

Harrington gets set for

HERITAGE DAY

September 13 th
Celebrating September 12-14

If there were any doubts, about the matter, it should be clear that Harrington is getting into full swing to celebrate a Heritage Weekend this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, September 12-14. If there were any doubts, they should have been effectively dispelled by now with the decoration of display windows in town for the gala occasion.

Decorated windows are at Harrington Restaurant and Newstand, Food Rite, Jacobs store, Harrington Pharmacy, the Harrington Journal, L & D Electronics and others.

On display at Harrington Pharmacy is the 1979 Heritage Day signature quilt that will go to some lucky person after a drawing at 4 p.m. on Saturday. Tidbits for $1.00 can be purchased at Harrington Pharmacy, Raughley Insurance, or from any member of the Greater Harrington Historical Society now, or at the Harrington New Century Club on Dorman Street on Heritage Day.

The Historical Society is also offering a limited edition of a 1980 Heritage plate bearing the locomotive designed by Bernadine Butler. Only 50 of these are available at $8.00. But if there is sufficient demand, more may be ordered.

The Historical Society will also offer Heritage Day badges (not patches) bearing the locomotive logo.

Heritage celebration gets into full swing with a barn dance sponsored by the Friends of the Harrington Public Library on Friday night at Welch's Mill beginning at 8:00 p.m. The Hughes family will do the musical honors.

Heritage Day festivities on Saturday begin with opening ceremonies featuring keynote historian Dr. James Valle. There will follow a full day of displays, demonstrations, music, Conrail tours, antique museum visits, a bike safety obstacle course, a spelling bee and much, much more. There will be lots of good food available - chicken barbecue dinners, chicken salad platters, chicken salad to go, homemade ice cream, funnel cake, baked goods, hot dogs and hamburgers.

Sunday, August 14, will see a colonial service at Asbury to mark the completion of the Heritage

A burgeoning flea market will attract shoppers, and children of all ages will delight in the free balloons with a special message to be given away by St. Stephens Episcopal Church. Nearby, the Greater Harrington Historical Society's flea market in the Raughley building will be open.

Sunday will conclude with an evening street dance on the First National Bank parking lot.

Lake Forest Board Sets Referendum

The Lake Forest board has set October 28, 1980 as the date of a referendum to get public permission to transfer fifteen cents from one category of the school budget to another. The plan is to take fifteen cents of the amount from each $100 of assessed value of real estate that now goes into the debt service where it is collecting dust (funds are piling up faster than they are used) and transfer it to the general expense account which is suffering from a bare bones budget badly eroded by inflation.

The general expense account in part provides funds to back up educational programs in the schools. That means to buy textbooks, library materials and other needed supplies.

According to Assistant Superintendent Melvin Luff told the "Journal" the new funds to be transferred into the general expense account would be earmarked for the "design, support and supervision of the curriculum". Superintendent William Cline said two very big items would be library books and other materials and a "cycle" program to renew texts or a five year rotating basis.

The transfer of the funds is a simple matter, but it requires the consent of the taxpayers, and one confusing fact about the legal requirement of the referendum by which the question must read "for the tax increase" or "against the tax increase". There WILL BE NO TAX INCREASE. One part of the tax will get bigger while another gets smaller, by the same amount. The net result is zero change. Tax bills will stay the same.

Board members and school administrators will also be pointing out that district taxpayers have already experienced a decrease in their taxbill because eleven cents that had to be set aside for transportation of students with special needs. The State has picked up that bill.

School Builds Ramps for Handicapped

Five ramps, one fairly large and four relatively small have been constructed to make Lake Forest South Elementary and the W.T. Chipman Junior School accessible to the handicapped. The cost of the completed project done by Conventional Builders of Houston was $7,900.

The largest of the ramps leads from the bus unloading zone at the rear of the Chipman cafeteria under the canopy to a rear door at South Elementary. Other smaller ones lead from the circle to the front door at Chipman from a Chipman hall into the court and from the court into the library, and out a back Chipman door leading to the field house.

The general handicapped parking access have also been marked, and this as well as the marking of the refinished Chipman tennis courts, parking lot, and a basketball court were handled by Bob Wilkerson's marking service of Dover.

The Lake Forest Board approved the completed project at a special meeting last week.

