Moffetts Have AFS Daughter

The Edward Moffett family of near Andrews Lake has adopted an AFS daughter Siriwan Jung for the 1981-82 school year. Siriwan arrived here from Yala in Thailand on July 17 in time for several visits to the Delaware State Fair.

Although she will soon be attending Lake Forest High School as a member of the senior class, she is already a high school graduate and this summer entered the University of Prince of Songkla in Songkla where she enrolled in several courses such as biology, math and physics. She expects to concentrate in food science and eventually to go into some phase of the food processing industry.

If she does she will be in line with her family's business interests. The Jungs have a restaurant, Fantsi, managed by her mother and now a grocery business operated by her father.

Siriwan is the fourth of four children. Her oldest sister is employed in the family restaurant and another sister is also a student at the University. She has a younger brother who is still in high school. An older brother is deceased.

Siriwan is a serious student whose school schedule along with her holiday responsibilities in the family restaurant have not allowed for the development of many outside interests. She says that in Thailand, there is room for only the very top students in the universities. Although her high school offered sports and other activities, she had to concentrate on her studies.

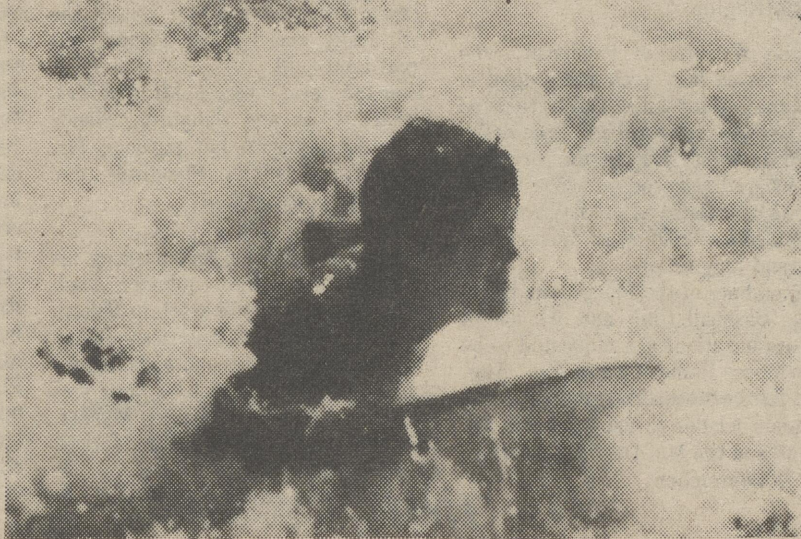

She is just as serious about earning her high school diploma at Lake Forest. For this year she has scheduled English, social studies, history, anatomy and physiology, microbiology and conservation. She is also working toward passing the competency exams which should give her little trouble. And she may just find some time to be

Susan Perry Receives Doctorate

Miss Susan Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Perry of Harrington, recently received an EDD degree in guidance and counseling at East Texas State University in Commerce, Texas. She was one of 670 graduates of ETSU to receive a diploma during commencement exercises in the University Auditorium on August 14, and one of just 45 candidates receiving doctorates.

Miss Perry completed her undergraduate work at Washington College, Chestertown, Md., where she received a B.S. in social service. Her masters degree was earned at Northern Illinois University. She has accepted a position as assistant professor at the State University of New York (SUNY) in Oswego.

Get into TRIM

A new exercise program based on both aerobic and isotonic principles is set to get underway in Harrington beginning sometime in September. TRIM (Training in Rhythmic and Isotonic Exercise with Music) classes will be conducted twice weekly at St. Stephens Episcopal Church Hall from 4 until 5 in the afternoon. According to Joyce Simmons, who will be the instructor for the local classes, that hour was chosen to appeal to those who may be interested in an exercise program after work that would not tie up a whole evening.

For those familiar with aerobic dance classes, TRIM will offer some similarities and some differences.

Aerobic principles undergird both programs which aim at strengthening heart and lung capacity. And both are programmed around choreographed exercise set to music.

In addition to the aerobic, TRIM stresses the isotonic, a term that refers to muscle toning. Each exercise added to the routine is first checked and rechecked by the program's developer, Dr. James Metcalf, for its total effect on the body. Dr. Metcalf is a practicing physiologist.

Another difference is that the program will be continuous for over the period of a year rather than presented in ten or twelve week sessions. TRIM proponents claim that continuing the program over the course of a year may be more beneficial to participants than interrupting it just when the results are beginning to be felt.

Instructors in the program must qualify through stress and endurance testing and must also meet height and weight requirements. They are also trained in a four day clinic which include intensive and strenuous physical training. As they conduct the program they are expected to stress safety, non-competitiveness and results.

Safety is emphasized in that the program is medically tested in advance and in that students participating are required to intermittently monitor their heart rate by taking a carotid pulse at the throat. This enables the individual to determine whether he is over-exerting, not working hard enough or working at a good level.

