District Teachers Claim Impasse in Contract Talks

Officially, the Lake Forest School Board and the district's teachers aren't talking.

That does not mean that on the everyday level teachers and board members are not speaking to each other. They are. And the business of operating the schools as another academic year gets underway is going forward.

But official communication between the L.F. School Board and the Lake Forest Education Association, the bargaining agent for the district's teachers, apparently came to a halt following last Thursday's negotiations session at which Peggy Coyle, chairman of the L.F.E.A. negotiating team declared an "impasse" in the contract talks.

That declaration was reiterated by LFEA president, Ed Gabrielson in a statement applauded by some 90 of the district's teachers at the Monday night meeting of the school board. A reported 130 teachers attended the Thursday negotiations session, and 173 signed "signature cards" in support of the LFEA negotiating team presented to the school board Monday night.

Gabrielson's statement claimed that after nine months of bargaining sessions between the board and the teachers, "...a persistent disagreement exists with respect to salaries, employee benefits and working conditions." In face of the impasse declared by the teachers, he said the LFEA recommends that both sides approach the Federal Mediation and Conciliation

Service "to secure an experienced, knowledgeable and impartial mediator" to help settle the dispute.

Gabrielson further stated, "Once the mediation procedure has been established, teacher negotiators will meet with district representatives on any date that is convenient for them."

It was unclear Monday night whether there were any conditions other than the presence of a mutually approved mediator that would bring the teachers back to the bargaining table. The school board set another negotiations session for Tuesday night, but asked whether the LFEA representatives would attend, Gabrielson replied, "What meeting?"

In public statement at Monday's meeting, various school board members expressed themselves as being "surprised" or "appalled" at the declaration of "impasse". The Board said it was willing to continue negotiations with the teachers, but there was no indication as to whether it would accept a mediator. Board member Rick Feutz, who was "surprised" at the LFEA declaration, said both sides had employed professional negotiators early in the bargaining process only to learn "all the possible ways of saying 'No!'"

What was at issue in the deadlocked talks seemed less than clear. Both sides affirmed that the teachers' main concerns are salaries and a just grievance procedure. But both admitted that the

It takes about seven years to get a good apple tree going says J. Stanley Wyatt who has nurtured this one loaded with Golden Delicious fruit in his Harrington back yard for the past twenty years. Mr. Wyatt, who celebrated his 85th birthday last Wednesday is proud of the tree and several others including one bearing Red Delicious apples from which he has harvested ten baskets so far this year. He graciously spent part of his birthday last week chatting with the Journal about the Harrington he remembers. [see story in the Harrington Journal next week.]

United Way Gets Going

Marching under the banner "United Way. Way to Give. Way to Go.", United Way of Delaware launched its 1981 campaign last week.

The local campaign kick-off took place at a luncheon at the Harrington Senior Center on Wednesday, September 16, presided over by "Bebe" Mick, United Way Director for Central Delaware; Donald Jarrel, loaned executive from the Diamond State Telephone Company; and Linda Fleming, Chairman for the Harrington area.

Ms. Fleming heads a list of 17 local volunteers who will conduct the campaign in this area. Local division chairmen are Carl June, Small Businesses; Bob Everline, Corporations; Gene Price, Personals; and Ed Gabrielson, Schools. The list of volunteers includes Frank Hendricks, Nancy Thompson, Gary Simpson, Ruth Phillippi, Bob Taylor, Lee Dean, Charlotte Gogne, Mildred Watson, George Luff, Jim Kelly, Lynn Hitchens and William E. Cline. Thomas F. McGrail, Vice President, Specialty Chemicals, ICI Americas, Inc., is General Campaign Chairman for Delaware.

Delaware's goal for this year is 10 million dollars, a ten percent increase over last year's total. Although a goal has not been formally set for the Harrington area, local chairman Linda Fleming said it would probably be a 10% increase over the 1980 final figure of $3,146. That will be determined at a meeting set for tomorrow morning at the Senior Center. Following that meeting the Harrington campaign will get into full swing. The United Way campaign in Delaware is to run from September 15 through November 19.

Proceeds from the United Way effort are distributed to 54 service organizations throughout Delaware.

They provide youth recreation, family counseling, health and physical fitness services, handicapped training and rehabilitation, nutrition and social services for the elderly and a host of others. Included among the organizations benefited are the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, YWCA and such agencies as the Children's Bureau in Milford, the Harrington Senior Center and Kent & Sussex Industries which provides employment training for the handicapped.

This year many of those social agencies will suffer because of both federal and state budget cuts. Increased dollars from United Way are needed to offset those cuts. In Delaware, United Way agencies are expected to lose $4.4 million in government support out of operating budgets totaling $30

3 Arrested & Indicted in Murder

Through a combined effort and investigation among the Chester County, Pennsylvania, Detectives, the Chester County Constable's Office, and the Delaware State Police Criminal Investigation Unit, three Coatesville residents have been charged with the murder of Walter Betts. Charged with first degree homicide are Thomas L. Hughes, 21, Richard N. Irwin, 21, and Cindy Lou Moore, 25. Additionally, Mr. Hughes has been arrested as a fugitive from the State of Delaware. Mr. Irwin and Miss Moore remain in jail in West Chester, Pennsylvania, on related charges.

On Monday, August 24th, Walter Betts, 63, was found dead in the kitchen of his home at the Wil-Lo Motel on U.S. route 13 near Bridgeville. Mr. Betts, the motel owner, had been felled by a single shotgun blast. The victim was believed to have been dead for at least 10 days.

So far, the arrests have resulted in the recovery of several thousand dollars in currency.

Update

The three were indicted Monday morning by the Sussex County Grand Jury.