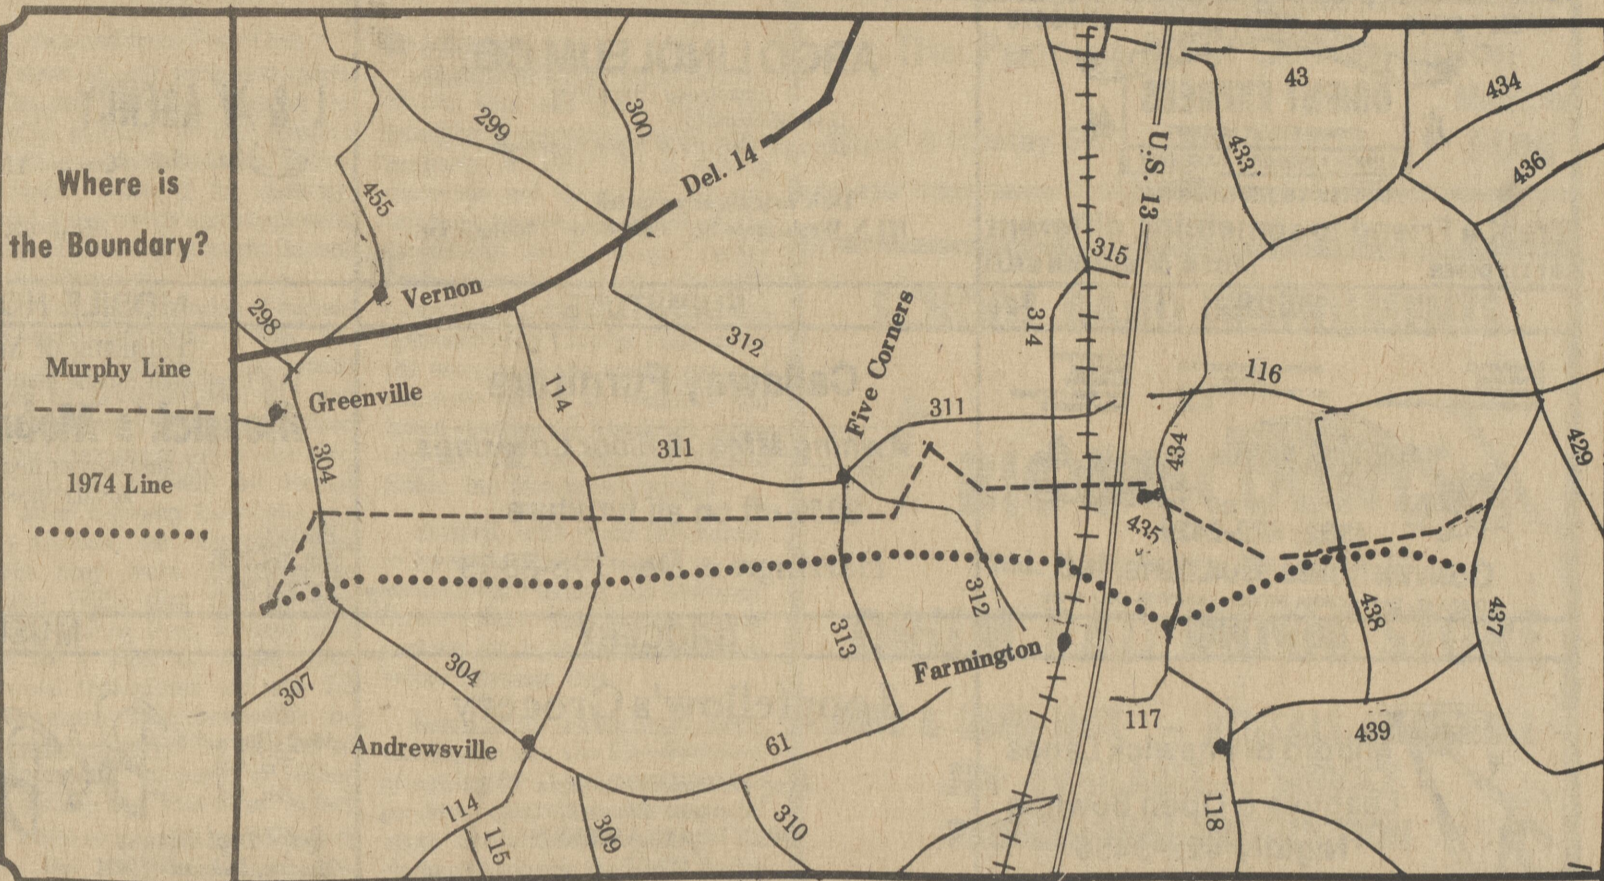

In other business the Board accepted the resignation of Sandra Franklin (Chipman Science) and Darlene Able (Lake Forest Math), hired Ethel Crockett as a temporary replacement for Becky Sharp and Kathy Razzano. The board also hired John Mumaw to replace David Proudfoot in individual acts at the High School.

