

New Drunk Driving Law takes effect

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

Delaware's motoring public has been warned by Lt. Governor Michael N. Castle, Chairman of the Governor's Task Force on Drunk Driving that Delaware's new law, effective yesterday, October 19, is a tough law.

Castle stated that the first time offender will lose his license for 90 days with no provisions for getting one during that period of time for any reason.

The law has many new provisions; mandatory education or rehabilitation, higher fines and fees and mandatory jail time for second offenders. The most effective deterrent provision in the law according to Castle is the provision that allows the police to take the driver's license immediately upon arrest.

Secretary of Public Safety Henry
"There are 70 people a day who are killed in this country because of drinking and driving."

J. Decker stated that over the past 5 years an average of 79 people have died each year in Delaware as a result of drinking and driving.

Decker also stated the 61 percent of Delaware's fatal accidents involved alcohol compared to a national average of 50 percent.

"There are 70 people a day who are killed in this country because of drinking and driving," remarked Henry J. Decker, Delaware's Secretary of Public Safety. "Annually, the death toll is 26,000 people killed in drunk driving accidents. The problem in Delaware is also clearly a serious problem. We are talking about an average of 79 people dead every year as a result of drinking and driving," continued Secretary Decker.

"Liability and medical insurance claims, the property damage, the time lost from work, the cost of policing and investigating hundred of accidents, the costs of courts to handle all the cases, and the cost of rehabilitation programs that have to be operated are other effects brought on by drunk driving," added

Decker.

For a first time offender, the law requires a mandatory fine of $100 to $1,000 dollars and a loss of license for a minimum of 90 days with no driving privilege of any kind for any reason. It requires participation in an education or rehabilitation program with a fee that can range from $200 to $2,000, and once the license can be reinstated that will cost $125.

The old law allowed offenders to keep their license until their day in court, which in most cases was a year from the time of arrest. Most cases after that period never came to trial. A conviction meant loss of license for 60 days with fines ranging from $100 to $1,000. It was also optional to attend the education and rehabilitation program.

For second offenders the law gets even tougher. If a person is found guilty of driving under the influence, the fine is $500 to $2,000 and there is a mandatory jail sentence of 60 days to 18 months and a loss of license for 12 months.

Under the old law for second offenders, offenders would lose their license for 12 months which is the same under the new law, as is the fine, but there was not a mandatory jail sentence.

Dr. Terrill addresses group at Wesley on China

Urges US goods for export to China

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 12th, WESLEY COLLEGE - Dr. Ross Terrill lectured at Wesley College Tuesday night on China. The Harvard University professor gave a talk on China today. Dr. Terrill is associated with the Fairbanks Center for East Asian Research at Harvard. He was a member of President Nixon's visit to China which marked the beginning of relations again with China.

Dr. Terrill, an Australian by birth and a naturalized U.S. citizen, can view

China in a different way and can bring about a different viewpoint on China because of his impartiality, because of his birth.

Before President Nixon visited China there had been no relations with mainland China as some had referred to it as Red China since 1949. The pull out of Vietnam marked the beginning of new relations with China because it meant the U.S. was not to be a threat to them. From there, there was a clear indication that the U.S. desired to pursue more concrete relations with China. Correspondingly, China began to pull away from the Soviet block.

China has one billion people living within its boundaries from the population standpoint. It is a respectable member of the countries in the world. Taiwan had tried to become the leader of the Chinese in the world, but it only has seventeen million people living on that island. Although the Chinese on Taiwan enjoy a higher standard of living, China today suffers from a very low standard of living. Its people depend on exported goods of all kinds, but particularly processed or manufactured goods. China also has a large supply of oil which is wholly untapped. They would need the scientific know-how of the U.S. to produce the oil from the ground. China, the original developer of soybeans, has continued to conduct research into this area, which Dr. Terrill feels could help in the U.S. Agriculture field.

Dr. Terrill reviewed the work of U.S. presidents. Since President Nixon's original visit, Carter continued the Nixon relations with China whereas President Reagan has not been as enthusiastic as his predecessors. Although in August, President Reagan signed a bill into law granting less aid to Taiwan.

A "Perfect Beauty" to parade at Harrington

Harrington, Del....Perfect Beauty, Delaware's 2-year-old trotting sensation will make one more stop before retiring for the remainder of this racing season. She's scheduled to parade before race fans at Harrington Raceway Thursday evening, October 22. She last raced there on September 17, setting a new track record for 2-year-old fillies when she trotted in 2:05.1.

Since that time she's made one other stop, probably one of the biggest in her career. On October 1 she made a trip to Lexington's famous Red Mile Track, ran her unbeaten string to 10 and set the harness world buzzing by trotting the mile in 1:57.3...only 3/5's of a second slower than the World's record.

In addition to seeing Perfect Beauty on the track, Harrington race fans will also see her on film from the giant race in Lexington through the

Bevy of local beauties on parade in pageant

A bevy of local young ladies were on parade in the Little Miss Preteen and Junior Teen State Pageants held at the Sheraton Inn, Dover, on Sunday. Six girls, one of them a state winner from last year and five contestants this year, took part.

-Little Miss-

Gwen Shere Stubbs, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stubbs of Felton and Little Miss Delaware 1981, crowned her successor, Carrie Beth Swafford of Seaford. Gwen also entertained the audience with a baton routine.

