

Harrington citizens harassed?

David F. Coady

Thomas Steerman of Grant Street, Harrington, received a letter over the signature of Ernest Gallo, Building Inspector for the City, stating that a shed on his property at 201 Harrington Avenue was too close to the property line. This is in violation of City of Harrington Zoning Ordinances, Article 3 R-1 Residence Zone Section 302. It was further pointed out that a building permit had not been issued.

Steerman contacted Norman Barlow, who rents the property. Barlow claims that he had contacted City Hall to obtain a building permit and was told that none was needed because he was installing a "redi-made" shed. Barlow further stated that it was a temporary structure which he plans to move when he buys his own home.

"Gallo told me that the complaint wasn't from him and that he didn't even look at the shed," Barlow said. Barlow claims he contacted City Hall and was told he would now have to submit a letter along with $20 to obtain permission to keep the shed. "I offered to take city officials around and show them other sheds that are on or near their property lines. No one would take me up on it," Barlow claimed.

Barlow is on a disability pension because of a heart ailment, and he is a diabetic. "My son often goes out and collects aluminum cans and bums a lift to the recycling center so that he can buy me heart pills," Barlow said. Barlow claims that all the trouble he is having has caused an adverse effect on his health. "Everyone in Harrington knows me, why didn't someone contact me before things went so far," Barlow asked. Barlow claims the shed cost nearly $200 and the wooden foundation another $120. "What am I to do with the shed, I can't afford to throw away over $300," Barlow said.

The manager of Foodrite in the Quillen Shopping Center, Donald Dadds, received a letter from City Hall informing him that he had five days to cut the grass on the property. "What grass? And if there is any, it should be up to the owner of the shopping center to cut it and not me," Dadds stated. Dadds claims that he doesn't know of any other store in the shopping center that received such a letter. "Why have I been singled out by City Hall," Dadds asked.

Another letter was sent to the owner of property on Dorman Street, who requested not to be identified, informing him that a tree limb was blocking the stop sign at the corner. He claimed he did not notice this before but questions why a registered letter was used to inform him. "They could have phoned me or stopped by to tell me, but why this waste of money in sending a registered letter," the property owner asked.

A letter from City Hall was received by Franklin Hendricks informing him that he must mow the grass on property at the intersection of Farmington Road and Route 14. The property is farm land and presently has a crop of wheat growing on it. Hendricks agrees that there are weeds growing there but states that with all the rain, it has been too wet to either mow or spray weed killer. The Hendrickses, father and son, both claim that they mow along the road (without charging) where it is a city or state responsibility. The elder Hendricks claims there are a lot of places in Harrington that need fixing up before harrassing the working citizens. "Let someone from the city come around and I'll show them places that are the city's responsibility that need fixing up. In the past I've done it myself for nothing," the elder Hendricks said.

Some of the letters sent were from the City Manager's Office over the signature of Norma Short. They are form letters with the original signed by the City Manager. Short was on vacation when someone sent the letters bearing her signature.

Editor's Note: The above story does not imply that any letters from the City Manager's office are not binding on the recipient.

Donald Dadds shrugs his shoulders in wonderment about where the grass is at the shopping center.

Quillen named Citizen of the Year

by David F. Coady

Harrington grocer, Earl Quillen, was named citizen of the year by the Greater Harrington Chamber of Commerce at an awards ceremony held Wednesday night at the Fairgrounds Restaurant. Quillen is originally from Salisbury, Maryland and a graduate of Caesar Rodney High School. He has been in business in Harrington for the past 28 years.

The award was presented by last year's recipient, J. Edward Taylor. Taylor cited Quillen for humanitarian work such as personally delivering groceries to the Senior Center, donating books for first graders and other unselfish work.

"Lord willing I'll hang in there and keep doing things the way I've been doing it," Quillen said when accepting the award.

The awards ceremony was preceded by a speech from George Hale of the Delaware Development Fund. Hale spoke on the future of the Delaware economy. Unemployment stands at 7.6 percent in Delaware while the national rate is 10.3 percent. Hale pointed to the Blue Collar Job Development program as a way of lowering this figure.

Earl Quillen

"If a company adds a minimum of 25 new jobs to their payroll, they will be given tax credits," Hale said. Another incentive to entice new manufacturing into Delaware, is a guaranteed 1.6 percent rate for unemployment compensation for the first three years.

Opposition mounts to new city charter for Harrington

by David F. Coady

"There have been enough reservations expressed with regards to the proposed new charter by Harrington residents, that I will contact the mayor and council members and request that they call a public meeting," said Senator Ruth Ann Minner (D-18th Dist.).

Minner reported that she has received numerous phone calls by citizens complaining about different portions of the proposed charter. She feels that a public meeting should be held before she introduces the new charter in the State Senate. Two former mayors have expressed reservations about the new charter. Arthur B. Cahall attended a workshops session of the city council where he expressed his opposition to a portion of the charter that changed the annual citizen's meeting to a "State of the City" report by the mayor.

Former Mayor Ernest Killen has asked Senator Minner not to introduce the charter in this session of the State Senate. Both Cahall and Killen are associated with the Democratic Party of Harrington. Cahall is presently a Democratic Committeeman for Harrington and Killen is a long time party stalwart.

When contacted, Representative G. Robert Quillen (R-39th Dist.) stated, "I have not heard that much opposition expressed about the proposed charter. Most people that are in opposition to it seem to be going to Milford (residence of Senator Minner)." Quillen stated that he will yield to the political facts of life. "Both houses are controlled by the Democratic Party, and I will wait for Senator Minner to introduce the charter in the upper house," said Quillen. Quillen said he would attend a public meeting if it was called by the Mayor of Harrington.