Council Hears Review of Housing Project

At its August meeting, the Harrington City Council heard Mark Carp, of Mark B. Carp & Company, Inc., and Dominic Ciancetto, of Dominic Ciancetto & Associates, review plans for a 36 unit apartment complex to be designed as subsidized housing for the elderly and constructed on 7.3 acres of land now owned by Dudley Willis. Carp has taken an option on the property and hopes to get monies through an FMHA program to build the apartment project. Carp and Ciancetto said a possible Phase II might provide an additional 27 units later.

Saying that both state and federal guidelines for housing for the elderly and the handicapped would be followed, Ciancetto claimed the square footage of the units planned would be more generous than the FMHA requirements. In addition, Mark Carp said it was their policy to always follow

The gap between the dashed line and the dotted line shows the gap that still exists between Lake Forest and Woodbridge conceptions of where their mutual boundary should be. In the area just north of Farmington and clustered about U.S. 13 lies the biggest dispute. Here, about 9 students now attending Lake Forest will be shunted to

Woodbridge if the "Murphy Line" is accepted. Residents are scheduled to testify before the State Board of Education next Thursday. [Note: This map is just a rough approximation of the area in question.]

LF-WB Boundary Battle May Be Resolved

The battle of the boundary between the Lake Forest and the Woodbridge School Districts may reach a turning point when the State School Board finally gets around to hearing residents in the disputed area next week. A meeting for that purpose has been set for 7:30 p.m. in the William Henry Middle School in Dover on Thursday, September 18. Following that meeting, the State Board may set the boundary. Or it may not.

A reported 50 notices of the meeting have gone out by registered mail to residents of the area. Of these, a number of persons interested is remaining in the Lake Forest District met with members of the Lake Forest School Board, Assistant Superintendent Melvin Luff, and District Attorney Roy Shiels Monday night to review the situation and go over an aerial map of the area before the upcoming meeting with the State Board.

Focus of their concern was the "Murphy Line" drawn up by Milford surveyor Charles Murphy for the state. The line is an attempt to define the boundary. But it has angered area residents in that it bites even further into what they consider Lake Forest territory than the elusive 1953 boundary it was supposed to locate. The state hired Murphy after the two districts reached an impasse in determining where the line should be.

Many of the residents would like to see the 1974 boundary ostensibly agreed upon by the two districts retained. However, Woodbridge, which lost territory in that agreement, would not. The district, which combines the former Greenwood and Bridgeville districts, is quite happy with Murphy's line which would give it more territory as well as about 9 students now attending Lake Forest Schools.

Residents interested in remaining in the Lake Forest District oppose the "Murphy Line" on two counts.

First of all, they say it does not follow the 1953 line between the old Harrington and Greenwood districts it was supposed to delineate. Finding a reliable description of that 1953 line has been almost impossible. But area residents point to a marker still exists though not standing on a corner of Roland Eilers property just east of County Route 434. According to William Jerread, Jr. and others in the area, that marker was on the line that once divided Greenwood from Harrington territory. The "Murphy Line" has placed a new marker in the intersection of Road 435 and Road 434, well north of that old marker, thereby slicing off a considerable portion of Lake Forest property and consigning it to Woodbridge. Shirley Downs, who lives in the area and who attended Harrington schools remembers that her parents checked records in Dover when her older sister had to decide whether to go to Harrington or Greenwood after the Farmington school was closed. They were told the area was definitely in the Harrington district. The "Murphy Line" which uses an 1886 Beers map defining old country school districts long since absorbed by larger districts, puts the area in the Woodbridge district. Mrs. Downs, William Jerread, Jr. (whose property has been bisected by Murphy) and others would like to remain in the Lake Forest district.

Others who would like to stay in with the district where they have been since the 1974 boundary line was set say they bought or built or rented homes with the understanding that they were in Lake Forest. Mrs. Rose Messick, who has circulated a petition now bearing the signatures of some 39 families in the affected area is one of these.

She says she located her home in good faith that she was in the Lake Forest District and that transferring that property into or including it in the Woodbridge district now

Sewer System To Be Rerouted

At Monday night's regular monthly meeting, plans for a new route for the sewer system in Felton was told. Recently the county and state engineers met with Frederica councilmen to discuss the need to direct the sewer system through the community of Frederica as opposed to going around it as was originally planned.

The new decision will mean "...tearing up the streets again" in Frederica according to one spokesman. The size of the proposed mains for Felton and the size of the existing mains in the Town of Frederica meant that the Felton ones were larger than what Frederica could handle adequately. Thus the decision to "...go a different route". Apparently the meeting discussed the prospects of going around the Town of Frederica in order to reach the sewage disposal plant near Thompsonville where it was learned that due to private property problems, the government was unable to obtain easements to cross the land.

The proposals have been sent to the Federal office of EPA for final approval. Felton Council voiced the hope that early in 1981 bids would go out for the central sewer system for their community, and that construction would begin in late 1981 or early 1982.

