From John J. Jackson,
American Legion
State Commander

This Wednesday, November 11th, is Veterans Day. A holiday declared by our Federal Government to honor those men and women who have served their country in the Armed Forces during times of war.

Year of the Handicapped, so it is fitting that a special mention be given on this day to those who bear the scars of war having been disabled while serving their country.

remember November 11 as Armistice Day. It was known as this until 1954 and the end of the Korean War. At this time it became apparent that a day of recognition for ALL those who had participated in America's wars was needed.

City sets zoning hearing on apartments, park

The Harrington City Council Monday night set a public hearing on two rezoning proposals. One would permit the construction of apartment units in an area located on the south side of Peck Avenue. The other is a proposal for a mobile home park and a small shopping center to be built across from Hollywood Cemetery on land formerly owned by the city.

ing that hearing to allow it to take prompt action if it so desires. The first proposal is actually for a renewal of a rezoning decision made by the city in June 1980 when the Council voted to rezone the 7.3 acres located south of Peck Avenue and owned by Dudley Willis from IMP (an industrial classification) to R-4 (allowing multi-family residential units).

elderly. But the decision made after a year of both public controversy in fighting on the council came too late for Case Edwards to get the construction loan it needed from the Farmers Home Administration.

Budget & other complaints hit city hall

After October's budget action in which the Harrington City Council approved a 1982 spending plan totaling $563,241 and called for across the board increases in just about every user fee or tax that city residents pay, the Council members and the mayor were prepared for complaints.

New Weapon Against Apple Mites

by Doris Henrique Crowley

It's been a good year for Delaware apple growers. They've just finished harvesting a bumper crop. The crisp, juicy fruits are available now at many local roadside stands and grocery stores, as well as at the orchards themselves.

been even more profitable, thanks to money-saving pest control measures they've adopted.

Anyone who's tried to grow large, unblemished apples on a backyard tree knows it's pretty hard to protect the fruit from insect damage.

When local growers tally up their returns from this year's crop, they should be very pleased with the results--especially after a couple of rather lean years.

One of the pests they need to control is the European red mite, which sucks the juices from leaves. A heavy infestation can lead to stunted fruit in the current crop and reduced yields the following year.

A few years ago entomologists at Penn State University developed a way to reduce the cost of controlling

The Rev. Benjamin to leave Frederica

His pastorates since 1966 when he became a member of the Peninsula Conference of the United Methodist Church include Crisfield, Fruitland and Still Pond, Md. He also served the West Harrington Charge which includes Trinity United Methodist Church in Harrington.

His new pastorate will find him serving four churches: Bowen and Trinity in Newark, Md., Bethany in Sinepuxent, and Calvary in Ironshire.

Magnolia seeks correct census count

With January 1st, 1982 nearing, Mayor Shirley Jarrell of the town of Magnolia together with her special committee are working diligently to correct the census count for Magnolia.

According to Mayor Jarrell, there are really in actuality 127 housing units for 327 people. In 1970 when the last census count was made prior to the 1980 one (which represents the current count), the figure showed 81 houses and 319 people.

When Mayor Jarrell saw the boundary errors, since she was familiar with the lay out of the Town historically being a circle, she immediately corrected it. On the map presented, there were two parcels labeled 236A and 236B.

Houston to make tax exemptions

Houston took a step toward making its property tax exemption for senior citizens official as Mayor Connie Morgan presented an ordinance to the Town Council last week.

The town's charter allows the council to adopt such an ordinance to grant the tax exempt status to citizens over 65 who qualify with the Kent County Board of Assessments.

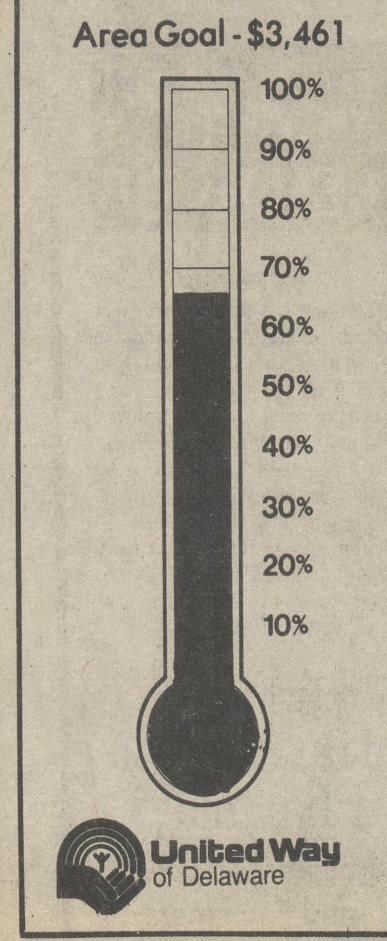

The ordinance introduced by Morgan would make the matter official. It would also grant those citizens an exemption from the town's $2 capitation tax. The proposed ordinance will be posted for a month before action is taken at the December meeting of the Town Council.

As the railroad was to build new communities so the stage line seemed to sustain Canterbury. Scharf reported "The first knowledge we have of Canterbury is by the name of "Joseph Caldwell's Tavern", in the year 1782 when John West is spoken of as an innkeeper. On the 1st day of November 1789 it is mentioned as "Irish Hill". On that day Ezekiel Anderson gave his alienation bond to George and John Gildersleve to sell 5 acres of land, with a new two story house thereon, adjoining the main road near "Irish Hill", formerly land of John West; also another house and lot, formerly of West on the "road leading from Joseph Caldwell's Tavern to Peter Goforth's mill of Frederica".

On 15 April 1794 the name "Canterbury", appears in a deed from Gildersleve to James Foote, in which he describes the land as "a Lott or peace of ground in the village of Canterbury, being and lying on the east side of the State Road. In 1811 Jacob Jones, John Miskimmons and Moses Sipple, dept tavern. In 1820 tavern was dept by Levi Wolcott who had purchased 200 acres of Hudson's Lott. In 1816 mention is made of a tan-yard owned by Jonathan Neal, opposite a storehouse, formerly belonging to George Gildersleve. In 1845 there was a blacksmith shop. The school house was situated half a mile north of the village and the church, Green's Chapel, about one mile.

the apple mite by using orchard management practices which favor one of its natural enemies—a lady beetle called Stethorus punctum. Researchers found that when they allowed Stethorus populations to build up by reducing rates and frequency of sprays and by using materials least toxic to this beneficial insect, it effectively controlled mites.

The system has worked so well in Pennsylvania that when Fifer and Smith heard about it, they decided to try it out in their orchards. They asked University of Delaware extension pest management specialist Mark Graustein to help put Stethorus to work for them. He responded by setting up a three-year pilot integrated pest management (IPM) program based on the one developed at Penn State.

In 1980, the program's first year, only two blocks of trees on each farm were involved—one treated conventionally for mites, the other managed according to IPM recommendations. IPM worked so well in 1980 that this year the program was expanded to include a total of eight orchard blocks, all using integrated pest management practices. Blocks ranged in size from 15 to 40 acres, averaging around 25 to 30 acres. Most of the trees involved were red delicious, the variety most susceptible to mites.