Among the thirteen "Little Miss contestants were Kelly Renee Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brown of Harrington; Jodie Marie Melvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Melvin of Felton and Michelle Lynne Bedsole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bedsole of Viola. Michelle was second runner-up in the contest.

In the Miss Preteen division, two young ladies from this area were among the six contestants. They were Lisa Marie Trice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Trice of Harrington and Kelly Lee Rawding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Rawding of Felton. Kelly, a sixth grader at Lake Forest North, was named first runner-up. Lisa is in the seventh grade at the W.T. Chipman Junior School in Harrington.

Allison Nicole Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alden M. Wilson, Jr. of Milford, was chosen Miss Preteen Delaware and Miss Photogenic.

Computer system at the high school will control energy use

In the near future, Lake Forest High School will plug in a computer system that will keep tabs on its energy use. Once in place the system is guaranteed to save the school district $21,000 a year for the next three years. If it falls short of that total of savings, the firm selected to install the system, the Tri M Company of Kennett Square, Pennsylvania, will have to fork over a refund.

The Lake Forest Board of Education voted Monday night to accept the recommendation of its engineering consultants, the JAED Corporation of Smyrna, and award the contract for the installation of the Computer Control Energy System at the high school to Tri M. Installation should begin within the next ten days.

Lake Forest supervisor of buildings and grounds Charles Saulsbury explained that the installation would computerize the control of all the school's fuel using systems. These would include heating and air conditioning as well

Head on crash kills young Greenwood man

1982 traffic deaths continued to mount with the accident that killed 20 year old Roger C. Tinsman of Greenwood last Wednesday.

According to Delaware State Police, Tinsman's car was hit head-on by another vehicle driver of Thomas R. Bush, 26, also of Greenwood. Bush was traveling west on Delaware 26 when his car crossed the center line and smashed into Tinsman's. On impact, the Tinsman car was shoved back 280 feet.

Rushed to Milford Memorial Hospital, Tinsman was pronounced dead on arrival at 8:30 p.m. A passenger in his car, Rose Marie Griffin, 18, of near Greenwood, was in critical condition with head injuries at Delaware Division where she was transferred by state police helicopter. Bush was treated and released at Milford Memorial for minor injuries.

Tinsman was the state's 102nd traffic fatality. That number compared with 84 at the same time last year.

$10,000 is the goal of the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company's annual fund drive. Fund Drive Chairman Aubrey Brown says a $5 gift from each family or resident in the area would go a long way towards achieving the goal. A new community service hall, replacing an ambulance in the near future, and weatherizing windows are targets for the fund raising.

It was announced Monday evening at the annual banquet of the Delaware Valley Harness Writers Association that Perfect Beauty has been named Delaware Harness Horse of the year.

Another local horse, Adios Harry, winner of the 1954 Little Brown Jug, was named to the Delaware Harness Racing Hall of Fame. Adios Harry, now retired from stud duty, makes his home at the Greenwood farm of Luther Lyons, the son of the late owner.

In other balloting, racing driver Herve Fillion became the first living person elected to the Hall of Fame and Lawrence Shepperd was the first among the deceased to receive that honor.

Among other awards was a special one to "Perfect Beauty's" driver, Ross Hayter. Hayter is the driver of all three horses nominated for horse of the year.

School Board president, Rick Feutz receives a book from The American Heart Association. The gift was in recognition of the $3,737 raised by the district through the Jump Rope for Heart.

Lake Forest computer

As lights and other electrical systems, turn them off and on (or up and down) and program them in a cycle so designed that electrical circuits will not be overloaded by having everything come on all at once.

Saulsbury said the cycles are an especially important factor in cutting down the cost of energy. Large energy users such as the school, he said, are billed not only for the amount of energy they use, but on the basis of the demand made on the system at any one time. For example, if everything were to come on at the same time and run for as long as fifteen minutes, the district would be billed for demand at that peak load for the entire month. The computer will stagger demand through a programmed priority code so that specific areas can be heated or cooled when they are most needed. Thus, the pool heater could be off at the time a blast of cold air from an influx of students early in the morning chilled the school halls and caused the heating system to come on.

The new system will have 67 points or units that can be controlled separately. This will make it possible, for instance, to heat the library for an evening meeting without turning up the temperature in other areas.

Along with the basic system the school board voted to buy a maintenance contract that will cover repair labor costs and equipment replacement for ten years.

It also chose to add on a portable suitcase-sized terminal that will enable a designated person to control the system from a location remote from the building. If schools were closed by a winter storm, the portable terminal could be used to keep temperatures pre-programmed to come up to the comfort level for a normal day down to the maintenance level for a closed building.

A second add-on is an alarm that will automatically indicate when any part of a system is malfunctioning. If the problem occurs after hours a phone call to the designated person, who can then use it via phone to locate the trouble.

Cost of the system is $63,879 plus the approximate $2,400 already paid the engineering consultants. As a part of the agreement, the Tri M Company will be under bonded guarantee that the system will save the district $21,000 per year for the three year pay off period. That means that if the system only realizes $15,000 in savings for a year, the company would have to refund $6,000. Thus, the system is guaranteed to pay for itself in energy savings within the first three years.

