Biden holds "Town Meeting" in Felton

Senator Joe Biden seemed both at home and on stage Monday night as he held a "Town Meeting" in Felton. The "Town Meeting", an institution Biden has made his own, took place in the Lake Forest North Elementary cafeteria. One of a number of such meetings he will conduct up and down the state this year, the Felton edition attracted well over 75 people.

Setting one simple ground rule - one question to a customer until the customers run out (they didn't), Biden insisted he was there to listen and to answer questions, not to make a speech. However, he was heard at length as he responded in detail to a steady stream of questions.

Biden seemed at ease as he fielded those questions, moving from behind the podium into the audience or pausing to scoop up a wandering youngster as he talked.

Proposals for a nuclear arms freeze, the fate of Social Security, the Falklands and U.S. policy in Latin America, budget cuts affecting student grants and loans, and the tax system were among the major concerns expressed:

Nuclear Arms Freeze

The nuclear arms question, said Biden, is "...the single most important issue facing mankind."

The first question directed to him during the evening concerned his stand on proposals for a nuclear arms freeze that have garnered numbers of signatures in Delaware and across the country.

Biden is "...very supportive of the intent" of the proposals which he says are a "totally spontaneous development...not born of any ideology", but an example of "...people leading leaders", rather than otherwise.

He said there is a need for "mutual and verifiable" arms reduction by the U.S. and the Soviet Union. But the U.S. should not act unilaterally or on the basis of blind trust.

He favors ratification of the SALT agreements calling for a 10 percent reduction in nuclear weapons stockpiles. But if ratification fails, he would support a freeze provided action was bound by the SALT language.

He does not think the President's arms proposals labeled START have much chance of succeeding with the other side. He credits the citizen people can take any more..." or cutting benefits ("How can you cut a standard of living that is already minimal?").

He favors gradual change in the method of determining eligibility. By 2000, he suggests, the average life expectancy should be 85. Social Security, he said, was never intended to be a system from which people would collect for 20 years. He supports a gradual increase from 65 to 70 of the minimum age at which a person can retire with full benefits. The increase could be accomplished over a 10 year period, say from 1995 to 2005. In 1995, he said, there will be a need for additional older persons in a diminishing work force.

On other Social Security questions Biden said:

-Proposals such as one to replace Social Security with an annuity system controlled by the states would create "...50 different fiefdoms" in which the elderly in a poor state would fare far worse than those in a rich one.

-A purely voluntary system would find some people so strapped that they would choose meeting immediate needs over contributing. Twenty years later they might be on welfare rolls.

-Supplementary Social Security benefits, which some fear are depleting the trust fund, are misnamed. These additional payments to the elderly poor do not come out of the Social Security fund, but are administered through it. Although they are separate accounts, Social Security and the general budget were lumped together in a paper ploy by first a Democratic and later a Republican administration anxious to cover increasing expenditures for the unpopular Viet Nam War. On paper, Social Security surpluses helped conceal some of the burgeoning federal deficit.

Falklands & Latin American Policy

Biden was asked why the Senate, in the present British/Argentinian confrontation over the Falklands, stood by and let President Reagan and Secretary of State Haig renege on our mutual defense treaty (the Rio Treaty) with Latin America.

Biden said: -The Falklands, a disputed territory controlled by the British, were not covered by the treaty which pledges the various parties to come to the aid of any member which is attacked.

Student Loans & Grants

Biden described efforts to cut the federal budget by reducing or eliminating low interest loans and outright grants to college students as "...a very, very, very shortsighted saving" and one that is "...not a wise investment for us to make." He would favor legislation to crack down on those who abuse the system as opposed to eliminating the funding. Federal cuts he said would mean that some 250,000 students would not be able to go on through school. College costs, he said have risen from around $395 per semester when he was as student at the University of Delaware, to $4,000 per year for state supported colleges, $7,000 for private schools and $11,000 for prestigious institutions such as Harvard and Yale. By contrast, the wages a student can earn on parttime and summer jobs have only increased by about a dollar an hour.

Revamp Tax System

The senator said the graduated income tax, designed to insure that people who are able pay a proportionately greater share of taxes does not work. What he called the "effective tax rate", with all loopholes applied, leaves smaller corporations struggling with a 49 percent tax while much larger ones are only actually paying 7 1/2 percent. Those with incomes in excess of $250,000, who are supposedly paying 50 percent, actually pay only 7 to 10. There is more interest he said in reforming the system perhaps with a straight gross income tax rate no higher than 17 percent for higher income brackets and 6 1/2 percent for those in the middle range (low 30s). Most, if not all deductions might be eliminated. He did not think this is likely to be adopted in the near future, but suggested a "sunset" approach for tax loopholes that have become a part of the system. They should be examined over a period of years and those that cannot be justified, eliminated.

Other Issues

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wheeler, Sr.

-Not to be forgotten-

As Americans approach Memorial Day, some will think only of the long holiday weekend ahead. Others will pause to remember those who have served in the nation's armed forces, often giving their lives in wars at home and abroad. One who is not likely to forget is Al Wheeler of Felton. Though he may spend a quiet holiday, he will remember his early years of service. Mr. Wheeler, 83, is a World War I veteran who was one of the first 800 young men to enlist when the call went out in 1917. His name along with the rest of that honor roll of volunteers is inscribed on a bronze plaque in the state house in Annapolis.

At eighteen, the young Wheeler decided that his job as fireman on a stationary boiler in a factory was just too staid and dull. He escaped by enlisting in the Navy on April 1, 1917. Somewhat later he shipped out aboard the Oklahoma, not to return to the states until after the Armistice.