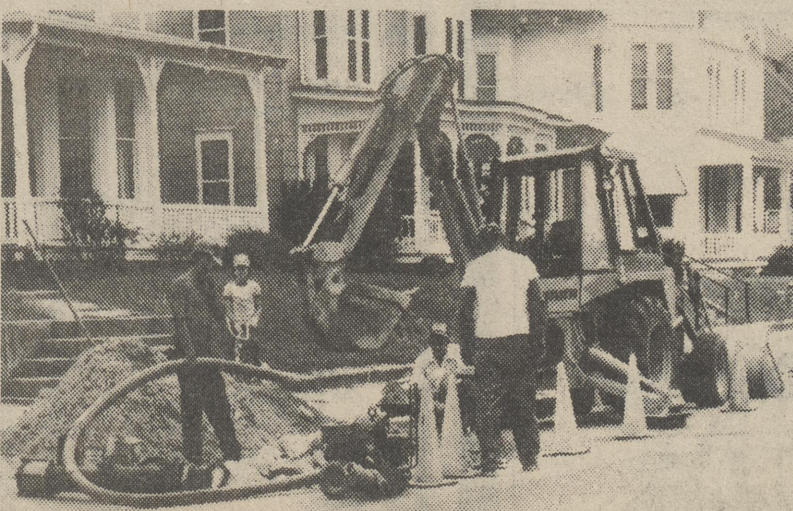

The non-competitive aspect is seen in the fact that each person works at his own pace and is not expected to keep up with the more athletic students in the class.

Participants in the program pay an annual membership fee plus a monthly fee. The annual membership fee is good for the entire year anywhere in the U.S. Thus a student joining classes here and transferring to another part of the country could join another TRIM class without having to pay the annual fee again. Students may join the class at any time during the year. "Newcomers Workshops" will be offered periodically to help them catch up on routines they may have missed.

Last year the only TRIM classes offered in the area were two, both in Dover. This year there will be 12 from Newark to Harrington. There will be a free orientation session for all interested persons on Thursday, September 10, at 7 p.m. in the gym at Dover Central Middle School.

Those interested in more information about the local classes can call Joyce Simmons at 736-6083.

Local instructor Joyce Simmons will be familiar to many in this area as special education teacher at Lake Forest North Elementary in Felton. She has assisted with many of the dramatic and musical programs put on by students and faculty there.

Water service was averted and traffic on Commerce Street in Harrington was narrowed to a single lane on Monday as workmen replaced valve and repaired another.

Knife Wielding Mother Files Complaint

Margaret Slater of Farmington has filed a complaint with the Delaware Department of Justice in the wake of a scuffle last week with two undercover Delaware State Policemen.

The scuffle occurred when Mrs. Slater pulled a knife on one of the officers in an attempt to prevent the arrest of her daughter Eloise. Mrs. Slater was injured in the struggle which followed. She claims the men, whom she says she did not at the time recognize as police officers, did not properly identify themselves nor show warrants for her daughter's arrest.

The incident apparently has its roots in an earlier arrest on June 17 in which Eloise Slater and a sister-in-law were charged with shoplifting in Dover. The shoplifting charge was later dropped, but Miss Slater was also arrested for possession of methamphetamine, which she was carrying in her purse, and carrying a concealed deadly weapon, a hunting knife found under the left front seat of her car.

According to Margaret Slater, Pfc. Willard Beauchamp offered to drop the drug and knife charges if Eloise would work with the police and provide information. But the mother, fearing for her daughter's safety argued against this arrangement. Mrs. Slater says she has worked with the police in the past, specifically with Corporal Mark Givens. As a result she says her family has been threatened and her barn burned down. Cpl. Givens was not available for comment.

Police, says Mrs. Slater, continued to press her daughter to cooperate in providing information. She also reports calling the Attorney General's office about the matter.

Meanwhile, Eloise Slater, while working at the Delaware State Fair was threatened that she'd be "taken care of" if she cooperated with police.

On Tuesday, August 18, Margaret Slater was working at the Andrews Store in Farmington when she noticed a green car pull up near her home. Two men got out and disappeared down the side of the house, and she recalls remarking, "I've got company, and I'm not even home."

A few minutes later she received a phone call from Eloise who said "Mom, they're here to get me--"

"For what?"

"For that knife deal."

Margaret Slater then spoke with Pfc. Beauchamp on the phone, but when he denied any "deal" she says she did not really believe he was the police officer. She headed for her house only to find the door at first locked and then opened by a tall man wearing sunglasses, a dark blue shirt, beige jeans and tennis shoes, a second man, again in jeans and tennis shoes was in the room. And although she had seen only two men get out of the car, she was startled to find a third, bearded and dressed in jeans and tennis shoes also in the house. Since she did not see her baby granddaughter, she says she immediately suspected there was a fourth man and that these were not "cops," but "drug men" coming to harm her daughter and grandchild.

According to Margaret Slater the men refused to show any warrants for her daughter's arrest. Eloise also contends that the officers did not present either identification or warrants when they came to her next-door trailer to make the arrest. At that time she asked permission to go next door to make arrangements for her mother to take care of her one-year-old daughter. The men followed her to her mother's house.

When the officers did not produce

Reservist Dies In Sandtown Accident

A 37 year old, Richmond, Virginia man became Delaware's 64th fatality Friday, August 21 at approximately 3 p.m.

David Rich, 37 years of age had been attending a reserve meeting at the Dover Air Force Base and was returning home.

The victim's car was being driven west bound on Route 10 in Sandtown when it was struck head on by a vehicle driven by Charles Shook, 54, of Maryland, Delaware, as Mr. Shook pulled his vehicle out of a private drive onto the roadway in an easterly direction.

