Work on a new charter for the City of Harrington continued Monday night as members of the Harrington City Council received yet another draft of the proposed revision. This one was labeled "Final Draft", but it is already apparent that the final draft is likely to be revised.

The latest version contains a provision limiting the Mayor and Council members to two successive elected terms. However, Council members were not happy with the wording of the provision which, according to City Solicitor William Walls, Jr., would prohibit someone who served two successive terms on council from running for mayor without waiting a year. The general feeling expressed at Monday night's workshop was that a two-term council member should be able to run for the mayor's post and serve two terms (if elected) before that mandatory waiting period of a year is imposed. A rewritten provision will probably also allow for the reverse situation, a two term mayor running for council. However, council members did not feel the cycle two terms on council, two terms as Wards Five and six will choose council mayor - should be endlessly repeated members for regular three year terms. without a waiting period.

term of Bobby Quillen. Mayor Mann is in his second term of office.

If the proposed charter is approved by the City Council and the State Legislature, all the current council members face an election next year in April. One of the provisions of the proposed charter is changing the annual municipal elections from January to April.

According to Mayor Al Mann, approval of the charter would not mean that the city would have to hold two elections in 1984: one in January for the two council members whose terms will expire and one again to elect the council under the terms of the new charter in April. Mann said provisions would be made in the new charter for the council members whose terms expire (Ray Gagne and Donald Jarrell) to be held over until April.

The proposed charter provides for a staggering of the terms on Council from the time of the 1984 election until the regular three year cycle is back in place. In 1984, Council members from Wards One and Three will be elected for two years; those from Wards Two and Four will get one year terms, and The two consecutive term limit will In the present city charter there is no not apply to any terms of office served by David F. Coady It was standing room only at the Tuesday, March 29th meeting of the Sussex County Council as Robert J. Zimmerman of the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control (DNR & EC) gave a presentation on the proposed new septic tank regulations. The presentation included a film short supplied by the University of Wisconsin and a film slide prepared by the Department.

Sussex Council hears report on septic tank regulations

Also present was the Department's Secretary, James E. Wilson III and the Supervisor of Planning, Gerald Esposito. Zimmerman detailed what has been accomplished by the department in the past ten years. Both Wilson and Zimmerman were queson the proposed one acre per lot requirement for septic tanks.

Zimmerman pointed out that under the proposed regulations a 100 acre lot could be sub-divided for 100 homeowner lots and still leave land available for farming or other use. Zimmerman made mention of the fact that 45% of the septic tanks in Frankford/Dagaboro failed inspection.

Wilson stated that most residents are cooperating with the Department, but that some homeowners had to be taken to Justice of the Peace Court. It was pointed out that the Department of Health has found that 51 public water systems have a nitrate content in excess of acceptable standards. Conaway thanked the DNR & EC for adopting any new regulations.

-A general assessment would be made of all real property within the city of Harrington every ten years starting with the year 1992. Scrap assessments would continue on a yearly basis.

Workshop Monday The Council has set another workshop to discuss the latest charter draft next Monday night, April 4, at 7:30. Although it is a workshop session, it si open to the ublic.

Once the final draft is finalized, the charter will be brought up at a regular session of Council and voted upon. If it is passed by City Council it must go to the state legislature for ultimate approval.

In last Wednesday's edition of Crossroads, a special downstate section in the News Journal Papers, it was reported that The Harrington Journal circulated a petition signed by "...about 100 citizens of the town", in which they (the citizens) were 100% opposed to the costs suggested for relocation or replacement of a new city hall.

I would like to state emphatically that The Harrington Journal never ever circulated a petition at that time or any other time. The Harrington Journal reported on the meeting at which time the petition was presented. I am not sure how many citizens were involved in preparing and circulating the petition in question, nor do I think that it is relevant to the issue at hand. The fact that two citizens are employed at The Harrington Journal were involved to some extent in the petition should not be binding on The Harrington Journal. These citizens, for whatever degree of involvement were acting as private citizens. As private citizens they have always heretofore been permitted to speak their open minds on matters of this nature.

It is a basic and fundamental principle of journalism to verify each side of a story. At no point did the Wilmington News Journal Papers contact The Harrington Journal to ascertain the truth of the matter. Why ..... I ask ..... did not the editor of Crossroads or The News Journal Papers question the story before it was printed.

The city charter in force now in Harrington was adopted on January 14, 1936. Harrington's first charter in 1869 set up a town government based on five "commissioners". They were to meet regularly four times a year to conduct yearly business. The first five were also empowered to have surveyed a square extending 850 feet in any direction to define the original city limits. By the 1836 charter the five commissioners had become six council

Rock and Roll is in my soul?

by Carol Ann Porter

Remember when Diana Ross sang with the Supremes? They sang of love and happiness, they filled our heart with dreams.

Today's groups really leave me cold, they're all "tatooed and hairy". To translate all their lyrics takes a special dictionary.

That old word "sex" was never used in songs back in my day, but there's now a song called "Sexual Healing" sung by Marvin Gaye.

Now Elvis Presley's shaking sometimes really shocked the nation, but have you seen Rod Stewart and some of his "gyrations?"

The old groups had names that we could understand, like Jay and the Americans, and the Ricky Nelson band.

Today group's names are really weird, I'll just name a few: There's Stray Cats, Def Leppard, Flock of Seagulls, are they from a zoo? There's 3 more groups for kids who find the alphabet they're lacking.

There's ELO, ABC Band and REO Speedwagon. What's happened to Brenda Lee, Fats Domino and Chuck Berry. They've been replaced by KISS and HEART, DEVO and WILD CHERRY.

