Lake Forest High School Graduates 225

In bright sunlight and a stiff breeze that scattered commencement words and programs alike, Lake Forest High School graduated its eleventh class Sunday afternoon. At the climax of the commencement exercises held in the stadium at Lake Forest High School, 225 members of the Class of 1980 received their diplomas from Lake Forest Board of Education President Albert Price. Superintendent William Cline and board members E.B. Warrington and Donald Garey each had the special privilege of personally presenting diplomas to graduating sons or daughters.

Five speakers addressed the graduates before the diplomas were awarded. Valedictorian Louann Jackson, Salutatorian Jacqueline Moffett and Third and Fourth Honors speakers Lisa Bostick and Martin Ellingsworth preceded the Reverend Joseph E. Brame, Pastor of St. Paul's AME Church in Harrington, who delivered the baccalaureate address. Using the initials SIP, the Rev. Brame related the three components - Spiritual, Industrial, and Political - to the graduates life at this "crossroads".

Two special touches were added as Senior members of the high school chorus sang the class song - "We've Only Just Begun", and Lisa Bostick, president of the Spartan Band presented a trophy to high school Principal Dr. Margaret Phelps. The trophy represented first place honors won by the band in the Chicken Festival Parade on Saturday, June 7, in Milford.

A number of the 1980 graduates received honors along with their diplomas. Several special (Continued on Page Ten)

State Police/Fredericans Rap

In a quietly thoughtful session at Frederica's Town Council meeting last Wednesday, Sergeant Golder of Troop 3 of the Delaware State Police and Fredericans - both Council members and others - discussed the service the community is getting from the Delaware State Police and the problems it is experiencing. Focus of much of the discussion was late night loitering and rowdiness that are a nuisance and a concern to townspeople. Some, but by no means all of this is apparently caused by young people with nothing to do and no place to go.

people should call them if they get no satisfaction from the Delaware State Police. They would raise cain.

Other measures discussed to help alleviate the problem included enforcing the loitering laws and the possible use of undercover police. Trying to enforce a curfew may not be effective because a curfew, except in an emergency, may be unconstitutional.

Sergeant Golder further said a quiet word to youngster or others who are creating a nuisance may be all that is needed at times. But he warned citizens not to get into a confrontation. It was admitted most of the town's young people do not cause trouble. But the names of a few who do so consistently were to be given to the state police.

Sgt. Golder began by explaining that the coverage the town is paying for is provided by off-duty state police who volunteer for the assignment and pretty much choose their own times. Golder, who is in charge of the special duty assignments, posts the hours and places where service is needed, but does not make specific assignments. Conflicts with regular schedules make the late night hours when many Frederica problems occur unpopular. But, he said, at least one state trooper is willing to come at 11:30 when he is on a regular 3-11 p.m. shift. Regular, on-duty state police are also on call for problems people may have.

On a more positive note, a rap session similar to ones that have seemed effective between older citizens, the Town Council and youngsters will probably be held in the near future. This could be helpful in making clear the town's expectations of young people and giving them a chance to air their frustrations.

A long-term positive goal of both Councilman Asa Fleming and Mayor Dan Griffith as well as others would be providing some sort of community center or other recreational opportunity for Frederica's youth.

Asked if state police minded coming for nuisance calls, especially when CB scanners make it possible for offenders to scatter before police get there, Golder replied that it doesn't matter whether they mind or not. It's their job to come.

That touched a sore point with some citizens who said they've called and the state police have promised to come, but did not show. Sgt. Golder told them although Troop 3 has a large area to cover and there may be as few as four officers on duty, the average response time is twenty minutes. If someone doesn't come in a reasonable time, he said, the citizen with a complaint should call back. And then, if there is no response he should go over the officer's head and "raise a little cain". Golder also pointed out the officer answering the call is required, by law, to identify himself.

Council members Asa Fleming and Virginia Simpler said towns-

Little League Has a Benefactor

The Harrington Little League would like to thank their anonymous benefactor for the $80.00 they were awarded during a local 50-50 drawing.

Some tickets were purchased by an unknown person and the Little League name was placed on the tickets. One of these tickets was a winning ticket and the league received $80.00.

We would be interested in knowing who this generous, thoughtful person is so we can personally thank you. Please contact the league president Bill Morris at 398-3973.

