

Jaycees' Parade Day is Saturday

Guess who's coming to town? The Phillie Phanatic and Santa Claus all in one day, courtesy of the Harrington Jaycees. The mascot of the 1980 World Champion Philadelphia Phillies and the famous gentlemen from the North Pole will both appear here on Saturday as a part of the 14th Annual Harrington Jaycees Christmas Parade set to kick off at 1:30 p.m.

Parade chairman Ray Blanchette announced Monday that the Phanatic would be here and would serve as Grand Marshal for the parade. Blanchette also confirmed that Santa would bring the parade to its expected finale to usher in the Christmas season here in Harrington.

From Grand Marshal to Santa, the parade to be a "Winter Wonderland" is expected to feature a variety of floats, marching groups, Scout and 4-H organizations, fire companies, and Christmas marching music. Seven bands, the Lake Forest High School Spartan Marching band and W.T. Chinman Junior Band included are set to appear. Except for the local two, the bands will be in competition for trophies and (in the case of the senior bands) prize money.

The traditional parade route, beginning at the intersection of Delaware Avenue and Center Street, proceeding down Center to a left turn at Dorman Street, up Dorman to Commerce, left on Commerce Street and thence on Clark past Quillen Shopping Center, will be followed.

Before the parade there will be a van show in the parking lot of the Peoples Bank and an antique show in the First National Bank parking lot. Over the past week, the Jaycees have been busy getting Christmas decorations into place on the light poles along Commerce and Clark Street and at other locations.

Deadline for parade entries is this evening (December 4). Parade information is available from Ray Blanchette (398-3225) or by calling 398-3816.

If the lights are up, can the parade be far behind?

Four Hearings Set For Harrington

On the next two successive Mondays the Harrington City Council has set four public hearings to get citizen input on various matters.

Borrowing construction funds for the sewage treatment plant construction program and projects for which HUD funds might be sought are the subjects of the first two hearings scheduled in conjunction with the Council's regular December 8 meeting.

Reviewing projects which might be desirable and for which Housing and Urban Development Funds might be attained is the concern of the first hearing set from 7:30 until 8:30 p.m. Citizens with ideas to contribute are urged by the Council to attend. The hearing is a part of the pre-application process in obtaining the federal funds.

Permission to borrow the city's $189,000 share of the cost of upgrading the sewer plant will be the subject of the second public hearing set from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. next Monday. The city must upgrade its sewage treatment facilities to comply with state and federal standards. But the local 15 percent of the project cannot be raised until a public hearing and a referendum are held to get residents' approval to secure a loan from the Farmer's Home Administration. If this approval were to be denied, the city would still have to upgrade its sewer plant and would be forced to go a more conventional and much more expensive route to get the money.

CZ Construction, the contractor awarded the bid on the sewer plant job, is already in town, and the project should be underway.

Both of the above hearings are to be held in City Hall.

On Monday, December 15, two additional hearings will address the rezoning of # 110 Center Street to accommodate a home for the elderly and the application of CATV for a ten-year renewal of its franchise.

The City Planning and Zoning Commission has submitted a recommendation against rezoning the Center Street property on the grounds that plans presented by Mrs. Julia Moody of Dover for the home for the elderly are "too vague". This hearing is to be held from 7 until 8 p.m. in City Hall.

For the second public hearing on the 15th, the one concerning the CATV franchise, the scene may shift to the fire hall if it is available. Complaints about CATV service earlier this year drew one of the largest crowds to attend a Harrington City Council meeting. Time for the CATV hearing is set from 8 to 9 p.m.

Guitarist McCarthy to Appear Here

Classical guitarist John McCarthy will make a return visit to Harrington to supply the background music for Sunday's Wine and Cheese Party sponsored by the Friends of the Harrington Public Library.

His first appearance here was at last year's Wine and Cheese Party which served as the organizing event for the local Friends group.

His concert and professional appearances in Delaware have included faculty concerts at Salisbury State College, Del. State and Wesley College where he teaches classical guitar. He has also performed Vivaldi's Concerto with the Dover Symphony and appeared in concert for the Lewes Historical Society, the Delaware State Arts Council, the Sussex County Arts Council and the Rehoboth Arts League.

Since January 1970, he has been a teacher of band and choral music at Rehoboth Junior High School in the Cape Henlopen School District.

Summer visitors may have met him at the Back Porch Cafe in Rehoboth where he provides the background music.

His appearance here will be as a part of the Christmas fund-raiser planned by the Library Friends. The party is set for 4 to 6 p.m. this Sunday, December 7, at the Harrington New Century Club on Dorman Street.

