

Once More - Harringtonians Head to the Polls

Harrington voters, who have turned out for two referendums, a national and a city election over the past twelve months, will go to the polls once more on Tuesday to say whether or not the city has their permission to borrow up to $189,000 to pay for its share of upgrading the sewage treatment plant.

If their verdict is "yes", the City Council will breathe a collective sigh of relief and get on with the construction already under way. A "no" vote, according to city officials, would probably mean future referendums on the same subject. The city, they say, has no legal recourse but to comply with state and federal standards for the quality of the effluent that is discharged from the Harrington sewage treatment facility. And, they point out, the city is already committed by contract to the current construction project.

The referendum is set for this Tuesday, February 9, from 12 noon until 7 p.m. in the Harrington Fire Hall. Harrington residents aged 18 and older are eligible to vote. Persons who own property within the city limits (even though they may not be residents) may also vote.

During the public meetings and discussions concerning the referendum, a number of points have been emphasized.

The current sewage treatment plant, built in the late 1960s and still is more than adequate in capacity. The question is not the amount of sewage it can handle, but the quality of effluent it turns out. Since 1960 both the state and the federal government have enacted stricter standards. The effluent presently being discharged by the Harrington facility is not clean enough to meet those standards. The city must upgrade its facility or be in violation, facing probable stiff fines.

When the Council, several years ago, was faced with the necessity to upgrade the facilities, there seemed only two alternatives: (1) hook into the Kent County system and pump sewage all the way to Frederica or (2) upgrade the existing plant. Cost estimates at that time for electing to hook into the county system were around three times the projected figure for bringing the local treatment process up to standard. In addition, taking that route would have meant abandoning a plant for which the city was and is still paying. The Council selected the second option.

Eighty-five percent of the cost of the project is covered through grants from the federal government and the state. Harrington's share is fifteen percent. That is projected to come to no more than $150,000. However, the city is asking for permission to borrow up to $189,000 but the loan will only be for the actual cost of the construction and the attendant engineering and inspection fees. Harrington already has about $22,000 salted away for the project.

If the referendum passes, the city should be in line for a loan from the Farmers Home Administration which could be paid back at a low rate of interest for 40 years. If this referendum fails, the money will probably not be readily available from FmHA. The city would then have to return the question to the voters on another referendum. That would probably mean getting a much more costly loan elsewhere.

The contract for the construction was awarded last summer, and the project is in progress.

City officials admit that voter approval should have been sought first. But they say their attorney and consulting engineers did not let them know until after the fact that the referendum was necessary. Thus, the City Council went into the process of seeking bids and awarding a contract assuming that all legalities had been arranged.

If the city were to break its contract with CZ Construction it would most certainly face a lawsuit.

Open Letter to the Citizens of Harrington

MAYOR ALFRED G. B. MANN

On Monday, Feb. 9, 1981, you will have an opportunity to vote on a referendum which will authorize the City of Harrington to issue bonds in the amount of $189,000. This amount will cover the City's 15 per cent share of the cost for the upgrading of the present Waste Water Treatment Plant, so that the discharge of the plant will meet the effluent standards as set by The State of Delaware and The Environmental Protection Agency.

The construction of this project is now underway under the standard grant procedures wherein the Federal Government pays 75 per cent, The State of Delaware pays 10 per cent, and the Municipality pays 15 per cent of the total costs.

I personally do not feel that the upgrading of the Waste Water Treatment Plant was the best solution to the problem. Also, I feel that the referendum should have come at a much earlier date. However, I am sure that the Mayor and Council, at that time, acted in the best interest of the City based upon their knowledge and advice available to them.

At the present time, the City is committed to paying its 15 per cent share of the total cost of this project and therefore must come up with the required monies.

Due to this fact, I am urging each and every citizen of Harrington to vote in favor of the referendum at this time. Following, are some "Common Sense" reasons why you should vote in favor of the referendum:

As of this date, we have preliminary approval, pending the successful passing of the referendum, for an adequate loan over a period of 40 years at 5 per cent interest through the Farmers Home Administration. As you all know, this is a very low interest rate in this day and time. These two factors, the length of the loan and the low interest rate, combine to make the yearly payments of principal and interest the absolute lowest available. However, should this referendum be defeated, the preliminary approval from the F.H.A. would become void. Therefore, it would be necessary to go through the long process of re-application with the great possibility that the F.H.A. would not have monies available at that time for another loan. This would mean that we would have to go to the open Bond Market which would increase our cost considerably.

Since becoming Mayor of Harrington, I have talked with the Consulting Engineers in regards to contracts and cost of the Waste Water Treatment Plant upgrading project. It is their opinion that the City's share of this project can be kept down to $150,000. The reason that the Bond Issue is for the amount of $189,000, is that the F.H.A. requires a 10 per cent contingency fund; however, the actual loan will be only large enough to cover the City's 15 per cent share of the costs of the completed project.

I pledge to you that I will make every effort possible to keep the City's cost of the completed project within the $150,000 figure. I further pledge to do all within my scope to keep any cost to the citizens, through increases in the Water and Sewer Rates to an absolute minimum.

In closing, I call on you, the Citizens of Harrington, to support what I believe, at this given time, is the best for the City of Harrington today, and the Harrington of the future. I urge you to give your support to the Council and the Mayor by going to the polls on Monday, Feb. 9, 1981, and voting for the approval of the Bond Issue necessary to obtain the required monies, that have been committed, to pay the City's 15 per cent share of the costs of the completed Waste Water Treatment Plant upgrading project.

Chamber Says Vote "Yes"

The Greater Harrington Chamber of Commerce, at its January meeting last Thursday, went on record as favoring a positive vote on the referendum which will ask Harringtonians to approve a loan of up to $189,000 from the Farmers Home Administration for the purpose of paying the city's share of the cost of upgrading the sewage treatment facility to meet federal and state standards. The Chamber's unanimous approval came after the assembled group heard from City Council Member Ray Gagne and former Harrington Mayor Arthur Cahall of the necessity of passing the referendum.

After a discussion period in which questions were fired at both Cahall and Gagne and during which some information was also provided by City Administrator Joseph Cotta, member Richard Johnson recommended that the Chamber take a stand on the issue. The favorable motion by Bob Taylor was seconded by Howard Wagner received no opposition.

Chamber Hears of High School Coop Program

A special guest at the Chambers dinner meeting was Linda Nowland. Business education teacher and coordinator of the Business Co-op program at Lake Forest High School, who addressed the Chamber, describing the co-op program and its benefits for students and employers.

Redden Wins Hawaiian Trip

Jack Redden, assistant manager at Harrington Food Rite, has won a 7 day trip, all expenses paid to Hawaii beginning March 13th. "We are flying...all the way. It's Friday the 13th...but we aren't superstitious. At least I'm not" said Redden. Jack will be joined by his wife Lorraine. The trip was sponsored by Louis Lehrman, the supplier of inventory to Food Rite stores and each participating Food Rite store. The award was based on increased sales over a certain period.

Paskey Appoints Carole Glasspool

KENT COUNTY, DELAWARE -- William Paskey, President of Kent County Levy Court has appointed Carole Glasspool, Service Coordinator for Independent Living, Inc. to be official liaison with the U. S. Council for the International Year of Disabled Persons (IYDP). This is Kent County's first step in joining the Council's nationwide Community Partnership Program.

Glasspool has scheduled an organizational meeting for February 18 at 1:30 p.m. at Apt. G-11, Mayfair Apartments on Webb's Lane.

"I urge all persons willing to commit themselves to improving the quality of life of Kent County's disabled citizens to participate in this important effort," Paskey said.

"If the International Year of Disabled Persons is to have meaning in Kent County we need the active involvement of concerned citizens from all walks of life, including those who have disabilities and those who do not," he said.

