Mayor calls special session of City Council to settle dispute

by David F. Coady
HARRINGTON - Mayor Al Mann has called a Special Session of City Council in an effort to resolve the dispute between Councilman Curtis Melvin and Police Chief Carl McLroy. The dispute reached its height when Melvin, who is also Police Commissioner, walked out of an executive session of City Council that had been called to settle it. At the time of the walk-out Melvin stated it was his intentions to resign from City Council. At the urging of other councilmen, the Mayor called tonight's special session in an effort to "patch things up".

For the past several months Melvin has been questioning the administrative actions of the Police Chief. At one point City Council had backed Melvin by voting to order the Chief to follow the shift schedule that Melvin had prepared. Other points that Melvin has brought to the attention of city council include the inability of Harrington's Police Department to keep good quality patrolman, use of the more expensive of the two patrol cars and failure to supply the magistrate's court with a copy of the patrolmen's work schedule. Melvin also claimed that a packet of untagged marijuana was found in a former patrolman's locker and that a weapon which the police had confiscated was lost by the department. Police Chief Carl McLroy claims that many of the stories which are circulating about the department are either just not true or highly exaggerated. Citing the lost weapon as an example, McLroy claims that the weapon in question was a knife confiscated from the owner of a car that had been stopped for a traffic violation. The patrolman that had confiscated the knife was not academy trained. He failed to fill out the proper documentation for the confiscated knife and when the police department moved from Fleming Street to Center Street, the knife was lost. The patrolman who had originally confiscated the knife was at the police academy at the time of the move, and he is still at the academy for his training is not completed. When the owner of the knife came to claim his property, he was informed of its disappearance. He agreed to allow the police department to purchase a new knife and no charges were brought against the department for its having lost the knife. Chief McLroy further stated that the reports of finding marijuana in a policeman's locker is wrong. "We found a packet of untagged marijuana when we moved from Fleming Street," McLroy said. A thorough investigation was carried out and it is believed that the marijuana was untagged evidence. No Harrington policeman or former policeman is guilty of any criminal activity," McLroy continued. Chief McLroy believes that after things settled down at the Executive Session, the mayor and majority of councilmen have the best interest of the Police Department at heart. "I am the most optimistic about the future of Harrington's Police Department than I have ever been in the five years that I have been serving on it," McLroy said. McLroy admitted that we are having problems in retaining policeman but believes that with Council's help everything can be worked out. "We have a patrolman that is graduating with honors from the Police Academy but unfortunately we also had one that washed out," McLroy said. "Another patrolman is resigning with effective date of December 17 to accept employment in Virginia," McLroy continued. "One of us has to be right and one of us has to be wrong," Melvin said of the dispute. A Special Session of City Council is open to the public and council is allowed to vote on proposals. According to one councilman, it can be expected that council will vote to hold an executive session. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, December 7, at the new City Hall on Center Street.

Woodbridge Board cancels meeting

by David F. Coady
BRIDGEVILLE, DE - A scheduled "closed" Workshop was cancelled on Monday night by the Woodbridge School Board after parents and reporters claimed that the meeting was illegal. Several residents questioned the legality of holding a closed workshop session. "How can you vote to go into Executive Session when you are not even permitted to vote at a Workshops Session," was one question asked. With the board in one room and parents and the press in another room, but the door connecting the two rooms was open, conversations between the opposing groups was relayed by Dr. Pressley, Superintendent of the Woodbridge School District. The meeting which began at 7:00 p.m. started to break up at approximately 8:20 p.m. The Woodbridge Basics School PTA voted last week to carry on the fight to keep their school open. The PTA plans to appeal to the Department of Public Instruction in an attempt to keep the school open. They also are encouraging parents to contact their State Representatives and Senators and individual board members in an effort to save the school. PTA to fight on One parent, Barbara Chaffinch, has indicated that she plans to contact the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control (DNREC) to find out the department's view on having an additional 325 students use lavatory facilities which utilize a septic tank system. The Town of Greenwood does not have a sewer system and all homes and businesses utilize septic tanks. Other are questioning Greenwood's anti-trailer ordinance. When a local cannery wanted to locate a trailer park in the town for migrant laborers, the Town Council enacted an anti-trailer ordinance. The two statewide daily newspapers and the three weekly newspapers that serve the Woodbridge School District have all carried editorials or commentaries against the decision to close the Basics School. The Basics School fifth-grade was chosen as the best all-around fifth-grade in the state. The Basics School PTA was selected the best PTA in the state for the 1982-83 school year. The regular monthly meeting of the Woodbridge School Board is set for 7:00 p.m., Monday, December 12.

December 7th-Today in History

by David F. Coady
December 7, 1787 - Delaware Day
On December 7, 1787, Delaware voted unanimously to ratify the United States Constitution. It was the first state to do so and thus earn the nickname "The First State." New Hampshire was the ninth state, putting the Constitution into effect on June 21, 1788. Because of their importance, the fact that New York and Virginia had not ratified the constitution the union was still considered to be in jeopardy. A group had come into being opposing the new Constitution. They became known as the Anti-Federalist. The Anti-Federalist opposed the Constitution because they felt that it granted too much power to a central government. This group was led by Patrick Henry, Richard Henry Lee, George Mason and Elbridge Gerry. The Anti-

Federalist succeeded in having amendments added to the Constitution. These amendments became known as the "Bill of Rights." They originally proposed twelve amendments but only ten were ratified. The two not ratified included one that dealt with the size of the House of Representatives and one dealing with the pay of Congress. The debate on the Constitution led to the formation of political parties, the Federalist and the Anti-Federalist. Thus was born the "two party system" in the United States.

Last Friday a 10-wheel dump truck driven by Thomas Waddell ran the red light at the Felton light on U.S. 13 and collided with a car driven by Dorothy Summer of Felton. Summer was headed east crossing U.S. 13 southbound land when the accident occurred. The impact projected the Summer vehicle into the turn lane of the northbound lane of U.S. 13 where a school bus driven by Bonnie Warren was stopped awaiting the light to change. The Summer car came to rest against the school bus. Summer was transported to the hospital by the Felton Ambulance. Photo by HGF

December 7, 1941 - "Day of Infamy"
A surprise attack on Pearl Harbor by Japanese forces on December 7, 1941, forced the United States into World War II. Vice Admiral Chuichi Nagumo led a 33-ship Japanese Strike Force to within 200 miles north of Oahu. His carriers launched approximately 360 airplanes against the Pacific Fleet, under Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and ground troops under Lieutenant General Walter C. Short. The first bombs fell about 7:55 a.m. The chief Targets were the eight American battleships among the 92 Naval vessels anchored in the harbor. The U.S. had 18 ships sank or severely damaged, about 170 planes destroyed and suffered approximately 3,700 casualties. The Japanese suffered relatively minor casualties.

Retail sales up for holidays

Delaware retailers report strong post-Thanksgiving sales, topping off what has been an outstanding fall for most merchants, the Delaware Retail Association disclosed. Stories of the nationwide economic recovery are appearing to apply to Delaware as well. "Major retailers are reporting "pent-up" buying of big ticket items, like major appliances and electronics," said Paula K. Roy, Executive Director of the Delaware Retail Association. "These items include: computers, televisions, stereos, washers and dryers, refrigerators and stoves," she added.

"Apparently consumers who held back earlier from making these purchases now feel confident enough about their financial health to go ahead." Among other surges in sales are clothing items - both men's and women's. "The Christmas sales outlook is the rosiest it's been in a long time, and merchants are optimistic about the state of Delaware's economy," Roy said. Despite the low sales reports elsewhere in the country last year, First State merchants felt they "held their own". This tends to support statements that the recession did not affect Delaware as dramatically as other parts of the nation. The contrast to the outstanding sales records this year, however, demonstrates that Delawareans are generally happier and more comfortable with their income and buying power. The solid, steady growth in spending over the fall months is further evidence of a meaningful recovery. Generally, steady increases in spending are preferable to sudden surges, which rise - then fall - quickly.

National Drunk & Drugged Driving Awareness Week

The Delaware Office of Highway Safety commemorated the 50th anniversary of the Repeal of Prohibition on December 5th by hosting a reception at Buena Vista, Delaware's Northern Conference Center, to demonstrate non-alcoholic beverages with a Christmas Holiday theme prepared by chefs from some of the most famous restaurants in Delaware and the Playboy Casino in Atlantic City whose Executive Chef is a native Delawarean. Using the theme that "It is Alright to Offer Someone a Drink (If they are of legal drinking age), It is Wrong to Insist," Francis A. Ianni, Director of Highway Safety, said that "the 50th Anniversary of Prohibition was an appropriate time to remind Delawareans of the dangers of drunk and drugged driving." "Fifty years ago," he said, "the public stated clearly that drinking was socially acceptable. Today, the public, especially the public in Delaware, is clearly stating that drinking and driving are socially unacceptable. In a recent poll of 500 households in Delaware by the University of Delaware's College of Urban Affairs, eight out of ten respondents agreed strongly with the statement: "I believe that driving under the influence is morally wrong." Ianni offered six guidelines for those hosting a party during the holidays. 1. Always serve food with alcohol 2. Use jiggers to measure alcohol 3. Always have non-alcoholic beverages 4. Don't force drinks on guests 5. Stop serving an hour before party ends

Division of Housing and State Housing Authority

The Delaware State Housing Authority on Wednesday, November 29th, sold $32.8 million in Single Family Mortgage revenue bonds, according to Mrs. Frances M. West, Secretary of Community Affairs.

