Annual citizens meeting and election to be held at 110 Center St.

The Annual Citizen's Meeting will be held on January 6, 1984 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting is to take place at City Hall, 110 Center St. At this meeting the mayor will give a "state of the city" report and candidates for City Council will be introduced to the public. The election for councilmen will be on January 10, 1984. City Hall was chosen as the polling station for this election.

On a motion by Councilman Ray Gagne, City Council appointed an election board. The board will consist of: City Manager Norma Short, Councilmen Jack Wyatt, Richard Henry and Lawrence Price. Details of the election will be made public by the election board when everything is worked out.

City Council chose December 28 as the date for a Public Hearing on the proposed Townhouse project for Peck Avenue. The twelve one bedroom units and twenty-eight two bedroom units will be built by John P. Seymour, Inc. of Salisbury, Maryland if approval is granted by City Council. The Townhouses are designed for moderate income families. A spokesman for Seymour said he envisioned an income of between $11,000 and $20,000 as guidelines for moderate income. The Public Hearing will be at City Hall. Spokesman for John P. Seymour, Inc. will be available at the 8:00 p.m. meeting to answer questions from the public.

Following the December 28 Public Meeting, City Council will meet with the members of the city's Planning and Zoning Committee to discuss guidelines and procedures for future zoning requests. The City Council went into Executive Session twice while discussing proposals dealing with Harrington's Police Department. Chief McLroy presented City Council with a letter containing seven guidelines when the Chief feels he should be paid overtime. The problem has arisen because of the shortage of personnel on Harrington's Police Force. Chief McLroy must double as the Department's Administrative Officer and as patrolman. After an Executive Session, City Council voted to hold further discussions before making a final decision on the Chief's request.

Another request by Chief McLroy was approved. The Chief requested that he be given 15 days pay in lieu of leave. Councilman Ray Gagne pointed out that City Council had three choices on the matter. Pay the chief, allow the chief to go on leave while the police department is short of personnel or have the Chief lose his leave altogether. After a short discussion City Council voted to pay Chief McLroy.

Mayor Al Mann read a resolution commending one of Harrington's Policemen for distinguishing himself and the City at the State Police Academy. The resolution congratulated Patrolman (Guillermo (Bill) Flores, Jr. for having received the Superintendent's Award as Outstanding Recruit, receiving the Outstanding Shooters Award and being honored by his peers by being selected, by them, to present the Class Speech at the Commencement

Program. "I am proud, as each of us should be, of Patrolman Flores' achievements and proud to welcome him as an employee of the City as he starts his career in police work with the Harrington Police Department," the resolution read in part.

Woodbridge School Board votes to merge Elementary Schools

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr. & David F. Coady

BRIDGEVILLE - After an Executive session that lasted approximately one hour, the Woodbridge School Board decided to consolidate the two existing elementary schools into one. The vote, which in fact disbans the present Basics School located in Bridgeville, was taken at the regular monthly meeting of the school board. The plan was presented by District Superintendent Dr. James Pressley. Before the plan was presented, Dr. Pressley admonished the press for coverage of recent board meetings and workshops. "The coverage by the news media caused...harm," Pressley said.

Dr. Pressley gave as reasons for the high test scores in the district, both the Basics School and the traditional school, as being the high calibre of teachers and administrators in the district. He cited the reason for closing the Basics School building as energy savings which he claims cost between $35,000 and $36,000 to operate. He further indicated that...."We are charged with giving our children the best education and educating our children is our prime concern."

The plan calls for all elementary school children in the district to be housed at one location (The Greenwood School). The grades will be pre-kindergarten through sixth grade. The three objectives are as follows:

1. Develop and maintain a strict academic program.
2. Fair and uniform discipline.
3. A strong parent and community involvement program.

He added that the three principals closely follow the 17 guidelines and goals which were adopted in a March 1982 school board meeting. The plan calls for a steering committee and various sub-committees which will report back to the steering committee. The steering committee will in turn report back to the district superintendent. The Superintendent's final report on implementation will be given in September of 1984.

The plan also calls for the using of six mobile classrooms at the Greenwood Elementary School. The cost of implementing the plan was estimated by Dr. Pressley as being $63,250. There was no breakdown given on these costs. The figure was based on an unnamed architect's estimate. Dr. Pressley said the savings to the district would be $65,200, again no breakdown was given on the savings.

It would appear from information supplied by the Department of Public Instruction, that the six mobile classrooms mentioned are the ones presently located at Woodbridge High School. Four of these units belong to the State Board of Education and two belong to the Woodbridge School District. At the present time there is a waiting list for new units.

Delaware chickens—OK for now

by William T. Ficks

Preliminary tests indicate that Delaware chicken flocks have not yet contracted the deadly Avian Flu.

Edward H. Ralph, Executive Director, Delmarva Poultry Industry Inc., said Tuesday as we went to press that test results received thus far are negative.

Humans, even if they eat a diseased bird or egg, cannot contract the disease.

A highly pathogenic form of the disease has been killing entire flocks in Pennsylvania.

"We're optimistic," said Ralph. "The preliminary tests probably would have indicated the disease if the chickens were infected."

Chickens stricken with the disease may have purple wattles, swollen heads and faces and a loss of appetite, according to Ralph.

"But a combination of diseases can cause similar symptoms," he added.

Two cases have been confirmed in western Maryland. An isolated outbreak occurred in Salem County, N.J. where 31,000 chickens were killed on Thanksgiving Day.

Pennsylvania growers have been hardest hit by the contagious virus which has resulted in a depopulation of 4.5 million birds by U.S.D.A.

DPI has taken action to prevent the disease from spreading to the Delmarva poultry industry. A maximum alert puts a limitation on farm visits by flock supervisors and other service personnel who can carry the virus with them on their clothes or bottoms of their shoes, vehicles and equipment.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture declared and signed an "extraordinary national emergency" on November 4. The USDA also authorized $12.5 million indemnity on November 9th for the eradication of the highly pathogenic form of the disease.

These funds will be used for reimbursements to growers for the flocks destroyed along with eggs, feed and other germ-carrying materials.

The first outbreak occurred in Lancaster County, Pa. last April when two Leghorn flocks were diagnosed as having the disease.

The disease doesn't usually kill, but a new strain of the virus appeared in October that wiped out entire flocks. As of last week, Pennsylvania authorities confirmed outbreaks in 88 flocks in the state. Growers in the state are already eligible for $8.8 million in reimbursements.

Although not a threat to consumers, Avian Flu would be disastrous to Delaware's commercial poultry and egg industries and have a devastating economic effect on all of Delmarva.

About 11 percent of all the chickens eaten in the United States are produced on the Delmarva Peninsula.

About 11 percent of the state's work force, or more than 30,000 people, work in the $245-million-a-year broiler industry, and $800-million-dollar industry for all of Delmarva.

Mrs. Jane Everline, extreme right, brought her 4-H Sunshine group to Harrington last week to trim "...the old Christmas tree....". A lighting of the tree is planned for this Friday night at 6:00 p.m. Come join in the merriment. We need carolers. Carol books will be passed out. The following people contributed to having a Christmas Tree downtown this year. They are Norman Wix, Jr. who located the tree, cut it down, and hauled it to Harrington. Walt Messick and his boys set the tree up. Mrs. Ann Townsend Minner was responsible for coming up with the idea of a tree and community sing. Thanks to all and a Merry Christmas to all from the staff at the Harrington Journal. Photo by HGF

Harringtonians star in Christmas Production

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

Those who attended the Singing Players production of "The Christmas Child" at the Dover Middle School on Sunday night were treated to a pre-holiday festive evening. A performance such as the one staged by The Singing Players and directed by Mrs. Margaret Storey would have cost upwards of $20 per person at the theatres in Wilmington. This one was free and anyone who missed it really is deprived of a fine evening of holiday music. The school auditorium was filled to near capacity.

