Finally, a traffic signal at Road 284

Efforts to have a traffic signal installed at the intersection of U.S. 13 and Road 284 (the Killens Pond Road) have apparently paid off. Installation of the signal began last Friday, and by yesterday a flashing yellow and red beacon was in operation. According to an official in the Division of Highways in the Delaware Department of Transportation the equipment installed may be changed or expanded later to include a manually operated stop and go light. This added feature could be stitched on for peak traffic periods.

Safety at the intersection where a heavy volume of Lake Forest High School traffic flows into Delaware's major north-south artery twice a day has been a concern of area residents for some time.

Whether or not the manual stop and go feature can be added my depend upon the answer to the question of who has the authority to operate such a signal and who would assume responsibility in the event of any problem. Lake Forest Superintendent, with the blessings of Kent County Levy Court, had plans to hire a custodian whose duties would include the operation of the signal. But officials in the Department of transportation are not sure this can be done.

Getting the signal has taken almost a year of effort. But William Cline figures a year in beaurocratic time-tables really isn't a lot of time.

On October 18, 1978, Cline wrote to Kent County Levy Court expressing the district's concern for the safety of buses, individual students, faculty and staff who must navigate the intersection twice each day. Cline cited a fatality which took the lives of three young men from Felton in June of 1976, as well as a number of fender benders which have occurred at the intersection. The fatality did not happen when school was in session. Cline asked for support in having the intersection investigated and getting a flashing yellow light installed. Similar letters were directed to state Mner and Ronald Darling.

In November Cline received word from R.D. Bewick, Jr., then Deputy Director of Delaware's Department of Transportation saying an investigation had revealed too low a volume of traffic for a regular flashing beacon. Bewick noted the peak periods before and after school as well as such events as football games. He said what was needed was a flashing beacon school signal that could be manually operated as a stop and go signal for the peak periods. The Deputy Director further told Cline the equipment would be installed as soon as it could be obtained.

The remaining problem, according to Bewick, was that Kent County does not have the authority to hire someone to operate such a signal. New Castle County police have long had state granted permission to function as crossing guards and operate such signals. But no similar authority had been granted in Kent County. Bewick thought it would require a change in the law for the County to get that authority.

As the Journal went to press, the red light signal was in operation as a warning, particularly to those who might ignore the stop signs on Road 284. But when and whether any further regulation of traffic at the intersection could be accomplished was still up in the air.

Indecision or an instants wrong decision could turn an everyday situation into a tragedy. Situations like this occur everyday as traffic from the Lake Forest High School meets busy U.S. 13. Installation of a flashing signal at the intersection may help alleviate the problem. But until the school district, the county or someone gets authority to operate a stop and go light during peak traffic periods, safety at the junction of U.S. 13 and Road 284 will continue to be a concern.

After 20 years, water rates rise in Felton

Felton water rates are going up. The Town Council hasn't decided when or how much. But it's definitely in the offing.

Saying the water charges had not changed in the past twenty years, Felton Mayor William Myers last week instructed Council members to come up with some suggestions for the amount of increase and how it is to be effected. The Council was to meet again on Monday, September 8, to work out some concrete proposals.

Water charges in Felton are based on the number of faucets as a residence or business. They also vary according to the type of use - kitchen, outdoors, washer.

Trash Complaint-

Feltonians who contrive to get their trash picked up without paying for it are a source of irritation to their neighbors. One of those neighbors came to the Felton Council last week to complain. The trash pick up system in Felton is on an elective basis. Those who elect to pay get the service; those who choose not to, don't. However, some residents who said they preferred to haul their own trash are hauling it to their neighbors houses. They leave their refuse at other people's pick up locations or deposit it in town or fire company containers. Sometimes town containers get so full of household trash there is no room for street litter.

Mayor Myers said it was apparent within six months of the time the town adopted the elective system that it was a mistake. Whether or not the town may move in the direction of making trash collection mandatory was unclear. But the Council could decide to try that if complaints continue and the situation remains.

Felton residents currently receiving the trash service pay $7.50 per quarter, or $2.50 a month. In other business

-it was reported at the Council meeting that the State Fire Marshall office has told Gary Gay he cannot operate an auto body shop in one of the buildings of his property on High Street. The Felton Council had asked for an investigation after a neighbor, Richard Jenner, complained of dust and fumes coming from the shop.

Mayor Meyers reported that Simpson Lumber Company was still the only bidder that seemed willing and able to do the restoration work on the windows and doors of the old railroad station the town has purchased. The bid has not yet been awarded.

-The Council heard that drawings for the sewer system approved last winter are about 80% complete. Work will probably not begin before spring.

2 fires in Felton, one dead

There were two fires in Felton last week, one that claimed the life of a resident and one that leveled a home. The fire that claimed the life was accidental, due to a stove blaze, but the other one was firebombed.

