the people and could easily be avoided.

Letters to the editor

Gentlemen:

As a result "Fair" attendee I have purchased your newspaper the last two weeks in order to keep informed of what events were taking place.

It appears that almost every contest was mentioned, along with pictures, names of participants, etc, and as this weeks copy states; "Press coverage of the event was termed the best yet by the Fair Officials."

If this was true I wonder why NO space has been given in your paper, or any other, as to the winners of the Country Music Talent Contest. Could it be, as many have said, because this years winners, The Christian Troupers, is a Gospel group and nobody wants to read about this type of group when they win. Funny, isn't it, that pictures have appeared of goats, cows and horses, politicians, stock cars, carnival rides, etc., etc., etc. but not of the talent contest winners. Perhaps this can be used as food for thought for next year. Very truly yours, R.L. Littleton P.O.Box 101 Georgetown, DE 19947

Gab Fest

Newspaper folk have to be very conscious of deadlines. Before they give the magic word to "Start the presses", our material must be in and at hand. The show must go on regardless of what hectic circumstances beset us in the daily routine of living.

And, in our own case, we have encountered a few obstacles. Ellen had two emergency trips to the hospital while she was in the process of trying to enjoy three house guests. Fortunately, they were family who loved her and helped out. And I spent several days there after they went home.

Then Dad had an operation to have the growth on his eyelid removed and it proved to be malignant so that will entail several trips to Philadelphia and more operations. But, we all got enough better to take a small peek at the Fair. This is fairly traditional to go as a family at least once during the season. In deference to the children, we went to see the afternoon rodeo show. I watched with as much enthusiasm as the children. I found myself sitting on the edge of the seat, willing the cowboy to stay on the bucking broncho and hoping that the prettiest little cowgirl would win the obstacle race. I came down to earth once and thought with some amusement "Now what on earth is an old dignified woman of 75 1/2 years of age doing in a place like this?" And then I remembered. I am an old woman, but not dignified and I love life.

I was disappointed in one thing. My friend of the beautiful carvings, Mr. Jehu Camper, had asked me to look him up because he had a small present for me. I did not get there until the last day of the Fair and found that he had become ill and gone home. I do hope he is entirely recovered by now.

I think, longingly, of those cool, chilly days we had in June and the first of July. When it gets hot and muggy like this I lose my appetite, which is alarming when you consider how much I enjoy food. I lean toward cold meats, salads and sandwiches. I did make one of those easy cakes that my friend, Shirley, told me about. You just dump it all in a bowl and beat like mad... 1 1/2 boxes of cake mix, 1 1/2 boxes of Instant Jello pudding, 3/4 cup cooking oil, 1 1/2 cups water and 6 eggs. Pour into a large sheet cake pan and bake about 350 until done.

This time I made chocolate, and then I made Teddy butterscotch puddings, since he is allergic to chocolate. I have been canning tomatoes today, and there is probably no hotter job anyway unless you work in a boiler factory. And my house looks like a cross between a prize-winning ghetto and a boiler factory about to go on strike. The grasshoppers are hopping all over the window screens, the bag worms are swinging gaily from the trees and perspiration is running down my chubby old face. Ah, those cool, September mornings, come quickly!

Eight of our local girls representing both bands in the Lake Forest School District are busy planning and packing this weekend for their week at Band Camp at West Chester State College in Pennsylvania. After five full days on practice fields and in specialty clinics, these girls will return to teach what they have learned to the other members of their respective squads.

The biggest part of next week, I will also be at Band Camp practicing and improving upon my skills as Flag Instructor. Please keep trying to get hold of me at 398-4102, or drop me a line at 125 Wolcott Street.

Brian Hendricks recently celebrated his second birthday. Along with his parents, Franklin & Janet Hendricks, those who helped him celebrate were: Mr. & Mrs. Marshall Anthony, Sr., Mrs. Mary Hendricks, Mr. & Mrs. Marshall Anthony, Jr., Mr. & Mrs. Robert Taylor and children, Beverly Hendricks, John Curtis, Jr., Ethel Statum, Paula and Elaine Zeitler. The next evening, Stephen Morrow of Milford and Brian had another celebration. Both boys were born the same day. Those in attendance were Mr. & Mrs. Doug Morrow and son Doug, and Mr. & Mrs. Franklin W. Hendricks. Both parties were held at the Hendricks' residence.