L F Bands Take Two

The Lake Forest School District sent its two, award-winning bands to the Chicken Festival Parade in Milford last Saturday, and both came back with more honors. Both placed first in their respective divisions, and each brought back a trophy and $400.

The Lake Forest High School Spartan Marching Band under the direction of Dale Burkhard scored a parade high of 78 points to take top honors for senior bands. The winning trophy was proudly presented to high school principal Dr. Margaret Phelps by senior band member and president Lisa Bostick at Lake Forest's graduation ceremonies Sunday.

The W.T. Chipman Junior Band, directed by Alex Becton, took a first in the junior band division, scoring 65.5 points. The win climaxed a successful year for Chipman which has won trophies, including a number of firsts in every parade competition it has (Continued on page 9)

Council Votes Disapproval

The Houston Town Council on Thursday night voted to send a letter of disapproval to the Milford School Board for their decision to close the West Elementary School in Houston. Mayor Connie

Morgan will meet with Dr. Michael Woodall to discuss the possible use of the school for a Town Hall meeting place and community building. (Continued on page 9)

Courtland Dill Retires Today

While scores of kids in the Lake Forest District cascade from schools doors yelling, "No more teachers, no more books..." as they salute the freedom of summer, Courtland Dill, veteran bus driver from Felton will be celebrating a new kind of freedom. Today he drives his bus route for the last time.

Dill, who has driven the familiar route from Whiteleysburg to the school now named Lake Forest North Elementary in Felton more than 17,280 times since he started as a school bus driver in 1932, retires today in compliance with the state's mandatory retirement age of 70. He will celebrate his 70th birthday August 31.

Mr. Dill thus says 'good-by' to a number of school children whose families he has carried to school for several generations. But retirement from bus driving by no means a retirement to an inactive life. Dill is a farmer who raises about 200 acres of corn, soybeans and wheat on his land west of Felton.

His wife, Cathryn, is a former first grade teacher at Lake Forest North. She retired from that job seven years ago.

Named Outstanding

In sixth grade promotion exercises held Monday at Lake Forest South Elementary in Harrington, Teresa Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor, and Bruce Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Patrick, were named as Outstanding Students among the 87 sixth grade graduates. They were selected by their teachers to be so honored.

A number of other students in the South sixth grades were also honored with special awards. In addition, there have been various Kindergarten graduations and elementary award ceremonies though the district in recent days. Look for pictures, names and further information in the June edition of the Blue Banana to be published in The Harrington Journal on June 25.

Frederica to be Fair-ly Buzzing

The normally quiet town of Frederica will be buzzing Saturday, June 14, as townspeople and visitors alike flock to the firehouse parking lot for the annual Frederica Street Fair sponsored by Trinity United Methodist Church. Festivities are set to begin at 10 a.m. and stretch through the afternoon.

rides, pony and horse rides, a hippy hop race and a fish pond. Some may even want to try their aim at a candle flame with a water pistol. And not many will want to miss the always popular "Dunk the Clown". At this writing, it was not known who the clown(s) would be. Mayor Dan Griffith has made it known that he will be out of town for the day, but no doubt suitable substitutes will be found. In the past town policemen and town officials have always been favorite candidates to sit in for the dunking.

Good food heads the list of the day's attractions with fried chicken or ham platters to be served at the firehouse from noon until 6 p.m. On top of this, most will want to save room for homemade ice cream, strawberries and shortcake. For quicker snackers, soft drinks and hot dogs will be sold. In addition, there will be some homemade chicken salad for sale to take home.

Fair goers have been invited to stay all day and browse among the antiques, bazaar items, lemon sticks, flowers, plants, books and odds and ends. At 4 p.m. there will be a drawing for a handmade afghan.

A cake walk is planned for those who may want to try their luck. And a fortune teller will be on hand for any who wish a light-hearted look at the future.

All dollars and cents go to the church's new building fund, and all the fun and fellowship go into building the sense of community in Frederica.

