Parade Chairman Ray Blanchette and Jaycees' President Bobby Outten join the spectators surveying the scene Saturday as the Harrington Christmas parade passed the judges stand on Commerce Street.

In fine form -

The rifle corps from the Milford Middle School Marching Band demonstrates the expertise that helped win the band top honors in the junior division Saturday.

Jaycee parade is Christmas spectacular

The HARRINGTON Jaycees officially ushered in the 1979 Christmas season on Saturday with the Annual Harrington Christmas Parade. This year's edition drew 105 units in a variety of categories which provided nearly two hours of spectacle for parade viewers who lined the route on the bright, but frosty afternoon.

Grand Prize winners for the second year in a row were the Bi-State Drum and Majorette Corps. The Corps also took home the first place tradition, if the group competes and wins again in 1980, it will get permanent possession of the grand prize trophy.

Seven marching bands and about thirteen fire companies were included in the entourage which wound down Center Street from Delaware Avenue to Dorman Street and on to Commerce Street before finishing at Quillen Shopping Center on Clark Street. Other participants included marching units ranging from local scout troops to the Band Front from the Smyrna Middle School. The parade's finale came with the arrival of Santa Claus who descended to his special house at Quillen's Shopping Center to talk with young Christmas hopefuls.

The participant who traveled the greatest distance was probably Burl Wagner, brother of Peoples Bank Cashier Howard Wagner, who came from Baltimore to bring the coach and pony team which has become Peoples' annual entry. Along the route, the three pigs and Frosty the Snowman as well as a unicyclist and a high rider on an antique bicycle were among the other entries to delight bystanders.

The parade was emceed by Joe Scott and Linda Gray of WAFL/WTHD. Professional judging of the bands was provided by members of the Atlantic Judging Association.

According to the Parade Chairman Ray Blanchette, this year's

Frederica reorganizes

With the 1979 town election a matter of history, the Frederica town council met last Wednesday evening to swear in newly elected Larry Mannering and Dan Griffith and to select its officers for the coming year.

Ezekiel Dill, who has served in the spot since George Nashold stepped down, was tapped to continue as Frederica's Mayor. Likewise, Councilwoman Helen Powers was asked to serve again

Felton scout gets closeup look at town government

Felton Scout, Wes Miller of Troop 141, got a first hand look Monday night at the way town government works. Wes, who is working on his citizenship award in scouting, attended Monday night's regular meeting of the Felton Town Council as an observer who was to report back to his troop. He got treated to a brief, fairly routine business meeting but, according to Wes, he learned a lot.

Felton Mayor William Myers encouraged the scouts to come to the town council for whatever help it might be able to give. Said Myers, who served on the Scout Committee some years ago when scouting was being newly organized in Felton, for a small town we've turned out some pretty good scouts. Present Scoutmaster of Troop 141, Joe Sherwood was a boy in scouting when Myers was serving on the committee. In addition to the routine bill-paying business, Scout Wes Miller could have observed a number of items under discussion at the Felton Council meeting:

-Felton has a new Postmaster Gene Racz, and the town council has extended an official welcome to him. Racz, who hails from Henderson, Maryland, has been on the job since early November.

-Citizens are complaining about pot holes which make Church Street in Felton rough riding. Mayor Myers says that street is a state maintained road, and the state has been contacted about the problem.

-The reply to a citizen request about putting a mobile home in town was, "It can't be done". Town law forbids it. The only trailers allowed are those which were in place when the 1960 law took effect.

-The town is looking for a new police officer to hire under the CETA program to help with local law enforcement responsibility.

-A portable two-way radio, purchased with SALLE funds,

Jarrell accepted

Glenn M. Jarrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jarrell of Harrington has been accepted for the position of Assistant Band Director at Newark High School.

He is a 1975 graduate of Lake Forest High School and received his B.A. in Music Education from the University of Delaware in 1979.

LF starts classes for gifted

With the hiring of Pamela Reisinger last week by the Lake Forest School Board, this school district initiates a program designed to provide some special opportunity and enrichment to students who may be gifted or talented. Ms. Reisinger, who has a strong background in English, will be working with small groups of students (probably no more than eight to a class) in fifth, sixth and seventh grades who show promise, especially in verbal skills.

Selection of students will be by teachers and parents and on the basis of standardized test scores. The program is federally funded. In other business last week the hired Emily McKnatt to serve as high school librarian, Deborah Gioffre as kindergarten teacher at Lake Forest East, Mary E. Warner as speech and hearing teacher in the Pre-School Consortium at Lake Forest North, Sylvia J. Kemp as Title I Aide at North and Sheila Vieria to work in the cafeteria at the same school.

heard from Supervisor of Instruction Sol Markowitz that the District has 177 state certified teaching units this year. However, the district will maintain its current level of 176 teachers until the boundary dispute with Woodbridge is settled. The Lake Forest District could lose one teaching

gave its approval for a May trip to Williamsburg for some 42 students in Mr. Tim Young's social studies classes at W.T. Chipman.

commended the Lake Forest High School Ag teachers on their handling of a recent FFA trip to Kansas City for a national convention.

