Chipman Show To Parade Talent

Lake Forest High School will provide the stage as the W. T. Chipman Junior Band sponsors its annual talent show this Friday night. The competition will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium at Lake Forest High School. This will be the first year the show has been held in the spacious new facilities at the high school.

By yesterday morning, Chipman Band Director Alex Becton reported that at least 13 entries were signed up to compete for three prizes in the competition. $25, $15, and $10 will go to the first, second and third place winners, respectively.

A variety of talent will be in competition. The various acts include several dance routines with one tap number, gymnastics, roller skating, instrumental numbers, a vocal duet and the return of the last year's winner - Kelly Sue Draper with the solo "Tomorrow" from Broadway's Annie. Of those, a healthy number are reported to be from elementary school, an age level from which entrants have been especially encouraged in recent years.

Host and master of ceremonies for the evening will be Alex Becton, who will also provide some of the entertainment. He will be assisted in the preparations for and the staging of the show by members of the W. T. Chipman Band.

Admission to the talent show will be priced at $1.00 for adults and students from junior high on up. Elementary age children will be admitted for 50 cents.

All proceeds will go to the W. T. Chipman Jr. Band and will help fund their trip to the Ocean City Boardwalk parade.

LF School Board Decides

No Lights For The Tennis Courts

In the face of opposition expressed by a number of district residents, including several in attendance at Monday night's meeting, the Lake Forest School Board voted unanimously not to install lighting on the new tennis courts at Lake Forest High School. The plan had to be to install lights with coin boxes so that individuals using the lights would have to pay for the time, much in the same way they would pay for parking through a meter. But in this instance, failure to put in a coin at the right time would not mean a ticket or fine. The lights would just go off.

The Board had received low bids of $29,887 for lighting all eight courts, or $17,900 for just half of them. As with the rest of the project, the money was to be supplied on a 50/50 matching basis with the state. The district has had some federal funds from the WPA project which financed the high school athletic complex and could claim reimbursement for some of the work done by district personnel. However, the remaining cost - the proposed lights - would still have required a healthy percentage of local funds. District residents felt that those local funds could be better used for the school's instructional budgets for curriculum and materials, even if that meant losing some matching funds from other sources. The Board voted to reject all bids and drop the project.

-SCHOOL LUNCH PRICES MAY SOAR-

If a reported $900,000,000 in cuts to the child nutrition program which undergirds much of the school lunch program as suggested by Pres. Reagan goes through, school lunch prices could increase by as much as 25 cents per meal next year. Lake Forest students now pay 50 cents at the elementary level and 55 cents at the high school level for a Type A lunch. The Reagan proposals would mean that the schools would get no cash support and no donated food commodities for paid lunches. In addition, fewer district children would be eligible for free or reduced price lunches because the federal funding for that program would also be cut.

Reportedly the U. S. Senate may restore as much as $300,000,000 to the program, but that is uncertain, and it is unknown just where the money would be restored.

Janice Hinzman, supervisor of the district's food programs, submitted to the Board several proposals for dealing with the situation and asked for a workshop session at a later date to consider the options. She said some reduction in district cafeteria personnel may be necessary.

Sat. To Be Fair For Fun & Fitness

Saturday, April 25, promises to be a "fair" day - at least at Lake Forest East Elementary School in Frederica where the Parent Teacher Action Group (PTAG) has scheduled a "Fun and Fitness Fair" from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. on the school grounds.

For fun and (the P.T.A.G. hopes) a little profit there will be a variety of games and booths for youngsters of varying ages. There will also be crafts on display and for sale, a white elephant table, a flower shop and a "Country Store" with a variety of goods. Refreshments will be available for purchase.

For fitness - a number of track and field events have been planned. Those who enter will compete for first, second and third place ribbons.

Proceeds from the "Fun and Fitness Fair" will be used by the P.T.A.G. towards the purchase of equipment for the music department and for risers to use in school assemblies and programs at East.

-Skating Treat-

Lake Forest East's P.T.A.G. Monday night treated the schools' students and their families to a free skating party at the Dover Skating Center. The party was the P.T.A.G.'s way of saying "Thank you" for all the parent and student support it has received.

LF's Dennis Berry Receives Award

The award went to Dennis Berry, Aquatic Coordinator at the Lake Forest High School natatorium complex, but he feels his whole staff helped earn it. Berry, who heads up activities centering at the high school swimming pool was recognized last Thursday with an Outstanding Service Award from the Aquatic Council of the American Alliance of Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance. Presentation of the citation was made at a Boston business meeting of the national Aquatics Council last Thursday, April 16.

The citation, to be mounted on a plaque reads, "Commending Dennis Berry for outstanding service to the Aquatic Council and the field of aquatic education."

Berry's two years of service to the Lake Forest District during which he has been instrumental in initiating the community swim programs as well as instructional activities at both high school and elementary levels figured prominently in the award. Lake Forest has a full range of programs from the recreational and competitive aspects to special arrangements for pre-schoolers and the handicapped. All these have blossomed in the short period of time since the new facility at the high school opened.

Other major factors were the aquatics workshop planned by Berry and hosted by Lake Forest for the past two years and his recent publication of A Guide to Training the Swimming Pool Lifeguard, a manual produced by the state's Department of Public Instruction. The aquatics workshop has been only one of two sanctioned by the national Aquatics Council. A chapter of Berry's book was recently selected for publication in Dr.

Days of Our Years

Ten Years Ago
April 22, 1971

When boy races horse, that's got to be news. And when three of Kent County's high school track members take on a sharp two-year-old pacer for almost the length of Harrington's stretch, that's got to be history in the making. Harrington Raceway's special events director, Jeff Hand, announced just such a contest scheduled to take place on April 27, before the feature race. Competing in the 100-yard dash against Father Francis Tierney's "Brown Starlet" will be Chris Wetherhold of Lake Forest High School, Ron Landing of Caesar Rodney High School, and William Phillips, a freshman at Dover High....Father Tierney is rapidly gaining recognition as the only Catholic priest who can climb into a sulky and come home a winner. It was once written of him that "he drives like Satan himself was after him." The good padre just smiles quietly and takes it like a saint.

The second annual concert by the W.T. Chipman junior band will be held April 23 in the Field House at Harrington....Solos will be performed by Wayne Erne, tuba, and Russell Dill, snare drum....The concert is under the direction of Melvin L. Brobst with Louis Guisto, instrumental director at the Lake Forest High School, as guest speaker.

Wait until you see the Lake Forest Spartans marching band....Mrs. William Newnom, president of the Band Boosters organization, presided at the meeting in the high school cafeteria the treasurer, Mrs. William Erno, was greeted with applause as she announced the grand total of $11,938.00 in the fund raising campaign....Mrs. Robert Smith, chairman of the fund raising campaign expressed her sincere thanks to all members who have helped in the drive.

On sale at Quillen's Dairy Market: Luter's smoked picnics - 49 cents per lb.; Esskay's Silver Label hams - 39 cents per lb.; bananas - 10 cents per lb.; lettuce - large head 25 cents.

New classrooms and school taxes will rise in the Harrington Special School District. District voters approved Saturday, 606 to 282, the local 40 per cent share of a $1,200,000 construction program. The school board will meet later this week to decide by how much taxes will have to be increased to meet the $480,000 local debt. The maximum increase will be to 72 cents per $100 rate assessment in the real estate (now 55 cents) and to $11 in the capitation tax (now $7).

As a special Spring feature, the Harrington Rotary Club will present an unusual program of entertainment along with the twelfth annual Beauty Pageant to be held at the High School Field House on May 4th....The program will proudly present songs by Miss Bonnie Dickerson, prominent vocalist from the senior class of Harrington High School....The contestants for the junior Miss Harrington contest have been selected and include the following: Angela Jeanne Minner, Lynn Elizabeth Parker, Sandy Lou Knox, Patricia M. Mintz, Nancy Lei Dill, Connie Wilson, Luanne Rachelle Boone, Jo Anne Matthews, Lisa Jo Masten, Deborah Jean Simpson, Valerie Lynn Jenkins, Karen Sue Carnahan, Laura Witherhold and Donna Witherhold.

