$6.2 million track project to upgrade Delmarva line "on-schedule"

PHILADELPHIA - Consolidated Rail Corporation is "on-schedule" on its $6.2 million project to upgrade its 136-mile Delmarva Secondary, which runs from Wilmington, Delaware to Pocomoke City, Maryland. The upgrading project, started in June, includes installing nearly 90,000 cross-ties and placing 59,000 tons of stone ballast to surface (raise and level) the track along the entire two-state route. Grade crossing rehabilitation is also included in the project, as well as removal of brush and other debris from along the railroad's right-of-way. Because of the track program, which must be performed during daylight hours, Conrail has temporarily shifted most of its train operations to the evening so that it can continue to provide vital rail service to its customers. When the program is complete, normal schedules will resume. Since 1976, Conrail has invested more than $22 million to rehabilitate its Delmarva lines, including the $6 million reconstruction of the Indian River Secondary Track last year. That Delmarva rehabilitation included the installation of 41 miles of welded rail and 340,000 cross-ties and the surfacing of 537 pass miles of railbed. The work is part of the railroad's ongoing effort to upgrade its 15,000 route mile system by investing capital resources where they will contribute the most to enhancing rail service to customers. "Maintenance of a sound track structure is essential to delivering reliable, efficient service to our customers," said Stuart M. Reed, Conrail's president and chief operating officer. "Our program ensures reduced shipment times and safer operations with operating cost reduction and improved equipment utilization."

Conrail moves a variety of freight traffic on the Delmarva Secondary, including coal, chemicals, feed, fertilizer, grain, raw food products and automobiles. The line, with its connecting Indian River Secondary line from Harrington, Delaware to the Delmarva Power and Light Co., at Indian River, is an important link to the rest of the nation for area shippers and for the three shortline railroads serving other portions of the Delmarva Peninsula -- Delaware Coastline Railroad, Eastern Shore Railroad and the Maryland and Delaware Railroad.

Houston Council to vote on West Elementary School tomorrow night

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

HOUSTON - The Town Council of Houston will hold a meeting tomorrow night in which the public is invited to voice their opinion as to whether or not the Town should lease the Houston Public School...now called West Elementary School of the Milford School District. The School District submitted a written lease to the Town Council for their consideration. "We are not happy with the wording of the lease in several places," said Town Mayor Richard Rollison. "We will have the meeting on Thursday night...November 10th and let the Townspeople come in and help us decide on the matter. It is a very important decision...one which will affect every person in the community...and I hope there is a turn-out," added Rollison.

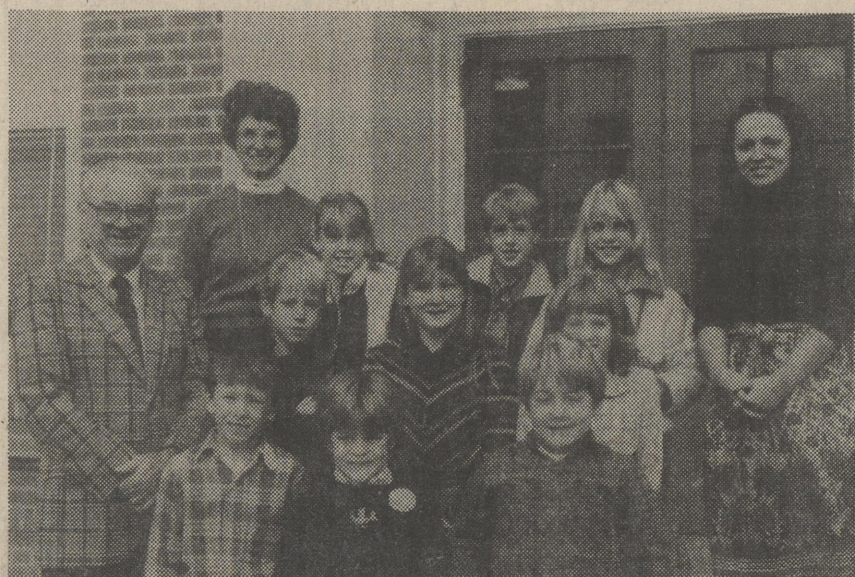

The lease makes the Town liable for the maintenance and upkeep of the building and grounds. "We also must keep $500,000 insurance for protection against people getting hurt on the premises," said Rollison. It (the lease) also calls for the Town to be responsible if the boiler breaks down...or the roof blows off. "It looks like once they turn it over to us...we are responsible for it", continued Rollison. The lease is for one year. If the Town turns the lease down...it will go to a 3rd party. "And the sole decision as to whether or not the lease has been broken is in the hands entirely of the School District. They can determine if the lease has been broken at any time through their interpretation of breaches of the lease," blurted out Rollison. "That doesn't seem right either", he said.

Ray Callaway, a resident of Houston and a private contracted mail carrier was approved to build a garage to work on his trucks. The permit is just for his private use.

Jim Webb Construction has begun blacktopping in the Town. He was allowed to amend his bidding and the job as well, because he suggested to the members of the Town Council that they should allow him to go as much as 8 inches deep on the shoulders to kill off the wire grass. "Otherwise it will come right through the blacktopping," Rollison said. It was allowed.

It was also pointed out that there were bad holes on Broad and Front streets.

Frederica Council makes plans for new legislation

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

FREDERICA - Last Wednesday night the Frederica council voted to ask the Levy Court to help them draft a comprehensive plan of planning and zoning for the town. "A zoning map is what we need for our community to assure proper balance and organization. We certainly do not want mobile homes down in our historic district", said Tom Wilmore.

The Town is also seeking $223,000 from government funds "...which will be for rehabilitation of 5 houses...and $104,000 for addition and renovations of the senior center", they said.

The Town fathers also passed a moratorium on residential building. "We had to do this because of the water lines. They dug up a line on Lowber Street this week...and the line there was only three quarters of an inch in diameter", a council person said. In some areas of the Town the water line is 10" in thickness. According to one council person, the best solution is for a 4" line. The next step then would be to upgrade the water system.

Felton Council to decide fate of Cherry trees

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

FELTON - It was a light night for town business on Monday night, but one resident Steve Childers appeared to inform the Council members that the cherry trees planted along Main Street were uprooting the sidewalk. "We were told when we planted them that the root system would not cause any problem to the sidewalk, but you see what is happening. Someone lied to us...that's all", said Mayor Bill Myers. The Mayor went on to say that the trees would have to come out, but the decision was to wait until the spring to pull them out.

The Council went into executive session to discuss "...certain phone calls...", which the Mayor would not elaborate on.

A matter concerning removal of leaves was discussed, because as the Mayor pointed out "...one day they will be on this person...and the next day on another person, and the best thing is to rake them up and bag them", he said. It was also pointed out that burning is against the law in the Town limits, "...but sometimes it is allowed, because there are some people who know what they are doing when it comes to burning leaves. For the most part, it is dangerous. You should have a water hose in hand if burning is going to take place", one person said.

Explorer Post 990 launches canned goods drive to assist Salvation Army

by David F. Coady

Explorer Post 990 sponsored by Troop 3 of the Delaware State Police, is launching a drive to restock the pantry of the Salvation Army for Thanksgiving. The Post is challenging Milford High School and Lake Forest High School to see which school can collect the most canned goods for the annual football game between the two schools. This year's rivalry is scheduled for November 18.

The State Police requests that students from the two schools start their collection of canned goods (no perishables) now. The State Police will send a truck to each school prior to the game to pick up the canned goods. The canned goods will be weighed prior to the kick-off of the game to determine the winner. The winning school will receive a trophy from the State Police to keep until next year's contest.