-Correction-

Because of an omission, last week's Journal failed to state that it was Conventional Builders that received the $25,876 contract for initial work on the tennis courts at Lake Forest High School. Funding for the entire project amounts to about $120,000.

Haas to attend cholesterol seminar

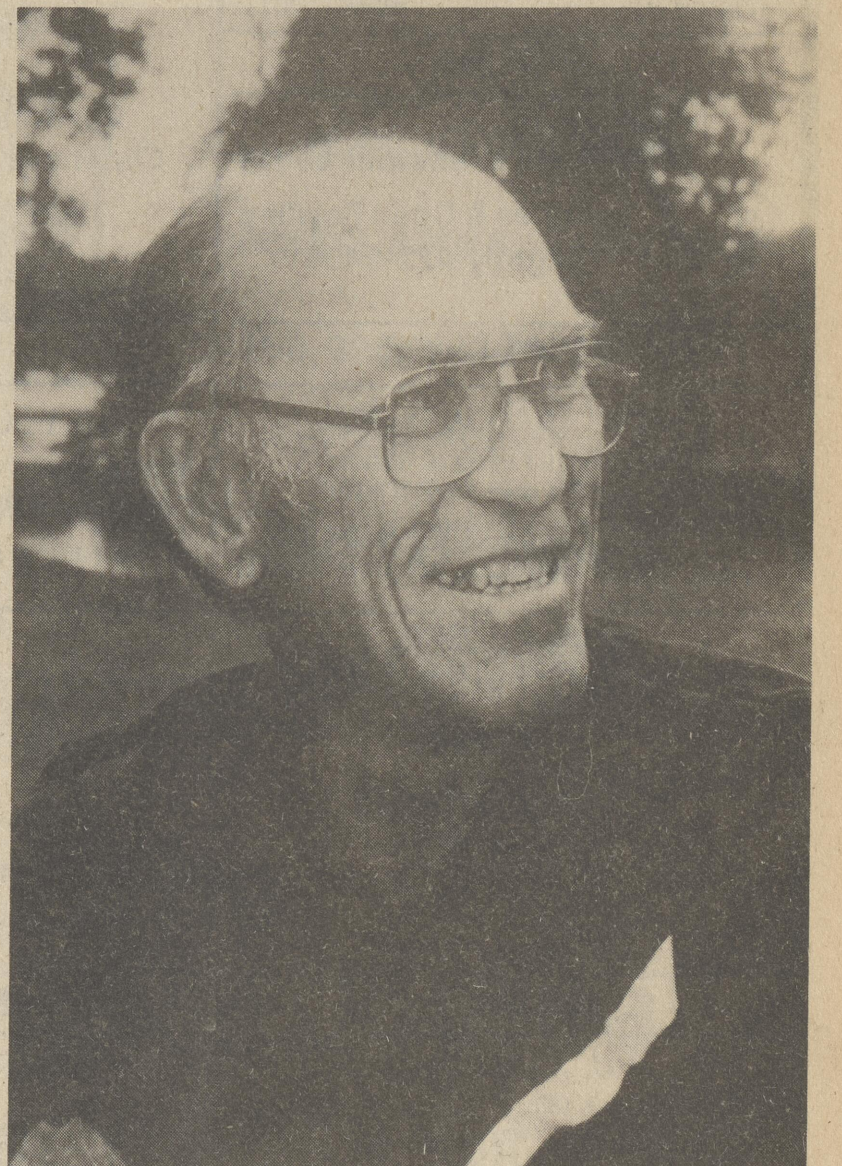

Have you ever wondered about the conflicting health claims of the substance cholesterol? Some say it's harmful, some say it's beneficial and no one seems to have come to a widely accepted theory of cholesterol's effects on the human body. Ed Haas, a life long Kent County resident, a former poultry farm operator and now supervisor of the Delaware Department of Agriculture's Egg Marketing Division hopes to bring back some answers when he returns from a special meeting in Chicago to be held on December 11th.

Haas will participate in the Cholesterol Information Seminar which will bring industry experts from all over the country to discuss the subject. Haas has been chosen as Delaware's ambassador to the gathering.

He welcomes the opportunity. "The cholesterol controversy has been a great concern to producers and consumers alike," he said.

"The Department is concerned with both groups equally and I'm pleased and flattered to be chosen to attend the seminar. The cholesterol issue is a relatively young one with different groups proposing different views. I hope to surround myself with various experts and become more familiar with the total picture in order to aid our state's producers and consumers alike."

