

Ten Milford residents stricken with TB

by William T. Ficka

Tuberculosis has struck ten Milford residents who came into contact with the three young people diagnosed as having TB several months ago.

There were 383 people who were tested after coming into contact with the three TB sufferers who lived in Milford's Banneker Heights apartments.

Of the 383 people given skin tests, 109 showed a positive reaction and were advised to take preventive medication for about one year, according to Dr. Donald R. Cowan, chief of the Bureau of Disease Control for Delaware.

Ten of the 109 people are in the infectious stage of the disease and are receiving treatment. The remaining 99 people should be receiving the free medication, but only 68 are doing so, said Cowan.

The 31 people not taking treatment could develop a full-blown case of the lung-damaging disease if they continue to go without medication.

The 99 people who are not in the infectious stage have developed antibodies against the TB germs (tubercle Bacilli) and do not actually have TB, even though they have positive skin tests, according to Cowan.

"You might contract the measles in a few minutes, but you would need prolonged exposure, many hours a day over weeks or months, before you would contract TB," said Thomas Smith, Health Program representative and TB program coordinator for the state of Delaware.

The nationwide contact follow-up average is seven contacts for every person who has TB.

For example, if three TB cases are reported, 21 people will be treated.

"In Milford we tested 383 people. That's almost 130 people tested for each of the three who had TB," said Smith.

The once dread disease was largely overcome with the advent of mass X-Ray screening and the new "miracle drugs."

The TB death rate dropped 80 percent in the ten years following World War II.

Because several members of one family often contracted TB, it was formerly believed to be hereditary. It was later learned that people who live together get the disease because it easily spreads from one person to another. Sneezing and coughing spread the germs.

Dr. Joan Gomez in her book "A Dictionary of Symptoms" writes. Nearly all of us have had tuberculosis (40 percent at 21, 95 percent by 50) but have never even noticed it -- only the scars remain to be seen by X-Ray, and the immunity acquired protects from further infection."

Prevention is the keyword in combating TB.

"We talk about prevention not only for next month or next year, but 20 or 30 years in the future," said Smith.

Dr. Lyman Olsen, director of Division of Public Health, recommended the formation of the new TB Advisory Committee for the Eradication of Tuberculosis in Delaware.

The committee will study the medical and legal aspects of the disease problem, and the public relations subcommittee will strive to increase public awareness of the control and prevention programs.

Harrington woman killed in single car crash

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

HARRINGTON - Denise E. Workman, 22, of near Harrington was killed Monday night when her car went out of control and left Rt. 14 about a mile and a half east of Harrington. The accident occurred about 9:00 p.m. and it was the only vehicle involved in the accident as reported at the time of the accident. The investigation into the cause of the accident and her subsequent death continues. She is the daughter of Harold and Elaine Workman of near Harrington.

The police reported that the car made four impacts before coming to rest. When the car left the highway just west of the intersection of County Road #429 and Route 14, it first made contact with a mailbox taking it down. The car then proceeded on a westerly trail sideswiping a tree on the south side of Route 14 for the second impact. The car then plunged head-on into a utility pole owned by Delmarva Power at which time the left front portion of the 1978 Camaro in which she was driving wrapped around the utility pole. This was for the third impact. The car then came to rest on its fourth impact when it skidded up against the guide line of the utility pole. The car was totalled. The driver received extensive chest and head damages.

Miss Workman was reported to have been returning from her church in Milford where she played the organ during church services. She became the 85th fatality for 1983. At the same time last year, the State Police report 93 fatalities. ## Arrests made in kill-a-bug flim flam Delaware State Police investigators from Troop 3, Dover, report that they have arrested Raymond E. Phillips, 46, of RD 1, Box 143, Seaford, Delaware in connection with the August 16th flim flam of Elizabeth W. Evans, 85, of Milford.

Phillips was arrested after inspectors from the Department of Agriculture verified that Mrs. Evan's residence showed no indication of prior termite infestation and the termite treatment Phillips performed, trading as Kill-a-Bug Pest Control, was unwarranted. Mrs. Evans had paid $1,600.00 to Kill-a-Bug in addition to the $3,200.00 which she had lost when she allowed an alleged Kill-a-Bug employee to fill in the monetary amount on a check for an advance payment on the job.

That person is believed to be Julian Frasier, 26, of North Carolina. Warrants were signed against him, however, he has not yet been located.

Raymond Phillips was arrested on September 21st for felony theft by false pretense and conspiracy II. He was arraigned at Court 7 where he was committed to Delaware Correctional Center in default of $16,000.00 bond on the theft charge and $9,000.00 on the conspiracy charge.

A third subject, Rollie Joel Childs, 22, also of Seaford address, has been identified as the third subject in the three man termite business and warrants have been signed against him for conspiracy II. Childs has not been located and investigators believe he may have fled the state.

After the alleged employee absconded with the $3,200.00, the remaining Kill-a-Bug employees totally denounced knowledge or complicity in the flim flam and demanded payment for the work they had performed. Mrs. Evans paid them the originally agreed upon price of $1,600.00 for the job and it was only after determining that the work was unwarranted that arrests could be made.

Country music singer a do-it-yourselfer

by William T. Ficka

Country music singer and composer Lenny Dalious of Milford is a firm believer in doing things for yourself. And he is using this do-it-yourself approach to selling his first record album.

Starting this past Monday, Dalious has been seen on Salisbury's Channel 16 in one-minute spot commercials that will be shown three or four times each day through Saturday.

In the commercial Dalious, who performs under the name "Lenny Dalas" sings excerpts from four or five songs from his album "Too Hot to Handle". The album has also been featured on Milford's radio station WAFL and placed on the play list at Salisbury's radio station WICO.

When contract negotiations between Dalious and his Nashville producer bogged down, Dalious and his brother Bill, who serves as his business manager, decided to go it alone.

"We've been dreaming about running a TV commercial like this for the past two years. I think everybody is going to be surprised," said Bill.

Bill is Lenny's No. 1 fan and has complete confidence in his future success. He has devoted untold hours of hard work to promoting his brother's career.

In addition to his album, recorded for K-Ark records, Dalious has also recorded three singles under the same label.

A versatile young man, he has also written over 70 songs along with playing drums, piano and guitar.

Lenny and Bill beat the bushes in their quest for album sales. They traveled through Kent and Sussex Counties selling albums to friends and acquaintances, and friends of friends.

Word-of-mouth advertising was helpful in selling many of the albums. Making the selling job easier was the interest created when "Too Hot to Handle" was featured on WAFL and played on WICO.

The brothers also rented stands at Wilson's and Spencer's Auctions to promote the record.

To date they have racked up about $2,000 in sales. The album sells for $8.95.

Most of the money raised went to pay for the Channel 16 TV commercial.

"I'm going to send the album to the top of the charts," laughed Lenny.

