Three Vie For Two Seats In Felton

Three Felton residents will vie for two seats on the Felton Town Council in the annual town election set for next Monday, March 2, from 5 until 8 p.m. in the Felton Fire Hall. The three are incumbent Councilman, Fred Casper, who seeks a third term, and challengers, John Hopkins and Thomas Jenner. Mary Ann Stumpf, a Council member for two consecutive terms during which she has served as town treasurer has elected not to make a third bid for the seat.

Not special issues but concern for the community seemed the key as the Journal spoke to each of the three candidates seeking election to the Council.

FRED CASPER

Fred Casper, who serves as secretary to the Council, will be asking Felton voters to return him to the town's governing body for a third two-year term.

As a resident and businessman in the town, Casper cited a continuing interest in the community as his reason for seeking re-election. He also mentioned the desire to see a few projects such as the book up to the county sewer system completed. Felton's sewer construction is now waiting investigation of the low bidder before the contract can be awarded.

The Journal also asked Casper whether he thought federal cutbacks proposed by President Reagan for CETA programs would have any serious impact on the town's police force which has been at least partially staffed by CETA-paid officers. Casper replied that the town will go to two, full-time police officers, paid out of local coffers. He did not see the possible CETA cutbacks as posing any serious problem.

A 1957 graduate of Felton High School, Casper was employed with the Swift and Company poultry processing plant in Felton for about 12 years before becoming manager of G & B Market for eight. After three years managing the recycling plant in Dover, he returned to G & B Market where he has been for the past three years.

Besides his service on the Felton Town Council, he is also a member of the Volunteer Fire Company.

Casper and his wife, the former Virginia Lewis of Dayton, Ohio, have two sons and one daughter.

JOHN HOPKINS

In frequent attendance at Felton Town Council meetings, John Hopkins says his prime motive for seeking election is "just to sit in the seat." He explains this by saying that as a resident of the town, he is interested in Felton, and has "a right to have a voice in town government."

Hopkins, who attended Felton schools has been self-employed painter since age 17. A member of Harrington Moose Lodge 534, he is married to the former Doris Hayman of Harrington. The couple reside on High Street in Felton.

THOMAS JENNER

Thomas Jenner, who lives on Church Street, is appreciative of the small community which he moved to about a year ago. Expecting Felton to be his home for sometime to come, he wants to take an active interest in its affairs. He sees "a lot of things that can be done" and wants to be a participant.

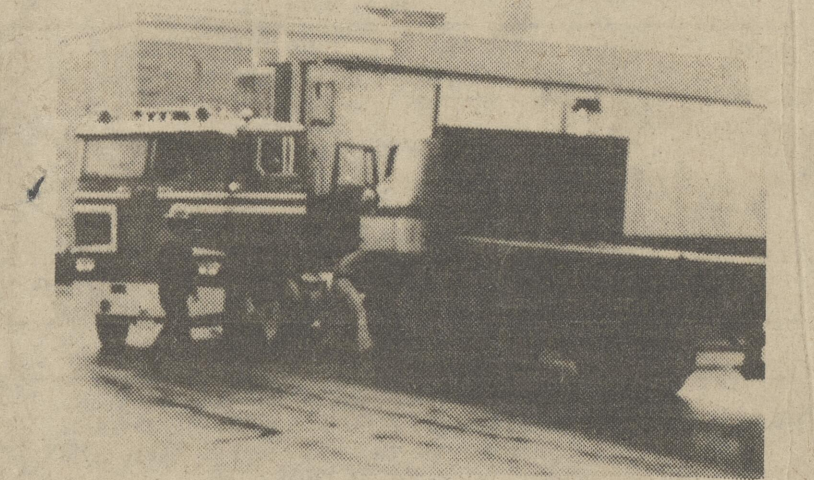

Jenner cited no specific issues as areas of concern, but underscored his desire to be of service as his major reason for running for the Town Council.

The son of Richard Jenner, a Felton resident for the past six years, Thomas Jenner grew up near Dover and graduated from Caesar Rodney High School. He is employed by Dover Electric Supply Co. Jenner and his wife, the former Theresa Sudler of Dover, have one daughter.

Those eligible to vote in next Monday's town election must be 18 years of age or older, residents of Felton and not delinquent in either property taxes or the town's capitation tax.

Traffic jam in downtown Harrington on Friday afternoon at the corner of Clark and Commerce Street that could be bad. However, with a little help from a friend, this trucker was soon out of the way and on the way.

In Frederica

Write-Ins Could Tell the Story

The filing deadline is well past; the election has been set for next Monday, but there are no candidates for the two seats open on the Frederica Town Council. But the town must hold an election, and write-in votes could very well tell the story of who will serve on the Council for the next two years.

The election will be held next Monday March 2, from 6 until 7 p.m. at the town hall. At that time Frederica citizens may write in for the candidates of their choice.

The two seats in question are those now held by Mayor Dan Griffith and Council member Ezekiel Dill. Neither has filed for re-election, and both have indicated they would prefer not to serve another term. However, both have also said they would not leave the council if there are no write-ins and no one to fill the seats.

But whatever the outcome, Frederica will definitely have a new mayor after last week. Although Dan Griffith has said he will remain on the council if no one else is elected, wants to play a different role that will not take so much time from his commitment to a young and growing family, Griffith would like to see work with the recently created Planning and Zoning Commission continue and would be happy to serve as liaison between the Council and the commission. He also feels he has some expertise to offer the town as it seeks to obtain federal grants. But he would not serve again as mayor.

Frederica's mayor is chosen by the council from among its members. The position is not an elective one.

Both Dill and Griffith said they

Houston Filing Date Is Saturday

Candidates interested in a seat on the Houston Town Council will be able to file this Saturday, Feb. 28, from 6 until 8 p.m. at the fire hall. Interested residents who are at least 18, have been living in Houston for at least one year and who are not delinquent in their taxes may file by signing up at the designated place and time.

Up for grabs this year will be the seats now held by James Emory and Virginia Twilley. Mrs. Twilley, who has served on the Council for the past five years told the Journal Monday that she does not plan to seek another term. She was elected for two full two-year terms plus another transition year during the charter change.

James Emory says he plans to file Saturday for re-election to serve a second term.

Houston Council members are chosen at large for two year terms. This year's election will be on Saturday, March 28. At that time the Houston Council also plans to conduct a referendum on the question of whether residents prefer a separate fee or a tax increase to handle the escalated cost of trash collection and disposal.

Local Scouts To Collect Papers

Effective Feb. 1981, the Boy Scouts of Troop 76, voted unanimously to begin collecting newspapers and aluminum cans on a regular basis. On the fourth Saturday of each month between 8:00 A.M. and 12:00 Noon, they will go door to door collecting aluminum cans and aluminum scrap as well as newspapers. The items will be recycled and the money received will be put to its best advantage as Troop 76 so directs. According to Assistant Scoutmaster Ronald Hughes, their success depends on the support of the people of Harrington. Harringtonians are urged to help.

Boy Scouts of Troop 76, will be picking up newspapers this Saturday morning beginning at 8:30. If you have newspapers to pick up, Scout Master Wayne Melvin said please place your newspapers at the curb.

Tie Vote Halts Basics Plus School

A tie vote by a four-member Board of Education has apparently killed plans to open a "Parent Guided Basics Plus School" in the Woodbridge School District this September. The vote came at the climax of a tense special session attended by 150 to 200 people in the Woodbridge High cafeteria in Bridgeville, Monday night. Beginning on Feb. 14, and during the week which preceded the special board meeting, some 266 students had been registered in the proposed school.

Legally, the upshot of Monday's tie vote is that the proposal to create the school and to restructure the district to accommodate it is dead. State law, according to Woodbridge Superintendent Dr. William Griffin, mandates a majority vote for the board to take any action neither the opponents nor the proponents of the motion to go ahead with the school had a majority. The fifth board member, its President, William Tull, is still in the hospital recuperating from injuries sustained in a traffic accident and could not be present to break the tie.

Voting for the proposal were Norma Prettyman, who made the favorable motion, and Joan Conaway, who served on the Basics Plus Planning Committee.

"No" votes came from Elwood Webb and Acting Board President William Vanderwende. Vanderwende, whose vote was the tie-maker that blocked the Basics Plus proposal, said a plea by his son (a father with children attending Bridgeville schools) was probably "the straw that broke the camel's back." He said comments he had received were pretty much on the fence, or equally divided over the issue and further stated that if he had voted his own personal preference, it would have been in favor of the Basics Plus proposal which he called "a good idea".

Vanderwende also observed that the absent Tull would probably have been disappointed in him. But he did not clarify that observation.

During the session which preceded the vote, both Elwood Webb and Joann Conaway, for different reasons, were asked by members of the public to consider abstaining from voting. Janet Durig, who addressed the board and the gathering in opposition to the Basics Plus proposal asked Mrs. Conaway to consider not voting because she had served on the Basics Plus Planning Committee and could not, therefore, be impartial. Mrs. Durig's suggestion was countered later by Joe Conaway who contended that if any Board member abstained from voting, it should be Elwood Webb, who, he said, had not attended any of the public meetings concerning the proposal and had been absent the night the committee gave its status report.

Immediate reaction to the Board's verdict ranged from tears and quiet to outspoken determination that the Basics Plus issue was not dead, to expressed relief.

Following the final report of the Basics Plus Planning Committee which was read by its chairman Nancy Cullen, the meeting was opened to speakers who had requested the opportunity to present their views on the issue. Ground rules laid down by William Vanderwende that each speaker be limited to five minutes, were broken by almost as many speakers as observed them.

Included in Mrs. Cullen's report were the results of a survey asking public opinion of the creation of the Basics Plus school and the restructuring of the district, registration figures, a proposed staff of teachers for the Basics Plus School, the committee's recommendations, and comments on the problems it had encountered.

Of those who returned the survey forms, 221 community members with children and 65 without children were in favor of the Basics Plus Plan. 197 respondents with children and 114 without were opposed to the idea. On the question of restructuring the district, 231 of those with children and 62 without children favored the proposed changes. 176 community members with children, and 121 of those without were opposed. Woodbridge faculty and staff members responding voted 61-35 against the proposed school and 60-36 against restructuring the school district.

In the report the committee named a staff of 16 teachers for the proposed school and made several final recommendations to the Woodbridge Board of Education. These included:

-the implementation of the Basics Plus School, to be housed in the North Bridgeville Elementary School, in the

Little League Sets Open Meeting

The Harrington Little League Association will host an open meeting, Thursday, February 26, 1981, at 7:30 p.m. on the second floor of the Harrington Fire Hall. This meeting is open to all parents and persons interested in the Little League Association. We will be electing new officers at this time. So if you want to help or just find out more about the association, please make every effort to attend!

Lake Forest Kent County Band Members

Heritage Date Moved

Harrington's celebration of Heritage Day 1981 will be on Saturday, Sept. 12, rather than on Sept. 19, as originally announced. September 19 has been reserved as a rain date.

The date change was confirmed at an organizational meeting held Feb. 16 to form committees and begin making plans for the third annual Heritage celebration. The Greater Harrington Historical Society, which will again sponsor this event, is still welcoming all those who are interested to lend their help. Those who would like more information can call Ken McKnatt at 398-8354.

Once again this year, Grace Welch will be in charge of organizing the Arts & Crafts displays and demonstrations. Those interested in participating or who have suggestions of craftsmen to be invited can call her at 398-3635.

Tom Parsons will be chairman of the Flea Market, and Amanda Quillen will be the person to see for all those who have items of historical interest they might want to loan to the museum. She can be reached at 398-8555.

The Historical Society is hoping that church groups, organizations and individuals throughout the community will once again join in making the celebration of Heritage Day a successful venture.

Episcopal Church Opened To Public

Saturday was open house at the Old Episcopal Church (St. Stephens, on Fleming St. in Harrington). The weather was bad and the planned refreshments for the public was cancelled, but about 25 people showed up for the affair.

