

Harrington's new City Charter goes to the General Assembly

by David F. Coady

Senator Ruth Ann Minner (D-18th Dist.); Representative G. Robert Quillen (R-30th Dist.) and William Walls (City Solicitor) conducted a public meeting to discuss the proposed new city charter for Harrington. The meeting was held on Thursday, March 9, at City Hall. More than 30 citizens attended the meeting and heard Solicitor Walls compare the existing charter section by section with the proposed charter.

Walls pointed out that the existing charter was adopted in 1936 and portions have since been ruled unconstitutional or have become outdated. The new charter would limit the term of office of the mayor to three consecutive two-year terms and that of councilmen to two consecutive three-year terms.

Under the present charter only property owners are permitted to vote.

They are allowed one vote for every $100 of assessed value. Walls pointed out that this is not enforced due to U.S. Supreme Court rulings mandating one man, one vote. Section 7(d) of the new charter would permit every citizen of Harrington aged 18 and older the right to vote in municipal elections.

Section 8 concerning the Annual Meeting of Electors of the City was discussed. Walls explained that the only change is that the annual meeting would be chaired by the mayor. "This will ensure that councilmen attend the meeting," Walls said. This section also requires the mayor to give a report on the accomplishments of the council during the preceding year and the plans for the coming year. Walls noted that it would be unconstitutional for anyone not to be permitted to speak out at a public meeting as long as proper parliamentary procedures were carried out.

Section 14 dealing with Salaries of Officers and Employees was amended to include a sentence stating that this section would not apply to the mayor or councilmen.

Dr. Vincent Lobo presented an alternative wording to Section 42 dealing with the Power to Adopt Health Ordinances. The text of Dr. Lobo's wording reads:

"The power to adopt health ordinances relating to the health and protection of the population of the city. To control and prevent flooding, drainage, health hazards, vermin, debris, trash, insects, weeds, the spread of infectious disease or nuisances affecting the city. To control animals and types of animals or fowl allowed in the city. To establish a Board of Health. The city's jurisdiction shall extend the areas outside the city limits and within one mile from the city limits."

An amendment to include Dr. Lobo's wording will be included when the charter is introduced in the General Assembly.

Section 51 of the new charter raises the limit the council may contract for without seeking competitive bidding from $2,000 to $5,000. When questions arose from the audience about this, Mayor Al Mann pointed out that inflation has eroded the value of the dollar.

"If you considered the value of the 1936 dollars to the present dollar, we should raise it even further," Mayor Mann said.

Both Senator Minner and Representative Quillen indicated that they will try and ensure that the proposed new charter is passed by the present session of the General Assembly.

Harrington City Council calls Public Meeting on new City Hall

by David F. Coady

At its meeting on June 13, the Harrington City Council voted to call a public meeting on June 28, 1983 to hear public comment on a proposal to purchase a new city hall complex. The council wants authority to borrow $125,000 to purchase and renovate property at 110 Center Street, Harrington. The public meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on June 13 at the present City Hall.

Before council may borrow the money, a referendum must be held. The public meeting is the first step towards holding a referendum. The resolution calling for the public meeting was passed unanimously at the Monday night meeting of the city council. The complete text of the resolution appears under "Legal Notices" in the classified section of today's paper.

Council supports Police Commissioner

by David F. Coady

Harrington's Police Commissioner, Councilman Curtis Melvin, sought and received the backing of the entire city council at Monday night's meeting of the Harrington City Council. The problem arose when Councilman Melvin requested the Chief of Police, Carl McLroy, change his patrol roster. The roster was thrown into disarray with the resignation of Officer Jeffrey Cook.

McLroy's roster for the remaining four officers has them working nights 19 out of 20 days. "I would not work such a shift, and I don't expect anyone to have to work such a shift for me," Councilman Melvin said. Melvin said the schedule gives the city two policemen on duty at one time when it's not necessary and no coverage when coverage is needed.

Melvin suggested that a roster of four men working single shifts be adopted. This would provide the city with single man police protection for 160 hours out of the 168 hour week. Melvin stated that the police chief turned this down stating that he (the chief) expected overtime for any shift work. After further discussion the council voted to support Councilman Melvin and authorized him to issue the police chief with written instructions ordering him to enact the Police Commissioner's schedule.

Two cars collided on Saturday morning at US 13 and Route 14, Harrington, at approximately 9:30 a.m. A car driven by Barry W. Miller of York, Pa. was southbound in the inside lane of US 13, made an improper left hand turn into the path of a car driven by Cynthia Albert of Edgewood, Md. Miller was charged with an "improper left turn on a one way road." Photo by HGF

Heritage Committee $500 richer after visit to City Council

by David F. Coady

Sue Ellen Dennis and Grace Welch, representing the Heritage Day Celebrations Committee, visited city council on Monday night to obtain a small donation from the city fathers. They walked away with $500 in pledges. Dennis gave a break-down on expenses and expected income. She said the committee sent out 38 requests for press coverage of the event and have affirmative acknowledgements from 31.