The chorus of men and women performed some of the traditional songs of the holidays as well as those not so familiar.

Several Harringtonians performed in leading roles. Lovely Kathy Wetherhold, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William Miller, was at her soprano best in the solo of "Merry Christmas, Darling". One song previous to Mrs. Wetherhold's solo were baritones Matt Burgess and Alex Becton in separate solos of "Home For the Holidays".

Burgess literally brought down the house when he went to work on the great song made famous by Mr. Baritone himself.....Perry Como. His father, Keith S., track and field editor for The Harrington Journal, looked on approvingly. Both songs were performed in the latter part of the second half of the program. Needless to say the audience was caught up in the sway of the excitement leading to the finale. There was thunderous applause at the

Melvin's resignation creates third vacancy

by David F. Coady

It has been announced that an election for City Council will be held on January 10, 1984. Elections will be held for a Councilman to represent the sixth election district and for one to represent the sixth election district. The fifth district is presently represented by Ray Gagne, who is completing his first three-year term of office. The sixth district is represented by Donald Jarrell. Jarrell was appointed to replace Bobby Quillen, who was forced to resign after being elected State Representative.

Anyone wishing to serve on City Council must reside in the district he wishes to represent and file a petition containing at least ten but no more than twenty-five signatures from residents within the district. Copies of nominating petitions are available at City Hall, 110 Center Street between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

Curtis Melvin's resignation from City Council has caused a third vacancy. Melvin, who also served as Police Commissioner, officially resigned at 12 Noon, Friday, December 2. There was one year left on his term of office. Under the terms of the City Charter, Section 13, if anyone resigns from City Council and the unexpired portion of their term of office is more than one year, City Council must appoint someone to fill the vacancy until the next regular municipal elections. At the regular municipal election, someone will be elected to the unexpired term of office.

If you want it, "Glad Has It"

by William T. Ficks

If you're running out of ideas for Christmas gifts, hurry on over to Glad Has It, the new craft, antique and gift shop at 18 Commerce, opposite Bur-son's.

The Glad in the business name is for Gladys Longfellow, a native Harringtonian who opened the shop in June.

The friendly, outgoing Gladys gives you a warm welcome the moment you enter her Browseabout Room.

The room is chock-full of antiques, crafts, antique reproductions, cast iron toys, Christmas decorations and hundreds of gift items for young and old.

Longfellow's daughter, Brenda Beene, manages the shop while her mother covers her job at the Department of Finance.

"I want to learn as much as I can about the business, so I can retire from the state," Longfellow laughed.

Local people provide most of the crafts to the shop on consignment. Among the crafts are hand-made pillows, wreaths, afghans and hand-carved ducks.

"We buy a great many items in Pennsylvania," said Longfellow.

Longfellow and her daughter originally had a table at the Laurel Flea Market.

Gladys M. Longfellow

"I said to Brenda, let's get a place of our own," Longfellow added.

The shop also carries jewelry, agate pots and pans, chairs, end tables and marble topped coffee tables.

Among the antiques are a dresser with mirror and a night stand.

"Business has been good. I try to keep my prices down," Longfellow said. "My best sellers are the pitcher and bowl stands and the blanket bars."

A drawing will be held on December 23 for a pitcher and bowl set. Anyone can enter his name in the drawing.

And while you're there — remember, Glad Has It.

And if she doesn't, she'll be glad to get it.

Bus driver's hearing tonight

The Lake Forest Board of Education will meet in private session this evening to discuss the alleged misconduct of a district school bus driver.

The driver is Lester Blades, a veteran bus route contractor with 37 years experience. He is charged with using inappropriate language and inappropriate contact with female students on his bus route. He has been on suspension pending the investigation and this evening's hearing which is set for 7:30 p.m. at Lake Forest High School.

After an executive session held last Thursday evening, the board voted (in open session) to bring two attorneys to the special session this evening.

A member of the law firm of Terry Jackson Terry and Wright will present the case and Harry M. Fisher will advise the board.

In the meantime, Blades has remained on suspension since before Thanksgiving.

In the interim there have been reports of a high suspension rate among the students riding Blades bus since he has been off the route and a substitute, reportedly a close friend, has taken over the driving chores.

The case has also aroused fears that a fair hearing for both sides will be difficult in the middle of all of the publicity the case has received.

It further sparked dissension among Lake Forest Board members when comments on last week's executive session were made in public.

Board president Marvin Brown considered inappropriate member Wallace Caulk's discussion of what went on in executive session.

Boys & girls—call or write Santa

BOYS AND GIRLS:
It's that time again when all good little boys and girls are writing their letters to Santa with their list for Christmas. Have you been good and helped Mommy and Daddy around the house, picked up your toys, and eaten everything on your plate?

Be sure to do it soon — Santa will be loading his sleigh, and he wants to make sure to bring something to you.

end. Traditionally the performance marks the beginning of the holiday season, and traditionally as well as true to form, Mrs. Storey brought to the shores of Dover a high water mark of performance and professionalism.
The only objection...if it can be classed as an objection...is that at least one performance should have been held in Harrington with the representation in the chorus from Harrington. They could have passed the collection plate with reckless success. Others representing Harrington in the chorus were: Second Soprano, Kathy Wetherold; Tenors Keith Burgess, and Dale Jarrell; Baritone Jerry Thompson; and Basses Matt Burgess, Mark Homewood and James Olson.

Others associated with the Lake Forest School District were SEcond Soprano Sara Nechay of Sandtown and Alex Becton, Lake Forest High School Music Instructor and Band Leader. Needless to say, Harrington and Lake forest were well represented in a salute to Dover's Holiday season.
The showing of "December Child" over cable TV will be on Friday, December 16th on Channel 4 Storer Cable TV, Storer Cable TV Dover at 6:00 p.m. and Simmons Cable TV, Harrington, Channel 7 on Friday, December 23 at 7:00 p.m.

The People's Right To Know by David F. Coady

Homosexuals: a political force to be reckoned with?

by David F. Coady

It is now ten years since homosexuals started to actively campaign politically. They are no longer "closet homos" but are actively campaigning for "gay rights". The 1980 Democratic Party platform contained a "gay rights" plank. The 1984 Democratic Party Convention will have a "gay" caucus. Most candidates for the Democratic Party nomination for president are actively seeking the support of homosexual rights organizations.

Senator Gary Hart's deputy campaign director David Landau speaking on homosexual rights said, "It has become the norm of the Democratic Party to say we mean what we say when we say we're against discrimination."

In the 1980 Presidential campaign both President Jimmy Carter and Senator Edward Kennedy spoke out in favor of homosexual rights. Tom Chortlon, executive director of the National Association of Gay and Lesbian Democratic Clubs, stated that some "gay" activists see the 1984 campaign as a more significant signpost because of the number of candidates seeking their support.

"There was a conscious effort on the part of the campaign from the beginning to work the gay vote," says Mark Cohen, political director for presidential candidate Senator Alan Cranston. The Reverend Jesse Jackson stated that he wants to include homosexuals and lesbians in his "Rainbow Coalition" of people who have been rejected and opposed because "gay rights" is a civil rights issue.

"We know and recognize the growing political interest and power in that community (homosexuals) and we expect to relate to it as a body that is going to be organized and ready to participate in the 1984 electoral process," said George Dalley, deputy campaign manager for Walter Mondale.

Senator John Glenn's failure to support a Senate Bill to amend the Civil Rights Act and specifically ban discrimination against homosexuals created something of a stir last month. "Sexual preference or lifestyle did not fall in the category of civil rights," Glenn said.

