Celebrate Harrington!

With the 1980 State Fair an event of the past and summer winding down toward the reopening of schools, the pace of life in Harrington seems to have slowed. But not so for dozens of Harringtonians who are busy just now with preparations for the celebration of the community's second annual Heritage Day scheduled for Saturday, September 13. The rain date is the following Saturday, September 20.

This year's celebration has been planned by the Greater Harrington Historical Society and is receiving some funding from the Delaware Humanities Forum.

As last year, there will be an additional evening of fun with a barn dance planned for Welch's Seed Service and sponsored by the Friends of the Harrington Public Library set for Friday evening, September 12.

The September dates are just over one month later than last year's August celebration. It is hoped that the later date will see good weather and people home from vacation. Heat and a deluge interrupted the enthusiastic response to last year's Heritage Day celebration. A night time thunderstorm nearly emptied Welch's as it sent a standing room only crowd at the barn dance scurrying home to close windows. The next day, Heritage Day, dawned clear and hot, and the homemade ice cream and cold drinks were in great demand as people wandered the flea market, watched crafts demonstrations, took walking tours of Harrington or rode Walt Messick's shuttle buses out to the museum and antique car display. But in the afternoon the rains came, and suddenly, wiping out the flea market, dousing the chicken barbecue and turning parts of Commerce Street into a knee-deep stream. The heavy rains returned to discourage evening activities, effectively washing out two simultaneous street dances that had been planned.

Nevertheless, the response was enthusiastic, and Heritage planners were encouraged to make the event an annual celebration, inviting visitors and townspeople alike to "Celebrate Harrington" and share a little fun.

A busy schedule, beginning with Friday night's barn dance, has been worked out.

Keynoting Heritage Day activities on Saturday is the theme

SLOW DOWN ON DELAWARE AVENUE! - If a new ordinance is finally approved by the Harrington City Council, the 25 mile speed limit on Delaware Avenue will extend to Benjamin Street instead of Center Street as before. That means motorists coming off U.S. 13 onto Delaware Avenue will have to start slowing down earlier. The signs, as indicated in the picture above have already been moved, and the ordinance was scheduled to have had its second and final reading at last night's Council meeting. However, the Council could not get a quorum together, and the meeting was postponed. As of this printing, a definite date for the August meeting had not been set.

In Frederica

Water Works Well Under Way

Councilman Ezekiel Dill told the Frederica Town Council last week that the improvements to the town's water works are well under way and may be complete in another four weeks. Originally projected as a 90 day project, the water improvements will probably be finished within 60 days from the time construction began. The work is being handled by Teal Construction of Dover.

Dill also said the town was getting 10 inch mains instead of 8 inch pipe and more new fire hydrants than was originally thought. A total of eight new hydrants are being installed. All are of the type that will allow hookup of almost any pumper.

The Council voted to accept Alternate II of the project and to pay Teal Construction $58,917.51 immediately.

A letter to the Council from Frederica Fire Chief Bill Betts expressed the fire company's appreciation for the foresight, planning and work involved in getting the water system improvements under way. The 10 inch mains and the new hydrants were especially mentioned.

In other business, the Frederica Town Council:

-received a request for a permit for the Burchenal Oil Company of Wyoming to open up a terminal in Frederica. The "terminal" would presently consist of one or two trucks to be on call for local needs. The request was deferred until the proper paper work and contact with the fire company is complete. Frederica has no zoning as such, although it has been reported that efforts are being made to set up zoning guidelines along county standards.

-accepted the recommendation of Delmarva Power & Light Company that two dark corners in town be illuminated, one by the changing of a street light on Coleman Street and the other, by installing a new

2 Locals in Blue/Gold 10 K Run

Brad Morris from Harrington and his brother Nick formerly of Harrington participated in the 1st annual "Blue & Gold 10K Run" held at the University of Delaware on Saturday, August 9th. This race preceded the Blue and Gold Football Game and attracted 218 runners from all over the state. The race was to benefit the mentally retarded and was the kick off to the days pre-game activities. Brad finished 90th with a time of 46:22 and Nick finished 117th with a time of 48:59. They ran with their motto: we run so they can learn.

one on Lowber.

-received a letter notifying the town of a county hearing on Felton's plans for hooking into the county sewage treatment plant at Frederica. The hook-up will involve some streets in or around Frederica. There has been a problem in that engineers discovered the line Felton originally planned to hook into are too small and that it will be necessary to go into a main force line. The meeting is set for the evening of August 26, Councilman Asa Fleming agreed to attend.

Three Arrested in Strong Arm Robbery

Delaware State Police from Camden last Thursday arrested three Felton area youths in connection with a strong-arm robbery that occurred about 2 a.m. that same day. The incident, in which two Harrington residents were assaulted and robbed of $22 and a ring, took place in a soybean field off Delaware Rt. 12, about a mile and a half west of Frederica.

Arrested were Joseph Steele III (18), Bryant Lee Burris (18) and a juvenile, all three of Felton. The juvenile is in Stevenson Home, and Steele and Burris are in Sussex Correction Institute under $20,000 secured bond, pending trial.