Saulsbury said the funds to install the system will come from a package combining federal and state energy funds with local and state minor capital improvement moneys. None of it will come out of the operating budgets of the schools, but the energy savings realized could very well be channeled into those budgets.

In other business the Lake Forest School Board hired the following people: Deborah Kennard, 2nd grade, Lake Forest North; Bonnie Maris, 6th grade, Lake Forest North; Janet Sparks, half time kindergarten teacher, Lake Forest East; Kimberly McNichols, half-time special ed at Lake Forest North; Patricia Mathis, high school English; Holly Jonston, preschool aids, Lake Forest North; Bonnie Blades, high school special ed, and two additional staff members for the Diagnostic Center located at Lake Forest North.

Senior Center

by Dorothy Graham

Smile! A friend must not be injured, even in jest. Syrus.

Closed Monday at the Center but believe you me, things have really been popping ever since. Such a busy, happy group of people! Tuesday most of the folks from Harrington Senior Center went to Greenwood Cheer Center. Everyone reported a splendid time. They said the hospitality was super. The skit the Greenwood folks presented was enjoyable. Door prizes and singing by all! All in all it was a gala day. Then came Wednesday, well the folks all boarded a bus for Lancaster County/Millers Smorgasborg, and Factory Outlets. Chatter was all good about that trip also, though the weather was gray outside, nothing but gaiety prevailed with the folks. Among the purchases was house plants and glassware. Good trip, good food, good friends truly makes an especially good time! Gertrude Morgan was chaperone.

Sunday evening the Senior Sounds sang at the Nazarene Church. If the congregation liked them half as much as the folks liked being there, well, then, it was absolutely a perfect combination! The children of the church made each of the Senior Sounds group a gift. It was greatly appreciated!

Thursday, the Bowling went on as usual at Milford Lanes. Local shopping with Clint. Crafts, with Lorraine and Loraine B. and Barbara E. with lots of Senior Center folks - Eddie Cooper and Wanda Sylvester were here with all kinds of quilting pretties. Barbara brought in a new batch of goodies for patterns. Nell Bausell brought in a beautiful wreath made from calico. You must come in and see all the gorgeous, useful, cute, adorable articles available here.

The Senior Sounds with Virginia Smith at the piano performed Oct. 13. They were all in excellent sound. Present was Sylvia Meredith, Cecil Meredith, Marion and Roxanne Brown, Mary Sapp, Frances Wright, Mildred Vincent, Anna Mae Short, Mamie Adams, Tony Perrone, Gladys Hill, John McCready, Jo Burke, Catherine Stevens, Andy Anderson, Annabel Morrow and Ola Tildon.

Me, oh, my, Wednesday was card day at Hazel Langrell's. Everyone was in a sunny, sunny disposition though as I've said, the rains came down, gently, but the skies were gray. Refreshments, luscious coconut cake and ice cream, hot coffee and other nibbles. The scores, well, honey, everyone was complaining. We did enjoy the afternoon, Ruth Powell, Ethel Rapp, Mildred Wagner, Kathryn Smith, Mary E. Nelson, Dorothy Graham and Virginia Willey.

Listen, folks, don't forget the upcoming trip to Hawaii and then there is the new trip being planned to "The Pottery", Nov. 8, 1982.

Bingo, Bowling, Crafts, Ceramics, Games, Friends, Tasty Meals. Bazaar on November 5, 1982. All at Harrington Senior Center. Come on in and enjoy it with us.

Thank you "All Volunteers". Best wishes to ALL. Be kind to each other! Hi, Alice and Emil, how are the swans? (That is a beautiful picture!)

A special hello to all out-of-towners! Faith!

There were to visiting firemen from Long Island, N.Y. to enjoy our fireman's supper on Saturday. They were Lester O'Day and Joe Mirando.

How do you spend a Sunday afternoon? It's easy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Havelow of Felton. Relaxing and enjoyable listening to the glorious music by Jimmie Emberlain, watching his long fingers play the fiddle cuddled under his chin and hopping from tune to tune. Jimmie is a self-taught fiddler. While in company, Jimmie's friend Mr. Howard King of Seaford played his violin, accompanied by Miss Betty Ann Havelow at the electric piano, playing in harmony country western, hymns and mountain tunes. All three musician's expressions show their love for music. Mrs. Grace Havelow, a wonderful hostess, called for a break to serve

Gab Fest

How about the nip in the autumn air? The weather bureau says we had frost yesterday morning, Oct. 11, but we saw no evidence of it here. The lima beans were not touched, nor the flowers. Our thermometer showed only 40° but the official temperature was 34°.

The men were working with jackets on in the yard, and I felt that autumn urge to prepare suitable food. So I made a hearty beef stew with carrots, peas, celery and onions, served with hot rolls and a rich old-fashioned apple cobbler for dessert. My favorite recipe for apple cobbler is called French Apple Cobbler. Did I ever give it to you? Here goes, anyway:

FRENCH APPLE COBBLER

Filling: Into a large bowl put 5 cups of peeled sliced cooking apples. Add 1 cup of sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon vanilla and 1/2 cup water. Stir this up well so that the apples are coated, turn into an oblong baking pan and dot generously with butter.