The United Nations has proclaimed 1981 the International Year of Disabled Persons and chosen as its theme "full participation of disabled persons in the life of their society." The Community Partnership Program is the U.S. Council's nationwide effort to encourage communities to set locally-appropriate goals and commit themselves to short and long-term programs to achieve those goals.

The first order of business at Kent County's organizational meeting will be to form a committee and select a chairperson, Glasspool explained.

The committee then will begin the important task of assessing the still unmet needs of Kent County's disabled citizens and setting goals and developing programs to address those needs.

The U. S. Council for the IYDP, located in Washington, D.C., was formed by concerned citizens as a nonprofit organization to promote the "full participation" of the 35 million Americans with physical or mental disabilities in our national and community life. The Council cooperates closely with U.S. government agencies and with other public and private organizations.

Interested citizens who wish further information may contact Glasspool at 734-9991.

State Fair Plans Handicapped Children's Day

In an effort to respond to the recreational needs of the physically and mentally disabled youth on Delmarva, the Board of Directors of the Delaware State Fair have officially declared the Friday, July 31st shall be "Handicapped Children's Day" at this year's Fair.

In cooperation with the Easter Seal Society of Del-Mar, the Fair will open its gates wide to admit all disabled youth up to the age of 21 into the fairgrounds on the special day.

As 1981 has been proclaimed by the United Nations as the "International Year of Disabled Persons", the Delaware State Fair is committed to insure that the handicapped youth in their region will be granted full participation in this year's event.

All Fair departments will be fully staffed to handle the special needs of the participants and special programs are being planned for the day in addition to all of the regularly scheduled events that take place at the Fair.

Mr. J. Baker Taylor, a director of the Fair and a resident of Wilmington, Delaware has been named by Fair officials as Chairman of the event and will coordinate his efforts with those of Mrs. Carol Shaw and Mrs. Doris Moulton, officials with the Easter Seal Society. For more information concerning "Handicapped Children's Day" and how youth may get their free admittance into the Fair, contact one of the Easter Seal Society offices nearest you. Two Million Dollar Felton Sewer Contract May Go To Virginia Firm

Although the final decision has not been made, it seemed probable this week that the contract for constructing sewer lines that will tie Felton into the Kent County wastewater treatment plant at Frederica would go to a Virginia contractor, Suburban Grading of Norfolk. Suburban's low bid of $2,119,721 was over three hundred thousand dollars below that submitted by its nearest competitor, Teal Construction of Dover.

Felton Mayor William Myers told the Town Council Monday night, that the decision on awarding the bid is awaiting a final check by county and state officials into Suburban's credentials and the quality of its work. All EPA criteria would have to be met.

In the unlikely event that the Virginia contractor is not up to specifications, the bid would most likely go to Teal at $2,428,428.

Even the low bid exceeded engineering estimates for the cost of construction by $69,000. A probable construction cost of $2,050,000 had been foreseen, but, said Myers, county and state engineers were not too concerned over that much of an increase in a two million dollar project. The high bid approached the three and a half million dollar mark. Although it had at one time been expected that as many as eighteen contractors would submit bids on the sewer project, Myers said he was pleased with the spread of ten that actually came in.

The bids were opened in the county engineer's office on January 22. Ranging from lowest to highest, they were as follows:

Suburban Grading of Virginia - $2,119,721; Teal Construction of Dover - $2,428,428; Somerset of Somerville, N.J. - $2,474,599.85; Spinasa of Pennsylvania - $2,699,284; ABP Construction of Pennsylvania - $2,719,731; George & Lynch of Delaware - $2,951,291.50; Marano of Pennsylvania - $3,219,835; Julian of Wilmington, Delaware - $3,256,205; Lishon of $3,361,244; and Constantino of Maryland - $3,433,151.

Felton Trash Fees To Go Up

When Felton's new contract with N.L. Wilkins for hauling trash goes into effect this week, the fees paid by residents for the service will nearly double, going from $2.50 to $4.70 per month. According to Felton Mayor William Myers, the increase reflects a rise in the cost of dumping from something like $12.50 to nearly $90 a load since the state opened the new landfill at Sandtown and awarded a one year contract for its operation to George & Lynch, Inc.

At Monday night's Felton Town Council meeting Mayor Myers said the town does not "make one penny from the trash business," but simply passes the cost of the service along to those who use it. The town does foot the expense of mailing out the quarterly trash bills and collecting the money.

At an earlier special meeting, held on January 20, the Council awarded this year's contract to N.L. Wilkins, low bidder at $470 per month for a once a week trash pick up. In an effort to cut some of the costs, the Council decided to reduce the number of pickups from one day a week to two. Felton's weekly trash collection day is now set for Friday.

In other business Monday night the Felton Town Council discussed but temporarily discarded the idea of creating a new town ordinance that would prohibit the operation of unregistered and/or uninsured motor vehicles in the town limits. The ordinance would have been aimed at curbing the use of off-the-road or dirt bikes that some residents say have been the cause of annoyance on Felton streets. The unregistered bikes are not suppose to be used on the streets. But one Felton resident was in attendance at the meeting to complain of their use on High Street.

He reported seeing at least one rider making several passes up and down the street, doing a "sixty foot wheelie" and said tax payers ought not to have to put up with the noise and the danger. After toying with the wording of a possible ordinance, the Council opted to let Felton Police Chief Mike Olliver handle the situation for the present. Council member Fred Casper, in particular, was hesitant about taking action that might restrict riders who make legitimate use of the vehicles and maintain respect for the property and safety of others.

Referendum

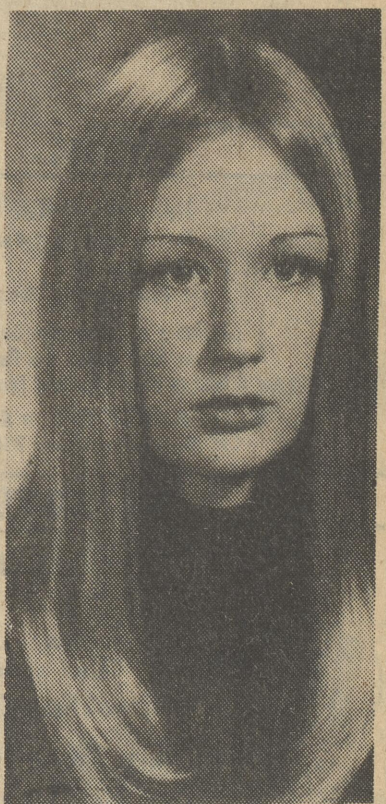

Tues., Feb 9th 12 - 7

The Council also heard that the decision to award the sewer contract to low bidder Suburban Grading of Virginia has not yet been made. (See separate Journal story).

Houston Council to Hold Meeting

There will be a special council meeting this Thursday, Feb. 5th at 7:00 p.m. on the topic of "Raising Taxes...or increasing the cost of picking up trash". According to Mayor Connie Morgan "...the revenue sharing has been cut...so we must look to other means of raising money". She added that the regular meeting will follow the special meeting.

Twelve years after Jeremiah Register's death the following transaction was filed at Kent County Court House. "This indenture between John Boggs of Murderkill Hundred, Taylor and James Millis witnesseth that the said John Boggs for the sum of 200 pounds good and lawful gold and silver specie to him in hand paid doth sell unto the said James Millis his heirs and assigns forever all that messuage (a dwelling house with its outbuildings and adjacent land) or tenement and Plantation or part of a tract of land called and known by the name of Durborows Chance situate in Murtherkill Hundred Beginning at a corner marked white oak a corner tree of land formerly sold by Mark Smith unto John Sipple and running thence with the line of the said land west 260 perches to a marked white oak then south south east 108 perches to a marked red oak then east 180 perches to a marked white oak standing on the edge of a swamp then north 20 degrees east 103 perches to the place of beginning containing 150 acres of land together with the buildings and improvements orchards garden and meadows commons pastures woods underwoods ways waters watercourses easements profits commodities advantages here itaments and appurtenances whatsoever to the said messuage land and tenement belonging."