The bonds were purchased by a group of investment banking firms led by Dean Witter Reynolds, Inc. The net interest cost paid by the Authority is 10.5%.

The bond issue will provide below-market rate mortgage money to enable about 800 families to purchase homes, most for the first time. While the interest rate on the mortgage loans will not be calculated precisely for several days, it will be very close to 11.30%, according to State Housing Director, Robert Moyer. All loans made under the program will have fixed interest rates and 30-year terms.

The mortgage money will be available through 21 participating mortgage lenders beginning December 12, 1983. Five investment banking syndicates offered bids at the competitive bond sale in New York, Secretary West said.

To be eligible for the below-market rate loans, a homebuyer must earn less than $35,000 a year, buying a home that cost less than the purchase price limits that range from $57,100 to $75,800 depending upon type and location, and generally be a first-time homebuyer.

Under current federal law, bond issues such as this may not be sold after the end of this year. Legislation to extend the program's life is pending in Congress. Since its inception in 1979, the single family finance program has financed more than 4,200 homes in Delaware.

Delaware Development Office hosts S.B.A. meetings in Dover

The Delaware Development Office announced today that Fred Trescher, Loan Officer for the U.S. Small Business Administration's Wilmington Office will return to Dover on December 13, 1983 to talk to small businessmen about SBA financing options and technical assistance programs. The individual appointments will be scheduled between 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. for one hour at the Delaware Development Office, Richardson and Robbins Complex, 99 Kings Highway, Dover. According to Gloria Wenicki, Small Business Development Specialist in the Delaware Development Office, the only SBA office in Delaware is located in Wilmington. Small businessmen in the State's lower two counties often find it difficult to travel to Wilmington to meet with SBA officials. To ease this problem, SBA officials have agreed to meet with businessmen monthly in Kent and Sussex Counties.

To arrange for appointment on December 13, 1983, contact Gloria Wenicki at 302-736-4271.

Consumer clout under Medicare

by I.S. Levitt, District Manager Social Security Administration, Dover
There are two methods of payment under Part B Medical Insurance. Assignment - in which the doctor or supplier receives the Medicare payment directly or non-assignment in which the patient is paid directly. When assignment is used the doctor or supplier agrees that the Medicare approved charge is the total charge and then gets 80% of those charges (minus the annual $75.00 deductible, if appropriate) as a reimbursement. He or she can then bill the patient for only the other 20%. In non-assignment cases, the doctor or supplier can charge whatever they feel their services are worth. Medicare cannot set an approved charge. The patient is responsible for whatever the charge may be. But (and this may be worth remembering) in a non-assignment case the patient may submit an UNPAID ITEMIZED BILL and Medicare will send 80% of the allowed charges to the PATIENT. In other words, the patient DOES NOT HAVE TO PAY THE BILL BEFORE HE OR SHE CAN BE REIMBURSED. As the Medicare Handbook puts it, "you can send in the bills either before or after you pay them".

Prudent consumers should remember this rule and always ask for an itemized bill if the doctor or supplier refuses assignment. Questions can be answered by calling the Dover Social Security Office.

The People's Right To Know by David F. Coady

Federal pensions are trillions of dollars in the red

David F. Coady
Did you ever wonder what the pyramid represents on the back of your one dollar Federal Reserve Note? According to the National Taxpayers Union (NTU), it represents the great pension pyramid. In a recent feature story that appeared in "Dollar and Sense", the official publication of the NTU, Sid Taylor pointed out that the Social Security System has an actual deficit of $4.8 trillion dollars (the first level of the great pension pyramid). The unfunded actual deficit for the Military Retirement System is $662 billion (the second level). And last but certainly not the least, the Civil Service Retirement System has a $514.8 billion actual deficit (the third level).

I'm sure everyone can remember when speaking in terms of billions of dollars was mind boggling. Now we talk in terms of government deficits that are running in the trillions of dollars. Congress now admits that there has never existed a special fund to pay social security benefits from. Many had thought that they were paying a government enforced pension payment. It is now admitted that the social security tax goes into the general tax fund for the day to day operation of the federal government. Those who are now working and paying social security taxes are not even paying enough taxes to cover the payments to social security recipients.

It is obvious that Congress will never put itself under the Social Security System. Your pension benefits under social security will never make you a retired millionaire. But Congress is under the Civil Service Retirement System. Under this system Senator Edward Kennedy of Mass. has accumulated retirement benefits totaling $1,581,944 to lead all members of Congress in benefits. Senator John Tower of Texas will voluntarily retire to total benefits of $1,242,318. The following is a list of the top fifty pensioners in Congress:

Congress will continue to drag its heels on Federal Pension Reforms as long as they are the biggest recipients of benefits. The taxing public must demand positive reforms to the Federal Pension Systems in 1984 or put the various members of Congress into enforced retirement by voting them out of office.

Who speaks for the people?

by Richard A. Viguerie
Politicians in both parties have begun to use the term populism to describe their own orientation. On February 23, 1983, Congressman Tom Harkin (D-Iowa) announced the formation of a Congressional Populist Caucus that included 14 liberal Democrats, most of them from the Midwest.

Meanwhile, a group of House Republicans, most of them relatively young, have taken up the banner of what is called (for lack of a better term) "populist conservatism." Among the leaders of the populist conservative group are Congressmen Jack Kemp (R-N.Y.), Newt Gingrich (R-Ga.), and Phil Gramm (R-Texas).

Although populism is used by members of both parties and by liberals and conservatives alike to describe themselves, I believe that the term is used improperly when it refers to liberals like the members of the Populist Caucus, who would increase the power of the government over the lives of working Americans.

True populists do not seek to replace an elite of the wealthy with a bureaucratic elite. Instead, they work to break up the concentration of power in the hands of the establishment. They want to return decision-making to the state and local level and to the individual citizen.

In keeping with their belief that power is best entrusted to the individual, populists identify with the man or woman who works for a living. They do not ridicule his music, religion, or manner of dress. Populism is more than simply a political ideology; it is an attribute of character, because it takes humility for a politician with control over other people's lives to admit that he is no better than the people he governs.

Populists emphasize the rights of average citizens and defend those citizens against the establishment. They stand for self-reliance, decentralization, and open and responsive government. They represent the class of Americans variously referred to as "the little people," "the forgotten men and women," "the working class," and "the silent majority."

Today's populists do not repeat the errors of the People's Party of the 1890's, which mistakenly believed that a stronger central government would be an effective weapon against the power of the nation's elite. Instead, modern populists follow a tradition as old as the country itself.

In 1824, Thomas Jefferson defined the principles of populism when he defined the natural parties of mankind. "Men by their constitution are naturally divided into two parties. 1) Those who fear and distrust the people, and wish to draw all powers from them into the hands of the higher classes. 2) Those who identify themselves with the people, have confidence in them, cherish and consider them as the most honest and safe, although not the most wise depository of the public interests."

"In every country these two parties exist, and in every one where they are free to think, speak, and write, they will declare themselves. Call them therefore liberals and serviles, Jacobins and Ultras, Whigs and Tories, republicans and federalists, they are the same parties still and pursue the same object." Or call them, as I do, elitists and populists.

For decades the party of the aristocratic establishment has been in charge of the U.S. government. Repeatedly the people have placed their hopes in politicians whose candidacies were based on populist themes but whose terms in office were noted for preservation of the power of the establishment.

Today the middle class is eager for dramatic change. The working people of America want a champion who will stand up for them against those who abuse their power. The question is: Who will lead the new populist movement? The answer will determine the direction of American politics well into the next century.

Viguerie is the publisher of Conservative Digest and author of several books including The New Right: We're Ready to Lead [1980] and The Establishment vs the People [1983]. ## Letters to the Editor

Religious Persecution

Dear Editor:
We have reached a tragic day in America when Bible preachers and Christian parents are in jail for no other "crime" than that of doing God's will.

State educators of Nebraska are determined to crush any church that operates a school that does not place itself under the state educational system. The American Civil Liberties Union will defend Nazis, Communists and anti-Bible religions, but has done nothing to defend these Bible-believing Christians.

Churches near the borders of Nebraska have at great cost relocated over the state line in other states.

The government could not "break" Rev. Everett Silevan who was arrested and jailed four times. The state has now gone after the parents. We have a report that seven fathers are in jail and warrants are out for the arrest of the mothers of students.

Quality education is not an issue; Christian school students are testing well above their counterparts in government schools. Child neglect is not an issue; these parents love and protect their children. The state is terrorizing the children as they see their parents arrested and taken to jail. The state is guilty of causing great mental anguish to helpless and innocent children.

Heartless judges threaten to put mothers in jail, leaving their children without proper parental care.