Cornelius Hurd, Jr., 52, died when a kitchen fire swept through his trailer located on Route 282. According to state police reports, Hurd was cooking dinner when he apparently fell asleep. The fire quickly spread through the home. The Felton Fire Company responded and doused the blaze. On Monday night, Walter C. Jackson was arrested by state police after a firebombing near Mint Plymouth at the home of Lillian V. Harris. Charges have not yet been brought against Jackson. Harris' home was destroyed after a gasoline bomb was thrown through a window. Police were led to Jackson, Harris' ex-boyfriend, through a gas leak that burned Jackson's leg. He was treated at Kent General.

A gas line leak was reported by the Harrington Police Department on October 2nd in the Dorman Street area of Harrington. According to the police, Patrolman Paul Yanucci was notified by residents that gas could be smelled on Dorman Street. Both Yanucci and members of the Harrington Fire Company responded and the source of the gas was found. It had been caused by a sheared valve off the line leading to a Dorman Street residence. The Fire Company plugged the leak until the gas company could repair it. There was no property loss or injury reported.

On October 6th, Ralph F. Dayton, 24, of Georgetown was arrested by Patrolman Twilley of the Harrington Police after Dayton allegedly broke a plate glass window at the Salvation Army Store on Commerce Street. Dayton was charged with criminal

Frederica to get special meeting

Frederica, plagued at intervals by unpleasant odors many of its residents claim originate at the county sewer treatment plant nearby, will have a chance to confront Kent County officials next Monday night. A special public meeting to discuss the problem has been set for October 15, at the Milford High School at 7:30 p.m. The town council officially learned of the date at its own regular meeting last Wednesday.

Although many residents have complained of the odors which are still strong when the wind is in the right - or wrong direction, the Town Council has taken no official action.

Proudly - The Lake Forest High School Marching Band paraded up Commerce Street as the Class of '80 opened the second annual street fair in Harrington. The days events, which started with a parade concluded with a street dance Saturday night.

Two choices in Houston

There were two choices facing the voters in Houston last week. The town could either keep a plot of land it currently owns, or purchase a site now owned by the Penn Central Railroad which would necessitate selling the original plot. In results made official by a vote of the town council last Thursday, Houston will keep its owned site and let Penn Central find another buyer.

The actual election process was held days before the council meeting. According to Mayor Bill Dougherty, the community was advised of the referendum by distribution of flyers and publicity on the radio. Still, some residents obviously felt there was an irregularity. "I have no idea who made the complaint," said the Mayor. "Each town has a different procedure for holding a public vote that they define by charter or ordinance, we have neither but we did publicize the election adequately. I just hope that this issue is now dead and the town's image isn't adversely effected," Dougherty said. A complaint was lodged by a citizen to the attorney general's office.

The purpose of the proposed Penn Central property, located next to the fire station on Broad Street, was for a new town hall. The Houston Council currently meets publicly in the Methodist Church while holding business meetings in the fire hall.

"I had been in favor of the purchase plan," said Dougherty, "but I have mixed sympathy. I do feel the new site would have been in a better location and we would have a better situation but now we'll just keep what we have."

The Harrington Volunteer Fire Company responded to a blaze of suspicious nature Monday. The fire, which erupted about 6p.m. in the drop box at the Salvation Army store in Harrington was quickly brought under control.

Woodbridge board agrees to a referendum

The Woodbridge School Board Monday night gave its blessing to plans to conduct a public referendum in the spring. Raising taxes to bring more money to the financially pinched district is at issue. A referendum committee which has included many board members as well as concerned parents and district administrators has met on a number of occasions over the past months to discuss the problem and the possibilities.

District Superintendent, Dr. William Griffin suggested a plan for dividing the Referendum Committee itself into five sub-committees to work on specific areas of preparation for the referendum. He suggested a Board member as the chairperson of each sub-committee. The Board, however, chose to leave the organization to the Referendum Committee to decide.

-Griffin Pleased With CAT Results-

Following Bridgeville Elementary Principal David Winski's report on California Achievement Tests (CAT) given in the district last spring, Dr. Griffin called for compliments to the faculty. Dr. Griffin pointed out a comparison of the spring scores with those of the fall of 1978 showed an increase in 31 out of 34 sets.

He said 32 of the 34 sets of scores were at or above the national average. Griffin said the faculty, working often at a handicap because of funding problems, deserved a "pat on the back".

Board members seemed to agree. However, long term member William Tull was concerned that the comparison scores be graphed or presented in such a way that parents and others could more clearly understand the results.

-Teachers To Get 30 Minutes-

Dr. Griffin reported to the Board and to a number of teachers who attended the meeting that somewhere, somehow, elementary teaching schedules will be arranged to include the 30 minutes of duty free time each day to which the law entitles them. Since the district cannot afford to hire special teachers for art or gym or playground or cafeteria aides, it is not clear how this can be accomplished. One teacher present made a plea for granting the time for her fellow workers "...not begrudgingly, but because they deserve it."

