Eight Candidates File For Harrington Posts

A sudden flurry of interest brought eight candidates scrambling to meet the January 3 deadline to file for two city council seats and the mayor's job, all of which will be at stake in next Tuesday's municipal election in Harrington.

At this writing, it looks like a four-way race to see who will fill the shoes to be left empty by Harrington Mayor Arthur B. Cahall as he steps down after completing his second two-year term. The candidates for mayor are Clinton B. Graham, the Rev. Joseph D. Tull, City Alderman Anna R. Hampton and Alfred Mann.

In the Fifth Ward, incumbent Bill Dill has filed for another three-year term. But Dill will face two challengers in Ray Gagne and Edward Maher, who also seek the Fifth Ward seat.

In the Sixth Ward, where the Rev. Ray Newman told the Journal last week he would prefer not to run for a second term, it has been reported that Bobby G. Quillen, former State Representative and former Harrington City Manager has filed for the Council Post. Quillen will be unopposed. The Rev. Ray Newman, Council member from the Sixth Ward for the past two years, has indicated that he would not run a second time, and no one else has filed.

The municipal election scheduled for next Tuesday, January 13 from 12 noon until 7 p.m. Voting will be by machine, most probably in the Harrington fire hall. Any citizen who is at least 18 and had been a resident of Harrington for the past six months is eligible to vote in the city-wide election for mayor. However, to vote for a Council member in a particular ward, an individual must have resided in that ward for the past thirty days.

In recent days the Journal has spoken with most of the candidates about their background and their reasons for seeking local office. They are also expected to put in an appearance at the annual citizens meeting set for the Harrington fire hall this Friday evening beginning at 7 p.m. (see separate Journal story) where voters will get the opportunity to meet and question them.

MEET THE CANDIDATES:

MAYOR

Clinton B. Graham

"I feel it's time to get involved," says Clinton B. Graham, who at 22, is probably the youngest of any of the candidates for city office this year.

Graham, who filed for the office of mayor last week, feels that Harrington, where he grew up, is a "...nice community with nice schools and a nice atmosphere." He would like to see the community prosper. He intends to stay here and would like to see his children be able to make that choice also.

But, says Graham, the town at present is "...getting nowhere. It's stayed basically the same for the past four or five years." More business and industry to create jobs and, especially, more involvement on the part of the young people are what he sees as needed. He thinks it particularly important for young people to get involved in the town's public affairs and social activities and feels his step in running for mayor may open the door for other young people to take a more active interest.

Graham told the Journal that even if he is unsuccessful in his bid for the mayor's job this time around, he would not lose interest. His next step would be to run for City Council in his ward when the opportunity arises.

A 1977 graduate of Lake Forest High School, Clinton Graham was active as a student in the high school chorus and dramatic productions as well as a member of youth choirs at Asbury United Methodist Church.

Following graduation he spent a year as a Cadet and Dispatcher at the Smyrna Police Department and another eight months working with the Department of Corrections. He is currently employed by Joseph Richardson of Harrington. Married to the former Carolyn Miller of Harrington, he makes his home on Center Street. The family includes two children.

Anna R. Hampton

Making a bid to be Harrington's first woman mayor is Anna R. Hampton, who points to her eight years of familiarity with the city government as her reason for seeking the town's top office. Because she has attended virtually all Council meetings during those years, she feels well-acquainted with the various problems confronting the city.

Underscoring the fact that financial reward is not her motive (The city's elective offices are not paid positions), Mrs. Hampton still feels it "...would be a challenge and a privilege to hold such a high office. She feels qualified by both education and experience to hold that office.

A native of Harrington and a graduate of Harrington High School, she is also a graduate of Georgia-Carolina School of Commerce in Brunswick, Georgia. She later attended the University of Delaware and taught for three years in Delaware schools and one year in Pulaski, Virginia. Her educational background further includes completion of a course in handling juveniles at the Police Academy in Wilmington and training for Civilian guard at Middletown Air Depot, Oldsted, Virginia.

Mrs. Hampton's experience covers seven years of work in the court house for the County Assessment Board in Wilmington, three terms as a Councilwoman on the Elsmere Town Council, seven years as president of the Elsmere Ladies Auxiliary, eleven years as a Justice of the Peace for the state, and the eight years previously mentioned as Alderman for the city of Harrington.

A member of the Harrington Senior Center, Mrs. Hampton resides on Center Street. She has one son, Jack Hampton, a retired state trooper.

Alfred Mann

Alfred Mann, a former City Manager and resident of Harrington since 1954, has spent all his life in and around cities of various sizes and feels fairly knowledgeable in all aspects of town affairs. That would include the technical know-how (the engineering involved in keeping water and sewer systems going) and the political workings of city government.

Mann professes a deep interest in the local community with a desire to see the city grow and improve. Just what specific programs he might favor, he did not say, but rather commented that the whole situation would have to be studied in the light of what could be done and by what means, "in this day and time", it could be accomplished. He does, however, promise that as Mayor he will put in more time than necessary to carry out the responsibilities of the office.

Taking that extra time is one of the things he did when he served Harrington as City Manager for the four years from 1963 to 1966.

For the past fourteen years, he has been with the city of Dover in the Water and Sewer Department where he is now superintendent.

Born in Augusta, Kansas, Alfred Mann is a graduate of Southwestern College, Winfield, Kansas. He makes his home on Dorman Street in Harrington.

The Rev. Joseph D. Tull

Up until the end of last week, no one seemed interested enough to file for Mayor of Harrington. That seeming lack of concern on the part of Harringtonians concerned the Rev. Joseph D. Tull very much and was the initial reason which propelled him into this year's mayoralty contest. He felt someone ought to be interested enough to run for the Mayor of "...a fine City like Harrington," and was willing to be that someone.

The Rev. Tull told the Journal he thinks Harrington's current Mayor, Arthur Cahall and the City Council "have done a fine job". If elected Mayor, he would want to continue the emphasis on sewer and water programs and improvement. He also feels the city should maintain and support such services as that offered by the Harrington Public Library.

But Tull sees a definite need for new industry to be enticed to come to Harrington to provide more jobs as well as a need for the additional housing that might go hand in hand with that industry.

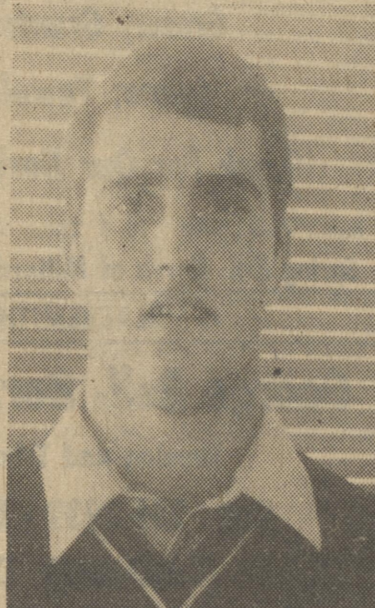

As Mayor, Tull would hope to be able to help continue the "fine programs" he says the City has already started and perhaps to institute some new ones.

A native of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania Tull was educated in the city's schools and eventually graduated from the Philadelphia College of Bible in 1967.

Subsequently, he moved to Milford where he became the pastor of the Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church. While in Milford he was instrumental in the initiation and construction of a federally subsidized housing complex, the Bancker Heights Housing project, owned by the church there. The project was started in 1970 and completed in 1971. It is now in operation with all of its 80 units occupied.