Winkler, Peck Attend SS Meeting

Walter W. Winkler of Harrington, elected delegate represented local Southern States Cooperative's members at the association's 57th Annual Stockholder's meeting held in Richmond, Va. Nov. 19 and 20.

Also attending the session was Charles L. Peck Jr., manager of Peck Brothers Farm Supply.

They heard Executive Vice President and General Manager, Gene A. James report that Southern States had reached $625.9 million during the fiscal year which ended last June 30. This was an increase of 23 percent over the previous year. James also told the business session at the Mosque Auditorium "that savings from operations, after income tax and equity earnings, came to $24.2 million, almost double that of a year ago."

James shared the reporting at the session with Jack A. McHugh, group vice president, wholesale services; Harris K. Swann, vice president, retail services; Paul E. Mullinix, group vice president, operations services; and Beverly Armstrong vice president.

Harrington C of C Sets Dec. Meeting

Due to the Holiday Season the Greater Harrington Chamber of Commerce will not hold a December meeting.

Our next meeting will be on Wed., Jan. 28, 1981 at 6:30 p.m. You will receive a card with more information in January.

Please get your information in to Kenna Adams, 46 Commerce St. Wilmington, De. so that the brochure on the City of Harrington can be completed.

We wish you a most festive Holiday Season and look forward to meeting with you in January.

Trinity Celebrates 100 Years

by Charlotte Harrington

Trinity United Methodist Church of Harrington will celebrate its 100-year anniversary on Sunday, December 7, 1980. Many festivities for the occasion are being planned. There will be the regular morning worship service at 11 A.M. and at 2 P.M. a special anniversary service featuring the Rev. Nelson Benjamin, a former pastor, as guest speaker. The celebration continues with a covered-dish dinner in the Fellowship Hall. All members and friends of Trinity are urged to attend and join in this memorable celebration.

Trinity United Methodist Church, the former Methodist Protestant Church of Harrington, was organized in 1880. Services were held in the afternoon in what was then called "the old school house", located on the southeast corner of Dorman and Mechanic Streets. The Rev. J.E. Nicholson was the first pastor.

The first church building was dedicated on August 19, 1881. This church was built on land purchased from John Clymer and on the site of the present Fire Hall. It was a neat frame building.

In 1883, during the pastorate of the Rev. C.S. Arnett, a parsonage was built. This was a two-story frame dwelling, with a smokehouse, stables, and carriage house. This parsonage at 112 Mechanic Street was used until 1917. It is now owned by Mrs. Fred B. Greenly.

In 1903, it was decided to build a new church, rather than spend money on improving the old church. In 1904, lots on Commerce Street were purchased from Alfred and Martha J. Raughley and Edward Sapp. Plans for the new church moved ahead rapidly under the leadership of the Rev. N.O. Gibson. The cornerstone was laid December 4, 1904. In October, 1905, the church bell was removed from the old church and placed in the new steeple. The last services were held in the old church on October 15th. On October 22nd, the members met at the old church and marched in body to the new brick church for the dedicatory service.

The old church and its furnishings were sold in 1906, and the building [Continued on page six]

Perdue Will stay in Felton Sewer District

Perdue's recent decision to include its plant in the new Felton sewer system averts a controversy that could have provoked the wrath of a number of private citizens who were told last year that they could not opt out of the district. An earlier request by Perdue to be excluded from the district would have meant at least a public hearing that would probably have been scheduled before the December 18 deadline when all bids on the sewer construction are to be in to the county engineer's office. However, Felton Mayor William Myers told the Town Council at its regular meeting Monday night that the county has received a letter from Perdue indicating that the company now wants it Felton plant included in the new district to be a part of the county sewer system, which went into operation in 1973.

The Felton Sanitary Sewer District includes the town and several surrounding areas. It was the subject of heated public discussion until a majority of the users in the proposed district voted in January 1979 to approve its creation. Subsequently a number of residents in the area east of U.S. 13 across from Felton Heights protested their conclusion. But they were told they could not buck the majority decision and be excluded from the district.

With the Perdue decision, the Council breathed an almost visible sign of relief in the knowledge that plans can now proceed smoothly toward the awarding of bids and construction.

Sealed bids are due in the Kent County Engineer's Office by December 18. Mayor Myers reported that Teal Construction of Dover, which has been in town doing some test boring, will apparently be one of the bidders. He did not know who the others might be. Myers did say that the arterly line on Church Street in Felton, at nineteen feet, will probably be one of the deepest in town.

