Harrington Gets Set to Celebrate

Grace Welch will keynote Heritage Day.

This Saturday, September 12, 1981, is Heritage Day in Harrington. Plan on it. Mark it on your calendar. Circle the date in red or whatever color catches your eye. Think fair weather.

Harrington is set to celebrate its third annual Heritage Day this Saturday with a full program of displays, demonstrations, entertainment, dancing and a variety of other activity.

Events are scheduled to get off on a new foot this year with the running of the first Heritage Day 10K (6.2 miles) run beginning at the W.T. Chipman Lake Forest South Elementary School on Dorman Street. The race is sponsored by the Greater Harrington Historical Society and is being organized by Brad Morris.

Formal opening ceremonies are planned for 11 a.m. at the Senior Center parking lot at the corner of Mechanic and Fleming Streets. There local officials will proclaim a welcome, and Grace Welch will keynote the day with the challenge.... "Do You Remember?"

From then on there will be almost continuous activity at several locations - the Senior Center parking lot, the Peoples and First National Bank parking lots, the Harrington New Century Club and the Taylor and Messick Machine Shop on Vernon Road. Walt Messick will be operating his free shuttle service from that location to the center of activity.

There will be ample food for a variety of tastes available for purchase on Saturday. Included are barbecued chicken, chicken salad platters, oyster sandwich platters, soup, sandwiches, homemade ice cream and baked goods.

Saturday's festive air will carry over to Sunday as Asbury United Methodist Church invites the community to attend a colonial service at the 11 a.m. worship hours. That evening, Asbury will also be the scene of a free musical program, "The Story of the Victorian Parlor Ballads." This program is made possible by the Delaware Humanities Forum.

There are still a number of The Harrington Journal's free Heritage Day supplements containing the schedule available. Anyone who fails to find one can stop by the Journal or call 398-3206 for a copy.

He-e-re They Come!

Lower Delaware harness racing sport fans get back into action September 9 when Delaware's oldest pari-mutuel racing facility once again opens in Harrington. Harrington Raceway starts its 35th consecutive season on Wednesday and continues throughout the Fall until November 14th. Racing will be conducted Wednesday through Sunday, while Mondays and Tuesdays have been declared by track officials as dark days.

Track management has announced that Robert Taft has been retained as race announcer for the coming Season. This will be Taft's first year at Harrington. The 37 year old, Penn. native currently holds the position of harness and thoroughbred racing reporter for a 24-hour national sports information hot-line and hosts a weekly harness racing television show.

In announcing Taft's appointment, track General Manager, George Simpson noted that an extensive nationwide search was conducted earlier this summer and feels that Taft's selection will bring a high degree of harness knowledge and excitement into the announcers booth at Harrington.

Unlike Taft, Ohio native Herman Brikel will return to Harrington for his seventh year as Race Secretary. Brikel has been head racing official at tracks throughout the country and is currently working in that same capacity as well as Asst. General Manager at Northfield Park, a large harness racing facility outside of Cleveland, Ohio. As Race Secretary, Brikel will be charged with planning and putting together each of the 49 nights of racing that will be conducted at Harrington.

Simpson expressed optimism for the success of the up-coming Season and noted that many top stables have reserved stall space at the facility. Those trainers already on the grounds or who are expected in the next few days include Charlie Pitts, Del Manges, J.D. Dennis, John Belote, William, Paul, and Ellis Myer, John

Paskey Named

NACo Vice Chairman

WASHINGTON, D.C.--William Paskey, Jr., Levy Court Commissioner and President, Kent County, Del., has been named Coastal Zone Management, Vice Chairman of the National Association of Counties (NACo). The appointment was made by NACo President Richard Conder of Richmond County, North Carolina.

NACo's 12 steering committees form the policy-making arm of county government. Each committee is composed of approximately 40 county officials who meet during the year to examine issues critical to local government.

Their recommendations on county legislative goals are presented to county officials from across the nation at NACo's annual conference. If approved, the recommendations become part of the American County Platform, NACo's official policy document.

Girl Scout Registration in Harrington will be on Thursday evening, September 17. Check next week's Journal for time and place.

It is not probable that harness racing fans who will flock to Harrington Raceway for the fall meet beginning this evening will be treated to a sight like this. The driver pictured here is the late Paul Vineyard shown driving a team of 2-year-old hopped pacers to a world's record in a very hazardous exhibition at York, Pennsylvania in 1940. The feat and the record - 2:05 1/4 remain unchallenged. Not too many - in fact, hardly any racing drivers would be willing to hitch two high-spirited pacers to a single sulky and trust them to circle the track at racing speed.

Paul Vineyard's Racing Years Recalled

When Harrington Raceway opens its season, it is not likely that Mrs. Paul Vineyard will be on hand for the occasion. But it is also unlikely that there are many in this area who could share more memories of the world of harness racing than the lady who spent a lifetime at the side of Paul Vineyard, whose obsession with the harness horse spanned more than half a century.

Vineyard's involvement with horses began in the early 1900's when he was a boy in Bridgeton, New Jersey, and continued through a career as trainer, driver and owner that concluded only with his death in 1975. The pace for the man who toured the Grand Circuit and raced at over 100 tracks across the U.S. and in Canada may have slowed in later years. But the word retirement was not in his vocabulary. Mrs. Vineyard knows. She lived many of those years "like a fire horse"-in harness and ready to go at a moment's notice.

The Paul Vineyard his wife recalls was noted from early boyhood on for an almost instinctive understanding of horses which gave him skill in dealing with them and which extended to a special concern for their welfare. That skill was coupled with not a little personal courage exhibited during his driving career. And his concern for the horse was often accompanied by an equal portion of disdain for his own discomfort or even pain. In the face of injury, Paul Vineyard, in current parlance, preferred to "tough it out", rather than show signs of weakness.