For the young and the young at heart, there will be fire truck

WB Seeks to Expand Program

Pleased with the results of the Gifted Program initiated in Kindergarten, first and second grades in the district in February, the Woodbridge School Board voted Monday night to fund the program for another year and, if possible, to expand it into the upper elementary grades. At present, it appears the district can expect anywhere from .8 to .92 of a unit in state funding for the gifted and talented program. That would leave from $1400 to $2500 of the teacher's salary to be picked up by the local district. Woodbridge Board members, hearing nothing but praise for

Alumni Give $120 to RIF

Owners of books are readers of books, especially if the books they own are ones they have chosen. This is the theory behind a program that will put three books of their own choosing in the hands of all students at Lake Forest High School next year. The program, administered nationally by Reading Is Fundamental (R.I.F.) a national, private non profit organization has already guaranteed Lake Forest High School $3,360 in federal funds to buy those books if the remaining $1,120 can be raised locally.

The local fund raising effort got off to an excellent start recently when the Harrington High School Alumni Associates presented a check for $120 to the program's Lake Forest initiator and director, Emily McKnatt. Ms. McKnatt, who has written to about 20 service organizations within the Lake Forest district, is in high hopes of an early response that might make the first book distribution program possible in September. She was very much encouraged and very appreciative of the quick action taken by the Harrington Alumni.

Her letter to the service organizations reads, in part: "Reading is the most basic skill required of us to participate in our modern society. Reading can stimulate the imagination, inspire ideas, or 'magically' transport us to far away places.

"Unfortunately, today there is a large percentage of American children who lack the ability to read. This has previously been attributed to the methods used to teach reading. Now, however, it is recognized that another essential factor is involved - MOTIVATION."

That is, desire - wanting to read - is more important than any technique that can be used to teach reading. R.I.F., says Ms. McKnatt, provides that missing factor by placing inexpensive books in the hands of the students who have chosen them. Federal funds through the creation by Congress in 1975 of the Inexpensive Book Distribution Program for Reading Motivation as administered by R.I.F. will make student ownership of books they want to read possible.

Ms. McKnatt plans three book distributions at each of which "each student will be permitted to choose and keep one book."

These will get underway after a survey of student interests and the selection of books to be available by a committee to consist of Ms. McKnatt, high school principal Dr. Margaret Phelps and several parents and teachers. She also plans an assembly program with an author as speaker and a possible paperback exchange to expand the reading pleasure.

The program has previously been funded on a 50-50 matching basis by federal government and local sources. But the federal government is now picking up 75% of the tab. Ms. McKnatt, who initiated a similar effort which drew abundant community support while she was librarian at Sussex Central High School, is confident the Lake Forest community will be just as responsive in coming up with the 25% funding still needed here.

Houston Parents Keep Hoping--and Trying

Houston Parents Teachers Organization (PTO) sent a letter to the Milford School Board protesting the closing of the West Elementary School in Houston. According to Calvin Hollis, III, the protest appeal will not cause an overturning by the Board of its own decision.

The next step then would be to present the case to the State Board of Education for their consideration. The school building at Houston belongs to the Department of Public Instruction (DPI). There is some speculation among Houston PTO members that "heavy lobbying" has already begun on the State Board.

At one of the meetings recently between the Milford School Board and the Houston PTO it was pointed out that according to a ruling by DPI no building which it owns...such as West Elementary...can have the heat, water and electricity completely cut off as well as a janitor at half time.

Back Accepted

Jack D. Back, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Back of Felton, has been accepted as a student at Wesley College, Dover, according to an announcement by Mr. Joseph R. Slight, Jr., Director of Admissions.

Mr. Back will enter Wesley in September and will major in Pre-Engineering. He will be a 1980 graduate of Lake Forest High School.

Frog Off at Lake Forest

Shades of Calveras County! - When the competition started, the contestants were all mostly green. But neither envy nor seasickness had anything to do with it. Green is an appropriate hue for entrants in the First Annual Kent County/Lake Forest Frog Jumping Contest. At the finish line, "Bones" was followed, but not too closely, by Debbie Bell's "Oedipus the King" (OK for short) and David LeKites' "Blitzkreig Hopper" (who got blitzed). In the toad division, Brenda Wooten's "Tojo" was speediest.

Not all of the races were to the swift, however. "Pickle" owned and trained by Ruth Kates, leaped 1' 7/4" to take the long jump, just nosing out Ruth Kates' "Crickle" and Wayne Shulties' "Fandango" who tied at 1' 7/2". In the jump-off for second place, "Crickle", the smallest frog in competition, outleaped "Fandango", the largest and slowest frog, who is now considering taking off a few ounces.

