Lake Forest names Pat Jones "Teacher of the Year"

Lake Forest School District last Friday named Pat Jones its "Teacher of the Year". Mrs. Jones teaches English at Lake Forest High School. As the district's choice, she will be nominated by Lake Forest Superintendent of Schools as a candidate for the honor of "State Teacher of the Year."

Mrs. Jones was selected from among five candidates, one proposed by each of the district's five schools. The other four candidates were Alex Becton, band and chorus director at W.T. Chipman; John Davidson, fourth grade teacher at Lake Forest East Elementary in Frederica; Grace Bradford, fifth grade teacher at Lake Forest North in Felton, and Sharon Lynch, fifth grade teacher at Lake Forest South in Harrington.

After more than seven years of full time experience, Pat Jones still finds teaching an exciting profession. The excitement, generated by the creative ways in which she gets to know her students, is a necessary ingredient. Each year, she says, is a new challenge. Even though she might be teaching a schedule identical to that taught the previous year, it brings a fresh group of young people to the classroom.

Pat Jones places a high priority in getting to know those young people as more than faces behind desks in the fifth or sixth periods. Over the years she has developed a number of classroom activities that allow her students to be more creative and that also give their teacher the time to watch them work out their own projects and to get to know them better.

One such project is an annual "Emerson Day" honoring American essayist and poet, Ralph Waldo Emerson. The day takes its cue from Emerson's essay "Gifts" as students and teacher make and present very personal gifts to each other. The cost is limited to five dollars, but there is no limit to the imagination that can be employed. The main requirement is that the giver get to know the recipient well enough to present a gift that expresses something of that person's talent, personality and interests. It may also say something of the giver. Thus a young art student on a recent "Emerson Day" presented a friend who was a hunter his stippled black and white print of a deer. Humor often comes into play as T-shirts, lettered with an original slogan, written for the recipient are popular gifts. The presentations are made in special ceremonies in class.

In academic classes the study of "The Crucible" and Macbeth presents the opportunity for students to create their own projects - a skit, a model of Macbeth's castle to express something that has appealed to them in the literature. General students may do a first person account or recreation of something such as the Salem witch trials in an "I was there....." fashion. In basic English classes they bring their own interests and skills to class for practical demonstrations of how to.....suit up for football, bake a super batch of brownies, repair a carburetor....."

Pat Jones keeps a scrapbook of photos of these special activities as a very personal way of saying to her students "You did something special." and of recalling with them experiences worth being remembered.

Now in her fourth year of teaching at Lake Forest High School, Pat Jones started out as a student in the schools of Hanover County, Virginia where she graduated from Lee-Davis High School. She attended William and Mary College at Williamsburg where she earned a B.A. in English in 1971. Her Master's in English was completed at the University of Delaware in 1978, and she has done additional post graduate work.

Her professional experience includes being a daily substitute in a model school in Clarksville, Tennessee where she was called to fill in for everything from shop and gym to Spanish classes.

She taught English for four years in the Caesar Rodney School District before taking time out for the birth of her son, Taylor.

From 1975 until 1978 she did part time work of the Del Tech Terry Campus where she taught advanced reading and study skills and later administered federal programs for two grants - one for women reentering education and one for retirement services.

She came to Lake Forest in the middle of the 78-79 school year. In addition to teaching she has been yearbook advisor for three years.

She has been a member of the Delaware Scholastic Association, serving as its president in 1973-74 and a member of the American Association of University Women where she has also been elected to various offices, including that of president.

A member of the Peoples United Church of Christ in Dover, she will be teaching Sunday school this year, and has been a member of the worship committee. She has been editor of the church newsletter serving the Delmarva Peninsula and a member of the Board of Directors of the United Church of Christ Office of Commitment, a national board.

She is a member of local, state and national educational associations.

Person interests include photography (she spent part of August in New England doing a series of color slides which she can use in her classroom), writing (including poetry) and bridge. A more recent interest is tennis - a new experience that she says reminds her of what it takes to be a learner.

Her husband George is an attorney in Dover. Their son, Taylor, started first grade this year at Lake Forest East in Frederica.

Should she be chosen Delaware's Teacher of the Year, she would receive a $5,000 award to be used for the educational benefit of her students and would represent Delaware in the national "Teacher of the Year Program."

State Superintendent William B. Kline will announce Delaware's choice at a dinner held in Dover on November 8.

Pat Jones, Lake Forest's "Teacher of the Year" looks over a photographic record of creative activities by her high school English classes. She was chosen last week to represent the district in the state "Teacher of the Year" program.

Gwen Stubbs is 3rd runner-up

Our reigning Little Miss Delaware, Gwen Sheree Stubbs of Felton, placed Third Runner Up in the Tiny Miss National Sweetheart Pageant held in Pigeon Forge, Tennessee last month.

Gwen also brought home a First Place Trophy from the State Costume Pageant in which she wore a yellow homemade chicken costume depicting the poultry industry of the Delmarva Peninsula.

Gwen participated in 4 modeling events which she thoroughly enjoyed. She attended the World's Fair in Knoxville and made a lot of new friends during the pageant activities.