Before adoption of the IPM program, most blocks in the Smith and Fifer orchards averaged three to four miticide applications a season. This year, under IPM, even blocks that did require treatment needed only one or two sprays, thanks to superior predator control. This represents a savings of about $8 per acre per spray in chemical costs, Graustein estimates.

Looking back, Charles Smith admits that at first he was pretty nervous about leaving the mites alone at the start of the season while Stethorus numbers grew. "It's always been the practice on our farm to spray as soon as you see mites," he says. But though he had some anxious moments waiting for the beetle to take over, he's glad now that he did. "The scouting saved me at least two sprays on my apples this year," says Smith.

Fifer is equally pleased. "When we first heard about Penn State's apple mite program, we were spending a lot of money on miticides and only one was really working. So we were ready to try something else," he says. "The program really paid off for us this year. We'll definitely do it again."

Zoning hearings

Council, described their plans for a 36 unit apartment complex designed as subsidized housing for the elderly to be built on the Willis property.

However, over a year has passed since the rezoning approval. Since no construction has started, the zoning, by law, has reverted to the former IMP classification.

Carp has submitted a renewed request to rezone the site from IMP to R-4. According to a report of his proposal submitted to the Council by the Planning and Zoning Commission, the current plan is to develop 40 apartment units - 16 one bedroom and 24 two bedroom - on four of the 7.3 acres. The report said the construction program is funded though the Farmers Home Administration to provide housing for lower-middle income level families. Five one story brick and frame buildings would be constructed on the site, and there would be a buffer zone on the south side of the complex between it and the residences bordering Peck Avenue.

According to the report, the resulting revenue to the city in taxes and water and sewer fees is estimated at $60,000, with the city bearing the cost of trash removal and maintenance of the streets. The project which would be similar to one now located on Riverside Drive in Salisbury, Md., would have a resident manager.

Site plans for the Carp proposal are available for inspection in the city offices.

The second proposal mentioned is a petition submitted by Robert A. Passerin that 2.16 acres to be rezoned from R-1 (single family, residential) to C-1 (commercial, to permit strip stores with one large store). This would allow the building of a small shopping center on Delaware 14.

The proposal also includes rezoning an adjoining 14.84 acres from R-1 to MHP to allow the development of a mobile home park to accommodate 40 to 50 units.

The City's Planning and Zoning Commission recommended in favor of both rezoning proposals. But the one for the Passerin property it suggested the following conditions:

- (1) A site plan for the development should be approved prior to the rezoning.
- (2) Passerin should bear responsibility for implementation of water and sewer to the nearest water and sewer lines of the city.
- (3) A request by Passerin for permission to put a water well on the property should be taken up with the Council in the form of a request for a special variance.

The public hearing is the next step in the rezoning procedure.

result of this, the revenue sharing will be reduced as of Jan. 1st, 1982 unless Mayor Jarrell and her committee can show the rightful figures. The Town will lose approximately $2,100 in revenue sharing.

Mayor Jarrell cited the $5000 the Town should receive in Revenue Sharing versus the $3,200 in taxes. "If we lose the $2,100 in Revenue Sharing...it sure will hurt," said Mayor Jarrell. "We should be able to prove our case. After all, we are small and everyone here knows what is going on. We are a half mile wide...and we know what we have. So size will help us in the long run," said Mayor Jarrell.

The Mayor added that the Census Bureau has been very nice about "this whole thing. They will return your call...and if they say they will write a letter, they will. They have been extremely cooperative about these things. Mr. Bruce Chapman, head of the Census Bureau has said to us take it a step at a time...and things will work out," added Mayor Jarrell.

SLEEP COOL

Turning the thermostat down at night will do more than save energy. Sleeping in a cool room lowers the body's rate of metabolism quicker than sleeping in a warm room, so one needs less sleeping time. Sleeping in an overheated room may cause one to wake up feeling physically tired and mentally sluggish. So turn down the thermostat and wake refreshed.

CORRECTION

In the report which appeared in The Harrington Journal concerning Magnolia's recent Heritage Day celebration, there were two errors in naming choir members. Those choir members are Bob (not Bill) Smith and Evelyn Forbes (not Evelyn Tales). It should be also added that accompanists were Jane Bryan at the piano and Donnie Smith on the trumpet.

appearances have included overseeing the displays and demonstrations of quilting and other needlecraft arts at the Harrington New Century Club on Heritage Day.

Mrs. Cooper's son Larry is a senior at Lake Forest High School where he plays saxophone as a member of the band. The Spartans and their Band Booster supporters have targeted this year's fund raising efforts at the purchase of new uniforms. Those currently worn by the band are now in the eleventh year of a predicted nine-year life span. Estimates put the cost of buying new ones at well over $30,000. Several thousand dollars have already been raised through a variety of projects this year. All those who acquire tickets for the quilt raffle will make a contribution to the cause. And one of the ticket holders on December 22 will come up with a valuable Christmas present for giving or for keeps.

Report from Greenwood United Methodist Charge: The pastor's Bible Study which began on the 25th of October with 33 people in attendance, will continue on the 22nd, 29th and on into December. It meets on Sunday at 7 p.m. It is never too late to come and join.

On the 15th of November at 7 p.m. in the Greenwood Educational Bldg. there will be two special films shown for children. The names of the films are: "Marty's Moon Ride." The story takes place in a wooded area where a Sunday School teacher takes his class of boys for a holiday. The adventure shows the change in Marty and the help the other boys gave him in becoming a Christian. The other film is entitled: "Somebody Special." This is the story of a girl who did not realize that God never created anybody who is unimportant. Invite all the children you know to come and enjoy the movies and the refreshments.

The Epworth United Methodist Church is having a parish dinner and auction on November 7 at 6:30 p.m.

Gabfest

By Pat Hatfield 349-4255

Well, I've just arrived home from the grocery stores and have finished putting the purchases on the shelves and in the refrigerator. It used to be fun, but in these days of high prices I find it emotionally exhausting. You flip through your batch of coupons and try to decide if it is cheaper to buy the name brand with the coupon off or is it better to stick with the store brand without the coupon. Eventually we arrive home with the staples and a few treats. I sit down to rest while planning a very simple dinner.

With the economy still in mind I scan my notes for this week's column. I find this interesting item. In the year 1834, in New York City, it was possible to buy a meal of soup, steak, coffee and pie for the sum of twelve cents!! Eat your heart out, MacDonald's!

Have you noticed the foggy mornings? An old saying from my childhood was "For every fog in October, a snow in winter!" Time to get out the bird food now so they'll know what they can depend on when winter comes. It is good to remember, too, that all the expense in bird feeding is not all outgo—they say that one small chickadee can eat as many as 250 cankerwo-rm eggs per day along with his other wild and borrowed food.

Last winter in our area we had very little snow. I wonder what the coming winter holds for us. We used to believe that a really cold winter was healthy. My little grandmother would shake her head and say: "A green Christmas makes a fat graveyard."