The investigative trail led to Moore and Irwin when they did not show for an unrelated burglary trial in Pennsylvania. Subsequent checking by Chester County Constable Martin Quin revealed a sawed off shotgun in their residence. After Quin reported his discovery, detectives and federal agents from the U.S. Treasury's Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division seized the weapon along with several thousand dollars found at their Coatesville, Pa. house.

The money was unexplained until the connection with the Bridgeville murder was made.

Homicide Arrest

Late Friday morning detectives assigned to Troop 3, Camden, arrested Rickie T. Thompson, 26, of Lot 61, Lake Forest Trailer Park, Felton, and charged him with first degree homicide. Mr. Thompson was charged with the murder of Colleen Alvarez, 28, of The Grandview Trailer Park, Dover. He was arraigned at Magistrate Court 7, Dover, and committed to the Delaware Correctional Center, Smyrna. No bail amount was set, resulting in Mr. Thompson's incarceration at least until his preliminary hearing.

Investigators say only that the arrest of the victim's boyfriend was the result of their investigation with assistance from the Medical Examiner's Office.

Colleen Alvarez was found on the floor of her mobile home on the afternoon of Tuesday, September 8th, by a neighbor. The Medical Examiner's

LF. Schools to Call on DPI Aid

In the face of California Achievement Test (CAT) scores in the seventh, eighth and eleventh grades which he reported were the lowest in the state, Lake Forest Superintendent, Dr. Edward M. Powell announced Monday night that he has invited a team of specialists from the state's Department of Public Instruction to provide assistance to the district in assessing the effectiveness of instruction and in making recommendations to strengthen and improve the instructional program with the relatively poor test results produced by the three upper grades mentioned (grades 9, 10 and 12 do not take the CAT tests), the district's students grades 1 through 6 did very well, and Lake Forest fourth grades achieved the highest scores in the state.

While it is a statewide trend for scores in the upper grades to decline, Powell had other figures to show the need for assessment of the educational program at the junior high and high school levels. He said the number of students leaving school (dropping out) is the highest in the state (over 10% in 1980-81 and over 8% the previous year.) The percentage of failure he told the Lake Forest School Board Monday night was over 60% for sophomores and over 50% for juniors.

While Dr. Powell said there is no intention to blame anyone, figures like these indicated, there was work to be done.

The twelve-member team from DPI will spend six days in the district during which time it will analyze test data, review curricular guides, interview staff members, observe classroom instructional activities and examine existing policies and procedures concerned with student achievement and performance. Team members will confine their activities to the Chipman Junior High School and Lake Forest High School.

At the conclusion of the visit, the monitoring team will carefully analyze and report their findings along with appropriate recommendations for improving student outcomes, both long and short range. Their report is to be delivered to Dr. Powell on or before October 30, 1981.

Team members from the Department of Public Instruction are: Sidney Collison, State Director of Instruction; Carl Haltom, State Director of Exceptional Children and Special Programs; Jack Cairns, State Supervisor of Science/Environmental Education; Richard Connell, State Supervisor of Exceptional Children Programs, State Institution Programs; Bernard Floriani, State Supervisor of Reading; William Geppert, State Supervisor of Mathematics; Helen Holleger, State Supervisor of Early Childhood/Primary Education; Gary Houpt, State Supervisor of English/Language Arts; Clifton Hutton, State Supervisor of Guidance/Pupil Personnel Services; Donald Knouse, State Supervisor of Social Studies; Richard Krueger, State Supervisor of Library/Media Services; and William McCormick, State Supervisor of Elementary Education.

"Do You Remember?..."

by Grace Welch

As time went on, one farmer realized that his neighbor had better clay for making bricks and that he, himself, could grow better peaches...and the age of specialization set in.

Do you remember the sled races in the winter time in the main street of town? Do you remember the basket factory where Quillen's Shopping Center is now? Do you remember the board sidewalks downtown or on Vernon Road? How many of you can remember when Mr. Wilbur Jacobs had "Turkey Days" and bought turkeys to ship to the city? I can remember my mother saving eggs all week to trade to the grocery store on Saturday for flour, sugar, coffee and 10 cents worth of candy, a treat we got through good times and bad. I bet you can, too.

My grandmother and grandfather made homemade butter and holly wreaths and sold them to shoppers for the city folk, I'm sure Harrington folks did also.

Times were hard in the early 1900's. Whole families picked and sold strawberries each day in season—then the children would go to school and the fathers would take the berries to town where they would be sold to the highest bidder. This auction took place in front of our present day post office. Langrell's Store was in that section. My father-in-law tells me one man wouldn't wait for him to bring his berries to town, but came to the farm and offered such good prices he couldn't refuse...money was scarce then, and sometimes even work was traded between neighbors.

Wheat threshings were a form of barter. If you've never eaten at a wheat threshing dinner table, you haven't lived yet! Not only was there lots of food, but the fellowship of sharing and the swapping of gossip was the highlight of the year.

Harrington has many memories which are public knowledge, but which have never been recorded. Do you know anything about the old gas lights? Did you know we once had a town crier? Did you know the Tharp house in which our Mayor and Mrs. Mann reside has a parquet floor that was shipped here from Wanamakers in Philadelphia? And did you know that the big old house next to CATV was built at the close of the Civil War by William Tharp? Did you know that the old

Governor and Mrs. duPont to Host Medieval Fair

DOVER--Plans for the 1981 "Medieval Fair", hosted by Gov. and Mrs. Pierre S. duPont at Woodburn, their home in Dover, on Saturday, Sept. 26, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. are well underway.

Highlights of the day's activities include a reenactment of the Battle of Stamford Bridge at 1 p.m. by the University of Delaware Ancient and Medieval Society.