David Brobst, son of Melvin and Charlotte Brobst of Harrington, and wife Joani of Richmond were involved in a two car accident near LaPlata, MD on Friday evening. David escaped injury, but Joani received a cut on the head. She was released from the hospital.

Senior Center News

by Dorothy Graham

As you round the Bank corner and the temperature reads 84 and climbing - goodness me, it sure feels good when you hit the Senior Center, maybe it's getting out of the sun or a few degrees cooler, anyway, by the time Bible Study begins, it feels just great! Being with friends and chatting and if you like, a cup of coffee. Any way you look at it, Monday morning is brighter if you've gotten up, made your bed, washed the dishes, brushed the crumbs away and then you're ready to come to the Center. Some even do some wash. I'm not so industrious. Others pick beans, tomatoes, cukes, squash, etc. and bring it to the Center to share with others. Some of those are Florence, Dick, Irene and Velma. Thank you, kind folks. Singing and Bible Study with Sylvia and Mrs. Clare as usual just in case you got lost in the shuffle. The Jolly Timers really cut a rug with some of the oldies brought up to date. Surely sounds Gr-e-at. Catch them about 10:30 Tuesday morning at the Center. Stop by and listen. You will be happy you did. Played Bingo in the afternoon. Eliz Anthony called, real professional like.

Wednesday we did Birthday Bells and little vases of different shapes. In the afternoon there was visiting, dominoes, pool, and games of your choice.

Here comes Santa Claus, Here comes Santa Claus right down Harrington Senior Center way, now really, hold on, I'm okay, just trying to tell you that Thursday Mabel Jean Donovan brought in boxes and boxes of Mr. and Mrs. Santa's partially assembled for the ladies to put together. Honestly they are adorable.

Wish you could have seen the table, when you get the balls around Mrs. Santas skirt she looks so sassy and when she perches her "Leon Donovan" glasses on her cute little nose, well now, they are just down right precious! All spoken for all ready, so if you want any you will have to let us know. $15.00 a pair. Bowling at Milford Lanes.

"We must take more than we give"

"One thing's for sure, we are going to have to be willing to take more knocks than we give."

On that auspicious note, Jim Fleming is preparing for the coming football season at Lake Forest. In an interview with the Harrington Journal, Fleming seems to have mixed emotions about the job ahead.

"We are looking well in the skill positions, in fact we have more depth at the call handling positions than at any other times since I've been here," Fleming said. "We are knee deep in motor skills with boys who are just plain good athletes. This will be new for us, having this depth, as its something that has been lacking in our program for years. We always had good kids on the line but the hand-eye stuff was lacking."

Now what Fleming is losing sleep over is his linemen. Said the coach, "we have good, strong, quick boys, but absolutely no experienced depth. Just one injury on the line could really hurt us. Also, size will be a factor as we don't have anyone over 200 pounds and the teams we'll face go a lot larger than that on an average basis. Staying healthy with a good attitude will be the key for us on the line this year."

Fleming is expecting 35 participants to try out for the team when practice begins a few weeks. To Fleming, the preseason practice is all important. As with other sports at Lake Forest, distance could be a problem. "Our district is so far flung,

Fleming said, "its hard to get everyone together at the same time for the two-a-days. But there are going to have to play at all. We have but three weeks to get ready for the first game and we're going to have to make the best of it."

Fleming lost 8 regulars to graduation but probably the biggest blow was the loss of defensive and offensive standout and team leader Milton Justice. Defensive end Eugene Mc Bride also graduated and his shoes will be hard to fill. Otherwise, things look pretty good.

At quarterback, Fleming has the task of choosing between some very talented and experienced personnel. Senior Mark Smith will be returning along with Sophomore Billy Scott and junior Dave Hilton. Fleming refuses to be pinned down on who will get the starting nod saying only that things will be decided on the practice field. It should be quite a battle.

The offensive ends are already fairly well set. Returning from last year are starters Quinten Hendricks, Kenny Sudler and Jeff DeSheilds. Besides this awesome line up of experienced players Fleming will look at big and tall Bruce Tolson who will come up from the JV's along with Aaron Moore and Scott Thorton. Needless to say, Fleming is pleased with his talent prospects at the end position.

At running back, Lake Forest look good, Billy Scott and Jerry Fountain appear to have the inside track for a starting spot but they will receive heavy competition from Earnest Smith who played just 3 games last year but seems to have the potential, and Jeffery DeSheilds who started at defensive end last season. "We're looking good here," Fleming said.

