Residents Take On Mechanical Beast

The implacable mechanical bull, Big Sid arrived in Harrington on Saturday. A number of area residents tried a ride. Some conquered. Others did not fare so well.

But, according to Ed Robichaud, of Kustom Kaps, who masterminded the "Wild West Days" in Harrington over the weekend, the whole thing was a success for those merchants who participated. Robichaud also said that he would have liked to have seen more merchants participate both to share the costs of advertising and special promotions and to make Harrington truly a "one stop" shopping place.

The arrival of "Big Sid" on Saturday afternoon highlighted the weekend of special promotions. Those who rode

Hughes Is Tree Farmer of The Year

In ceremonies marking the fortieth anniversary of the American Tree Farm System, Felton farmer, Joe Hughes was named Delaware's Tree Farmer of the year Friday, June 12.

The ceremony was timed to coincide with the national celebration and with the founding of the first U.S. tree farm near Montesano, Washington, on June 12, 1941.

A highlight of the tour was the Hughes farm where Joe has practiced a variety of conservation and management practices to get the maximum in pleasure and profit from his forest area. Hughes practices selective cutting and thinning in order to get the highest profit possible from individual trees. He further preserves his forest with an eye to the greater benefit of the wildlife for which it provides home and hunting grounds. And it provides the raw materials, the white oak, necessary for one of his hobbies - the construction of beautiful and useful

Two Honored At Chipman

As the W. T. Chipman Junior School paused last week to mark the promotion of the upcoming Class of 1985 from its halls to the corridors of Lake Forest High School, it also chose to honor two eighth graders as "Outstanding Students". Chosen by the faculty were Maria Weis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Weis of Frederica, and Danny Haines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Haines of Viola.

Danny and Maria were each awarded an engraved plaque as a token of their achievement. They will also have their names engraved on a permanent plaque that is kept on display at the school.

Students selected for this honor must have maintained a high academic record and have participated in at least two extracurricular activities. Those are minimum requirements. The names of eligible candidates are nominated by teachers, the number is narrowed down through a vote by the faculty.

Student Council Adviser Mrs. Bragg made the presentation to this year's Outstanding Students during eighth grade promotion ceremonies held last Wednesday, June 10.

A number of other students were recognized for excellence in scholarship as evidenced by achieving a place on the honor roll for all four marking periods throughout the 1980-81 school year. They were as follows:

Eighth Grade: Elizabeth Watkinson, Paul Meding, Maria Weis, Lori Ann Bright, Maria Kazlauskas, Karen Garvey, Michael McColley and Allison Bishop.

Seventh Grade: Male Pettit, Lenora Prince, Heather Rennie, Valerie Parker, Suzanne Allen, Billy Betts, Barry Chaffinch, Donald Darling and Dawn Jacobs.

In addressing the eighth grade graduates, Chipman principal Marjorie Davis told the story of a race run by a dog and a rabbit. The rabbit won, and the reason given was that the rabbit was running for his life; the dog, just for fun. She said, "If you run a race, the reason you run makes all the difference."

Mrs. Davis also urged the Class of 85 to gain a true understanding of themselves - their weaknesses and their capabilities. And she used the illustration of an $18,000 concert piano that would not play because it lacked a 25 cents wooden wedge to emphasize the fact that the contribution of every individual is important.

Presenting certificates of promotion to the graduating eighth graders on behalf of the Lake Forest Board of Education was board member Albert Price.

Other guests present for the ceremonies included Lake Forest Superintendent William Cline, board member Rick Feutz and Chipman Assistant Principal William Daisey.

The Reverend William Miller of Calvary Wesleyan Church gave the invocation. Music was provided by the seventh grade members of the W. T. Chipman Band under the direction of Alex Becton.

School Lunch Prices Going Up

It's been a pretty dependable rumor. Now it's a fact. School lunch prices in the Lake Forest School District will go up, beginning this September. The cause of this local inflation is the deflation of the federal budget. Faced with a decrease in federal support reported to be in the neighborhood of $56,000, the Lake Forest School Board was forced to adopt an increased schedule of prices in order to balance the budget for district food programs.

At its Monday night meeting, the LF Board decided on the following lunch and breakfast prices for the coming year: elementary lunch - 60 cents (up from 50 cents), junior high lunch - 65 cents (up from 50 cents), high school lunch - 75 cents (up from 55 cents). These are prices for the type "A" platter, not for a la carte items. Reduced price lunches will be 40 cents. Adult lunches will go from $1.00 to $1.25. Breakfast prices in the district will go from 25 cents to 35 cents with the reduced price breakfast set at 20 cents.

Lake Forest Board President, Cliff Chambers said the district would try not to cut cafeteria personnel except by not rehiring where there are resignations. Some hours may be cut, and there may be some shifting of food service personnel within the district.

Mr. Cline, Farewell

Monday night's regular school board meeting marked the last one for Superintendent William Cline in his official capacity. Mr. Cline retires at the end of this month. The Lake Forest Board expressed its appreciation to him for his years of service to education and to Lake Forest schools in particular.

In other business Monday night, the Lake Forest Schol Board:

-gave final approval to a grading policy change which will assure that a student in the junior high or high school will get, in the final marking period of any course, exactly the grade that he earns, no matter how low or how high. Previously the policy allowed no grade lower than 50 to be recorded on the report card in any marking period. This allowed some students to goof off in the final marking period. A number of teachers in favor of the change were in attendance at the board meeting.

-accepted the resignation of high school librarian Emily McKnatt.

-rehired Mary Jean Mason to teach Special Education at Lake Forest North Elementary.

-hired Mrs. Grace Bradford to teach fifth grade at Lake Forest East Elementary.

So far the Lake Forest Board has not named a successor to either Superintendent William Cline or to Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds Robert Sher-

Greenly Recovering After Beating

Fred B. Greenly, Jr., a former Harringtonian and a former judge at Delaware's three harness racing tracks was reported recovering last week from a severe beating he suffered early June 4 near his Farmington Hills, Michigan apartment. Greenly, who underwent surgery on Monday, June 8, was in the Botsford Hospital in Farmington Hills.

In Michigan the Organized Crime Division of the Attorney General's office has been called in to assist in the investigation of the attack which it is thought may have some connection with Greenly's position as state steward at the Wolverine Harness Raceway in Plymouth.

Sgt. Don Chamber of the crime unit reported that although no clues have surfaced which would reveal a motive for the beating, the investigation was centering on a possible underworld link. Robbery has apparently been ruled out as a motive.

Meanwhile, Ken Christopher, of the racing commissioner's office said a $5,000 reward is being offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction on a felony charge of any person or persons involved in the attack.

Greenly suffered a broken nose, injury to his right knee and a severe cut on the back of his head in the incident which took place sometime after midnight on June 4.

Fred Greenly, Jr. served from 1973 to 1977 as the presiding judge on the Delaware harness racing circuit. He is the son of the late Fred Greenly, Sr. and Mary Greenly of Harrington. His father owned a racing stable of harness horses including the world champion Direct Express. A brother-in-law and two nephews - Jack Parker, Jack Jr. and Howard - are involved in the racing business as trainer-drivers.

Like Father, Like Son.....?

