Bridgeville Man is State's 85th Traffic Victim

A Bridgeville man, Carl J. E. Purnell, 74, became the state's 85th traffic fatality Monday afternoon after the tractor he was driving was rammed by a truck on U.S. 13 north of Bridgeville. The truck was driven by Henry C. Seamans, 35, of Dover.

State police who responded to the scene of the accident say Seamans apparently fell asleep just moments before his 1980 Peterbilt truck tractor hit the rear end of a homemade trailer bearing crates of apples and towed by the John Deere tractor operated by Purnell. The trailer carrying the apples displayed neither a fluorescent orange triangle nor flashing lights to show that it was a slow moving vehicle.

Seamans was returning to Dover from Delmar after delivering a load of corn. Purnell, who was employed by fruit growers T.S. Smith & Sons of Bridgeville had just left his home with the load of apples.

The impact, which broke the air pump on the tractor rendering its brakes inoperative, ejected Purnell, who traveled 208 feet before landing in the right lane of northbound 13. His tractor continued for 156 feet before stopping, and the truck driven by Seamans went on for 1093 feet before coming to rest.

Volunteers from the Bridgeville Fire Company took Purnell to Nanticoke Hospital in Seaford where he was pronounced dead on arrival at 4:24 p.m. with head injuries and multiple compound fractures.

The northbound lane of U.S. 13 about 1.7 miles north of Bridgeville was closed for about two hours following the 3:45 p.m. accident.

Purnell's death brings the Delaware traffic fatality toll to 85 this year as compared to 125 last year.

Charges are pending a review of the case by Deputy Attorney General John Sandy.

Police say there was no evidence there was alcohol involved.

Mr. Body Beautiful candidates to receive "cash votes" from Lake Forest High School students are [back row, left to right] Billy Scott, Kenny Ruder, Dale Benson and [front row, left to right] Jeff Dickerson and LaMont Robinson. Mr. Body Beautiful will be named Saturday. The proceeds from the voting will go to UNICEF or the Save the Children Fund.

Homecoming Queen to be Crowned Saturday

Seven Lake Forest High School students nominated by members of the varsity football team await the announcement of the 1981 Homecoming Queen which will highlight halftime festivities at the Spartan stadium Saturday afternoon. The seven are:

Cheryl Pritchett 17, daughter of Mrs. Helen Pritchett; Amanda Becton 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Becton; Wanda D. Carney, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton B. Carney, Jr.; Stephanie Jo Dopirak, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dopirak; Cheryl Ann Cerklefskie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cerklefskie; Suzie Asbury, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Asbury and Pandora Scott, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. Scott.

Saturday will also see the selection of "Mr. Body Beautiful" from among five football players nominated by the Lake Forest cheerleaders. Voting for the winner will be by pennies donated by the student body. Proceeds will go to UNICEF (The United Nation's Childrens Emergency Fund) or to the Save the Children Fund. This year's candidates are LaMont Robinson, Kenny Ryder, Billy Scott, Dale Benson and Jeff Dickerson.

A parade at 10 a.m. in Felton will kick off Homecoming activities on Saturday. The parade will form on High Street where it will travel east to turn

Harrington Fire Co. Starts Fund Drive

Harrington area residents can expect a letter from the Harrington Fire Company as the volunteer group launches its annual drive for funds October 18.

The company hopes to raise $10,000 this year - all or part of which will go to help pay for a new rescue truck, a heavy duty Ranger already on order at a plant in Rhode Island. Base price for the vehicle is $95,000. Local firefighters have been working for a number of years in a number of programs to accumulate the necessary funds.

The company purchased its last rescue truck in 1962. Funds are a continuing necessity to keep equipment up to date and in good working order so that the organization can continue its service to the community.

Hal Blades, 1981 Fund Drive Chairman, says in his letter to the community

"The members of the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company take on an enormous responsibility to provide the community with the best possible Fire, Rescue, and Ambulance service. I am calling on the community to accept part of the responsibility of keeping these essential services available by giving your financial support. The members of the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company are ready and willing to serve the

Gov. duPont Tours WB Basics School

Governor Pete du Pont made a building tour of the Woodbridge Basics Plus School at Bridgeville last Thursday. "I am very much impressed in what I saw here today. It certainly is a change from what we know as the traditional school. We have seen the Basics Plus work in New Castle County and elsewhere in the country. So we knew it will work." The governor was asked if he would consider including in his upcoming budget enough money to carry the program like Basics Plus from the 7th through the 12 grades. The governor said he would consider it in his budget if the Woodbridge School Board and Administrators would do the following: 1) come up with a plan which would take into consideration busing, 2) a plan for building conversion, and 3) designation of implementation of teachers. "A tour of the premises

Lake Forest Teachers Make Contract Issues Public

The Lake Forest Education Association took its case to the public last Wednesday night as a group of about a hundred concerned parents and teachers gathered in the Harrington Fire Hall to hear association representatives explain their position in stated contract talks with the Lake Forest School Board. Presentations by LFEA representatives were followed by a question and answer session that was still going on when the meeting concluded at 8:30.

LFEA President Ed Gabrielson opened the meeting with an explanation of what brought the teachers and the board to impasse in their negotiations and why the association chose that route.

Gabrielson said the situation was a serious labor dispute, but pointed out that the Lake Forest Schools are continuing in normal operation. The impasse procedure, he said, does not disrupt the system. That is why the teachers chose this way to resolve their difficulties. The Boards' refusal to negotiate in three areas of concern to the teachers, he insisted, brought the situation to a standstill. He declared, "We (the LFEA) declared impasse, but they (the LF Board) caused impasse."

Gabrielson, in reply to a statement by school board President James Gussett in last week's Journal claiming that Lake Forest teachers are pawns in a statewide scheme of the Delaware State Education Association to get certain legislation passed by the state, said "The only thing I'm concerned about is Lake Forest."

He also pointed to 52 hours spent in negotiations prior to the declaration of impasse and said the LSEA had requested even more time, asking the board to meet with them twice a week during summer months, but had been refused. Gabrielson reiterated the position that Lake Forest teachers will return to the bargaining table if they are presented a new or updated proposal in writing. Referring to a Board claim that it has a second salary offer that it has been unable to present to the teachers' associations wondered why it was so difficult for the Board to find him (Gabrielson is a teacher in the school district).

(In response to the association's request for a proposal in writing to be presented before it returns to negotiations sessions James Gussett has said the Board will not negotiate by mail.)

The Lake Forest Board of Education earlier in the week had reluctantly agreed to go to mediation with a three member team. Both Gabrielson and Peggy Coyle (spokesperson for the LFEA negotiating team and a district teacher) said they failed to understand why the use of a mediator was such a "bitter pill for the board to swallow."

The LFEA representatives elaborated on a number of points in the contract bargaining the teachers feel are vital.

A big issue, they said, is the inclusion of the RIF-recall procedure in the contract. RIF stands for Reduction in Force and refers to laying off teachers when declining enrollments necessitate a reduction in the size of the staff. The procedure is designed to determine in an orderly and fair manner who is to be laid off and if enrollment justifies, who is to be recalled. The board has a RIF

Negotiations Issues- LF Board & LFEA

Issues in the contract talks between the school board and Lake Forest teachers have been bandied in both private and public discussion. In an attempt to identify some of those issues and the positions taken by the Board of Education and the Lake Forest Education Association the Journal offers the following information. It is based on public statements issued by both sides, on a "negotiations facts" sheet put out by the school board, and on a point-by-point discussion of that sheet with Peggy Coyle, spokesperson for the LFEA negotiating team.