In 1976, the Rev. Tull moved to Harrington, and in 1977 he was

In Harrington, Friday Is Citizens Night

Harringtonians will get a unique opportunity to meet their candidate for municipal office Friday night as the city continues a tradition mandated by the charter adopted in 1936, the practice of noing an annual citizens meeting for the town. This year's edition is set for this Friday night, January 9, 1981, beginning at 7 p.m.,

Actually, the opportunity to meet the local candidates is just one aspect of the annual meeting. It is also planned as a time for citizens to speak out on the concerns of the community and to come face to face with those responsible for city government. Harringtonians have an open invitation and are urged by Council members to attend any Council meeting, but the yearly event brings a special invitation.

Harriet C. O'Neal

HARRINGTON - Harriet C. O'Neal, 65, Benjamin Street, died Monday, January 5, in Milford Memorial Hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. O'Neal was secretary at the W.T. Chipman Junior School in Harrington until she retired recently.

Her husband, Frank C., Jr. died in 1979. She is survived by two sons, Robert L. Herring of Alexandria, Va., and Frank C. O'Neal III of Harrington; a daughter, Sue Ellen Dennis of Harrington; two brothers, Allen Callaway of Farmington and Charles P. Callaway of Milford; three sisters, Sharon Mills of Felton, Janice Dulin and Adel Weir, both of Orlando, Fla., and seven grandchildren.

Services will be this afternoon at 1 at Trinity United Methodist Church, Commerce Street, where friends may call an hour earlier. Burial will be in Hollywood Cemetery, Harrington. Instead of flowers, the family suggests contributions to the Kent County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, 5 Reed Street., Dover, 19901.

Felton Studies Trash Costs

The 1st of February will be the renewal date on the trash contract with N.L. Wilkins for the Town of Felton. The Town Commissioners are studying the costs of trash pick up, because "...it is getting out of An established order of business is usually followed at the annual meeting. First on the agenda is the election by the citizens present of a chairman and secretary for the evening. Once this is done, the minutes of last year's annual meeting are read, and the Mayor will be called upon to deliver what might be described as a sort of "State of the City" address. This will be outgoing Mayor Arthur B. Cahall's final opportunity to do so.

When the mayor has spoken, the Chairman will introduce the candidates for City Council and Mayor. Each one will be given a brief opportunity to speak. This year there are eight candidates vying for two Council seats and the mayor's post.

After the candidates are introduced, it will be the citizens' turn to speak as the meeting is opened up to questions and answers.

Attendance at the annual meeting had been variable. Last year a snow storm which threatened early in the evening apparently sent most citizens first to the grocery stores and then home for the evening. Only a handful showed up at the annual event. But the previous year brought out about 50 Harringtonians. With the large site of candidates for Mayor and four Council in the Fifth Ward, it was generally thought that this year's meeting might spark more interest.

Regular meeting Thursday

The regular meeting of the Harrington City Council has been set for tomorrow evening, January 8, begin-

Woodbridge Sends Out Basics Plus Questionnaire

The Woodbridge Board of Education will be conducting an information questionnaire during the week of January 5, 1981. The questionnaire will be mailed to all postal patrons and the employees of the Woodbridge School District. The questionnaire will accompany a copy of the district philosophy of education, a proposed philosophy for a Basics Plus School in the Woodbridge School District and a list of responsibilities for parents, teachers and students at a proposed Basics Plus School.

The Basics Plus School has been studied for a little over a year, and the Woodbridge Board of Education is considering the implementation of the program in September of 1981. The school will be for students in kindergarten through sixth grade.

In an attempt to get input from the community and the employees of the district, the questionnaire has been designed and was mailed on January 6, 1981. The questionnaire can be returned in the same manner as a prepaid post card. It is due in the district office on January 12, 1981. Any district resident who does not receive the questionnaire should notify the district office (337-8296). One will be mailed.

A tract of land called Farms Elsworth was one of the boundaries for New Seventh Heaven. It was originally the property of Daniel Brown who sold to James Wells and upon his death his eldest son Thomas Wells conveyed to Mark Manlove Senior for 50 pounds "all that plantation tract or parcel of land...being on the west side of Delaware Bay on the north side of the main branch of the Mother Creek in Kent County on Delaware beginning at a corner marked white oak standing upon a point in a fork of a small branch running into the said main branch and running from thence up the said small branch west northwest 220 perches to a corner marked white oak standing by a small branch and from thence north northwest by a line of marked trees over the said branch 388 perches to a corner marked white oak standing by a white marsh from thence west by a line of marked trees 250 perches to a corner marked red oak and from thence south east by a line of marked trees 610 perches to a corner marked Hickory standing above the said main branch and from thence down the said main branch on the several courses thereof to the first bounded tree containing and laid out for nine hundred acres according to the certificate of the surveyor thereof under the surveyors hand returned into the secretary's office bearing date the 20th day of the 6th months 1684". Despite the fact that Mark Manlove renamed the tract Manloves Berry it was still identified as Farms Elsworth.

In 1731 Mark Manlove Senior conveyed to his son Mark Manlove Junior 300 acres of land "part of a tract formerly called Farms Elsworth". And on 16 May 1735 "in the Ninth year of the Reign of George the Second over Great Britain, France and Ireland, King and Defender of the Faith" he sold for 30 shillings a part of the tract of land called Manloves Berry to William Berry. This parcel of land was chiefly on the southside of Bishops Branch and the beginning corner was opposite to the late dwelling house of Daniel Hudson deceased." It was bounded on the south by Farms Elsworth and at the most westerly corner touched the line of the land belonging to Mark Smith.

On 12 August 1742 Mark Manlove sold to Preston Berry, Blacksmith, "Parcel of land being part of a larger tract of land called Manloves Berry... the said part beginning at a corner marked black oak standing near the head of a small branch that proceeds out of Bishops Branch being a corner tree of William Berry's land...intersects with the line of land said to be laid out for William Freeman".

William Berry died before 23 June 1752 when his widow Sarah who was the administrator of his estate appeared in court with her second husband, John Virden, to give an account. They were eventually deeded 249 acres of Manloves Berry that had been the property of William Berry.

They had two children, Andrew and Elizabeth, before John Virden died in January 1794. Sarah Berry Virden then married Thomas Green who in 1798 was appointed guardian for the children. She died before 17 February 1819 when Andrew Virden petitioned the court to divide the farm between him and his sister Elizabeth who had married William Harrington. Upon his death Andrew Virden directed in his will that his share of the land was to be sold. Thomas Clark was the purchaser and he later sold this part to John Bailey. Upon the deaths of William and Elizabeth Harrington her share went to their four children. Samuel Harrington, John Harrington, Mary the wife of Robert Hodgson and Elizabeth the wife of Henry Vickers. Letter to the Editor:

Dear Mr. Farrow:
I, as a voter of Harrington, feel the people of Harrington should have a clearer idea of the intentions of one of our Mayor candidates...namely Mrs. Anna Hampton. Does she intend on remaining as City Alderman if elected Mayor of Harrington. If so I feel this would be a conflict of interest for in effect she would be her own supervisor or boss. I would need to know that answer before I could vote for her. Sincerely,

Mrs. Norma Meredith

Council Meeting

ning at 7:30 in City Hall. During the meeting, two public hearings, one on the proposed HUD application and another on the city's proposal to borrow 189,000 for its share of the cost of the sewage treatment facility improvement project.

Mahe began working for the Kirby and Holloway Restaurant which was once owned and operated by the local firm and located on U.S. 13 near Dover.

About ten years ago, he started working for the S.E. Nichols Company of Dover as an appliance salesman. For the past eight years there, he has been Home Improvements Manager.

The Mahers, who live on Fleming Street, in Harrington have four children. The oldest is in the Navy, and three are still at home.