Remember old song titles with words that still hold true, like "16 Candles", "Make Believe" and "Since I Don't Have You"

Well now we hear some songs that I just can't understand, like "Love Stinks", "Freeze Frame", "Whip It", "Goody Two Shoes" and "I Ran". There are some new groups out today that when I hear their name, I feel I'm in an airport about to board a plane.

There's "Journey" and "Chicago", "Led Zeppelin" and "Joan Jett". And Ozzy's "Flyin' High Again" and hasn't left Earth yet! We'll never get those old songs back, just look how long we've waited. So we may as well accept it, no matter how we hate it!

Poems from Paradise Pastures, by W. Cliff Miller: NEW vs OLD

New things are important, To progress, I'm told, But you take the new things, And I'll take the old.

Old houses with beams, That are dark with age. Old books turned down, On most every page.

Old slippers whose wrinkles Are those of my feet. Old pipes that the years Have made mellow and sweet.

Old friends who know when To be silent, when gay. And who, when they talk Have something to say.

Trinity to rebuild pipe organ

Trinity United Methodist Church, the present bid. Rev. Carol Beyer, Pastor, is planning to rebuild and renovate the present Estey pipe organ that has been in use since 1924 when it was installed in the sanctuary

The project, which will cost in the neighborhood of $12,000.00 and take two months to complete, will be in the hands of the Robert G. Lent Pipe Organ Service, Inc., of Bayville, New Jersey, who submitted the lowest bid. The committee, composed of William Outten, Mrs. Charlotte Harrington, Mrs. Alma Smith, David Lawson, and the Rev. Carol and David Beyer, are planning contacts with church members and hopefully for enough pledges to cover the cost so advantage can be taken of an early acceptance of the to attend this meeting.

Contributions are suggested to be in the name of families, organizations, as well as in the name of departed loved ones of the community, or, they can be submitted by anonymous donors.

At the completion of the work, a rededication of the organ will be made at a special service when the names of those so honored will be listed in the program.

in girls' and boys' pre-season track scrimmages against Dickinson High. The boys' test was virtually even while the Spartan girls clearly had more talent, then did the upstaters.

"Trackman of the Week" Tony Scott led the boys, taking the intermediate hurdles, the triple jump, with a super leap of 45-4 and finishing third behind Jerome Harris' good winning effort (15.4) in the high hurdles.

Rob Prutzman annexed the shot and discus, doing expecially well in the latter, with a throw of 132-4.

Nelson Mosley and newcomer Darrell Tolson were first and third in the 400 meter run. James Brown, Jay Harmon and Mark Goodman swept the high jump. Andy Lasalle (23.4) took the 200 meter dash.

Danny Donovan (1600 meter run) was second, with a clocking close to his personal, mark, on day hardly conducive to fine performances. Ralph Taylor did well with a leap of 20 feet. 6 inches, for second, in the long jump.

Pam Pierce and Carolyn Browne were 'Trackwomen of the Week" to highlight the strong effort of the distaff Spartans. Pierce was a triple winner, annexing the 400, 800 meter runs and the high jump.

Browne was first in the 100 meter dash with a clocking of 12.3, which unofficially tied Lake Forest's school record; then she ran off and hid from everyone at 200 meters.

The "Find of the Year" appears to be Kelly Pelton, a freshman novice, who surprised by finishing first over veteran competition in the 1600 meter run. Pelton then ran 3200 meters, roughly two miles, in 13.47. She had not tried this distance before, even in practice. When she has been around long enough to truly understand the ramifications of distance running, this girl could be awesome. Another newcomer to do very well was Denise Donato, who was third in both the 800 and 1600 meter runs, with good clockings in each. When veteran Tara Gladden gets in to form, Jim Blades' Spartans should do very well in the distance events.

Ann Irby was a double winner, capturing both hurdle events, with versatile Debbie Jester doing a fine job in each, in addition to a good outing, at the top weapons, in the Spartans' arsenal. In some meets, this campaign, the local weight persons may be competing virtually against each other. Angie Akins (32 feet 5 inches) Sharon Burton and Severa Harris were 1, 2, 3 in the shot put. Burton, Akins and Harris did the same, in the discus, with newcomer Carolleathea Smith demonstrating excellent potential.

Joann Smith had a great leap of 16 feet, 1<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> inches in the high jump, with Caritha Clarke next with 15.9 and Christine Nichols third. Clarke was first in the triple jump with Pam Smith next.

Carla Davis, Sheri Durant, Patti Drew and Anita Sherwood captured the 800 meter relay, while Sherwood, Drew, Browne and Joann Smith did the same in the 400 meter relay.

Carolyn Winder and Sylvia Hicks were second and third in the 400 meter run. Durant and Nichols had the same finishes at 200 meters, Patti Drew was second in the high jump.

It appears the Spartans will be well represented in track and field this spring.

garden. No one seems to know why they call them cherries.

Have you tried the ready-made pie crusts that you just unfold and put in the pan? We were so hungry for pie and my arthritic hands will still not permit me to mix and roll pie crust, so I tried these and they are excellent, very flaky.

Speaking of cooking, my cousin, Rita, from Milford brought us a lovely new cheesecake on Sunday. It was new to us and easy to do. I am going to try it soon, and if it comes out as nice as hers, I will share it with you all. It makes a great dessert. You feel like you are just wallowing in billowy clouds!!

Believe me, you would have been able to partake of the festivities. What fun, lots of work of course but fun also!! Thank you, thank you, thank you, thank you, doers, givers, buyers and lookers. all so important to the success of the Bazaar.

I'd be content if I could learn which bridge to cross and which to burn. [Catherine Donovan]. Faith!
