Courtland Dill Receives National Safety Award

Forty-eight years of accident-free driving have earned Courtland Dill, who recently retired as a school bus driver in the Lake Forest District, a national safety award and a letter of congratulations from the White House. The award presentation was made by the President of the Lake Forest School District during Monday night's regular Board meeting.

Chambers presented Dill with a plaque bearing the text of "What Is a School Bus Driver?" and inscribed "To Courtland Dill for driving 48 safe years, from School Bus Fleet."Dill also received a letter from President Carter's Director of Correspondence, Daniel W. Chew. the Letter, reads, in part, "You can take great pride and satisfaction in your extrodinary record of 48 years of driving without an accident for the Lake Forest District, and the President is pleased to take this opportunity to add his congratulations to the many you are receiving at this time.

The national safety award is made each year by the publication School Bus Fleet in conjunction with the National Association for Pupil Transportation. Dill's name was submitted by Lake Forest Supervisor of Transportation Ray Stoops, who reports that the local driver's closest competition for this year's award was someone with forty-six years of safe Dill's safe driving record began in 1932 when he started as a school bus driver for grades one through twelve in the Felton School District. With consolidation and the formation of the Lake Forest School District in 1969, he continued transporting students in kindergarten through sixth grade.

Bowing to a state regulation which mandates retirement at age 70, Dill, who celebrated that birthday on August 31, made his final bus run on June 11, 1980. The occasion was marked with a celebration including perhaps some of the children he had transported safely to school.

An active area farmer, Courtland Dill returned from a business related trip to Hawaii just in time to be present for Monday night's award presentation.

He and his wife Cathryn, a former school teacher, have two children and four grandchildren.

First National's Canterbury Branch Robbed

Investigation continued this week as the State Police and the FBI searched for three men who held up the Canterbury Branch of the First National Bank of Harrington on Friday afternoon. The three made off with nearly $10,000.

According to state police reports, three white males, all wearing ski masks and carrying shotguns entered the bank at Canterbury about 3:07 p.m. on Friday, December 12. Two of the three went over the counter and forced open four teller's drawers, scooping up cash which totalled around $10,000.

Leaving the bank, they were last seen heading west toward Viola in an orange car. That car was later found abandoned on county route 108 near the Petersburg fire tower. A black over orange 1975 Dodge Colt, it turned out to be a vehicle reported stolen December 4, from the parking lot of Kelly Pub U.S. 13 just north of Dover. The car belongs to an employee of the tavern. No one was reported injured in the incident.

Harrington Holds Public Hearings

CITY HALL, HARRINGTON. Two public hearings held at City Hall on Monday night drew no opposition. The zoning change for 110 East Center St., was held first. There was a request for a zoning change for C-3 to C-2. The Planning & Zoning Commission had originally turned it down. Another public hearing on the site will most probably be readver-tised because of an error in public notice. The law requres that all citizens who reside within 200 feet of the site shall receive notice in writing of a public hearing. None was sent, but all of the citizens who live within that distance appeared to be in attendance.

The other public hearing was held to determine the continuance of cable

Felton Referendum is Saturday

Felton residents will be voting this Saturday on a referendum to approve or deny the annexation of the 16 acres on which Lake Forest North Elementary is located into the town limits. The referendum has been set for 3:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. in the Felton Town Hall located on Lombard St. The Lake Forest School Board has already given its blessings to the annex action, but the school district will have one vote on the referem-

Incorporation of the school property should enable the town to supply street lighting in front of the school and legally to provide the protection of the local police.