William Tull agreed, saying that faculty, administration and board have a common purpose.

In other business the Woodbridge School Board meeting in the conference room in recently completed district offices:

-heard the final unit count for the district for the 1979-1980 school year is 97. This means, said Dr. Griffin, all teachers will be paid on state salaries. None will have to be carried by local funds.

-heard the district has received a planetarium as a gift of the Capitol School District which has installed a larger model at its William Henry Middle School. The fifteen foot (in diameter) planetarium will be installed on a corner of the stage at Woodbridge High School. Teachers and staff members will be making the installation.

-heard from Dr. Griffin that Lake Forest and Woodbridge have finally met and may be making some progress toward settling the boundary dispute between the two districts. Griffin was authorized to ask for a 30 day extension of the time allotted for settling the matter.

Harrington Fire Company to host safety seminar

The Harrington Volunteer Fire Company, in conjunction with the HVFC Fire Prevention Committee, have scheduled a seminar on October 15th to advise the public on wood stove safety. All aspects of wood stove use, maintenance, construction and installation will be discussed. There is no admission charge and the seminar will begin at 7 p.m.

Trooper First Class Ronald B. Thompson, of Troop 3 in Camden, was presented the Superintendent's Citation by Colonel Norman V. Cochran, Superintendent of the Delaware State Police, Wednesday morning after being credited with saving the life of a Felton man. Tfc. Thompson, 27, of Felton, was on vacation on Tuesday, August 14th, as he was driving on U.S. Rt. 13. It was 2:00 in the afternoon when he observed smoke coming from a house trailer a mile north of Felton.

As Thompson approached the trailer, he met a neighbor who advised that a man was believed to be inside. Banging at the door and yelling brought no response from inside, so the trooper crawled into the trailer through a window. Patrick J. Powell, 48, of RD 2, Felton, was found unconscious on the kitchen floor.

Once the man was removed from the trailer, Thompson went back inside and found a pan of cooking oil aflame on the stove. When the fire was smothered and the trailer aired out, Thompson went back outside to check on Powell. Powell refused medical attention.

Tfc. Thompson has been a member of the Delaware State Police since June, 1973. He was promoted to the rank of Trooper First Class in May of this year.

"...patience is a virtue...wait until all the facts are in."
Two weeks ago at a Harrington Council meeting, Councilman, Dr. Vincent Lobo, on his motion had deleted from the minutes a section of the meeting in which a certain portion was directed at him in an unfair way. It was the type of thing which was more opinion than it was truth or fact. Some have thought his action was something designed to protect him or in the alternative to hide something. It was not as such, and Dr. Lobo was right and justified in doing what he did. It was tantamount to asking for "...corrections or additions to the minutes as read". Since the matter was opinion and conjecture, he was within his rights as any Council member would be right in correcting the minutes "...if it was necessary to correct". It was a very small item which some have tried to make bigger than was in actuality.

In 1793 the first American daily paper, the Pennsylvania Evening Post and Daily Advertiser appeared in Philadelphia.

Jamaica? Tahiti? - With warm blue water and soft music, all it lacks is a few palm leaves according to Lake Forest Aquatic Coordinator Dennis Berry. The perspective from the diving board seems to invite visitors to "drop in" [literally]. Saying a pool without people is little more than a pond, Berry urged guests at Lake Forest's open house last Sunday to join the pool's community program. Visitors were also treated to a look at the spacious new auditorium and other recently completed facilities at Lake Forest High School.

In My Opinion

By Bruce Levy

I didn't plan this editorial this week, in fact I had written another one for publication which now sits in a basket on my desk. While attending the Lake Forest football game on Friday night at Caesar Rodney, I saw something that needed attention in this space.

It was Caesar Rodney's homecoming on Friday and the band was out in full force. I watched with interest, as I'm into all kinds of music, but my attention was soon diverted to the flag corp.

There were approximately twenty colorful flags being waved by the uniformed students as the band marched across the playing field. It was quite a flashy show and speaks well of the music program at the Dover school, obviously the music teachers had spent a lot of time on the music and the students went through their paces without a flaw.

But as I eyed the festivities in front of me, I saw a symbol of a long gone era, an era in American history that is best laid to rest. One student was proudly waving the Confederate flag.

The Civil War was fought a century ago. The main issue in that was undoubtedly economic, slavery was essentially a side issue, but ask just about any person in any town and they'll say it was a war to keep or abolish slavery. The image of the Confederate flag is an image of race. It's probably safe to assume that a person displaying this symbol wishes the war had been won by the South. Maybe that's an unfair statement but I don't think so. Taken a step further, a Confederate flag display is probably a not too well hidden statement on the individual's general lack of regard for the rights, hopes and dignity of this country's black population.