Take another large bowl and prepare the batter: 1/2 cup flour, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine and 1 egg. Beat well until smooth. Drop portions of batter onto the apples. It will spread during baking. Bake in 375° oven until apples are soft. Makes six to eight servings. Nice with whipped topping or ice cream.

There is not a whole lot of batter. I think I would like the batter recipe doubled and may try it sometime.

How differently the great writers interpreted nature and her moods. We have spoken of Helen Hunt Jackson's "October's bright, blue weather". This week I was reading something from Edgar Allen Poe. Poe was a sad, moody, morbid individual and his writings reflected much of this.

"The skies they were ashen and sober;
The leaves they were crisp and sere...
It was night in lonesome October
Of my most memorial year."

I had an aunt who looked at life like that. She thought autumn was such a sad time with, as she said, everything lying and going away. I look at it as a quiet, restful time with the warm covers tucked up to the chin and the waiting for the great awakening to come.

Some folks believe that for every October fog there will be a winter snowstorm. And there is also a saying that October always has 19 fine days, some of which we call Indian summer. I do truly believe that the great Creator gives us Indian summer to remind us that the great awakening is just ahead. The sap will flow again, the birds will sing, the sun will warm us and nature will rejoice again at the next crop of green leaves and bright blossoms. Wasn't it Shelley who said: "O, Wind, if Winter comes, can Spring be far behind?"

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

There are three types if diners: those who never add salt to food; those who taste their food, then add salt if 'needed'; those who shake salt on their food without even tasting it. After researching large numbers of each type for several years, a Dr. Dahl found hypertension (high blood pressure) develops 10 times more often among heavy salt users than among those who never salt their food. Salt is also involved in kidney disorders, obesity, and other ailments.

Quarterbacking again - Gary Moore (18) heaves the ball

Leroy Polk (70) & teammate gang up on a Bulldog

Spartans hold on to lead to beat Laurel

Friday night's Lake Forest-Laurel football matchup on Bulldog territory turned out to be almost like two separate games. The first half belonged to the Spartans; the second to the Bulldogs.

Lake Forest piled up a 26-0 lead in the first and second quarters. But either a case of Spartan overconfidence or a super halftime pep talk by Laurel coach Wayne Barr - or both turned the tables, and very nearly, the game in the second. The Bulldogs came roaring back in the third and fourth quarters to score 20 points. By the closing minutes of the game, they were within a touchdown of a tie or victory.

The game started with a Spartan explosion as Vincent Thorpe took the opening kickoff and ran 92 yards for a touchdown in the first 13 seconds. A two-point pass attempt failed, but Lake Forest was on the boards 6-0.

Before the first quarter was over a 17 yard pass from quarterback Gary Moore hit Brian Hudson in a corner of the end zone for another TD. Brian Gladden came in for the successful kick to make it 13-0.

In the second quarter, it was Ralph Taylor on runs of 60 and 70 yards who scored the Spartan touchdowns. Taylor, who had 150 yards against Delmar the previous week, piled up 148 on ten carries against Laurel.

Brian Gladden, senior Spartan quarterback, was still sidelined with the shoulder injury that took him out of the Laurel game. He did see action as he was called in to punt for the Spartans and to execute two successful extra point kicks. However, it was junior Gary Moore who was once again tapped to call the shots on the field for the game.

In the second half, the Spartans had trouble containing the Bulldogs who scored twice in the third quarter and once in the fourth. The Laurel points came on a 45 yard TD pass from Baker to Mark Hitch and two runs of 24 and 45 yards by Mervin Oney. The second was a punt return.

The victory moved the Spartan record into the winning column at 3-2 with half the season gone. However, Lake Forest has played only one northern division game. Four of those remain.

This Saturday afternoon will be Homecoming at Lake Forest as the Spartans tackle the Dover Senators in their first division contest since the Cape Henlopen game.

Harries reach 4-0 mark

by Keith S. Burgess

Lake Forest's Cross Country team, coached by Jim Blades, crushed Dover and edged tough Sussex Central to reach the halfway mark of the schedule, with a 4-0 mark. One more victory will assure the Spartans of their 25th winning season, in as many years.

Ironically, the first 11 years of that streak were recorded, at Harrington High, the first downstate school to have the sport. H.H.S. had as many as 60 boys running cross/country, some years. In 1982, only three boys from the old Harrington High district are on the cross/country team. That is ridiculous!

Surely the Harrington kids aren't satiated by a quarter of a century of winning seasons. One would think that such a winning tradition would attract more young athletes, anxious to join a team that won seven state championships.

Dan Donovan, one of the Harrington trio, in only the third harrier race of his life, knocked 20 seconds off his personal best on the three-mile Killen's Pond course. His 17:08 led all finishers, in the Dover meet and won him "Harrier of the Wee" honors.

Danny Haines, the sophomore who is No. 1 at Lake Forest, so far this year, ran 17:23, his best yet.

Sophomore Mike Melvin was fourth, one second out of third. Chris Caskey, Mike Grogan, Bob Smith, freshman Billy Haggerty and Lafayette Bell all beat the second Dover runner, who was tenth. Smith, a junior, last ran at Chipman three years ago. A very courageous runner, has been a real shot in the arm to his team. He and Donovan have helped turn a fair team into a good one.

Haggerty, another Harringtonian is only 13, but Billy is a fine prospect and has already earned his varsity LF monogram award.