John Boggs gave power of attorney to Nicholas Ridgely to act in his behalf to acknowledge the deed in Dover and the witnesses were Dennis Cane Junior and John Muney.

Then in 1789 James Milliss of Kent County sold to James McClyment for 100 pounds lawful money of the Delaware State all the said James Milliss part of a tract or parcel of land called and known by the name of Durborows Chance... "which formerly belonged to Matthew Boggs and John Boggs and is contained within the meet and bounds following to wit. Beginning at a stake in Crawfords Field 84 and 4/10 of a perch from the first corner of the whole tract and running thence with the said line 175 perches to a stooping white oak then south 26 degrees east 107 and 3/10 of a perch to a large red oak corner of John Wests land then down along the line of the whole part 106 perches to a gum now gone then north 12 degrees east 99 and 6/10 of a perch to the place of beginning containing and laid out for 99 acres and 37 and a half square perches." The witnesses were John Gordon and Zadok Truitt. James Milliss and James McClyment together with Bedwell Maxwell purchased in 1790 that part of New Seventh Haven and the Mark Smith acres which Martinus Sipple had sold to Michael Furbee in 1760.

Bedwell Maxwell was the son of Robert Maxwell and still a minor when his father died in 1769. In his will he named his heirs and property "my forest land known by the name of 'Maxwells Adventure' be equally divided between my two sons David and James Maxwell and my will is that David should have that part adjoining Andrew Caldwell and Richard Downhams land and James the other part adjoining William Finny and John Chambers land... and my will is that my son Bedwell shall have the land and plantation where now I dwell... and I appoint William Meredith guardian for my son Bedwell... till Bedwell arriveth to the age of twenty one years... and all my moveable estate after all my just debts be paid out of it be equally divided between my two daughters Joannah and Mallesent Maxwell to be paid to them when they arrive to the age of seventeen years". Witnesses were Daniel Virden, Elizabeth Virden and Oliver Crawford. A codicil added later read "And it is further to be considered my last will and testament that I leve to my son David my clobody and cote and jacket and my breches which is made of knett pattren also my carpenter and giners tuls also I leve to my son James all the rest of my apparel excepting my hat and it I leve to my son Bedwell also I leve to my datter Elizabeth all my books excepting my books of accompts also 2 torkeys and one yearlin hiffor also I give to my datter Joannah my last wifes sadel one tea kittel one mettill tea pot one pair of smithing irons one lucken glas one chest one par of silver buckels all the said artecal menched to Joannah is none to be left her by my last wife."

The occasion was the venison dinner sponsored by the Asbury United Methodist Men that has become a tradition over the years. After dinner, the well-filled guests enjoyed a color slide presentation of scenes from Heritage Day 1980 as presented by Amanda Quillen and Ann Minner.

Although the first trains were not built till the 1800s, tracks were laid in the 1500s. They helped horses draw heavier loads than they could on ordinary roads.

State Police Seek Missing Person

Delaware State Police from Bridgeville are still asking for public assistance in obtaining any leads to the whereabouts of 32-year-old Robert Foskey of Laurel. Foskey has been missing since Thanksgiving, and since his paycheck has not been cashed and his savings have not been touched, state police fear possible foul play.

Martin Gets Award

During the staff inspection at Delaware State Police Headquarters on January 27th, Superintendent Norman V. Cochran presented the state police Valor Award to Lieutenant Edward F. Martin. This was in recognition of his decisive actions during an air emergency on Monday, December 29. Lt. Martin was flying alone when he experienced an engine failure. His knowledgeable and prompt handling of the disabled craft enabled him to make a successful landing in field adjoining Rt. 202 near West Chester without incurring damage to the ship nor causing injury to himself or others.

Chamber Speaker

Nowland has two key factors: employers with a need and students with identifiable skills to fill those needs (The students also have a need to get some on-the-job training and experience.) The program places qualified seniors for a part of each day in a business position. They spend a minimum of ten hours, but more often as much as half a day on the job, and the rest of the time in school.

Ms. Nowland described some of the responsibilities of the students and employers and detailed the procedure for employers who might be interested in providing work experience for a student through this program.

Ms. Nowland told the Chamber there are 16 co-op students from the Lake Forest High School business education department in place in businesses in Harrington, Felton and Dover this year. The department placed about seventeen students last year.

A Greenwood Hi-Flyers and two Seaford Blue Jays 4-Hers received top honors in the recent County Public Speaking event. Russell Carlisle from the Hi-Flyers won the Junior Division. The Blue Jay winners were Lisa Eger and Jacalyn Taylor winning the Petite and Senior Divisions respectively.
 Carlisle's winning speech stressed the importance of tractor safety. Eger related her trip to Sanebel and Captive Islands and Taylor discussed food additives and preservatives.
 These 4-Hers were selected from nineteen contestants. Each was required to prepare and deliver a speech from 2 to 7 minutes long. Other winners in the Petite division were: Red awards - Robbie Cooper, State Line; Ricky Williams, Bridgeville Wildcats and Michelle Miller, Lucky Clovers. Junior winners were: Blue awards - Debbie Ricks, Lucky Clovers; Mike Arthur, Lord Baltimore; Katrine Workman, Blue Hen Workers; Christine Jernigan, Sandy Fields; Red awards - Karen Sipple Blue Hen Workers; Karen Thek, Lucky Clovers; Janelle Taylor, Seaford Blue Jays; Sandy Miller, Lucky Clovers. Senior winners were: Blue awards - Dana Banks, Lord Baltimore; Red awards, Jenny Smith, Bridgeville Live Wires; Chris Majchrzak, Sandy Fields; White awards, Stacy Northam and Lisa Goff, Mt. Pleasant.

Wesley College to Sponsor Antique Show

Wesley College will sponsor its twenty-ninth annual Antique Show-Sale on February 12, 13, and 14, 1981 at the Colonel John Haslet Armory, Dover, Delaware. On Thursday and Friday the show will be open from noon to 9:00 p.m. and on Saturday from noon to 6:00 p.m. All exhibits will be for sale.
 Each year Wesley College sponsors the Antique Show to raise funds for two endowed scholarships for worthy returning students. One of the two scholarships is in memory of Professor John A. Montgomery and is awarded to a student who demonstrates those qualities of character and leadership which Professor Montgomery exemplified in his life and teaching.
 The other scholarship proceeds are placed in the Endowed Scholarship Fund which provides scholarships to one or more outstanding returning students.
 The scholarships have traditionally been awarded to those students who have achieved academic distinction and demonstrated qualities and leadership.
 The Antique Show will be under the management of O.T. Wyatt of Trappe, Md. Tickets may be purchased at the door for $2.00. Refreshments will be available. For additional information contact the College Relations Office at 736-2353.

Get Together and Talk With Our Neighbors

He who endures with patience is a conqueror.

Bible Study Monday morning with Rev. Wm. Markley of Trinity Methodist Church of Harrington. The folks present sang a couple of beautiful hymns. Everyone said the "Lord's Prayer". Sylvia was at the piano. Rev. Markley's topic was Matthew, Chapter 23, verse 13 and chapter 18 of Luke. After an hour of discussion the folks sang "Beyond the Sunset". At the Study hour was Sylvia Meredith (at the piano), Annabel Morrow, Roxanne Brown, Clare Judy, Elma Brown, Tony Perrone, Roxanne and Marion Brown, John McCready, Elwood Morris, Cecil Meredith, Florence Minner, Benny Moore, Bertha Dean and Pearl Hickman.