Not wanting to put all their eggs in one basket, Bill sent one of Lenny's tapes to the "You Can Be A Star" television show on TNN (Nashville Network on Cable TV). The show has 20 million viewers and is sponsored by "Whispering Bill" Anderson, a country music legend.

Lenny's tape made a favorable impression on the judges and they called him to Nashville last week for a videotape audition.

The audition was held in a mobile home near the Grand Ole Opry House. "We reject about 90 percent of the tapes sent in," said Lang Scott, a talent coordinator for the show.

Dalious sang "Born to Love Me" and "Crazy Me," his own composition, at the audition.

At the end of the audition Scott, who filmed the videotaping, said, "You did a fine job. I wish you the best of luck."

Now it is up to the judges in New York and Los Angeles to decide whether Dalious is called to appear as a contestant on the show.

"You Can Be A Star" is shown five times weekly. A daily winner is chosen and then a weekly winner is selected. At the end of 13 weeks a grand prize winner is selected.

The grand prize winner will be awarded a recording contract "with MCA records or a label of similar standing within the industry."

The grand prize winner will also go on a personal appearance tour with Bill Anderson and Jim Ed Brown.

"We're on our way," said Bill as he left the audition.

Lenny just smiled. A confident smile. With such enterprising spirits as Lenny and Bill Dalious around, we don't have to worry about the survival of America's vaunted free enterprise system.

Letters to the Editor

The Harrington Caper
Dear Editor,

I have talked to so many people and any one of them can't understand why the citizens of Harrington are not outraged at the fact that the Mayor, the entire council and the management have taken it upon themselves to do what they have done, regardless of the wishes of the people of Harrington. Something like this happened a good many years ago to the Harrington people. The great "would-be-powers" tried to sell out the Harrington race track from under the people, but I, for one, along with lots of other people went up to Dover.

Gentlemen:

This past week the Improved Order of Red Man and the Degree of Pocahontas of Delaware placed a 3" x 4" display ad in your newspaper. Our ad was a public service affair for Highway Safety Week - September 19-25. We were 100% pleased with it. You deserve a

Dear Editor:

Thank you,

City of Harrington

William J. Brode
310 Second Avenue
Harrington, DE 19952

Dear Mr. Brode:

I am in receipt of your letter dated September 4, 1983. I would like to take this opportunity to respond to some of your comments and attempt to answer some of your questions.

To start with, I want it clearly understood that I respect the right of each and every citizen to be entitled to their opinion, and thank God that we live in a country where we have the right to express those opinions as we may choose.

In your first paragraph, you refer to the blatant effort of Council to procure the property at 110 Center Street through the back door. I assure you that not one member of council voted to rent this property with that thought in mind.

Perhaps a brief resume of what led up to the decision by Council to rent this property will help to clarify this statement.

Upon the defeat of the referendum, the Council was faced with a decision as to what would be the best route to take in providing City Hall and Police facilities for the City.

Should we squander six to seven thousand dollars to make the necessary minimum repairs of a new heater, repair leaking roof, and rebuilding rotten entrance porch and remain in the fast decaying eyesore that is 103 Fleming Street, or should we rent some other building?
Council did not feel that they could, in

Dear Sir:

No repairs to the furnace at 110 Center Street are necessary. The heating system there is in excellent condition. The $5,000.00 expenditure required for a new heating system that has been discussed is at the present city office on Fleming Street.

A $5,000.00 expenditure for air conditioning was considered in the proposal to purchase 110 Center Street. This idea is no longer being considered under the temporary situation of tenancy.

A statement, "cost of carpentry at a 'you name it cost'" is a great rabble

I happened to be what was called a "lobbyist" along with many other people who protested. These strong and mighty people tried to take the races away from Harrington raceway. Anyway, they never got the job done.

Mr. Quigley was speaker of the House. He said to me, "Come on into my office, and we'll have a drink." Mr. Quigley at that time was the "boss man" of the House. Everyone was outraged at this point about the race track that was to be moved from Harrington, so Mr. Quigley called a "recess", and we went back into his office where we talked and sipped on big bouquet for placing our photo with the Lt. Gov. signing the proclamation on the front page and most certainly a big thank you for the extra coverage of the article by our State President Marvin P. Lightcap II for describing in depth our Highway Safety Program. The slogans in a different type face were outstanding.

With your attention to detail in good judgement, waste monies on this building, and they were quite surprised at the amount of rent being asked for other buildings.

Without solicitation, the owners of 110 Center St., offered to rent that property to the City at the same rent and same conditions that they were renting 103 Fleming Street.

Comparing the two properties and taking in consideration the amount of rent asked for other properties, the whole Council, not just a part thereof, decided that the best move for the City as a whole would be to rent the property at 110 Center Street, knowing full well, as it was brought out in the discussion and reported by the news media, that such a decision would stir up antagonisms among some of the citizens that voted against buying the property.

In your second paragraph, you brought up the property on Clark Street and parking. Not being deeply involved in City government at the time of the discussion on Clark Street property, I do not know all the answers, but I am sure that parking was not the only issue. Many of the businesses and institutions in Harrington do not have adequate off street parking. Yes, it would be nice to have a City Hall with a nice big parking lot; however, have you ever given any thought as to what this would cost the taxpayer?

The property at 110 Center Street is zoned residential; however, it was the opinion of the City Solicitor that this property did not have to be rezoned for use by the City.

Regarding Police facilities, the Police will have nicer facilities with more room than they have at 103 Fleming Street. It is felt that by utilizing the two garages and the apron in front of them, that area will handle their parking.

rouser. What does it mean?

The rental contract for 110 Center Street has no option to purchase.

The one year rental contract for 110 Center Street has no option for renewal except on a month to month basis.

The rental agreement for 110 Center Street is an agreement between Mr. & Mrs. Musser, (the owners), and the City. No realty company is involved. No commissions are being paid.

The Mayor of the City of Harrington, and all members of City Council, are totally cognizant of their responsibilities to the people of Harrington.

the many bottles he had in store. At 3 a.m. we went back into the Law Chamber and all the rest of the people had left the House. Consequently, the law was not passed, and we got to keep the racetrack.

And that was the end of that story. So you see "Citizens of Harrington" we had better move fast to unload these people who have took it upon themselves to have a little place of their own by "hook or crook". Unload them all, and they should be responsible for all their money debts.

Yours truly, advertising we urge other advertisers to use the Harrington Journal as their instrument for advertising.

Thank you for kindness. We are looking forward to doing business with you in the future.

Marvin P. Lightcap
Public Relations Officer
Red Man & Pocahontas of Delaware

You ask why the need of such a large building. The facility at 103 Fleming Street is overcrowded, and the employees working therein do not have adequate room to perform their duties effectively. The Council Chamber is so small that when 15 or 20 interested citizens attend a Council Meeting or Public Hearing, it is filled to overflowing.