Longest jump for the toads was made by Robin Killen's "Ellen", who made up in distance what she lacked in speed. Ellen was the slowest toad on the track.

Veteran frogcaster Charles Brown did the honors from the announcer's booth high above Lake Forest High School Stadium, and Jim Blades was official "official" for the competition. Blades, who was reportedly scouting for recruits for the 1981 track team, was a little worried that green might clash with the colors of the Spartan uniform.

A frog-leg barbecue had been planned for later in the afternoon, but had to be cancelled when the guests of honor declined the invitation.

The froggy business was all in good fun and also a logical extension of junior class discoveries in American literature. (But it is just possible that S.C., better known and initialed as M.T., was spinning in his grave).

The finish line was just one hop away.

Woodbridge Board

expressed the need for a more organized effort in the query, "Are we going to sit here spinning our wheels, or go ahead and get something done?" He called for the appointment of a Board member to chair the committee as a first step in the effort to get something done.

Boundary Dispute Nears Conclusion?

Woodbridge Superintendent D. William Griffin told the board the long standing Lake Forest-Woodbridge boundary dispute may be nearing a conclusion. The surveyor, Charles D. Murphy, Jr., hired by the State has completed his work.

Levy Court Says "No"

The Levy Court recently refused to create a tax district to support the Harrington Library embracing the users of the Library which they can do by law. Instead they voted to make the backers of the library seek the support of the entire Lake Forest School District. It would take 51% of all property owners in the school district to approve such a measure. "It would be impossible for us to obtain that many signatures throughout the district", said one of the library backers. "What we had hoped for was a tax district for our users... which does not embrace the entire district", concluded another backer.

With that plan, a virtual impossibility, it would mean the town would have to impose a city wide tax on its residents as well as a user's fee on those outside the city limits. By law the Levy Court could establish a user's tax district or as is in Sussex County, a county wide library tax to support all the libraries in Sussex County.

Independent Bible Fellowship Church

There are some special Sundays coming up in June. Father's Day is June 15, and we will honor all the fathers present in our morning worship service. We will especially honor the oldest father present, and the father who has the most children and grandchildren present in the service with him.

On Children's Day, June 22, the children of our Church and Sunday School will take charge of the morning service. We will honor all those present in the service under 18, especially the boy and the girl who bring the most visitors with them to the service.

Our Anniversary Sunday is June 29. As in the past, we will have our Sunday School and Morning Worship service at their regularly scheduled times. Then at approximately 12:30 p.m. we will have a fellowship meal at the Century Club on Dorman Street, and an afternoon service at 2:30 p.m. Plan now to join us.

FATHER-SON BANQUET

Another special event that we will have in June is the Father-Son Banquet. It will be held at Perry's Sizzling Steakhouse in Dover on June 14 at 7:00 p.m. Each person will order from the menu the meal they would like. Meals will cost from $3.99 and up. The Rev. John Hancock will be our speaker and we have an interesting program planned. Please let Pastor Newman know by June 11 if you plan to attend.

YOUR PEACE OF MIND AND HEART OUR FIRST CONSIDERATION

Berry Funeral Homes

Dear friends,

Before prearranging a definite funeral and body disposition, it is wise to consider and consult those survivors most affected by the death. Grant them the opportunity to be active planners, not just passive spectators. Assisting in funeral arrangements can serve as a healthy outlet for their grief and anxiety.

Respectfully,
William C. Berry, Jr.

The contest was open to all high school juniors and seniors in Delaware. All essays were on a specified topic which required both reasearch and interviews of handicapped persons.

Karen's essay, dealing with the problems handicapped people face in society, won her second place, a $100 savings bond and an invitation to an awards banquet held on April 16 at Legislative Hall in Dover.

Mrs. Joanne Jones, teacher and organizer of the program, and for the assistance she received from Mrs. Nancy Cullen, from Dr. Robert Sutton who recommended the continuance of the program, agreed to pick up the local portion of the tab for the 1980-81 school year.

They also accepted a recommendation to expand the program into the upper elementary levels if the district can get state approval to shift one of the exceptional student (special education) units to the gifted and talented program to hire an additional teacher.