Displayed by a private citizen, the Confederate flag should attract no attention. We are all free to believe what we wish and say it for all the world to hear. I have no problem with that, it you don't like potatoes, Fords, taxes, blacks, whites or President Carter that's your right under the Constitution. Say it and say it loud, that's what keeps us free in the long run.

But a school operating on public funds is an entirely different story. It is the obligation of that school to avoid all overtones of discrimination, both real and implied. The Confederate flag should not be waved as part of a school band's presentation. A private school certainly has the right to do such a thing, that's private money. But as long as Caesar Rodney is operating its band on my tax dollars, I don't want to see it.

People wonder why the races can't come together in this country. As long as we are teaching our children the validity of discrimination, it will always remain the problem that it is.

Thoughts

From Dover

By Gov. Pierre S. Dupont

Our effort to strengthen public education in Delaware is a continuous challenge. All of us share the concern that public education may not be training our young people to read and write sufficiently to compete in this increasingly complex world. That is why Delaware is beginning a competency-based education program, otherwise known as Goal-Directed and Performance-Based Education, in each of the State's public schools.

This represents an important step in our effort to improve public education. This requirement will significantly impact education and graduation from Delaware high schools beginning in June, 1981, when every Senior must demonstrate basic skills, knowledge, and competencies in order to receive a Delaware high school diploma.

Sometimes the system is called competency-based education; sometimes minimum competency testing; teach for survival; sometimes performance-based and goal-direction education. Whatever term is used, however, what is being described is a system of learning designed to ensure that every Delaware high school graduate possesses certain basic skills essential to being a productive employee and responsible adult in our complicated society.

This plan represents the response of the State and educators to the deep public concern of parents and alarm of the business community that standards have been declining in education, and that too many young people do not possess even basic skills. Many may graduate, but how many young people can read and write adequately?

I am sure that competency-based education is not a final solution to the problems of education, but I recognize it is a very serious attempt to define basic skills and to ensure in a concrete manner that every high school graduate possesses those skills.

These standards that each student must meet does not mean that those students who can or want to achieve a higher level of competency will not be encouraged to do so. On the contrary, each student in our schools will be encouraged to develop their analytical skills. Each student must meet certain requirements, but each student should and will be urged to expand his or her horizons.

To make minimum standards worthwhile, it will take the support of not only the government and the education community, but also of parents and citizens. Your help in this effort for the 1980's is appreciated.

Letters to the editor

Dear Editor,

In regards to a recent article in your paper entitled, "Parents Question Bus Stop Safety", we, as the parents of school age children, would first like to thank you for the response due to the article itself.

We sincerely hope it has made parents aware of the responsibility forced upon them because of the State distance requirement.

We have continued taking action since the negative response from the Lake Forest School Board meeting Monday, September 24.

By exercising our parental responsibility we are showing our concern for the safety of all school age children.

Anyone interested in more information about our problems or offering their support can call Linda Ellingsworth at 284-9413 or Donna Hrupsa at 284-3374. We would appreciate any response.

Very truly yours,

Dolly Torres, Linda Ellingsworth, Donna Hrupsa, Diana White, Rebecca Layton and Betty White

Construction Begins on Senior Complex

Groundbreaking ceremonies on September 28 signaled the beginning of construction on Marydale, a 108-unit Catholic Diocese of Wilmington sponsored housing community for senior citizens on Salem Church Road near Newark, Delaware.

The Most Reverend Thomas J. Mardaga blessed the 18 acre site and turned over the first shovel full of earth which marked the beginning of construction for 28 buildings designed to house seniors with moderate incomes. Persons attending the brief ceremony represented the Catholic Diocese and the Catholic Ministry for the Elderly, Inc. sponsor of the project and the builder and developer.

Marydale is adjacent to the Jeanne Judgan Residence administered by the Little Sisters of the Poor. Bricks and mortar financing of the project is coming from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development which, in the fall of 1977, approved a loan of $2,382,000 for construction. HUD later revised that figure and raised the loan to $3,101,134. In addition, the same government agency is backing a subsidized rental program for occupants whose annual income is below certain specified limits.

For Your Information

Dear friends,

An elderly woman was fingering a knotted string. "Oh, this string is just the dearest thing to me. My grandmother taught me when I was a little girl to get a new string on each birthday. And then when something good happens, when God smiles on your life, you tie a knot in your string. Then when the days are dark and lonely, when despair is very real, you get out your string and remember the good times. Then the pain isn't so bad."

Respectfully,

William C. Berry, Jr.

Kent County officials responsible for the operation of the sewer plant have been reluctant to admit the county facilities have anything to do with the problem. County Engineer Walter Fritz recently said there have been "no unusual condition" since a period in May when excess storm water overloaded the system.

-Hud Progress-
In efforts to upgrade its water system and improve its streets, Frederica has reached the pre-application stage in a quest for two separate HUD grants. The pre-application is due October 15. The town hopes to get one grant to sandblast and paint the water tower, inside and outside. It is also seeking federal funds to widen and improve drainage on Jackson and Thomas Streets.