The State Police urge the student councils of each school to make banners to decorate the trucks picking up the canned goods. Canned goods will not be accepted after kick-off but will not count in determining the winner.

Young makes proposals to Governor's Task Force on Education

by David F. Coady

Mr. Frank A. Young, Principal of Lake Forest North Elementary School, made several proposals to the Governor's Task Force on Education meeting held at the Lake Forest High School Auditorium on Thursday evening October 27. The meeting, chaired by Lieutenant Governor Mike Castle, was one of several being held throughout the state to obtain public input on what should be the goals of education and how to finance the programs.

Among Young's proposals is one calling for counselors to be made available to all elementary schools in the state. "Our school has one of the three state-funded elementary counselor programs in the state and it has been very successful," Young stated. Young continued, "It is my hope that within the next year or two the Legislature will see fit to finance a counselor for ever 600 elementary pupils in every school district in Delaware."

Another proposal by Young was to make computers available to help reinforce "basic skills" at the elementary school level. Young claims the teachers would benefit greatly from having computers being made available to them. "This would assist the teachers in teaching reading, math and English," Young said.

Young proposed all-day kindergarten classes with kindergarten attendance being mandatory. "If anyone should question the advisability of five-year-olds attending school all day, they might wish to visit our Early Childhood Development Center for Exceptional Children. Children in this center are ages 3 1/2 to six years old and attend school all day. This has been a highly successful program," Young said.

Young also proposed a higher pay scale for teachers. He claimed many teachers are lost to areas that offer higher pay than is available in most of Delaware's school districts. Young claims that property taxes are very low in Delaware compared to neighboring states. "These taxes could be increased to help provide for more educational expenses," Young said.

Lieutenant Governor Castle seemed to be impressed with Young's presentation and asked to meet with him later for further discussions.

Simmons Cable TV to offer new services

by David F. Coady

On November 17, Simmons Cable TV will be offering its customers four more channels on their cable service. In addition to the channels presently available, Simmons will be offering their customer's Home Box Office (HBO), MTV, the Nashville Channel and the Playboy channel.

The new service will become available, at an extra charge, starting on November 17.

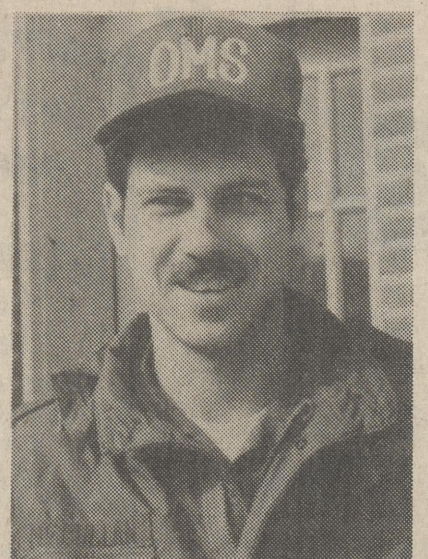

To make the new service available, Simmons is adding two more satellite dishes to their facility in Harrington. One dish will be aimed at the satellite Westar V while the second dish will be aimed at the satellite Satcom IV. Work has already begun to install the dishes. Simmons rents the land where its satellite dishes are located from the City of Harrington.

Girard pleased with Grand Opening

HARRINGTON - Girard Bank Delaware opened a branch office in Harrington last Monday, and over 60 new customers opened accounts at the new office. "Last week we gave away $500 in cash through the George machine and we had tons of inquiries about our savings accounts", said Lee Walls the branch resident manager. He also added that top management was well pleased with the way things are going.

Walls said the Bank might have used several reasons for locating in Harrington. "I think the number of accounts at the Milford branch from Harrington was a good indication that we should be here, and the fact that the location placed us at a major crossroads (U.S. 13 and Route 14)," he added. The automatic teller machine...called George...has been a major attraction to new customers from the area. "You can draw cash from your account 24 hours a day...so long as you have money in your account, but I think this has been a big plus for us here", he said.

The hours at the bank branch are 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, which again according to Walls has been most pleasing to customers. He added that the new

New forklift business in Harrington

by William T. Ficka

Lift Parts and Services of Delmarva, a one-stop headquarters for forklift truck sales and repairs, is a new business in town.

Located at 24 Clark St., Harrington, the company opened its doors to the public on August 15.

"Business has been good, very good," said David Parish of Salisbury, manager of the lift part repair and service shop. Parish has been with the business nine years.

Their parent company is A.P. Isakson, pipeline specialists, in Salisbury. The two branches employ 35 people.

The firm was the first on the Eastern Shore to do repair work on forklifts, which they started seven years ago.

In addition to forklift sales and service, the company deals in other material handling equipment, such as handtrucks, conveyors and overhead cranes.

Two road trucks handle most of the repairs on the job sites. Major repairs are brought into the shop.

The Harrington shop covers the area from the C&D Canal to Seaford, and from Lewes to the Bay Bridge. The Salisbury branch covers the area from Seaford to Cape Charles, Va., and from Ocean City to Easton.

If the job site is within 15 miles of the shop, there is no charge for travel time.

The new business also buys, sells and leases all makes and models of lifts.

Among other features offered are Road "PM" Service, hydraulic hoses, industrial tires, tire press service, pick-up and delivery service, OSHA safety equipment, industrial batteries and chargers, pallet jacks and a 50,000 parts inventory.

Letters to the Editor

I AM SORRY
To: Editorial Department Harrington Journal

Dear Editor:

In response to the editorial written by Mr. William T. Ficka published in the November 2 issue of the Harrington Journal. I would like to say that, I am sorry.

I was the little guy characterized as the Sunday School teacher that "uttered nonsense." I guess it is true! I have been known to utter a bit of nonsense from time to time and there have been times that I have been sorry for what I have said or the way I said it. I am not in despair because I have noticed other folks that exhibit the same propensity. It may have something to do with our human experience. I am most sorry that what I had to say was so misunderstood.

I am sorry also that I and my church have been categorized as left wing. I dislike it and think it quite sad when people put up barriers and walls. I spent a good part of my life trying to break down my own battlements. I have found in my own experience whenever I come into contact with a person or a situation with open eyes, ears and heart, I come away much richer for the experience. Christ's public ministry is full of examples of breaking down barriers and developing relationships. Didn't Christ befriend lepers, whores, tax collectors and publicans? Even the hated enemy the Roman Soldier! To characterize a church that is in the process of genuine reform, to more closely live out and express the Gospel message as a "leftist movement", is to do the church and those that you influence a grave disservice.

I am sorry that some feel that the impact of the clergyman's "full-time job in giving us spiritual guidance" must stop at the door of the church. Is the Gospel message not to enter into the home, the hospital, the school, the abortion clinic or the White House. Christianity, to be effective, must be lived in every aspect of life.

Lastly, I am sorry for the pain, hurt and suffering expressed in his editorial. I feel the pain, the hurt, and the suffering. I want to relieve it some way, but how?

Perhaps if I be me, follow Christ as best I can, and be open to others, the healing will begin.

Just know now that I am sorry.

Bill Purcell
Greenwood, Del.

Reply to Purcell's Letter to the Editor

Of one thing we are certain.

Bill Purcell is sorry.

He admits that he "uttered nonsense," yet he goes on to state he is sorry "that what I had to say was so misunderstood."

If we had misunderstood this "nonsense" we may have, God forbid, thought it actually made some sense. Instead, we spotted it for the nonsense it was, and so labeled it.