Bids Coming on RR Electrical Work
There will apparently be two bidders on the project to complete the electrical work on the Felton Railroad Station which the town has purchased and is in the process of restoring for use as city offices. Bids from Universal Electric and Felton Insulation are expected to be in soon, the Council was told Monday night.

SALLE Proposal Approved
The Felton Council also granted its approval to Police Chief Mike Olliver's plans for use of SALLE (State Aid to Local Law Enforcement) funds for the coming year. A proposal detailing plans for use of the funds must be submitted by January. This year Felton will receive $1541.61 which it proposes to use as follows: $1058 for the purchase of a high band radio for use when the state police switch to that system, $158 for a shotgun, and $525.61 for materials to carry out a child safety program in grades one to six at Lake Forest North Elementary School Olliver said the program would incorporate bike safety and a bike rodeo.

Olliver also reported that there were seven more accidents in town this year than last year and attributed the increase to recklessness, speeding and intoxicated drivers. Two serious accidents, he said, had involved drivers under the influence of alcohol.

The Council further heard from Olliver that the gas use for the police cars has been cut by 100 gallons over the past month. Greater use of foot patrols and stationary radar were cited as the reasons for the saving.

In other business, the Felton Council heard one complaint from local citizens concerned about teenagers "hotrodding" in and out of the High Street entrance to the Little League ball park on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. Residents, said Council members Fred Casper, are concerned for the safety of small children living in the area.

For Harrington City Council, Filing

Deadline Is One Month Away

The filing deadline for candidates for the Harrington City Council is just one month away. The city charter stipulates that candidates must file by ten days prior to the election which is to be held on the second Tuesday in January. In 1981, that day falls on January 13. Council hopefuls must have their petitions in by January 3. Each petition must bear at least ten, but no more than twenty-five signatures.

Up for grabs this year are three-year terms in Ward 5 and Ward 6, presently served by William Dill and the Reverend Ray Newman, respectively.

So far, no one has filed at City Hall for election or re-election.

SS Stockholders Meet

president, finance.

James told the delegates that "after allowance for reserves, the Board of Directors had authorized the payment of a patronage refund of 1.5 percent on purchase and 3 cents per bushel on grain marketed. Those refunds are paid 40 percent in cash and 60 percent in patronage refund allocations which will be redeemed at a future date."

In his report, McHugh stated that "feed tonnage was down slightly from 543,000 tons the prior year to 540,000 tons. But because of inflationary pressures dollar volume was up from $88.9 million to $93.2 million."

Fertilizer volume was up from 653,000 tons the previous year to 668,496 tons, an increase of 2.4 percent. Dollar volume was 89.3 million compared to $71.1 the year before. Inflationary pressure and not tonnage was responsible for most of the increase.

Petroleum volume reached $192.1 million, a record figure while gallonage decreased about 8.2 percent.

Farm supply volume was slightly over $94 million, up from $84.7 million the year before.

Seed volume increased slightly from $19.5 million last year to $19.6 million.

Swann told the session that "volume through the co-op's 87 owned branches totaled $171.6 million, an increase of 29 percent. Net savings after taxes came to $4.4 million, a 51 percent increase over the previous year.

"Managed local farm supply and petroleum co-ops ended their fiscal year on Dec. 31, 1979. They had combined volume of $223.7 million after taxes compared with $194.7 million last year. Net savings were $6.1 million after taxes as compared to $3.5 million last year."

Private agencies and independent local farm supply cooperative had wholesale purchases of 158.8 million, up from $125.5 million last year.

In reporting on the co-op's grain marketing operation, Mullinix said that "despite some adverse marketing factors, including depressed prices and the Russian grain embargo, two records were set in this division. Volume reached a new high at $93.9 million, and net savings also exceeded previous records at $1.4 million before taxes. The year was the third highest in grain volume with a total of 24,267,000 bushels marketed."

Armstrong, told the session that "although all commodity groups contributed to the year's volume increase more than half-$68.1 million out of the $117.4 million gain--resulted from petroleum price increase at wholesale. The balance was reasonably well distributed among feed, fertilizer, seed, farm supplies, grain marketing, and retail branch operations."

After taxes, and before equity additions, a net savings from operations amounted to $17.3 million, up from $8.2 million in fiscal 1979. This increase resulted in total patronage refunds being paid of about $9.4 million. In addition, $1.2 million was paid in dividends on common and preferred stock and $6.7 million was added to operating capital reserves.