Councilman Dan Griffith told his fellow council members last Wednesday that individuals, citizens and concerned groups can help by writing letters of support. These should be addressed to the Mayor and Council and should be forwarded immediately. Monday is the pre-application deadline.

Two required public hearings on the proposed water and street improvements have already been held. The firm of Edward H. Richardson Associates is assisting in gathering information for the applications.

-Trick or Treat Night-
The Town Council set Halloween night, Wednesday, October 31, as Trick or Treat night in Frederica. The hours will be from 7 to 9 p.m. There will be no mischief night.

Strong aerial attack stops Lake Forest

Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

A cold night, the first of the year, and the aerial attack by the Riders of CR sent a chill through the stands where loyal LF Spartans remained to the end which ended in CR's favor 28-16. The Spartans are now 0 and 4.

CR controlled the first half of play piling up 22 points to lead at the half 22 to 0. During the first half of play, CR kept their game plan with the basics as they sent their backs either diving into the line or throwing to their backs coming out of the backfield. It seemed that the Spartans had their backs to the goal line many times during the first half. Early in the first quarter, LF started a drive on the CR 30 after holding the Riders.

Quarterback Mark Smith was intercepted by Jimmy Royston on the first play. The Spartan's got the ball back after a series of plays by CR which again saw the Spartan's hold the Riders, a team considerably weaker than CR teams in the past. The Spartan's took over on the CR 40 yard line, and on a quick hand off from Mk Smith to Kenny Thorpe the ball got loose and CR recovered. After that it seemed like a curtain was brought down on the Spartan's, who never threatened for the remainder of the game until there wasn't enough time left for LF to mount an offensive. Mark Smith ran 57 yards for touchdown with about ten seconds

Smith was brilliant in an otherwise dull game for Spartan fans. Smith had about ten passes go incomplete that were capable of being caught. Smith finally connected with Kenny Sudler on a 38 yard pass play against CR's first team. In both scoring plays by Lake Forest, Smith connected on two points each time with a pass to DeShields and Kenny Sudler.

The Spartan defense stiffened in the second half as did the temperature of the night and did their usual superb job of holding their opponents. Next week the Spartan's meet Smyrna at home.

Spartans 5th in 19 team race

by Keith S. Burgess

The Eighth Annual Salisbury State College Invitational High School Cross-Country Meet was held last week with 19 schools from three states.

Lake Forest's fifth place finish, on the surface, would appear to be a good outing, until one remembers, that in seven previous years the locals were never worse than third at Salisbury. In 1978, Lake Forest and Woodbridge shared the team title.

Lake Forest's Chuck Tozer under normal circumstances would have been expected to be in the top five of the 133 starters. But shin splints, a recurring ailment that sidelined him much of his junior year at Millville, NJ have returned to plague the slender Spartan senior. Tozer managed a very respectable 16th just ahead of teammate Billy Mitchell who is on the comeback trail after earlier ailments.

The only other Spartans to run up to par were Jay Howerin and Maurice Coverdale. However, the field was so evenly balanced that it's doubtful that Lake Forest could have caught either winner Christiana or runnerup Wicomico High under any circumstances.

Wicomico High is the first Salisbury school to finish in the top three and earn a trophy in the meets nine year history. J.M. Bennett and host Parkside are the other Salisbury schools in the jaynee test. Manny Hernandez, running injured, showed great courage and moved up from tenth to eighth over the last mile of the three-mile test. George Barnett was sixth and Sam Lamphier second in this race, in 1978, picked up a sand burr while running sans shoes and finished close behind Hernandez. A jaynee team finish isn't available at this writing but Lake Forest is one of the top contenders.

Harriers edge Dover, win unbeaten battle

Lake Forest's cross-country Spartans, coached by Jim Blades, defeated a third straight strong rival by edging Dover 27-29 at Dover last week.

Dover's course is a tough one with a narrow, rooty trail. This makes it more difficult than usual on a visiting team which cannot know the terrain well enough to pick the proper spots to speed up, slow down, pass, etc. Chuck Tozer of Lake Forest was duelling Dovers tough Steve Pickering on even terms until Tozer ricocheted off a tree. The Spartan lost individual honors by only two seconds despite the mishap. One of the local jaycees also ran into a tree in the second race.

Billy McHell appears to be recovering from a pair of ailments that had slowed him earlier. The Spartan senior was third, followed by Jay Howerin in fourth. Doug Caskey (6th) and freshman, James Lofland (9th), gave Lake Forest the narrow victory although Maurice Coverdale's 10th place finish would have given the Spartans the win if Lofland had not done so well.