Negotiations Positions:

Teacher Rights - There is a disagreement over the way in which conferences between teachers and their superiors whether principals or other administrators are arranged. This would also affect the arrangement of conferences between parents, teachers and administrators.

LF Board - The board says this article in the proposed contract would severely restrict the prerogatives of the Board and Administration in arranging such conferences.

LFEA - The teacher's group says that it is simply asking that teachers be given prior notice and be told what the conference is about.

Negotiable Items:

L.F. Board - The board's position is that three areas mentioned in state law are the only ones negotiable. These are salaries, employee benefits and working conditions. According to the board, "Working conditions as defined in the law refers to physical conditions of facilities."

LFEA teachers maintain that state law does not limit bargaining areas to the three mentioned above. They also hold that there are other things such as the length of the working day and the layoff policy, which affect working conditions as much as physical facilities.

Employees for Which the LSEA is the Bargaining Unit:

LF Board - The board has suggested the term teaching staff be used to identify those employees which the LFEA will represent. It has maintained that because the availability of certain specialists such as psychologist and speech and hearing specialist is dependent on salaries, it should retain the prerogative of setting their salary at whatever level is necessary to attract good candidates. It has recently agreed to have positions included in the contract with the LFEA with those with whom the Board has already made separate arrangements grandfathered.

LFEA - The union has asked that the term professional staff be used to define those for whom it has bargaining rights. (The term excludes administrators, secretaries, clerical workers, custodial staff and aides.) They object to any private arrangements between the board and administration and professional staff members that amounts to those persons receiving any extra local supplement beyond what is in the contract and apart from those extra duty assignments agreed upon. They feel that if it is necessary for such persons to be paid over and above the local supplement, that should be negotiated and detailed in the same way as extra pay for coaches, heads of

LF Board Hears Statements

A number of parents and teachers were present at Monday night's regular meeting of the Lake Forest School Board to hear a petition offered by some area parents, a statement by Lake Forest Education Association President Ed Gabrielson and a statement by board member Rick Feutz.

A group of men from the Harrington Moose Lodge came to the aid of 19-year-old Robert Voss of Harrington this week. Voss, who was injured in an automobile accident this past year is confined to a wheelchair. As a civic project, the Moose lodge donated the materials for a ramp to give Voss access to and from his home. Several men gave of their skill and energy Sunday morning to build the ramp. The workers were Kenny Paul Outten, Paul Pettit, Bill Welch, Bill Harvey, Jr., Keith Pettit and Harry Spicer.

Last Friday night was Billy Scott night at the Lake Forest stadium [see story on page 10].

-the Lindale House-
[Note-When the Journal previously published Mrs. Jefferson's account of the Lindale House in Magnolia, part of the information was inadvertently left out. The complete story follows.]

The map of Magnolia recorded 11 February 1890 shows no identification for the Lindale House now listed on the National Register of Historic Places. This house, built by John B. Lindale soon after his marriage in 1886, is one of the better preserved examples of high Victorian architecture in the State. It is a two story framed house with attic, almost square in plan, with a stair hall, parlor, living room, dining room and kitchen on the first floor; and bedroom and a bathroom (original) on the second.

The living room and dining room are located at the end of the stairhall and behind the parlor, there being no access to the dining room except through the parlor or the living room. The rooms are unusual in that they all contain bay windows. The mouldings are all fairly simple and rather large in scale, those around the doors being most interesting, with bullseye corner blocks. The doors themselves are ornate, with pine cones carved in a decorative pattern. As was the fashion, either large sliding doors or heavy curtains separate room from room within the house, and many of the windows, especially those in the parlor, have louvered shutters both inside and outside the house.

The exterior of the house is sheathed in a combination of cypress clapboards and shingles, with a grey slate roof. A large verandah runs entirely around the front and both sides of the house, with Roman Doric Columns supporting it, and with entrances to the main stairhall, the living room and the dining room located on it. Though roughly in the shape of a square, the house is totally asymmetrical, because of the various projections. The three most prominent projections are the two-story bay windows. Half the entire facade of the house is taken up by a large semi-circular projection, and each side of the house features turret towers. In addition to these, there are numerous other projections and irregularities that combine to give the whole an asymmetrical, though entirely pleasant appearance. A rooftop viewing platform, surrounded by a low railing, serves to complete the design.

In addition to the house, most of the original buildings and plantings remain on the property giving it much the same appearance as when first built.

John B. Lindale was born 5 December 1864 in South Murderkill Hundred where he made his fortune. He was the last and one of the richest of all the men who engaged in the peach industry. The house he built for himself is a significant example of the Queen Anne Revival style. The popular success of Queen Anne Revival architecture in America dates from the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition of 1876, at which, the British government put up two half-timbered buildings to provide living quarters and offices for the British Executive Commissioner and his staff. The American Builder wrote of the style after having seen the examples at the exposition that: "...the chief thing that will strike the observant eye in this style is its wonderful adaptability to this country, not to the towns indeed, but to the land at large...It is to be hoped that the next millionaire who puts up a cottage at Long Branch will adopt this style, and he will have a house ample enough to entertain a Prince, yet exceedingly cozy, cool in summer, and yet abundantly warm in winter, plain enough, and yet capable of the highest ornamental development." Apparently Lindale agreed, and when it came time to build, chose the style for himself, employing Charles G. Fisher of Milford as the architect. What makes the house all the more interesting, however, is its excellent state of preservation, including the original fence around the property, planting urns in the yard, small flower gardens and every outbuilding as originally built.

Thus the house is important as one of the visual monuments to the last and greatest flowering of the peach industry in Delaware, as an example of one of the best of the Victorian styles, and as an example of the high quality of design attainable by a 19th century Delawarean architect. and recall policy based on seniority and certification that the teachers think is good. But they would like it to be a part of their contract.

The Lake Forest Board, which would like to have the option of changing the policy on short notice, has refused to negotiate in this area.

Teachers want the security of knowing that the procedure is in place for the duration of their contract and that the rules cannot be changed in the middle of the game. A parent present at Wednesday's meeting commented that the district should have enough respect for its teachers to give them "assurance that they're not going to be kicked out because of someone's whim."

Salaries, an issue on which board and the teachers have not really gotten down to brass tacks were also mentioned. LFEA representatives passed out comparison sheets showing the local salary supplement paid to teachers in this district to be the lowest of any of the surrounding districts including Woodbridge, Milford, Caesar Rodney, Capital, Seaford, Indian River, Laurel and Cape Henlopen.

Local teachers said they have not had a permanent local salary increase since 1975 and that they, in fact, negotiated their last contract without a permanent salary increase, but with the promise that they would be given a part of any extra Division III (equalization) monies received from the state. They have gotten a $205 per year increase, but they said that was given as a bonus which can be withdrawn rather than as a permanent addition to their salaries. Don Garey, former school board member, offered the comment that since the local supplement makes up such a small portion of salaries about 8% in this district, "teachers should look to the state legislature for more support of education."