According to Greater Harrington Historical Society President Ken McKnatt "...our next plan is to look into the restoration of the floor. We want to get under there and see if the sills are ok. We have to find out what shape the sills are in. I think this is our next move." McKnatt said it was the hope of the Society to restore the old church to its original form, at least as close as possible. McKnatt said there will be a building committee formed to look into all aspects. They have located the stained glass windows, and according to McKnatt their present owner is having them restored in New York. He has 12 windows and when they are restored, for some of them are broken...he hopes to have about 6 that he wants $1,000 a piece.

French Club Travels To Canada

by: James B. Boyd

On the weekend of Feb. 5-8, 1981, twenty three lucky members of the French Club at Lake Forest High School along with their advisor, Mr. James Boyd and two guest chaperones, Dr. William Warren and Ms. Sheryl Shulties got their taste of a Canadian Winter first hand. The twenty three students, mostly Juniors and Sophomores, toured Montreal and attended the Annual Winter Carnival in Quebec City. Members of the group are: Jimmy Simmons, Glenn Govatos, Wayne Guesfried, Ben Cataldi, David Moore, Chris Schaffner, David Marvel, Larry Cooper, Todd Dennis, Sharon Spencer, Linda Mangel, Pearl Stewart, Lori Fournier, Eva Gruwell, Donna Underwood, Dottie Dill, Donna Blessing, Donna Wood, Stephanie Dopirak, Theresa Strachar, Valerie Voshell, Star Pettyjohn, and Cathy Harrington.

We left a bit sleepy-eyed at 5 a.m. on Thursday, Feb. 5. After a twelve hour motor coach ride, we arrived at the Holiday Inn in downtown Montreal. We were treated to a beautiful view of downtown Montreal from our rooms on the 18th floor. The ground was white with snow in Montreal, but the roads were clear. That evening, we joined a school group from Georgia for a medieval feast. We were entertained by a singing court jester, while being served by waiters dressed as monks. We were allowed no silverware (in the medieval tradition), and ate the delicious chicken, spare ribs, corn on the cob, onion rings, and fried potatoes with our fingers! A bit messy, but very good!

The next morning, we were given a tour of the Olympic Site, where the 1976 Montreal Summer Olympics were held. And, then a ride on the famous Montreal metro (subway) followed. We then visited the Montreal Botanical

DNRC Settles Suit With Perdue

A Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control suit against Perdue Farms, Inc. for sewage disposal violations at the company's Felton poultry processing plant has been settled with a $9,000 civil penalty. The suit, which was filed in Kent County Superior Court, charged that between August 1978 and June, 1979, Perdue violated the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination Systems permit which allows it to discharge treated wastewater into Fan Tax Ditch.

Delaware Diamonds

Thomas J. Moore was a resident of Frederica when he purchased from the heirs of Joseph Simpson for $5189.88 a farm in Murderkill Hundred bounded as follows: Beginning at an old marked corner Black Gum standing on the south side of the road leading from Berrytown to Canterbury being in a line of land of William M. Satterfield in right of his wife, Mary R., late the land of William Roe, deceased, and a corner for land of George W. Anderson and running thence south..east..to a stone in the old Stump of an ancient and noted corner Red Oak by the North Side of Bishops Branch and at the southeast corner of these premises being also a corner for land of Jehu Clifton...thence south west to a corner in the public road leading from Berrytown to Frederica being south..west..from a forked sweet gum standing on the North side of said Road, thence north...west...to a point in said public road at the centre of the Delaware Rail Road being a corner for lands now of Joseph Simpson thence north..east..to the place of beginning.

The sale to Thomas Moore also included "All that tract or parcel of woodland, situated in the hundred aforesaid adjoining lands of Samuel Needles, lands of the heirs of James C. Anderson, deceased, and other lands and bounded as follows: Beginning at a stake in the wood among some marked trees in a line of the land of the said Samuel Needles corner for these premises and land of the said Joseph Simpson and running thence North..west..to a corner in road leading from Berrytown to Canterbury..west of a small bridge, also a corner for land of James C. Anderson heirs thence south..east..to another corner of Anderson heirs thence south..east..to another corner of Anderson heirs on the southside of road, thence north..east..to a corner in the middle of said road also a corner for land of Joseph Simpson thence south..east..to a stake by the side of the field a corner for Joseph Simpson thence south..west..to the place of beginning containing about 31 acres."

This bit of woodland had been purchased by Joseph Simpson, Sr. from Major Nathaniel Young and his wife Elizabeth and was part of the lands formerly owned by Dr. John Maxwell. It was a portion of Maxwell's Adventure which David Maxwell had inherited from his father Robert and which he had mortgaged to Bedwell Maxwell his brother.

In October 1802 a deed filed in Kent County stated in part.. "David Maxwell for and in consideration of the just sum of 100 pounds current lawful money of the State of Delaware to him ..in hand paid by Sarah Maxwell..has granted Sarah Maxwell in trust for the heirs of

By Joyce Jefferson

Bedwell Maxwell deceased, forever, all the one sixth part of Maxwell's Adventure which is said to contain 38 acres of land." Witnesses were Jonathan Manlove and Joseph Hale.

Thomas J. Moore died in November 1859 and left to survive him his widow, Catherine and six children. Dr. John A. Moore, M.D. (who was living in Duck Creek at the time of his father's death); Mary C. (Moore) Luff wife of Nathaniel P. Luff; George Moore; Thomas J. Moore; and Elmira Moore who was a minor (she was also called Ella and later married Jefferson M. Luff).

When the Moore lands were resurveyed for the settlement of his estate the plans showed that some of the property had been divided into building lots and the bounds mentioned the "Town Limits".

Smokey White's pickup suffered front end damages...punctured radiator, crushed grill, bent fender, and bumper on Saturday when he hit a 156 lb. deer on the road between Farmington and Staytonville.

Completes Studies at Johns Hopkins

Mr. Nick Morris, son of Mr. & Mrs. Charles Morris, has completed studies in Neonatal Stabilization at Johns Hopkins University of Maryland and Baltimore City Hospitals. While at these institutions he learned: Airway management, Neonatal Ventilation, & Critical Care of the High Risk Newborns. These studies and the completion of the program enables Nick to work closely with the Pediatricians in the care of the Critical Newborn. Mr. Morris' duties include: Incubation of Neonates, Ventilatory management, Arterial Blood gas analysis, and Helicopter transport. He has flown with several critical babies and takes an active part in the newborn nursery.

Canadian Trip

Gardens, where besides the beautiful flowers, the biggest attraction was a group of Russian tourists who were also visiting the Gardens. Some of our students even managed to sneak pictures of them!

We had the rest of the afternoon to shop in downtown Montreal or return to the hotel for an indoor swim. In the winter, Montreal becomes an underground city. You could easily become lost in the underground labyrinth of shopping malls and passage ways.

After dinner, we spent the evening at the Recreathèque. This complex houses a disco roller rink, bowling alleys, a miniature golf course, and a discotheque. For twenty three high school students that equals plenty to do!

On Saturday morning, we left for the two and one-half hour drive to Quebec City. Although we had a picture perfect day, Quebec City had two-three feet of snow on the ground. But, what's a winter carnival without snow? The huge ice palace, beautiful ice carvings, and a toboggan run were among the carnival attractions. "Le-Bonhomme du Carnaval," a real live walking and talking snowman seemed to be everywhere-adding to the carnival atmosphere.

After a dinner of crepes (thin French pancakes), we attended the evening Carnival Parade. The parade featured many local school bands, lighted floats, clowns, etc.

About ten on Saturday evening, a tired group of "voyageurs" headed for the U.S. border for the long overnight drive home. We arrived at Lake Forest High School at 1 P.M. Sunday afternoon - Tired, but full of fond memories of one another, and of a Canadian Winter.

Junior All State Band

Two freshmen, members of the Lake Forest High School Spartan Band, were recently chosen to be included in the 1981 Junior All State Band. They are Pam Kreer [flute] and Oye Skaggs [clarinet]. Both the Junior All State Band and the Senior All State Band will perform in concert on Saturday, April 11, 1981, at the Lake Forest High School auditorium.

Representing the W.T. Chipman Junior Band in recent auditions held for the 1981 Delaware Junior All State Band were (in front) Phillip Cataldi [saxophone]; (in back) Carol Robinson [baritone], Gary Price [trumpet] and Rebecca Brown [trombone]. Rebecca was selected to be a member of the All State Band which will present its concert at Lake Forest High School on April 12.

but later withdrew her children from the Basics Plus School), and Bonnie Fleischauer.

Most outspoken proponent of the Basics Plus School to address the Board was Joe Conaway who came as an interested parent of a fourth and tenth grader in the district. (Conaway is also Sussex County administrator and husband of Board member Joann Conaway.) Saying that the majority of the students in the elementary school were below grade level, Conaway charged that the district is not providing the basic education its students need. He cited complacency on the part of school administrators and faculty willing "to settle for the status quo". He said that the Greenwood school is essentially a rural school (where most of the students are already bused), rather than a neighborhood school. Conaway contended that the situation of having children in grades one through three housed in the same complex as the high school is more likely to be the source of trouble than moving in Junior High students.

He said he was "tired of having two thirds of the district's residents paying taxes for the benefit of one third of its students and suggested that Basics Plus opponents were "playing a numbers game" with their petitions. Of figures showing more teachers opposed to the Basics Plus idea than in favor of it, he said teachers should be listened to, but are basically employees of the district, not running it. Conaway concluded his remarks by saying the Board had "no choice but to adopt a Basics Plus school and reorganize the district." After the tie vote which killed the proposal, he said the issue is not finished yet.

Others who spoke were Bill Fidler, who thanked the Board and administration as well as the planning committee for their hours of work in making residents of the district aware of Basics Plus, and Jo Ann Jones, a district teacher who suggested looking for the positive aspects of the alternative and who stressed the Basic concern or focus was the children.

After the vote, Nancy Cullen, final chairman of the planning committee, said "The concepts behind Basics Plus are not dead." Mrs. Cullen mentioned previously as acting principal of the proposed school, said she would return to her job as District Supervisor for Language Arts and to the task of preparing children to meet the minimum competencies.

Loisetta Galaska, parent member of the Planning Committee, said of the outcome, "It failed for the wrong reasons." Lack of knowledge was one of those reasons she cited as she claimed, "The community has rejected an opportunity to have a choice." Mrs. Galaska also said, "There are many ways to reach a goal. I don't believe it's a dead issue."

Woodbridge

district in September of 1981.

the relocation of the Woodbridge Junior High program from the Greenwood school to the Woodbridge High School building, and the immediate creation of the parent committees of the Basics Plus School and the retention, temporarily, of the Basics Plus Planning Committee to help oversee the development of the new school

Several other recommendations dealt with the organization of the proposed school.

Initial registration figures from Feb. 14 showed 224 students (192 white, 32 minority) signed up for the Basics Plus School. As registrants continued to come in last week the total grew. By Thursday at 6 p.m. it was 266 (201 white, 65 minority). 250 had originally been set as the minimum number of students necessary to justify the creation of the school.

Following the committee report, nine speakers addressed the Board and those assembled. Of the nine, about six were in opposition to the Basics Plus School.

Opponents questioned the continuation of registration throughout last week and the recruitment of students, especially minority students to fill the rolls.

Janet Durig, of Greenwood, mentioned petitions circulated last week and presented to the Board members on Friday. The petitions bore 521 signatures of residents and/or Woodbridge staff members opposed to the Basics Plus plan. She brought to the special board meeting additional petitions bearing 85 more signatures, also in opposition to the proposal.

In addition to the recruitment and registration questions, Durig stressed emphasis on basic education for all the district's students, teachers' opposition to the plan, problems with busing elementary students to Bridgeville or Greenwood, difficulties in setting up Junior High classes in the same building as the high school and the loss of what some residents consider a "neighborhood" elementary school in Greenwood.

Walter Gilefski, a teacher in the district, charged the Basics Plus Planning Committee with "selling, not investigating" the idea. He also questioned whether parents who had to be "recruited" to sign up their children were really the "concerned parents" who would commit themselves to the kind of involvement claimed as a plus for the alternative school. Gilefski also implied that not all of the teachers to be enlisted as staff of the Basics Plus school had been initial volunteers.