Only one of the above runners is a senior, so look for winning season No. 26 in 1983.

The Harrington girls team is also unbeaten and has a shot at the Henlopen title. Tara Gladden set a personal mark of 21.00 for three miles to take first place. Pam Pierce was next in 21.40 also a PR after a Dover runner came Debbie Jester and Shirlaine Goodman. They ran 23.02 and 23.14 for their fastest trips yet, here.

DeeDee White in action against Sussex Central

DeeDee White gives LF girls the winning shots

Three goals off the hockey stick of senior Dee Dee White gave Lake Forest the leading edge in last Thursday's game against Caesar Rodney. All three were scored in the first half. They gave the Spartans a 3-1 half-time lead which the Riders narrowed to 3-2 before the game was over.

Junior Sondra Warren assisted with the second of the three white goals.

In addition to the scoring, Lake Forest's win can be credited to some fine defensive work. Freshman Dana Adams, brought up from the JV team to fill in for varsity goalie Tammy Gilman, proved equal to the challenge. She had five saves for Lake Forest.

The victory over CR brings the Spartan hockey team's record to 3-4-1.

Delaware Gets New Hunting Laws

Poachers To Be Prosecuted

Now the Division of Fish and Wildlife is enlisting the aid of sportsmen and other citizens in halting poaching and other unethical outdoor practices, such as use of 220 and 330 Conibear traps, killing endangered species or the illegal sale of wildlife.

Operation Game Theft has been formed to pay rewards to those whose information results in apprehension and conviction of game law violators. A Wildlife Theft Prevention Fund, established by the General Assembly in 1981, allows the Division of Fish and Wildlife to use fines levied for violations of game laws and donations for the rewards. The Division also has set up a seven day a week hotline for reporting violations. Rewards range up to $100. But in many cases, citizens have been refusing the rewards, saying they were happy to help catch the poachers. Contributions to help fund the program can be made to Wildlife Theft Prevention Fund, Division of Fish and Wildlife, P.O. Box 1401, Dover, DE 19901.

Anyone seeing a wildlife violation should try to contact the area game warden immediately. If the agent is unavailable, the hotline number is 1-678-3030 during working hours and 1-736-4580 after hours and on weekends.

Citizens will be eligible for the reward whether they contact the game warden or hotline. When they talk to the game warden, they do not need to give a name, but in order to collect the reward, they must call the Chief Warden the next working day (678-3030, collect) and confirm the information.

Delaware's program is modeled on those used in some 30 states. New Mexico was the first state with such a program and in three years paid out rewards that resulted in 300 poaching convictions.

Poaching in Delaware is a considerable problem, since there are only eight game wardens covering the state and its many miles of back roads. All rely on citizen help.

Poaching is not limited to deer. Many poachers work on fish or take other animals out of season or kill far over the limit of game birds.

"Poachers steal from Delawareans, whether they hunt or not," Carson says. "They're thieves, pure and simple. With citizen help for Operation Game Theft, we may be able to stop them."

"If a citizen wants to remain anonymous, that's no problem," says Bill Carson, coordinator of Operation Game Theft. "Identities are kept strictly confidential. Anyone qualifying for a reward will be paid in cash by the person to whom he gave his name."

Harrington UNICEF Drive Planned

Harrington's UNICEF Drive will be held this year on Saturday, October 30 from 3 to 5 p.m. All interested children from the community churches and organizations should report to the Harrington New Century Club, Dorman Street for the proper identification badge and UNICEF container before the annual campaign begins. They will then be accompanied by an adult supervisor to their assigned area of collection.

Your donation will be translated into clean water, good food, basic health care and education for millions of the world's poorest children.

Please give generously when our local youngsters go "Trick or Treating" for UNICEF on October 30.

LF Loses To CR 5-2

Over 200 fans showed up October 12 to watch Lake Forest's first home night game in two years. In what was billed as one of the biggest conference matches of the year, the varsity soccer team lost their first game of the season when Ceasar Rodney defeated them 5-2.

Marvin Parker scored the only goal for Lake Forest in the first half, as the Spartans trailed 2-1. Gregg Eckenrode later scored in the second half for the Spartans on a penalty kick to even the score at 2 apiece.

"The main reason they (C.S.) broke the 2-2 tie is because they wore us down," explained Coach Buck. In the last 15 minutes of the game, Ceasar Rodney scored three times winning the game 5-2. This leaves the Spartan's record at 4-1-1.

NOTE - On Thursday, October 16, Lake Forest bowed to Cape Henlopen 3-0. Earlier in the year the Spartans tied the Vikings. Going into yesterday's rematch with Seaford, Lake Forest was 4-2-1.

Spartan, Sondra Warren (11) takes control.

Aspirin and Measles

Don't Mix

The Delaware Division of Public Health has joined the U.S. Surgeon General in warning parents not to use aspirin or aspirin-containing drugs for infants and young children with influenza of chicken pox.

Accordin to Dr. Lyman J. Olsen, Director of the Division of Public Health, the warning is being made because of the association between the use of aspirin in children with these diseases and Reye Syndrome.

The Surgeon General's Advisory says "the association of salicylates and Reye syndrome is based on evidence from studies that are sufficiently stron to justify this warning to parents and health care personnel." Aspirin is a salicylate.