The victim was taken from the car by the Felton Fire Co. who had to use a Hurst tool to remove him from the wreckage of his vehicle. He was taken to the Kent General Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival at approximately 4 p.m. The victim suffered massive internal injuries.

Also injured was the operator of the other vehicle, Charles Shook who was

LF Board Adopts Tentative 81-82 Budget

The Lake Forest Board of Education Monday night gave tentative approval to a 1981-82 budget totaling $2,164,697. Final approval awaits the outcome of contract negotiations with the district's teachers. Some progress in those negotiations was reported, but no specifics were given.

The 2 million plus budget covers those funds the district has at its disposal from state or local sources. It does not take into account state-paid salaries of teachers and other personnel.

The biggest item in the 81-82 budget is the $554,149 that goes into salaries, either salary supplements or for salaries paid entirely by the district. That is followed by $493,975 allocated for utilities with electricity ($323,436) and oil ($116,652) the biggest items.

The third largest expenditure is the mandatory $452,519 which must go to the debt service and debt service interest.

$165,000 will be divided among the district's five schools for their operating budgets, and $70,000 of local funds, transferred from the debt service through a referendum last year, has been set aside for the purchase of textbooks, library materials and other classroom needs.

Other projected costs include $75,000 for maintenance, $35,525 for capital outlay and $39,353 for tuition. Included in the budget is $33,830 for athletics in addition to the $12,000 in income expected to be brought in by athletic activities. To the $14,000 in revenues from the pool, the district will add another $2,000 for operating

They elected six directors from a field of nineteen candidates.

Three incumbents were returned to District 5: Incumbent Bruce A. Henry, Greenwood, 236 votes over Arthur H. McKinney, Bridgeville, 154, and John F. Rohleder, Greenwood, 85.

District 7: James E. Wharton, Millsboro, 173 votes over incumbent John E. LaPrad, Georgetown, 162, and Charles W. Pugh, Laurel, 130.

District 8: DCFU-backed Charles L. Szymanski, 248 votes over incumbent Henry C. Johnson, Jr., Selbyville, 211.

At Large: Incumbent Richard L. Norwood, Millsboro, 180 votes over Preston E. Workman, Georgetown, 131; David L. Dudley, Felton, 95, and Gardner Kersey, Viola, 62.

The Board of Directors chose William J. Wells of Felton as chairman. He succeeds Roland F. Mumford of Seaford.

a part of the marching band. But, as of Monday, she had not really decided.

Last week's "autumn in August" weather had her shivering since the climate in her home which is in the southern part of Thailand about 150 kilometers from the Malaysian border is much warmer. She says there are basically only two seasons - summer and a time of rains.

She finds almost everything different here, but says the biggest discrepancy is in the food. Meals in Thailand feature many dishes that are heavily spiced in contrast to the more bland American fare. A favorite dish at home, she says is curry which includes rice and spices and some sort of meat such as chicken or pork.

Their school day she says is similar to ours and although she was required to wear a uniform - white shirt and black skirt - everyday dress is otherwise not all that different. Jeans, shorts, and tennis shoes seem deriguer for Thai teenagers, too.

Her home, Yala, she says, is about the size of Harrington and the basic Thai currency is the paper "bath" which is worth about 1/20 of our dollar. There are also coins of smaller denominations.

When she does have some free time she likes to spend it traveling with her friends to other cities or provinces. And certainly this year is an extension of that interest. Before coming here, she attended a A.F.S. orientation in Bangkok, the Thai capital, and another in San Francisco. In addition to the State Fair where she enjoyed "Air Supply", she has visited Washington, D.C. and Woodbridge, Virginia, where she spent some time with an A.F.S. friend.

CHIPMAN OPEN HOUSE

Wednesday, August 26, students who are attending the W.T. Chipman Junior High School for the first time are invited to come to the school with their parents. From 9 o'clock until 4 there will be opportunities to look around and to find the location of homerooms. It is hoped that this preview will eliminate any anxiety students may feel about entering a new school.

Michael Hornbuckle, General Chairman, THE SINGING PLAYERS, announces that due to the tremendous interest young people had in their Sound of Music show, a youth group will be formed this Fall to give an added dimension to the annual Christmas show. He is assisted by Donna Whitfield, Sec.; Jan Conk, Treas.; Alma Shelton, Bus. Man.; Sheena Fetterman, Librarian and Captains - Barbara Fournier and Jack Shield.

Members from New Castle, Kent and Sussex Counties and nearby Maryland communities are expected September 9th. Students of Upper Middle School, High School and College will be included in the Youth group.

Music Director, Margaret S. Storey, and Director of Staging and Choreography, Denise Tuck, are assisted by Kathryn Copple and Janet Spengler at the piano.

Get Together and Talk With Our Neighbors

Senior Center

By Dorothy Graham 398-3780

Smile! America is still the finest country in the world and we do appreciate all we have!

Rev. Robertson of Asbury and Houston Methodist Church was leader Monday morning at Bible Study. He spoke on the "Book of Jonah". After prayer and singing, they said a silent prayer for Annabel Morrow. There were 15 present. Everyone enjoyed the "Book of Jonah" immensely.

