Lake Forest parents make plea for safer bus stop

by Barbara C. Brown

The pleas of eight parents of eleven schoolchildren fell on sympathetic ears at the regular meeting of the Lake Forest School Board Monday night. The eight were concerned that a re-routing of the school bus this year left their children, six of them in primary grades, walking along a busy road to a new bus stop. The board directed district transportation supervisor Ray Stoops to look into re-routing the bus. If that proves impossible to reconcile with state regulations, Stoops will ask the Unique of the new stop at the corner of 241 and Hazzards Committee from the Department of Public Instruction to waive state regulations and allow Bus 15 to come past the children's homes on Route 241, west of Felton as it has in the past. The Unique Hazzards Committee will have the board's strong recommendation that this be done.

Stoops had cautioned the board that it takes a highly unusual situation for the Unique Hazzards Committee to make such a recommendation.

In this particular situation, the bus, which used to go past the children's homes on Route 241, has been re-routed down 243 going into Felton to pick up children there who live beyond the half-mile limit inside of which children must walk to school or to the nearest bus stop.

The youngsters on route 241 are, according to Stoops, within a half mile 243.

The parents, however, were concerned that 241 is a busy road (Stoops counted 77 vehicles in the area between 7:30 and 8:10 a.m. - a traffic count of close to 2 cars per minute.) The parents also worried that the grassy road shoulder leaves the youngsters little room to walk and that there is no protection from the rain. In a letter to Stoops, those parents said:

"There is too much traffic on this road in the morning. Our children have no shelter from the rain, snow and cold weather. They have no where to stand but in the road to wait for the school bus.

Stoops told them, "The responsibility between your home and the bus stop is yours as a parent."

Board member Wallace Caulk said he sympathizes with Stoops' difficulties in routing buses under state regulations. But he also said he strongly disagrees with the state rules. It remains, he said, for the board and the citizens to "...go to Bobby Quillen (State Representative from the 30th district) and the state legislature to get the rules changed.

Biden honored in Harrington

Monday night to honor U.S. Senator Joseph R. Biden, Jr. The covered dish dinner at Harrington's Race Track Restaurant, is an annual event, sponsored by the Community Democrat Club, to honor an outstanding Democratic Party officeholder.

Biden is a two-term U.S. Senator and a ranking democrat on both the Senate Budget Committee and the Judiciary Committee and the second ranking democrat on the influential Foreign Relations Committee, William Walls, Jr., the President of the Community

Loyal Democrats were out in force on one of the most influential Senators in the United States.

Biden informed the 100 plus in the audience that he felt that the democratic party had gone astray. He said that the party of Franklin Delano Roosevelt had allowed the republicans to take away the moral fibre of the party. Biden claimed that the democratic party was in danger of being the party of special interests. "We must tell teachers that competent teachers are just as important as teacher's pay and classroom size; to women we say, there are more

Democrat Club, introduced Biden as important things than the ERA; to unions there are national issues more important than some of their special interest; and to blacks there are more important issues than having a black candidate for the sake of running a black," were some of Biden's remarks. He asked the audience to think of a President Reagan that did not have to seek re-election. "What will he do in Central American? What will Reagan do in Lebanon if he did not have to worry about getting re-elected," Biden asked

> But Biden chided members of his own party. "What democrat candidate for the Presidential nomination will use the same speech to the VFW that he used to a peace rally," Biden asked. Biden claimed that if the party did not return to the ways that worked in the past it will give the election to the republicans. He called the under 40 vote ripe for picking by either party. "They are at an age when they have mortgage payments and pediatric bills and will be influenced by a republican President that offers the status quo," Biden said. Biden called for a democratic party that will inspire young people as John F. Kennedy

Bowers votes to accept Federal

BOWERS TOWN HALL. - On Thursday night, September 8th, the Town Council of Bowers voted to accept a federal grant....the Community Development Block Grant Program for the purpose of sewer hook-up and clean up in the community.

According to Fred Eubanks, the Mayor of Bowers, there are approximately 50 to 60 residents who are not as yet hooked up to the sewer. "This program will do the trick, and help those who can't afford it", said Eubanks. Bowers will seek an $80,000 grant. Bowers will get help in writing the program through a representative from the Levy Court. The grant is without "...strings attached". According to the Levy Court representative who attended the meeting "... do the job and you get the money. They will not give you the money.....and then you do the job. You do the work and the job you will receive the money without strings attached", he said.