The church pastored by Rev. Silevan has had its windows shot out. Law enforcement officials have refused to intervene or respond to calls for protection. A warrant is out again for the pastor's arrest. Another warrant is for the arrest of his daughter, a Christian school teacher.

Some parents have given up and placed their children in state or state controlled schools. Others have fled the state. These people have not had the constitutional right to a trial. They have not been charged with a crime. They have been jailed without due each with a zucchini cake. Then we went to Kathryn Smith's for dessert and cards. Tables were beautiful. Mildred Wagner had brought cute red and white hats for thread-needles & pins. Ruth Powell gave us a sweet smelling sachet. Kathryn brought a needlepoint greeting for our refrigerator. Truly a gala affair. Kathryn's dessert - a perfectly delicious coconut cake, good, good coffee and candy. Kathryn was high scorer. It was a perfectly grand party!

Thursday, crafts, ceramics, pies, cakes, cookie jars (Santa at a desk.) Tree napkin holders, ceramic kleenex boxes, rooster parade and napkin holders.

Make the holidays special, visit an old friend!

Flickering candle light, blazing hearths, bountiful tables - and loneliness.

Is this what the holiday season means?

Loneliness and holidays are frequently synonymous for many older people, according to Reverend Richard C. Stazesky, President of Peninsula United Methodist Homes, Inc. in Wilmington.

The period from Thanksgiving through New Year's is an especially busy time for most people. In trying to keep pace with a hectic holiday schedule and adhere to a demanding social calendar, many well-intentioned Americans will simply overlook the special needs of elderly relatives and friends during this time of year, notes Stazesky.

Yet during this season many older people are most vulnerable to loneliness and depression as they are bombarded, through television, newspapers and magazines, by reminders of earlier, merrier times when they themselves were at the center of holiday festivities and gatherings of loved ones.

Reverend Stazesky points out that most residents of nursing homes are in their eighties, while many elderly who live in independent housing or retirement communities are in their mid-seventies or older. Many of their friends have died, some of their own children themselves advanced in age, may already have died or are not able to visit frequently or easily.

It is easy for these people to be forgotten when so many other attractions vie for our attention and time toward the close of the year.

Peninsula United Methodist Homes, Inc., a member of the American Association of Homes for the Aging, the national organization of non-profit homes and services for the elderly, urges the public to "Visit An Older Friend!" during this holiday season. Remember a relative or friend not seen for a while. Or stop by a nursing home, senior citizen housing complex, or retirement community and ask to spend a little time with someone who especially needs to be reminded that someone cares.

You may wish to give that old friend a gift. Reverend Stazesky commented that some items are always appreciated by the old, such as toothbrushes and tooth paste, twenty-cent stamps, all-occasion greeting cards, magnifying glasses, shaving items (but no safety razors), pajamas or nightgowns, hair nets (gray and white), stockings (size 10 and up, but no pantyhose), but Stazesky advises to refrain from giving candy. He points out, however, that no gift means as much as a little time spent listening to an elderly friend, holding hands, and opening your hearts to one another.

VISIT AN OLDER FRIEND THIS HOLIDAY SEASON!

Reformation Evangelical Lutheran Church, Milford

Dear Friends in Christ,

Our world seems locked in turmoil as nation struggles with nation. I personally have a great fear of a nuclear holocaust. I shudder at nuclear proliferation that seems oblivious to peoples' lives and welfare much less the caring of this planet. It is into this bleak picture that I welcome the Christ child this Christmas season. It is with this background that I pray come, Lord Jesus this Advent.

And, in spite of the indifference that I see all around, there is hope. Hope in the caring that takes place in the Christian Community. Hope in the celebration of God's promise of salvation. Hope in the person and presence of Jesus Christ.

The birth of an innocent, soft and warm child in a manger long ago causes me to live in hope and promise that we will not needlessly destroy each other. That the light shining around the world this season keeps the darkness from overshadowing our lives and the life of our planet.

Come, Lord, Jesus, into this troubled world. Bring with you new life and promise. Lift up those who are poor and suffering from the ravages of illness and loneliness. Raise up a new kingdom of love and brotherhood. Open our hearts to prepare for your coming that men and women and children everywhere will call on your name. Amen.

Yours in Christ,
Pastor Ranney
May the light of Christ warm your hearts, illumine your path, and fill the darkness of fear with his hope. Merry Christmas.

Delawareans in spotlight at Brandywine

Delaware horses and horsemen were prominent throughout the long 1983 meeting at Brandywine Raceway.

Perfect Beauty, owned by C. Delbert Cain and trained by Sam Matthews, both of Harrington, maintained her position as "Queen of Delaware Valley Trotters" racking up six wins during the summer including the prestigious Martha Washington and the Showcase trotting series championship.

First Staters Sam Belote (Bridgeville), Brian Manges (Harrington), Mark Daniels (Clayton) and Wilmington teenage sensation Bob Anderson, Jr. were ranked among the top 10 drivers for the season. Linda McNatt of Smyrna became the all time winning female drive in the state.

Newark's Max Walton, Jim Angelo of Hockessin and Harrington resident Del Manges finished high among the top five trainers with Bob Anderson of Wilmington among the top ten.

During the showcase Wilmington track's 31st season, Vern Crank, Jim Miller, Ross Hayter and Joe O'Brien and a group of promising newcomers created exciting moments during the 139 nights of racing.

Crank was leading driver earning his second title at the BIG B in eleven years recording 111 winning drives. Hayter was runner up finished nine winners behind.

Miller closed in a flurry to overtake O'Brien for Leading UDR Driver registering a sensational .461 average. O'Brien was second with a .445 percentage.

The youthful Linda McNatt became the all time winningest female driver at the track totaling 25 victories. Meanwhile, 17 year old Bob Anderson, Jr., spent the summer between his junior and senior years at nearby Concord High School, to become one of the fan's most popular drivers. His top horse was John Herve, trained by his father, Bob. The gelding advanced from the claiming ranks to invitational winner during that period.

As usual, Grand Circuit Racing made its only appearance in the Delaware Valley at the Big B but this time was divided into two segments. The 3-year-old division in early June and 2-year-olds were featured in August.

In the season's major event the $100,000 Battle of the Brandywine, Vankirk, driven by Steve Warrington, of Townsend, for owner-trainer Steve Heredy, established a new track record time of 1:55, for age, sex and gait, to take the 24th renewal of the classic for 3-year-old pacers.

The week before, Bill O'Donnell behind Jamuga, who was a scratch for The Battle and Silent Al in hand to Gilles Gendron, each posted 1:55.2 victories while Glen Almahurst - driven by Archie McNeil - took the third $25,000 Battle Prevue division, with a 1:55.3 clocking. Hall of Famer Howard Beissinger guided Hamilton RD to victory in the consolation event, the $25,000 Skirmish.

Mr. Drew won the $27,000 Gen. George Washington Trot in a leisurely 2:02.1 for brand new Hall of Fame member, Glen Garnsey.

Perfect Beauty, Queen of Delaware Valley Trotters, put on a brilliant performance fashioning a 2:01.2 triumph in the $28,500 Martha Washington Trot. Jammed at the first turn and off stride, driver Ross Hayter returned her quickly to gait, catching the bulky field of 10 rivals at the quarter. They followed in trailing position until the half when Perfect Beauty roared up on the outside passing rivals until she was four wide at the top of the stretch then mowed down the leaders in the final strides to win impressively thrilling her partisan fans.

Lucky Lady came on strong in the stretch for driver Dick Hogan annexing the winner's half of the $29,250 Betsy Ross Race.

During the week that featured 2-year-old competition, Baltic Speed was never headed in an easier than expected 2:04.1 score capturing the $21,500 George Wilkes Trot, for Swedish veteran Sorin Nordin. At season's end, the Speedy Somolli sired colt that trained at Brandywine most of the season was named 1983 freshman trotting colt of the year by the U.S. Harness Writers poll.

Sensational freshman filly pacer Scarlet Meema won her ninth race in ten starts taking one split division of the $37,000 Pocahontas Pace, with Hall of Fame driver Joe O'Brien in the bike, the pair never looked back, in a 2:01.2 conquest. Donald Dancer used similar tactics behind Perfect Rondevous for a 2:01.3 victory similar tactics behind Perfect Rondevous for a 2:01.3 victory in the other section.

The biggest longshot in Brandywine stakes history, 95-1 Scarlet Attraction streaked to victory in 2:00.1 winning one of the two divisions of the $38,800 Tom Hal Pace for driver Tom Sells. Governor Thunder and driver Jim King Jr., of Bridgeville, were clocked in the same time in the second division.

As now customary, Director of Racing Ted Leonard's program of numerous late closing events sparked the balance of the spring - summer meeting.

JEF's Eternity, with Lew Williams piloting, overcame the outside post and rolled to a 1:59 victory in one of the two $25,000 Graduate Pace divisions. The other featured a giant upset. Bill Herman was content to allow Ideal Tanner to follow 1982 Horse of the Year Cam Fella until the top of the stretch then moved out and won the duel to the finish line in 1:57.4.