Area Men Selected in Awards Program

The Board of Advisors for the Outstanding Young Men of America Awards Program announced recently that four area men have been included in the 1981 edition of OUTSTANDING YOUNG MEN OF AMERICA.

Paul Ezette Walker, Jr., Milford
Raymond Anthony Blanchette, Harrington
Michael Dean Layton, Harrington
William Robert Outten, Harrington

These men were selected from nominations received from Senators, Congressmen, Governors, Mayors, State Legislators, University and College Presidents and Deans as well as various civic groups, including the United States Jaycees which also endorses the Outstanding Young Men of America program.

The men listed, along with fellow Outstanding Young Men throughout North America will be featured in this prestigious annual awards publication.

Our Board of Advisors and Editors salute all chosen as Outstanding Young Men of America. We take great pride in bringing their accomplishments to the attention of the American public.

Mrs. Vineyard also remembers the racing years as ones that brought good times and tragedy along with the parade of famous and not so famous horses and names. And she recalls that in the early years, racing was "a lot more fun" than it is today.

The first horses Paul Vineyard trained and sometimes raced were not bred to be race horses. They had another purpose in life. Some were work horses. Others carried the family to church or on social visits. And wherever men had horses or teams of which they were particularly proud, there was always the challenge. "My horse is better than yours." The race often settled the matter.

Paul's father, William had a dairy herd of 30 to 35 milk cows and a milk route which was covered by a fine team "Jim and Dandy". On Saturdays, Paul raced the pair at a nearby track. And in those days there were no fancy horse trailers to take the racers to the track. They were driven there, entered in the race, and then driven home again. The race itself was very informal. About the only rule was a ban on cutting across the infield.

The young Vineyard did more than race his father's work-a-day team. As he made the farm rounds he became known as one who had a special way with horses. They liked him, and he showed no fear of them. Young colts then were not hand fed and coddled. When a mare foaled, she and her young one were left in the pasture for several months. When first brought in, both were wild. On occasion was a colt that proved too much for a farmer to handle, then Paul Vineyard was called in.

When he grew up, Vineyard started farming. But after chores were done in the evening, he still liked to fool around with horses. Eventually that hobby became his full time occupation.

In the early 1920's he began working for a well-known trainer, Walter Garrison. By the time Garrison was killed in a race in 1937, Vineyard had earned a reputation of his own, driving horses like Peter Leonard to a record 2:04 1/4 at Syracuse in 1930. After Garrison's death, many of the owners of horses he trained asked Vineyard to take over the stable.

Sore Muscles for $$$ - It was a fair exchange

"It was...Ouch!...worth the doing!!" said Dave Letterman Monday as he made an enormous effort to bend over and retrieve a towel. Letterman and a number of other Hardees' employees and friends spent 48 hours over the weekend toning up muscles in a marathon softball game to raise funds for research and other forms of aid for victims of muscular dystrophy. The effort, staged at the Harrington Moose field, was billed - "Hit a Homer for Jerry's Kids" in reference to the Labor Day telethon sponsored by Jerry Lewis, which annually raises millions in support of the same cause.

The organizers of the local game, Phillip Fluhr and David Letterman, both Harrington residents and both employees of Hardees at Dover, expected to make a lot of mistakes this first year. They did.

They also hoped to make a profit which could support the cause. They did - and to a greater degree than they expected. As of Monday afternoon, a rough estimate placed them ahead with a clear $900 to $1000 for Jerry's kids. And this was despite a fairly hefty electric bill for lighting the field for two nights. Letterman said Monday that the figures quoted above could be high or low, depending upon the faithfulness of sponsors to their pledges.

Fluhr, undaunted by an injury which damaged cartilage in a knee, said plans were already underway for next year. The second time around he hopes to get an earlier start in time for Hardees to get fully behind the effort. He said the event may be scheduled several weekends prior to Labor Day. This time, a number of the expected participants did not show up, and the holiday weekend may have been to blame. Although participation was lower than expected, the effort did get welcome support from groups such as the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company which turned out in force to play Friday night. Some returned Saturday until they were called away by an alarm. Another group which stopped by to play was a carload from Dover Air Force Base.

Although breaks were longer than planned and the play was sometimes crippled with right field closed for lack of a defender, the game went on for a total of 186 innings. Whether anyone "Hit a Homer..." was not reported, but those runs kept coming across home plate anyway. The final score? - 301 (Brown) - 289 (Orange).

A number of participants, who also had to be on their regular jobs for part of the weekend, came and went. But several camped out at the scene - resting in pup tents when it was possible.

Phillip Fluhr (left) and David Letterman (right) were responsible for organizing the Hardees' Marathon Softball game on September 4-6 which raised funds to combat muscular dystrophy. At the outset of the 48-hour event, they looked reasonably cheerful. But by Sunday, the aches and pains had set in. However, it was all in a good cause and sizeable sum was raised. And, they insist - it was also a lot of fun - "Will somebody please pass the liniment?" [More photos on page 7]

Manges Closes on 1500

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr., Publisher-Editor

HARRINGTON-"It's not likely to happen now...because I have turned most of the driving over to my son Brian, who is coming along real fast," said the native of Hutchinson, Kansas, Delbert Manges, on the eve of the upcoming harness meet at Harrington Raceway. The veteran of 45 years of harness racing was referring to another milestone in racing which is nearing, the 1500 win circle. "According to USTA, I am about 40 shy of the mark...but I had several hundred wins prior to USTA keeping records," said Del who got his first win at 16 at the Kendelville, Indiana County Fair, and who now makes his home in Harrington.

