But it may very well turn out that you're hosting a student from Sweden who is visiting this country through the Educational Foundation for Foreign Study. And while he may think it just as odd that you douse your pancakes with maple syrup, by this time, neither one of you would let such a tiny detail hinder the international friendship in the making. As a matter of fact, the difference in tastes just adds spice to the whole adventure. Eight students and their American families who are sharing the adventure

Hunting accident causes minor injury

A Greenwood man was wounded, but not seriously, in a hunting accident last Thursday. John D. Scott, of Greenwood, and a companion, Russell Ford of Bridgeton, N.J. were hunting off Delaware Route 16 about four miles east of Greenwood when the mishap occurred.

Delaware State Police at troop 4, Bridgeville, said a deer jumped up in front of the two hunters. When Ford fired, one of the pellets from his gun hit Scott in the right arm, causing a minor injury. Scott was treated and released at Milford Memorial Hospital. The accident happened about 2 p.m.

Harrington's ceremony brought to mind the national celebration over the past week honoring those who served in the armed services in Vietnam and the 57,935 names of those dead or missing inscribed on the memorial in Washington, D.C.

American Legion CKRT Post #7 marked Veterans Day with Sunday afternoon ceremonies during which new brass name plates on Harrington Honor Roll Memorial were unveiled. The names were formerly painted on the background. The new brass plates will be more permanent. This project, started under past Post Commander Roy Marker, is continuing under present Post Commander Howard Brown. The Post hopes to have a complete record of all those who served during World War I, World War II, Korea and Vietnam.

Veterans' Day Address

[Text of address delivered by State Representative-elect George Robert Quillen at unveiling ceremonies at the Harrington Honor Roll Memorial on Sunday, November 14.]

Veterans Day. The day we honor millions of men and women who gave of themselves to keep America strong and free. Serving America in uniform called for many sacrifices.

Family separations. Putting duty, honor and country before self. Four times this century America faced the challenge of war. Four times Americans rose to that challenge. Today many men and women continue to serve in uniform, making the sacrifices that go with the job. Sacrifices that will give them the honor to one day be called military veterans.

It seems each November 11 we tend to look back. To remember the good old days. To think about the way it was. And yes, to remember the many sacrifices of veterans.

But, perhaps looking back is the wrong place to focus our attention in 1982. Look around you. See the banker. The civic leader. The mechanic. The electrician. The chemist. The secretary. Many are veterans. Yet ... there is another common bond often not considered. These men and women are first -citizens of America.

Veterans and Americans. You really can't separate the terms. Just because the uniform is hung away doesn't mean their contribution to our American way of life is over.

Du Pont said, "The public school system must continue to change with the times, but as it does, it must accomodate both the academically gifted students and the average student, and the special student with learning difficulties."

Burrsville Ruritan presents donations to 3 fire companies

In recognition of Fire Prevention Month, the Burrsville Ruritan had as guests at their October dinner meeting representatives from Denton and Harrington Volunteer Fire Companies. On hand were Gary Harrington, President of the Harrington fire fighters and Frank Zeigler, assistant secretary of the Denton Fire Fighters. Each were presented a $100.00 donation by Ruritan President Dick Johnson. Greensboro Fire Company was invited, but a last minute emergency caused them to cancel out. However, a representative will be present at the November meeting to receive their donation.

President Dick Johnson said "Burrsville Ruritan is pleased to be able to help support other community service organizations as each of us strive to make our respective communities a better place in which to live and raise our families."

Also present at the October meeting was Wayne Howard of Caroline Health Services, Inc. to update the members on the progress experienced at the Medical Center in Goldsboro, Md. during the past two years. He explained their plans for expanding service in Caroline County by incorporating Dr. Jensen's former practice into their organization in order to provide more medical coverage to meet the needs of the residents in the area.

The Student Council at the W.T. Chipman School, Harrington, canvassed the student body for contributions to UNICEF [the United Nations Children's Emergency Fund]. $50 was raised. Representatives from 87 countries will gather Nov. 24-27 in Geneva, increasingly concerned with EEC's Switzerland, for GATT's first ministerial-level meeting since 1973. The meeting has no defined agenda, largely because many crucial issues currently challenge the international trading world.