Delaware contribution to Brooklyn Bridge

by William T. Ficka

Little old Delaware was instrumental in helping the majestic Brooklyn Bridge celebrate its 100th birthday this past May 24.

For it was Edge Moor Iron Co. of Brandywine Hundred near Wilmington that made and delivered all the bridge ironwork.

William Sellers, president of the company, was present at the bridge-opening ceremony 100 years ago. Also attending the ceremonies that day were President Chester A. Arthur and New York Governor Grover Cleveland.

German-born John A. Roebling was the engineering genius who conceived the idea for the 5,989-foot suspension bridge.

At the time the successful completion of such a bridge was considered an engineering impossibility.

This didn't deter the man who was the first to bridge Niagara Falls and was acclaimed as the country's top expert on suspension bridges.

Roebling had devised an ingenious method of spinning metal wire into cables.

The 63-year-old engineer didn't live to see his dream become reality.

While surveying the location site his foot was crushed against the ship by an incoming ferry boat. After two toes were amputated tetanus set in and Roebling died three weeks later.

Ironically, it was Roebling's bridge that drove the ferry boats out of business. With the opening of the bridge the boats become obsolete.

His son, Washington Roebling, also an engineer, supervised the construction to completion.

Washington was left partially blinded and a near-cripple for the rest of his life when he suffered from "caisson disease" or what we know as the "bends."

This was caused by coming up too quickly without decompression from the air-compressed caissons.

Thereafter he observed the bridge's progress through binoculars from his office, a half-mile from the construction site.

His beloved wife, Emily, gave valuable assistance as a go-between with politicians, investors, bridge officials and newspaper editors.

The bridge, which cost almost $16 million and took 14 years to build, was known as the Eighth Wonder of the World.

Not trusting the politicians, Washington made the steel cables seven times stronger than the minimum strength allowed by the city building code.

Many suspension bridges built long after the Brooklyn Bridge had to be reinforced and strengthened. But Roebling's bridge still hangs suspended by its original steel cables.

Delaware's Edge Moor Iron Co. gained a national reputation and orders poured in from all over the country. In the late 19th Century it was the largest steel casting company in America.

Its founder, William Sellers, died in 1905. He was succeeded by his son, William F. Sellers, who died in 1933. Two years later, with the country still in the throes of the Great Depression, the company went out of business.

On Tuesday, May 24, New York celebrated the bridge's 100th anniversary with the largest fireworks demonstration in its history.

A flotilla of 85 boats sailed over the bridge, sounding their horns in tribute, while over 15,000 people marched across it from Brooklyn to Manhattan.

Over one million people on either side of the East River gathered to watch the dazzling spectacle of sound and light.

And you, as a Delawarean, can be proud of your state's contribution to this sturdy symbol of America's technological genius.

The next time you cross the bridge remember that the superstructure materials came from your home state.

And if anyone tries to sell you the bridge, also remember - it's already been sold, hundreds of times.

Harrington boy killed by wrecker

Henry W. Webb, 12, of 224 Commerce St., Harrington was pronounced dead at 6:05 p.m. on May 29 at Kent General Hospital. Webb was underneath a wrecker owned by his stepfather, Earl W. Tucker. The boy was assisting his stepfather to install a citizens band radio. Tucker was underneath the dash installing the radio. Eugene M. Tharp, 16, of Middletown, Delaware was sitting in the passenger's seat of the wrecker. Tucker asked Tharp to turn on the ignition key so he could check the wiring. Tharp turned the key to "start" position instead of to the "on" position. The wrecker was in first gear and lunged forward when the key was turned. The wrecker ran over the right side of Webb's chest. Tucker immediately turned the key off.

The Harrington Fire Company Ambulance was summoned and Webb was rushed to Milford Memorial Hospital. He was treated at Milford Memorial and transferred to Kent General Hospital by State Police Helicopter.

Memorial Day - 1983

by Melvin L. Brobst

After a lapse of ten years, Memorial Day Services were once again held at Hollywood Cemetery for those who gave their lives for a country that still remembers. Arrangements were made by Mrs. Sue Ellen Dennis representing the Harrington Jayceettes.

The 10:00 A.M. Service was in charge of Commander Howard Brown of American Legion Post CKRT #7, assisted by Walter Perdue who was in charge of the firing squad.

The invocation and benediction was read by Chaplain James Cain of the local Post, and Mrs. Ethel Rapp of the Auxiliary placed the wreath at the foot of the flag pole.

The flag-raising ceremony was conducted by Delaware State Representative, Robert Quillen, followed by the National Anthem played by the W.T. Chipman School Band directed by Mr. Alex Becton.

Following the three volleys by the firing squad, Taps was played by trumpeters Bobby Bassett and Wesley Gordy, members of the Chipman Band.

Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was recited by Miss Caritha Clark and Flanders' Field by Susan Hooven, both of the Lake Forest High School.

The Rev. Carol Beyer of Trinity United Methodist Church, Harrington, gave the principle address, stressing the remembrance of the sacrifices given by those who served our country and quoted from the words of Presidents Abraham Lincoln and J.F. Kennedy and closed with a fitting prayer by Thomas Jefferson.