This Indian summer weather has given us some more ripe tomatoes. We are savoring each luscious bite. I put whole ones in the freezer and use them for tossed salads all winter. Of course they are limp when unfrozen, but the flavor is there and they are, to my mind, so much better than the pale stuff available in the stores.

Sweet potatoes are prime favorites here at Trail's End. We eat them every day, candied, baked, boiled, mashed with marshmallows or pineapple and in pie.

This year I have two new recipes to try using sweet potatoes. I can scarcely wait to get with it. If they turn out well, I will share them in a later column. One recipe is for Sweet Potato Muffins and the other for Sweet Potato Cornbread, of all things. There is also one for Sweet Potato Yeast Rolls. Well, we shall see!

Anne's Kitchen

Now is a good time to plan your holiday dinner. Anything you can make ahead is a big help. If you plan carefully, holidays can be as much fun for you as well as the rest of the family. My "Marinated Mushrooms" are a special treat, and since they must rest refrigerated at least three days, they are a natural. Since they keep so well, I never make less than a basket (three pounds) but you can adjust the recipe to suit your own needs.

The nicest mushrooms to use are up to the size of a quarter, which I leave whole. Anything larger, it is best to slice.

Remember to refrigerate, and a tightly covered jar works fine. Each day or two, they should be turned to distribute seasonings. Bring them out of the refrigerator long enough to come up to room temperature before serving. They are delightful as a vegetable, as hors d'oeuvre, on a buffet table or in antipasto.

"Marinated Mushrooms"

1 basket mushrooms
1 cup white vinegar
1/2 cup water
Salt to taste

Wash mushrooms to remove all dirt. Trim stems. Place in large pot with cover. Pour the rest of ingredients over top and bring to a boil. Lower heat and continue to cook 1/2 hour. Drain and cool to room temperature.

Place in a bowl and add:
4 cloves garlic, chopped
1 cup flat parsley, chopped
1 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
1 1/2 teaspoons hot red pepper (dried)
1/2 teaspoon oregano

Adjust salt

Enough olive oil to coat mushrooms.

Mix well, store in refrigerator in tightly covered jar. Age at least three days.

ENJOY!

Coming Event

November 14-All the barbecued bottom round of beef you can eat, along with beans, potato salad and rolls; all the fresh pressed apple cider you can drink, plus your choice of desserts. If the menu sounds good, come to the Alpha Zeta barbecue. This annual event takes place in Agricultural Hall on the University of Delaware campus

Saturday, November 14, following the Delaware-Maine football game. Dinner will be served from approximately 4 to 8 p.m. Tickets may be purchased from Alpha Zeta members or at Agricultural Hall anytime prior to the 14th, or at the door. Cost is $7, with children under six admitted free.

Bazaar—November 19, 1981. Smile, and come on over; promise you will be happier for doing so!

It is good to be back at the Center. Writing to all of you is another pleasure. So a very fond greeting to each and every one and thanks to all for the cards and kind remembrances you all sent me.

Reverend Watson of Baptist Church, Harrington, was leader at Bible Study, Monday morning at the Center. Mrs. Watson was at the piano. Began the hour with a prayer from Rev. Watson. His topic was Phillipians 2nd Chapter, 3 thru 11. Rev. Watson explained the verses exceptionally well. The folks enjoyed the discussion on Hebrews Chapter 5, Verse 9. A couple of lovely hymns and a prayer ended the delightful hour. Present were Clara Judy, Sylvia & Cecil Meredith, Mildred Vincent, Essie Redden, Amy Price, Lili McBride, Sallie Needles, Mamie Adams, Anna Mae Short, Catherine Donovan, Thelma Legates, Francis Wright, Mary Sapp, Ruth Phillippi, John McCready, Elizabeth Anthony, Marion Brown, Ethel Holden, Amy Poynter, Sallie Pleaston and Florence Minner.

If you are interested in trips, call or come to see what trips are available.

Tuesday was Jolly Timers Day and what a joyous sound echoed thru the Center Tuesday morning. My, it did make me feel good to hear the strains of "Dark Town Strutters Ball", "Let Me Call You Sweetheart", "Meet Me Tonight In Dreamland", etc. Since you haven't heard from the Band lately, I want to tell you who was present: Ina Hughes, Sylvia & Cecil Meredith, Tony Ferrone, Andy Anderson, Essie Redden, Elsie Neal, Lili McBride, Mamie Adams, Florence Minner, John McCready, Ella Golt, Jo Burk, Ola Tilden, Elma Thorpe, Roxanne and Marion Brown and Mildred Vincent. It was pleasant to listen to the Jolly Timers practicing Christmas songs. It won't be long folks. Bazaar Nov. 19, 1981.

Wednesday was "Chorus" practice. Sylvia leads the group. I haven't had the good fortune to hear them. Those that did said the "Chorus" was splendid.

Barbara Evans, Jeannette LeGates, Mildred Minner offered lots of crafts Thursday and several helpful stuff, crochets, glue and finish. See it all at the Bazaar, Nov. 19, 1981-10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Delores Wagner brought in several things made and to make. Lillian, Delores and Etzel as well as Mary Marshal, Mary Sapp, Mildred, Francis Wright and others have been making doll plaques a mile a minute; they are going like hot cakes on a cold day. Each one is cuter than the other.

Ceramics, well you name it, we have it. Velma Whitley, Florence Minner, Jo Burke, Loris Henry, Hazel Langrell, Lillian Pearson and others have been working diligently on ceramics: trees, roosters, hens, bread trays, sugar, ceramics in wheat design (beautiful, Jo's original), Raggedy Ann, Raggedy Andy, pilgrims, etc.

Bowling at Milford Lanes-folks report a glorious time. A tournament between Dover Center and Harrington is November 18, 1981. Cheer our men!

Friday was pool, ceramics, crafts, conversation, TV, dolls, tasty meals, luscious desserts, strawberry shortcake, carrot cake among them. Thanks to Manna for the meals sponsored by Modern Maturity Center, Dover.

The Center looks so pretty with the new floor in the kitchen and dining area. The new salt and pepper shakers and vases are lovely to look at, useful to use and made at the Center.

Have you heard of the plant (researched in Germany) that grows potatoes underground and on the same bunch on top of ground it grows tomatoes.

Best Wishes to all homebounds, those who are ill, either in hospital or home. Our prayers are with all of you. Be kind to each other.

See you at the Bazaar, Nov. 19, 1981-10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Faith.

is being taught to the young people in the Atlantic City Community College. Soon, what has happened and is happening in Las Vegas will grow in Atlantic City. Nothing, but nothing good ever comes from gambling. It always degenerates people by appealing to their desire to get something for nothing, to be materialistic and fleshly. There is no doubt that a major part of America's moral decay is directly related to gambling instincts. And, the tragedy is that many churches now use gambling to get money to spread the gospel(?). The only time some people ever go to church is to play bingo.

Veterans Day - November 11, 1981

The screams of the wounded and the stench of gunpowder surrounded Robert Richardson, a private in America's Continental Army, but he fought on until a British cannonball struck his hand spike. It broke in two, one end tearing his belly open. The wind from the cannonball left his right arm useless. Richardson's blood had paid the price of peace and freedom. But, for the rest of his life, he was totally disabled.