In your next to last paragraph, you pose the question as to those on Council who might have an interest in 110 Center Street. From the way it is worded, I must assume that you mean an interest that would bring them monetary benefits.

If that is what you mean, I assure you that no member of Council, the Mayor, no official, or employee of the City has any monetary interest in this property.

You close with the question of why wasn't the above mentioned article reported in the Harrington Journal. The Mayor and Council have no decisions, and rightly so, as to what is and what is not reported in the Harrington Journal. Therefore, we cannot answer that question.

In closing, I am sorry that the decision made by Council to rent the 110 Center Street property has caused you so much agony; however, a governing body, whether municipal, county, state, or federal, must often make decisions, based upon their knowledge of the situation that prevails, for the betterment of the City and its citizens as a whole, and also knowing that that decision will antagonize some of the electorate.

A wise man once said, "You can please all of the people part of the time, part of the people all of the time, but never can you please all of the people all of the time."

Sincerely,
Alfred G.B. Mann, Mayor
City of Harrington

The Harrington City Council exists only to serve the well being of the people of Harrington.

Please don't withhold my name. In spite of threats of retaliation, I, at least, have the backbone to stand behind my convictions.

P.S. I would be very much interested in seeing how the owners of 110 Center Street will get $15-16,000.00 from the citizens of Harrington this year. Can someone give me these figures?

Burriss vs. Biden in 84?

by David F. Coady

MILFORD - Former State Representative and Milford businessman John M. Burriss may be preparing to seek the Republican nomination for U.S. Senator and carry the party's banner against two-term incumbent Joseph Biden. Burriss was a popular three-term State Representative and served as minority leader for one term and majority leader for one term. He decided not to seek re-election due to business and family commitments.

Burriss said he will only challenge Biden if he believes that he stands a realistic chance of winning the election. He believes that Biden will be a formidable opponent based on personality but is vulnerable if the campaign can be focused on issues. Burriss describes himself as moderate to conservative, being moderate on social issues but very conservative with respect to foreign policy, defense and fiscal issues.

"Biden can be challenged on his attendance record both on the Senate Budget Committee and the general sessions of the U.S. Senate," Burriss said. He believes that Delawareans want a Senator that is on the job and not campaigning around the country for party fund raisers.

"The reaction is there (in favor of his running)," Burriss said. He believes that he can build a solid organization to challenge Biden. Burriss claims to have received favorable response throughout Delaware to the idea of his seeking the Republican nomination.

"I have three young sons under the age of eleven. This would be the only reason for not seeking the nomination," Burriss said. Burriss described his sons as being at little league age, a time when a father would like to spend as much time as possible with his sons.

Since Governor duPont has taken himself out of the race, many Republicans feel that Burriss has the best chance of winning back the U.S. Senate seat.

The War Powers Act - A constitutional Debate

David F. Coady

This week both houses of Congress will vote on a compromise face saving bill in an effort to avoid Constitutional debate on the War Powers Act. The Act, passed over a Presidential Veto in 1973, limits the power of the President to commit U.S. Forces to hostilities. President Reagan claims that he is acting under Constitutional authority as Commander in Chief of the U.S. Armed Forces. Congress claims that it has the sole authority to declare war.

Simply stated, the War Powers Act compels the President to report to Congress any time he either commits U.S. Forces to hostilities, deploys U.S. Forces in readiness for hostilities or there is imminent danger of U.S. Forces being engaged in hostilities. Under these conditions the President is required by law to report to Congress within 60 days.

After the President reports, Congress can either vote to approve his actions or order the removal of U.S. Forces. The only other method of committing U.S. Forces to combat is for Congress to declare war. A portion of the Wars Powers Act has already been declared unconstitutional by the U.S. Supreme Court. The portion that was declared unconstitutional would have allowed Congress to recall U.S. Forces by passage of a simple resolution. The Supreme Court ruled that for any bill to have authority of law it must first be sent to the President for signature.

A face saving compromise has been worked out between President Reagan, Senate Leader Baker and House Leader O'Neal which would reassert the War Powers Act but also allow for the deployment of U.S. Marines in Lebanon further 18 months. This compromise would avert a showdown on the question of constitutional authority between the legislative and executive branches of government.

The war powers debate has been going on since the adoption of the U.S. Constitution. In the original draft of the Constitution, it stated that "Congress shall have the authority to make war." This was later changed to read "Congress shall have the authority to declare war." The Constitution, also, states that "Congress shall have the authority to raise an army and navy." The President of the United States is designated as the Commander in Chief of U.S. Armed Forces.

The constitutional question is, what was the intentions of the framers of the Constitution in making these designations? What powers does the President have as Commander in Chief and what powers are vested in Congress? Both branches of the federal government want to avoid going to the third branch, the U.S. Supreme Court, to get an interpretation of the constitution for fear of losing some of their present powers.

One does not have to be a constitutional lawyer to learn the intent of the framers of the constitution with regards to the separation of powers. After reading what the constitution states, then turn to the "Federalist Papers" for an explanation. The "Federalist Papers" is a book compiled from editorials urging the adoption of the Constitution. These editorials were used to inform the public of the intent of the Constitution and urge its adoption to replace the Articles of Confederation, which were then in force.

The present debate involves the deployment of U.S. Marines as part of a Multi-National Peace Keeping Force in Lebanon and the use of U.S. Navy gunfire to protect them. Senator Biden phoned The Harrington Journal after the recent Senate Foreign Relations Committee vote to adopt the Reagan/Baker/O'Neal compromise. Biden stated he voted with the minority to reject the compromise. He said that administration supporters claimed that the presence of Marines in Lebanon was three-fold: To insure that all foreign forces leave Lebanon; to establish the Lebanese government in a position that it controls all of Lebanon; and to secure the northern border of Israel. Biden claims that the first goal is not realistic unless the United States is prepared to go to war with Syria to accomplish it. With regard to the Administration's second objective, Biden says that it is anti-history. Lebanon is made up of 17 separate sects, six of which are Christian and the rest Moslem, which have been at war with each other for all but 30 of the last 3,000 years Biden claims. The third and final goal to secure Israel's northern border is foolish according to Biden. Israel doesn't want or need our assistance to secure her northern border according to Biden.

Readers should be reminded that Lebanon is only one instance were the War Powers Act may apply. Sitting on the back burner and still simmering is the whole of Central America. The Philippines is on the verge of civil war and the U.S. has a large Naval base in that country. The war powers debate is not your usual conservative vs liberal debate. It is a constitutional debate that cuts through the traditional political alignments. Some day it will be settled by the Supreme Court.

Over The Backyard Fence

Senior Center

by Dorothy Graham

Happy Birthday October Folks! Smile! Well, Heritage Day is over and truly an affair to be proud of from beginning to end. There were so many nice comments concerning the Jolly Timers and the singing. A special thanks to all volunteers and everyone for everything! Now on to the Fall Bazaar in November - tell you more next week about that.