Her interests include baton twirling, cheerleading through the Parks & Recreation Program and Jazz Class. She is also a member of Brownie Troop #17 in Felton.

Gwen is six years old and a first grader at Lake Forest North Elementary School. She also holds the title of Little Miss Felton 82-83 and is the daughter of William and Nancy Stubbs of Felton.

Open house - A round up of schools

During the next two or three weeks, schools in the Lake Forest District will be inviting parents to open house. The annual fall event offers an opportunity for parents to get acquainted with teachers and programs.

The schedule and the activities (six separate buildings) is as follows:

Safety seminar set Oct. 5

Because of the escalating cost of fuel, people are trying to save money by supplementing conventional heating methods with other appliances such as woodburning stoves, portable kerosene heaters, portable electric heaters, etc. Unfortunately, when consumers invest in such appliances without considering the safe use, operation and installation requirements, the end result is always predictable - property loss, severe thermal burns and unnecessary tragic death.

The "Safety with Home Heating Appliances Seminar" is a means of informing you as consumers of the hazards associated with the referenced methods of generating alternative heat. This seminar will update you on the latest unbiased details.

The seminar is sponsored by the University of Delaware Cooperative Extension Service in cooperation with Harrington Volunteer Fire Company and local businesses and will be held on Tuesday, October 5 at 7:00 p.m. at the Harrington Fire Hall in Harrington.

Admission is free. For additional information you may call 856-5250.

Accident claims two

SANDTOWN, Monday, September 27 - A motorcycle accident Monday night at approximately 6:20 p.m. claimed the lives of both riders.

John L. Davidson, 33, of near Camden, the operator of the Honda motorcycle and his brother-in-law, Clarence C. VanArsdall, 32, of near Smyrna, a rider, were dead on arrival at Kent General Hospital on Monday night at 7:30 p.m. Davidson was east bound on State Route 10, two miles east of Sandtown at a high rate of speed when he lost control of the cycle, went into the ditch along State Route 10, travelled 126 feet hitting a concrete abutment which threw both riders off the cycle, both coming to rest in a grassy plot. The accident occurred at Mt. Olive Cemetery. Neither rider was wearing his helmet at the time of the accident. The view was clear and the road surface dry at the time of the accident.

Felton and Camden ambulances and rescue squads responded to the scene of the accident. The two deaths moved the count for highway fatalities to 92 compared to 74 for the same period last year.

David is survived by his wife, Margaret Holden Davidson. Funeral services are incomplete at this time, but will be held at McKnatt Funeral Home in Harrington.

Frederican pleads guilty in child's death

DOVER, Monday, September 27 - Robert Lee Yearicks of Frederica entered a guilty plea in the Superior Court at Dover on Monday under the Robinson plea where a defendant admits the State has enough evidence to convict, but does not admit guilt in the killing of 2 year old Bryan Morey who died on March 23rd.

Yearicks, through his attorney, Assistant Public Defender Dennis A. Reardon said that he, Yearicks, delivered the blow which knocked 2 year old Bryan Morey a distance which resulted in his death.

Yearicks, 20, who was living with the infant's mother, Darlene Morey, 24, was baby sitting Bryan at the time of the infant's death. Darlene Morey on the day in question was allegedly visiting her other child who was hospitalized in Wilmington.

At the time of Bryan Morey's death, he was in the custody of the State Division of Social Services as a result of a bathtub scalding. He continued to remain in the house where he was ultimately, fatally wounded.

Judge William G. Bush III, a veteran decision maker with hard cases has asked for a customary pre-sentence investigation. Yearicks was originally charged with second degree murder. Under the plea bargaining, he would plead guilty to criminally negligent homicide with a maximum sentence of 7 years imprisonment. The Attorney General's office has asked for the maximum sentence.

Greenwood man is 89th victim

Delbert D. Yoder, 43, of Greenwood, became the state's 89th traffic fatality for 1982 when the bike he was riding was hit from the rear last Wednesday. That figure compares with the 72 who died on Delaware highways in 1982.

State police reported that Yoder was headed east on County Route 36 about four miles west of Milford when the accident occurred. Possibly on his way to Hood's Market, he was riding on the paved portion of the road which was wet because there was a light rain falling. The bike did not have lights.

Struck from the rear by a 1976 Pontiac driven by Sylvester B. Diven, 35, of Dover, Yoder was thrown onto the hood where he stayed until rolling off on the dirt shoulder. Diven, a Master Sergeant at Dover Air Force Base, told police he did not see the bike and rider until he hit them.

Yoder was transported to Milford Memorial Hospital by Carlisle Fire Company where he was pronounced dead on arrival at 8:15 p.m. The accident occurred at 6:50 p.m.

Feltonian gets death penalty

Marselle J. Bowers, 31, an ex-convict from Felton was sentenced last Thursday to die in Maryland's gas chamber. Bowers had earlier been convicted of first degree murder in the death of Monica A. McNamara, 28, an Alexandria, Virginia nurse, on July 8, 1981.