For a while, the Continental Congress provided the Revolutionary War veteran a disability pension of half his military salary. It helped, but Richardson was unable to support himself on this meager allowance. Even this pittance ended shortly after the War of Independence when the new national government turned responsibility for disabled veterans over to the individual states and their Poor Law systems.

Life was tough—really tough—for Richardson and other patriots wounded in the struggle to free America from colonial chains. Many were reduced to begging.

Things are better for the 2 1/2 million disabled veterans living in today's America. But, on Veterans Day this year, it's appropriate to recall what happened to the disabled veterans of our Revolutionary War. What happened to them established a pattern that has, to some extent, been played out after each of our country's nine wars—a pattern of forgetfulness that's playing itself out again today, just six years after the last American was killed in Vietnam, our most recent war.

Perhaps that's understandable. When wars end, people want to get back to normal, peacetime life, leaving the turmoil and anxiety of war behind. Following the Vietnam War—the most unpopular war in our nation's history with the single exception of the Civil War—the process of forgetting has been unusually rapid. People want to bury the bitter social division of the Vietnam years. That's good, but there's a tragedy in the way we're going about it: When people forget about wars, they tend to forget about the sacrifices that veterans, particularly disabled veterans, have made. And when the public forgets the needs of disabled veterans, so do their elected representatives.

*Disabled American Veterans...

Maybe that's why the Veterans Administration (VA) hospital system has been hit by one budget cut after another for the past five years, forcing the VA to turn thousands of eligible veterans away from the doors of its health care facilities. Maybe that explains why job programs for disabled and Vietnam era veterans have been kept too small to make a serious dent in the employment problems these veterans have experienced. Maybe that's why we've seen, for the first time this year, curtailments in GI Bill educational programs.

Maybe that's the reason veterans' preference in federal employment was attacked so viciously back in 1977 and 1978. Maybe that's why the VA and other federal agencies were so slow initially in recognizing the seriousness of such problems as the defoliant Agent Orange, the exposure of Cold War veterans to radiation in atomic weapons tests, and the post-traumatic stress difficulties of half a million or more Vietnam veterans.

Think about it. Could it be that the American people have forgotten the warriors as they went about the process of forgetting the trying times of war? The 700,000-member Disabled American Veterans (DAV) believes this is exactly what happened...not just after Vietnam, but after World War I, World War II, and the Korean War as well. But no veteran of any war should ever be forgotten. Without the sacrifices these men and women made, there would be no United States.

Back in 1903, Theodore Roosevelt said something that nearly every American would probably agree with. "A man who is good enough to shed his blood for his country is good enough to get a square deal afterward," he stated. Looking at veterans' programs realistically, it's unlikely that our country would ever let the plight of its disabled veterans get as bad as it was for Private Richardson and his disabled comrades following the American Revolution. But it would be a mistake to simply assume, without giving it much thought, that all of our political leaders are bending over backward to make sure veterans—even disabled veterans—are getting the kind of "square deal" Roosevelt was talking about.

On Veterans Day, 1981, we must ask ourselves a very basic question. Can we do too much to guarantee a square deal for a sailor whose arms were crushed when a Nazi torpedo smashed through the hull of his ship...for the pilot whose body was burned and disfigured when his plane was shot down over Korea...for the Marine whose legs were blown off by a Viet Cong booby trap in the Mekong Delta...or for the World War I soldier who lost his sight in the Battle of the Marne? Every American owes these people a debt that can never be repaid. (This editorial was prepared by Disabled American Veterans.)

Lake Forest Spartans Unhorse CR Riders, 35-8

Jim Fleming's Lake Forest football team last Friday night unhorsed Caesar Rodney's Riders, leaving them on the short end of a 35-8 score. It was a Spartan Varsity first.

The first time Lake Forest has ever beaten Caesar Rodney. And coming on the heels of the previous week's disappointing loss to Sussex Central, it was sweet indeed.

The Spartans now gear up for what will be the deciding contest of the Southern Henlopen Conference season, the match against Smyrna's Eagles. That battle takes place this Friday, November 13, on Lake Forest turf. Game time is 8 p.m.

Last Friday's game got off to a lame Spartan start in what appeared (at least to one reporter) to be an instant replay, one week delayed, of the Sussex Central game. The opening Lake Forest kickoff (a goof and not an outsides kick according to Jim Fleming) dribbled weakly to right center field. The Spartans recovered, but fumbled the ball on the first play. CR picked it up, and the Riders were off and running to a touchdown (Lee Courtney) and a two-point conversion (Vincent Williams). The Riders fired their nerve jarring cannon to hail the 8-0 lead. Then Lake Forest lost the ball again, after the kickoff or in a subsequent play, and CR once more took possession. "Uh-oh-here we go." (Or so thought one observer.)

Fortunately the Spartans did not share that viewpoint nor that attitude. The Spartan defense canned the Riders forcing them to punt. Then, on the very next play, astounding junior James Browne, found daylight and raced 80 yards to turn the game around with a pass from Brian Gladden to LaMont Robinson. The two extra points were good, and the first quarter scoring ended with an 8-8 tie.

Except for a ceremonial halftime kick off firing, the CR cannon was never to sound again. But the Spartans exploded in the third quarter with three touchdowns and two extra points to put Lake Forest way ahead 28-8.

James Browne, of the 80 yard thriller, put the Spartans ahead with a 25-yard TD early in quarter two, as Brian Gladden capped the effort with a perfect kick, making the score 15-8.

Then defensive tackle Hershel Harmon pulled a surprising coup to give the Spartans another bonanza. With the Rider offense once again bottled up and forced to kick, Harmon blocked a Marty Rigby punt, and pursued the ball to the CR one yard line where Brian Gladden on the first down made short work of the remaining yard to put the Spartans another leap ahead. With a successful kick, the score went to 22-8.

A 19 yard Gladden-LaMont Robinson pass finished the second quarter scoring sending the Spartans to the locker room with a healthy 28-8 margin.

In the second half Lake Forest added one more touchdown on a Dale Benson 15 yarder and an extra point to nail it all down at 35-8.

Also in the second half, penalties - notably clipping - cost the Spartans 80 yards of acquired territory.