Welch asked that in the future the council consider budgeting money for such events. She said if the council would budget money for insurance for events such as Heritage Day, it would save the committees the money of insuring the event and would cost the council less than it costs a private committee. Welch said the cost of insurance alone is over $200. Mayor Al Man agreed that the council should budget money for organizations such as the Heritage Day Committee.

Councilman Ray Gagne said if council would vote a small donation, he would personally match it. Councilman Jack Wyatt initially proposed a donation of $100 but at the urging of Mayor Mann increased the amount to $200. When the vote was taken, Councilman Gagne jokingly voted against it. Mayor Mann pledged a personal donation of $100.

DELAWARE STATE FAIR HEADLINERS

Rounding out the grandstand program this year will be something entirely new -- the Chicago Knockers All-Girl Mud Wrestling Show, which is scheduled for Monday, July 25. Although Fair officials were a bit hesitant in first signing an act of this nature, after meeting with the group's representative they were assured that the show was done in good taste and had received good reviews wherever they performed. In 1982 that included shows at Madison Square Garden and packed performances in over 40 states as well as Canada and Mexico.

Aside from the grandstand shows, the Fair will offer hundreds of competitively judged events, over 200 commercial and educational displays, and a myriad assortment of rides, games and good food. This year there will also be a wide assortment of free entertainment throughout the fairgrounds.

All in all, a completely diversified program awaits fairgoers this Summer in Delaware. Show ticket information may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Delaware State Fair, P.O. Box 28, Harrington, DE 19952.

Felton Council Notes

by Dave Coady

The drain at the corner of Nyle and High streets that was accidentally tarred over when the new sewage line was installed has been repaired.

A dumpster was placed on the lot next to the Firehall on May 21 and 22 for the convenience of the citizens to assist in spring cleaning. As the county landfill does not allow vehicle tires to be dumped, the town government requests that the next time this project is undertaken, citizens cooperate by not placing tires in the dumpster.

No one has been named to replace former Councilman Don Jacobs, who resigned last March. Mayor Myers has had a hip operation and has not been able to attend the last two town meetings. The Mayor is expected to name a replacement at the next council meeting.

The radar has been located and installed in the town police car. The town is still looking for a garage to keep the car in. A vacancy still exists for the position of a part time policeman.

The annual Street Fair will be held on Saturday, June 18, from noon till dark.

Assistant Scoutmaster McFarland attended the council meeting along with five boys from Troop 113, Boy Scouts of America, who are working on their merit badge for citizenship.

Nanticoke Homes expanding

by David F. Coady

On June 20, 1983, Nanticoke Homes, Inc., of Greenwood, Delaware will be bringing on line a new 80,000 square foot production facility. The new facility will increase the production capabilities of Nanticoke Homes from its present 11-12 homes per week to 20 homes per week. Also being brought on line is a new 10,000 square foot vehicle maintenance facility.

Nanticoke Homes was formed in February 1971 by John and Peggy Mervine of Greenwood. They constructed their first home in an abandoned chicken feeding station behind their house. "We were going to site-build the 28 ft. by 40 ft. house, but decided to cut it into two sections with a double center wall." The labor force consisted of three carpenters. In 1971 Nanticoke Homes produced 17 homes. In 1972 the Mervines moved the operation into a newly constructed facility next to the old chicken house.

The entire plant with all office records was destroyed by fire on February 19, 1979. A new plant was constructed one mile north of Greenwood. The office complex is in a 6,000 square foot Southern Colonial. It was built in the plant in four days and set up in four hours. Also on the site is a model home. Nanticoke Homes has approximately 232 employees. Another 100 owe their employment to subcontractors working with Nanticoke Homes. Mervine says his weekly payroll is approximately $65,000 and expects that figure to go up to $100,000 when the new facility is in full operation.

"No government funds were involved with the construction of the new complex," Mervine said. He said that he has a state approved bond available but no decision has been made as to whether it will be used or not. The new complex is a Republic Steel building. The general contractor is O.A. Newton and Son Company. Subcontractors are Comfort Heating and Air Conditioning of Bridgeville, Delaware for electrical and mechanical work and George T. Harkins, Inc. of Salisbury, Maryland for the foundation work.

William H. Mervine, son of John and Peggy, oversees the operation of a separate company, National Concrete. National Concrete manufactures septic tanks, decorator and patio blocks, concrete steps and pre-cast systems. This operation is on the lot where the original Nanticoke Homes was burned out. Nanticoke Homes also has a plant in Elkhart, Indiana. There is tentative plans to open a plant in Florida.

HAPPY FATHER'S DAY

Fathers Day is a day on which many people in the United States and Canada express gratitude and appreciation by giving their fathers gifts or greeting cards. Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Washington, started Fathers Day in the year 1910. This custom later spread throughout the United States. In 1936, a national Father's Day Committee was formed, with the headquarters located in New York City.