The U.S. is expected to push for close examination of Europe's current trade policies while at the same time trying not to offend the Europeans, our most important foreign market. The U.S.

This month's meeting of the General and the European Economic Commun-Agreement on Tariffs and Trade ity (EEC) have many items to discuss year, European production has greatly (GATT) Council of Ministers -- the first ranging from high technology trade to in nine years -- may determine how fast current concerns over the EEC's the U.S. farm economy recovers from growing use of subsidies for agricultural exports.

U.S. farmers and farm groups are expanded use of agricultural export subsidies. Since 1973, EEC export subsidies have increased fourfold, rising from only 20 percent to almost one-half of EEC's agricultural budget. Export subsidies are an important part of EEC's Common Agricultural Policy (CAP. The CAP relies largely on a price support policy to maintain farmers' incomes. As a result of these price supports, which incidentally were raised on the average of 11 percent this expanded. In fact, EEC has shifted from being a major net importer to a net exporter in less than a decade. Export subsidies -- government payments to European exporters to bring their prices down to world-market levels -- totalled an astounding $6 billion in 1982 and were instrumental in changing Europe's status from a world importer to exporter.

Under its Article 16, GATT forbids subsidies on manufactured goods, but permits subsidies on primary agricultural products as long as these subsidies do not permit one country to gain an inordinant market share. U.S. officials say this is exactly what is happening -- export subsidies are not only allowing Europeans to get an artificlal advantage in world markets, but are adding supplies to an already over-flowing market and depressing prices for everyone.

In spite of Europe's import-restricting tariffs, price-raising levies and export-increasing subsidies, U.S. agricultural shipments to Europe have risen markedly since World War II. Europe now takes almost one-fourth of the total U.S. agricultural exports.

Soybeans illustrate the importance of European markets for U.S. farmers. U.S. sales of soybeans to the ÉEC jumped from close to 200 million oushels in 1975 to more than 350 million bushels in 1980. Soybean meal sales increased from 2.6 million metric tons, equalling almost 121 million bushels of soybeans, to 3.8 million metric tons, requiring more than 176 million bushels of soybeans, during that same time period. About 30 to 35 percent of the total U.S. soybean production is exported to Europe. During the last two to three years, U.S. soybean and soybean product sales to Europe were valued at more than $3 billion annually. American Soybean Association officials say the duty-free entry of soybeans into Europe -- first negotiated in the 1962 Kennedy Round Agreements -represents a major factor in expansion of soybean exports to Europe. Currently, Europe is pushing to limit imports of U.S. corn gluten feed. If this happens, indications are that soybeans and soybean meal will be next in line to get import controls. U.S. officials are adamantly opposed to any such restrictions. "Any action on soybeans, via a vegetable oil tax or whatever guise, is tantamount to a declaration of trade war," says Wayne Sharp, counselor for agricultural affairs, U.S. Mission to the European Communities. The GATT ministerial meeting will signal the direction and intensity of such a trade war. The results of the meeting will directly affect U.S. farmers and consumers.

Public Instruction.

Mrs. Donofrio, a resident of Andrews Lake, near Frederica, has 14 years' experience as a teacher, including ten at Smyrna Middle School. She was chosen from among sixteen persons nominated for their superior ability to inspire students with a love of learning and for representing the best traits of Delaware's 5400 teachers. She becomes the state's candidate for National Teacher of the Year, a title to be bestowed in December.

Her selection was announced by State Superintendent of Public Instruction William B. Keene at an awards dinner in Dover November 8.

Praised for her creative lessons and her rapport with students and faculty, Mrs. Donofrio is called a stimulating and enthusiastic teacher whose classes give the highlight of her students' week. With her thorough preparation she's said to meet unusual success in working with children of different abilities and ages. Her colleagues say Mrs. Donofrio personifies a love of learning, shows fascination at a wildflower, and is gifted at transmitting to others her own sense of wonder at the world.

margarine 1 cup brown sugar

1 large can fruit

1 - 2 layer cake mix

1. Set oven at 350° and place butter or margarine in cake pan approximately 9"x12"x2". Set pan in oven until butter melts.