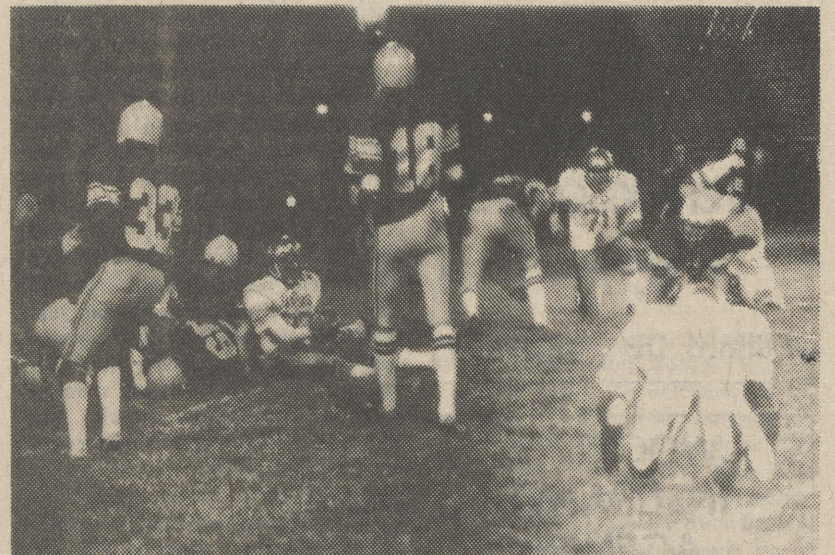

The Spartan defense, as it has for most of the season, played an excellent game relying on its speed to keep the Riders off balance. And Spartan headliners got fine blocking from the split ends Kevin Smith and Tony Scott who opened up the field for the running.

Jim Fleming, who thought his Spartans could win against CR was highly pleased with both defensive and offensive efforts. The team, led by James Browne with 138, piled up a game total of 346 yards to the Riders' 137.

Fleming would like to see the penalties which plagued the second half eliminated. But his only plans for Friday night are to continue refining the same fine football techniques that have given the Spartans a winning 5-2-1 season and an excellent shot at the Southern Division Championship.

Come what may, Friday night's Spartan/Eagle confrontation should be a thriller. Win - and the Spartans are champs. Lose - they are in a 3-way tie with Smyrna and Indian River. And whatever happens, they are almost assured of a state tournament berth. There are exciting days ahead.

(Note: The Harrington Journal, which like other news media receives Governor du Pont's weekly schedule, noted that the Governor had planned to attend the Dover-CR game last Friday night. It wasn't - and he didn't. We're sorry he missed a good game.)

Spartans 4th in conference run

by Keith S. Burgess

Lake Forest's cross country Spartans ran well to get fourth place in the Henlopen Conference Cross-Country meet, held at Killen's Pond State Park last week. Cape Henlopen's undefeated Vikings tallied a low 41 points to become conference champs.

The Spartans had a shot at second place, if everyone had been healthy and in top form. But, that was not the case, so Lake Forest had to be content with a good showing, instead of an excellent outing. Sussex Central, who lost to Lake Forest, in a dual meet was second, with Woodbridge nosing out Lake Forest for third.

James Lofland's seventh place finish, in 16.44, for three miles, made him a member of the All-Henlopen Conference team as is a Spartan course record. Maurice Coverdale's 16.55 was another fine effort, good for 14th place. Three other locals were at or near peak form. These were Terry Caskey (17.09) Manny Hernandez (17.25) and freshman Danny Haines (18.01).

Spartans girls 4th in loop run

by Keith S. Burgess

Lake Forest's girls' cross-country team ran fourth in the Henlopen Conference cross-country three-mile run, held at Killen's Pond State Park last week.

The Spartans were close to third place, a very fine outing, when it is realized that only one Lake Forest harrier had been with the team all season and three others were running in their first races ever.

Gina Turner, who reported after the season started had her best outing yet, a 21.09 clocking good for ninth place. Sheri Coburn, on the injured list for a long time was 13th. Pam Pierce, a natural athlete, ran 22.07, in her first race ever, just a few days after her first workout. She was 15th, running against girls, who started practicing three months ahead of her. Sondra Warren is another Spartan novice in the same category as Pierce.

Justine Caskey improved more than two minutes to 24.23, while Elaine Grant another first-timer was at 24.48.

Tara Gladden, consistent all year as a freshman, had a bad side stitch and finished 19th. She had earlier beaten all the girls ahead of her, except the top four.

Milford P&R sponsors women's BB league

The Milford Parks & Recreation Dept. is sponsoring a Women's Basketball League open to the first (6) paying teams. The entry fee is $150.00 and includes ten games per team plus play-offs.

There will be an organizational meeting Monday, November 30th at 7:30 PM in the Parks & Recreation office located at 4 South Washington St., Milford, DE. Rules interpretations, regulations, scheduling and play-off information will be covered at the meeting. Questions should be directed to Carolyn Griffith, Supervisor at 422-3060/3069.

The triumphant return - James Browne leaves the CR end zone after an 80-yard TD.

In mid air - James Browne [22] collides with an apparently bodiless CR helmet and uniform while Jeff Dickerson [61] flies into the fray.

With some expert blocking from a fellow Spartan, Brian Gladden finds his way around an end and into open territory.

Triumph over S.C. loss to Dover finish season

by Jimmie D. Schuman

On Tuesday, November 3, the Lake Forest Soccer Team defeated Sussex Central by a score of 4-0.

At the end of the first half Lake Forest was leading 1-0. Darryl Tolsen scored the first half goal.

Going into the second half Lake Forest controlled the game and scored 3 more goals. Mike Howton scored all 3 second half goals. Mike is the only L.F. player to score more than 2 goals in a game. Assists were made by Jimmie Schuman and Darryl Tolsen.

On Thursday, Nov. 5, Lake Forest lost to Dover by a score of 3-0.

In the first half Dover's first goal was a penalty shot. At the end of the first half the score was 2-0. The finale was 3-0. Again Lake Forest kept Dover well below their average number of goals scored per game.

Dover was Lake Forest's last game of the season. Lake Forest's final conference record was 4-7-1.

Players who have scored or assisted in scoring are Mike Howton with 6 goals, Jimmie Schuman with 2 goals and 3 assists, Tim Nobel with 4 goals and 1 assist, Mike Monroe with 2 goals, Darryl Tolsen with 1 goal and 1 assist and Ron Graleski with 2 assists.

The Lake Forest defense did really well this year. In the goal was Kevin Moehlenkamp. The fullbacks for the team were Donald Drew, David Lapinsky, Tony Smith, John Green, Roland Cohee, Nelson Mosley, Albert Silbersen. They only let an average of 2 goals a game be scored against them.

Spartan varsity soccer player Darryl Tolsen and a Golden Knight stake claims to the ball in last week's game. Lake Forest took the day, 4-0.

Kevin Moehlenkamp, senior goalie, is about to remove the ball from scoring position.

Doug Hufstutler outraces Sussex Central contenders in last week's JV soccer contest.

Soccer cheerleaders have been faithful Spartan fans all season long.

City budget gets complaints

$368,000 in estimated revenues and $371,269 in estimated expenditures. The deficit was $3,269.

1980/81 - A deficit budget with $376,713 in estimated revenues and $427,607 in estimated expenditures. The gap was $50,894.

Mann said a further look at those figures revealed a 10.8% increase in revenues compared to a 11.8% increase in expenses from 78/79 to 79/80. Comparing 79/80 to 80/81 he said showed "only a 2.4% increase" in revenues as compared with a 15.2% increase in expenses.

Mann broke down the costs by department to show the following changes from 79/80 to 80/81:

City Administration - down 4.3%, police - up 71.1%, street department (including trash) - up 39.4%, general fund (including library) up 43.1%, sewer and water - up 45.7%.