Purcell is also sorry that his church has been "categorized as left wing."

Many commentators, far more knowledgeable than we, have written on this leftist or liberal trend within the church. And, not surprisingly, the most cogent criticism has come from other Catholics.

Father John H. Knox, a New York priest who has spent many years in Rome, Malcolm Muggeridge and William F. Buckley Jr., to name only a few, have all written well-documented reports on this trend.

We never said that "spiritual guidance must stop at the door of the church." We simply don't think it is the proper function of a church to distribute circulars telling us we should "beg for forgiveness for our cowardice in promoting aggression."

Forming political action committees for those who are interested is one thing, and distributing biased circulars to everyone, young and old, as they leave church, is another.

Many people, especially the young, are confused about the political complexities of the day. A circular of this type only compounds the confusion.

Remember, Moses didn't come down the mountain with this circular.

It was written by fallible human beings. But many people, again especially the young, will think if the church approves the circular's message, it must be the gospel truth.

Lastly we don't think we expressed

"pain, hurt and suffering" in our editorial.

But we did express surprise and disbelief that a grown man in 1983, after more than a half-century of Communism, still believes that you can do business with atheistic Marxists.

We are sure that Mr. Purcell is a well-meaning man with good intentions. But, as a Sunday School teacher, he must know that Hell is paved with good intentions.

Purcell had told us, "I may be an idealistic dreamer."

Well, that's all right with us. We have the utmost respect for both idealists and dreamers. We would all be a lot poorer without them.

But the idealism and the dream must have some connection with reality. They can't be based on totally false and naive beliefs.

Speaking of this false idealism, the late great journalist E.W. Howe said, "The Idealists are the advance agents of the Communists. Communism has never been able to get a foothold except where the ground has been prepared by years of activity of the Idealists. The Idealist begins with love, and his disciple, the Communist, makes it rape."

Alcohol, drugs and parental apathy

by William T. Ficka and David F. Coady

Two recent drug raids in Milford and Harrington showed that there is a drug problem in our area. The two statewide dailies gave only a few paragraphs to the raids which were buried on the inside pages. Most weeklies chose to ignore the raids altogether. Yet the drug problem in America is reaching epidemic proportions. It will not go away by being ignored.

A nationwide "Town Meeting" entitled "Chemical People" was held last Wednesday night. Educational TV channels throughout the nation carried the program while parents, educators and experts in the field of drug addiction gathered at schools to view the program and then hold public discussion on the problem. (Another TV program and town meeting is scheduled for tonight.)

At Dover High School only two parents were interested enough in the problem to attend the public meeting. Milford and Lake Forest School Districts' joint venture proved a bit more successful. Twenty parents attended that meeting.

The one thing that the well-publicized town meeting proved was the parental apathy in lower Delaware. The ostrich-like mentality displayed by most parents only makes the problems more acute. Parents must wake up to the problem and learn to spot the early symptoms of drug use and abuse, and join in a concerted effort to stop it.

Can it be that Americans have grown complacent about a problem that is both individual and social, that is destroying the lives of so many of their children?

We doubt that Americans have grown indifferent to a problem that has been described by knowledgeable observers as a plague and a contagious disease.

Given the facts and the ammunition to fight this menace, we think the people will take action.

The British ship Hetty was seized in Cape May, N.J. last week with a reported 11 tons of hashish aboard. We read reports like this week after week. What used to shock us, now draws only a yawn.

We feel that the recent drug raids in Milford and Harrington are only the tip of the iceberg.

And if we yawn at that, we are inviting disaster.

It is with these facts in mind that the Harrington Journal will start running a series of articles next week on the nationwide epidemic of alcohol and drug abuse.

Smile! I could not love thee, dear, so much - Loved I not honour more. "Lovelace"

Reverend Miller of Calvary Wesleyan Church was leader of Bible Study at Harrington Senior Center Monday morning. Virginia Smith was at the piano. Several hymns were sung by Marion and Roxanne Brown, Clara Judy, Juanita McClain, Ethel Holden, Clara West, Amy Poynter, Mildred Vincent, Tony Perrone, Mamie Adams, Thelma Legates, Catherine Donovan, Frances Wright, Sylvia Meredith, Cecil Meredith, Gladys Hill, Florence Minner, Jo Burke, Elwood Morris and Mary Sapp. Reverend Miller took as his study James, Chap. 1: Verse 16-17; Psalms 108: Verse 21. He said Jesus loves us. Believe on the Lord Jesus and you will be saved. The hour was begun with a prayer by Reverend Miller and ended with "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow" by everyone. The inspirational hour was enjoyed by all. Reverend Miller closed with a prayer. Thank you, Mildred.

No Jolly Timers Band practice Tuesday morning, a few sang, sounded good too!

Well, honey, you never know what the conversation is going to lead to at the ceramics table. Today Velma Whitley gave Edna Heiser lessons on peanut raising. It was hilarious! If you need to know any directions, we will fill you in! Velma used to raise peanuts.

Busy, busy, busy. I should say Bazaar Day is Friday, November 4, 1983. By the time you read this it will all be over, folks from near and far have been helping out.

Halloween party was fun, there was two masked folk we could not guess. Finally they were identified: Mary Sapp, as a perfectly delightful farmer who was diligently smoking a corn cob pipe. She was great. The other was Iona Draper, dressed as young, old lady, blonde hair, shawl and long dress and a cam (to protect herself I guess).

That was good too. They were great and made a lot of fun for everyone. Had witches brew (apple juice, with spices), devil's food cake, punch, cookies, crackers, fun, friends. It is so nice to have a friend around the place!

Hi Margaret, it was nice hearing from you. Lots of folk call me but rare is the letter, I remember you well, your friendship, with Viola was long, I too was friends with Viola and Madalyn.

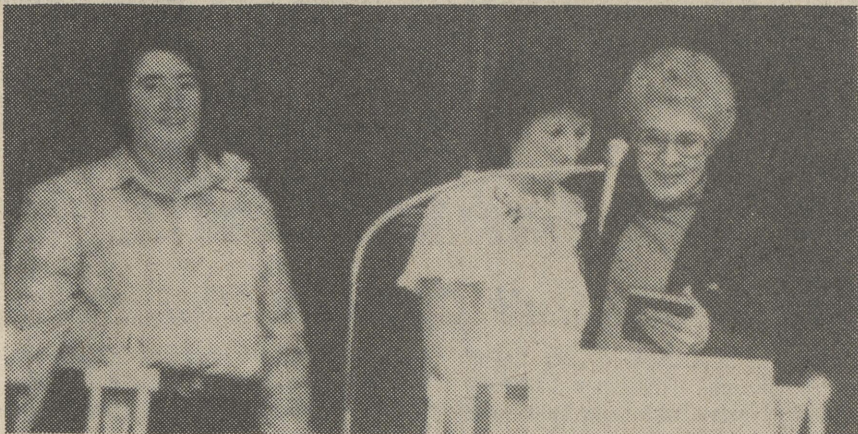

I want to say a very special hello to ALL out-of-towners. As you read this Mary Jo, I'm thinking of the lovely time your mother and I had at all church and other social functions. She was such a joy.

Wednesday was Card Day for me at Ruth Powell's. My, oh, my, we had fun! Refreshments, homemade pie with a most delicious melt in the mouth crust, "delicious! Coffee, candy and nuts. Mary E. Nelson, high scorer again. Blast the luck we did have fun though. Hi, Christine! Ruth had a beautiful, (from her garden), bouquet on her dining room table. Partaking in the festivities were Hazel Langrell, Ruth Powell, Dorothy Graham, Ethel Rapp, Mildred Wagner, Kathryn Smith, Virginia Willey and Mary E. Nelson.