Other issues touched upon were teachers' request for representation at every level of the grievance procedure and the possibility of hourly compensation for duties regularly required of teachers beyond the school day.

The crowd in attendance seemed largely supportive of teachers and LFEA representatives urged them to call their board members and to attend board meetings.

There were no current board members in attendance.

Ag Museum Festival

The Delaware Agricultural Museum's second annual Fall Harvest Festival will be held at the museum site in Dover Saturday, October 24. The event, which includes a full day of harvest-related activities, gets underway at 10 a.m. It will include such unusual activities as grain threshing with a turn-of-the-century threshing machine powered by a steam engine, a corn husking bee, apple butter and cider making, and a display of harvesting tools and machinery ranging from a hand-powered grain flail and one of the very early horse-drawn reapers to one of the forerunners of today's modern grain combines.

Traditional food will be sold on the museum grounds with special emphasis on items typical of harvesttime fare of an early American agricultural period. The Fall Harvest Festival will be held rain or shine. Admission will be $3 for adults, $2 for children 10 through 16 and senior citizens. Children under 10 will be admitted free. Parking will be available free on the museum grounds.

The Delaware Agricultural Museum is located just south of the Delaware State College campus on U.S. 13 in Dover. The museum is a private non-profit educational foundation. The festival is being made possible in part by a grant from the DuPont Company.

Girl Scouts Meet Harrington Farrier

by Ruth Hughes

The sign on Austin G. Turcotte's blacksmith shop at the Harrington Race Track read, "Fourth Generation of Smith, Farrier and Surgeon Forge". Terry Turcotte, who shares the shop with his father, is the fourth generation of smith and farrier, and he is proud of a family tradition that traces its history back to the earliest establishment of the forge in an age of iron and blood.

On this beautiful October morning Austin himself appeared for a special occasion. With a welcoming smile, he stepped forward to meet the Girl Scouts of Troop 850 of the W.T. Simpson School. The Scouts were guided by Mr. Gary Simpson, Assistant Manager of the Harrington Race Track, and their Troop Leader, Mrs. Brenda Hiott. They had come to learn the preliminaries of the ancient and traditional art of the farrier.

Austin did not disappoint them. He likened his shop to the Village Blacksmith of old, a symbol of a unified, free enterprise industry. "The only monument left in the world," said Mr. Turcotte, "is the blacksmith shop that represents the scientific knowledge of veterinarian practices and the intimate knowledge of the horse's structure and hoofs."

The admiring group of would-be riders and future horse owners then watched as Mr. Frank Quillen, owner and trainer, brought his two year old gelding into the shop. Mr. Quillen told them that the horse's name was T. Clipper, a future trotting champion of the Quillen stables. T. Clipper was to be shod for the first time.

Very few young two year olds could have withstood the atmosphere of a large group in the shop. T. Clipper's patience was something that would indicate the essence of his training and the essence of the breed.

They watched as Mr. Turcotte trimmed the first hoof, a partial surgery and balancing of the horse. Mr. Simpson assured the 5th and 6th graders that the trimming of the hoof did not pain the horse.

Mr. Turcotte entertained the audience as he worked, "Horses that are well trained have the instinct to adjust to people who love them," he said, "but if a horse associates pain with fear, he is not able to adjust in the proper manner to the requirements placed on him by owners, trainers and drivers. Each horse is an original and must be so treated."

Board Hears Statements, Gets Petition

Mrs. Draper and bearing some seventy signatures asked the board to get down to business in negotiating a contract with the teachers. Mrs. Draper also requested the board or the district to make public the annual report stating the finances and other matters concerning Lake Forest Schools. Superintendent Dr. Edward Powell said the report - a 40 or 50 page affair would be complete in about a week and would be available to anyone who asked for it.

Gabrielson made formal the LFEA's request that the board make available in written form any new, serious proposal it has in the contract bargaining situation.

Rick Feutz spoke to clarify what he said were misconceptions fostered by press reports of the impasse negotiations with the teachers and the issue involved.

Feutz detailed three such misconceptions, the first of which was that teachers have been working without a formal contract. He pointed out that the board has extended the old contract with all benefits as the negotiation situation continues.

Feutz further said that the notion that teachers have had no local pay raise since 1975 is false and pointed to a $205 across-the-board increase which is in the local salary supplement. (Teachers have contended the money was given as a bonus with no obligation on the part of the board to continue it as a part of their contract.)

The third misconception Feutz mentioned was the idea that district teachers are not protected from layoffs. He quoted Delaware law giving the board authority to make policy decisions and pointed to the current layoff policy (which has the approval of board and teachers). He said the teachers have adequate protection from arbitrary layoffs in that policy decisions have to be made publicly and by a certain process. He also pointed out the protection teachers have under state law which covers tenure and firing. Lake Forest teachers want the policy made a part of their contract.

In other business the Lake Forest Board of Education

hired Brad Jacobson (Chipman, special ed), Evalyn Hickman (psychologist, interim basis pending a permanent replacement for the former psychometrist), Hattie McCann (temporary substitute for Mrs. Ruth Hughes), Claude Warnick (half time custodian at Lake Forest East) and Judy Malkiewitz psychometrist.

following student hearings expelled one student for the remainder of the year and placed another on probation. hired the following coaches for winter sports:

Felton-Sandtown

By Lola O'Day 284-9175

CONGRATULATIONS

Extending best wishes to the parents, Bill and Nancy Stubbs of Felton, as their daughter Gwenn Stubbs was chosen as "Little Miss Delaware" in a pageant held in Dover, Del., Sunday, Oct. 18, 1981. Little Miss Delaware will compete next summer for the Title of Little Miss America. Gwenn attends kindergarten at Lake Forest Elementary School in Felton, Del. "Congratulations" Gwenn and stay as nice as you are. Love from all your friends.

Julie Ward, Virginia Witomski and Lola O'Day enjoyed a shopping spree at the Christiana Mall on Monday, Oct. 12, 1981.

Mrs. Sue Faulkner of Felton and Miss Kathy Hampton of Milford spent a day of shopping Friday in Philadelphia, Christiana Mall and Concord Mall in Wilmington, De.

ANNIVERSARIES

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chambers and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Stumpf and family had as guest Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Weldin Stumpf of Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Kates of Felton have returned from a vacation in Reidsville, N.C. spending a very enjoyable time with their niece, Jan Hackett and children Kimberly and Scott.

Scott Stumpf had as a weekend guest Billy Joe England of Houston, De. Good weather really was a boost for the Felton's Firearms Annual Supper. It appeared to be a huge success.

The Harrington New Century Club held a covered dish luncheon on October 13. This was the first meeting of the year. The clubhouse was beautifully decorated with yellow criss-anthemums by decorating chairman, Mrs. Vincent Lobo and hospitality chairman, Mrs. Frances Winkler. Greetings to members and guests were extended by Mrs. Joseph Brinster, Club President. Mrs. Carroll Welch, Sr. gave the invocation. Mrs. Oscar Dickerson had as her guests Mrs. Trudy Ruehrmund, Mrs. Jackie Laguardia Gaston and Mrs. Karen Bour-ey. These three ladies entertained the club members with three selections from Fiddler on the Roof. The songs they sang were the Sabbath Prayer, Matchmaker and Sunrise Sunset. All members enjoyed this performance and several are looking forward to seeing these ladies again in Fiddler on the roof.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Skinner spent last weekend visiting with the Rev. and Mrs. Carl Skinner and family in Manassas, Virginia.