Fred E. Simpson, Jr., 17, of 115 Fleming Street, Harrington, and Joseph Loveless, 24, of 212 Harrington Avenue, Harrington, were both sitting in front of the Harrington Library when three teenagers pulled up in a car and started a conversation. About 20 minutes later Simpson and Loveless got in the car to ride around and do some drinking. Three hours later the decision was made to go swimming in an irrigation pond off Rt. 12.

As they left the car, Loveless led the way back across the bean field until he realized he was getting ahead of everyone. Stopping to wait for the rest, he turned to see two of the youths beating Simpson. Fearing he would also be assaulted, he ran towards Rt. 12 but was overtaken and likewise assaulted. A ring and $17 was taken from Loveless and $5 from Simpson. The youths then got back in their car and fled towards Felton. State Police were called when Simpson and Loveless made their way to Frederica.

Felton Convalescent Home Owner Gets Restricted License

Felton Convalescent Home owner Betty Fletcher got a 90 day lease on life Monday when the State Board of Health revoked her annual license, but gave her a 90-day restricted license in which she will have time to demonstrate compliance with the board's findings.

The Board did allow that two of the more serious matters had been corrected - two elderly patients had been moved from her private home, and the convalescent home's population was down to the 12 stated in her license.

The two elderly residents were Mrs. Janet H. Davis, who was found in a room connected to Fletcher's private residence when the state made a surprise inspection on July 15, and a Mrs. Myers. Mrs. Fletcher had said they were kept in her own home because they were "loners" who did not get along with other patients. Both have since been moved to other locations.

Criminal charges of endangering the welfare of an incompetent person, namely Mrs. Davis, were dropped by the state during Mrs. Fletcher's arraignment before the Court of Common Pleas last Friday because of her testimony before the Board of Health on July 30.

The Felton Convalescent Home was ruled to be in violation of two sections of the Delaware Code governing nursing homes. The decision to revoke the annual license and issue the 90 day restricted license was based on that ruling.

Accompanying the ruling were about 15 "findings of fact" concerning

Milford Board Has Sent School Information

Contrary to a story which appeared in The Harrington Journal last week, the Milford Board of Education has complied with the request of the Deputy Attorney General's Office for information relating to the Board's decision to close West Elementary School in Houston.

P.T.O. Appeals Committee chairperson Carole Sieber said Monday that her group had been unaware that the information had been forwarded to the state, because the committee had not received copies of the information they had requested. Deputy Attorney General Roger Aiken, she said, had promised the committee would get copies, but so far nothing had arrived.

The information requested was copies of Milford Board regulations and procedures pertaining to holding public hearings and closing schools.

Felton Plans First Heritage Day

A group of Felton citizens is busy with plans for the community's first Heritage Day which has been set for Saturday, October 4, from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

The informal group, chaired for the present by Edie Hemphill, is meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:30. Interested citizens are invited to attend and to make suggestions.

Other than the date, definite details have not been settled. But the group is taking a look at Felton's historical homes and buildings with the possibility of printing literature for a walking tour in mind.

The group is also looking for crafts people who might be willing to put on demonstrations or displays during the day.

Assistance and partial funding for the effort are being supplied by the State Department of Parks and Recreation and by the Delaware Humanities Forum.

First Staters Capture Women's Slo-Pitch State Tournament

Harrington's First Staters captured the 1980 Women's Class B Slo-Pitch Championship in a state tournament last weekend dominated by four downstate teams. Following the First Staters in the Class B competition were Paradee Oil Company and Dover Air Force Base, who finished second and third, respectively.

A team from Smyrna, American Hoechst, took second place in the Women's Class C tournament.

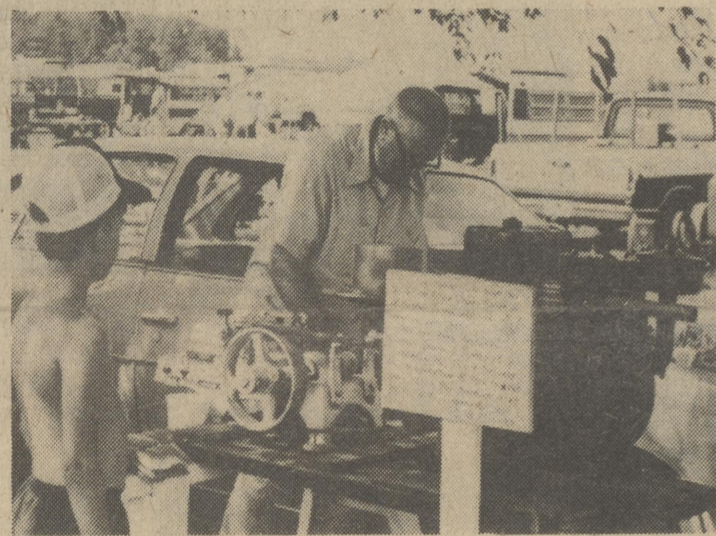

On their way to the state championship, the First Staters won five straight elimination games defeating the Uniques, Deer Park (6-0), Northeast (13-12), DAFB (13-5) and finally, Paradee (7-3).

In the third game of the series, the First Staters upset the defending champs, Northeast of Wilmington, with a tie breaking run in the home half of the seventh and final inning.