In attracting support from homosexual activist, the Republican Party is considered to be far behind the Democrat Party. "We were perceived as being totally street people, alley people, bar people, lower caste," says Bob Arthur, a 58-year-old Los Angeles businessman and founder of the homosexual Republican group, The Log Cabin Club. "Then out of that environment grew the higher consciousness of gays as powerful people, politically and financially."

Former Congressman Bob Bowman has been cross-crossing the country speaking on the subject of "Gay and Conservative". Bowman was once one of the leaders of the "New Right" until he admitted to being an alcoholic and homosexual. He has since lost his seat in Congress. Bowman says he still considers himself to be Roman Catholic and conservative. If President Reagan decides to seek reelection, it is not believed that he will openly seek the support of homosexual organizations.

One thing is for certain, the major political parties no longer consider the support of homosexual organizations to be a political liability. In fact their support means more volunteer workers, more financial support and most importantly - more votes.

Although there are no precise figures, it is believed that ten percent of The United States population is homosexual. That percentage is considered to be substantially higher in the major urban centers.

Note: In the text of this editorial I chose to use the word homosexual rather than gay. When I did use the word gay it was either within a quotation or it was the name of an organization. I do not personally approve of the practice of organizations changing the meaning of a word. The New American Edition of Webster's Encyclopedia of Dictionaries defines gay as: Lively, merry; light-hearted; dissipated. Homosexuality is defined as: Sexual attraction to persons of the same sex.

Christmas wishes we pray come true

By William T. Ficks

If you run into the fairy godmother in charge of making wishes come true, please ask her to attend to the following Christmas wishes.

I wish... That no child anywhere has reason to shed a tear.

That all separated lovers are reunited.

That all the unemployed find jobs that will last a lifetime.

That everyone takes a few minutes on Christmas Day to remember whose birthday is being celebrated.

That the Harrington Journal advertising department is besieged with phone calls from Delaware merchants who want to run full page ads.

That a lonely spinster and a lonely bachelor fall in love at first sight.

That somewhere a blind beggar finds his cup filled with $10 bills.

That every adult regains his belief in Santa.

That the magnanimous mood and generous spirit of Christmas remain with us throughout the new year.

That every boy with a new sled wakes up to a white Christmas.

That someone shovels the snow for the little girls who get new doll carriages.

That all the stray cats and dogs find homes with loving kids to cuddle them.

That all little boys and girls walk the other way when the older kids tell them there is no Santa Claus.

That all those in hospitals and nursing homes are surrounded by their loved ones.

That those alone in the world find lifetime mates.

That the Kremlin leaders see the light, and all become card-carrying Christians.

That every teenage girl carrying the torch receives a phone call from the boy of her dreams. That every teenage boy carrying the torch receives a phone call from the girl of his dreams.

That our military men and women can celebrate Christmas, 1984, with their loved ones at their own hearths.

That all gambling addicts roll nothing but sevens and get aces back to back.

That the same addicts resist the urge to double their winnings and buy Christmas presents for their families instead.

That every shy, stout high school girl is asked for a date by the handsome school football star.

That every hungry man, woman and child receives an invitation to Christmas dinner.

That the resentful find forgiveness, the fearful find courage and the hateful find love.

That all drunks find sobriety. That all kids on drugs can kick the habit and make 1984 the best year of their lives.

That every homeless wanderer finds a warm bed to rest his weary bones.

That all drunks forget the way to the neighborhood bar.

That all melancholy prudes find the way to the neighborhood bar.

That all girls considering an abortion will think of the child in the manger.

That a lonely old lady and a homeless little kitten are introduced to each other on Christmas morning.

That a playful little puppy brightens the life of some sad little girl.

That every bigot forgets his reasons for hating and never recovers his memory.

That no mother anywhere goes without remembrance from a far-off child.

That everyone, especially you, has the Merriest of Christmases and the Happiest of New Years.

Selling rope to the hangman

by Richard A. Viguier

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Ed Hume, the writer of "The Day After" was quoted in the New York Times as saying, "I would like to see people start to question the value of defending this country with a nuclear arsenal." If that was his goal when he wrote the movie - he apparently failed.

According to most surveys, the program merely reinforced existing fears about the danger of nuclear war. There was even a slight increase in public confidence in President Reagan's peacemaking efforts. The only clear message from the people was that they want to avoid nuclear war at any price short of surrender to the Soviets. Exactly how to avoid war is an open question.

For example, reasonable men and women disagree over whether a nuclear freeze will reduce the chance of war. But almost everyone would agree that it is madness to provide our enemies with the computers and other sophisticated gear they need to destroy us.

American companies are selling to the Soviets the very equipment they need to blow Kansas City off the map and the U.S. government is using taxpayers' money to promote trade with the Soviet Empire.

Credits to communist countries from the Export-Import Bank alone amounted to more than a billion dollars during the last four years. From January 1981 through March 1983 the communists paid an average interest rate 7.1 points below the prime rate.

While agencies such as the Commodity Credit Corporation, the Overseas Private Investment Corporation, and the International Monetary Fund have provided assistance to the USSR and other nations, the Soviet bloc's debt to U.S. banks has grown to more than $70 billion.

With their financial health assured, the Soviets have acquired the hardware they need to improve their nuclear capability.

The Bryant Chucking Grinder Company sold 164 of its unique precision grinding machines to the Soviets. The machines are used to grind the ball bearings that make it possible for Soviet ICBMs to hit our missiles in their silos.

From Control Data Corporation, the Soviets bought Cyber 73 computers that could perform at 80 times the speed of the fastest computer designed in the USSR. The Cyber 73s, developed with funds from the U.S. Defense Department, reportedly operate the system that would protect the USSR from retaliation for a nuclear strike.

IBM computers are believed to be a mainstay of the Warsaw Pact air defense system. The Western-built radar devices and computers in the Moscow airport's traffic-control system can accurately project the future flight paths of airplanes and missiles.

The Soviets have used our computer technology to develop laser weapons such as one used recently to blind a U.S. observation satellite. According to defense expert Miles Costick, a former top Soviet official testified that "without the use of American computers, precision instruments and digital tools in Soviet research and development laboratories," Soviet progress in the development of laser and nuclear weapons would have halted.

The United States continued to license sales of computer parts for the Zil truck factory long after intelligence reports indicated that the plant was turning out missile launchers.

The protect ourselves from the threat nuclear war, we must stop furnishing the communists with high-tech equipment and with the loans and credits that prop up their economies. Properly explained, tight restrictions on trade with the Soviet bloc would be supported by the vast majority of the American people.

The sequence of events in "The Day After" was apparently intended to blame the United States for the final war. In that fiction, there is a grain of truth:

If, one bright morning, Kansas City vanishes in the burst of a Soviet missile, it may indeed be the fault of some Americans - the Big Business establishment that gave major assistance to our enemy. IBM, Control Data, Citicorp, the Chase Manhattan Bank, their allies in the Commerce Department, and others will bear responsibility for selling the Soviets the rope with which to hang us.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mr. Farrow:

As per a conversation with your secretary today, enclosed please find "story" of Willie's Drum, written by Mr. William A. Wheeler, age 94 there in Harrington. For those who do not remember, Mr. Wheeler operated Wheeler's Park for more years than I can remember and was a good asset to his neighbors and community.

Mr. Wheeler has enclosed this story in his Christmas cards this year and it depicts Christmas in 1897.

It would also be nice of you to see that Mr. Wheeler gets a complimentary copy of the Harrington Journal if you should choose to publish this as momentos, as this means a lot to him. He is a delightful person and historian.

Truly yours,

Willie's Drum

by William A. Wheeler

It is Christmas Time again, and I want to share with you a memory of that Happy Day when I was eight years old in the year 1897.