Thursday we were busy getting ready for Bazaar Day. Such an array of ceramics and crafts! Hope you will have seen them by the time you read this.

Thank you, thank you, thank you so very much for the absolutely wonderful turnout at the Harrington Senior Center Bazaar, November 4, 1983. Thanks everyone for everything! The crowd was generous, food delicious, crafts as varied as you can get and ceramics galore. White elephants and plants fine. Hope you enjoyed the friendship of the Bazaar as well as all the goodies. Still have some nice things left, drop by and see, you will be glad.

Best wishes to all. Be kind to each other. Love and faith.

Mrs. Bass, leader of Viola Fire Flies 4-H Club, presenting Mrs. Marian MacDonald, "Kent County 4-H Agent," with a plaque for all her help in organizing the Fire Flies. It was also a token of good luck for her retirement. Marian will retire as 4-H agent in December.

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

We are still basking in the memory of our delightful vacation trip to Florida. Our first day there was Tuesday and it was raining. Dad immediately got on the phone and contacted the local Lions Club in Daytona Beach and found that they were having their luncheon that day, so he and Brother Jimmy went and enjoyed that. They received a warm welcome with a bit of good-natured humor about the Damn Yankees having landed! They exchanged news, traded pins for their collections and had a fine time. Meanwhile Sis and I rested, visited and sat on the balcony, watching the tide roll in and out and talked to the pigeons that came to us.

When the men arrived back, it had cleared a bit, so we went across the street to the gift shops and purchased some things for the grandchildren.

On Wednesday the weather was fine and we visited the Kennedy Space Center which took most of the day. It is so vast an area. Come to check I guess it was Thursday we did this, but no matter. On the way a small ad for a restaurant caught my eye. It said "All you care to eat for $4.50". I thought this very clever advertising. Not "all you CAN eat," but "All you CARE to eat!"

At the space center, we took the guided bus tour which was one and a half hours long. They described the Instrumental Center, the Work Shops and the Headquarters Bldg. and told us it required 11,200 contractors and employees. The largest bldg. is the checkout Bldg. and we also saw the apartments for the astronauts in training. We saw one of the little buggies or jeeps that were used on the moon. We saw the air force station where they told us the Columbia would be launched. We saw the launching pads and the big caterpillar type "creepers" that are used to move the rockets up to the launching pad.

On the tape they explained to us that these bus tours were operated by an individual concern and were not paid for at government expense. I thought, thankfully, that this is one place my tax dollar is not going!

The whole area covers some 140,000 acres. They are very concerned and protective of the wild life in this region. The American Bald Eagle is there, also ibis and ducks and racoons. There are deer and about 4,000 alligators. The green turtles come ashore to lay their eggs.

Betty Hill Ortali, [center, seated] of Kings City, CA visited her sister Marie Hill Currey and her brother-in-law, Franklin Currey who lives on the Milford-Harrington Road. Members of the Hill-Reynolds-Currey families attended the Sunday afternoon covered dish dinner at the Currey home. Mrs. Currey is standing directly behind her sister. Heritage Sunday at Barratt's Chapel

The 1983 Heritage Sunday observance at Barratt's Chapel, near Frederica, will be held at 3 p.m. on November 13. Although the occasion will mark the 203rd anniversary of the building known as "The Cradle of American Methodism," the service is being held on the eve of the Bicentennial Year of organized Methodism in this country.

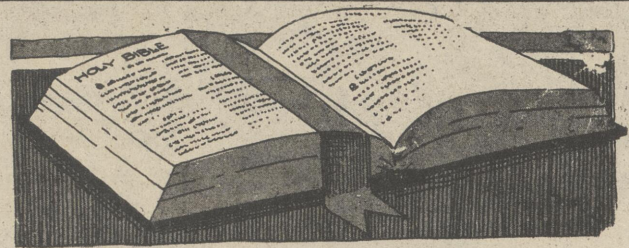

leadership of the Peninsula Conference - Commission on Archives and History. William R. Jones of Wilmington is chairman of the commission, and Dover District Superintendent J. Gordon Stapleton is cabinet representative. The Rev. Charles E. Barton, Jr., of Seaford is making arrangements for the program and reports that special music will be provided by the choir of St. John's United Methodist Church, Seaford.

Built in 1780, Barratt's Chapel is the hallowed meeting place where on November 14, 1784, Francis Asbury met Thomas Coke and together they planned the Christmas Conference held the following month in Baltimore. Out of that conference came the Methodist Episcopal Church in America.

The museum adjoining the chapel will be open both before and after the service on November 13. It is open on Saturday and Sunday afternoons throughout the year on a regular basis and at other times through arrangements with the curator, Allen B. Clark. Collection envelopes have been distributed throughout all United Methodist Churches in the Peninsula Conference to aid members and friends in sharing in the privilege of maintaining Barratt's Chapel, one of the Historic Shrines of Methodism in America. It is known that the celebration of the Bicentennial during 1984, and especially with General Conference sessions slated for Baltimore in May, will inspire tourists from the world over to include a visit to Barratt's Chapel.

Speaker for this year's anniversary service will be retired Bishop James K. Mathews of the United Methodist Church. Mathews was bishop of the Washington Area from 1972-80, immediately preceding the present bishop, D. Frederick Wertz who addressed the 200th anniversary service at Barratt's Chapel. Bishop Mathews, with a lifelong involvement in missions, was on the staff of the Board of Global Ministries when elected to the episcopacy, and was elected to the chairmanship of the Council of Bishops during his tenure.

Plans for the annual service are under submitted by Hazel D. Brittingham "Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth. 3 John 2. Expressed in everyday English, the apostle's wish for his friend was that his health and wealth might be in proportion to his spiritual condition. That could be a dangerous wish for some. In our success-oriented society, the business of getting ahead leaves little time for spiritual things. To have "treasures in heaven", is security at its best.

Riders fell Spartans 33-0

by Barbara C. Brown
One of the final plays of Friday night's Lake Forest Caesar Rodney football game found the Spartan ball carrier surrounded by four or five Riders in a stand-up tackle. The Spartans got nowhere.

That was pretty much the story for the game Lake Forest, playing better football than it did the previous Friday night against Sussex Central, managed to move the ball down the field. But when it came within striking distance of the C.R. zone, the Riders' defense proved impenetrable.

By contrast, Caesar Rodney rumbled to a 33-0 victory on Charles Kashner's 85 yard fumble return, TD's of 7, and 71 yards by Ventres Severson, a second quarter drive following a Kendall Wicks pass interception and a 90 yard, third quarter march capped by Ingram's 7 yard run. The Riders added three extra points to the total.

The Spartan defense was on the job, at times causing CR to lose ground. But at other times the impressive Riders sped away often breaking one or more tackles.

Winning the opening toss and electing to receive, the Spartans gave their fans some initial excitement as William Scott connected with Jerome Harris on a 54 yard pass that put Lake Forest in scoring position on the 19 yard line.

However, the elation turned to disappointment just moments later when the Spartans fumbled the ball, and Rider Kashner took it back all the way.

Missing senior running back Ralph Taylor along with several other valuable Spartans, LF quarterback Billy Scott managed to move the ball in a variety of ways - going to the air with passes aimed at Harris and Robert May, and getting some fine running efforts from Lionel Dixon, Andy LaSalle and Russell Elliott.