CITY COUNCIL MEMBER/SIXTH WARD:

Bobby G. Quillen

No stranger to government, state, county or local, Bobby Quillen will be unopposed for the Sixth Ward Council seat to be vacated by the Rev. Ray Newman. Concerned that no one seemed interested in the job, Quillen says he did not want to see the seat filled by Council appointment rather than the elective process. This prompted his decision to run.

Over and above the need for a warm responsible body to fill the post, Quillen sees a number of pressing problems to which the city should give its attention. The foremost "big concern" that he mentions is "how we will handle the trash problem," with the enormously escalated cost of trash disposal since the switch to a new state facility at Sandtown.

Quillen also thinks the city's tax structure is due for a "good examination" and thinks the water system may need some extensive repair or replacement at some time in the not-so-distant future. He points particularly to problems with a broken pipe on Center Street during Christmas week.

Quillen, who makes his home on Commerce Street, is well known as a former State Representative from the 35th Representative District and as a former Harrington City Manager.

He grew up in Harrington where he graduated from Harrington High School in 1948. Afterwards, he attended Beacom in Wilmington and served for two years in the United States Army.

In addition to his six years in the state legislature and his term as Harrington City Manager, he has served in the past as Kent County Receiver of Taxes.

Quillen is presently the Executive Director of the Delaware Standardbred Development Fund in Dover.

named by his bishop the Presiding Elder of the Dover District. He still serves in that capacity with supervisory responsibility for nineteen churches.

CITY COUNCIL MEMBER/FIFTH WARD

William Dill

Incumbent William, or "Bill", Dill is seeking a second opportunity to serve the residents of the Fifth Ward as their Councilman. His prime motive in seeking re-election, he says, is to continue to hold down spending while providing, so far as possible, the services the community desires.

Working to keep the lid on spending is one of the things Dill, who insists he is opposed to any kind of a tax increase, feels that he has accomplished during his first three years in office. His opposition to a tax increase, he maintains, stems from a concern for the many elderly people in his ward who live on fixed incomes and find it difficult, in the face of inflation, to make ends meet. Dill also thinks a tax increase would handicap young people just getting started.

As one small, but Dill says significant way to hold down spending, he points out that at the last Council meeting he proposed the city look into getting a bulk mailing permit to trim postage costs.

During his first term on Council he worked on the budget for the initial year and served as Police Commissioner and Vice Mayor, for the second and third years, respectively.

One positive contribution he feels he has made is working with Harrington Police Chief Carl McIlroy to institute footpatrols by the local police. Getting officers out of the car and onto the streets, he says, helps provide better protection and makes for a better relationship between officers and residents, especially young people.

Bill Dill grew up in Harrington where he graduated from Harrington High School in 1966. After high school he attended Goldey-Beacom Junior College in Wilmington, and served for four years in the United States Air Force.

Later Dill attended Texas Lutheran College and Del Tech.

Currently he is associated with New Dimensions, Inc., a real estate firm near Lewes. He is at home on Fleming Street in Harrington.

Ray Gagne

Local businessman Ray Gagne, who is also Vice President of the Harrington Chamber of Commerce, says, "I think there should be representation of the business community on the Harrington City Council." (The current make-up of the Council does not include a local businessman.)

Gagne, who, as a concerned citizen, is in frequent attendance at Council meetings further says, "I want to support activities for the benefit of the community," and "...I think I can do a better job of representing the residents of the Fifth Ward." Gagne promises that if he is elected, he will be readily available to any and all residents of his ward who have problems or questions or suggestions they want to address to their representative on the Council.

A resident of Harrington for the past ten years, Gagne grew up in Attleboro, Massachusetts. After four years spent in the United States Navy during the Korean conflict, he attended the University of Delaware in Newark where he graduated in 1959 with a major in accounting, subsequently, he spent twelve years in industrial accounting. He now owns and operates Stone's Hotel in Harrington, and he and his wife are owners of Uptown Liquors in Milford.

In addition to his active involvement with the Harrington Chamber of Commerce, Gagne has also been known in the community for his support of the Harrington Little League for which he independently raises a considerable sum of money each year. Other organizations to which he has given his support are the Lake Forest Band Boosters, the Harrington Public Library and the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company.

Ray and Charlotte Gagne, who have two children, make their home on Mechanic Street in Harrington. Mrs. Gagne is active as president of the Board of Trustees of the Harrington Public Library.

Edward Maher

Edward Maher, candidate for the Harrington City Council in the Fifth Ward, has been attending council meetings fairly regularly over the past two years and observes that, "people do not seem to take much interest (in the affairs of the city)". His concern in seeing citizens take a greater interest in the community, is at least partially what led him into this first venture in "politics". Seeing the recent burst of interest in the city posts at stake in this year's election made his effort so far worthwhile.

His interest in seeking a Council seat stems from a desire to "see a better image for the community". He likes Delaware, AND Harrington in particular, and would like to see the town retain the character of a small community. But he feels some growth in business as "more for the young people" is needed.

Maner, who hails originally from Providence, Rhode Island, retired in 1974 after a twenty-year career with the United States Air Force. His final rank was T/Sgt. During those twenty years he spent time in Europe, Vietnam, Thailand, Greenland and, of course, Dover, Del., to name just a few.

While still with the Air Force,

Get Together and Talk With Our Neighbors

Senior Center by Dorothy Graham 398-3780.

How many New Years Resolutions have you broken?

Clara Judy was leader of Bible Study Monday morning at the Center. She began the devotion hour with a prayer and a song or two. Her topic was Mathew 24-Luke 17-Verse 26. She ask the questions-What is Christianity? What is humility?

Mildred Vincent read a poem, "Thow Passeth Through." Clara read a poem of prophecies by Mother Shyston.

Those present were Essie Redden, Elizabeth Anthony, Anna Mae Short, Sallie Needles, Annabel Morrow, Tony Perrone, Alma Brown, Henry Mitchel, Mildred Vincent, Marion Brown, Bertha Dean, Florence Minner, Ina Hughes and me sang a song and prayer made a very interesting hour and year of Bible Study end gloriously! Mrs. Judy and Ina at the piano.

The Jolly Timers were few in number But in the Language of the music they surely sounded really fire rate! Ina Hughes was at the piano. "Andy" Anderson, Clarinett, Tony Perrone, Trumphet, Mildred Vincent Maracoo, Elsie Neal, Bells, Lili McBridge, Kazoo, Essie Redden, Washboard and Thimble, Jo Burke, Washboard and Bruch, Florence Min-ner and Kazoo.

They were practicing for their appearance at Kent Nursing Home in the Near Future. Some of the songs-"The Waltz You Saved for Me-Our Delaware and Memories".

Tuesday afternoon was a delightful game of Bingo. Called by Elizabeth Anthony.

The Pool Table was busy-laughing-ly happy. Card game played by Miles-Annabel-Webb-Reed.

Several folks went on Christmas trips. Most are back home and I am anxiously awaiting the New Year at the Center.

Heard they were having "Verga's in Arizona last Tuesday. In case you don't know what that is it is rain that never hits the ground and speaking of lots-well heard that a few choice lots at Coral Gables, Florida are selling for $87,000 to 110,00 for 1/3 acre. Wish I owned three or four.

Members meeting-January 12-Birthday Party-January 20 Lets see you there!

Thank you Volunteers! Best wishes to those of you who are ill. Take Care.

Remember-Smile-Its worth a million dollars and doesn't cost a cent. Love You! Faith.

Gabfest

by Pat Hatfield

Here we go into 1981! I'm wishing for all of you the best and happiest year of your lives. January is my birth month and if I make it until the second day at 10 a.m. I shall arrived at the ripe old age of 77. Oh, well what are seven years.