Get Together and Talk With Our Neighbors

Gabfest

by Pat Hatfield

In another newspaper column I do. I have been recalling days of my childhood in regard to getting ready for winter. I am thinking farther back than that this morning, to the days of my mother's childhood and the stories she would tell me. I thought all this when I was putting of my shoes this morning. When my mother was growing up in a family of seven children, all children went barefoot as soon as it was warm enough. It saved shoe leather! On Sunday, my mother said that they would carry their shoes in their hands until they were in sight of the church. Then they would sit down, wipe off their duty feet and put on their shoes, arriving in church properly clad. They reversed this order on the way home. In autumn when the day grew cold and the little country school opened, a pair of shoes was purchased for each child. I wonder what those shoes cost? The only old price lists I could find were not dated. But shoes were listed from 87 cents a pair to 1.00 and 1.25.

It is not so today, especially for those who have a foot problem and have to be fitted for a certain kind of shoe, which I do. Ellen is blessed and can find real bargains from time to time on the reduced tables. But, in order for me to have foot power, I have to buy a certain kind. So, this last week I set forth with my courage and my "life savings" to my shoe store in Seaford. I do not know how to go to their main store in Salisbury. The dearest lady waits on me and we have a fine conversation. So, I parted with fifty-eight dollars of my hard-earned money and came home with my shoes. I plan on having them bronzed--with my feet in them!

In cleaning up the shop recently, we came upon a batch of old letters, etc. I found several sheets of tablet paper written in a fine hand. This was evidently a small composition, whether for school or for pleasure I do not know. But the day caught my eye. "Greenwood, Del., Oct. 17, 1904". 1904 is my birth year, and I am always interested in finding things about that year.

The composition was entitled "Flowers". Thus: "Flowers are one of the greatest blessing we have. They grow upon the hill tops, down in the valleys, among thorns, along the highways, and byways and gardens. They are planted in spring. They are growing in summer and when the summer months have passed by, they are transplanted for winters keeping.

By sitting rooms, and most anywhere. They are light to the blind who may look upon them. They give peace and comfort to those who were weary and burdened. They given joy to those who are in distress.

The fragrance of flowers are of the richest perfume. They are used for many purposes, and are looked upon as a token of the greatest feelings.

Not only are they worn at church entertainments, dances, wedding receptions and at every sort of indoor gatherings. Woman shoppers of the dozen are seen carry them with them, as they go to their work, to their church, and, in fact, to all places.

Flowers are used for decorations in church, schools, and ball rooms. They are seen in most every case and any occasion. In fact, they are one of the Earth's richest blessings, their stateliness, and grace, their delicate perfume, and the artistic contract with the greens that are always used.

Violets are blooming in all shops and of all the flowers these fragrant little bright-faced posies are the most popular the winter through.

As we stand by the graves of our loved ones we look upon the form that is concealed by the abundance of roses as it is being hidden in the dust. It recalls to our memories the beautiful world that exists, and in looking upon the mass beds of roses that are blooming anywhere, how sweet it is then to look around the recall to our friends and to see and to know of God's richest blessings to give us such a sweet and glorious land where flowers and blooming the year around.

There are Lilies of the Valley. They are holding first place in honor to the Bridal bouquets. No flower, except perhaps the white sweet pea, seems so well suited to make the bouquet for the happy bride.

Easter Lilies no longer herald the approach to the Easter season. The florists have found it worth their while to cultivate them all the year for church wedding decorations. More churches are decorating with Easter lilies for weddings.

The sweetest of flowers that are made one of God's richest blessing we can enjoy and no exhibit exists on this green Earth as sweet as pure and as fragrant as flowers."

There is no signature on the little composition. I wish they had signed it, but someone in that year far past surely felt the need to express their love of nature.

Happy Birthday December Folks!

Yes, the Nov. 20-1980 Bazaar was a nice success and want to thank our chairlady Mrs. Merle Roth for all the many things she did even tho she had a husband in the hospital, etc. Merle always says you folks did it, but believe me I've seen her lug in bags of groceries, boxes for money, have the right change for everyone and isn't it nice just to unload it all on her! Bless you Merle. That goes for our Directors, Charlotte and Gene and Manna Gladys. Must add another one in the ceramics room-she did so very much but was unable to be here and is still out dear Velma Whitty. She made the strawberry shortcake and many other things before she was taken ill. Let me say once again. We at the Harrington Senior Center thank everyone for the part you took in the Bazaar. Being here was a help. Love You!!

Rev. Robinson of Asbury Methodist Church was leader Monday morning at Bible Study. His subject was Psalm 66-67 2nd Cor I Verse 3. He said "To thank God for the trying times as well as the good time. For we grow strong with hardships to overcome. Said also to "Honesty and Sincerely thank God for all that God has given to us." With a prayer and song a very happy hour ended. Those present were-Gertrude Morgan-Mamie Adams- Amy Price-Annabel Morrow-Francis Wright-Anna M. Jingle Bells fill the air really putting you in the mood for Christmas. its the Jolly Timers practice hour-and Christmas songs abound. It is so nice how close the Christmas season seems to draw us. "Tip on the House Top" Oh what fond memories that conjurs up. clicking our fingers and teaching it to the kiddies. Then there is always "Joy to the World", could go on and on but will save some for another day.