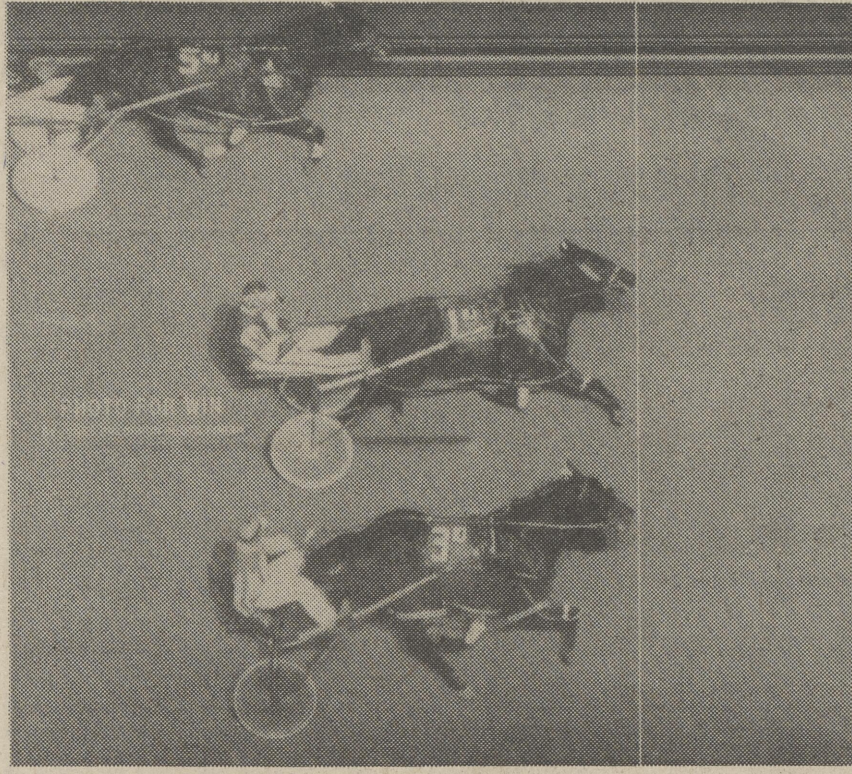

But Lake Forest could not move the ball that all important distance - across the goal line.

Two other Spartans were at least temporarily added to the injured list Friday night, James Hanes was hurt or shaken on a play and Lionel Dixon, who scored TD's for Lake Forest in the Laurel and Dover games, was sidelined with an ice pack on his ankle.

Lake Forest is now even at 4-4 for the season with two games remaining.

The final home game will be this Friday evening as the Spartans take on Southern Division Woodbridge.

The closer will be the annual "Battle of the Bell" at Milford on November 17.

Brian Manges, [1] reaches the finish line with H.C. Express just ahead of Meadow Rich [3] with C. McInnis with the reins in last time of 2:04.3 Saturday night at Harrington Raceway. Both horses came from way back to pour on a stirring stretch drive. Governor's Chance [5] got the show.

Hunting and Fishing on Delmarva

by David F. Coady

REPORT POACHERS: With hunting season underway, it is important to remember that we must preserve all game for future generations. The one person that gives all hunters a bad name is the poacher. This person must be dealt with to the fullest extent of the law. In Delaware, all fines received from the enforcement of game laws go to the Wildlife Theft Prevention Fund. The fund, established two years ago by the 130th General Assembly, pays $100 to persons who report a game-law violator that is arrested and/or convicted.

There are six violations listed under this program. 1.) Placing of illegal traps; 2.) Possession of illegal deer; 3.) The killing of any endangered species. 4.) Illegal sale of wildlife. 5.) Illegal possession of beaver or red fox. 6.) Hunting or trapping during the period of license revocation. Persons wishing to report any violators should phone 1-800-292-3030. If no answer you may phone the Radio Office of the State Game Warden at 736-4580.

Hunters should make every effort to police their own. One poacher gives all hunters a bad name.

BLACK DUCK: Remember the restrictions on the harvest of black ducks. They may only be harvested during the last of the three duck seasons. Be sure that you can distinguish the black duck from other species. The black duck is uniformly dark. The only noticeable white is the underside of the wing, which contrasts sharply with the dark underbody.

The belly of the hen mallard is light whereas the belly of the black duck is dark.

Going away, the mallard hen's tail feathers are light, whereas the tail feathers of the black duck are dark.

WATERFOWL FESTIVAL: The annual Waterfowl Festival in Easton, Maryland, will be held the weekend of November 11-13. This is the 13th year of the festival. The Waterfowl festival is a federally tax exempt waterfowl conservation education organization which has donated $570,000 to waterfowl related projects in its 12 year history. Ticket prices this year are $4 daily and there will be a new 3 day ticket priced at $10.

Tickets are now available at the following Easton retail business outlets: Albright's Gun Shop, Tieland Sporting Goods and the Tidewater Inn Tobacco Shop.

The week in Harness Racing--A Round-up

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

On Saturday night at Yonkers, Cam Fella, a Most Happy Fella stallion, won for the 23rd straight time in 1:57 on a cool, cool evening. He went to the top at the 3/4 pole and easily pulled away from the field. It's Fritz driven by Carl Allen was sent to the lead at the half... passed Cam Fella down the backstretch...but stopped long about the 3/4 pole. He finished 8th badly beaten. It was the Clash of the Titans, and the attendance was up 40% over previous Saturdays at Yonkers...with a crowd of approximately 12,500. Cam Fella pushed his earnings to $1,016,556 for the year...only the sixth horse to win $1 million in one year for standardbreds. Cam's career earnings now are $1,913,887 ranking him third on the all time list. He is $114,352 short of Rambling Willie's all-time record for pacers. Time is running out on the big son of Most Happy Fella, for he will retire at the end of this year.

There was a 3 year old stake race at Maywood Park for $100,000, and it was won by Desperate Lady in 1:58.2. It was the filly's 25th victory of the season. "She is the Perfect Beauty of Illinois", said one spokesman at U.S.T.A. She is by Rorty Hanover, an Illinois stallion. She was eligible for Illinois stake races...but did not race beyond that point. She has a record of 1:54.1 at the Illinois State Fairgrounds at Springfield, which was gotten this past summer.

Roosevelt Raceway opened on Monday night and will race through mid-January. The highlight of the meet will be the $100,000 Lady Maude Stake for 3 year old pacing fillies this Saturday night.

Dover Downs opens this Sunday... and Pompano opens this weekend. In the leading money winnings, Bill O'Donnell tops the list, but Jack Parker Jr. is 17th with $1,608,237.

As of November 1st, The Meadows now has a cable TV show to supplement their Call-A-Bet telephone betting system. The show comes on at 7:00 p.m. each evening, and stays on until 11:00 or 11:30, depending on the number of races.

Roger Huston, the track announcer, is the host of the show produced locally by Total Communications Systems. He will have guest commentators co-hosts assist him every night, which was the role of U.S.T.A. writer, Jerry Connors during the first two nights of last week's opening on the Cable TV. He also assisted in helping to set up some of the logistics of the show.

At Harrington Raceway, Walter Callahan is running away with the dash win category. Through November 1st he had 49 wins, but he has picked up several in the last four or five days. Larry Garwood up from Kentucky and making his first appearance at Harrington for this meet is in a close race for best percentage driver with John Lister. This will not be decided until the last race of the meet. Lister now lives outside of Harrington, winters here...and trains here. Both he and Garwood will be moving on to Dover Downs. According to Gary Simpson "...I guess our stalls will be filled again for this winter. We have had a lot of requests. On Monday night at Harrington, invaders from the north, James Dancer and Rheo Fillion were driving at Harrington. Dancer won with his trotting filly.