Ms. McNamara was kidnapped, raped and strangled as she was en route to Ocean City, MD. Her car was found parked along Maryland Route 90 near Ocean City by her boyfriend. Her body had been dumped in Somerset County.

McIlroy: Safety - not trap - is radar aim

The driver who told Harrington police that the reason he was doing 85 in a 35 mph zone was that he had been at sea for a year and had to hurry home to see his brother's (tomb)stone, may have had tongue in cheek. But, serious or not, he was issued a traffic ticket and had to pay a fine.

The story, according to Harrington Police Chief Carl McIlroy, is for real. He has others to tell of local police experiences in operating the Selective Enforcement Unit (S.E.U.) that used radar to monitor traffic on the section of U.S. 13 as it passes Harrington and approaches the intersection with Delaware 14 at the traffic light. On this section southbound traffic must slow from 55 to 35. A portion of the northbound section posts a 45 speed limit.

McIlroy spoke to the Greater Harrington Chamber of Commerce last week in defense of the radar operation. Human life and safety, not the operation of a speed trap, he said, are the primary factors. His response was in answer to spoken or implied criticism that the radar operation might give the town a bad name and that the major function of the unit was to accumulate funds for the construction of a town hall to be dedicated (according to others with tongue in cheek) "to the passing motorists."

McIlroy said the main purpose of the S.E.U. which was operated throughout the summer on weekends by off-duty police officers, was two-fold: to reduce accidents and decrease personal safety.

McIlroy reported in 1975 to 1978, there were 415 traffic accidents in that particular area of U.S. 13. 112 of them involved personal injury at the intersection alone, there were 76 accidents in 43% of which people were injured. In 1979-1981, he said, accidents there decreased by 23% and personal injuries, by 20%.

In 1981, he pointed out, there were no accidents at the intersection, and there have been only a couple in 1982.

McIlroy further stated that the Harrington police are more lenient than the state police in stopping speeders. This summer they allowed 14 miles over the speed limit before stopping anyone. Even so, on one summer weekend, business was so brisk it became necessary to up that to 18 miles.

Records kept show that 18% of those arrested were exceeding the posted speed limit by 15 miles, 67% were going 16-20 miles over, and 15% were zooming past at 21 or more miles in excess of the limit.

Thus, said McIlroy, the function of the unit has been to slow down the passing parade to save lives and property. It is not the intention of the police to use the radar unit "as a cash register." How the City of Harrington uses the funds collected in fines is up to the Council to decide, not the local police.

DPL lowers rates

Delmarva Power & Light Company last week proposed to reduce the price of electricity to its Delaware customers beginning about November 1. The reduction is the result of the company's ongoing program to switch away from expensive, foreign oil for the generation of electricity.

A residential customer using 750 kilowatt hours of electricity per month will see his winter bill go down from $69.71 per month to $68.79 per month.

Burgess in "Oklahoma"

The Community Singers, Incorporated, is pleased to announce the cast for its upcoming production of the classic musical, Oklahoma!

Curly, the cowboy who is determined to win his girl, will be played by Eddy Seger. Laurey, the beauty on whom he has set his sights, is Sallie Heavalow Seger. Kim Perry, in the character of Ado Annie, is the one who can't say "no" to her rodeo star, Will Parker, portrayed by Rich Dillard. Nancy W. Faries has taken the part of the spunky Aunt Eller, and Dave Joyner has assumed the role of the villainous farm hand, Jud. Tom Platt is the humorous traveling salesman, Ali Hakim, and Keith Burgess is the shotgun-toting father, Andrew Carnes. Gertie will be played by Stacy Ward Havey, and Ike by Donald Dean.

This cast, coupled with the Singers' fine chorus, the able direction of Sug Adlam and music of Irv Rothenberg, should provide a truly memorable Oklahoma!

Local bands perform with pride

The marching bands of Lake Forest High School and the W.T. Chipman Junior School made their first parade appearance on Saturday and performed with pride that reflects in the communities they represent.

Both bands marched in the parade

Mike Lamphier takes his duties as Drum Major for the Spartan band very seriously. But he had time to breathe -- and to smile on Tuesday. Mike brought home the trophy for the best drum major appearing in the firemen's parade in Wilmington on Saturday. Mike also led his band to a trophy winning appearance.

that marked the conclusion of the Delaware Volunteer Firemen's annual convention, held this year in Wilmington. Both brought home trophies.

The W.T. Chipman Junior band directed by Alex Becton, took a first place trophy for junior bands.

Dale Burkhard's Spartans of Lake Forest High School were awarded the trophy for best overall musical performance in the parade. They were followed by Caesar Rodney and Dover in first and second place for high school bands. The last time Lake Forest took a first in this parade was four years ago. Last year the Spartans brought home a second place trophy.

Mike Lamphier, son of Vincent and Carol Lamphier, of Harrington, brought home additional honors as he was awarded the trophy for the best drum major in the parade. This is the second year in a row a Lake Forest student has earned that distinction.

The Spartan Band was invited to the parade by the North Bowers Volunteer Fire Company which provided $300 for transportation. The Chipman band was sponsored by the Felton Fire Company.