In other matters, the Council learned that the State might, funds permitting, resurface Church Street from Main to Jefferson with new curbing along Church Street. The purpose of this is to correct a depreciating condition on Church Street and to help divert the water from that area down Luff Alley to the Telephone Office and then out to Main Street and the ditch.

Water Improvements Complete

Frederica Town Council members are singing the praises of Teal Construction of Dover which has all but completed an extensive program for wiaters system improvements. Member Ezekiel Dill told the Council last week that only a punch list checking off the tag cards that need to be cleaned up remain before the project is finished.

Dill and other Council members are pleased with the job Teal has done. They say, in many instances, the company has gone beyond contract requirements. Teal has also been quick to point out ways the project could save money which could be used for another category. Holding off on the resurfacing of St. Agnes Street which will be repaired for upcoming residential water repairs was one example. It would have saved several thousand dollars which was applied elsewhere.

The company has also completed its work in less time than was initially expected.

New water lines are in place in many areas, but the parallel older lines are still in place and in use. They will remain until users, gradually as is necessary hook into the new lines. There will possibly be a hook-up charge, but that has not been decided.

The improvements also make it possible for residences needing repairs to have their water shut off individually rather than in groups.

The project was financed through HUD.

This ramp will help give handicapped persons access to Lake Forest South Elementary School and the W.T. Chipman cafeteria. It and five others were recently constructed.

Hill Nominated for Sheriff

In primaries held last Saturday, George D. Hill beat out Richard G. Winchell in the quest for the Democratic nomination for Kent County Sheriff by an almost 2-1 vote of 1978 to 545. Both men currently serve in the capacity of deputy sheriff for the county. Hill has previously been sheriff of Kent County. He is a resident of Dover.

In other primary races Saturday: -Louis J. Giusto upset incumbent Sam Thomas for the Democratic nod for Kent County Levy Court. The vote was 368-178. Giusto faces Republican James H. Lorenzen in

Looking Back: Sixty-Two Years

[Part II of IV]

by Bessie Austin Burdziak

Our teacher also was responsible for securing all the supplies we needed in our school - except the textbooks. So she initiated so-called fund-raising programs. These were usually Box Socials - Shadow Socials - or Spelling Bees. All the women packed a box of eats - actually a full supper with cake, etc. The box or basket was decorated with pretty paper and ribbon and such. They were then auctioned off the night of the Program - and the buyer then ate the supper with the family of the lady who had prepared the Box. The boxes were large - for instance - two or three fried chickens - potato salad, pie, cake, just about anything - for you see, not just the grownups were there, but all us children were there to eat too - it was a fun-family thing and - sadly enough, another bit of "Country Americana Community Togetherness" is lost forever! The Spelling Bees were for the Ms and Pas too. Sides were chosen and lined up on each side of the wall and the Leader called out the words - to be pronounced first, then spelled - then the meaning given - then pronounced again - IN THAT ORDER. My great embarrassment came when my father went down one night on the word - ANTIMACASSAR. Just in case anyone doesn't know its meaning - it is a doily for a chair back - we used to have them on all the chairs in the parlor.

Well, Rice's School had a good group. Our Socials and Spelling Bees even raised more than enough money for crayons, chalk, erasers, papers, but most wonderful of all - a little two burner oil stove. THEN WE WERE PROUD. We had a big meeting - and each pupil was assigned to bring something from home - which he already had - to cook. The Bradleys brought milk in a big can every day; the Killens brought eggs and - sometimes - the most beautiful cookies; the Carlises brought potatoes and onions; someone else brought dried beans or canned tomatoes or cocoa. The teacher brought sugar. After that, the sixth grade girls cooked the lunch and made the cocoa. Lunch consisted of soup, or cooked beans - or hard-boiled eggs - with cocoa. I want to add that many others brought bread, and crackers and jelly and salted side meat for seasoning - so many things - all good and all welcomed. My Aunt Mart Case used to make rolled-out, cinnamon rolls - with sugar, spice and jelly rolled inside - and baked in the wood range and Louise would bring them to school by 8:00 in the mornings - still hot from the old wood stove, and enough for everyone!