Also well pleased with the opportunity is the new Secretary of Agriculture, Alden Hopkins. "It's an important meeting on an important topic to us in Del-ware," Hopkins said. "We're attend and we look forward to his lucky to have an expert like Ed advice when he returns."

Citizenship delegates to this year's National 4-H Congress in Chicago seem to be taking their theme, "Expanding Horizons," to its utmost limits by consorting with a walking, talking, singing robot. "Kobot the Robot" was in Chicago to greet the more than 1700 state and national 4-H winners who were being recognized and honored for outstanding achievements in 4-H. Kobot is the official robot of The Coca-Cola Company, sponsor of the National 4-H Citizenship program. Here, Connie Harrington, citizenship winner from Felton, Delaware, gets into a little robot rap session with Kobot.

has arrived but can't be used until the state goes on the new high band system. Since Governor DuPont has withdrawn the state appropriation for that purpose, it may be some time in 1980 before that happens. However, the town still has its old equipment, and Felton is equipped for the present, but prepared for the future. Drawings for the new sewer system will not be complete until the first of the year. It is still hoped, however, that work might begin sometime in the spring. The town council will not judge decorated homes this year, but will leave that Christmas project up to the fire company.

Two get Police promotions

Two Delaware State Policemen were promoted this morning at a short ceremony in Governor Pierre S. DuPont's Dover office at Legislative Hall. Governor DuPont advised the two men of their promotions, one to sergeant and the other to the rank of corporal, and pinned their badges on their uniforms as they were presented by Colonel Norman V. Cochran, Superintendent of the Delaware State Police.

Wilmington, was promoted to sergeant. He is assigned to Troop 6 on the Kirkwood Highway, but during his ten years with the department, has also worked in the Planning Section at Headquarters in Dover, and worked in the Check Unit at Troop 2 at State Road. Sgt. Thompson is a graduate of Goldey Beacom and parade was the largest of the three he has directed. Blanchette expressed his thanks to in the community who helped with the parade. He said, "If it were not for all your help, the parade wouldn't be possible." He also expressed his appreciation to his fellow Jaycees and Janeees for their help and support. He said a fire on Friday night before the parade foiled plans to get an early start on posting parade markers and completing other preparations. Most of the Jaycees are also firemen. However, everyone got an early start on Saturday, and the parade was underway within four minutes of the scheduled time.

Post Office has Christmas mailing reminders

Postmaster Edward A. Biegel is reminding his customers this month to check the size of their envelopes before mailing Christmas cards. Effective last July 15, envelopes must be at least 3-1/2 inches high and 5 inches long to be accepted for mailing.

The new standards, first announced three years ago, are designed to speed up the flow of mail by reducing jam-ups caused by small envelopes during processing by high-speed automated equipment. Such jams can destroy mail or force costly manual handling of mail.

Last July, a seven-cent surcharge was also placed on First-Class Mail weighing one ounce or less, and single piece Third-Class Mail of two ounces or less that measured more than 6-1/8 inches high, 11-1/2 inches long or 1/4 inch thick.

"Most card and envelope makers are only manufacturing the allowable size today, but there may be some older stock still for sale," according to Postmaster Biegel. "We don't want any disappointed customers during the holidays."

Postmaster Biegel also reminds Wilmington residents to mail early this year. "We need your help so we can deliver every greeting card in time for the holidays."

Letters to the editor

Dear Editor:

Many Americans are looking for a way to express concern for their fellow citizens being held hostage in Iran that is consistent with this country's respect for law. As you know, the American Charge in Iran, Bruce Laingen, who is being held at the Foreign Ministry, has suggested that church bells be rung each noon until the hostages are released. Several members of Congress and the Attorney General also have suggested that Americans write the Iranian Mission at the United Nations to demand release of the hostages.

The President endorses these suggestions.

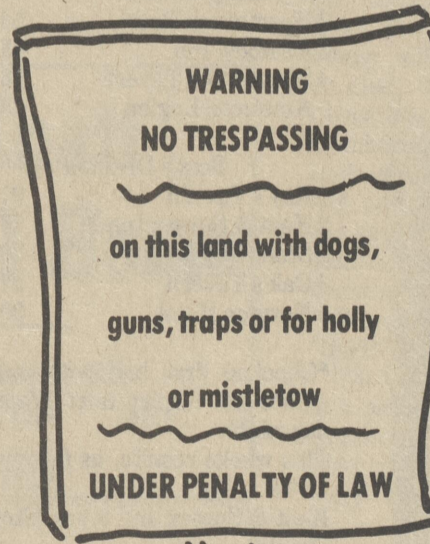

It is of overriding importance that Iranian authorities understand that Americans are united in their determination not to yield to blackmail and in the demand for the safe return of the hostages. Your support for these two suggestions will help prevent any miscalculation of where Americans stand in this time of crisis.