Reye syndrome is a rare, acute and life-threatening condition. It is characterized by vomiting and lethargy, which may progress to delirium and coma. It occurs most commmly in children between 5 and 16 years old who are recovering from viral infections, particularly influenza and chicken pox.

Estimates from the National Center for Disease Control indicate between 600 and 1,200 cases of Reye syndrome occur each year in the United States. About 20 to 30 percent are fatal. Some permanent brain damage also has been reported in survivors.

Parents are urged to read the labels carefully on all over-the-counter medications. Look under "active ingredients" for the words aspirin, acetylsalicylic acid or sodium silyclate. These aspirin or aspirin-containing drugs are not recommended for young chilren with viral infections.

POW Awareness Day

by R. Hughes

Sunday, October 24th is to be POW Awareness Day! This is good news when Americans can act as a VOICE to help to free the Prisoners of War and Missing in Action in S.E. Asia. On October 24th, POW Awareness Day, plan to wear a red lapel ribbon. Everyone is invited to join, or to send a contribution to the National Forget-Me-Not Association for POW-MIA's Inc. P.O. Box 41023, St. Petersburg, Fla. 33743, a Non-profit, Volunteer Group.

"Action, not just words, is needed" said Colonel Norman McDaniel, who for 7 years withstood every humiliation, torment and torture as a Prisoner of War in N. Vietnam.

Col. McDaniel spoke at a dinner at the NCO Club at the Dover Air Force Base on October 9th in recognition of the POW's and MIA's. Officially Presumed Dead, 2,500 American servicemen and civilians are still ALIVE and held in slave labor, according to 420 eye witnesses involved in government incidences.

By writing to President Reagan or our Congressmen, wearing a red lapel ribbon on October 24 POW Awareness Day, we can put public pressure on North and South Vietnam and Laos governments to secure the release of our not forgotten servicemen!

Col. McDaniel authored a book entitled, "Yet Another Voice" in which he related his experiences as a POW. I looked up the address of the publisher: Nordon Publications, Inc. 2 Park Ave. Suite 910, New York, N.Y. 10016, and I wanted to read about his experiences and his readjustment efforts after repatriation. But I feel compelled to share with the other Americans his own personal account of how he survived as POW, and to applaud his heroism in face of every attempt to indoctrinate him and his fellow POW's.

How did he accomplish survival in face of tremendous odds? Today, psychologists, educators, talk-show guests and many published articles suggest that we Americans are under stress and may also have job burn-out. In handling stress, we use tranquilizers, uppers or downers, alcohol, pot, vacations, detachment from the problems of our neighbors or our world. Many different solutions are offered. What about the "stress" of our unreleased POW's/MIA's? What unstated Col. McDaniel and his fellow prisoners?

He told it all in his speech, addressed to distinguished representatives of military Airlift Wing Commanders, Commanders of American Legion Posts and their Auxiliaries, and to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Air Force Sgts. Association and its Auxiliary, and paid tribute to the Disabled American Veterans, Chapter 1.

First he spoke of his devotion to his country. He took his pledge as 2nd Lt. USAF with "a sincere commitment and a willing heart". Assigned to the Takhli Air Base in Thailand, he flew 51 missions until in 1966 when his E-66C aircraft took a hit and fragments hit the fuel tanks. Of the six crew members, five came back. The North Vietnamese later stated that the sixth member died in the conflagration.

As a POW, Norman claimed he had a lot going for him! He had faith in his country. Despite the controversy as to whether we were right or wrong to fight in Vietnam, Col. McDaniel felt that his country was behind him, and during brutal interrogations and attempts to indoctrinate him to communistic propaganda, he was stronger for his love and trust in his country.

The mental and physical pressure was put on him year after year, and he knew he just couldn't rely upon himself. Thoughts of his wife, Carol and his children helped him to endure. He had to endure, so they could be back together again, as they are happily now.

As time went by, the uncertainty so intense, the torture so great, memories of family and freedom dimmed for McDaniel. His fellow POW's kept up his morale, and he theirs. Each depended upon the other. Three of his friends, now returned, tell him on occasion, "Norm, if it had not been for your example, I wouldn't be alive today." He had accepted Christianity at the age of 12, and his memory of scripture provided strength to him and his fellow prisoners. Yet, if they were caught trying to talk to each other, which the Vietnamese knew would strengthen them, they would be punished by beatings, starvation or robbed of mosquito nets or shackled for 5 days to concrete and board bed. Daily threats of death were made.

Despite this, the POW's communicated and held onto a thread of life. Only the words of Christ were adequate, for He said, "What more can a man do than lay down his life for a friend?"

McDaniel's source of strength, a firm belief in God, was the greatest. "When the enemy pumped you with propaganda," he said, "and you had ten months of isolation and were told you'd never be released, and you did not hear from your wife (although she wrote), in such situations, you ask yourself, 'is it worth it?'" But Norm had a Friend who promised HE would never leave him or desert him, a blessed promise ever true.

When the American public began to be concerned in the 1965's - 1968's about the treatment of the POW's, the North Vietnamese improved some of the conditions of the prisoners, for they became valuable pawns. Because of American public pressure, they didn't want the POW's to be in too bad a shape. They took them out of isolation and they were allowed to communicate. About 1972, they were allowed the Bible at Easter and Christmas, but still, the North Vietnamese told them, "You don't eat, or breathe without our permission."