This is an age in which people are looked upon very much as individuals and children are not necessarily expected to follow in their parents' footsteps. However, it is still not too far from any father's fondest wishes that his son or daughter might share with him in the business he has established or in some other interest.

With the approach of Father's Day, the Journal talked with a number of businesses in this area that are combinations of father and son or father and other family members. The list is extensive but, by no means, comprehensive.

John Deere farm and garden equipment, is really a family operation. It was incorporated in 1951, after Walter Messick had spent six years working for Taylor's Hardware. He kept the Taylor name in forming his corporation. Now as president, he heads a firm that includes his wife Marie (secretary-treasurer), his son Jimmy (vice president), son-in-law Bobby Collins and daughters Rhonda Lee Messick and Mary Ann Wilson (the last three are all directors).

Felton Hardware, Main Street, Felton is a business that started with one man, included his father for a time, and is now employing both a son and a daughter. Leon Donovan bought the business which is now in its twentieth Schiff Milling Company, Inc. and the headquarters of Schiff Farms, Inc. are located on U.S. 13 in Harrington. Walter Schiff, with whom both concerns originated, would say they have been building for about 40 years. Both got a boost when Jim Schiff joined his father full-time in the business. The younger Schiff, after attending the University of Maryland, had established a successful dental practice in Cambridge. However, he was able to fulfill a lifelong dream when he left that practice, to join his father full time in 1976. Now a third generation, young T. J. Schiff, (with quite a few years still left in school) shows promise of making it father, son and grandson.

Harrington Motor Company - Suzuki, located on U. S. 13, Harrington, represents the accomplishments of Gayle Smith. The original business has actually been extant since 1929. But Smith's history with the enterprise goes back to 1957 when it was still located on Clark Street in Harrington. In 1974, Smith moved the company to a spacious new building on U.S. 13 South. Now he has his son Gary as an active partner and another son, Greg, is an inactive partner.

The town of Magnolia was incorporated 3 April 1885. The act name E. D. Benton, Charles Terry, William M. Prouse, Peter R. Hart and M.S. Van Burkalow as commissioners. That part of "Caroon Manor" lying northeast of Magnolia has for several years (1887) been in the possession of Edmund Stout and John B. Conner. The part lying southwest of the village, previous to 1860 was almost exclusively the property of John and of Samuel Chambers, but since their deaths the land has passed into other hands, principally of McIlroy McIlvaine, John W. Taylor, Mrs. Rasmus, D. Burton and John B. Conner, the younger. (Scharf's Hist. of Dela.)

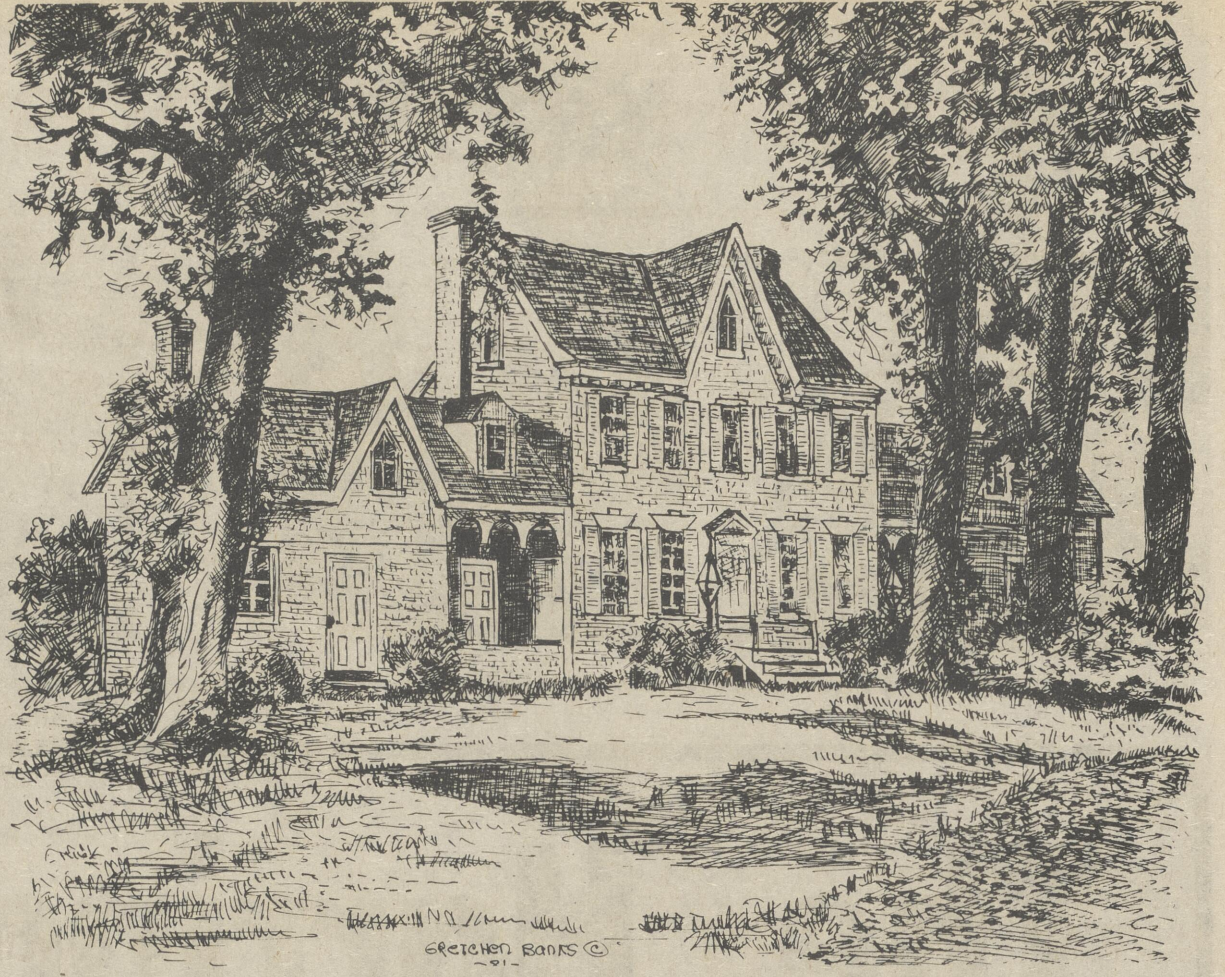

The Plat map of Magnolia filed in 1890 shows McIlroy McIlvaine to be the owner of the southwest quarter "pie-slice" created by the road leading south to Milford and west to Canterbury. McIlvaine a member of the Board of Managers of the Kent County Agricultural Society in 1854 had married Elizabeth White/Wilson daughter of William and Ruth Cardean Wilson. Her ancestor William Wilson was born 8 March 1708; married to Ann Niell 24 Aug. 1736; came to this country in 1737 and settled on a tract of land which he purchased in Kent County about eight miles south of Dover, known as the "White House" it adjoined the lands owned by McIlroy McIlvaine in 1850. The U.S. Census for that year shows McIlroy McIlvaine to be the owner of the southwest quarter "pie-slice" created by the road leading south to Milford and west to Canterbury. McIlvaine a member of the Board of Managers of the Kent County Agricultural Society in 1854 had married Elizabeth White Wilson daughter of William and Ruth Cardean Wilson. Her ancestor William Wilson was born 8