Mann said these increases coupled with the knowledge that there was going to be "a sizeable increase in the maintenance and operating costs of the sewer system with the addition of the new wastewater treatment plant" left the city with "little or no choice except to face up to the situation and take the necessary actions...to put the city on a sound financial basis."

Mann posed the question of whether these remedies were merely "stop gap measures" or "a permanent solution" and answered by stating that he wished he could say that "everything looks rosy." But he pointed to the probability of the termination of federal revenue sharing in 1983 and the uncertainty of other forms of federal funding. He said, "No one can be sure what the future holds. The best that we can do is try to plan for the worst and hope for the best."

Mann also spent some time in discussing the current reassessment of property within the city limits. He called it the method that was "the fairest and most equal to each and every property owner within the city limits" in the endeavor to put the city on a sound financial basis. He said the reassessment now being conducted by Appraisal Associates Corporation would include a card file on each parcel of property, the training of city hall personnel in useage and updating of the file, and four days of appeals with the assessor.

Mann also said:
(1) the increase in the assessed value of the city should give it a better rating if it were necessary to go to the bond market in the future.

(2) property owners would be paying a more equal share of the tax burden. He said a look at the current tax rolls would show that "this equality does not exist today." He also pointed out this inequality becomes more pronounced as the tax rate increases.

(3) he said the proposed and tentative approved tax rate of $1.21 per $100 of assessed value of real estate was based in the revenues needed at the current assessment figures could go down to 60 1/2 cents per hundred of the new assessment showed a doubling of property values.

(4) on an individual basis, he claimed, the new assessment might mean less tax to those who have been paying more than their share due to a high assessment, but those who presently have low assessments would end up paying more.

The mayor's statement was followed by a salvo of complaints from city resident Curtis Melvin.

Melvin opened up by saying the media, The Harrington Journal in particular should be more careful in its reporting of council meetings and said "a lot of citizens were unhappy with that reporting". He did not elaborate.

Melvin said he thought the city's action in using the $26,500 in principal and interest stashed away for the sewer construction to pay the biggest part of the cost of the $28,500 reassessment cost was illegal and the Council should check with its lawyer. (The Mayor said the council would.)

Melvin also said the city employee operating the sludge spreader "drives like a wild man" and would tear up the equipment.

He was also unhappy with the city's action which resulted in a $600 reduction in the grant to the fire company while it appropriated $11,163 for "that tin bookshop up town that you call a library." He said the city was funding the library at $8.58 per hour while only giving the fire company $.61 an hour, and said the city would be in bad shape if the volunteer fire organization which is on call night and day should quit and force the town to pay for fire protection. (Faced with a $600 a year increase in the rent, the city pays the fire company for the use of town hall, the council in last month's budget action, took the $600 from grant appropriations, leaving the fire company with $5400, instead of $6000.)

Melvin further complained about the reassessment questionnaire the city addressed to him. He said he does not own any city property. It's all in his wife's name. He said he would not answer the questionnaire nor return it. He was also unhappy with the way the city council conducted the October meeting.

On a quieter note, Ronnie Hughes asked that the City Council set a meeting with the fire company to discuss any differences or misunderstandings. The meeting was set for 7-8 p.m. on November 23. Hughes also asked whether there would be some provision to adjust assessment rates as property values change or whether the city would have to return again and again to the expensive reassessment process.

Mayor Mann pointed out that the file system and the training of city employees included the present contract with the assessor will make it possible for the city to keep the assessment current.

Former Mayor Arthur Cahall questioned the decision to use the sewer money to pay the assessors. He also pointed out that in the past years of "deficit budgets" cited by Mayor Mann, the city never actually operated in the red. Fines collected by the police department far in excess of budgeted expectations and in increase in revenue sharing over the anticipated amount took up the slack. Cahall said he would have other budget questions once he talked with his councilman. (Dr. Vincent Lobo).

Financial discussion flared into sometimes angry words between the mayor and council members Gary Harrington and Ray Gagne. The budget recently passed allows for contingency funds in a number of departments to cover unexpected expenses.

Gagne and Mann defended the funds as sound budgeting practice. Harrington questioned the necessity for so many, especially in light of all the tax and fee increases to be foisted upon city residents. He also mentioned the police fines which for the past year or two have been far in excess of what has been anticipated in the budget. These have been used to help pay bills. But the Council acted last month to reserve those excess funds toward future construction of a city hall.

In other business, the City Council agreed with Gary Harrington that it was the city's responsibility to take sewer service to the property line of "Chuck" Asbury who is planning to open a hydraulics shop on U.S. 13 in the Harrington Manor section even if that means the city has to install a grinder pump at its own cost. The council voted to get bids in the project.

-told the Jaycees they will get $900 from the city toward the Christmas parade.

-indicated they would still give the Little League $100. Since that was not budgeted, that would further reduce the fire company appropriation to $5300.

-heard that Paul Tallebaum wants to get rid of nine acres of vacant land near Harrington Meadows and has asked area churches to submit proposals for its use.

Spartan JV booters are in hot pursuit of the ball and the game.

"Doc" Locke "...if it hadn't been for horses and mules...I would never have considered Vet School." Dr. Albert Henry Locke November 1981.

"Doc" Locke - Veterinarian

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
Editor/Publisher

Editors Note: *Dover Downs will open its fall-winter meet on Nov. 19th. Most of the horses which will race there are those brought up on nearby farms. Many of these horses have been treated by the man we are featuring in this year's Dover Downs Special Publication to "The Harrington Journal"...Dr. Albert Henry Locke, a veterinarian for horses and mules.*

It's a long way from Euflala, Alabama where Doc Locke spent his early childhood, but the signs of a good formal upbringing are dominant in his mannerisms today. Doc Locke is a truly fine gentleman with kindness and tremendous respect for others. He grew up like most boys then and now liking baseball as well as other sports. "I guess you can say I am sports-minded, but horses...well...they have always rated a special place with me.

And it hadn't been for horses and mules, I would never have gone to vet school," said Doc Locke. Although he had a special desire to be around horses as a youngster, working around race horses and pattern-harry harness horses was furthest from his wildest dreams. He played to fish as a youngster...and he played another sport, basketball in high school...and very well.

He was able to get the ball through the hoop with pretty good accuracy. Later when he went off to Auburn University to study veterinary medicine, he made the track team "...but I had to give it up. It was interfering with my studies...and I didn't want anything to interfere with them, because I wanted to be a horse doctor in the worst kind of way."

Albert Locke grew up on a small farm outside Euflala, Alabama. His father raised grain, cotton, corn (for the animals and the cash crop of peanuts. He dropped out of high school and went to work with his father on the farm. "It took me about two years to see that farming just wasn't for me. So...I decided to go back to school...and in 1935 at the age of 21, I graduated from Euflala High School." He was old to be a graduating high school senior "...but that didn't matter (in his Alabama accent) because I knew what I wanted to do. I wanted to be a horse doctor in the worst kind of way. He didn't have any money to go to college, but "...my sister Norma (in his southern drawl) lent me $2000. That's how I got to go," added Locke.