A Daughter's I.O.U.

by Carol Ann Porter
 Sometimes I sit and worry about the debts I've made.
 I look forward to the day when they all will be repaid.
 Sometimes I overlook one debt, the biggest one of all.
 The one I owe my father, which I'll never pay in full.
 Well, Dad, I hope that you will please accept this I.O.U.
 For services you've rendered, my payment's way past due.
 For all those bikes and trikes that you repainted and re-wheeled,
 For all those prayers you taught me while by my bed we kneeled,
 For telling me those stories that I enjoyed the most,
 Except the one where a buzzard hatched me on a post.
 For teaching me that "hard work" is something you can't borrow,
 And that cheating and dishonesty would always bring you sorrow.
 For raising me in a home that taught me right from wrong,
 A home I was so proud of, filled with laughter and with song.
 Although your hair is silver, as your daughter I'm still proud.
 Besides, that white hair makes it easy to spot you in a crowd.
 For listening to my problems, however small they be,
 And picking up the pieces when my world caved in on me.
 For saving me a service call when my dryer's on the blink.
 And pretending you're a plumber when there's garbage in my sink.
 For being marriage counselor, mechanic and musician,
 baby sitter, painter, carpenter, electrician.
 I hope you never send a bill that says "Remittance Due",
 'Cause I'd just have to pay it with a great big "I.O.U."
 I'd like to make a small down payment starting with today,
 By saying that this daughter loves you, more than words can say!

Over The Backyard Fence

Senior Center

by Dorothy Graham

Smile! We are such stuff as dreams are made of. And our little life. Shakespeare.

Reverend Watson of Baptist Church, Harrington was leader of Bible Study Monday morning. Mrs. Watson was at the piano.

The folks present sang several hymns. Then there was prayer by Reverend Watson.

Our topic for study was 13th chapter of 1st Corinthians, verse 6. Hebrews, 12th chapter, 14th verse. After a very enlightening discussion, those there sang a song and were dismissed with a prayer by Reverend Watson.

Greeting each other were Sylvia and Cecil Meredith, Virginia Smith, Mildred Vincent, Mary Sapp, Frances Wright, Gladys Hill, Lillie McBride, Jo Burke, Earl and Mary E. Nelson, Clara Judy, Mamie Adams, Ethel Holden, Anna Mae Short, Marion and Roxanne Brown, Catherine Donovan, Thelma Legates, Etzel McCready, Irene Larrimore and Elwood Morris.

Jolly Timers practiced a lot of new old favorites Tuesday morning at the Kitchen Band practice. There were 18 to give Ina Hughes a lift to her and the piano.

Monday at noon at the Center Anna Angelus, a young lady from Sweden greeted each person she was introduced to with a slight curtsy. Joan McKnatt introduced her. She gave the blessing first in Swedish then English. She was a pleasant, young blonde. Anna's mother accompanied her.

Ruth Nassar was here with her nostalgic program. Abbott's Mill was a good part of it. Interesting for sure!!

Lillie McBride, Mamie Adams, Florence Minner, Bertha Dean, Jo Burke, Annabel Morrow, Roxanne and Marion Brown, Ella Golt, Gladys Hill, Elma Thorpe, Tony Perrone, Ola Tildon, Mildred Vincent, Andy Anderson, Louis Gerardi and Elwood Morris was called to band practice Tuesday morning with Ina Hughes at the piano. The old, famous, favorites that they are practicing truly sound good. Bring back many memories - "Are You Lonesome Tonight?" "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now," to name a couple.

Sylvia Meredith was at the keyboard when the "Senior Sounds" poured out their hearts in some of the most gratifying hymns Wednesday morning Present at the song-in was M. Nachod, C. Meredith, M. Vincent, O. Tildon, F. Wright, "Andy" Anderson, M. & R. Brown, Elwood Morris, F. Minner, L. Gerardi, G. Hill, T. Perrone, E. McCready and J. Burke.

Bingo was the order of the day, Thursday afternoon that is.

Bowling at Milford Lanes and those that went had fun!

Friday afternoon several from the Center went to Milford shopping. They had a great time!

Have a gorgeous pitcher and bowl, Mr. and Mrs. Santos, Big frog planter, these are only a few ceramics we have. Stop by and see the arts and crafts display, a gift for every occasion! Best wishes to everyone. And I do mean everyone!! Take care, love you, thank all volunteers! See you at the Center, Faith!

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

Time for another gab fest with our friends, so lean over the back fence a couple of minutes while I get the strawberries out of my hair. We are thankful for a wonderful strawberry season this year. We have eaten them four times a day, put them in the freezer, made umpteen jars of jam, put them over the morning cereal and the evening ice cream, sold a few, and given lots of them to our friends. We like our shortcakes made with old-fashioned biscuit dough, so the oven has been busy.

Much of our recreational activities center around the wildlife. Small Garth came home from school yesterday bringing a baby robin that she found on the street. It was badly injured with a leg and a wing not functioning, but we tried with bits of raw hamburger. It did not make it through the night. And, last night, another bunny was killed on the highway in front of the house.