The U.S. Census for that year shows McIlroy McIlvaine to be age 36, his wife Elizabeth age 38, and their children William 11 years, Ruth Ann 8 years, Sarah 7 years and Thomas 2 months. Sarah Emily McIlvaine, daughter of McIlroy and Elizabeth McIlvaine, on 11 Dec. 1867 married her second cousin Dr. James H. Wilson born 3 June 1842, son of Dr. James H. Wilson (Sr.) and his first wife Susan Hopkins the daughter of James and Mary Coomb Hopkins; and grandson of John Cardean Wilson a brother to Elizabeth White Wilson McIlvaine. Dr. James H. Wilson Jr. after completing his preliminary education began the study of medicine under the instruction of his uncle, Dr. Benjamin C. Hopkins, at Felton, Delaware. Magnolia Methodist Episcopal Church had its origin in Banning's Chapel which was located on the road that leads from Magnolia to Dover about 1 1/2 miles north of Magnolia. There is nothing left to indicate there was ever a church there except the cemetery. The society was organized in the home of Caleb Boyer's father by Freeborn Garrettson (born 1752-died 1827) in 1778. (Caleb Boyer born near Magnolia, died in Dover about 1805 and is buried in Wesley Church Cemetery Dover, Delaware.) The chapel was erected by 1781. In 1855 they sold the old building to Captain Thomas Draper who moved it away and converted it into a barn. Banning's Society Membership united with the Magnolia congregation when the Magnolia church called Bethberi

M.E. Church was built in 1855. The church was dedicated 30 Nov. 1856. The Rev. Dr. Durbin preaching the dedicatory sermon in the morning and the Rev. Andrew Manship the evening sermon. The Magnolia Church was thoroughly remodeled in 1940 and in less than six months burned to the ground. The new brick church was dedicated in 1943. (Garden of Methodism by E. C. Hallman).
Among the list of people and places visited by Bishop Francis Asbury the name Boyer appears with the information that (he) "lived between Magnolia and Rising Sun, Kent County Delaware." Out of this home came one early minister, Caleb Boyer and the society that met in Bannings Chapel. Mr. Asbury preached there 16 June 1778; visited 8 January 1779; Preached 10 January 1779; 7 February 1779; 16 June 1779; 15 August 1779; 29 August 1779; 7 November 1779; 26 February 1780; 24 March 1780; 24 November 1780.

Gretchen Banks has selected the Parson Thorne Mansion located at 501 North West Front St. in Milford. The ancient structure was constructed sometime during the first half of the 18th century. Rev. Sydenham Thorne took residence in 1785. The rear of the house is the oldest structure in Milford. The architecture is old English Colonial featuring inside beautiful panelling. It was part of a Duke of York grant in March of 1685. From Thorne the property passed to the parents of John M. Clayton, to John Darby to Benjamin Potter (Potter Estate), to Col. H. B. Fiddeman who made extensive remodeling changes in 1879. He altered the roof lines putting in gables and raised the pitch to the roof. The Draper family purchased it in 1927 and in 1962 it was given to the Milford Historical Society by Richard Draper.

Mrs. Edna Adams who lives between Farmington and Staytonsville, says we had too much rain over the weekend. Mrs. Adams was in the Journal office Monday morning to renew her subscription.

From an Editorial: "It's a crying shame Harrington doesn't have a depository for the many old deeds, maps, pictures and newspapers - mementoes of bygone days - that abound in the city. That we have relics of yesteryears is due to the foresight of the owners. These graphic and pictorial reminders have played an important role in depicting the history of the community....Some of these relics may fall into the hands of unthinking persons. What better community project could an organization carry out than to set aside a room for these souvenirs of the past?"

Ruritans Award Scholarships

At their regular monthly meeting, the Burrsville Ruritans awarded scholastic scholarships to two recent high school graduates. Each scholarship is worth $200, which will be sent to the university of their choice.

Teresa Ann Garman, daughter of Charles and Elizabeth Garman of Henderson, Md. received one of the scholarships. She is a 1981 graduate of North Caroline High School in Denton. She will enter Virginia Polytechnical Institute (V.P.I.) in Blacksburg, Va.

where she will major in veterinary medicine.

Kevin Robbins, son of Joseph and Elizabeth Robbins of Frederica was the other recipient of a $200 scholarship. He will enter Del Tech at Georgetown this fall to study automotive repair and diesel mechanics.

Each year the Burrsville Ruritan Club awards two scholarships to students from a rural background, which is a reflection of the club. The Ruritans are interested in the preservation of rural life.

baskets in a variety of shapes and sizes. Hughes extends his hospitality to various conservation and forestry groups who visit and who point to his management as a model for the practices of others.

First stop on the tour was an established pine plantation on a replanted field on property owned by the Gladfelter Corporation. The touring group later visited the tree farm of William Fibelkorn on the Harrington-Whiteleysburg Road. Here, a thick stand of loblolly pines has been selectively thinned by Fibelkorn and his wife with the help and advice of local foresters and the American Forest Institute. One spectacular effort was a controlled burning which cleaned out the area and left it more attractive and less susceptible to a really destructive fire.

Reforestation practices illustrated included chopping and burning, shearing and piling and bedding. The latter is a soil preparation method which enables trees such as the loblolly pine to be planted in areas that would otherwise be too wet for their establishment and growth. Additional management practices included the clear demarcation of boundaries and creation of fire breaks or access roads in forested areas.

The American Tree Farm System is maintained by the efforts of the lumber and pulpwood industry through the American Forest Institute which works with certified farmers to encourage, to recognize and to advise individuals who are sincere in their desire to farm or manage their forests properly.

Nationally there are 48 active tree farm committees and about 10,000 foresters who work for governmental agencies or private concerns to support and advise tree farmers. Across the U.S. about 82.2 million acres of forest land are owned by 41,657 certified American tree farmers. Despite those numbers, the percentage of land that is devoted to forest is rapidly decreasing by thousands of acres each year. But the demand for forest products is not.

In Delaware there are presently 96 tree farms with a total acreage of 30,268. The largest percentage of this land is in Sussex County. In Kent County as in many other areas, forests are losing ground to land cleared for development and for cultivation.

Get Together and

Talk With Our Neighbors

Senior Center

By Dorothy Graham 398-3780

The old phrase, "Never a Dull Moment" surely applies to the Harrington Senior Center. There is always something going on here. Bible study Monday morning with Rev. Konig. There was a very good attendance with 23 of our members. Our members truly enjoy these inspirational bible studies and we thank the local ministers for volunteering their time to be with us on Monday mornings. Monday afternoon was our monthly members meeting. The most important issue of that day was the election of new officers. The outcome was as follows: for president, Maurice Adams; vice-president, Fred Litman; and for another term of office as secretary and treasurer, Andy Anderson and Merle Roth, respectively. It is important to say a thank-you to Mr. Marion Brown who has served as president of the members for several terms. In a job that is sometimes debateable, Mr. Brown handled all the members with the same courtesy and respect. Of course, you know Mr. Brown as the best group of people to work with that anyone could hope to ask for. Another decision of that afternoon meeting was for the members to purchase a flag pole and flag for the outside of the building. This will be a most welcomed addition to our exterior. The members are most gracious to spend their money for such improvements.