Debbie Harris, a JDG (Jobs for Delaware Graduates) Counselor in New Castle County who lives in the district, questioned the way in which minority students were recruited for the registration. Wondering whether most minority parents would really get involved, she looked askance at some of the ways in which she said they were induced to sign up their children for the Basics Plus School. She said at least one parent received a phone call saying that if he didn't sign up his child now, he would not be able to get in in September. Ms. Harris said the parent had no way of knowing that call was not from a school administrator or member of the Planning Committee. (William Vanderwende said that kind of recruitment had better not have come from the administration in the school district.) Harris also stated the opinion that the Basics Plus idea was needed throughout the schools in grades K to 12, not just for a few students.

Others who opposed the Basics Plus School and the consequent restructuring of the district were Joan Schaffer, Mrs. Wardwell (who had registered, thought there might very well be interested persons whose names would be written in next Monday. However another Council member, Helen Powers says she really does not expect to see any.

DELAWARE SCHOOL CHILDREN INVITED TO NAME SWANS.

WINTERTHUR, DE.-A pair of young trumpeter swans has been added to the bird population at Winterthur Museum and Gardens, and director James Morton Smith launches a contest open to Delaware Valley elementary school children to name the rare birds. The two winners will be announced on Saturday, March 14, during Family Day of Open House Week at Winterthur. WIP Radio (610 AM) will be the on-air voice of Winterthur's Name-the-Swan Contest.

Any elementary school child in the Delaware Valley may enter. There is a limit of one entry per child, and each entry must contain the following information to be eligible: name, address, home phone, age, name of school and teacher, and grade.

Get Together and Talk With Our Neighbors

Senior Center

By Dorothy Graham 398-3780

"You are not half sharp."
"Be a good girl!"
"Never say I can't, say I'll try"
"You are in good company when you are alone"

Above are some of the sayings some mothers told their girls when they were growing up many years ago!

The Center was closed Monday for George Washington's Birthday. Honestly, it seems as the spring weather has set in. Might be cold by the time you read this, but for now, it is unbelievably warm.

Missed Bible Study, of course. Band Practice with Sylvia at the piano. Mrs. Wilcutts said "one of the reasons I like to come on Tuesday Morning is the music from the Jolly Timers."

After all, the practicing there was singing and sounds so good from all present. Making the band go was Sylvia Meredith, Tony Perroni, "Andy" Anderson, Florence Minner, Cecil Meredith, Ella Golt, Pearl Hickman, Lili McBride, Mamie Adams, Roxanne & Marion Brown, Anabel Morrow, Gertrude Morgan, Jo Burke, Mildred Vincent, Elma Thorp, Elsie Neal, Ola Tilden & Bertha Dean.

Happy, Happy Birthday to all those smiling faces at the Birthday table Tuesday afternoon. The cake was beautifully decorated for Valentine's with roses for accent. Catherine Stevens made a delicious Bundt cake. Ice cream, cards and owls were the order of the day. The singing always lifts everyone's spirits. George Goodge presented a delightful movie. Dinner was so tasty, my favorite, "Chicken". Guess what? Wednesday was card time again and it was at Hazel Langrell's. Mildred Wagner was in Florida as was Kathryn Smith, so she had to have two substitutes. Then Virginia Willey was taken ill and couldn't play. Then Lanah called at 12 o'clock Wednesday and said that she had furnace trouble. Well, honey, listen, we had a wonderful time. Hazel had the spring place mats in place, the delicious dessert, ruby cake and hot coffee touched the spot. From then on it was Musical Bridge all afternoon. Fun for all. Conversation good. Party broke up a little late. Present was Nellie Stokes, Ruth Powell, Catherine Hickman, Ethel Rapp, Hazel, Mrs. Monroe and myself.

Thursday - Ceramics, local shopping pool, and friends. Helen Graisbury is making little crocheted egg covers and selling them for $1.00 each. John is challenging anyone who will to a game of checkers. Thursday was bowling at Milford. Friday - was Bingo with Elizabeth Anthony. Macrame with Gene, and Angels with Mabel Jean Donovan. Those helping with angels were, Anna Mae Short, Hazel Langrell Irene Welch, Joe Burke, Lillian Pearson, Dorothy and Edsel McCready. Velma Whitley kept busy with ceramics.

We have a few angels left. They are cute and if you place an order soon enough, you can have one for $2.25. Don't forget, Spring Bazaar April 3, 1981.

Best wishes to homebounds. Thinking of those ill in the hospital or at home. Take care! Thank you volunteers for everything - Charlotte for being so patient and kind and jobs well done. See you at the Center! Faith!!

Gabfest

By Pat Hatfield 349-4255

Almost every day the geese are going over, heading North. Dad saw another flock yesterday so high up they could barely be seen, and their lonely cry sounded ever so far away...but they know! An instinct within them tells them the time is now.

I thought of the approaching season and smiled to myself thinking of all the activity that must be going on beneath the earth, as the little insects and the wee seedlings get their call. It reminded me of one of my favorite paragraphs in Lowell's poem. "Every clod feels a stir of might, An instinct within it that reaches and towers, and groping blindly above it for light, climbs to a world of grass and flowers."

Dad feels the urge of the springtime, too. On one of these nice days, he cleaned up, pruned and evaluated his roses, and gave the clump of sage and honeysuckle and the crysanthemums what they needed. He is one of the world's great gardeners and loves working with the soil and plants.

My house plants have surprised me this year. They are "looking good"! Maybe I said the right things to them. I was disappointed in my nice bunch of coleus this winter. Last year it thrived wonderfully well on the kitchen window sill in water, retaining its color and growing nice roots in its charcoaled liquid. But this year it barely lasted until after Christmas.

Our winter hasn't been too bad, and yet almost everyone we talk to seems to have the winter doldrums. Each is living for the particular sign of spring that turns them on. For some, it is the song of the little Peepers, for some it is the singing of the birds, and for some the first tiny green buds. I relate to all of these, but I think right now I'd love to go out into the yard and fill my arms with golden daffodils. When the time comes that we can have our first bouquet on the breakfast table, they will be the personality of spring for me.

Today, it is only past noontime, and I am already looking longingly toward the easy chair. Dad and I decided this morning that it was time to give "Nikki", the Cocker a good bath. How he can get full of fleas in the winter time, I do not know, but that was a major problem. When he saw the big tub being brought into the utility room, he knew what was coming. He hides in a corner and refuses to come out until he is picked up bodily and carried to the bath. Then he submits quite humbly and bears up under it.

After the bath was done, and he was towled and left by the heater to dry, I hurried around to do the sweeping. He sheds enough hair every day to make another dog. Then I had to scrub the kitchen floor, so by lunch time, with my limited strength, I had had it. It is hard, too, to stay in the house with all that brilliant sunshine outside and the thermometer hovering around sixty-five.

Yes, there is old March up ahead. Grandfather Bennett would say, "This is a weather breeder, for sure!"

Anne's Kitchen

Too much month at the end of the money is always frustrating. What makes it worse is rising food prices. This recipe idea may help pull you through. It's a one-pot dinner, reasonably fast, and very simple. It is also a good idea for covered dish church suppers. Give it a try.

"Pork Chops with Rice"

- 4 - Shoulder pork chops (1 inch)
- 2 - Tablespoons olive oil
- 1 - Clove garlic (whole)
- 1/2 - teaspoon salt
- 1/8 - teaspoon pepper
- 1 - cup uncooked rice
- 1 - can tomatoes, 1 lb. 12 oz.

1. In a large heavy skillet brown garlic in 2 tablespoons olive oil. Remove and discard garlic.
2. Trim excess fat from chop and brown on both sides (about 15 minutes) over low heat.
3. Add salt and pepper

4. Sprinkle the uncooked rice over chops.
5. Pour on the tomatoes.
6. Cover tightly and simmer till rice is cooked.
7. If mixture becomes too thick, add a little tomato juice, or tomato juice mixed with water. You will need to do a little pot watching.

A nice green salad will go well with this tasty supper. Hot buttered biscuits, made from a good biscuit mix only take a few minutes and will turn the whole meal into something very special. Enjoy!

I would like to thank all those ladies who were kind enough to call and compliment my recipes. Your encouragement and interest are most appreciated. If you have any questions regarding any of my recipes, drop a note to me, at the Harrington Journal, and I will try to answer in the column.

I spoke with Ronald Draper regarding the Fire Company. There are a lot of things about the Fire Co. most people don't know. Ronald helped answer many questions. I found that there are two different Fire trucks. One is a pumper, and the other is a tanker that costs approximately $100,000.00 to $125,000.00. An ambulance costs approximately $50,000.00 They get State and County Funding, but most of the money comes from donations and annual fund drives for equipment and maintenance.

If you wanted to join the Fire Co., you would contact any member. You would submit an application, it is investigated and voted on. Then you must attend the fire school. If you are 16 years old, you must have your parent's permission. If you want to rent the hall, you can contact Mr. Charles Bostick at 284-3612. He can give you all the information about renting the hall for a wedding reception and dinner parties.

Thursday night is Bingo night at the fire house. The money raised helps pay for utilities and other needs of the fire company.

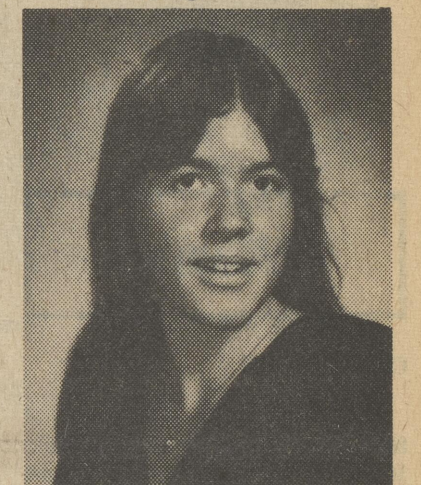

The Captain of our Fire Company is Mr. Wayne Wheeler. The Ambulance Captain is Mr. James Sluter. I think all of the men in the Felton Fire Co. deserve more praise than they get. The men are all volunteers who risk their lives for no pay.

I also spoke with Mrs. Joyce Sipple, President of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Felton Fire Co. Mrs. Marie Moore,

Secretary of the Ladies Auxiliary, informed me a lot of things the ladies do to help them.

Engagement

Brenda Lee Wyatt

Mr. & Mrs. James T. Wyatt of Felton, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Brenda Lee, to Michael Ira DeLong, son of Mr. & Mrs. Robert DeLong, Sr., also of Felton.

Miss Wyatt is a 1979 graduate of Lake Forest High School and is employed at Ware's Market in Felton.

Her fiance is a 1975 graduate of Lake Forest High School and is employed at C. T. Film in Harrington.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Frederica

By Mary "Toby" Johnson 335-5487

Girl Scout Junior Troop 469 and Brownie Troop 466 of Frederica with their leaders, Mrs. Margaret Tritle, Mrs. Shiril Callahan and Mrs. Louise Betts of Jr. Troop 469 and leaders of 466 Troop, Mrs. Barbara Nielsen and Mrs. Cheryl Martin had an evening of swimming at the Lake Forest High School Pool Wednesday, Feb. 4th. Thirty five scouts attended.

Junior Troop 469 guest for their February 18th meeting were exchange students of Lake Forest: Miss Kaoru Azauar from Japan, and Miss Amal Rizk from Egypt. They were dressed in their native costume and spoke about their countries. After the meeting, the girls from Troop 469 took pictures and gave their guests a friendship stick. The Troop roster presented them with a box of girl scout cookies. Sister Brownie Troop 506 and 466 were in attendance, too. Troop leaders of Brownie Troop 506 are Mrs. Diane Flanagan and Mrs. Kay Stubbs.