It is a fitting tribute to those who made these annual services possible in the past, begun by Mr. Earl Sylvester after World War I, continued by Frank O'Neal after World War II, and now hopefully revived by the latter's daughter, Sue Ellen Dennis. A large turnout attended these Services and

An invitation to Bower's Beach

Tricentennial celebration on June 4th

Have you ever witnessed the "Blessing of the Fleet" ceremony, an annual event at Bower's Beach on June 4th? If you arrive at Bower's Beach state dock by 6:30 that morning, you can witness the launching of boats bedecked with flowers, a ceremonial prelude to a full day of family picnicing. Formerly, Bower's Beach festivals were scheduled later in the season to coincide with the opening of the oyster season on "Big Thursday," the second Thursday in August. Early or late, Bower's Beach festivals traditionally attract thousands of people and provide the annual picnic day for Kent County residents. This year a parade of boats accompanying the Lake Forest and W.T. Chipman high school bands is planned for 9:30 a.m. Then an all-day celebration with country music, carnival rides, games with prizes, and such indigenous foods as fried sea trout, fried chicken, and barbecued pig will encourage you to stay on for one of the two evening shows offered by Freddie Hart and "The Heartbeats" from Nashville. A display of fireworks at 11:00 will end the festivities. Tickets for Freddie Hart's performances are available at the advance sale price of ten dollars by calling Bower's Beach Mayor Fred Eubanks 335-5185. No admission will be charged for any other events.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

by David H. Elliott

THE PUBLIC'S RIGHT TO KNOW

I believe that the citizens of the State of Delaware, especially those of whom are consumers of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Delaware, have the right to know why I have spent a considerable amount of my time and the time and effort of the State Insurance Department in the close regulation of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Delaware.

Although Blue Cross and Blue Shield have claimed that I have singled out their corporation in a special, negative manner, I have not. I have, however, paid close attention to the regulation of Blue Cross and Blue Shield, as I had been charged to do by the General Assembly in 1976. I am the first Insurance Commissioner to be charged with this duty and it is a responsibility I take very seriously.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Delaware collects over 200 million dollars a year in insurance premiums in our State. Over 400,000 Delawareans - a large percentage of our State's population - rely on Blue Cross and Blue Shield for their medical insurance.

Because of its impact on Delawareans, Blue Cross and Blue Shield must be carefully regulated by the Insurance Department. Blue Cross and Blue Shield generates the largest number of health insurance inquiries to our office. I am concerned about the high costs of health insurance, and I am committed to the people of Delaware to make all insurance companies justify the rising costs of health care insurance coverage.

I am concerned that Blue Cross and Blue Shield has personally blamed me for their loss last year. I am also concerned that Mr. Robert Cole, President of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Delaware, has made the statement that I am "absolutely incorrect when I stated that Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Delaware has the highest costs. Just compare our expense charges to those of our competition." I have had a certified actuary study the administrative costs Mr. Cole refers to, and the results show that Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Delaware has the highest total administrative costs when compared to the Blue Cross/Blue Shield organizations in Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Vermont, Massachusetts and Maine. I think that Mr. Cole should study his $16 million dollar administrative budget and the substantial contributions to charities before he blames me for his deficit.

Mr. Cole also made an incorrect statement in the Delaware State News on May 8, 1983. In that article, Mr. Cole stated that I agreed to a plan where the Insurance Department agreed to sue Blue Cross and Blue Shield to gain access to their internal operating budget. This is just not true. I had the Deputy Attorney General go to court to make Blue Cross and Blue Shield allow the Insurance Department access to necessary information. This only added to Blue Cross and Blue Shield's legal costs and to the costs of the Insurance Department.

Officials of Blue Cross and Blue Shield have also accused me of delaying their rate filing requests. This, too, is not true. As the law is currently written, Blue Cross and Blue Shield is allowed to ask for an increase in rates on Monday and begin collecting those increases immediately.

I have denied several of Blue Cross and Blue Shield's 1982 rate increase requests, but only at the recommendation of an independent, certified actuary. I share Blue Cross and Blue Shield's concern about the current insurance regulatory situation in Delaware. A bill is currently before the State Legislature which would solve this problem. Senate Bill 81 would require all health insurance companies to get prior approval for rate changes before these changes are passed on to the public. The bill gives the Insurance Department 45 days to decide on the filing, and if we fail to act on the change, it automatically goes into effect. This is a fair bill and would improve the situation for all parties involved.

In the past several years that I have been Delaware's elected Insurance Commissioner, I have been committed to serving the citizens of Delaware. I do regulate Blue Cross and Blue Shield, but I was charged by the State Legislature with that responsibility. I am concerned about the rising costs of health care, a problem that is not unique to Delaware, but involves our entire nation. I recently sponsored a resolution at the national convention of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners which urged President Reagan to create a non-partisan commission on health care cost containment. On March 22, 1983, I personally requested the President to create this commission. I believe that we can find a solution to contain ment of high costs of health care. I am willing to discuss and work with any group, including Mr. Cole and Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Delaware, to obtain a solution to this important national problem.

I will also continue to fairly and firmly regulate all health care insurance companies doing business in our state, including Blue Cross and Blue Shield. I believe that this regulation is one of the consumers' few defenses against unfair increases in insurance costs.

Court's Order favors Blue Cross's rate request

WILMINGTON, DE - Superior Court judge Clarence Taylor issued an order staying the effective date of an Order issued by the State Insurance Commissioner on March 17, 1983. In issuing his Order (April 24, 1983) Judge Taylor became the second Superior Court judge in less than a year to question a decision of the Insurance Commissioner in regard to Blue Cross rate regulation.

In order to gain the Stay Order, Blue Cross demonstrated to the Court that: 1. the implementation of the Commissioner's Order would have caused Blue Cross irreparable harm;

2. there is a reasonable likelihood that Blue Cross will be successful on appeal. The full appeal hearing before Judge Taylor will be scheduled in the near future.