Reverend Beyer of Trinity and Prospect Church was leader of Bible Study Monday morning. Sylvia was at the piano. The service was opened with a song by all present and Rev. Beyer offered prayer. She took for study Josea, Chapter 4, Verse 1-8, and Chapter 6, Verse 1-2-3. A question and answer time was a pleasant time of discussion after which Marion Brown dismissed the group with a prayer. Those that attended were Elizabeth Anthony, Mammie Adams, Jo Burke, Rosanne and Marion Brown, Dorothy Graham (this is my vacation time), Gladys Hill, Ethel Holden, Clara Judy, Thelma Legates, Annabel Morrow, Etzel McCready, Cecil and Sylvia Meredith, Catherine Donovan, Mary Sapp, Elwood Morris, Florence Minner, Amy Poynter, Juanita McClain, Mildred Vincent and Anna Mae Short.

Band practice and Senior Sounds were on and just as jolly and glorious sounding as ever. This being my vacation, I am going into that just a bit. I love each of you very much. Over the years I have received lots of calls and people speak to me who, if it were not for this column, probably would not bother. You are a great lot of people as Heritage Day proved. Well, on to my vacation - Wednesday was card day at my house. Hazel Langrell called Wednesday morning to tell me she was too ill to play and she truly sounded it. Got a sub for her. Then Virginia Willey called Wednesday morning to say there was a death in the family. So I called my neighbor and she answered the emergency. After such a terrible start, all ended well. Scores were not so hot, but the food was good. The chatter was fun and it was good to see Alta Harrington, Hazel Smith, Mary E.

Well, it's Monday now - 12:05 and soon I'll be at the Center. Happy to be there for truly I missed each one. It is funny how when you are alone if you think of people and all the nice things they do for an instance - a smile - a hello - may I get you a glass of water or turn your collar back for you. People are the nicest things I know on earth - that is. Take care of each other. Best wishes to all.

While you are housecleaning don't forget White Elephants for Bazaar!! Keep thinking of people that have been in business in Harrington - celebrities who have visited here and I love you -- Faith!! "Sweet are the uses of adversity" - Shakespeare

Frederica

by Mary "Toby" Johnston, 335-5487

Since I haven't been out much this week you will have to read "Around on St. Agnes Street."

For some reason our cat Coz was a noisy one last night. Worried me to no end until I finally put him in the cellar, nutting it's too early to be staying down there. Rod had opened the screen and a big Blue Jay had flown in. With all the noise during the night, we thought Halloween was a little early this year. Coz enjoyed his night and I rowled every time a noise was heard. This morning I feel like a stewed witch with the brew ready for serving.

The kids across the street have a field catching caterpillars on the porch and house. "It has been said" - Light color's a mild winter. So far they have caught 10 blonde, 12 medium tones. Daniel enjoys those crazy fuzzy critters which give me the creeps. Kelly has had poison ivy on her face and had to stay home from school.

Our neighbors to the east of us, Sgt. and Mrs. William Wright are the proud parents of a baby son, born September 1, 1983, named William Aaron Wright, weighing 7 lbs. 7 oz. He has one sister, Amy. Best wishes to all.

Scott and Co. get revenge as Spartans triumph over Indian River

by Barbara C. Brown
This year's Lake Forest-Indian River football confrontation was a far cry from the '82 version when the Spartans traveled to Indian territory and got scalped, something like 22-up.

On Friday night, the Indians raided Lake Forest and got sent packing at the short end of a 24-14 score as William Scott and Company took revenge.

With two touchdowns and 172 yards to his credit, Scott led its Spartans in their second half scoring attack. (Neither team scored in the first.)

Ralph Taylor and Russell Elliott were responsible for the other Spartan touchdowns. Taylor accounted for 83 yards.

The first half was a panoply of fumbles, penalties and missed opportunities as the two teams battled to a scoreless tie.

The Indians won the opening toss and elected to receive, but lost the ball when a 4th and 28 situation forced them to punt. They lost more ground when the punt was called back after Spartan receiver Ralph Taylor was hit a bit too early.

A few plays later the Spartans had the ball on the Indian River five-yard line but fumbled it on the next play.

And so it went for the first two quarters.

Both teams, however, returned from the locker rooms with their offensive units intact and determined to write a new script.

The Spartans were first to score as junior quarterback William Scott stung from the six yard line.

Not to be outdone, the Indians took the kickoff and put on a 75 yard drive which landed them in the Spartan end zone on a 13 yard TD pass from Greg Hook to Antoine Godwin.

The two-point conversion, run in by Kevin Bull, put them in the lead 8-6.

The advantage was short-lived as the Spartans struck back on a drive from their kick off return and a six yard run by Ralph Taylor.

The next Indian drive was halted by an interception on the part of Spartan Senior Gary Moore.

Pushed back to their five yard line the Indians dropped the ball, giving Spartan Russell Elliott the chance to run it in for the third Lake Forest TD. Scott put the cap on the game with a 40-yard, 4th quarter run that put the Spartans in for a 24 point total.

Kevin Bull's one-yarder gave the Indians 14, but not enough to catch Lake Forest.

Jim Fleming is obviously pleased with the results of the Spartans' first two games (the Spartans beat Smyrna 8-6 in the opener.) He sees improvement between the two games. (The Spartans lost a lot of yardage to penalties in the first.) But he still feels the team is not yet up to its potential. And he sees the '83 team as a squad with a lot of that commodity.

The offensive unit is executing its plays better - as indicated by the second half against Indian River, but there is room for improvement.

The defensive unit, still making some basic mistakes according to Fleming still did a fine job on Friday.

The Spartans this year have a big, strong defensive line in Leroy Polk, Kermit Mosley, Ernest Elzey and Eric Warren. They should prove a forceful deterrent once they eliminate errors and get that physical strength in the right place at the right time.

Gary Moore, playing at safety, is also doing a fine job. He had two interceptions for Lake Forest on Friday.

There is no game this Friday. The Spartans face powerful Cape Henlopen on Viking turf on Saturday afternoon.

Says Fleming, Cape is always a game where you go up against one of the best. The Spartans have the potential to play with the Vikings, but they will not be able to afford mistakes.

HARRINGTON, DE - Perfect Beauty, the sensational 3-year-old trotting filly owned by Delbert Cain of Harrington, Delaware equalled a 32-year old, all-age trotting record at Harrington Raceway on Friday night when she went wire-to-wire in a time of 2:02.3 over the tracks half-mile oval. Fractions for the mile were recorded in times of :31.3, 1:02.3 and 1:32.3. Perfect Beauty was never threatened in the four horse, non-betting race for Delaware Development Fund 3-year-old trotting fillies. The $6,500 purse upped Perfect Beauty's 1983 earnings to over $165,000 and made her victorious in 16 of her 20 starts this year.

