Wild storm rips through trailer park

To eleven-year-old Bobby Biddle, it was like something out of "The Wizard of Oz". When his family's mobile home at Lake Forest Mobile Home Estates on U.S. 13 south of Felton, started shaking, he half expected, like Dorothy of Oz fame, to be swept up and carted off somewhere. In fact, he and his mother Joan Biddle decided it was time to leave. They grabbed their dog "Pepper" (who was also shaking), jumped in the car and headed out. But the Biddles got no further than the gate of the mobile home park when the fury of the storm hit.

The storm lasted only a few minutes, but they were wild ones. Bobby Biddle and his mom did not come back to find they had been transported to the land of the Tin Man and the Cowardly Lion. But they, along with the other residents of the park and its owner, Lowell Ridenour, were faced with an extensive cleanup job on Friday as they found the area littered with broken limbs, uprooted trees, ripped skirting, bent TV antennas and broken window glass.

chain reaction in which a number of the empty homes were jostled together and damaged. Ridenour said the overturned home would weigh around 36,000 pounds and would require a couple of cranes to right.

As of Monday, Ridenour was still busy with insurance companies assessing the damage and could not put any dollar evaluation on the destruction.

In the residential section of the park, two mobile homes were blown off their foundations. A TV tower elsewhere in the park was bent to the ground.

Behind the park in a line that runs roughly northwest to southeast, trees were uprooted or broken off as the storm cut a swath through a wooded section. Broken branches and crushed soybeans fanned out over an area south/southwest of the woods to a 25-30 yard depth.

Farther on down the road (Route 384) a block and concrete sign in front of Lake Forest High School was flattened; the electronic scoreboard at the football stadium was ripped in two and mangled with its steel supporting columns twisted, and a garage door damaged.

The sound of the approaching storm was impressive to some. Joan Biddle described it as a heavy rumble, like the approach of heavy footsteps, "...like Big Foot".

She said the sky got dark at first, but then things became "...light like a dust." There were reports of hail, and Biddle said there were large raindrops - "...great big rain." She also said she saw her picnic table go up in the air. "It scared me good," she said of the storm which swept between her home and that of a neighbor before cutting through the woods behind the park.

Eight year old LaMar Demby, who lives next door, said he and his family huddled in their living room when the storm hit.

Brenda Yancy was joined by a scared

Valerie Rife in her home where their families crouched in a hallway.

Peter Stokes decided it was time to take his three grandchildren to their home north of Felton. He had just left the park and was rounding the corner onto U.S. 13 when the poor visibility forced him off the road. He glanced in his rear view mirror and saw the big display home mentioned above, rock a couple of times and turn over on its side.

Bonnie Hughes, at home with one of her two sons, described the storm as "...awful". She described hail "...as big

Trabant highlights U of D history at Ag Field Day

Delaware has "...more feathers per square foot than any other state in the nation." That's the way University of Delaware president E.A. Trabant claims he describes the state around the country.

Delaware Governor Pete duPont puts it another way. In Delaware, he says, there are "300 chickens for every person."

Both Trabant and duPont were present at the annual Farm and Home Field Day held last Wednesday, August 10, at the University of Delaware's agricultural substation in Georgetown.

Trabant, the featured speaker in an early afternoon address which followed the traditional fried chicken lunch served in the farm grove at the substation, highlighted University of Delaware history and its ties with the state's extensive farming interests. The day and Trabant's remarks were in honor of the 150th anniversary of the chartering of the university.

According to Trabant, the university's story began in February 1833 with an act by the general assembly of the state legislature which created Newark College later to become the University of Delaware.

The 1833 institution boasted a faculty of three and a capacity for accommodating eighty students. Not that many were enrolled.

Today's university covers 2,700 acres of land and enrolls 1500 undergraduate, 2,000 graduate and 3,500 part-time students. The Georgetown substation part of the university's southern campus was acquired in 1941, but the agricultural programs date back to 1849-1851 when the state was petitioned for and finally agreed to establish such a program at the college.

Trabant also called attention to the Morrill Land Grant Act of 1862 which gave Delaware and many other state colleges federal lands to be sold to raise funds to establish their institutions.

The land grant act proposed by Vermont Congressman Morrill was originally vetoed by President James Buchanan. Later, with the addition of provision for military training at the colleges, the act was signed by President Abraham Lincoln.

DuPont, later, joked that the military training has now been consigned to Tubby Raymond, football coach at the university.

Under the land grant act, Trabant said, Delaware got 90,000 acres of federal lands which it then sold to establish or reestablish the college which had been closed for a while during the Civil War.

In 1888, by virtue of the Hatch Act, Delaware received $15,000, a part of which was used to erect a new building on the Newark campus. Another part went for a program which encouraged the state's farmers to donate the use of their fields for agricultural experiments conducted under university supervision.

Smoking policy overturned at Lake Forest High School

The Lake Forest School District served notice Monday night that smoking by students at the high school, or any of the district schools, will be totally off limits. The smoking ban, which includes any use of tobacco, overturned a policy set in August 1975 when the Lake Forest Board of Education granted students at the high school a smoking area or lounge.