In a reaction to the Order, Robert C. Cole, Jr., President of Blue Cross Blue Shield said, "We are of course pleased by Judge Taylor's ruling. This ruling again vindicates the Blue Cross Blue Shield position that its financial status and the type of review to be conducted by the Insurance Commissioner are worthy of thoughtful consideration."

Over The Backyard Fence

Senior Center by Dorothy Graham

Smile!! Bible Study at the Center, Monday morning saw Virginia Smith at the piano, several hymns were sung - a prayer by Marion Brown. Thelma Legates read the 23rd Psalm. Mamie Adams read the Ten Commandments. Mr. Brown read the 27th Psalm. Virginia asked some questions and a discussion was made. A pleasant hour ensued. Present were Thelma Legates, Marion, Roxanne Brown, Jo Burke, Florence Minner, Tony Perone, Annabel Morrow, Ethel Holden, Catherine Donovan, Anna Mae Short, Mamie Adams, Lillie McBride, Gladys Hill, Mildred Vincent, Elwood Morris, Mary Sapp and Frances Wright.

The Jolly Timers went Friendly Visiting to Greenwood Country Rest Home Monday afternoon. All involved were pleasantly pleased. Making the trip was Sylvia Meredith, Ina Hughes, Cecil Meredith, Roxanne and Marvin Brown, Virginia Smith, Louis Gerardi, John McCready, Elwood Morris, Jo Burke, Tony Perrone, Florence Minner, Gladys Hill, Annabel Morrow, Lillie McBride and Mamie Adams.

Tuesday morning a big chartered bus pulled up in front of the Center to take a group of folks to Rehoboth Beach. All were in excellent spirits. The weather did not dampen their glow! Good Sports!! Know they always enjoy themselves. Good food, popcorn and lots of pleasant chatting.

Tuesday was also cheese and butter day. Helpers in distribution was Shirley Warren, Barbara Evans, Emma Price and Kathryn Smith. Louise Burgess manned the phone. Plan to have a nice dish of macaroni and cheese this weekend, and a slice of toast with "real" butter!! Thank you volunteers!

We are going to have a rummage sale. Do you have any you want to get rid of? If so bring it in. We plan a sale in June. Ceramics, crafts, pool, bingo, roast beef, homemade bread pudding, lemon meringue pie, roast or baked chicken, broiled fish, variety of vegetables and even hot biscuits, what more can you ask for, oh, yes, plenty of fresh beautiful flowers from several gardens, friends to talk with and be with. Harrington Senior Center is a super place to visit!!

Senior Sounds Wednesday with Sylvia Meredith directing, Virginia Smith at the piano. Gals and guys you truly do a fantastic job. Turning out the melodies were Mary Sapp, Frances Wright, Mildred Vincent, Thelma Legates, Anna Mae Short, Louis Gerardi, Marion and Roxanne Brown, Ola Tildon, Margarite Nachod, Tony Perrone, Mamie Adams, Gladys Hill, Andy Anderson, Cecil Meredith and Elwood Morris.

Cards at Virginia Willey's Wednesday afternoon following a delicious luncheon. Table beautifully set and with shimmering candles and grape centerpiece. Scores, well, they have been worse. Kathryn Smith's total was the highest. Ruth Powell, Hazel Langrell, Kitty Stafford, Mildred Wagner, Mary E. Nelson and I all had fun along with the rest. Fun - Fun!!

Shopping with Clint, bowling luncheon, pool, crafts and ceramics helped fill Thursday.

Maurice Adams and Ruth Phillippi chaperoned the trip to Rehoboth Tuesday. Everyone reported a great time despite the sometimes clouds. After Friday, well believe me, Seaford Nanticoke Senior Center will never be the same. Know why? A bus load from Harrington Senior Center left at 10:30 and spent a delightful three hours there.

Bingo is always good, but we played Bridge Thursday and Ruth Dulin and I really tore them up. It was great fun, for the shoe is usually on the other foot. Thank you volunteers! Best wishes to all. Be kind to each other!

TAKING HER PICK
My wife possessively asserts, her wifely right to pick my shirts.
With steady hands and birdlike eyes, she picks my hats and socks and ties.
She picks like other wives and mamas, my underwear and my pajamas.
She picks my coats both sport and top, and there I'd let the matter drop, Except as I observe with rue, she sometimes picks my pockets, too.
[Richard Armour]

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

About 8 million of the 23 million Americans who have high blood pressure (hypertension) are not aware of it. Unless treated early and continuously hypertension usually results in heart disease or stroke, which may leave one permanently bedridden and the family bankrupt. If you know that you have hypertension, never stop taking the necessary medication. Patients who may feel well and then give up treatment are usually the ones who drop dead or suddenly become paralyzed.

Gab Fest by Pat Hatfield

We have a new resident at Trail's End that we have mixed feelings about. He is a groundhog and he has dug himself a hole in the ditchbank at the end of our garden. He stands on his hind legs and watches us approach until we are quite near and then, at the last minute, he dives into his den. We like him, but he eats stuff and we do not know how to cope.

Dad is very disgusted with the purple grackles or blackbirds. They are so sleek and shiny and beautiful and all winter he has fed them at the feeder and still keeps food there for them. They stuff themselves at the feeder and then fly over to the garden and eat the ripe strawberries, for dessert.

I had an interesting conversation with a Milford Reader the other day and she was telling me about her son-in-law plowing in the field and overturning a nest of baby rabbits. There were four but two of them were dead. They took the other two into the house and cared for them. One died, but the other little fellow thrived on his diet of milk with a bit of syrup added, and soon was eating clover. Then there was grief at having to turn him back into the wild, but it was his heritage, so they let him go.