Other Awards

Other Kent County units winning parade honors were:

-Smyrna's Citizens Hose, 2nd best fire company with a marching band.

-Clayton Volunteer Fire Company, 2nd best unit without a band.

-Felton Ladies Auxiliary, a 3rd place trophy.

Heritage - yours and mine

by Bessie Austin Burdzik

-Part III of III-

Some of my forebears came to this great Country, when it was new to those of other lands, and they came here under almost unbearable conditions. Some were from debtors' prisons, debtors because they could not pay the levied taxes on bread, lest their children starve. And some were released from prison and indentured to a "man of some means, or of some land". Thus, they came, some for freedoms other than the horror of prison. When they arrived, the first need was food, then a crude shelter. One man began to help another; then those two helped clear a site for the third, and helped build him and his family a cabin, then the three became four, and so on. This custom grew in the Eastern United States. In later years, while the men of the community gathered to have a "barn raising", or a "wood cutting" or a "hog killing", the women gathered in the house to spin, to weave, cook, sew, or do any chores of the household, toward the coming winter. At day's end, the tables were laid with all the foods at hand, and this custom carried on up until very recent times, at "your neighbor's house". The work has changed, as has the mode of transportation, the neighbor's house and the real purpose behind the gathering. But, we still "gather" - and look forward to "gathering" to feast at the local, annual fire company suppers, and the church suppers, which still abound in our area, come Fall.

frost-touched leaves and the glory of green buds in Spring. I am glad our Indians gave us a yellow pumpkin, and a squash and a succotash. I marvel at the great man-made structures of this modern world. I enjoy, and savor, the bountiful foods from our gardens and fields and those delicacies from our salt water bays and our fresh water ponds. I appreciate, so well, the beauties of the flowers and our birds and all Nature's things. I am grateful for the friends who take the time to "pass the time of day" and who are there when I need their strength.

I look forward to the paper which tells me about those friends and neighbors I have not had the good fortune to see, and I am disappointed when I do not receive it. I thank the venerable Mr. Knapp, and all teachers of any capacity, be they professional, friend, or parent, who stirred the processes of my mind - even - for the very slightest stir. I give thanks for the knowledge mankind has accumulated, and the progress he has made, in science and - in medicine. I praise our ancestors who taught us to work together, toward a goal - one good for all, so now we have schools, and churches and fire companies and "dinners". These are but a few of our heritages - yours and mine. But they are ours - because we live in this place, with these people and because we are privileged to enjoy these precious gifts.

So, I am glad I live where the seasons change, and I know the beauty of

PARISH HISTORY

In writing the history of a parish one might well begin at the time when a plot of ground was obtained on which the parochial buildings would be located. But the history of Catholicism in Harrington goes back far beyond the day when property was acquired there.

The nucleus of the future parish might be considered as having been laid on the day when Mass was first offered within the limits of the parish-to-be. According to at least one man's testimony Mass was said in the Newman Hotel as early as 1900. The hotel was located where the Reese Theatre now stands [the theatre is now demolished]. The priest who celebrated this or any other Mass around that time must have been Father Thomas Waldron who was at that time the pastor of the Holy Cross parish in Dover. Besides using the hotel as a temporary Chapel the private homes of some of the Catholic families were also used. Here are to be listed such names as Thomas Fitzpatrick, a printer on the Harrington Journal, who lived on Calvin Street; a Mr. Johnson, an employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad, who lived on Weiner Avenue; Mr. George Brown, another Railroad man, who lived on Liberty Street; and Masten's Hall which was located across the street from the site of the present Post Office and where Mass was said at least on one occasion. Once Fr. Michael Dougherty was appointed as the first resident pastor of St. John's in Milford, he took charge of the Catholics in Harrington and said Mass for them one Sunday each month. Subsequent pastors did likewise; these included Fr. Francis X. Fitzpatrick, Monsignor Joseph H. Irwin, Fr. Charles J. Conway, and Fr. Edward A. McAteer. When Fr. Alfred Jones became the pastor of Milford in 1928 in place of the services in Harrington he substituted bus service to Milford. After some four or five years the used bus showed signs of wear; around this time, too, privately owned cars were becoming numerous. Consequently bus service to Milford for the parishioners of Harrington was discontinued.

From then until the summer of 1952 the people of Harrington were not singled out for any special privilege. The twenty-third of May, 1952 will remain an important date in the history of Harrington. It was on that day that separate pastors were appointed for Milford and Rehoboth. This decreased considerably the size of the Milford parish. But it was not until the early part of July that Harrington came in for episcopal recognition. At a meeting in the Bishop's residence the Most Reverend Edmond J. Fitzmaurice told the Rev. Francis J. Desmond, the newly appointed pastor of Rehoboth, to look after the people in Georgetown and then told the Rev. John A. Corrigan, the recently appointed pastor of Milford to see what could be done for Harrington. Because Milford had to continue sending a priest to Georgetown until the end of the summer season, nothing could be done in Harrington until the fall of the year. In the meantime arrangements were made to rent a third floor hall in a building on the main street of the business section of Harrington. There Mass was offered on the first Sunday in October. About seventy-five seats were provided along with kneeling benches made by some of the men of the parish under the direction of Steve Kliment. Very few of the seats were empty when Mass started at 9:30 that morning. The loyal Catholics who had envisaged just such an event as they were now experiencing were delighted. Besides knowing that Mass would be offered in Harrington not just once a month but every Sunday and Holy Day, the faithful had one more reason to be elated—they now owned property in Harrington.