I note in the Old Farmer's Almanac that "In the beginning of the month the earth is at perihelion...it's closest approach to the sun...and it will then be nearly three million miles closer than it will be in July. The Wolf Moon, so named by the ancient Saxons because of wolves roaming the heath in the light of the moon, will shine and then at the end of the month and into February comes the Snow Moon which comes during the peak of the snowfalls. January weather is often seen as the harbinger of the year. The coldest day of the year is traditionally the 14th, St. Hilary's day. Fog during this month is said to foretell a wet spring and a snowy 12th will bring much wind." Countrymen believe in feeling lumber during the waning moon or between the new moon and the full moon.

The Farmer's Almanac Calendar for January says that: "In the north there isn't much blooming, but the birches do release their tiny seeds to blow across the snow and provide a boon for the seed-eating birds." I didn't know that! In the South it is camellia time and it is not too early to cut pussy willow, forsythia and flowering quince to force blossoms. The apples, lilacs, and especially the magnolias are not so easy and larger branches must be so easy and larger branches must be taken."

I was just talking to my friend Tess, and she was telling me about her birds. She has not been seeing the cardinal's this winter but during Christmas, they gave her a real gift. There were six males at the feeder at one time, and they were joined later by some females. This morning she welcomed a large red-headed woodpecker there. The little Downy comes every day for suet, but this is a first for the large woodpecker.

How many of you make New Year's resolutions? I'm like little Ziggy. He says: "I don't make New Year's resolutions because I don't have anything to give up!" Do you all laugh at the Ziggy cartoons? I think there's a little Ziggy in all of us. I found a large calendar for Ellen with a cartoon paiting at the top of each month with Ziggy and his famous observations. One of them shows a tiny fat Ziggy looking up at the vast sky and he says: "You expect too much!" Haven't we all sometimes felt like that? Another says: "There must be an earlier way to start the day than getting up in the morning!"

All those bone woolly bear caterpillar I saw last Autumn made a sad mistake in the weather. These weeks of severe cold are at odds with the old saying my grandfather used to say: "All signs fail in dry weather." We probably need to say, "All signs fail", and leave it at that.

LET GOD PLAN YOUR LIFE;

ate is a word that we hear about almost constantly, and nearly every unplanned incident is attributed to it. This can make life seem to be a hit-or-miss proposition, without purpose or direction. It would be much closer to the teaching of your faith to believe that it is God who will plan your destiny and guide your footsteps, if you will only let Him. Perhaps you have had the experience of a seemingly chance encounter that changed the entire course of your life, and through whom you met your best friend, your boss, your business partner or even your spouse. The acquisition of a pet can often point you in an entirely new direction. At your House of Worship you will learn not to plan your life but to let God do it for you; then wherever you are, you will know that it is where He wants you to be.

HE WILL DO IT MUCH BETTER

From more than thirty years we have been trying to write a poem of equal brevity...the title of the poem is "What is Wrong with the Cock-Eyed World?" The poem:

The mayor will run for re-election unopposed and there will be but one contest for councilman in the municipal election Tuesday, Jan. 12. Mayor Burton E. Dept. of Health & Social Services

The Division of Social Services has announced that foodstamp benefits will go up Jan. 1, to reflect the increased cost of living. The increase is directed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Adjustments in the benefit level are made in Jan. of each year.

The maximum food stamp benefit for a household of four, with little or no income, will increase from $209 a month to $233. Households with some income will not receive this maximum benefit, but will receive a slight increase in benefits.

Deductions which are allowed on income will also increase. As a result of increased deductions, some new households will be eligible for benefits.

To qualify for food stamp benefits, a household must fulfill work requirements and meet the income and resource limits.

Persons who believe they may be eligible for food stamps or who want further information should call the statewide toll-free Hotline, 1-800-292-7924.

Day Care Center: An End to Another Year

As 1980 comes to an end, it gives those of us at the Harrington Day Care Center located in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church an opportunity to reflect on the happenings of the past year.

We remember with fond memories the preparation it took to present our Annual Christmas Program and Party-the hustle and bustle of preparing costumes, rehearsing songs, learning parts and making gifts. We remember the excitement of the children and staff building up until the day of the program. The joy of Christmas was everywhere, especially when Santa Claus arrived and gave a gift to each child. We were happy to welcome to our program sixty-one parents and friends which we were thoroughly delighted and our efforts were well rewarded.

Not only do we remember the special programs but we also remember the hard work it took from day to day in preparing adequate educational, social and physical opportunities for our children. We also remember all other things we have done from time to time. "the many field trips with our children, hundreds of nutritious snacks and delicious meals served daily, daily health inspection, arts and crafts, language arts, science experiments and cooking experiences.

We remember parents as well as friends who worked with us, donated articles, fruits and vegetables, during the summer and shared with us the development of their children. Mostly though we remember the children who have meant so much to us and shared so many wonderful moments filled with love and understanding.

We thank Mr. Walter Lang for the candy canes at Christmas time, Mrs. Harriett Robinson for her assortment of candy, Mr. Ronald Hughes for his donation of ice cream for our party, Mrs. Carol Schiff and Kimberly for making fourteen jars of Strawberry preserves for our staff and all others who have donated or help in any way.

We thank our Board of Directors for their held, encouragement and support in the operation of the Center and we welcome our new members, namely, Mrs. Louise Chalmers, Mr. Carl June, Mr. Ronald Hughes, and Mr. William Parker.

It has been a good year for us, however, we hope 1981 will be ever more successful. Our Day Care Center offers its services to children regardless of social class, race, religion, or national origin. Arrange to visit the center and see first hand how the staff works with the children enrolled in the Center. The public is always welcome.

Anne's Kitchen Corner

For the first Christmas in my life, I was away from a town in which my childhood was very much like Harrington. I would like to share with you, some of the family traditions I have brought with me in exchange for the traditions I am learning from my new friends here.

The Christmas Feast was always a tremendous undertaking and it required days of cooking and baking with cooperation from the entire family. The menu I have planned here, is just a few of the items

As time goes on I hope to share many more of my family's secret recipes. Many are easy and fun, others require a lot of old fashioned hard work. In either case, I assure you, if you have the slightest bit of adventure in your kitchen, you will enjoy.

- Holiday Dinner Menu
Appetizer tray
Baked Stuffed Ham
Potato Gateau
Italian Style Broccoli
Italian tossed salad
Dessert
Cheese Cake, Coffee.
Chocolate, Cherry Liqueur

Appetizer tray consists of the following attractively arranged on a bed of shredded lettuce, green olives, black olives, carrot curls, pieces of celery stuffed with Danish Blue or Gorgonzola cheese, cheese cubes and pepperoni slices.

- Baked Stuffed Ham
1 fully cooked ham weighing about 12 lbs.
10 ozs. (approx.) fresh spinach
1 onion medium size
1/2 Cup fresh chopped flat parsley
1 cup dry red wine
3/4 cup honey
4 teaspoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons cedar vinegar

- 1. Trim thick skin, if any, from Ham. Make X-shape cuts, 3 inches deep and 1 inch apart all over fat side with a sharp knife.

- 2. Trim stems from spinach and cut out any course ribs. Chop onions and parsley fine, (all should be washed well and paper towel dried) Mix well in a bowl.

- 3. Press mixture into cuts, packing in well with your finger to fill openings. Place ham, fat side up, in a large shallow baking pan. Brush with part of the wine.

- 4. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) brushing several times with more wine 2 1/2 hours.

- 5. Stir honey into remaining wine, brush part of mixture over ham. Continue baking and brushing with remaining honey mixture 30 minutes, or until top is richly glazed. Remove ham from pan and let stand about 30 minutes, for easier carving.

- 6. Pour fat and juices from baking pan into a 4-cup measure; let stand a few minutes until fat rises to top skim off fat. Add water to juices, if needed, to make 3 cups. Return to pan, heat to boiling.