Sometimes I wonder if the wild life mothers do a better job of raising their young than we do as humans? Bird mothers will push their babies out of the nest and make them learn to fly.

But human mothers tend to cling and to overprotect.

Philosophy is a pretty deep subject for this hot, humid morning. These days I find myself very tired without having done anything to cause it. It must be that soon I'll be getting old!

I'll share this week's reading on that subject, Allan Fromme says: "One of the greatest advantages of our later years is that we no longer have to scream; we can talk. We don't have to run; we can walk. We have the time to examine the quality of life and to work for ourselves on its improvement. We need no longer feel driven by idols of the market place. We can do more of what we like, rather than what we were told we'd like."

And Arthur Gordon says: "Sometimes when you are feeling jaded or blue, you can revive your sense of wonder by merely saying to yourself: Suppose this were the only time. Suppose this sunset, this moonrise, this symphony, this buttered toast, this sleeping child, this flag against the sky...suppose you would never experience these things again!

Few things are commonplace in themselves. It's our reaction to them that grows dull, as we move forward through the years."

As Mac Davis sings in his lovely song, "Take time to stop and smell the roses on the way!"

Chipman track teams have perfect records

by Keith S. Burgess

While Lake Forest boys and girls track teams were having great years, their farm system at W.T. Chipman School has been quietly going about the job of getting replacements ready to help fill the gaps left by graduation.

Coach Baxter Smith has seen his boys and girls track teams go undefeated with 6-0 marks, the boys for the second straight year.

The boys established new Chipman marks in 9 of the 13 events. Some of them are good enough already to make contributions to the Spartan varsity thinclads in 1984.

Victor Hill is a versatile lad who can do so many things in track, that Lake Forest coach, Jim Blades, is going to have to make decisions, as to what events, in which to use him. He could possibly be changed around from meet to meet, depending on what school was the opposition.

Hill is big, strong, fast. He holds Chipman records in the 800 meters (2:13) the triple jump (40 feet, 8 inches), the shotput, (40 feet, 1 inch) and the 400 meter relay (48.4) established with Steve Carter, Eric Giddens and Jerry Howerin, the latter a seventh grader. This mark was set on an inferior dirt track, without starting blocks. Drue Ryans set a record at 400 meters of 56.5 seconds. He should easily fit onto the varsity 1600 meter relay quartete. Ryans and Giddens ran on the undefeated 800 meter relay team with seventh graders, Howerin and Ken Foy which had a fine, 1.43 best clocking.

Another versatile lad is James Hicks. He ran 25.7 for 200 meters, just barely missing the school mark of 25.6. Hicks was the top hurdler in 16 seconds flat and set a school standard, with a leap of 5 feet, 4 inches in the high jump.

A fine distance runner is Ray Powell. After an excellent cross-country season, last fall, in which he was No. 1, for Chipman, Powell switched to track and logged a new school record clocking of 5:19 for 1600 meters.

Wendall Watson is a superior prospect in the long jump. Watson hurt himself in the first meet and missed the rest of the season. But, he got off a great leap of 18 feet, 9 inches, a new Chipman mark in that one start.

Pat Sullivan was Chipman's best discus thrower, spinning the platter, 114 feet 9 inches.

All of the above except Howerin and Foy will be at Lake Forest, next track season, along with Alvin Hudson and Eric Payne, two distance prospects. These kids will be welcome additions to an already strong program.

The Chipman girls had an abundance of seventh grade talent. These girls will get an extra year of competition at Chipman in which to sharpen their skills. A couple of them have the potential to be among the best in the state at the varsity level. Melanie Pelton, grade seven, is the sister of Kelli Pelton, who as a Spartan freshman, already holds Lake Forest records, at 1600 and 3200 records and was Division II State Champion, at the shorter distance. Melanie is an equally good prospect. She set a Chipman record of 5:58 in the 1600 and ran an excellent 2:44, 800 meters, after running a 6:00 mile, earlier in the meet. She missed the 800 Chipman record by less than half a second and should get it easily next spring. If the Pelton sisters run cross-country in the fall, they will develop on the track at an even faster pace.

Another seventh grader, Doris Garner, set a Chipman mark of 67 seconds flat. By 1985, she should be very prominent, in track, at the high school.

Sheva Batton, grade 7, is Chipman record holder in the 55 meter hurdles. Hurdlers are scarce so she will get a warm welcome, also at LFHS. Batton is multi-talented. She also is the second best 800 and 1600 meter runner, with good times in each and ran on the school record 400 relay team with seventh graders Melissa Scott and Stacy Akins and eighth grader Della Smith. Smith is the top 100 meter runner with 13.4 and the best long jumper with 15 feet, 1 inch. She should be able to help Jim Blades state champion girls immediately.

Seventh graders Carla Harris and Melanie Pelton are tops in the high jump at 4-2 and 4-0 respectively. Dionne Moore, grade 8 and Flossie Polk, grade 7 are very close in the discus event and the shotput, also.

Malora Jensen and Jody Bennett are distance runners with talent. Lajone Dunbar is a sprinter, who could help the varsity next year. Stacy Akins has a 13.6 100 meters, plus a 28.6, 200 meters. She should be a big help, two years hence. Becky Voras was the leading triple jumper.

Other team members were: Grade 8, Becky Williams, Teresa Wood, Cassandra Gibbs, Pam Voshell. 7th graders were: DeAnna Scott, Kelly Adams, Aretha Ryans.