Miss Dorothy Stubbs of Frederica, daughter of Mrs. Charles J. Stubbs, Sr. and the late Mr. Charles J. Stubbs, Sr. and Mr. Dennis I. Hopkins, son of Mr. & Mrs. James Hopkins of Carpenters Bridge, were united in marriage at the Frederica U. M. Trinity Church, Saturday, Feb. 14, 1981, at 2 P.M.

Attendants for the bride and groom were the brides sister, Mrs. Robert Baggeley of Lewis, Del., and Mr. Kim O'Tolle of Frederica.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend George Bishop of Willards, Maryland and the Reverend Nelson Benjamin of Frederica.

Reception followed in the Church Social Hall.

The bride and groom spent their honeymoon in Rehoboth.

Thursday evening Feb. 19th, the Fire Co. Ladies Auxiliary served the Murderkill Lions Club, Ladies Night Banquet. The Lions celebrated their 30th anniversary.

The Auxiliary of the Fire Co. presented them a cake for the occasion made by Mrs. Bert Macklin.

President Mr. Wallace Wootten introduced all the past Presidents present and guests from several guest clubs. First President and wife Mr. & Mrs. Edgar Holleger were present, and Mr. Zora Tatman, past President gave the history of the club.

Gifts were presented to the Ladies by Past President Nelson Ellis.

The Spaghetti Supper, the V.M.M. served Saturday evening was really outstanding. If you missed it because of the wrong church ad in the Delaware State News, that's too bad. Guess the State News couldn't correct the error in time. The men and the ladies with the help of the M.Y.F. was really great.

Mrs. Joan Rogers and M.Y.F. met at the church for their regular meeting, Sunday evening, Feb. 15th. Plans are being made for a trip in the Pa. mountains. Ten members attending, report by Billy Betts.

Mrs. Joan Rogers and Mrs. Elizabeth Donovan of Frederica and Mrs. Diane Ayrey of Harrington gave Mr. & Mrs. Dennis Hopkins a reception in the Frederica Trinity Church Social Hall Sunday, Feb. 22nd from 2 p.m. to 4. They received many useful gifts and welcomed home by all the guests. Best Wishes and May God Bless. Dottie and Denny are now at home, 242 S. Market St., Frederica, Del.

Don't forget Toby's gift to Frederica's Top Lady, age group 20-39, for Community Service. Send a resume to "Toby, P. O. Box 214, Frederica, Del. 19946, by May 22nd. Judges will be announced next week.

Holly, Brian and Lee Warren arrived in Philadelphia Airport last Saturday morning with their dog and cat. Aunt Sarah Jane and Uncle Bill Hutchins met them.

Their Dad & Mom, Mr. & Mrs. Edward Warren of Scottsdale, Arizona arrived this Sat., Feb. 22nd, bag and baggage. They are welcome back home after living in Arizona for several years.

All "22" please meet at the Frederica Fire Lot, Saturday, Feb. 28th by 1 p.m., so we can trip off to Philly.

To all that are ill, wherever you might be, our prayers and best wishes. May God Bless.

Independent Bible Fellowship Church

We rejoice in the Lord's goodness to us this past Sunday with good attendance in all the services. Pastor Newman's message during the morning worship hour was titled, "He...is Precious" (1 Peter 2:7). To those who put their faith and trust in the Lord Jesus Christ, to them "He is precious."

more. Following the dinner, a game of Bible Baseball got underway. Mr. Larimore brought a devotional on Christ's Return, and the evening was enjoyed by all.

One month from this past Sunday, on March 22, we will begin our spring revival campaign which will continue through Friday, March 27. Evangelist Bob Hamblin will again be our speaker for the week. What a tremendous blessing he was to our Church last March. We feel confident that he will again bless our hearts through the preaching of God's Word.

Harrington Baptist Church

We shall have as our guest speaker Sunday morning the Rev. Minor Davidson, Director of the Cooperative Missions Dept. of the Baptist Convention of Maryland. Brother Davidson is a former missionary who is doing a fine job of directing our conventions mission outreach. You will not want to miss this exceptional man of God. We are indeed fortunate to have him open our Week of Prayer for Home Missions March 1-8. The church goal for this special offering is $400.00. Wed. - 10 a.m. - Crafts 6 p.m. - Youth & Children's Choir 7 p.m. - Prayer Meeting & GA's Revival services will be held March 29 to April 3. Begin now to pray for these meetings and invite those who are lost and without Christ. Brother Bob Depp of the Edgewood Baptist Church will be our speaker. "But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him." Hebrews 11:6.

Calvary Wesleyan Church

The theme for our Sunday School promotion is "March to Sunday School in March." Special days include Rally Sunday, Work Sunday, One More Sunday, Fill-a-Pew Sunday and Victory Sunday. Bible lessons on a graded level throughout the Sunday School. Sunday School convenes at 9:30. Pastor Miller will be preaching during the Worship Hour starting at 10:40. Mr. Earl Griffin will be the soloist. The Senior Choir will also sing under the direction of Rev. Harry Bradford. Wesleyan Youth meet on Sunday evenings at 5:45. The Senior Choir rehearsal starts at 6:00 and the Evening Gospel Hour is at 7:00. The hospital list this week includes: Mrs. Blanche Mitchell, Mrs. Myrtle Kemp, Mrs. Grace Sherwood, and Mrs. Eliza Stubbs. Mrs. Stubbs has since been returned to Milford Manor Nursing Home. Our Youth Group and Young Adults will host a group from Greensboro, Md. Wesleyan Church this Friday evening in volleyball matches. Activities start at 7:00 in the Fellowship Hall.

Prospect United Methodist Women

Sylvia Hughes and Dolores Ann Jolly, addresses unknown; and his paternal grandmother, Frances Jolly of Magnolia. He was never married. Services were Saturday, Feb. 21, at 10 at the Corleto-Latina Funeral Home 808 N. Union St. There was no viewing. Burial was in Cathedral Cemetery.

The United Methodist Women of Prospect Church met at the church, Feb. 19, 1981, with 13 members present and Rev. Markley. Julie Camper led devotions. She used love as her theme. She read scripture from 1 John 4:7-18. Her main point was an article, "Love Will Not Be Up." which said in part that love is patient, love is not envious, love gives many second chances, love acts as if everyone is important, love never stops trusting in God and love will never wear out or be used up. She closed with a poem "Before It's Too Late." It was all very interesting. The minutes, treasurer's report and CHARLETTE E. SLATER DOVER-Services for Charlette E. Slater were held 1 p.m. Monday, Feb. 22nd, at the McNatt Funeral Home, Harrington.

"The Earth Is the Lord's" will be the theme for the World Day of Prayer Service which will be held on Friday, March 6th, at 1:00 P.M. at Bethel A.M.E. Church, N.W. 4th St., Milford. Women from eight Milford churches will be conducting this service, to which the community is invited. The World Day of Prayer is always held on the first Friday in March under the auspices of Church Women United, when a chain of prayer reaches around the world as women of some 150 countries and islands unite to witness to their faith in Jesus Christ. It is a day when women of every religious tradition, race, age, economic status, and ethnic background become a visible community of faith as they worship ecumenically, and then go forth into our world to bring about justice and peace into the global neighborhood.

Lake Forest Girls Pull Off Southern Division First

By: "MACKEY"

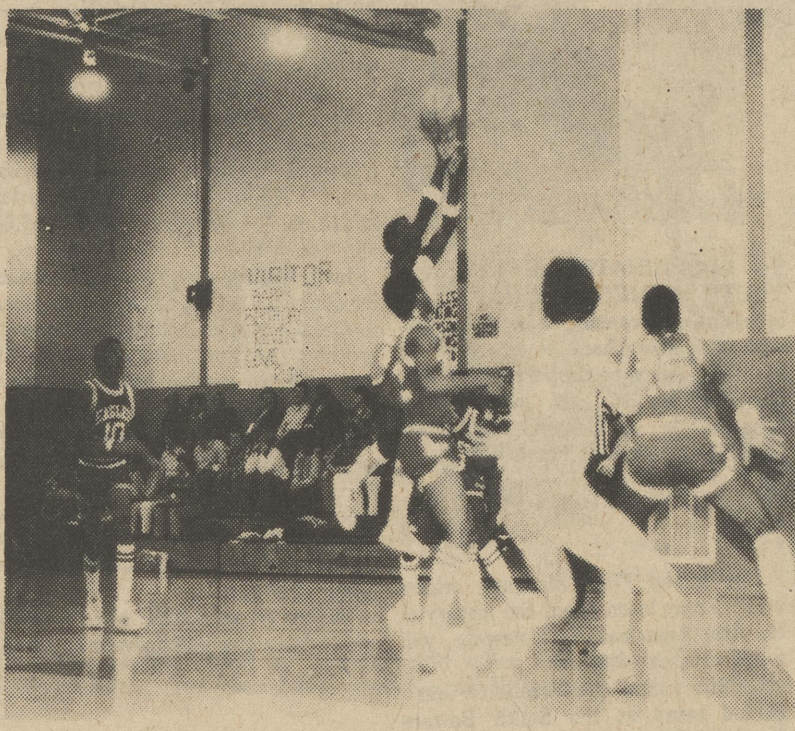

During Friday night's game, the Lake Forest Girls Basketball team pulled off first place in the Henlopen Conference Southern Division when they beat Smyrna 65-39.

Lake Forest started the game with a lead of 15 points at the end of the first quarter. Stephanie Tolson (3) showed everybody that she had the makings of a good basketball player when she rebounded a near miss by Dee Dee White (4).

High scorer for the game was Stephanie Tolson with 22 points to help lead the Spartans to their last victory to clinch first place in the Southern Division. Teammates Dee Dee White and Lotita Seth contributed 12 and 11 points each.

Lake Forest's Southern Division record is 12-3. Their overall record is 13-4.

Spartan Varsity Takes Second Place

By: "MACKEY"

Lake Forest Boys Basketball team pulled off second place in the Henlopen Conference Southern Division when they beat Smyrna 54-48 in Friday night's game.

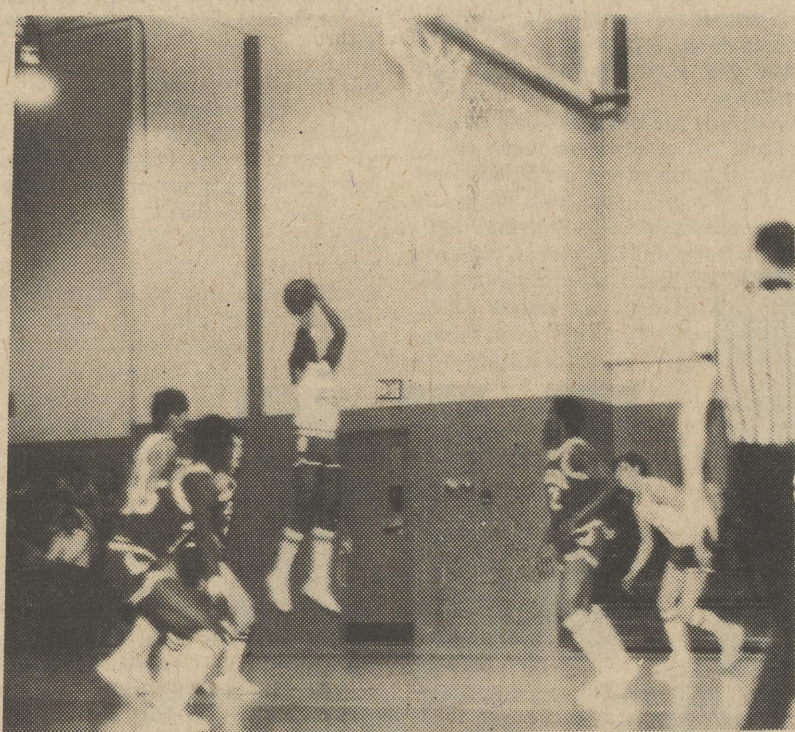

In order to take second place Lake Forest had to win at least one of their last two games. Although Lake Forest had some trouble with players because of academic problems, illness, and other school related problems they still showed that they had the winning spirit.