Northeast had an early edge in the first, with three runs to the First Staters' 2. But the leading edge was wiped out by five First Stater runs in the second inning. In Calvin Minner of Harrington was displaying at the show of Eastern Shore Threshermen's & Collectors Association held near Federalsburg recently. Calvin was demonstrating the art of making strawberry baskets on a 61 year old basket maker once owned by his father. He will be demonstrating again when Harrington holds its Heritage Day on September 13th.

Felton Hires 5th Police Officer

The town of Felton, at its August Council meeting, beefed up its police force, adding a fifth officer to its ranks. Patrolman Richard Smith is now on duty on a part-time basis until he leaves for a 14-week stint at the State Police Academy.

After the fourteen weeks of training, Smith will be employed full time and paid by CETA funds until September 1981.

Felton's Police Chief, Mike Oliver is also a CETA funded employee.

The Olin Davises Recall.....

[This is the conclusion to a story begun last week. In the first portion, Olin and Ruth Davis recalled the early years of harness racing at the fair as they heard about them from Elbert Saunders and from their own experience. In this week's section, Olin Davis talks about some of the horses he has owned and known.]

-Good Horses and Fast Horses-

In his years as a trainer, driver and owner, Olin Davis has known "good horses" and "fast horses". Some have been both.

A "good horse" is one whose behavior or performance can be counted on. He may or may not be fast. A "fast horse" is just what the name suggests. He could also be a good horse, or he could have a mean or tricky or unpredictable nature. When you get the two combined, you are likely to have a great horse.

"Quick Lady", owned by the Davises, was one such horse. Olin Davis, who obviously has a love for all his horses, is a little reluctant to play favorites. But he has to admit that "Quick Lady" was outstanding. Undeclared as a three-year-old in 12 straight races, she went on to be come Season's Champion for four consecutive years - as a 3, 4, 5 and 6-year-old. Davis bought her from his uncle, J.M. Davis, who owned her sire, "Quick Reward".

A grandson of "Quick Lady", "Uncle Ford", is now in the Davis stable and races in New York.

Another member of the Davis menage described as both a good horse and a fast horse is "Field Master", who has won over $100,000. Unfortunately, "Field Master" will be the last of his line. The Davises have owned four generations in cluding his mother, his grandmother and his great grandmother. But his mother died of a tumor, having given birth to just one colt.

A horse in Davis acquaintance he says was fast, but certainly not good, was "Frank T. Ace". In fact, Davis describes him as a "dirty, rotten little bum." But the "bum" won $100,000 one year.

Olin and Ruth Davis could

The Delaware State Police's celebrated "Trooper Dan" has been invited, and the Harrington Police are planning another bicycle safety obstacle course.
A karate demonstration, clown dunking, a quilt exhibit and an old fashioned spelling bee are also on the day's agenda. In addition, it has been announced that there will be a homemade ice cream festival and rumored that barbecued chicken and lots of other gourmet goodies will be available.
A street dance in the evening has been planned to conclude the celebration.
The Harrington Journal has announced that it will again publish a special Heritage Day supplement featuring a map, a complete schedule of events and related articles and photos.

probably go on and on about the horses they have known. And it is very plain that, for them, the harness racing business is more than just a way to earn a living. It is a pleasant sort of mania.
Whether that mania is inherited or acquired, it is certainly in the Davis blood. The family livelihood is also an interest shared by the whole family.
Olin's wife, Ruth, can come closer to her husband in matching story-for-story about the life in harness racing they have shared over the years. In addition, she writes the pedigrees for Carroll Sales.
Their daughter, Judy, now the wife of Dr. David Wilson, a Pennsylvania veterinarian, writes pedigrees for a number of larger sales. She and her husband have one daughter, Diane.
A son, Mike, who was about two years old the day his dad broke his arm and his mother made blackberry jelly, is a graduate of the University of Delaware. Married to the former Linda Wilkins of Milford and residing in Houston, he has succumbed to the harness racing mania and has chosen to join the family business. Headquarters for that business are the Olin Davis residence and stables near Harrington.

40-Door Truck Terminal To Be Built in Bridgeville

As a result of a recent decision by the Sussex County Council, Red Star Express Lines, a trucking firm, will soon build a new, 40-door terminal in Bridgeville. The terminal, designed to consolidate Red Star's operations at Milford, Salisbury, and Cambridge, is to be constructed between U.S. 13 and 13A somewhat south of the main residential and business district but north of the traffic light on 13.
The approval necessary for the construction of the terminal was approved despite the earlier protest of residents of Bridgeville Manor who claimed the facility would cause too much congestion and noise in their neighborhood.

However, the proposed terminal got the nod of the Sussex Planning and Zoning Commission, which suggested just two changes in Red Star's plans:

- building a hedgerow of trees along U.S. 13A to muffle the noise and hide the parking lot.
- limiting the terminal to one entrance on 13A, with all others to lead out onto main U.S. 13.

Although no Bridgeville residents attended the meeting at which the terminal was approved, Sussex Council President Cannon, a resident of the community, voted against the measure because of local opposition.