15.7, which the winner Padua's Kim Webster clocked this time.

Junior Rob Prutzman threw the shot, close to 49 feet, for third place and hurled the discus 146 feet for second place. Jerome Harris was fifth in the high hurdles.

Angie Akins was second in the shot put, with Joann Smith getting third in the long jump.

Sharon Burton was third in the discus. Kelli Pelton was sixth at 1600 meters but again lowered her school mark this time to 5:38.1.

Carolyn Browne was fifth at 200 meters but dropped her Lake Forest standard from 25.9 to 25.6.

Browne, Joann Smith, Patti Drew and Anita Sherwood came in fourth in the 400 meters relay and lowered the school record from 50.9 to 50.6.

Coach Blades' teams had excellent seasons. Assistant coaches were Matt Burgess - shot, discus, pole vault and high jump and Carol Payne Fry - hurdles, long jump and triple jump.

Scott & Clarke repeat as state track champs

by Keith S. Burgess

Triple jumpers Tony Scott and Caritha Clarke won Group II state titles last week.

Saturday, at Dover High, this stellar pair, took on the best hop, step and jump athletes from Groups I and II and won again.

This was no surprise since both athletes have had the best jumps all year in their respective divisions, male and female, that is.

Tony triple jumped 47 feet plus in his winning effort. Spartan Mike Briggs, a junior leaped better than ever before as his 44 feet, 5 inch missed second place by an inch.

Clarke, who was unbeaten this year, jumped better than 35 feet to win. She has neared 37 feet in the past, but didn't have to do that well this time. Clarke almost won the 100 meter hurdles but was accidentally struck by the flailing arm of a rival as they neared the finish. Caritha then fell back to third in 15.8. She has done less than 23 seconds. He almost certainly could be a fine quarter miler. There very well might be a couple of other events he could handle.

Rodney is the son of Ralph Smith, whose family has lived here for many years.

John Christopher is the third person of that name from here, that this writer has known. His brothers, Manny and Timmy were both athletes while living here. John ran 400 meters in 50 seconds, as Dover High surprised by winning the 1600 meter relay in 3:19 in the Group I state meet. John also is a terrific 200 meter sprinter. Lake Forest's team would have verged on awesome if the two had not gotten away.

Two that got away

by Keith S. Burgess

Behind the scenes at the recent season-ending championship track meets were a couple of events that should be of interest to fans of this area.

Two of the finest athletes competing were Harrington boys, both of whom left here, in the fifth grade. Lake Forest had a strong track team this spring. If the Spartans had the services of this pair, the team would have been the best in the Henlopen Conference whereas the locals were second, in dual meet competition and third in the Conference meet.

Rodney Smith of Cape Henlopen is state champ in the high jump, has cleared 6 feet 8 inches. He's done 21-8 in the long jump, can run 200 meters in

by David F. Coady

FINFISH LAWS: The Delaware Salt Water Sports Fishing Association (DSSA) may be acting against their own best interest. Enforcement of Delaware's out-of-date finfish laws is driving the commercial fishermen further out to sea. There have been reports that the commercial fishermen are staggering their nets in such a way, that it will be virtually impossible for fish to make their way into the bay. If this is so, sports fishermen would have been better off fishing side by side with the netters.

Another odd point, is the call by the DSSA for a mathematical formula for fishing in the bay. Twenty and eighty is what the proposal should be called. 20% of all finfish for the commercial netters and 80% of all finfish for the sports fishermen. The formula reads like this: 20 of ? = all the fish that the netters will be allowed to harvest, 80% of ? = all the fish that the recreational fishermen will be allowed to catch. First question: What does ? equal. Second question. If one of both of the groups attain their quota, will they cease to fish for the balance of the year? Final question. How is this proposed quota system going to be enforced. Every single finfish caught in Delaware's waters will have to be weighed.

TOURNAMENTS: The Ocean City Marlin Club is sponsoring four tournaments this season. July 2 and 3 is the White Marlin/Tuna Tournaments. The Mid-Atlantic Handicap will be held July 15, 16 and 17. The Small Boat Tournament is scheduled for July 29, 30 and 31. The 25th Annual White Marlin Tournament will be held September 2, 3 and 4. For more information contact: Ocean City Marlin Club, 201 South Street, Ocean City, Md. 21842 or phone 801-289-6363.

If you missed the $100,000 Weakfish Tournament sponsored by the Greater Milford Chamber of Commerce, you may still have a chance to enter the First Annual Flounder/Fluke Tournament. For more information phone 302-422-3301 or 1-800-345-4444. The tournament will be held on September 17.

Perfect Beauty is a winner again

Perfect Beauty returned to the site of her only career defeat when she competed in Rosecroft's $27,000 Capitol Hill Trot Final on Saturday, May 28. Del Cain's three-year-old Perfect Harry filly had finished a dismal tenth in the May 15 elimination division of the Capitol Hill. In this return bout, the story would change in dramatic fashion.

Ross Hayter sent Perfect Beauty away quickly from the four hole. However, Happy Crown and Stately's Price, both leaving inside of her, were steered in a similar manner. The threesome were on a near-equal basis midway through the Clubhouse turn when Happy Crown and Stately's Pride went off stride. Perfect Beauty was quick to take advantage and was relaxing on the lead at the quarter in 30.2. This was quite different from the :28.3 opening two furlongs that she needed to make the top on May 15. Following a half in 1:01.3 and three-quarters in 1:32.2, Beauty had plenty left for the remainder of the mile. She was still never seriously challenged around the final bend. However, second choice O.K. Dick was lurking in the third spot along the rail seeking racing room. At the top of the stretch, his opportunity came. The horse who won the race which is the only blemish on Perfect Beauty's card was clearly beginning to shorten the gap as the wire approached. This night, however, was to belong to Perfect Beauty as the Terry Holton-driven O.K. Dick was one-half length away from her in the 2:02.1 mile. Happy Crown recovered from his early mistake in good stead and ended up third.