-Tull To Head Committee-

Prompted by a PTA request for additional members on the Alternative Schools Committee which has been visiting various alternative schools, including those of the Basics Plus format, to consider the possibilities for Woodbridge and also by an informal suggestion that the school board needs to take a more active leadership role in organizing the effort, the Board appointed long-term member William Tull to chair the committee. Tull accepted the job and will meet with the committee this evening at 7 p.m. in district offices to review information already gleaned from the various visits to schools.

The alternative schools question has been under consideration for about a year since the possibility was first proposed by Governor DuPont. Woodbridge Board President Elwood Webb

How to save money while you're on vacation

When you're getting ready to leave for that vacation of a week or more, take a few extra minutes to prepare your home before you leave. It won't take long, and it could save you some real dollars in energy costs.

Turn off your airconditioners so they won't run while you're away. Unplug instant-on TV sets. Set the refrigerator to a warmer setting or empty it and turn it off altogether. And, by all means, turn off that electric water heater.

Then go ahead on vacation. And while you're away, every so often stop and think of how you're saving money back home. It could help make your vacation more enjoyable than ever.

At Delmarva Power, we're working hard every day to help you economize and to protect your supply of energy.

The Delaware State Housing Authority Low-Cost Mortgage Program

Owning a home is the dream of many Delaware families. Unfortunately, in recent years the cost of a home mortgage has increased dramatically, making it more difficult for moderate income Delawereans to afford to own a home.

Through this program, we hope to make it easier and less expensive for eligible families to purchase a house for a lower interest rate. The participating lending institutions, along with the financial backing of the State, will make available lower interest rates to interested home buyers.

We encourage eligible families to apply for these low-interest mortgages so that they too can realize the dream of owning their own home.

Pete duPont
Governor of the State of Delaware

In response to the current market conditions of high interest rates and tight money, the Delaware State Housing Authority is continuing its mortgage purchase program to assist low and moderate income individuals in the purchase of homes. The Authority has entered into agreements to purchase $42 million in conventional, FHA, VA, or FmHA mortgage loans from thirty mortgage lenders statewide. Borrowers who qualify will benefit from lower interest rates and more readily available funds than are common now. Funds will be provided by the Authority's sale of mortgage-backed revenue bonds.

Who is eligible?

Anyone whose current adjusted gross income does not exceed $30,000 a year, and who meets the normal credit requirements of the lending institution (especially regarding down payment and ability to meet monthly mortgage payments). Borrowers who have applied for a mortgage loan under the 11 1/2% program are not eligible to participate.

What kind of property qualifies?

The borrower must have a specific property in mind. It can be any single dwelling (up to four units), located in the state of Delaware that will be the borrower's primary residence. It can be new, existing, under construction or renovation. Loans are not available to refinance an existing mortgage.

How do you apply?

The borrower should telephone any of the participating mortgage lenders listed below, starting Monday, June 9, 1980, at 9:00 AM.

If the borrower is eligible, and meets the lender's requirements, the loan will be made directly by the lending institution. Borrowers should not apply to the Delaware State Housing Authority.

What will the mortgage cost?

The interest rate on all mortgages granted under this program will be 9 3/8% per year. There will also be an origination fee of 1 1/2% of the amount borrowed, at least half of which must be paid by the seller. Application and lender processing fees will not exceed $200.

How large a down payment is required?

Minimum down payments range from 0 to 5% of the purchase price depending on whether the arrangements are conventional, FHA, VA, or FmHA.

THOUGHTS FROM DOVER

By Gov. Pierre S. DuPont

Delaware families thinking about buying a home received a boost this week with the third, and perhaps final, sale of Delaware State Housing Authority bonds to provide home mortgage money to local households.

The bond sale means that some $43 million will be available in a few days for families to use in buying a new or existing home at interest rates far below current interest rates offered by lenders. Interested homeowners will be able to obtain mortgages at 9 7/8%, which is quite a bit lower than conventional mortgages offered by local lending institutions.

With the nation in a recession and with mortgage money scarce and expensive, many families have delayed purchasing a home. This program is designed to help those families who know owning a home is a wise investment.

The DSHA home mortgage program is expected to help about 1,200 families as a result of this sale of bonds. In a previous sale this year, some $40 million was made available and 1,100 families were helped in purchasing a home. In 1979, the DSHA helped 1,200 families buy a house in the first sale of housing authority revenue bonds.