With the ruling against smoking on district grounds or in school buildings at any time during the school day, the smoking lounge will disappear.

Last year, according to high school principal Dr. Margaret Phelps, the smoking lounge, which could only be used before or after school or during the lunch period or a 10 minute morning break called "flex", was closed on two separate occasions because of rule violations, particularly drug related offenses.

When several students staged a sit down strike to protest the second closing, Phelps recommended that they take their grievance to the Student Government Association. She asked the SGA to come up with some way of policing the lounge if it were to be re-opened. The SGA, however, thought it ought to remain closed.

The district school board did not mandate any particular form of punishment for those who break the rule against tobacco use. But it did ask the superintendent to sit down with the building principals and create a policy for handling offenders that would be uniform throughout the district.

The elementary school principals and the principal at the junior high school said smoking in their buildings has not been a major problem in recent years.

At the high school, the 1975 policy creating a smoking lounge was supposed to have alleviated the problem of smoking in the bathrooms. But even with the lounge, the problem remained. Last year, closer supervision by teachers helped diminish the smoky atmosphere in the rest rooms. It was decided that more policing, rather than the privilege of a smoking lounge would be most effective.

Dr. Phelps also pointed out that the high school is getting completely redone bathrooms with concrete block dividers (instead of the wallboard used before). The district, she said, will want to keep the new facilities in good condition.

Along with the ban on smoking, the school board asked that the schools promote education on the effects of tobacco use.

DRESS CODE

The Lake Forest Board of Education also adopted a dress code not drastically revised from the policies already in place. In addition to general neatness and cleanliness, students above third grade must wear clothing that covers their bodies from shoulder to mid-thigh. Younger students may wear shorts.

The code also prohibits the wearing of revealing garments (such as mesh shirts), ornamentation that would pose a safety hazard or would damage furniture or floors, T-shirts with obscene messages and going barefoot in school.

Harrington man arrested after police siege

by David F. Coady

HARRINGTON, DE - At approximately 9:00 p.m. Sunday night a man called the Harrington Police Department and stated he was phoning from 73 Clark Street. When asked by the Police Officer what was wrong, he stated, "Everything", and hung up. He then called the Milford Police Department and advised them of suicidal intentions and that he would shoot anyone who came up to the residence. At this time shots were fired.

A perimeter was set up around the residence by Patrolmen of the Harrington Police Department and the Delaware State Police. A total of 17 rounds were fired by the suspect during the incident. After approximately two hours the suspect left the residence and was apprehended by police without incident. The suspect was armed with a .25 caliber automatic pistol. He was identified as Patrick Miller, 20, of 73 Clark Street.

One witness, Preston Moore of 70

Clark Street, said, "I thought someone was shooting off firecrackers. I kept looking out my door to see what was going on. If I'd known it was gunshots, I would have stayed inside my house."

Miller was described by several residents as a quiet, unassuming youth. He apparently lived in Harrington as a youngster. He delivered newspapers for a daily and was a member of the local cub scout pack. His father is in the U.S. Air Force and was stationed at Dover Air Force Base when the family resided in Harrington. It is believed that the family is presently stationed in England. Miller is employed by Joseph T. Richardson, Inc. of Harrington.

Miller was charged in Magistrate Court #7 in Dover with carrying a concealed deadly weapon and reckless endangering and is being held at Delaware Correctional Center, Smyrna in lieu of $12,000 secured bond. He was renting a room in the home of Wilson Bradley, 73 Clark Street at the time of the incident.

Building Committee recommends leasing of 110 Center St.

by David F. Coady

HARRINGTON, DE - After meeting with the Directors of the Harrington Fire Company, the Building Committee of Harrington City Council recommended that the city lease the building at 110 Center Street for a new City Hall. The Fire Company offered the city the same lease as it previously had, $100 per month rent with the city being responsible for all maintenance and repairs. Councilman Ray Gagne said this would mean that the city would have to come up with $5000 to replace the heating system before this coming winter. The committee reported that other properties that have been looked into included the former U.L. Harman Lumber Company. This property would be made available to the city at a monthly rental of $600 per month. The owner would be willing to make $5000 in repairs to the property but any improvements or repairs in excess of that amount would increase the monthly rent at the rate of $35 per month per $1000 or repair costs.

The former Marshall's Liquor Store on Delaware Avenue is available to the city at a monthly rental of $525. The owner is willing to make $3000 in repairs to the property. Any repairs in excess of that would be charged to the city. The owners of the property at 110 Center Street are willing to rent the building to the city at a cost of $100 per month with the city being responsible for all maintenance and repairs.

instructed to look into any necessary zoning changes that might be needed before council could sign any lease to rent the Center Street property. The solicitor is to report back to the city council at a special session called for next Monday night following the Public Hearing scheduled for 7:30 p.m. that evening.