But, I have two true stories to tell you that will give you joy as they did me. Last week I believe I mentioned that the blackbirds were eating the strawberries. But they are scary, and a couple of hub caps banging in the wind took care of that rather well. But not so, the mockingbird. He stays with us all winter and has become almost tame. He sits on the fence and listens while Dad talks to him. So, he stays out in the strawberry patch with him.

Yesterday, when Dad reached around to put some berries in the box beside him, there was Mr. Mocker eating out of the box. We are still laughing. The audacity of him, daring to eat the ones that were picked rather than get his own!

This next story came to me from our cousin, Marvin Schelhouse, who lives between Greenwood and Milford. He is a great observer of wildlife, and he said he always supposed that when the mother bird pushes her babies out of the nest and sees that they can fly, then that is it. They would be on their own, but this is most interesting. Each morning on his front lawn, there appears a mother robin with two or three babies trotting closely behind her. She proceeds to watch the ground closely and then dive in with her bill and bring up a worm. This she divides and feeds a piece to each youngster. The process is repeated, with the babies watching her intently (with a lot more attention, Marvin says, than his own youngsters do under instruction!) It is simply remarkable how they watch every move she makes. After a few minutes she goes off from them and watches. They look around the ground and have now begun to pick at it, but they still haven't learned how. Every morning this training goes on. I do hope Marvin will be able to be present when they find their first worm!

ANTIBIOTICS & PREGNANCY

Unexpected pregnancy in women taking oral contraceptives may be due to their also receiving an antibiotic. Apparently the antibiotic can speed up destruction of natural hormones by the liver - and destruction of the hormone-like chemical contraceptives also. Further reports indicate that several commonly used antibiotics are implicated. The effect is temporary and lasts only during the menstrual cycle in which the antibiotic is taken.

Solzhenitzyn criticizes Graham

"The entire 20th century is being sucked into the vortex of atheism and destruction. Many Western peace movements are influenced by communism and the World Council of Churches seem to care more for the success of revolutionary movements in the Third World while remaining blind and deaf to the persecution of religion where this is carried through most consistently in the USSR."

These were some of the remarks made by Alexander Solzhenitzyn, Soviet writer, in accepting the Templeton Prize for religious contributions. Solzhenitzyn now lives in the United States. He criticized evangelist Billy Graham, an earlier Templeton winner, for lending "public support to communist lies." In reply, Dr. Graham said the writer had relied on distorted media reports of his words and actions during a visit to the Soviet Union in May 1982.

Prospect United Methodist Women

by Mabel Jean Donovan, Secretary

The U.M.W. of Prospect held their June luncheon at noon on the 9th. There were 24 members and 2 guests present. The menu consisted of an array of covered dishes with fried chicken and meat loaf, iced tea and coffee and various cakes for dessert.

The singing of "For the Beauty of the Earth" opened the program which was held in the sanctuary. Phoebe Anthony then gave us a brief history and interesting facts about the U.M.W. and various societies which have originated at Prospect since 1916. The following poem, written by Phoebe, aptly fits us at Prospect:

Prospect Church is the place To which we all come. We meet once a month, The hour is one. Devotions are read And songs are sung. We take care of the business, Then join in some fun Of eating all the goodies Prepared by the members. While we laugh and chat

Until it's time to depart Then we return to our homes and anxiously wait. For another Thursday is the date. We may not be wealthy And yet we're not poor For when we all count our blessings We have riches galore.

Mary Lou Wright accompanied Virginia Smith and Phoebe Anthony in a duet of "I've Got a Mansion Over the Hilltop".

Vivian Dill presented flowers to Mrs. Lillie Sullivan as our oldest member. Mrs. Lillie said she didn't mind telling me she turned 88 in Feb. We were so pleased to have her with us with Gerrie. Mrs. Edna Hopkins was honored as the member with the longest number of years as a member. Can you believe 62?!! Remarkable!! Our two newest members were also recognized. They are Mrs. Mary Marshall and Etzel McCready. Congratulations to each one.

We closed with the singing of "What A Friend".

Perfect Beauty, on the outside, defeated Emma Lobell in the Martha Washington stake at Brandywine Raceway last Thursday night in 2:01.1.

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
BRANDYWINE RACEWAY, June 9th - They said she could only "whoop-up" on those from the Delaware sire stakes. There were still those cynics who felt Perfect Beauty - as not perfect....and could only win on Delaware soil. Even though the cynics were not turned by any means after the outcome of the Martha Washington for 3 year old trotters last Thursday night at Brandywine....which was the start of Grand Circuit racing at that oval. Nonetheless she proved to a lot of other people that she was perfect in many ways.

Starting as the trailer in a 10 horse field, she went off stride in the Clubhouse turn when another horse allegedly hit her. So for the rest of the mile, she took her time and worked her way through traffic so that in the end she nipped Emma Lobell by a nose to win the coveted Martha Washington, whose purse totaled $28,500.