There was another highlight of those days - and that was getting to school in bad weather. But it was not the problem you may think it would have been. Any morning when it was too bad for us to walk the three or four miles - our telephone would start to ring about 6:00 or 6:15 in the morning. There would be three long rings then stop - then ring another three more long rings. That was the neighborhood signal for everyone to pick up his telephone. There was only one telephone line out from Felton and the whole neighborhood was on it. Well, all the parents ran to the phone on the special ring - and in a matter of a couple minutes - it was decided who was going to get out the horses and wagon - or the two seated carriage or maybe the old automobile (providing they thought it wouldn't get stuck on the road) - pick us all up and take us to school. Our parents took turns at this. There was one exception!!! Sometimes the roads were really bad - or maybe covered with a nice snow. Those were the wonderful times. Mr. Remus had skids on his wagon - he put straw and blankets in and we all rode to school on the so-called sled. On very special times, Uncle Charlie Smith hitched his two seater sleigh and put the brass bells on the horses and we jingled all the way to the little white schoolhouse. His daughter was named Elizabeth. But there was another very special way we had of getting there. You see we had a neighbor - Mr. John Ryan and he was the local Rural Mail Carrier in bad weather. His daughter was Viola. Mr. Ryan had a relative who visited him and his name was Mr. Frank Murphy. Now, Mr. Murphy was quite talented and artistic. So he painted the Mail Wagon or Van - a bright all-over White - and then he put big Gold Eagles on each side, and in letters a foot high it seemed, he put U.S. MAIL - in Red, White, and Blue. All around the top of the van he put curlicues and some stripes to trim off the bottom. Since the mail had to be kept dry and since it also had to carry packages, and since "The Mail Had To Go Through Sleet or Rain or Whatever", it also could go right by our Rice's School. Well - on very bad occasions, since that Mail Had to Go Anyway - why not children. So the Mailman took us to classes in his horse-drawn Mail Cart with the Red, White, and Blue letters and the big Gold Eagles. By law we weren't supposed to ride in the Mail Wagon - but no one ever knew - that is - hardly anyone except those of us who will never forget riding "with the Golden Eagles."

BUT - NOW COMES A CHANGE - a Change that - as I look back - was far more meaningful to us children, our parents, the community and to the world even, than we certainly ever dared dream about. We were being consolidated!!! We were going to other schools -- Our Dear Beloved Rice's was closed, forever. All my loved friends on the east end of Paradise Alley were going to Felton School, but those of us on the west end, and thereabouts, were going to Harrington Town School.

the strictest code for construction. Ciancitto discussed some of the specific features of the complex including laundry facilities, patios, entrances indented for security, lowered cupboards and elimination of any obstacles that might impede the handicapped.

In a further discussion of ingress and egress and right of way, the two men promised that roads would be paved to both city and state standards. Willis has offered to deed the right of way to the city, and this will probably be worked out later between Carp and the City Council. Mr. Ciancitto also stated they were proposing to Dudley Willis that the 200 foot frontage along Peck Avenue that acts as a kind of buffer zone between that street and the 7.3 acres rezoned to accommodate the apartment complex be deeded to the city for a park or other appropriate use. That offer, in fact was made to the city by Willis last year. But the City Council, not wanting to seem influenced in their zoning decision, turned it down.

In a further development later in the evening the Council was informed that Willis has proposed to deed the right of way from the end of Peck Avenue to U.S. 13 to the city with the stipulation that it could only be used for a street or road. After a brief flurry of discussion in which some concern that the gift could cost the city money surfaced, the matter was tabled.

During the presentation of the apartment proposal, Carp also told the Council that the city should realize about $10,500 from the project. He said he and Ciancitto had wanted to come before the Council with their presentation in case they are awarded the project and predicted they would know by October 1980 whether funding for 1981 might be forthcoming. A pre-application has been made.

By way of comment, Mayor Arthur Cahall said members of the Harrington Senior Center were "ecstatic" about the project.

In other business the Harrington

City Council:

-heard from a disgruntled Wayne Melvin who was upset about the handling of complaints about some property on which he is storing materials and equipment. He was unhappy because he heard of the complaints "on the street" rather than directly from Council. Councilman Lobo said he had been approached by Charles Price about the storage of the equipment and materials on the lot which is still zoned residential. The lot in question is still owned by William Kohel, but Melvin is buying it.

-decided, with some reluctance, to level the piles of topsoil on the corner lot at Fleming and Mechanic Street (where the Senior Center parking lot is to be constructed) before Heritage Day.

-heard from Councilman Gary Harrington that the Fire Company is waiting for "ideal conditions" to conduct controlled burnings of about five different buildings, including the one on the Violet Beene property on Railroad Avenue. Harrington said the company planned to do one each Monday evening until they were all done.

constitutes a "breach of promise." She and a number of others own property bought from the subdivision of the Clarence Collins farm.

Attorney Ray Shiels told the gathered residents Monday that the testimony of those who have lived in the area for many years and the wishes of current residents should bear weight with the State Board. He says the series of court decisions following the State Board's ruling several years ago have only established the fact that the boundary is in dispute and that the line drawn in 1974 was not clearly agreed upon by the two parties.

Woodbridge believes that the State Board and the courts have mandated the 1953 boundary.