However, since the housing authority has reached its legal limit on issuing revenue bonds, it is expected that the home mortgage program will no longer be available once the current funds run out. In addition, encroaching federal regulations make it unlikely that states or local governments will be able to offer these kinds of programs after January.

The interest rate offered this month is below that offered in March, but that is because both the bond market in New York has changed and the strong faith by the bond market in Delaware securities. Consequently, the interest rate is much better than we expected.

To be eligible, current household income must not exceed $30,000. Local lending institutions and homebuilders will process applications, so that interested individuals and families should contact one of 30 local lending institutions or 25 homebuilders for applications and information.

Sen. Thurman Adams writes....

For many, many years now I have been extremely concerned about the present State Police pension system which retires a man after 20 years service and is funded on a pay-as-you-go basis.

That's why I sponsored legislation to create a State Police Pension Reform Committee, served on the Committee, and introduced legislation to accomplish the Committee's recommendations.

Last week the Senate overwhelmingly (the vote was 16-3) passed the reform bill (SB 560) which I believe will actually improve the present system and gradually wipe out an unfunded police pension obligation which had reached frightening proportions.

Few citizens realize that the unfunded police pension liability—the pensions we promise to pay retired and active members of the State Police—had reached more than $117 million! Unlike the pension fund for other state employees, which the General Assembly funds on an actuarial basis each year, the State Police pension fund is not now funded. What happens is that each year the legislature votes whatever is necessary to pay the pensions of those already retired, but doesn't make any provision for those who might retire in the future.

If the House of Representatives adopts SB 560 and the Governor signs it, all that will change. The police pension fund will be funded on a reserve basis so that members of the force will have more than an I.O.U. which, at the present rate of liability, the State might never be able to pay.

The key ingredient of the legislation is a provision to require 25 years of service, rather than the present 20, to qualify for a pension. I have always thought it wasteful of talent to retire State Police officers at the peak of their careers—when they were 41 or 42 years old.

The present system is building up a pension liability of about 94 cents for every dollar of payroll. The proposed reform legislation would reduce that to about 20 cents and fund it actuarially.

I'm confident that the reforms produce a truly better system at a reduced cost and will have no effect on recruiting. I'd also like to emphasize again that the reforms will only affect those joining the State Police after July 1, 1980. All those presently on the force will be covered by the old system.

The Senate last week also passed my bill (SB 581) to allow local school districts to split with the state any fees collected for use of school facilities, property or equipment for non-educational purposes.

At present, the law requires the school district to give 100 percent of such income to the state, even though the local taxpayers paid 40 percent of the cost of buildings and property. Under SB 581, the state would get 60 percent and the local school district 40 percent of such income.

The legislation also relieves any school district of the obligation to repay such fees previously collected but not turned over 100 percent to the state.

The Governor has twice vetoed similar legislation, but I'm hoping that the third time will be good luck.

Sign-Up Now For Fall Conservation Practices

Now is the time to sign-up for cost-share at the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Office for conservation practices to be done this fall.

Some practices you may consider this fall are sod waterways, permanent pasture and/or winter cover crop.

If you have a badly eroded area in your field, maybe a sod waterway would be the answer.

Perhaps you need to plant permanent pasture. Bring your soil sample or soil sample results in and sign-up now. Seeding date on this will be August 10 - October 1.

Also are you concerned about losing your topsoil from wind or water this winter? Winter cover crop may be your answer.

Stop at the Kent County ASCS Office to sign-up or call 697-3179 if you have any questions.

Both society and producers benefit from conservation practices because the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) is used to clean up the Nation's waters, to restore, protect and preserve the environment, to help solve the problems that reduce the land's capacity to produce and to upgrade the quality of our rural areas.

LDCP President Elected

Ed Gabrielson, a teacher at Lake Forest North Elementary School and president of the Lake Forest Education Association, has been elected by his colleagues to serve as President of the Lower Delaware Council of Presidents (LDCP).

Gabrielson will begin his one-year term on June 2 when he is sworn in by DSEA President Wally Young.

Gabrielson, 46, has taught at Lake Forest North Elementary for four years. Prior to entering the teaching profession, Gabrielson served as air traffic controller.