Tuesday morning was the Jolly Timers Hand rehearsal. 19 members helped fill the center with the sounds of such tunes as "Whispering" and "Let me Call You Sweetheart." Even if you don't care to join the band, you are most welcome to come in and just listen to our great group. Several of the band members were missing that morning as a group of our members went to Milford for a health fitness day sponsored by the Division of Aging. Such activities as Aerobic Dancing, square dancing, bowling, darts, and many other things kept the people busy during the day. Everyone who participated received a certificate from the Division of Aging. Believe me, some of our people are hard to keep up with, and they give it time and time again at events such as these.

Wednesday morning was just devoted to the activities that we have every day of the week, pool games, ceramics, dominoes, television and other crafts, and general visiting and conversations. Everyone is busy in their own way. Of course, several of the women are busy from the time they come in. Some would be those women in the kitchen. Gladys Hill, our kitchen aid, and the staff of volunteers are always hard at work. Thank you to all of them for all their hours of service. Wednesday afternoon we were treated to a "creative expressions" party. It is like the ones that you can have in your homes. Joyce Bennett from Felton was the hostess of the party. She had brought along her sample quilting. Our members really enjoyed the afternoon, it brought back a lot of memories of life on the farm and growing up. The afternoon was topped off by refreshments. Joyce supplied us with a cake for having the party. We mixed up some iced tea and had a nice time.

Thursday morning was active around the center. The trips we have going this month are really attracting a lot of people to sign up. There is still time to sign up for Rehoboth and Gettysburg. Call the Center for information. We had visitors from Laurel, our good friends and members, Ruth and Lewis Kee. Mrs. Kee is Joyce Kimmeys Mother and we all were sad when she and her husband moved to Laurel. It is so nice when our friends come back to the Center to visit us. Thursday afternoon, we planted the last of the Petunias in front of our building. Our thanks to Grace and Carroll Welch for donating several plants and flowers to the Center. They are most appreciated and add quite a lot to our Center. Thanks.

Thursday evening was the monthly board meeting. The new board members were present at the meeting. It looks as though we are fortunate to again have caring citizens to help guide the Harrington Senior Center to better meet the needs of the senior citizens.

Friday was busy around the center. The women were busy in the ceramic room. The men were busy in the pool room. Other women were busy in the kitchen. Other women and men were busy throughout the building. That afternoon, bingo was called by Mrs. Anthony several of our members participated.

Noticed outside that the Petunias are doing just fine. We also have a light in our parking lot now.

The Harrington Senior Center is open five days a week, Monday thru Friday from nine until four. The Center is open to anyone over sixty regardless of sex, creed, national origin, or handicap.

Please try to stop by and visit us. We have already had a couple of people stop by for the tour we mentioned last week.

Have a good week. Thank you to all the volunteers, and a speedy recovery to our homebounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brown and Mrs. Charles Coverdale called on Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bare and Mrs. Melvin Brown on Thursday afternoon.

It's nice to see Mrs. Grace Welch is on the mind and up and about again.

Well wishes to all.

Please remember the kids are out of school, so drive carefully!

Happy Father's Day, Hon! Love ya, Joann, Lou Ann, Freddie, Shauna and Jennie.

Take Care, Share a Smile, God Bless.

Would you believe that a certain group of very nice people went crabbing Saturday and caught quite a few nice ones? They got back to the dock, making plans to cook them and have a crab feast that evening and guess what! While they were rinsing them off in the water, the whole bottom of the basket fell out, and they lost the whole day's catch. They managed to get a laugh out of the situation, but I know for a fact that the culprit that lost the crabs took his girlfriend to dinner that night, and guess what he bought her.....all the crabs she could eat!

Anne's Kitchen

This recipe comes direct from the City of Naples where bounty from the rich bay is displayed each morning sidewalk markets at the waterfront. The seafood and fish not sold by mid-morning is promptly discarded so you can always be assured of freshness. The next morning brings a new and fresh supply, and so it goes. Most any Neopolitan housewife can prepare gourmet delights with very basic and simple ingredients. Her methods are always quick, simple and low cost. Unlike American eating habits, the big family meal is at mid-day. Shops and businesses close, merchants return to their homes for their family's meal after which everyone naps. After the heat of the day, shops re-open, for a few hours and another lighter meal is served during late evening "Spaghetti con Vongole" (very small clams) in "Bianco", (white sauce without tomato) is very often a dish you might find on an Italian afternoon table. It would most always be served as "Primo Piatto" (first dish) followed very likely with a platter of assorted fried fish and a salad. All Italians love food, and in Naples more so. The smallest clams we can buy legally are probably Little Neck, and that's what you will use for this recipe.

"Spaghetti con Vongole in Bianco"
1 lb. spaghetti
2 1/2 dozen clams
1 tablespoon olive oil

2 cloves minced garlic
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
1 teaspoon dried red hot pepper (optional)
1 handful chopped fresh Italian parsley

1. Scrub clams very well with a brush and cold water.
2. Place in a deep covered frying pan and place on hot fire. Shake pan back and forth and stir around till all clams open. Set aside.
3. Place 1/2 cup olive oil in saucpan, add garlic and brown. Add juice from clams, salt, black & red pepper and boil 1 minute. Add 1/2 of the parsley and clams, and remove from heat.
4. Have ready spaghetti cooked according to package directions. Toss sauce with spaghetti till sauce is evenly distributed through spaghetti. Turn out into large spaghetti platter. Place clam shells around platter (for decorative purposes.) and sprinkle with the rest of the chopped parsley. With a little practice you will be able to go through these steps in less than the time it takes to bring water to a boil and cook spaghetti. A crisp green salad and slightly chilled white wine will turn this simple peasant's fare into a gourmet delight. Chilled fresh fruit and an assortment of cheese will top off your meal perfectly. That's Italian!

Enjoy!

Gabfest

We've been having some perfect June days, but this morning reminds me of August--hot, misty, cloudy and muggy. It seems to promise rain, and the garden needs rain so much.

We have been wallowing in strawberries for a couple of weeks, but, luckily, they ripened slowly, a few quarts at a time. We have made batch after batch of frozen jam and also put some sugared ones in the freezer for shortcake next winter. I am not up to full working capacity just yet, but I could sit and get off the caps and then sit and stir the jam for the three minutes to finish it up.

Now, just as the strawberries are lessening, here come the garden peas. The kids and I help with the shelling, so it is a family project.

Just ahead, the beets are soon to demand attention, then will come the cabbage and green beans. Dad will eat green beans only under pressure or to be polite. But they are great to throw in the soup pot in the winter time.

Dad and Garith are eagerly awaiting the first garden tomatoes. I've never seen anyone like them so well. They eat them sliced with a bit of sugar and Dad adds salt and pepper to his. Until they get ready we are happy to make a meal of big bowls of peas with little slippery dumplings. Fruit and dessert complete the meal.

In a few days now our Karen will be home from England with her dog, "Misty", a border collie. Then, in two weeks, her husband "Matt" will arrive and we will be a united family once again. Three years ago, it seemed like a long time, but the years have passed.