From the plains of Kansas...to Ohio where his mother moved the Manges family following his father's death when Del was 4...to the shores of Buffalo Raceway...where Delbert Manges was to emerge in the early 50's as a harness horseman of great recognition. It was at Buffalo Raceway that Del entered the great frontier...for him at any rate. It was a fresh new beginning on the Buffalo frontier and the new driver for wealthy businessman, William Bennett, who was the head of the Frontier Oil Company. Del will tell you today that it was a big break for him, but also "...I sort of shied away from the bright lights of New York City and the tracks there. Although I had my biggest career win at Yonkers in 1972 with Emperor Lobell. It was a New York sires stake race worth $33000."

At age 60, Del Manges, is thinking more about his family than the 1500 wins. "I got more recognition when I reached 1000 wins," said the family man whose 3 sons and wife Dorothy are all involved with him in racing. Brian drives the stable managed by Del, wife Dorothy and son, Gene. Larry is away in Phoenix, Pa. where he is the first trainer for Courtney Foos. "Larry also drives. He got another win last week. He's good...but it's natural...because we've been right behind them. We gave them the opportunity...and they have responded," said the veteran driver. The 1000th win came behind Laddie Spencer at Buffalo Raceway on May 2nd, 1968. One year and two weeks later he picked up win number 1100. "Back then I was driving a lot of 9 race nights...and a few 10 race entries. But I really don't drive much anymore. Brian handles the driving. By the time I get 1500 wins...they might be helping me on and off the bike," said the sometimes humorous Manges.

It was the year 1925 when the Manges family moved from Kansas to a little town in Ohio...back home in Hicksville, Ohio...and near the old fairgrounds in Hicksville. We were so close to the racetrack that I had no other choice than to get to like those beautiful horses." And so the love affair began for Delbert Manges and harness racing. "I used to go over to the racetrack...I guess when I was about 12 or 13 years old. I was driving a horse truck at 14...so...we got started early back then." Delbert grew up under the strict hand of Walter Wilson. "We were just close enough to the Indiana border...to be really near horse country. Mr. Wilson was a real horseman in his day. He had 96 horses

Del Manges of Harrington is closing on 1500 career wins as he starts the 35th consecutive racing season at Harrington Raceway this week. It will also mark Manges' 45th year in racing. At 60, he says he is thinking more of his family than the 1500 mark.

To my son, William Collins, all the residue of my estate during his natural lifetime and at his death to the issue of his body...including...all the furniture in the Parlor; six hair bottomed mahogna chairs; one mahogna dining table; one mahogna tea table; one large gilt frame looking glass; one pair brass heads hand Irons; brass shovels and tongs; and one eight day clock with a walnut case.

If my son, William, should die leaving no issue of his body at the time of his death then I give to my three daughters Mary, Elizabeth and Sarah, all that part of my real estate that I devised to my son William.

On 4 April 1789 Thomas Collins added a Codicil to his will: Retaining the original bequests without change and adding: "To my son, William Collins... all that tract of land I purchased... which was the property of Thomas Cahoon in Duck Creek Hundred.

I give and bequeath unto a male child, son of Elizabeth Brown, who is about one year old, part of a tract of land I bought...the property of John Tucker which is now in the tenure and under lease unto William Lister and is situated in Mispillion Hundred...But if the said child should die under age or without lawful issue of his body the land is to go to the Savannah and Blackswamp Churches in Mispillion Hundred.

I give to Benjamin Downs a certain tract...formerly the property of John Tucker which is now under lease to Benjamin Downs with the provision that she shall pay unto my executors the sum of 150 pounds.

that went the route in 2:05 or better. That was back in the 20's. Under today's standards...he would have gone 12 to 13 seconds faster. They were flying...and I was too. I felt like I was with the best. Mr. Wilson was very strict. You did it his way...and if you didn't do it right...you simply did it over again. Back then...I saw Sep Palain a lot...and his favorite student Greyhound. My what a horse. He had an unbelievable stride. I wouldn't want to say just how far he could leap. He went in 1:55 back then...about 1938. And all horsemen know that, but what you may not know is that Mr. Palain could rate a horse with unbelievable precision...and I rate Sep as being the very best ever in the business. He held 19 world record and the 1:55 was one thing...but he once drove Greyhound over a 2 mile trip. He sent the mighty champion over the route in 4:06...a world record. He went 2:03 for each mile...perfect right on the horse. He was amazing. He was so good because he was a strict disciplinarian...he had the know-how...a real natural. He could always get the most out of a horse...plus he was honest...and a good businessman which goes with it.

Del Manges can't lay the finger on any one person who helped him during his career. "You just have to listen, keep your eyes open and observe. I watched Palain a lot. He knew how to rate a horse. It was like an extra sense to him. He carried a watch in his hand at all times...racing or training, and I wouldn't let any man drive a horse for me that didn't." Del went on to recount many things about Sep Palain who helped establish Castleton Farm as a harness horse breeding and training center, which had formerly been a thoroughbred facility. "Sep had good stuff too...but he developed it too. Aside from Greyhound...he handled Her Ladyship, Victory Song, Worthy Boy, Bombs Away...and many more... all of which went back to Castleton. He was followed by another great, Frank Irvin...who lives on at Castleton today." Del grew up with and ran around with Jimmy Winfield who was the handler of Greyhound. So horses and interesting associations of people have been a good part of his life and career.