In the senior contest, the following girls from Harrington High School will appear: Barbara Jean Spicer, Darlene Hutchins, Janie Phillips, and Donna Lee Callaway. From the Felton High School, the following girls are entered: Anna Marie Boone, Virginia Lee Green, Joyce Louise McDowell, Clair Lea Hrupsa and Patricia Cox.

Births: April 10-Mr. & Mrs. Torbert Harmon, Magnolia, girl; April 11-Mrs. & Mrs. Francis Benson, Frederica, girl.

From "Harrington School Notes" - Senior personalities this week are Dwight Hackett, George "Butch" Pfeiffer, Walter Lekites and Marie Katherine Hrupsa.

Two dance contests were featured at the Freshman Dance on April 14. The jitterbug was won by Joanne Murphy and Billy Wix while the pony was won by Judy Corkel and Allen Wix.

(In a quadrangular meet with Rehoboth, Smyrna, Greenwood and Harrington) Bob Bonniwell, a four-year track veteran, made his 1961 debut, and although he has very little training, he pushed Greenwood's Emil Gerardi to the second fastest 440 ever run on the local track. The fastest was turned in two years ago by Gerardi's cousin, Jim Schiff, of Harrington....Dennis Bradley, Ken Gary, Jeff Adams and Tim Strohl easily captured the mile relay for H.H.S.

Thirty Years Ago

Barbara Smith and Imogene Welch of Harrington have been chosen to appear on television next Sunday at 11:30 a.m. on WCAU-TV, Channel 10, Philadelphia, on the New Faces Program....For the past seven months they have sung over radio station WDOV in Dover on the Delaware Auto Sales program, "Stars in the Making," with Ed Scanlon as master of ceremonies....They are members of the tenth grade at Harrington High School and members of the Harrington High School band, with Imogene on the clarinet and Barbara on the drums and bells, and members of the Kent County Band. "Admiral Samuel Francis Du Pont: From the Crystal Palace to the Orient," a Hagley Museum exhibit, will open to the public April 28 through July 26, 1981. Housed in the third floor gallery of the main Museum building, the exhibit explores a decade in the life of Samuel Francis Du Pont, a nineteenth century gentleman, whose naval career and travels are reflected in an intriguing array of decorative and fine arts.

Traditional square dancing and Appalachian mountain clogging will be among the many attractions at the 34th annual Delmarva Chicken Festival, June 5 and 6, in Princess Anne, Maryland.

The Guys and Dolls, a troupe of over 50 dancers ranging in age from 6 to 56, will be demonstrating their special dance skills on Saturday, June 6, at the Ella Fitzgerald Center on the University of Maryland Eastern Shore campus.

The dancers, from Clinton, Maryland and under the direction of James W. Loveless III, are actually three performing groups--the Little Guys and Dolls, the Guys and Dolls, and the Travelers. Their performances include a mix of traditional square dancing and clog dancing.

Clogging, also known as buck, flatfoot, or hoedown dancing, is a rhythmic tapping of the foot which does not require a partner. It is an outgrowth of folk dances of the British Isles and is usually performed to the accompaniment of fiddle and banjo.

The Guys and Dolls have been performing for over 10 years. During that time they have become well known in the Eastern United States, having won several national and world championships. They have made frequent appearances at fairs and festivals, and have even entertained at the White House.

Dr. I-Hsiung Ju, Artist in Residence, Washington and Lee University, is now exhibiting his original Chinese paintings mounted on silk scrolls at MURIEL'S GALLERY, 9 W. Loockerman Street, Dover, DE, 674-4700. Exhibit will continue through May.

CHADDSFORD, PA.--Pennsylvania Crafts Fair Day has become a tradition in some Brandywine Valley circles.

On April 26, thirteen of Pennsylvania's finest traditional craftspeople will be busy working day long in the courtyard at the Brandywine River Museum in Chadds Ford. They will demonstrate and explain their skills to visitors.

Interested persons will be able to learn more about such "old fashioned" crafts as theorem painting, scherenschnitte (paper cutting), spinning and weaving, as well as to purchase the fine work produced by these artisans. Other crafts on display will include weaving, clocks and chests, pottery, band boxes, reverse painting and picture frames.

Hours for the Crafts Fair are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The price of admission includes access to the museum galleries which now feature a comprehensive view of 19th century mourning customs and lithographs by Albert Winslow Barker (1874-1947), a local print maker.

The Brandywine River Museum, located on U.S. 1 in Chadds Ford, is open daily 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. For further information, call (215)388-7601.

Get Together and Talk With Our Neighbors

Senior Center

By Dorothy Graham 398-3780

When we do what we can, God will do what we can't.
Truly hope your Easter and Holidays were pleasant.

Monday morning Reverend Koning of Nazarene Church, Harrington, was leader of the Bible Study at the Center. His topic was Matthew, Chapter 21, Isaiah 53, Chapter 23, Verse 37, First Corinthians 3, Verses 1-16, Chapter 16, Matthew 26, Verse 26, Chapter 28, Verses 1-6. Rev. Koning said the donkey denoted "peace and humility" and the white horse "power". Prayer and singing ended an hour of friendly discussion on questions and answers. Present were Essie Redden, Sallie Needles, John McCready, Sylvia and Cecil Meredith, Bertha Dean, Amy Poynter, Mildred Vincent, Clare Judy, Elwood Morris, Cleora Vincent, Anna Mae Short, Annabel Morrow, Terera Selders, Pearl Hickman, Gertrude Morgan, Elizabeth Anthony, Amy Price, Marion Brown, Ethel Holden, Florence Minner and Florence Roe.

President Marion Brown brought the monthly members meeting to order Monday afternoon, April 13. After the Pledge of Allegiance and a prayer by Lillian Pearson, Andy Anderson read the minutes of last meeting; Merle Roth read the financial report. Both were approved as read. The sick were reported. Several trips were discussed and posted. Consult the bulletin board or call the Center (398-4224) for details. Discussed was ways to start a Building Fund. The meeting was adjourned at 2:10 p.m.

Ina was back from Florida but some of the Jolly Timers were not present. They had gone with the chartered bus to Concord Mall. (Jeanette LeGates was a chaperone.) Ina played some Easter music. "Easter Parade" was among the happy songs played.

Present at band practice Tuesday morning were Ina Hughes, Andy Anderson, Sylvia & Cecil Meredith, Gertrude Morgan, Mamie Adams, Lili McBride, Annabel Morrow, Jo Burke, Essie Redden, Ola Tilden, Roxanne & Marion Brown.

Lovely spring flowers abound throughout the Center. There are gorgeous tulips of all colors, white and orchid lilacs and other flowers I just don't know the name of, but beautiful just the same. A greater part of the flowers came from the garden of Irene LeGates. There are lots of pretty daffodils; but honestly I have to touch them to see if they are real as Etzel brought in some artificial ones that truly look for all the world like the real McCoy.

Wednesday was Card Day for me. Mildred Wagner was hostess. Refreshments were pretty and so-so tasty. The coffee was hot and good. The candy looked and smelled good. Cards, oh yes, we did play cards, but mine were terrible. We had fun and that's the main ingredient. Present were Mildred Wagner, Virginia Willey, Loretta Purnell, Nellie Stokes, Pearl Cooper, Mazel Langrel, Kathryn Smith and Dorothy Trahan. Nellie was high scorer.

Ceramics were light this week due to the Bazaar. We did well at the Bazaar and thank you kindly. We still have some nice things and plan to keep a few things on hand.

We would like also to thank F. & B. Ceramics for the nice supply of glazes. They came at a most opportune time.

Pool, checkers, dominos, a Macrame Class with Barbara Evans and the interesting and informative talk of Sarah Case have helped make the week at the Center extra pleasant. If you missed coming--you missed something.