Tues. morning. As the Jolly Timers practiced for their concert for United Way dinner at Dover Inn Tues. night, it was hard to keep your feet on the floor when they played, "How're You Gonna Keep Them Down On The Farm". Ina Hughes was at the piano. Julia Astfalk practiced her solo - "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles". She does sound so beautiful. O' wish she would sing more often. Marian Russum was a spectator. Marian is feeling better but not up to par yet. Others present were: Tony Perrone, Andy Anderson, Milfred Vincent, Florence Minner, Ella Golt, Pearl Hickman, Bertha Dean, Cleora Vincent, Gladys Hill, Mamie Adams, Roxanne and Marion Brown, Jo Burke, Ola Tilden, Elsie Neal and Gertrude Morgan.

Tuesday afternoon - Jeannette and David LeGates were at the Center and presented a delightful program with slides on Hawaii and Pearl Harbor. Both took turns narrating. Everyone was so pleased to see such lovely pictures. Later, after the slides, most everyone watched the Freed Americans arrival in Washington and the services conducted by President Reagan and others.

Larry and Viola are moving. It leaves a sad note in the ceramic and pool room as we enjoyed hearing Larry at the organ. Good luck Viola and Larry in your new home, likewise Bessie Ryan.

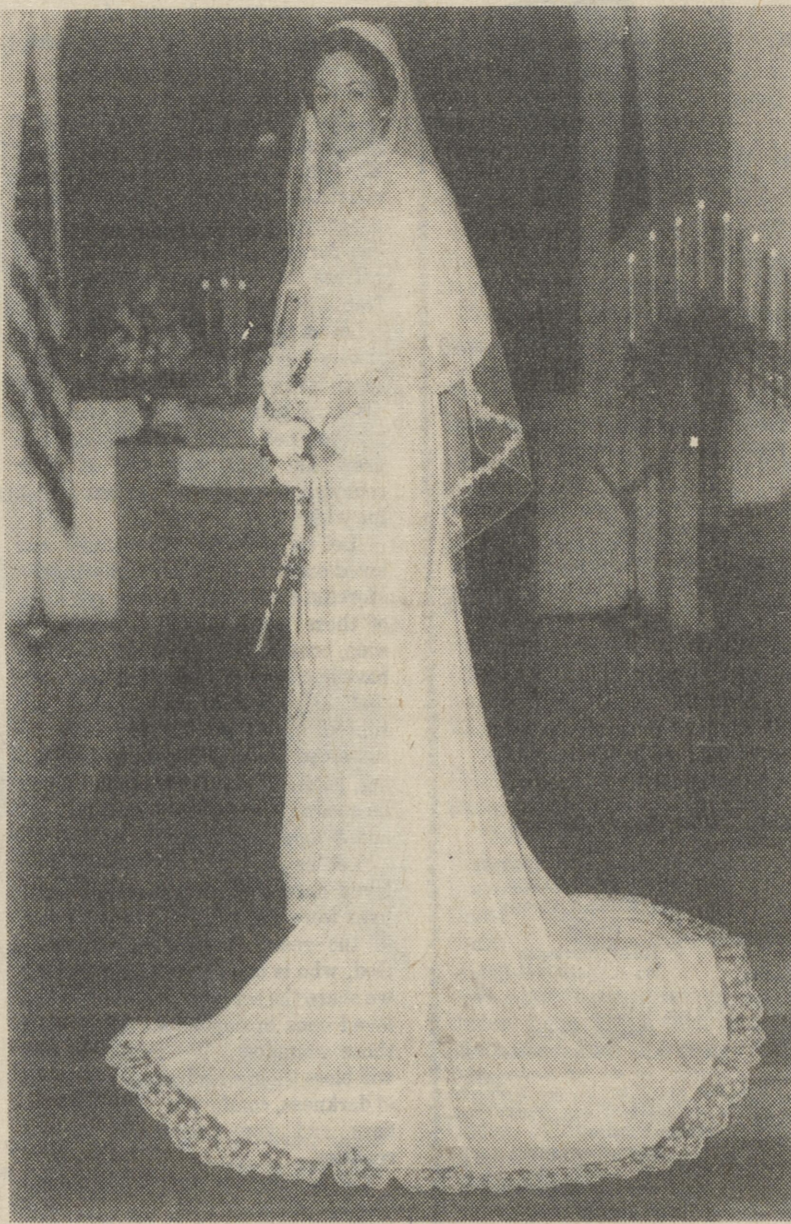

Our Director Gene had a macrame class Wednesday morning. It was well attended. Beautiful and various colors for hangers the ladies were making. Those present this week were Lillian Pearson, Velma Whitley, Francis Wright, Mildred Minner, Loraine Scarborough, Lorene Barkins, Dorothy Chelini, Ruth Phillippi, and Mary Perry.

Ceramic table buzzed and hummed, brushes flew, owl, rabbits, swan, racoon, planters, Easter goodies, and lots of personal things on Thursday. Bowling at Milford Lanes and guess what - wife and husband were high scorers -- Marian and Fred Littman. It made me very happy! Several of the ladies are making fascinating pillows. Amy Poynter has made over twenty of them, all colors. Mary Perry a red, white and blue one, Mary Marshall - rust, blue, and gold. Gertrude Morgan - several colors among them a soft pink and blue. Lillian P., Audrey Ellis, Hazel Riley and several other ladies, I'm sure.

The Pool table is busy - happy and plays well since it has been fixed.

Local shopping for lots of folks. Sgt. Sterling of State Police was here with a talk on safety. Lots of music and good advice, kept the folks entertained for two and half hours. He accompanied himself on the guitar.

Went shopping for greenware. Kathleen took Mary and me to A.J.s. Best wishes to those ill in the hospital and home, those in sorrow -- Be kind to each other. Remember -- Remembrance is the sweetest flower that in a garden grows. Smile. See you at the Center! Faith.

Mrs. John P. Ford

McNatt/Ford Exchange Vows

The wedding of Deborah Lynn McNatt, of Dover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McNatt, of Harrington, and John P. Ford, of Smyrna, son of Mrs. Marion Ford, of Boston, Mass., took place Saturday, January 24th, at Asbury United Methodist Church, Harrington.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of Silesta Jersey and Brussels lace. It featured an Empire waist, high neckline, and circular skirt that fell into a chapel length train. She carried her mother's prayer book covered with a cascade of white orchids and ivy.

Kathy Hathcock, of Richmond, Va., friend of the bride, served as Maid of Honor. The groom chose Randall Coe, of Dover, as his best man.

The officiating minister was Reverend Jackson Robinson.

On return from their Jamaica honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Ford will reside in Smyrna, De.

Annes' Kitchen

Winter weather makes trips to the food market more tiresome than usual, yet a warm and cozy kitchen often inspires us to make a super family desert. The only way to cure this conflict is to have recipes on hand which require ingredients most always on hand in the most simple kitchen.

Following is a recipe for a most delicious cake, made from scratch, with the most common ingredients you can think of. I call it "Simple Apple Cake." It certainly is simple to make. Chances are you won't have to shop for ingredients, and your family will love you for it. You can serve it warm or cold and it's just as good. I do prefer it after a day or two, but that's providing you have any left. It's a desert cake, a breakfast cake, a company is coming cake, or anything you want it to be cake.

SIMPLE APPLE CAKE

- 4-6 peeled apples, depending on size.
- 3 cups flour
- 2 cups sugar
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 4 whole eggs
- 1/4 cup orange juice
- 1 tablespoon vanilla
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 5 tablespoons sugar
- 1 cup cooking oil

Set oven at 350 degrees baking time 1 hr. & 15 min. Butter a tube pan (removable tube type) and set aside.

Do not try to use a bunt pan as cake will be hard to remove.

1. Peel and cut apples into small squares. Place in a bowl.
2. Sprinkle 2 teaspoons of cinnamon and 5 tablespoons of sugar over apples and blend.
3. In another bowl mix all other ingredients with a wooden spoon till smooth.
4. Place 1/3 of batter evenly in tube pan.
5. Cover batter with 1/2 of apple mixture.
6. Cover apples with 1/3 of batter.
7. Cover batter with second half of apples.
8. Top off with last 1/3 of batter and bake.