Ed Tucker, replacement for Neal

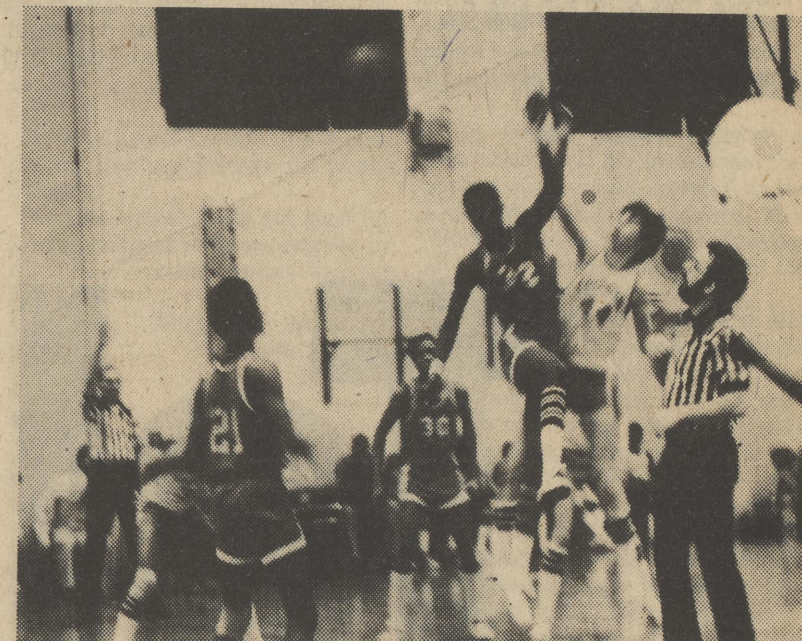

LaSalle, grabbed 10 rebounds Friday night. Center Kevin Moehlenkamp led the Spartans with 20 points, and Dale Benson added 11 points.

Lake Forest was down 2 points at the end of the second quarter 21-19. After that the Spartans got their act together and came back to beat the Eagles.

The Spartans not only showed the Eagles that they meant business on the court, but through their propaganda posters as well! "Eagles Hunting Season, Feb. 20 NO LIMIT".

OXON HILL, MD-- Rosecroft Race, "The Raceway on the Beltway," in Oxon Hill, Maryland, is opening on the earliest date in its 33-year history, as the 1981 Spring Meeting commences on Thursday, Feb. 26 and continues for 85 nights, ending Saturday, June 6.

The half-mile track is located just minutes away from Exits 3 & 4 (formerly Exits 37 and 37A) off the Capital Beltway, at 6336 Rosecroft Drive.

Post time is 8:00 p.m., rain or clear, with ten races nightly, Monday through Saturday. The nightly card features Big Triple wagering on the first and tenth races, and Exacta wagering on races two through nine.

"More than $100,000 has been spent on backstretch improvements," announced Earle Palmer Brown, president of Rosecroft, "including reshaping the racing track to its original contours which required the application and grading of more than 2,300 tons of bluestone dust."

Highlighting the racing season will be the 27th renewal of Rosecroft's most prestigious event--the William E. Miller Memorial Pace--scheduled for Saturday night, May 9. This year's event, which features the top three-year-old standardbreds in the nation, will compete for an estimated $85,000, the richest purse in Maryland harness racing history.

Then, two weeks later, Saturday, May 23, the top three-year-old filly pacers take the spotlight, competing for an estimated $45,000 purse in the John W. Miller Memorial.

In addition, Rosecroft will feature three Late Closer Stakes events, with horses from the U.S. and Canada eligible to enter.

An additional added feature is the Can-Am Pacing Series, which will take place at Rosecroft, Saturday, April 18, for a purse of $20,000. This exciting series is raced week-to-week at different tracks throughout the U.S. and Canada, culminating in a final purse of $100,000 at Yonkers Raceway in New York on Saturday, August 29.

Rosecroft General Manager, W.W. "Pete" Shaw, reports that the track has received 1,550 applications for the 731 available stalls, thus assuring the highest caliber racing, on a nightly basis.

1. Henlopen Conference girl's basketball championship will be held at Milford Senior High School on Tuesday March 3, starting at 8:00 P.M. In the event that Milford is involved, the ALTERNATE SITE will be Seaford Senior High School.

1. Henlopen Conference boy's basketball championship will be held at Seaford Senior High on Wednesday, March 4, starting at 8:00 P.M. In the event that Seaford is involved, the ALTERNATE SITE will be cape henlopen.

LF Aquatic Programs Offer Spring Courses

The Lake Forest Community Aquatic Programs are offering several course selections for spring. Water babies and pre-school lessons will be offered at mid-afternoon and after school hours. Adult lessons and swim-nastics will be offered on Monday and Friday evenings. On Saturday beginner, advanced beginner and intermediate swimming level classes will be offered. ARC advanced lifesaving and skin diving classes are also offered. Call Denny Berry for more information at 284-9293. Dennis Berry the Lake Forest Aquatic Coordinator has been selected to serve on the staff of the AAAPERD National Aquatic Institute. The Aquatic Institute is a week long educational experience for aquatic professionals, offering advance theory and technique programs. Many of the top professionals in the aquatic field from universities and colleges and high school recreation programs serve as staff here.

Wrestling Season Closes With Conference Meet

When you look at Lake Forest's Wrestling record of 2-9 you think to yourself that they had a bad season, but when you look at the team members individually you realize they did very well.

According to Mr. Shaffer, their record is very good considering the fact that the team is young. There were only two seniors on the varsity team - Doug Stevens and John Greene. They had only been on the team for two years. One of the biggest problems of the team was inexperience because of the fact that there was no J.V. team two years ago before Mr. Shaffer took over.

Last year and this year there were 30 hopefuls who came out for wrestling. Mr. Shaffer said this was one of the youngest teams in the conference. He went on to say that next year the team should be one of the top three because they will not lose too many wrestlers, but the other teams will.

The Henlopen Conference Championship meet was held Friday and Saturday, Feb. 20 and 21. Although the wrestlers from Lake Forest did a good job, none of them are going to the State Meet which will be held Feb. 27 and 28.

Following are the scores from the Henlopen Conference Championship. Also included are individuals scores for the season.

Sussex County 4-H

By: Kathleen Wiebel

Feb. 27 - Sussex County 4-H Reddy Foods Entries due.
 Mar. 7 - Feeder Pig Training, Univ. of De. Substation 10 to 2.
 Mar. 10 - Sussex County 4-H Leaders-Links Meeting, 7:30 Substation.
 Mar. 10 - Feeder Pig Project Registration due.

If you are a 4-H'er and interested in sharing your ideas and skills then consider participating in the Demonstration Contest, this year's contest is March 25, 4-8 p.m. at the University of Delaware Substation. The event involves preparing a show and tell type presentation that is 7-15 minutes long which will explain an idea from a 4-H

Did you know the 4-H Feeder Pig Project is open to all interested 4-H members? The project involves starting 1-3 market hogs around the first of April. On August 1, members will show their hogs and sell them at the Feeder Pig Round-up held at the Delaware State Fair.

This year, 4-H'ers will be able to purchase their hogs through a special show and auction on April 5 at Carrolls Livestock Market in Felton.

A special training session for the Feeder Pig Program is being offered on March 7 from 10 until 2 p.m. at the University of Delaware Substation. This session will cover care and feeding of feeder pigs and will be of interest to project. The presentation should relate to one of the 24 different categories offered, including photography, safety, foods and horticulture.

4-H members may participate in the event as an individual or as part of a team. Specific guidelines for preparing demonstrations are available from 4-H leaders or from the county 4-H office. All contestants will receive an award and top winners will be selected to compete on the state level.

The demonstration contest is just one of many events open to 4-H members. Others scheduled for March include the Reddy Foods Contest and Foods and Food Preservation judging.

For more information regarding the 4-H program, contact the Sussex County 4-H office at 856-5250.

An item of interest to 4-H'ers enrolled in the livestock program is the up-coming meeting of the Sussex County Livestock Club. Their meeting is scheduled for Feb. 24, 7:30 at the University of Delaware Substation. Featured will be two guest speakers from the Ralston Purina Co., discussing the care and feeding of market hogs and lambs. All interested 4-H'ers and their parents are urged to attend. Livestock Club meetings are open to all interested 4-H'ers.

TO COORDINATE 4-H FERRIS YOUTH PROJECT-Bob Lathrop, a specialist in greenhouse management with agricultural background, has been hired by Delaware Cooperative Extension Service to run job training program in agricultural skills for juvenile offenders at Ferris School.

ISLAND FIELD OPEN FOR VISITORS

The Island Field Museum, where visitors may learn about the history of the first Americans in Delaware, will reopen March 1st.

Exhibits, slide presentations and guided tours at the South Bowers Beach facility provide an understanding of the life of these early Americans. An archeological study collection and a library on regional prehistory are also housed at the museum.

Visitors are welcome on Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Sunday from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

-Northeast Farm Market Prices-

NEW YORK, N.Y. --Northeast farm market prices generally varied during the week ending Feb. 20th. According to the Agricultural Marketing Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Egg and poultry prices held steady while fruit and vegetable prices were mixed. Fluid milk supplies remained excessive of Class I needs.

FLUID DAIRY PRODUCTS
 Eastern milk market administrators announced the January uniform blend prices as follows: Order 1 $13.98; Order 2 $13.46; Order 4 $14.04; Order 26 $13.66; The Niagara Frontier $13.64 and The Rochester area $13.74.

Fluid milk supplies remained excessive of Class I needs. Surplus diversions to manufacturing facilities were heavier this week. Spot sales of Class I milk were steady at seldom better than slow to fair levels.

Condensed skim movement was slow to fair, occasionally improved when ice cream production picked up.

Cottage cheese production was improved in most areas as orders increased rather sharply, particularly where featured at retail.

The fluid cream market was still weak with a few signs of improvement noted.

FARMERS DEADLINE

May 15 is the deadline for farmers to file a report of acreage for Wheat, Barley, oats and rye in order to qualify for federal disaster deficiency payments and loans.

Spot buying interest was still slow in all quarters and prices were largely nominal.

Ice cream production increased in a few plants where retail features stimulated sales and depleted inventories. Elsewhere, the ice cream market was seasonally slow.

Eastern churns remained very active. A large portion of the butter was being offered to eec but, government warehouse space was becoming increasingly scarce. Sour Cream and cream cheese production were about steady at seasonal levels.

EGGS
 New York egg prices were unchanged. Movement was fairly good where features were in progress and generally fair elsewhere. Offerings and supplies were fully adequate to ample.

In Thursday's prices to retailers and cartoned sales to volume buyers, large went for 70 to 72 cents and medium brought 63 to 65 cents.

POULTRY
 New York broiler fryer retail and distributive movement was light this week. Buying interest for next week was no better than fair. Offerings were fully adequate to ample, with trading developing at 49 cents on Plant Grade and 50 cents on Grade A. Prices were unchanged to one cent lower than this week's deliveries.

Current broiler fryer negotiated prices for immediate delivery including multiple-drop shipments to New York City were 52 to 55 cents for Grade A and 52 to 54 cents on Plant Grade.

Delmarva broiler fryer ready-to-cook movement during the week was more or less of a steady nature. Buying interest was unaggressive for future needs as the market declined to a basic 49 cent level on Plant Grade. Current less-than-trucklot asking prices were 53 to 54 cents on Plant Grade and 54 to 55 cents on Grade A.

In New York chicken parts trading, there was a fair demand for rib breasts. This has kept supplies in close balance, with additional offerings light and confidently held. Buying interest on legs was light. Supplies and offerings were fully adequate to ample.

The prices paid per pound by first receivers of ice packed, delivered in pool trucklot and trucklot quantities were as follows: breasts 98 cents to $1.10, mostly $1.01 to $1.02; and legs 43 to 59 cents, mostly 46 to 48 cents.

Turkey movement of fresh hens was moderately good, while frozen was fair. Offerings were adequate. Trading on bagged toms was generally light. Trading activity on carlot and trucklot young turkeys, U.S. Grade A, frozen F.O.B. New York were 61 for 8 to 16 lbs hens and 60 for 14 to 22 lb. toms.

