

Milford Police Chief talks on drugs

by William T. Ficks
The combination of alcohol and drug use and abuse, mainly among teenagers, present a problem to the police, according to Milford Police Chief Richard D. Carmean.
The 37-year-old Carmean is a big affable man with 17 years of law enforcement experience behind him. Eleven of those years have been spent as Milford police chief.
"Alcohol is the primary problem. Because of its low cost, most kids can afford it. And it's easily gotten. The older kids get it for the younger ones," Carmean said.

Milford has 17 full-time and two part-time policemen.
The Milford Police Department, like most police departments, has problems in getting sufficient funds to fight drug distribution effectively.
"We provide some of our own, but we have a problem in getting enough funds to pay informants and make buys," Carmean said.
"We don't have any drug kings running around Milford. The ones who are selling do it on a small scale, mainly to support their own habits," he added.

Making a drug arrest is a long, drawn-out process. Pushers sell to their friends. If a stranger shows up, the pusher becomes suspicious, or what the police call "hinky" according to Carmean.
Carmean emphasized the "opportunity to work" as a major deterrent in keeping young people away from drugs. He also said knowledgeable parents can pass on valuable information to their children.
"Many people poo-poo the dangers of marijuana, but almost all hard drug addicts started on marijuana," he said,

"Heavy marijuana users get laid back. They can look at the wall for four hours."
Since society has developed "more of a tolerance" for people who use drugs, the focus of the courts is on the pushers, Carmean said.
It is Carmean's belief that the laws are strict enough to curtail drug traffic, but that in many cases the laws are not enforced.
"Don't just fine them. That's not deterrent enough. Put them away where they can't engage in those activities," Carmean said.

There are large sums of money involved in drug trafficking, which accounts for much of the violence connected with drug violations, according to Carmean.
"If you wanted to go into a life of crime as a burglar, you'd have to be awfully lucky. You might have to commit three burglaries to get a thousand dollars, whereas you might get that much with one drug sale," he said.
Carmean is a firm believer in the use of knowledge as a weapon in the battle against drug use and abuse.

The Campaign Against Pushers (CAP) is an educational program being used in some state schools. In addition to educating the students on the dangers of addiction, the program urges them to provide information on major drug dealers. A student who provides information does not have to reveal his name. Rewards will be paid after arrest and indictment.
The program has had effective results upstate and will soon be used by local schools, according to Carmean.

Council rejects lease of school

Houston Council declares no election

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
HOUSTON - Since the filing time came and went with the incumbents being the only ones who have filed for the three seats on the Council each being for two years, the Mayor and Council declared that there need not be an election with those filing for the three seats being the new Councilmen. Councilman Carroll Jester and Dorothy Silbereisen filed for re-election and Connie Morgan has filed for Mayor. Morgan held it once before.
Mayor Richard Rollison and Councilman Whitley Jewel met with the Milford School Board at the Board's meeting the latter part of February to discuss the lease for the Houston Schoolhouse. The Board had sent a lease to the Council approximately 60 days previously with certain elements of the lease being met as a condition precedent to the making of the lease. Essentially the Town of Houston would be totally responsible for any and all maintenance of schoolhouse together with the liability should anything happen to the furnace, plumbing, roof, or any other capital improvement. The Council rejected that and made a counter-offer whereby the Board would help the Council with start up monies to put the building back in some kind of respectable condition. The building has been vacant for nearly three years. The School Board rejected that proposal saying they had no monies in which to comply with the Council's request. They also admitted that the building probably had no further use to the School District, and that the School District would like to find a way to "unload" the property. At first the School Board felt the Houston Schoolhouse should act as a backup to their main buildings in Milford should they be destroyed by fire or another act of God. The Board admitted in the latest meeting that this might cause a lot of problems in moving to the Houston school. This in turn prompted the need to consider "selling" the school. Councilman Jewel said in last Thursday's Council meeting that he would with the permission of the Council look into ways of obtaining a grant from the federal government.... "one which you don't have to pay back" in order to acquire the school house and turning it into a community hall. The Council approved this action.