Don't be concerned if apples and batter do not completely cover each other when alternating layers. They will even out in the baking process. You should however try to distribute each layer evenly.

Allow cake to cool 15 min. and remove tube from pan.

You can use more or fewer apples according to your family's taste. You can also add raisins and or chopped nuts. The recipe makes a large cake, enough for ten hearty servings. Also, delicious a la mode, or with a dollop of whipped cream.

I never used a frosting on this cake as I always felt it was complete without itself. If you find a frosting, you feel it makes my cake better, please share it with me.

ENJOY!

Gabfest by Pat Hatfield

I'm sure you've all had the experience of observing children's impatience with the passing of time. At the approach of the Christmas season for instance, the children continually ask, "Is it almost here?" And on our trip last Sunday to attend the celebration of the 25th wedding anniversary of our Ron and Peggy, small Garth could scarcely wait to get there. During the hour and a half of driving she would keep asking, "Are we almost there yet?" This gets tiresome for the adults, but I can understand her need when I get up in these cold, January mornings and look hopefully out the window, and I ask, "Lord, is it spring yet?" "Are we almost there?" "How much longer?"

We have talked some in recent columns about the wild geese and the reports we are getting of folk seeing them flying north. My friend, Tess, reports a most interesting sighting. She saw two huge flocks, one going north and one going south. She feels they must have had some communication as they approached each other in the sky. Suddenly, the "V" formation that had been flying south reversed itself and followed the other group north. We paused to savor the wonder of it. That instinct given to them by their Creator told them something that we do not know.

Out of my scrapbook comes a clipping that I wish to share with all of you. You are all homemakers, and I kinda feel that this will help to brighten your days. It did mine. It is written by a woman named Betty Bird. She calls her little essay, "What Is a Homemaker?"

"A Homemaker is a woman and a woman is a creature of God. She is a complement to man. She is capable of deep love when caring for her children or her man. She is a container for tears, fits of depression, the blues, and wild, uncalled-for outbursts of temper. She is gentle and tender when she feels secure, And mean and ornery when she's unhappy. She is afraid of mice, but not one bit frightened by a husband twice her size. She starves herself all week to look nice for the weekend dinner party, where she stuffs herself so everyone will think she has no figure problem. She admires other men, but has a fit if her husband looks twice at another woman. She loves her husband with all her heart but still wonders, at times, about "the one that got away." She is smug when complimented, and nasty when confided in, and nasty when gossiping. She is compassion in an apron, love with a diaper in her hand, worry in a sickroom, an outraged yell or a tender kiss for her children. She is a pest or a playmate to her husband, a source of nourishment to the household pets. She is a defender of women's rights, a reader of Dr. Spock, a neglecter of lawns, a singer at the ironing board, a scowler at dirty windows, a face washer, a spanking giver and a reservoir of affection. She is all this and a lot more. She is woman, a household necessity, the heart of the home."

Your Church Activities Ecumenical Agency Issues Call to Prayer

A CALL TO PRAYER in remembrance of The Release of American Citizens from Iran, January 20, 1981

BE IT RESOLVED: In the name of God the Delmarva Ecumenical Agency meeting January 22, 1981 calls persons of religious conviction to prayer in private, in congregational meetings, and in special services in remembrance of the release of American citizens from Iran.

Let us pray for our 52 brothers and sisters, now released from their captivity in Iran. Oh Lord, Our God, we give you thanks that the dark night of their lonely exile is ended and pray that they may find in their renewed freedom the fullness of life for which they yearn.

Let us pray for the families and loved ones of the returned hostages. Merciful God, we share the gratitude of those whose fathers, daughters, sons, brothers, sisters and loved ones have been restored to them, and pray that, as they begin to restore interrupted relationships, they may be sustained by such love, understanding, patience, and compassion as may be needed to insure a blessed reunion and a hope-filled future.

Let us pray for the families and loved ones of the 8 persons whose lives were taken and others wounded in the rescue attempt. Almighty God, who is our refuge and strength we share the sorrow of those who lost loved ones in death and the pain of those wounded. We pray that you will bless them with light in the hours of darkness, comfort for their brokenness and your vision of eternal realities.

Let us pray for our nation and its people. Eternal God, we give you praise that this national travail is ended and pray that the anger and powerlessness so recently experienced may not tempt us to take revenge nor revert to indifference toward a people whose sufferings and yearnings we so little understand, but may indeed deepen our resolve to see your justice done in all the earth. Let us pray for the people and nation of Iran. Lord, God of all, we would ask your blessings on our Iranian brothers and sisters. Help guide their leaders as they seek to build a new society with justice and integrity. Where they have been wronged, help them to forgive; where they have wronged, forgive them and help us to forgive them. Let your vision of justice and peace, common to all who look to you, the one God eternal, be the guiding spirit for the people of Iran, and for all peoples.

Let us pray for the people and religions of the world. Lord God, you have made all human beings in your image and called all peoples to be bearers of hope, we give you thanks for the blessed diversity yet common yearnings of all peoples of the world—justice, peace and the reign of love throughout the earth. Help us, we pray, to nurture in ourselves and seek in others those things that would fulfill your purposes and honor your holy name, One God, undivided, Lord of the whole creation. Amen

This coming Sunday, we plan to have special music on the radio broadcast at 9:45 a.m., WAFL, by Evangelist Ken Lynch. Remember to continue in prayer for his daughter Joanna, who is scheduled for open heart surgery on February 5th.

In the adult Sunday School Class at 10:00 a.m., we have begun a new series on I and II Thessalonians - "The Prospect of Glory." This is a very interesting study, dealing with Paul's missionary journeys and the church established at Thessalonica. Pastor Newman has continued with the messages "Remove Not the Ancient Landmarks" in the Sunday morning worship service. The subject of this past Sunday's message was "Serving God through the Local Church." (I Tim. 3:14-15, Heb. 10:23-25). In the Sunday evening service, Pastor Newman continued teaching on the doctrine of sin, with a message titled, "The Entrance of Sin into the World." This dealt with the origin of sin in the angelic realm with the fall of Lucifer (Ezekiel 28 and Isaiah 14), and then the fall of man (Genesis 3).

Lake Forest's "New Wave" Meets First Competition

An enthusiastic crowd cheered all finishers Saturday as the "New Wave", the fledgling Lake Forest Community Swim Team, took on a well-established, experienced Wicomico Swim Team from Salisbury at the Lake Forest High School Natatorium Complex on Saturday. It was the New Wave's first swim meet, ever.

Lake Forest coach Charles Michels was extremely pleased with the performance of his young swimmers and with the response of the crowd of parents and friends who turned out to see them. Michels happily pointed out the remark of one parent who said it was the first athletic event he'd attended at which the last place finishers got as much applause as the winners. On occasion they got more.

Michels said the fifty members of the Lake Forest Community Swim Team range in age from 4 to 15. Out of the fifty, about forty-seven had never been in any kind of swim competition before Saturday. A first for the Lake Forest area, the newly formed team has been practicing on Saturdays for about two months.

Most of the New Wave swimmers participated in at least two events, and a number entered two or three individual races as well as one or two relay events.

Although the local team faced several fast swimmers from the far more experienced Salisbury team, Michels felt his swimmers did well. He has seen a lot of improvement since the team first organized.

Saturday's competition with Wicomico was treated as a scrimmage. Individual winners were recorded, but no running team score was kept.

Relay teams and individual competitors representing the New Wave placed first in several events and came in second or third in a number of others:

Biden Report

By Sen. Joseph Biden Jr.

The lifting of price controls on crude oil and other petroleum products is hasty, inflationary and unlikely to result in any short-term gains in domestic energy production.

The only thing that President Reagan accomplished in lifting price controls last week was to guarantee the oil companies an added windfall of at least $10 billion for the first eight months of 1981. The controls would have phased out by the end of September if he had done nothing, but the cost to consumers of the total deregulation of oil is another multi-billion dollar boost in the already bloated profits of the oil companies.