Film bags went at $1.35 to $1.40, while 10-lb. loose sold at $1.32 to $1.35. Baled 4-lb. film bags cleared at 75 to 77 3/4 cents; 50 lbs., including plain paper sold at $6 to $6.25.

TELL US

At offices throughout the Delmarva Peninsula helpful customer service representatives are standing by to assist you.

...We want to help

If you, or someone you know, are having problems paying gas or electric bills... TELL US, WE WANT TO HELP. This is especially important during the cold weather months. Let us know if there's a problem. We have many ways to help. Here are some of the services we offer:

COLD WEATHER POLICY

During the winter months special efforts are made to avoid service disconnections for non-payment of bills. If you tell us there's a problem, we'll suggest social agencies who might help, or try to work out some form of time payment plan to help you over the hump.

BUDGET BILLING

Customers who can use this levelized monthly payment plan can spread their energy costs over a 12 month period at a set rate. Contact your local District Office for further information on qualifications and details.

THIRD PARTY NOTIFICATION

Through a simple request, all notices of service disconnection will be sent to a third party. That party will not be responsible for the bill, but will be made aware that a shut-off is possible, in time to take some action. This can be especially helpful in protecting the elderly and those with physical problems.

MEDICAL EMERGENCIES

If there is an illness or medical emergency, certified by a licensed physician, that would be affected by termination for non-payment, call us and we will work with you to make satisfactory arrangements.

These are some of the things Delmarva Power is doing to avoid causing customers hardships or inconvenience. But, we can only help those who contact us. If you'd like our help... TELL US, WE WANT TO HELP. Call any of the offices listed below and speak to your customer service representative.

-Prospect United Women-

A new supply of vanilla was ordered. Our tape ministry is not being used to often. We have several tapes and a tape player which may be borrowed for 1 week at a time.

We decided to occasionally send cards to the older members of the United Methodist Women who are unable to attend our meetings.

The Church Cradle Roll needs to be updated. Anyone with information on this may get in touch with Vivian Dill. Since we did not know when Mrs. Lillie Sullivan was in the hospital with a broken wrist, it was decided to send her flowers for her birthday which is Feb. 22.

We will be having special Sunday evening services at Prospect during Lent.

Jeanette Legates made the motion that our meeting be adjourned. It was 2 o'clock. Delicious refreshments and good fellowship followed and were enjoyed by all. Mrs. Gertrude Hopkins was our hostess.

Respectfully Submitted,
Phoebe Anthony
Secretary

Calvary United Methodist Church

On Sunday afternoon, March 8, at 3:30 p.m. the United Methodist Women are celebrating the call to prayer and self-denial service. This is what Jesus calls all followers to do, pray!!! Deny yourself and follow Him. A lot of times, we say prayers, but we don't pray.

We are preparing children, ages 8 and up to be Acolytes and any young person who desires to become a member, see either the Lay Leader, Olivia Blackwell or the Pastor, Rev. Hamilton to participate in Confirmation Classes which are now being set up.

Davidson Chorus to Perform

The Davidson College Male Chorus from North Carolina will be heard in concert at 8 P.M. Tuesday March 3, 1981, in the first Presbyterian Church Sanctuary, Milford, De. The Tarheel collegians will make appearances in numerous cities throughout the East during their current Spring Tour.

Termed by music critics as one of the finest touring choral groups in the southeast with 31-selected voices, the Chorus was formed more than seventy-five years ago by student directors. It now publishes its own choral series for male voices and has made four recordings.

Grown steadily in size and quality, the Tarheel singers have sung joint concerts with women's colleges in the east and made numerous network TV and radio appearances. In past seasons the Chorus has appeared in four operas and two symphony productions in North Carolina.

Davidson College includes music as a major department in its liberal arts program, and more than 100 students each year try out for the Male Chorus, one of the few remaining all-male touring groups. None of the singers receives academic credit for their extensive training and public appearances.

The public is cordially invited to hear these outstanding singers.

THOUGHTS FROM DOVER

By Gov. Pierre S. duPont

Delaware is stepping forward as the nation's newest center of business and finance. We are doing so, first, because we want to enhance our State's economy and secure more and better jobs for our citizens, and second, because we can see that there are major changes occurring in the way the nation does its banking and its business.

Last week I signed two bills, encompassing a series of complex, yet essential changes in the State's banking laws. These bills were developed during many months of careful study and consideration by my Administration. They were debated thoughtfully by the legislature and subsequently enacted with appropriate caution. Many citizens, as well, took their time to express their views. The result is a series of changes in the State's banking laws--and the opportunity they present for Delaware to become a leading center for new business.

Like many other businesses in recent years, changes are coming rapidly to the banking industry. The age of electronics and telecommunications has resulted in new and expanded services offered by financial institutions. At the same time, federal regulations are becoming obsolete, in part because of the nation's economy, and because of a new recognition that they were barriers rather than protections. We now see Washington enacting, for example, proposals to allow interstate banking. And we see non-banking concerns offering services previously limited to banks.

States are beginning to recognize these changes and are growing sensitive to the banking needs in their own areas. Delaware, proud of its "First State" status, becomes one of the first states to recognize the trends and respond with this historic piece of legislation.

What will this mean to Delaware? Already, two of the nation's leading bank holding companies--J.P. Morgan and Co., and Chase Manhattan Corp.--are preparing to establish new subsidiaries in Wilmington, providing 600 jobs. The banks will not be competing with local banks, instead will be offering assistance to out-of-state customers. Other banks are also considering establishing themselves in our State. And there is the substantial potential for other credit card companies, for mail-order houses, and for other related businesses to establish themselves in Delaware.

In the long run, the benefits are substantial. Delaware is a state that is dependent upon agriculture and the manufacturing of chemicals and automobiles. We must broaden our economy. We must do so by encouraging local businesses to expand here and by attracting new industries, such as the banking industry, to locate in Delaware. By diversifying our economy, we help stabilize the economic health of our State.

The banking and related industries, which will take advantage of our new laws, provide the kind of jobs and businesses we are seeking. They are a growth industry, they are non-polluting, and they pay good wages.

Keeping In Touch

With Tom Evans

BOLD NEW PLAN--TIME FOR ACTION

I believe the President has given the country a bold new plan to get us out of the economic quagmire that we are now in.

And, I'm happy to note that the very center of the President's plan are the 30 percent, across the board, three year tax cuts that I first proposed almost four years ago.

The President has combined the Roth-Kemp tax cuts with some very tough, detailed spending cuts. This package is designed to get the federal government off the backs of the people, lower inflation, stimulate the economy and create jobs.

This is the first comprehensive economic blueprint I have seen from a President in my fourteen years in Congress and it comes at a time when America desperately needs to get moving again.

It's important that we study the cuts to ensure that Delaware hasn't been asked to bear more of the burden than is its fair share.

However, we must remember that this country is in serious economic straits. America cannot afford to postpone its recovery because there just isn't enough time left to reschedule the game.

That's why I am deeply disturbed over the reports quoting the leadership of both Houses that action on this economic package will be slow in coming, possibly not even until next year.

Every day that passes without Congress acting on the President's package means more and more misery for millions of Americans.

The American people do not want this Congress to play politics, or business as usual, with their economic futures.

They want swift and decisive action. They want a change.

That's why I've introduced a "Sense of the Congress" resolution committing the Congress to act on the President's proposals no later than May 31. It is my hope that the resolution will receive bi-partisan support, because the answers to our present problems must be solved in a bi-partisan way. Failure to act could mean economic disaster to millions of Americans.

This is not the time to play politics. This is the time for action. There isn't time to do both.

Understanding A.C.T.

A.C.T. Public Meetings for March 1981.

Tuesday the 10th at Howard Johnson's, U.S. 13 and Hares Cr., New Castle Saturday the 21st at Perry's Steak House, U.S. 13, Dover.

Do you remember hearing a lot about equal opportunity employment? Today you hear much about places to call or write if you think you've been discriminated against.

What really is equal employment and discrimination? Let's look at equal opportunity employment first. Equal according to Webster's Dictionary means the same in degree, quantity, number, value, rank, age.

Opportunity means a favorable opening for moves to one's own advantage; a convenient time or occasion.

Employment means a state of being employed, that at which one is employed; an occupation.

One very important thing we must notice at the very beginning is that, that which is equal is the opportunity not the people in this case. So in effect what equal opportunity is all about, is in America the decisions of advancement, for personnel employment is equal for everyone. It doesn't matter who you are, or what you are, the opportunity is there, it's up to the individual to take the initiative. We hear much about people being underprivileged, for various reasons, be it wealth, or education, race or sex, the truth of the matter is we have confused equality of opportunity with equality of ability. The bottom of the line is that everyone doesn't have the same ambitions, goals, abilities and degree of intelligence. But they surely do have an opportunity to go as far as they can go with what they have to go with, and better yet in America's vast places of learning if they really set heart and sail there is no telling where they can go. You only need initiative.

Now let's look briefly at job discrimination. Again Webster says discrimination is: to make distinction, to treat differently.

We have somehow today confused ones abilities and experience, with his character.

The ones who say someone is underprivileged are the ones who discriminate.

When an applicant applied for a certain job and the employer refuses to take the application for any reason other than not taking applications at all from anyone, he is discriminating.

Our present government quota systems do that very thing by forcing the hiring of minorities.

Let's return to the basic principles of a free economy where it's recognized that abilities and initiatives are a must to make an employer's business prosper and it's his choice based upon the application he receives.

Biden Report

By Sen. Joseph Biden Jr.

Decontrol of the prices of oil, gasoline and propane is causing undue hardship on all American families. And I believe the action taken by President Reagan to decontrol violates the law. I therefore filed suit in federal court to seek suspension of the President's action.

The suit, filed jointly by members of Congress and consumer organizations stems from an apparent violation of the emergency allocation act which requires that provisions of the Economic Stabilization Act of 1970 be followed with regard to notice and hearing of actions.

The law requires a public hearing to the maximum extent possible if the President plans a change in prices which may have a significantly large impact upon the national economy. There certainly can be no argument that the Reagan decision has had a significant impact on energy costs to consumers. Prices have already jumped eight to 10 cents a gallon for gasoline and home heating fuel. And oil companies are assuring us that we will be paying no more than two dollars a gallon by the end of the year.

That is obviously not very reassuring to people already hard pressed to meet their fuel bills. If interested parties had been given notice and opportunity to be heard before the decision was announced--as the law clearly requires--at least some of the worst effects might have been avoided or mitigated. That's why we are asking for this injunction, and I hope the court will give us a favorable hearing.

By filing this action, I am not challenging the President's authority to decontrol the price of oil before October 1, 1981, although I do disagree with his action, but all of the parties to the suit are agreed on the basic proposition that the federal government must obey the law, especially where it concerns public participation in decision making on important energy matters and on matters where Congress has spoken forcefully, repeatedly and uniformly.

I have joined with a contingent of the Maryland - Delaware Congressional delegation, in seeking from the new Secretary of Agriculture of the United States action to correct a departmental decision which discriminates against Eastern Shore farmers.

Two years ago USDA excluded from a cost-share conservation program the practice of agricultural land drainage. Drainage practice is important for long term conservation of farm lands in parts of Delaware and Maryland because it can prevent salt water encroachment, erosion and run-off problems. Although the USDA program seeks to curtail all of these problems, they apparently are hung up on the word drainage.

We members of Congress did not reach our decision to seek prompt action lightly. I have attempted to correct the problem ever since it was brought to my attention about two years ago. After further and extended consultation with the Soil Conservation Service, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service and numerous farmers in Delaware and Maryland, the entire delegation representing the Eastern Shore of Delaware and Maryland has joined together to seek correction of the problem which could have a serious impact on rural economies.

President Reagan's recent address to the nation on the state of the economy was forthright, honest, and correct. As everyone in this state knows by the shrinking of the elasticity of their own overstretched dollars, our economy is deplorable.