Dale Jarrell, George Barnett and Manny Hernandez were only six seconds apart, some twenty seconds behind Coverdale. Sam Lamphier

Spartans take one sided Seaford game

by Bruce Levy

If you were worried about Dave Buck's sleepless nights, you'll be pleased to know that he slept like a rock all week. Buck had battled insomnia over his Lake Forest soccer team's two close losses a week ago, but the Spartan's bounced back in their only game of the week by beating a young but talented Seaford squad by a 5-2 score on Tuesday.

Said Buck, "We definitely played a much better game. We were up for it and the team concept was there."

Continued the coach, "For sure this was not our best game, we lacked a bit of 'fine tuning' but I was happy with what I saw. Seaford is an inexperienced team and not that aggressive and maybe we could have done more but I'm not complaining. They had a very good goalie who made quite a few nice saves for them."

"I think we did pretty well scoring wise, in fact I think we scored more goals than anybody has against them this year," Buck said.

Lake Forest has had to rely heavily this season on the scoring ability of Bobby Collier, king of the unassisted goal. But against Seaford, Buck had the pleasure of seeing three players involved in the scoring effort.

With a strong wind blowing in their favor, the Spartans controlled the ball through the first half. Lake Forest scored in the first half to take a 1-0 lead but missed on many opportunities thereafter. Seaford managed to get close to a score during the first half but the stingy Lake Forest defense kept the lid on to allow the Spartans to be ahead by one at the half.

Things changed a bit in the second half as the Blue Jays took advantage of the stiff breeze. Tim Peterson, a Seaford standout on offense, shot a bullet from 30 yards out that drilled the net for a tying score. "We had scouted Peterson earlier," Buck said, "and knew he could shoot. We knew he had a powerful right foot shot and attempted to block him out but his shot was just too good, almost impossible to defend. It hit the corner at that perfect angle."

Like a few teams have discovered this season, arousing the Spartan's can work against you. This time was no different as Peterson's goal only motivated Lake Forest as play began to look a little sharper. Ten minutes later, John Way beat a line of Seaford defenders and put in an unassisted goal for the go-ahead score. Way actually had a little help from a Seaford player who got his head into the act and guided the ball into the net.

"At that point," Buck said, "they let down and we really got up."

Two minutes later Bobby Collier charged through the Seaford line and put in goal number three to allow the Spartans to go up 3-1.

A few minutes later it was Mk Mer with an assist by John Way to make it 4-1.

And a few minutes after that Way hit Collier close to the goal and Collier made it 5-1.

Then with 1:17 left in the soccer game, a questionable call by a ref 50 yards off the play called tripping. This allowed Seaford to take a penalty shot which hit the corner for a score with seconds left.

Commented Buck, "I was a little concerned before the game because we had played on Saturday night. But everyone seemed rested and like I said earlier, we played a good team game. If we are up, we can win."

Sheri Coburn is most unusual.....

Lake Forest sophomore Sherri Coburn is a most unusual young lady. She has been running on the boys cross-country team for four years now and is able to beat many members of the opposite sex.

When she runs against her peers she is naturally much more competitive. At the Salisbury State College Invitational High School Cross Country Meet held last week there were three trophies set aside for the first three finishers of the feminine gender.

With some 40 to 50 girls in the race from three states the awards were hard to come by but Sherri finished second behind a Salisbury girl who had the home course advantage.

Coburn also evened the score with Noreen Mer, her friendly rival from Dover. Mer was third. The 1979 Coburn - Mer rivalry now stands at 2-2.

Sherri shattered the Lake Forest 1500 meter record last spring as she was the Spartan girls track team top scorer.

won the jaycee race as Dover had only one finisher in the top ten. Bob Aycoth and improving Tom Silkworth were second and 4th respectively followed by John Green, Ken Kline, Me Hernandez, Larry Guessford, Chris Caskey and Sherri Coburn who rounded out the top ten finishers. Lafayette Bell nosed jDanny Haines by two seconds for the W.T. Chipman 7th-8th grade team. Both are excellent prospects. Haines especially is rated as a comer as he is a year or more younger than the No. 1 harrier. Other Chipman finishers on the wet layout were Keith Chandler, Ken Hutchins, John Caskey and Me Cole. The varsity Spartans are 3-0 at this writing and can take a giant step toward winning the Henlopen dual meet championship if they can get by unbeaten Smyrna in their next outing. The Eagles are the strongest team left on the local schedule.

Herve Filion scheduled for Harrington...

Herve Filion, regarded as one of the greatest all-time drivers in the history of harness racing, has been scheduled to race at Harrington Raceway on Sunday, October 14th. Although this is not the first time that Filion has made an appearance at the Harrington oval, it is the first in many years.

Few drivers have a stronger desire to succeed and set new driving records than the accomplished Filion. By scoring triple wins on September 8, 1975, at Atlantic City, Herve became the winningest driver of all-time, surpassing the record of Germany's Hans Fromming. He's now over the 7,000 mark and shows no signs of slowing down.