Removing the only remaining controls of the prices of petroleum products makes good on a Reagan campaign promise, but the price of that promise is added inflation with no benefit to consumers.

Oil company profits have already been growing so fast the companies cannot reinvest them all in new exploration. They have been operating at maximum drilling capacity for several years.

Nobody seems to know just how big the increases in the costs of gasoline, propane and home heating oil will be or how fast they are going to come, but everyone knows they're coming this year. And the worst of it is that, while all of us will feel the pinch of these inevitable increases, it's the elderly, the poor and the handicapped - people on fixed incomes, people who have already been hit hardest by inflation - who will feel it the most. That's why the way inflation works, and dropping these controls now will just make it worse.

I am especially concerned about the effect of increases in the prices of propane and heating oil. Even with the fuel assistance we've been able to provide, it has been tough for people to get by this year. By next winter, with prices even higher, I just don't know what they'll do - especially older people who really suffer from the cold.

Everyone knows that energy prices will continue going up. In the long run we can't avoid it - but decontrolling while inflation is already eating away at the security of every American family just doesn't make sense. That's why I opposed decontrol when President Carter took the first step and that's why I opposed the hasty action President Reagan took last week.

My Senate committee assignments remain the same for the 97th Congress as they have in recent years.

Although in the minority, I intend to vigorously pursue the issues ranging from terrorism to budget control which have been paramount in my legislative agenda in the past.

As ranking minority member of the Judiciary Committee and its Subcommittees on Criminal Laws and on Security and Terrorism, I will maintain a dogged pursuit of organized criminals engaged in international drug trafficking. Drug trafficking on an internationally organized scale gnaws at the domestic security of our Nation. One approach which I believe can be successful in curtailing drug trafficking and controlling narcotics is to confiscate all assets of a convicted drug trafficker which were obtained through illegal profits.

I will also continue working on legislation on sentencing reform, arson for profit and auto theft. As a member of the Intelligence Committee, I succeeded in having my "Graymail" legislation passed by the last Congress, and I will seek ways to strengthen this legislation to improve the prosecution of cases where the defense threatens to reveal national security secrets.

Sitting on the Economic Policy and European Affairs Subcommittees of the Foreign Relations Committee will allow me to continue work on U.S. - NATO relations, burden sharing for allied defense, conventional force improvement and theatre nuclear force modernization, and those assignments will assist me in the drive to strengthen the policing of international narcotics activity.

It will also allow me to closely monitor and impact on all international issues that affect our own economy such as trade and resource dependency, as well as to review treaties and international financial matters that influence the economic aspects of foreign policy.

My position on the Budget Committee will afford me the opportunity to continue my work to bring the "uncontrollable" expenditures in the budget under control, to apply the "sunset" concept to federal agencies and to end the so-called "marriage tax" that penalizes families. The uncontrollables are the 75 percent of the total budget called entitlements which have built-in automatic increases which by law Congress can't touch. I want to change that law to bring more federal spending under control.

Milford P & R Plans Jump-Rope-A-Thon

The Milford Parks & Recreation Department in cooperation with the American Heart Association of Delaware will be conducting the 1st Jump-Rope-A-Thon for Heart at the Milford Middle School Gymnasium Saturday, March 21 from 9:00 AM until 12:00 noon.

The Jump-Rope-A-Thon for Heart is an event for students to promote physical education and healthy circulatory system while raising funds to help the American Heart Association of Delaware fight heart disease and strokes, which kill more people annually than all other causes of death combined. Physical fitness is important to all of us in helping to develop and maintain a healthy heart and vascular system. Rope jumping is one of many excellent cardiovascular exercises which can be used by youth and adults to help achieve and maintain fitness.

Tony Dorsett, running back for the Dallas Cowboys, is the National Chairman for this year's Jump-Rope-A-Thon for Heart.

Jump-Rope-A-Thon for Heart is a team event. A team of six jumpers will take turns jumping rope for a maximum of three hours. Each team member will secure pledges for each minute the team jumps. When a jumper tires or stops, another team member will begin. Jumpers rotate in sequence and, as a team, will try to jump continuously for a maximum three hour period.

A minimum pledge of 2 cents per minute is suggested. If sponsors pledge 2 cents per minute and the team jumps the entire three hour period (180 min.), the total pledge would be only $3.60. We ask that sponsors be generous in their pledges per minute the team jumps. Checks should be made payable to the "American Heart Association of Delaware". There are several prizes and awards involved for students who participate. Each student regardless of pledge amount returned will receive a certificate of participation. THOUGHTS FROM DOVER

By Gov. Pierre S. DuPont

GOVERNOR PETE DU PONT STATE OF STATE

During my State of the State speech last week, I outlined several new proposals for Delaware to pursue in the year ahead. At the same time, I submitted a recommended budget of $700 million, plus an emergency appropriation of about $11 million for next fiscal year beginning July 1.

There are many challenges confronting the State of Delaware, as there are each year. But this year, I believe we have the unique opportunity to meet many of those challenges which have needed attention for many years, but which have been avoided. We have built a firm foundation in Delaware over the past several years -- for example, strengthened our economy, stabilized our finances, and improved the delivery of services -- and one which we can use in the years ahead.

My proposals last week were many ranging from seeking reform in the State personnel system to reorganizing several important departments of government; from requiring competency testing for teachers to providing additional revenue for the schools; from selling Farmers Bank, to conserving water. Even though there were many proposals, I think we can accomplish most of them by the end of the General Assembly session in June.

One proposal outlined was the proposed reorganization of the State's economic development and community affairs programs. Acting Secretary Hayward has developed a plan to split the current Department of Economic Development and Community Affairs into two departments, while at the same time abolishing at least in their present form both the office of Management, Budget and Planning and the Delaware Energy Office. What will result is a Delaware Development Office, responsible for the State's economic development, and a Department of Community Affairs, responsible for community programs, libraries, housing, consumer, veterans, and handicapped affairs. A well-organized government will emerge.

I also asked the General Assembly to enact some legislation they have left over from previous years. First and foremost is the passage of financial disclosure and ethics legislation for themselves and State officials. Also, establishing a State holiday in honor of the late Dr. Martin Luther King.

January's oil spill off Big Stone Beach, although relatively small in nature, once again underscores the need for the Congress to act on legislation to compensate businesses and residents for economic losses resulting from an oil spill.

As a member of the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, I have once again cosponsored vital oil spill legislation -- the Comprehensive Oil Spill Liability and Compensation Act. The Act is similar to the one which passed the House last year, but failed in the Senate.

Each year hundreds of oil tankers enter the Delaware Bay. Each tanker and lightering operation brings the risk of a major oil spill fouling the beaches and waters of Delaware and New Jersey. This threatens our fish and wildlife resources, commercial and recreational fisheries, and tourism industry. We are grateful that a massive oil spill has not occurred in our waters, and that our state has been spared the painful consequences of such a tragedy.

We all hope that our marine safety standards and environmental protection laws will help to prevent oil spills before they happen. But, when they do occur, it is important to protect innocent parties whose livelihoods depend on the precious natural resources that we have in Delaware. That's why it is so important for Congress to act on oil spill legislation.

In the absence of a comprehensive oil spill liability system, the motel owner whose business has been driven away, the fisherman whose shrimp have been destroyed, or the property owner whose land has been damaged are left holding the bag for an oil spill with which they had nothing to do. Clean-up operations alone cost millions of dollars, to say nothing about the other potential losses and costs from such a disaster.

All of us who live in coastal states and care about our resources have a real stake in the prompt resolution of this matter. I plan to fight for this legislation when it comes before my committee, and will work hard for its passage by the Congress.