According to Society Warlord Kent Aist, the 50 to 60-member group will be in authentic, Medieval-style costume and will use battle regalia of the early Medieval period, 600 to 1250 A.D.

The society also will be on hand throughout the day, setting up a Viking camp and displaying Medieval-period crafts, clothing and other items.

Opening ceremonies will commence at 10:30 a.m. with a full-dress procession led by the governor and his wife, Elise. Following the governor's remarks, there will be a frog-jumping competition with frogs being prodded by Delaware politicians. Later in the morning, a rope-pulling contest between Republicans and Democrats will take place over the St. Jones River, toward the rear of the Fair grounds.

In addition to the entertainment by the University of Delaware group, the Fair will feature performances by Newark High School students, also in Medieval costume; the Delaware Choral Society; the Early Music Consort; the Country Dancers, and Judith Mingus' new Escarte Dance troupe.

Throughout the day, the grounds at Woodburn will be peopled with strolling minstrels, jugglers, and a clown and a magician who will perform for the youngsters. Smokey the Bear also is scheduled to make an appearance for the children.

Area craftsmen and women will participate in the festivities and will share their expertise with Fair visitors. Exhibits include stained glass; yarn spinning; woodcarving; needlework; blacksmithing; corn husk dolls; porcelain dolls; tole painting, and basketry.

Also, Medieval herb and wildflower drying; wooden toy carving; fish net making; calligraphy; chair caning; quilting and a quilt display, chimney sweeps, candlemaking and pottery.

Light refreshments, donated by Kent County businesses, will be available and prizes will be awarded to some lucky visitors who happen to be in the right place at the right time.

To further enhance the flavor of the period, Woodburn and the Fair grounds will be decorated to resemble a castle, complete with banners, balloons and torches. The House will be open for guided tours during Fair hours.

For those who would like to come in costume, libraries in all three counties will carry patterns of Medieval-style clothing that would be easy and inexpensive to assemble for the one-day event.

Free shuttle bus service will run between the Central Middle School parking lot and the Fair site. Other shuttles will pick up and drop off visitors who park in the area of Legislative Hall and The Green.

All ages are encouraged to attend the duPonts' annual public event and first "Medieval Fair". The wide range of activities have been planned to appeal to everyone, from the youngest to the eldest of Delaware's citizens.

Grant Street and other Harrington thoroughfares were under water last Friday as a welcome but heavy downpour proved more than local drainage could quickly handle.

Freshman Elizabeth Watkinson and a Dover opponent both stake a claim to the ball in Monday's opening contest on Spartan turf.

Delaware Diamonds

by Joyce Jefferson

When Mary Barker died, she had four surviving children, Sarah, Maria (Mary), Thomas, and William who inherited the land she received from her father Thomas Collins. Her son, Thomas C. Barker died while he was a resident of Pennsylvania in 1816 and his father Joseph Barker bought his portion of the land at the sale conducted by Sheriff Enoch Joyce. He then purchased from their daughter Maria the wife of George Stevenson, her share; and also that owned by the youngest son William to become sole owner of the large tract known then as Barker's Landing, bounded by the Lowber property and a part of which is now included in the town limits of Magnolia.

This was the land which Thomas Collins purchased from Whittington Draper, house carpenter 10 February 1768 as was described as: "Parcel of Part of two tracts of land known by the names of Caroon and Caroon Manner situated on the west side of Delaware Bay and in the country of Kent and in Murtherkill Hundred and on Dover River. The same lands as contained in deed conveyed from Joseph Miller and Mary his wife to Alexander Draper father to Whittington Draper. Beginning at the new corner marked white oak standing at the head of a swamp or cripple proceeding from the marches of Dover River and...to a new corner marked Hickory standing in a line which divides this from the land late of George Glaspey and...to an old corner marked Red Oak being a corner tree of a tract of land formerly belonging to Daniel Rutty...until it intersects with the near prong of the Beaver Dam Branch then down...to the main Beaver Dam Branch binding therewith the several coursed to Dover River...containing and laid out for four hundred and fifty five acres of land."

James Miller and Mary his wife of Murther Creek Hundred sold to Alexander Draper of the same place on 9 May 1743 "a certain tract or parcel of land situated in Murther creek Hundred hinding on the south side of St. Jones Creek, formerly belonging to John Housman; being part of two tracts called and known by the name of Carroon and Carroon Maner. Beginning at a corner marked white oak standing at the head of a swamp or cripple proceeding from the marshes of Dover River...to an old corner marked Red Oak being a corner tree of a tract of land formerly belonging to Daniel Rutty...until it intersects the near prong of the Beaver Dam Branch then down the prong binding therewith to the main Branch...containing and laid out for four hundred and fifty five acres of land."

million. The effects of inflation will further reduce the buying power of those budgets.

United Way does not expect to replace all the funds cut by the government, but it hopes that it can raise an additional $800,000 in Delaware to help.

United Way funds are administered locally by the organization which it supports.

Throughout Delaware 13,000 volunteers will conduct the campaign. The high percentage of volunteers helps make it possible for United Way to contribute 88 cents out of every dollar given directly to the benefitting agencies. For that reason, the 1981 campaign theme stresses that United Way is the "Way to Give" to benefit the most worthwhile organizations and the cost-effective "Way to Go".

Bakerian Directs Wesley CE Programs

David G. Bakerian is now serving as Director of Continuing Education at Wesley College in Dover.

His previous professional experience includes Hudson Valley Community College where he served as Deputy Director for a public and community service project, Assistant Director for Continuing Education and instructor in social sciences and English, and the State University of New York at Albany where he was Project Assistant for a continuing education project.

He holds a B.A. in English and Education from Sienna College and a M.A. in the same field from the University of West Florida.