Happy Birthday wishes go out to Larry Drummond!

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Melvin and daughter, Heather were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anthony.

Revival Services have been going on at Hickory Ridge Congregational Methodist Church for the past week with the Rev. Edward Anthony conducting the services. Special music was furnished by various groups.

The Greenwood Lioness Club held their monthly meeting for October at the home of Mrs. Jack Scott. They were honored to have the District Liaison for the Lioness Clubs present with his wife, Mr. & Mrs. Henry Heller of Dover.

Mr. & Mrs. Graydon Hurse of Wilmington were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. & Mrs. Allison Davis.

Todd's United Methodist Church will hold its covered dish supper and auction on October 24 at 6:30 p.m. Bring your place settings with you.

The Rev. William A. Davis of Tennessee visited his parents, Mr. & Mrs. Allison Davis on a recent weekend. The family members gathered on Sunday for a fellowship dinner. They were joined by Mr. Ed. Butler of Seaford.

The Greenwood Lions held their bi-monthly meeting on Wednesday evening. Plans are going forward for the 25th anniversary dinner to be held on November 7 at the school cafeteria.

A large crowd at Greenwood United Methodist Church enjoyed the Billy Graham film, "No Longer Alone" on Sunday evening.

The Goodwill United School Class of the Greenwood United Methodist Church are now taking orders for apple, pumpkin or lemon pies at $5.00 each to be baked and delivered on October 31, 1981. Call Janet Durig with your order. The number is 349-4646.

On October 25 at 7 p.m. in the Greenwood Church, the pastor, the Rev. Paul H. Wragg will begin a Bible Study on Romans. Everybody welcome.

Gabfest

By Pat Hatfield 349-4255

October is the month for poets and for those who make all things poetical when they speak of nature. Many of my friends admire the southern writer, Thomas Wolfe. I enjoyed a visit to his home in Asheville, North Carolina when I was there many years ago. It was Wolfe who one day turned to a friend and said reverently, "My God, I would rather be a poet than anything else on earth!"

He, too, was caught up in the magic spell of October. He says: "October is the richest of the seasons. The fields are cut, the granaries are full, the bins are loaded to the brim with fatness, and from the cider press the rich brown ooings of the York Imperials run. The bee bores to the belly of the yellow grape. The fly gets old and fat and blue; he buzzes loud, crawls slow, creeps heavily to death on sill and ceiling. The sun goes down in blood and pollen across the bronzed and mown fields of old October."

What a lovely picture. Are you all enjoying the fantastic sunsets in all their glory? And how about the Harvest Moon, so big and round and golden...as our young poet from Bridgewater says: "He is night watchman over all the Universe."

I searched for other poems about October to share with you. No author's name is given to the following one, but it is pretty. "The eager frost through all the night, The ash and walnut leaves did bite. Today, the sun across the dell, Shone on them warmly and they fell. Each leaf, the scarlet and the yellow, Lay quietly beside his fellow." The editors of the Old Farmer's Almanac evidently loved poetry, too, because at the top of each month they always print one. Here's another of their quotations by Ouseley: "The flowers are all fading. Their sweets are rifled now, and night winds forth her shading, along the mountain brow."

And here's another: "Pumpkins, turkeys, hillsides glowing with color, Three weeks out of four completely solar, Harvest and Hunter's Moon visit this sky. Forest rangers shudder, the woods are too dry."

The 1970 Almanac gives us this one by a Mrs. Stowe. I assume this was the famous Harriet Beecher Stowe who wrote the novel, "Uncle Tom's Cabin". "How quiet through the hazy autumn air, The elm-boughs wave with many a gold-flecked leaf! How calmly float the dreamy-mantled clouds, Through these still days of autumn, fair and brief."

Our last one for this week does not give us an author, but he must have lived in a colder climate than Delaware. He writes: "The tawny foliage, strewn around, Is silvered o'er with sleet, Profusely carpeting the ground, And rustles to my feet."

I love them all, but here's my favorite: Helen Hunt Jackson's, "O suns and skies and clouds of June, And flowers of June together, Ye cannot rival for one hour...October's bright blue weather."

As you probably know, there are seven more verses that fairly sing with beauty.

Houston

By Margaret Thistlewood 422-4944

Mrs. Virginia Rockwell has returned home after sightseeing in Lake Placid, New York and the New England States. She visited museums along the way and enjoyed the beautiful fall foliage and scenery. She also visited in Burlington, Vermont.

Guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Kane were his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Kane of Vero Beach, Florida.

Mrs. Edith Pringle and granddaughter Megan Dougherty and Miss Pat Jones spent last week visiting relatives and friends in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sapp have returned home after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Yoder of Talbert Kentucky and Mr. and Mrs. Timothy White and family of Bluffield, Va. Also Mrs. Mattie Purcell of Luray, Virginia.

Mrs. Annabelle Brown has a new granddaughter born on Thursday Oct. 15th to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kornfield of Wayne, Pa. She has been named Rachael Elizabeth and weighed 7 lbs. 11 oz. Congratulations.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Helen Prettyman in the recent death of her brother Mr. Garret Clifton of Wilming-

Scouts Visit Farrier

"It is the farrier's nature to be able to adjust to each and every horse," he continued. "When a horse comes into the shop, the horse is never to blame, because the farrier is a custodian and the shop is a sanctuary - if the shop is a legitimate and standard ancestral shop. The only insurance of owners and horsemen is that the ancestral farrier's shop is, as it always has been, a standard institution where there is compatibility between man and horse. The art itself has not been lost, only the artists are fewer."

T. Clipper pawed the ground ceaselessly, feeling the strangeness of his trimmed hoof. Austin selected the traditional metal and marked it. The shoe was measured to the conformation of the hoof, heated on the forge and hammered in the age-old process of forging.

As the audience watched intently, Austin told them that when a horse comes down on his hoof, it is with a twenty-five pound blow hitting the ground with the force of a hammer and that the entire foot must be the foundation of the horse and must be treated as such. "We do not add any unnecessary material that would be to substitute for the foot," said Austin, "for in doing so, the horse would be deprived of functioning naturally."

Austin took the hot shoe for a fitting and finished the heel, then put the shoe into the slack tub.

"If a wild horse hurt a hoof and it became infected," Austin told them, "the horse instinctively knew how to take care of the pain in the foot. It would stand in a cold stream or river until the foot expanded. Then it would go about grazing and break the crust of the foot, allowing the infection to

Spartan Band Starts March to New Uniforms

Lake Forest band members like Lori Ann Wyatt are packed up and on the go - with the Tom-Wat Show Case, the latest in the band's fund raising efforts this year. The kits contain a variety of small items ideal for stocking stuffers or last minute gifts. The band and the band organizations are often off on a long road that, hopefully, has new uniforms for the marching Spartans at its end.