2. Remove pan and add brown sugar. Stir sugar with butter till well mixed and spread evenly as possible around bottom of pan. There may be some bare spots.

3. Place fruit attractively on top of sugar. Now is the time to add chopped nuts or coconut if you wish. Just sprinkle between fruit.

4. Prepare cake mix according to package directions using liquid from fruit instead of water. You may have to add a little water to get recommended measure of liquid.

5. Pour batter over fruit evenly and bake. Test for doneness after 20 minutes and judge your baking time ENJOY!

The Harrington New Century Club well dressed, great walkers and bike held their meeting on November 9th. Mrs. Joseph Brinster presided at the business meeting in the absence of the President, Mrs. Francis Winkler.

Mrs. Harry Chasnov, the International Chairman, and her committee: Mrs. Melvin McClain, Mrs. Fred Powell and Mrs. Wm. Jester, introduced to us Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greenhaugh, who had visited their son, Major John Greenhaugh, stationed in Germany.

Here is a summary of their trip: In 6 weeks of traveling through Germany, Switzerland and Denmark, they changed from Marcs, Francs to Krones so fast that it all seemed like play money. It takes a bit of adjusting when you look in the store windows and see what looks like a very high price for everything. But after a while, you learn to divide and make things ome down to a normal level.

They found the folks over there to be riders. No wonder the platters that they were served of very delicious foods, were so large by our standards. They enjoyed eating, but drinking was a "no-no". Mrs. Greenhaugh wanted to take an aspirin and had to purchase mineral water, which she doesn't like. There aren't words to describe the flowers or the scenery there. That's just as magnificent. After a visit to East Berlin, with all the Communist city's restrictions, you'll come home knowing there's no place like the good old U.S.A. with all its "faults". Many of the members were there to enjoy the meeting. Afterwards, refreshments were served from the tea

Spartan quarterback Brian Gladden takes aim for one of six perfect passes against the Woodbridge Raiders. Gladden had a big night as Lake Forest downed Woodbridge 35-0.

W.T Chipman 30, CR 8

football team extended its winning and sprinting for 68 yards for one of his strak by trouncing CR, 30-8. The victory was the sixth straight for the carries. Steve Carter helped the cause undefeated squad.

Chipman coach Steve Vansant said, "Our pre-game goals included holding CR scoreless, keeping them under 100 yards on offense and scoring 3 times by halftime. I called a bad play; we fumbled, and CR drove the ball 10 yards for its lone score. But we held them to 3 first downs and 71 yards total for the day. We missed scoring our third time just before the half when a penalty called back a forty yard play to the 5 yard line."

On Thursday, the W.T. Chipman exploding through 3 would-be tacklers 2 TD's, 2 PAT's, and 141 yards on 10 with 7 carries for 48 yards, 1 TD, and Alfred Seth, filling in when Carter was injured, carried 4 times for 32 yards, 1 TD. Ricky Brown completed 6 for 9 passing for 48 yards and a tie with R. Rennie for the all-time completion lead (23). Steve Sipple's 3 catches for 30 yards moves him one catch short of Buck Bordley(11) for the all-time reception lead.

The defense swarmed all day with 3, 4, or 5 people helping on almost every tackle. Eric Gidden made 13 tackles James Bell again led the attack, and forced the CR center to make at least 4 bad snap. Drue Ryans spent the day in the CR backfield making 10 tackles. Steve Sipple's 7 tackles put him on top of the single season tackle total and only 10 short of the all-time record of 72. Steacey Bordley and Victor Hill assisted with 7 tackles each. Eleven others contributed from 1 to 5 tackles. Ricky Brown had a pass interception, and HIll, a fumble recovery.

Chipman had 273 yards on total offense to CR's 71.

Most Valuable Players for the game are James Bell and Eric Giddens. Outstanding on offense was S. Sipple, V. Hill, R. McDonald, M. McDonald, D. Ryans and K. Stone. Outstanding Defense was Drue Ryans. Hardest Hit was Marvin McDonald.