On the second trip around Brandywine, Ross Hayter took the filly out on the back stretch....three wide. When they reached the 3/4 pole she would need now to go four wide as she headed into the stretch. Front runner Montesquieu and Clarissa's Pride battled it out through three quarters with Montesquieu nipping off quarters in :29. :59:1, 1:29:2, but despite these fast fractions, Perfect Beauty still rolled along. When the field hit the stretch, it was obvious Perfect Beauty would be right there at the end. She got through horses to come down the

Vankirk Wins "Battle" in 1:55

by Harry E. Farrow, Jr.
BRANDYWINE RACEWAY, June 12th - A seventeen hundred dollar investment for Steve Peter Heredy of Washington, Pa. (outside of Pittsburg) has turned into a bargain. That's what it cost him four years ago when he purchased Miss Cheetah who was in foal at the time to Adios Butler. The end product was a colt....Vankirk. He proved himself worthy of all the praise when he bested a field of top 3 year old pacers in the annual Battle of the Brandywine in track record time of 1:55. The previous track record was held by Artie's Dream in 1981 going the distance in 1:55.1.

who is a blacksmith. "I guess I have been around horses ever since I was six or eight years old. They started me off pretty young," said Warrington.

Vankirk has been driven by Warrington four times. "I have had three wins with him and one second," said Warrington. "We knew he was a good horse coming into this race....and he seemed like he could have paced a little further than the finish line. He is strong....bullish," said Warrington. "He is his own worst enemy. You can't drive him like you would a regular horse. You more or less have to go along with him. Just rate him as best you can," continued Warrington. When the starter called for the pacers, Vankirk laid back considerably from the gate. "I deliberately held him back from the gate because when the gate goes into the first turn with the one hole you have to back off or you will hit the

Vankirk wins Battle of the Brandywine

by Jerry Connors
WILMINGTON, Delaware - Vankirk made two moves to the top, controlled the pace, and then held off the stretch charge of Time To Cash to win the $100,000 Battle of the Brandywine at Brandywine Raceway Sunday night.

Driver Steve Warrington left strongly with his son of Adios Butler, relinquishing the lead to Time To Cash at the 28 quarter but quickly reclaiming the top. The top two maintained their positions through the :57 2/5 half and the 1:25 2/5 three-quarters, with Time To Cash tipping wide at the top of the stretch to challenge. The pair duelled throughout the lane, with Vankirk maintaining his advantage by a long nose on the money in 1:55, a fifth better than the old track record for sophomores of Artie's Dream.

Better Heather driven by living Hall of Famer Bill Houghton, was third, a length and three-quarters behind the top pair and a half a length better than Silent Al Jamuga, the early favorite, was scratched due to lameness.

The victory was the ninth of the year and a new lifetime best for Vankirk, raising his seasonal bankroll to $164,250. Owner/trainer Steve Heredy of Washington, Pa. purchased Vankirk's dam, Miss Cheetah, in foal to Adios Butler for $1,700 in 1979.

The apprentice jockey looked on in amazement as the veteran rider brought in six consecutive winners. After the last race the youngster approached the old-timer. "I notice you talk to the horses. What in the world do you say?" he asked. "I recite poetry," said the veteran. "Poetry?" replied the puzzled youngster.

"Yes," said the old-timer: "Roses are red, Violets are blue, Horses that lose, Are made into glue."  The cocky young pitcher couldn't wait to start his first major league game. He kept pleading with the manager to start him. Finally the manager started him against a notoriously weak-hitting Delaware State College head women's basketball coach Marianna Freeman has resigned to take a position as assistant women's basketball coach at the University of Iowa in Iowa City. Freeman will join her former college coach Vivian Stringer, who was recently appointed head coach at the university, after a successful career at Cheyney State College. "The chance to work with Coach Stringer on a coach's level is something I have always dreamed about, but never thought it would become a reality," said Freeman. I am looking forward to this new challenge."

Freeman resigns

In two seasons at the helm of the Hornets' program, Freeman compiled a 21-27 overall record. Her 1982-83 team finished 11-13 and had the best record in the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference at 6-2.

A native of Smyrna, Delaware, Freeman came to Delstate after a year as a graduate assistant and recruiter at Slippery Rock State College. It was at Slippery Rock that she pursued her master's degree in recreation, after earning her bachelor's degree in the same field as an undergraduate at Cheyney State.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Dear Editor: Earlier this year we wrote you about the need for 66 host families for French students in the annual NACEL program. Thank you for your help at that time. Now that it's June we find the need for an additional appeal. We still need 25 host families for French teenage boys, and we hope you will be willing to help by printing news of this need in your paper.

increases when their students host a French student. We think, however, that it is more important to let the parents know of this opportunity because hosting is a cultural experience for the whole family. We think your paper would reach this segment of the community.