In other business the city council discussed the interim budget for the coming fiscal year. Council heard Richard Henry complain that the city is not getting its fair share of federal funds. Ray Gagne points out Milford and Rehoboth Beach as two municipalities that are doing much better at obtaining federal funds for projects that are beneficial to their communities.

Opal Smith retired on Friday, but she was going right back to work. It was not the first time she has retired and then returned to work. Her retirement on Friday was from the Salvation Army stores where she has worked [first in Harrington and later in Dover] for seven years. Before being employed by the Salvation Army, Smith operated a beauty parlor in Wilmington and in Woodside, Delaware, for 39 years. Now she has another business going. She will give permanents to senior citizens in their homes or in nursing and rest homes. Since she is a senior citizen herself, the Woodside resident says, "I think I know what they like." Her home is also busy as the place where her daughter, Teresa Barber, gives foster care to three ladies aged 95, 87 and 82. On her last day with the Salvation Army stores, she was honored with the presentation of a rose and several gifts at the Harrington location where she had come to introduce new employee Joann Wyatt to her responsibilities.

Milford School Board offers Houston School to Town of Houston

MILFORD - The Milford School Board in a special meeting on Monday night offered the Houston School to the Town of Houston at $1 per year, "...providing the Town will assume responsibility for the maintenance and upkeep of the building." The School Board will delay preparing a lease for the Town and the Board "...until the Town Council of Houston researches the point of ownership of the building". At the last Council meeting in Houston some townspeople wanted proof as to whom owned the building and grounds. The School Board presented a copy of the deed showing ownership to be in the School District of Milford. The Town as the lessee will presumably use the building for a Town Hall and Community Building. Presently the grounds are being used for a practice field for local baseball teams.

The Order of the Eastern Star had previously approached the Milford School Board seeking to lease the building for their meetings and gatherings. Under a procedure recently adopted by the State Legislature, the local school board must first offer it to the State of Delaware, which has been done. The State indicated to the Milford School Board that they had no use for the building. The School Board must then offer it to the local government, which was the purpose of the special meeting on Monday night.

It is expected that the Town of Houston will occupy the building as soon as the terms under the lease are agreed upon.

In other matters brought before the Board on Monday night, the problems related to busing of students to the middle school were discussed. The Board ruled that infractions of the rules while riding on the buses are subject to the same disciplinary action as if the student were in the school classrooms. This problem has been on-going for the past two years, and according to Dr. Michael Woodall, Milford School Superintendent, "...I don't blame the parents one bit for being upset about this matter." It was also discussed that parents be permitted to ride on the buses and monitor the situation.

The Milford School District will open their classrooms on September 6th.

Delaware Crime Stoppers offers cash for tips

Delaware Crime Stoppers will soon be familiar to Delawareans. Modeled after successful efforts throughout the country, Crime Stoppers pays up to $1,000 cash for information that leads to the arrest and indictment of serious criminals. Since callers need not use their name, there is no chance of retaliation.

To work, Crime Stoppers needs support from police, media, businesses and community. It is a non-profit corporation that publicizes a Crime of the Week, usually a serious felony. Callers providing anonymous tips on that crime, or any other felony, are given a code number. If the information proves valuable, the Board of Directors of the corporation pays up to $1,000 cash.

The first Crime of the Week began April 4. Each Monday, a new crime will be publicized throughout Delaware. Former Governor Elbert N. Carvel and former Senator J. Caleb Boggs, are honorary co-chairmen for Crime Stoppers. Mr. Norman Powell was recently appointed Board Chairman.

Board members represent the media, businesses, and private citizens throughout Delaware.

Information on the following crime of the week will pay up to $1,000 cash for information leading to an arrest and indictment:

Ag Field Day

Trabant touched on the university's continuing ties with agriculture as that industry has grown and as experimental work has been converted to farm practice.

He mentioned specifically the broiler industry which originated in the 1920's in Delaware. By the 1980's, Delaware was producing seven million birds annually. In more recent years, that figure has grown to two hundred million.