Donald Jarrell and Linda Fleming were among those who attended the luncheon held last Thursday at the Harrington Senior Center to kick off the area United Way campaign for 1981. Jarrell, of Harrington, is a Diamond State Telephone Company executive who has been "loaned" to United Way for the duration of the campaign. Ms. Fleming is Chairman of the fund-raising effort for the Harrington area.

Impasse Declared

question of salaries has not yet been hashed over.

Salary proposals described by school board president James Gussett as "the extremes", have been presented by both sides. And the school board says it has a second proposal which it has not had the chance to present. LFEA representatives say they have not seen that proposal. They claim Lake Forest teachers are the worst paid in the area and the third lowest paid in the state (with only teachers in Delmar and Smyrna earning lower salaries). According to an estimate by the Delaware State Education Association, the average Lake Forest teacher earns under $14,000 per year as compared to a state average salary of over $17,000. No figures on the salary proposals made by either side in the current dispute have been made public.

However far apart the board and the teachers may be on the question of salaries, it did not appear Monday night that that question precipitated the current crisis. Three areas which the board indicated are not negotiable plus a question of the agenda for the September 17 negotiating session seem to have been the immediate stumbling blocks.

The board in a letter presented to the LFEA team at a September 10 contract session refused to negotiate in three areas: 1)the procedure for laying off teachers when enrollment dips (otherwise known as "reduction in force" - RIF), 2)either binding or advisory arbitration, and 3)hourly rate compensation for duties performed outside the normal school day.

School board president James Gussett said Monday night the three areas were not included among those state law says are to be negotiated ie compensation, employee benefits and working conditions.

Gussett said the district "RIF" policy was a written procedure to cover what is left uncovered by the state. Although the board will not negotiate in this area, he said changes in the procedure would wait the opportunity to get teacher input. Binding arbitration, he insisted, is illegal in Delaware. And establishing hourly compensation after school duties, he said, would effectively abolish such activities as open house sessions, faculty meetings and conferences with parents when they cannot be scheduled during the regular school day.

The Board claims the LFEA presented a list of points on which it demanded agreement be reached at the Sept. 17th meeting despite the fact that a five point agenda for the meeting had previously been adopted with the consent of both parties.

LFEA representatives in turn countered that the Board's refusal to negotiate in the areas above mentioned plus the snail's pace of the nine month old talks during which agreement has been reached on "only a handful of issues" were the reasons for the ultimatum presented which resulted in the declaration of impasse on September 17.

Board member Cliff Chambers said although he was early led to believe that salaries and the grievance procedure were the teachers' chief concerns, it was later evident that a list of other contract changes, both major and minor were to be brought up.

Ed Gabrielson affirmed that although he had said compensation (salaries) and the grievance procedure were the main concerns, he had never indicated they were the only ones. He also claimed that binding arbitration is not illegal in Delaware. To the Board claim that it has a salary suggestion it has been unable to present, he countered, "If the board has some new proposal, let us have it."

James Gussett said although the board and the teachers are at odds over the contract, there is "no enmity" between the two groups. He also called the decision to declare impasse "unfortunate" and said he was "appalled" that the union would be so "anxious" to take that step. He said it would serve only union officials and not teachers.

Lake Forest teachers, who have been sporting badges reading "We want a contract," have been without a contract since June 30, but have been granted successive one-month extensions as talks continued.

According to Delaware State Education sources, Lake Forest is the sixth district in the state to have reached impasse in contract negotiations in the past twelve months. The others are Appoquinimink, Capital, Indian River, Cape Henlopen and Seaford.

Harrington Sunshine 4-H

Have you ever seen a 20 foot long banana split? Well, if you had been to the Harrington Sunshine 4-H Club meeting on Monday, Sept. 14th, you not only would have seen one, but you would have helped make it and best of all you would have helped to eat it. All 4-Hers and leaders and parents that were present helped to make and eat the gigantic concoction made from bananas, vanilla and chocolate ice cream and 6 different toppings with whipped cream.

During the business meeting, reports were given on the State Fair, State Camp and the Pool Party and the funnel cakes for Heritage Day.

Our club leader, Mrs. Jane Everline initiated the new officers by asking them to prove their dedication to 4-H by kissing the 4-H clover three times. What the officers didn't know was that a pan of flour was going to be substituted for the clover. So everybody came up with a face full of flour. After this, the officers were installed. Each 4-Her and parent and leaders had a part of a puzzle to place on a puzzle board. A candlelight ceremony completed the installation. The new officers are:

President ..... Robin Zareo
Vice President ..... Sherrie Freer
Secretary ..... Kimberly Zeiler
Treasurer ..... Janene Zareo
Reporter ..... Karen Taylor

Our new leaders are Mrs. Crickett McIlroy and Mrs. Dawn Yannucci. Our special guest for the evening was Mr. James Moore, New Castle County 4-H agent. Mr. Moore gave a very good presentation on entomology explaining everything from how to make your own butterfly net to how to prepare them for show. Several members are interested in this project.

Harrington Sunshine meets the first Monday of every month at Saint Sephen's Church.

GENERIC DRUGS

What are 'generic' drugs? A generic drug has the same basic chemical formula as a 'brand name' drug, but is usually less expensive. The cost of a brand name drug includes the advertising and prestige of the large pharmaceutical laboratory that produces it. You can save money by asking your doctor to specify the generic drug on your prescriptions that he writes.

Senior Center

By Dorothy Graham 398-3780

Smile! Where you see no good, silence is the best. Preface to Familiar Studies.

Reverend Koning of Nazarene Church of Harrington, was leader of Bible Study Monday morning at Harrington Center, Sept. 14, 1981. He chose as his topic - Obedience to God cleanses us. He reminded us God is Light, God is Love. The folks present had a responsive reading and all enjoyed Reverend Koning's discussion. They all sang some long remembered hymns. A prayer ended the happy hour. Present were 20 contented people.