Vankirk, Paulsboro and Cuckoo Clock were successful in divisions of the North American Pacing Series which made two separate stops during the season.

Among the other series highlights: Ima Gypsy (Jim Braskett) won the $12,500 Starburst Final. GE's Romanero swept the Stepping Stone Series taking the $16,000 final during a snowshower in 2:01.2 for Gary Ewing. No Pushover received a perfect drive from Donald Dancer to surprise in the $15,000 climax of the Princess Series. Melody Gi Gi, with Smyrna's Eddie Davis at the controls, was perfect in all her starts in the Starlet Series and won the $14,100 final in 2:00.2. Davis, Perky Fiddler, owned by Newark residents Anne-Lis and Bruce Saunders, was in rare form for Sam Belote copping the $14,800 Highlight Series Final in 1:57.4. Leo Harvey rushed Cullin up on the outside in the $16,350 Sidewheeler Final 1:57.3 victory.

Perfect Beauty was invincible sweeping the Showcase Series and the $12,700 trotting final in 2:01.2. Brickhouse won the other two trotting series. Per Henriksen was in the ebike for a 2:01.4 victory in the $11,300 Pioneer Final and registered a 2:02.1 win taking the $13,200 Progress Series Final.

As usual many of the top stables in the sport either were stabled or visited Brandywine in 1983. The Jim Miller organization won the Leading State Award outlasting the Abe Stoltzfus Stable in a contest that went down to the wire.

Ramsackle Dave finished the season as horse with the most wins, nine, for driver Whitey Moore of Wyoming.

The accent was on youth all season long with Ms. McNatt, Anderson and Moore becoming established figures at the meet. Also Wilmington residents Randy Rosenthal and Bob Winkleman, Dino Episcopo of Hockessin, Dover's Louise Mancuso and a talented pair of future stars from Smyrna, Joe Dugan, Jr. and Eddie Davis, Jr. showed exceptional promise.

As usual Delawareans, both horses and horsemen and women contributed a significant portion of the highlights at Brandywine.

The week in Harness Racing --A Round-up

Most Happy Fella dies

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

Most Happy Fella the sports top sire died Sunday at New Bolton Center in Pennsylvania. He was 16. He was originally operated on for a broken bone 6 weeks ago. He broke another bone on Sunday and was humanely destroyed. His fastest time was 1:55 (T.T.) and he had life time earnings of $419,033. The Meadow Skipper colt out of Laughing Girl by Good Time through 1982 had sired 262 in 2:00 or better. He was the sire of such notables as Cam Fella two time Horse of the Year, Silk Stockings, and Armbro Aussie, who was the fastest that he produced.... 1:51.4. He also produced the highest priced yearling.....Laugh A Day which sold recently in Kentucky for $625,000. Through 1982 his sires had won $46,953,213 and estimated in 1983 to top $55,000,000. He stood at Blue Chip Farm in New York. During his career Hall of Famer Stanley Dancer drove him to some of his greatest victories. He was the pacing Triple Crown winner in 1970, but was never elected Harness Horse of the Year. EDDIE TAKES OVER DRIVING LEAD

Delaware's contribution to the driving championship, Eddie Davis, moved to the lead this past Sunday with winning 10 races. He picked up 4 wins at Dover and 6 at Liberty Bell. He equalled his own record for most wins in one day. He has recorded 6 wins on one day.... three times. Davis now has 420 wins through Sunday. This Thursday night at the NASCAR(National Association for Stock Car Racing) awards banquet at the Hotel Waldorf Astoria.....yours truly will be there, stock car racing ace.....Bobby Allison, who is the 1983 driving champion will receive a check for $150,000 for the title. His winnings this year will total $600 and some thousand of which he will receive 40% of that.....plus a percentage of the one and half million dollar sponsorship. His sponsor for the 22 car is Miller Light Beer. I think harness horse drivers deserve some of the same financial rewards. Besides that harness racing is more dangerous. It is open cockpit racing. Auto racing got away from that a long time ago. If Davis wins the title....the harness writers at their banquet will give him a trophy. The last time he won it he never bothered to pick up the trophy. It was at Liberty Bell and he spent the night driving...which is what he likes best. Racing for the trophy. That's what they were racing for in the late '40's.....when I last followed harness racing very closely. But....I am not in favor of returning to those days.

Walter Case, Jr. trails Davis with 413 wins. He had three wins on Sunday at Monticello (N.Y.). The two will go head-to-head in 11 races Sunday night (12/11) at Liberty Bell, which is the closing night. Davis will come to Dover Downs and Case to Buffalo Raceway. CAM FELLA WINS AGAIN

On Saturday night at Pompano Park, Florida, Cam Fella with Pat Crowe holding the reins made it 27 in a row with a new track record of 1:54.1 battering Niatross's mark by 2/5ths of a second. His quarters were: :27.1; :56.2; 1:25.3 and 1:54.1. The Cam went wire-to-wire from the 6th hole in a field of eight. Super Bradshaw with Ted Taylor in the bike started inside Cam and raced 2nd all the way to the stretch. Bradshaw had turned in a 1:55 mile the week before at Pompano, but the field this trip was too much. Cam came with the big kick at the top of the stretch on the 5/8ths of a mile oval

Hunting and Fishing on Delmarva

by David F. Coady

SNOW GOOSE HUNTING IS RE-OPENED AT BOMBAY HOOK: Refuge Manager Don Perkuchin announced plans to re-open a portion of the Refuge salt marsh to snow goose hunting. The area re-opened is known as Money Marsh and Leatherberry Flats. The area was previously opened to hunting November 2-10 when up to 40,000 geese were concentrated in the area. The purpose of this hunt and the one held previously is to disperse the birds over larger areas of the Refuge to prevent them from denuding large areas of salt marsh vegetation and possibly causing long term adverse impacts within the salt marsh and surrounding areas. The November hunt successfully broke up the concentration of the birds and forced them to utilize more of the refuge marshes for feeding, however, they are now beginning to reconcentrate in their pre-hunt areas.

Hunting has been permitted since this past Monday, December 5 through Friday, December 9 from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset. At that time, a decision will be made to either terminate the hunt or continue it on a daily basis until the geese are dispersed. Persons interested in obtaining information regarding the proposed hunt should contact the refuge office at 658-9345.

HEARING TO EXAMINE EPA OCEAN INCINERATION PLAN FOR TOXIC WASTES: In his weekly column "Capitol Comments" Congressman Tom Carper stated that a Public Hearing is being held on December 7 in Washington, D.C. by the Subcommittee on Fisheries and Wildlife Conservation and the Environment. The Committee will hear testimony on the proposal to allow ship-based ocean incineration of toxic wastes. Two months ago, EPA announced plans to issue a permit to allow ocean incineration roughly 150 miles due east of Ocean City, Maryland.

One of the experts testifying at the December 7 hearing will be noted marine biologist, Jacques Cousteau. "Dr. Cousteau's assessment of the EPA's ocean incineration plan will make for interesting listening," Carper said in his column.

TIMMONS HONORED ON RETIREMENT: Samuel E. Timmons of Millsboro was honored recently on retirement after 13 years on the State's Advisory Council on Parks. Timmons was chairman of the Council for the past seven years. In a brief ceremony, the Governor presented Timmons with a plaque for his service to the State and the Division of Parks and Recreation presented him with a Certificate of Appreciation.

"The people of Delaware were very fortunate to have a dedicated individual such as Sam serving their interests. Not only did he make their desires known, but assisted the Division in accomplishing projects to fulfill their park and recreational needs," said Virginia T. Baker, acting director of the Division of Parks and Recreation.

Bobby Brown possible successor for Mac Phail

by William T. Ficks

Dr. Bobby Brown of Fort Worth, Texas, a former Yankee third baseman, has been named as a possible successor to retiring Lee MacPhail as American League president.

Forrest "Spook" Jacobs, owner of Mr Donut in Milford and former second baseman for the Philadelphia Athletics, said, "I think he'll be very good in the job. He's a very smart man. I didn't know him, but I knew others who were associated with him, and they all spoke well of him. He could have played much longer, but he decided to follow his medical career."

Brown was known as the "Golden Boy" because of the $50,000 bonus he received from signing with the Yankees in 1946.

Brown, a cardiologist, received his M.D. from Tulane in 1950.

In 1946, 15 of the 16 major league teams at that time were interested in signing him. Horace Stoneham, president of the New York Giants, was one of the interested parties.

Bobby's father nearly sent Stoneham into shock when he mentioned $60,000 as a signing price. When Stoneham recovered, he objected.

"All right, Mr. Stoneham," said the father, "How about double or nothing? If Bobby signs and makes good, you give us $120,000. If he doesn't make good, we get nothing."

Stoneham wasn't much of a gambler, so Bobby signed with the Yankees.

His lifetime record shows he played in 548 games and batted .279.

If only World Series records were considered, Brown would be a shoe-in for the Hall of Fame.

In 17 World Series games, Brown recorded 18 hits in 41 times at bat, including 5 doubles, 3 triples, 9 runs scored, 9 RBI, for a .439 Average.