The Council voted to proceed against certain taxpayers in the community who had not paid their taxes in nearly four years. Not only are there delinquencies which stretch back to four years but there are still others which have been due since the 1st of October. The Council voted Thursday night to forward the delinquencies to the Town's attorney, Henry Ridgely of Dover, to bring immediate suit to recover the debt in the Magistrate Court #6 at Harrington.

Myers returned to mayor's seat in Felton election

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
FELTON - On Monday evening in the Town election for three seats in the Town of Felton, a record number of seven contestants vied for seats available. A record number of 185 voters in recent years turned out to cast their ballots. William Myers was returned to office and on Tuesday evening it was expected that Myers would be selected by the Board to be the Mayor again. He has served in that position since being first elected 32 years ago. The other two candidates getting the next highest votes were James O'Conner a retired A&P meat cutter from New Jersey now making Felton his home, and incumbent councilman John Hopkins. O'Conner polled 96 votes the same as Myers while Hopkins garnered 87 of the votes. Others running in the election were James Sluter with 82 votes, Fred B. Greenly, III with 67 and Samuel E. Gurley with 44. Harry C. Consalo had 41. The term of office will be for 2 years.

Following the re-organization meeting last night when it was expected that Myers would be reappointed by the Board to serve again as Mayor, the council will meet next the first Monday in April.

Top stars tapped for Marydel

by William T. Ficks
It will never challenge New York City as the nation's entertainment capital, but little old Marydel is providing area residents with some top-notch talent.
The popular 50's-style music group "The Hubcaps" gave a rousing performance before a packed house at the Marydel Volunteer Fire Co. Social Hall Sunday night.
The Hubcaps had scored a resounding success at the social hall on January 8 and were back for a return engagement. The talented group has a large following in Delaware and Maryland among not only nostalgia buffs but also the younger set.
"We're trying to earn the reputation as a place where you can go and relax, have a few drinks and enjoy some good entertainment," said Ralph Rossi, the fire company's president.
"We're trying to attract big names, so people won't have to go to a bar or night club," Rossi added.
Profits from the fund-raising shows will go toward liquidation of the mortgage on the social hall and the debt on a new fire truck, and the purchase of new equipment.
Scheduled for a March 31 appearance are Bobby Rydell and the Duprees. Local music lovers will remember the stirring performance Rydell gave at the 1983 Delaware State Fair.
Some of the shows planned for upcoming months will star "Danny and the Juniors," featuring Joe Terry along with Joey Dee, who opened the Peppermint Lounge in New York City, "The Drifters" and "The Marvelettes," and Johnny Paycheck among others. "The Hubcaps" will return again in June.

The Marydel Volunteer Fire Co. serves Kent County in Delaware and Caroline and Queen Anne Counties in Maryland.
Sixty men comprise the fire company's membership and 30 women are members of the Ladies Auxiliary. About 30 of the men are active in fighting fires.
"We wouldn't be able to take a step without the Ladies Auxiliary. They're doing a great job," Rossi said.
Although area residents are generous in their support of the fire company, the shows that are planned will take some of the pressure off them, according to Rossi.
Bingo games are held every Friday at the social hall which holds 520 people. The fire company also sponsors dances and weddings in their fund-raising efforts.
"Getting big-name entertainment is something new for fire companies," Rossi said.
If the shows meet with continued success, the feeling here is that many other fire companies will emulate the Marydel fund-raising method.
Downstate Delawareans can look forward to the enjoyment of some top-flight talent, knowing that they're contributing to a worthy cause at the same time.