Touch of Country seeks country music title

by William T. Ficka

Touch of Country, the country music group that won the Country Music Talent Competition at this year's Delaware State Fair, is seeking new dominions to conquer.

And what better place to start than Kings Dominion in Virginia!

For it is in Kings Dominion that the East Coast Country Music Championships will be decided on September 25. The group won the 2nd place trophy and $300 in the second elimination round on Saturday in Kings Dominion, making them eligible for the finals on September 25.

"It was really hectic. A lot of little things went wrong", said bass guitarist Terry McCready, "When we finished we were really beat. Not a physical beat, an emotional beat. But when they announced that we won second place, it made it all "worthwhile".

Touch of Country is a four-piece country-rock band with Terry McCready, 32, of Farmington on bass guitar; Dean McNew, 39, of Dover on lead guitar; Terry Porter, 32, of Felton on drums and Ray Millman, 27, of Laurel who doubles as rhythm guitarist and lead singer.

The energetic, hard-driving group is living proof of the time-honored truth that "it pays to be persistent."

For it was on their third attempt that Touch of Country walked off with top honors at the State Fair contest. They had won third place in both the 1981 and 1982 competitions.

The group's never-say-die spirit prevailed this year when they were given a standing ovation at the end of their stint on the bandstand.

The judges confirmed the audience's reaction when they gave the group 453 points out of a possible 500, 19 points above their nearest competitors.

"After the second try and so much work, we began to wonder if it was worth all the hassle," McCready said. They got their answer July 24 at the State Fair talent contest.

In addition to the first place trophy,

the group was awarded $250 and six hours of recording time to cut a demo (demonstration) tape at Birch Studio in Secretary, Md.

"Our lead singer Ray Millman has written five or six songs and we plan to use two of them on the demo," McCready said.

Not content to rest on its laurels, the band stays busy with bookings on virtually every weekend.

They appeared at the Moose Lodge in Harrington on Saturday, September 10th.

Another recent appearance was at Sunset Park in West Grove, Pa. where they fronted for top country singer Reba McEntire, whose hit record "Today All Over Again" sold over a million-and-a-half discs a few years ago. That was a big thrill working with Reba McEntire," said McCready. "We get most of our bookings by word of mouth and by handing out business cards," he added.

"Let's face it. People who go out to listen to music want to dance, and we play music you can dance to. Some bands play music that is good to listen to, but you can't dance to it. Ours is both," McCready said enthusiastically. Although the band doesn't have a leader as such, Millman calls the order of the songs.

"We don't really have a leader," McCready explained, "We hash it around and see what everybody wants to do."

Entering contests is nothing new to the group. They were second place prize winners in the Wrangler Talent Search in 1981, sponsored by Wrangler Jeans and held at The Triple Nickle in Glasgow.

"They had another contest this year down at the Long Branch Saloon, but we didn't hear about it till it was over. It wasn't given much publicity," McCready laughed.

Highway Safety Week

Governor Pierre S. duPont and Lt. drive....THINK" Gov. Michael N. Castle have jointly •"School Days ar declared the week of September 19-25, 1983 to be "Highway Safety Week" on behalf of the Improved Order of Red Men and Degree of Pocahontas of Delaware. The Red Men and Pocahontas urge every citizen of Delaware to join them in promoting safe driving throughout the entire state. Every year thousands of people are killed on our nations highways and millions are injured. By designating the week of Sept. 19-25 as "Highway Safety Week", the members of the Red Men and Pocahontas hope to call extra attention to everyone's driving habits. The main object of this safety campaign is to remind the motoring public that they have a responsibility to prevent traffic accidents and should obey ALL traffic laws. The Red Men and Pocahontas have selected several campaign slogans for "Highway Safety Week". They are:

"Don't be a missing link, when you

•"School Days are here again, give the kids a BRAKE"

• "Be a highway lifesaver, wear your seat belts'

•"If you drink, DON'T DRIVE" •Take the Pledge to drive safely and save a life"

The ultimate goal of this safety campaign is to lower the highway death rate in Delaware.

The Improved Order of Red Men (with over 500 members) in Delaware and the Degree of Pocahontas (with approximately 200 members) is the oldest American Fraternity of purely American origin. radio interviews from the WAFL booth at the corner of the Harrington Senior Center parking lot.