On the sixth of September a public auction was held to dispose of certain houses and various plots of ground in and around Harrington. One of these tracts was bought by Mr. Harry Greenberg for $4950.00. It was a two story frame dwelling and twenty acres of ground. As soon as he was approached by Fr. Corrigan and the group of Catholics who were present at the sale, he assured them that if they wanted the property, they could have it for the same price he paid for it. One week later the Most Reverend Bishop approved of the purchasing of the property. The money for the plot was supplied by St. John's parish in Milford.

It has often been said that "the Church moves slowly"; not so in Harrington. Almost as soon as Mass was started in the "upper room," ideas came to the practically minded men of the parish. "Why can't we have our own building, instead of renting part of someone else's?" was the question of the day. With this idea in mind a delegation, headed by Steve Kliment and Ernest Vogl, called on the pastor. At a meeting of the parishioners that was called as a result of this interview, it was decided to ask the Bishop's permission to erect a cinder-block building thirty-two feet long. Not only were the men willing to pay for such a building but they even agreed to erect it themselves. Because they would supply not only the labor but even some of the material—the wood—they estimated that it would cost only a few thousand dollars, perhaps only four or five. As soon as his Excellency heard of this enthusiasm on the part of some of his loyal subjects, he not only approved of their plans but even promised to help out financially with their project.

On Sunday afternoon, November 23rd, ground was broken for the first building to be erected on the newly purchased site. Only a few days went by before a crew of parishioners started digging the foundation. Steadily the work progressed—the winter winds notwithstanding. No hired labor was employed on the project until just before Easter when it was time to put on the roof. Work continued but at a slower pace; now that it was spring the willing workers had necessary chores to perform on their own farms. Finally came the task of putting the finishing touches to their labor of love. Rather than let the men share all the honors, the women took a hand in the work—painting doors, windows, and other woodwork both inside and outside the building and making the drapes for the canopy and the dorsal. All effort was now directed toward having a Church of which the parishioners might well be proud as their relatives and friends gather on Sunday, September 6th, to see what can be done by an energetic group of Catholics.

Lake Forest band member appears on TV

Lake Forest junior David Reiriden was a member of the Crossman Drum and Bugle Corps which made several tours across the country this past summer. The Corps traveled south as far as Georgia and Tennessee and went as far as Wisconsin before returning to Pennsylvania to make a northeast tour before going on to Montreal for the Drum Corps International finals.

The top twelve Drum and Bugle Corps in that competition, Crossman among them, were featured on Channel 12 last Thursday evening.

With the Crossman group, David played a baritone bugle. At Lake Forest, where he is a member of both the Spartan marching band and concert band as well as the stage band, he is a trombonist and soloist. On several occasions, he has been selected to junior and senior all state bands.

A versatile instrumentalist, David also appeared on Harrington's Heritage Day playing a guitar with the new group Nocturnal Flight.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Reiriden of Harrington.

"HOSPITAL VISITORS — PART V"

There is a "No Smoking" policy in effect for everyone in all patient areas of Milford Memorial Hospital. All hospital visitors are asked to honor this prohibition on smoking in all patient areas and in the Emergency Department, all ancillary departments, and the elevators. This policy applies to patients as well as visitors. Smoking in the Hospital is restricted to Waiting Rooms of the Nursing Units, the Dining Room, and the Lobby.

Because smoking related illnesses comprise the largest proportion of preventable diseases, Milford Memorial Hospital is taking an active role in the prevention of this massive waste of human resources.

The Surgeon General of the United States recently cited new evidence of harm being done to non-smokers by exposure to "second-hand" smoke. The Surgeon General's report also emphasized the mounting evidence of smoking as the cause of cancer, pulmonary diseases, and other health problems. The report declared that smoking was a serious health hazard to smokers and non-smokers exposed to tobacco smoke and urged that non-smokers be protected from this hazard and that smokers discontinue smoking.

Please help protect the patient you visit and all patients from this hazard. If you smoke, please refrain from smoking while in Milford Memorial Hospital.

KNOW YOUR HOSPITAL and help it continue to be an institution our community can be proud of.

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield 349-4255

I'm a firm believer that age has not much to do with years. It's mostly a matter of attitude, and most of the time I feel nice and young. But I thought I would share this little clipping from my scrapbook with you. I do not know the author. Quote: "How To Tell When You're over the Hill". "1. Everything hurts, and what doesn't hurt, doesn't work; 2. You need your glasses to find your glasses; 3. Your back goes out more than you do; 4. Your little black book contains only names that end in M.D.; 5. You have too much room in your house and not enough in your medicine cabinet; 6. Your children begin to look middle-aged; 7. The policemen look too young to be policemen; 8. The little gray-haired woman you help across the street is your wife; 9. You can't take yes for an answer."