HEART HEALTH

The human heart need to do some hard work each day - at least during youth and the prime of life - to keep it strong and healthy. We must huff and puff occasionally for good health. However, don't risk heavy exercise if not used to it, without a doctor's examination. Avoid labor saving devices - walk instead of ride - climb stairs - get regular exercise. Your heart and health will be better for it.

Offers The New "All Savers Tax Exempt Certificate Of Deposit."

Effective October 5th
12.14% Annual Investment Yield
(TAX FREE)
 on the All New Savers' Certificates

HERE ARE THE FACTS:

What is the purpose of the All Savers Certificate?

The All Savers Certificate has been created by Congress as an incentive to save. All the interest on this certificate within prescribed limits -- is tax-excluded from your Federal Income Tax. Also, the All Savers Act was enacted to help housing. It requires that the major portion of the new savings created by this certificate be used for residential and agricultural financing.

How much interest do I earn tax-free?

As the Law now reads, this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to earn as much as $2,000 in tax-free interest if you file jointly ($1,000 for single returns). Any interest earned in excess of these sums is taxable.

What is the smallest sum I may deposit?

You may deposit as little as $500. Regulations permit you to deposit any larger amount you wish. Discuss with us the maximum deposit that will still be completely free of Federal taxes.

May I add to my certificate?

No, you are not allowed to add to any existing certificate. Each certificate is issued for one year. You may, however, purchase additional certificates in any sum of $500 or more.

What will my interest rate be?

Your certificate will have an interest rate equal to 70% of the average investment yield on 52-week Treasury Bills as of the most recent auction date. Thus, when the 52-week treasury rate is 15% your interest rate is 10.5% tax-free! The interest rate changes monthly, so check with us for the current rate.

Is my interest rate guaranteed?

Yes, the rate in effect when you open your All Savers Certificate remains in effect for one year. You know exactly how much income you will receive. Your interest rate will not fluctuate.

How does the All Savers Certificate help me?

It means you, too, can now earn tax-free interest. This privilege, previously available only to those in a high tax bracket, is now offered to anyone who can set aside $500 or more for one year. What is best, the new savings method reduces your taxes where it counts the most--at the top bracket of your income.

I have already earned enough interest to qualify for the $400 joint ($200 single) exclusion from my Federal income tax for 1981. May I also exclude any interest I receive in 1981 from an All Savers Certificate?

Certainly. The only restriction in the All Savers Act is that interest received from your All Savers Certificate in 1981 cannot also be deducted under the general interest exclusion of the earlier law.

Will the All Savers Certificate help me if I own 6-Month Certificates?

More than likely, but it will depend on your income bracket and the current rates for both types of certificates.

If you are in one of the higher tax brackets, you will usually get a much better net yield from an All Savers Certificate, but only up to the maximum interest limitation of $2,000.

If your income falls into one of the lower brackets, you may be better off staying with 6-month certificates. The chart below provides a useful guide in helping you to a decision. Please come in to talk with us, and get all the facts. (It will be important to first look up the net taxable income you reported on last year's Federal income tax form.)

Will the All Savers Certificate help me if I own Money Market Mutual Fund Shares?

Again, more than likely. But, as in the previous comparison, it is necessary to check current rates for both forms of investment. After learning these rates, the decision will hinge on your top tax bracket. The higher your bracket, the more advantageous is the All Savers Certificate.

May I collect interest prior to maturity without penalty?

Yes. Interest received prior to maturity is not a premature distribution. You'll receive a #1099 form annually reporting your tax-free interest for the preceding year.

Is there a penalty for early withdrawal?

Yes. If any portion of a certificate is redeemed, disposed of or used as collateral or security for a loan before maturity, the interest earned on that certificate is not tax-exempt. Also, the penalty for early withdrawal on a one-year certificate is loss of 3 months interest on the amount withdrawn.

Is my certificate insured?

Yes. Ask for specific insurance information.

THIS COMPARISON CHART SHOWS TAXABLE INTEREST YIELD REQUIRED TO MATCH THE ALL SAVERS CERTIFICATE TAX-FREE RATES.

Governor duPont Visits School

for this purpose would not be necessary...we need a plan...and a realistic amount for the budget. If you are thinking $200,000...then just forget it, but if you have $25,000 in mind...then I want to see your plan," said the governor.

Following the tour the governor termed the school the best elementary school in Delaware. The governor, obviously knowledgeable on the subject, talked at great length to the school administrators and press about "...this is better education for our young people...because they can absorb the material, for the atmosphere is conducive to concentration and study. We will see higher test grades overall at the end of the year. Also...you get parents involved. It's nothing for 300 people to show up for meetings and get involved. It's the best form of education," said the popular two-term governor.

Governor Speaks on Unemployment

Last Thursday Governor du Pont toured the Lake Forest High School facility and the Woodbridge Basics Plus School in Bridgeville. At Bridgeville he was exposed to the pilot program called Basics Plus where he stated "...this is the best elementary school in the State...and this is the best form of education for our young people.

While on tour he was asked what he was doing to correct unemployment which is very high in Sussex County. "Unemployment is very high throughout the county, and certainly too high in our state. It is my top priority. My plan is to bring in more financial institutions, for I feel this is a step in the right direction to lowering the unemployment factor. They will bring more jobs to our area—and this is my aim. We are also hopeful that the DuPont Company will locate another plant in lower Kent County some day, which will also be very helpful."

right on Walnut Street and then left on Main Street. Marchers will make a left from Main onto Nile and then a right onto Jefferson Street where the parade will break up behind the Lake Forest North Elementary School.

The afternoon activities will feature the Spartans vs. Indian River in a crucial South Henlopen Conference Contest. At halftime, the Lake Forest Spartan Marching Band and the W.T. Chipman Junior Band will entertain in a show that is to be climaxed by the crowning of the Homecoming Queen.

After the game, Lake Forest Seniors will be serving lobster at a fund raising dinner.

Saturday evening will cap the festivities with the traditional Homecoming Dance at the high school. This year's theme is "Endless Love". Tickets are $5.00 for couples and $3.00 for singles.

-Issues-

departments, etc. Conducting Association Business During School Hours.

LF Board - "The Board's position is that all of the teacher's time, with the exception of the lunch period is paid for by the State and the District for educational purposes and therefore should not be used for LFEA business."

LFEA - The teachers' group maintains that certain designated representatives should have the right to use their "free" or "planning" period to conduct association business even if it means leaving the building in which they are teaching so long as it does not infringe upon their own or another's teaching time or with the fulfillment of their duties.

Teacher Evaluation: LF Board - The Board says that teacher evaluations should be used to determine teacher competence.

LFEA - The teachers' association says that the purpose of teacher evaluations should primarily be improvement of teacher performance. They claim the board and administration have three years to determine the competence of a teacher before granting tenure and that tenure should not be granted to a teacher who is incompetent. Once tenure is granted, they point out, there are seven reasons defined by state law for which a teacher can be fired.

Grievance Procedure: LF Board - The Board says its position, in accordance with state law, prohibits binding arbitration as a part of a contract agreement. It also maintains that individuals should have the right to decide whether an association representative should be present at his grievance hearing at any level.