- 7. Blend about 3 tablespoons cold water into cornstarch until smooth in a cup. Stir into boiling liquid. Continue cooking and stirring, scraping baked on juices from bottom and sides of pan until sauce thickens and boils three minutes stir in vinegar.

- 8. Turn ham meaty side up. Cut a thin slice from bottom so it will stand flat. Place fat side up on platter. Cut a wedge shaped piece from shank end and lift out; then carve and arrange on platter. Serve sauce in a separate bowl.

- Potato Gateau
4 to 5 lbs. white potatoes
1 lb. mozzarella cheese
1/2 cup grated Romano cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon black pepper (freshly ground is best)
2 tablespoons chopped flat parsley
4 eggs (whole) bread crumbs
butter about 2 tablespoons

- 1. Boil potatoes in s. ns. Allow to cool 5 minutes in colander. Pierce with a fork and peel. Put potatoes thru ricer and place in a large bowl.

- 2. Dice Mozzarella
3. Add all other ingredients to potatoes and mix thoroughly with your hands. The mixture will take on a light golden color from the eggs.

- 4. Select a baking dish or pan that will hold mixture and allow you to have your Gateau about 2 inches deep. If you only have small pans you may divide the mixture into two pans. Bread pans do very well. Butter your pan very well. Sprinkle two or three tablespoons breadcrumbs into pan. Shake pan so crumbs cling to the butter and coat bottom and sides of pan. Add more crumbs as needed and shake out excess.

- 5. Drop potato mixture into pan by spoonful being careful not to disturb breadcrumbs. Spread gently if necessary to even out.

- 6. Sprinkle with light dusting of bread crumbs and dot generously with butter.

- 7. Bake in 400 degrees oven till lightly browned on top; about 45 minutes to 1 hour. Allow to set 15 minutes before serving.

- Italian Style Broccoli
1 bunch of Broccoli
1 Clove garlic-minced
1/4 cup olive oil
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon black pepper (freshly ground is best)
1/2 teaspoon dried red pepper (optional)

- 2/3 cup grated Romano cheese
1. Select a heavy skillet with cover. a large dutch oven works fine. Heat oil and garlic till garlic is golden brown. Be careful not to burn garlic!

- 2. Wash broccoli and cut into spears with a sharp knife, cut a cross about 1 inch deep through bottom of stems. this will help stems to cook at the same time as tops. Place broccoli in pan with oil and garlic immediately after washing so a little water clings to broccoli. Add all other ingredients except grated cheese. Cook over medium heat tightly covered till almost done. Do not over cook! Check occasionally to be sure you have enough cooking liquid. Actually the broccoli is steaming in its own water. You may have to add a little water, so keep your eye on it. When Broccoli is 5 minutes from being cooked, sprinkle grated cheese, cover tightly, and continue to cook till cheese is melted. 3 minutes should do it. Remove to platter and serve.

My Name is ANNA R. HAMPTON, and I am running for Mayor of the City of Harrington.

I am a native of Harrington, Delaware. I have one son, Jack Hampton, a retired State Trooper.

The reason I would like to be Mayor, is that I have attended all council meetings for the past eight years, due to my position as alderman for the City of Harrington, and I am aware of the financial and personal problems confronting the City of Harrington. I feel qualified due to my educational background, and long time association with the City government of Harrington. I would be a challenge and a privilege to hold such a high office as Mayor even though there is no monetary value for Mayor.

These are my educational qualities for Mayor:

- 1. Graduate of Harrington High School
2. Graduate of Georgia-Carolina School of Commerce, Brunswick, Georgia.
3. Attended the University of Delaware
4. Taught three years in the State of Delaware. One year in Pulaski, Va.

YMCA

Today we are all looking for inexpensive forms of recreation and a way to enjoy a few hours of leisure pursuits without it costing an arm and a leg. Yet, no matter where you turn the expense is there and in an ever increasing amount.

The YMCA of Dover/Kent County has a beautiful swimming pool that is available to groups to rent on a Saturday evening. The water is kept at a comfortable 80 degrees and the air temperature slightly warmer. There are comfortable locker rooms and showers and best of all a warm friendly atmosphere. Qualified lifeguards are provided for your safety and your protection, and you needn't be a swimmer for the pool stretches a long twenty five yards from a three foot depth to a nine foot depth.

So, why not gather a bunch of your friends for an evening of fun and vascular fitness, as well as to tone muscles.

Two instructors from the YMCA of Dover/Kent County, Mrs. Gerrie Ward and Mrs. Helen Utley recently attended a training seminar for H.E.A.R.T. The instructors are now preparing to include this program as a regular part of the Aquatic and Health Fitness program of the YMCA.

Because this is a pilot program and there are still some kinds to be worked out locally, the YMCA is looking for twelve men and women who would enjoy being a part of this first seven weeks session at LESS Than 1/2 price. For YMCA members the cost of the 21 session program will be 10.00 and for the non-members $20.00, this is a special introductory offer for the first Water Aerobics Program only. After this introductory pilot, the program will be priced at $24.00 for members and 44.00 per non-members and will be scheduled three afternoons a week from 2:15-3:15 p.m.

Should the program become as popular here as it has up at the Upper Main Line YMCA the Aquatic Staff is ready to schedule this program at other hours to meet the needs of men and women who wish to become involved.

Registration for this first Pilot Project must be in person and the first 12 to sign will receive the special discount price. For additional information call Gerrie Ward at 674-3000.

The friendly staff of the YMCA will help you plan your next pool party and help you make it a success with games and events to liven up the party. Or perhaps you have a real special birthday party you would like to celebrate, why not celebrate at the YMCA pool. Besides the Sat. evening rental time, the YMCA provides for Organizations and Association a free introduction to our pool facilities on Wed. evening from 7:45 to 8:30 p.m. For details on how to get your organization a free swim period at the Y call Gerrie Ward at 674-3000 or talk with our Courtesy desk staff.

Now is the time to book your pool party and enjoy fun in the artificial sun and feel like your in Florida. Call 674-3000 today.

On Jan. 12, 1981, a Monday afternoon at 2:15 p.m. the YMCA Aquatic Staff will launch a brand new pilot program in the Y pool entitled H.E.A.R.T.

H.E.A.R.T. stands for Hydro-Exercise, Aerobic Routines, and Toning. It is a new cardiovascular fitness program, developed at the Upper Main Line YMCA, it is a package of exercise routines to be done in the water, designed to promote cardio-relaxation at the YMCA on a Saturday evening. You can book the use of the pool for thirty or more people for a little over $1.00 per person and enjoy an evening of fun and relaxation.

Waltrip at Riverside

Riverside, Ca.--When Darrell Waltrip takes to the twisting nine-turn road course at Riverside International Raceway, he should be the odds-on favorite to win the first Busch Pole Award of the 1981 Nascar Winston Cup season.

Why, you may ask? Simple! Waltrip was the fastest qualifier for the 1980 Winston Western 500 last January and went on to win both Winston Cup races at the Riverside road course last season.

In addition, the handsome Kentuckian will be piloting a car prepared by the legendary Junior Johnson--the same Junior Johnson who master-minded Cale Yarborough's driving efforts for the past eight seasons which resulted in three Grand National driving championships and in Yarborough's setting a modern-day Nascar record of 14 pole positions in a single season. Yarborough also holds the Riverside qualifying record of 113,792 mph which he set last June in the Busch sponsored Chevrolet of Junior Johnson.

Waltrip's record at Riverside is nothing to sneeze at, either. In 11 races, he has won three times and definitely knows his way around the track.