Watching Ina's hands glide over the piano keys is pleasant enough to watch on Tuesday morning at band practice. Then when the Jolly Timers join in, well honey, it is nice. The tunes they play you are hearing on the stereo, radio and TV: "Marjorie", "Some Where My Love", "Release Me" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" among them. On hand to make the band so pleasant were Ola, Ina Hughes, Andy Anderson, Cleora Vincent, Gertrude Morgan, Laurence Kates, Mildred Vincent, Gladys Hill, Ella Golt, Essie Redden, Pearl Hickman, Bertha Dean, Mammie Adams, Lili McBride, Sylvia and Cecil Meredith, Tony Perrone and Florence Minner.

Tuesday afternoon was Happy Birthday time. The birthday table was full and that is the way it looks best. Mary Sapp was the lucky lady and carried home the lovely ceramic pheasants. The cake said "Happy Birthday Gals and Guys". Ice cream, cards and very pretty vases for the birthday folks made the day a good one. As always friends and a lovely movie with George Goodge, "Far Away Places". It was beautiful! Just another plus or reason that you really should come on over to the Center.

Mr. Toadvine spoke on plaster of Paris molds. He demonstrated by making an owl.

Velma Whitley was working on a Disney character, Pinocchio; Jo Burke is working on Dumbo; Florence Minner a pretty squirrel. Lillian, Mildred, Etzel and Anna Mae put dolls on plaques. Boy, are they cute! All colors and everyone prettier than the last.

Bowling at Milford Lanes Thursday afternoon. A few more joined in the fun. The pool table is a busy place and a happy, friendly place too. The men did a fantastic job of serving at the anniversary dinner. They were elegant; as were all of our volunteers. Bless them everyone.

Several folks took off by chartered bus Friday morning for Kent Island, via Crisfield. A full day was planned. Knowing the group, I am sure all had a splendid time. Charlotte was chaperone.

Best Wishes to all! Be kind to each other. Check the Center for trips. Make a visit! Meals are tasty by Manna. People are friendly! See you at the Center. Remember to smile. Faith!

Gabfest

By Pat Hatfield 349-4255

I must tell you more about the baby bunnies we have been caring for. Three out of the original five were fat and healthy. We had decided that the time had come for them to return to the wild and learn to cope. The night before, one of them died mysteriously. We think he may have leaped up into the air as they were wont to do and struck his web head on the iron grating that covered his cage. There were no signs of ill health. Anyway, we gently put out the other two in a clover patch here by the shop. After investigating a bit, they made themselves a little "set" or nest in the grass and settled down. Last evening they were out nibbling clover and playing games and allowed us to approach them and caress them. I suppose they will eventually forget us, but we have returned them to Mother Nature.

I enjoyed this description of an August night which apparently was written from a boy's standpoint, so I will share it with you: "To the world of nature, night is the time of feeding, prowling, searching, mating and playing. Beavers gnaw poplar proper lengths. Repair their dams, flat tails repairing leaks. Bull frogs boom and snap at water bugs and beetles. The cautious old coon stalks the bull frog and his foolish cousins. Dipping and tipping the ducks and sheldrake feed on the wild rice and succulent water plants and minnows. The mink and otter find their best fishing now--and the otter and his family, as never in the day, share the pure joy of their slick, glass-smooth slide. Alone at his window the boy dreams of hornpout and a great grey pickerel.

In the farmer's orchard the porcupine gluts, and the deer more daintily, while the fox makes his business of mice in the orchard mulch. Wanton, bloodlusty, the weasel seeks the helpless rabbit; the bobcat, deadly stalker, forever hunting, feeds as he finds mice, or bird, or helpless lamb. The skunk gouges the lawn for crickets or old mole burrows beneath.

In the forest the owl swoops to the little squeaks and rustles beneath; the flying squirrel glides his ghostly aisles; the barn bat dips the mosquitoey night. Only the boy senses in the mysterious night creatures wandering in the lonely hills."

Isn't this a lovely description? And over it all rides the August moon. I had a nice letter from my young Seaford friend, Donna Smith, who is pursuing a career in journalism and writes beautiful poetry. She enclosed some of her material which I have enjoyed and I was especially glad to have my favorite of hers which she calls "The Moon". I predict that some day all the world will know this poem. It goes: "When boy and girl hold each other's hand, When starlight plays over the land, When the sun fades from the sky, My time is drawing nigh. I am nightwatchman over all the earth. I am the giant streetlight of the Universe. I am a planet, cold and gray, Shining by night, sleeping by day."

Thursday was a beautiful day for our trip to the Three Little Bakers.

Poor Mary Hall didn't get to eat or see the show. She was taken to South Chester County Medical Center for treatment. Bertha Macklin fell on the flagstone. After getting home, Mary Purnell hit that part of the sidewalk and water main by the Center and fell head over heels. What a day. We sincerely hope all are feeling better.

Tuesday, Mrs. Mary Purnell was dinner guest of the John Paisley family of Magnolia at the Coral Reef in Little Creek. John and Carol celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with their family. Best wishes to all.

Kenny Davidson, Magnolia, Billy, Deanna and Anthony DeSandro of Philadelphia have been spending the week with GrandPa and Ma Davidson. They have really enjoyed being here having a great time in Rehoboth and at Killen's Pond State Park. This is Anthony's first visit away from Dad and Mom, but made out just fine.