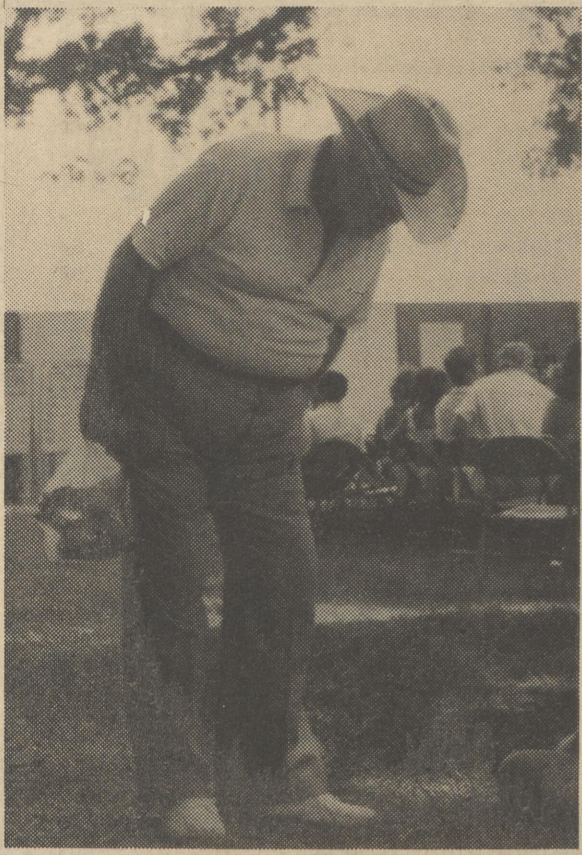

An agricultural innovation that is becoming farm practice is the switch to no till farming. Trabant said Delaware is the number one state in the percentage of acres devoted to no till.

In today's world, Trabant said, the goal of agricultural research should be tied in with productivity (rather than simply production). The key word he indicated is "efficiency," so that farmers can more and more become "...efficient producers in a free market

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

To the parents of Chipman students: As the opening of the new school year approaches, I am aware that there are many anxieties related to student placement in a new setting. In an effort to allay fears, prevent misunderstanding and create a climate of cooperation between the school and community, I have decided to write this letter to our parents.

In the spring of each year Mrs. Sarah Webb, our guidance counselor, meets with every sixth grade class to explain the Chipman program and course offerings. In addition, each sending school provides her with test scores and teacher recommendations for placement. Report card grades are also considered. For incoming eighth graders test scores, teacher recommendations and past performance are used to determine placement. Our goal is to place every student where he will be challenged and able to succeed.

At Chipman we have one full-time French teacher and a Spanish teacher whom we share with the high school. In the past we have offered French to two sections and Spanish in one section of the seventh grade. Since our Spanish instructor is at Chipman for two periods per day she is able to meet with only one seventh grade class and one eighth grade class. We are not able to offer a foreign language to every student who would like to take it, thus we must make choices. Students taking a foreign language should have aptitude in the language arts area (reading, English, spelling and writing), a strong desire to learn a language and a willingness to work. Because there are a large number of incoming seventh graders who are eligible, we have added one additional section in French this year. We are aware that many students are disappointed in being unable to take a foreign language. There are students who are eligible to take a language who chose not to do so and others that we are unable to place because of class size. This concerns us; but, at this time, there is no other recourse.

In the 1983-84 school year we have a possible 81 seventh graders eligible for Chipman band. With this large number it was impossible for me to schedule these students into the existing band sections. In order to provide the band experience for all those interested and qualified students it was necessary to place band on a rotating schedule. This means that three days a week band students will miss a different class for band practice. Beginning with period one and skipping period five (lunch) every band student will miss each class once in a two-week interval.

Every student at Chipman is assigned a particular section. These sections are designated by letters. The letters have no particular meaning other than to designate foreign language and (formerly) band sections. These letters DO NOT denote decreasing academic excellence.

We are aware that our placement efforts are subject to some measure of error. However, we maintain close contact with the elementary schools and make a sincere effort to place each child appropriately.

Sincerely,
Marjorie C. Davis,
Principal

Roth announces Academy application deadline

WASHINGTON - Delaware high school seniors interested in applying for nomination to any of the United States service academies should submit applications to the office of Senator William V. Roth, Jr., R-Del., before September 12, 1983.

Nominees to the service academies are made by a 12-member citizen review panel who screen the candidates individually. The review panel will begin interviewing all applicants the week of September 19.

This year, Roth will nominate students to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland; the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York; the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado; and the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York. Young men and women interested in applying should have an interest and aptitude in math and science, a desire to excel in extracurricular activities and a willingness to begin their professional careers as an officer in the military service.

Applicants must be citizens of the United States, residents of Delaware and unmarried with no children. They must be at least 17 years of age but not past their 22nd birthday as of July 1 of the year of admission.

For his nomination, Roth requires a signed letter from the applicant providing his or her address, birth date, social security number, name of high school and date of graduation.

Additional information regarding the application and nomination process can be obtained by contacting Senator Roth's Dover office at 2215 Federal Building, 300 South New Street, Dover, Delaware 19901.

U. of D. Field Day

society." Trabant was succeeded on the podium by an array of politicians.

U.S. Senator William Roth sent his aide Gary Patterson.

Senator Joe Biden and Congressman Tim Carper were present.

All three touched on U.S. trade relations with other countries and on the crisis in agricultural exports as other nations bite into the U.S. share of the world market.

Carper got a laugh from the crowd when he mentioned the alleged political aspirations of two well known Delawareans by referring to them as "President" duPont and "President" Biden.

In a more serious vein, Carper spoke of the crisis in agricultural exports. As an example, he cited the 7 1/2 million dozen eggs exported to Egypt, which total dropped in one year's time to one million dozen. 500,000 jobs, he said, depend on agricultural exports.

Wearing a yellow University of Delaware Governor's School for Excellence staff shirt, Governor duPont stressed the continuing importance of education.