Archery Deer Hunting

Regulations Announced

Details of the 1980-81 archery deer hunting season for Bombay Hook and Prime Hook National Wildlife Refuge have been announced by Refuge Manager Don Perkuchin. Areas open to deer hunting are delineated on maps which are available at no charge from both the Bombay Hook and Prime Hook Refuge offices. These maps also have details of Refuge hunting regulations and permit requirements printed on the reverse side.

This year archery deer hunting opportunities will be provided on September 6, 13, 20, and 27 at Bombay Hook and during the entire regular state season at Prime Hook except October 10th and 11th. Deer hunters must possess a valid hunter qualification card, a state hunting license, and a Refuge permit to hunt on the Refuge. Permits to hunt are obtained on a daily basis at Bombay Hook and seasonally at Prime Hook. Hunter qualification cards are valid for three years. Hunters who qualified in 1977 must requalify this year to be eligible for the hunt. Qualification tests consist of placing three out of five arrows in the 9 x 14 inch chest area of a standard size deer target at 25 yards. Archers must use hunting arrows equipped with broad heads or points weighted identically to a broad head.

This year's archery tests will be conducted as follows:

Bombay Hook National Wildlife Refuge August 23 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.
Bombay Hook National Wildlife Refuge August 30 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

Do you know what one of the biggest summer problems is? Answer: What to do with the squash? Especially, the zucchini, which are so prolific that if you don't grab them quickly they'll grow right in front of your eyes.

Some of the young housewives of my acquaintance who make a lot of zucchini bread are grating the squash now and freezing it to use later when the weather is cooler.

And my friend, JoAnne, is always asking to bring her famous vegetable stew to all the cookouts. Here's how: Put into a saucepan some chopped zucchini and some yellow squash, a large onion chopped, a green pepper cut into pieces and several red tomatoes. Add sugar, salt and pepper. I like a bit of bacon fat for flavor also, but that's the Sussex County in me! The juice from the tomatoes makes enough moisture. Cook down until all are melting tender. You could add a bit of oregano if you like the taste, and it is good also sprinkled with Parmesan cheese.

And here's another good one! It is called "Lazy Squash": 3 cups of zucchini or yellow squash or mixed (Continued on Page Ten)

David and Absalom were among the subjects discussed Monday morning at Bible Study. Sylvia Meredith was leader and played piano for the lovely hymn sing at the end of Bible Study. Prayer and a well pleased group left the hour. In fact, heard so much about it, plan to attend personally every week myself, then when it is reported, it will truly be first hand.

The first sign of knowing Ina is here Tuesday is usually Lee with the (now expected) doughnuts. Lee is so very kind, he delivers home-bounds their meals, he is pleasant looking and never complains. The Jolly Timers are great every Tuesday morning - Ina, Andy and Tony and all the rest do such a bang up job. Makes you proud! They plan a short program for Governor DuPont August 14 when he is visiting the Center.

Wednesday morning was bright and beautiful. Thirty-eight lovely folks left Harrington Center by chartered bus for Rehoboth Beach. Lots wore their shorts - some dresses - others pant suits - no bikini's. Sorry, maybe next time. To tell you the truth they all made me hungry when they said they had really good crab cakes, luscious fried oysters, everyone was bubbling over with chatter and laughter. All truly had a grand and glorious time. Charlotte and Ruth were chaparones.

Gene finished the church after completing his other duties. The pool table was still busy and full of chatter. No music from Larry as he went to Rehoboth. Seemed strange not to hear the organ every once in a while and a song or two echo from the pool room to the ceramic room. We five around the table kept busy all day. Do you know, for the life of me, I don't know if they played Bingo or not. Well, it's no earth shattering matter so will pass it up. Lots of pop corn and salt water taffy, good - um!

Celebration Honors Bishop & Mrs. James K. Matthews

"For these eight years you have had a world-wide figure as your Bishop."
The words were spoken at a worship celebration in honor of Bishop and Mrs. James K. Matthews, who retires this month as Bishop of the Washington Area United Methodist Church. The ceremony was held outdoors in balmy weather on the lawn of Wesley College.

Indian Methodism was mature enough to elect Indians to the Episcopacy.

In 1960, he was elected Bishop by the Northeastern Jurisdictional Conference of the United Methodist Church and was Resident Bishop of the Boston area from 1960 to 1972. Since then he has been Bishop of the Washington area.

In India he met and married Eunice Jones, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. Stanley Jones, and the couple raised three children. He is the author of many books and articles and serves on several boards and commissions of the United Methodist Church, as well as the National and World Councils of Churches. He holds degrees from five universities and colleges as well as six honorary degrees.

Several hundred attended the service in his honor, including most of the members of the clergy of the Peninsula Conference, who came into the open quadrangle in procession, singing "Immortal, Invisible, God Only Wise." Participating in the service were choirs from Whatcoat United Methodist Church and St. Mark's UMC; several youth members of the conference, lay leaders and the four district superintendents.

Bishop Matthews is being honored by both Peninsula and Baltimore Conferences by the endowment of a chair at Wesley Theological Seminary in Washington. Contributions may be sent to the Peninsula Conference Treasurer, 139 N. State St., Dover, DE 19901.