Spartans vanquish Raiders 35-0

The Lake Forest Spartan varsity football team took the opening kickoff Friday night for a 56 yard drive that ended in a Brian Gladden TD. Gladden successfully kicked the extra point to open the scoring against the Woodbridge Raiders at 7-0. It was to be the first of five touchdowns and 5 successful kicks as the Spartans ammassed 35 points for the game. The Raiders never got on the scoreboard. It was Gladden's night to shine as the LF senior quarterback was directly responsible for 17 Spartan points. He ran for two TD's of 6 and 44 yards and had a 5 for 5 record in extra points. Gladden also hit Brian Hudson in the end zone on a 9 yard TD pass. He completed six of six passes for the Ralph Taylor, who rushed 13 times to pile up 140 of Lake Forest's 365 yards on offense, was responsible for the other two Spartan touchdowns on runs of 2 and 11 yards.

In addition to the two teams, a November wind seeming more like its March cousin, played a role in the game. Sweeping across the field, gusts of wind made it difficult to keep the ball in place for punting or executing the kickoff.

On what should have been the first Raider possession after Lake Forest scored, the wind took Gladden's kick, spiraled it high in the air and dropped it almost virtically to the field where it bounced back into Spartan hands.

One thing the gusty weather did not affect was Gladden's kicking. In addition to a perfect record on the extra point attempts, he was strong in punting, placing the ball in or near the end zone most of the time.

The Spartans scored in three of the four quarters as their offense dominated the game. They scored 28 points in the first half and were held scoreless only in the fourth quarter with the second team on the field.

The win brings Lake Forest's overall record into the winning column at 5-4. Friday night's contest was non-division. Thus the team's Northern Henlopen standing remains at third place with a 1-3 record. Three teams, CR, Cape and Dover, are tied for first with 3-1 records; Sussex Central in second at 2-2. The weekend's Dover -CR, Cape-Sussex Central games will break the first place deadlock. Although out of the running for the division championship or a state tournament berth, Lake Forest has an overall record identical to CR, Cape and Dover. They are all 5-4. The only higher mark, 7-2, is held by Sussex Central which is also out of championship contention.

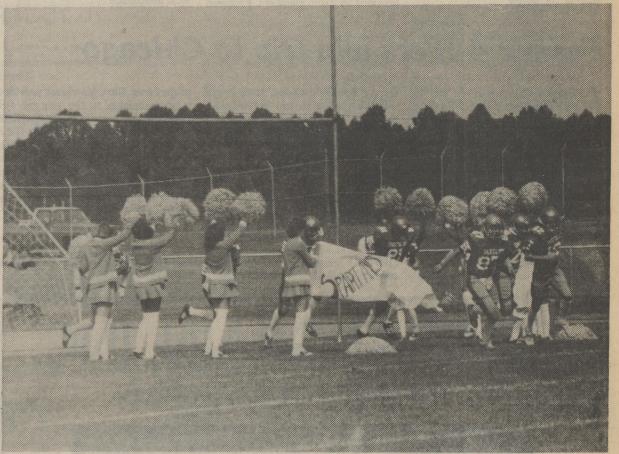

This Friday concludes the 1982 football season with the traditional "Battle of the Bell" against Milford. This year the battle will be staged on Spartan turf.

three-year research, development, and testing project undertaken by the Boy Scouts of America to identify ways it can better serve the youth of America. The project, called Foundations for Growth, includes four components that will be introduced this fall. Besides Prepared for Today, the package includes Tiger Cubs BSA, a new family-oriented program for the 7-year-old boy and a parent or other participating adult; an enriched plan for Cub Scouts in their second year; and a set of marketing tools for Exploring, the Scouting program for teenage young men and women.

Harrington Sunshine 4-H Club held its Family Night banquet on Thursday, November 11 with approximately 65 persons present.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Calhoun of L & D Electronics, Mr. Robert Everline, officer of Peoples Bank and Mrs. Marion MacDonald, Kent Co. 4-H Agent.

Chairman of the banquet was Mrs. Bernadette Zareo. Hostess was Dawn Russum, Jr. leader.