As reflected by my own attempts since 1975 to bring spending under control both by forcing Congress to accept direct responsibility for authorizing the spending of the 75 percent of the total budget or $500 billion that it does not now control and by providing that Congress must regularly take positive action to continue a program or it automatically goes out of existence, I am in total agreement with reducing federal spending.

In fact, had Congress adopted the 1981 Federal Budget which I helped draft, we would have a balanced budget today, the first in over a decade. Federal deficit spending, unnecessary and wrong is a direct cause of inflation -- that President Reagan and I agree on.

I do, however, have serious reservations regarding his proposed tax program. It will, as proposed, I am convinced, further fuel inflation. If the thrust of the Administration's and the 97th Congress' economic initiatives are designed to curtail inflationary pressures, the proposed tax program will negate the positive impact of reducing federal spending. Furthermore, the tax program will provide disproportionate benefits for the well-to-do at the expense of the middle income tax payers who are suffering most from the ravages of inflation.

Generally, I am in favor of regulatory reform but it is difficult to judge the generalities of the President's comment on that matter. Regulatory reform, I caution, may become a repeal of our environmental laws. That I will fight, for if it happens, we might find the industrial wastes from Pennsylvania flowing down into Delaware, contaminating drinking water and destroying Wildlife and resort attractions.

Jack Anderson Washington Merry-Go-Round

WASHINGTON -- Last December, we urged President Ronald Reagan to appoint Ernest Fitzgerald as the new comptroller general of the United States. The position will be open in March.

It would be difficult to find anyone better qualified than Fitzgerald to ride herd on the government's big spenders. He was the Air Force watchdog who blew the whistle on the C-5A transport plane scandal in 1969. He informed Congress about the Lockheed Corporation's shoddy workmanship and $2 billion cost overrun.

The Pentagon brass angrily fired Fitzgerald, but he took his case to court and forced the Air Force to rehire him. He was given a dead-end job shuffling papers; his talent for spotting waste and corruption went unused.

Now we are pleased to report that our December story has stimulated support for Fitzgerald. Such influential senators as Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., and William Proxmire, D-Wis., are now backing Fitzgerald for comptroller general.

This is important because, starting this year, candidates for the position are selected by an ad hoc committee of congressional leaders. The president selects the comptroller general from the names submitted by the committee. He can reject as many candidates as he chooses and thus, as a practical matter, select the comptroller general of his choice.

Unfortunately, there is one congressional leader who may oppose Fitzgerald. He is House Speaker Thomas "Tip" O'Neill, D-Mass. Why is O'Neill nervous about Fitzgerald? Sources told our associate Indy Badwar it's because of Fitzgerald's role in pressing for an investigation of the General Services Administration. This made life miserable for Robert Griffin, who was the deputy administrator and a protégé of O'Neill's.

But Fitzgerald is a proven, dedicated bulldog, and we hope President Reagan will appoint him to chew on the ankles of the big spenders in the federal government. The president could do a lot worse; he could not do any better.

STAR WARS?: A few weeks ago, the Soviet Union launched a space satellite that could have serious consequences for the United States. It was a "killer satellite," and it is designed to destroy our spy satellites, which are relentlessly orbiting the Earth.

These spy satellites have become essential to the security of the United States. They alert intelligence analysts to Soviet missile deployments and troop movements.

The Russians have tested 18 killer satellites since 1968; 11 of the experiments have been successful. The latest test, a few weeks ago, worked to perfection.

The killer satellite resembles a compact rocket. It is some 15 to 20 feet long and about 5 feet in diameter; it weighs about 2.5 tons when it is launched. Four of its five engines are used for maneuvering in space as it seeks out spy satellites. The fifth engine makes the adjustments that are necessary to get it in the same orbit as the target. When it is about 100 feet from the target, the killer satellite is detonated and the spy satellite is brought down with flying shrapnel.

BUDGET BLUES: The governors from 18 states descended on Washington a few days ago for a meeting with the president. Half of them were Republicans who had made speeches against federal spending during last fall's election campaign.

The governors first held a private strategy session, then proceeded to the White House where they presented the president with a confidential memorandum. The meeting itself was cordial, but the memo wasn't. It complained about cuts in welfare and Medicaid funds and warned that planned reductions would have disastrous effects on the states.

Some of the governors also pleaded for the states' special interests. The state executives from the Northeast, for example, argued against cuts in urban renewal funds. One Republican governor, Lee Dreyfuss of Wisconsin, warned the president there would be "screams" if the milk price-support program is touched.

President Reagan tried to calm the distraught governors. He agreed to let them send their own state budget directors to Washington to meet with his cost-cutters. The president also promised the governors he would consult them before the final budget is sent to Congress.

FUDDLE FACTORY: Uncle Sam spent four years and $75,000 building a contraption to test the durability of sofas for federal offices. The machine whacks the sofas a couple of hundred thousand times. If the couch survives, then it is certified durable enough for bureaucratic beholds.

--There is a hidden cost to the millions of tax dollars that are wasted on government junkets. Besides the expenses of transportation, meals and lodging, it costs a bundle to pay for processing all the travel vouchers through bureaucracy. Experts estimate that the paperwork for junkets cost as much as $400 million a year.

--The federal bureaucrats communicate with each other in a special language that is often called "bureaucratese." We call it gobbledygook. What, for example, is a "re-employed annuitant"? In plain English, it's a civil servant who retires from the government and is then rehired as a consultant at a fat salary.

Letter to the Editor

Many people, in fact probably all, are feeling pressures today because of rising prices and high taxes. Many see their earnings shrink in higher tax brackets while prices continue to rise. Most people believe that income taxes are needed to run the government. Most I talk to have the idea that they (income taxes) are necessary and the government cannot operate without them. Bear facts are, though, that every single aspect of our lives are taxed to the hilt. Follow a loaf of bread, raw from the farm to the finished product on the counter, and there are over a hundred taxes on it. Our properties are taxed, all purchases are taxed, our income, salaries, tips and every other imaginable thing as well. Our great nation for over 100 years existed without most of them. The Constitution of the United States, Art. 2, Sect. 8 lays out the power to tax. If the 16th amendment is applied to wages and salaries, then it is in opposition of Art. 2, Sect. 8 and anything added that violates must be done away with.

There is a resolution that has been introduced to Congress known as House Resolution 23 or the Liberty Amendment that would repeal the 16th Amendment. It is my call to the people to write their congressman and get this bill passed.

We see today in our nation the result of Government intervention in private affairs. We have thousands of well intentioned programs subsidized by the government. People are crying for tax cuts but no one wants to give up their programs. Let's again become self supporting free people keeping our earnings and then we can again have the means to help others. Let's face the facts, when 40 to 60 percent of our earnings go to pay bureaucracies to run the programs, some change needs to be made.

Here's some of my suggestions:

1. Abolish Federal Reserve System... 80 billion a year saving in interest paid to them. Total personal income tax received does not pay even the interest amount on the national debt. We can print United States notes again totally, they are not borrowed.

2. Stop living on credit for luxury.. pay as you go or don't go.
3. Abolish Federal funded programs which cause bureaucracy, return to local help. (note it can be done when people keep their earnings)
4. Study the United States Constitution, learn it, become aware of your rights and responsibilities under it. You will then be able to better determine who to elect to represent us. If they vote contrary to the constitutional guarantee of life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness, replace them with someone who does not vote contrary.
5. Write your congressman, keep them informed on how you want to be represented. Keep in mind that the only reason they sometimes vote the way they want to, is because we don't inform them of our views on issues.

The recent Delaware Electric Coop. incident is proof of what people united can do. Let's A.C.T. now before it's all done.

Dear Editor:

I recently made a purchase at the Harrington Hardees Restaurant. I gave them a $10 bill for a large cup of coffee, and I forgot to pick up my change. Two days later when I returned to purchase another cup, the waitress returned my change to me... without my asking for it. I really have a lot of respect for a company like that and its staff.

Sincerely,

Robin's Recipes

This column is for my use as well as yours. My name is Robin Zareo and I am a 3 year 4-H'er. I'm working on getting a trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago. I'd like to try for food safety. This column is to help me with this. By putting a recipe in this paper, each week after this, I will give you my favorite or others I know, their favorites. This will help with my records that I will eventually have to turn in.

I hope you will enjoy making them as I do. It will sure help me as a pretty active 4-H'er. I enjoy cooking very much.

4-H Family Night Celebrated

The members of the Greenwood Hi-Flyers 4-H Club invited parents and friends to the annual Family Night Covered Dish Supper, held Tuesday, Feb. 16, 1981 at the Greenwood VFW Hall. Ninety people attended, and enjoyed the delicious dinner. Russell Carlisle, President introduced all members of the 4-H club as well as the leaders, Mrs. Anna Tucker, Mrs. Dolores Reed, Mrs. Winifred Vincent, and Mrs. Carol Carlisle. Special guests included: Miss Kathleen Wiebel, Sussex County 4-H agent, Mrs. Helen Garey and her house guest Miss Katrin Luthi from Ittigen, Switzerland. Miss Luthi is the AFS Exchange Student attending Woodbridge High School. She showed slides of her home and family in Switzerland. Door prizes were awarded with a special gift to the Tommy Tucker Family with six members present at the supper. Family night is an annual affair held to keep the parents informed of the 4-H activities and as a way to say thank you to the parents for all the help they give to the 4-H members.

Delaware 4-H Horsemanship Clinic

There will be a 4-H youth horsemanship clinic Saturday, March 14, at the Delaware State Fairgrounds in Harrington. The program starts at 9 a.m. and ends at 5 p.m.

During the all-day event, Marc DeChamplain, a quarter horse trainer from Rockwell, N. C., will discuss several topics, including how to select a horse, proper dress, showmanship and horsemanship. Emphasis will be on Western-type skills. He will also talk about careers in the equine industry. A trainer and showman, DeChamplain holds an AQUA judge's card and runs several clinics a year at his Rockwell facility.

There is a pre-registration fee of $3 to attend—$5 if you register the day of the clinic. Lectures will take place in the dining room of the state fairground restaurant. Demonstrations will be held in the horse show pavilion. This event is co-sponsored by the Delaware Cooperative Extension Service, the Delaware 4-H Horse Advisory Committee and the Delaware Quarter Horse Association. Though designed primarily for 4-H youth, the clinic is also open to the general public. To register or obtain further information, call your county extension office in Newark. (738-8965), Dover (736-4675), or Georgetown (856-5250).

Harrington Sunshine 4-H

Seven members of the Harrington Sunshine 4-H Club presented an informative program entitled "What is 4-H?" to the Burrsville Ruritan Organization on Thursday, Feb. 12, 1981. After a brief explanation of the organizational aspects of 4-H and a word about projects by the leader, Mrs. Jane Everline, the members presented highlights of a year in 4-H.

Denise Yannucci gave her public speaking speech about her 3 dogs.

Next Kim Zeitler explained the Reddy Foods program complete with table setting and Cherry Cream Cheese cupcakes. Sherri Freer had helped prepare the cupcakes, but was ill and unable to attend.

Kirk Ryan played a piano solo, Theme From Exodus.

Karen and Crystal Gerardi gave their state winning demonstration, "Did you know a cow has a birth certificate?"

Robin Zareo explained Dress Review and modeled the outfit she had made as a participant.

Kirk Ryan then asked the Ruritan members to join in a judging contest. As Kirk showed slides of the weeds used in the field crop judging contest, the Ruritan members were asked to identify them.

The program closed with the members repeating the 4-H pledge.

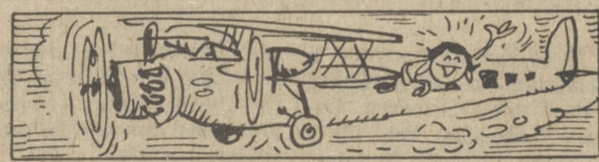

Leaders assisting Mrs. Everline were Mrs. Deanne Ryan and Mrs. Jane Zeitler.

Girl Scout News - Felton Junior Troop 738

Scouting is their game! Camping is their aim!