The season will pivot on the line, just like last year. One injury will make a big difference as there seems to be little to back up a starting player. "We must jell into a solid team on that line or suffer accordingly," said the coach.

At tight end of offensive tackle, weighing 192 pounds, Fleming will the services of D. Rodgers, Jimmy Fleming will assume a role at the Guard Position. Fleming is expected to again go both ways this year.

Primarily defense last year but expected to offense this season is 190 pounds Roy Boehmer, A "greatly improved" Mike Kosiorowski will handle duties as a guard on the offensive line and Tony Loper will be there also, Loper, who broke a hand that put him out of action for more of the year, should be an asset if he's healthy.

That's the extent of Fleming's returnees this year but that is hardly the complete crop, oming up from the JV team are Greg Lewis and Bryan Moreau, both juniors. Also C.J. Gralenski, a senior who has not seen action since his sophomore year, will return. Fleming rests his future hopes on a large crop of young players.

This will be coach Fleming's 5th coachin year at Lake Forest. Previously the team, under his guidance, have had less than .500 years. If Fleming can keep his boys injury free and playing together as a unit, this year could see a change.

Parents and kids:

Athletic physicals for Lake Forest district students will be given on THURSDAY, August 9th beginning at 8 AM The cost is $3.

You must take this physical in order to play this school year.

Pick up a parent permission form at school before you go.

Parents must sign.

Justice to represent district

Milton Justice will be the lone representative of Lake Forest High School for the annual Blue-Gold All Star game. His most probably playing position for Saturday's will be defensive halfback.

Justice was selected first by his coach, Jim Fleming, then evaluated by other state coached through his game films. According to Lake Forest coach Fleming, "its a very big honor to be selected for the All-star team as it's a more critical evaluation. All State players are selected by the news media."

Justice made the 2nd team all-conference for his play last Fall and also won the conveted Mike Adams Award from Lake Forest for his determined play.

"Milton's greatest asset always was, and will probably continue to be, his attitude. He will give you 100 percent at all times no matter what the condition of the game happens to be. He's trying for you all the time," said coach Fleming.

"He was the leading tackler in the secondary last year for us", continued Fleming, "and always hit with power even though he doesn't have good size. Milton only goes 5 feet 9 inches tall and 145 pounds but he hits like a ton and he's always around the action. I'm sure this was why he received the attention of the coached choosing the all-star team."

Although Justice went both ways for the Spartans last season it seems doubtful if he will fill an offensive role on Saturday. "He runs well on offense but simply lacks the weight to back it up," Fleming said.

A million to participate in PP&K

More than a million young boys and girls are expected to crowd Ford dealer showrooms between Friday, August 17, and Friday, September 21, to register for the 19th annual Punt, Pass and Kick (PP&K) competition.

Sponsored by Ford Division and the Ford Dealers of America with the cooperation of the National Football League, PP&K is recognized by civic, governmental and professional sports leaders as the finest youth program of its kind in the United States.

"The competitive spirit of today's youth is reflected in the popularity of Punt, Pass and Kick," Walter S. Walla, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager, said. "In fact, PP&K is considered to be the most worthwhile youth activity of its kind by the National Football League and its 28 member clubs."

Since its inception in 1961, the program has drawn millions of youngsters into competition for trophies, an appearance on national television and an opportunity to have their names inscribed on the PP&K plaque at the Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio.

To register, youngsters between the ages of 8 and 13 should visit their local Ford dealer and be accompanied by a parent or guardian. A free

PP&K tips book is given to each entrant. There is no fee and contestants compete only against others their own ages. There is no body contact and no special equipment is needed. Scoring is based on distance and accuracy.

The Harrington Softball League wishes to announce a fall league.

LEGAL NOTICES

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE

IN AND FOR KENT COUNTY

IN THE MATTER OF: C.A. No. 1979

CARL BRIAN GREEN, minor. PETITION FOR CHANGE OF NAME

Petitioners, R. Jefferson Reed, Judith A. Reed, his wife, and Carl Brian Green, all of 45 Prestwick Court, Dover, Delaware, respectfully represent as follows:

1. Petitioners are bona fide residents of Kent County, State of Delaware.

2. Petitioner, Judith A. Reed, is the natural mother of Petitioner, Carl Brian Green, born July 24, 1965. Petitioner, R. Jefferson Reed, is the husband of Judith A. Reed, they having been lawfully married on August 7, 1971. The said minor child resides with Petitioners, R. Jefferson Reed and Judith A. Reed, his wife, at 45 Prestwick Court, Dover, Delaware 19901.