Honor America

by David F. Coady

"That Congress declares the twenty-one days from Flag Day through Independence Day as a period to honor America, that there be public gatherings and activities at which the people can celebrate and honor their country in an appropriate manner." So reads Public Law 94-33. During this period, June 14 - July 4, all Americans should "Fly the Flag" and honor all those who have given so much to make this the most envied and imitated country in the world. Every city, town and village should be displaying not only the American Flag but their State and City Flags. I believe at this time everyone should re-read "The American Creed" written by William Tyler Page. It reads:

"I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its law; to respect its flag and to defend it against all enemies."

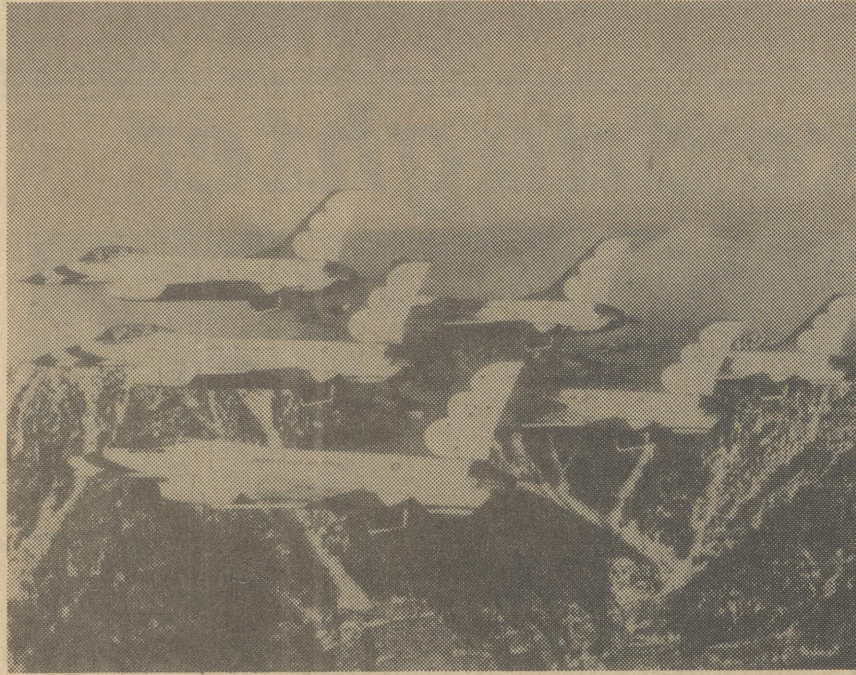

It's time to adopt the new City Charter

by David F. Coady

Everyone was given another chance to express their views with regards to the proposed new city charter for Harrington. All previous meetings, both regular city council meetings and workshop sessions, were publicized before hand and open to the public. Senator Minner, Representative Quillen and Solicitor Walls were good enough to chair one final meeting to allow citizens the opportunity to express their views on the new charter.

Mayor Mann and members of the city council were on hand to answer questions. Also publicized was the fact that copies of the proposed charter was available at City Hall at a cost of $2.50 each. Only three copies were purchased by interested citizens prior to the public meeting. Solicitor Walls did an exceptional job of explaining various aspects of the proposed charter.

It is now time for the General Assembly to adopt the proposed charter. This will enable the city council to get on to other business equally important to the future of Harrington.

Publisher's Lament

"Publishing a small paper is no picnic. "If we print jokes, people say we are silly; if we don't, they say we are too serious. "If we stick to the office all day, we ought to be out hunting things to write about; if we go out and try to hustle some news, we ought to be on the job in the office.

"If we don't accept contributions, we don't appreciate genius; if we print them, the paper is full of junk.

"If we edit the other fellow's story, we are too critical; if we don't, we're asleep.

"If we clip things from other papers, we're too lazy to write them; if we don't, we're stuck with our own stuff. "Now, like as not some guy will say we swiped this from some other paper...We did, and admit it."

Delaware Crime Stoppers offers cash for tips

Delaware Crime Stoppers will soon be familiar to Delawareans. Modeled after successful efforts throughout the country, Crime Stoppers pays up to $1,000 cash for information that leads to the arrest and indictment of serious criminals. Since callers need not use their name, there is no chance of retaliation.

To work, Crime Stoppers needs support from police, media, businesses and community. It is a non-profit corporation that publicizes a Crime of the Week, usually a serious felony. Callers providing anonymous tips on that crime, or any other felony, are given a code number. If the information proves valuable, the Board of Directors of the corporation pays up to $1,000 cash.

The first Crime of the Week began April 4. Each Monday, a new crime will be publicized throughout Delaware.

Former Governor Elbert N. Carvel and former Senator J. Caleb Boggs, are honorary co-chairmen for Crime Stoppers. Mr. Norman Powell was recently appointed Board Chairman. Board members represent the media, businesses, and private citizens throughout Delaware.

Information on the following crime of the week will pay up to $1,000 cash for information leading to an arrest and indictment:

Dover employment office honored by U.S. Labor Department

The U.S. Labor Department's Employment and Training Administration (ETA), has presented two awards to the Dover, Del. local office of the Delaware Division of Employment Services.