Mrs. Virginia Tatman and daughter, Elneta Harrington and boys Mickell, Shawn and Eddy are spending a week at Rehoboth.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Marge, Tony and Sharpe are home visiting her mother Mrs. Anna May Sharp family and friends for two weeks.

The Murderkill Lions Club will resume their dinner meetings Thursday evening September 3rd at 7 p.m. in the Frederica Fire Hall.

District Governor James Minnich and Cabinet from Claymont, DE will make their visitation and install the newly elected Murderkill Lions officers:

- President Zora Tatman

- Secretary Phillip Tuthill
- Treasurer Rocky Grodd

Anne's Kitchen

We are all familiar with the cantaloupe melon common to our area. What many of us do not know is that the variety grown most in the United States and especially in Delaware, comes to us from Italy.

A rich lord of a fine castle in the south of Italy had many acres of land under cultivation. In the hills surrounding his castle lived a great many wolves whose howling could be heard at night. Before long the castle became known as "The Castle of the Howling Wolves". In order to fully understand you should know that the Italian translation (general) of howling is CANTA and that of wolves is LUPO. In the gardens of Castle Cantalupo grew many rare and exotic plants brought from all over the world. Among them was a plant which produced a particularly sweet and tasty melon before unknown to Italy. The melon soon became very popular among the people, and since it could only be had from the gardens of the Castle of Cantalupo, it adopted its name. As time passed and popularity grew, people discovered the melon of Cantalupo could withstand travel well and eventually seeds were brought to America where the melon became known as the cantaloupe, so well known to all of us. Another little known contribution to the new world. Italians like to serve cantalupo wrapped in a slice of prosciutto. The sweetness of the melon and salt from the prosciutto results in a delicious taste treat. It is very popular for antipasto.

The story told here is folklore, however, if you refer to World Book Encyclopedia, you will find mentioned that around 1890 a small hard-shelled type of melon, which we call cantaloupe was brought to America from the town of Cantalupo, Italy. I suspect the story told about the Cantalupo around our family dinner table with great pride, during the tasting of the first cantaloupes of the season, is based on fact after all. Following, is a recipe for Cantalupo you may want to try. It requires a little effort but quite worthwhile.

"Fried Cantaloupe"

- 1 small cantaloupe
- 2 tablespoons powdered sugar
- 2 jiggers creme de menthe liqueur or liqueur of your choice
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 cup dry white wine
- 1 1/2 teaspoons olive oil
- Dash salt
- 1 egg white, beaten stiff
- Cooking oil
- 1 tablespoon confectioners sugar

- Cut melon into thin slices. Remove seeds and skin, sprinkle with powdered sugar and liqueur. Let stand at least one hour.
- Mix together flour, wine, 1/2 teaspoons oil and salt and blend in stiff egg white.
- Dip melon slices into batter and fry in hot oil only till light gold in color. Sprinkle with confectioner's sugar and serve immediately.

Fleming Opens Football Camp at Lake Forest High School

Head football coach, Jim Fleming, starts his seventh season at Lake Forest High School when the season opens in September. Coach Fleming opened training camp on Saturday and will practice all this week in the late evening from 5:30 to 7:00 p.m. The 1981 varsity squad will have a great number of regulars returning. "These are boys we had last year as 11th graders," said Fleming. "We have Brian Gladden and Gerald Perry back at quarterback. Brian did the punting for us last year and will continue in that role," said Fleming. Gladden averaged 39 yards per punt. Fleming said both boys have a lot of experience, but he does not want to alternate them at that position.

In receivers, Fleming has Kevin Smith who played defense last year at outside linebacker. Smith is 5' 11". There are also four coming up from the JV team, where they showed good prospect at this position.

The versatile Billy Scott, now a senior, will be returning, but not in his role of signal caller as he was last year. Scott started playing varsity football in the 9th grade, and seems like he has been around for quite while. Daie Benson who played split last year will probably move up to running back.

James Brown will also be in there at running back.

Fleming, a past master at teaching defense, which has been demonstrated in all of his seasons where for the most part the Spartans have held their opponents to a few points per game, will have a lot of experience coming back in the line positions like Kenny Ryder, David Moore, G. Teague, Jeff Dickerson, Robert Stokes, Lamont Robinson and Charlie Hudson. "We are small but I think for the most part the players are very quick."

The Spartans open their season with Seaford, which is a team that is likely to go to the playoffs. "We beat them last year 35-0 nothing. That same team will be returning for them...as is just about the case for us. If we can repeat that win from last year...it might spell the future for us the rest of the season". The Spartans were 3 and 2 in the Southern Conference last year and 5 and 5 overall. The next game following the Seaford one will be with Dover "...who this year have 11 returning. They will be tough. So our two first games could be bad for us...or if we get the breaks...this could spell the difference for us too. I think we will have a pretty good chance. The boys are hard workers".

A member of the Bar Harbour team slides into home "port" [or plate] as a State Line tavern catcher prepares to flag her down. The action occurred during the Mid Atlantic Regional Women's Regional Slow Pitch Softball Tournament at DAFB last weekend.

Spartan Harriers Start '81 Season

By Keith S. Burgess

Jim Blades' Lake Forest High School cross-country team will start workouts Tuesday evening, August 25, at 6:30 p.m. in front of the school.

Both boys and girls are invited. A minimum of five girls are needed, in order that Lake Forest can field an official girls' team.