Perfect Beauty was driven by top reinsman, Ross Hayter and was trained by Sam Matthews. In addition to equaling the all-age standard at Harrington, she also earned sole rights as the fastest 3-year-old trotting filly to have ever raced at Harrington, erasing a record that has stood since 1976. The record was set by Hadley Hanover which was driven by Louis Floyd. The 3-year-old record was held by Kitty B, 2:06. This mark was also broken with the winning time.

According to Gary Simpson, assistant general manager at Harrington, Friday night had a large crowd than any time during the meet last year. "I think a lot of people came to see Perfect Beauty," he said.

On Saturday night it was show down night between two top 3 year old pacers, Big Shift and Happy Harry. Big Shift was fresh from a winning performance at Harrington last week, when he set a track record in 2:01.2.

Happy Harry in razor sharp form brushed to a commanding performance at Liberty Bell in '58 and a piece. Big Shift cut out the mile and was leading through the stretch when Harry came with a rush to win at the wire before a cheering crowd. Happy Harry is by J.M. Harry out of a Torpid mare. The story is that the owner of Happy Harry purchased the mare and foal for around $800.

Last week Cam Fella won again which was his 17th in a row and 6th straight week in which he has broken or set track record. This again was in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. He won by 2 and a quarter lengths. He won two times at Chicago, 2 in Toronto and 2 at Edmonton. He has one more week at Edmonton in that series. After this season Cam will stand in the central N.J. stud farm.....Jeff's Standardbred Country Club.

A fast time was recorded at Freehold on September 10, when Midas Almahurst turned the half mile oval in 1:55.4. He is driven by Robert Del Campo.

Girls win first 2 for '83

by Barbara C. Brown

The Lake Forest varsity and JV hockey teams opened their 1983 season with a pair of wins - over Milford and Delmar - last week.

The varsity girls opened up by edging past Milford, 2-1. Spartan scores came from seniors Sondra Warren and Pam Pierce.

Hockey coach Dave Adams pointing out the fact that the girls had scrimmaged Milford in the pre-season, said against the Bucs the girls "...came out and played hockey like they're supposed to."

He also said the team switched to a special defense in the closing moments of the Milford game. With team members tiring under the pressure, seven girls (instead of 5) were switched to defense to keep the ball in mid-field.

When the play moved behind the Buc 25 yard line, the extra two would rejoin the offense.

At Delmar, the Spartans were stunned when the Wildcats scored in the first 20 seconds. But Lake Forest went on to take charge of the game for a 5-1 win.

Lori Wilson, a sophomore member of the varsity opened the Spartan scoring. Pam Butler, a junior, also scored for the Spartans in the first half.

Second half points came from Pam Pierce (a senior) Lizzie Watkinson (a junior) and once again from Lori Wilson who put the icing on the cake with a breakthrough in which she along with Watkinson and Pierce took the ball down for a fast trip to the Buc goal.

The defense has been coordinating well, and Dana Adams, at goalie, had six saves in the Delmar game.

Coach Adams was optimistic about the prospects for this week's games.

The JV hockey team has done as well winning against Milford 1-0 and beating Delmar 2-0. Sophomore Teresa Taylor scored all three goals.

Judy Berry is the JV coach.

Harriers open with win at Seaford

by Keith S. Burgess

Jim Blades' Lake Forest High Cross-Country teams, boys and girls, opened the 1983 campaign with victories over Seaford's teams. The boys are starting their 26th season and are aiming for their 26th consecutive winning season.

Seaford's redoubtable Joey O'Donnell is a super runner, who was a mediocre, bench-warming, football player for two autumns. He had established himself as an excellent distance runner in two spring track campaigns. When he took the logical step of running cross-country, he instantly became a superstar harrier.

Joey was race winner, but he was the only Seaford runner, male or female, who could do anything with Blades' flying Spartans. O'Donnell ran 2.6 miles in 14 minutes and 10 seconds. Danny Donovan, Danny Haines and Mike Melvin easily outdistanced the rest of the field. Bob Smith held off a challenge from Hall of Seaford, for fifth place. Newcomers Kevin Pelton and

Everham bests Bud field at Wall

WALL TOWNSHIP - "Hollywood" Ray Everham scored his third win of the season as he captured the 2nd Annual Budweiser Crown Classic at Wall Stadium Saturday night.

The Flying Dutchman, Fred Harbach pulled out front of the 26 car starting field as Vinnie Green and Tony Sisco ran 2nd and 3rd. The trio paced the field for the first six laps when the red flag came out for a massive pileup on the backstretch knocking out many of the top runners.

On the restart, Harbach once again paced the field as "Galopin" Gil Hearne of Jacobstown ran second and Everham third. The pace was a torrid one and on lap fifty the two leaders came together giving Everham the lead.

Once out front, Everhams job was no easy one as Sisco made a valiant effort to take the lead, but Everham withstood the challenge to capture the win.

In for third place money was Hearne with Lenny Boyd fourth, and Harbach coming back to take fifth.

Sixth spot went to Rich Rigsby of Toms River with Ed Lilly of Allentown seventh, Tom Baldwin eighth, Jerry Cranmer of Chesterfield ninth, and Eddie Bohn of Freehold tenth.

In the thirty-five lap sportsman feature, it was Bob Morris of Woodbridge scoring the win.

Mike Stevens paced the field for the first sixteen laps, but on a restart, Stevens had trouble firing up the #S-1 giving Morris the lead and the eventual win.

Second spot went to Charlie Kojka, third Bill Stephens, fourth Ed Senkewicz, and fifth Bill Gratton.

Rounding out the top ten were Don Ling, Jr., Ted Alt, Steve Golembeski, John Malsbury, and Mike Stevens.

Glenn Osborne captured the thirty-five modern stock feature as he bested Steve Springsteel, Harold Dauncey, Jerry Carroll, and Ken Beckler.

Letter from Gene Price

Dear Mr. Farrow, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the citizens for their support of the fifth annual Harrington Heritage Day. What a sense of pride I felt during that day and during the preparation that went into that day. Meetings were conducted for several months before the event. I would like to say thank-you to all of the committee and especially to Sue Ellen Dennis and to Grace Welch. We all were in almost daily communication for the last couple of months with last minute details. I think Sue Ellen should be congratulated that her first Chairmanship of this event went so well. I commented to Grace Welch toward the end of that day about all the 'sprucing up' that was done in preparation for the day. I saw people mowing and manicuring lawns, painting, and general cleaning up. You know that Harrington citizens have a lot of pride in their town and it certainly showed that day. I have been involved with the Harrington Heritage Day Committee for three years, and each year I can see the event growing. It makes me feel good to see our community pull together. There are only 15 members on the Heritage Day Committee, but there are hundreds of persons that we should thank for making the day successful. I wouldn't attempt to name anyone here, as I am sure that I would miss someone, but I would like to say thank you to all those people who helped and to the community for their support for coming out for the event. On a more personal note, I would like to thank the members of the Senior Center, they did a fantastic job that day and I love each and every one of them. Also, a very special thank you to my parents. Since my health has been a little down since May, my parents have helped with my yard work and helped get my house ready for the open house on Heritage Day. They painted, sometimes in the dark, pulled weeds, mowed grass and helped with the cleaning. I love them both dearly and I wanted them to receive the recognition they deserve. Finally, Mr. Farrow, I would like to thank you for giving the reception for the guest speaker, guests of honor, and the Heritage Day Committee. We appreciated that very, very much. Again, thank you to all of Harrington for their help and support for this Heritage Day. We definitely could not have done it without you. I am so proud to be a resident here and may God bless you all. Hoping for a bigger and better event next year.