Mrs. Jane Everline, club leader, awarded the year pins to 17 returning members and recognized 9 new members of the club. Leaders and junior leaders were also recognized. The blue seal was placed on the charter by Robin Zareo and the year club plan book was presented to Mrs. Marion MacDonald.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by 2 club members. Featured were Elaine Zeitler, piano solo and Janene Zareo, clarinet solo.

An auction of cakes, pies, cookies and buns provided much laughter, good-natured bidding and a nice addition to our treasury. Thanks to Mr. Paul Yannucci for serving as auctioneer.

The evening closed with the awarding of door prizes which were donated by local merchants.

Early in the development phase, everyone realized that all children today face tremendous challenges, not just single-parent children. That is why Prepared for Today is also offered to groups outside Scouting.

In Prepared for Today, children learn skills in the following areas: Prepared to be Home Alone, Prepared to Fix Something to Eat, Prepared for Home Safety, Prepared to Know Your Neighborhood and Prepared to Care for Young Children.

of the host families were also given the opportunity to share.

More similarities than differences were mentioned. But of the latter, the two that seemed to get most attention were the preparation of food and the number of channels offered on TV. The Swedish students, in particular, said Americans seem to use more fat (as in deep fat frying) in food preparation than is the custom in their country.

At home, they said, only one or two TV channels with sometimes limited hours of programming are offered. However, there are no commercials. They find the incessant program interruptions somewhat disconcerting. Most students and families reported positive experiences so far. For the American families, entertaining the EF students is much like gaining a longed for son or daughter. They described an open atmosphere with some fighting, but a lot of loving exchange.

Several American mothers of sons were delighted to have an EF daughter to share shopping trips that don't have to be limited to the hardware store and the sporting goods department.

The tradition and uniqueness of Delawarean neighbors

At an interesting luncheon at the This stock will flavor soups, stews, Harrington Senior Citizen Center, Mr. Norman Toadvine shared a few secrets of his vigorous health and thoughtful style of living. He has no personal physician - he doesn't need one, he says, because he believes "You are what you eat."

Norman's father was a top-notch cook and butcher, and taught his entire family how to do out-of-the-ordinary, old-time cooking.

and season, dandelion roots and greens from Scripture. are very useful. The greens may be cooked and frozen (save or freeze all liquid from cooked vegetables for soup or stew stock).

But to get away from drinking expensive coffee and tea, use the roots of the dandelion. Wash and dry them. The drying takes less time if you slice the roots, and if you prefer, grind them. Keep them fresh in freezer until needed for delicious dandelion tea. Just add to boiling water! And no caffeine! Here's his recipe for Cauliflower Patties: "They look like pancakes, and you never know you are eating cauliflower for all your life!"

Take a small, tender head of cauliflower and slice the flowerettes into small pieces. Then add these ingredients: 1/8 t. each of dill seed, marjoram, celery seed and sage which has been crushed; also a minced onion. Optional, but very good is 1/2 t. of Bay Seasonings.

Then add 2 beaten eggs and enough flour to make a batter that has the consistency of oyster or pancake batters. Fry into patties, which may be eaten hot or cold. Put the remainder into the freezer to heat when needed. For a Thanksgiving turkey, juicy, done to a turn, Don't - DO NOT! pierce the turkey or stick a fork into it to see if it's done. This gives gives you a juicy turkey.

Although Norman's son went to a school to learn to be a butcher, he learned more from watching his Grandfather Toadvine butcher a hog or steer. His grandfather never hid a bone inside the meat. He had a way of cutting the bone out so that he could take a whole beef and put it into the freezer. His mother put the bones into a large pot and cooked them into a stock. She put the stock into quart cans for the freezer (leave an inch on top). immediately.

Dear Editor:

There have been reports in the press in the last week of irregularities at various polling places throughout Kent County to be, in our opinion, unsettling to the voters, both Democratic and Republican. Accordingly, we invite Mr. Charles Paradee, Chairman of the Kent County Democatic Committee, to join with us in a bi-partisan call for an in-depth investigation by either the United States Attorney's Office, of the State Attorney General's Office, or both, to find out what, if anything, did occur in the form of voting irregularities in the November 2nd Election.