"Some where my Love," always brings Nellie to the parlor to listen to her very favorite song. She gently pays her hands and smiles sweetly. She has read the book and seen the movie, would say she truly enjoys "Some where my Love."

was used by the Fire Company until it was torn down and the present Fire Company was built on the site.

During the pastorate of the Rev. N.C. Clough in 1916, the present parsonage at 63 Commerce Street was built by Arlington L. Wix and Fred Harrington. The Rev. Chauncey C. Day was the first minister to reside in it.

In 1926, Mrs. Elvia Sapp generously gave to the church the Sapp Memorial Building in memory of her husband, Ira C. Sapp and their sons Oland C. and R. Leonard Sapp. This building included primary and beginners departments, memorial windows a kitchen, and a separate heating plant.

In 1960, under the capable leadership of the Rev. Nelson Benjamin, plans for a new Education Building were made. This facility was completed in 1962 and is the present Fellowship Hall Building.

Trinity Church has served the community well over this 100-year period and may it continue to be of service to the community during its next 100 years.

With the Dawning of December

by Sharon Morgan With the dawning of December, we are entering one of the busiest times of the year as everyone rushes to prepare for Christmas. However, you are invited pause for a few moments and attend a special celebration service in honor of the Advent season in which nine area churches will be participating.

'The Gifts of The Wise Men'

Each pastor will present a sermonette, focussing on the theme of the service, "The Gifts of the Wise Men." Rev. Russell will speak about gold, Rev. Berry, frankincense, and Rev. Downing, myrrh.

all in the Dover District, and our charges are not that far apart, we wanted to do something to maintain a common bond." Following the service, refreshments will be served by members of the Ellendale and Felton churches. There will be cake and Christmas cookies.

Hopefully, Rev. Russell said, the message of the Advent service will remain through the midst of the seasonal rush. "Through the presentation of the Wise Men's gifts to Christ, the way in which others Christmas shop will be influenced. We all need to look at gifts giving before it happens."

Jehovah's Witnesses

The Felton Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses is one of the eight congregations to assemble at the Crownville, MD Assembly Hall on December 6 and 7. The gathering will be the semi-annual two-day circuit assembly arranged by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society for the Witnesses and interested persons. The main speaker will be Mr. J.C. Howard, Jr. District Governor Overseer and Mr. W.R. Strickler, Circuit Overseer along with the presiding and associate ministers who will share the platform with them. An excellent program highlighting the Bible is provided with many talks, demonstrations, experiences and round table discussions. The Public Address on Sunday afternoon a 2 p.m. given by Mr. Howard is entitled, "Our Refuge Amid Increasing Dangers" is followed by Mr. Strickler's discussion on "Maintaining Our Oneness is Faith and Works". The concluding talk by Mr. Howard will be, "Our Rewarding Friendship with God." All interested persons are available to attend this free Bible educational program. Preceding the Circuit Assembly at Crownville there will be an address by Mr. Howard at the Felton Kingdom Hall on Tuesday evening Dec. 2 at 7:30 p.m. The following morning at 9 a.m., Mr. Howard and Mr. Strickler will meet with members of the local congregation to visit people in their homes in surrounding communities to answer Bible questions.

The Advent service will be hosted by the Ellendale United Methodist Charge and their pastor, Rev. Michael S. Russell. It will be held in the Ellendale United Methodist Church on Sat. Dec. 6 at 7:00 p.m. The churches that will take part are: Ellendale charge, consisting of Chaplains Chapel, St. Johnstown, and Ellendale; Felton Charge, comprised of Manship, Viola and Felton, along with their pastor, Rev. Laurence M. Berry; and the Georgetown charge, and their pastor, Rev. William S. Downing. The Georgetown charge includes Bethesda, Providence and St. John's. Seasonal music will be provided by persons from the Georgetown charge.

Jack Anderson Washington Merry-Go-Round

Why Not an Expert Waste-Watcher To Fill Comptroller General's Post?

By JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON -- President-elect Ronald Reagan has promised to bolster U.S. military forces and cut federal spending at the same time. He believes this can be accomplished by eliminating fraud and waste.

We know just the man who can help him.