More than half the women of America are concerned one way or another with a diet problem. This little poem won't help much, but it may give you a laugh. I found it in the 1929 Almanac. The author is not given. It is entitled, "Methuse lah".

Methuse lah ate what he found on his plate, And never as people do now, Did he note the amount of the calory count-He ate it because it was chow. He wasn't disturbed as at dinner he sat, Destroying a roast or a pie, To think it was lacking in lime or in fat Or a couple of vitamins shy. He cheerfully chewed every species of food, Untroubled by worries or fears. Lest his health might be hurt by some fancy dessert--And he lived over 900 years!

Poetry reminds me that we have a request from a reader in Milford. She would like to get the words for the poem, "The Knight's Vow". I am not familiar with this, and she said the library was not able to help her. Does anyone have a copy of this poem?

September 29 is Michaelmas Day. It is the festival of the archangel Michael with many happy associations.

English folklore says that if you eat goose on Michaelmas, you will not lack money for a year.

In Ireland, Michaelmas is one of the year's most important feasts. People look for a marked decrease in sickness. A goose or some other bird or a sheep, is eaten on this day even if on no other day of the year. Michaelmas pie contains a ring, and the finder of the ring can expect an early wedding. Irish fishermen expect big catches on Michaelmas.

On the Isle of Skye, off Scotland, St. Michael's cakes are a specialty for the holiday, made of milk and oatmeal thinly coated with eggs, usually large and round, sometimes triangular.

Weather traditions for Michaelmas which you may wish to try for yourself are these: If St. Michael brings acorns, Christmas will cover the fields with snow; Whenever on September 29 the wind comes from the south, the winter will be late and mild. There will be hardly any snow during the winter, especially before Christmas; So many days old the moon is on Michaelmas, so many floods after; on Michaelmas Day, the devil puts his foot on the blackberries (in the north of Ireland).

Report from Hickory Ridge Congregational Methodist Church: We have enjoyed many visitors during the summer. On September 5, we were happy to have 18 members of the Bragg Family present for the morning service. All six of C.B. and Ruby's children were home for a wonderful reunion, coming from Turkey and several different states. In the evening their son-in-law, Danny Evans, brought a very inspiring message to us. Danny was a former teacher and choir director for us, and is now pastor of a church in Michigan.

On Sunday evening the "First Love Quartet" from Manassas, VA ministered to us in music. They are a Mennonite group and bring a blessing to all.

Report from Greenwood United Methodist Church: On September 19, the Charge celebrated Children's Day with a party for the children, food and a Disney film afterward. The Youth Group left after refreshments and moved on to the home of Brett Smoot in Bridgeville. Brett is the host for the Youth Group this month.

On Wednesday, September 22 at 7:30, the Charge Conference was held and presided over by District Superintendent, J. Gordon Stapleton.

WHAT TYPE COUGH?

When you have a "dry" cough, with no mucus to expel, a cough suppressant medicine is appropriate. However, if mucus is present, and it is thick and difficult to expel, then an expectorant medicine is advised to liquify and thin the mucus and to stimulate coughing. When buying a cough remedy, ask your pharmacist's advice about the best type (suppressant or expectorant) for the sort of cough you are treating.

"Delaware Prays For Peace"

"Delaware Prays For Peace" will be the theme of a gathering of Catholics and other citizens of Delaware Sunday, October 3 at 2:00 p.m.

Sponsored by the Delaware State Council of the Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Diocese of Wilmington, the event will take place at Wilmington sculptor Charles Parks' 30-foot stainless steel Our Lady of Peace Madonna now on display in the square.

A steering committee of Catholic clergy and laity chaired by the Diocese's Episcopal Vicar for Administration the Very Rev. (Fr.) J. Thomas Cini, is coordinating the gathering.

Parks' statue, originally displayed at his Bancroft Mills studio, was moved to Rodney Square several weeks ago. It will remain on display until about October 10 at which time it will be transported to Santa Clara, California, where it was commissioned by Fr. John Sweeney, pastor of Our Lady of Peace Parish there.

While the prayer service is Catholic-sponsored, the steering committee is issuing an invitation to people of all faiths from Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey to join together to pray for the world peace. Catholics honor Mary, the Mother of Jesus Christ, as the Queen of Peace.

The service will include prayers and songs for peace, readings from the Old and New Testament, remarks by a speaker and recitation of the Rosary.

Another service sponsored by Catholics is planned for Friday, Oct. 1 at 8 p.m. near the statue. At that time various groups with special devotion to the Mother of God will meet for a candlelight procession and to recite prayers before moving to St. Joseph's Church on French Street for Mass. This activity will replace a monthly meeting at St. Francis Renewal Center on Prior Road during which members of the Third Order Franciscans meet to pray together and attend Mass as a service called "A Vigil of Love."