The ship's first port of call and harbor for most of the war was Bantry Bay on the coast of Ireland. However, Mr. Wheeler recalls the ship once left the area to meet and escort another bearing President Woodrow Wilson. The Oklahoma accompanied the President's ship to Brest, France and later went on to Weymouth, England where the Oklahoma was stationed when news of the Armistice arrived. Wheeler remembers his initial reaction "What the heck is the Armistice?"

The Oklahoma arrived back in New York the day before Christmas 1918. But the men were not allowed to go ashore until the day afterward. Excitement over the Armistice was running too high. When they did get leave, it was for a ticker-tape parade through the city and 30 days at home.

The closest the Oklahoma came to combat in the war says Mr. Wheeler, was the time there was a report of a German ship in the area. They were ordered to strip the decks throwing anything that might be hit by a shell overboard. That included the lifeboats and no German ship ever showed.

The only real casualties were inflicted by the flu which took lives of 1800 men aboard the Oklahoma. Wheeler remembers that "sick bay" was the open top deck of the ship with a mattress on the bare boards and the stars for cover. Not bad, if you were camping out, but a little hard on the ill. The only medicine offered was a shot glass of whiskey.

Less serious were bouts of seasickness in stormy weather. Wheeler was one of the lucky ones not affected. He remembers the healthy got to break open a barrel of sour pickles. The seasick just got sick.

Life aboard ship and in part was rather quiet. Bantry Bay was a small town of whitewashed, straw thatched cottages. About the only entertainment available was renting a small donkey cart and driving about the country side.

Mr. Wheeler also remembers lowering a life boat to go to the aid of some friends whose small boat had overturned. When they finally put ashore, six soaked sailors were taken in by an Irish woman who provided them with clothes while theirs were hung out to dry.

The only trouble was that it was his lot to inherit the lady's dress to wear. And all that was before modern clothes dryers made the process speedy.

The end of the War brought the end of Wheeler's military experience. But he says the unsathed Oklahoma went on to the Pacific where it was sunk at Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941.

Back home Wheeler had a wartime sweetheart and bride waiting for him. He and 16 year old Marie McAllister had eloped on February 23, 1933 before he set sail from Philadelphia. Her father violently opposed the union and there were those who said it wouldn't last. But lifetime companions, Marie and Al, will celebrate their 65th wedding anniversary in 1983.

Settling down to civilian life Wheeler became a boiler-maker with the B & O Railroad in his home city, Baltimore. Later they moved to Philadelphia where he subsequently went to work for Conner Construction Company. When he retired 42 years later, they were living in New Jersey, but they had friends who had moved to Felton, Delaware. The Al Wheelers joined them, building their retirement home here. They have been a part of the community for the past 17 years.

Not one to take retirement lying down, Al Wheeler has kept active with a long-time hobby raising and training rabbit begles and showing them in field trials. He has a case and a closet full of trophies as well as boxes and boxes of ribbons to show for it.

Included in his personal hall of fame are "Wheeler's Ace" a field champion beagle, and another "Berrytown Gale [see page two] who may soon achieve that status.

The Wheelers have two grown sons, Albert, Jr. of Philadelphia and Robert of Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

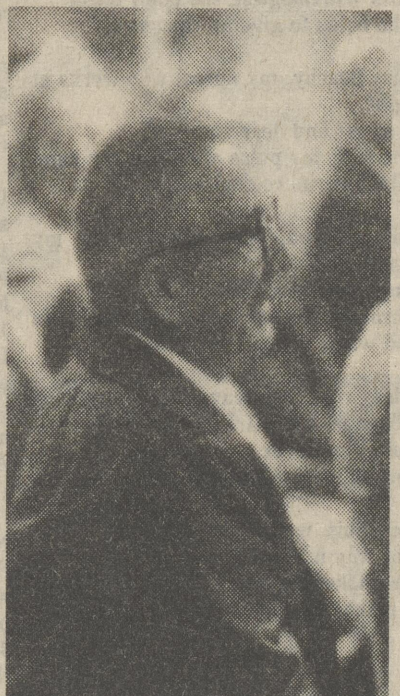

At home near Felton, their dog family includes 9 beagles, one of whom just gave birth to six more puppies. Looks like one veteran beagle trainer has another group of youngsters to bring up.

IN FELTON--Senator Joe Biden meets constituents of varying ages.

Social Security

A number of questions reflected local concern over the nationwide fear for the solvency and the future of Social Security.

Opposing any major changes in the benefit structure at this time, Biden said he sees no need for trimming the Social Security program by 40 billion dollars (as was recently proposed) or for cutting the cost of living allowance (COLA).

He charged that half of those who would tinker with Social Security want to do so for "macro-economic reasons of budget balancing", cutting down a projected 1983 federal deficit of 115.9 billion dollars. Cuts in "exotic military expenditures" or in a tax cut described as "inequitable" might be better ways to balance the budget, he said.

Others, Biden said, are concerned with making the Social Security System itself "...more secure and solvent." According to Biden, the problem is that there are "...fewer of us than there are of my dad's generation," i.e. there are more people taking out of the system than there are paying in. By the 1990s, declining birth rates after the post World War II baby boom combined with increasing life expectancy will make the problem more acute.