James K. Matthews was born in Breezewood, PA in 1913 and was reared in Ohio and Texas. He was ordained and commissioned a missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1938 and assigned to service in India. There, in 1956, he was elected a Bishop by the Indian Church, but resigned before consecration, feeling that

Dr. Slaybaugh Receives Wesley Award

Dr. Slaybaugh

The Wesley Award, the highest award given by the faculty and Board of Trustees of Wesley College, was presented to Dr. J. Paul Slaybaugh, president emeritus. The Wesley Award is a bronze plaque with citation. Dr. Slaybaugh was honored for his "forty-six years of dedicated service to education and outstanding leadership as president of Wesley College." It was during his presidency that Wesley College faced a major crisis. In 1956 a decision was made to close the college but under the leadership of Dr. Slaybaugh, the faculty, students, alumni and friends of Wesley College rallied to the support of the school and the Peninsula Conference reversed its decision to close Wesley and has, since then, given its strong support to the college. Dr. Slaybaugh was the tenth president of the college, serving from 1951 to 1960. One of the buildings on campus bears his name.

Harrington's First Staters Are State Champions

the two innings which followed, Northeast crept up on that lead, soaring two runs each time while holding the First Staters scoreless. By the end of the fourth inning, the game stood at a 7-7 tie.

In the fifth inning in what may have been the turning point of the game the First Staters capitalized on back-to-back home runs off the bats of Kathy Wilson and Robin Hurley to bring in four more runs. Northeast picked up three. The downstate girls scored another run in the sixth inning to give them a two point lead going into the seventh.

But Northeast was right back, with two runs in the top of the seventh to return the game to a 12-12 tie. But when a hit off the bat of Kathy Wilson scored Debbie Donovan, it was all over, and the First Staters moved on to take two more games and the State Championship.

The next step will be the Central Atlantic Women's Class B Slo-Pitch Regionals to be held in Philadelphia, August 23-24.

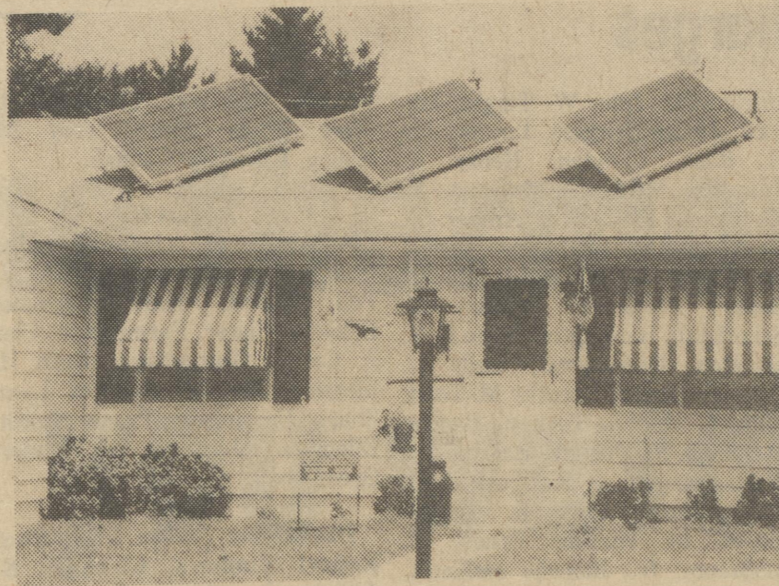

Meanwhile the First Staters will be facing DAFB again in competition for the local league championship. That game is set for this evening at 6:45 at the W.T. Chipman Field in Harrington.

In preparation for their state win, the First Staters have played a total of 60 games, beginning in April this year. They have also been involved in a number of tournaments including the Zinn's Park Invitational in Denver, PA; The Vineland, NJ Jaycees Women's Softball Classic, where they were bracket winners; the Dover Air Force Base Women's Invitational, where they were tournament runner up; the 1980 Capital Officials Association Women's Invitational where they were bracket winners and third place overall; at Dover Air Force Base, where they were bracket winners, and at the Terrace Athletic Club 4th of July Spectacular, where they were 2nd place bracket winners.

They are coached by Dan Hicks of Harrington, their sponsor and manager is Gail Lutz of Millsboro.

WAMCO of Harrington was installing these solar collectors on a home in the Edgehill section of Dover. Solar heat will heat this house as well as heat the domestic water without use of fuel oil all year around. This form of energy gets us further away from dependence on foreign oil.

FACTS & FIGURES

According to the Bureau of the Census, there are over 15 million Americans who are under five years old.

According to experts on children's toys, the average American household in which there are preschool children also contains 14 quality toys from Fisher-Price, now in its 50th year. Last year parents bought four Fisher-Price toys for every newborn child. Many parents consider such toys as educational as their youngsters find them entertaining.

New Program Aims to Help Youth

While many people worry about the future of our communities and of our young people, there are those here in Delaware who are doing something about it!

The Prudential Insurance Company, in cooperation with the National Institute on Drug Abuse, are bringing a special community program to Delaware called Channel I. "The program is designed to help communities help their young people", said Prudential Divisional manager, William Pajerowski. "Briefly, we will be choosing one community in Sussex County. That community will receive support from Prudential staff, from workers at People's Place II who are coordinating the selection process, and most important, financial support of up to $10,000 to initiate the community program that is finally selected".