Milford Church of God

The Sparrows, nationally known musical group, will appear at The Milford Church of God, on Friday, Oct. 1st. The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Over the past 23 years The Sparrows have produced high quality music in the form of 10 albums with Word, Inc., over 30 choral books for churches, concerts with Youth for Christ, Jesus Festivals, Billy Graham programs, and have ministered in thousands of churches all across America. More recently, they have become a part of a new concept called Festival of Praise, a musical of praise and worship involving a 40 voice traveling choir.

Organized by Thurlow Spurr, internationally known creator, producer, and musical director for the PTL Television Network, The Sparrows appeal to all ages. Their message is as timeless as the Word of God. They have been seen many times on national television specials such as the Bob Hope Show and their own award winning Christmas Special. They have appeared in a full-length motion picture, in over 500 national convents, and in world premiers of four musicals. Twice they have had the distinction of being the invited guests of the President of the United States at the White House. They have performed for more high school and college students than any group in recent history, and have long been recognized as innovators in Gospel Music.

The Sparrows are a group of young men and women keenly dedicated to the goal of renewal of the individual within the church. The singers and musicians come from all parts of the United States, and they blend their talents and ministries as one. Their musical style is smooth and soft, yet exciting as it covers a broad range of selections.

The Sparrows present more than a concert of uplifting and beautifully arranged music; they present an encounter with things that really matter.

Harriers open with a victory

by Keith S. Burgess
 Sophomore Danny Haines, junior Dan Donovan and senior Rob Manaraze finished 1-2-3, to give Coach Jim Blades and his Lake Forest cross-country Spartans a season opening 19-42 victory over Smyrna. Haines clocked a personal record 17.38 for the 3-mile course at Killen's Pond State Park. Donovan, a fine, new prospect was timed in 17.48. Donovan was running in his first official race, after recovering from a non-cross-country accident, that cost him some training time. Manaraze tied his personal best effort of eighteen minutes flat and was named "Harrier of the Week". His third-place finish locked up the win for the Spartans. Chris Caskey, Lafayette Bell, Bob Smith, Mike Grogan and Mike Melvin all ran well in sixth-through-tenth places. The last two named are also coming back after injuries. Smyrna does not have a girls team. Tara Gladden ran three miles in 21.23, an excellent clocking to again become the Spartan distaff "Harrier of the Week". Debbie Jester, another top-rated novice had 23.16. She has dropped her time some three minutes in this her first year of cross-country. Shirlene Goodman, who ran some fine clockings at W.T. Chipman last fall, surprisingly well (23.34) in her first varsity start as a freshman.

Spartans in action

"After you get to me, it's all down hill...." - Veteran Spartan encouraged Keith S. Burgess urges on a Lake Forest runner in last Thursday's dual meet against Smyrna at Killens Pond. The Spartan boys won the meet 19-42 and went on to a victory at Laurel on Monday. Jim Blades varsity girls team ran against no competition against Smyrna and sent in runners 2, 3, 4 against Delmar on Monday. Delmar could not put up a full girls team and had to forfeit.

H.C. Express, bkH-5, by Bloxom - Helen Ann Frost by Jack Frost won the 12th race at Harrington Raceway on Sunday night in 2:11.1. H.C. Express is owned by Harry Banning and was driven by Brian Manges. On the second time around Manges shot his horse out of the 4th hole at the 2nd turn and shot him down the backstretch like a bullet. "I knew I had to go when I did because the wet track made the footing a little unsure," said Manges. Gary Simpson, assistant general manager, said "...we are up in the handle from last year averaging about $112,000 per night. With Free State closed, we should have a great meet."

U of D plans contest for Coast Day

Spartans [white shirts] drive toward the goal - The Lake Forest varsity soccer team surprised the Milford Bucs last Thursday with an upset 2-1 win in overtime action. Darryl Tolson [No. 6] scored the Spartan's first goal in the first half, only to have his effort tied by Alex Skinner's shot for the Bucs in the second. Tim Noble kicked in the winning goal for Lake Forest with 3:55 gone in the first overtime period. The Spartans, who tied Cape Henlopen 1-1 in their first game on September 21, were 1-0-1 going into Tuesday's contest at Seaford. Dave Buck is varsity coach.

Spartans tumble

The Lake Forest Spartan football team tumbled to Indian River, 22-0, Friday night in a contest plagued, from the Spartan point of view, by interceptions and penalties.

Lake Forest takes on Cape Henlopen at home this Friday night.

Pat Dyal's Spartan varsity hockey team [white shirts] met the Delmar Wildcats in head on competition last Thursday. Senior Spartan Dee Dee White [not pictured] scored four goals for the 4-1 victory. Three of those goals came in the first half as the Spartans took a 3-0 lead. For the game they outshot Delmar 9-4. In earlier games the Spartans lost to Cape Henlopen and Milford.

Sports Extra

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
 "...but where will Billy go...?"
 I can understand the close pennant races in both leagues...and I can understand the Phillies puffing it away in the stretch. With the Phillies, you are supposed to win in September like the Cards - not lose consistently. But...the team wh wants to win it in September down the stretch doesn't start in September. You start preparing back in that gathering called "Spring Training".