Middleford Speedway holds Go-Kart Awards Banquet

by: The Stroke/

On Saturday night, December 3, Middleford Speedway held their annual awards banquet. At this yearly gathering many of the areas finest go-kart drivers and fans gather to socialize, dine with one another, and of course collect the spoils so richly deserved following the season long point battles. This year's event was well attended and enjoyed by all present as good food and good friendship was the order of the day.

In the Ladies Box Stock class the top four places were separated by less than one hundred points. It saw Donna Esham capture first place over Michelle Boone with Millie Bunting in third and Sandy Loflin rounding out the top four.

Next came the Limited Modified class. This was a new class this year and thus saw Punky Chism capture the inaugural point championship for it. Bruce Reed placed second with Arlie Wooters third and Jeff Melvin fourth. After Bruce received his second place trophy he showed what a class competitor and person he is as he presented a plaque to his sponsor and chief supporter, Jason Wyatt. Bruce acknowledged that without Jason's support he would not have been able to achieve what he did this year. This demonstration of unselfishness should give other competitors pause to think how much effort it takes to be a winner and how many people are behind a winning effort.

Senior Box Stock surely had to change its name from Senior "Mens" this year. True, George Reed did win this class but, finishing in a strong second place was a quiet but determined Millie Bunting. This lady put on a fine display of driving and surely will be a strong competitor again next year. Brian Murphy placed third with Butch Harrington in fourth. These two young lions, both in really their first full season of racing, showed many of the veteran drivers how to wheel a go-kart around the super fast high banked clay of Middleford Speedway. With this year's experience under their belts these two should be real threats to dominate this class next year.

"Constant Cliff" Foskey did it again as he made a total shambles of the point race in Senior Heavy Weight Box Stock. With feature win after feature win, Foskey was rarely beaten this season and garnered an overall points championship trophy as well for his efforts. Second place went to the man that won this class with Milford Go-Kart Club this year. I speak, of course, of Eddie Cain. Ed is a teammate to Brian Murphy and like "Murph" is also in only his first full season of racing. If Ed's late season charge to the front is any indication of things to come Cliff could find that defending his title will be quite a challenge. Mel Miller would up third with another rapid rookie, Ken Patterson, in fourth.

The fire breathing machines of the Unlimited Modified class saw Steve Brock come out victorious over Roy Rogers. "Little Ricky" Elliott was third followed by George Wingate in fourth.

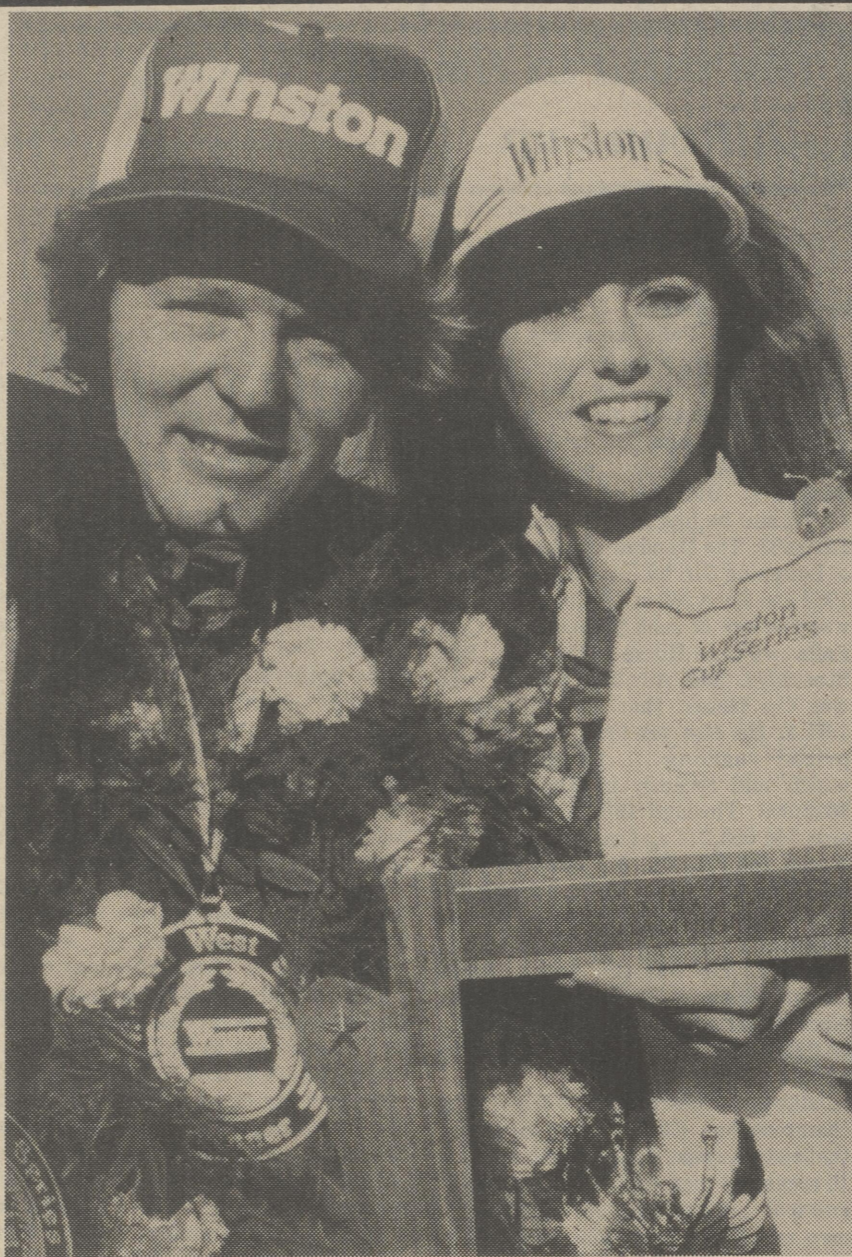

Senior Sportsman saw Steve Bunting emerge as the victor over the very fast Gary Giles Sr. Dale "Pepsi Man" Bounds placed third.

The class that was used this year as the beginning class for some of the fine drivers of the future was the Boys and Girls Rookie class. Dale Reed won this class with Billy Rementer in second. A very surprising third place finisher was Christy Willey with Vincent Stanley in fourth place.

Christy is a very attractive and friendly competitor who put on a strong charge in the last half of the season. Her third place finish overall was quite surprising in view of what happened to her early in the season. Christy was involved in a potentially serious accident during an early season race that saw her sent to the hospital. In the accident she was struck in the head by another kart resulting in her helmet being ripped from her head. She returned soon after the accident, started to be competitive, and soon was beating the best efforts of the rest of the young men in this class. Her return and numerous feature wins are a real tribute to the determination of this fine young lady. An accident like hers would end the career of many young drivers. Unlike the others in this class, who move up to the regular Boys and Girls class next year, Christy must go on to the wars of the Junior Box Stock class.

Rick Elliott outdistanced the field in winning the Medium Box Stock class. A last month blitz by Gene Cain saw him come from nowhere to tie Ronnie West for second place. Frank Marsh ended up third with Dale Blades moving into fourth.

In stock Yamaha Larry Bunting took home the first place honors. Emory West wound up second with Steve West third and Frank Willey fourth. Young Frankie, the older brother of Christy Willey, also showed well in his only outing driving a four stroke one night in Junior Box Stock. With sis moving up next year, do you think you can handle it if she beats you Frankie?

PHOENIX, AZ - Ron Eaton celebrated his victory in the "Sands Chevrolet 250" at Phoenix International Raceway with Miss Winston, Margret Claud. The win in the Sunday afternoon, November 27, 1983, event was Eaton's second of the season on the NASCAR Winston West Grand National Series. Winston West Series photo by David Allio.

The Open 2-Cycle class was won by Mark Givens with, "The Virginian", Billy Tatman second. Mike Lobo brought home third place honors with Bobby Sapp fourth.

If Middleford Speedway had a Beauty Queen to present awards to the race winners it would surely present a great problem in the Junior Sportsman class. The problem is this: How could the Beauty Queen present herself a trophy? You see, the lady with probably the best looks and definitely the best personality and most class is also the champion driver in the Junior Sportsman class. Looks, personality, determination, and a great driving ability can only mean one person, Becky Wheelerton is that person. There could be no better example for a young driver to follow than this charming young lady. Norman Short finished second to Becky but was constantly there race after race as these two had many exciting and close races all season long. Jim Pride and Kevin Darling ended up in a dead heat for third with Robert Brittingham rounding out the top four.

Charlie Lutes Jr. saw his early season success escape him as he was overtaken by Bobby Comstock for the winners laurels in Junior Box Stock. Young Charlie had to settle for second.

Rodney Petterman came in third with a tie for fourth between Josh Swain and Greg Darling.

The final class to be honored was the Boys and Girls Box Stock. This class saw Chris Walls fend off a feverish charge by Shawn Pepper to narrowly capture first place honors. This battle was so close that after a full season of racing the championship came down to the final race of the year. Talk about pressure and these two fine young drivers can tell you all about it. Allen Darling and Gary Giles Jr. rounded out the top four.