If the referendum gets voter approval, it will also mean an increase in revenue sharing funds to reflect the town's growth in size. Town officials also said the inclussion of the section of U.S. 13 going past the school within the town limits could "enable the Felton Police to apply for Federal TV in Harrington. The original franchise was granted to John Satterfield, who is the proprietor of Satterfield & Ryan. He acquired the franchise when a company which had been studying the feasibility of cable TV in this area reported to the council at that time that the survey indicated that the area could not support a cable TV operation. Satterfield volunteered to take up the option since "...we had the equipment and men to perform the job". Satterfield also stated that he was interested in bringing another service to the community. There was opposition to Satterfield putting the tower for the signal off the JacksonDitch road. The tower was ultimately placed on the City's property near the sewer plant. When the vote was taken to approve the franchise originally, Satterfield did not vote. The Council voted to allow it. Later Satterfield & Ryan entered into a business venture with CABLE TV, for as Satterfield pointed out "...they were better equipped to

Lake Forest Christmas Concert Is a First

A first for Lake Forest, a Christmas Concert featuring the combined efforts of the W.T. Chipman Junior Band and Chorus and the Lake Forest High School Spartan Band, Jazz Band and Chorus, will be held this evening at 1:30 p.m. in the auditorium at the high school. Admission is free Christmas concerts are a tradition for the bands and choruses at the two schools but this is the first year for a joint program. Each band and chorus will perform during a separate section of the program. Both bands have had an active fall and Christmas season. The Spartan Marching Band, from the high school, got an early start in August as it represented Lake Forest in the parade held as a part or convention activities of the Delaware Volunteer Fireman's Association. In September the Spartans were invited to play for Governor duPont during Senior Citizens Day at Woodburn. Since then, the band has been busy with performances at every Spartan football game and has also appeared in the Lake Forest Homecoming and the Harrington Christmas parades.

Eight parades have highlighted the fall season for the W.T. Chipman Junior Band. During the fall, the band participated in the Dover Halloween parade, the Lake Forest and Del State Homecoming parades, and the Georgetown Returns Day parade.

During the Christmas season there have been four parades appearances which have included the Harrington Christmas parade. Three or these were competitive with the Chipman Band taking (for the second year in a row) a second place at Seaford, and firsts on both the Milton and Lewes Christmas parades. At Lewes (again, for the second year) the junior band was awarded a Presidential trophy for the best unit with a Christmas theme out of the 65 appearing in the

The W.T. Chipman Junior Chorus, under the direction of Alex Becton entertained with a program of Christmas music at the covered dish dinner held by the Greater Harrington Historical Society, December 4. The chorus performed again Monday night at the Chipman Christmas Concert and will be on stage again this evening in the first annual Lake Forest Christmas Concert set for the high school auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Frederica Creates a P & Z Commision

With both long and short range goals in mind, the town of Frederica recently created a three-member Planning and Zoning Commission. The long range goal is comprehensive community planning; the short-range necessity that precipitated the creation of the commission is the need to comply with federal standards that would qualify residents in the flood hazzard area for Federal flood insurance. The Commission had to be set up in order to follow the proper legal procedure for adopting an ordinance that would affect new construction in the region defined as being in the flood hazzard area.

Mayor Dan Griffith selected three Frederica residents to form the Planning and Zoning Commission. They are William E. Cline, Superintendent of the Lake Forest School District; Gerron Hite, an architect with the state's Division of Historical and Cultural Affairs, and Wallace Wootten of Wootten Insurance Agency. Terms on the Commission will ordinarily be for six years. However, in order to create a rotating system, Cline and Hite will serve abbreviated first terms of two and four years, respectively.

Mayor Griffith said the ordinance, which must be passed to comply with federal regulations for Flood insurance, was basically a building code which would apply to construction on in the particular area. In Frederica, that would be minimal because about 90 percent of the land in the flood hazzard area is tidal marsh; the other

10 percent is marginal.

Griffith said the procedure which the commission must follow to adopt the flood ordinance (hearings by the commission, a recommendation to Council, a final public hearing by the Council, and Council action) would give the new group a chance to get acquainted with the whole process. The Planning and Zoning Commission will hold its first public hearing on the flood plan ordinance on Monday, Dec. 29 at 7 p.m. in Frederica's Town Hall.