Thoughts From Washington

By U.S. Senator Bill Roth

DECONTROL ILL-TIMED MOVE

President Reagan recently ordered the immediate decontrol of oil prices. Experts predict this action will increase prices for oil and gasoline as much as five cents a gallon in the coming days.

I'm sorry the President chose to make this move. I advised the Administration that it would be more helpful to our economic recovery to allow the decontrol time table, already in place, to run its course. Decontrol would have been effective in September under current law.

With inflation, interest rates and taxes as high as they are, I did not feel such a move was necessary. Delawareans are already having to pay more and more for heating oil this winter. Now, prices will go even higher.

None of our economic problems will be solved overnight. We need to make strides toward initiating tax cuts, stemming Federal spending, and streamlining government to be more effective and efficient. Our economic nightmare has already had too many years to grow to its present point. It would have been advisable to have allowed Congress to act on solutions to our economic woes and move toward easing some of the economic burdens before allowing for these anticipated price increases.

From Dover

by Sen. Thurman Adams Jr.

Last week I introduced legislation (SB 62) to place the Delaware Electric Cooperative back under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission so any future rate increases will have to be justified in full-scale public hearings.

We put the bill in response to a flood of complaints from customers served by the cooperative about their January billings, which reflected in most cases huge increases.

The General Assembly last year passed legislation to take the electric cooperative and other public utilities operated and regulated by the Rural Electrification Act of 1936 out from under the PSC jurisdiction to spare them the cost of legal and expert help during prolonged rate hearings. The bill became effective Dec. 31 and the cooperative immediately imposed a rate increase.

Although passage of SB 62 can't affect the January increase, it can assure that any future rate hikes will have to be thoroughly justified before the PSC with the Public Advocate attending.

A large number of Sussex County minority shareholders in the Farmers Bank will still have a vote before the General Assembly considers legislation to sell the bank shares the state owns back to the bank.

The legislature has until March 31 to decide whether to approve the sale of the state's shares in Farmers Bank for $21 million and get out of the banking business. The Farmers Bank Commission has recommended the offer be accepted, but the Federal Deposit Insurance Company, the minority stockholders, and the General Assembly still must approve if the sale is to go through.

At last count, Sussex Countians owned more than 180,000 shares of the Farmers Bank stock.

The thing that struck me about the Governor's Budget Message to the General Assembly last week was that our chief executive has left little room for error if an emergency comes up or some new program is needed.

The Governor has proposed that we spend 100 percent of the estimated revenue of $712.4 million expected in the coming fiscal year. He also has given us a "Shopping list" for any money we receive for the sale of Farmers Bank and another shopping list for any extra interest the state earns after it is freed from its obligation to deposit huge sums of interest-free state money in Farmers Bank. In addition, the Governor has more than enough ideas on how to spend any extra revenue we get between now and June 30, which he predicts will happen as a result of the recovering economy.

If we do all the Governor wants, we won't have a nickel left over for an emergency should one occur. I always like to have a little cushion to cover the small things as well as the programs which have pushed our budget close to the almost unbelievable level of three quarters of a billion dollars.

All I can think of is the time not so long ago when Delaware's budget for two years was under $50 million. I wonder if we are getting the most out of state dollars which, after all, belong to the taxpayers.

CONVERTING SUNLIGHT INTO ELECTRICITY

Solar cells convert sunlight directly into electricity by transforming energy from sunlight into electrical charge motion, causing an electric current. But in a solar TPV converter, which Dr. Swanson's group is using, a metallic heating element -- a radiator -- is heated by concentrated sunlight and serves as an intermediary between the sun and the cells. This heating element radiates primarily infrared light to which the cells are most responsive.

Dr. Swanson has succeeded in recycling infrared energy unused by the TPV cells, which has led to the attainment of Stanford's high conversion efficiencies.

Dr. Swanson's Stanford University group is under contract to EPRI, which is supported by more than 500 of the nation's electric utilities. EPRI funds and manages electric energy research and development.

Jack Anderson Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- President Ronald Reagan will soon receive from the Central Intelligence Agency a secret profile of his chief adversary, Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev. The Kremlin boss is now 74 years old and is plagued with poor health.

The CIA assessment states that "Brezhnev's major health problems are cardiovascular. He has both hypertension and arteriosclerotic heart disease. He probably has a pacemaker." He is inclined to take too much medication, which alters his already moody personality. As the CIA puts it: "Brezhnev has been described at times as depressed and at other times as alert, energetic and animated. He has long been prone to great mood swings."

"But there is no evidence that his intellectual ability has been significantly affected by these emotional problems and no sign of a lessening of his judgment or contact with reality."

"Still, on several occasions, he has been described as unable to concentrate, inattentive and fatigued. (This could) reflect the depletion of his limited physical reserves or the effects of excessive medication. But they could also be symptoms of depression."

The Kremlin czar also suffers "periodically intense facial pain," which is diagnosed by the CIA's medical experts as "trigeminal nerve pain." Continues the secret report: "This probably explains some of Brezhnev's unusual behavior -- his seemingly unwarranted dissatisfaction with his dental care, the frequent rubbing of his jaw, excessive salivation and abrupt disappearance from public view." Brezhnev has tried every possible treatment, including acupuncture, to relieve the facial pain.

Will these health problems finally force the aging Soviet leader to retire? The CIA's top secret opinion: "Brezhnev has so far made no move to establish a successor, and most present candidates lack a good claim to his mantle."

nosed by the CIA's medical experts as "trigeminal nerve pain." Continues the secret report:

"This probably explains some of Brezhnev's unusual behavior -- his seemingly unwarranted dissatisfaction with his dental care, the frequent rubbing of his jaw, excessive salivation and abrupt disappearance from public view." Brezhnev has tried every possible treatment, including acupuncture, to relieve the facial pain.

Will these health problems finally force the aging Soviet leader to retire? The CIA's top secret opinion: "Brezhnev has so far made no move to establish a successor, and most present candidates lack a good claim to his mantle."

Sometimes, when he is depressed, he talks about calling it quits. His younger brother recently hinted that the Soviet strongman may retire. But the CIA checked out the report and submitted this evaluation:

"The brother's statement 'may have accurately reflected Brezhnev's outlook ... during one of his 'down' periods. But later clandestine reporting and Brezhnev's more recent public behavior suggests he now means to stay on. Clearly, Brezhnev has periods of elation and depression, and his intentions may vary as his moods swing."

Concludes the CIA: "There are able men already on the politburo, as well as others waiting on the threshold. None of them has established a special claim to consideration as a contender for the position at the top. If the Soviets wish to achieve the first smooth succession in their history, serious collective planning will have to begin soon. There is no sign of such planning."

POOR GEORGE -- George Bush wanted to be president, but he had to settle for the vice presidency. One of the few prerogatives he could look forward to was the redecoration of his official residence. Now he has discovered that even this small privilege has been partially pre-empted by his predecessor.

The departing vice president, Walter Mondale, ordered thousands of dollars worth of furnishings last fall for the stately vice presidential residence on the grounds of the Naval Observatory. He also purchased some new furnishings for his White House office. Most of the orders were placed in October. Did Mondale seriously think he was going to be around to use the new furnishings for another four years? Evidently so.

costing nearly $1,500 was sent to the vice presidential mansion on Nov. 21.

Mondale's spokesman insisted that the redecorating splurge had nothing to do with the election. He added that only standardized, low-cost furnishings were ordered.

But this last-minute refurbishing led to a quiet inquiry by federal sleuths. The probe stopped short of an official investigation.

The Bushes may not like the furnishings Mondale picked out for them. But the new administration is dedicated to cutting the cost of government. So the new vice president can hardly go out and spend thousands of dollars to redo the decor he inherited from the Mondales.

POTENTIAL DEFECTOR? -- One of the Kremlin's most celebrated allies -- Cuban strongman Fidel Castro -- has confided some shocking news to intimates. He would like to defect from the Soviet bloc. But Castro admitted it may be too late to cut his Russian ties. He is completely dependent on the Soviet Union, which pours $10 million a day into Cuba.