This year, the young superstar has signed up with Johnson in an all-out effort to win the Busch Pole Award, which is worth $25,000 to the driving winning the most pole positions during the year and he would like nothing more than to better Yarborough's mark set in 1980.

"It sure would be nice to start off the new season with a new team by taking the Busch Pole Award at Riverside," Waltrip said.

"Then, is we can repeat the Victory I had there last Jan. I'd really feel we were set for the Busch Clash and the Daytono 500 next month."

With Johnson's mechanical expertise and Waltrip's acknowledged driving ability, there aren't too many people who would be against it.

Unless, of course, you happen to be one of the dozen and more Nascar superstars who will be pulling out all the stops to take that first $1,000 Busch Pole Award of the 1981 season.

The odds may be on Waltrip's side, but some Friday, January 9th there will be alot of drivers with the Busch dollars set firmly in their sights.

Dover Downs set H-A Winston Invitational Pace

Dover, Del.--Dover Downs Raceway will add a new event to its 1981 harness racing schedule on Sun. Jan. 4. The H.A. Winston Invitation Pace, sponsored by the H.A. Winston and Co. Restaurant of Dover, will feature the area's best pacers competing for a $3,500 purse.

Commenting on the event, Dover Downs President and General Manager Denis McGlynn said, "We are happy to be involved with the H.A. Winston and Co. Restaurant for this mutually beneficial promotion. This clearly demonstrates the cooperation between our two businesses to achieve a common goal and provide some of the best racing action for our fans."

In addition to the H.A. Winston Invitational Pace on Sunday, The Dover Downs Pacing Series will continue for its second round of preliminaries on both Sat. and Sun. Last weekend's first four division of the series produced some strong winners now eligible for the final event.

Harold's Jet, incredible, Teddy Bear A. and Trichas Star all took home the winner's share of the $3,000 preliminary purses and are now eligible for the 6,000 added purse final scheduled for Sat. Jan. 10 during the season's second double-header of harness racing at Dover Downs.

Dover Downs is currently the only racetrack operating in the area until the opening of other tracks in mid-Jan. and Feb. Racing continues through March 29.

Understanding A.C.T.

We drew your attention last week to the Federal Reserve System which was created by Congress in Dec. of 1913.

After the vote that created the Federal Reserve, Con. Charles Lindbergh, Sr., told Congress: "This act establishes that most gigantic trust on earth...When the President signs this act the invisible government by the money power, proven to exist by the Money Trust investigation, will be legalized...The new law will create inflation whenever the trusts were inflation."

We must ask the question, How powerful is our 'Central Bank'? It is so powerful that Congressman Wright Patman, who was chairman of the House Banking Committee for many years until he was deposed in 1975, maintains: "In the U.S. today we have in effect two governments...We have the duly constituted Government...Then we have an independent uncontrolled and uncoordinated gov. in the Federal Reserve System, operating the Money powers which are reserved to Congress by the Constitution."

Neither Presidents, Congressmen nor Secretaries of the Treasury direct the Federal Reserve. William McAdoo, Woodrow Wilson's Son-in-law and Secretary of the Treasury when the Federal Reserve Act was passed, wrote in His memoirs that "the Federal Reserve was designed to have power over the Treasury." He writes that though "The Federal Reserve Board still has offices in the Treasury Building it is not at all subservient to the Treasurer Department--and Never was."

The Federal Reserve System is comprised of the Twelve Federal Reserve Banks located in: BOSTON, NEW YORK, PHILA., CLEVELAND, RICHMOND, ATLANTA, CHICAGO, ST. LOUIS, MINNEAPOLIS, KANSAS CITY, DALLAS, AND SAN FRANCISCO. These banks create all the money that is used in the U.S. today. You will find their own identifying seal on the left side of each bill in your possession.

On the Third Tuesday of every month, twelve men gather in Washington to vote on decisions that affect the lives on every man, woman, and child in the U.S. The Committee is made up of five presidents of different Reserve Banks and seven governors of the Reserve Board.

The Federal Reserve Foe, Con. Wright Patman, calls it "one of our most secret societies. These 12 men decide what happens in the Congress, not the People. The minutes of the Federal Reserve meetings, which even the President and the Secretary of the Treasury may not attend are so secret that they are not released for the incredible time span of six years."

Con. Charles Lindbergh warned that after establishment of the Federal Reserve "Depressions will be scientifically created."

The graduated income tax and the Federal Reserve Systems were created to complement one another. The Federal Reserve Act allowed the insiders to put the government deeply in debt to themselves, while the income Tax Amendment guaranteed an upending supply of money to pay for it. We are now paying over 60 billion dollars per year in taxes just to meet the interest on that debt. Despite the fact the Government takes about 43 percent of all we make it spends much more than it dares to tax. The difference is made up by borrowing.

The Federal Reserve is both directly and indirectly responsible for the inflation which plagues America. When the cost of living jumps the mass media wring their hands and speak about 'inflation'. There is much talk about greedy businessmen and selfish unions. Virtually nobody in the mass media ever names the real culprits, The Federal Reserve and Congress while could stop inflation cold tomorrow morning. The fact is that what we are all suffering from is inflation of the Money supply. For a standards definition of inflation we have but to turn to Webster's New World Dictionary, where we find it defined as "an increase in the amount of currency in circulation, resulting in a relatively sharp and sudden fall in its value and rise in prices; it may be caused by an increase in the volume of paper money issued or gold mined."

If inflation is allowed to run unchecked you eventually reach runaway inflation as in Germany in 1923 where everyone had bushel baskets of currency with no buying power. We will all be multimillionaires, but we will not be able to afford a Big Mac.

To get out of this predicament with the least damage and dislocation we must do four things.

1. We must abolish the myriad government bureaus which harass businessmen and suppress production.
2. Government deficit spending must be stopped immediately and the Federal Budget must be balanced.
3. We must restore gold and silver backing behind our money system so that Politicians and bankers may not manipulate its value for their own ends.

4. The Federal Reserve Systems, keystone of Establishment Socialism and Phony money in this country, must be abolished. For more information write to: Americans for Constitutional taxation, Dept HJ, Box 88, Frederica, De. 19946.

THOUGHTS FROM DOVER

By Gov. Pierre S. DuPont

Alcohol and drug abuse are serious, tragic problems which destroy individuals and families, and hurt the entire community. I am particularly concerned because alcoholism is on the increase among young people and greater quantities of drugs are again making their way into the country.

The Bureau of Alcoholism, and Drug Abuse, in the State's Department of Health and Social Service, is working very hard to counter these trends with new services aimed at prevention, early intervention and treatment. I am pleased that many of the services which BADA provides or contracts for are targeted for Kent and Sussex Counties.

The Bureau recently contracted with the Eastern Institute to operate a family-oriented out-patient program in Kent County. The program involves the whole family in treatment and education, with an emphasis on the younger family members. It is located in the James Williams State Service Center, and I urge any Kent County families with alcohol abuse problems call 736-4417 for more information.

Also in Kent County, a new primary prevention effort on alcohol abuse directed at youth 10-18 and parents will soon get under way. The campaign will be operated by People's Place II under a contract from BADA. It will include development of community adult groups to increase public awareness of the extent of alcohol abuse and its cost in lives, health and family contact and to learn about steps that can be taken to counteract such abuse. Watch this newspaper for more information.

Two very interesting projects aimed at prevention of drug abuse among young people by development of alternatives are under way in Kent and Sussex counties. Called Channel One, the Federally funded programs are a joint effort of government and the private sector.

In Kent County, the Kent County Counseling Services, Prudential Life Insurance Co. and a task force of young people, and adults from Little Creek have developed a three-pronged project. The ideas, efforts and decisions of the young people have guided the project, which includes planting of trees along Main St. building of a mini-bike track, and renovation of existing boating dock space. For more information call Jeanne Celeberti, 736-4548.