LFEA - The teachers group denies that the term "binding arbitration" appears anywhere in its proposals and says that what it is talking about is advisory arbitration and the right of teachers to have representation at all levels of the grievance procedure. They do not think the board, as their employer, is capable of being an impartial judge. The association further says that it is not asking that a teacher who does not so choose, have representation. But because any decision in a grievance procedure may set precedent that affects other teachers, they would like to be informed either by having a designated person sit in on the hearing or in some other way. In a recent flyer distributed to the public the LFEA says "An organization chosen as the exclusive agent for a group of employees in negotiating a contract must then be able to enforce the contract through the grievance procedure. The right to speak for all employees in the bargaining unit carries with it the corresponding duty to protect them as well."

Teachers Assignment - Under state law the years teachers serve in federally funded positions are not to count toward tenure (an example would be a reading specialist hired under Title I funds). This ruling was recently challenged in a nearby district and the ensuing legal action was to have been a court test of the law. However, the particular case was resolved out of court when the teacher in question was reassigned and granted tenure.

LF Board - The board maintains that the teachers are asking that the district continue to employ persons in federally-funded positions even after the federal money disappears regardless of the availability of funds or the existence of a state funded vacancy in a position in which they are certified to teach.

LFEA - The teachers' association says it is not asking that a person continue to be employed regardless of whether funding is available. They do ask that the years an individual spends in teaching in a federally funded position count in the same way toward tenure and seniority as those spent in state funded positions. In that way a teacher with five years of experience would be credited with five years of experience regardless of whether those years were paid by federal or state governments.

Compliance with PL 142 - This is a federal law that requires all handicapped persons be given an opportunity to participate in public education. Its requirements frequently mean teachers and other professional staff have to spend hours beyond the normal school day for such things as parent-school conferences that cannot be scheduled during the day.

LF Board - The board says that because of the complexity of the requirements, it is still studying this matter.

LFEA - The teachers group is asking that teachers be compensated at an hourly rate for extra hours they are regularly required to spend beyond the school day. They compare this to overtime a person might receive in another job.

Reduction In Force-(RIF) This refers to the manner in which teachers are laid off when declining enrollment makes it necessary to hire fewer teachers. The board has a policy based on both seniority and certification (the teacher's years of experience and the areas in which he is qualified to teach) which both it and the teacher's approve. The issue is whether the policy shall be a part of the teachers contract.

LF Board - The Lake Forest Board does not want to negotiate this as part of the contract. It feels that the authority vested in it by the state dictates that it keep the "prerogative of changing this on short notice if necessary." It also feels the teachers have adequate protection from arbitrary layoffs by the mechanics for changing policy which include getting staff input and the requirement of having public readings before a change is effective. The teachers, they say, have strong employment protection under state laws concerning tenure and protection against arbitrary firing.

LFEA - The teachers agree the policy is good. But they want the security of having it made a part of their contract so that it cannot be changed without the consent of both parties for the duration of the agreement. They feel this is the way to "guarantee a fair, non-discriminatory procedure" to determine which individuals lose their jobs when layoffs are necessary. The LFEA has branded this as "one of the most important issues facing public school teachers."

Length of the Contract - The school board wants the new contract to be effective for three years, the LFEA says two.

Teaching Hours and Load - This concerns the definition of the school day, the extra duties asked of teachers and whether or not they should be compensated at an hourly rate for duties required beyond the school day.

LF Board - Members of the school board have indicated that hourly compensation duties beyond the school day could severely restrict such things as the scheduling of parent-school conferences and the holding of open house. It has said it will not negotiate in this area.

LFEA - Teachers say the length of the working day and the duties expected of them beyond that day vitally affect their working conditions. They assert their right as employees to know what is expected of them in terms of the length of the workday, the extra duties required and the compensation they can expect to receive. They consider this a negotiable item. They say hourly compensation for extra duty does not imply that a teacher will ask to be paid for every extra hour he or she voluntarily spends after school, but that there should be some compensation for those who are regularly required to do so. (An example would be those who have to stay for parent-school conferences required to meet federal or state regulations.)

Salaries: Both sides have presented initial proposals that are still far apart because this issue has not been discussed at the bargaining table. Exact percentages and figures have not been available. What is at issue is the local supplement to the teachers' state paid salaries.

LF Board - The board points out that the teachers contract with all benefits has remained in force by successive extensions since the July expiration date. It points out that teachers received an across-the-board increase of $95 per year in 1979 and another of $110 in 1980, making for a total of $205 which has been continued in the current year's local supplement salary schedule.

LFEA - The teachers say the $205 was granted by the board in the form of a bonus and was not made a permanent part of their salary. Therefore, it could be withdrawn. On that basis they say they have not received a local salary supplement since 1975. Even with the $205 they say Lake Forest is the lowest paid of some eight or nine surrounding districts. The association is asking for increases to make the local district comparable with others in the area. Teachers are also asking the step schedule in the local salary supplement be increased from 15 to 25. At present teachers with 25 years of experience receive no more at the local level than those with 15.

Magnolia Heritage Day

Magnolia History Sketch

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

A 2000 acre tract purchased from William Penn is the location of the present villages of "Barker's Landing" and Magnolia. Thomas Barker later purchased the land prior to 1800. He built a warehouse there and called it Red Granary. This tract was nearly 600 acres and extended nearly to Magnolia. Thomas Collins, Esq. president of Delaware State devised 439 acres to his daughter Mary, wife of Joseph Barker. It was sold by the sheriff Sept. 20, 1819 and bought by Joseph Barker, who later sold it to William Heverin who kept it for many years. It is now cut up into four tracts.

On one of these tracts, about one mile east of Magnolia on the north side of the road is located a cemetery. It is enclosed by a brick wall 3 feet high and covered with a gable roof of cypress shingles. The enclosure is 16 by 10 feet and contains three graves covered with heavy marble slabs. Mary Collins Barker is buried there.

The village of Magnolia is located on a tract of land part of Caroon Manor and was owned by Boaz Manlove, later by John Marim, then to Rev. James Bateman, his son-in-law, and Hannah Marim in 1818. They sold 110 acres adjoining Lombardy Grove to James Millichop. The tract was long known as Millichop's woods--the present site of Magnolia. Magnolia was not in existence prior to 1845. The only building there at that time was the Matthew Lowber house built in 1774.

In 1845, the McIlvain's came from Sussex County and built on this land. In 1847, there were five dwellings, one storehouse and one building used as an Odd Fellows Hall and for public school purposes. Over the next 18 years very little happened. Then in 1855 the Methodist Episcopal Church was begun, finished and dedicated, and the following year.

The town has a founding date of April 3, 1885, and by that time, the village numbered 47 houses, two churches, two general stores, one military establishment, two wheelwrights, two blacksmiths, one fruit evaporator, one lumberyard and one well-built schoolhouse built in 1883. It is 30x50--2 stories high. The M.E. Church was founded by Rev. Durbin in 1855 and dedicated Nov. 30, 1856.

SPORTS

Who's after who? Spartans Brian Hudson [87], Charles Hudson [72] and Rodney Abrams mix it up with the Delmar Wildcats.

Spartans Crush Wildcats

What's 21-95-78? No, those are not the vital statistics of an Easter egg for the Jolly Green Giant. They are the lengths of three touchdown runs contributed by senior Billy Scott to Lake Forest's 41-6 win over Delaware in the Spartans' stadium Friday night. Scott accumulated 238 yards on offense.