Other things of interest to us: Charlotte is a grandmother, Lee Ann and hubby presented her with a fine grandson-Christopher. All are doing fine! Local shopping with cam. Bowling at Milford Lanes--John Song 223-Alice Houston high scorers. The Harrington Senior Center is having three teams in the Delaware Senior Citizens Bowling Tournament, April 24, 1981, at the Newark Bowling Lanes. If you don't bowl you could watch and that's fun too.

Best wishes and kind thoughts to all. Thanks to all volunteers, sincerely, for all they have done this week in the kitchen, ceramic or craft room, dining room, outside and parlor. Come on in, see a friend. Bring a friend. Smile a while! Faith.

Frederica

By Mary "Toby" Johnston 335-5487

Mr. & Mrs. Nelson Paine of Newark, Del., were guests of his sister Mrs. Mary Purnell this week. On Wednesday she entertained with family dinner. Other guests were Mr. & Mrs. Vernon Ropka and Mr. Butch Masten.

All of us enjoyed the family egg hunt. I must have missed something along the way. This is my first family egg hunt. The kids hide the eggs. The oldies find them, but do not eat because we hide them for the kids to find so they can eat.

Our dessert was Hermit Cake (Sour-dough Chocolate) made by Rick. He really enjoyed making it and passed the recipe and a starter cup onto sister-in-law Faye. Around Milford folks are calling it The Friendly Cake.

To our Adult Center please note when you visit the Milford Manor House, please visit Mr. Edward Trice of Frederica.

The Shelmans met their Mother and family in Houston, while there they toured NASA Space Center, Harbors and the AstroDome. Visiting many places of interest, along with the Almo in San Antonio. It was a delightful flight and tour for all.

After we arrived in the canal, between the trees, it was about 80 degrees, no wind, and the water was beautiful. We all settled down to have a delicious lunch, 10 miles from the dock, and guess who forgot the cooler with the lunch in it? Right, Billy did! The Dean's graciously shared their lunch with us, and it turned out to be a beautiful day after all. Irene said she wished that she had brought a camera so she could have taken a picture of the cooler sitting all alone on the dock when we arrived back at shore later that evening.

Anne's Kitchen

I'm sure you are aware of the cost of a decent package of cookies. It urges me to pay the price. My family has a fondness for soft cookies, and I usually find my recipe for "Old Fashion Molasses Cookies" is just the thing to please them. If you have a large family, you had better double the recipe. They keep well in a covered tin or jar.

THOUGHTS FROM DOVER
By Gov. Pierre S. duPont

REAGAN BUDGET, TAX CUTS TO AFFECT DELAWARE

President Reagan's proposed budget cuts are designed to curb inflation and slow the expansion of the federal government. I support the President's program because I believe inflation is the number one problem affecting the nation--and hurts those people at the low end of the income spectrum the hardest. I believe the Reagan proposal should be enacted by the Congress because it is essential that we protect the purchasing power of all Americans.

Nevertheless, the budget cuts will be enacted in some form and they will affect State programs substantially. Already we have learned that CETA jobs at all levels of government will not be funded again. Some 270 state employees paid through the CETA program will be lost; perhaps another 100 or more other employees funded by other federal dollars will also be affected. It is difficult at this time, however to know the precise level of budget cuts because they are still being debated in the Congress.

President Reagan has committed to returning to the States increased flexibility in the use of federal funds so we can put them towards programs of the highest priority. This commitment has translated into a careful review of all federal regulations that significantly impair the opportunity of states to administer federally funded programs in ways that are most responsive to local needs. I believe this will benefit Delaware in those areas--such as education, health and social services, and highways--where federal funds will be less than anticipated.

Some reductions will be felt by nearly every State agency. For example, in the Department of Natural Resources, it is expected that some environmental funds may be withdrawn by the federal government. In highway construction funds, the federal government is expected to withdraw some $16 million in fiscal year 1983. And, in education, a loss in grants totalling some $6 million can be anticipated.

The items that I have just discussed reflect a reduction in federal dollars flowing to Delaware. At the same time, Delaware's revenues will be affected by tax relief proposed in Washington. The Department of Finance estimates that up to a $6 million reduction in corporate income tax receipts and up to a $2 million reduction in personal income tax revenues as a result of proposed changes in the depreciation schedule set forth in the federal income tax laws.

There is no question that the Reagan Administration's program will result in some necessary belt tightening by Delaware and its citizens. It is that need to make do with less, however, that is the investment in our economic future that I referred to earlier. Delaware and Delawareans simply cannot continue to suffer the devastation wrought by inflation. If the hardship resulting from the proposed federal budgetary reductions ultimately results in a vital and growing economy--an economy that can put people back to work and produce real dollar increases in the incomes of Delawareans, then it is my judgment that the investment is worthwhile.

Understanding A.C.T.

Monthly meetings of A.C.T. for May Tuesday the 12th at Howard Johnsons, Hare Corner & Rt. 13, NewCastle.

Members of associations country wide found out this past month just how illegally the IRS handles their cases against those who stand against their unjust taxing practices. They also found more evidence of the injustice done in our courts.

A good friend, John Kotmeir, from an association in the Baltimore area, was investigated for 4 years and at a great cost to the taxpayers, was brought to trial the end of March. It was quite evident from the very beginning that the trial was set to use him as an example to frighten taxpayers into handing over their hard earned wages. Neither John, nor his lawyer, were allowed to question any of the jurors when being selected, of whom the selection wasn't very good anyway, being they were tax collectors, white collar workers, etc. People he would seem to be a threat to if he was to win the case. Under his constitutional rights, which he was denied, he had no say as to whom his jurors were to be. John having filed a tax return, claiming less than $740 and having the IRS's own witness declare that it was a return a tax could be computed on. After 4 weeks of a court battle without being able to present his case to the court, John was found guilty of willful to file a tax return which is a misdemeanor. The appropriate day of the decision was of course April 15th. Many other discriminations during the trial has proven that the IRS will use anyway to try and stop the tax patriots across the country, John has not been sentenced as of yet and is putting through appeals on many motions. Associations all along the east coast are letting the public know that we are still strong and that harassment will not send them running for cover. They stand behind John completely and shall continue to inform the people of their unalienable God-Given rights. Interested in our desire to bring America back to the people? Write to A.C.T. Dept. Lake Forest School Board son for the Lake Forest District Parents Advisory Council for Title I presented a statement to the board expressing those concerns. The statement, which bore a number of signatures, read as follows:

"We the Parents Advisory Council for Title I are very disturbed to hear of the proposed cuts in Title I funds. We understand these "proposed cuts" are not definite, but we feel we should let you know how we feel at this time.

Because of the previous cuts in Title I funds for our district, the budget has been reduced almost solely to personnel. Further cuts will take away the "people" who provide the extra time and attention our children need. In the lower grades aides provide the extra help in the classroom to prevent minor reading problems from developing into major ones. The reading specialists provide the indepth instruction needed by the older children.

We realize that we cannot depend totally on Federal money to continue providing the services our children so vitally need. We also realize that our local district cannot pick up the entire funding for this program. However, we believe the school board should set priorities on where our money will be spent and we strongly urge you to place the funding for the services now provided by Title I near the top of your list. Our local district considered these services important enough to initiate, therefore, they are important enough to continue if at all possible."

The Title I program in the Lake Forest District is directed entirely toward giving extra help to students in reading and the language arts. Expected budget cuts, would reduce the program from $255,000 last year to $201,000 for the coming year. That would mean further reductions in personnel.

The Board has expressed its concern for the program, however, it is highly unlikely that local funds, to any extent, can be directed toward that area.

In other business the Lake Forest School Board:

-discussed briefly the possibility of reducing the debt service portion of the local real estate tax from 20 cents to 12 cents for each $100 of assessed valuation.

-granted tenure to the following Lake Forest teachers, Leah Biddle, Betty Warner, Holly Topolski, Valerie Crawford, Paul Woehrl, Linda Gannon, Patricia Jones, Tom Shaffer and Emily McKnatt.