Mike Long, coordinator for the program at People's Place II in Milford, described the goal of the program. "Our purpose is to help young people in a community to help their community. We are willing to work with adults who want to assist young people in accomplishing this, or with young people who will need to build some adult support to make their program work."

Delaware has been selected as one of a few states nationally to receive this Channel I program support. Two programs will be initiated in New Castle County, and one each in Kent and Sussex. In Sussex County, the Community Selection Committee consists of Bill Collick, Lewes; Bruce Lorenz, Milford; Joanne Conaway, Laurel; Irene Simpler, Rehoboth; and Sgt. John Dickson of the Delaware State Police.

"Many different kinds of youth-run programs are possible with Channel I," said Dr. Frank Shavlik, Director of People's Place II. "Other communities have, for example, restored a Civil War cemetery, built a youth center, and even initiated a profit-making youth-run business. I'm eager to see what kinds of ideas and projects we can help to initiate in Sussex County."

Youth groups or individuals, or adult groups willing to work with the youth of their community are urged to submit a letter (two page maximum) describing the needs in their community and the adult or youth groups who are willing to participate. Letters should be submitted to Dr. Frank Shavlik, Director, People's Place II, Box 301, 13 N. Church Avenue, Milford, DE, 19963, no later than August 15, 1980.

Other agencies cooperating with Channel I in Delaware are the Bureau of Alcoholism and Drug Abuse and DIAL, Delaware's statewide drug and alcohol prevention agency.

John Burris Files for Re-election

House Majority Leader John M. Burris (R-Milford) today announced his intention to seek re-election as Representative for the 36th District seat in the General Assembly.

Burris, who was re-elected resoundingly to his second term in the House of Representatives in 1978, and who has served as leader of the Republican caucus since that time, listed several priorities of action upon his re-election.

He stated today, "I have a number of priorities which, with the help of my colleagues, will strengthen Delaware. They are, first, to continue to represent the people of the 36th District in a manner which is consistent with their wants and needs. Second, to fine tune our legislative process make sure government continues to act in a responsible fashion. Furthermore, we need specific reforms in areas of fiscal responsibility and improvements in the merit system to ensure the quality of service that, as taxpayers, Delawareans deserve. We need changes in our grants-in-aid program so that programs that deserve aid get equitable treatment. We were faced with almost impossible decisions in the last session. This must be corrected. I intend to see that it is."

Burris stated that his strongest performances as Majority Leader were in the areas of limiting spending to 98% of revenues and in making sure the interest of the 36th District and the present administration were properly attended.

Elected as Majority Leader at the age of 33, Burris is proud to have earned the respect and encouragement of his colleagues in the House of Representatives. Throughout the State, he has been praised as a leader who can work effectively with all caucuses in the Delaware General Assembly.