Col. Norman McDaniel, born in Fayetteville, North Carolina is both a brilliant college graduate and a black American hero, one of the many thousands of black American servicemen who defended freedom and endured sacrifice for home and country. Many Americans, both black and white, died in S.A. Asia, and with thoughts of them and their families and the Missing in Action, who may still be alive, I wish to wear a red ribbon on POW Awareness Day, October 24th!

At the POW/MIA Recognition Banquet, letters from both Rep. Tom Evans and Governor duPont were read of POW Awareness Day, Oct. 24th. Both men supported a political public pressure to release our captured and enslaved servicemen. In April, 1971, Ronald Reagan himself said, "A Country that forgets its defenders will itself be forgotten."

Let's bring our defenders home!

R. Hughes, Veteran American Legion, Post 7

Letter to the Editor

As a veteran attending the POW-MIA Recognition Banquet at the NCO Club on Dover Air Force Base on October 9th, I would like to comment that the banquet was one of the most sincere and beautiful tributes to American freedom and love of our country, and of our men who served in Southeast Asia especially. The banquet was a tribute also to our missing defenders who are alive and we want them back!

After a call to colors: Msgr. Paul Reynolds, of Maguire Air Force Base gave an outstanding address on patriotism and the meaning of our flag to us, and our children, and our responsibility to maintain American freedom. No longer can we say "It's none of our business, because it is!" We must act to preserve justice, freedom and the privileges guaranteed us by our Constitution. October 24th, designated as POW Awareness Day, is a day when all American citizens are invited to wear a red lapel ribbon for the 2,500 Prisoners of War and Missing in Action in Southeast Asia from 1964 until the present.

Guest speaker, Colonel Norman A. McDaniel, who flew fifty-one missions over North Vietnam and was a prisoner of war for seven years after his E-66C aircraft was shot down in July 1966, explained why a show of interest and action taken by Americans should go beyond talking. He urges Americans to reach beyond talking to let them know in North and South Vietnam and Laos that we want our servicemen returned! Of the 2,493 American servicemen unaccounted for, 900 are from the Air Force, 700 are from the Army, 500 from the Navy and 400 are civilians.

In Colonel McDaniel's opinion "not many could still be alive." Perhaps he feels this way because of personal experience with torture, beatings, solitary confinement, attempts to indoctrinate and daily threats of death for seven years from his Vietnamese tormentors. Colonel McDaniel went on to say, "Because of many reports coming out of Indochina, there must be no doubt that we must continue to seek release of those still held captive."

If I understood this very courageous man correctly, Colonel McDaniel stated that through government incidents, there were 426 eyewitnesses that of 1,450 servicemen, one half of the POW's are accounted for, "but are not considered as prisoners", and one half are still unaccounted for. I would like to ask who decided that our POW's "are not considered as prisoners"?

During his prisoner of war years, Colonel McDaniel stated, "I never felt I had been forgotten by my fellow Americans", and he made an appeal to us that our POW's-MIA's should, through our action and pressure on the Vietnamese government, get the feeling that somebody cares! Somebody is trying to get them out! Many families are still wondering about the fate of their loved ones, if still alive.

Not only do we have a direct responsibility for them there in Southeast Asia, but Colonel McDaniel also felt that our interest and action will have a direct implication that future prisoners of war would have the assurance, faith and trust that Americans will not relent in their efforts to get a full accounting and release for those who served their country sacrificially and with courage and honor.

"A Country That Forgets Its Defenders Will Itself Be Forgotten", Ronald Reagan, April, 1971.

A letter to President Reagan urging his action for the unaccounted in Southeast Asia, who are in fact, alive but officially listed as presumed dead, was then read to a distinguished assemblage, and the letter was endorsed by all. Present at the banquet were representatives of the American Legion Posts, Disabled American Veterans, Air Force Sergeants Assoc., Military Airlift Wing, Commander, Colonel Jack Ferguson, of the 512th Military Airlift Wing, and Commander, Colonel Leland F. Small, of the 436th Air Base Group.

Americans are invited to send contributions to the National Forget-Me-Not Association for the POW's-MIA's Inc., P.O. Bpx 41023, St. Petersburg, Florida 33743, and to wear a red lapel ribbon on October 24th POW Awareness Day.

Letter to the Editor

I would like to wish luck to the low-down, contemptible punk that stole something from my car. However, the luck I wish you is all bad. Maybe if you got off your lazy fanny and worked for what you wanted, you wouldn't have to lower yourself to steal. Remember, your friends might laugh about it, but you sure as hell put a doubt in their minds about ever trusting you again. If you are not the party that did the stealing, this is no concern of yours. If you are, the I am being very ladylike about what I wrote, for the simple reason that I think you and your crummy actions aren't printable. I am withholding my name for the simple reason that you know who I am. After reading this, I believe there are two things you can do - keep on stealing until you are caught and wind up in jail, or use the brains God gave you and straighten out your act and see if being honest isn't better. (Name withheld upon request.)

Dear Sirs,

I have taken the time to write the verse "The Delaware State Fair." I hope you will print it.