-accepted the resignations of Charlene Nunnery at Lake Forest South, John Dobbins at the high school, and Ralph Magnan at W. T. Chipman.

-approved the appointment of Mrs. Phyllis Greenhaugh to replace Mrs. Nunnery for the rest of the school year.

-approved the "rifting" of Baxter Smith at W. T. Chipman. The science department at the Junior High School is to be reduced by one teacher next year.

-approved the hiring, district-wide of 169 teachers for next year. It is expected that the district will have 170, state-supported teaching units in September. The 169 would probably include two additional persons in special education at Lake Forest High School, where the special education enrollment will increase by 30 students in the fall.

Editorials

Biden Report By Sen. Joseph Biden Jr.

If the Reagan Administration isn't careful, it's going to give budget-cutting a bad name, by failing to think through carefully the spending cuts it is proposing.

That's what is happening with the Administration proposal to eliminate the National Sea Grant Program, in which the University of Delaware's College of Marine Studies at Lewes has been a leading participant.

Significant cutting of the federal budget is obviously overdue, especially with programs that are obsolete or wasteful. Even the Sea Grant Program itself can no doubt afford to have some fat trimmed away. But blindly terminating good programs along with the bad simply does not make sense. In the long run, that approach will harm the economies of Delaware and the nation--and it will not help those of us in Congress who have been trying for years to apply an intelligent discipline to federal spending.

The Sea Grant Program is modeled on the Land Grant Program, which was established by the Morrill Act nearly 120 years ago -- and which has been largely responsible for the enormous increases in the productivity that has revolutionized not only American agriculture but also the entire American economy. Today the sea is the great remaining frontier on earth, and the Sea Grant program holds the promise of similarly improving our understanding of that frontier's resources and how we may use them to similar advantage.

In fewer than 15 years, the College of Marine Studies at Lewes and other participants in the Sea Grant program have demonstrated that promise is no illusion. The program has already proved to be a remarkably productive partnership of federal and state governments, private industry and the universities. Indeed, for a cost to the federal government of $40 million a year, the Sea Grant Program is producing benefits now estimated to be $217 million a year, or 80 percent of the total 15-year cost of the program. And the prospects for future benefits are even brighter.

Close to home, but no less important to Delaware, are the jobs at the Lewes campus and the boost to the Lewes-area economy that will be lost if the Sea Grant program is terminated as the Administration has proposed. For Delaware it's not small. The federal government provides $1.3 million and the state government adds $250,000. A total of 112 jobs, including faculty and other professionals, graduate students and others, would be lost, along with more than half a million dollars in salaries. That's more than enough to hurt the local economy.

Such a loss may appear insignificant compared to the potential loss to the nation if the Sea Grant Program is wiped out--and in a way, it is--but, if the nation is deprived of the important contributions that are being made by the College of Marine Studies, the impact will be felt far beyond the confines of Sussex County.

And the greatest loss of all may be a loss of the public's confidence that the Administration and the Congress really know what they're doing when they set out to trim federal spending. If budget-cutting hacks away profitable muscle like the Sea Grant Program along with the wasteful fat that can be found throughout the federal budget, it will hurt as much as it helps--and it won't slow inflation down a bit.

Thoughts From Washington

By U.S. Senator Bill Roth

WASHINGTON--Senator William Roth (R-Del.) co-author of the Roth-Kemp thirty percent individual tax cut measure, has introduced what he calls "the next step in encouraging economic growth and getting the tax-man off the backs of the taxpayers."

Roth has reintroduced the Savings Expansion Act. "Once the average American family gets to keep more of their hard-earned dollars, which Roth-Kemp would accomplish, the next step is to insure that workers will be able to realize more dollars from their savings," Roth said.

"Not only are taxes too high today, but government also places a heavy tax premium on savings, in effect, discouraging savings by taxing them too greatly. In essence this measure will provide the incentive for the American family to save even more dollars and put those dollars to work restoring economic growth," Roth stated. "Our tax system today places too much emphasis on the American family spending rather than saving."

In introducing the measure, Roth pointed out that other industrial nations have a much higher per capita percentage of savings than does the United States. "We must expand economic growth, and increased savings is critical to economic growth," Roth said.

In essence, Roth's measure would divide each taxpayer's income into two baskets--one for earned income, such as salaries and wages, and one for unearned income, such as dividends and interest.

Earned income, salaries and wages, would be taxed according to the Roth-Kemp formula, giving across-the-board tax cuts to individuals by reducing the tax rate structure over a three year period. The current rates would be reduced from 14 percent and 70 percent to 10 percent and 50 percent.

Unearned income rates would be reduced on the same scale with a top rate of 50 percent, down from the current 70 percent. The income would then be taxed separately.

"Today, the tax rates discourage savings because they are taxed at an even greater rate than salaries and wages. It simply doesn't make sense for the American family to save when their savings will be taxed at a higher rate than their wage earnings. It doesn't pay to save when on $100 in dividends or interest you keep only $25. Better to spend the money on a bigger house or blow it on a trip to Europe, at least that's the conclusion the American people seem to have reached, and it makes sense," Roth said.

"We save only 4 percent of our income in good times, and we certainly aren't doing that today. We've got to do better and the best way to do it is to provide incentives for savings, and growth, not disincentives. This measure would provide those incentives."

Keeping In Touch

With Tom Evans

Soviet dominance in space was altered on Sunday, April 12, when astronauts John Young and Robert Crippen blasted from Cape Canaveral, Florida, into their space flight 170 miles from Earth, testing the first spacecraft designed to take off like a rocket, cruise in orbit like a spacecraft, and return to Earth like a glider.

The moment of triumph arrived at 1:20 p.m. EST, 54 1/2 hours after launching, as the Columbia landed with majestic precision on the desert runway at Edward Air Force Base in California.

The mission turned out to be an astonishing technological feat. The shuttle's on-board computers executed maneuvers that lie beyond the power of even the most accomplished pilot. Its solid-fuel booster rockets and its liquid-fuel main engines performed flawlessly.

The President's February budget calls the shuttle essential to "meet civilian and critical defense needs" and says the proposed budget should make a fully operational shuttle system in the 1980's.

Construction of a second shuttle to be christened the Challenger is on schedule for 1982 delivery. Columbia and the planned sister ships should each be capable of making as many as 100 round trips into space deploying and servicing satellites and also carrying laboratories and planetary probes.

Certainly, such an exhilarating, historical flight as that of the Columbia leads space enthusiasts to imagine manned stations in Earth orbit and solar power satellites that could beam energy to Earth. However, I believe for the moment we Americans, along with the rest of the world, should be content to praise Young and Crippen and the men and women of the space program for the tremendous success of the space shuttle Columbia on its first orbital flight.

The United States has ushered in a new era for space exploration and given the free world another giant step for mankind.

Jack Anderson
Washington Merry-Go-Round

WASHINGTON--The United States' first space shuttle flight, featuring the rocketship "Columbia," was a spectacular success. It is unfortunate that it cost billions more than it should have.

We have been reporting for months that the contractor, Rockwell International, has been loose with the taxpayers' money. Some of the overspending was unforeseeable and can be excused. Unexpected costs are inevitable in a pioneer space effort.

But Rockwell has a cost-plus contract. And some Rockwell officials have had the attitude that the government will pay all the cost overruns, so why worry?

For example, the company sent two employees to Europe to review a James Bond movie and charged the trip to the taxpayers. Moving the shuttle from Lockheed's California facilities to the launch site in Florida cost the public $2.5 million, just for per diem and travel expenses. Even secretarial help was hauled across the country. One Rockwell executive, while he was in Florida, ran up expenses of $7,200 a month -- not counting his salary.

These charges were petty compared to some of the contracts that were awarded. A Rockwell vice president, for instance, funneled $1.5 million to a public relations firm to publicize the space shuttle for three months. The firm just happened to employ the vice president's son.

When the spaceship was moved across the country, many of the fragile, heat-resistant tiles fell off. Rockwell hired a crew to work around the clock to make the repairs. The workers had to replace about 80 percent of the tiles.