The Town Council and the Planning and Zoning Commission will be setting a more leisurely pace as they look forward the long-range goal of planning to control the direction and quality of growth in the community. In other business, the Frederica Town Council:

-approved a letter from the Mayor to Levy Court urging that the force main connecting the Felton sewer systems with the county sewage treatment plant be routed across the field if that alternative is open. A new system hooking Felton and its surrounding area into the Kent County plant east of Frederica should be nearing the construction phase. The Frederica Council had previously requested that the line at least follow the streets and not cut across private property in town. But if possible that the force main coming down Route 12 from Felton could follow a ditch across a field near the intersection of Route 12 and Route 35 (the Harrington-Frederica Road), the Council would prefer that course of action. The Council is concerned about continuing traffic disruptions and street maintenance problems. If the line is routed across the field, it would mean one less time that Frederica's streets get torn up. -noted the water systems improvement project is complete with several thousand dollars left to the HUD funds granted for construction. Frederica has already used some of that money to buy a new chlorinator and to build a pump house near the water tower. The rest of the town hopes to use for two more new fire hydrants. -discussed the escalating costs of dumping but decided to take no action on increasing trash fees until figures and costs are clarified.

By: Joyce Jefferson Scharf's History of Delaware contains a great deal of information concerning the Greer Family in Murderkill Hundred but the facts are disjoined and confusing because of the surname being mis-spelled. On page 1166 of his History of Delaware Scharf wrote "About one-half mile west of Felton, lying on the north side of the road leading to Whiteleysburg was a tract of three hundred and sixty-nine acres, called "Bear Garden". In 1773 it was in possession of John Grier...

Kent County Warrants give the information that John Grier of Kent County, yoeman is seized in fee simple (which usually indicated that the person had in some manner inherited the land) of a tract called Bear Garden containing two hundred acres in Murderkill Hundred. On 30 May 1718 it was surveyed for one John Townsend and under a warrant dated 16 March 1740 conveyed unto Grier..Also unto John Grier on 15 October 1714 a small tract adjoining said tract called the Bear Garden containing thirty-one acres. Grier obtained another warrant dated 29 June 1758 for one hundred acres of land adjoining his land and Thomas Parke's land in the Forest of said Hundred.

John Grier asked to have the whole re-surveyed and it was completed and confirmed to him 10 June 1773. The records in Kent County Recorder of Deeds Office show his name and the tract of land to be spelled as it is printed in Scharf's History. However this will which he signed and is filed in the Kent County Recorder of Wills Office in Dover shows the spelling of his surname was "Greer" and the tract of land as "Bare Garden". In his will dates 1796 he mentions "my beloved wife Mary Greer"; "to my son Mark Greer my dwelling Plantation known as Bare Garden"; to Mark Greer Fromes Elsworth which I bought of Francis Edmundson"; to my three dutiful daughters Rachel Chambers, Sarah Maxwell and Mary Chambers the plantation I bought of the heirs of Joseph Cambell".

There had been another son, John Greer, Junior, who died before 28 July 1795 when Mark Greer was appointed administrator of his estate paragraph on page 1166 describing Bear Garden "as being bounded..on the west by land called the "Cave" originally parented to Colonel John French." However when French died and his will was probated he claimed to own most of Kent County and his executor William Morton stated there was not enough of the estate to satify his heirs. The boundarys were so vague it appears the persons on the land claimed what might be terms ers rights": in any evening on 11 April 1801 Mark Greer of Murder-

The Delaware State Police composite has rendered this sketch as a portrait of a man being sought by members of the Criminal Investigative Unit at Troop 3 in Camden'. This man was observed inside the Adult World Bookstore on the evening of September 19th shortly before James L. Young Jr. the store clerk, was found shot to death in the store. It is unknown whether this man is the major suspect or only a necessary witness, but the state police ask that anyone who can identify this man should phone the detectives at Troop

School Bus Drivers are to be found on the roads and highwaysstone standing in the main road that everywhere. They come in assorted leads from Choptank Bridge to Frederica and in the outline of the whole sizes, weights, colors, and may either be men or women. But each, as they pilot their mammoth three-ring-circus down the highway, has the same creed-to carry children to and from school in complete safety. Scharf also states that Bear Garden

No one else has the patience of Job, the humor of a comedian, th philosophy of a Will Rogers and the tolerance of an Abe Lincoln. A School for on Hundred pounds a parcel of Bus Driver wipes more noses, finds more mittens, overshoes, caps, sweaters and school books than anybody. Me listens to more tales of woe than a preacher, lends more money than a finance company and guides more romances then Dan Cupid.