3. Petitioners desire to change the last name of Petitioner, Carl Brian Green, to Reed, the last name of his mother and her husband for the reasons hereinafter set forth:

a. Petitioner, Carl Brian Green, hereinafter referred to as "Carl", was born July 24, 1965, his natural mother being Petitioner, Judith A. Reed, and his natural father being Carl Joseph Green. At the time of Carl's birth, his mother was known as Judith A. Green, and was lawfully married to Carl Joseph Green.

b. On or about January 15, 1971, Carl Joseph Green and Judith A. Green were legally divorced and Carl continued to reside with his mother until the present time. Carl's mother was married to Petitioner, R. Jefferson Reed, on August 7, 1971 and Carl continued to live with his mother and her husband, R. Jefferson Reed.

c. From the time of the marriage of his mother to R. Jefferson Reed, Carl has used the last name of Reed and is generally known as Carl Brian Reed. His friends and classmates in school know him as Carl Reed, his public school and Sunday school teachers know him as Carl Reed, his doctors know him as Carl Reed and all of his records, including medical records, are in the name of Reed with the exception of his basic school records which list his last name as Green in conformity with his birth certificate.

d. The relationship between Carl and his natural father deteriorated greatly following the divorce of his natural parents, and continued to deteriorate after the remarriage of his mother to R. Jefferson Reed. Little if any visitation occurred without violent protest by Carl. In November, 1975 Carl Joseph Green filed a petition in the Family Court of the State of Delaware for the purpose of seeking a court order of visitation. Although visitation was ordered by the Court, the exercise of that visitation was quite difficult because of the reluctance of Carl to visit with his natural father. An agreement was reached between Carl's mother and natural father in April of 1976 which provided that Carl's father would be under no obligation to provide support for Carl and Carl would be under no obligation to visit with his father without the consent of Carl and his mother.

e. Since the agreement was reached between Carl's mother and natural father in April, 1976, Carl has not visited with his father nor had any contact with him to date. The present whereabouts of Carl's father, Carl Joseph Green, is unknown, his last known address being RD 6, Box 29, Dover, Delaware 19901.

f. For all practical purposes, Carl has adopted the name, Reed, as his last name, although legally his last name remains Green. Under the terms of the agreement between Carl's parents dated April, 1976, the lack of support and visitation cannot be deemed evidence of abandonment for the purpose of terminating the parental rights of Carl Joseph Green. That agreement, however, does not forbid the change of Carl's last name to Reed.

4. Petitioners are aware of no person who will be defrauded or prejudiced by the requested change of name, and Petitioners have no intention of so defrauding or prejudicing any person.

5. Petitioners desire to change the name of Petitioner, Carl Brian Green, to Carl Brian Reed.

WHEREFORE, Petitioners pray that an order of this Court may be made changing the name of Carl Brian Green to CARL BRIAN REED.

Memoriam

In loving memory of our son Richard F. Dennis, who went to live with GOD one year ago today. The Years have come and gone, When our Richard was well and strong. The happiness he spread around, His harty laughter knew no bounds. This wonderful fellow had so many friends, There is no need for us to cry,

All good things must surely end. The happiness we had to-gether Will always be a part, Of the great sadness, we now carry Deep within our hearts. So we will try not to feel bad That he has gone, on to Eternal rest, We mortals will never understand But GOD alone knew best. Sadly missed and loved Mother and Johnny

Save Money By Saving Energy

Effective Ways To Cut Lighting Costs

The following article is one in a series of articles appearing in the REAL ESTATE supplement on how consumers can save money at home, on the road and in the marketplace. Material for the series is taken from a publication of the U. S. Dept. of Energy, "Tips for Energy Savers."

This issue's article tells how to save money on lighting your home indoors and out.

INDOOR LIGHTING

It's easy to use more light than you need. More than 16 percent of the electricity we use in our homes goes into lighting. Most Americans overlight their homes, so lowering lighting levels is an easy conservation measure.

Turn off lights in any room not being used.

Light-zone your home and save electricity. Concentrate lighting in reading and working areas and where it's needed for safety (stairwells, for example). Reduce lighting in other areas, but avoid very sharp contrasts.