Format changed for Turkey Derby X

WALL TOWNSHIP - Wall Stadium will be making the tenth running of the Turkey Derby quite a bit different than the previous nine as track management has decided to change the format of the two day affair. According to track promoter Jennie J. Nicol, "With the show becoming larger and larger every year, we felt the need to expand the qualifying to two days to give all competitors a fair chance of making the show."

The new format will be as follows: on Friday, November 25th, the track will be open from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and will be used as a practice warmup session for all divisions. Then beginning at 2:30 p.m., three qualifying heats will be run for the sportsman and modern stock divisions with five cars qualifying from each heat. Following the sportsman and modern stock heats will be two qualifying heats for the all new strictly stock division. AT approximately 4 p.m. the track will reopen for a final modified practice only, closing out the day's racing activities.

The pits will then open on Saturday morning beginning at 7 p.m. A final practice session will be held from 8 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. The first of the modified qualifying heats will begin at 11 a.m. and will be followed by the sportsman and modern stock consolation races of which eight cars will qualify for each feature. The modified consies will close out the final qualifying races as the Tenth running of the Turkey Derby will be scheduled to go approximately at 2 p.m. In the event of rain on Friday, Saturday's schedule will remain in effect with the qualifying heats for all divisions beginning at 10 a.m. rather than 11 a.m.

The latest tally of modified drivers entered into the Derby has not topped the thirty-five car mark as Rich Rigby, Dennis O'Rourke, Matty Ricco, Bob Ehlers and Rick Sendzik have added their names to the list. Rich Rigby's year was a rewarding one as he captured his first career feature win in the RDB Excavating #7. Dennis O'Rourke has been steadily working his way to the top of the Modified ranks and will be entered in the Shrewsbury Liquors #96, a Flemke Raceworks chassis powered by a McBetts engine. Matty Ricco of Sweetwater, N.J. will be behind the wheel of the K&H Auto Parts #11 as Bob Ehlers of Keansburg will campaign the Ehlers General Contracting #36 and Rick Sendzik of Bricktown is entered in the Ray Mount #67.

Advanced ticket sales are at an all time high, and if you would like to reserve your seats before it's too late, the Stadium office will be open from Monday thru Friday - 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. The speedway hotline is 201-681-6400. MasterCard and Visa will be accepted for Turkey Derby tickets and for 1984 season tickets.

CAM 2 driver of the year named

NAZARETH, PA - Jack Johnson, the veteran superstar from Duanesburg, NY, has been voted the CAM 2 Driver of the Year at the Nazareth National Motor Speedway for 1983, it was announced this week by CAM 2's representative Wayne Carlson, of A-1 Racing Fuels, Middlesex, NJ.

In winning this most prestigious award, Johnson will receive a new 1984 $10,000 El Camino from CAM 2, a $1,000 Video Recorder from Vacarro's Video in Reading, $1,000 cash from the four tire companies involved with NNMS this year. They are GoodYear, Hoosier, Firestone and McCreary. A like amount in gift certificates also goes to Johnson from the six participating Speed Shops. They are Brightbill-Kreitz, Lawrence Engineering, Jumpin' Jack's Speed Shop, Central Penn Speed Center, Kneisel's Speed Sport, and Snookie's Speed Parts.

Although there were numerous legitimate contenders for this coveted prize, Jack was the clear cut choice. He competed in each of the 8 races that were held at the Racer's Dominion in the year past, and finished in the top five on 7 of these occasions, including 3 wins and 3 second place finishes. In all 8 races, he was never worse than 7th. His three wins, which led all drivers, came on the same day (Sept. 4th) when he won 3 of the 4-25's, finishing runnerup in the final race. For his outstanding efforts, the New York ace will take home $51,095 in total purse-contingencies in '83.

We dedicate this day, November 11, 1983, to all the brave men and women who have served in our armed forces. With honor and courage they have fought to keep our country free.

Let us all pause to remember them today and every day of the year.

Veterans Day - 1983

Veterans Day was first proclaimed by President Woodrow Wilson as Armistice Day in 1919. November 11 was selected for observing Armistice Day as it was the day that officially ended the "War to end all wars", "the War to save the democracies", "the Great War" - World War I.

Before Armistice Day became a legal holiday, it was marked by school children marching to the local cemetery to place American flags on the graves of those that had fallen. VFW or American Legion Posts would supply an Honor Guard and Firing Squad for the somber service and prayer. Others would mark the day by having a minute of silence on the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month.

A law was passed by Congress in 1938 to make the day a federal holiday. In 1954, Congress changed the name to Veterans Day, to honor all United State Veterans. From 1971 through 1977, Veterans Day was celebrated on the fourth Monday of October. In 1978, it was changed back to November 11.

In Canada, November 11 is a legal holiday observed as Remembrance Day. Great Britain still celebrates the day as Armistice Day but it is not a legal holiday. Most countries that were once part of the British Empire, still hold Remembrance Day or Armistice Day celebrations.

In the United States, special services are held at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington, Virginia. This year, in Harrington, a special service will be held at the Honor Roll on Commerce Street at 1:30 p.m., Sunday, November 13. CKRT Post 7 of the American Legion will supply the Honor Guard and Firing Squad for the service. Richard Drummond, Department (Delaware) Chaplain will be the featured speaker.

In view of the recent tragedy in Lebanon and the action taken on the Island of Grenada, every citizen, from Harrington and the surrounding countryside, should make every effort to attend this service.

We are the Dead, Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow
Loved and were loved, and now we lie in Flanders fields.

Birthday of the U.S. Marine corps November 10

by David F. Coady

Founded as the Colonial Regiment, Royal Marines on November 10, 1775 at Tuns Tavern, Philadelphia, the U.S. Marine Corps is the oldest military force in the United States. The Corps has fought in all wars involving the United States since the Revolutionary War. Traditionally an amphibious force, the Marines made their first landing in the Bahama Islands in 1776. Their most recent amphibious landing was on the island of Grenada. One stanza of the Marines Hymn goes, "From the halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli." Today the Corps is serving in Beirut, Lebanon and on the island of Grenada in the Caribbean. The Marine Band is sometimes referred to as the "President's own" because it plays at so many Presidential functions. One of the Marine Corps' many duties is to guard all American Embassies throughout the world. The Marine Corps is sometimes called the military arm of American foreign policy. Happy birthday and Semper Fidelis.

STATE TEACHER OF THE YEAR, TERESA G. CAREY
Teresa G. Carey, fourth-grade teacher at Frankford Elementary, Indian River School District, has been named 1984 Delaware Teacher of the Year by State Superintendent of Schools William B. Keene. The 35-year-old Millsboro resident was cited for her superior ability to inspire students with a love of learning and for representing the best traits of Delaware's 5400 public school teachers in a program organized by the State Department of Public Instruction. (submitted by Ambrose W. Hagarty, Department of Public Instruction).

School visits encouraged during Education Week

Delaware residents are being urged to visit the schools as part of the state observance of Education Week, November 13-19.

In a statement proclaiming the celebration, Gov. Pierre S. du Pont, IV, and Lt. Gov. Michael N. Castle invited Delawareans to "join our effort to improve the public schools as the secure and lasting base for the prosperity, progress, and happiness of the people of Delaware."