About 13 or 14 students will be affected by the states decision. The majority seem to be from families who want to stay with Lake Forest.

I wish to extend my thanks and appreciation to all those who voted for me and worked with me in the primary election. I also appreciate the many congratulatory phone calls. I am looking forward to your support in the November 4th General Elections.

Very truly yours,

Get Together and Greenwood

By Pat Hatfield

If you have news for Pat call 349-4255.

Pastor Jerry Marando has this announcement for us. On Sunday evening there will be a Prayer and Worship Program at 6:30. Mrs. Delema Smith will be at the piano. There will be music by Everett Warrington and his son, Bruce and Donna Layton and Thelma Melvin. Pastor Marando is happy with your response to his services and invites all to come and worship at any time.

Report from Hickory Ridge C.M. Church: Pastor Fleischer writes us: "We are camping for a couple of days at Martinek State Park, only about 16 miles from home. We are surrounded by trees where a variety of birds make their nests, singing for us, and where a woodpecker in a nearby tree provided entertainment for us. The squirrels scamper about as well as many insects, in search of food. The campground is almost deserted by people, thereby giving the pastor and his wife an opportunity to relax and enjoy some of God's wonders, and to meditate on His word."

We called home and learned that Nadine's uncle in Baton Rouge, La., had passed away, which caused us to come on home. We will take my mother to the airport on Wednesday a.m. so that she can fly to her brother's funeral. Your prayers for my mother will be appreciated, since her health is not so good.

Another one to remember from our congregation in prayer is Evelyn Johnson, who is in Nanticoke Hospital. She was scheduled for surgery Monday but it was postponed due to complications. Also remember Violet Williamson who is in the Coronary Unit at Milford and Mrs. Helen Payne who is in Milford.

Everyone enjoyed the delicious watermelon and fellowship on Saturday. Raising the melons was a project of the Everline family, and we appreciate their generosity. Incidentally, Stacey left Monday to resume her studies at Washington Bible College, after devoting most of the summer to evangelistic work with children.

We plan to organize our youth group in September. Plan to come out Sunday.

Don't forget the Taster's Tea which the United Methodist Women at Greenwood are planning for Saturday afternoon, September 20, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. This will be held in the Greenwood Fellowship Hall. The tickets are $2.50 which entitles you to a recipe book and a taste of the selected recipes which will be available.

Talk With Our Neighbors

Gabfest

by Pat Hatfield

It was fun getting up this morning with the temperature at 60 and the cool North wind coming in at the window. This was especially appreciated since I am still swamped with lima beans and peaches. If I live through them, I'll probably make it into the winter.

It seems a long time since I was struggling with strawberries and cabbage. This week I made peach preserves, and they were delicious. Of course they boiled over on the stove, but that's par for the course. I follow the same recipe as I have said before for all preserves...one half pound of sugar to a pound of fruit. I added a dash of cinnamon as they were cooking and in the case of peach or pear preserves, here is an old fashioned secret. Add a bit of vinegar, about a quarter of a cup to a kettle of preserves. This does not make them sour and you can't taste it, but it cuts the icky sweetness a bit and it makes them a lovely reddish color.

As soon as I make this deadline for the papers, I have awaiting me, jars and peaches ready to cold pack and can. No doubt I shall be in a hurry for that easy chair this evening.

The children got off to school today all over the land. We haven't had any problem with Garith. She enters second grade this year and takes it all in her stride as a matter of course. "Of course I behave in school," she says, "But outside I'm a brat!" Hilary and Teddy are going into 9th and 10th grades, and in spite of pretending to be negative, they could not wait to get off. They said they would like it until the routine settled in. And their mother reminded them that life itself is pretty much made up of routine and they might as well accept that.

I see where the oyster suppers are beginning to get going, and that is where Dad will star. He does enjoy them so much. I can ignore the oysters easily, but I do a fine job on the chicken and dumplings. And, even though I like to cook, it is fun to go out and eat a meal that someone has worked over.

Truman had the right idea when he said, "If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen," but his problems were a bit different.

If you have any news you would like posted in The Journal, call 398-3943.

Sunday, August 31, family members of Mr. John Workman helped him to celebrate his 85th birthday at his cottage at Slaughter Beach. Those attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Dickerson and Jack Dickerson of Harrington, Joann Marvel Everett of Downes Chapel, Bonnie Wilbur, Eric and Kurt of Rodney Village, Virginia and Warren Short, Janice and Charles Hardy, Brian and Stacey of New Castle, U.C. Messick and Dorothy Yoder of Harrington, Prael and Raymond Lynch of Georgetown. Later in the afternoon homemade cake and ice cream were served. Happy Birthday Mr. Workman!

Mr. and Mrs. David Adams and family spent the weekend at the beach.