That's the way Jr. Troop 738, from Felton feel!

The activities over the last month and a half have been busy ones.

Ten weeks of skating lessons at Steele's roller rink in Felton began on Jan. 10th and continues until March 10th.

After flag ceremony on Jan. 26th, Mrs. Dolores Swain, co-leader discussed with the troop, the (release of the hostages), being of free people and sang God Bless America.

Cookie sales were held Jan. 29th - Feb. 15th. Scouts and parents were out in full force taking orders for their troop. The monies from the sales will provide for camping trips, pins and badges.

On Feb. 2, we began making plans for the upcoming camping trip. Each scout helped in planning the menu and all materials were brought in for (fire starters). New to some scouts were peeling potatoes and carrots. They did this during the meeting. Also for some, this will be their first experience in camping.

On Monday evening, Feb. 9th, the United Methodist Church of Felton, invited the troop to go skating as their guests to the newly decorated and remodeled skating rink at Dover. Transportation to and from Dover was provided by the leaders. Scouts attending, Valerie Apt, Brandi Brown, Amy Dix, Tayna Kemp, Angie Kersey, Lisa Melvin, JoAnn Saulsbury, Lori Schusterstein, Nancy Shanhan, Chyster Singer, Kathy Stewart, Vicky Swain.

Leaders - Dolores Swain and Sylvia Kemp.

Chaperone - Louise Aptt.

The troop and leaders thank the church for the fun evening.

Scout Bobby Jo has moved. Scouts Vicky Swain and Valerie Aptt have been on the sick list. Also Vicky celebrated her 10th birthday on Feb. 6th.

Cookies will be delivered March 2-21. Happy Scouting.

JDG Regional Conference Held

By: MACKEY and TAMMY STEVENSON

Lake Forest Jobs for Delaware Graduates had its annual regional conference at Dover High School on Feb. 21. This conference prepares chapter members for the state conference which will be held in April.

They were instructed on how to talk on the telephone to get an interview. Other areas were in decision-making, how to prepare yourself for an interview, and public speaking. This regional conference started at 9 a.m. and lasted until 4 p.m.

Senior Division Chapter 1 advisor Clint Rowland and Chapter 2 advisor Penny Wood received a prize of $25.00 for having the most members present. In the Junior Division, advisor Sherrie Dill received a prize of $25.00 for having the most members present in their division.

A general assembly was held at the end of the conference at which time certificates of appreciation were given.

Lake Forest Marks OEA Week

By: Pandora Scott

Lake Forest held its annual OEA week during February 8-13. Events included were best all around business student on Monday, best all around business teacher Tuesday, dress up day Wednesday, and on Thursday OEA students were required to wear OEA colors of green and yellow.

Contests are being held this week to determine entrants for the state convention. An awards banquet will be held on March 5 to announce results of the contest. Top winners will receive medals and pins; others will receive certificates of participation.

OEA is also holding its annual international winter special olympics. Money to help support this event will be raised by OEA students selling candy bars.

Local awards for best salespeople will be given, and they will be placed in state competition for the overall best salesperson. This will be held at the Radson Hotel in Wilmington. The Special Olympics will be held in Vermont.

-Letter to W. T. Chipman Parents-

Dear Parents of W.T. Chipman Students,

With so much testing going on in our schools today, you must find it hard to get the whole picture. Every student in the Lake Forest District must take the minimum competency tests. These are the tests which Mrs. Davis, principal of the W.T. Chipman School, wrote about in a recent "Harrington Journal" article. Our students are taking these tests now. When the competency testing has been completed, Mrs. Davis will have additional comments in another article about this particular aspect of our program.

Sometime between March 23 and April 3, 1981, all students in Delaware schools, grades 1-8 and grade 11, will take the California Achievement Tests. This is a part of the statewide testing program and is under the direction of the Department of Public Instruction. Meantime, back in early December, eight grade students at Chipman took Differential Aptitude Tests. With this test, we try to find out what the student can do. (The achievement tests indicate what he or she is doing). Aptitude tests are very important. I shall list some ways in which I think they are helpful:

(1) They provide an impartial picture of the range of the student's abilities.

(2) They expose strengths, which may be in non-academic areas; e.g., in mechanical reasoning or space relations.

(3) They provide a basis for the student to make a realistic assessment of his/her abilities in a given area. This in turn, can be considered in determining areas of work where success can be expected.

(4) The Verbal Reasoning score, if very much higher than spelling and grammar, suggests that with extra help and work the spelling and grammar scores can be improved.

(5) This test, together with report card and teacher recommendations, can be helpful in making realistic choices in selecting school courses.

I should add that no test has been devised which will measure how hard a student is willing to work nor can we know what extra help is available to any given student.

As soon as the competency tests are completed, I shall be sending home the results of the aptitude tests. There is a great deal of information on the report form. However, if anyone is interested in a conference concerning these test results, please feel free to call the office to arrange for an appointment. I am willing to meet with you after school hours, if that is more convenient for you.

Sincerely,
Sarah S. Webb,
Counselor, W.T. Chipman

Questions regarding course content may be directed to Rich Marchese, Terry Campus Science Instructor, at 736-4455.

On Sweetheart's Day, Feb. 14, Judy Moehlemkamp and Sam Sturgis were united in Holy Matrimony.

Mr. & Mrs. W. G. and Rita Hart of Canterbury, parents of the bride, attended the wedding in St. George's Church, in Wilmington.

The reception was held at the Hotel DuPont.

The bride and groom are residing in Wilmington.

Congratulations to Mr. & Mrs. Sam Sturgis. Sweethearts of the Year. What is more lovely and more romantic than being married on Valentine's Day.

If you have any social activities, functions, weddings, birth announcements, or birthday greetings, please contact me Nancy Baird at 284-9340.

Biden Hails Scouting in Call for Excellence

"It's time we stopped apologizing for achievement and excellence and encourage those who want to achieve", U.S. Senator Joseph R. Biden, Jr., told an audience of Boy Scout adult volunteers Tuesday, Feb. 17.

Biden, speaking at a kick-off breakfast for the Sustaining Membership Enrollment drive of the Del-Mar-Va Council's Brandywine District, said that "one of the most important things in my own development was my involvement in Scouting; it made me more aware of what was around me and where I was going."

The Senator, noting that the nation has been going through "a period of trauma and self-doubt that we're just beginning to shed," said he believes the United States is now looking back to find "the traditional values that have been its mainstays."

"We went through a period of talking more about adjustment than we did about achievement. We said almost nothing of excellence -- in our anxiety not to leave anyone behind, we neglected to push anyone ahead."

Scouting, he said, wasn't immune-- as indicated by declining membership between 1972 and 1980.

"Scouting," he declared, "is still a place where the premium is on achievement. Competition--in Scouting the competition is mostly against yourself-- builds leaders. It gives each member the opportunity to achieve as much as he wants to and can achieve; it means excellence and it teaches the youngster who wants to excel how to excel.

"If we worry more about achievement than adjustment, we'll adjust more easily!"

Sustaining Membership Enrollment is an annual fund drive conducted by the Del-Mar-Va Council to raise about 20 percent of its yearly operating budget. Seven United Ways on the Delmarva Peninsula contribute about 49 percent of the budget, with the balance coming from trust income, sales of Scout materials, camp fees, and other miscellaneous sources. This year's council goal is $190,000.

Close to $8,000 toward the Brandywine District goal of just over $21,000 was raised at the breakfast.

Leaders attending the kick-off meetings will hear the stories of Rodney and Nanticoke from council staff members and receive kits of materials needed for planning the stay in camp.

Summer outdoor experiences are also available for Cub Scouts, Murrill said. The Del-Mar-Va Council runs 10 Cub Scout Day Camps at locations throughout the Council at various times through the summer.

While most Scouts go to camp with their troops, the Del-Mar-Va Council also runs provisional camps at both scheduled three kick-off meetings to help Scoutmasters and other leaders plan for their stays in camp. The meetings are Wednesday, Feb. 18, in People's Church, Dover; Tuesday, Feb. 24, at Stanton Junior High School; and Thursday, Feb. 26, in the Wicomico Public Library, Salisbury, Md. All begin at 7:30 p.m.

In April, Murrill said, another series of meetings will be held in the same places to help leaders plan detailed programs for their troops' stay in camp.

The ladies are also involved in the Firemen's semi-annual oyster and chicken salad dinners. They usually have a table with many handmade items and baked goods for sale. There have been as many as 2,500 people served. I have seen many out of state tags on the cars.

The next dinner will be held on March 21. I can't wait. They are so tasty, and you get so much for your money.

Anyone wanting to donate money for the Felton Co. should contact any member.

Mrs. Anna Hill had a pleasant overnight guest. Her mother Mary George came from Baltimore, Wednesday, Feb. 18. She had a delightful time visiting her daughter and playing with her three grandchildren.

A Happy Birthday to Kevin Moehlemkamp on Feb. 20. Kevin was 17 years old. Happy Birthday to Kevin.

A special Happy Birthday to Chrissy Kelbough. Chrissy will be a young lady of 8 years on February 27.

On Feb. 19, Bonnie Baird had a lovely birthday dinner. Bonnie loves Italian food, so of course the dinner included spaghetti, salad, garlic bread, and cake for the dessert. Guests included 19 friends and family.

On Feb. 15, Open House was held at Kent Vo Tech (Woodside). I spoke with Paula Reed, about the things done in Vo Tech.

These include printing and photography, cosmetology, nursing, drafting and design, air conditioning and refrigeration, electrical construction, welding, horticulture, masonry and carpentry. Just about every trade you can imagine. The Open House was to show the public the Vo Tech buildings and the things the students are learning. Guided tours took about an hour. In Horticulture, all ladies received carnations. If you missed this year's tours, please make sure to find out about it next time.

On Sweetheart's Day, Feb. 14, Judy Moehlemkamp and Sam Sturgis were united in Holy Matrimony.

Boy Scouts Lay Plans for Summer Camp

It's still only February, but Boy Scout troops throughout the Delmarva Peninsula are already beginning to plan for summer camp.

"The summer camping experience is traditionally the highlight of the year for Scout troops," Randall T. Murrill, Del-Mar-Va Council camping chairman said, "and we want to do everything possible to help the boys get the most out of our two nationally-accredited camps -- Rodney Scout Reservation near North East, Md., and Nanticoke Scout Reservation near Sharptown, Md."

The council's Camping Committee has reservations for boys whose troops are not going or who want to spend an extra week in camp. Arrangements for provisional campers are made through the Scoutmaster.

Leaders attending the kick-off meetings will hear the stories of Rodney and Nanticoke from council staff members and receive kits of materials needed for planning the stay in camp.

Summer outdoor experiences are also available for Cub Scouts, Murrill said. The Del-Mar-Va Council runs 10 Cub Scout Day Camps at locations throughout the Council at various times through the summer.

Felton

The purpose of the Ladies' Auxiliary is to assist the Firemen in various activities of the community.

To qualify for membership, a person must be 16 years of age or older and from the Felton, Canterbury, or Viola areas. At present, there are 140 members.

The ladies help the men by providing financial assistance to help with the maintenance. They have many money-making activities serving dinners for private banquets, wedding receptions, and other functions. Profits from these affairs are used to purchase equipment for the kitchen and dining room. Most of the money is turned over to the firemen for equipment and maintenance for the building and for purchasing new equipment.

The ladies meetings are every second

Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the fire hall. The ladies also provide food and beverages for the firemen during and after fires. They see to the uniforms the men and women wear in the parades.

The auxiliary is a member of the Delaware State Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Anyone wishing for information regarding the Auxiliary or serving a banquet, please contact Mrs. Joyce Sipple at 284-9539.

Dear Friends,
 Some sages are now theorizing that there may have been earlier civilizations on earth that attained scientific achievements, even space travel, superior to our own, and were then obliterated by a catastrophe of their own nuclear power, extremely toxic chemical hereditary factors, etc. - prerogatives of the Creator alone - are we callously dooming our civilization and environment as well?