In Sussex County, People's Place II, Prudential Life, and a task force of students and adults from Lewes developed the Heritage Youth Project. The project includes a summer day camp for children 5-10, with teenagers hired and trained as counselors. Secondly, the project will develop a Lewes Physical Fitness course, based on the best of several Models in New York and Washington which have been observed by Lewes students. This will be a combination of a jogging and walking trail, with exercise stations or stops. Finally a Lewes Bike Safety-Bike Marathon in planned for local participants, with the Lewes Police volunteering to conduct the Safety Program. More information on this project may be obtained from People's Place II; 422-8011.

This is only a partial list of some of the new and exciting programs instituted by BADA in Kent and Sussex Counties. The Bureau's local office telephone numbers are: Georgetown, 856-5486; Dover, 736-4326. The staff will be happy to respond to your needs and your questions.

Biden Report

By Sen. Joseph Biden Jr.

Street crime is on the increase both nationally and right here in Delaware. But don't blame the policeman on the street for it--that's the easy answer and the wrong one.

Although our police agencies are the most visible portion of our criminal justice system and therefore are the most likely to get blamed when the system breaks down, the upsurge in crime is not their fault and will not be curbed by providing more police and more equipment. FBI statistics report that crime was up 9 per cent in 1979 over 1978 and predict it is up another 10 percent in 1980 over 1979. In Delaware the crime rate is higher than the national average and it's not going to get a whole lot better any time soon.

The Senate's Criminal Justice Subcommittee, which I am attempting to get to the root causes of crime and cut it off. There are three major reasons, I believe, for crime increase on the streets of America. The first is the general breakdown in the ability of the criminal justice system to deal effectively with street crimes. Another is the state of the economy and the pressures it imposes on people and the third is a flood of heroin pouring into our nation and fueling the new crime wave. No one person, or police force, or government body can totally control all of these forces. But together we can exert significant influence over them.

In regard to the economy, I'll assert that although I have my own ideas about what needs to be done and will do my best to put those ideas in action, there are 99 others in the Senate and 435 members of the House of Representatives, all of whom undoubtedly have their own ideas. We must develop a consensus, a battle plan and implement it. We'll never talk to the problem to death and frustration will not create jobs and security.

But my Criminal Justice Subcommittee position does give me a chance to be heard on the other two reasons. For the criminal justice system to deal effectively with street crime, it must perform two missions--punishment for crime must be swift and it must be certain. Unless offenders are given speedy trials and those convicted dealt immediate and fair punishment, there is no real purpose in financing a criminal justice system.

My subcommittee is also working to again shut down heroin production but there is a new twist. Unstable, unpoliceable, tribal areas of Afghanistan, Pakistan and Iran are harvesting a bumper crop of opium. Since our nation has little impact on that region we must seek the cooperation of our NATO allies to help stop production of heroin at its source. We must, I believe, work to find alternative crops to be substituted for opium which is the only cash crop for those farmers. And we must work closely with European governments to shut down the organized crime heroin laboratories.

On the home front we must, I believe, improve cooperation between local, state and federal law enforcement agencies. Beyond that we should take away crime profits by forcing forfeiture of assets accumulated through crime.

None of these offers immediate final victory over crime but they are practical approaches that can make a difference. Now is the time to act, to develop a responsible program that responds both to the growing problem of crime itself and to the public's fear of crime.

Jack Anderson Washington Merry-Go-Round

Carter bitter over Has-been treatment

By JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON -- Jimmy Carter will be president until January 20, but he's already being treated like a has-been. Overnight, he has become the forgotten man of Washington.

Intimates say he resents the brush-off Washington is giving him. They describe him as a deeply private person, a sensitive, almost shy man who will try to hide his feelings from the world. But his friends say he's now bitter and brooding.

This lonely, intense president fought hard to reach the top. He drove himself into one bruising battle after another, suffering inwardly from the political shellfire. His final rebuff on November 4 was a crushing blow.

Those who know Carter say he never felt accepted by the Washington power structure. He sensed a hostility toward him that, in fact, he helped to foster by playing the role of the outsider.

Jimmy Carter now is being consigned prematurely to the history books.

Although the Iranians did their share to push Carter out of office, it appears as if they have badly miscalculated the American reaction to their hostage demands. President Carter had focused such an intense spotlight on the hostages that the Iranians apparently believed he would have to meet their $24 billion ransom demand.

The Iranians must also have thought that the American people would pay any price to get the hostages back. Otherwise, the Iranians wouldn't have published their ransom demand. The publication makes it difficult for them to back down without losing face.

So the American people had better face the possibility that we may be unable to negotiate the hostages' release. This means the problem probably will be dumped in Ronald Reagan's lap.

HEROISM UNREWARDED -- A year ago the U.S. Embassy in Islamabad was attacked by a howling Pakistani mob. Two American Marines died in the violence.

But not all the Pakistanis joined the mob. The news accounts never mentioned an act of heroism in the midst of the savagery. Two brave Pakistanis risked their lives to protect several American women and children. One was called Khan, the other Patel.

The women and children were trapped inside the American Diplomatic Club when the mob burst into the embassy compound. Khan set up a barricade and tried to hold off his screaming countrymen. Meanwhile, Patel tried to guide a dozen women out of danger.

But the mob caught up with them. The women could only lie helplessly on the ground while the attackers roughed them up, spat upon them and beat them. The ordeal lasted two hours.

All the while, Patel tried to shame the mob into stopping the brutality. He finally persuaded them to relent and his intervention probably saved the women.

Afterward, he had the courage to sign a statement blaming the Pakistani police for the ugly incident. Of course, this hasn't made him popular with the police, who can be ruthless. So both Patel and Khan told the grateful Americans that they would like to come to the United States to start a new life.

Congressman Lester Wolff, D-N.Y., heard about their heroism and introduced a bill to admit the two heroes to this country. But Congress adjourned without acting on the bill.

FOX IN THE CHICKEN COOP -- Ronald Reagan has tapped Wall Street broker Donald Regan to serve as his Treasury Secretary. Regan heads the New York brokerage firm of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith.

Regan will have a major voice in setting the country's tax policy. Yet for the past nine years, he's been devoting his efforts to counseling wealthy clients on how they can avoid paying taxes. Regan's firm has also championed the so-called "commodity tax straddle," where clients are encouraged to speculate in the commodity futures market to avoid paying taxes on ready assets.

A House committee investigated the practice and found that futures speculators helped contribute to higher prices and inflation--especially in the silver, gold, coffee and sugar markets. Three years ago, the Internal Revenue Service outlawed the commodity tax straddle. In fact, IRS agents are now auditing thousands of clients that Regan and his firm advised to use this tax avoidance scheme.

But the audits and investigations may not get far, for if Regan is confirmed as treasury secretary, he'll be in charge of Internal Revenue.

INAUGURAL NOTES -- According to Ed Meese, President-elect Ronald Reagan's top adviser, Reagan means business when he says he'll be presiding over a Cabinet government. Meese confided to us that Regan, within 48 hours of his swearing-in as the nation's 40th president, will preside over two meetings of his new Cabinet. Meese says the get-togethers will be "semi-ceremonial."

Fans of Reagan who live abroad won't have to feel left out when the inauguration rolls around. There will be a special inaugural ball held in Paris for Americans living abroad. The festivities will also be broadcast by satellite to more than 60 cities across the United States that have contracted to make the Paris ball part of their own celebration.

MYAF PROGRESSIVE DINNER 1981: Fifty members of the M.Y.A.F. braved the cold January 4th boarded the bus at Trinity Church at 4:50

P.M. to meet with the John K. and Jeanne Rogers at their home in Milford for the appetizers. Hostess serving with them were Lulu Wilkins, Ella Govan, Clara Conley, Seretha Beebe, Jake and May Warren and Joe and Mary Rawlins.