Aerobic classes held at W.T. Chipman

by William T. Ficks
Every Tuesday and Thursday night 37 women float about the gymnasium at the W. T. Chipman School in Harrington.
No, they're not on pot or LSD. But they are on something.
They're on oxygen.
The 37 women are members of an aerobic dancing class. Aerobics literally means "with oxygen."
Yvonne Armstrong of Felton is the instructor in the Aerobic Action program. The women range in ages from 13 to 65. Yvonne's 14-year-old daughter Monica is a member of the class.
The supple Yvonne stands facing the class and, when the music begins, guides the women through the various dance routines. She glides gracefully among the class, weaving in and out, all the while dancing and shouting encouragement.
Constant movement is the essence of aerobics. It is this constant movement that improves your cardiovascular system (heart and lungs) and tones the rest of your body, according to medical authorities.
"It's not a weight-losing class, but it will tone up your muscles and put you in shape," Yvonne said.
Dr. Kenneth H. Cooper, author of Aerobics says, "Aerobics will improve your lungs, heart and blood vessels; will increase your sleep, energy and capacity for work; will reduce fatigue and will help prolong your life."
The Aerobics Action classes are offered by the YMCA of Southern Delaware in Dover.
Aerobic Action was created for the YMCA of Metropolitan Washington in October, 1978. Since that time the program has spread to other YMCA's, including those in Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Puerto Rico, Bulgaria, the Bahamas and the Virgin Islands.

Ideally, aerobics should be done three times a week. The 37 women in aerobic classes at W.T. Chipman School attend two classes a week. They are encouraged to add an extra day of aerobic exercises each week. It is suggested that they walk, run, jog, swim, jump rope and, of course, dance.
"We have a choreographer and a physical ed instructor who design the program. The instructors go to Pennsylvania for a weekend to learn new routines," Yvonne said.
New classes will start the week of March 12 at W.T. Chipman School in Harrington and Lake Forest North in Felton. Classes will be held two nights a week for 12 weeks. A fee of $24 is charged for the entire 24 sessions.
Classes are also held in Dover, Hartly, Smyrna, Frederica and Sandtown. For further details, call Yvonne Armstrong at 284-9227.
On a class schedule Yvonne had written, "Look Good, Feel Good, Have Fun!" which pretty much sums up the Aerobic Action philosophy.
"I wrote that in myself," she laughed.
"That's how I feel about the program."
Ponce de Leon searched in vain for the magic "Fountain of Youth." If he were alive today, he'd probably be attending aerobic classes at W.T. Chipman.

1918 flu epidemic wiped out millions

by William T. Ficks
We have an anniversary coming up that we would all rather forget.
But many old-time Delawareans can't forget.
For it was on March 11, 1918, 66 years ago, that the deadly "Spanish Influenza" epidemic broke out at Fort Riley, Kansas.
If you were alive on that day, you worried about your loved ones overseas, the boys in faraway France fighting for their lives in World War I.
A week later you were worried about your life.
Within weeks the lethal flu bug snuffed out thousands of lives from coast to coast.
Before the deadly disease came to a halt the following November, over 500,000 Americans and more than 21 million people over the entire globe would perish.
Records at the Delaware Bureau of Vital Statistics show that 49 deaths were attributed to the flu in 1917.
In 1918, when the epidemic struck, Delaware deaths caused by the flu skyrocketed to 1,216.
Schools, restaurants, churches, saloons, billiard rooms and ice cream parlors in many parts of the nation were padlocked. People wore masks on the street. Those who didn't were liable to arrest.
The pandemic devastated not only all the civilized world but the uncivilized as well.
A.A. Hoehling, author of "The Great Epidemic" wrote that it wreaked its carnage "from the jungle to the polar regions."
He added, "Coast Guard searching parties, for example, discovered Eskimo villages in remote, inaccessible Alaskan regions wiped out to the last adult and child."
He noted, "Three thousand residents of Wilmington, Delaware, were sick. Delaware College, at nearby Newark, sent its few well students home and sealed the campus."
One Delawarean who remembers it well is Miss Grace Hastings, a lifelong resident of the Bridgeville area.
A retired elementary school teacher, she said, "Indeed, I do remember it. I was a patient. And so were my mother and brother. It was my first year of teaching. They closed the schools."
She told of how the family feared for her mother's life.
"She had trouble breathing. The doctor recommended good whiskey. Although I'm against drinking, the whiskey did help," Hastings said.
"My father sent out for the whiskey. We gave her three drops of whiskey and a teaspoonful of warm water. Six hours later she was able to breathe better," she added.
Hastings developed a spot on the lung two years later during another flu outbreak.
"I went to a teachers' meeting in the old armory in Dover. All of them were coughing their heads off. I missed the whole school year," she said.
Although there wasn't much to laugh about that year, bizarre humor was reflected in a piece of doggerel -- "I had a little bird. Its name was Enza. I opened the window. And in-flu-enza."