My family was my Father, (Mother was dead), two sisters, Lucy and Carrie, and brother Christopher, who was ten. I was the youngest then, being just eight years old.

We lived in a house which had been converted from a feed store and later on, a clothing store. Our next door neighbor was Professor Brown of Seaford Public School, and he was also the "bell ringer". Close by was a grocery store run by Clara Milligan. Good Dr. Johns lived near there too. He made his calls with a horse and buggy - and charged $1.00 per call. Years later, he was our doctor when my son, William Wheeler, was born.

Other very good neighbors were the O'Biers, who had three children, Lynn, the son, and Leitha and Etta.

On Christmas, it was always the boys' place to get the tree, so my brother Chris and I went across the bridge over the Nanticoke River. Just before we came into Blades, there was a large growth of trees, including many Cypress. We would pick one out and pull it home. Our sisters, Lucy and Carrie, would trim it with popcorn and Smile! You can fool some of the people all the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you cannot fool all of the people all the time. Lincoln.

Reverend Watson of Harrington Baptist Church was leader of Bible Study Monday morning at the Center. Mrs. Watson was at the piano. Those enjoying the service joined in with several Christmas hymns. Reverend Watson led in prayer. He had for study 1st Corinthians, Chapter 13, verse 7. Matthews 5 verses 43, 44. The Inspirational hour was indeed a perfect beginning for the week. Present was Sylvia and Cecil Meredith, Virginia Smith, Mildred Vincent, Elizabeth Anthony, Juanita McClain, Gladys Hill, Tony Perrone, Earl Nelson, Clara Judy, Catherine Donovan, Frances Wright, Mary Sapp, Roxanne and Marion Brown, Thelma Legates, Ethel Holden, Amy Poynter, Jo Burke and Elwood Morris. Reverend Watson closed with a prayer and two favorite hymns were sung by all.

Christmas is so very close, everyone is getting in the mood, being just a mite more tolerant, smiling a bit more just an overall kindness! With all the turmoil in the world most of the time it is good to take time and be kind to each other.

Sylvia Meredith directed the "Senior Sounds", Jolly Timers practiced. Sylvia and Virginia Smith took turns at the piano. Turning out the beautiful sounds were Andy Anderson, Louis Gerardi, Mildred Vincent, Tony Perrone, Mammie Adams, Florence Minner, Thelma Legates, Jo Burke, Annabel Morrow, Bertha Dean, Lillie McBride, Marion Brown and Cecil Meredith.

Annette and Grace Welch of "The Loft" presented a fashion show Wednesday afternoon at the Center. The models were Dolores Wagner, Florence Minner, Dave and Bessie McCracken, Etsel McCready, Marion Brown, Ida Welch, Mildred Welch and Nancy Welch all did an outstanding job. Everyone looked exceptionally well. Made a lot of folk want a number of beautiful clothes which of course you may purchase at "The Loft."

Have you started doing your Christmas baking? My, the luscious things you see in all the books, used to start baking fruit cakes in November - make fondant and store in November and start making cookies around the first of December. It was fun with children around, tasting and helping. Now they do all the baking and I do the tasting.

What do you want for Christmas? Have you made your wishes known? Still a few ceramics left, lots of crafts, spirits, are high at the center in anticipation of Christmas.

Friday was Bingo and then it was dessert time - what a variety!! Best wishes - kind thoughts to all. Remembering the men and women in service.

See you at the Center. Faith!

Sports Laffs

by William T. Ficka
Yogi Berra succeeded Lefty Gomez as the "Clown Prince" of the Yankees. The colorful Yogi was always good for a laugh.
Yogi once came to bat with the bases loaded and looked at three called strikes whiz by without moving the bat off his shoulder.
He returned to the dugout, put the bat in the rack and complained, "That bat ain't got no wood in it."
Berra's love of money was well known.
A sportswriter once asked him, "What would you do, Yogi, if you ever found a million dollars?"
Berra pondered the question for a full minute and said, "Well, if the guy who lost it was real poor, I'd give it back to him."

In 1947, Berra was honored by the fans with a "Yogi Berra Night." Yogi was deeply touched by this show of affection.
He approached the mike and told the crowd, "I want to thank everyone for making this night necessary."
When Yogi first played in Philadelphia, Yankee manager Joe McCarthy took the team on a tour of the city.
A professional guide explained the significance of Independence Hall, the Liberty Bell, and all the other historical landmarks in the City of Brotherly Love.
Yogi seemed interested but a bit puzzled. He nudged pitcher Allie Reynolds.
"Tell me Allie," asked Berra, "When did all this here take place?"

High School Swim Team Opens Season

The Lake Forest High School Swimming and Diving team has begun its season. Pre-season practices have shown great progress from last year.
The team returns 5 boys and 9 girls from last year's team and new coach Denny Berry says both squads are boosted by 9th graders who are talented. This year the swim team will feature diving for the first time ever with David Gagne and Tate Garey diving for the boys and Kris Reid, Joyce Oakley, and Patty Drew diving for the girls. This event alone requires 2-3 hours of concentrated practice on top of regular team training sessions.
The Boys are headed by Danny Haines, David Gagne, Chris Drew (FR), Robby Bates (FR) and Gary Price for the work load. Randy Meyers (FR), Mark Scarborough (FR), Tate Garey (FR), Dana Wainwright, Chris Greenly and Robbie Burgholzer promises to contribute heavily to the season progresses.

For the girls Patty Drew, Lori Wilson, Kris Reid (FR) and Joyce Oakley will carry the weight in the early season. Valerie Parker, Candi Short, Tara Gladden, Debbie Jester, Joan Parnell, and Kathy Carlson return from last year's team to provide depth as the season progresses. Pam Greene (FR) and Lynn Mills are first year swimmers.
Coach Berry states that the team goals are to place in the top 10 or 11 at the state championships. He hopes to qualify all swimmers for the state meet and place several in the evening (Championship) session.

The week in Harness Racing --A Round-up

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
Cam fella goes out a winner
The 3-year-old pacing great, Cam Fella, fast becoming the best, by Most Happy Fella, won his last career race at Greenwood on Saturday afternoon. His quarters were :28; :55.2; 1:27.1, and 1:57.2. He took the lead at the quarter and then began pouring on the steam in 25 degree weather with a stiff north wind. The track surface was also wet. The win pushed his career winnings to $2,043,367 passing the premier pacer Rambling Willie in career earnings. Cam now becomes the all time leader in that category. His career was marked by 61 victories in 80 starts with 52 in 2:00 and a record 17 in 1:55. He also established a record of 13 victories in $100,000 races. Miller Scout trailed Cam through the race as she has done all year but faded to third as a fast charging Monkey Wrench came from the seven hole at the top of the stretch to close fast for the place. Monkey Wrench is also a Canadian horse. He was a half length behind Cam.
Cam Fella is co-owned by Norman Clements of Toronto and Norman Faulkner of Stouffville, Ontario. He will stand at stud at the JEF Farms, which is also a co-owner of Cam. Cam was officially retired immediately following the race. His harness and the whip carried by driver Pat Crowe were presented to the Jockey Club in Ontario.

three-quarter pole.
Eddie Davis increased his lead in the North American driving championship with two wins at Liberty Bell on Sunday night to Walter Case, Jr.'s one victory. Case the 22 year old reinsman from Lewiston, Maine was edged out last year in his quest for the championship by Herve Fillon. The racing card on Sunday at The Bell billed a head-to-head clash between Davis, 40, and Case, 22 attracted 4,065 who bet $536,758. Excitement filled the stands at the track. Davis came home the winner in two races at Dover Sunday afternoon. The unofficial tally of wins for both drivers as of Sunday was Davis with 431 and Case with 418. Again this unofficial. Different figures have been reported, but according to USTA those figures appearing in the daily newspapers are unofficial. Davis drove at Freehold on Monday and was second in the first race. At the present time Davis has injured his middle finger on his left hand. Ten of the 11 races at The Bell on Sunday were timed in 2:01.1 or faster. Case will go to Buffalo while Davis will drive at Dover and Freehold. At Pompano Park on Saturday night in the $8400 Invitational Pace, Super Bradshaw tripped the mile in 1:54.4 over Armbro Vienna, and El Alamein in for the third. Super Bradshaw has turned in three good miles in the past three weeks.....one in 1:55.....week before with a third in 1:53.3, and a win this past week in 1:54.4.
At Roosevelt on Saturday night in the $25,000 Open Handicap Pace it was Doc's Fella with Mike Lachance with the rein in 1:59.1 followed by Shannon Fella, and J.J.'s Cornell a third.
At Rosecroft on Saturday night in the $5500 Pace feature for the evening it was Camden Dewane with Bobby Myers from Bridgeville in 2:00 over True Royal A and Duncan's Party third.