Some of the tiles shook loose again on take-off. The tiles were essential to the safe return of the Columbia; without them, the spaceship would burn up in the friction of the atmosphere. Fortunately, not enough tiles were lost to endanger the craft.

A Rockwell spokesman denied any wrongdoing. But our sources say a grand jury is investigating the company's alleged improprieties and some indictments are expected in a few weeks.

ASSASSINATION UPDATE--Another confusing piece has been thrown into the puzzle of the recent assassination attempt on President Reagan. It involves a charge that security was lax during the president's recent visit to Canada.

The charge appeared in a publication called "Executive Intelligence Review." The publication is associated with Lyndon LaRouche, a political activist who was a Democratic candidate in the presidential primaries last year.

The reference to lax security in the "Executive Intelligence Review" caught the eye of White House officials. They turned it over to the Secret Service to check out.

The controversial passage charges that although the Royal Canadian Mounted Police "had received death threats to Reagan prior to his visit, they allowed demonstrators to come as close as 50 feet from the president at an open-air speech."

The report claims further that "on-the-scene security personnel acknowledged that an assassination would have been easy."

We should emphasize that no conclusions have been reached by White House officials. No accusations have been made against either LaRouche or "Executive Intelligence Review." In fact, as far as we know, none are even contemplated.

But Reagan administration officials are curious about allegations of lax security that were printed just a matter of days before an attempt was made to kill the president in downtown Washington.

Meanwhile, a fascinating study has been written of assassins and others involved in violent crimes. It contradicts the traditional view that psychiatric treatment and confinement in an institution are the best ways to treat people who are prone to violence.

In fact, a growing number of experts believe that some treatments given in institutions may actually increase an individual's violent tendencies. Not only that, but research at a Canadian penitentiary identified Valium--the drug John Hinckley was taking--as likely to increase violence, even though it is prescribed as a tranquilizer.

What happens, apparently, is that violence-prone individuals are not actually cured by psychiatric treatment. Instead, they may simply learn to cover up their violent tendencies.

One thing cannot be disputed: The last four persons who attempted to assassinate an American president had all been psychiatric patients. The treatment obviously had not cured them. In the case of President Reagan's assailant, it may have made him more dangerous.

HEADLINES & FOOTNOTES--The old Bureau of Reclamation was renamed the U.S. Water and Power Resources Service by the Carter administration and Interior Secretary James Watt is now changing it back. It will cost about $40,000 to replace the brass plaques at dams and visitors' centers across the nation. Although the Navy is plagued by cost overruns, the admirals are abolishing the office of the assistant secretary for fiscal management. The brass apparently believe the way to dispense with wasteful spenders is to get rid of those who notice the waste...The Buffalo office of the Internal Revenue Service recently spend $75 to hire an African dance troupe to entertain employees. It was justified as employee training.

Each egg held a symbol of Easter, a donkey, silver coins, cock, Toman soldier, crown of thorns, cross, 3 spikes, sponge soaked in vinegar, piece of linen cloth, spices, stone, angel. After opening each plastic egg containing the symbol she then read a passage of scripture related to the incident. Then she gave us a quiz on the story. It was all very well presented and enjoyed by everyone.

State Tree Planting To Reach Finale

Delaware will celebrate Arbor Day along with other states on the last Friday in April. Why not celebrate by planting a tree.

University of Delaware extension horticulturist Dr. Charles Dunham says there are lots of good reasons for planting a tree at this or any other time.

A tree is a thing of permanence. We can watch it grow year by year. Its beauty increases with its size. It will mark the passage of the seasons each year throughout your own lifetime and continue long after you're gone. A tree can be your gift to the future.

Arbor Day is an occasion to plant trees in public areas, says Dunham. Schools, church grounds, neighborhood streets can all benefit from tree plantings. All it takes is someone to organize the project, get a group of volunteers together. It can be a fun project that involves a lot of folks.

Many neighborhoods have excess trees--seedlings that have sprung up in unwanted places. These can be dug and moved to a new location at minimal cost.

Small trees are easier to plant, says the specialist. They can be dug up with most of their root system intact, and they suffer less shock in moving than larger ones will. They are much more susceptible to harm after planting than larger specimens, however, so protect them carefully. It's a good idea to put a small wire fence around a newly set out tree. This serves as a barrier for feet, mowers and dogs.

It's best to buy larger sized trees, already dug, from a nursery. In buying one for your yard, the best bargain is what the nursery trade calls a "landscape size" specimen. This will be big enough to have an immediate effect in the landscape when planted. It will also be large enough so that its chances for survival are greater. Large shade trees of between 1 1/2 to 3 inches caliper (trunk diameter) and flowering trees 6 to 7 feet tall are usually your best buys. Most nurseries will deliver and plant these for a percentage of the original cost of the tree.

There are several factors to consider in choosing a tree. First, look at the soil and the exposure at the planting site. Is the ground wet or dry, poor or rich? How close is the planting site to the drive, sidewalk or street? And what about utility lines?

Each of these factors requires special consideration in order to avoid future problems. You'll have better results if you choose a tree with the planting site in mind. Sweet gum, swamp maple and willow oak, for instance, are good large trees for wet soils. Gingko, Japanese pagoda (Sophora japonica) and Chinese elm do well in dry, poor soils.

Size is important, too. Many lots are better suited to medium-sized trees. Consider the cork tree (Phellodendron), Chinese elm, and little leaf linden. Flowering trees can often double as shade trees. Those with attractive blooms that also qualify as medium-sized shade trees include some of the larger crabapples like "Malus floribunda", the goldenrain tree (Koeleruteria) and many of the flowering cherries--especially the Yedo and Sargent cherries.

If space is a problem and you need a small tree, the cornelian cherry dogwood (Cornus mas), Pauls scarlet hawthorn and the Japanese maple are good choices.

If you prefer to plant your own tree, you may find it helpful to consult a copy of the extension fact sheet, "Planting Trees and Shrubs." This is available from county extension offices in Newark (738-2505), Georgetown (856-5250), or Dover (736-4675).

Ted Ressler announced today that final plans are now in the making for several very big special events being planned by the YMCA of Dover/Kent County under the guidance and direction of the Vice President for Development, Jack Nylund.

The first of these major events will be a back to back "Movie Matinee" of family films being run through the Milford Cinema for the benefit of the YMCA. The exact date has yet to be set.

On June 20th the celebrities will tee off at the Blue Hen Miniature Golf Course in a tournament of legislators and celebrities all for the benefit of the YMCA. Also on that day, golf will cost $1.00 to play and members of the staff of the Y and Board of Directors will be on hand to welcome participants. Each round will benefit the YMCA. In conjunction with this event, booklets will soon be showing up with coupons good for admission to the Blue Hen Miniature Golf Course throughout June, July and August and the proceeds from the sale of these booklets will go to help the YMCA of Dover/Kent County.

Also, shortly there will be appearing in the newspaper and in the mails a survey form that area residents will be asked to fill out in anticipation of what is planned in the very near future for the YMCA. The Development Committee feels that we need to know from the general population the kinds of programs and facilities they would like to see at the YMCA.

On Sunday, July 19th, there will be a Boat Ride sponsored by the YMCA running from Lewes, Delaware, down the river and around Rehoboth Bay.

Again the tickets sold for this event will go to benefit the YMCA. Refreshments will be served on board and there will be music.

The YMCA of Dover /Kent County will also be represented at the Delaware State Fair this summer, and all citizens are urged to drop by the YMCA booth, get the latest information on physical fitness and swimming and other program offerings and while there contribute to the Jelly Bean Tree and walk away with a button.

Meanwhile, Mr. John Hill and Mr. John Davis of the Development Committee are heading up this year's Current Support Campaign throughout the Kent County community. The various teams headed by members of the Board of Directors of the YMCA will be out in the community soliciting help in this Current Support Campaign and at the same time interpreting for the public the membership categories and terms.