Monday afternoon Sandy, of the Dupont Clinic, told us of the uses senior citizens could make of it.

Chicken and dumplings was the order of the day, Tuesday morning. It seemed to set the tempo of the day. And then, add strawberry shortcake with whipped cream. Oh me, oh my, it surely was delicious! Then there was hand practice to begin the day good and proper with "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles". Makes you dream just a little, doesn't it? After lunch (dinner), birthday party and a sing-a-long. Cards, vases, friends and a very, very happy Center.

Hope you heard the Jolly Timers Saturday at Heritage Day. They were super. Making the sounds - sound so good - were Ina Hughes, Andy Anderson, Lili McBride, Essie Redden, Roxanne Brown, Jo Burke, Elsie Neal, Ella Golt, Bertha Dean, Mammie Adams, Ola Tilden, Florence Minner, Pearl Hickman, Cleora Vincent, Gertrude Morgan, Laurence Kates, Sylvia and Cecil Meredith, John McCready, Mildred Vincent and Tony Perrone.

Inner Harbor was glad to welcome the folks from Harrington Wednesday. Forty-nine enjoyed it, for different reasons. The aquarium was one special spot several visited.

Bowling at Milford Lanes is always fun and those that partake of it enjoy the sport most every Thursday. Thursday afternoon at the Center, Barbara Evans brought a bag full of goodies to show the folks here. She will be here each Thursday to help with the different crafts each one has chosen.

Heritage Day was quite successful for Harrington Senior Center. Thanks to all! Pool, checkers, rummage sale coming up. Anything you have we would appreciate. The doll ladies want to know if you have any scraps; if so, drop them off; they would like that. Thanks to all volunteers!

Best Wishes and prayers, kind thoughts. Remember - Marriage is terrifying but so is a cold and lonesomeness. Faith.

Steve Winand will remain as President, JoAnn Moore will continue to serve as Secretary-Treasurer. Rell, Keith and John Winand will again be the entertainment committee.

The only addition to the family tree during the past year was Trinity Van William Thompson, son of Robert and Teresa Thompson, who was born on July 12, 1981.

Frederica

By Mary "Toby" Johnston 335-5487

Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson of Winter Haven, Fla., have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Roland Pittard.

Matlack family reunion was held Saturday, September 12th at Killen's Pond State Park with 87 present from Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland and Florida.

Mr. Edward Matlack and daughter Janet of Thoroughfare, N.J. are the Historians and are preparing the Family Tree.

Mrs. Ellen Betts of Millsboro was the oldest member and with the most family members attending. Mrs. Earlean Ryan Manahan of Fort Lauderdale Fla. coming the longest distance - her granddaughter 7 months old the youngest member present, little Miss Tammy Tieman of Dover, Del.

The highlight of the reunion was an auction of homemade treasures made by family members. The secretary will keep a record of maker, who presented them for the auction and 1981 buyer.

Kevin, Cindy and Melissa Dill attended the annual Gerradi family reunion at Killen's Pond State Park, Sunday, September 13th.

Mrs. Mary Purnell and Toby attended Harrington Heritage Day. We truly enjoyed every minute but there was not enough time to get it all in. The museums were great and what a delightful way to ride on the John Deere Shuttle. Food, Flea Markets, all kinds of entertainment, including the day was superb.

We might as well enjoy all the beautiful little poems about September that we can collect. Here is a pretty one. The author is not given. "The ghosts of flowers went sailing Through the dreamy autumn air - The gossamer wings of the milkweed brown, And the sheeny silk of the thistledown; But there was no bewailing And never a hint of despair." The writer is evidently from New England because he goes on to give us this beautiful description of autumn days: I know you all love the things that I love, so I will share this with you.

"When a wind sweeps through our forests of hard and soft woods, there is a symphony of sound. But each tree has its own voice, though our pines and hemlocks need more than a breeze to be heard. In a great wind the pines will roar, the old oaks mutter and grind, and the saplings will like banshees.

But there are trees such as the aspen, or poplar, whose leaves on ribbon like

Anne's Kitchen

Before long, farmers will be harvesting pumpkins, and we will be thinking about saving one for our Thanksgiving pies.

For years I have tried many different recipes for pumpkin pie, some better than others, some using canned pumpkin, others using fresh. Nothing seemed so extra special that I would care to repeat it. Then one day my sister, newly married and as yet not very experienced in the kitchen, invited us for Thanksgiving dinner. Her pie looked nice, but so did many others I had tried. I was unimpressed. Naturally, only to be polite you understand, I agreed to sample a piece. I was surprised not only at my sister's newly acquired skills but at the delicious pie. Since then, I have only used her recipe. At last my search had ended. While she was good enough to give me the recipe, she has never revealed its source. I have no choice but to call it.....