He is married and has three children.

In other elections, Peggy Coyle, also of Lake Forest North Elementary, was selected as the new LDCP Secretary-Treasurer. Dwight BoNey, president of the Appoquinimink Education Association, is the new LDCP Vice President. Becky Turner, a Seaford librarian, will continue to serve downstate teachers as LDCP Past President.

Program Covers Crop Damage

Farmers who accurately report crop acreages and sign up to participate in the farm program will not only be eligible for price support benefits and deficiency payments, they will also be eligible to receive disaster protection.

The 1980 program provides for disaster payments to help farmers whose crops are severely damaged by weather conditions, according to A. Palmer Corey Chairperson of the Delaware State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

"Farmers who plant within their normal crop acreage (NCA) will be eligible to receive disaster payments based on a higher target level than those who exceed their NCA," he explained.

Wheat and feed grain producers whose crop yield is less than 60 percent of the established yield times the acreage planted for harvest may receive disaster payments on the production losses below 60 percent.

"All farmers should notify their county ASCS office if they expect low yields on their wheat or barley crops due to severe weather conditions," Mr. Corey said.

Farmers will also be eligible for disaster payments when they are prevented from planting a program crop for harvest because of a natural disaster. However, planting of other later non-conserving crops must also have been prevented due to a disaster. The ASCS official said farmers should notify the county office before harvesting or destroying acreages, or replanting to other crops when a disaster strikes. Accurate acreage and production reports must be maintained to assure full program benefits.

The program offers crop protection against drought, flood, hail, windstorm, insect infestation, plant disease or any other type of disaster which occurs through no fault of the farmer.

Further details on payment provisions may be obtained from the local ASCS office.

Thoughts From Washington

By U.S. Senator Bill Roth

WHEN IS A SMALL BUSINESS GREAT?

In my mind, there is no such thing as a "small" business. Sure, there are firms that are, compared to corporate giants, employers of a smaller number of people, that require a smaller amount of physical space and produce a smaller amount of a particular product. But that doesn't mean they're "small" in the overall scheme of business and commerce.

"Small" businesses are a major generator of economic growth and, even more amazingly, they're responsible for over half of all industrial innovations and new inventions each year.

Small businesses are a stimulant for new ideas, ideas that have contributed to our modern way of life since the first "Open For Business" sign was hung.

For example, did you know Elijah McCoy, a son of slaves, created the first automatic lubricating device for steam engines? Until then, engines had to be shut down periodically and oiled by hand, causing expensive and inconvenient delays. His device became so popular mechanics wouldn't trust an engine which didn't have an authentic McCoy lubricator. That's why they'd always insist upon "the real McCoy."

And, did you know the ice cream may be credited to small business owners? In 1904 at the St. Louis World's Fair, two merchants, one selling ice cream and the other syrup-covered waffles, were pushing their wares side by side. Having run out of bowls for his ice cream, Ernest A. Hamwi turned to the waffle salesman and asked to borrow one of his waffles. Hamwi dipped the waffle in sugar, formed it into a cone shape and scooped in some ice cream. Thus was born the first ice cream cone!

Many small business inventions have become a matter of life and death. The artificial heart valve, developed by an owner of a small engineering firm and in collaboration with a medical doctor, is so efficient that thousands of them are giving new life to heart disease victims. It was developed after painstaking research and design in 1960 and opened a new era in the treatment of heart ailments.

These examples, and others—such as the zipper, the record player, bifocals, instant photography, copy machines, safety razors, many types of plastics and the telephone—reveal the amazing ability of small businesses to provide new inventions and innovations, to make life more convenient and safer.

Last week was National Small Business Week. With the economy experiencing serious troubles, it is more appropriate than ever to pay tribute to the men and women who brave formidable odds to set up their own small businesses. These economic pioneers deserve recognition for the magnificent contributions they make to our economy and our society.

One way for the U.S. Government to help would be to curb the over-regulation and ballooning paperwork that threatens the innovative capabilities of small businesses.

Small businesses don't ask for more from government; they want less—less interference, less inflation, less paperwork. As great as our smaller firms are, that's the least we can do.

FARM SURVEYS: DEEP FRIED PAPERWORK

If we expect American farmers to feed the world and to do so without additional cost, the government is going to have to get off their backs.