Matt will enter Purdue University this fall to complete his college education. He will be training for veterinary medicine. It was a good experience for them to live in England and to travel in the surrounding countries of Europe. And they spoke of a fast food place in London where they could get hamburgers and french fries just like in America. But they also became acquainted with England's fish and chips.

How are you all doing with your roses? Ours and Ellen's are blooming profusely but they seem to have more problems than in other years. Black spot has been rampant and aphids and caterpillars and some as yet unknown bug that is eating the buds.

The Japanese beetles have yet to arrive, but the potato beetles are beginning to know at the potato patch. They look great and are getting their purple blossoms, but a bit of "grabbling" at the roots show no potatoes yet. I can scarcely wait for a big bowl of them dressed with heaps of butter and parsley!

CONGRATULATIONS
An afternoon cookout and an evening punch party was held at the home of Miss Mary Adele Knapp on Sunday, June 7th. Relatives and friends honored Mary as a member of the Lake Forest graduating class of 1981. A special horseshoe shaped cake, decorated with red roses and a miniature graduate was the symbol of the success and happiness wishes for her future. Organ and guitar playing was provided by Theresa Pierce and Bartos Hrupsa, (age 5) sang many songs. Mary is the daughter of Col. (FJD.) and Mrs. Ronald Knapp and the granddaughter of Elizabeth and the late Rudolph Hrupsa. Everyone enjoyed a very exciting day.

A garden party was held for Robert Thompson of Willow Grove, Del., honoring him as a graduate from the University of Del., honoring him as "Magna Cum Laude." Friends, relatives and other graduates attended this elaborate party. Robert has been accepted in the Pa. School of Veterinarians and leaves Del. in Sept. for his new duties.
"Good Luck Robert from all of us."

Methodists Wind Up Annual Conference

SALISBURY, Md.--United Methodists from Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland wound up their three-day 42nd Annual Conference June 11 with the ordination of seven elders and five deacons at a ceremony in Asbury Church. The nearly 1000 members attending represented 502 churches that make up the Peninsula Annual Conference. Bishop D. Frederick Wertz, bishop of the Washington Area, which includes both the Peninsula and Baltimore Conferences, officiated at all of the sessions, preaching at the opening communion service and the closing ordination service. Themed "Strengthening the Local Church for its Evangelistic Mission in the World," the Conference was characterized by some heated debate on the floor, some burning of the midnight oil by small groups wrestling with problems of clarification, and strong displays of unity on many issues. Controversial issues were the method of implementation of a new pension plan mandated by the General Conference of the Church, and the erection of a new $400,000 Conference office building in Dover to replace the more than 100-year-old building being used now. In both cases, some members felt that the Ethnic Minority Local Church (EMLC) was not getting a fair shake, but after explanations were made and assurances given that the Conference would not lose sight of its priority for the quadrennium (EMLC), both the pension plan method and the building were voted through. Also controversial was the Reach Program, a stewardship/funding program developed by a committee of the Council of Ministries, which includes the hiring of a full-time director for at least two years. The program was passed by a narrow margin with a number of members not voting. The Conference passed three resolutions concerning the conditions in El Salvador, the nuclear arms race and the preservation of land for farming in Delaware and Maryland. Four-year goals and objectives recommended by the grass roots churches last fall in a survey were adopted by the Conference. A balanced budget of $2,658,415 was approved for 1982. At the Communion Service opening the Conference, an offering of $778.14 was received, earmarked for EMLC programs. Highlights of the Conference were two appearances by Rev. Dr. Joe Lowery, head of the Southern Leadership Conference in Atlanta; the Children's Choir of Neighborhood House in Wilmington, and speaker Leonard Miller, associate general secretary of the General Council on Ministries. Retiring from the ministry at this Conference are the Revs. Frank O. Baynard, Chesapeake City-Trinity; John R. Bryan, Ezion-Mt. Carmel; Perry O. Hill, Calvary-Eastlake; Paul E. McCoy, Newark; James B. Doughten, Greenwood; Ivon P. Downing, Clarksville; John R. Hickson, Nassau, Milton; Claude B. Brown, Asbury, Sharptown; and Clarence E. Handy, Tyaskin-Oakville-Cottage Grove. This is the first time in 12 years that the Conference has been held in Salisbury. It has usually taken place in Dover, home office of Peninsula Conference. The bishop will make the decision on where it will be held next year.

Auxiliary Holds Free Marine Examinations Sunday

Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 12-8 of Harrington held free Courtesy Marine Examinations on June 7, at Cedar Creek Public Launching Ramp as part of National Safe Boating Week, and have scheduled another day on June 21, at the same location.

National Safe Boating Week is annually proclaimed by the President and approved by Congress as a time to bring attention to the need for "Safe Boating" to all who use America's waterways and coastal waters.

"Since World War II pleasure boating has been on the increase," said Flotilla Commander John Seacord of the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, "until today it is America's number one family participating sport." "And the Coast Guard Auxiliary has grown with the sport of pleasure boating," FC Seacord added, "promoting Safe Boating through public education."

FC Seacord, a pleasure boater himself, invites all pleasure boaters, be they captain or crew, to attend a Safe Boating Course offered by the Coast Guard Auxiliary. The course is free and there is only a small charge for the text and workbooks.

The Boating Skills and Seamanship course consists of 13 lessons. The basic core of this course consists of 6 two-hour lessons covering the Safe Way to Boating enjoyment, Boaters Language and Trailing, Boat Handling, Legal Requirements, Rules of the Road, and Aids to Navigation, the basic knowledge one should have to operate a boat safely. Additional lessons are Piloting, Marine Engines, Marlin-spike Seamanship, Sailing, Weather, Radio Telephone, and Locks and Dams.

Flotilla 12-8 of Harrington recently completed a BS&S course that was held at Lake Forest High School; additional courses will be offered early in 1982 with the time and place to be announced.

To further its promotion of Safe Boating, the Auxiliary also offers free Courtesy Marine Examinations to ensure that your boat meets all Federal and State requirements. There is no penalty for failing, only a request to make repairs or install required safety equipment. If your boat passes, it will be awarded the Coast Guard Auxiliary Seal of Safety Decal that is recognized by all Law Enforcement Agencies.

The United States Coast Guard Auxiliary, the civilian component of the United States Coast Guard, is an all volunteer group of pleasure boaters dedicated to Safe Boating.

The Coast Guard Auxiliary's program of promoting Safe Boating has grown with the pleasure boating movement, until today, the Coast Guard Auxiliary is larger than its parent organization, The United States Coast Guard.

The Coast Guard Auxiliary is built on a four cornerstone foundation, Public Education, Courtesy Marine Examination, Search and Rescue, and Fellowship.

Offering the Coast Guard more than 9,000 pleasure boats especially equipped to assist in Search and Rescue missions and over 140 private planes the Auxiliary assists in over 40% of the rescue missions the United States Coast Guard is called upon to perform. In addition the Auxiliary makes available to their parent organization more than 1,100 fixed and mobile marine radio stations.