He is Ernest Fitzgerald, whom we recommend for the post of comptroller general of the United States. As such, he would have the authority to scrutinize federal spending programs. And there's no one better qualified to dig out fraud and waste.

Fitzgerald was the Pentagon watchdog who alerted Congress in 1969 to a $2 billion cost overrun and shoddy workmanship on the Lockheed Corporation's C-5A transport plane contract.

The Air Force retaliated against Fitzgerald and hounded him out of his job. He won reinstatement after a bitter struggle. The brass hats gave Fitzgerald back his title and paid his back salary, as the courts ordered. But he was excluded from important meetings and barred from the files.

Jimmy Carter made a campaign issue of the Fitzgerald case in the 1976 presidential campaign. Carter promised to put Fitzgerald back in a position where he could keep a watch on fraud, waste and inefficiency.

But the Pentagon's top generals -- as skilled in the backrooms as they are on the battlefields -- filled Carter's ear with ugly whispers about Fitzgerald, and the president reneged on his promise.

When Reagan makes his decision on who will be the comptroller general, billions of dollars will be at stake. The military-industrial complex loads weapons systems with fancy extras that increase corporate profits but decrease combat effectiveness. Fitzgerald knows precisely how to spot these costly frills.

In sum, the president-elect can show the nation that he means business by appointing Ernest Fitzgerald as the next comptroller general. The position will be open in March.

Footnote: Until this year the president simply nominated the comptroller general and the Senate offered its advice and consent. A new law, however, requires that a bipartisan congressional committee submit a list of candidates to the president.

He then selects the new comptroller general from the list. But he can reject as many candidates as he chooses. Legal experts who have studied the new law believe that, as a practical matter, the president will, in most cases, be able to select the comptroller general of his choice.

TAX PROBE: There's a sidelight to the Billy Carter story that has never been reported.

A news item which appeared last August disclosed that Billy's tax records showed he made $300,000 in 1978. The article also noted that Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., had referred to tax information from Billy's 1977 and 1978 returns.

The newspaper story caused a sensation at the Internal Revenue Service. An individual's tax records are supposed to be held as sacred as the information he divulges to his doctor or priest. So the revenooers were mightly upset at this apparent breach of security.

Three days after the publication of the news item, the Internal Revenue Service began an investigation of the leak. Two inspectors from the agency's Internal Security Division called on the Senate committee that was investigating Billy's activities. They interviewed several staff members who might have had access to the tax records.

But the inspectors stopped short of interviewing Thurmond, even though he was mentioned by name in the story. According to our sources, the two IRS investigators were simply scared to death of the crusty old fire-eater from South Carolina.

Had he been questioned, the senator would have told them that he never saw Billy Carter's confidential tax records. Thurmond got his information about Billy's income from a right-wing publication of uncertain reliability.

RED TAPE VICTIMS: Many of the U.S. diplomatic and military personnel who got out of Iran before the embassy takeover in November 1979 had to leave behind just about everything they owned.

A few fortunate Americans were permitted to ship home some priceless possessions in the limited cargo space that was available.

Under federal law, U.S. public servants can be compensated if they lose their homes and possessions in line of duty. But every federal law is encumbered with regulations. Anyone who collects such compensation from Uncle Sam certainly deserves it. In the United States, insurance companies invoked clauses which absolved the companies from any payments in case of civil strife.

First, the victims must list all their losses. How many people keep an inventory of all they own? Then they must document the losses. Are the Iranian terrorists expected to certify how much they looted?

And here's the kicker: After the victims have completed all the red tape, the federal government will pay no more than $15,000.

The crisis has virtually cleaned out 200 American families. One naval officer told us he has painstakingly documented his losses, and they add up to $67,000. That doesn't include the losses he cannot document.

This is an injustice that the new Congress should waste no time correcting next January.

FOUL FILM: Communist Chinese filmmakers visited the United States on a cultural exchange recently and got a bit more culture than they bargained for. The Chinese were treated to a private viewing of some award-winning short films -- including a pornographic cartoon called "Asparagus." The prudish Chinese visitors remained inscrutable, but some of the American hosts were shocked.

Manges wins both titles at Harrington Raceway

Howard Sylvester

Brian Manges

Brian Manges of Harrington won the driving title at Harrington Raceway as well as being the leading percentage driver under the UDRS rules. At 22 years old Manges is one of the youngest drivers to have ever held either of the track championships at Harrington. In this case, he is the youngest driver in the history of the track to hold both titles. He follows in the footsteps of his father Delbert, who has piloted over 1400 horses to wins during his lifetime, and is still actively involved in training a large stable of horses. The elder Manges held a number of driving championships at various tracks in New York State, and another son Larry has won the leading trainer award at Brandywine Raceway. In the Manges family Brian now ranks as the youngest to have ever won at track championships.