Del Manges is an admiring sort of person. One who came from very humble beginnings to the top in his field. He is also recognized on and off the race track as a gentleman. But he calls a spade...a spade. He has seen many changes in the sport that he loves so much. "County Fairs were a lot of fun in their day...but there was no money in it. You could work yourself to death...and still have no money. Gambling of course has made our sport. It has brought more crowds to the racetracks...and all of it together has improved our sport. There's better

Fred Butler Greenly, Sr., 62, a director of the Kent & Sussex Fair Association and prominent in Eastern harness racing circles, died Saturday in the Walter Browning Hospital, DuQuoin, Ill., after suffering a coronary heart attack the previous Monday. Mr. Greenly recently purchased a horse transportation company and was in Illinois on business for his new firm when stricken. (He is pictured in the Journal this week with his immortal pacer, the late Direct Express, 1:59.3-4 after the pacer had established a track record of 2:01 at Roosevelt Raceway in 1947.)

Prospects for the annual fall harness meet at the Kent & Sussex Racing Association (which opens tonight, Thursday, Sept. 6) for 20 nights of pari-mutual racing) just about tops anything in the past few years...The meet opens with The Harrington Journal Pace in two heats, for a purse of $1,000, as the feature race.

The Ever Ready Class of Asbury Methodist Church School will sponsor its 14th annual flower show in Collins Hall Friday evening, Sept. 14...Mrs. William H. Wheeler is president of the class, and Mrs. Charles Derrickson is assisting her with general arrangement.

Collins Clothing Store is now ensconced in its new quarters on Commerce Street, next to the National 5 cents to $3 store in the space formerly occupied by the Fashion Shoppe. Its former quarters in the Reese Building had housed a clothing store for men nearly 50 years, or almost from the building of the structure in 1900.

The cantaloupe season is about over, said Mrs. Edgar Hill of Paradise Alley, last Friday...The Hills have in about five acres of Hearts of Gold, their number 1 best seller, Hardshells, and White-seeded Pinks.

Paul Porter, formerly chief of Harrington Police, has finished his enlistment as a technical sergeant in the Air Corps and is now employed by Cahall's Gas Service Company.

A special pair of glasses to bolster her slowly improving sight will enable Dover's Janet Pepper, 12, to attend regular school today...Until Wednesday she had been scheduled to go to the Maryland School for the Blind near Baltimore. Her vision was darkened by a bullet which ripped through her head last Jan. 14. A test two weeks ago showed some central and side vision, however, and a week ago she was fitted with special magnifying glasses in Philadelphia...That night Janet saw her first television program since the shooting. Over the weekend, her parents helped her try to read again.

The Harrington Jaycees are sponsoring a Welcome-the-Mace Parade which will be held at 2 p.m. this Saturday afternoon, Sept. 9, in Harrington. This Tuesday night pennant winning Greenwood stayed alive in the Harrington Softball League final play-offs by winning a must game from the Moose team...Bob Messick led the winners at the plate with three hits in as many at-bats. Bob Collins and Leonard Outten aided with two each.

Assistants Form Kent/Sussex Chapter

Announcement of the new Kent-Sussex Chapter of the American Association of Medical Assistants. Amidst the charts, reports, special requests, insurance forms, lab reports, x-rays, billing, typing duties, filing, etc. - the phone rings:

A female voice calm, yet anxious.... "My father is lying on the floor, doesn't seem to be breathing...no pulse...I think he is dead...."

Soon another phone call follows.... "Not too good; I'm having chest pain-really bad! I need to see the doctor...."

And another call.... "What are the symptoms of toxic-shock syndrome?" These are just a small sample of the incoming calls that are received in a physician's office.

As an assistant to the doctor for which we work, we are responsible for advising and directing the community members correctly, safely, and to the best of our knowledge to medical help and aiding them in details. When contacted via telephone, as a medical assistant, do you know what clues to listen for and the correct routine to follow?

The physician should ask himself if his medical assistant(s) are keeping up-to-date clinically and administratively with the ever changing field of office medicine. The following are some of the reasons for the formulation of the new Lower Delaware Chapter of the American Association of Medical Assistants. It will be offering mini lectures and guest speakers on topics of great and vital interest to the doctor's assistants.

The Association will include all receptionists, bookkeepers, medical assistants, lab techs, radiology techs, office nurses, dental assistants, etc. The Chapter welcomes you if you are employed by a doctor now, are retired, equipment today...and of course better breeding has turned out better horses." Asked about the good horses he has handled and what makes a good horse he said "...Avalon, Jr. did real good for me as did Royal DeLux out of Royal Stable...but my Ida Mountain was a good mare...and I got Andy Bird (by Popular Bird) once for a year. He was a real good horse. But what makes a good horse...well he has to have it inside...in his heart...and of course learning how to rate him." Anything good on the horizon "yes...we have a real good horse with us now...A He went in :58 last week. He's coming on."

The town of Harrington is proud of the Manges family who have made many friends here, and they share with the members of the harness racing world the acclaim Del will get when he wins number 1500...everyone does except Del himself. He looks back over the last 45 years with great pleasure... as he takes great pride in bringing his sons along in the business in the future.

The Harrington Journal will honor Delbert Manges with a plaque when he reaches number 1500. Raceweek will honor him at their awards banquet and workshop also. As your friend, Del, I feel compelled to tell you that 600 career feature wins in the stock car racing world automatically puts you in the Hall of Fame. With 1500 wins, they would have made you Chairman of the Board.

Coming Events

Ed McCormick's four wheeler was the target of some vandals one night last week. They tossed a rock through the windshield [protected here by plastic].

Late registration is now in progress through the Delaware State College Center for Continuing Education. Students may select from among 35 credit courses in 18 academic departments. The courses include Introduction to Social Work, Mammalogy, Aquatic Ecology, Descriptive Astronomy, Curriculum for the Exceptional Child, Developmental Psychology, Water Quality, Governmental and Institutional Accounting, Business Communications, and Speech.

A wide variety of off-campus sites for special education, general education and occupational education are possible for the student who resides in Wilmington, Glasgow, Smyrna, Georgetown, St. Georges, and Delaware City. For further information, call the Center for Continuing Education (736-5165).