Providing entertainment on stage were the Harrington Senior Center Band and Chorus, Linda Gray and "The Band," Diamond State Twirlers and Stoney Creek Cloggers among others. When the organ sounded the first notes of "Chattanooga Choo-Choo," Keith Burgess, former Harrington Journal sports editor who was in the audience, was inspired to provide an impromptu vocal accompaniement. Burgess gave a rousing rendition of the old favorite. If Glenn Miller were alive and in Harrington, he'd have hired him as lead vocalist on the spot.

"The success of the entertainment was due to the State Fair Committee lending us the portable stage," said Sue Ellen Dennis.

Area doctor goes on trial for sexual assault Letters to the Editor

Delaware.

There is, as the old saying goes, "Something wrong in Denmark", when the city of Harrington council can, by a unanimous vote, rent a $100.00 a month and renovate at repairs to furnace approx. $5000.00, repairs to air conditioner approx. $5000.00 and cost of carpentry work at a "you name it cost". That cost all before they can move in as I understand it. This all directly and completely countermands the almost unanimous citywide vote 238 to 38 (?) against the purchase of this same property for town hall. But, don't forget, we also have an option to buy with the above package. Does the Harrington Council think that we, the citizens will be pressured by such an investment, in going along with the purchase at a later date? The and present council members.

To the editor of the Harrington Journal renovations are already starting, To the Citizens of Harrington, I understand. The owner will get at the very least 15 or 16 thousand from us in the first year.

There are two questions I would like to ask

1. Who gets the commissions for the sale or rental of this property?

2. Do the council members from our mayor on down realize that they can be held responsible for their actions both individually and collectively? We as a group of citizens or singly, can place class action or private suits.

Our council members seem to forget that they were elected to represent the wishes of the majority and not their private decisions when they would be on the minority preference. Please withhold my name, lest I suffer

Rev. Mills to be Vicar at St. Stephen's Church

On Sunday, September 25, at 4:00 p.m., the Right Reverend William Hawley Clark, Bishop of Delaware, will formally institute the Reverend Susan Patricia Mills as Vicar of St. Stephen's Church. The public is cordially invited to participate in this celebration of a new ministry and to attend the reception which follows the ceremony. The Reverend Susan Mills comes to Harrington after serving as priest in the Episcopal Diocese of New York. She was assistant at St. Margaret's Church in the South Bronx and served as chaplain to Episcopal patients at St. Vincent's Hospital in New York City. She is a graduate of the General Theological Seminary in New York and holds bachelor's and master's degrees in music education from Indiana University in Bloomington, Indiana. Miss Mills has done postgraduate study in the field of Old Testament and spent a month of study in Israel. Her special interests lie in the fields of liturgical and pastoral theology. Before attending seminary, Miss Mills lived and worked for two years in Vienna, Austria, where she studied music and worked in the United Nations Industrial Development Organization. She taught elementary general music

Rambling Willie to retire after Sept. 30 race

Rambling Willie

COLUMBUS, Ohio - Rambling Willie, the richest North American harness horse in history, will race his final mile on September 30 in Chicago and then be shipped to a retirement home at the Kentucky Horse Park near Lexington. The durable pacing gelding has amassed earnings of $2,036,219 since he first began racing in 1972 as a two-year-old. On August 8, he passed Natross as the leading money winner among North American standardbreds.

His final race will be held at Sportsman's Park in Chicago which has been home base for Willie and trainer-driver Bob Farrington throughout most of his career. A special retirement ceremony will be held after the race. On October 7.

Rambling Willie will be welcomed to the Commonwealth of Kentucky at the famed Red Mile in Lexington.

The story of Rambling Willie begins in Indiana where he was foaled, the product of an undistinguished sire and dam. He first raced on the Hoosier State's county fair tracks, attracting the attention of Farrington who purchased him for $15,000 as a three-year-old.

The bay pacer quickly became one of the fastest and gamest harness horses in North America, a status which he held over the years despite leg ailments which would have sidelined lesser horses.

Vivian Farrington, wife of Rambling Willie's trainer and driver, owns Rambling Willie in partnership with the Estate of Paul Seibert of Cincinnati, Ohio. Mrs. Farrington's father is a minister at a small church in West Mansfield, Ohio and she tithed her share of Rambling Willie's earnings to the church.