Mrs. Elizabeth Anthony celebrated her birthday on Sunday, September 7. Happy Birthday Mrs. Anthony!

Miss Michelle Dimmitt spent the weekend with her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Anthony.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bond recently returned home from a fantastic dream vacation. They flew from Philadelphia to Miami where a van met them and took them to the pier. They were greeted by the Captain of the Norwegian Cruise-liner the "M.S. Southward".

They spent their first day at sea exploring the ship. They were very impressed to find that the ship had a youth director aboard. There was also a cruise director who helped select tours and make provisions.

Their first destination was Mexico. Mrs. Bond enrolled in a dance class. Anything goes from Morango to disco fever. They both enjoyed ping pong, shuffleboard and mingling with the passengers.

Second stop was the Yucatan Penninsula, where they took a tour of the ancient ruins of the Myan Indians. They saw paintings dating back to 1500 BC.

They also toured a Tropical Lagoon. The water was crystal clear and the sand was so white. They enjoyed the tropical fish there. They had a Mexican griende and their meals were catered from the ship. They enjoyed snorkeling and swimming.

Next stop was the Grand Cayman Island off the Coast of Cuba. They enjoyed shopping and the beach at Grand Cayman. If you think prices are bad here, a hamburger cost $4.60 there.

Each evening at 10:15 there was a spectacular floor show. They enjoyed the Dave Parsons Band from England, comedians, Lumbo dancers, Caribbean Native style music from a steel drum band.

Last but not least they went to Jamaica. They were sorry to see all the hurricane damage. All the homes washed out to sea. While there the Bonds met an 11 year old boy named Frances. They talked and walked with Frances and compared life styles. While in Jamaica they purchased two hand carvings of Jamaican Tribal men. They also had a native guide take them on a tour of Dunn's River Falls. It's about 1/8 mile steep climb up the rocks. There were tiers in the falls with little pools where they could rest and swim.

One evening they enjoyed a formal dinner with the Captain and Crew. The Captain in Black and crew in dress whites. They enjoyed dancing and entertainment after dinner.

They docked at Little San Salvador, an island in the Bahamas for an all day beach party.

They especially enjoyed the midnight buffets, the ice sculptures, dancing in the crows nest and making new friends. A trip to remember.

A pool party and volleyball and a good game of pool were enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Winkler by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Eilers and daughter April, John Schreck, Cheryl Maclelland and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wyatt, Jr., on Saturday evening.

The Heritage Day quilt is now on display in the window of the Harrington Pharmacy.

School has begun. Labor Day was a holiday so the Center was closed - consequently no Bible Study. Though I'm sure all sing and say a prayer at home or in church it does seem odd not to begin the week here without group Bible Study.

Do you play a musical instrument? Are you a basement baritone, a titillating tenor, a crooning coloratura? Really it will make no difference if you are none of these - you will still enjoy the Jolly Timers each Tuesday morning as they practice the old nostalgic melodies. Maybe get the words to some can't remember tunes that you still hum but just can't remember the words.

Those present this week were Roxanne - Kazoo, Marion - Drums, candy basket - Essie Wash board and thimble - Pearl, Ella, Bertha, Cecil, Sylvia, Tony, Andy, Ina, Elma, Annabel, Lili, Mildred, Ola, Marian R. and Elsie. "It's A Small World", "My Buddy", "Red River Valley", "Beer Barrel Polka" - all great songs but when they play "Beer Barrel Polka" surely gets you (groovy)? "Til We Meet Again", captivating in all ways. When the Jolly Timers finished, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Browns grandson Mark E. Bankert played a couple of solos on the piano - and two duets with Mrs. Ina Hughes. Mark has only been taking piano about nine months but truly did well and his fingering was excellent. We were glad to have him and know Mom-Mom and Pop-Pop (Roxanne and Marion) were proud as could be. Natural huh? All you Ma's and Grandma's?

Elwood Morris said "my they are good". Meaning the Jolly Timers and Mark and Ina Elwood is a very interested center attendant. Rarely misses a day or a trip. Never gives an opposition reply, just smiles if you ask him a question he doesn't really want to answer. Does most of the crafts as they come along and entertains with poetry at Birthday Party Time.

Tuesday afternoon, Ruth Nasser came to the center with her nostalgia program - this week it was a visit by slides - cards and books to Vermont - Bennington Museum. The scenery was gorgeous - glassware positively beautiful, pottery interesting. Noticed one pitcher there that "Francis Bonniwell used to have in reproduction (apostle pitcher). Ruth gives a good program each month. You can tell she has done her homework.