Secondly, we invite Mr. Paradee to join us in a bi-partisan call for a major correction by the State Department of Elections in those procedures and selection of personnel that caused so many voting machine problems last Tuesday. It appears to us that either the mechanics who were responsible for the proper operation of the machines or their supervisory personnel, or both, should be replaced by competent people.

It is our firm belief, which we feel strongly is shared by all Delawareans, that the voice of the electorate must be heard clearly, accurately, and without distortion and that every reasonable step must be taken to make sure that all of us can vote with the knowledge that the machines we use will function properly, and that there will be no distortion of the will of the people as a result of voting irregularities and improprieties.

We ask that Mr. Paradee join us in a strong bi-partisan call for action

America today faces many challenges. Unemployment. Pollution. A shaky world peace. An economy that continues to defy theory. And, the list goes on. What's it going to take to solve these problems? I don't have the answer. But one thing I do know -- whatever the solutions, veterans will play important dynamic roles.

Veterans constitute a good size group in the House and Senate.

Veterans are in our hometown looking for the answer.

Veterans are volunteers across the land, giving of time and talent.

We don't always recognize a veteran. They look like everyone else. They're black, white, brown, red, and yellow. They're wealthy, middle-class, and poor. But they're always there, in the thick of things, working -- not for recognition -but for the satisfaction of serving.

And one thing is certain ..... veterans, like all Americans, are touched by each problem we face. They feel the staggering unemployment. They feel the pinch on the inflated dollar. They feel the need, and pray, for world peace.

Feelings! Historically music has been an indicator of our feelings. It wasn't long ago when words to popular songs were asking Americans: "War! What in the world is it good for?' Remember the songs about draft resistance? Remember all the songs about peace and love?

Have you been listening to music in the 80s? There's change in the air. From the song "In America," lyrics say we're walking and talking proud, again. And "Made In America" puts emphasis on American made goods and says the feeling of pride in ourselves and our country is all right.

That feeling is being shaped by millions of veterans. Men and women quietly working to make life better for their children.....just as their parents worked for them

Yes, times and attitudes change. So why look back when we have so much to look forward to? So many mountains to climb. So many challenges ahead.

Today, we honor veterans for what they've done....and for what they're doing. What would we find if we could measure the contribution of every veteran in society? An interesting question that just can't be answered. But, no matter the problem, no matter the area of the country, if you ask, you'll find a veteran involved. Taking part in the American way of life. Facing the challenge of keeping history from repeating itself. And ..... keeping an eye on tomorrow.

So, look back today for a glimpse of the past. But quickly look around you. See your fellow Americans who are working to beat unemployment, pollution, economic woes, and calm a hostile world. And look ahead to the problems that are sure to come--and the veterans that will be around to help overcome them.

America's veterans probably will continue to be unsung heroes. But they'll never stop contributing. Men and women who know that service and sacrifice are just part of the vital equation that's freedom.

All of us gathered here today know that while the uniform is gone, the service of a veteran goes on. Service that continues to make America strong. A land for the free. A home for the brave. A place for the proud.

And there's nothing wrong with that.

Everyone seems to be counting calories these days. Even people who aren't trying to lose weight may be trying to maintain their ideal weight. Just as you want to get the most for your money, you also want to get the greatest nutritional value for calories consumed. For the weight conscious, pork is an excellent source of concentrated nutrients.

The protein in pork is complete. It contains all the essential amino acids in the amount needed to build, maintain and repair tissues and help the body resist infection and disease. It is a source of B vitamins, especially thiamin, and contains iron, zinc, phosphorus and magnesium.

At one time pork was considered high in calories because it contained so much fat. When lard was an important commodity associated with the war effort during World War II, farmers concentrated on raising fat hogs. But things have changed since then. New advances in genetics and scientific feeding produce leaner animals. The hog of today in no way resembles that of 25 years ago. Pigs also go to market a lot sooner than their predecessors, so they tend to be more tender.

Today's pork has a moderate number of calories while providing excellent nutrition. A three-ounce serving of cooked, lean pork has only 206 calories. Three ounces of lean ham--a cured product--contains 187 calories.