Another Harringtonian, Howard Sylvester, won the Most Improved Driving Award at the recent meet the meet which just concluded at Harrington Raceway. This was the first time this award has been given at the local oval. Sylvester was the leading dash driver during most of Harrington meet. He ended the meet with 19 wins.

Notes and Opinions

from "Gabby"

Now that the fall sports program is completed, I would like to take this opportunity to offer a few comments.

First I want to congratulate all the athletes who participated in Football, Hockey, Soccer and Cross-Country, (Varsity, JV, and Chipman school). I spent many enjoyable moments on the sidelines watching you perform. I think you all put out your best efforts.

If I had to pick the play of the year, I would have to say that is happened during the football game with Caesar Rodney on Nov. 7. Duane Harrell, substituting for the injured Brian Gladden as a kicker, recovered a bad snap from center, then scrambled around avoiding CR tackles, got off a punt on the run from somewhere around his own 20 yard line. It rolled dead on the Rider's 14 yard line, thus turning a potential big loss into a beautiful play.

Although I have nothing but praise for the athletes, I can't say very much for the friends and relatives who should have been in the stands cheering them on. In all fairness there were a few faces that I recognized at almost every event.

In about 2 weeks the winter schedule starts for basketball and wrestling. Hopefully, since these are indoor sports, we will get better spectator turnouts. I will cover every event that I possibly can. I am a night student at Del Tech myself as some games will conflict with my class schedule. I would appreciate the stats and highlights of all events from coaches, managers, or any other interested parties. Thanks from "Gabby".

"...the Advisory Council should be turned over...and refertilized"

If there is such a thing as being devoted to your job through the love of the work then our Secretary of Agriculture, Alden S. Hopkins, fits the bill.

I first met earlier this year but long before I met him I traveled among people here on the eastern shore of Delaware and Maryland who knew him, revered him, and were proud to talk about this man. To them, he is the salt of the earth. A man deeply religious—he once rode the circuit from Todd's Church to Prospect Church, for he is also a Methodist minister.

I guess you can say with truth and sincerity that he is a very, humble person...insanely loyal to his friends. He gets the same back in kind. Above all he strives to do a good job which from all reports of farmers at the grass root level feel he does just that.

For months Mr. Hopkins' job has been in jeopardy, because as some say "...the critics just won't...go away". The critics being six of the eight members of the Governor's Advisory Council on Agriculture. I guess they have a right to their opinion...but who is right "...the man in the field... or the man behind the desk."

Mr. Hopkins is a very cautious and careful person. He is careful how he spends his money as well as that of the taxpayers. I once asked him how many acres he owns down near the Lewes area where he has his family farming operation. "Harry...it is on the record in the Georgetown Courthouse. I won't tell you, but I will tell you this much as God as my witness. I am for all farmers...large or small. I am in favor of increased activity in agriculture if it is practical", he said to me.

If the farming people at the grass roots level are behind this fine man maybe the Advisory Council should be "turned over...and refertilized"...or in the alternative let's take another look at the situation.

The decision is in the hands of others, but many of us if asked Mr. Secretary "would walk (barefoot) through cut glass and fire" for you. Good luck...and keep your head down.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Farrow

As parlor of Refuge Temple Revival Center Church in Seaford, Delaware, I sincerely appreciate your kindness in providing the space in The Harrington Journal for our church listing each week. I am sure that it has helped our young Church to become known in this area.

It is encouraging to me to know of business people who are interested in boosting the churches in their area. I am grateful for every effort to send forth the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ and to remind men of their responsibility to learn of God.

Again, on behalf of my congregation, I say thanks for your help. If there is ever a time that I may be of assistance to you concerning spiritual things, please feel free to call. Also we extend to you and your family an invitation to come and worship with us in our regular services.

Sincerely yours,
Leon Williams
Pastor

TIMBERLINE K-9 ACADEMY

It has come to the attention of the writers of this edition that not all dog training facilities and sales kennels are alike. One firm which proves this point is TIMBERLINE K-9 ACADEMY.

What makes the difference at TIMBERLINE K-9 ACADEMY is the personal care they take in matching you and your personality perfectly with that of the specially-bred German Shepherds that you purchase from them. As professional breeders of show and pet quality German Shepherds, they provide you with a written guarantee on every facet of the puppy you select. In addition, they also place emphasis on familiarizing you with your new puppy's needs as far as health care, feeding, grooming and overall love and care essentials are concerned.