Longwood Gardens and Hagley Museum was the destination of the 18 who left the Center Wednesday morning. Wasn't here Thursday to hear the remarks about their trip, always like to hear it right away, for it is then that you get your best impression. Then of course when we got to the Center Friday morning the bus was there to take 40 to Rehoboth. Again didn't get to see the folks about Longwood Gardens, etc. and just as Harriett was loading up the first load (I was on it 3:05) the chartered bus from Rehoboth pulled up and some came right on board DAST, others went home - still others went in the Center. Did see some popcorn and taffy boxes. Helen showed me a couple of purchases she made at a craft table. She plans to make some for Harrington Center she says if she gets the hang of it. Hope she does. They are cute articles. One is very useful. Gene Price - Director, was chaparone. Getting back to Wednesday, there was exercise with Charlotte-facial, waist, arm muscles, kicks. Had fun with all of them but had a hilarious time with the KICKS. Action - you talk about ACTION - there is plenty of it for you if you want to participate or you may sit quietly and watch or read or watch TV or talk or do a craft. The ceramic table is "always in full bloom. Personal ceramics every Wednesday, Bingo, paper bag, Anna Mae called. Blood pressure check - September 9, after lunch! 1:15-3:00 - seaford Senior Center for the day - Sept. 19. Lewes Ferry Trip - 10 - 4, Sept. 25. Harrington is going all out for Heritage Day. Members meeting Sept. 15 - try and be present - you make the Center! Birthday Party time - Sept. 16, a good time to see old friends and meet new ones. George Gooch will show a movie to be sure. Bowling at Milford Lanes each Thursday. Local shopping as well. Tomatoes are getting scarce, and do they taste good now. Irene Legates brought some very lovely dried flowers in from garden - shade of orchid mixed with the ever popular Baby Breath. A very special thank you to all volunteers, especially kitchen and ceramics. Take good care of yourself. Be kind to each other. Best Wishes to all! Remember - It is the want of patience that often makes us exating towards those we desire to help. See you at the Center - Smile!!

Thirty Years Ago—September 8, 1950

Plans for construction of five school buildings or additions estimated to cost a total of $1,866,000 have been given final approval by the State School Building Program Board,—the $339,000 project at Harrington (is) to comprise 13 classrooms and a cafeteria.

Dickie Brown, member of the Harrington baseball team in the Mid-Delaware League suffered a broken leg Sunday afternoon in a collision while sliding into home plate in a game at Farmington.

Such outstanding horses as Blue-jacket, Trice Hal, Royal Sue, Sally Dean, Flo Napoleon and Dublin are among the entries for the Harrington Journal Race, a feature race for a purse of $1,000, which will highlight the opening of the fall meet of the Kent & Sussex Racing Association here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McDonald have returned home after a 10-day tour of the New England states.

They include: Jim Stokely, Harrington; Olin Davis, Harrington; Ellis Myer, Bridgeville and Pat Hubbard, Harrington.

A two-mile road jam caused by a tomato truck was broken Labor Day by the State Police airplane-on Route 113 near Frederica, the occupants of the plane noted a slow moving truck with a long line of cars behind it, unable to pass because of the two-way traffic. Flying low, police instructed the truck driver by loud-speaker to pull off to the side. Traffic moved again.

May is building her house with apple blooms. She is roofing over the glimmering rooms."

Richard Le Gallienne

The above quotation was quite applicable to the late apple tree of the Harrington Journal. Destroying it was like putting a favorite pet to sleep. Somehow we think the passing of the apple tree also meant the passing of an era, however, it was expensive to maintain and man thinks more of money than of beauty.

Berry Funeral Homes

Dear friends,

Planning for what you wish to happen to you and your family after your death is a responsible step and is not, in any way, morbid. It is indeed a wise and necessary step that requires a limited amount of time, but can avoid much anxiety and confusion following the death of a family member.

Respectfully,

CARD OF THANKS

Kate and I came to a new and deeper appreciation for the profound value of our friends, family and Pastor, Rev. Robinson while I was a patient in the Milford Memorial Hospital. I appreciated the excellent care of my doctors Beundia, Mast and Vilorio and the nurses on the second floor. For your visits, phone calls, cards, letters, flowers, fruit, candy, prayers and other deeds of kindness we are grateful beyond words. We trust you will accept our blanket - thank you. Our wish is that each of you will be richly blessed.

Play It Safe On The Highways

With motorcycling on the rise - registrations are up 150 percent since 1968 - it's more important today than ever before to heed the rules of the road.

You should give the motorcyclist plenty of room.
The Motorcycle Safety Foundation offers these highway safety hints:
1. Be especially cautious at intersections. That's where motorcycle accidents involving another vehicle occur most often. Motorists, not cyclists, are at fault in these accidents almost 70 percent of the time.
2. Yield the right-of-way to motorcyclists. Turning left in front of a motorcyclist poses the most substantial risk.