After all the awards had been presented there was nothing left to do except swap stories and look forward to what next year will bring. After the many exciting races of this season it is hard to imagine what 1984 will have in store for the large number of racers that were present. Will next year be better? Only time will tell.

Special thanks are in order for Jimmy Lambden and his cast of many who made all of this possible. Somehow he seems to make things better every year. So, till next year we'll just have to be content to do some bench racing and swap talltales. I hope to see many of you at the season opener in March at Barnesville, GA. Rumor has it that as many as two dozen local teams are planning to make the long haul to Barnesville.////

Sterling Marlin captures Champion Spark Plug Rookie of the Year award

DAYTONA BEACH, FLA - Sterling Marlin of Columbia, Tenn., who competed on the NASCAR Winston Cup Grand National circuit this season for the HESCO Exhaust team of Roger Hamby, has won Champion Spark Plug Rookie of the Year honors, NASCAR officials announced today.

In winning the coveted award, Marlin became the first Tennessee native ever to do so.

The son of former NASCAR Winston Cup Grand National racing star Coo Marlin, Marlin ran his first full year of competition in 1983. His best finish was a 10th place in the Mason-Dixon 500 at Dover Downs (Del.) International Speedway. He was the highest finishing Champion Spark Plug Rookie in 12 of the 30 Winston Cup races.

"I'm really honored to win the rookie title," Marlin said. "It's something we worked towards all year long. I really appreciate Roger Hamby giving me the chance to run for the Champion Spark Plug Rookie Award, and the hard work of the team all year long."

Marlin edged Trevor Boys of Calgary, Alberta, Can., driver of the Hylton-McCraig Chevrolet, owned by 1966 Rookie of the Year James Hyton of Spartanburg, S.C. Boys was the highest finishing Champion Spark Plug Rookie contender in eight Winston Cup events, his best finish being a ninth in the Wrangler SanforSet 400 at Richmond (Va.) Fairgrounds Raceway. Ronnie Hopkins of Greenville, S.C., driver of the Food Country USA Chevrolet, finished third in the final Champion Spark Plug Rookie standings, while Bobby Hillin of Midland, Tex., driver of the Trap Rock Industries Buick, finished fourth.

"We felt like we gave it a good shot, perhaps the best we could," said Boys. "Maybe if we had started a little sooner, we could have come a little closer (Boys' first race as a Champion Spark Plug Rookie contender was the Marty Robbins 420 at Nashville International Raceway, the ninth race of the season)."

"Still, we worked hard and feel pretty good about what we accomplished this season," Boys added.

Marlin came to the NASCAR Winston Cup circuit from Nashville International Raceway, where he was a three-time Winston Racing Series track champion in the Grand American Stock Car division. Marlin was voted as Most Popular Driver in the Grand American division nationally in 1981.

As Champion Spark Plug Rookie of the Year, Marlin will be awarded $10,000 at the NASCAR Winston Cup Awards Banquet in New York City, December 8, and has won a $1,000 per race sponsorship during the 1984 Winston Cup season. Champion Spark Plug also offers $500 per race to the highest finishing rookie.

Twelve modified drivers tasted victory in '83 at Wall

WALL TOWNSHIP - Wall Stadium, "The Home of Auto Racing at the Jersey Shore" had one of their most competitive seasons ever in the mighty modified division as twelve different drivers won feature events in 1983.

Tied for the most wins with five a piece were five time modified champion Gil Hearne of Jacobstown and Jamie Tomaino of Tinton Falls. Hearne behind the wheel of the Thomas Durkin #12 not only tied for the most wins on the season, but lead the modified contingent in heat race victories with ten. Tomaino recorded his five feature wins campaigning the Bill Graham #28, and ironically Tomaino was the runner-up in heat race victories to Hearne with eight.

Hazel's Ray Evernham had without a doubt his most successful season since joining the modified division as he recorded three wins on the year, the biggest being the Budweiser Crown Classic on Sept. 24th. The likeable campaigner was in the hunt the entire year for the track championship in the Bauma Farms #19, but fell a mere twenty two points short at the season's end.

Ironically, two of the four drivers to record a pair of wins in 1983 did so behind the wheel of two different machines. Jerry Cranmer of Chesterfield recorded his first win since 1975 on July 2nd in the Truex Racing #58. The Chesterfield Charger picked up win number two on July 30th this time behind the wheel of the Cranmer Racing #98. The second driver to win two features in two different cars this year was four time track champion Charlie Kremer of Toms River. Kremer came out of brief retirement to first capture a victory on June 25th in the Karakaris #84, and then won the Race of Champions qualifier in the Bill Graham #28 on September 3rd.

Even though Tony Hirschman of Northampton, Pa. was not a regular at the speedway in 1983, he definitely made his presence known as he walked away with the prestigious Garden State Classic 200 on July 16th. His second win came on August 6th and both victories were behind the wheel of the Frenchie's Auto Body #6 owned by Frank Courvoisier.

Tom Comerford of Neptune was plagued with bad luck throughout the 1983 campaign, yet managed to record a pair of wins in the Don Ling #66.

Lenny Boyd of Farmingdale had but one win in 1983, but it was a big one as he captured the Memorial Day Classic 150. For the former open cockpit chaffer it was his second 150 lap feature win in a row as he closed out the 1982 season winning the 150 lap Turkey Derby. Another Farmingdale resident, Tom Mauser recorded one win on the season, and it came on July 9th in the Welsh Farms sponsored #45. The win was the second in his career while campaigning in the modified division.

Roth announces Academy appointments

Two Lake Forest High School seniors have received nominations from U.S. Senator Bill Roth to U.S. Service Academies. Pairin P. Skaggs, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Skaggs of Felton has received an alternate nomination to the U.S. Air Force Academy and a nomination to the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy. Pamela D. Pierce, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Pierce, also of Felton has received an alternate nomination to the U.S. Naval Academy.

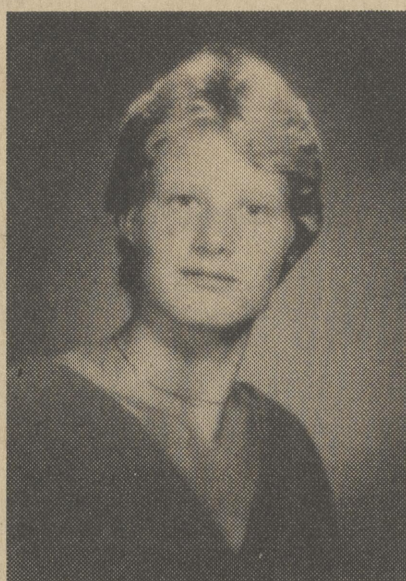

U.S. Senator Roth has the opportunity to nominate young men and women to the three major academies. His applicants are screened and interviewed by a twelve member Service Academy Review Board, who then make their recommendation to the Senator.

Pairin P. Skaggs is a member of the National Honor Society, as well as Lake Forest's Student Council. She was named to "Who's Who in Music" and received U.S. National Band

Awards in her junior year. In her sophomore year she received the American Musical Foundation Band Honor. Pairin served as class treasurer during her sophomore and junior years.

Lettering in four varsity sports, basketball, cross country, field hockey, and track, Pamela J. Pierce has served Lake Forest High School well. She has been an honor roll student and a member of the National Honor Society. Pamela has been a band member for four years and a member of the Student Council for three years. She was a delegate to Girl's State, 1983-1984, Class Historian and Miss Lake Forest.

High School juniors interested in applying to the United States Service Academies for July, 1985 should write or call the Office of Senator Roth, 2215 Federal Building, 300 S. New Street, Dover, DE 19901, 674-3308.

Congratulations Lake Forest High School

Lake Forest High School, Felton, Delaware, was one of only two schools in the state of Delaware, to sponsor students to attend A Presidential Classroom for Young Americans in 1983. The over 3,000 students who attend the Classroom annually from across the country are selected by their schools because of their academic achievement, leadership capabilities and interest in knowing more about how the United States government operates at the national level. Dr.

Margaret Phelps coordinated the students' participation in this educational program held in Washington, D.C.

Presidential Classroom recently recognized Lake Forest High School, for its initiative in supporting citizenship education. The school was presented with a certificate stating that it had been cited for its "dedication to improved understanding of American government."

The students traveled to Washington, D.C. for one week to meet with United States Representatives and Senators, members of the cabinet departments, White House officials, ambassadors, and leaders from the private sector, including those from the news media, public interest groups, business and labor.

Registration is now open for the 1984 Presidential Classroom. The class dates are as follows:

Class I January 28 - February 4
Class II February 4 - February 11

Class III February 11 - February 18
Class V February 25 - March 3
Class VI March 3 - March 10
Class VII March 10 - March 17
Class VIII June 16 - June 23

A Presidential Classroom for Young Americans, Inc. is a private, nonprofit, nonpartisan, educational organization, which was incorporated in 1968 in the District of Columbia at the recommendation of President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Booze and Pot make a bad mix

by William T. Ficka and David F. Coody

Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles on alcohol and drug use and abuse, mainly among teenagers.

Marijuana is second only to alcohol in popularity among senior high school students who reported psychoactive drug use, according to a 1978 survey conducted by Research Triangle Institute, under contract to the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA) and the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA).