The School Bus Driver combines the caution of a rabbit with the care of a mother cat for her kittens. He shows more firmness then any Army Sergeant and often more affection towards "His Kids" than a mother or father. Mother and Dad, you can ignore him, and can take him for granted, but you can't keep him out of your kid's heart.

I don't know where the School Bus Driver goes when he dies, but I'll bet you wherever it is, he won't be content to float on a cloud. No, he'll be toting the little angels from star to star in God's heaven. He'll be fixing the harp strings, soothing bruised winds, and lending a helping hand

The stereo is singing..."For lo, the days are hastening on", and it is so. And soon it will be Christmas. I am determined, this year, to not get too tense or too busy. I say to myself, 'Things will get done, and so, I will lift my eyes and get a little glimpse of the glory. I will keep Christmas. In the middle of the confusion of dinners and committee meetings and programs and ribbons and shopping and tinsel and the rustle of tissue paper, I will remember whose birthday it is. I will step out under the stars these winter nights and hear the carols that the angels sing. He came to bring us Peace and Love and Joy.

I am getting my Christmas cards ready for the mail. One side of it makes me sad. This is because I cannot send all the cards I want to. I wish I could send to each of you who read the column a personal Christmas card. Then my joy would be full. This is physically impossible, of course, but know this...this is my personal greeting to each of you..."Love and a Merry Christmas from Pay Hatfield at Trail's End!" Thank you for all the letters, telephone calls, and delightful conversations we have had through these many years. And we will now look joyously into the future. With the famous poet, Edwin Markham, who wrote on his 80th birthday a poem which said: "I look to the years ahead--come on, I am ready for you!"

Well, I am not 80 yet and may never be, but I love life and find each day exciting and wonderful. This is December 9th as I write this and on my kitchen windowsill there is a small perfect rosebud along the fence in her front yard. I do not see how this can be with the heavy frosts and even some ice, but I guess the trees protect them. Anyway, why go to Florida? It can't be too bad here when roses bloom in December!

stored. I kept putting it off because my electric mixer has "got up and went" and must be replaced. Our mothers and grandmothers did have the help of a mixer, yet they made wonderful cakes. But, of course, they used "arm power" which I do not have too much of. Anyhow I dived into it and went way back to the old time method of creaming the butter and sugar by hand. Grandmother Hatfield explained to me once that there is no creaming as good as that done by the warmth of the human hand. All went well and now it is in the refrigerator for a few minutes to firm the frosting. Then I will wrap in aluminum foil and then into a plastic bag. We will remove it on Christmas Eve morning and let it take its place with the mince and pumpkin pies.

Report from Greenwood United Methodist Charge: The United Methodist Women of the Greenwood Church held their annual Christmas dinner on Wednesday, December 10, in the Fellowship Hall. The poinsettia is probably the most popular holiday plant at Christmas time. Originally from south of the border, it was introduced into this country about 150 years ago by Joel Poinsett, then U.S. minister to Mexico. It has since become a Christmas symbol and tradition, with its cheerful red, white or pink blooms.

Your poinsettia needs a sunny, draft-free location with the room temperature between 60 and 72 degrees. Keep the soil moist, but not soggy. Modern poinsettias are longlasting and often remain in bloom for months.

Poinsettias can be reflowered the second Christmas, but, unless a year long schedule of care is observed, the results usually aren't good. For such a schedule, continue normal watering until the first of March, when you allow the soil to dry gradually. Don't let it get so dry that the stems shrivel, because this is a sign of dying. Following the drying period, store the plant in a cool (60 degree F) airy location. In the middle of April, cut the stems back to about six inches above the soil level and replant one or two inches in diameter larger than the original pot. A good potting soil mixture is essential. Water thoroughly; wait 5 minutes and water again. Then put the plant near a window facing south. Keep the plant at a temperature of 70 to 75 degrees F.

and water it when the surface of the soil is dry to the touch. After new growth appears, fertilize every two weeks with a complete analysis, water soluble fertilizer at the rate recommended on the label.