Many people felt that her tithing assured Rambling Willie of divine guidance in overcoming his many misfortunes. A book about the horse was titled "Rambling Willie: The Horse That God Loved."

Heading into his competitive appearance in two weeks, Rambling Willie has 304 lifetime starts with 128 victories, 68 second place finishes, and 43 thirds. He is the all-time leader in 2:00 victories with 79.

Rambling Willie is scheduled to spend the remainder of his years at the spacious Kentucky Horse Park where he will join the champion thoroughbred gelding Forego.

The Spartan football varsity took an early lead with a first quarter touchdown and maintained it to edge Smyrna, 8-6 in the season opener.

Spartans Andy LaSalle, William Scott and Ralph Taylor combined efforts for the Lake Forest points.

LaSalle's 33 yard win about midway through the first period set the Spartans up on the Eagle ten yard line. A short time later Scott took the ball over from the three. Ralph Taylor took the ball into the end zone for the two point conversion. For most of the remaining game time, both Spartans and Eagles ricocheted between sudden opportunity and penalties as the two, relatively young teams tested their performance in the opening competition. Both teams had mistakes to learn from as they lost whopping yardage to penalties. The Spartans gave up 115 yards and the Eagles, 85, to the men with the yellow to Sussex Central on Friday.

By race time the track was sloppy and way off", said Cain. "It would not have made any difference at Brandywine. They scraped the top layer of mud off the track in order to getma harder surface. The rain. however, did not let up much at all during the night of racing. At times it was really coming down....plus the temperatures dropped into the low 50's

Two other horses entered in the race were favored over Perfect Beauty, who was the third choice in the betting. They were Tarport Frenzy and Lady Lexington. The latter was fresh from back to back wins at DuQuoin in the World Trotting Derby for fillies. Tarport Frenzy had set a track record at the Indiana State Fair in August. Perfect Beauty cut out the mile. In the last ten yards, Lady Lexington moved up through traffic and the middle of the race track to cross the finish line first. However, Lady Lexington was guilty of an infraction, disqualified and placed last. The incident happened in the fourth turn as the field turned for home. "There were some who said Lady Lexington was parked the whole mile. I can't believe that. It was more like being fourth at the rail when she started her move. I don't believe she could have trotted by the two of us if she had been parked the whole mile. We were moving considering the conditions of the track", he concluded. According to Cain, Ross Hayter, following the race, said if he made a mistake in the race it was coming out of the fourth turn. "He (Hayter) told me he thinks now he should have moved away from the rail to the center of the track.....about the three hole out, for the track surface there was a little more firm than down on the rail. Allison wins Budweiser 500 by Phyllis A. Donovan

Bobby Allison increased his Winston Cup point lead as he notched his third straight victory, his second of the year on the Monster Mile at Dover.

Allison dominated the race, leading most of the 500 laps that make it up. There were several cautions during the event with the most devastating occurring on lap 454 and Harry Gant, with no place to go, tangled with him on the front straight, both cars slamming into the inside retaining wall.

Most of the other cautions were brought on by blown engines and tires, all occurring without serious incident. trouble as he had to retire his #15 on the 477th lap, not to be headed again. the 107th lap because of overheating problems, after leading the race for over 60 laps. Then on lap 313 he took over the driving duties for Kyle Petty who was suffering from neck cramps. also one lap down.

But on the 346th circuit he blew a tire, banged the wall on turn 2 and was out of the race

Young Bill Elliott had his share of the lead pacing the field for 29 laps before losing a cylinder, putting him out of contention.

Darrell Waltrip, although running strong all day, was never in contention as he lost precious laps in the early going by cutting tires on two separate occasions.

Geoff Bodine, who took the lead on lap 458 by beating everyone out of the pits following the Bouchard/Gant entanglement, diove an excellent race, but Dale Earnhardt suffered from double came up short as Allison passed him on Tim Richmond finished third on the field the only other car on the lead lap. Bown captures first '83 by Phyllis A. Donovan

In spite of some bad luck in the early going, Chuck Bown moved the Skoal Bandit #7 into victory lane on Saturday, September 17th following the running of the Budweiser 200 at Dover Downs International Speedway. Bown occupied the second place starting spot alongside pole-sitter Mike Berry who had set a new track record in qualifying, moving around the Monster Mile at 135.716 mph. The Dover track is the largest on the NASCAR North circuit and the farthest south they come.