Good hot spice punch was served with delicious crab dip, other assorted crackers, cheese and dips spears of pickle olives and cheese and celery stuffed and an oriental chip(s).

At 6 P.M. we heard the familiar cry from none other than our Frances Davidson... "It's time to move out". Some of the folks were enjoying the football game in the kitchen while Jeanne loaded the dish washer others tidying up a bit and the living room loaded with chit chat.

Frances hustled Bill out to warm up the bus we were ready to head for Tatman's Corner in Frederica, Virginia, Zora along with Angelica Moore, Mil Coverdale, Martin and Marie Porter, Al and Grace Moore, Anna Holiday, Bob and Dottie Mullane, Telford and Joan Rager, and Ruth Ketcham, had the finest salad bar you ever saw. A huge bowl of salad greens a lazy susan filled with delicious dressing and fixins, tomatoes, olives, pimento, onions, assorted proteins, crackers, cheeses, cucumbers, baco's, radishes, chick peas, coffee, tea, bread sticks...gee I can't think of the others delicious treats on the table.

The football game was still in progress so after eating, the hostesses were busy and Jane lost to the Eagles. We took our good time because we knew the Heavenly Host at the Church was going to serve a fine meal.

With Frances's guiding hand the bus made it out of the Tatman's back lane. Ben MatLACK CARVED THE BEAUTIFUL Steamship Round of Beef. Rae, Bill and Emma Warner, Ben and Ruth Betts, Geo. and Frances Davidson, Gil and Eva Burrell and Bradford and Dot Holiday were busy getting the roasted potatoes and gravy, broccili and cauliflower au gratin, stringbean casserole, waldorf salad, hot rolls, coffee, tea on the buffet table.

The talbes were beautifully decorated with hurricane lamps and ivy, and bowls of delicious spiced pears and raisins.

A circle prayer of memorial was said for the organizers of the MYAF which was organized February 1946 by Mrs. Irene Spurry.

A leisurely meal was enjoyed. The host and members readied up before joining the Robbins Nest at Herb and Dot Robbins with the Rev. and Nancy Benjamins, Mary Purnell, Elsie Stubbs, Johnstons, Jane Jones and Beverly and Dennis Beebe.

A reproduction of the Paris Beauties presenting "The Twelve Days of Christmas" by the "Trinity Four" greeted the group for 1981. "What a review - Joan, Jane, Bev and Nancy".

Fun and games with prizes, followed by delicious desserts. Pies, cherry, apple, peach, pecan and oatmeal a la Mode, coffee, tea and sodas to nuts.

We bid farewell to the Robbins and other members and friends. We are ready to start another year with Prayer and Best Wishes. God Bless the MYAF and all A'Round and A'Bout

Felton City Council Studies Trash Problems

sight...and we none know what to do about it", said Mayor Bill Myers. He added that all towns and communities are faced with this problem. "The State got us into this...they subcontracted everything out. I understand they are now putting the trash in a big poly bag. Now...this is supposed to be water proof...but you can't prove that by me. How can they keep glass from piercing that bag...or just general aging", said Felton's ageless Mayor. Myers has been Mayor of a town in Delaware longer than anyone else in the State. Each year he saves the Town of Felton lots of money. He also serves on many committees at the State and County level "...a tireless horse" someone said recently.

The Mayor let it be known that the sewer bids due to be submitted earlier this month have been postponed to the 22nd of January. The bids will be opened after that by the Levy Court. According to Mayor Myers it will take approximately 18 months to complete the job. It is still estimated that the sewer and water costs would run about $151 to $156 a year. "We hope that even after the bids are in for the sewer project...the annual fees will remain the same", said Mayor Myers.

The Town Commissioners also set the 2nd day of March as the day for the general elections for the Town. In other matters, Chief of Police Mike Oliver gave the following police report for December: 34 traffic violations, 92 traffic warnings, 10 criminal actions, 7 criminal warrants, and 4 ACCIDENTS. Oliver said the accidents were related to property damage and alcohol related incidents causing property damages.

In the third quarter, Seaford outscored Chipman, 11-6. Carolyn Browne racked two of the six, and Severa Harris made four more. With one quarter left in the game, Chipman found themselves with a one point deficit. In the last quarter, Carolyn Browne was good for six points, including the two that won the game. The final score of this squeaker was 21 - 20.

Farmers may apply for Agricultural Conservation Program practices at the Kent County office of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The signup record will be continuous through Sept. 30.

The Program encourages farmers to correct soil and water conservation problems, and, where needed, assists them with cost-share payments. Program participants will receive federal financial assistance up to 75 percent of the cost, to help them meet the most critical conservation needs.

Program funds are available for practices that are conservation-oriented, not production-oriented, and will provide enduring solutions to the problems of farmland being a source of agricultural pollution or land affected by wind or water erosion," Metz said.

You're Safer At Work Than In Your Home

Be extremely careful when you walk downstairs, work on the roof, or climb a ladder in your home. If you don't, you may be one of the more than 7,000 people in the U.S. who are killed each year in such accidents.

Falling is the most prevalent cause of death from home accidents which over all account for 23,000 fatalities each year. Home accidents rank second only to motor vehicle accidents in causes of accidental death.

It may come as some surprise to you that almost twice as many accidental deaths occur in the home as at the workplace. Tremendous strides have been made in reducing accidents at work. Since 1912, accidental deaths at work per 100,000 persons have dropped by more than 70 percent.

There is little doubt that the Occupational Safety & Health Act (OSHA) and other federal safety regulations have played a prominent role in making the industrial workplace safer. Probably less well known, but of great importance, is the work of the Industrial Safety Equipment Association (ISEA), a non-profit organization which represents 80 leading manufacturers of safety equipment.

Industrial safety equipment manufacturers are not in an ordinary business. The dependability of their products can mean life or death. A fireman who enters a smoke-filled building must be absolutely positive that his air mask will provide him with the safety he needs. A carbon monoxide detector must sound an alarm in a toxic environment.

Safety equipment manufacturers do more than simply develop and supply the equipment necessary to solve the safety problems of their customers.

"The members of our Association initiate and carry out research to find new methods and new devices to preserve employee health and safety," explained Frank E. Wilcher, executive director of the ISEA.

Mr. Wilcher said the ISEA has committees representing 12 product groups, covering every aspect of personal protective equipment, from the Emergency Eyewash and Shower Group to the Respiratory Protection Group.

Each product group helps to develop equipment standards, promotes proper equipment use and maintenance, supplies technical product information, and assures product quality among other activities.

"The concern for quality overshadows all considerations for the safety equipment manufacturer. Quality must be consistent and unquestioned," Mr. Wilcher said.

The ISEA has established Quality Assurance Guidelines that define the elements in the manufacturing process which will ensure that protective equipment meets established standards.

The initiative of the safety equipment manufacturers has resulted in great advances in industrial safety devices over the years—today's sophisticated mine gas detection is a far cry from the use of canaries at the beginning of the century—and there is little doubt that manufacturers will continue to make strides in the future.

Both government and private-sector observers agree that few industries can match the quality record of safety equipment manufacturers. There is no room for guesswork, and the ISEA has provided the leadership role in policing its own industry.

Berry Funeral Homes

Dear friends,
The English village of Upper Sheringham has three times more older residents than the average for Great Britain. One specialist believes their longevity lies in the soil-rich in iron, calcium, selenium, and chromium, which are digested by residents who grow their own vegetables. 15 percent of residents are over 75-physically and mentally active and most plant gardens.