Woodbridge drops this years girls JV

Woodbridge Athletic Director Wayne Munson announced last week that the girls junior varsity basketball program for this year has been cancelled.

Munson said the reason for the scrapping of the program is a poor turnout of participants. Hopes are that junior varsity girls basketball will be back in the years ahead however.

The boys junior varsity, girls varsity and boys varsity programs are unaffected and all games will be played.

Markley comes to West Harrington

Since November 1st, the West Harrington United Methodist Charge has had a new minister, William A. Markley. He replaced Wayne Grier.

Markley, age 47, brings diverse and well rounded pastoral experience to his new ministry. He is the son of a "circuit riding" Lutheran Minister and his early memories are of traveling with his father on his numerous rounds.

Reverend Markley took his college degree at Gettysburg College where he received an A.B. degree in the classics. He then went on to get a Divinity and Masters degree from Gettysburg Seminary.

From his graduation, Markley began a 18 year career in the Lutheran ministry where he performed a grand total of 402 confirmations, 106 marriages, 135 funerals and baptized 210 children. He was involved in Lutheran parish work during this period.

Reverend Markley decided to change his ministry in 1977. He was highly interested in hospital work and from '77 to '79 he trained at Sibley Memorial Hospital. It was there that he received his exposure to the Methodist Church which he joined. Asked by the Journal why he converted to the Methodist Church, he said, "I like the greater lay participation that Methodism offers. Here in Harrington, I especially admire the number of people who are qualified as speakers."

From Selby Memorial, Markley responded to the need in Harrington when Reverend Grier was transferred to Ocean View. "A need came up here, and here I am," he said.

The Rev. William A. Markley

"I am very happy to be here," Reverend Markley said, "Harrington and the surrounding areas are neat and clean, and there appears to be a lot of pride in the townspeople. The people we have met have received us well and seem extremely hospitable."

Reverend Markley is married with one daughter. Welcome to Harrington to the entire Markley family.

Markley believes he has changed somewhat over the past two years. "I have developed a listening ministry over the past two years," he said. "Listening is a hard skill to master, but it's essential if I am to find what the parish's real troubles are. My ear is available to anyone."

Reverend Markley is married with one daughter. Welcome to Harrington to the entire Markley family.

Harrington Baptist Church

Ladies notice the places of prayer for this week and try to attend each day. On Wednesday at our regular fellowship dinner we shall have food from all nations to emphasize the need of taking the gospel to all peoples.

Don't forget to pray and plan for the gift to missions as a way of celebrating the birth of our Lord. No Escape:

"How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation?" (Heb. 2:3). The picture hinted at in this text is that all lost people are trapped in sin. This trap is the product of our own sinful nature: we love sin, yet we would like to be free from its domination. The trap becomes more tangled about us the more we try to get out of it. For example, we tell a lie in order to get out of some kind of punishment, then we have to tell another lie to back up the first one, and so on. We're trapped in sin, and there is no escape but Jesus. He broke the entangling web for us; trust in Him for your escape. Stop trying to escape the guilt and shame. Rest by faith in Jesus and you'll be free. Will you do that today?

We are very proud of the job our youth did on the float for the Christmas Parade. The float won second in non-commercial category. We give our appreciation and thanks to the youth.

Ellendale United Methodist

by Sharon Morgan

Once again, it is Christmas time, and Rev. Michael Russell, and members of the Ellendale United Methodist Charge invite you to share in their busy schedule of events celebrating the joyous birth of Jesus Christ.

The season's activities begin on Saturday, December 8, at 6:00 p.m., Members and friends of St. Johnstown U.M. church will be sharing in a covered dish dinner and Christmas party held in the Greenwood Fire Hall.

Then, on Sunday, December 9, at 2:30 p.m., members and friends of Chaplains Chapel invite you to be a part of the church and Sunday School Christmas program which is being arranged by Mrs. Rosalee Hastings and Mrs. Shirley Macey. Following the program, members of the church will serve a Christmas turkey dinner.

On Thursday evening, December 13, at 7:30 p.m., the Ellendale United Methodist Women will meet and hold their annual Christmas party and gift exchange at the home of Mrs. Raymond Spicer.

The following evening, Friday, December 14, the United Methodist Women of Chaplains Chapel will meet and hold their Christmas party and gift exchange. They will meet at the home of Mrs. Thelma ODay at 7:30 p.m.

The charge-wide Christmas program will be held on Sunday, December 16, at 7:30 p.m. at St. Johnstown. The hour long service will have many features including the singing of Christmas carols. Rev. Russell, and Mrs. Shirley Macey will be reading a poem entitled, "The Twelve Hours of Christmas." As it is being read, members of the congregation will re-create the manger scene of long ago. A baby will be placed in the manger, surrounded by the animals just as it was on that first Christmas night.