The Capitol Hill Trot victory was perfect Beauty's sixteenth in seven-year lifetime outings. It marked the largest amount of purse money she had ever earned in a single night's work. Her bankings now stand at $50,492. The Samuel Matthews-trained performer also became the fastest three-year-old trotting filly to ever tour the Rosecroft surface.

There were two other track records established on the Saturday night card. Truman, with John Hogan up, emerged victorious at a 1:57.4 rate in a $12,500 Preferred event.

The mile by Perfect Beauty in 2:02.1 was a season mark for 3 year old trotting fillies in a half mile track.

Lake Forest FFA has successful year

The Lake Forest chapter of the Future Farmers of America won numerous contests during the past school year. On October 28th, the Agri-Business team placed first in the state. The team members were David Marvel - 1st place individually; Tracey Woikoski - 2nd place and Mike Collison - 6th place.

On March 3rd, there were even more contests. The Floriculture team placed first in that state. The team members consisted of Ron Harris - 1st place individually, Lori Ann Wyatt - 3rd place; Joan Parnell - 5th place and Debbie Jester - alternate.

On March 3 the Parliamentary Procedure Contest was won by the 1982-83 Lake Forest F.F.A. officers. They are President - Connie Gerardi, Vice President - Terry Morris, Secretary - Donna Pardee, Treasurer - Tracey Woikoski, Reporter - David Marvel, Sentinel - Gary Moore, Chaplain - Billy Baker, Historian - Carol Beddle and Parliamentarian - Julie Lake. Mike McColley also received 1st place in the state in Junior Public Speaking.

During the month of April, Lake Forest won the only contest that went to the National Convention. On April 28th, Danny Donovan and Allan Buckley won 1st place in Tractor Trouble Shooting. Unfortunately, this contest does not go to the Nationals. Both the Dairy Products Judging team and the Meat Judging team won, so they also will travel to Kansas City. The Dairy Products team consisted of Lynn Mills - 1st place individually, T.J. Holsten - 2nd place, Lisa McCullough - 6th place and Patti Drew - 7th place. This contest has been won by Lake Forest four out of the past five years.

On the Meat Judging team, Jeff Dixon placed 1st individually, Gary Moore - 2nd place, Eva Gruwell - 3rd place and Christine Trader - 4th place. This is the ninth consecutive year Lake Forest has won this contest.

Nearing the end of the school year, Lake Forest won two more contests. The Landscaping team won first with team members consisting of Rob Parson - 2nd place individually, Keith Chandler - 3rd place, George Acree - 6th place and Billy Baker - Alternate. The Farm Management team put on the finishing touches by winning the last contest until fair week. Individual results are not in, but the members of the team are Terry Morris, Danny Haines, Kevin Sipple, and T.K. Hories. Both teams will be traveling to Kansas City.

All of the success of the F.F.A. can be attributed to Bill Abbott, Neil Brasure, Mike Coverdale, James Testerman, and Mike Wamsley. As you can see by the results, the Lake Forest Chapter of the Future Farmers of America is the best in the state. Come out and support F.F.A. during fair week and have a great summer.

The Maryland Dove, a replica of a 1634 vessel once owned by Lord Baltimore and the Calvert family of Baltimore, sits in the Chester River at Chestertown where she participated in a re-enactment of "The Chestertown Tea Party" over the weekend. Colonists at Chestertown in the days preceding the Revolutionary War dumped the British Tea in the Chester River as did their fellow patriots at Boston during the Boston Tea Party. The Maryland Dove was recommissioned in 1978 at a cost to the Maryland taxpayers of $250,000. It is an exact replica of the one built in 1634, and was sunk off the coast of Ireland in 1636. It weighs 96 tons, draws six and one half feet, carried two cannons, was made of white oak, with pine masts, and carried a crew of 7, a captain and five craftsmen. It is stationed at St. Mary's City on the western shore where it is part of the maritime museum there. It is used in Maryland celebrations.

Delaware Crime Stoppers offers cash for tips

Delaware Crime Stoppers will soon be familiar to Delawareans. Modeled after successful efforts throughout the country, Crime Stoppers pays up to $1,000 cash for information that leads to the arrest and indictment of serious criminals. Since callers need not use their name, there is no chance of retaliation.

To work, Crime Stoppers needs support from police, media, businesses and community. It is a non-profit corporation that publicizes a Crime of the Week, usually a serious felony. Callers providing anonymous tips on that crime, or any other felony, are given a code number. If the information proves valuable, the Board of Directors of the corporation pays up to $1,000 cash.

Information on the following crime of the week will pay up to $1,000 cash for information leading to an arrest and indictment:

A major burglary occurred at the Colonial Village Meat Market on DuPont Highway and Bacon Avenue, New Castle. Taken was a large sum of money. The burglars entered the adjoining Jewel T Market first, did not get any money, then went through the ceiling and into the meat market. There was some evidence left at the scene. The burglary occurred either on Friday night, February 11 or Saturday morning, February 12, 1983.

Phone 1-800-TIP-3333 weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. You do not have to reveal your name.

The first Crime of the Week began April 4. Each Monday, a new crime will be publicized throughout Delaware. Former Governor Elbert N. Carvel and former Senator J. Caleb Boggs, Even the great Ted Williams had batting slumps.