I just received copies of the Census Bureau's 1979 farm surveys and I was appalled.

One Delaware farmer got three out of a possible five follow-up census forms and the questions asked are divided into 50 sections and number in the hundreds. In addition, this survey, which by law should be returned within 20 days after receipt, was delivered on the first of April in the midst of planting season for farmers across the country.

I hope the priority of the federal government has not become paperwork over food, because if it has we all better develop an appetite for deep fried copy paper.

The farmer who called me tells over 1,000 acres and has been working from sun up to sundown, 14 to 15 hours a day, since late March, trying to get his land ready and put in his crop.

In addition, he has been harvesting vegetables and selling those from his farm packinghouse. But that, apparently, is not a priority for the Census Bureau and the bureaucrats who, in a week's time, don't work as many hours as this farmer will in three days, and he'll be doing it seven days a week until he's finished.

As a result of this plea for help, I have written the director of the Bureau of Census and asked him to explain the rationale for this snowstorm of paper and questions. I asked him the same question the farmer asked me: "What's the priority, food or forms?"

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on July 15, 1980, the County Council of Sussex County will hold a public hearing to consider the enactment of a proposed Ordinance, entitled: ORDINANCE TO ORDAIN AND ESTABLISH A CHANGE IN THE COMPREHENSIVE ZONING MAP OF SUSSEX COUNTY FROM MR 70 HR-1 FOR A CERTAIN PIECE OF LAND LYING AND BEING IN BALTIMORE HUNDRED, COUNTY OF SUSSEX, LOCATED ON THE EASTERN MOST RIGHT OF WAY OF OCEAN HIGHWAY, DELAWARE STATE ROUTE 1, CONTAINING 23.96 ACRES MORE OR LESS. Copies of the full text of the proposed Ordinance are available in the office of the Clerk of the County Government and at the Planning and Zoning Office, Room 112, Courthouse, Georgetown, Delaware.

The proposed Ordinance is intended to ratify and cure certain zoning actions taken by the County Council in CZ-301. As a result of a decision handed down by the Chancery Court on April 29, 1980, in a case captioned Green, et al. v. County Council, et al., Civil Action No. 768 (1979), there is uncertainty whether all technical procedural requirements have been satisfied in connection with such zoning actions. The proposed Ordinance is intended to eliminate any uncertainty respecting the validity of the prior zoning actions taken in CZ-301.

In the case referred to, the Chancery Court ruled that the procedures that the County Council had customarily followed in amending Zoning Map changes did not meet the requirements of 9 Del. C. § 7002. This Ordinance is designed to eliminate any doubt as to the validity of the past zoning actions in CZ-301, at the same time that it allows the widest feasible opportunity to be heard.

At the public hearing, all interested persons who have not previously been heard by the County Council respecting CZ-301, or who have been heard but have additional testimony, evidence, or data to offer respecting such change of zoning application, shall have a reasonable opportunity to be heard, subject to applicable rules. The County Council will hear testimony from all persons regarding the propriety or appropriateness of passing a curative Ordinance in CZ-301 and the text thereof.

The proposed Ordinance is intended to amend the original Comprehensive Zoning Map of Sussex County effective January 1, 1971, by ratifying, confirming and ordaining the change made thereto as a result of the prior County Council Motion to approve CZ-301 after hearings in compliance with 9 Del. C. § 6911, 9 Del. C. § 6912. The hearings to be held on this proposed Ordinance shall be deemed to satisfy the requirements of 9 Del. C. § 6910. The exact Comprehensive Zoning Map locations, which are the subject matter of this Ordinance, can be seen by reference to the proposed and introduced Ordinance. Since this enactment deals with the amendment of the Comprehensive Zoning Map, there is no feasible way through written text to indicate the portion of the Zoning Map to be amended; therefore, the amendments introducing new matter to the original Comprehensive Zoning Map must be made by reference to the description of property in the Recorder of Deeds, in and for Sussex County as stated in the proposed Ordinance.

THE PUBLIC HEARING WILL BE HELD AT SUSSEX COUNTY COURTHOUSE, SUSSEX COUNTY COURTHOUSE, GEORGETOWN, DELAWARE, BEGINNING AT 1:30 P.M., AND MAY BE ADJOURNED FROM TIME TO TIME.