When the scene is completed, "Silent Night" will be sung.

The Christmas play will follow. It is entitled, "The Census Taker" written by Ed Irsch, with adaptations by Rev. Russell. It tells the story of Joseph going to the census taker to have Jesus counted as part of his household. It also shows how many of the prophecys were fulfilled through the coming of Jesus Christ. The characters are: Joseph; Ralph Ober, Jr., of Ellendale, Mary, Sharon Morgan of Ellendale, the census taker, Orville Hammond of Chaplains Chapel, and the census taker's wife, Norma Prettyman of St. Johnstown.

The next event will take place on Thursday, December 20, as all those wishing to go caroling will meet at Chaplains Chapel at 6:00 p.m. Later in the evening, they will return to the church for doughnuts and coffee.

On Sunday, December 23, at 7:30 p.m., the young people will be performing as the Ellendale Children's Christmas program will be held in the church.

The final event of the season will be a charge-wide New Year's Eve service on December 31, at 11:30 p.m. in the Ellendale Parsonage. There will be a John Wesley style love feast, a service focussing on our Christian outreach to the world. At midnight, the church bell will ring to usher in the new year. At the conclusion of the service, sweet rolls and hot tea will be served in the John Wesley tradition.

For Your Information

Dear friends,

Death is one of the most important events each of us will experience and it warrants preparation thru education. Fear can be replaced with wholesome acceptance. Death education is the responsibility of parents, teachers, religious counselors, funeral directors, social workers, nurses and physicians.

Respectfully,

Forecast for December 5 to December 11

Aries - It all happens at home this week! Lucky financial breaks put you in a real holiday mood!

Taurus - Play your hunches now as your thinking is crystal clear! Home entertaining is fun!

Gemini - The untried is profitable now. Romance may be strongly on your mind! Get out and circulate ideas.

Cancer - Good things are always worth waiting for. It is important that you keep emotions on an even keel!

Leo - Investments may start to pay off, but take things a step at a time. Creativity is high!

Virgo - A new phase in your home life looms on your horizon! Visits and visitors are rewarding.

Libra - You know best what you need in regards to your career. Follow your intuition!

Scorpio - You feel full of holiday spirit and your loved ones are pleasantly surprised! Just don't overspend!

Sagittarius - Maintain a patient attitude and current changes will go your way. Social life is picking up!

Capricorn - Your life situation is ideal but you must do your part to insure contentment. Business is hectic, but fun!

Aquarius - Everything's coming up roses and after the last few months, it is a welcome change! Enjoy friendships.

Pisces - If you look deeply into your heart, you will realize your future trends. Love is strong now!

Looking Your Best!

Christmas is upon us once again! It is hard to resist the urge to splurge, but perhaps more than ever a conservative attitude will prevail! After all it is truly the thought that counts, not the size or the cost.

It is an excellent week for entertaining, especially the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th. Look for special holiday clothing on the 9th and 10th. Sometimes an old dress can look smashing with the right accessories. Look for jewelry and shoes on the 7th through the 10th. The 5th and the 6th are great days for new hair-styles, especially if you would like a faster growth. The 10th is a good day to start treatments for unwanted hair and blemishes. Sewing gets the green-light on the 11th.

There Is A Purpose.....

by Nina Locardi

The Moons position determines a persons attitude towards life. This attitude has roots in the childhood experience and will strongly color a persons feelings for the public in general. We will now take a look at the Moons influence in the mental sign Gemini and how the Moon reacts if it is placed in the Third House of the Birth-Chart.

Moon In Gemini

People with this position tend to rationalize their feelings, thusly they are hard put to understand how they really feel! There is a great need to be honest and this person should always look beneath the surface. Nerves are a definite problem with this position. A very versatile and clever person though too apt to spread himself thin. These people should not cling to family patterns and should always try to finish what they have started!

Moon In The Third House

Although this person is not noted for great concentrative abilities, he does have the ability to absorb knowledge like a sponge! A very dreamy and imaginative mind that is easily swayed by the environment. There is much involvement with brothers, sisters and neighbors. Restlessness is a problem and these people tend to move about constantly. This is not a person who can handle a routine job!

For those of you wishing to have a Birth-Chart calculated, please see my ad. Thankyou!

by Dorothy Graham

The tree shimmers in the sunlight, nativity nestled under the trees branches, Mr. and Mrs. Santa openly greet you as you enter the Harrington Center through the new door and porch renovation.

Another Mr. Santa on chair (cookie jar) says hello from the living room T.V. set. Here and there you will see the absolutely gorgeous poinsetta's we made under the direction of Mabel Jean Donovan. They are very pretty, just the right size. Come on in, we will show you how.