In 1980 Coast Guard Auxiliary saved the lives of 1,614 pleasure boaters, assisted another 57,871 boaters, saved or assisted recreational boats with combined value of $1,122,546,600. The volunteer members of the Auxiliary performed 35,792 missions in direct support of the United States Coast Guard, furnished boats and crews for 44,160 Safety or Regatta Patrols, Examined 179,584 pleasure boats.

Many "good sports" were willing to tackle the bull. Richard "Shorty" Ratledge stayed on for the full eight seconds.

Brandywine

by Norm Short

Grand Circuit Racing is harness racing's Allstar week with the top drivers, trainers and 2-3 year old horses competing. The circuit starts in late March and goes thru to December with stops at many tracks in the U.S. and Canada.

Track records get broken with ease during the week, some of the highlights were:

A new 2-year old filly track record for trotters of 2:02.1 by Arnie Likeness, and Stanley Dancer's Harmonica, a 2-year old pacing filly winning in 1:59.2, setting another new mark.

The "Battle of the Brandywine" brings the week to a close with 3-year old colts racing for a $100,000 purse. Things looked like an upset victory for Computer until he went off stride just before the finish allowing Arties Dream to capture the battle. Considering they raced in the pouring rain, the mile time of 1:55.1 is tremendous.

Although Grand Circuit Week stole the spotlight, some of our local stars did shine. Bob Maris of Felton, scored with Stoney Von, trotting the mile in 15 strikeouts.

Miniature Golf Tournament

On Saturday, June 20, 1981 at 9:30 a.m. a fearless foursome including Governor Pierre S. duPont will tee off in the first flight of the First Annual YMCA Miniature Golf Celebrity Tournament. Foursomes will follow the governor round the course and celebrities are still registering at the Y to take part in the tournament. There will be three flights going off, at 9:30 a.m., 10:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m. There will be prizes awarded in all flights. Any celebrity wishing to play in the tournament should register with the YMCA at 674-3000. The entry fee for the tournament is $5.00 and all the proceeds will benefit the YMCA of Southern Delaware.

Felton Minor League

An exciting game was played Friday night between the Orioles and the Yankees. Emanuel Dixon, the starting pitcher for the Orioles, pitched 5 strikeouts, 6 walks and 5 hits. He was relieved by Tony Bray in the 4th inning and Tony pitched 5 strikeouts, 1 walk and 4 hits. Doug Wood, starting pitcher for the Yankees, pitched 5 strikeouts, 4 walks and 1 hit before being relieved by Robbie Warren who pitched 10 strikeouts, 7 walks and 5 hits.

The first run of the game was scored by Tony Bray of the Orioles as a result of walks and stolen bases. At the end of the 1st inning, the score was Orioles 1, Yankees 0. In 2nd inning action Tony Bray of the Orioles was credited with an RBI making their second run. The Yankees came back with a sacrifice hit by their shortstop, Larry, giving him 2 RBIs. At the end of the 2nd inning the game was tied at 2 runs a piece. Larry Morris's double in the 3rd inning drove in 2 more runs for the Orioles, but it wasn't enough as the Yankees scored 4 runs. Robby Warren of the Yankees hit a double and Bret sacrificed bringing in 2 of the runs while Timmy scored 1 run and brought 1 run in. The score stood at 4 for the Orioles, 6 for the Yankees at the close of the third.

At the top of the 4th John Carter's double drove in 3 more runs for the Orioles but the Yankees 1st baseman, Karla, hit a double bringing in 2 more runs and Robbie Warren, Bret and Scott each got a run making the scores, Orioles 7, Yankees 12. In the 5th inning the Orioles popped one up, walked once and struck out twice and the Yankees struck out, 1-2-3. Score remained 7 to 12 after the fifth. At the top of the 6th inning the Orioles made a heroic effort to go ahead with Craig Killen scoring 1 run and John Carter's second double of the game driving in two more runs. The final score was 10 to 12, Yankees victory. Good game guys. Both teams looked great.

The Phillies are still unbeaten with two more wins this past week, 18-0 against the Yankees and 15-2 against the Royals.

Some excellent defensive plays were made by Scott Steele, Frank Hinspeter and Frank Walls. Danny Voshell and Mike Sanders had good hits in both games.

Tyrane Giddens had his 5th home run for the season. Paul Voshell had 4 hits in 4 times at bat.

Robby Hawkins, Herman Mosley, David Chambers, James Dodd and Kim Voshell once again were hitting and driving in runs.

Herman Mosley was the winning pitcher against the Yankees. Winning pitcher against the Royals was Tyrane Giddens.

John Wagoner pitched the Dodgers to a 6-2 victory over the Royals. It was a 1-1 game until the 4th when the Dodgers added 2. In the 5th they added another 4. Kevin Harding was the Royal's top hitter with a double and a single. Craig Custis for the Royals had 15 strikeouts.

Runs in Galaxy

This past Sunday, under rain threatening skies, 60 runners competed in the 6.2 mile Galaxy Run sponsored by the Dover Air Force Base.

Brad Morris of Harrington completed the race in a time of 38:24 finishing 9th overall and second in the 25-29 age category. He was awarded a medal for his effort.

Gladden, Scott Win In Hershey Track

by Keith S. Burgess

The Hershey National Track and Field Youth Program meet was held at Lake Forests Track, on Saturday and as usual youth of this area stayed away in droves.

Two who showed up were Chipman standouts, Billy Scott "No, not that Billy Scott!" and Tara Gladden.

Scott was second in the 400 meter run, then won the 200, in 27.6. Gladden had no competition in the 13-14 class, but ran with the boys in the 1500 meter run and bettered her goal of 6 minutes flat, by a whopping 15 seconds. She's only 30 seconds off the Lake Forest mark and might get closer than that, before the summer's over. Starting in 1982, she will have four years of high school track to break the school mark, then put it out of reach for years to come. We predict she will do just that.

Rob Burgholtzer and Rob Rennie won the softball throw in the 11-12 and 13-14 divisions, respectively. Pattie Drew was first in girls 13-14 standing long jump. Yvette Newsome captured the girls 13-14 400 meters (68.3).

Other locals to run well were Darren Hammond and Jeff Caldwell.

Three From L.F. Attend Aquatic School

Three members of the staff of the Lake Forest Community Aquatic Program recently participated in an eight-day National Aquatic School held at Indiana, Ohio, and sponsored by the National Aquatic Council of AAHPERD. Dennis Berry, LF Aquatic Coordinator, was on the staff of the school, and Bonnie Blades and Kathy Monroe, instructors, attended as students.

During the school, Kathy Monroe was recognized as Teacher of Handicapped Swimming. She also took synchronized Swimming and Competitive Swimming. Bonnie Blades took Teacher of Swimming and Pool Chemistry.

Dennis Berry, after a ten-day evaluation period, was recognized at the level of Master Teaching of Swimming, the highest possible level acknowledged by the National Aquatic Council. Berry was also named to the Committee planning the next national convention of the AAHPERD to be held in Houston, Texas. The National Aquatic Council plans an aquatic workshop in connection with the convention.

Berry was further named to the six-member executive committee of the National Aquatic Council as National Coordinator of Special Projects. In that capacity he will be responsible for seeing that an approved aquatic workshop is held in each of six national districts. The Lake Forest workshop, held here for the past two years, will serve as a model for the others.