If you're watching sodium intake, select only fresh pork products. The curing solution used in ham contains sodium. Cut additional calories by broiling or roasting the meat on a rack so it remains above the drippings. Pan broil, rather than pan fry.

Using herbs and spices for seasoning rather than butter, sauces or gravies, also cuts calories when you're eating meat. Basil, fennel, rosemary, sage and sorrel go exceptionally well with pork. For a culinary surprise, try cinnamon, allspice, cloves, ginger or lemon pepper. For special ethnic flavors, use green peppers or tomatoes.

Those wishing more information about low-calorie pork preparation can obtain copies of the booklet, "Calorie-Conscious Pork Recipes," by calling the Sussex County extension office at 856-5250.

Two taste tempting ways to use pork are offered by the University of Delaware's extension home economist like pork and apples. To discover how delicious this flavor duet can be, try cooking thick tender pork chops and crisp fall apples in a sauce spiced with curry. When the chops are slowly braised to tenderness in apple juice flavored with catsup and curry powder, then perked up with quartered apples and raisins, the result can be mouth-watering.

Pork Roast

While any time is a good time to treat the family to a pork roast, its aroma and flavor seem especially suited to fall. A succulent loin roast is an ideal tribute to a bountiful harvest.

To be at its tender, tasty best, pork should be roasted on a rack in an open pan in a slow over, or on an outdoor rotisserie over ash-covered coals. Use a meat thermometer to determine when the meat is done. Pork should be roasted just to an internal temperature of 170 degrees F. At this temperature it is fully cooked, yet still juicy and tender.

Pork Loin Roast [4-6 lbs.]

Place roast fat side up on a rack in an open roasting pan. Insert a meat thermometer so the bulb is centered in the thickest part, making sure it doesn't rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water; do not cover.

Roast in a slow over (325 degrees F) until chops are tender. 6 servings. to well done (170 degrees internal meat temperature). Allow 30 to 35 minutes per pound for a center loin roast; 35 to 40 minutes per pound for a half loin; and 40 to 45 minutes per pound for a smaller blade or sirloin roast. Some icebergs are so huge they travel 2,000 miles or more before they melt away.

Mechanized Calling Card Serivce

Effective Sunday, October 24, 1982, Diamond State Telephone Company customers were able to make unassisted credit card calls to any direct-dial telephone in the world with the initiation of Mechanized Calling Card Service.

This service allows calls to be made station-to-station without operator assistance and charged directly to the bill of a customer who has a Bell System Calling Card, the new name for the company's credit card. Mechanized Calling Card Service is available from both coin and non-coin Touch-Tone phones. Operator assistance is still required when Rotary-Dial phones are used. Here's how Mechanized Calling Card

voters

Did you vote on November 2? Were you registered but did not vote? The Bureau of the Census will ask these and other questions about voting in the 1982 elections in a sample of households in this area during the week of November 15-20, 1982. Questions will be asked about party affiliation or for whom a person voted. The survey will provide a profile of American voters and non-voters by characteristics such as age, sex, residence, education and labor force status. These voting questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor.

Household

Community Services agencies in Delaware's three counties will begin scheduling appointments on October 25 for low-income consumers seeking to apply for the Delaware Energy Assistance Program (DEAP). The federally funded program is designed to help low-income families meet the rising cost of home energy by providing a comprehensive energy assistance package. It is operated by Delaware's Office of Economic Opportunity in the Department of Community Affairs.

This year all available energy assistance programs have been consolidated to one site in each county to reduce administration costs and make it easier for customers. Applicants can thus take better advantage of all benefits for which they are eligible at one convenient location. Income eligibility guidelines have also been revised slightly upward this year. Based on the number of persons in a household, the maximum gross income limits are as follows:

Gross

Income

.15,850

A new benefit -- Furnace Retrofit has also been added to DEAP's traditional Fuel Assistance Supplements and Weatherization programs. Under this new program, an applicant whose furnace is less than 75% efficient can have it retrofitted to provide a minimum of 80% efficiency. Last winter more than 13,000 low-income households - representing 35,000 persons - received energy assistance under DEAP. Of these, 33% were elderly and 12% were handicapped. Last year's recipients must re-apply in order to be eligible for this year's program.