THE BEGINNING OF HARRINGTON

Delaware 1680 - Sept. 17, 1983
We assembled today to recollect our heritage, and it is most appropriate to do so in this community. Kent County is celebrating the tricentennial or three hundredth anniversary of its establishment this year. This area of Kent County is in Mispillion hundred; one of the original hundreds and the largest until January 28, 1830, when it was divided into Mispillion hundred and Milford hundred.

Originally, nearly all of this hundred was a vast primeval forest of pine, oak and other trees, birds and animals native of this area. The Indians were still hunting and living here. By April 1680, there were five pioneer families totalling ten people living in the area, mostly along the water courses. In the summer of 1682, the county court (now Levy Court) ordered the laying out of a road from Cedar Creek in Sussex County to the Mispillion.

Luke Watson of Lewes received the first grant for land in this hundred on January 21, 1681. This was a tract of 1500 acres called "Hunting Quarter". The next grant was for 1000 acres called "Fairfield" on the south side of Brown's Branch taken up by William Darvall and William Clark on November 1, 1684. From then on the Penn family granted lands in the hundred until the time of independence in 1776.

One of the earliest developments was indicated by Henry Bowman's lands on "Sawmill Neck" in 1750. Then in 1760, Benjamin Clark took up 180 acres lying east and west of the present town. Benjamin Harrington held land to the north and south of the Clark tract. It was not until 1810 that Clark's corner was established with one house and a store. This was followed by a hotel erected Benjamin Clark at the site of the Harrington Hotel.

Clark's Corner continued and expanded as a number of sawmills were erected to convert the original forest into lumber products. The Delaware Railroad came through in 1856 and from then on the community of Clark's Corner expanded. Other stores were built, Matthew J. Clark laid out a number of town lots, and within the next four years twenty new houses had been built. The post office was established in 1857 with Matthew J. Clark as the postmaster. Meanwhile, the Junction and Breakwater Railroad Company was authorized in 1857 to connect with Clark's Corner or Junction Station with Milford and Lewes. The Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia Railroad had its northern terminus here.

On the last day of January 1859, the Delaware legislature passed an act that "the place called Clark's Corner or Junction Station on the Delaware Railroad in Mispillion Hundred, Kent County shall be called and known by the name of "Harrington". This early rapidly growing railroad town was not named for Benjamin Harrington who owned land nearby but for the Honorable Samuel M. Harrington, Chancellor for the State of Delaware.

The Delaware Railroad came into being through the efforts of the Honorable John M. Clayton who had retired from the United States Senate. He was successful in having this railroad chartered by the Delaware General Assembly in 1836. The Charter provided that the railroad was to be free of all taxes for fifty years, have the power of condemnation, the state was to pay the cost of surveys and all expenses for the organization of the Delaware Railroad Company and to provide a fund of $25,000. In this charter John M. Clayton, William D. Waples and Richard Mansfield were appointed commissioners. The surveys from New Castle to Seaford were completed but because of depressed financial conditions in 1837 to 1839, subscriptions for building the railroad were not forthcoming.

Because of this and other difficulties, the charter of the railroad was forfeited and not resumed until seventeen years later. It was then in 1849 that Chief Justice Samuel M. Harrington obtained a renewal of the charter for the Delaware Railroad and certain other modifications. Even then funds were slow in being subscribed until 1852 when state taxes provided half of the money with the provision that the commissioners supply matching funds. The next year, Justice Harrington obtained an agreement from the Delaware Railroad to permit the Philadelphia, Wilmington, and Baltimore Railroad to guarantee the bonds of the Delaware Railroad. This influx of funds permitted the Delaware Railroad to be completed in 1856 from below New Castle to Seaford. This new railroad, constructed inland from the old coastal shipping towns, created the new communities of Porter, Middletown, Townsend, Clayton, Wyoming, Harrington, and Delmar.

The completion of this railroad down the center of the Delmarva Peninsula was indeed timely as it was used extensively during the Civil War in the movement of troops and supplies. It also opened up the inland farming areas, gave access to vast tracts of woodlands, and created new industries which depended upon and supplemented the railroad. Produce, peaches, and other farm products now had easy access to the large metropolitan markets of the north, namely Wilmington, Philadelphia, New York, and even Boston where fresh Delaware peaches and produce were available in their markets. The vast tracts of lumber were utilized extensively so that the forest of Mispillion Hundred has largely disappeared. Branch railroads from Maryland also connected at Harrington so that the former Clark's Corner expanded well beyond its original location. In fact, Harrington was growing at such a rate that there needed to be an orderly system of development. Thus we find that on March 23, 1869, the Delaware Assembly passed an act incorporating Harrington. The earliest incorporators were William T. Vangesel, Thomas H. Dorman, William Shaw, James H. Vickory, and Martin W. Harrington.

From the provisions of the Town Charter, it can easily be seen that the community had progressed beyond the villager stage as there was to be an Alderman, an Assessor, a Treasurer, and a Collector of Taxes. There were also provisions regulating streets and roads, a jail was authorized, a town bailiff, and bonfires were prohibited. One of the unique provisions of the charter was the town boundaries which provided that -

The limits of the town of Harrington shall start at a point in the centre of the south-west corner of the tank-house and extend in a northerly direction up the said main track of the said Delaware Railroad eight hundred and fifty feet, and in a southerly direction down said track of the said railroad over eight hundred and fifty feet, and in an easterly direction perpendicular to the said track of the said railroad over eight hundred and fifty feet, and in a westerly direction perpendicular to the said track of the said railroad over eight hundred and fifty feet, thereby forming a square, nor shall they have power to close any street, lane, or alley now open in said Town upon which any buildings or improvements have been erected, but shall cause the same to be laid down on the plot required to be returned to the Recorder's Office, at Dover.