Lake Forest invaded the Wildcats end zone six times scoring in every quarter of the game. Dale Benson, LaMont Robinson on a TD pass from Brian Gladden and James Browne were also responsible for Spartan touchdowns. And quarterback Brian Gladden kicked an almost perfect game, not missing the uprights until the final quarter when a penalty nullified his initial kick following James Browne's touchdown, and the play had to be run again.

The first quarter began with the Spartans kicking off as the Wildcats elected to receive. But Lake Forest quickly denied Delmar the first down. When the Spartans took over the ball, Billy Scott nailed the first down in the very first play. In the next series of plays Dale Benson put Lake Forest on the scoreboard with a 26 yard run with 8:14 still to go in the quarter. Brian Gladden kicked the extra point to make the score 7-0.

Less than three minutes later LaMont Robinson and Brian Gladden made it 14 zip with a 42 yard pass connection plus the extra point.

In the second quarter the Spartans lit the scoreboard again as Billy Scott zigzagged 21 yards down the sideline to cross the goalline and Gladden again executed a perfect kick to make it 21-0.

Again, it was less than three minutes before the Spartans scored. This time a Wildcat punt and a penalty found Lake Forest on its own five yard line, not exactly the most comfortable spot to start a drive. But then someone turned Billy Scott loose. The agile senior raced for 95 yards with the whole field trailing. Brian Gladden capped the six pointer with the extra point to bring the total to 28-0 with 6:45 remaining in the half.

To their credit, the Wildcats did not take the overwhelming imbalance in the score lying down. With 4:43 still to go, they sent Delmar senior LaMont Trader flying for 56 yards to do what no other team has done so far this year - score on the Spartans in the first half.

The Wildcats failed to make the two-point conversion, and the half ended with the score at 28-6.

In the third quarter, penalties once more put the Spartans deep in their own territory where they found themselves forced to fight their way out from the seven yard line. They made it to the 22 when Scott again found the ball and room to run. He went for 78 yards. Gladden's kick was good, and the score went to 35-6.

In the final quarter, James Browne, a junior, took a ten yard trip before being pounced on by the Wildcats in their end zone. Brian Gladden's kick looked good. But it was called back, and the second try went wide to leave the score at a final 41-6.

Gladden was also robbed of one touchdown on an option when the referees called the play back because of a clipping penalty.

The Lake Forest offense ran for 404 yards to Delmar's 151.

Jim Fleming commended his offense on Friday night's work saying, "We did pretty much what we wanted to do offensively - putting some points on the board that had been missing in previous weeks.

But he did not think the Spartan defense played up to the capability it has shown thus far this season since it made some mistakes that let the Wildcats loose on several long runs.

The Spartans are now 3-0 in Southern division play in the Henlopen Conference and have a 3-1-1 overall record. That leaves them tied thus far with Indian River in the division race. The Indians are also 3-0 in the South.

The showdown comes this Saturday as Spartans and Indians face off during Lake Forest's homecoming celebration. The game could very well decide the title since the Indians have already defeated Woodbridge, Delmar and Smyrna, and it would be unlikely for them to be stopped by winless Laurel. Should the Spartans triumph over the Indians they still have to force the Smyrna Eagles on November 13.

Brian Gladden [12] executes another perfect kick as another Spartan prepares to receive (or lose?) the ball. Below - The Spartan line seems to be on the march.

The Harrington Merchants softball team is a double winner after taking both summer and fall competition and playoffs in the Harrington Moose League. Missing from picture are: Mike Atkinson, Danny Demore & Terry Steward.

How Sweet It Is!!!

The last few months will be a long time forgetting for the Harrington Merchants softball team. The Merchants topped off winning the Harrington Moose Summer league and playoffs by winning the Harrington Moose Fall league and playoffs. The merchants won the National Division of each league and then went on to defeat Angersteins in the Summer league playoffs and Cavallo's in the Fall league playoffs. "It was a rewarding season" said coach Jim Fitzhugh, "the playoffs were very exciting, especially the Fall league which we won two (2) games to one(1)." The members of the Harrington Merchants softball team are as follows:

Ivan Ralph
Danny Porter

Spartan Mike Howton [6] is an inch or so ahead of his C.R. opponent.

Spartans Fall to Dover, Beat S.C.
by Jimmie D. Schuman
On Tuesday the 6th, the Lake Forest soccer team lost to Dover 4-0. Although they lost, the Spartans were not totally upset. Dover is undefeated and is scoring an average of six goals a game. The Spartans held them to two goals each half. Dover's coach was quoted as saying, "If they play like that the second half of the season, the rest of the conference better watch out."
Lake Forest beat Sussex 1-0 on the 8th.
Lake Forest scored in the first half on a goal made by Jimmie Schuman with an assist from Ron Graleski.

Spartan Harriers Upset S.C.

by Keith S. Burgess

Favored Sussex Central was upset by a fired-up Lake Forest cross-country team, at Killen's Pond, on Thursday afternoon, 24-33.

James Lofland finally got his act together and raced three miles in an excellent 16.48, the fastest Spartan clocking, on the new course. Lofland chopped 28 seconds off his personal mark.

Maurice Coverdale, improved seven seconds to get fourth, followed by Larry Guessford and Terry Caskey. Lake Forest is now 4-2.

Manny Hernandez (eighth) was half a minute faster, with freshman Mike Melvin next. Robby Manaraze was 13 seconds better, despite some late traffic problems, that kept him from doing even better.

Freshman Danny Haines was next in 18.10 with Mike Grogan (18.16) continuing his late-season surge, with another improvement. This time it was 19 seconds.

Chris Caskey dropped off 6 seconds. Mark Goodman suddenly discovered what cross-country is about. Goodman switched to spikes for the first time, on the all-dirt 3 miles course and shattered his best previous effort by a whopping 1 minute, 42 seconds. Now at 18.42, he is a definite prospect.

Others to make the grind, in new record times, were Rick Silkworth, John Caskey - 38, Fred Godman - 32 and Lafayette Bell. Bell has had a sore back all year. Healthy, he would have been a top-7 candidate.

Coach Blades finally has enough ladies for a distaff team. Tara Gladden ran a practice 21.35, with veteran Sheri Coburn, hitting the comeback trail with 21.54, 47 seconds under her best previous trip. Gina Turner was next, followed by Justine Caskey, who sliced off 1 minute, 28 seconds.

Ninth graders April Testerman and Lynn Mills, recent recruits, ran three miles for the first time. Both are slender girls, who will improve greatly after a few more workouts and a race or two. Both girls run easily and have natural running ability.

CR Harriers Beat Lake Forest, 22-23

by Keith S. Burgess

A strong Caesar Rodney cross-country team beat an improving Lake Forest team at Killen's Pond, by a score of 22-23. Lake Forest is now 3-2.

Powerful Rob McCleary ran 16.14 for three miles and would have shattered the course record, except for the fact that he made a wrong turn and ran more than the official distance. After Garrett and Council of C.R. came a Spartan trio of Larry Guessford, Terry Caskey and James Lofland, each of whom turned in new, personal bests, for this course.