Thanksgiving was a glorious day. Our Thanksgiving dinner at the Center was a perfectly lovely affair - turkey with all the fixings and served by smiling white hat, white aproned men and oh so very gracious! Then there was singing - dancing and singing, brain teasers, games, dominoes and pool and of course lots of chatting and recipe exchanging. When we returned to the Center after our own Thanksgiving dinner, there was getting ready for the renovators, clear the craft room, pile the closet up again, bless that closet, clearing wood shops out - emptying old paints, in other words cleaning house.

Bible Study and singing always makes things lighter and brighter to begin the week. Mrs. Judy and Mrs. Meredith usually are leaders and the members take part and sing. Rev. Robinson was here the week before last.

Jolly Timers are making bells ring and hearts sing, getting in tune for Christmas.

Everyday is special at the Center and if you miss one day, you can rest assured you have missed something good. Like Wednesday was my day off and when it is also my week to play bridge I don't go to the Center, so what do they do, go and have my very favorite meal - just right roast beef and everything that goes with it, that Manna! The meals are usually tasty and nourishing. Have you had liver and onions Manna style? Scrumptious! Got the calendars out. Busy people all!

Thursday was a cold day outside but at the Center we were gayly preparing for Christmas. Mabel Jean Donovan brought us a beautiful poinsetta made of red velvet. We made light for the Center and plan to make a few more for the tables. Several made some or one for themselves. Thanks again, Mabel Jean.

The comfortable rocker donated by Mary Keller's family was given a nice pleasant back and seat pad by Mrs. Amy Paynter. Add to the comfort of the rocker believe me. Thank you Amy so much.

Several people have called me and asked about Mr. and Mrs. Santa, I refer you to Mable Jean, aren't they sweet though? Hope you have signed up for the kissing balls as they are very pretty too. County wide Christmas party is December 13. It sounds as though it is going to be a nice day affair. Before that there is members meeting when we will most likely get a report on the Bazaar. Again let us thank EVERYONE for EVERYTHING for a perfectly wonderful Bazaar.

"Parade your partner" goodness it was fun in October when Levis & Lace were here, now they plan to be here December 14th at 1:00. Come on in, you'll be happy you did even if you just watch.

Finishing up ceramics for personal Christmas presents. They have started the renovation. Bingo was fun with Elizabeth Anthony calling. Gene Price, president of the Board of Directors made an announcement about Charlottes new title at the Center and that she no longer worked for Manna but for the Center. Best Wishes to a fine lady.

Thank you volunteers for your very graciousness and kindness to all of us at the Center.

Be kind to each other. Best Wishes to all homebonds and those who are ill, keep a song in your heart and a smile on your lips. Wish you could all see and hear the men at the pool table, you would have no trouble smiling. The brain teaser game and dominoes are not bad either.

Thelma Gerardi and Bryan Killen spent a pleasant Thanksgiving Day with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Simpson and had dinner with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bennett in Harrington. On returning home that evening Mrs. Gerardi had surprise visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gerardi, Jr. and family David and Shannon from Key West, Florida. Albert, with the United States Navy was transferred from Sardinia, Italy to Key West, Florida.

I offer sincere apologies to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis for omitting their names in last weeks column. They helped their brother-in-law Mr. William Bright celebrate his 79th birthday on Wednesday, November 21st. William's birthday is November 22.

Mr. William Bright is now a patient at Milford Memorial Hospital in the coronary unit.

The Felton Ladies Auxiliary went on a bus trip to the "Three Little Bakers" Saturday, November 24th.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Stumpf of High Street, Felton celebrated their 16th wedding anniversary on Thanksgiving Day, November 22nd with their guests Mr. and Mrs. John C.D. Moore, son, Jerry, daughter Ann, Mary Ann's parents, and Ron's mother and their son Scott, and Mrs. Lola O'Day, who is presently living with them.

At the November 26th meeting of the Harrington Jaycees, Frank G. Hrupsa (left) was presented with an award naming him Harrington Jaycees outstanding young farmer. Hrupsa, 26, is a Harrington resident and a lifelong farmer. He works 594 acres.

Mr. and Mrs. James Heflbower and son, Greg, from Chades Town, West Virginia, visited the Edward Taylor's over the Thanksgiving Holiday. The Saturday after Thanksgiving, Mrs. Edward Taylor celebrated a birthday with dinner in her home for family and friends.

The Lake Forest Band Booster Organization held it's monthly meeting on Monday, November 26, at the W.T. Chipman School. The Organization discussed plans for the upcoming dinners for the month of December and the sub sale planned for the middle of January. Mr. Ken Aycoth of Classic Improvers Inc., offered a 2% discount to anyone in the Band Booster Organization on behalf of his business on the S. DuPont Highway in Dover. After the regular business meeting the Boosters were treated to films of the W.T. Chipman Band and the Lake Forest Marching Spartans. The next monthly meeting will be at Lake Forest High School on January 28, 1980, at 7:30. All interested parents and friends of the band's are invited.