On the first lap Stub Fadden lost control of is car coming off turn 4, and spun down the front straight. Although Fadden was running about mid-field, some 20 cars got by him without hitting his spinning ride. The field went back under the green for the 10th lap with polesitter Mike Barry leading the way. On lap 16 the motor let go on Barry's car as he crossed the stripe, putting him out of the race. Randy LaJoie inherited the lead from Barry's misfortune.

Claude Gou lost control of his #66 on lap 28 to bring out the third caution of the day, but was able to recoup and rejoin the field after a pit stop.

By lap 34 Robert Crouch began applying pressure to the leader, LaJoie and on lap 35 moved out front.

On the 41st lap, Gou again looped his car on the fourth turn almost catching Del Thompson as he went by.

With Robert Crouch and Randy LaJoie immersed in a heated battle for the lead, on the 52nd circuit Keith Cavanagh lost control of his ride right in front of them. As the leaders moved up on the spinning car, Crouch moved low and LaJoie moved high, tapping the outside wall on turn two and spinning down across the track. After several pit stops under the caution, LaJoie had a lot of catching up to do. Although the first quarter of the race

The The second heat found Jay Stong on caution was displayed on lap 6 as the point for the green, but he was Wayne Nailor came to a stop on the straight.

And then the rains came down hard, and Ron Tobias. Hudson moved out putting the race on hold. When the storm was over, the fans again filled lost control and looped his #12 in front the stands, and the work began to get of the pack. Everyone managed to the race track ready again, but after several laps by the cars to run in the When the green was again displayed track and the grader turning up the Bob Toreky bolted out front, but was clay, it was determined that too much overtaken by Richard Jarvid the next rain had fallen and the program could time around. Mike Filipkowski came to not be completed.

a stop on the front straight one lap The program will pick up where it later pulling the caution. Jarvis went ended on October 1st at 8 p.m.

Crouch maintained his lead with Dick McCabe in hot pursuit. By the 84th lap it was Crouch, McCabe and Bown in a hotly contested battle for the front spot. On the 94th lap McCabe tried to move around the leader, but ended up losing ground and slipped back to third. Bown took over the lead on the 98th circuit and began putting ground between himself and now second place Crouch.

Bown maintained his lead until the 129th lap when he ran out of gas, putting Bob Dragon out front. After much jockeying of places due to pit stops, Bown regained the lead on the 170th lap and was not to be bettered to the checkered.

This marked Bowns first win of the 1983 season, making him the thirteenth different winner on the circuit.

For the second year in a row, Dick McCabe had to settle for second place, followed by Joey Kourafas, Robert Crouch and Mike Rowe.

LIBRA [September 23-October 22] - The comraderie you have with others insures a better work relationship, enhances creativity. By pursuing mutual interests and goals chances are greater for reaching fullest potentials.

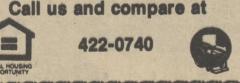

SCORPIO [October 23-November 22] - Getting to the bottom of things, settling unfinished business, should be primary concern this week. Be willing to accept changes that are beyond your control. Allow for a more progressive pace

SAGITTARIUS [November 22-December 20] - Face unsettled business squarely and tackle problems immediate-ly. Your management abilities could be taxed this week but perseverance prevails. Show compassion to those less fortunate.

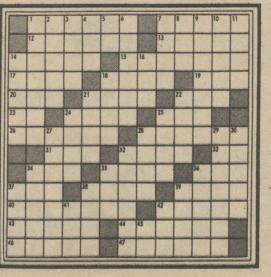

CAPRICORN [December 21-January 20] - You get first hand information about business and real estate investments. Use good sense before speculating, tying up assets with long term commitments, however. Enlist assistance of a knowledgeable counterpart with similar ideas.

AQUARIUS [January 21-February 19] - Your sensi-tivity to the needs of others could be utilized; volunteer services and extra time toward good causes. Enjoy compatibility with good friends, share close confidences.

PISCES [February 20-March 20] - Be willing to accept circumstances beyond your control, don't resist difficult situations with people in top positions. Advancement comes through a sincere and genuine effort on your part to succeed.