The officials said Delaware teachers, school administrators, and support staff deserve thanks for achieving the state's high scores in tests of basic skills and examinations for college entrance. But schools need help from the community, Gov. du Pont and Lt. Gov. Castle said, to improve student achievement in mathematics, science, and higher-level skills and in motivating all students to work up to their potential.

The back-to-school visits are being promoted by a coalition of major educational groups in Delaware's first statewide coordinated observance of the week in recent years. To help in the campaign, a video-tape has been made featuring citizen participation in school decisions in Delaware. The film, produced by the Delaware First Foundation, will be telecast throughout the state during Education Week.

Fifty thousand copies of a brochure reporting the status of the schools are being distributed. Civic groups will hold their meetings in public schools during the week, and school visits by senior citizens and other groups are being arranged.

Results from several testing programs measure the effects of recent improvements in instruction in Delaware schools, according to the State Department of Public Instruction.

In one of the nation's most extensive state testing programs, all students in Grades One through Eight and Eleven are examined each spring in basic skills in reading, writing, and arithmetic. In last spring's tests, state averages exceeded the national norm of 50 for all grades and ranged up to 62.7 for Grade Three. Averages for all regular school districts in the state also surpassed the national norm.

Delaware ranked third in the latest round of scholastic aptitude tests taken for college admission, judged among states in which at least half the eligible students took part, DPI reports. The Del. combined average for math and verbal ability was 900; the U.S. norm was 893.

Governor's Task Force on education to hold public hearing at Woodbridge

The Governor's Task Force on Education for Economic Growth will be holding their eighth statewide public hearing on Wednesday, November 16 from 7:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at Woodbridge Jr./Sr. High School. Everyone - students, parents, teachers, businesspeople, and citizens - is encouraged to participate. If you would like to reserve a time to speak, call Sheryl Rogers in the Governor's Office at 1-800-292-9570.

"Chemical People" draws 200 at Woodbridge

by Victoria Fidler
Close to two hundred people gathered at the Woodbridge Jr. Sr. High School cafeteria to view the "Chemical People" on Wednesday, November 2, 1983, broadcast from channel 12 WHYI in Pittsburgh. At the conclusion of the "factfilled" dramatization concerning illegal use of drugs and alcohol among school age youth, a heavy silence prevailed over the viewers as the "wall of denial" began to fracture. The realization that drug and alcohol abuse effects everyone in the Woodbridge School District was brought to light by a thirteen member panel of professionals and non-professionals.

Mr. John Sandy, Chief Deputy Attorney General, cited the fact that burglaries in Sussex County will diminish substantially when the drug problem in the area is confronted. Roberta Burns, M.D. explained to the viewers that adults are the role models youth follow. "I deal with 20-30-40 year old people who feel there shouldn't be any pain. That pain is something we take a pill for, including emotional pain; and are basically not willing to work through their problems, only to get them fixed with medication. It is easy to look at kids using drugs and say, we don't do that! But kids see that. Adults do take legal drugs for basically the same reasons that youth take drugs. Therefore, youth try this as a right of passage, reaching for adulthood."

Mr. Larry Ganster, counselor at Turnabout Counseling, cited the inclusion of relatives and friends of any young person using illegal drugs or abusing legal ones. An entire family is involved. Key club student representative, Ricky Short, stated, "I think the students were honest in filling out the survey last week. We have a real problem here, and I just ask all the students here tonight to go back to your friends and tell them about tonight and ask them to come next week to help."

Representing the parents of the district was Mrs. Sharon Tallent who prepared, reproduced and sent to parents, a survey to gain information about their knowledge of illegal drugs, and the facilities in the area equipped to help drug abusers. Response to the survey indicated a definite lack of drug education and an unknowing of services available to the public when dealing with a drug related problem. To better represent parents, Mrs. Tallent combined the input into the form of a fictional character, Herman, and presented the information to the audience in story form.

"Parents are expressing a concern about the prevalent use of alcohol and drugs by the children, but they just don't know what to do about it. Take Herman for example Herman is a character created from a composite of all of us put together. Both the situations and his feelings are found in our communities. Herman has been made the parent of an adolescent. He represents the prevailing attitudes that exist, and here is what he has to say: 'I try to talk with my child and be there for him, but he seems to feel that what his friends think is more important than what I think. When I try to tell him about alcohol and drugs he says I'm just trying to scare him. He says he doesn't feel anyone is doing anything that would really hurt anyone.'

I'm trying hard at home, but who is responsible when my child walks out the door? Kids have been seen smoking and drinking in cars in front of the school, and I know alcohol and drugs are readily available there. We live in a small community with little of interest to do, and I feel sure many kids use alcohol and drugs when they congregate to socialize. I know some of my child's friends have experimented, and my child probably has, too. The peer pressure may be too great for him to handle. But I'm afraid to confront him - he might get angry and retaliate by doing it more. I don't want to risk alienating him. Communication is already becoming a battle ground of confrontation and denial. He's often moody and goes off by himself. They say adolescents are like that. Just dealing with adolescence is hard enough! But symptoms of substance use can be so similar to adolescent actions that I get confused and wonder where natural chemical changes end and unnatural chemical changes begin. The only way out that I can see is to wait and hope that he outgrows it. Another parent tried to tell me the other day that my child drinks and smokes marijuana. Some nerve! He thinks he knows my child, and I don't? I became very worried and tried to talk with some people, but they didn't trust my judgment. I was told, "It's human nature - you can't do anything about it". Another person said I was overreacting - that my child is just experimenting and going through a phase. But I feel that I don't react when I should, and that it's getting worse. I don't feel I have a reliable source that I can trust to turn to. I'm afraid of going to a counselor because of how my child might react to the stigma it might put on him and us. I can't really afford it anyway.

TV glamorizes sleeping pills, beer, quick-fixes and turning out. Football stars get busted. I feel that it is all around, and there is nothing I can do to stop it. I feel helpless. The problem is too big for me to handle. I just hope that my child isn't too far into it."

Herman was not one of the lucky ones. One day his child did go too far, and the police were involved. At first Herman felt someone else must have pressured his son into it - and he blamed the police for picking on him. Then Herman threatened his child. But, inside, he was wondering if he were to blame, and his stomach turned over with guilt. At that moment he felt sure that he must be the only one with this problem - he felt he was all alone.

Was Herman all alone? No, because he is a composite of all of us together. But he had many misconceptions that needed to be cleared away - as we all have. A parent can be caught between persecution and helplessness, and he doesn't know what to put in between to deal with the situation. Parents, working together, must find ways to use the police, the counselors, the school and each other as resources. Most importantly, we need to form parent support groups. By changing prevailing attitudes we can develop a new community consciousness.

The bottom line is that we care about our children, and we have to communicate that by our actions. Once again silence of acceptance prevailed. The stunned audience reaction was broken by the personal testimony of a previous drug abuser, Ernie Wright. Mr. Wright, twenty-year old Bridgeville resident, challenged the audience, "What are you going to do about this, I don't want my brothers doing drugs and things I've done, or to be subjected to the family problems caused by using drugs - and all the pain." After further testimony he suggested peer group counseling, stating, "They aren't going to listen to you, right? Get them (the students) together and let them talk to each other, someone close in age who has been through it and the pain related to drug problems. Students will listen to them." Guidance counselor for the school, Joanne Thompson, thanked Mr. Wright for his honesty and suggested that his ideas as well as those coming from the next broadcast of the "Chemical People" be forwarded to the task force that will be generated next week.