Miss Hannah Richardson of Rehoboth Beach is another veteran Delawarean with unforgettable memories of the 1918 epidemic.
"We were living in Laurel at the time. I had it, and so did my mother and brother. My brother had it very bad. He was only a little boy. His legs were like sticks," she said.
"We caught it from my uncle when he visited us. He caught it at an Army camp in New York. It was very contagious," she continued.
"My father didn't get it. He was working in Philadelphia at the time," she added.
Her father, who will be 103 on June 15, was unavailable for an interview. He is in good health and, weather permitting, takes a daily walk with his daughter. He has a cane, but won't use it, she said.
"Our maid left the kitchen one day and never came back. She thought we were all going to die. She was scared to death," Richardson said.
"It was a dreadful thing," she stated, "people caught it and died within two days. They couldn't bury them fast enough."
Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Smith, two present day residents of Milford, also have graphic memories of 1918.
Smith was a school boy in a small town near Eugene, Oregon.
"I didn't have it. My brother, who was a soldier, caught it in France. I remember my mother going to homes in the neighborhood helping the sick. People were dying like flies. It was a lot like the Asian flu. It's only my opinion, but I think the French Foreign Legion brought it back to France," he said.
"I was a little girl, going to school in Baltimore. My family didn't get it," Mrs. Smith said.
"My father had a friend who was a doctor. He came in one morning and told us his wife had died overnight. She had turned black. My mother gave us a little whiskey and warm sugar water at night," she remembered.
"I wore an asafetida bag around my neck. I don't know what as in it, but I remember it had an awful odor. Whatever it was, it kept the flu away. It probably kept everything else away," she laughed.
This harvester of death disappeared from the U.S.A. in the first week of November, 1918 as mysteriously as it had arrived.
A week later, coincidental with the signing of the Armistice ending World War I, the deadly virus left England and Europe.
Jubilant victory celebrations signaled the defeat of Kaiser Wilhelm and the death-dealing epidemic.
The only spot on earth totally unaffected by the fatal germ was Tristan da Cunha, a tiny, isolated island in the South Atlantic.
The worldwide death toll was 21,640,000.
In 1919 there were isolated flareups in Alaska, Puerto Rico, Germany and New Guinea. Then it was heard from no more.
Where it came from and where it went remains a mystery to this day.

There were many children attending the tryouts for both Little League and Senior League on Saturday morning at the W. T. Chipman Gym. Tryouts and the draft will continue this Saturday morning at the W.T. Chipman Gym. Physicals will be required this year. A team of doctors will conduct them at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, March 17th at Trinity Church in Harrington. You may also have your family physician conduct the examination.

Easter Seals

Twenty-seven Kent County teams raised a total of $5,156.15 this past weekend in the second annual Easter Seal/WSTW Volleyball Marathon held at Dover High School. Eighty New Castle County teams raised a total of $12,610.00 at the A.I. duPont and Newark High School locations. Team members obtained sponsorship from various donors and combined these donations to play in the marathon. The Kent Association and Life Underwriters raised a total of $1016 making the team the leader in the amount raised for the Easter Seal Society.

Proceeds from this event support services for disabled children and adults in Delaware. The next fund raising event will be a softball marathon scheduled for May 19 and 20, 1984.

Black concerned citizens Schedule regular meetings

by Trina Benson

A meeting of the black concerned citizens was held at St. Paul A.M.E. Church, 103 Mispillion St. These meetings have been held several times to discuss issues that concern black citizens in the Harrington area.