Most of the marijuana users are also alcohol users. Among those who used marijuana in the year prior to the survey, 94 percent reported they also use alcohol.

Seventy-one percent of the senior high students who were heavier drinkers sometimes used alcohol and marijuana together.

There is clearly a strong association between use of the two drugs. Students who were found to be at greatest risk for driving when intoxicated with marijuana.

What is known as "potentiating effect" occurs when there is a combined use of both drugs; that is, the effect is greater than occurs in response to use of either drug alone. Thus, the student who combines marijuana and alcohol is more prone to a serious driving accident than the student who uses only one drug or the other.

Regarding marijuana, Dr. William Pollin, director of the National Institute of Drug Abuse, said, "While not everyone agrees on the implications of research into this controversial drug, one fact is indisputable: preadolescents and adolescents should not use marijuana. This is a period of intense growth and change. Regular use of marijuana can interfere with learning and development at a crucial stage."

Parents often feel stymied in their efforts to prevent their children from using and abusing drugs.

Peer pressure is a strong competitor to parental influence. Parents must also contend with subtle advertising, rock music and movies which convey the message to impressionable teenagers that the use of booze and pot is highly sophisticated.

Since the middle of the Sixties many rock many rock lyrics have carried drug-oriented overtones. Much of the psychedelic imagery in the music was exotic and poetic enough to disguise some of its drug orientation. Not many adolescents or their parents identified a popular tune like "Lucy in the Sky with Diamonds" with LSD.

Experts say that the parents are the child's main defense against the intense pressures to experiment with drugs. They feel that the family, the strains of modern life notwithstanding, is still a source of strength, especially for the young.

Popular TV programs among young people in recent years, such as "Little House on the Prairie," "All in the Family," "Happy Days," "Good Times," and "Eight is Enough" indicate a desire on the part of young people for strong parents and strong families.

Drug experimentation studies have not been made with minors and females of reproductive age because of traditional legal and ethical restrictions.

What information we have on the physical effects of marijuana has come from controlled scientific research on the effects of the drug on healthy adult males.

Much new evidence has surfaced in the past ten years.

Cancer-causing hydrocarbons are found in larger amounts in marijuana than in tobacco smoke.

Because marijuana smokers inhale deeply and retain the smoke in their lungs as long as they are able, they often suffer from inflammation of the lungs, chronic bronchitis and emphysema. Emphysema, according to a U.S. Army study, was observed in 18-year-old marijuana smokers.

Among tobacco smokers, emphysema doesn't usually develop until they have smoked between 10 and 20 years.

Disturbances in hormone levels can have serious consequences, especially for the young.

Robert Dupont, former NIDA director, at one time supported decriminalization for marijuana and was widely quoted as saying that marijuana was no more dangerous than alcohol.

Today, after the new evidence has come to light, Dupont no longer supports decriminalization and predicts that widespread marijuana use will have "horrendous" results.

Are there marijuana addicts? Richard Vigilante, in an article in National Review answers, "Well, there are American schoolchildren, hundreds of thousands of them, who smoke five or ten joints every day of their lives and devote very considerable portion of their time and energy to ensuring that they will have a steady supply. If that is not addiction, it will do until the real thing comes along."

Bridgeville teen is National 4-H Safety winner

James Williamson is one teenager you won't find careening down the highway at an excessive rate of speed. The Bridgeville 4-H'er has seen what recklessness can do, and he's trying his best to prevent further tragedies in his community.

James' outstanding efforts to promote safety won him a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago November 25 to December 2. He returned home with one of the six national awards in the safety area, an honor which carries a $1000 scholarship sponsored by the General Motors Foundation.

Eight years ago, when James joined 4-H as his parents and grandparents had before him, safety was not one of his particular concerns. He busied himself with electricity, woodworking, health and bicycle projects.

After giving a prizewinning demonstration on workshop safety at the 1977 Delaware State Fair, James realized that safety was a necessary ingredient in all of his 4-H project areas. That's when he added the safety project to his list.

He started by doing safety checks around his own home, making sure the fire extinguishers and smoke detectors were in good working order. He persuaded his parents, Jean and Joseph Williamson, to place a freestanding screen in front of the family fireplace, and to repair or replace hazardous items such as an iron with a worn cord.

As he gained confidence and expertise he moved out into the community, giving demonstrations on the safe use of kerosene heaters, wood stoves, chain saws, and lawn mowers.

In 1981 a tragedy shook James to the core. His homeroom teacher was killed in a bicycle accident. The following year another man was killed in a similar accident in front of the Williamson's home. In response, James went to Woodbridge Elementary School, where his mother teaches, and involved 150 children in a comprehensive bicycle safety program.

James also continued with some of his original 4-H projects, and is now especially adept at woodworking. He has also served as president of his 4-H club and assistant treasurer of Sussex County 4-H Junior Council. In addition, as a junior 4-H leader, he helps younger members with their 4-H projects.

Now a junior at Woodbridge Senior High School, James has decided to major in mechanical and aerospace engineering in college. This will give him the opportunity to apply the math and engineering principles he's learned in his 4-H woodworking project, as well as the safety principles that are now so much a part of his life as a result of 4-H.

State and National 4-H winners return from Chicago

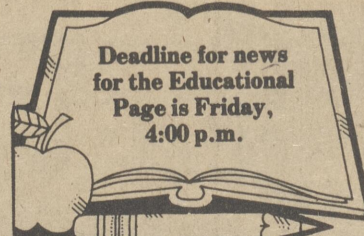

Twelve outstanding Delaware teens recently returned from a week at the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. Each participant was the state winner for one 4-H project area, as follows:

Andrew Durbin, Wilmington - photography; Dave Simpson, Newark - wood science; Cheryl Loman, Landenberg, Pa. - health; James Williamson, Bridgeville - safety; Amy Messick, Bridgeville - public speaking; Sheila Bass, Viola - fashion review; Deborah Wilson, Georgetown - breads; Laura Madara, Selbyville - dog care and training; Michael Arthur, Ocean View - conservation of natural resources; Carole Fleetwood, Bridgeville - leadership; Rebecca Farabaugh, Newark - food preservation; Mark Allen, Bridgeville - agriculture.

In Chicago, five members of the Delaware delegation were awarded national recognition. Cheryl Loman and James Williamson were named national winners, and each is entitled to a $1,000 scholarship. David Simpson was named a sectional wood science winner and second alternate national winner. Rebecca Farabaugh and Deborah Wilson were named third alternates. Alternate winners receive scholarships if first place winners do not go on to higher education after high school.

Greenwood Library News: Would you like to visit the Greenwood Library in the morning? Now you can! The Greenwood Public Library will be open on Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. starting November 30. A member of the County Library staff will be at the library to serve you.

Due to the library being open on Wednesdays there will be some changes, in the programs planned for the library. Starting on December 7, the after school movie will be shown on Wednesday afternoons instead of Monday afternoons. Also the story hour usually held on the second Tuesday of each month will now be held on the second Wednesday of each month. Please make these changes on your calendars.

Another important reminder. There will be free blood pressure testing at the library on December 20 at 7 p.m. Take advantage of this free opportunity for this service from a registered nurse.

For the time being, the Saturday morning movie time will continue with films on December 17. Time: 10:30 a.m.

Are you having trouble with finding just the right gift for the person who has everything? Perhaps a book or record given to the library in their honor would be an excellent donation.

Your library is constantly getting in new books. Stop in and select some for those long winter nights.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Hatfield accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bollinger and children to Lewisburg, Pa. to visit Gary's parents and brother and family for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Gab Fest

by Pat Hatfield

I hope all of you had as great a Thanksgiving as we did. I was deeply aware of the fact that there were many lonely people during the holidays, and I ached for them and wished that I could have done something.

We wended our way to Pennsylvania as we usually do and spent the holidays with our dear families there. It is such a joy to be greeted with such warmth and love. And, as usual, almost before we could get our wraps off, Grandma Bollinger was busting around fixing coffee and offering two kinds of pie...apple and Impossible Pie.

We had strict orders from the young Bollingers not to eat a big breakfast on Thanksgiving morning, because dinner would be served at 1 p.m. Well, Grandma tried hard, but she does not know how to fix a small meal. We did have grapefruit and cereal, but also toasted English muffins and three kinds of homemade jelly, bananas and doughnuts.

After dinner the men gathered in the Rec room and family room to watch football and the ladies relaxed in the living room and had girl talk and napped.

By five o'clock, while we were still groaning from being stuffed they went into the second feature of the day...the evening meal. This is an entirely new meal...baked ham, potato salad, big bowl of chopped fruit, leftover pie and turkey and always a luscious cake. This time Carole made a new recipe...ice cream cake. We brought the recipe back with us. It was heavenly. One spoonful and you are jus floating on Cloud 9!

On the day after Thanksgiving, Carole had planned a lovely trip for us up into the mountains to visit a little village called Boalsburg. In the village there is an old historic Inn and around the Inn, some of the old Victorian houses have been turned into gift shops which now were all decorated for Christmas. It was a shopper's paradise.