The boys' team has never known a losing season, since the sport was started at Harrington in 1958.

Several veterans are back, but this is a good year for new prospects to give this perennially-successful sport a try. Past history here is full of instances when brand new recruits were almost instantly successful. Perhaps the best example of this, occurred at Harrington High. Ken Garey dropped off the football squad, switched to cross-country and showed his heels to all but one runner, his first night out. Only Clarence Hackett, Delaware's fifth best runner could beat Garey, who didn't even know which way to go.

Some kids are natural-born runners. Maybe you are one of these.

Ex-Harriers Picnic/Fun Run Slated

By Keith S. Burgess

Former cross-country runners from Felton, Harrington and Lake Forest High Schools are invited to a picnic and fun run at Lake Forest High's Killen's Pond State Park course.

The event will take place Saturday, September 5 at 10:30 a.m. Anyone planning to attend should contact the writer at 398-8838 or Coach Blades at 335-5831.

Some of the runners who helped Harrington and Lake Forest rack up seven state championships will get an opportunity to meet the current crop of harriers and to work out over the revamped, three-mile course, followed by vittles afterward.

Harrington Slo-Pitch Softball League Starts Aug. 31st

The Harrington Slo-Pitch Fall Softball League will begin its 1981 schedule on August 31st at the Harrington Moose Ball Park. First games will begin at 6:30 P.M. There will be two divisions with 5 teams in each division. Taylor & Messick are defending champs.

There will be an open tournament Sept. 19 and 20 at the ball park for any organized softball team.

The league is run by Allen Baker, Dick Crouse and Leon Wix. The Moose Lodge provides the field only and does not take part in the organizing and running of the league.

State Hunting Rules Available

Delaware's fall hunting season is just around the corner and the handy, pocket-sized booklet that spells out all the regulations should be available at license dealers by mid-August, according to the State Division of Fish and Wildlife.

The 34-page booklet contains information covering licenses, deer and waterfowl hunting, general season regulations, state and federal lands regulations and special regulations for certain state lands.

There is also a complete listing of state game wardens, the areas they cover, and phone numbers, and an official sunrise, sunset table for reference.

The booklets are free upon request. Careful reading of the regulations, which cover all seasons except waterfowl, will allow hunters to enjoy fall hunts with a minimum of difficulty.

The Lake Forest High School Band is busy getting ready for all those football half-time shows.

Bat Patrol Successful

Volunteer firemen are reported to be good at a number of services including rescuing kittens from trees. Local police officers also perform a number of services - not all of them appreciated.

However, one Harrington family was most appreciative when Patrolman Jeffrey Cook came to the rescue to help rid their house of an unwelcome night visitor.

It seems that the little visitor - a bat - had invited himself into the Commerce Street home early one Friday morning, driving a young lady from her bedroom. Later that morning the visitor seemed to have helped himself out. He (or she?) was nowhere to be found.

However, come Saturday night, he was back at his old tricks, looping through the upstairs bedroom. Several attempts to capture the beast were unsuccessful.

Harrington Journal Editor and Publisher, Harry Farrow, was called for assistance. It was reported that he had had several bat "combats". However, Farrow took one look and closed the door. He was later quoted as saying, "The bats in my house have a different flight pattern. He suggested calling the local police."

Officer Cook arrived and proved very adept with tennis racket and flashlight. The bat was vanquished and the Paladino family was grateful.

-Slaughter Beach Celebration Moves Indoors-

A little stormy weather never bothers the residents of Slaughter Beach. So when it rained on their 300th birthday celebration, they just moved inside the fire hall and continued to enjoy the day. Some found a good perch to watch the festivities, and others enjoyed a lower seat as a member of "The Banjo Dusters" provided immediate entertainment on the "T-bone."

Arrest

warrants, Margaret Slater ordered them out of the house. She says their answer was "we're leaving, but we're taking your daughter with us."

At this she "went at" one of the men but was pushed aside and into the china closet as they escorted Eloise out the door.

She picked up a knife, rushed out the door and brandished it at one of the officers despite the warning, "Lady, you'd better put that away." The man she threatened grabbed her by both wrists as she continued to struggle and tried to use the knife to free herself.

It was not until Harrington Police Chief Carl McIlroy arrived on the scene to identify the men as police officers that she agreed to go with them quietly.

She was later arraigned in Court 6, Harrington and charged with hindering prosecution and menacing. She was released on a signature bond pending a preliminary hearing on September 4.

Eloise Slater was also arraigned and charged with resisting arrest in addition to the original counts of drug possession and carrying a concealed deadly weapon. While at Court 6 she reports overhearing a phone call in which police arranged to have the warrants brought down from Dover.

After arraignment, Mrs. Slater was taken to Milford Memorial Hospital where she was treated for abrasions and contusions and then released.

As a result of her fall to the ground during the struggle with the police, she received facial bruises which she thinks may have done some sinus damage or have chipped a facial bone. Her upper dentures were also broken and she is being treated for what may be a pinched nerve in the area of her right shoulder and neck. She has had spinal trouble and problems with her left shoulder previously.

The officer who subdued her received ed minor abrasions but refused medical treatment.