From the time forward, Harrington developed as an important railhead on the Delaware Railroad. Later the Pennsylvania Railroad Penn Central and now Conrail. In addition to the expanding traffic of the railroad itself, there was a corresponding increase in the production and transportation of agricultural products. In the town or nearby, there developed additional sawmills, a brick yard, basket factories, lumber yards, and many associated trades and crafts. Although large tonages of freight were moving northward, there were corresponding shipments from the Metropolitan areas through Harrington and on to Cape Charles where they were ferried to Norfolk and Newport News for the ship building and supplying of naval installations. The various wars in which our country has been engaged, namely, Spanish American, World War I, World War II, Korean and Vietnam have all utilized this important rail system, and they have had their corresponding effects upon Harrington.

I commend Mrs. Sue Ellen Dennis, chairperson of your Heritage Day committee and all who have worked with her to make the Heritage Days the success they have been. It is gratifying that your community can take the time to look back upon their beginning, their development, and toward the future. Mr. Harry G. Farrow, Jr. is to be commended on acquiring the First National Bank Building and restoring it for preserving this fine Victorian Queen Ann Style of brick structure. Let us hope that others of your houses and buildings particularly the early "tank house", will also be restored and maintained to perpetuate your heritage. Mayor Mann, former Mayor Cahall, and Representative Bobby Quillen, as well as Grace Welch, Mrs. Jacquie Davis Nuss, Mr. Kenneth McKnatt and others on your committee and those who cooperated with them, all have a deep interest in Harrington's historical and cultural past as well as its industrial and commercial development. Again I thank you for the privilege of being with you today.

Letter from Sue Dennis

Dear Editor: This past Saturday, over 5,000 people wandered around and through Harrington as several hundred more dedicated individuals worked to put together the "best yet" in Harrington Heritage Days. Many of these people will go unnoticed, and many of their names will not be listed to receive thank yous because they "just were helping a friend," or "It's no big deal." For you who know who these people may be, take the time to point out how much their time and efforts were appreciated.

Harrington's Fifth Annual Heritage Day was a huge success because many facets of organization pulled together. Along with that the craftsmen were excellent, sharing their trade with all who would ask and the entertainers provided the festive mood throughout the whole day, with the sharing of their talents for others to enjoy. The toe-tapping and knee-slapping by many did not go unnoticed, as well as the chance to see old friends, and have it all for free.

I do believe that everyone participating gave 100% effort to make the day its best. The pleasure these people received in giving "their gift" to you meant more to them, because they were living in the anticipation of what joy it would bring to all.

However, there were several groups who did "foot labor" and just considered it as part of "their day", and it is those people that I want to especially thank.

Wait and Marie Messick basically closed Taylor & Messick Shop for two days while "their boys" polished it up in anticipation of the many handicrafts and exhibits that were on display for your pleasure. Not ending there, they moved tables and chairs Friday evening, Saturday morning, and Saturday evening, as well as chauffering the trolleys continually between town and the arts and crafts exhibition.

The Lions Club of Harrington made arrangements for the use of the stage as well as moving tables and chairs to all of the booths throughout the day.

The Harrington Police Department, many of the officers having never "experienced" a Heritage Day, took everything in stride, working with the Heritage Day committee when problems arose.

For those of you who watched the entertainment throughout the day, I handed our Certificates of Appreciation to other behind the scenes individuals, but I would like the rest of you to know who they were: Lake Forest High School Band, Joan Knaub and The First National Bank of Harrington, the Harrington Fire Company, the Harrington City Council, Governor duPont, Leon deValinger, Claudia Bushman, Rev. William Miller, the Little Misses and Misses from Harrington and Felton, DPL of Harrington, Mayor Mann, Conrail, the Harrington Historical Society, the Senior Center Band, the Delaware State Fair, The Senior Center Chrous, Linda Gray and "The Band", the Harrington Jaycee Women and Jaycees, Alex Benson and the Silverettes, the Asbury Quartet, the Diamond State Twirlers, the Stoney Creek Stagers, Dover YMCA Aerobics in Action, Baldwin Organ of Dover, and "The Wranglers", the Harrington Public Library, Gene Price & Esther Grossi for the Open Houses, and Hardees. The craftsmen and others received certificates at the T&M Complex: Mildred & Carroll Welch, Sr., Wayne Watson, Joe Ward, Alexander Vogl, Beverly Turner, Janice Martine, Sally Bowman, Jehu & Lillian Camper, Raymond Dill, Charlie Hrupsa, Sharon Lynch, Mr. & Mrs. James Mervine, Calvin Minner, Claude Neeman, Mildred Williams, Mr. & Mrs. Edwin Reed, Gerald Savage and Steve Rogers, Susan & John Clark, Edna Mae Cooper, Shirley Lancaster, Barbara Page, Edgar Graef, Mary Hutchins, Tili Purnell, Steve Grusy, Bruce Betts, Kathy Blades and Karen Walsh, Bernard Coffman, Harrington 4-H Club, Virginia Jarrell, Delta Moore, Mary Lou Betts, Frankie Hendricks, and Country Flowers by Nancy. We received donations from the following, and have also presented them with a certificate of appreciation, the Harrington Historical Society, the Harrington Lions Club, the Harrington Chamber of Commerce, the CKRTPost #7 American Legion, City Manager Norma Short, Mayor Alfred Mann, the City Council of Harrington, Donald McKnatt, The Harrington Journal, Franklin Hendricks, Chicks of Harrington and Ray Gagne.

WAFB Radio of Milford put many hours into the beforehand coverage of Heritage Day, covering all facets of advertising for each type of activity that would be going on during Heritage Day, as well as live coverage through most of Saturday. Thanks to all businesses who advertised Heritage Day with them.

Now if I have missed anyone, it is certainly not intentional. I had my "secretary", Beth Jarrell, wearing out the bottoms of her shoes walking around with me as I wrote down names.

We will now be meeting within the next 2 weeks to point out the good as well as the bad, and head toward Heritage Day 1984. Anyone who would be interested in joining us, please give me a call.

Once again, it was all of you who made it a success. Thanks

The 1983 Heritage Day Committee

Five other out-of-staters have filed entries for the One Mile Tri-Oval Classic. From Auto City in Flint, Michigan will be John Doering and from Speedway 7 in Ohio will be Ron Watson, who will be campaigning the Speedway 7 banner right on the race car. Either driver has ever run at Nazareth National nor with the RSCA in the past. Not true for Bobby Kraus, the Sharon, Ohio champ and currently 17th in NNMS points.

The same applies for Hal Browning, U.S. 13 champion in Delmar, Delaware. No stranger to the NNMS victory lane is Tony Corcoran of Elginburg, Ontario, Canada represent Even Mills. From the home state of Pennsylvania will be Chuck Akulis representing Penn Can Speedway, however, Chuck also won the title at Five Mile Point in New York. Next door at the half-mile in Nazareth, local favorite Tom Hager owns the crown. Freddy Brightbill is the new champ for the MODCAR-modified organization winning the feature and taking command of the point chase at Hagerstown, Maryland.