On June 8th, Taylor & Messick won the game against Peoples Bank 3-2. Greg Sherman, Wesley Taylor, & Jimmie Moss scored for Taylor & Messick. Gary Moore & Eddie Dennis scored for Peoples Bank. The winning pitcher was Jimmy Moss and the losing pitcher was Eddie Dennis.

Tuesday's game I. G. Burton walked over Pitts Farm with the score 12-3. The winning pitcher was John Kirby and the losing pitcher was Danny Gemmill.

Wednesday's game started an hour late due to rain. First National Bank and Peoples bank played 6 innings with a 10-10 tie score. The game was called at 10 o'clock.

Bobby Fisher of I. G. Burton had a shut out against Taylor & Messick Thursday evening with the score 5-0. Bobby Fisher had hits to the outfield and scored 2 runs and Gary Price had a solid hit to center field & scored. Frank Coverdale & George Acree were credited with a run each. Playing defensively, Albert Silbereisen, catcher for I. G. Burton, picked off Dana Wainright, Joe Dopirak, Jeff Carroll at second, with the help of second baseman, Ricky Lahman. The mound duties for Taylor & Messick was shared by Mike Collins and Joe Dopirak. Their catcher was Jeff Carroll.

Friday's game was a shut out for Roy Killen of First National Bank against Pitts Farm with a score 2-0. Donnie Bell & Buck Bordley scored the runs soon discovered that "Sid" operates at several speeds from 1 to 10. Ten was for the truly daring.

Riders ranged in ages from 8 months old, Robbie Holson of Millsboro to ? There was also at least one lady rider, Debbie Shear.

For a while David Gillespie was the person with the most rides at #10 in which he managed to stay on for eight or more seconds. But his time was shattered by Barry Thompson who rode "Sid" at his rampaging worst for 19 seconds.

A number of riders looked more like fliers.

 year of operation in 1962. His father, Leon Donovan, then a state senator, helped him with the operation. After serving as deputy sheriff, the elder Donovan again joined his son until October 1976. Now Leon Donovan has a son and a daughter, both students, joining him part time in the business. Rod Donovan will be a senior at Delaware State College this fall. He is concentrating in Agribusiness. His sister, Lorrie, will be a junior at the college.

Olin Davis of Harrington shares his interest and his occupation with his whole family, including his wife, Ruth and a daughter. But he and his son, Olin, Jr., better known as "Mike" around the family are both actually involved in owning, training and driving harness horses. You might catch either one or both of them at Harrington Raceway or elsewhere in the racing world.

Ronnie and Ben Hughes of Hi-Grade

Hi Grade Dairy, Inc., started in 1935 by Fred Bailey, was purchased in 1957 by Benjamin Hughes of Harrington. Ben Hughes says his son Ronnie has been in the business almost since he was "old enough to walk" - well, at least since he was old enough to be assigned a job. Now Ben and Ronnie Hughes are fully involved - the father as president; the son, as vice president. Mrs. Emma Lee Hughes is the firm's secretary/treasurer, and their daughter, Cynthia Lee is expected to join the corporation when she graduates from Wesley College. Cindy, who will be a senior at Wesley this year, has maintained a straight "A" (4.0) average for three years there. Another daughter, Jane Moore, who is a teacher in the home economics department at Lake Forest High School, works part time in the business on occasion. The dairy and food operation, which now features homemade ice cream and donuts along with the milk and various other items, has expanded greatly since its beginnings...in 1978 Hi-Grade moved from its Clark Street headquarters to a large new building with ample parking at the intersection of U.S. 13 and Clark Street, between the lights. The Clark Street building is still in use at the location of the milk processing plant and as office space.

Callis Thompson has been a Harrington institution for the past twenty-eight years since it was founded by Joe Callis and George Thompson. Both Joe and George retired in 1981, but both retained an interest, financial and otherwise, in the company. Ready to step into his father's shoes was William "Bill" Thompson who now serves as the firm's president. He has been with Callis Thompson, which is located on U.S. 13 north in Harrington, since he left the U.S. Navy in 1971.

Editors Note: This listing is not, nor was it intended to be, all-inclusive. We realize that there are many fathers and sons working together in this area who will go unrecognized by name on these pages. However, we hope this will serve as a token to say "Happy Father's Day" to all our fathers, whether named or unnamed here.

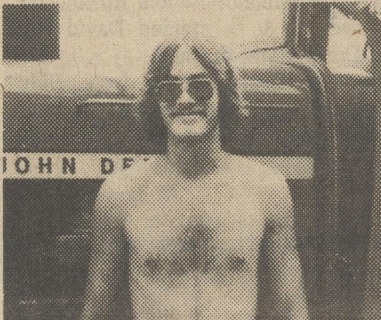

Happy Fathers Day !

Bill Towers and Bill Towers, Jr. of Harrington share an interest in stock car racing. Towers Jr. drives both a modified and a late model. Towers Sr., through his business Towers Auto Service is one of the sponsors of the modified and his mechanical expertise goes into some of the work on the car.

The farming and poultry business originated with the late George Cain. But his son Charles and now a grandson, Greg, carry it on. Charles and Eleanor Cain regularly raise some 55,000 to 66,000 broilers for Allen's Hatchery. Now under their guidance, Greg Cain, a 1979 graduate of Lake Forest High School, manages a house of 20,000 broilers of his own. In addition, the younger Cain, who grew up with an interest in farming, is tilling land of his own this year.

Guy Johnston, Sr., a Frederica resident, retired from the U. S. Air Force to go into business with his son, Gerald. They now own and operate J.J.'s Service Center which combines a service station, a laundromat (The Suds Tub) and a game room, all located on Alt. U. S. 13 across from the Frederica Fire Hall. They have been in business for the past two and a half years.

Robbins Hardware and Appliance, Market Street, Frederica, involves a father and two sons. The father is Herbert Robbins; his two sons, Jeff and Frank. The business has been in the Robbins name since it was purchased from Joe Gerow in 1961. It was formerly known as Wilson and Gerow. About two years ago the Robbins completed some in-store expansion and improvements on the family business.

Taylor's Hardware and Company, Commerce and Dorman Street in Harrington, originated as Taylors Hardware on January 1, 1935. It was the project of J. Edward and Lelia Taylor. In the early 1960's it was incorporated as Taylor's Hardware and Company. After a stint in the National Guard, Taylor's son, Robert or "Bob" joined the business full time, eventually owning half the company. Future plans are for Bob to take over completely. He is also joined in the business by his wife, Betty.

National Guard Sets Annual Governor's Day

WILMINGTON, DEL. - Governor's Day 1981, will be held Saturday, June 20th, at Camp Major General Herbert O. Wardell, Bethany Beach, Delaware. Beginning at 9:00 a.m., the celebration will honor the Commander-in-Chief of the Delaware National Guard, Pierre S. duPont IV. In addition, the Guard will be paying tribute to Maj. Gen. Herbert O. Wardell, former Commander of the 261 Air Defense Artillery Brigade, retires from all the services, and current Guard personnel.

Featured activities for the celebration will include a military parade, troop review, addresses by Governor duPont and Maj. Gen. Wardell, aircraft fly-over, display of military equipment and weaponry and a 19-gun salute. The public is invited.