In his rookie year with the Red Sox he was in a particularly bad slump.

Dejectedly, he told a reporter, "I wish I could've been a fireman instead of a baseball player."

The reporter included the remark in his story the next day.

When Williams came to bat the opposing White Sox players stormed out of the dugout wearing fire hats, carrying hoses and imitating fire sirens. The crowd roared with laughter.

At that moment, a lumber yard just outside the stadium caught fire. Yellow flames and black smoke climbed skyward. Fire engines clanged noisily to the scene.

Williams was doubled over with laughter.

"Boy, when they pull a gag on you in the majors," he gasped between giggles, "they don't stop at anything."

Bob "Rapid Robert" Feller threw one of the fastest balls in baseball history. As a rookie he was also one of the wildest.

Lefty Gomez, the opposing pitcher and a great practical joker, came to bat in an extra-inning game.

The sun had set and it was getting dark.

As Feller went into his windup Gomez stepped out of the batter's box. He pulled out a kitchen match and lit it on the end of the bat.

"C'mon, Lefty," said the umpire, "Feller's getting ready to pitch, can't you see him?"

"I can see him," said Gomez, "I just want to make sure he sees me."

Max Baer, former heavyweight champion, was in training at a seaside resort to fight the great Joe Louis, known as the Brown Bomber.

Max had acquired a suntan on the beach and was quite proud of it.

"Just look at this tan," he joked, flexing his muscles, "nobody will be able to tell us apart."

"They'll be able to tell you apart," an onlooker said, "the one standing up will be Louis."

Pedestrian killed near Canterbury

Delaware State Police at Troop 3, Camden, investigated an accident that claimed the life of Maudie R. Cummings, 51, of R.D. 3, Felton, Delaware. The accident occurred on U.S. route 13, approximately one-tenth mile north of Canterbury on Thursday, May 19, at 10:11 p.m. Investigation revealed that Robert Mathies, 55, of 726 East 22nd St., Wilmington, Delaware, was northbound on U.S. route 13, operating a 1982 Buick Regal. Cummings was walking east, crossing the highway and was struck in the right lane. Cummings traveled approximately 120 feet to a final resting point. The Magnolia Volunteer Ambulance responded and transported Cummings to Kent General Hospital where she was pronounced dead on arrival at 10:54 p.m. by Dr. Arnold. Mathies was treated at Kent General Hospital for shock. Investigation revealed no evidence of drink or other wrong against Mathies. No prosecution. This was Delaware's 29th fatality compared to 40 for the same time last year.

Chairman of Board - Judi Walls

Congratulations to all these ladies. We know they are going to do a fine job this year.

The Jaceyettes could use your help on an upcoming project. This year we have what we call an Adopt A Grandparent program. We need the names and addresses of older citizens in Harrington who need some help around their homes. We would be willing to come by their homes once or twice a month and do such things as wash their windows, paint if necessary, read to them, and such things as these.

We are a community service organization and we feel we can show this through our Adopt A Grandparent program. If you have an older person we can help, please call Janet M. Rettig at 398-8476. We would also appreciate any suggestions you may have for the Jaceyettes to do for our community. Get to know us. We meet every second Wednesday of the month at the Jaycee Clubhouse next to the Laundrymat on Clark St. at 7:30. Come and join us. We are a great organization!

Astro-Analysis

By Sonia McGinnis

HOROSCOPE FOR THE WEEK OF JUNE 5, 1983

ARIES [March 21-April 19] - Experiences this week are fast paced with some pressure for time. Be practical, keep rash decision making to a minimum. New revelations which involve budget related matters could occur.

TAURUS [April 20-May 20] - Your insight and ability to see things in a clearer light can be a tremendous advantage this week. Utilize newfound methods of improving your present situation by being alert for new opportunities.

GEMINI [May 21-June 21] - Week should be put to constructive use so don't waste time unnecessarily. Your expertise and know-how in handling personal matters responsibly is better than average.

CANCER [June 22-July 21] - Personal achievements and goals are greatest source of accomplishment and should be given your best efforts. Communicate with close friends and allies about endeavors.

LEO [July 22-August 21] - Time should be used for building a career plan that is more stable, with long range benefits. Your ability to differentiate between reality and day-dreaming is essential for a successful week.

VIRGO [August 22-September 22] - As attention is focused in your direction now you can revel in the spotlight. Use care not to talk those you can advance rapidly. A peaceful relationship with superiors gains more respect.

LIBRA [September 23-October 22] - By continuing intellectual pursuits and studies you can advance rapidly. Delve into matters that require ready answers; enlist mate's cooperation.

SCORPIO [October 23-November 21] - Your willingness to put aside conventional methods for more advanced ones can be a tremendous aid to your finances. Don't rush things, examine all the possibilities. Plan carefully.

SAGITTARIUS [November 22-December 20] - The busy week is indicated ample chances to get ahead. Getting along successfully and interacting favorably with colleagues is essential, however. Not a routine week so forget schedules.

CAPRICORN [December 21-January 20] - Good for romantic pursuits and financially related partnerships. Timing is right for signing contracts, consummating mutual agreements with those who share your interests and goals.

AQUARIUS [January 21-February 19] - Recreational pursuits are rewarding and offer a good outlet for pent up energy. Not a week to mix social events with family matters so divide your time for both interests.

PISCES [February 20-March 20] - Mental alertness is a plus factor and can be put to good use as week continues. Capitalize on new ways to put inventive ideas to work. Speculate with caution and invest wisely.