Fifty (50) spots will remain open thru qualification with track champion guaranteed starters to fill the rest of the field in failing to earn a starting position. Time trials will be held Friday, October 7th, with Qualifying heats scheduled for Saturday, October 8th. Final opportunity in the consolations and the rich $50,000 to win main event is set up for Sunday, October 9th.

LF invitational results

by Keith S. Burgess

A kaleidoscope of colors occurred at Killen's Pond State Park, Saturday, when a record 24 teams, from Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey showed up for the 28th annual Lake Forest Cross-Country Invitational. Teams from as far away as the New York City area, competed in this harrier showcase, which featured a total of seven races. Perhaps the only athletic events, that are hosted by Lake Forest, that could compare with this annual fall classic are the large invitational track meets, that take place on Lake Forest's fine, all-weather track. One other similar event that takes place here is the state cross-country championship, which is contested here, whenever it is decided to hold that event below the canal. Killen's Pond's fine layout is the only course, in lower Delaware, deemed suitable for such an important event. That seems fitting when it is remembered that this area started cross-country in 1958, when only Wilmington-area schools had harrier teams.

dozen Spartans reached personal, home-course seasonal goals. And in the first home meet of the season yet! Danny Donovan was 9th in the varsity race, in 16.24, for three, hill-and-dale miles. Donovan erased James Lofland's 1981 clocking of 16.44, from the Spartan record book. Mike Melvin (11th, 16.33) and Danny Haines (13th, 16.39) also beat the old mark. Kevin Pelton (35th 17.48) and freshman Eric Payne (38th 18.) did exceptionally well, in only the second races of their harrier careers.

Kelli Pelton was seventh in the girls' varsity race, in 20.40 for three miles. Pam Pierce (12th, 20.55) Debbie Jester (13th, 21.14) Denise Donato (16th, 21.39) and Tara Gladden (17th, 21.47) presented the kind of closely-bunched, team finish that results in winning seasons. Sondra Warrn, another hockey player, did well, finishing 23rd. Kelli Pelton's first race ever at Killen's Pond saw her miss the Spartan record of 20.25 held by Tara Gladden by only 15 seconds. Denise Donato, a sophomore tyro and Debbie Jester, a junior veteran reached season's end goals in their home course tests of 1983.

The jayvee boys won their race by finishing five boys in the first eight positions. John Caskey, Mike Mosely, Shawn Short, Lafayette Bell and Mike Lamphier were third, fourth, fifth, seventh and eighth respectively. Freshman Brian Schurman was 11th.

The jayvee girls, seven in all, contributed seven, new, personal bests starting with Becky Brown's 11th place finish. The comely Mollohan twins Angela and Andrea are versatile athletes. They finished 13th and 15th respectively, in their first races. These are very fine debuts, especially when it is considered that, as hockey players, they get precious few chances to train for long distance running. Patti Drew, a sprinter, did well by finishing between the twins. Maria Kazlauskas turned in her best effort ever finishing 16th. De De Castro and Carmen Soriano also showed improvement.

It appears that both Spartan harrier teams are heading for winning seasons, if most of these fit athletes stay fit, dedicated and eligible.

Sports Laffs

by William T. Ficka

Old-time Brooklyn Dodgers' manager Wilbert Robinson loved players who could hit the ball out of the park. He'd take a top slugger before any of the greatest pitchers in the game.

A scout phoned him one day. "I saw a kid pitch today," the scout declared, "He's got blinding speed, perfect control, a great curve and a fadeaway pitch that drops out of sight. Pitched a perfect game today. Twenty-two strikeouts. Only one batter hit the ball beyond the infield — a long fly to center."

"Forget the pitcher," said Robinson, "Sign up the guy who hit the long fly."

The ten-year-old boy wasn't allowed to go fishing unless he took his little sister. He returned that evening looking depressed. "I'll never take her again," the boy said. "Oh, she'll be quiet next time," his mother replied. "It wasn't the noise, Mom," the boy explained, "She ate the bait."

The new quarterback was put in the game with only one minute left to play. His team was ahead 14-13.

"Just run out the clock," said the coach, "Whatever you do, don't pass." The new boy ran one play and then, overcome by temptation, threw a pass that was intercepted by the speediest runner on the field.

As the speed merchant headed for the goal line, the erring quarterback took after him. Somehow the quarterback closed in on the runner, executed a flying tackle and brought him down on the one-yard line.

"How in the world did your boy ever catch mine?" the losing coach asked the coach of the winners.

"Very simple," was the reply, "Your boy was running for a touchdown. Mine was running for his life."

with a different starting gate. We turn our interests now to Kentucky for the next two weeks of Grand Circuit racing. Ralph Hanover goes this Saturday in the Tattersalls Pace worth an estimated $75,000.00. The Kentucky Futurity estimated at $125,000 will be on Oct. 7th for 3 year old trotters. Duenna and Joie De Vie are not entered....and you cannot supplement to it.

At Delaware, Ohio during Grand Circuit week a yearling pacer Courton brought $51,000. He is by Falcon Almahurst who is the top Ohio producing sire. He was purchased by Dave Rankin.

Soccer

along with David Marvel and Mike Rebeck are the only returning seniors this year. The Lake Forest soccer team lost 14 to graduation in June.

The JV squad held both Cape and Milford to closer terms, dropping the first game 2-1 and the second, 1-0. This from a really inexperienced team. Lake Forest backs up its football program with teams at the junior high and ninth grade levels. These are in addition to the JV program. The young men who get involved in the JV soccer program are, for all intents and purposes, real beginners.

This year, Buck has 36 players out for soccer, a number he sees as an encouraging sign. He expects the picture to improve as the season continues and the players gain more experience under fire.

Harriers

freshman Eric Payne and veteran John Caskey were next to contribute to Lake Forest's lopsided 21-40 victory. Other Spartans to run well were: Mike Mosley, Shawn "Mighty Mite" Short, Mike Lamphier, and freshmen Brian Schurman and Alvin Hudson.

The girls' team had an even easier time of it winning 17-42. Kelli Pelton, a two-time state champ, on the track team, as a freshman this spring, was the winner, in 17.53.

Hockey player, Pam Pierce, who runs cross-country when the ockey team isn't playing was a strong, second-place finisher. Debbie Jester and Denise Donato finished third and fourth with excellent efforts, as they held off Seaford's fine harrier, Lara Painter. Tara Gladden and Shirline Goodman were sixth and seventh, with Patti Drew, Becky Brown, Maria Kazlauskas and Carmen Soriano also running well. "Harriers of the Week" thus far this fall are: Kelli Pelton, Mike Melvin, Debbie Jester, Dan Donovan.

Don't be surprised to find a spider in your weekly newspaper. The spider is merely looking to see which of the town's merchants is not advertising. He will then go to that store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace!