The awards recognize superior performance and services to veterans during the 1982 fiscal year, according to William J. Haltigan regional administrator in Philadelphia for ETA.

"These awards are based on performance records, which indicate that the extra effort by all local office staff in Dover has enhanced the image of the Job Service in Kent County and has helped to provide a more efficient and viable job placement function,"

Haltigan said.

The Dover office placed 1,328 persons in unsubsidized jobs during FY'82 and achieved a "timeliness rate" of 89.2 percent for initial payments of unemployment insurance to jobless residents.

In the veterans category, the Dover office achieved a 26.5 percent job placement for veterans in FY'82, more than nine percentage points higher than the state's overall veterans' placement rate that year.

The presentations to the Dover office were made as part of a Regional Awards Program sponsored by ETA for state employment security agencies.

ALTERNATIVE TO THE FOUR-HOUR EMERGENCY ROOM WAIT

Studies have shown that 85% of people seen in a typical hospital emergency room really did not need emergency treatment. Many were there because they could not see their regular doctor -- or they didn't have a regular doctor -- or because they found it more convenient, even when the wait was up to four hours.

Responding to the above need for urgent care, the Dickinson Medical Group has set aside times during each day to see urgent medical problems. In general, when you indicate there is an urgent medical problem by calling the numbers below, you will be seen that day or early the next day. TRUE EMERGENCIES OF COURSE WILL BE SEEN IMMEDIATELY AS WILL VERY URGENT MEDICAL PROBLEMS.

Because we have x-ray, EKG, laboratory and pulmonary function facilities, many urgent medical problems can be handled on an out-patient basis -- thus avoiding costly hospitalization.

Below is a "wallet card" which we suggest that you cut out and use the next time you have an "urgent" medical problem.

Rotary Club News

A very interesting evening was enjoyed last Monday when the Harrington Rotary Club, at its weekly meeting at the Harrington Restaurant and Newsstand on Delaware Avenue, had Anna Catarina Olgeus and her mother, Ann-Marie, of Kil, Sweden, as its guests. They were accompanied by their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. David Adams.

Anna Catarina is the current exchange student at the Lake Forest High School, and gave the club's members an insight of her native country. It was interesting to know that English is an important item in the curriculum of the Swedish schools beginning in the elementary grades, and she reflected this point with her complete command of the language. The school year in Sweden is much like our own, with the summer free for other pursuits. While Anna Catarina speaks Swedish, English, and some French, her mother, who teaches special education in a junior high school of her community, has a command of German as well.

Kil is in the central western part of Sweden, located in the county of Varmland. Anna Catarina is majoring in Economics and business curricula at school and will be returning on June 25.

Anna Catarina's mother was visiting in order to be able to attend the commencement exercises at Lake Forest High School last Sunday at which her daughter participated.

The meeting, arranged by the club's president, Melvin Luff, included a fine dinner, and concluded with the showing of slides taken of the Kil locality, as well as objects that Anna Catarina and her mother brought with them. Both were wearing clothes representative of their country.

Greenwood Library News

by June Bostick

The Greenwood Public Library will sponsor a summer reading program from June 20 through July 18 at the library on Mill Street. Children from the first grade through the sixth grade will be urged to read 10 books and report on these books to the librarians. Reporting may be done by several methods - an oral report, writing 30-40 words about the book, telling about one of the characters from the book either orally or in writing, or drawing your idea of one of the characters or scenes from the book. You may have another way of sharing your idea of the book with the librarians. Children who are pre-school age may participate by having a parent or older child read to him or her. They too will share their ideas with the librarians either by drawing a picture or by telling about some part of the book or one of the characters. Plan now to be a part of this activity at the library. To get the program started there will be a film "Music Box", a Laurel and Hardy film, at 4 p.m. on June 20. On June 27th there will be two films between 3 and 4 or on Monday evenings between 6 and 7. Join the summer reading program at your library. Sign up now!

Two teenagers drown in Maryland's Choptank

DENTON, MD - Two Maryland teenagers drowned Sunday in the Choptank River under the Denton Bridge, police said.

Maryland Natural Resources Police said Samuel W. Ruark, 18, of Ridgely, apparently was under the influence of drugs or alcohol when he decided to go swimming about 1:30 a.m. Witnesses called the marine police when they saw Ruark going under, but his body could not be found when rescuers arrived. Police failed to recover his body Sunday but said efforts will resume this morning.

While dragging the river for Ruark's body, marine police were alerted by observers about 2:15 p.m. that they had just seen another man jump from the bridge, which police said is fewer than 50 feet above the water.

Gregory L. Wise, of Denton, whose police said was 18 or 19, "apparently went straight down and never came up," marine police said. Police classified his death as a suicide.

Wise's body was recovered and taken to the Baltimore morgue, where an autopsy will be performed.

Marine police said that the drownings of Ruark and Wise were among three drownings Sunday in Maryland waters and that 10 others had been injured during the day in two separate boating accidents.