SEPTEMBER 9 - There will be a Kent County Republican Committee Meeting this Wednesday evening, September 9, 1981 at 8:00 p.m. at the Sheraton Inn, Dover, Del.

SEPTEMBER 9 - Wesley College will begin its 109th academic year with an Opening Convocation held at Wesley's Outdoor Theatre, September 9, 1981 at 7:00 p.m. Following the processional, Dr. R. Jervis Cooke, president of Wesley College will preside. Mr. Thomas Roe, Chairman of the Board of Trustees will introduce the main speaker, Dr. Walter Mars, Wesley's Academic Dean. Dr. Mars will address students, faculty, administration and guests.

The general public is invited to the opening convocation. Following the assembly, everyone is invited to a reception in the Peninsula Room, second floor, of the H.B. duPont College Center.

Kent and Sussex County citizens can register for an evening course in Milford, "Local History: Southern Kent and Northern Sussex Counties" offered by Delaware State College Continuing Education on Thursday, September 10, from 5-7:30 p.m. at Abbott's Mill Pond in the Nature Center, 4 miles S.W. Milford.

Dr. John Gardner, associate professor of history, is the instructor. The course will run for the 15-week semester for three college credits.

Car pools will be arranged for Dover students by contacting the Evening School division (736-5143). In-state course fees are $30 per credit hour and a $10 registration fee.

The three-credit course will include: title searches, individual study, regular and guest lectures, and local field trips. For other course information telephone Dr. Gardner (734-8315).

banjo all contribute to the band's skillful rendition of tunes and songs from urban and rural America. Cranberry Lake Jug Band tours throughout the east and mid-west. The band has been performing since 1974 and has released two critically acclaimed albums: Jug Band and Old Time Music and Lowdown Symphony.

The event is free and open to the public.

An outdoor concert featuring the Delaware Symphony and five soloists from the University of Delaware music faculty will be presented Friday, Sept. 11 on the university campus.

The free public concert will begin at 5:30 p.m. on the mall in front of the Morris Library. While some seats will be available for the elderly and handicapped, those attending should bring their own seating.

In the event of rain, call the university's department of music, 738-2577, on Sept. 11 for the alternate location.

The concert is sponsored by the office of the university president in coordination with the music department.

The five solo performances are designed to present voice and a variety of instruments to the audience. Ellen Lang will sing two Puccini arias, "Un bel di Vedremo" from "Madama Butterfly" and "Vissi d'arte" from "Tosca". Dr. D. Jay Hildebrandt will perform "Concertino, Opus 4 for Trombone and Orchestra" by Ferdinand David. Oboist Lloyd Shorter will play Karl Mochts' "Romanze". Alan Hamant will perform "Trumpet Concerto in D" by Georg Philipp Telemann. Christiaan Taggart will play Malcolm Arnold's "Serenade for Guitar and Orchestra, Opus 50".

The acclaimed Lar Lubovitch Dance Company will perform at 8:15 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 12 in Mitchell Hall on the University of Delaware campus in Newark.

The dance program is the first in a series of events at the university being presented by the Friends of the Performing Arts.

Tickets, at $9 for the general public and $4.50 for U. of D. students and members of the university's Over-65 Club, are on sale now at the Mitchell Hall box office. Telephone reservations may be made by calling the box office at 738-2204. The box office is open from noon-4 p.m., weekdays, and from noon until curtain time on the day of performance.

For more information on the series, contact the Mitchell Hall box office.

Almost anyone can get it...it's downright lively...it's sociable...and clogging's fun.

Clog dancing probably had roots in the traditional fancy steps of the Irish, Scotch and English immigrants who settled in the Appalachian Mountains. As time passed this exciting American folk dance developed into styles of flat footing, buck, buck and wing, soft shoe, jiggling, etc.

While some authorities still debate about origins of buck dancing and clogging, one fact seems sure: Clog "team" dancing originated in western North Carolina.

There are two types of clogging: free style and precision. The "free style" is considered to be the more traditional of the two styles.

There is an old saying that clogging is "caught, not taught". NEVERTHELESS, the Milford Adult Education Association invites you to sign up on Sept. 14th at the Milford High School between 7:30-8:30 p.m. to participate in this exciting new course offered this Fall.

The instructor? None other than an "Avon Lady", our own Sandy Jensen.

The Delaware Choral Society announces plans to begin rehearsals for their 25th annual Christmas Concert. In keeping with our celebration of this event, and under the direction of Dr. Peter J. McCarthy, we will be performing Handel's "Messiah" accompanied by orchestra.

Rehearsals are scheduled for Tuesday evenings from 7:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. starting September 15, 1981, in the Social Hall of the Presbyterian Church of Dover located on S. State & Reed Streets, Dover. No auditions are required and tenors are especially needed. For more information about the Choral Society, please call 734-8551.

For those interested in working with children and enjoy the out-of-doors, the Delaware Nature Education Society will be conducting volunteer naturalist training on September 14, 16, and 18 at the Ashland Nature Center. Animal habitats, Indians, stream study and seeds are just a few of the topics taught to the 15,000 school children that annually visit the Society's two facilities located near Hockessin (Ashland Nature Center) and Milford (Abbots Mill Nature Center). The training is especially designed to help volunteer naturalists communicate to students the pleasure and responsibility of caring for the environment. On-the-job training follows the September workshops as newcomers observe more experienced naturalists at work. There are also monthly enrichment programs that include speakers, trips and specific-subject training.

To accommodate the many requests for school programs, the Nature Society needs more volunteers. If you are an adult interested in serving at the nature center nearest you, please call either Helen Fey, Ashland Nature Center, 239-2334 or Sue Palmer, Abbots Mill Nature Center, 422-0847.