In early June, move the plant outdoors and place it in a lightly shaded location. Continue watering and fertilizing the plant while it is outdoors. Between August 15th and September 1st, cut the stems back leaving three or four leaves on each shoot, then bring the plant indoors again and place it in a window facing south. If the plant is not cut back, it will grow too tall and be unsightly. Keep the plant at a temperature of 65 to 70 degrees F. and continue watering and fertilizing as before.

Poinsettias are short day plants, meaning they flower about ten weeks after the length of daylights shortens to 11 hours or less. Therefore, to have a plant in full flower by Christmas, keep it in complete darkness between 5 p.m. and 8 a.m. from the first part of Oct. until Thanksgiving Day. During this period, any kind of light exposure between 5 p.m. and 8 a.m will delay flowering. A closet, opaque box or cloth will keep the plant in darkness during these hours. Wih Tom Evans

Washington, DC-Forty-nine Delaware students have been nominated by Congressman Tom Evans to attend United States service academics. "This group of outstanding young people faced tough competition during the selection process. A large number of students were considered by the academy Review Board this year," noted Evans.

The Academy Review Board is made up of 20 distinguied citizens from all over the State of Delaware and from all walks of life. The Board based its decisions on the applicants academic achievement, extracurricular participation, and individual character and leadersip qualities. Neither Congressman Evans, nor members of his staff, participated in the selection.

In June there will be openings in each of the four US service academics. Ten nominees are submitted for each academy opening, with final placement determined by the respective academy.

"In these days of increased emphasis on a stronger national defense, it is important that excellent high school students by attracted to our country's service academics," said Evans. "These top caliber young people are our nation's future military leaders."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

While contemplating the sad death of musician John Lennon, Americans should realize that no "gun control" law, no amount of restrictive firearms legislation, could have prevented this tragic act.

Gun laws simply cannot stop someone who is intent upon committing Mr. Lennon's murder purchased the murder weapon in Hawai, a state which requires that all firearms and handguns, but also requires the licensing of firearms owners. These restrictive gun laws did not stop Mr. Lennon's murder. Additional gun laws would not have been stopped it,

The act, for whatever reason it was committed, was premeditated. Once he is bent upon such a crime, a person cannot be thwarted by an existing gun law, nor by the passage of any additional legislation. Murder is al-

There will be those who call for more "gun control" laws. Such laws, however, only restrict the law-abiding citizen's use of firearms and will not affect the criminal or reduce crime. Such laws merely open the door for civil rights violations which have occured many times under the Federal Gun Control Act of 1968. These violations have already resulted in 63 United States Senators calling for reform of that gun law.

To stop crime, laws must be directed at the violent criminal. The National Rifle Association has long been in favor of prompt and adequate punishment for anyone convicted of violence. Take the criminal off the streets. Force the criminal justice system to be as severe as necessary to compel the criminal to realize that he will suffer the consequences of his actions. This is the way to stop such

THOUGHTS FROM DOVER

Eighty-five percent of the students enrolled in the Jobs for Delaware Graduates program during the 1979-80 school year have been positively place. Some 611 high school seniors in eight schools participated in the program last year.

A positive placement is either being employed or attending post-secondary schooling. (431 students are working, 86 are going to post-secondary

Jobs for Delaware Graduates is the innovative youth employment program piloted in the eight schools last school year. It has expanded to 22 of Delaware's 25 public high schools, providing job readiness training, placement services to more than 1,200 seniors and follow-up services to over 500 1980 high school graduates. The program provides employability skills training to seniors and career exploration and awareness through the student organization, the Delaware Career Association.

The success of the program in its pilot year of operation of especially important because of the severe economic difficulties the nation has been experiencing. About 90 percent of the students in the program-mostly those young people who need assistance in carrer direction--who are available for work are currently employed.

Much of the success of the program's first year is attributable to Ralph Barrow, who has served as vice-president of the non-profit program and who has been recently elected President of JDG. His background in banking and education will enable him to guide the program during its next few years of statewide growth.

Over the next year, a 50 percent increase in job placements can be expected. This will enable the many hundreds of high school seniors with the opportunity job opportunities which they might have otherwise missed.

Biden Report

By Sen. Joseph Biden Jr.