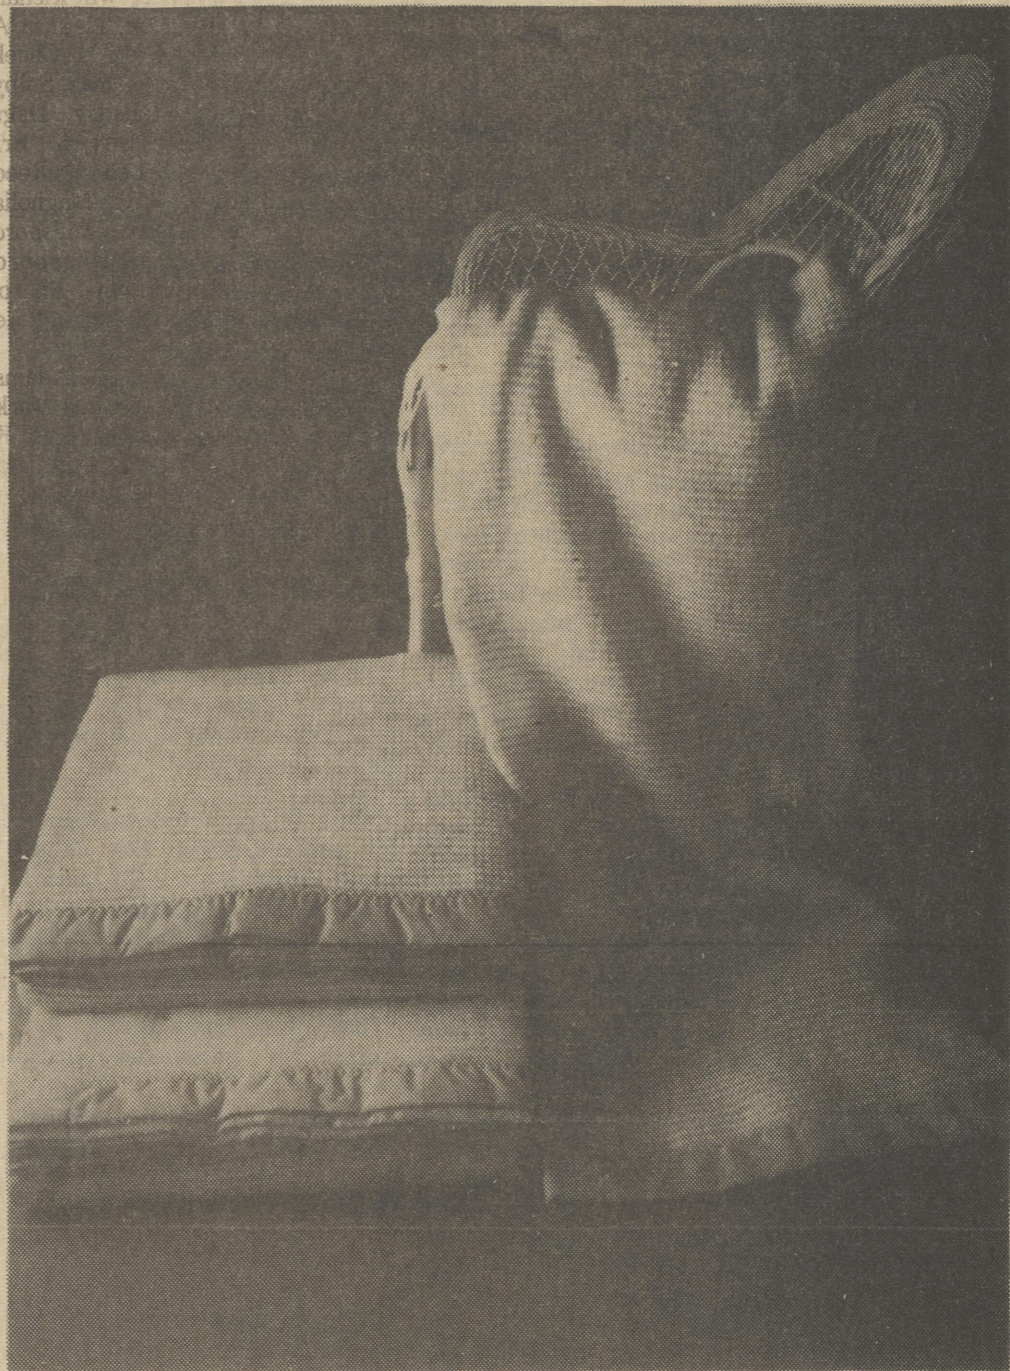

Burris and his wife, Linda, live with their three sons in Milford.

delicious meal was enjoyed by all. Those in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Al Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Witomski, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jenner and son Rick, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Biggs and children Bambi and Freddie Jo, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bennett and children Malora and David Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Maugel and daughter Linda, Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Stumpf and son Scott, and Mrs. Lola O'Day and her brother Henry Mitchell.

In July of this year, Mr. and Mrs. John Hopkins of High Street motored to Cheyenne, Wyoming in their camper to enjoy the cowboys in action at the Frontier Days Rodeo. While in Wyoming they camped at Medicine Bow National Park near Lower Tie City which is 18,700 feet up in the mountains. While traveling on Rt. 30 west of Laramie they saw for the first time, antelope grazing with cattle. They were then 11,100 feet up in the mountains and played in snow all day on July 26. On their trip back they stopped in Minnesota and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wright in St. Paul. Mr. and Mrs. Wright had visited the Hopkins on Memorial Day weekend of this year. All in all they did a lot of riding and sightseeing.

Mr. and Mrs. James Havelov just returned from a week long vacation at Atlantic City, NJ. Grace reported the weather was just perfect.

Plans are being made for the Felton Heritage Day to be held on October 4. Anyone interested in helping may attend the meeting on August 13 at the Town Hall at 7:30 p.m.

We have a new restaurant in town called the "Depot", which is owned and operated by Gary Gay.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kates attended a meeting in Harrisburg, PA on Saturday with the Odd Fellows and Rebehekas.

On Saturday, several Felton area residents attended the wedding of Jeff Chambers, son of William and Betty Chambers of Canterbury, to Elizabeth Baker of Lancaster, PA. Miss Baker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Baker.

Please call me and tell me about your trips this summer and share them with others. My telephone number is 284-4313 and my address is RD 1 Box 392, Felton, DE.

visited by a chartered bus and it was filled to go to County Wide - White Oak Park, Dover. The folks reported a dandy time - well entertained, bag lunch, and tho it was hot the shade and friends more than compensated. Our own Miles, Andy and Larry sang several numbers with Tom at the organ. Florence said she got a hot seat (her chair - metal) was in the sun. Charlotte was chaparone. At the Center we were busy or still or what ever you wanted to be. Bowling at Milford Lanes. No names for high scorers. Going to get a direct line one of these days!

Harriett took the folks local shopping Friday morning. Went greenware shopping Friday afternoon at Busy Bee's. Really have some cute, different, Christmassy things. Amy has a gorgeous pair of lamps there, my they are beautiful!

A friend said she and the bunnies were really enjoying the garden this year - so far she hasn't had a carrot or a beet, the little rascals devoured the tops before they ever got started, and now, would you believe the little varmints even leave their teeth marks in the choice tomatoes. What's up Doc?