GEORGETOWN-The Evening Division of Delaware Technical & Community College (DT&CC), Georgetown, is presenting a Special Interest course on mental energy and related life experiences.

Creative Visualization (SG 430), an eight-week non-credit course, will be conducted on consecutive Tuesday evenings - beginning Sept. 15 - at the DT&CC campus in Georgetown.

Through the instruction of Diana Brubaker, students will learn techniques of guided mental imagery which can assist personal growth and development as well as the attainment of lifetime goals.

Course fee is $35, plus a $2 material cost. For further information call the Office of Continuing Education, 856-5384 or 5385.

Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS), often called, "crib death," will be the subject of a public seminar in Dover on Tuesday, September 15.

The seminar will be from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Business Administration Building at Delaware State College.

Designed for interested parents, health and social service professionals, police and emergency personnel, funeral directors and clergy, the conference is sponsored by the Delaware Valley Foundation for SIDS and the Division of Public Health.

A registration fee of $3 should be paid before September 5. Bag lunches will be provided on request for an additional $4, due at time of registration. To register, send your name, address, phone number and agency (if any) to: Ralph Willing, 800 S. Gerald Drive, Newark, DE, 19713. Checks or money orders should be made out to the National Foundation for SIDS.

The Delaware Energy Office will host its fifth luncheon and Industrial Energy Management Forum on September 15, 1981 at the Blue Coat Inn, 800 North State Street, Dover, Delaware.

The Forum will begin with registration at 11:30 a.m. Following the luncheon, the guest speaker will be Mr. Al Hart of the General Electric Lighting Institute who will discuss energy efficient lighting systems for business and industry.

Anyone desiring further information or registration materials should call the Delaware Energy Office at 736-5644 or 1-800-282-8616 before September 8, 1981.

Farmers and others who are interested in learning more about fuel alcohol production can attend a two-day program in Philadelphia. The United States Department of Agriculture and the Northeast Regional Agricultural Engineering Service are cooperating to present a symposium on Feed and Fuel from Ethanol Production at the Penn Center Inn on September 15 and 16.

Preregistration is free, but registration at the conference will cost $15. To obtain registration forms contact University of Delaware extension agricultural engineers Tom Williams or Ernie Walpole at Agricultural Hall in Newark (738-2468).

Medical Assistants

or would desire a position in this field in the future.

The Kent-Sussex Delaware Chapter of the AAMA has had three meetings thus far. Members had the pleasure of learning from true professionals. Norma Parker, office manager with twenty years experience, spoke on general office procedures. Rodney Sweet, Esq. of Georgetown, and a progressive law student gave a talk on legal aspects of office medicine with a discussion period afterwards.

Last month Joyce Tschantre, supervisor of Milford Memorial Hospital's Coronary Care Unit, presented a mini-lecture in very basic cardiology and how to recognize the unstable cardiac patient over the phone.

All speakers were superb! Future topics include CPR, HTN, Cancer, Alcoholism, Child Abuse, Basic Anatomy review, etc.

The meetings of the Kent-Sussex Delaware Chapter of the AAMA, a non-profit organization, will be held the last Wednesday of each month with the next meeting on September 30, 1981, in the 1st Floor Conference Room of Milford Memorial Hospital at 7:30 p.m.

Don't be left out! Join your fellow medical assistants on the 30th to update your professional career education. Be better able to serve the community and increase office/business productivity and proficiency.

Some people used to believe that staring at candles would strengthen the eyes.

Get Together and Talk With Our Neighbors

Senior Center

By Dorothy Graham 398-3780

Smile—To have a friend you must first be one!

Reverend Koning of Nazarene Church of Harrington was leader of Bible Study Monday morning. Rev. Koning opened the service with a prayer. He took for his study the 100th Psalm. The folks sang several beautiful hymns. There were 27 present. It was an interesting inspirational hour; all enjoyed the responsive reading.

Julia sang a solo after band practice; and did it bring memories back, oh me oh my! The song was "Release Me". The Jolly Timers are rehearsing for Heritage Day, Sept. 12, 1981. They will perform at the parking lot. Present were Julia Astfalt, Essie Redden, Elsie Neal, Marion Brown, Ola Tilden, Jo Burke, Roxanne Brown, Florence Minner, Pearl Hickman, Gladys Hill, Ina Hughes, John McCready, Elwood Morris, Laurence Kates, Gertrude Morgan, Mammie Adams, Lill McBride, Ella Golt, Bertha Dean, Sylvia and Cecil Meredith, Tony Perrone, Andy Anderson and Mildred Vincent. All make the practice hour Tuesday morning a joy.

Bingo with a bang. The parlor was full of happy people. Bingo-Bingo-Bingo. Elizabeth called, Tuesday afternoon.

Dolls, ceramics, pool, dominos and checkers or what have you, all at the Center. Come on over.

Don't forget your rummage, please! Really would appreciate it! Call 398-4224.

The watermelon party Monday afternoon was great fun! Thanks to Dick Henry and Mr. Mervine; they were simply grand! So sweet and tasty!

Thursday 16 went to Blue Hen Mall with Art, the DAST driver. Lillian, Mildred and Etzel went shopping for more material for the very beautiful dolls. Each one gets prettier, if that is possible.

Bowling at Milford Lanes on Thursday afternoon.

Heritage Day is going to be a very gala affair. Plan to stroll thru town and see all the activities going on well into the evening!

Mary Marshall seems to be a lucky lady - walked away with Mrs. Legs 1981 and Friday took one of the pumpkin pies home as a lucky draw.

Best Wishes to all. Be kind to each other. Our prayers to those ill or in sorrow. Listen you all - come on in to the Center. Don't forget flowers and rummage, please. Check the Center for trips. Remember the fall season, down on the farm, no more tomatoes to pick, those last watermelons are so-so good, the corn is just about ready. Remember America is the best there is! Faith.