Area students selected to Governor's School of Excellence

by David F. Coady

Four area students were among the 100 high school students from throughout the state that were selected for the Governor's School of Excellence. Among those selected were Rebecca Brown for music; Paul Meding for essay and Elizabeth Senter for essay, all of Lake Forest High School. Julie Williams of Woodbridge High School was selected for essay.

Those selected for essay were given a list of five subjects, all pertaining to leadership, to write a 500 word essay on. The students were given three periods in which to complete their work and turn it in. The student's name did not appear on the essay to insure that the panel making the selection would be totally impartial.

All students selected were invited to the Governor's Mansion at Woodburn for tea. They were able to have a personal chat with the governor. Governor duPont personally issued each student a portfolio containing all the information they will need for the course. They will be attending a one week course beginning on July 17 at the University of Delaware. Governor duPont assured all students that only top-notch educators will be on hand to guide them through interesting and varied subjects.

The Governor's School for Excellence was started five years ago by Governor duPont to honor students who demonstrated exemplary talents during the school year. Each year 100 students are chosen from schools, both public and private, from throughout the state. This year's class will bring the total so honored to 500.

After the rookie walked the first six batters the manager brought in a relief pitcher.

Storming into the dugout, the cocky youngster kicked the water cooler and shouted, "I can't believe it. You take me out when I have a no-hitter going."

"Dizzy" Dean, onetime great St. Louis Cardinals' pitcher, was taking an awful riding from the fans.

One lady in particular hurled insults at Dean as he came back to the dugout after each inning.

After Dean struck out the side in the seventh, the lady shouted, "If you were my husband, I'd give you poison."

"Lady, if I wuz your husband," Dean snapped, "I'd take it."

Share America

Share America. We've found that most of the world knows America only from what they hear about us on TV or read about us in the newspapers. They don't know about the real America—not really.

That's why we need you and your family to share your America by opening your home for one school year to a European high school student coming to this country. So they can learn about America. So that they can develop an understanding of our country that goes far beyond the headlines. And remember, when you share your America with an exchange student, everybody gains because they'll also share their Europe with your family.

gate....particularly with a horse like him. I wanted to get him to calm down. He gets really up tight....and will fight you. So I tried to take it easy with him. We also changed up the gear by putting a new bit in. We went to a snake bit and it seemed to do the trick tonight. He really paced....it was a great feeling," added Warrington.

Asked if he felt the field could catch him he said "...well I let him (Time To Cash) go by me at the quarter pole. I just let him go. Then when I made a move with my horse again I could feel he had the power we were going to need tonight. So....I went back on top....really easy. I knew from the fractions they would have to go to get me." Warrington went on to say that he did not carry a stopwatch in one hand. "There was no need to do that. I knew he would be fast....just didn't know that he would be that fast. I suspected though. So the stop watch was not needed....I just had to concentrate on getting him to calm down....and rate him. If I could do that I knew I would be right there." Warrington had drawn the number one post with Vankirk.

Warrington said had he had an outside post, he would have taken him right out and gone for the top. "The horse pulls a lot....and fights you. If you try to hold him back....he chokes down. So you have to go with him and give him a good rate.

The night's card featured nine sub-2 minute miles with two in 1:55 and a piece and the Battle in 1:55 flat. According to Director of Public Relations, Marv Backrad, "...it was one of the fastest nights of racing at Brandywine".

The chances of an even tighter race was dampened when the highly favored Jamuga was scratched. According to one source, he was trained on Wednesday....the leg swelled badly and they decided to scratch him. By racing him on Sunday night they ran the risk of him being sidelined for two weeks which would mean missing the Messenger and the $2 million dollar stake race at the Meadowlands in a couple of weeks. The Meadow Skipper colt was one of five with the same sire. The win raised Vankirk's lifetime earnings to $177,550.

In the race preceding the Battle, Hamilton R.H. driven by Howard Beissinger won the $25,000 Battle of the Brandywine Skirmish for 3 year old pacers. This field was composed of pacers who were eliminated from the Battle of the Brandywine. Hamilton R.H. came from far back to overtake Great Nero in the stretch and win by a head, with Great Nero finishing a head over Ian Hanover. The race was in 1:55.3.

The next race for the nation's top 3 year old pacers is this Saturday night at Roosevelt Raceway with the renewal of The Messenger Stakes.

While at Cheyney, Freeman was an outstanding basketball player. She was an integral part of Cheyney's basketball team for four years and served as one of the team's captains during the 1979 season. That was also the year Cheyney State posted an undefeated record and there's little doubt Freeman's drive and determination played no small part in that stellar season.

Prior to attending Cheyney State, Freeman was one of the top female high school basketball players in Delaware. Her best season was 1975, when she was named a prep All-American, was selected to Delaware's All-State team, was chosen Smyrna's most valuable player and won All-Conference honors after averaging 24 points per game. That average put her second in the Henlopen Conference in scoring and left little reasons to wonder why she was named to the All-Conference team three straight years.