Biden opposes either increasing payroll taxes (I don't think that young

-The Argentines are the aggressors and the British are right on principle, but the Falkland confrontation is an "...awfully damn stupid war". He said he told the British Ambassador Henderson in a meeting last Friday that he does not believe the American people will continue to support Great Britain if she continues to act on such a bull-headed principle" as the "naive" insistence that the fate of the Falklands should be decided by the 1800 (British) residents. He compared that to saying the settlers in the Sinai peninsula should have decided whether Israel should have pulled out. Biden told Ambassador Henderson Britain should "...win quickly, or negotiate shortly."

-Biden shared the concern expressed over the effect of the Falkland crisis on our relations with our South American neighbors. But he said Russia is not in a position to take advantage of this situation as easily as she might be elsewhere in the world.

In answer to one question Biden said he would not support sending additional arms to countries (Guatemala, El Salvador etc. that violate human rights. But he said, national security factors rather than human rights are the overriding concern. Human rights should be a part of, but not the "...controlling element in our foreign policy". He pointed out that the U.S. in the past has found it necessary for security reasons to cooperate with nations which violated human rights (as with Stalin's Russia against Hitler in World War II).

He still sees some hope the House will vote in the opposite direction. The C5, he says, is a superior plane for airlifting big equipment.

-He favors contracting out government jobs when it is economically feasible to do so, but not when someone else must be paid to come in and do the job that government employees already on the rolls are capable of handling.

-he voted against and did not take a $19,000 tax break for senators. Biden paid $4,000 in additional taxes rather than take the break which would have garnered him a $6,000 return. It hurt, he said, but he would do it again.

At a recent meeting of the Kent County Auxiliary to the Easter Seal Society of Del-Mar, it was learned that more than $8,000 was collected in Kent County this year through the Skate-athon, Favorite Bartender Contest, Coffee Day, coin containers, promotions by Safeway, collections of 4-H Clubs and Boy Scouts. We extend thanks to everyone who made this possible. Money raised will be used to continue our direct services to crippled children and adults here in Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland. Anyone desirous of donating to Easter Seals can mail a check to P.O. Box 542, Dover, De 19901. We still need boys, age 16 or over, for counselors at our summer camp, Fairlee Manor, Md. 3 Denton residents hurt in pickup crash

Three people from Denton Maryland were seriously injured, one of them fatally, when their pickup truck ran off the roadway and overturned on County Route 113, 6 miles west of Harrington, Tuesday, May 18th at 4:20 p.m.

Delaware State Police Investigators from Troop 3 in Camden advise that the pickup truck was north bound on on Cty. Rte. 113 when for an undetermined reason the truck ran off the roadway into a culvert on the roadside, overturned and came to rest back on its wheels.

Rescue equipment and ambulances from the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company responded to the scene of the accident and the vehicle's three occupants were relayed to Milford Memorial Hospital.

The three injured people are JoAnn McCann, 35, of R.D. 2, Denton, Md., who was later transferred from Milford Memorial Hospital by Delaware State Police Helicopter to the Delaware Division with serious head injuries. First listed in critical condition, she died on Saturday as a result of her injuries.

Tull, 20, also of R.D. 2, Denton, Md., who was treated and released at Milford Memorial Hospital for lacerations, abrasions, and contusions.

Delaware State Police Investigators are still attempting to determine which of the injured was driving the vehicle at the time the accident occurred and advise that drink was a contributing factor in the accident.

None of the three people injured in the accident were wearing a seatbelt at the time the accident occurred.

Reminiscences of Our Harrington Heritage by Amelia D. McSweeney, R.N.

Part III of III

Since I started this March, I've had a long delay - illness in family. I needed an ambulance and within twenty minutes my loved one was on his way to M.M. Hospital - thanks to the Harrington Volunteer Fire Co. Ambulance Squad. We are also blessed to have a good M.D., Dr. Buendia. He has compassion and is a friend to our Senior Citizens.

My husband and I cannot praise the hospital personnel enough. When he was discharged and back home, he talked for a half hour about how kind everyone was to him. He was a patient on Two West and everyone was professional, kind and caring. Following is a poem written about your local nurses 50 years ago.

AN ODE TO THE NURSES OF EMERGENCY HOSPITAL Year 1932

One day while resting in my room, a thought came cross my mind. A thought of all the "Docs and "Nurses" who've treated me so kind.

Each one is such a loving pal, who does the best he can, to lead me on the road to health with all their helping hands.

Their smiles bring happiness to me throughout each suffering pain; and when they come to bid good morn I feel like raising Cain.

Miss Hill, the Nurse who guides them all, has eyes whic charm me through. She makes me laugh and feel so gay; I'm never, never blue.

Miss Brunk, who helps throughout the day, has charm I can't express. She brings my mail in at the door which keeps me from distress.

The one I think so sweet and gentle, is the one who helps the "doc." Miss Worthington, the one I mean who helps to give all the shocks.

Miss Beachy, my nurse, who works at night, is sweet and dear and nice. She feels my pulse and holds my hand till chills run cold as ice.

Miss Joseph, who comes from my hometown, has given me relief. Through all my nights of suffering pain and wipes my tears of grief.

Miss Cross, who leaves me pretty soon will cause me tears and pain. But I can never, never forget her help to me through pain.

McGinnis, well she tickles me. Her way is quiet and spry. She makes me laugh so long and hard. It makes me almost cry.

A cute hair cut and southern talk which makes me want her near-- expresses to you, dear Miss Vaughn, a nurse who helps to cheer.

Now one I call Timmy, Timmy with pretty wavy hair, she waits on me in her spare time, I just can't help but care.