Corporal Barry I. Beck, state police information officer, identified the two undercover policemen as Cpl. Stephen J. Rinaldi and Cpl. Harvey C. Leighty. The third man, who was not involved in the scuffle, was apparently Beauchamp of the Dover Police. Eloise Slater said she did not recognize him at first because he had been clean shaven and dressed in a police uniform when she had seen him in June. Last Tuesday, he was bearded and dressed in jeans.

She said the only one shown any identification was her mother's brother at whom "something in a black wallet" was flashed about "four feet away".

As a result of the complaint and of publicity surrounding the incident, Corporal Beck said the Internal Affairs Division of the Delaware State Police had initiated an investigation which was continuing. He said Tuesday that not all of the persons involved had so far been interviewed. But he reported that both Corporal Rinaldi and Corporal Leighty had identified themselves to both Eloise and Margaret Slater verbally and by showing their identification.

NEED-BASED FINANCIAL AID

Most student assistance programs subscribe to the principles of need-based financial aid. Inherent in these principles is the expectation that parents and students will pay for the cost of college to the extent that they are able. This does not mean that family income determines ability to pay. Although income is an important factor in the analysis, it is only one of the many factors considered. The size of the family, age of parents, retirement provisions, number of family members in college, assets and liabilities are also considered.

In order to be consistent in estimating a family's ability to pay, most aid programs use a nationally-accepted "Uniform Methodology". Several companies process financial analyses according to these principles. Some schools accept only one of the analyses as fulfilling their application requirements. Be sure to find out which form is accepted by each college to which you are applying.

The two major need analysis companies (American College Testing and College Scholarship Service) make their applications available at all high schools and colleges in the State of Delaware.

Your best source of information about financial aid is the college financial aid office at each college you are considering.

DEFINITIONS

ACT - American College Testing program is a company which provides need analysis services for institutions and scholarship agencies in higher education. There is a processing fee for these analyses, which the

OTHER FINANCIAL AID SOURCES

In addition to Federal and State aid, assistance is available from a variety of private sources. Some of these are strictly merit-based (awarded because of exceptional abilities or academic performance). However, most also consider student's financial need for assistance in making awards.

INSTITUTIONAL PROGRAMS
Most colleges offer student assistance in the form of scholarships, grants, loans and part-time employment. These institutional aid resources continue to provide a substantial amount of help for students.

COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

Almost every community has organizations, institutions, or agencies that provide aid to students in some form. They may be professional organizations (local nursing or medical organizations, the tuberculosis society, etc.) or a service group (Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis). Your local high school counselor may be aware of the sources available in your community. Be sure to personally contact any in which you are a member.

FOUNDATIONS & CORPORATIONS

Many private foundations and large corporations offer financial assistance to students. Several publications are marketed which provide detailed listings of these and other sources. Your local library and bookstores may be able to assist you.

-Sources-

THE STATE OF DELAWARE

The State of Delaware provides student aid in several forms, primarily in "Aid to Needy Students" and "General Scholarships" programs, which are granted to institutions for their distribution. If you apply for assistance at a Delaware institution you will be considered automatically for these programs.

U. of Del. Continuing Education

The University of Delaware's Division of Continuing Education will present credit courses this fall in Dover, Georgetown, Lewes and Milford. In addition, noncredit courses are scheduled in Dover and Smyrna.

Scheduled in Dover are a credit course on computer applications in education and noncredit courses on the care of old houses, commercial art and illustration, reducing job burnout and speed reading. A course in early childhood literature will be presented at the Viriden Center in Lewes.

Ten courses are scheduled in Milford, and a noncredit course in speed reading will be offered in Smyrna.

A free catalog listing continuing education courses and programs may be picked up at public libraries throughout the state, the University Parallel Program office at Delaware Technical and Community College in Georgetown; at the Department of Public Instruction in the Townsend Building in Dover; in Clayton Hall on the Newark campus; and at the Wikaale Center in Wilmington.

Catalogs will be mailed upon request to those who contact the university's Division of Continuing Education in Newark, telephone 798-2741.

The first day of fall evening credit classes is Wednesday, Sept. 2.

For more information, contact the Division of Continuing Education.

Computer Science Program

WILMINGTON - Expanded use of computers in every phase of business activity prompted Goldie Beacom College to develop a computer science program. BUSINESS INFORMATION SYSTEMS - which was introduced in September, 1980. In addition to an IBM System 3 Computer, and terminals operated on a time-sharing basis with five major computer facilities across the nation, 12 new Apple Micro Computers, all connected to a master system, Nestar, will be in operation when classes begin in September. The computer science center will have a "mix" to provide students with "hands-on" experience in their major field of study.

A natural outgrowth of the Accounting and Business Information Systems majors is a new program, AUTOMATED ACCOUNTING, to be offered this fall. The Associate in Science degree in Automated Accounting enhances the study of the accounting major with a solid foundation in the basic areas of computer science.

The Bachelor of Science degree in Automated Accounting leads to qualification as an accountant with the advantage of some programming skill and computer literacy.