DuPont earned his own laugh with a reference to his recent announcement that he would not run for the U.S. Senate against Biden. The governor claimed Biden was relieved mainly because now he would not have to face a candidate with all his hair. For most of the morning and afternoon the Farm and Home Field Day followed its traditional course with wagon tours to corn, soybean and vegetable projects on the substation and a bus tour to swine facilities.

There were also a consumer program, "Care and Repair of Old Quilts" as well as various exhibits, demonstrations and a plant clinic in the morning. Some of these continued in the afternoon which also offered several concurrent, one hour, in depth educational programs. Among the latter, "Country Culture" was a group of mini demonstrations of such "Yesteryear crafts" as basketmaking, stenciling, quilting and the making of "tussy mussels" (miniature herb and flower bouquets with a history dating back to 17th Century England).

Bluegrass music entertained those who remained for the traditional afternoon watermelon break.

This year, for the first time, the day extended to an evening program beginning with a Pig Pickin' (whole pork roast supper).

The fried chicken luncheon was served by the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association; refreshments were made available by the Sussex County 4-H leaders, and the Pig Pickin' was the joint effort of the Pork Producers and the Vegetable Growers Associations.

Wild Storm

as golf balls" and said she thought the ceiling of her mobile home was going to cave in at any minute.

Sharon Pickett, a fourth grade teacher was busy at her part time job at Boscov's in Dover, when she got a phone call telling her that her mobile home had blown off its foundation. It was moved about 5 1/2 feet, and a rear window had blown out. But, said Pickett, nothing else was broken. The trailer was not anchored, she said. No one was at home during the storm.

Another home near Pickett's was also moved from its foundation.

Thomas Weyant, Kent County Director of Emergency Planning and Operations, said his office had not been informed of the damage at Lake Forest Mobile Home Estates until he received a phone call from The Harrington Journal on Friday. He, along with William Brown and Donald L. Cook from the state office, inspected the area, talking with the park owner and residents that same day. Weyant said Ridenour had things pretty well under control.

Weyant also reported that his office had received notice of a severe thunderstorm watch beginning at 1:53 p.m. on the afternoon of August 11. Severe storms in the area did cause power outages in Dover and in Berterton, Maryland where a number of trees were uprooted and several persons reported seeing twisters.

The weather bureau in Wilmington had also had no word of the damage near Felton until called by the Journal on Monday. A spokesman there confirmed that several severe storm watches had been issued that afternoon and evening. But no one was willing to characterize the kind of storm that hit the mobile home park.

One more observer (who wished to remain unidentified) was sitting in a car in the parking lot at Lake Forest High School as she waited for a student to finish with band practice. She said the storm approached with an eerie whining which she dismissed as the wind singing through wires or through the chain link fence around the tennis courts. When it hit, the car seemed surrounded by a wall of white water as it was pummeled by a thunder of hailstones the size of large garden peas or butter beans. The school, not more than 100 yards directly in front of the car, was invisible in the downpour.

Students in the school at the time reported the custodial staff had to vacuum up the water driven around and underneath the doors by the force of the wind. Lights there flickered several times.

So far there have been no reports of personal injury attributed to the storm.

Thursday's storm - 1, Lake Forest Spartans - 0. Jim Fleming probably hopes his '84 Spartan football squad doesn't get tackled by anything like the wind that ripped apart the football scoreboard during a sudden storm last Thursday. Another storm casualty was a sign in front of the school that said, "Have a safe and fun summer."

Your Lips' Health

As Americans spend more and more time in the sun, there has been an alarming rise in lip cancer in recent years. In some cases, significant damage to the lips can now be seen in individuals as young as 10 years.

According to Dr. Charles Zugerman, assistant professor of dermatology, Northwestern University Medical School, it is interesting to note that one way the skin protects itself is to thicken. Lips cannot normally thicken, so they damage easily and thus are vulnerable to cancer. Lip cancer can be caused by a combination of factors—including smoking, skin damage and excessive sunlight.

Since sunlight is apt to burn lips before other skin, you need to protect them with a lip care product containing PABA sunscreen, such as medicated Blistik lip balm or Blistex Lip Conditioner.

If you have a sore that doesn't go away, bleeds easily, or that changes color, see your doctor.

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

This morning we feel renewed in body and spirit. After many days of burning sun and waves of heat, the good East wind came in during the night and greeted us this morning with its refreshing breeze. In fact we had to close the window by the breakfast bar to keep from cooling our hot biscuits and egg omelet!

I certainly am grateful for our modern roads to make travel so much easier, but I do miss the country roadsides with the wild flowers blooming. These are all mowed away in the name of progress. Once in a while you find a plant or a blossom still trying by the side of the concrete. There used to be Queen Anne's Lace and Black-eyed Susans, Daisies and Partridge Peas, and, most gorgeous of all, the brilliant orange Butterfly Weed. In the spring, too, we could gather wild garlic, wild asparagus and wild strawberries. Well, that is the price we had to pay in order to obtain many of the comforts we now take for granted.