Greenwood

By Pat Hatfield 349-4255

Greenwood United Methodist Church will hold its Revival September 20-24. Report from Hickory Ridge Congregational Methodist Church: The Sussex Sound Waves were special guests in our services last Sunday. We pray for blessings on these young men of our community.

Miss Theresa Johnson of Annapolis, niece of George Johnson, was guest soloist on this Sunday.

Miss Stacy Everline has returned to her studies at Washington Bible College where she is a Junior. Stacey recently organized a group, "Pioneer Girls" for girls 12 years and over. During Stacey's absence, her mother will carry on as instructor. Meeting, Tuesdays at 7:15 p.m. at the Everline home. All girls in the community invited to attend.

Our newly-organized Hickory Ridge Christian School will begin classes on Monday, August 31 with 13 students enrolled. Our purpose is to provide an education with academic studies equal to government education, but with Biblical principles.

Mr. & Mrs. Gary Bollinger and children accompanied Mr. & Mrs. William Bollinger and daughter, Wendy, on a four day trip to Williamsburg, Busch Gardens and Lightfoot, Va. and spent a couple of days at Rehoboth.

Mrs. Alvin Willey is recuperating at her home after having been a patient in Milford Memorial Hospital.

Victoria and Stephanie Maloney have returned home after spending some time in Baltimore as guests of their uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. William Forrester. They enjoyed a trip to the new aquarium, the Baltimore Zoo and many other points of interest.

Gabfest

By Pat Hatfield 349-4255

September has arrived! The children in our family are having one last glorious fling at Busch Gardens to close their vacation. Of course they sigh dolefully and announce loudly that they hate the whole idea of lessons and school, but we know that once they are back into the routine they will accept it and find joy in renewing old friendships and making new ones, having a time schedule and getting into the school spirit.

Someone named "Percival" writes this little poem to greet September. Quote: "Now the mist is on the mountains, reddening in the rising sun; Now the flowers around the fountains, perish one by one." This does not apply too much to September in Delaware. Our mists are across the meadows and around the seashore. Of course our flowers will eventually perish one by one, but it will be much later. As I have said before, we usually have roses through November and some years, a stray one around the first of December. I cut some of the pink Radiance this morning for my kitchen windowsill because that's where I am most of these busy days. And we have the lovely dark red dahlia type rose on the breakfast bar.

I've had to ignore the squash while I am wallowing in corn, lima beans and peaches. Peaches are Dad's favorite thing. I have canned 28 quarts and put 7 quarts in the freezer, so I think he will be able to get through the winter.

The grapes have snowed us under this year also. Last year not a grape. The year before that, three of us made grape jam and jelly all day long. This year we decided to put it all into grape juice. Eat your heart out, Mr. Welch!

Well, it has been a long, busy, work-filled summer, but when winter comes we shall reach into the freezer and the cupboard with grateful humility for all that security.

Yes, I am very tired but there is a special bonus for me today. An East Wind is billowing the curtains out, and I am breathing in that refreshing salty breeze. We are true Sussex Countians when it comes to eating lima beans. We make a one-dish meal of them. Mostly with little slippery dumplings, but always cooked with a small tomato and an onion for flavor, a piece of side meat and a big hunk of butter. Which reminds me it's time to eat now.

Anne's Kitchen

If you have frozen any of your sweet red roasted peppers, you will need this recipe to prepare them for your table. I always serve mine in a green crockery bowl. The red peppers coated with the green pesto look beautiful in the green bowl. If you have a red table cloth for Christmas time, this can be the focal point of your Christmas table.

- 1 cup fresh or frozen sweet basil
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon freshly grd. black pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon oregano
- 1/4 teaspoon dried hot pepper (opt.)
- 3 cloves garlic
- 1/2-3/4 cup olive oil

1. In blender put garlic, salt and seasonings. Blend and chop till garlic is small as possible.

2. Gradually add parsley and basil and blend till all used up adding small amounts of olive oil till a loose paste is formed.

3. Store in a glass jar with tightly fitting cover and top off pesto with 1/8" of olive oil.

4. Mix desired amount as needed with defrosted roasted peppers. Allow to rest refrigerated 8 hours before serving. The jar of Pesto will keep in your refrigerator several months. You may have to adjust seasoning after a month or so before the next use. You should use enough pesto to coat all of the peppers. Serve as an antipasto, side dish, or as a luncheon with provolone cheese and Italian bread. A glass of wine would make everything perfect. ENJOY!

Sussex 4-H

Here's your chance to rise and shine at the Annual Achievement Banquet, set for September 26, 7:00 p.m. at Sussex Central High School. Plan to meet with 4-Hers and their families from all over Sussex County and share the excitement of the awards and recognition that you have earned this past year. Tickets are available from all organizational 4-H leaders. Hope to see you there!

If you're between the ages of 9 and 19, and want to make friends, learn new skills, and do exciting things - you're in luck! September is the month that the Sussex County 4-H clubs reorganize and recruit new members - and they want you!

4-H clubs have been set up all over Sussex County so there is one near you. If there is not one in your community we will start one for you and your friends. Each month you will meet with other club members and volunteer leaders to work on projects, plan club activities, and keep informed of county and state events.

Each member is expected to carry at least one project as part of their involvement in 4-H. With more than 85 different projects to choose from, it is not hard to find something that interests you. Projects cover all subjects from dog care to vet science; clothing to home management, bicycle to woodworking and house plants to field crops.

What better way to meet new friends! With the many county and state events, as well as camping weekends, contests, fairs and trips, 4-H will offer you many things to do and see.