Applicants MUST bring the following information to their interview in order to be approved eligible for service:

Both the applicant's, spouse's, and any household member's (18 years or older) social security number (must provide a document verifying social security number.) -Letter (notarized), W-2 forms, check stub(s), or any other documentation as proof of income on all members in the household. -Proof of the type of home heating fuel used or signed vendor reltionship form.

-Proof of the total number of family members.

-A copy of the applicant's rental lease if heat is included in the rent.

Potential applicants should contact the main office in their county to obtain an appointment:

LEGAL NOTICES.

HOROSCOPE FOR THE WEEK OF NOVEMBER 21, 1982

ARIES [March 21-April 19] - As interests tend to graduate to a more intellectual, sophisticated level you're bound to expand, broadening horizons. Although all goals can't be met promptly, this is still a good time for setting them.

TAURUS [April 20-May 20] - You prosper immensely through the efforts of others; trust close confidants with your business affairs as a large profit can be realized now. Be willing to abandon some routine for more conventional methods

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - Associates give you the go ahead for beginning new endeavors, getting contractural agreements underway. Favorable for tending to legalities and other technicalities pertaining to partnerships also.

CANCER [June 22-July 21] - Your talent for taking care of detail matters and getting to the bottom of things provides more security and better working conditions. Concentrate on creating better working conditions with colleagues

LEO [July 22-August 21] - An unusually high-energy week, ending in profitable results for efforts put forth. Creative abilities should be developed, put to good use. You can successfully mix business with pleasure now.

VIRGO [August 22-September 22] - Good family relations create a stronger bond, provides both security and confidence. Listen to the advice of elders and respect their opinion. Good also for real estate ventures.

LIBRA [September 23-October 22] - Your urge to break away from routine matters and make progress in new areas win out. Some travel is indicated and you could prosper through short trips and well planned projects.

SCORPIO [October 23-November 21] - Your willingness to tackle hard work and new tasks is a sound investment and enhances financial situation. Know exactly what goals and aims are, be willing to reorganize and make changes accordingly.

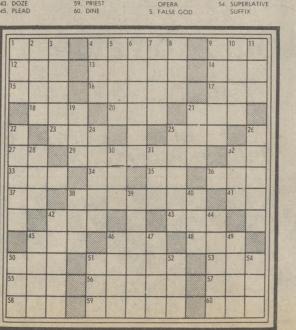

SAGITTARIUS [November 22-December 20] - Good planetary conditions add strength and courage to your already adventuresome nature. Although you're more apt to take chances, conditions are better than average for success. Optimistic thoughts keep you on the right track.

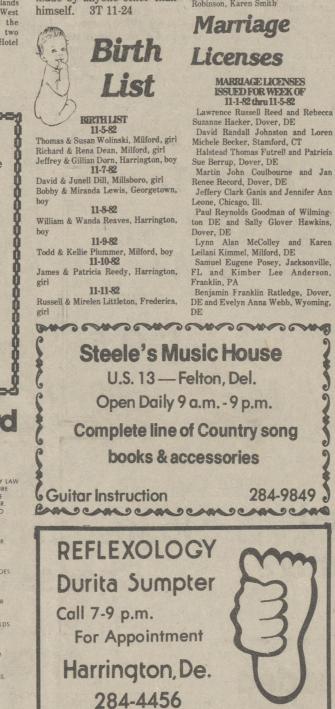

CAPRICORN [December 21-January 20] - As new light and more insight is shed on things you may want to make revisions in lifestyle. You enjoy the company of those you're closest to now. Not a week to venture out; keep a low profile.

AQUARIUS [January 21-February 19] - Business matters can effectively be launched at social functions; you're apt to meet interesting new people whom you can form promising associations with. Not a week for negativism

PISCES [February 20-March 20] - Strive for coordination and perfection in working conditions. Show assertiveness and be willing to branch out into promising new career areas. There's a chance for recognition, public acclaim now