One of the questions we often ponder over for fun is "What would we buy if we had a million dollars?" There is one luxury I would get for myself and that is a large screened-in summer house under the shade trees. I would put in comfortable chairs and recliners and I would lie in state and I would enjoy being out of doors with none of the disadvantages. I love fresh air and I even like to watch and study and learn about all of the little biting and stinging Creepy Crawlies but I just don't like them crawling down my neck or in my hair.

With all the garden bounty around me I must make up some of JoAnne's Garden Stew. Into a stew pan you cut up chunks of tomatoes, onion, green pepper and squash. Salt and pepper to taste, and in my case, I add a dollop of sugar because we like sugar on our tomatoes. If it seems too runny when the vegetables are tender, I add a bit of thickening.

I may, sometimes, add a few lima beans, but JoAnne does not like limas. I expect you have to be a native born Sussex Countian to be slightly daft about them as many of us are. You may turn your stew into a casserole and sprinkle with sharp cheese to finish in the oven. Of course you can do the whole thing in the oven if you like.

I'm so hungry for pies.....any kind of pie. As soon as this heat wave is over, I am going to have an orgy of baking pies. Teddy's favorite is apple, Ellen's is raisin, Gary's is cherry, Dad's is sweet potato and mine is any kind I'm eating at the moment, but especially the cream pies with meringue or whipped cream.

LAXATIVE OVER USE

People with persistent constipation should not make a habit of taking laxatives every day. Long-term use of a laxative can make them even more constipated. Continuous purging can also cause bowel problems requiring surgery. To prevent constipation, increase your fluid intake, and add bran or whole grain cereal to your diet. Extra fruit and prunes also help. For chronic constipation, consult your doctor.

WELL SPENT

*If you planted hope today, In any hopeless heart,
If someone's burden was lighter, Because you did your part.*

*If you caused a laugh That chased some tear away
If, tonight your name is mentioned, Where someone kneels to pray,
"Then, your day was well spent."*

The evangelization of the world is our responsibility and one way we fulfill that responsibility is by supporting the mission activities of the Church. The missionaries we support spread the Good News of Jesus throughout the world and enable us to share our faith and love with those who do not know Christ. We will have a special second collection for the Missions and ask you to be especially generous.

The New Coalition for Conscience is planning a 20th anniversary March on Washington for Saturday, August 27, 1983. Civil rights, church, peace and labor groups will come together to decry what Dr. King called Dr. King called "the triple giants of racism, materialism and militarism."

Ralph Hanover voted July's Horse of the Month

COLUMBUS, Ohio - The three-year-old colt pacer Ralph Hanover, victorious in the richest races for his division in both the United States and Canada, went undefeated against top competition this past month earning him selection as the United States Trotting Association's Horse of the Month.

A sophomore son of Meadow Skipper trained by Stew Firlotte for the Grant's Direct Stable, the Poinsetta Stable, and the Waples Stable, Inc. of driver Ron Waples, Ralph Hanover was having his #1 ranking in the three-year-old crop questioned after uninspired efforts in the two-heat Confederation Cup at the end of June. But he clearly proved himself the best of his group at the mighty Meadowlands by emerging victorious in the $1,251,000 Meadowlands Pace on July 15.

Ralph then went to Greenwood

Raceway in Toronto, the home base for his connections, and he won Canada's richest sophomore classic, the $390,000 Queen City Pace, handily defeating last year's top freshman, Fortune Teller. Ralph's victory boosted his seasonal earnings to $1,006,635, making him the first horse of any breed to win a million dollars in 1983.

Honorable mention for Horse of the Month goes to a pair of top aged performers, Cam Fella and Ideal Du Gazeau. Cam Fella extended his winning streak to 10 over the continent's premier pacers, including a decisive defeat of the heralded It's Fritz at The Meadowlands. The French trotter Ideal Du Gazeau became the first horse to win Roosevelt's prestigious International Trot three years in a row, following up that victory with another big win in the Challenge Cup the following week.

Rambling Willie

Rambling Willie to be at Meadowlands today!

The Meadowlands will salute Rambling Willie, the richest horse in American harness racing history, on Wednesday, August 17.

Rambling Willie glasses and color photos of the 13-year-old pacing star and his driver Robert Farrington will be distributed to the first 10,000 paying patrons as part of the ceremonies planned to honor the gelding.

On Monday, August 8th, Rambling Willie became the richest horse in American harness racing when he earned $2,050 for a second place finish at Sportsman's Park, boosting his earnings to $2,019,218. That put him $5 over the old mark of $2,019,214 set by Niatross who campaigned from 1979-1980.

Rambling Willie, the modestly bred son of Rambling Fury-Meadow Belle, was appearing in his 300th lifetime start. He also holds the record for most wins by a standardbred (126) and most two-minute miles (77).