I laugh and laugh through all the day, but when one opens the door and Stubbs walks in behind a nurse, I go into a roar.

Miss Quillen rubs my back the best and talks about my cow. I'd like to tell just what I think of her in one three wov.

A cunning smile and gentle ways, her teeth are sparkling white. Miss Erickson assists me much throughout the lonely night.

A dear one and a desirable choice is a woman, sweet and dear. When the room is lightened with a smile I know Miss Farber's near.

Rosy cheeks and dark black hair have got me in a gripe, for Miss Donovan, a pretty nurse, will always guide me right.

Miss Schwartz is one who is so gay. In all she says and does. She holds my hand when in distress, and warned me not to cuss.

Now all these nurses, one and all. I love with all my heart. And when I leave old Milford E. from them I'll never part.

To take advice when you're ill just drop in Milford, Del. And all the nurses, sweet and dear, will help to make you well.

Irene Holloway Laurel, Del. Gee, it makes me realize that it's later than I think. Miss Brunk, Miss Worthington, Miss Beachy, Miss Vaughn and Timmy (Miss Kimmey) have all passed away. The following have retired from nursing.

Miss Joseph (Mrs. Chuck Hammond) Milford School Nurse for several years. Miss Cross (Mrs. Lester Jefferson) is still helping all her neighbors and friends. She and grandfather are enjoying their three grandchildren.

Miss McGinnis (Mrs. Francis Thomas) and her husband live in Maryland, Md. Miss Erickson (Mrs. Evalina Parsons) retired from the staff of M.M. Hospital after several years of nursing. She is active in her church and enjoys her comfortable home.

Yours truly, Miss Donovan (Mrs. Daniel McSweeney) was the rolling stone. Nursing, especially Staff, was apart of my life. I wouldn't stay any longer than 5 years in any one place. I helped open the Recovery Ward in 1947 at St. Anne's Hospital in Chicago, Ill. We had 375 beds. I was Head Nurse of that Department.

I loved horseback riding in the mountains and especially along the Atlantic Coast. You'd be surprised who I've met on the Trails.

I've traveled a lot by plane. One November day I was going from Philadelphia to Buffalo, New York. The weather was almost too bad for the plane to take off. We went up around 34 thousand feet - flying above cloud three. The heavens were beautiful. I was born without fear but from that day forward, I've appreciated a good gail of wind. We have to have the wind, the heavens are so far up - our spirit would never enter St. Peter's Door.

I've had a wonderful life. It's a shame more people don't enjoy life while they can.

STACEY LYNN MOFFETT

Stacey Moffett named to U.S. Achievement Academy

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that Stacey Lynn Moffett has been named a 1982 United States National Award winner in Cheerleading.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 5% of all American high school students.

Stacey Moffett, who attends Lake Forest High School was nominated for this National award by Denise Coates, a cheerleading advisor at the school. Stacey Moffett will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

Stacey is the daughter of M. Edward and Doris Moffett. The grandparents are Helen D. Dyer of Harrington, Del. and Michael & Grace Moffett of Smyrna, Del.

The W.T. Chipman Junior Band, which appeared in the Harrington Little League Parade, recently took first place honors in an Ocean City parade. The Chipman flag unit also won a trophy for the best in the parade.

Cub Scout Pack 141 of Felton with their Cubmaster, W. Ronald Stumpf, Webelos, Fred Biggs and Bill Garton, Pam Furr, Jessie Lokey, Den Leaders, escorted the Pack on a planned trip to Fort Delaware, Pea Patch Island. There were 42 persons in the group leaving from Felton, car pooling. On leaving the Fort, they visited Curletts Fossil Museum, just outside of Delaware City, a nice museum, no admission and including a nice gift shop. Moving on their trip they drove to Augustine Beach, to look across the Delaware toward Salem, N.J., and had a good view of the Nuclear Power Plant. A very interesting and educating trip for everyone.

Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding, 5th Proverbs.

In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths. 6th Proverbs.

Reverend Brame of M.E. Church on Mispillion St., Harrington, was leader of Bible Study Monday morning at the Center. Those present were lead in prayer by Reverend Brame. After a very joyous hour, the folks departed unto the Center. Those there were Sylvia and Cecil Meredith, Amy Poynter, Ethel Holden, Mildred Vincent, Francis Wright, Thelma Legates, Elwood Morris, Tony Perrone, Catherine Donovan, Bertha Dean, John McCready, Laurance Kates, Marion Brown, Florence Minner, Mary Sapp, Mamie Adams, Jo Burke, Roxanne Brown, Anna Mae Short, Annabel Morrow and Gladys Hill.

My, oh, my, it was nice seeing Ina back from Florida. Know Sylvia is glad to have some one do the Jolly Timers as she does "Senior Sounds" every Wednesday.

The kitchen band is an asset to the Center and a joy to be a part of.

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

The poet says, "The air is rife with bird and bee", and this is certainly so. The menfolk in our small community who are gardeners, (and most of them are) have much to discuss with each other in this growing season, wherever they meet, after church, on the streets, or in a meeting. The conversation becomes "How are your tomatoes doing?" "Did you plant enough onions?" "Our peas are already in blossom?" "What spray are you using on your roses?" "Did your chrysanthemums winterkill?" So we share a common interest in the return of earth's bounty.

We are also sharing our animal and bird stories. A friend called yesterday to tell me about watching a blue jay in her yard. She had thrown our some food scraps and while the bird was eating them he spied a cat in the yard. He immediately attacked the cat, swooping down on him from time to time and the poor cat was just hunched up taking it, apparently afraid to run. Our yellow cat, "Morris" was very much afraid of the birds and many times I've seen him streaking across the yard to the house with a mockingbird or a barn swallow diving down on him and actually pulling out a bit of fur.