I certainly hope everyone got out on Saturday to watch the annual Harrington Christmas Parade. The Parade this year was bigger and better than ever and a lot of credit again goes to the Jaycees for a job well done. The Marching Spartans were the last band in the parade this year and they took advantage of the opportunity to stop in front of Quillen's Market on Dorman Street to play especially for Earl Quillen, the band's way of saying "thanks" for all of his help.

If you have any news of local interest that you would like to have printed in the Harrington Journal, give me a call at 398-4102, or drop me a line at 125 Wolcott Street.

I found another list of delightful "Lifesavors" by our writer, Kate Swarhout. Here is her latest list: "Cloud watching...the lonely sound of a train horn...tapioca pudding...a covered bridge...mobiles moving...catnaps...baby green peas...a fireplace fire in January...a rocking horse...soft pillows...recalling a happy childhood...the daily mail...knee patches...helping each other grow."

My thoughts are still on beauty. We cannot have too much in our lives, and the beauty of words can give us so much to enrich our days.

Here is something from my scrapbook that was written by a twelve year old girl. She calls it "Silence". It says a lot. "Silence can be the sound of an empty room. Or the awkward stillness of two people that just met. Silence can be the sound of nothing. Silence can be an alleyway at night. Silence can forbid you to enter, or force you to leave. Silence can be pleasant, like the stir of a breeze in the trees, or it can be a world of dreams."

Just this week I discovered beauty in a bit of writing by my sweet young next-door neighbor down the road, Patty Prettyman. I want to share it with you. "Flowers remind me of happiness. I mean, when you see a bright pink rose, doesn't it make you happy? It does me!

If I had to pick a favorite flower, it would have to be a daisy. Daisies look like happy little faces shining up at you with a big, white lace hat, adding to its beauty.

Roses would have to be my second favorite because they are a quiet kind of happiness. They have soft, silly petals coming up around and above the middle. Roses also have a beautiful smell. So, if flowers don't remind you of happiness, answer this question: Why do two people that are in love send each other flowers?" Beautiful, Patty. Keep writing.

The harsh winds of autumn have swept across the land and pulled off most of the leaves now. Garith and I have enjoyed repeating together the poem from the old school Readers... "Come, little leaves, said the wind one day; Come over the meadows with me and play. Put on your dresses of red and gold, summer is gone and the days grow cold. Soon the leaves heard the wind's loud call, and down they came tumbling, one and all." And, don't forget to look long and dreamy at those bare, black branches with their intricate pattern of small twigs... etchings that no artist can quite duplicate. We will welcome the green leaves back in the spring, but now we will thrill to the stark beauty of winter's gift.

Now with winter rapidly approaching, one day an old poem will come true...and... "The snow will begin in the gloaming, and busily all the night, will be heaping the fields and highways with a silence deep and white..."

And you'll look out your window and you'll see a brilliant red cardinal perched on a snow-covered branch, and it will be the ultimate in beauty, and you will know then that the Lord never made anything prettier!!

Peach Blossom 4-H

A new club year began in October with the installation of the following officers; President Lisa Clark; Vice-President Ronna Legates; Secretary Michelle Breeding; Treasurer Terry Hinzman.

During the month of October we attended the movies as a group to see "The Muppets", four persons attended the University of Delaware football game on 4-H Day at the Stadium and had a hayride ending at Terri Tarr's for refreshments.

The annual Achievement Banquet was held in Ceasar Rodney School on October 20th. We brought home four team judging trophies, eight individual judging trophies and were named runner-up to the Silver Cup Award.

Michelle Breeding received a 1st year outstanding member trophy. Terry Hinzman received a plaque for winner in the essay contest. Nine members received ribbons in the photography exhibit.

Last week we visited Mr. Norman Toadvine's Taxidermy Shop for an interesting evening seeing deer, fish, squirrel and everything that can be stuffed.

Jonathan Harcum participated in the County Public Speaking contest on November 15th receiving a blue ribbon with his speech on "Choosing a Career". Ronna Legates served as narrator.

4-H News

December, the month of holly and mistletoe finds many 4-H'ers preparing for the Holiday Season. Many clubs are planning Christmas parties, Achievement nights, and working on Christmas floats.

Several members of the State Links Organization will be enjoying a Holiday trip to the Ice Follies with old 4-H friends. They are also planning a state-wide get together with the Jr. Council members between Christmas and the New Year. The Annual State Jr. Council-Links Christmas Dinner, Dance is being planned for December 29th at the Capital Grange in Dover. All Links are invited to attend the covered dish dinner which begins at 6:30. Those coming are asked to bring a covered dish and a place setting. Reservations must be in to the 4-H office by December 20th. Jr. Council members are invited to the dance from 7:30 to 11 p.m.