However, at TIMBERLINE K-9 ACADEMY their services do not end with the sale. They feature a totally informative and extensive training program for both dog and owner. This program is not limited exclusively to their own dogs, they feature training for every breed, for show, obedience and security. Their professional training is designed to incorporate the finest traits and habits for your dog as well as to guide you in property training and controlling your pet.

For personalized, qualified and very attentive assistance in all facets of owning and training dogs, ask directly for the Irishman, Gene Fox. TIMBERLINE K-9 ACADEMY is located 8 miles west of Wyoming, phone 492-3050.

THOUGHTS FROM DOVER

By Gov. Pierre S. DuPont

Getty's decision to expand its Delaware City facility is welcomed news for our State's economy, and I believe it is indicative of the strong commitment our State has made to economic growth.

The decision by Getty to undertake one of the largest construction projects in State history is a vote of confidence in our State's economic stability and is a clear signal to the rest of the nation that we are moving forward to secure jobs for our citizens.

The company announced that it was going to build a $110 million methyl alcohol plant at its refinery in Delaware City Getty's decision came after many months of study and work with Delaware officials.

We have worked closely with Getty in the past several months to secure the siting of this methanol facility. We also worked with Getty to ensure that the regulations of Delaware and the federal government are fully complied with before, during, and after the construction.

This type of cooperative effort among all the parties involved has led the company to make a significant investment in the future of Delaware. It is an investment which we welcome. As a result, hundreds of Delaware craftsmen and workers will become employed during the construction period and several dozen others will be hired to operate the new facility.

At the same time Getty was making its announcement of its expansion, the neighboring Amoco Chemical Co. which suffered a tragic explosion late last month, announced plans to hire the 350 workers left unemployed as a result. The company said it would hire those employees at other facilities it has around the country.

Unfortunately, Amoco has delayed plans to rebuild the refinery in New Castle, instead opting for a more detailed study on market trends before committing millions of dollars for a new plant. Delaware economic development officials are working with Amoco officials to encourage reconstruction in New Castle and we have offered assistance for the financing of the new facility through the State's revenue bond program.

Inflation is one of America's biggest problems. Hours of study and research go into its causes and cures. There is one major aspect of it that rarely seems to reach the surface, that's how it all got started.

Our great Constitution states Congress shall have power to coin money and to regulate the value thereof; but in 1913 our government turned that authority over to the international banks or the Federal Reserve systems. In the near future we will discuss that system with you. But to be short and make a point, we go on with what happened in March 1968.

During that month our government sold us into slavery when they refused to honor all silver certificates and redeemable notes. Let me explain: Inflation is started by the supply of money exceeding demands. Now that nothing is backing the Federal Reserve note, the Federal Reserve Banks can create all they want whenever they want and have nothing of any value to back it up. We (our Government) now have to go to the Bankers and borrow our currency. Here's what happens. Our government needs a million dollars, they go to the Federal Reserve Bank (a private banking industry) and borrow it at interest. In turn the taxpayer pays back the loan plus the interest. Multiply this by the billions borrowed and see if you wonder why we have high taxes and inflation.

The interest on our present national debt exceeds 60 billion dollars annually. If Congress would again take control of the money system like they are supposed to and print United States notes again we the taxpayers would save over sixty billion a year. Why doesn't Congress authorize printing of our currency now?

McKINNEY'S TRANSMISSION SERVICE

If you're particular about the way your car or truck runs, then you'd better be quite particular about who works on your transmission.

There are many thoroughly reputable and competent mechanics in the Kent-Dover area, but most simply don't have the experience or tools to work on transmissions. Most garage men and service station owners in this area, if called for transmission work, would simply recommend the transmission experts over at McKINNEY'S TRANSMISSION SERVICE.

These transmission specialists have the experience and proper tools to maintain or repair your automatic or standard transmission for American, foreign, auto or truck in a prompt, expert manner. Often, a simple job, such as replacement of the seal, can save you a huge future expense on down the road. Drop by at U.S. Route 13 and Smith, (across from the Sheraton) or phone 734-7584 for pick up and delivery, and let these pros keep your transmission functioning perfectly. Ask about their usual one day service and free road test.

We, the editors of this "Do You Know Your Business Community?" remind our readers that when your car or truck needs a tune up or oil change, call your local garage. For transmission troubles, go with the pros at McKINNEY'S TRANSMISSION SERVICE, established in 1954.

Berry Funeral Homes
Dear friends,
Many people who will carefully plan every detail of a two-week vacation, will do little or nothing to prepare for their years of retirement living. They tend to think that retirement will just "come naturally", and no planning is necessary. Anyone who is retired knows that is just not so. Respectfully