Prospect United Methodist Women

The first fall meeting of the United Methodist Women at Prospect Church was held at the church Sept. 17, 1981. There were 15 members, Rev. Markley and one visitor present. Jean Miller was in charge of donations. She opened by reading scripture from Matthew 6:5-15 after which everyone sang Sweet Hour of Prayer. Jean explained the Lord's Prayer using pictures of a wheel. On the hub of the wheel was written, Our Father Which Art In Heaven. This wheel had 7 spokes. On the first spoke was written, Hallowed Be Thy Name, on the 2nd spoke, Thy Kingdom Come, 3rd spoke, Thy Will Be Done In Earth As In Heaven, 4th spoke, Give Us This Day Our Daily Bread, 5th spoke, Forgive Us Our Debts As We Forgive Our Debtors, 6th spoke, Lead Us Not Into Temptation, 7th spoke, But Deliver Us From Evil. Anna Webb, Mable Jean Donovan and Phoebe Anthony will make the October visit. Mrs. Ethel Tharp reminded us that we had discussed making bedroom slippers for the guests at Haven Hill for Christmas. They will be either crocheted or knit. It was decided to order more Bibles to replace the ones which have been given to the children at Prospect and Farmington. Twenty-one Bibles have been given out. This motion was made by Jean Miller. Rev. and Mrs. Markley attended the Bazaar held at the Methodist Manor House Sept. 12, 1981. The United Methodist Women will hold their annual fall rummage sale at Spence's Bazaar in Dover on Oct. 9, 1981. Anyone with articles to donate may leave them at the church or contact any member of the United Methodist Women and they will be picked up. Happy Birthday was sung to eight birthday depositors. Jeanette Legates made a motion that we transfer $25.00 from the treasury to Anna Webb, Sunshine Chairman. We decided to keep our Pledge and gift to Neighborhood House the same as last year. This motion was made by Mable Jean Donovan. A fall meeting of the United Methodist Women will be held October 3 from 10-2 at the New Zion Church in Laurel. Our hostess, Edna Mae Gallo, served delicious refreshments which were enjoyed by everyone. Phoebe Anthony, Secretary BLIZZARD MILFORD-Delaware's oldest resident, Eloouiza C. "Cassie" Blizzard, died Thursday, September 17, in the Milford Manor Nursing Home after a long illness. She was 109. At her 109th birthday party in January, she said "hard work" was the reason she was still going strong. She added, "I owe it all to the Lord. It is what he wanted for me." Blizzard was born Jan. 30, 1872, in Boons Mill, Va., the last of five children of Griffin and Lucy Sink. She outlived three husbands. The last, David Blizzard, died in 1973 and she lived alone in her Fourth Street home until March 1980 when she entered Milford Manor. Her first marriage was to Oscar Coffman, a blacksmith, who later became a boilermaker in a Virginia silk factory. The couple had two children who died in a 1918 flu epidemic. After Coffman died in 1939, she worked in the cafeteria of Randolph-Macon College in Lynchburg, Va., where she met her second husband, Charles Deputy, a widower from Milford. They married in 1944 and he died two years later. It was the following year, 1947, that she met David Blizzard, also a widower and they married that November. State officials do not know exactly how many centenarians there are in Delaware, but Blizzard was reported to be the oldest known resident of the state. There are no immediate survivors. She can prove her age by a cherished possession, her parents' Bible, handed down to her by her older sister. Inscribed inside is her given name and date of birth: "Eloouiza Catherine Sink, born Jan. 30, 1872." The funeral was held Sunday at 2 p.m. from the Berry Funeral, Northwest Front Street, Milford, where friends called two hours earlier. Burial was in Odd Fellows Cemetery, Milford. stems (and this is true of the beech and ash) flutter and whisper in the slightest breeze--or, indeed, when there is no breeze at all. The dry leaves clinging to the winter oaks and beeches are castanets--as were the long, loose leaves of the American chestnut--long ago. The trees that shelter our house will outlive us surely, but we will hear them as long as we live. The ancient Siberian Crabs by the front door are great limbed, firm as iron, echoing the rush of the wind. But the restless black birches twist and swish and the white birch clump sways and creaks. By the roadside, in New England fashion, are the rows of hard maples--tight enough to hold the wind, muffle and gentle it. No banshee wails--only the pleasant gossiping of leaves." Saturday's mail brought the Sears Christmas catalog, which will now occupy many of the children's waking moments. And it reminds me that I had better get with the Christmas shopping. How are you all doing in this department? So far I have purchased one gift for a friend and have one small gift for Garth's stocking. Not a very big start, is it? I love to send Christmas cards, but have had to pare down my list because of the high cost of postage. I had about decided to send only a few specials this year, but now I hear that my wee granddaughter is selling them to get herself a prize. Now, what's a grandmother to do? Sure, Honey, I'll take some!!

Offers The New "All Savers Tax Exempt Certificate Of Deposit."

HERE ARE THE FACTS:

What is the purpose of the All Savers Certificate?

The All Savers Certificate has been created by Congress as an incentive to save. All the interest on this certificate within prescribed limits -- is tax-excluded from your Federal Income Tax. Also, the All Savers Act was enacted to help housing. It requires that the major portion of the new savings created by this certificate be used for residential and agricultural financing.

How much interest do I earn tax-free?

As the Law now reads, this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to earn as much as $2,000 in tax-free interest if you file jointly ($1,000 for single returns). Any interest earned in excess of these sums is taxable.

What is the smallest sum I may deposit?

You may deposit as little as $500. Regulations permit you to deposit any larger amount you wish. Discuss with us the maximum deposit that will still be completely free of Federal taxes.

May I add to my certificate?

No, you are not allowed to add to any existing certificate. Each certificate is issued for one year. You may, however, purchase additional certificates in any sum of $500 or more.

What will my interest rate be?

Your certificate will have an interest rate equal to 70% of the average investment yield on 52-week Treasury Bills as of the most recent auction date. Thus, when the 52-week treasury rate is 15% your interest rate is 10.5% tax-free! The interest rate changes monthly, so check with us for the current rate.

Is my interest rate guaranteed?

Yes, the rate in effect when you open your All Savers Certificate remains in effect for one year. You know exactly how much income you will receive. Your interest rate will not fluctuate.

How does the All Savers Certificate help me?

It means you, too, can now earn tax-free interest. This privilege, previously available only to those in a high tax bracket, is now offered to anyone who can set aside $500 or more for one year. What is best, the new savings method reduces your taxes where it counts the most--at the top bracket of your income.