Lumbering Mel set a track record for 4 year old pacing stallions on Sunday night at Liberty Bell with an impressive victory in 1:56 for driver Jim King Jr. He beat the old track record of Governor Skipper in 1:56.1. VanKirk was heavily favored but finished out of the money. Steve Warrington took him out from the start. He was parked all the way, and was done at the

Hunting and Fishing on Delmarva

by David F. Coady
WILDLIFE PROJECT: You're not "cracking-up" or have you seen a new exotic species if you spot a red seagull in the next month, anywhere from Concord, New Hampshire to points as far south as Delaware, Maryland and Virginia. If you happen to spot one, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service would like to know when and where. Biologist Rene Bollengier will accept collect calls at 603-225-9621.
Bollengier and a team of wildlife biologists have captured, color marked and released approximately 300 gulls in Concord. The gulls are being released between November 29 and mid-December. The object -- to learn more about the movements of an inland feeding concentration that is causing problems in the area. The biologist hope to detect a pattern in the birds' movements so they will know whether they are working with the same or different concentration. "This is where the public can be a big help," Bollengier said, "by notifying us if they see a color-marked bird."
If marked birds are sighted, report the date and location of sighting to: Rene M. Bollengier, Project Coordinator; U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service; Box 1518, Federal Building; Concord, New Hampshire 03301. Telephone 603/225-9621 (collect calls accepted).
CHRISTMAS GIFT IDEA: Wondering what to give your favorite family and friends for Christmas? Why not give them an annual pass to Delaware's state parks. For as little as ten dollars you can make a Delaware family or friend happy with a gift certificate that permits up to ten persons in a vehicle to go to any of Delaware's state parks free. If the family or friend reside out-of-state, the certificate will cost thirty dollars.

It is easy to do, simply pick up the gift certificate at either Cape Henlopen State Park, Delaware Seashore State Park, or Bellevue State Park Monday thru Friday between 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. or at Brandywine Creek State Park from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Wednesday thru Sunday. You may also pick up the gift certificates at the State Park Office, Richardson and Robbins Building, 89 Kings Highway, Dover, Monday thru Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Or if you hurry and send a check payable to the State Division of Parks and Recreation by December 16, 1983, they will mail your gift certificate in time for Christmas.
MARINE FORUM: The Division of Fish and Wildlife will hold a forum Wednesday, January 4, 1984, on the principal marine fishes in Delaware. These fishes include the weakfish, blue fish, summer flounder and rockfish (striped bass). Marine fisheries biologists and managers will discuss the basic biology, population status and future outlook for each fish. Current State and Federal efforts to develop and implement management plans for each species in the Mid-Atlantic region also will be discussed.
The meeting will be in the Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Control auditorium, 89 Kings Highway, Dover. All interested persons are invited to participate in this open discussion with the Division of Fish and Wildlife to help implement management strategies to better conserve these important marine fishes.

Teo Fabi named Rookie-of-the-Year

Teo Fabi reigns as Vandervell "Rookie of the Year" after the most productive season ever for rookies on the Indianapolis car racing circuit.

Fabi narrowly lost a duel with Al Unser over the season championship, and possession of Championship Auto Racing Team's coveted PPG Cup, but Fabi was the only driver on the PPG Indy Car World Series circuit to win four races. N one else won more than two.

Not only did Fabi, a heralded road racer from Milan, Italy, driving the Skoal Bandit March, win big on CART's oval tracks en route to his Vandervell rookie crown, but he also captured six pole positions in the 13 races contested on eight oval tracks and five road courses.

Despite his road racing background, Fabi scored the most impressively on the ovals. He was the top rookie finisher at Milwaukee, Pocono, the Michigan 200 and Phoenix as well as in the road races at Cleveland, Riverside, Mid-Ohio and Laguna Seca. In comments to the media, Fabi declared that winning the pole position at Indianapolis was his proudest achievement in 1983.

Not since 28-year-old Bob Carey won the AAA national driving championship in 1932 -- more than half a century ago -- had a rookie contended so seriously for the championship as did Fabi. Carey won two races, led the Indianapolis 500 by more than two laps at one time and wound up with no finish worse than seventh in the six championship races held that year.

Historians have to leaf back through their books to 1928 to find a better winning record for a rookie on the national championship circuit. Frank Lockhart won five races that year, but in that era there was no such title as a rookie championship.

Fabi's performance was noteworthy, but so were the records of at least two other drivers in the bumper crop of rookies who changed the face of the CART Indy car circuit in 1983.

Finishing second in the Vandervell point standings was 21-year-old Al Unser Jr. of Albuquerque, N.M., at the wheel of the Coors Light Silver Bullet. Unser had two second-place finishes and failed to finish in the top-10 only once during the season. He started two races on the front row.

Another remarkable rookie was John Paul Jr. of Lawrenceville, Ga., whose unsponsored VDS team started him in 11 races and debated for a time whether to finish out the season. Paul won the Michigan 500 in a major upset, won the pole position for the Las Vegas 200 and came within four seconds of upsetting veteran Mario Andretti in that race. Paul wound up with a first, a second, two thirds and fifth for his efforts.

Seven other rookies scored points toward the PPG Cup and Vandervell titles. Chris Kneifel of Riverwoods, Ill., was fourth in the Vandervell point standings, and Tom Klausler of Northville, Mich., was fifth. Rounding out the top 10 were Jeff Wood of Wichita, Kan., Derek Daly of Milton Keynes, England, Michael Andretti of Nazareth, Pa. Desire Wilson of New York City and Doug Heveron of Brewerton, N.Y. Wood, who competed twice, and Heveron, who raced only at Atlanta, are eligible to try again in 1984 for the Vandervell "Rookie of the Year" award.

Vandervell prize money was paid out at the rate of $1,000 to the top finishing rookie in each race, and Fabi received a $10,000 bonus at season's end.

Michael von Braunsberg, president of Vandervell America, has confirmed that his company plans to continue its rookie award program in 1984, although, he admitted, it will be tougher to top 1983's performance.

Wall's sportsman and modern stocks highly competitive in '83

WALL TOWNSHIP - The sportsman and modern stock divisions at Wall Stadium were highly competitive in 1983 as twenty three different drivers recorded wins in the two divisions.

In the sportsman division, Steve Golembeski of Sayreville not only captured the sportsman championship in 1983 but led the division with five feature wins. Ironically, Golembeski won the second feature of the season, then recorded four more in a row, to total the five wins.

Mechanical problems then hit hard through the middle of the year, but the young veteran managed to come back strong late in the season.