Congress breathed fresh breath into towns, large and small, across America last week with passage of the revenue sharing legislation. For the great majority of those towns including the scores of recipient municipalities in Delaware, it means town governments will continue operating, town services will continue functioning. Revenue sharing is a portion of federal revenues which Congress has deemed should be returned to local and state governments to spend virtually as they see fit. Except through, this year Congress continued the program with $4.6 billion annually over the next three years only for local governments. State governments won't get a nickel this year and perhaps the next two.

I voted for revenue sharing with municipalities and again revenue sharing with states. My reasons are simply that generally speaking municipalities need aid and states don't.

Perhaps it is unfortunate but municipalities, since the beginning of revenue sharing have become dependent on it. Those monies have become a part of the town's budget and citizens have greater opportunity to determine how that tax money is spent.

States, on the other hand, generally are operating with a surplus-they can get along without revenue sharing. I have been disappointed with the way many states have squandered the money they received under the program as though it were "free money and no prudence need be attached to spending." My third point is that governors and state legislatures while lobbying hard for continuation of revenue sharing with states, have sent resolution after resolution to Congress demanding that the federal government balance the budget. We can do that is we get all of our horses pulling in the same direction. If the states don't need the money, then there is no need to spend it. If the need arises for funds within the state, then the state legislatures can either cut spending or seek additional revenues as they and their constituents see fit. With the end of the 96th Congress, I think it is interesting to look at some of the major legislation that did not pass.

There has been no tax cut. The $39 billion tax reduction proposal didn't reach the floor in either house of Congress giving President elect Reagan the opportunity to move his own tax cut proposal through Congress.

The revision of the criminal code which I had a hand in writing cleared the Judiciary Committee but will not be voted on by either the House or Senate. The bill included a rewrite of virtually all aspects of federal criminal law and procedure. The measure, if it became law would have eliminated parole, curtailed a judge's discretion in sentencing and changed the penalty for every federal criminal offense. My own focus was on sentencing reform. One section would have helped eliminate race and income considerations which now have a clear impact on sentencing.

Sunset legislaton, one of my major concerns because it would allow for review of all federal programs before refunding them, was killed early in the session. I hope to see it pass in the near future.

National health insurance, hospital cost containment and the Child Health Assurance Program also were proposed but failed to pass the 96th Congress. Legislation, good and bad never made it past filibusters and other deadly congressional manuevers.

One item that I particularly wanted to see passed by the 96th Congress was oil spill liability. Although the Superfund bill, which provides for clean-up of hazardous wastes sites did pass, oil spills were not included.

If an oil corporatin is found to have caused an oil spill, they must clean it up. However, most spills, such as occur in the Delaware Bay and Atlantic Ocean off our coast are never traced to the responsible party. But oil still washes ashore, still pollutes our water, still kills fish and birds, still causes severe enviromental damage.

The legislation I support would create a fund, similar to the Superfund. A tax on the multinational oil corporations would be used to clean up oil spills. Without the legislaton, federal tax dollars will be used to clean up the spills or they won't be cleaned up at all.

Understanding A.C.T.

December 20, 1980 6:00 Dinner 7;00 Presentation, Perry's Steak House US 13 Dover, Delaware.

Americans for Constitutional Taxation is planning a consititutional seminar in January 1981. This seminar is put on by the Freeman Institute. It is a seminar you don't want to miss. If you are interested in the U.S. Consitituation and what the intent of those who drew it up was, then you need this seminar. It will be a few hours on Thursday evening and a few hours Friday evening and all day Saturday. The exact dates will be given next week.

As you may have noted we have been discussing in December, one area where we have departed from the constitution and the tragic results of it is our present money system.

There are many areas in which we have departed and misused the constitution; many of which we are or have been unaware of. We as A.C.T. believe the answer to most of America's present problems is an informed and concerned citizen. It is our hope that through our present program and these seminars we can inform our citizens and get back to Constitutional Government of the people, by the people, and for the people, not of the bureaucrat, by the bureaucrat, for the bureaucrat.

If you are interested in more information on the seminar of A.C.T.'s program. Write P.O. Box. 88, Frederica, Delaware 19946.