I have already earned enough interest to qualify for the $400 joint ($200 single) exclusion from my Federal income tax for 1981. May I also exclude any interest I receive in 1981 from an All Savers Certificate?

Certainly. The only restriction in the All Savers Act is that interest received from your All Savers Certificate in 1981 cannot also be deducted under the general interest exclusion of the earlier law.

Will the All Savers Certificate help me if I own 6-Month Certificates?

More than likely, but it will depend on your income bracket and the current rates for both types of certificates.

If you are in one of the higher tax brackets, you will usually get a much better net yield from an All Savers Certificate, but only up to the maximum interest limitation of $2,000.

If your income falls into one of the lower brackets, you may be better off staying with 6-month certificates. The chart below provides a useful guide in helping you to a decision. Please come in to talk with us, and get all the facts. (It will be important to first look up the net taxable income you reported on last year's Federal income tax form.)

Will the All Savers Certificate help me if I own Money Market Mutual Fund Shares?

Again, more than likely. But, as in the previous comparison, it is necessary to check current rates for both forms of investment. After learning these rates, the decision will hinge on your top tax bracket. The higher your bracket, the more advantageous is the All Savers Certificate.

May I collect interest prior to maturity without penalty?

Yes. Interest received prior to maturity is not a premature distribution. You'll receive a #1099 form annually reporting your tax-free interest for the preceding year.

Is there a penalty for early withdrawal?

Yes. If any portion of a certificate is redeemed, disposed of or used as collateral or security for a loan before maturity, the interest earned on that certificate is not tax-exempt. Also, the penalty for early withdrawal on a one-year certificate is loss of 3 months interest on the amount withdrawn.

Is my certificate insured?

Yes. Ask for specific insurance information.

Billy Scott [#5] gets a handoff from [#2] in one of the few times the Spartan offense was to get the ball to carry in the second half of Saturday's opener against Seaford.

Spartans Lose to Seaford in 2nd Half of Season Opener

For the first half of the ball game it looked as though Jim Fleming's Spartan football team might hang on to repeat last year's upset victory over Seaford in this year's season opener

Saturday night. For two quarters a spirited Spartan defense hung on, denying Seaford a number of opportunities to score. And in the second quarter sophomore Ralph Taylor made it into the end zone to draw first blood and give Lake Forest the lead.

In the closing seconds of the same quarter, Spartan defenders staved off a strong Seaford bid long enough for the clock to run out. The first half ended with Lake Forest ahead 6-0.

The second half was a different story. Seaford took control of the ball and the field to score two touchdowns in each of the two final quarters and to make all but one of their extra points to wrap up a 27-6 victory.

Despite the dismal second half, Spartan coach, Jim Fleming said he was "Overall pleased with the spirit and enthusiasm evidenced in the first half."

But he said the Spartans knew that in Seaford they were up against a team picked to win the Northern Division

Henlopen title and that they would have to play mistake-free ball.

Defensive errors in the second half, he said, cost the Spartan offense the opportunity to carry the ball.

Fleming said this week would be spent in correcting defensive techniques as the team prepares to face Dover, another tough competitor from the conference Northern division.

Fleming said the upcoming contest with the Senators would be similar to the situation Lake Forest faced against the Bluejays on Saturday. They can make no mistakes. The Senators breezed by upstate Christiana, 22-0, last week.

But Fleming feels that if Spartans can correct their defense, the offense will be able to carry the ball.

That is something Lake Forest had little opportunity to do Saturday as Seaford gained 383 yards to the Spartans 135.

Spartans Do Well in 24th Invitational

by Keith S. Burgess

One of the most prestigious athletic events at Lake Forest High School is the annual Lake Forest Cross-Country Invitational, which held its 24th renewal on Saturday.

Runners from four states competed at the new, three-mile course at Killen's Pond State Park.

Host Lake Forest, coached by Jim Blades, the Henlopen Conference's most successful leader was hurt by the absence of No. 4 runner, Tom Silkworth, out indefinitely with a stress fracture and by the sub-par condition of three other Spartans. Nevertheless, the gritty locals gave a courageous performance and finished fourth in a 13-team race.

Maurice Coverdale ran three miles in 17.10, for 13th place, closely followed by the amazing Larry "The Bird" Guessford, who ran 17.16 for 15th. A few years ago, Guessford was near the bottom of the W.T. Chipman team. Bur hard work and many hundreds of miles later, have turned the duckling into a swan.

James Lofland, a much-improved Terry Caskey and Manny Hernandez, completed the Spartan scorers, as only 44 seconds separated the first five locals. Robby Manaraeze and Albert Burns ran well also.

Dover, New Jersey runner Tony Orlandi was the individual winner. Orlandi's father is the coach of the team, that annually makes a 400 mile round trip to compete here.

Howard High of Wilmington scored a low of 70 points to nose out Cape Henlopen's 71. Dover, N.J. was third with 81, followed by Lake Forest 118, Oxford, Pa. the 1980 winner, with 127, Smyrna 148, Sussex Central, 1980 Conference and State Champion, had 163, Woodbridge, 176, Laurel 224, St. Elizabeth's 241, Seaford 280, North Caroline, Md. and Cambridge-south Dorchester, Md.

Mike Melvin Leads JVs to Victory

by Keith S. Burgess

Mike Melvin, a transfer from Riverview Junior High, Denton, Md. made an impressive debut, as a cross-country runner, by leading the Lake Forest Junior Varsity Cross Country Team, to victory in the Lake Forest Invitational.

Melvin's father, Al Melvin, was the No. 1, runner on one of Byers King's strong, North Caroline, Md. High

Soccer Team Drops Opener to Tough CR

by Jimmy Schuman, Jr.

The Lake Forest High School soccer team lost its opening soccer game against Caesar Rodney on Thursday. The final score was 3-0.