Runnerup to Golembeski in feature wins was Beachwood's Bob Cramer. Cramer powered the R. Critelli/J. Anderson #15 to three feature wins and a third place finish in the final point standings.

Seven different drivers recorded a pair of wins on the year, and out of those seven, three were rookie campaigners. The veteran chauffers were lead by Ted Alt of Old Bridge who ushered in the 1983 season by capturing the season opener and then waited until October 8th for his second win in his '36 Chevy coupe. Bricktown's Steve Rogers recorded back to back wins on June 4th & 11th, and then mechanical problems took over for the remainder of the season.

Anthony Gentile of Bronx, N.Y. was the only non New Jersey driver to win a sportsman feature this year at the Stadium. His first win came on June 25th with the second one recorded at the season's finale on October 22nd. Both wins came behind the wheel of the Don-Glo #22. Jeff Wolcott of Lakewood captured a pair of wins in 1983 and was in the hunt for the championship up until the end. Unfortunately, hard luck hit the J. Hagaman/C. Cottrell #28 near the end of the year, but the team did manage to hold on for the runnerup spot in the final point standings.

Skoal Bandits 4-Stroke Nationals set

GREENWICH, CT - The ninth annual Golden State Skoal Bandits 4-Stroke Nationals promise to be the biggest and most successful yet, with all major factory teams and stars competing for the final trophies of the season at Carlsbad Raceway on December 18.

One of the premier California motocross series started by Continental Motorsport Club in 1977, the event has grown from a three-race series to the seven events it is today, covering the West Coast from the Bay area of Northern California to the southern end of the state.

U.S. Tobacco, through its Skoal

Bandits brand of individual pouches of tobacco, has supported motorsports for the past three years but 1983 marks the company's first sponsorship of motocross events. Included in their racing program is sponsorship of Harry Gant's NASCAR Grand National Skoal Bandit entry and Teo Fabi's Skoal Bandit March on the CART Indy car circuit.

Recognizing the popularity of motocross among Californians, Skoal Bandits tobacco joined CMC this year for the first time to help promote and support what is fast becoming the largest motocross series in the world.

Signing up - Bruce Smith, [center] Darlington Plant manager of Dixie Product Group, a division of James River Corporation, signs a contract as the sponsor of the Dixie Cup 200 Late Model Sportman Race, Saturday, April 14th, at Darlington Raceway. Witnessing the contract signing is W.D. "Red" Tyler, Jr., [left] president of the Darlington Raceway and Lowell Weiner of James River Corporation.

DAYTONA BEACH, FLA - The annual NASCAR Winston Cup Awards Banquet, last Thursday night, December 8, in the Grand Ball Room of New York City's Waldorf-Astoria, saw more than $1.4 million in post-season winnings distributed to NASCAR's Winston Cup Grand National Competitors.

Over 900 celebrities and guests were there for the annual affair, which will honor the best motorsports competitors in the world, including 1983 NASCAR Winston Cup champion Bobby Allison of Hueytown, Ala.

The R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, through its brand of Winston cigarettes, presented its point fund of $500,000, $150,000 of which was won by Allison. An addition $455,066 was presented to Winston Cup drivers and owners through the NASCAR point fund.

The STP Corporation presented $40,000 in point fund awards, while the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company presented $25,000, and $10,000 was presented by the Champion Spark Plug company.

A tough approach to getting kids off pot

by William T. Ficka and David F. Coady

[Editor's note: This is the fifth in a series on alcohol and drug use and abuse, mainly among teenagers.] Parents of pot smokers are not interested in hair-splitting definitions. Whether marijuana is "addictive" or "habituating" is of little concern to a parent who witnesses a child go steadily downhill as a result of pot smoking. Dr. Harold M. Voth, the Menninger Foundation's eminent psychiatrist, agrees with the parent. In his book, "How to Get Your Child Off Marijuana," Dr. Voth says, "It makes no difference whether marijuana is called habit-forming or addicting. The simple truth is that the user has a very difficult time stopping the habit of his own volition. Some users tend to crave the 'high'; others are desperate for it. Very few marijuana smokers can see what is happening to them. This fact explains why reason so rarely works as the method for getting someone to stop the practice." How do I know if my child is smoking pot? This is a question parents often ask. Some of the symptoms to look for are a reddening of the eyes, a dryness in the mouth and throat, increased appetite, rapid speech and exaggerated laughter. Prolonged use of pot will usually result in some or all of the following effects: •irritability •poor school grades •unkempt personal appearance •indifferent and lackadaisical attitude •traffic violations •stealing to maintain the habit •uncharacteristic, sometimes violent behavior •lack of incentive •little ambition •rebelliousness •lack of respect for authority figures (parents, teachers and police) Some teenage users who have been heavy pot smokers for prolonged periods suffer from marijuana "burn out" (a term first used by marijuana users themselves). The burn-outs, also described as "vegged out" or space cadets" are sometimes so unaware of their surroundings that they do not respond when friends speak to them. Scientists believe "that burn out may be a sign of drug-related mental impairment that may not be completely reversible, or is reversible only after months of abstinence." Dr. Voth said, "it appears that the effects on personality and behavior are reversible if marijuana has not been used too long; however, sometimes the effect seems permanent." A few years ago, the media reported many studies that showed marijuana to be "harmless." Since the marijuana used today is from five to ten times more potent than before, Dr. Voth believes this fact invalidates those earlier studies. He said marijuana causes the individual to leave the mainstream of life, damages motivation, saps ambition and impairs the capacity to think clearly. Dr. Voth recommends a no-holds-barred approach to getting kids off drugs. Although his advice may seem harsh to some readers, Voth, after 30 years experience, is convinced this is the only approach that is effective. The first objective, according to Voth, is to determine for certain if your child is smoking pot. "Ask him point blank," advises Voth. If the child denies using pot, but the symptoms continue to show otherwise, he advises the parent to take the next difficult step. "You simply must invade his privacy and carry out a thorough search of his living space and other areas, and do it more than once." The parent must put himself between the child and the substance for at least three months. If the child refuses to cooperate, it may be necessary to terminate all outside activities unless the parent or a trusted relative or friend accompanies the child. It may even be necessary to remove the child from school. The parent is taking these drastic measures because of his love for the child. He must impress this fact on the child. Voth emphasizes that the parent must let the child know that he is loved and accepted; it is only his harmful habit that is hated and rejected. According to Voth, the parent's show of strength will be "internalized" by the child and thereby strengthen his own personality. He says the child may be seething with anger, "but deep down he can only experience your actions as loving acts. What child does not hunger for parental love?" If the parent is steadfast in his actions, Voth says, the dawn will eventually come and the whole family will reach a higher level of love, harmony, closeness and understanding than ever before. -to be continued-

Who's who among American High School students, 1982-83

Several area students have been included in the 17th annual edition of Who's Who Among American High School Students, 1982-83. Who's Who, published by Educational Communications, Inc., Lake Forest, Illinois, is the largest high school recognition publication in the country. Students are selected by high school principals and guidance counselors, national youth groups, churches or by the publishing company based upon students' performance in scholarship award contests or extra-curricular activities. Final selection is determined on the basis of criteria which include high achievement in academics and leadership in school activities, athletics or community service. Traditionally, 99% of Who's Who students have a grade point average of "B" or better and 97% are college bound. The 17th edition of Who's Who, published in nine regional volumes, features 375,000 students, or 5% of the nation's 6,500,000 high school juniors and seniors. They represent 18,000 of the 22,000 public, private and parochial high schools in the country. Who's Who students also compete for over $50,000 in scholarship awards and participate in the publication's annual opinion poll of teen attitudes. The book is distributed on a complimentary basis to over 15,000 high schools, colleges, universities, and public libraries throughout the country. Local students selected for this year's volumes are:

Lake Forest staff gives more than 100%

Lake Forest employees have received the "Good Works" award for more than doubling their contributions to the United Way campaign this year. Donations were 103% over those of last year. Lynda Gannon and Carol Lamphier organized the United Way effort in Lake Forest. They attribute the success of the campaign to active chairpersons in each building. "The building chairpersons did a super job," said Mrs. Lamphier. "At the time of the fund-raising campaign state employees had not received a raise, and Lake Forest teachers are in negotiations for a new contract, yet the building chairpersons were able to develop an extremely positive attitude among Lake Forest staff toward giving to our community." The building chairpersons were: East Elementary - Cathy Draper, second grade teacher; North Elementary - Barbara Trent, basic skills math teacher; South A Elementary - Brenda Collins, fourth grade teacher; South B Elementary - Ann Chambers, kinder-

University participates in scholarship program for blacks

The University of Delaware has accepted an invitation from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation to participate in its National Achievement Scholarship Program for Outstanding Negro Students and to offer Achievement Scholarships in 1984. According to University President E.A. Trabant, who made the announcement today, the program involves fewer than 100 colleges and universities across the country. "The University of Delaware is honored by the invitation to participate in this program, for it affirms the quality of our institution and enhances our efforts to attract qualified black students to our campus," he said. "Only those institutions of higher learning which consistently attract black students who qualify as Achievement Program finalists are invited to sponsor Achievement Scholarships, he added. The Achievement Program, created in 1964 by a grant from the Ford Foundation to the National Merit Scholarship Program, exists for the specific purpose of identifying promising black students and encouraging them to pursue higher education. Over 70,000 black students from all across the United States enter each annual Achievement Scholarship competition, and some 4,300 are recognized for their Heading the three rookie drivers to win two features this year was Martin Truex of Manahawkin. Truex recorded his first win on July 9th while his second win came on August 27th. Tom Dancer of Freehold recorded his first career win on Sept. 24th and the closed out the season with a victory during the sportsman portion of the Turkey Derby. The third rookie to capture a pair of wins was Woodbridge's Bob Morris. Morris did not start out his 1983 season until late in the year, but when he debuted his #25 it was apparent feature wins were on the horizon.

The three drivers to record a single feature win on the year were not all rookies, but the win was the first of their career. Bill Gratton of Freehold, competing in his second year of racing recorded his first win on Sept. 3rd behind the wheel of the Elizabeth Gratton #10. The two rookies to score their first ever wins were Don Ling Jr. and Chuck Kojzsa Jr. Ironically due to a previous weeks rainout both feature wins were recorded on August 6th.

African violets that Dorothy fixed for me. They are doing just fine. I have them on the East window sill in the kitchen, and the white one and purple ones are blooming like mad. The two small leaves in the little pot look healthy, but nothing has happened yet. I guess it takes time. They have their own message. They would be beautiful of course if they came from the dime store, but they are far beyond that. They speak to me each day of a loving neighbor who took time to brighten my winter.

This is a rainy day, but I'm so glad

Due recognition should be given to Tony Ciccone of Edison for winning seven heat races throughout the year, more than any other competitor in this division.

In the modern stock division, eleven different faces won feature events and heading the group was Harold Dauncey of Bricktown with five. Dauncey also lead the division in heat race victories with eight.

Two drivers followed Dauncey very closely in the win department with four. The first was Lee Taylor of Bricktown who scored both his wins behind the wheel of the Bearcat Racing/J. Maffei machines.

Bob Howard of Matawan was the second driver to win four features on the year. The veteran campaigner turned the trick in the Ehlers Racing #34 and finished sixth in the final point tabulations.

Ironically the two drivers to win three features on the season finished first and second in the final point standings. The first, our newly crowned champion Steve Springsteel of Woodbridge.

Representative Quillen tours Holy Land

by David F. Coady

Bobby Quillen of Harrington recently returned from a ten-day tour of the Holy Land with a local church group. Bobby said the group departed JFK Airport on November 27 for the eleven-hour flight to Ben Gurion Airport, Tel-Aviv, Israel. Then traveled by bus to Tiberias where the party stayed at the Golan Hotel. On the first full day of the tour the group went by boat across the Sea of Galilee from Tiberias to the village of Capernaum. There they visited the home of Saint Peter where Jesus stayed while he was preaching in the local Synagogue.

The second day of the tour included a visit to the Garden Tomb of Jesus and a walking tour of the Old City which included St. Stephen's Gate. The next day the group visited the Mt. of Olives which Bobby said, "Gave an outstanding view of the City." An interesting part of the tour was the visit to the Dead Sea which is the lowest point on the earth. The Dead Sea is 1200 ft. below sea level. Bobby says that it was interesting to learn that the largest portion of the population of Bethlehem is Christian.

The only interruptions to an otherwise totally enjoyable trip that Bobby reported was the many Army roadblocks where vehicles were searched. "I guess they were looking for gunrunners. I know our bus driver drove like one," Bobby said of the inconveniences.

The tour included sightseeing in Egypt where many pyramids and other remnants of the ancient Egyptian civilization were seen. Bobby reported witnessing a shooting outside the Holiday of the Pyramid Hotel in Cairo. "Both the police and army responded quickly to the incident," Bobby said.

Bobby said of the Holy Land tour, "I wish all Christians would have an opportunity to tour the lands where Christ walked. It is very inspirational for one's faith."

State Representative Bobby Quillen recently returned from the Holy Land where he visited the pyramids in Egypt, rode a camel in Cairo and visited the site where Christ was born in Bethlehem. The trip was led by Vicar Joe James of Christ Episcopal Church in Milford.

entirely new worship experience emphasizing Christian fellowship and love.

Since John Wesley adapted the love feast from his contract with the Moravians, the Barratt's Chapel feast will be served in the Moravian style, using specially prepared coffee and buns. The costuming of the servers and other principals will add a touch of color and realism to the event.

The Rev. Allen B. Clark, Barratt's Chapel curator, tells that material found in Portraiture of Methodism by Jonathan Crowther, published in 1813, denoted the refreshment used by the Moravians in the early nineteenth century was tea and bread, but that Methodists of the day took only water and bread. The same account tells that this Christian experience, begun and ended by singing and prayer with a traveling preacher presiding, resulted in an agreeable, edifying and refreshing season. The money collected as a part of the service had two objects -- first to pay for the bread used on the occasion and second, for the distribution of the surplus bread among the poor in the locality.

Built in 1780, Barratt's Chapel is one of the Historic Shrines of Methodism in America. Activities and programs at the chapel and its accompanying museum are the responsibility of the Peninsula Conference's Commission on Archives and History, presently chaired by William R. Jones of Wilmington. Dr. J. Gordon Stapleton, superintendent of the Dover District, is the conference cabinet representative on the commission.

A warm welcome is extended to the public to share in worship at the Christmas Love Feast on the 18th.

hollyberry strings and a few animals they had cut from a piece of cardboard and they made a bird to put at the top. It always looked beautiful to us. If we got any presents, they would be put around the bottom of the tree.

This Christmas, the neighbors said we children should have a little band and play on the street. Lynn O'Bier had a mouth organ and another friend a zobo, another a Jew-harp, and another had a whistle made from a piece of willow tree that he could warble. My brother, Chris, said he would ask for a horn for Christmas. I had always wanted a drum and so I asked for that.

On this Christmas morning, we were all ready with our instruments, except me, Willie. Chris got his tin horn, but there was no drum for me. Was I disappointed! I tried to make one from a wooden bucket and a couple of sticks so I wouldn't be left out. We went first to the O'Bier's, where my sisters and the O'Bier girls were going to have a "taffy pull". When we got there, Lynn O'Bier confessed he had gone to my house early on Christmas morning and, to tease me, had taken the package with my name on it. "There it is", he said. When I opened it -- there was a beautiful toy drum! I was so happy I jumped up and down.