Locke enrolled at Auburn University where 5 years later he took a degree in veterinary medicine. "After your freshman year, you could go right into vet school for 4 years". The freshman year at Auburn saw the student come out in Albert Locke. "I guess I spent half my time up there at the clinic (veterinary). There was an old professor up there by the name of Dr. Wolfe. He was a surgeon and was also outstanding as a diagnostician. He was just good in internal medicine," said Locke. Wolfe was to have a profound impact on Locke's career. "I used to go up to the clinic...it was up on Ag Hill at first just to be up there, because that's where I wanted to be. But later...after I met Dr. Wolfe...I found myself looking him up all the time.

He was a great man. If you were interested, he took the time to work with you, said Locke. The next four years, Albert Locke stayed glued to the vet school and Doc Wolfe.

He graduated in 1942, and at the time America was involved in a global war. Veterinarians were in demand "You were either wanted in the army...or go with the government," said Locke. He was selected by the government to serve in the field of public health. "I was practicing in Lineville, Alabama. I guess they figured I was too old to go off and fight. So I got stuck in public health behind a desk--you might say," said Locke.

That selection was to change the life of the proud son of both Auburn University and the State of Alabama. He was sent to Maryland to serve in the field of public health. "When they signed me up, they had a spot on the car that asked where you preferred to be sent. I wrote on there...any damn place you want to send me," added Locke. His pay was $88 every two weeks.

He came to Maryland and served during the war around Baltimore. He was to work on thoroughbreds while there "...but they weren't the horses for me...like the harness horse. The harness horse is the most docile of all horses--their manners are so quiet and easy going."

He met his wife, the former Frelove Sherrill of Sparks, Md. They were married and had two children, Tommy and Patti. "Tommy teaches school in Elkton, and Patti is a partner in a restaurant in Trenton, N.J. I told my wife when we had the children that we would give them first names other than our own. I don't like to name kids after their parents," said Locke.

In July of 1943, the State of Delaware had an opening for an assistant State Veterinarian. "I came over and applied for the job and got it. So we moved and settled in Camden. Again I was doing public health works of testing animals--but I just changed from government to State.

In 1947, Dr. Locke entered private practice. "Harrington Raceway was opening up...and I knew I wanted to be with the horses. It was a break for me. I took the job as assistant veterinarian at the track...and from that I kept going back to the track each day and making calls at the stables. "Right from the start, he was a hit." There weren't too many veterinarians around at the time and what were around really didn't specialize in large animals. "It wasn't long after I started at the track that I realized I didn't know as much as I thought I did. But...there was one thing about it...I learned quickly because of the fact that I was constantly coming in contact with problems...and I got in with the horsemen real fast. The breakthrough was fast. They have always been tremendous to me. We had here the

BROOD MARE OWNERS

Where do you think champions come from? If you have millions of dollars to spend, you can go out and buy one, or if you have $25,000 to $75,000 to spend for stud fees, maybe you can get a booking to a top priced stallion. Experts in breeding say the key to success is - Breed The Best To The Best And Then Hope For A Miracle. So for a little miracle, send your mare that you believe has half the key. We sincerely believe we have the other half. We believe in MIRACLE HANOVER. Don't get shut out. This may be the last year you can get so much for so little.

The neater little heater that doesn't smell like a smudge pot.

The Empire Corcho. It won't fill your home with the odor of burning kerosene. Because the unvented Corcho uses clean, economical LP gas. So it's good to your nose, and kind to your pocketbook. And of course, by using LP gas, you're never faced with dangerous and messy fill-ups.

The Corcho comes in two models and offers selective heating ranging from 3,500 to 15,000 BTU inputs. This means there's a model perfect for your kitchen, den, bathroom, family room - any room. Plus your Corcho heats with almost 100% efficiency and installs easily, either wall mounted or free standing. The choice is yours: kerosene smoke, or the good looking, clean burning Corcho.

Dover Downs 1981-1982 Harness Meet

to Open Sunday November 15, 1981-March 28, 1982

DOVER, DE-Dover Downs Raceway will open its harness racing season Sunday, November 15, 1981 and continue through Sunday, March 28, 1982. Post times are 8 p.m. each Wednesday through Saturday and 1 p.m. on Sundays, Mondays and Tuesday will be dark. Ten races are scheduled for each Wednesday and Thursday and a 12-race card will be the highlight of each Friday and Saturday plus Sunday afternoon.

Headlining the largest list of stall applications in recent years is the stable of Smyrna's Eddie Davis, currently the nation's leading dash winner. Davis was also the leading driver winner and Universal Driver Rating System (UDRS) driver at Dover Downs Raceway last season. Among the largest stables moving on the grounds will be those of Delaware's Preston Burris, Jr. and Tate Lewis with 15 horses each. Stables that have been racing at Harrington (Del.), Pocono (Pa.), Monticello (N.Y.) and New England Raceways have also applied to race at Dover Downs.

In addition to Davis, other top drivers returning should be Wayne Smullin, who surpassed the 1,000 career wins mark last year, Brian Mangas and Vernon Crank. "A marketing program put into effect during last season's harness meet hopefully will expand our area of influence and bring a greater number of people to Dover Downs," said President and General Manager Denis McGlynn. "We already have numerous bus loads of people from Ohio, Connecticut and Virginia who will be visiting Dover Downs as part of our new marketing strategy. We hope to further cultivate these and other markets to bring a new influx of people to the racetrack and Delaware." Post time is 1 p.m. for the Sunday, November 15th 12-race opener.

around it when it comes time to make the decision. By that time, it comes down to the temperament of the horse." But, I said when I was growing up, the horse should never hit a horse. In time it will make him turn on you...in that he will rebel. He will sulk. He won't race well for you. The harness horse wants to be appreciated," said Locke. During this part of the conversation he returned to talk about Adios Harry and Mr. Howard Lyons. Some people have said Mr. Lyons was rough on Harry and mistreated him according to others. Dr. Locke on this said, "not so at all. Mista Lyons was very good to the horse. He made him obey and disciplined the animal. Such takes as beating the horse were totally untrue. Mista Lyons' knowledge of horses enabled him to conquer Adios Harry, and it was only Mista Lyons who made him what he was. I have seen Mista Lyons lay right down in the stall with the horse, but no one else could do it. The horse had as much love and respect for Mista Lyons as Mista Lyons had for the horse—and the other hand, money won't buy speed either. It has nothing really to do with it," added Locke.

On using the whip on a horse, "no...you should never hit a horse. In time it will make him turn on you...in that he will rebel. He will sulk. He won't race well for you. The harness horse wants to be appreciated," said Locke. During this part of the conversation he returned to talk about Adios Harry and Mr. Howard Lyons. Some people have said Mr. Lyons was rough on Harry and mistreated him according to others. Dr. Locke on this said, "not so at all. Mista Lyons was very good to the horse. He made him obey and disciplined the animal. Such takes as beating the horse were totally untrue. Mista Lyons' knowledge of horses enabled him to conquer Adios Harry, and it was only Mista Lyons who made him what he was. horse knew and understood all of this. This is the kind of thing that separates winners from the rest of the field. Adios Harry was taken to his peak, Mista Lyons got the most out of him...even in training where it was nothing for him to work a mile in 2:00. That's the real story," said Dr. Locke.