April 24th Is Arbor Day In Delaware

April 24 is Arbor Day in Delaware, which usually occasions a flurry of tree planting.

But it would be hard to top State Parks Forester Sam Mace and his crews, who plan to celebrate the day by putting in the last of 30,000 pines, firs and spruce.

Since early March, Mace has supervised the planting of 4,000 white pines,

2,000 Norway spruce and 1,000 evergreen and hardwood seedlings at Bellevue State Park; 3,000 Loblolly pines, white pines, bald cypress and Douglas firs at Killens Pond State Park; 10,000 Loblollies at Trap Pond; 2,000 Japanese black pine at Cape Henlopen State Park; 500 evergreen seedlings at Delaware Seashore State Park and 300 at Lums Pond State Park. Planting was done by the Young Adult Conservation Corps (YACC) at Bellevue and Lums Pond and the Youth Community Conservation Improvement Project (YCCIP) at Killens and Trap Pond. Park staff did the work at Cape Henlopen and Delaware Seashore. The first Arbor Day was celebrated in Nebraska in 1874.

Celebrate Arbor Day - PLANT A TREE

Pruning

Transplanting deciduous trees and shrubs often results in root damage and some root loss. For trees, prune one-third of the lateral growth to counterbalance this loss. You also can "top" the tree by cutting off a small portion of the top of the main stem. For shrubs, cut back one-third of the branches.

Not all trees and shrubs must be pruned after transplanting. Evergreens, for example, may not need it because the root ball normally protects the roots from injury. Deciduous plants may not need pruning if they are planted in humid areas of the country. Where it is humid, new roots usually will be formed within a few weeks and will restore adequate water absorption from the soil.

Watering

Be careful to avoid extremes in watering. Too little water will cause the roots to dry up and die, and too much water may rot them away.

Newly transplanted trees and shrubs need regular watering during the spring, summer, and fall of the first year unless you plant in an area where rainfall is abundant.

In winter, evergreens retain their leaves and continue to lose water through them. For this reason, evergreens should be watered during dry winter periods when the soil is not frozen. Deciduous plants do not need watering in the winter since they are dormant and will not lose any moisture.

Do not water plants every day. Allow the soil to dry at the surface before you water again. Test the soil for dryness by crumpling it through your fingers. The amount of water needed is the amount that the soil can absorb. Stop watering when water no longer seeps rapidly into the soil.

Mulching

After planting, mulch the soil beneath the branches with a 3-inch layer of semidecayed wood chips, pine bark, well-settled manure, peat moss, leaf mold, or frost litter. Use only well-decayed material because the decomposition of such material as fresh manure, green plants, or fresh grass clippings releases byproducts that can be harmful to the roots.

To reduce damage by mice and decay, keep the mulch about a foot away from the trunk or stem of larger plants. Make sure that the mulch covers the area occupied by the roots. For small or young trees, reduce the depth of the mulch near the trunk or stem.

When to Transplant

The best time for transplanting deciduous trees and shrubs is when they are still dormant in early spring or after they have become dormant in the fall. How long they are dormant depends upon the climate as well as the kind of plant.

In the spring, deciduous trees and shrubs should be moved before the buds start to grow. In the fall, they should be moved only after their leaves turn color and drop off. Transplant only when the ground is not frozen and is workable.

Spring planting is advisable in areas that have severe winters. Transplant evergreen and deciduous trees and shrubs in the spring if you live in an area with strong, drying winter winds; deficient soil moisture; or deeply frozen ground during the winter months. Trees and shrubs should be watered well before transplanting if the soil is very dry.

Evergreens can be transplanted earlier in the fall and later in the spring than deciduous plants. They may be moved from early September to June if the weather is not too severe.

CRIMSON KING MAPLE

Fertilizing

If you use plenty of rich soil for backfilling, newly transplanted trees and shrubs are not likely to need fertilizer for the first year. However, if immediate growth seems stunted or leaves are pale, fertilizing is advisable.

Apply fertilizer in fall and early spring in the following way:

For trees--Measure the diameter of the trunk 3 feet above the ground; use 2 pounds of 5-10-5 fertilizer for each inch of diameter. For trunks with a diameter of less than 3 inches, use 1/2 pound for each inch.

Using a soil auger, crowbar, or posthole digger, make holes 15 to 24 inches deep and 18 to 24 inches apart around the drip line of the tree (the area beneath the ends of the longest branches). Fertilize a few feet beyond the drip line especially for young trees.

Distribute the fertilizer equally among the holes, using 1/4 cup per hole. Then fill the holes with soil. A mixture of equal parts of topsoil, sand, and peat moss is a good filling.

For shrubs--Scatter 2 to 3 pounds of 5-10-5, 10-10-10, or a similar formula of water-soluble fertilizer per 100 square feet of area under shrubs. The fertilizer should be scratched into the soil lightly and then watered. Fertilize each year in the spring.

Collins' No Hitter Wins Consolation Game

Turning in what may have been the outstanding pitching performance for the tournament, Lake Forest's sophomore hurler, Lee Collins last Friday pitched a no hitter to win the Spartans' consolation contest against Smyrna, 2-0, in the Dover Invitational.

The Southern Division leading Spartans dropped the opening game of the tournament to Dover, 0-6, with Doug Collins the losing pitcher.

Three Spartan hits were supplied by Williams (two) and Scott (one).

In the consolation game, Lee Collins held the Eagles hitless, while his teammates supplied eight hits and two runs. Two doubles by Harrell and a pair of hits by Guessfird led the hitting. Other Spartans hitting safely were Booth, Doug Collins, Dickerson and Moreau.

Duane Harrell swings away last Thursday in a game against North Carolina High School. The Spartans lost.

Spartan Boys Are 2nd In Howard Relays

By Keith S. Burgess

Host Howard captured the Division II section with 88 points, with surprising Lake Forest, a close second with 80 points, at Saturday's Howard Relays, held at Baynard Stadium, Wilmington. Al Leitzel (10 feet) and David Decker (9-6) won the pole vault relay, for Lake Forest, the Spartans only victory, but the locals scored in every event, to make the outcome close.

Gerald Perry, Jeff and Jeffrey De-Shields and James Browne were second in the 400 and 800 meter relays.

Page Pulley and Rob Prutzman were second in the shot put relay. The second place Spartan unit, in the 4 mile relay was composed of James Lofland, Larry Guessford, Kevin Greene and Jay Howerin. Lofland, Howerin, Manny Hernandez and sophomore Jerry Mosley were second in the 3200 meter relay with Mosley turning in his best 800 meter effort, yet. Manny Hernandez, Nelson Mosley, Larry Guessford and James Lofland were second in the medley.

Third place in the shuttle hurdles relay was won by Tony Scott, Don Drew, Nelson Mosley and Jerome Scott. Also third was the Spartan quartet of Howerin, Perry, Bruce Tolson and Jeff DeShields in the sprint medley and Tolson, Tony Scott, Sheldon Powell and Nelson Mosley, in the 1600 meter relay.

A freshman quartet of Ralph Young, Ray DeShields, Andy LaSalle and Jerome Scott were well in the lead, before a dropped baton cost them a victory in the 400 meter relay.

In the 800 meter relay, the same speedsters won in a fast 1.39 over a field of both Division I and Division II schools.

With all the young talent coming up at Lake Froest, the Spartans ought to be competitive, in track and field, for the next few years at least.

Lyons Splits A Pair For LF

Behind the pitching of Tina Lyons, the Lake Forest High School girls softball team split a pair of games on April 7 and 8th.

At Laurel on April 7, the Spartan girls out-hit the opposing team 9 to 7, but were able to capitalize on only two of their hits to score. Laurel made good on all seven of its hits to finish the game with a 7-2 victory.

Leading the hitting for Lake Forest were D. D. White with two (one of them a double) and Cathy Johnson with two. Stephanie Dopirak, Pam Harris, Donna Jenkins, Connie Conley and Cathy Harrington also had runs for Lake Forest.