"We're looking forward to honoring Rambling Willie, one of the greatest pacers of all time," noted Meadowlands General Manager Sam Anzalone. "Bob Farrington called racing secretary Joe DeFrank Tuesday morning to make the plans. This may be Willie's farewell appearance since it is uncertain whether he will race next year."

The Aged Pacer of 1975-76-77, Rambling Willie is among the sports most popular competitors. He was the subject of a book, a movie on his life has been discussed and his fans still send him cards.

Rambling Willie made his first appearance at the Meadowlands on September 1, 1976 -- in the opening night of the track -- in a $50,000 Premier Pace and won in 1:55.3. Other highlights of his stops at the Meadowlands have included victories in the final of the 1977 Governor Alfred E. Driscoll Pacing Series and in numerous free for alls. His last appearance was in a Veterans Pace which he won on Hambletonian Day, 1981.

As part of the Salute to Rambling Willie ceremonies on Wednesday, the Meadowlands will present Hall of Famer Farrington with a commemorative blanket for the veteran pacer.

Bank Sweepstakes Winners

VETERANS STADIUM, PHILADELPHIA, PA. - The four grand prizes in the Try George Tri-State $300,000 Sweepstakes were awarded prior to the start of the July 29 Philadelphia Phillies baseball game vs. the Chicago Cubs at Veterans Stadium, Philadelphia. The Sweepstakes was conducted by Girard Bank in Philadelphia, Fulton Bank in Central PA, Guarantee Bank in NJ, and Girard Bank Delaware.

Prizes awarded included a 1984 Ford Tempo from Winner Ford in Cherry Hill, NJ and three Eastern Airlines trips for two to Bermuda. The grand prize winners, who had no prior knowledge of which prize they had won, stepped onto the playing field in front of an estimated 40,000 Phillies fans to receive their prizes. Tom Carroll of Smithville, NJ was awarded keys to the brand new Ford Tempo. Charlotte Wagner of Narberth, PA, Isaac Peretsman of Cherry Hill, NJ and Elaine Lissenden of Dover, DE each received tickets for an all expense paid Eastern Airlines trip for two to Bermuda.

The Try George Tri-State $300,000 Sweepstakes awarded prizes to George card customers who used George automatic teller machines in the tri-state area during the designated sweepstakes period. In addition to the four grand prizes, other prizes in the sweepstakes included genuine Bell telephones, Philadelphia Phillies tickets, and Philadelphia Flyers tickets. Hundreds of thousands of instant prizes from Roy Rogers, 7-Eleven, and the Camera Shop Inc. were also awarded in the sweepstakes, which ran from Memorial Day through the Fourth of July. It encompassed greater Philadelphia, Allentown, Lancaster, Harrisburg, the state of Delaware, and the southern Coastal New Jersey areas. Winners were determined by a computerized random drawing conducted by the University of Pennsylvania.

On hand to take part in the festivities were the four lucky winners, the Phillie Phanatic, announcer Dan Baker, various Phillies players, bank executives and representatives from the participating companies. Girard Bank president Thomas Cooper notes, "We're extremely pleased to make these awards to our valued George customers. We hope that all our winners will enjoy not only their prizes, but the continued convenience of 24-hour banking with George automatic teller machines in the tri-state area. Everyone can be a winner with George convenience."

The great hypnotist told the rockie pitcher, "Don't worry young man, I'll cure that sore arm in no time at all."

In minutes the pitcher was in a deep hypnotic trance.

The marvelous mental giant had the rookie raise and lower his arm slowly. He told the boy that when he awoke the pain would be gone and the arm would be stronger than ever.

Snapping his fingers, he awakened the youngster, "Well, my boy, how does the arm feel now?" asked the hypnotic wizard.

"Great!" replied the kid, "But the only trouble is -- I'm a lefthander."

Little Willie is a real baseball nut. Although he has a hard job remembering Ronald Reagan's occupation, he can tell you who made the last out in the 1940 World Series.

The history teacher asked the class to write the names of the nine greatest living Americans.

Everyone in the class had finished the assignment except Willie.

"Are you almost finished, Willie?" asked the teacher.

"One more minute," answered Willie, "I'm trying to think of a third baseman."

During World War II, Beau Jack thrilled the fight fans on many occasions at Madison Square Garden.

Jack may have been illiterate, but he was also a great diplomat.

After one tough fight, he said in the radio interview, "It was a good fight, he's a tough boy and I'm glad I won. I want to say hello to my Mom and my very, very dear friend Mr. George McCullough."

A columnist asked, "Say, Beau, who is this McCullough?"

"Oh, him," replied Beau, "He's chairman of my draft board."

U.S. 13 Speedway hosts 1983 Camp Barnes Benefit race

by Phyllis A. Donovan

The 1983 version of the Annual Camp Barnes Benefit Race was held on Wednesday, August 10th, with a capacity crowd and a large number of competitors in every class on hand.

Heat race wins were scored by Bobby Ballentine and Kern Brooke in the Late Model Division, with Richard Jarvis, John Kozak and Scott Tobias posting wins in the Modified heats and consi.