Coach Dave Buck doesn't feel that the score was a sign of Lake Forest's ability. He commented that "If C.R. is favored to be number one, then we should have a good season this year."

National Hunting & Fish Fishing Day - Sept. 26

September 26 will mark the 10th anniversary of National Hunting and Fishing Day in recognition of the outstanding contributions hunters and fishermen have made to the conservation of our nation's wildlife and wild places.

To celebrate, Remington Farms, a 3,000 acre wildlife management area near Chestertown, on Maryland's Eastern Shore, will be hosting its annual Open House.

From 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. that fourth Saturday in September, a variety of interests as wide as all outdoors will be represented by the many exhibits, demonstrations, and activities offered at the Open House through the efforts of over 180 volunteers. Nearby, visitors will be able to try .22 rifle, blackpowder muzzleloader, shotgun and archery shooting, all under the supervision of trained instructors.

Admission, parking and instruction at Remington Farms' National Hunting and Fishing Day Open House are free. The Rock Hall Lions will be selling barbecue chicken and refreshments.

In case of rain, the exhibits will be moved indoors.

Remington Farms is located southwest of Chestertown, Take Route 20 out of Chestertown, toward Rock Hall and look for signs about eight miles from Chestertown. For additional information or directions, call 301-778-1565.

Hockey Team Defeats Dover

Aggressive play, exhibited here by Stephanie Dopirak [center] and running mates helped the Spartans take the ball down the field for 21 shots on the goal where junior Susan Back was successful in sinking three to defeat Dover, 3-1.

Lake Forest varsity hockey coach Pat Dyal was not terribly surprised when her team took their initial contest against Dover, 3-1. In a scrimmage earlier in the season the Spartans beat Dover by the same score. But she felt they played better in the scrimmage. She was pleased to see the girls come alive after the opening 15 minutes and a first score by Dover to play aggressive ball for the remainder of the game. The varsity girls got in 21 shots on the goal to score three times, twice in the first half. All three goals were counted by junior Susan Back. Dyal feels Wednesday's contest at Sussex Central will be a better test of what the Spartan team can do. The downstate team, she says, is a better match for Lake Forest. Looking ahead to the season, Dyal expects her team to be in "about the middle of the pack" conference-wise. The season hockey opener against Caesar Rodney last week was postponed by rain and has not so far been rescheduled. The J.V. girls, coached by Bonnie Simon battled their Dover High counterparts to a 0-0 standoff in their game which followed the varsity contest Monday afternoon.

"Lines from a Horseman's Wife....."

Post time has come, time is here,
From the five hold, I have a fear
The gate is moving, we're ready to leave
Watch out the four horse is starting to weave.
The six horse is jumping and leaping about,
And all the drivers are starting to shout.
We're at the first quarter in 31
Now I'm thinking, this is fun.
I've passed the three horse, I'm in on the rail
I've got to get going, I'm not going to fail.
We're at the half in 1:05
I've got to look like I'm alive
I've passed the two horse in 1:34
I'm starting to think I can't go anymore.
I've already pulled, and on the go
I've got to win, Not just be a show.
I'm out there going and just in time
And won the race in 2:09.
Shirley Vollett

[Note: Shirley Vollett is one of those patient wives who spends a lot of time at the track. Her husband Jim has three horses which he trains and drives. The above verse was composed during all that waiting time. This is the Vollett's first harness racing season in Harrington. They arrived here en route from Florida tracks and Ocean Downs.]

Swim Classes

The Lake Forest Community Aquatic Programs will be offering evening classes for children who wish to learn to swim. Pre-School and Water Baby class will be held Mon-Wed-Fri. at 6 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. Children's Beginners and Advanced Beginner classes will be held at 7 and 7:30 p.m. These classes begin on Sept. 28th.

LF Water Polo Competition

The Lake Forest Community Swim Programs will sponsor a water polo team in a brief competitive schedule this fall. The team will travel to Pennsylvania on two separate occasions to face Lower Moreland High School and the Cumberland Valley High School. The local team is looking for boys 15-18 to participate. Those interested can call Dennia Berry at 284-9291, Ext. 33. Water polo activity in the past at Lake Forest has been a strictly recreational activity highlighted by a once a year tournament in which local teams compete against each other.

Hopefuls at Harrington Raceway - Ben Sleva, Sr. who stables five horses at Harrington Raceway has hopes for "Seton Lobell" [below] who went in 1:59 at Laurel on Sept. 4. The four year old has had several wins, but has been plagued by a virus. At the right is his 3-year-old grey filly "Chubby's Pride" who qualified earlier at Dover Downs, but [as of this photo taken a couple of weeks ago] has yet to race. The filly, who was in poor shape, was turned out for a while and is just now getting back into condition.

2 Harness Drivers Lead

COLUMBUS, Ohio-William O'Donnell recently became the fourth harness driver in history to surpass $3 million in purse winnings for a single season. O'Donnell, who has led in the money standings in every week since Feb. 1, has won $3,068,899 through September 5.

Other reinsmen who have topped $3 million in one year winnings, according to the Data Processing Dept. of the U.S. Trotting Assn., include Herve Filion (four times), Carmine Abbiello (three), and John Campbell (twice).

Campbell is currently second in the money derby with $2,808,722, followed by Filion, at $2,581,702. Filion is the sport's all-time leading money winner with a career total of $34,927,804 (through September 5).

In the dash standings, Eddie Davis leads with 288 victories, but Filion, with 259 winners, is quickly closing in on the leader. Filion, who trails by 29 winning drives, trailed Davis by 79 victories on June 1.

Seven other harness drivers have won over 200 races thus far in 1981, including William Parker Jr. and John Hogan, who have each won 25% of the races they have competed in.