So far in 1979, Filion again leads all North American drivers in wins and earnings. As of September 20th of this year, he had made it to the winners circle 304 times and had purse earnings near the $3-million mark. The man dominates both categories with regularity.

At age 35, he became the youngest (by far) member ever elected to the U.S. Harness Writers Hall of Fame.

He was inducted in 1975. Probably one of his biggest accomplishments though, and aside from winning driving titles with precise regularity, was back in 1971 when he engineered the upset of the great Albatross by a horse called Nansemond in the Little Brown Jug - the classic of harness racing.

And if 1971's victory with Nansemond was rewarding, how much sweeter was this year's victory with the World Champion, Hot Hitter? Now with a syndication value of $10-million, Hot Hitter's win in the "Jug" sent his 1979 earnings to over $710,000, making him the leading single season money earner of all-time. Filion proclaimed Hot Hitter as "the greatest horse I've ever driven or will ever drive".

Harrington officials expect Filion's appearance to generate a large crowd and hope to persuade him back to the Franklin Milby Memorial Pace scheduled for October 21st. Last year's race equalled the Season's Champion mark for aged mares on a half-mile track and set a new track record when Missouri Time went the distance in a blistering 1.58 flat.

HOME BUYER

Whose Right?

By William J. McAuliffe, Jr.
A home is the largest and potentially the most complex purchase that most of us ever experience. Unlike buying a car, where involvement probably is limited to you and the dealer, the purchase of a home may concern many rights and interests in the property claimed by different individuals and entities. These tend to accumulate over the years as a piece of real estate is transferred to successive owners.

After purchasing a home in a loan foreclosure sale, the buyers were startled to find upon arrival at the residence that the previous owners still occupied the property and refused to move. The occupants filed a petition in court claiming that they had not been served with a summons in the foreclosure and alleged that the sale therefore did not affect them.

The perplexed buyers had obtained owner's title insurance in their real estate purchase, and turned to the insuring title company for help. Legal proceedings were initiated by the title company to remove the previous owners from the property, and the buyers then were able to move in. Expenses for affirming the rights of the buyers were paid by the title company under its owner's policy.

For free information on things to consider in home buying, write American Land Title Association, Box 566, Washington, D.C. 20044.

You speak of action and young people, well honey, let me tell you, wish you could have been here and seen the backpacks and suit cases as thirty-one members prepared to go to Camp Arrowhead. Everyone was so elated. Gladys Hill had made a big box of fudge and bonbons to take along. Tasty, you bet! The members reported a grand and glorious time! Good food, good time, good friends! Music, singing, dancing, crafts, scavenger hunt, cleaning and fishing. They caught a small shark, took its picture and thru it back.

Bible study with Mrs. Judi as leader was a discussion on "Sin", Justification and Sanctification. Singing was excellent and joyful. Most of the members watched the "Pope" arrive. He seems to have made a good impression on the people of the United States.

The exercises with Dorothy were fun and did rid you of a few kinks, it's one-two-three-four and away we go! The Mens Chorus grows better day by day.

Report from Hickory Ridge Congregational Methodist Church: Quite a few of our people are ill. We especially missed our Assistant Pastor and song leader, Brother Jerry, who was ill at home. Mrs. Mabel Farrow, Marie Brittingham, and Catherine Hitchens have been out several weeks due to broken bones in their legs. Last Thursday Mrs. Edna Sharp had the misfortune to fall in her home which necessitated surgery to replace her knee cap.

Others at Milford Hospital are Catherine Conaway, Flora Snyder, Nelson Jones, Nelson Wells, Bryan Paswakers (grandson of Elwood and Helen Webb), Mr. Clyde Byrd is recuperating at home following surgery.

Due to illness the special singing group we had hoped to have on Sunday could not attend.

Please pray for our Missionary Conference and plan to be present for the services each evening, October 3 at 7:30 except on Sunday when it will be 7 p.m. Our speakers will be Bill and Georgia Fox who have been accepted as missionaries to Kenya, Africa.

Also speaking will be Miss Florence Tingle, who spoke to our church in 1974 while she was on furlough. In 1978 she moved to Mexico to serve as a teacher in the Life and Truth Bible Institute there.

Mrs. L. Belle Allen has returned home after a vacation spent in the beautiful land of Hawaii.

Mrs. Delena Smith was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bowman at the Dutch Inn in Laurel, Saturday guests of Mrs. Anne

"Popes" visit to Washington while those at the Center kept busy too - making turkeys from pine cones for table decorations, serving lunch which was delectable and Bingo finished a most interesting and busy day. Some of our members (Anabel Morrow) reported that on Saturday, September 29, 1979, Governor DuPont proclaimed it Governors Day for Senior Citizens and invited them to visit the mansion at Dover. If you did, you received a red or white carnation, hostesses were all over the place, some where in costume, some in regular and formal clothes to direct you around. A tent was erected to house a band and accommodate a square dance. Also in the house was refreshments of punch and fancy cakes. Anabel was pleasantly surprised to find that so much land belonged to the mansion and was so beautifully landscaped and flowers plentiful and gorgeous.