Dr. Locke came to Harrington in 1947 to work on horses. He had served the horse industry here faithfully for the past 34 years. During these years he has gained a wealth of knowledge on the treatment of the harness horse. He also had an opportunity to know the top horsemen of their time, mainly right here in Harrington. These are some of his observations: Paul Vinyard - he was one of the all time top 10 horsemen, especially when it came to hopple horses. He was also unbeatable in knowing how to treat lameness, and bring a horse around fast and where to get help; Joe Hylan - he was right up there with Vinyard; Eddie Myer - he was the top in the country in my book in training and reining a horse. He made great correspondence between himself and the horse - through the rein. He could take any horse...and I mean any horse...and get the most out of him. Of course he got a lot of it from his family - but he had a lot of natural ability. He could get himself up for every race; Tom Walker - another good reinsman. He could rate a horse about as well as any of them; Ed Kelly (from New Jersey) was one of the top trainers and drivers in his day; Tom Lewis - still slightly active today...was the old professor; and Jim Stokley - exceptional reinsman and one who could get a horse well conditioned. (Doc Locke in reminiscing did not mean to leave anyone out. He was more or less responding to questions from the interviewer.) There have been many outstanding horsemen at Harrington over the past 34 years, who Doc Locke has known and learned to respect.

Dr. Locke has seen many changes and improvements to the harness horse industry over the past 34 years. "The tracks and equipment have made vast improvements. Back in the old days the tracks were hard surfaced for speed whereas today the tracks by and large are responsible for soundness in the horses. Today the tracks have a cushion for speed and soundness. The equipment is better with modified sulks and lighter harness. The old time boys had a lot of fun racing for the trophy...but they didn't have any money at the end of the month. It is a business today."

Dr. Locke has worked at Freehold Raceway, Ocean Downs, Laurel, Rosencroft, Dover, Georgetown and of course Harrington. Working with the harness horse has been to him a fulfillment of a dream.

"For me it has been a dream come true, and the greatest cross section of America shows up at the racetrack. I've met some nice people at the tracks," said the proud son of Auburn University and the State of Alabama.

Woolworth Elected to Hall of Fame

GOSHEN, N.Y.--Norman Woolworth, a world trotting champion Nevele Pride, major owner, breeder, amateur driver and active in harness racing for nearly thirty years, has been elected to the USHWA-Living Hall of Fame at the Hall of Fame of Trotting in Goshen. He will become the 33rd person to be honored by the U.S. Harness Writers' Association in twenty years of halloing. Woolworth will be recognized, first, as the Writers' annual awards dinner to be held next April 18 in Philadelphia. Installation into the Hall of Fame is scheduled in Goshen on Sunday evening, July 4, 1982.

A native of Maine, Woolworth entered harness racing in 1953 when he and his brother Fred purchased a number of standardbreds for the family's Clearview Stable based in Winthrop, Maine. Ten years later he purchased the premier pacing stallion Meadow Skipper who retired with earnings of $428,000 and a record of 1:55 1/5. With his partner David Johnston, Woolworth established Stoner Creek Stud as a Standardbred nursery in 1964. The farm also stands the former

Rambling Willie Survives Surgery

COLUMBUS, Ohio--Rambling Willie, one of the most durable harness horses ever, and certainly among the all-time greats, underwent emergency surgery in China, Ca. on October 21 to correct a twisted intestine, a condition fatal to approximately 50% of the horses afflicted. The 11-year-old gelding, a lifetime winner of 117 races and $1,951,877, survived the operation, although at the present time his condition is listed as "guarded". The horse was up and walking the next morning. Each day that passes increases his chances of a full recovery. The operation (a laparotomy) was performed by Dr. Robert Baker at the China Valley Equine Hospital in China, Ca. at 8 p.m. pacific time October 21. Rambling

Willie was undergoing treatment for what was thought to be symptoms of colic prior to the operation. Neither owners Mrs. Vivian Farrington and Paul Seibert, both of Ohio, nor Robert Farrington, Willie's trainer, were in California at the time. Assistant trainer Bobby Gordon is credited with the quick action and decision to send the gelding to China.

Reportedly, recuperation from the operation will entail four to six weeks of complete rest, sending Rambling Willie to the sidelines with earnings this year of under $100,000.

The true horse, or Equus, developed during the Ice Age.

THE GABLE ROOF

The gable roof is, by far, the most widely-accepted design. With proper insulation and ventilation, this design becomes a favorite with the large commercial boarding stables, large animal clinics, veterinarians, breeding barns.

Standard covered alley is 12'. Also available in 16' widths.

THE TRAINER'S BARN

An absolute favorite design with horse trainers. The ability to utilize a large number of units in a small area is an outstanding feature. This double Breezeway design was chosen by Rosecroft Raceway in Oxon Hill, Maryland.

Pereira Arabian Center Scottsdale, Arizona

This equestrian center was designed, engineered and erected in less than 150 days. The Sole pre-engineered arena measures 140' x 300' x 24' eave height. The 50 unit Port-A-Stall barn is the trainers barn design.

Jonahell Farms, Lexington, Kentucky.

Panels are 7' high, available in 10' or 12' lengths. Bottom section is laminated both sides with galvanized sheet metal. Top half is square steel tubing, 4' x 7' door on front gate panel.

Meadowlands Sports Complex, New Jersey

Eastern Skipper USTA Tops for Oct.

COLUMBUS, Ohio—The U.S. Trotting Assn. has named Eastern Skipper the top standardbred performer for October. The 3-year-old colt won four of five races and $75,323 last month for trainer-driver Herve Filion and his Capital Hill Farms, Inc. of Englishtown, N.J.

The Bye Bye Byrd offspring, who has won $427,774 in a long campaign which includes 30 races and 11 wins in 1981, stamped himself as one of harness racing's most durable pacers by winning a $93,000 Open Handicap at Yonkers and the $40,000 James P. Clark Memorial at Liberty Bell Park on consecutive nights. Eastern Skipper also captured a Pa. Sire Stake at The Meadows in October. Fillet of Sole, also a 3-year-old, finished as the runner-up in the October tally. The daughter of Bonetish won the Kentucky Futurity, third leg of the trotting triple crown, and the Holly Lane Farm Stake at The Red Mile in Lexington. She is owned by the Clearview Stables of New Canaan, Ct., and is trained by Stanley Dancer. Fillet of Sole captured four of the five races she competed in last month.

Also worthy of mention is Mergem, a 2-year-old pacing colt sired by Albarross. Mergem lowered the world record for his age and gait by winning the opening dash of the Meadow Lands Stake, also at The Red Mile, in 1:53.4. The John Campbell-driven pacer won the second heat of the stake in 1:55 to establish a record for two heats in the Meadow Lands, his only race last month.