The fulfillment of a dream--Bill Outten and Melville Taylor of Harrington are among the crowd about to take the Wyoming River plunge as they head out to do some white water rafting. The trip to the Northwest taken by the Outtens and the Taylors this summer was something Bill Outten has dreamed of doing for a long time. Only he had envisioned a year rather than several weeks. The Outtens and the Taylors flew to Iowa where they picked up a motor home. From there they traveled by road touching base at Denver; Cheyenne; Cody, Wyoming (the scene of the rafting); Yellowstone National Park; the Teton Mountain Range; Sun Valley, Idaho; Portland and Lebanon, Oregon (where they visited relatives of the Taylors) Castle Rock; the Mt. St. Helens area; the Pacific Ocean and Seattle (where they lunched at the top of the scenic tower from which they could see Mt. Ranier - 100 miles away); the Canadian Rockies and Jasper in the province of Alberta. While in Canada they took a snowmobile on caterpillar treads out across a glacier in the Columbian Ice Fields. On the way back, their route crossed the northeast corner of Montana on the way to Plentywood. Then it was on through North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin, where they stopped for a visit in Black River with a friend from Bill Outten's U.S. Air Force days. The final leg of the journey took them through Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania on the way home.

-Soccer Scramble-

Spartans scramble for possession of the ball in the soccer scrimmage with Tower Hill last Friday.

Spartan Soccer Team Looks for Improved Season

Dave Buck's Lake Forest High School soccer team, with a number of experienced players returning this year is looking for a greatly improved season in 1981.

Before the varsity and the J.V. teams took on upstate Tower Hill in a preseason scrimmage last Friday, Buck had this to say about prospects for the fourteen scheduled games, "We have 10 returning lettermen and several other players with varsity experience. Two other players moved out of the district and some other expected returnees have not shown up. Our experience, depth and speed should greatly improve last year's 2-8-2 record to over .500."

Buck briefly characterized his team as follows:

Greene - fullback, improved; Donald Drew - fullback, experienced; Columbus Hardy - halfback, persistent; Jimmy Mervine - Halfback, dependable; Dawn Greene - halfback, injured last year but knowledgeable; Charlie "Chan" Benson - Fullback, sweeper, 1st year player, looks promising and may earn a starting position before season is over; Curtis Dorman - Forward, up from J.V.

Incoming Freshmen who also look promising are: Bobby Grant - Forward/Halfback; Joe Dopirak - nForward; Keith Chandler - Forward; Rick Decker - Fullback.

We are looking for more young players (9th & 10th graders) to insure having a J.V. team.

Vineyard Years Recalled

In the succeeding years, Vineyard trained and raced horses for a number of owners including T.L. Gustin of "Longacre Farm" in Holicong, Pa., Fred Greenly of Harrington and the Comfort brothers of Black Shoe Stables, Garden City, L.I. He broke, trained and drove horses with names like Saratoga, Times Scarce, American Hanover, Pick Up, Direct Express and Mighty Tide. But he never would consent to tying his personal fortune to the whims of one private owner. He almost always kept a public stable.

Vineyard's skill at handling his horses was sometimes demonstrated in displays of horsemanship in extraordinary circumstances. Once, when he was scoring at Goshen, New York, the horse he was driving reared in front of the grandstand to such a vertical angle that Paul in the sulky was tipped back until his cap nearly touched the track as he looked up at the animal towering over him, its spine rippling under the strain. But with only the reins for control he managed to bring the horse gradually and safely back down. Mrs. Vineyard, who was working in the box office, did not see the incident. But she remembers the hush that held the crowd until horse and driver were back on firm ground.

At Roosevelt Raceway in 1942, he was driving Lord Sherbrooke when the hub of his sulky engaged with that of another driver. His sulky was thrown over and he was tossed onto the track. It took him just seconds to kick the sulky off and, still holding the reins, to jerk his horse clear of the rear horses. As Lord Sherbrooke plunged on after the field, Vineyard clung to the reins and was dragged to his knees. But his weight finally slowed the horse and he managed to get on his feet. Then holding the reins with one hand and seizing the sulky with the other, he climbed back aboard. Vineyard did not catch up with the leaders. But his horse finished the race just a nose behind the colt whose sulky had collided with his. Said a writer in The Morning Telegraph at the time, "Paul's only concern was the fate of the horse he was commissioned to drive, not his own welfare."

Again at Westbury, L.I., in July, 1945, Vineyard was driving Pick-Up when the horse broke a hople. He held the whip in his mouth, the reins in his left hand, the hople in his right, and went on to win the race.

Resourceful and cool in the heat of a sudden emergency, Vineyard could also show deliberate courage. This was most clearly displayed when he teamed two pacers, Saratoga and Time's Scarce of about the same size and nearly the same gait for an exhibition race in which he set a world's record for a team of 2-year-old hopped pacers. The mark, 2:05 1/4, still stands.

It was set in October 1940 at the York Fair in Pennsylvania. The pacers, both belonging to T.L. Gustin, had been hitched as a team only once before. And in any event, racing the two attached to a single sulky was a risky business. One bobble could have spelled disaster. Mrs. Vineyard says she was unaware of the extent of the danger. But horsemen knew, and veteran announcer Clem McCarthy said of the exhibition, "Paul Vineyard may have set a record for courage in the sulky..."

Spartan Soccer

Following the scrimmage in which the varsity battled Tower Hill to a 0-0 tie and the J.V. won 1-0. Buck said this year's team is a lot farther long than last year's. They worked hard to use all players in the scrimmage and also tried some changes in the line-up (positions not players). He was pleased with their progress and especially with the promise of several newcomers. Next scrimmage is at A. I. DuPont on Saturday. Buck and Curt Stichel are coaches for the '81 season.