Christmas isn't all parties for 4-H'ers, many clubs are planning special activities to share their Christmas spirit with their communities. Also many 4-H'ers take advantage of state events to share ideas with their friends from other counties. Put a group of 4-H'ers together and 4-H is sure to be the main topic regardless of the season.

Terry W. Phelps, son of retired Air Force Senior Master Sergeant and Mrs. Donald L. Phelps of Rural Route 2, Harrington, has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, here, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits towards an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Building Inspection Department
Installation of Wood Burning Stoves

During the past weeks, there has been a great deal of discussion and misunderstanding regarding the proper installation of wood burning stoves. State and County officials have taken part in conducting seminars at various firehouses and schools throughout the County to inform the residents of Kent County of approved methods of safe wood stove installations. The following criteria has been compiled for your information and guidance.

1. A permit is required for the installation of wood burning stoves, fireplaces, and chimneys. When applying for the permit, details of the location and materials to be used must be presented.
2. The installation will be inspected by a building inspector for compliance with the Building Code.
3. A safe stove base consists of a piece of twenty-four (24) gauge sheet metal on 1/4 inch asbestos millboard. This base should extend a minimum of six (6) inches on all sides and eighteen (18) inches on the side that ashes are removed.
4. A radiating wood stove must be a minimum of thirty-six (36) inches from combustibles.
5. A sheet rock wall is considered combustible; the sheet rock will not burn, but it will conduct heat to combustible framing members. The same is true for a brick veneer wall. (Z-Brick) Brick is a poor insulator and also transmits heat to combustibles.
6. A radiating type wood stove shall be installed thirty-six (36) inches from combustibles. This distance can be reduced if the stove has a U.L. listed heat shield attached or you may build a heat shield to be mounted one (1) inch off the wall on noncombustible spaces. (Porcelain fence insulators work extremely well.) To reduce the thirty-six (36) inch clearance to eighteen (18) inch, the heat shield should be constructed of twenty-eight (28) gauge sheet metal or 1/4 inch asbestos millboard. (Note: Asbestos cement board (Transite) commonly found in lumber yards cannot be substituted for asbestos millboard.) The heat shield should be mounted off the floor to provide unrestricted circulation of air between the shield and the wall.
7. Stove pipe requires special clearances to combustibles. A clearance distance of three (3) times the diameter of the pipe; example, a six (6) inch pipe needs eighteen (18) inches of clearance.
8. A stove pipe should never run through a combustible wall or ceiling, unless it is absolutely necessary. If you have to do this, there are several approved methods. (a) Have a ventilated metal thimble made. The thimble must be three (3) times the diameter of the stovepipe. (b) Use a section of factory built chimney, then the clearance to combustibles may be reduced: Remember, leave air space or clearance as required by U.L. (c) Remove all combustible materials out of the partition to provide an airspace of a minimum of three (3) times the diameter of the pipe on all sides. (d) Surround a metal or burned fire-clay thimble by not less than eight (8) inches of brick or equivalent fireproof material.
9. A wood stove and oil burner shall not be vented into the same flue unless the wood burning unit is U.L. approved for dual operation. Each heating appliance shall be vented into a separate flue. Multiple connections can result in flue gasses and sparks passing from one flue opening to another, reduce efficiency, and unburned gasses being ignited in the flue.
10. Factory built chimneys should be approved by Underwriter's Laboratories (U.L.). They are efficient and easy to install. Soot and creosote buildups are minimized in the insulated type of factory built chimneys because the inner wall warms rapidly. The necessary clearance from combustibles is clearly marked on each section of U.L. listed factory built chimney.
11. Single wall stovepipe is not acceptable for an outside chimney. Water and ash form lye, which will quickly eat away the single wall pipe, and also creosote would rapidly form due to the cooling of the gasses inside the pipe itself.
12. All masonry chimneys should have a tile flue liner. In homes constructed prior to 1900, many chimneys were unlined. An unlined chimney is a hazard and should not be connected to a wood stove. Efforts have been made to line an unlined chimney, but with very little success. Should you have doubt or questions concerning an old unlined chimney, I suggest you consult a reliable mason to inspect the chimney.
13. A chimney should extend at least three (3) feet above the highest point where it passes through the roof of the building. It shall be two (2) feet higher than anything within a ten (10) ft. radius. This includes the roof itself, overhanging trees and adjacent buildings.

Brochures on safe wood stove installation are available at the Building Inspection Department, Kent County Administration Building, 414 Federal Street, Dover, DE. The room number is 302. Additional information may be obtained by phone, 736-2128, 2121, 2122.

From time to time seminars are conducted at local firehouses on wood burning safety. These are posted in the news media well in advance.