The drive up through the mountains was like a winter wonderland. It had snowed the day before and all through the Bald Eagle Forest the evergreens and the barren trees were all coated with the white fluffy frosting. It was just like Fairyland.

The little village of Boalsburg lies at the foot of Tussey Mt. and its streets were once the King's Highway to the West. It was named for the Boal family and is claimed to be the birthplace of Memorial Day.

We enjoyed luncheon at the famous old Inn, called Duffy's Tavern which dates back to 1819. There are usually three Inns to take care of the stage-coach stops, one for the gentry, one for the coachmen and wagoners, and one for the drovers. Duffy's is believed to be the one for the gentry. The 22 inch stone walls are solid as the day they were built. At one time the entire second floor was a ballroom with a hinged panel that was let down after the dance to separate the place into sleeping quarters, one side for the men and the other side for the women.

We enjoyed homemade soup for lunch (mine was French onion) and a whole loaf of homemade bread to slice and the best Butterscotch parfait ever.

Sharing is Caring

Sharing is the foundation upon which The Salvation Army was built and has stood tall for more than a century.

Although it provides a variety of services on a year-round basis, most people associate The Salvation Army with Christmas, its busiest season. That association began in 1891 when Captain Joseph McFee placed a kettle at the Oakland Ferry Landing in San Francisco and solicited donations in order to provide a Christmas meal for the poor.

Since that meal was served 92 years ago, the demand for such seasonal assistance from The Salvation Army has skyrocketed. Last year, The Salvation Army extended a helping hand to more than three million people during the holiday season. As the nation's economic crunch lingers on, more and more people are turning to The Salvation Army for assistance.

"The Salvation Army knows that for millions of Americans Christmas won't be very merry this year."

Your generous contribution to The Salvation Army will brighten the Yuletide season for the less fortunate and continue to work for them throughout the new year.

Jimmy Stewart
National Christmas Chairman

The Salvation Army refuses to be confined by categories or labels. It identifies the special needs of each of its clients and tackles them immediately. Ongoing emotional support is provided to all.

The dollars we contribute in Christmas kettles and by mail sustain this unique organization and make growth possible. Those who take time out from their hectic pre-holiday schedules to serve as volunteers quickly discover that helping their neighbors is an uplifting experience that enriches their lives in a way that no material goods can. What greater gift can we give than ourselves?

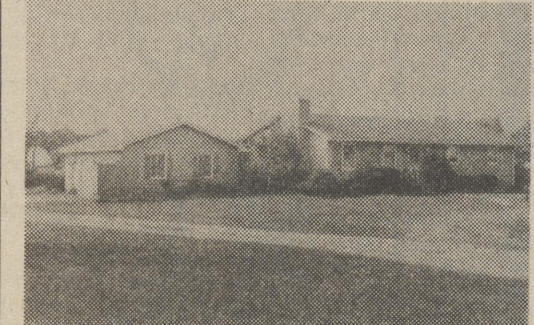

Imagine if you can what Christmas will be like for children whose families can't afford a decent meal or a toy, senior citizens who have no loved ones to celebrate with and those who are unable to find affordable shelter. Each year, Salvation Army members and the public unselfishly join forces to lessen the burden of those for whom such hardship is a reality.

Driving Awareness

Dover, Delaware, 19901. The Office will also loan Preliminary Breath Test Devices that can be used to check Blood Alcohol Concentration.

The University of Delaware Survey also showed that drivers grossly over-estimated the number of drinks they could have according to their weight without impairing their driving. Error rates ranged from 30% for those in the 90 - 120 pound category to a 70% error rate for respondents who weighed more than 220 pounds. To remind everyone to know their limits, free BAC charts are being distributed and a tape was prepared based on the tune of Jingle Bells to be played on local radio stations.

DASHING THROUGH THE ROADBLOCK

Dashing through the roadblock On a night not long ago, I blew on a PBT and I blew Point-One-O (.10% BAC).

A trooper took me in, Another test he gave, I was hoping that somehow My license I could save.

Oh! DUI, DUI, Is at Point-One-O If you choose to drink and drive, Your limit you should know.

The University of Delaware's Survey showed that 87% of Delawareans strongly approved of police roadblocks to catch drunk drivers in Delaware.

To reinforce the emphasis being placed on a crash free holiday period, representatives from MADD and Delaware State and local police were in attendance at the reception, and proclamations from the Governor and Lt. Governor and mayors of all Delaware cities and towns supporting National Drunk and Drugged Driving Awareness Week were on display.

Christmas Tree Lane at Longwood Gardens, Kennett Square, PA., features dozens of illuminated trees draped with 35,000 lights. The outdoor display provides a colorful introduction to Longwood's indoor extravaganza of poinsettias, decorated trees, and early spring bulbs. The 1983 display runs Dec. 3 - Jan. 1, 1984, 10 a.m. - 9 p.m. indoors, with Christmas Tree Lane turned on outdoors 5-9 p.m. For information, telephone 215-388-6741. Longwood Gardens Photograph

Sports Laffs

by William T. Ficka

The young priest was an ardent golfer. Every spare moment was spent on the links.

One Easter Sunday afternoon he was about to tee off on the first hole.

St. Peter gazed down on him, turned to the Lord and said, "Lord, it doesn't seem right that he should be playing golf on Easter Sunday. He should be attending to his flock."

"Don't worry," said the Lord, "I'll handle him."

The priest sent a mighty drive to the green. The ball bounced four times and then rolled slowly toward the hole lipped the cup and fell in.

"A hole in one," said St. Peter, "Is that how you handle him? That's no punishment at all."

The Lord turned to St. Peter.

"Whom will he tell?"

Silly Willy was on his first hunting trip.

"How do I know what to shoot?" asked Willy.

"Shoot anything that's game," said the old-timer.

About two miles into the forest, Willy was astonished to see a beautiful blonde sunning herself on a large rock.

"Are you game?" asked Willy.

"Yes, I'm game," cooed the beauty. So he shot her.

Gerald Ford, former president and one-time All America footballer, was also a zealous baseball fan.

Explaining his love of baseball, he said, "I watch a lot of games on the radio."

State Chamber of Commerce seeks Marvel Cup Nominations

The Delaware State Chamber of Commerce is seeking nominations from members for the Josiah Marvel Cup Award for Community Service. The award is made each year to a Delaware citizen who has performed exemplary service for the benefit of the state, community, society or fellow beings.

Individuals or organizations are invited to submit nominations for the award by sending four copies of a fact sheet, including the nominee's name and address and listing of major achievements to: The Marvel Cup Committee, Delaware State Chamber of Commerce, One Commerce Center, Suite 200, Wilmington, Delaware 19801.

The presentation of the Marvel Cup Award has been a highlight of the State Chamber annual dinner for more than thirty years.

The silver cup originally was presented to the late Josiah Marvel for his services in reorganizing the State Chamber during his term as president from 1913-1915. Marvel's heirs donated the cup to be used at the discretion of the State Chamber.

The annual dinner will take place on January 23, 1984 at the Radisson Hotel, Wilmington.

picking his knees high above his chest and came on like a run away steam engine. Armbró Aussie with Jimmy Campbell laid off the pace until the top of the stretch. He was fourth for most of the race but came on strong at the end. Armbró is a half brother to Cam, and the fastest colt by Most Happy Fella. Armbró Aussie was driven by Jimmy Campbell, brother of John Campbell. Cam now has earnings of $2,003,887 just shy of Rambling Willie's all time record. He becomes the third pacer to go over $2,000,000. His final career start will be this Saturday night at Toronto at Greenwood in the $75,000 pace....the Challenge II. A win will push him over Willie's mark, which is $2,038,219.

Moore with Keystone Gent was a big winner in 2:00.1 in the $7,000 pace.

On Roosevelt Raceway on Saturday night in the $25,000 Open Handicap Pace Baramore won in 1:59.1 for Jim Doherty with Shannon Fella, and J.J.'s Cornell followed them to the wires.

To those who know what I am talking about....I located Joe Hylan. He is at 527 George St., Norristown, Pa. 19401. His birthdate is June 28, 1892. He was 91 this past June. I remember Joe when he drove Time Table in the great match races with Pick Up driven by the Paul Vineyard. Louis Floyd is at Box 391, Exmore, Va. 23350. Louis was born April 12, 1912. It is going to be difficult to come up with a lot of statistics on the drivers of yesteryear because record keeping began in 1952, and the computer came along in 1971. We are closing in however.

The IRS has over $20,000 in undeliverable refund checks

The Internal Revenue Service is holding $20,985.16 in undeliverable refund checks due 73 Delaware residents that were returned by the U.S. Postal Service in 1983. The amount of unclaimed checks range from $3,783.00 to $7.26.

The most common reason for a check to be returned as undeliverable is the fact that when some people move, they fail to leave a forwarding address with the postal authorities. Poor handwriting can also contribute to this problem; the peel-off label that comes with the tax package actually does expedite refund delivery.

Taxpayers on the attached list should call the IRS at 573-6400 in the Wilmington area (elsewhere in the state 8-800-424-1040) to claim their refund.