Herbert Williams led the Limited Late Models around the first circuit of the Limited Late Model Feature, but was overtaken by Curt Slaughter on the second round. The race was halted after 3 laps as Gerald Jester came to a stop in the infield on turn four. As the field regrouped for the restart, Slaughter again took control, but the race was halted as Mel Joseph, Jr. became airborne after tangling with another car coming out of the second turn, and hit the wall hard, putting him on the sidelines for the rest of the evening. Fortunately Joseph was uninjured.

Slaughter continued to lead the field when the green was again displayed, but two laps later fell drastically off the pace, delegating the lead to Jim Mitchell. Lee Joines took over the lead on lap ten, going to take the checkered. Jim Mitchell had to settle for second.

Nineteen Late Model machines took the green for their feature event with Bobby Ballentine taking the lead. Four laps later Eddie Pettyjohn grabbed the lead, and immediately began lapping the field. Pettyjohn held his lead through three cautions, picking up the win. He had managed to lap everyone except the top five finishers, who were Bobby Ballentine, Joe Gaita, Kern Brooke and Lou Johnson. Pettyjohn, who had blown an engine on Saturday night, was using the engine from the Walt Breeding Late Model which had been totally destroyed in a devastating crash two weeks earlier.

A full field of twenty modifieds took the green for their feature with Paul Rochelle on the point. Rochelle led the first lap, but the race was immediately halted as two cars tangled on turn one. When the event resumed, Richard Jarvis grabbed the lead, holding it for fourteen laps, through numerous cautions. On the sixteenth lap, Jarvis got too high on turn two, losing a couple of positions. John Kozak took control with Mimi DeSantis in hot pursuit. Two laps later the race was halted and Paul Rochelle looped his GO car on turn two.

When the green was again displayed, the field was minus DeSantis who retired to the pits. Kozak maintained his lead in spite of several attempts by various drivers to haul him down, picking up a long awaited win. Jerry Dickenson finished second, followed by Harold Butning, Hal Browning and Scott Tobias, who inched across the line seconds ahead of the hard charging Jarvis.

As always the drivers put on an excellent show for the many supporters of Camp Barnes, thus insuring continued support for this worthy cause in years to come.

Gaita, Jarvis and Joseph score wins at U.S. 13

by Phyllis A. Donovan

Although the temperatures were unseasonably cool, the racing action was very hot at U.S. 13 Speedway on Saturday, August 13th.

Lou Johnson and Gil Clements scored Late Model heat wins, while Bob Torecky and Sam Davis captured Modified heat wins.

Kelly Hastings was on the point for the Late Model feature leading the field of seventeen campaigners for sixteen laps before tangling with the K-9 of Gil Clements, as the latter challenged for the lead, causing both to spin out on the fourth turn. Clements retired to the pits but Hastings was able to rejoin the field at the rear. Eddie Pettyjohn inherited the lead, receiving a constant challenge from Joe Gaita. Gaita stayed with Pettyjohn lap after lap, not letting up the pressure at any time. On the 26th lap Pettyjohn got out of shape, smacking the wall on the back straight and pulled his #880 into the infield. Gaita held on to take the checkered followed by Bobby Ballentine, Lou Johnson, Kelly Hastings and Bob Vickers.

Clifford Todd of Rehoboth Beach took for 5 win outmaneuvering a large field of entrants.

Saturday, August 20th, the Modcar Invasion will take place at U.S. 13, featuring many of the top drivers from the North. Included in the long list of laps. The race came to a halt as Sam Davis who had turned in a fabulous performance came to a stop on the weeks, following a fiery crash. Other second turn. His car had lost power as scheduled entrants include Freddie it went under the flagman's stand. Brightbill, Mimi DeSantis and Roger On the restart Richard Jarvis Lauren. This Modcar shoot out along nameuvered under Torecky on the 1-2 with a 30-lap Late Model and 15 lap turn emerging in the top spot. Torecky Limited Late Model program should was never able to recover the lead as prove to be one of the best of the year.

Jarvis took his #680 into the winner's circle. Torecky had to settle for second with Ron Keys, John Kozak and Bobby Walls rounding out the top five.

It took four attempts to get the Limited Late Model Feature started as mishap after mishap occurred. When the race finally went under green Dale Dennis led the first circuit, with the yellow coming out immediately as Frank McKinney's motor let go and he came to a stop on pit road.

Jim Mitchell took the lead on the restart, but again the race was stopped when Lee Joines lost a wheel. On the restart it was again Mitchell out front. Dale Dennis and Jeff Turpin got together in turn one but both managed to get headed in the right direction allowing the race to continue. Two laps later Gerald Jester and Bud Hickman tangled on turn one. When the race resumed Mitchell held the lead for one lap before Mel Joseph, Jr. took over, leading the field to the checkered flag. Jeff Turpin, Jim Mitchell, Phil Wells and Bob Geiger rounded out the top five.

C.R. Robinson scored another Slide for 5 win outmaneuvering a large field of entrants.