On April 8, meeting Woodbridge on Spartan turf, the local girls kept the edge, allowing the visiting Raiders no runs on five hits. The Spartans scored once for a 1-0 finish.

In the Woodbridge game, two Spartans Stephanie Dopirak and Connie Conley were good for doubles. Other Lake Forest hits were supplied by Donna Jenkins, Cathy Johnson and Cathy Harrington.

Spartans Bow to Caroline

Bill Falasco's Spartan baseball nine journeyed to Maryland during the Easter vacation where they bowed to the Bulldogs, 4-9, on April 15.

The losing pitcher was Lake Forest's Duane Harrell as the Spartans gave up nine hits for nine runs. Lake Forest equalled North Caroline in the hitting department, but was only able to bring four of its nine across the plats. Harrell and Jarrell both supplied doubles for Lake Forest, while Doug Collins and Billy Scott each had two hits. Also hitting for the Spartans were Booth, Moreau and Lee Collins.

Spartan Girls Close Second

By Keith S. Burgess

Howard High School has been hailed, as the No. 1 girls' track team in Delaware Division II (small school) ranks. At Saturday's Howard Relays, Jim Blades' Lake Forest girls team trailed the host Wildcats by only 75-71, with no other school in contention.

This was accomplished with key personnel absent, in the persons of Annette Baynard, Carinthia Clarke, and Gina Turner. School 1500 meter record holder, Sherri Coburn, is still on the injury list. At full strength, the lady spartans could have won this meet going away.

Muriel Greene, Tammy Hinson, Tracy Kramer and Carol Payne won the opening event, the 440 yard shuttle hurdle relay, in 1.09.7.

Karen Gibbs cleared 4 feet, 8 inches, a new personal best in the high jump. Kim Moehlenkamp did 4-4. The combined total of 9 feet gave Lake Forest, a first place tie with Howard.

Sharon Burton and Michelle Penn captured the shot put relay for the Spartans. Last year's top scorer and school record holder, in two of the jumping events did not come out for track this campaign. Freshman Nancy Badman replaced her in the long jump relay and united with improving Karen Gibbs to miss first placed by a scant 2 inches.

A quartet of Michelle Mango, Sherry Durant, Pandora Scott and Nancy Badman were second in the 400 meter relay and 1/10 second out of second place, in the 800 meter relay.

The Spartans finished third, in the 3200 meter relay, as Donna Pardee unleashed a sparkling 2.30.5 800 meter leg. If that had been done in an open race, she would have narrowly missed the Spartan record. Pardee's only a sophomore and should eventually put that mark out of sight. Carolyn Winder, a promising freshman quarter miler, stepped up to twice that distance and surprised with a very good 2.46 maiden effort. Susan Hoover and Sheila White were the other locals, in the 3200 event.

In the sprint medley, Lake Forest was second, sparked by Carol Payne's outstanding 6.14,400 meter stint. Others here were Sherry Durant, Pandora Scott and Donna Pardee.

Kramer, Winder, Pardee and Payne, tired after a grueling afternoon managed a third place effort in the final event, the 1600 meter relay.

Tracy Kramer, Susie Johnson, Marie Litano and Carolyn Winder captured the 800 meter freshman relay. Johnson, Litano and distance runners, Susie Hoover and Kathy Grill were second, in the 400 meter relay.

Some 44 boys and girls from Lake Forest, competed, with practically all of them winning medals, in the meet held at Wilmington's Baynard Stadium.

Gerry Moreau Named Assistant General Manager At Rosecroft Raceway

OXON HILL, MC.--Gerry Moreau, Director of Facilities at Rosecroft Raceway, has been appointed Assistant General Manager of the Oxon Hill half-mile harness track, announced General Manager Pete Shaw.

"I'm really pleased to have a man of Gerry's experience and ability working more closely with me," said Shaw. "Gerry will continue with his previous duties as Director of Facilities, but he will now have additional responsibilities as the Assistant General Manager. He has accomplished quite a track record since coming to us a year-and-a-half ago (January 1980), and he certainly deserves this opportunity. He's learned from some of the best racing minds in the business."

Moreau, 54, learned his profession in the heartland of harness racing, New York state. Before coming to Rosecroft he had spent 13 years at Saratoga Harness, in Saratoga Springs, New York, beginning in 1968. There, he served variously as Head Starter, Racing Secretary, Director of Facilities and head of the track's parking facility.

At Saratoga, Moreau absorbed harness racing from some of the greats of the profession, including Hap Haswell, who invented the Universal Driver Rating System (UDRS), which grades the performance of harness drivers.

Moreau served as a director of the New York State Breeders Association from 1969-74. He was also instrumental in the passage of the state's Laverne Bill in 1965, which made available funds that have turned New York's standardbred sire programs into some of the best in the nation.

Before coming to Saratoga fulltime, Moreau had been active in harness racing at the County Fair level in New York, dividing time between racing and the home construction business.

A native of New York state, Moreau attended Champlain College. He now lives in Oxon Hill, Maryland. His wife, Rita, is Rosecroft's Special Events Manager.

"The Sound of Music" Opens Thursday

The Do - Re - Mi Kids

The original seven children of the famous Trapp Family Singers have Del. counterparts selected from 75 who auditioned to be in THE SINGING PLAYERS presentation of "THE SOUND OF MUSIC" in Dover Central Middle School Auditorium April 23, 24, 25, 2981 at 8:15 p.m. Ranging from the eldest to the youngest, they are: Yvone Simpson, Bridgeville, (Leisl), an experienced soloist and actress; Michael Beltran, Dover (Friedrich), selected for "Childs Hall of Fame" for his portrayal of Amahl in 1979 for The Singing Players. He played Louis is 1980 for "The King and I". The next child is Dorayne Sedmond, DAFB, (Louisa), selected All-State Chorus at C. R. High and appear in DAFB High performance of "Mr. Crane"; Justin Beaver, Dover (Kurt), appeared in the 1980 "Christman Party"; Kimberly Kelly, Dover (Bridgetta), selected Del. Little Miss 1980 and was a Princess in "The King and I"; Lisa Ann Rogers, DAFB (Martia), played a Princess in "The King and I"; and Molly Clatworthy, Dover (Gretl), sings with the Youth Choir of Whatcoat United Methodist Church.

Their Governess, Maria, played by April Jones, and all seven children romp through three differing versions of "DO-RE-MI" as Maria tries to bring fun and frolic back into their lives. She succeeds in one instance by playing leap-frog in the living room with them and lands at the feet of a surprised Capt. von Trapp who has just arrived home.

Of equal importance to the story is the trio of nuns who assist The Mother Abbess in the running of Nonnberg Abbey. They are Sister Margaretta (Ran Greim), Dover; Sister Berthe (Janet Rogers, DAFB); and Sister Sophia (Suzanne Parrott, Dover). The Mother Abbess is played by Cindy David, Dover, who is well known here having participated in many shows presented by The Singing Players, The Community Singers, and the Dover Century Club. "Climb Every Mountain" and "My Favorite Things", sung by The Mother Abbess and Maria, provide some of the most thrilling moments Rodgers and Hammerstein achieved in all of their famous shows.

Those who recall the superb staging of "The King and I" last spring by Bill Peuchen are looking forward with much pleasure to this production of "THE SOUND OF MUSIC". Get your tickets early to avoid the higher prices at the Box Office. Advance sale prices are: Adults $4.00 and full-time students of any age $2.00. Groups of ten or more purchased in advance are $.50 less per ticket. Box Office prices are raised $.50 per ticket. Businesses handling tickets are: in Smyrna-Nature's Way Store; in Harrington and Milford the Pharmacies; in Dover-Etters Shoe Store and The Gallery of Art downtown and Baratts Shoes Blue Hen Mall. Call 674-0508 for tickets or further information.

Women of the Moose

The new star recorder, Francis, gave a brief and colorful report of her trip to Mooseheart. Mooseheart, should be visited by everyone.

This chapter was proud that all five Star REcorders from this chapter were present, they are: Iva Banning, Betty Lou Brom, Louise Kulhank, Ruth Lawton and Francis Kuskie.