Best Wishes to all who are ill in the hospital or home, thinking of your homebonds too. All others stop by the Center and see the new counter top, like it. Be kind to each other. Theres the Birthday Party coming up, see you. Oh, my goodness, listen, forgot to tell you, don't forget to remember to smile!!

drained. 2 tbs. grated onion, gently sauteed, 1/2 cup milk, 1 egg, 1/2 cup bread crumbs, 1/2 cup grated cheese, salt, pepper and butter to taste. Combine onions, squash and seasonings. Add beaten egg and milk. Put half of this squash mixture into a baking dish, sprinkle with half of the crumbs and half of the cheese. Add rest of the mixture, and rest of crumbs and cheese. Dot with butter and bake about 30 minutes.

And of course we can't go back on old-fashioned squash fritters, with-grated raw squash, egg, milk, bit of onion, baking powder and flour to make a fritter better. Fry in bacon fat.

Or...you can just slice the squash raw, dip in egg, and then pancake flour and fry gently.

Whew! This should squash the whole problem.

This hot, humid week finds Yours Truly putting limas in the freezer and also corn and canning tomatoes like mad. But it comforts me to think of how easy meal planning will be next winter.

In spite of the heat we make sure to eat some hot food every day. Of course we have cold salads, cold sandwiches and iced tea by the gallon and ice cream, but we make it a rule to have at least one bowl of hot soup sometime during the day.

We believe it keeps the stomach in good shape. The bag worms are in full force. They are ruining the evergreens. The only really effective way to eliminate them is to pick by hand and crunch by foot! It is too bad they are such mean little rascals. works of art.

I'm longing to try a lot of new bread recipes and buns and coffee breads, but it will have to wait until winter and the oven feels good. Last winter I was ill for a time and did not get to pursue one of my favorite hobbies...cooking.

Surgeon Offers New Hope for Mastectomy Patients

Plastic surgeon Dr. Murray W. Seitchik is committed to helping mastectomy patients feel better by looking better...through breast reconstruction.

Until several years ago, treatment for breast cancer was "pretty pat," according to Dr. Seitchik, director of the Division of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery, The Hahnemann Medical College & Hospital. "It was gospel to amputate the breast with as much underlying tissue as possible," he noted. "A woman's reaction to this catastrophe was silenced with 'You're lucky to be alive' and that was that."

All that has been changed with the development of the silicone prosthesis and improved surgical techniques. Today, it is possible for almost any woman to benefit from breast reconstruction, even if she has had radical surgery and/or extensive radiation therapy and chemotherapy.

The patient must wait for six months after her mastectomy for the skin to heal and stretch enough to cover the new breast. If the disease has progressed beyond the breast to underlying muscle and surrounding lymph nodes, she must wait about two years until treatment for the cancer is completed.

The first step in reconstruction is determining the location of the incision, which will be hidden by the crease under the woman's new breast. By tracing an outline of the patient's bra on her chest, Dr. Seitchik is able to mark the exact spot for proper placement of the implant.

The procedure is slightly more complicated if the woman has had a radical mastectomy. If missing muscle or skin must be replaced, it is taken from the woman's lower back.

Because the silicone gel is contained in a plastic bag, it remains where it is surgically placed. There is no danger of the silicone escaping into the patient's system. "We handle the implants with excruciating care," Dr. Seitchik said, "and never touch them. Once the implant is in the body, it should not develop a tear."

The new breast may not be as large as the woman's other breast, since the size of the implant is limited by the amount of skin covering the reconstructed area. However, it is common and relatively simple to reduce the size of the original breast to achieve volumetric symmetry.

"The new breast tends to undergo changes in shape in the immediate months after surgery and therefore it is extremely difficult to place the nipple accurately on the summit of the breast at the time of reconstruction," Dr. Seitchik explained. "When the breast has assumed its permanent shape, I sit with the patient before the mirror and together we decide where the nipple should go."

Skin for the new nipple may be grafted from other locations on the patient's body. If the woman's other breast has been reduced, skin from that nipple may be used in reconstruction of the new nipple.

Although medical assistance in Pennsylvania considers breast reconstruction to be cosmetic surgery and will not allow coverage for the hospital, Blue Cross and Blue Shield have reclassified it as rehabilitative surgery. Dr. Seitchik said he is amazed, however, at the large number of women who don't realize the operation can be done. He is involved in a training program with the American Cancer Society to instruct representatives in the procedure to help "get the word out" to patients immediately after their mastectomies. That is the time, he believes, for the woman to realize "there is light at the end of the tunnel."

Women who have had breast reconstruction are overwhelmingly satisfied with the experience. "No reconstruction will ever look good enough for the Playboy centerfold," Dr. Seitchik said, "but for the woman who has it, it's beautiful. It's part of her."

The sentiment of all his patients can be summed up, he added, in the words of one woman who had lived with her mastectomy scar for 15 years before choosing breast reconstruction. "Simply put," she said, "I feel like a new woman."

Berry Funeral Homes

Dear friends,

At the visitation, a body properly prepared for viewing may be minus the effects of a lingering illness or a violent death. The survivors can then retain the familiar image of the deceased. Cosmetic restoration does not deny death by creating the illusion of life, but rather it gives the bereaved an acceptable image to recall.

Respectfully,

William A. Berry, Jr.