Major Gen. Wardell, Sr.

The Delaware National Guard Bethany Beach campsite is named this year in honor of a man with over 30 years of distinguished military service to his credit. Major General Herbert O. Wardell, Sr. (retired) has carved a niche in the history of the Delaware National Guard and will be honored today, along with Governor duPont and other military retirees, for his many contributions.

When the Delaware Guard was federalized in 1940, Wardell commanded Battery D of the 198th Coast Artillery, the historic American Rifles with a history dating back to the Revolution. In 1942, he became adjutant of the First Battalion while the regiment was in the South Pacific. Later that year, he was rotated to the United States and the following year, was rotated back to the Pacific to serve as battalion commander. When he was released from active duty, he took a reduction in grade from lieutenant colonel to major to serve in one of the few vacancies available in the Guard following its 1946 reorganization.

From that point on, Wardell worked up through the ranks of the Delaware Guard until becoming commander of the 261st Air Defense Artillery Brigade, a position from which he retired. A graduate of the University of Delaware, he was also active in many State Civic Associations and continues his work with the Guard by serving on the Delaware National Guard Academy, Academic Board.

Del. Army Nat'l Guard

The National Guard has two designated missions - one state and the other federal. The state mission is to support civil authorities when necessary, normally being placed on state active duty in time of natural disaster or civil disturbance. The federal mission is to augment the active forces (Army and Air Force) in the event of mobilization.

Because of its dual role, the Delaware National Guard has both state and federal employees and as a consequence utilizes both state and federal funds. However, the primary financial support for the organization is from the federal government.

Over the past year the following areas have received special emphasis: Recruiting and Retention, training, and maintenance of state facilities.

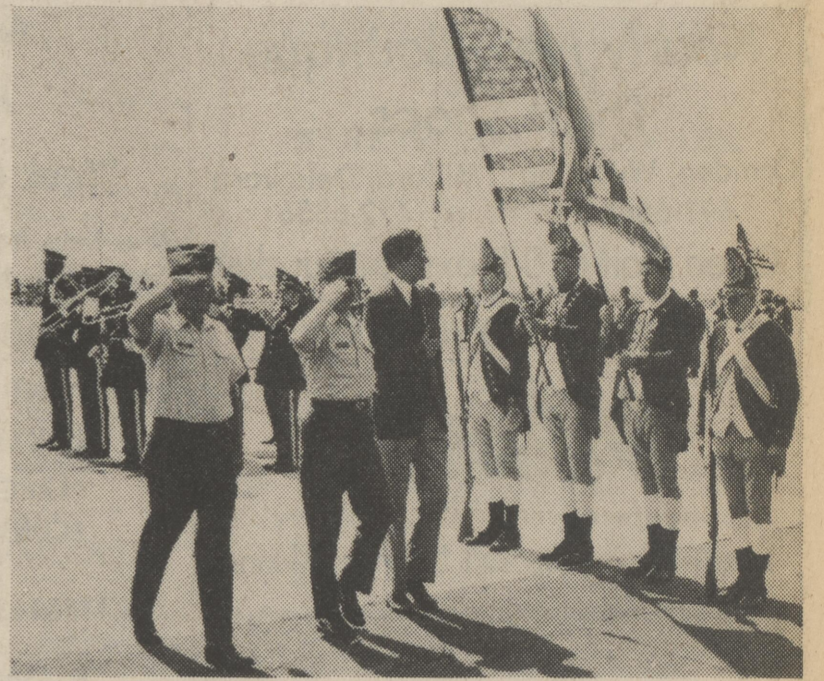

In terms of authorized strength, the Army Guard was at 77.8% at the end of May 1981, with 2048 people in uniform. Currently, minority strength comprises more than 31.7% of assigned personnel. Women now make up 11.4% of the Army National Guard's assigned strength.

For the National Guard, training is based on one objective: Combat readiness. Each unit of the Guard is authorized 12 weekend training assemblies and 15 days of annual training per year for a total of 39 days. Because of the limited time available for training, maintaining combat readiness is a challenge.

Maintenance of Guard facilities and equipment is of vital importance also. Personnel, parts, tools, and facilities of the National Guard are maintained entirely with federal funds. Armories and other facilities are funded under various formulas ranging from 100% federal funds to 100% state funds, with various pro rata agreements in between.

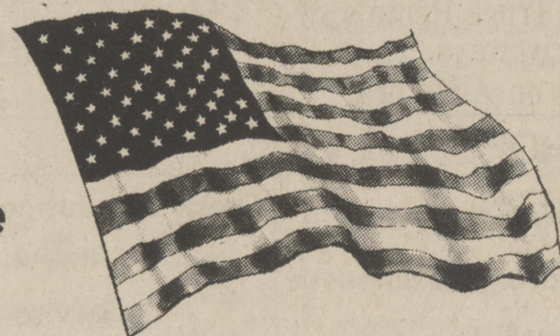

There are 18 major units in the Delaware Army National Guard, with several Supporting detachments. At present, there are 15 armories in the state with the latest armory completed at the Governor Bacon Health Center. State Headquarters is located in Wilmington, Delaware.

Governor duPont reviews the troops at 1980 Governor's Day festivities.

We salute

The National Guard

ARE YOU SKIN SENSITIVE?

Water tends to take natural moisturizers from skin and make it drier.

Your skin weighs about an average of nine pounds, or at least six percent of your total weight. The largest organ of your body, it covers over 3,000 square inches. Just one square centimeter contains approximately four yards of nerves, with 3,000 sensory cells at the ends of nerve fibers and 200 nerve endings. But if your skin is sensitive, it probably reacts more dramatically to your environment than normal skin - perhaps burning faster in the sun or drying out more in overheated rooms. Extremes of climate affect all skin, but especially skin with a sensitive tendency. It may worsen in winter because winter air contains low humidity, drying out the skin. Ironically the dry heat we use indoors for warmth also dries out the skin. Use a humidifier to circulate cool moisture. When bathing or showering in winter use warm - not hot - water. Sensitive skin doesn't automatically improve in summer. Sun, wind and water combine to dry out skin even though each square centimeter of skin has 100 sweat glands and 15 sebaceous oil glands to help keep it lubricated. Since you bathe more frequently in warm weather, switch to specially formulated skin care products like Purpose Soap and Shampoo, recommended by dermatologists as mild enough to use daily without irritating or drying out skin. Use a moisturizing cream after bathing and avoid rough or irritating fabrics. Ask your doctor or pharmacist for a free leaflet, "Care of Sensitive Skin," or write to Skin Leaflet, J-117, Johnson & Johnson, New Brunswick, NJ 08903.

Dear friends,
Dr. Paul Iron's book, Cremation, states: "The conscious reasons advanced for cremation may be quite acceptable - simplicity, economy - but the commanding unconscious motive may well be the desire to evade the painful reality (death)...even though demonstrated that the confrontation of that reality is necessary for good mental health."

Father's Day Facts & Fancies
Father's Day was originated by Mrs. John Dodd in Spokane, Washington, in 1910. She wanted to express her gratitude to her own father, a Civil War veteran who had single-handedly raised six children.