Well, we want to give the Reagan people a word of caution: Be careful how you conduct the interviews. You may not realize it, but the federal government has adopted literally hundreds of rules and regulations on how to interview job applicants. These are designed to make sure they aren't discriminated against because of sex, race or ethnic background

In some government agencies, creative bureaucrats have published guidelines to help their interviewers steer clear of problems. Here are a few excerpts from the Justice Department's official guidelines on how to interview

After much debate, prodding, and downright arguing, he finally managed to convince me to leave my place of birth, my home, my friends, my shopping malls! It took a LOT of convincing, but here we are living on a farm two miles outside of Harring-

After we settled in arranged furniture and went about doing all the things moving entails, the homesickness also settled in. I was very often tempted to call the real estate agent back home and tell him to take our house off the market especially tempted during the heat wave because, among other things, our old farm house doesn't have electrical wiring capable of handling our two air conditioners that spent their summer in the attic. Being used to sending one of the kids around the corner for a loaf of bread or a gallon of milk, I found the two mile drive to town rather inconvenient.

Well, the heat wave finally ended, and I try not to run out of staple items very often. I found that when I do drive into town, there are no traffic jams. When I enrolled my two younger children in Lake Forest So. Elem. in August, to my amazement, the principal of the school enrolled them. I mean, he was actually in the building, in August! I don't know if Mr. Griffith is an exception to the rule, but if the other educators in the district are anything like him, its an exceptional school district, indeed.

The other day I received a call from a friend back home. She told me ny former fifteen year old paperboy who lived on our street, brutally stabbed to death a young women, two blocks from my house. There have been several other crimes committed in the neighborhood within the past few

The Insurance Commissioner

With the Delaware General Assembly returning to session in January, it is appropriate now to discuss some of the major pieces of legislation the Insurance Department will be encouraging legislators to introduce, and hopefully approve.

Some of the important bills just ran out of time during the last session of the legislature, but we have recommended the proper improvements to help better their chances of passage.

The Insurance Department is requesting that the number of members on the Fair Plan Board be increased from nine to 15, with five of the new members from the public and one insurance agent appointed by the Insurance Commissioner. The Fair Plan is a program under which fire and several other forms of property insurance are made available to people having difficulty obtaining such coverage in the voluntary mar-

Once again, we'll be encouraging the passage of legislation to extend certain benefits to unmarried firemen and other personnel killed in the line of duty. It would provide benefits of $10,000 for qualified personnel killed in the line of duty, with one or both parents living, and up to $5,000 to those with no dependents or parents.

Then there is the Defensive Driving Course Premium Discount Bill, which would benefit safe drivers and help lower auto insurance premiums. The legislation would provide a premium discount for anyone successfully completing the defensive driving course offered by the Delaware

Another piece of proposed legisla-tion would help keep insurance age-nts better informed about the insurance code and new developments in the insurance industry. The Continuing Education Bill would have agents meet minimal qualifications on a periodic basis through classroom work and seminars.

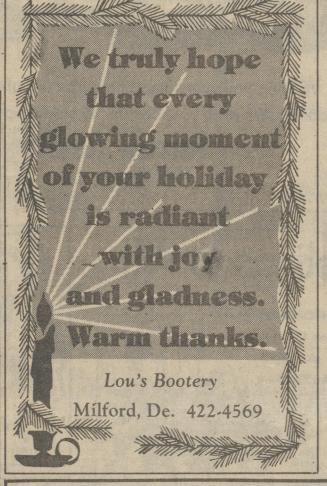

Of a technical nature, we are encouraging approval of a model bill produced by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners concerning the financial condition of insurance companies. It increases the tools available to the Insurance Commissioner for protecting the interests of insureds, claimants, creditors, and the general public when a company is, or threatens to become, insolvent or operating in a hazardous fashion. The bill clarifies the circumstances under which a supervision, rehabilitation or liquidation may be commenced.

Our Insurance Department staff will be encouraging various legislators to introduce these and other pieces of beneficial insurance legislation, which we will help draft. I'm sure other ideas and recommendations designed to improve the insurance industry and protect the policy holders will surface after the General Assembly gets underway.