With all of this, the thing that perplexes me most is why are the Cleveland Indians in 5th place? They have a few things going for them - and one big minus...which is the story of so many sports teams. At Cleveland this year they have a fairly respectable pitching staff. With three good starters (in Sugcliff they have the best ERA in the league) and an outstanding reliever. They have the best designated hitter in the league in Thornburg and their third baseman Toby Harrah is having the best season of his career. But the last time the Indians were in Baltimore I predicted that the Orioles would not hit Sutcliff because as phenomenal as the Orioles are, they just can't hit good pitching. Their manager, Dave Garcia, confided in friends recently in Baltimore that this was the worst year he has ever had in baseball - because the players simply would not put out. As we were going to press this week

Jayceettes on the move

by Jan Rettig [Harrington Jayceettes]

The Harrington Jayceettes have really been on the move this year. We are currently State SIDS (Sudden Infant Death Syndrome) Chapter for Delaware. Our goal is to raise enough money to buy Milford Hospital a much needed SIDS monitor as they are the only hospital in the state without one.

Our buddy chapter, the Newark Jayceettes, sponsored a State Jayceette Softball Tournament in the beginning of September. The Harrington Jayceettes did not place, but they did have a real good time. Our girls never realized they had so many muscles in their bodies the next day.

All Jayceette members were very busy on Heritage Day as anyone who visited Clown Alley could see. We sponsored games and painted clown faces for the younger children and the Clown Dunk was again in use with many of our fellow Jaycee and Jayceettes taking their turns in being dunked. These projects have been a real hit each year with all ages. We would like to extend our deep appreciation to the Delaware State Police for lending us Trooper Dan and two of their State Troopers, Sgt. Joe Flinn and Sgt. Richard Thompson. We also want to thank Harry Farrow for allowing us to have our booths set up on his lot.

Our members from the Lewes and Milton areas sponsored a bake this past weekend to raise money for our President's expenses. Our Jayceette President really puts out a lot of energy and money for our chapter and stories were breaking that Gabe Paul, general manager of the Indians, has asked the Oakland franchise for permission to talk to Billy Martin. It must mean that Martin is done at Oakland. In his third year with the A's, Martin true to form as has happened to him at Minnesota, Detroit and New York, his teams have taken nose dives.

In his third year with the A's, Martin has proved true to the form he displayed at Minnesota, Detroit and New York. His teams have taken nose dives in the third year. Gabe Paul was the one who brought Billy to New York originally.

But two other teams have indicated they want to talk to Billy — the Yankees and Orioles. The latter I am sure has merely thrown a professional courtesy, but Steinbrenner is desperate. He wants to reverse and turn around a mess he has created and directed.

But where will Billy go — to Gabe Paul his friend or New York? My guess is the latter for two reasons — one: that's where his heart is, in New York, and it is possible that Billy and George deserve each other. Some people like to be miserable.

In conclusion, since this article centers around managers, I couldn't end without a work about the finest — Earl "The Pearl" Weaver. In all the years I have followed baseball and tried to be a student of the game, for as everyone knows, and the Lord knows best, that I wasn't at my best playing the game — I never knew a person who was associated with the game but never played for the Orioles who actually won so many games. You think of players...pitchers...fence busters and grand slam home run hitters...as being the ones who win the games. And...as Dave Garcia said "I can't win any games because my players won't put out."

When Weaver's players don't put out — he wins the games. Better yet — he doesn't wait for the players to decide if they are going to put out or not, he just goes out and wins the game. I have always said...and I will stick to my guns...Weaver is good for 75 wins a year. He is the best the Orioles ever had at any position. No...ands...ifs...or buts.

What more can be said! Next year the game will miss his mastery — his final touch. But whoever inherits his job — that person should get his uniform... and get those magic wands that should be there...for no man can be God...or should try to play His role. No further comment on that point.

to show our appreciation, our members have decided to help pay some of her expenses through the bake profits. The girls who worked the bake did a terrific job and our President is very proud of them.

We are currently working on our yearly auction with proceeds going this year to the Harrington Boy Scouts. Any donations for this project can be given to either Sue Dennis or Jan Rettig at 398-8476 and will be greatly appreciated. Our Boy Scouts are in need of equipment and the Jayceettes would like to help by giving them a nice big check. Your attendance is needed to make our auction a success. Watch for posters with the date, time, and place and plan to attend.

There is a very special event occurring on October 16th. Our last years President, Gail Tribbitt, is getting married. All the Jayceettes extend their best wishes to Gail and hope she and Jim will be very happy. We have been looking forward to this event for a long time.

You will also find the Jayceettes giving a Jaycee assist when the Harrington Jaycees have their Haunted House again this year. Look for details concerning this project on the many posters that will be up in the next month.

If you think these projects sound like fun and are between the ages of 18 and 35, call Jan at 398-8476. We welcome any new members and some extra hands would really be appreciated. So join in the fun. Join the Harrington Jayceettes.