Freshmen Mike Melvin, in eighth, chopped a half minute of his top previous trip, while Manny Hernandez, in tenth was also faster, than any past effort.

Spartan Coach Jim Blades has been trying to get enough girls (five) for an official girls' team.

Four girls lined up against CR's girls, who are led by Shelley Smith, Delaware's premier girl runner. Smith set a new course record of 17.42. Tara Gladden, Lake Forest freshman, was second in 21.07, her best yet, with teammates Sheri Coburn and Gina Turner in fourth and fifth. Justine Caskey, the other Spartan pulled a muscle warming up, but still ran the full three miles. Meanwhile, her brother John, suffers from asthma every time he runs. The Caskeys are loaded with intestinal fortitude, unlike some classmates of theirs, who have the physical ability to become excellent cross country runners, but don't have a large supply of courage.

Ski Club Kicks Off 18th Season

Don't let the name mislead you! The Club boasts members from all over the Eastern Shore. From Exmore, Accomac, Chestertown, Easton, Ocean City, Rehoboth Beach, Dover, Smyrna and many other towns, they come to meet a chartered bus in Salisbury or have the bus meet them on busy Route 13 enroute to the snowy slopes. Most trips are scheduled for the Pocono Mountains areas, but Virginia, Western Maryland, Western Pennsylvania, and New England are not beyond the planning of this active group. More than 2,000 from Del-Mar-Va skied last year - many for the first time.

Most trips are for one-day and involve leaving at 6 a.m., returning at 10 p.m. The bus always has many "first time skiers". Depending on the area, total cost is $25 to $38 - certainly a good reason to see if you like it. Day trips are scheduled every Wednesday from December 9 on (conditions permitting) and numerous weekend trips are on the drawing board.

The Ski Club is a non-profit family oriented organization and caters to first-time skiers with emphasis on a safe enjoyable skiing program. For further information call Bob Hamill in Salisbury - (301) 749-6812.

Three miles is a long run - But the finish line is only seconds away as Spartan harriers make that final effort.

Chipman Runners Are Real Comers

by Keith S. Burgess

W. T. Chipman School has a large number of cross-country prospects, led by Coach Baxter Smith. The squad got started late, since it appeared that there would be no competition for them in 1981.

Woodbridge came to Killen's Pond last week with a seventh-eighth grade team that included at least five eighth graders, who have been running all season with Woodbridge's varsity. This is legal since the last six grades are located at Bridgeville this year.

Thus Chipman's kids with nine days of practice, were running against athletes who had close to nine actual meets.

But the locals showed a lot of talent and desire and made a race of it. Billy Haggerty, at age 11, ran no. 2 on an official Chipman team last year. This time, he was half a minute behind two 16-year-old Woodbridge runners. If he'd had as much mileage under his belt, as he did at this time last year, he would have won this time.

Frank Cole is a brand new harrier.

but reeled off three 7-minute, hill and dale miles, for a fine sixth-place finish. Tom Milligan, Eric Payne, Bruce Shurman, James Tiggs, Mike Kersey and Isaiah Custis, filled the eighth-to-thirteenth positions. At this point, eight locals had finished to only five visitors.

Tiggs stated that it's family tradition for him to run cross-country, since he is related to Danny Parker, the greatest harrier in Spartan history and to Louis Thomas, who was No. 1 on the team, when he graduated a couple of years ago.

Other locals to finish were Chris Drew, Bobby Bassett, Larry Drummond, Don Draper and Tom Dula.

Melissa Wilson of Greenwood has been doing a fine job on Woodbridge's varsity team, occupying a high ranking although only an eighth grader. She ran a fine 23.06 clocking but had to contend with a real phenom, in the person of Shirlene Goodman, whose first run ever was a sparkling 22.17. She's probably the next Shelley Smith.

SPORTS SHORTS

In the heat of competition, sports enthusiasts may lose sight of eye safety. The racquet sports—tennis, racquetball, badminton, squash—account for many of the 35,000 sports and recreational eye injuries in a year.

Always observe the safety rules when you play, reminds the National Society to Prevent Blindness. Wear special eyewear for sports activities. Eye protectors for people not requiring corrective lenses are available at sporting goods stores or through many eye doctors and opticians. If you require corrective lenses, have your prescription made up in safety glasses.

Spartans scramble to defend the goal against Laurel. Lake Forest goalie, Suzie Asbury has been instrumental all season long in a number of saves that have cost Spartan opponents points.

Hockey Girls Split a Pair

Lake Forest hockey teams, both varsity and J.V., split a pair of games over the past week, losing to Southern Henlopen conference leaders Laurel on Wednesday and defeating Delmar on Monday.

The Spartan varsity faced Laurel on home turf Wednesday and gave that team a game to remember. Despite the loss, Coach Pat Dyal said the Spartan girls played an excellent game dominating the contest for the second half. However, Laurel was able to score once in the first half and again in the second half, and Lake Forest was unable to capitalize on several opportunities to get the ball in the cage. The game ended 0-2 in Laurel's favor. Monday's game with Delmar turned that score around as the Spartans brought home a 2-0 victory. Stephanie Dopirak hit home for the Spartans about ten minutes into the first half, and Dee Dee White was good for the second goal with 20 minutes elapsed in the second half.

Both the Spartans and their opponents had to contend with a rough Delmar field and Monday's cold weather.

Bonnie Simons J.V. hockey team was able to score against Laurel in last week's game as freshman Elizabeth Watkinson provided a goal. But Laurel came out of the contest the 2-1 victor.

In Monday's game at Delmar, another Spartan, Pam Pierce, gave the local JV's a goal and the 1-0 victory.

Lake Forest's Ruth Ricker is on the move against Laurel in fast-paced competition.

Spartan Tim Noble (4) seems outnumbered 2-1 in competition against Caesar Rodney.

The W.T. Chipman football team had it all over Delmar, 30-18, in last Thursday's game in Harrington.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF SALE
 $189,000
City of Harrington, Delaware
1981 Sewer System Improvement Bond

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received by Alfred G. B. Mann, Mayor of the City of Harrington, Delaware (the "City") at the City Administration Office, 103 Fleming Street, Harrington, Delaware, until 12:00 o'clock, noon, on November 30, 1981 at which time and place they will be publicly opened, read and considered for the purchase of the 1981 City of Harrington Sewer System Improvement Bond (the "Bond") in the principal amount of $189,000. The full faith and credit of the City is pledged to the payment of principal and interest on the Bond.

The Bond will be dated December 15, 1981. Interest only payments on the Bond will be made June 15, 1982, December 15, 1982, June 15, 1983 and December 15, 1983. Thereafter the Bond will be paid in 74 consecutive equal payments of principal and interest on each June 15 and December 15 of each year beginning June 15, 1984 and ending with the final payment on December 15, 2021. Both principal and interest on the Bond are payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the Peoples Bank of Harrington in the City of Harrington, Delaware unless registered, in which case, payment will be made, at the option of the owner, by check mailed to the owner. The Bond will be in the form of a bearer bond, registrable as to both principal and interest, at the expense of the owner.

Security. The Bond will be a valid and legally binding general obligation of the City secured by the full faith and credit of the City and, unless paid from other sources, will be payable from ad valorem taxes levied upon all taxable real property within the City without limitation as to rate or amount.