Francis, was escorted to the altar, where she received a lovely corsage made of $1.00 bills which was very lovely. The co-workers shower Francis with gift of congratulation of earning the STAR. (To receive the Star you must have one PERFECT year as recorder.)

The star recorder were escorted to the altar, to receive gifts from Francis. Special guest of the evening were Gladys Walls (ZPast Deputy), of Easton, Md., Bea Kelly (also Past Deputy), of Salisbury, Md. and Francis McCandish (District Grand Deputy).

After the meeting was adjourned, Detective Gerald Pepper, of Troop 3 and Peggy Coon of Rape Crisis Center, spoke to the co-workers and guests. Thank you.

Facial tattooing was originally used, historians say, not only to beautify the wearer but to conceal expressions of fear from enemies.

MARCH OF DIMES former national poster children — 32 of them from 20 states — gather on the steps of the U.S. Capitol in Washington, D.C. to kickoff WALKAMERICA. It will be the first national superwalk to benefit the fight against birth defects and is scheduled throughout the nation on the weekend of April 25-26. President Ronald Reagan and his wife, Nancy, welcomed poster children spanning 34 years of March of Dimes work. At the White House Mrs. Reagan (insert left) holds 1981 National Poster Child Missy Jablonski of St. Louis, Missouri, youngest poster child, as Nancy Drury Conley, Louisville, Kentucky, National Poster Child in 1947 (right) and the President look on. When millions of Americans join WALKAMERICA on the last weekend of April, they will be walking for all children to continue the battle against birth defects, the number one child health problem in the U.S. today.

Northeast Farm Market Report

NORTHEAST FARM MARKET PRICES VARIED:

NEW YORK, NY—Northeast farm market prices varied during the week ending April 17, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Eggs prices were unchanged, while poultry movement was slow. Livestock and meat prices were generally higher this past week, while fruit and vegetable prices were generally unchanged. Milk production continued its seasonal climb in most areas.

FLUID DAIRY PRODUCTS

Easter milk market administrators announced the March uniform (blend) prices as follows: order 1 $13.72; order 2 $13.20; order 4 $14.02; order 36 $13.62; Niagara frontier $14.45; and the Rochester area $13.49 at normal basing points.

Milk production continued its seasonal climb in most areas. Fluid supplies reached burdensome proportions in scattered instances with most plants reporting excessive volumes. Class I spot sales were about steady.

The strike effecting a large number of retail chain stores in and around the New York area has been settled and product movement has returned to more normal levels.

Due to the school vacations, more milk is backing up into class II channels. Many manufacturing plants report abundant supplies of surplus milk.

Cottage cheese production and orders are holding steady at generally good levels.

Yogurt production was up in some plants as their orders improved to pick up the slack created by the continued strike at two large yogurt plants in New York and Northern New Jersey.

Condensed skim sales were steady, ranging slow to fairly good.

The fluid cream market undertone steady in most quarters. Supplies of class II cream were usually excessive, generally ample for the slightly improved spot demand. Slightly more cream is being utilized in traditional Eastern/passover recipes and ice cream production.

More ice cream plants were stepping up freezing operations in preparation for improved warm weather orders.

Bottled cream orders have slowed slightly as Easter orders should have been placed in stores by mid week.

Sour cream and cream cheese movement were improved by the seasonally good Easter/passover demand.

Churning activity was heavier as more milk was backing into butter/powder plants.

New York egg prices were unchanged. Demand was good for the holiday's even with only limited feature activity. Offerings were adequate.

Thursday's prices to retailers and sales to volume buyers of consumer Grade A white eggs in cartons, delivered store door to New York City were: 76 to 78 cents on large and 67 to 69 cents on medium.

POULTRY

New York broiler-fryer trucklot trading was light and cautious with early negotiations for next week 43 cents plant grade basis. Inquiry was slightly improved for retail features. This week movement has been slow and floor stocks were fully adequate.

Current broiler-fryer negotiated prices for immediate delivery including multiple-drop shipments to New York City were as follows: 45 to 48 1/2 cents on U.S. grade A and 44 to 46 cents on plant grade. Undertone steady.

Delmarva broiler-fryer ready-to-cook movement during the period was generally light as promotional activity was very limited in the Northeast. Live supplies was ample at weights often heavier than desired.

Current less than trucklot asking prices were 46 cents on plant grade and 47 to 48 1/2 cents on U.S. grade A.

New York chicken parts prices were slightly lower as both trading and movement was light and unaggressive.

However, inquiry was improving for feature activity. Supplies and offerings were fully adequate to occasionally ample.

Turkey activity on carlot and trucklot young turkeys, U.S. grade A, frozen F.O.B. New York were as follows: 62 cents on 8 to 16 pound hens.

4-H'ers Offer Winning Gardening Tips

4-H'ers develop award-winning ideas when it comes to gardening. Ideas from national, state and sectional winners in the 4-H gardening program have been compiled in an 11-page booklet, "Winning Gardening Tips," published by the Ortho Division of Chevron Chemical Company, supporter of the program.

For example, Diana Kay Johnson of Minnesota, advises prospective gardeners to "start small to reap big gardening rewards later." The 4-H'er says the best way to become a successful and enthusiastic gardener is to begin with a small plot of a few varieties that can be well cared for all season.

"The ideal garden should have loose, fertile, well-drained soil in a sunny location handy to the house," Diana points out.

Another 4-H'er, Mary Moser of Illinois, says when preparing prize onions for exhibit, "dry them for approximately 1 1/2 weeks in dry sand."

Elizabeth Hamilton of Massachusetts, says compost the soil with anything biodegradable, such as paper towels, tea bags, wax paper, vegetable and fruit scraps, etc. But, she advises you not to use any items that would attract garden pests.

Growing potatoes can be easy, says Carl Bergeron of Georgia. In the booklet, he suggests planting potatoes in a trash can that's 1/4 full of soil. As the plant grows, add more soil.

"Harvest is easily accomplished by dumping the can and picking up the potatoes," Carl says.

In transplanting tomatoes, Eric Umbreit of Colorado, digs a hole about twice as deep as the height of the plant. He puts superphosphate in the bottom of the hole, and then fills it with water. Eric says after allowing the superphosphate to dissolve and soak into the soil, he prunes off most of the plant's bottom leaves, fills in part of the hole with good quality soil, and plants the tomato so that only 1/4 to 1/2 of the stem is above ground.

In the 4-H gardening program, boys and girls, nine to 19, study soil analysis, seedbed preparation, seed selection and planting, fertilizer use, irrigation techniques, insect and weed control methods, food processing and family food budgeting and nutrition. Members are encouraged to contribute to family health by producing essential nutritional vegetables and fruits throughout the year.

4-H members also are eligible for awards, donated by Ortho, and arranged by National 4-H Council, a not-for-profit organization that supports 4-H work through private funds. Medals of honor are available to four members from each county. A $50 U. S. Savings Bond goes to each state winner. An expense-paid trip to the 59th National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Ill., Nov. 30 - Dec. 4 is awarded to 18 sectional winners and $1,000 scholarships are awarded to eight national winners.

Winners are selected by the Cooperative Extension Service which conducts the 4-H program. More information on the 4-H program is available from county extension offices.

Berry Funeral Homes

Dear friends,
It is difficult for one's emotions to accept the loss of a fellow human. The mind understands - but the emotions may refuse. Ceremony affects the emotions: music-ritual - people as a group relating to one purpose. For this reason a funeral ceremony has a healing effect on the emotions of the bereaved.

Respectfully,
William C. Berry, Jr.

GOLD - STERLING SILVER - SILVER COINS

Don't sell for less to hotel-motel dealers. Their ads are big but their prices are not. We are Delaware's largest scrap buyer and have high prices everyday. We pay more than anybody for class rings, gold jewelry, sterling silver, silver coins. We will beat any bona fide offer or ad. Sell where the dealers sell. First State Coin Co., Blue Hen Mall.