DOLLAR PATROL -- David Stockman, the new director of the Office of Management and Budget, plans to form a unit of auditors who will make surprise visits on government agencies to root out wasteful spending programs. The fiscal marauders will be called the "dollar patrol."

White House Conference on Aging

Application forms for would-be delegates to the National White Conference on Aging are available (today) (February 1) at all senior centers, nutrition sites and most high-rise apartments, according to Eleanor L. Cain, State Coordinator for the White House Conference.

Any resident of the state may apply. The only basic qualification is that the applicant must have attended at least one local community forum. A total of six persons will eventually be chosen as official delegates to the December conference, six others will be named as observers.

Applications, accompanied by a letter of recommendation from an agency or organizations involved with aging, must be turned in before March 1, 1981. Interviews with a local screening committee will be set up during the month of March. Final delegate selection will take place at the State White House Conference on Aging to be held at Dover of May 1 of this year.

Additional information or a delegate application form may be obtained from the Division of Aging, 1901 N. DuPont Highway, New Castle, Del. 19720. Or call 421-6791. Downstate call 856-2445.

Farmers Urged to Report

"Kent County farmers were urged to report changes in their farm operations for the 1981 program year," James S. Metz, Chairperson of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, said today.

For ASCS to help producers get program benefits, farm records must be up to date. Therefore, producers should contact the county ASCS office if there has been a change in the land owned or operated, if a farm will have a new owner effective for 1981, or if a change is made in the operation of an existing unit.

"Requests to combine farms or divide a farm should be made as soon as possible because reconstitutions require special processing as well as county committee approval," he said.

Likewise, Metz said, farmers who want to obtain proven yields for 1981 feed grains or wheat must substantiate production on all acreages for the crops.

Production evidence must be kept separate for each year and for each farm. When yield notices are sent out next spring, farmers will be given the opportunity to request a proven yield if production evidence so warrants, the ASCS official said.

Delmarva Power & Light Reports 1980 Earnings Down

Delmarva Power & Light Company today reported that earnings for the 12 months ending December 31, 1980, were $39.5 million or $1.60 per share compared to $44.3 million or $1.91 per share for the same period in 1979.

Robert D. Weimer, DP&L Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, cited four major reasons for the decline in earnings.

"The capital and operating expenses associated with the commercialization of Indian River unit #4 on October 1 were not fully recoverable because the timing of rate increases did not match the start-up date; industrial sales were 7 percent lower this quarter as compared to the fourth quarter of 1979; inflation increased operating and maintenance expenses 17 percent during the fourth quarter over last year; and interest expenses increased 28 percent during the fourth quarter of 1980 compared to 1979, reflecting the continuing high cost of money," Weimer said.

"On the positive side, gas sales have been strong. Sales in the fourth quarter of the year were 24 percent ahead of last year," said Weimer.

Shur Succeeds Scott

MILFORD-Edward H. Shur of Laurel has been appointed news director of WAFL-AM/FM in Milford, it was announced this past week by Dennis Hazard, program director.

The 27-year-old award-winning journalist officially assumed his duties Friday, January 16.

Shur has a degree in broadcast journalism from the University of Rhode Island.

After working in Rhode Island radio for six years, he came to Sussex County in 1978 to head the news department at WSEA-FM in Georgetown.

He later served as editor of The State Register of Laurel, before becoming a free-lance writer for the Daily Times of Salisbury this past summer.

During his eight-year career, he has won numerous regional press awards and local government commendations for his work.

"I plan to emphasize local news and sports which is so important to the community," Shur said.

"I urge listeners to call me with tips of what's happening in their area," he added.

Darryl Algier, of near Harrington, celebrated his fourth birthday, Thurs., Jan. 25 with a small party.

Rallying in the last quarter, Harrington High's cagers recorded a 49-41 victory over Greensboro Thursday night. Greensboro held a 35-30 lead as the teams entered the final period. Harrington, with Billy Wix and Bob Davis leading the way, then threw in 19 points limiting Greensboro to six to grab the decision.

Think of it as a savings account with scenery.

There are all kinds of checks, you know. Plain checks. Fancy checks. Beige checks. Blue checks. Even checks with palm trees and other pretty pictures.

Now, we love palm trees. But in these inflationary times, we think the prettiest pictures around are portraits. Of guys like George and Abe and good old Andy Jackson.

That's the reason for our new NOW account, the checking account that pays you for putting your money in it.

Of course, to keep it working like a checking account but earning interest like a savings account isn't duck soup. It takes some fancy figuring and special conditions. Things like minimum balance, average balance, and number of transactions.

So it makes more than a little sense to go to the people with the most practice. Us. We're A Full Service Bank, the home of modern checking, and we've got it down to a science. Isn't that beautiful?

Look for this symbol. We've got the answers.

NOTICE OF REFERENDUM ELECTION

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that the City of Harrington, Delaware shall hold a referendum election on February 9, 1981 from eleven o'clock noon until seven o'clock P.M. Eastern Standard Time.

The election is being called pursuant to Section 22, Chapter 167, Volume 40 of the Laws of Delaware being a part of the Charter of the City of Harrington in order to permit the qualified voters according to law in the City of Harrington to vote for or against a proposed borrowing by the City of Harrington of a sum not to exceed $189,000 on the faith and credit of the City and the issuance of bonds equal to the borrowing to secure the repayment of the sum borrowed.

The money borrowed will be used as part of the City's share of the cost of the implementation of the project known as the Modification and Expansion of Waste Water Treatment Facility as required to bring the City into compliance with Federal and State clean water regulations. The total cost of the project (including preliminary planning and studies which have been performed) is estimated to be approximately $1,125,000. The City has received grants for the project from the federal and state governments covering approximately 85 per cent of the total cost of the project. The City's share of the cost of the project is estimated not to exceed $189,000.

The project has been approved by the Delaware Division of Environmental Control and United States Environmental Protection Agency. Presently the City is operating its waste water treatment facility under temporary permits issued by State and federal authorities allowing the City to operate its waste water treatment facility in variance to State and federal law.

The City Council will determine the form of the bonds, the time of payment with interest, the classes, the times of maturity and provision as to the registration of the bonds. The City will offer the bonds securing the loan for sale, at competitive bidding.

The City has applied to the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) for a loan and/or grant of up to $189,000 and will request the FmHA to bid on the bonds in connection therewith. The FmHA is currently granting loans similar to the one applied for by the City at an interest rate of 5 per cent per annum and repayable over forty (40) years. If the City is unable to obtain a loan or grant from FmHA it will have to seek funds from other sources at rates which may not be as favorable.

Said election shall be held at a polling place located at the Harrington Fire Hall, Fleming and Mechanic Streets, Harrington, Delaware for persons who were entitled to vote in the last annual City election and an additional polling place at the Harrington Fire Hall, Fleming and Mechanic Streets, Harrington not otherwise qualified to vote.

As provided by Section 22(B) 6 of the City Charter as modified by federal and state law and judicial interpretation the following have the right to vote:

1. Every person who had the right to vote at the last annual City election;

2. Every owner of property in the City of Harrington whether individual, partnership or corporation;

3. Every voter entitled to vote shall have one vote.

4. Votes may be cast in person or by proxy. Forms of proxy are available from the City Clerk.

The polls shall be open from 12:00 noon to 7:00 p.m. on the day of the election.

The vote shall be either "FOR BOND ISSUE" or "AGAINST BOND ISSUE" and voting machines shall be used.

The City Clerk shall maintain copies of the plans and specifications relating to the project known as Modification and Expansion of Waste Water Treatment Facility which shall be available for inspection by the public.

The referendum election shall be conducted by the Election Board as appointed by City Council.

By order of the Council of the City of Harrington dated January 8, 1981.

Norma Short City Clerk