Another friend tells me about having to hoe her garden with the kildeers scuttling around her feet and playing "injured" to evidently coax her away from a nearby nest. Garith has discovered a bird's nest in

If you have a chocolate person in your family and you would like to give him a real treat, this recipe is for you. It is rich and delicious and just the thing for a chocolate person's birthday cake. Just one word of warning, be prepared to make it often. Once your chocolate person tastes it, you will not have one minute's peace until you make it again. The cake will keep well tightly covered for several days, not that storage is likely to be a problem as I am sure it will disappear very quickly. Try to let the cake rest one day between baking and serving. I find this greatly improves the flavor and gives the cake a chance to mellow.

SOUR CREAM CHOCOLATE CAKE

1. Combine and melt 3 squares of baking chocolate with 1/2 cup double-strength coffee beverage. Blend thoroughly and set aside to cool.
2. Sift together and set aside 2 cups sifted CAKE flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt.
3. Combine 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1 cup sour cream and 2 1/2 teaspoons vanilla extract.
4. Add in thirds, beating thoroughly after each addition, 2 eggs well beaten.
5. Add chocolate mixture and mix well.
6. Add dry ingredients in thirds, beating only till batter is smooth after each addition, then beat till smooth after all ingredients are added. (do not overbeat).
7. Turn batter into well greased and floured 8" cake pans.
8. Bake at 350° 35 minutes or till cake tests done.
9. Allow cakes to cool in pans 10 minutes, then remove to wire rack. Do not ice till completely cool.

VELVET FROSTING

1. Melt together and stir till smooth 4 squares of baking chocolate and 3 tablespoons butter.
1. Remove from heat and add 2 1/4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract and up to 1/2 cup of milk or cream. Add milk a little at a time till you have the consistency you want. Too much milk will result in a runny frosting.
3. Beat until spreading consistency. ENJOY!

Partaking in the hour was John McCready, Lillie McBride, Mamie Adams, Cecil Meredith, Florence Minner, Sylvia Meredith, Andy Anderson, Tony Perrone, Jo Burke, Annabel Morrow, Roxanne Brown, Laurance Kates, Elwood Morris and Mildred Vincent.

It was the last month for vases as far as birthdays at the Center go. What is next, you will have to come and see! May's party was a nice affair - Dave McCracken presented a movie on Florida. It was lovely!

Bowling, pool, checkers, bingo, puzzles, bridge, TV, friends, you name it we have it and it is nice at the Center. Most everyday someone brings beautiful flowers from their yard for everyone to enjoy. And believe me, you miss half the fun if you are not here. Take the meals for instance. Know I would love to see you.

Over forth folks went on a Mystery Trip Friday. Know they will have a lot to say when they get back. Charlotte always makes that trip an exceptionally good trip and the folks have always been well pleased. Tell you about it next week. Thanks All Volunteers!

Be kind to each other. Best wishes to all. Hi to all of you out-of-towners. Now listen, honey, come on in and see us. Love you! Faith.

the top of the gas tank. She is just tall enough to observe. When she taps gently on the tank, five baby heads come up and five little mouths open, thinking Mama Bird has returned with a bit of lunch. Garith stands in awe and wonder. This look on the face of a little child is a beautiful thing.

Ellen told me this morning about the small rabbits playing in a vacant lot across the street from her home. She says they take no notice of the heavy traffic. The pine tree by their porch is always full of blue jays and robins and she has seen a red-headed woodpecker also.

I brought in the first two deep pink peonies this morning. I like all flowers, but these are not really my favorites.. not to be compared with Shasta daisies! But, to each his own. The iris are gorgeous and in full bloom, but I do not find them satisfactory for cut flowers, unless you just use them that day for a table arrangement. You have to remember a mat under them, too, because they usually "bleed" color and drip.

We bought a new rose this year and the picture shows it to be a deep red with a creamy white center. I am watching the bud with much interest. It would seem, at this stage, that the outside is going to be the creamy white and the center, red. Nature will have its way.

As I write this, the storm clouds are gathering overhead, and I keep listening for that welcome sound of the soft spring rain.

It's time for Washington to get its act together

AMERICA'S BANKERS SHARE YOUR CONCERN ABOUT THE FUTURE!

Everyday we talk with the farmers and small businessmen who are struggling to cope with the double impact of economic recession and high interest rates. We also see the far reaching consequences of the disasters within industries such as housing and auto affecting every neighborhood and community in this nation. We feel enough is enough.

IT'S TIME TO PUT PARTISAN POLITICS ASIDE!

We have reached a crisis state, and America's bankers are appealing to both Congress and the White House to put partisan politics aside and reach a compromise that will put us on the road to recovery. We are certain that interest rates can't come down until a credible budget program is adopted.

To be realistic, such a program must at least include these three things:

1. A significant downward trend in the ratio of government spending to gross national product.
2. A significant downward trend in the absolute dollar level of the budget deficit.
3. Clear evidence that the Congress and the Administration are willing to make hard choices on expenditures (and taxes, if necessary).

BECOME INVOLVED!

We've let you know how we feel, and now we urge you to write your Senators and Representatives to let them know that you expect them to achieve a workable compromise, immediately.