Joyce Carrier and Gene Hobbs have been doing volunteer ceramic work and are we lucky. Thank you girls so much.

Household hints from Shirley

This week I'm going to devote my article to tips on organization in small or large homes. If you like to cook and have several well used recipes, just print them on a large window shade and hang in a convenient place: from the bottom of a wall cabinet in front of your baking area. Hang small utensils from its own cup hook screwed to the bottom of kitchen shelves above there is usually wasted space where the dishes and canned goods. Those that can't be hung are carefully divided into groups of two or three in compartmentalized drawers.

It's easier to keep a kitchen organized if drawers are sectioned with plastic dividers or drawer trays. Plastic stacking shelves create additional storage space in tall wall cabinets and closets. A set of small shot glasses, empty egg cartons, the tops and bottoms of cheese boxes, (large and small) glass jars, plastic margarine tubs are put to use storing small items macaroni, dried beans, rice, tea bags, raisins, brown sugar, garlic cloves, canisters of flour, sugar, coffee, tea can be put out of sight, if not used daily for items that are used regularly. Under the sink plastic stacking shelves or milk delivery crate to create extra shelf space. Remember your goal is not to be perfect, but to get things under control. To do this you must first define the problem, sit down, put on paper just what's bothering you about your storage in the kitchen. Is it cluttered, things in inconvenient places, trouble in finding the proper ingredients, the right gadgets? Do you really want to solve the problem? Once these questions are answered it's easy to find a system for dealing with whatever is wrong.

Don't bring your other plants inside yet

by Viola Anthony

Everyone's violets are in full bloom or bud, right? This is a favorite growing season for African Violets. They have cooled off from the summer heat and so far the humidity has been high. They like those growing conditions.

Another favorite growing season is late spring. It seems they are so glad winter is over and along with daylight saving time it is "spring forward". Even leaves put down in spring, root quicker and put up plants sooner than in any other season of the year.

I must beg your pardon for something. The time has gone by so fast that I feel I should give you a warning about bringing your plants in from the porch or yard and putting them with your violets.

Don't do it, put them with your violets I mean, at least until you have set the plants from outside together inside and given them at least two sprayings, a week apart, with House and Garden Raid. You often bring in insects with your hanging baskets and other house plants. Spiders, aphids and mealy bugs are especially bad and could, in time, kill your plants. They can so easily crawl over to your African Violets. Don't get too near your plants when you spray because the spray as it comes out of the can is very cold. We love our outdoor plants too and wouldn't want to freeze them. Just give them a thorough misting including the undersides of the leaves.

You'll probably say "now she tells us after we've already brought our plants in, but I guess I just didn't start these chats soon enough. Anyway, look your plants over and give them a spray for good luck.

You have probably repotted all your outside plants and are ready to work on your African Violets to get them in shape for winter.

First, we'll talk about the size of the pot. The experts say Violets should be planted in a pot one third the top measurement of the plant, so a nine inch plant would take a three inch pot.

Violets bloom better when they are slightly pot bound. You may have a plant blooming its head off in a very small pot, but if you tap it out of the pot you will see a lot of roots and not much soil or the roots may be growing out of the drainage holes.

Such a plant definitely needs to be repotted, but don't go to the other extreme and plant it in a pot that is too large. A lot of soggy, wet soil that the plant doesn't need will not let the roots breathe and will cause that old enemy "overwatering".

I have found that plastic pots seem to work out better for me for several reasons. They are readily available in all sizes, the soil doesn't dry out so quickly and they are lighter in weight. They are also easier to scrub and sterilize. My how I hate to wash pots! Get one of those dish washing mops (a plastic handle with strips of foam rubber on the end) and you can get inside the pot easily. Also you won't cut your rubber gloves if you use them.

I use a bucket with Mr. Clean in the water and soak the dirty pots overnight. Then I mop the dirt away and put the clean pots in a bucket of water with one half cup of bleach. Soak them for three or four hours and when you take them out they are clean, sterile and ready to use again. Never plant a violet in a dirty pot. They may pick up some insects and no plant is pretty in a dirty pot.

I had hoped to include soil in this writing, but my pen runs on and on and first thing I know I'm out of space.

I hope everyone has a violet to grow. If you don't have one, ask your African Violet growing neighbor for one and join us in growing it. You will enjoy it if you enjoy growing plants. The "African Violet Bug" is one bug you can't kill with Raid.

I'll tell you about soil next week also about fertilizer and fertilizing. Hope you will be with us.

How I shall miss "Baby", the macaw, when he goes home again. He is always good for a laugh. I was watching him a few minutes ago, and he stepped backward and fell off his perch to the cage floor.