TO THE EDITOR:

I advertised in your paper for tenants for my house, and the Farrow Realty found reliable ones. No other paper offered the quick, careful attention to those people who answered the ads you people did.

Recently, I advertised my 1975 Merc in your paper. It was sold within two weeks and only cost $3.50 for the ad.

Maybe you don't get compliments by letter too often, but readers of the Harrington Journal say, "It's a good paper." Each week we get interesting news we don't find in other papers, so thanks.

If I have something to sell again, I'll advertise with you because that's not wasting money today, is it?

Salute to excellence

Jane Everline returned home last week from the nation's capital where she was honored at the first 4-H Salute to Excellence program at the National 4-H Center.

Mrs. Everline was one of 52 outstanding 4-H volunteer leaders selected from each state, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico to attend this recognition and training forum supported by R.J. Reynolds Industries Inc. and arranged by National 4-H Council.

During the week Mrs. Everline was involved in intensive training sessions concentrating on techniques for expanding 4-H at the local level. She will now work with 4-H leadership in Delaware to create a proposal for an incentive grant of $1,000, provided by R.J.R. to involve more volunteers in the 4-H program. Grants will be awarded later this year.

A banquet on Capitol Hill highlighted the week-long sessions.

According to Everline, the training sessions helped her gain greater understanding of the depth and breadth of the 4-H program nationwide. She said Dr. James Van Horn introduced the 5th H - Helping. Today's young people are faced with so many problems that were non-existent or just beginning to surface a generation ago. These include alcohol, drug misuse, sexuality and the ever-climbing divorce rate resulting in 1 parent families.

Educational field trips provided opportunity for Everline to explore the rich heritage and cultural resources of the nation's capital. "The tour of the capital building conducted by the president of the National Historical Society was most rewarding and enjoyed by all. It is truly a beautiful and amazing work of art, and everyone should visit this part of our heritage. A truly inspirational moment was felt when all 52 delegates and our guide joined hands in the Senate prayer room and sang Amazing Grace."

"One of the most exciting parts of the program was sharing of ideas and techniques with other volunteers from across the country," Everline said.

"Starting a library, a square dance group, promoting 4-H through audio-visuals, design a badge contest, skits and a little clover (ages 5 to 7) club were among the ideas shared by the delegates."

4-H leader forums are conducted throughout the year by National 4-H Council in support of the 4-H program of the Cooperative Extension Service of the State Land-Grant Universities and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. You can learn more about how you can become involved as a 4-H member or volunteer leader by contacting Cooperative Extension Service, 300 S. New Street, Dover, DE 736-1448.

Edward A. Horrigan Jr., chairman and chief executive officer, R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, presents a copy of the new history book, 4-H: An American Idea, 1900-1980 to Delaware volunteer Jane Everline. At left is Dr. Eugene Williams, national 4-H leader, Extension Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Constitutional Scholarship Program

The Delaware Heritage Commission has established a Constitutional Scholarship Program to assist students during their first year of college. Seven scholarships in the amount of $1,000 each will be awarded as a result of a competition which will begin at the county level and culminate in final judging at a statewide fair to be held in April 1983. The competition is open to all Delaware high school seniors.

The objective of the program is to assist students in achieving excellence and in developing their potential while providing encouragement, incentive and motivation for high school seniors to continue their studies. Applicants will be selected initially through evaluation on factors such as scholarship, leadership and citizenship. Having met preliminary criteria, a student will be eligible to submit a project to be judged in the overall competition.

The Constitutional Scholarship Program is an initial step in the planning for the commemoration of the bicentennial of Delaware becoming the "First State" to ratify the United States Constitution which will take place in 1987.

I SHOULD'VE VOTED. You know that's what you're going to say if your candidate doesn't win.

Keene Recital

by Melvin L. Brobst

Last Sunday afternoon, despite the fine weather and the playing of

Last Sunday afternoon, despite the fine weather and the playing of the fourth game of the World Series, there was a fine vocal recital given at the First Presbyterian Church, Milford, when Mrs. Penelope Keene, soprano, a voice student of Mrs. Norma Heyde at Salisbury State College, presented her artistry before a small but enthusiastic audience.

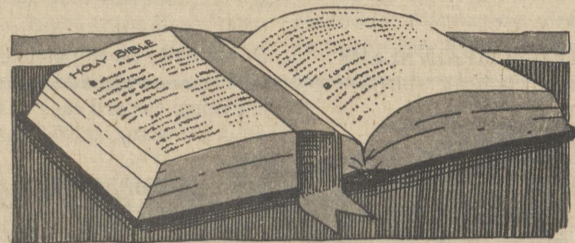

Mrs. Keene, who lives in Seaford, sang songs from the Romantic school to the modern period with clarity and a finesse that displayed her fine lyric quality to sometimes brilliant clarity. Especially noteworthy was the "Chanson Triste" of Duparc, and the poignant "When I Have Sung My Songs" by Ernest Charles with which she closed her hour-long program.

Her diction in the German and French as well as the English, was clear and distinct. The printed program was especially helpful with explanations for each number.

Dr. Arthur L. Delpaz, Chairman of the Music Department at Salisbury State College, was the able accompanist.

Mrs. Heyde can be congratulated on bringing her student for presentation in this area and it is hoped that there will be more such programs in the future.