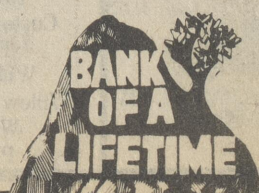

Our bank has a longstanding commitment to this community and the sooner Washington puts the economy on the road to recovery, the sooner we can provide credit at affordable rates, and help our friends and neighbors work for a prosperous tomorrow.

CFO Summer Camp planned for June 13-19

Delaware Valley CFO, one of over 125 camps in existence will be holding their 17th Annual Summer Camp at St. Joseph Center for Prayer in Clayton, Del., June 13-19.

Through prayer, talks, music, creativity in several fields and the rich companionship with one another, the CFOer during this week of Kingdom living learns to place his or her life under the leadership and control of God.

CFO stands for Camps Farthest Out, an international, interdenominational and interracial Christian Fellowship which grew out of a dream more than 50 years ago.

The camp program is designed to develop the total personality of the camper. There are periods of active participation and periods of creative rest.

The campers have time to meditate and digest the great truths and make them a part of their daily living.

During this week of Kingdom living, the campers can expect to receive new insights, courage and wisdom to face problems, a deeper faith in God, a closer walk with Jesus, a soul scrubbed clean, forgiven and renewed and the realization that God loves even them.

Speaking leader for this summer's camp is Tommy Lewis. Tommy serves as leader in many Christian retreats in the U.S. and Canada. His teaching is quite different from anything else we've heard.

dom. His terminology is different, welcome, refreshing...letting the age-old truths shine through, coming up with some of the most profound yet easy to understand theological insights and with it all, he has a hilariously good time.

Born into a family of 9, he worked as a bicycle mechanic for 18 years. Tommy met Jesus in a Baptist Church at age 13 where he later taught Sunday School.

Later he organized and preached in an independent church and now counsels and teaches at Vernon Hall Mission which he opened and directed in 1968.

Other leaders include Gene Pehovic in song; Lottie Deuble, Esther Clark, and Bettylou Bargo, Creatives; Bob Bargo, Devotion in Motion; Connie Schuler, Youth and Doris Bailey, Prayer Hostess.

Akins, Burton, Clarke, Gibbs are state champs

by Keith S. Burgess

Angie Akins, Sharon Burton, Caritha Clarke and Karen Gibbs, the ABC's of the Lake Forest Spartans girls' track team were each state champions, as the locals finished second to the powerful Howard Wildcats, of Wilmington, in Saturday's state championship meet, held at Dover High.

Howard amassed 150 points, while the Spartans 88 points, almost doubled the 45 points tallied by third-place Woodbridge. Since Howard is a vocational school, they can draw pupils from a large area, much like a private school. With much of Wilmington's best talent available to them, it may be some time before any small public school can hope to cope with them.

Lake Forest's young team was outstanding and for the second straight year gave Howard its best competition.

Angie Akins hurled the iron ball 35 feet, 7 inches to win the event and improve her Lake Forest school record. She is only a sophomore as are both Burton and Clarke. Only Gibbs, a senior, will not be back of the state champion quartet.

Sharon Burton, the new discus kingpin and Clarke the triple jump titlist, are two more fine athletes, who like Akins, have been consistent all spring and have scored a ton of points for the Spartans. These four girls were key figures in the Spartans march, to the Henlopen Conference dual-meet title.

Gibbs, who began her track experience, in the eighth grade, won her state long jump title, on her final jump. Gibbs also was second in the high jump, with Lake Forest freshman, Pattie Drew, finishing third. Drew cleared the same height, 4 feet, 10 inches, as did Gibbs but had more misses on the way up. Sharon Burton also placed fourth in the shot put.

Joanne Smith, the excellent freshman sprinter-jumper had a most productive evening. Joann, who is Spartan record holder in both the 100 meter dash and the long jump, placed in both. She was second, in the 100 meters and fourth in the long jump. Smith, Carolyn Browne, another excellent freshman speedster, Patti Drew and Sheri Durant were third, in the 400 meter relay. Only Durant, a sophomore, is above the ninth grade on this event.

Spartans sixth in state boys track

by Keith S. Burgess

Lake Forest's boys track team finished sixth, in the Division II state track finals held in the rain at Dover High on Saturday.

Tony Scott led the Spartans with a second place, in the triple jump and a fifth, in the 300 meter intermediate hurdles. Kevin Smith was third, in the triple jump, behind Scott, as the old hop, skip and jump yielded a lot of points to the Spartans.

Rob Prutzman was fifth, in the discus and fourth in the shotput, with a throw of 48 feet, 1 inch, in the latter. Prutzman, a sophomore, set school records, in both weight events this spring.

Gerald "Peanut" Perry was fourth in the 100 meters and fifth, in the 200 meters, then anchored the 400 meter relay to a fourth place finish. James Browne, Andy LaSalle and Ray De-Shields ran with Perry, on that relay quartet.

Jerome Scott, a sophomore, was fourth in the 110 meter high hurdles, in 15.2 seconds, just one-tenth of a second out of second place.

Jerome, Manny Hernandez, Nelson Mosley and Sheldon Powell were fifth, in the 1600 meter relay.

The Spartan boys had another good year, broke ten school records and will return a good nucleus for the 1983 campaign.

A monthly selection from the Lake Forest Elementary Schools

Space Saucer X2000 touches down

"Read all about it!"

Reginald Radcliffe [Paul Voshell] is just the sort of fellow who could invent a time machine that really works.

Space Saucer X2000, lured to earth by a fantastic time machine, made a successful landing in Felton early in May. The futuristic craft was actually the vehicle that brought one more spring musical to the stage at Lake Forest North Elementary School. Performances were on May 6 and 7.