That Christmas morning our little band played up and down the streets. People would smile and wave to us from their homes. Some of them gave us milk and cookies and even pieces of candy. But - when we turned out little that the weather does not depress me as it does some folk. To me, a rainy, miserable day outside seems to make the house doubly warm and gay and cozy inside by contrast. And the great Longfellow said in his poem, "A Rainy Day" that "Into each life some rain must fall". Yes, I do have to deal with that mood occasionally, when I'm a bit "down" and I start feeling that more than my share of rain has fallen in my life, but I summon a little common sense into my thinking and soon I know...that I know...when I count my blessings, no computer could hold them!!

band around and started toward home - snow flakes began to fall! This made our Christmas so true and beautiful. We were so happy -- with our simple little gifts and our neighbors -- and our friends.

This is the remembrance of this Happy Christmas by a boy called "Willie" when he was eight years old (and is now 94) that makes me want to wish you all -- HAPPINESS TOO, THIS CHRISTMAS TIME!

Money pours into energy fund

So far, more than 5,000 customers have contributed about $43,000 to the Good Neighbor Energy Fund. The fund was designed to help people throughout the Delmarva Peninsula who are having trouble paying their energy bills. Already, the Salvation Army, administrator of the fund, has distributed $13,000 to 123 families.

In October, Delmarva Power began the fund by donating $15,000 and has pledged to match every $3 of customer contributions with $1 up to a total of $50,000 of Delmarva Power stockholders' money.

"The response from our customers has been terrific," said Martin F. Duffy, manager, consumer affairs. "This year, 58,000 more dollars are available in our communities to help needy people than last."

Delmarva Power and 73 other utilities were commended recently by Vice President George Bush and the White House Office of Private Sector Initiatives for their efforts to help low and fixed income citizens pay winter heating bills. The White House feels that energy assistance programs are examples of successful efforts by the private sector to address social and economic problems at the local level.

The Good Neighbor Energy Fund is one of a number of services Delmarva Power offers to help customers cope with cold weather. Several other services are available to all Delmarva Power district offices. Customer Information Specialists can help by referring customers to human service agencies for assistance, by arranging installment payments of previous bills, alerting a friend if service is about to be disconnected, and keeping power on where life support systems or medical emergencies exist. A trial load limiter program has been started that allows some Delaware customers to use a small amount of electricity when they otherwise would have been cut off entirely for non-payment.

The drive is continuing through mid-December. People can help by sending checks payable to the Good Neighbor Energy Fund to the Salvation Army in Wilmington, Delaware, or Salisbury, Maryland. Contributions are tax deductible. To reduce expenses, customers' cancelled checks will be their receipt.

PSC sets standards for termination

TERMINATION STANDARDS

Termination standards for the winter heating season went into effect November 15th and will remain in effect through the end of March 1984. These standards apply to regulated heating utilities offering heating service; and, they require the utilities to satisfy certain conditions before heating service can be terminated to the homes of delinquent customers.

The Commission mandated standards are most widely recognized for their stipulations and prohibitions which apply to heating utilities during the winter. However, the Public Service Commission places equal stress on the responsibility of customers faced with the prospect of termination.

Whether a customer is in present danger of termination; has already been disconnected; or, whether the customer can afford some or none of a past due bill, the advice from the Public Service Commission is the same. The customer should contact the utility immediately to learn of his options and of available assistance.

GENERAL T.V. TO FILE

General Television, Inc. has filed a "Letter of Intent" with the PSC regarding its intention of filing a rate case after mid-January. No details were disclosed. General T.V. provides cable service to the Dover; Smyrna; Rehoboth; Lewis; Seaford; Laurel; Georgetown and Milford areas.

Tischer receives Governor's Diamond State Award

The Governor's Diamond State Award will be presented on Thursday, December 15, 1983, at 11:30 a.m. to Michael M. Tischer, Deputy Attorney General, Public Service Commission, S. duPont Highway, Dover, Delaware, by Lt. Gov. Michael Castle.

Mr. Tischer, attorney for the Public Service Commission, was chosen for this award due to his efforts in improving the efficiency and effectiveness of the State's utility regulatory process.

Mr. Tischer's knowledge of regulatory and practice is routinely sought after by Commissioners and Commission staff, as well as by the management and legal counsels of the utilities themselves. All of these parties to a rate proceeding have learned that the process can be made less complicated and time consuming by meeting with

Mr. Tischer for the purpose of simplifying and clarifying issues before they are presented to the full Commission. The number of parties which seek his experience is a tribute to his ability. The reward of his efforts are flowed through to Delaware utility ratepayers in the form of more efficient proceedings and meetings of the Commission.

In addition, Mr. Tischer's responsibilities have increased exponentially over the past several years. The number of rate matters which the Public Service Commission has to consider has increased steadily resulting in an across-the-board increase in employee workload. This increased staff work results in an even greater need for consultations with Mr. Tischer since all aspects of a rate proceeding, accounting, engineering, and financial, have to be considered within the context of regulatory law and state statutes.

Without his consummate talent to manage the growing demands placed upon the Commission, his personal knowledge of legal and regulatory principles, and the unselfish giving of his time, the regulatory process would not function with the efficiency that it presently does.

This award is the highest honor the Governor can bestow upon an employee of the State of Delaware. The recipients are selected by the State Personnel Commission from nominations by cabinet secretaries and agency heads. Since the inception in 1973, there has been only twelve recipients of this award. There were eight nominees for this year's award and only two recipients.

VA answers questions on disabilities

The following are representative questions answered daily by VA counselors. Full information is available at any VA office.

Q - How do I appeal a decision made by one of the VA's rating boards on my disability?

A - You need only write a letter to the VA office which made the decision stating you disagree with the VA's decision. This will initiate the appeals process and you will then be advised of your appeal rights and actions you must take.

Q - Can anyone get information from the VA about my service-connected disabilities and how much compensation I receive?

A - Under the Privacy Act of 1974, we can inform anyone how much money you receive from the VA if they provide sufficient identifying information about you. However, we are not allowed to inform anyone where your VA checks go or what your disabilities are without your written permission.

Q - May a veteran or other eligible claimant work and still be evaluated as unemployable for benefit purposes?

A - Each claim for unemployability benefits is determined on the basis of the fact in the individual case. The nature and extent of employment and the effects of service-connected disabilities are taken into consideration. Veterans who are rated unemployable and who begin any type of employment should notify the VA at once so that continued eligibility can be reevaluated.

Simmons Cable TV winners

Nashville Network Satin Jackets were won by Ralph Tucker, Jr. of Harrington and Julia Acker of Milford. J.B. Wall Stadium

Springsteel had an outstanding year as out of twenty-five races, he finished in the top five on eighteen occasions.

Bill Cameron of Howell was the only driver to win a pair of features at Wall in the modern stock division.

Five different drivers recorded a single victory on the season and heading the group was last year's champ Bob Ormsbee of Wall. He won the event in the Holmes #20 on July 9th. Jon Mine recorded his first career win on July 2nd while Jerry Carroll went "Insane" after his victory of August 20th. Jim Taylor placed the 002 Auto Parts #02 into victory on August 13th as Jeff Loesch won his feature event on October 8th.

Wall Stadium would like to not only congratulate all of its winners in '83, but all of the fine competitors who took part in the racing action at the speedway. The management and staff would like to thank all for making the 1983 season a memorable one.

This picture of Harrington's once great theatre was submitted by Jim Evins. It is believed to be dated about 1958. The Movie Center Snack Bar is on the right. The theatre featured the giant super cinemascope.