To reduce overall lighting in non-working spaces, remove one bulb out of three in multiple light fixtures and replace it with a burned-out bulb for safety. Replace other bulbs throughout the house with bulbs of the next lower wattage.

Consider installing solid state dimmers or hi-low switches when replacing light switches. They make it easy to reduce lighting intensity in a room and thus save energy.

Use one large bulb instead of several small ones in areas where bright light is needed.

Use long-life incandescent lamps only in hard-to-reach places. They are less energy efficient than ordinary bulbs. Need new lamps? Consider the advantages of those with three-way switches. They make it easy to keep lighting levels low when intense light is not necessary, and that saves electricity. Use the high switch only for reading or other activities that require brighter light.

but use less energy than the 40-watt bulbs that normally come with these lamps.

Use fluorescent lights whenever you can; they give out more lumens per watt. For example, a 40-watt fluorescent lamp gives off 80 lumens per watt and a 60-watt incandescent gives off only 14.7 lumens per watt.

The 40-watt fluorescent lamp would save about 140 watts of electricity over a 7-hour period. These savings, over a period of time, could more than pay for the fixtures you would need to use fluorescent lighting.

Consider fluorescent lighting for the kitchen, sink and countertop areas. These lights set under kitchen cabinets or over countertops are pleasant and energy efficient.

Fluorescent lighting also is effective for makeup and grooming areas. Use 20-watt deluxe warm white lamps for these areas.

Keep all lamps and lighting fixtures clean. Dirt absorbs light.

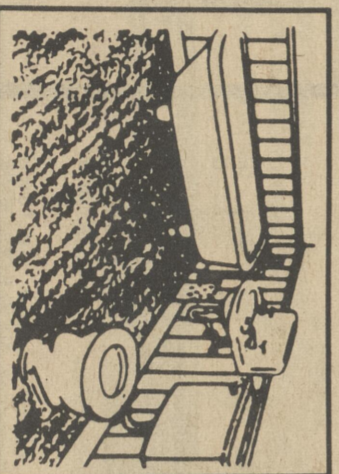

OUTDOOR LIGHTING

Have decorative outdoor gas lamps turned off, unless they are essential for safety, or convert them to electricity. Keeping just eight gas lamps burning year-round uses as much natural gas as it takes to heat an average-size home for a winter heating season.

By turning off one gas lamp, you might save from $40 to $50 a year in natural gas costs.

Flooring Patterns
Define Kitchen

by Barbara Hartung
 Copley News Service

Q. I'm planning some kitchen remodeling that will enclose a small adjoining porch and enlarge the kitchen's eating area by about 10 feet. I should have done this several years ago before I put down new vinyl floor covering. Now I can't match the vinyl and I'm wondering if it will look all right to have two different patterns. I'd really prefer just the one. — T.P.C.

A. One floor covering design would be preferable because it enlarges the look of the room and provides some continuity to the room addition. However, with the cost of vinyl floor covering, I'd think several times before ripping up good vinyl.

In fact, designer Emory Leesser recently advised clients who were remodeling a kitchen and had torn out a wall separating the kitchen from an unused pantry to give the family a larger, more convenient eating area. She intentionally used two different floor covering patterns — one a brick in the kitchen and the other a design taken from mineral forms and geodes giving a pebbly effect to the dining area.

She used the two to define the areas and accentuate the different activities that take place in the room.

Q. We have a rustic house that was once a mountain cabin. We have just added a knotty pine bedroom. The floor is covered in a dark gray woven carpeting.

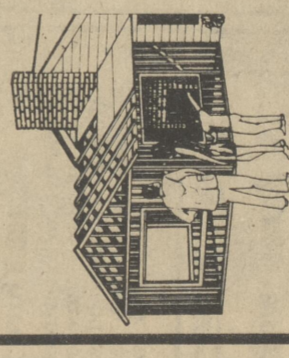

What would be best for the bedroom? Please suggest something easy so I can do it myself and not too expensive. We shot our budget on the room addition. — T.P.C.

A. Why don't you collect all the fabric bits you can find and do yourself a brightly colored quilt. Since you chose knotty pine for your walls, I would imagine you want an informal and rather rustic look.

If you've never made a quilt before, go to your public library and find an easy how-to book (there are dozens available in bookstores). Use large squares of fabric and don't attempt anything too fancy for your first try. Any color combination of bright prints, stripes and plain fabric could add to your room and look appropriate.