The Dance/Drama Club, the 5th and 6th Grade Glee Clubs, students in the third and fourth grades and members of the Lake Forest North faculty combined to do the production.

The story line on which the musical was threaded began in the special science project classroom of Professor Fussbudget (Frederick Biggs) where super bright Reginald Radcliffe (Paul Voshell) had designed a time machine that really worked. Reginald was left to demonstrate the machine to Kathy Cummings (Michelle Craig), Linda Roberts (Lisa Price), Sarah Lemon (Tanya Kemp), Hap Riley (David Chambers) and the rest of the class.

At that point, the musical took off through several decades of song and dance: the 1840s, the 1890s, the 1920s, the 1960s, the present and the future.

North third graders went to the 1840s to bring back such really olden goldies as "Polly Wolly Doodle", "Billy Boy", "She'll Be Comin' Round the Mountain" and "I've Been Workin' on the Railroad".

Bringing in the "good old 1890s," the fourth graders shook the hand of the man who shook the hand of "John L. Sullivan", went rolling along with the "Cycling Song", demonstrated for the "Petticoat Vote" and, Horatio Alger fashion, climbed "The Ladder of Success".

Touching down in the 1920s, Missy Hughes, Christine Trzepacz, Tina Kalou-sek, Kelly Rawding, Kitty Jones, Angie Stump and Jinny Crouch did the Charleston.

In the '60s, Kelly Cord, Crystal Sinegar, Lisa Price, Angie Stump, Jinny Crouch, Jimmy Richardson, Keith Thompson, Tina Kalousek, Jay Knolls, Jerry Brown, Denise Gregory and April Knight danced to a "Beatles Medley".

Missy Huges, Tanya Kemp, Vicky Swain, Kim Voshell and Kelly Rawding did an acrobatic dance routine to "Fame".

The modern song and dance was all for the benefit of three visitors from the future who arrived in Space Saucer X2000 which landed on the North playground during the production. The three - Gaylo (Sheva Batton), Thoron (Kevin Carter) and Ikton (Suppoch Gray) were so entranced by earth music that they did their own number to "Rapture". "Hooked on Classics" brought teachers Nancy Campbell, Rae Ann Redman, Delores Blocker, Terry Gough, Mary Jean Mason, Ed Gabrielson, June Ward, Gloria VanNess, Sharyn Smith and Joyce Simmons on stage for a dance routine. They were all costumed as Ludwig Von Beethoven.

The production was directed by Ed Gabrielson who was assisted by Terry Gough and Delores Blocker.

Other adults involved included Jane Grudzina (Musical Director), Joyce Simmons (Choreographer), Robin Dean (Artistic Designer), Elaine Hutchinson (Pianist), Steve Clute (Lighting and Sound), Maggie Drury and Susan Chambers (Costumes), Bill Denman (Make-Up), Peggy Coyle (Spot Light) and Jean Callaway (tickets and Programs).

Sherri Rau, Michelle Craig and Tracy Murphy created the decorative space saucers which hung on the gym walls.

Gaylo [Sheva Batton] was one of the visitors who arrived in Felton via Space Saucer X2000 just in time to take part in the spring musical at Lake Forest North.

The word "plastic" comes from the Greek plastikos, which means "able to be molded."

Swim classes combine safety & fun

Would you give an arm...or a leg to help a friend. Fourth grade students in Mrs. Collins class at Lake Forest South learn some basic safety and life saving rules in swim classes at the high school pool. The principle illustrated here is to reach out to the friend in need while keeping the body low so that you are not pulled into trouble, too. Later on instructor Kathy Monroe, right, introduced a little fun as the swimmers lined up for water baseball.

Absent from the picture are Chad Collins [3rd, Mrs. Myer], David Simpson [Mrs. Miller] and Brenda Barch [5th, Mrs. Sheehan].

Building Boom in Frederica

The building industry may have suffered setbacks elsewhere, but at Lake Forest East Elementary in Frederica, it was booming as second graders from Mrs. Draper's and Mrs. Norwood's classes [below] went to work to create "Detergent Dreamhouses," "Margarine Mansions" and "Coffee Can Cottages." The building was literally, all for the birds as the students picked up on an idea from "Ranger Rick" magazine. Material used for the bird houses were some scrap lumber and nails and various kitchen castaways. The four working on the construction at left are Terri Hill, Darlene Rentz, Jeremy Robbins and Craig Boelens. East librarian Barbara O'Toole sponsored the project.

Damp Camporee at Killen's Pond

Misty May weather failed to dampen the scouting spirit at the Handicamporee held at Killen's Pond last weekend. Handicapped scouts from several states and service scout troops from the Del-Mar-Va peninsula managed to keep the campfires burning. One group above, found there are things other than bread that need toasting.

Chipman boys track team is undefeated

With a victory over Laurel in last Thursday's final contest of the dual meet season, the W.T. Chipman boys track team completed a perfect 8-0 season.

The junior high track circuit involved two meets against each of four teams. In addition to Laurel, Chipman twice defeated Seaford, Woodbridge and Caesar Rodney.

Standouts in the outstanding team include:

-Victor Hill, a seventh grader who was undefeated both the triple jump and the 800 meter run.

-Frank Coverdale an eighth grader with a triple perfect record. He remained unbeaten in the long jump, the 100 meter run and as anchor man on the winning 400 meter relay team. -Bill Haggerty, an eighth grader who set a school record of 5:23 in the 1600 meter run.