The audience was challenged by Mrs. Pam Quillen to "dissect their homes and try to determine what we need to change in our own homes and discuss next week concrete ideas to help the young people."

Vicki Fidler, coordinator for the "Chemical People", said, "We as parents, have an obligation to our children, non-parent members of the Greenwood and Bridgeville communities have the right to live in a drug-free area. No one is isolated from the affects of drug and alcohol abuse. It is a district-wide affair. Only when communities, such as ours, unite together can we reach our goals. Through the support of all civic organizations and youth groups in schools and churches we can take action. Please join us, November 9th at 7:30 for part two of "The Chemical People."

Milford man's pest control license revoked

The Delaware Department of Agriculture have revoked the license of 1 certified pest control applicator following an investigation into illegal practices.

The license of Dallas Veal, owner of All-Right Termite Control in Milford, Delaware, was terminated after Department of Agriculture inspectors learned Veal had used the pesticide Chlordane inconsistent with the label instructions.

Robert C. Berry, Director of the Division of Production and Promotion, said Veal had treated a home near Angola last August for termites and other insects.

"The owners family complained about the application procedures and we sent an inspector to investigate the charges. A soil sample analysis and on-site observations revealed that Veal had surface sprayed chlordane, and had used the chemical for insects not specified on the label," according to Berry.

Veal was given a hearing on the charges, and the decision to revoke his license was made by the hearing officer.

The chemical Gold Crest C-100 may only be applied by rodding, trenching, or a low pressure spray according to label instructions. The label also recommends the use be limited to subterranean termites.

Harness Racing opens at Dover Downs

DOVER, DE - Workers at Dover Downs have been transforming the facility from its summer long speedway configuration into its wintertime harness track mode in preparation for the Sunday, November 13th opening of the 1983-84 racing season.

The 18,000 lb. bridge, which allows the horses to reach the racetrack from the paddock and stable areas, has been installed in its place on the speedway backstretch and horses have already begun workouts in preparation for the 80-day meet.

Chief of Maintenance, Jerry Dunning has completely regraded and resurfaced both the main track and training track and the grounds in the stable area have been refurbished as well.

"The conversion takes considerable effort," reported Dunning. "The size of the facility and the way the engineers designed the auto and horse tracks creates some unique challenges from a maintenance standpoint, but everything is on schedule and we'll be ready to go on November 13th."

Ted Leonard, director of racing for Dover Downs, reports on abundance of horses requiring on-grounds stable space. "We have more than 200 horses over our stable capacity," he said, "and we'll have to ask the owners of these to locate somewhere off the grounds. On the whole, I think we're in pretty good shape for the meet and we'll be able to offer good quality racing to the fans."

After opening on November 13th, Dover Downs will operate Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday with an 8 p.m. post time; and will offer a 1 p.m. post time on Sundays. The season is scheduled to run through March 24, 1984.

Vern Crank

he scored 111 victories. He also accumulated 88 seconds and 83 thirds during his Brandywine Campaign and earned more than $315,000 in purses.

"I'm looking forward to competing at Dover Downs," said Crank, who is a popular figure with handicappers. "I think the racing surface is excellent and the fans have always been good to me there."

Crank was a regular competitor at Dover Downs in the track's early days, but he moved up rapidly in the early 1970's, and despite the setback to his career from a skull fracture in 1972, he went on to become a consistent winner on the Brandywine, Liberty Bell, Meadowlands Circuit.

Among his career highlights are his famous 1972 victory over Albatross behind upset winner Isle of Wight, and his many victories at the reins of the great Free-For-All pacer, Town Drunk (1:55.2).

"We're delighted to have Vern compete on our opening day card," said Dover Downs President, Denis McGlynn. "He is a top notch competitor and he will provide a lot of excitement for the fans."

After opening on Sunday, Dover Downs will operate on Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday with an 8 p.m. post time; and will offer a 1 p.m. post time on Sundays.

Bob Hassett operating the backhoe in the parking lot of former Peoples Bank on Monday, located the water line leak. "It was a small pin hole in an old service line," Hassett said.

So he wouldn't forget the number of sins, the old priest made chalk marks on his sleeve.

"I ran across the field and clipped a player," said the star.

The priest made a chalkmark.

"Then I kicked him in the stomach," added the player.

"You must learn true Christianity," said the priest as he made five chalk marks.

"Then I bit off a piece of his ear."

"Saints preserve us!" said the priest. Ten more chalk marks.

When the player finished, the priest had chalk marks up to his shoulder.

"By the way, who were you playing?" asked the priest.

"Southern Methodist," said the player.

"Oh, well," said the priest as he wiped off the chalk marks, "I guess boys will be boys."

"I may have lost to Joe Louis," former heavyweight champ Max Baer told another fighter, "But I had him plenty scared."

"Yeah," said the fighter, "He was scared he'd killed you."

The rookie running back streaked down the field, leaving five huge tacklers far behind.

"Where'd you get that blazing speed?" asked the coach. "When I timed you in the 40-yard dash, you were the slowest man on the squad."

"Coach," puffed the boy. "When you timed me in the 40-yard dash, no one was chasing me."

Spartan girls win loop run, boys are 2nd.

by Keith S. Burgess

Lake Forest's girls' cross-country team defended their Henlopen Conference championship, in a convincing manner, while the Spartan boys were runnerup to Cape Henlopen in the boys meet.

Both Spartan teams are coached by Jim Blades. The competition was held at Killen's Pond State Park on Wednesday afternoon. The state championship runs will be held at the same location, this Wednesday afternoon.

Lake Forest's Kelli Pelton was an overwhelming favorite to win the girls' individual title, but was unable to get much past the one-mile mark, of the three mile course, due to a foot injury. Spartan Pam Pierce had beaten everyone else in the race, but came in second to Woodbridge's Melissa Wilson, who had trailed Pierce across the finish line, in two other meets, this fall. Wilson a three-year-harrier, has been up and down, during her career, but was in fine fettle, Wednesday, running three miles in 20.22.

Pierce a hockey player primarily, has been a powerful, cross-country runner, though unable to practice much, with her harrier teammates. Pierce clocked a personal best of 20.44.

The other five Spartans ran very well in helping their school, to the victory. Junior Denise Donato was fifth, with a personal best of 21.20. Debbie Jester was sixth in 21.30, compared with a 23.09 in the same race last year.

Shirlaine Goodman, did a personal best 21.34, two minutes better, than last year and finished seventh.

Sondra Warren, another hockey player was 12th, in 22.29, three minutes faster than in 1982. Becky Brown was 13th in a P.R. of 22.21, three minutes improvement over last autumn.

The Spartan boys figured to finish second in the nine-team race and ran well enough to get that runner-up spot. Dan Donovan (10th, 16.45) Dan Haines (15th 17.08) and Mike Melvin (17th, 17.10) have held down the important top three spots all season. As usual they did the jobs expected of them. But, the other four Spartans had excellent performances, with three personal bests and one effort, (Kevin Pelton's 17.49) that missed by only one second. Bob Smith's (20th place, 17.13) was only three seconds behind Melvin and was an improvement of 25 seconds. Freshman Ray Powell, a born runner, was making only his third start, this campaign and his debut, at Killen's Pond. Powell was 22nd, in 17.16, just three seconds behind Smith. Ray ran this course once, last year, as a Chipman School runner, and was clocked in 18.30. Only 31 seconds separated the five, scoring Spartan runners.

Eric Payne, like Shawn Short and Powell, is a freshman, letter-winner, this fall. Payne was 29th, in 17.41, a new, personal mark, by 18 seconds.