Wesley Schedules Five Continuing Ed Programs

The Wesley College Office of Continuing Education will offer five programs for the 1981 Fall Semester. Evening School on Campus will run over fifty courses every week night except Friday and there are four programs offered at Dover Air Force Base which are open to the public. The Lunchtime Learning Program will hold classes at the Air Force Base Educational Building 520 from 11:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon and 12:00 noon to 1:00 p.m. The Directed Studies Program enables students to enroll in college courses and work on their own schedule at their own pace and convenience. Instructors are available on base for three or four hours every week and students are free to go into the center at any time during posted hours of operation. The Twilight Learning Program is designed for individuals who wish to attend class immediately after working hours and is open from 5:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. Monday and Wednesday or Tuesday and Thursday. Evening School classes are held one night a week from 6:30 p.m. to 9:15 p.m. and are held Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, depending on the course.

Mail-in and In-person registrations will be August 1 through September 8 at the Registrar's Office, 3rd floor, College Center, Room 304. Students may also register Dover Air Force Base, Building 520, Room 227 between 9:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. from August 17 through September 8, 1981.

In addition, an applicant must answer the questions on the form which pertain to the Delaware Postsecondary Scholarship Fund and must also apply for a Pell grant. Further information about this program is available from high school guidance counselors & college financial aid officers, or from the Postsecondary Education Commission, Carvel State Office Building, 820 French St., Wilmington, DE 19801, (571-3240).

GUARANTEED STUDENT LOAN PROGRAM (GSL)

The Guaranteed Student Loan Program is not awarded as a form of financial aid in the way the National Direct Student Loan is awarded. Students borrow money to finance education by applying to a participating bank, credit union, or savings and loan institution.

A maximum loan of $2,500 per year can be obtained by undergraduates; a graduate student may borrow up to $5,000 per year. The amount of money a bank has available to lend under this program is limited; it is a good idea to contact banks early about these funds.

A 9% interest rate is charged for GSL's; The government will pay the interest on the loan until the time the student must begin to repay the loan, and during authorized periods of deferment.

All GSL's must be repaid within ten years after a student graduates or leaves school. The amount of each payment depends on the size of the debt and the student's ability to pay; in most cases the borrower must repay at least $360 per year. There are provisions for deferring payment under this program for service in Peace Corps, ACTION programs, armed service, and return to school.

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT Pell Grant (formerly BEOG) program

The Pell Grant program is designed to provide assistance to students who demonstrate exceptionally high levels of need. In addition to demonstrated financial need, a student must be attending an eligible school and must be enrolled as at least a half-time student. A student may receive Pell Grants for undergraduate study (below the Bachelor's degree) only. Students who have earned one Bachelor's degree are not eligible to apply for Pell Grants.

Application for Pell grants can be made by filing the FFS or the FAF; but once the information is sent to Pell by the needs analysis service, all other communications between the student and Pell are direct. A student may be asked to provide follow-up information to Pell and to the needs analysis service. This is not a duplication, since Pell does not receive updated or revised information from CSS and ACT.

EDUCATIONAL BENEFITS FOR CHILDREN OF DECEASED ARMED FORCES AND STATE POLICE

The State of Delaware makes financial aid available to children of members of the armed forces and state police who suffered service-connected death or disability. Service-connected usually will include only "active duty," death or disability. The member of the military service must have been a resident of Delaware at least one full year immediately preceding last entry into the military services and the applicant must have been a resident of Delaware for three years prior to application.

Benefits are $525 per year, or the amount of tuition, whichever is greater. Benefits are limited to 4 years of training or education.

If you feel that you may be eligible for benefits under this program, contact the Delaware Postsecondary Education Commission, Carvel State Office Building, 820 French St., Wilmington, DE 19801, (571-3240).

COLLEGE WORK-STUDY PROGRAM

Students who must work to help pay their education may be offered College Work-Study as a part of their financial aid package. Jobs may be on- or off-campus, and are arranged through the financial aid office of the school. The wage for such jobs is usually based on the federal minimum wage and is related to the skills and abilities required to do the job. Students may work up to 20 hours per week during academic terms and 40 hours per week during vacation periods.

The financial aid officer in charge of work-study will consider: a) a student's need for financial assistance; b) class schedules; c) health and academic progress; and d) employment preferences. Undergraduate students in degree programs and graduate students are eligible to apply for College Work Study.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS

Students who are disabled or whose parents are disabled or deceased are eligible for benefits through the Social Security Administration as long as they are unmarried, full-time students, 18-22 years of age. A disabled person receives benefits as long as he/she is disabled. Further information about this program is available from the Social Security Administration.

VETERAN'S ADMINISTRATION BENEFITS

The Veteran's Administration has three types of education benefits for those who qualify:

- 1. The GI Bill presently provides $311 per month for a total of 45 months to any veteran who served 10 months of continuous active duty. The benefits must be Federal government.

School Lunch Prices Go Up

With prices at the grocery store still sky rocketing it will cost more to pack those school lunches this year. It will also cost more to buy them in the school cafeteria. Decreased federal support for school lunch programs will mean students will have to spend more.

The following lunch and breakfast prices will be in effect in the Lake Forest District:

- Elementary Lunch $.60
- Jr. High Lunch 65
- High School Lunch 75
- Reduced Price Lunch 40

Breakfast 35
Reduced Price Breakfast 20
Adult Lunches 1.25

The price of all a la carte items will be up 10% from last year. All ice cream will be 25 cents. Milk will be 15 cents.

There will be no special milk program in kindergarten or any other grade this year. School officials encourage youngsters to take advantage of the breakfast program. New guidelines for those qualifying for free or reduced price meals will be publicized later.