-the Chipman 400 meter relay team which was undefeated. The members were Robert Young, Lionel Dixon, Bruce Mosely and Frank Coverdale.

Coaches this year were Andy Anderson and Baxter Smith.

Anderson, who is new to Chipman this year said the boys track team displayed a good mix of talent at both the seventh and eighth grade levels.

The Spartan varsity track team will get some valuable members, and there will be a good nucleus left at Chipman for 1983.

Another eighth grader who was a point getter is Melissa Weaver.

Baxter Smith and Andy Anderson teamed up as coaches for the Chipman team.

Chipman track girls complete season

The 1982 Chipman girls track team, according to coach Andy Anderson, is a lot better than its 2-8 season record would indicate.

The girls, he said have a very young team with quite a few seventh graders remaining who should prove to be valuable team members as they gain experience.

With the exception of three fine eighth grade contributors the team points this year were all supplied by seventh grade members.

Records to remember were Chipman marks of 30'9" by Severa Harris in the shotput and 6 min. 15 sec. by Lori Wilson in the 1600 meter run. Both are eighth graders.

Another eighth grader who was a point getter is Melissa Weaver.

Baxter Smith and Andy Anderson teamed up as coaches for the Chipman team.

Spartan varsity track girls in state meet

Browne, Durant, Drew and Star Pettyjohn were fifth (1.51.2) in the 800 meter relay.

Lake Forest's 3200 meter relay team was seeded seventh, but finished fourth behind Donna Pardee's excellent 2.27 final leg. Sheri Coburn, Carolyn Winder and Sondra Warren all entered the Lake Forest record book, with Pardee, as their 10.35 clocking was the best ever, here.

Pardee, Winder, Warren and Pam Pierce were fifth, in the 1600 meter relay in 4.25. Pierce set a new personal record in the 800 meters, as she ran the half mile, in 2.32 for 5th place.

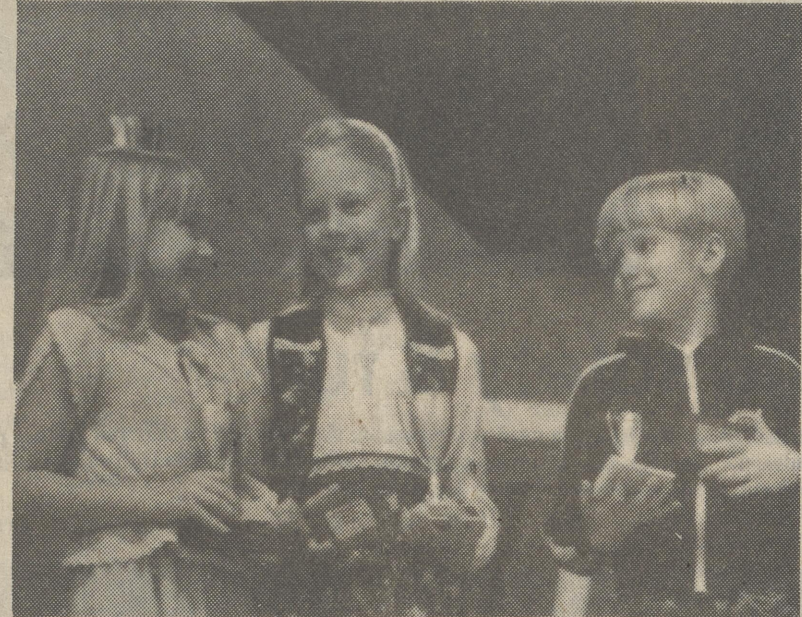

Ann Irby had fourth place wrapped up in the 110 meter hurdles, but fell and finished sixth. Tara Gladden courageously limped two miles, in 15.05 for a fifth place finish and two points. Earlier, this spring, she recorded a school record of 12.49. Of course that was prior to her foot injury.

Spartan coach Jim Blades is in fine shape, regarding prospects for this team next spring. The chief loss by graduation is Karen Gibbs and Lake Forest has strong people returning, in Gibbs specialties, the high jump and long jump. Then, too, some good eighth graders, on this year's W.T. Chipman team, will be at Lake Forest in 1983. If most of these people stay interested in track, another dynasty, may be in the making.

Spelling Bee Winners

All the participants were winners in the First Annual Spelling Bee sponsored by the P.T.A. at Lake Forest North Elementary School in Felton. That is quite literally true since all the students who took part in the event staged last Tuesday evening, May 18, got to that stage in the contest by being the best spellers in preliminary competition in their own classroom. Each class sent two participants.

On Tuesday night all that spelling boiled down to three overall winners at each of four grade levels. Judges for the spelling bee which was announced by Mrs. Dolores Swain [a teacher at North] were North Principal Frank Young and a former Lake Forest High School English teacher, Mrs. Hazel Smith.

FIFTH GRADE winners [from left] Tammy Graham [2nd], Ron Hill [1st] and Fred Biggs [3rd]. Other participants were Kenny Cubbage, Roberta Darling, Amy Dix, Lisa Price and Vicki Swain.

Health Tip OF THE WEEK

Preventive medicine is your best medicine.

UN-FRIED FOODS

Frying foods isn't as healthy as baking or broiling them. Yet, if you must fry, there is a way to minimize the addition of extra fat to the food. By adding a teaspoon of vinegar to the frying oil, less fat is absorbed by the food. The result is a fried meal that contains less grease and fewer calories, so it is much better for you.

Health is precious... let us help protect yours