Some special concerns were the lack of adequate housing and recreational activities for our youth.

The group plans to become more involved in civic issues, keeping in close contact with city council representatives and investigating all possible resources for aiding black youth, senior citizens and adults.

Mr. Donald Deputy was selected as temporary chairman. Meetings will be held on the 2nd Monday of each month. Concerned citizens are invited to attend.

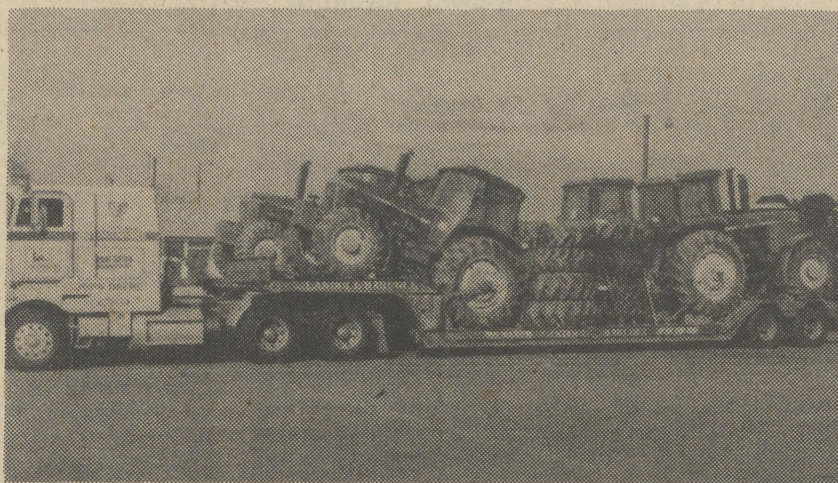

The next meeting will be held on Monday, March 12, 1984, at 7:00 p.m. at Mt. Moriah Church of the Living God, W. Mispillion St., Harrington.

Pam Kreer in lead role in "Anything Goes"

BY Phillip Kensington.

Pam Kreer is looking forward to March 16. That night she will play her first lead role in a theater production when she portrays Reno Sweeny in Lake Forest High School's production of Anything Goes.

"I enjoy being in comedies. This show is funny in two ways. It is full of clever little lines and word play, and the plot has a lot of crazy confusions."

Pam has appeared in plays before. She has had important roles in the last two Lake Forest Christmas productions. She was also a chorus member in the production of Showboat done in Dover last year.

She enjoys all aspects of a musical. "I've always loved singing, and I studied tap and jazz dancing for five years." But acting is her favorite aspect of the musical. In fact, she seems determined to make a career of acting and plans to study theater after she graduates. Although she plans to train for another career to fall back on, she says, "I'd rather live on a tight budget and be happy with my career than be rich and hate what I'm doing."

As Reno Sweeny, Pam sings more than any other character. Among the eight songs in which she has solo parts are the Cole Porter favorites "Anything Goes," "You're the Top," "Blow, Gabriel, Blow," and "I Get a Kick out of [Continued on page 3]

by Pat Hatfield

By the time you all read this, March will be with us...March, with his blustery winds, blowing away the winter doldrums and coaxing the new green shoots from the good earth. The Indians called March the month of The Full Worm Moon. In this month the ground softens and the earthworm casts reappear, inviting the return of the robins. The more Northern tribes knew this as the Full Crow Moon when the cawing of the crows signals the end of winter, or The Full Crust Moon because the snow cover becomes crusted from thawing by day and freezing by night. Another variation is The Full Sap Moon, marking the time of the tapping of the maple trees.

A man named William Morris was inspired to write a little poem about March, which goes: "Now are the winds about us in their glee, tossing the slender tree; whirling the sands about his furious car, March cometh from afar."

Last week we ended while talking about the social life of the early nineteenth hundreds, and how there was so much time available to sit and enjoy life. We spoke of the school picnic in the spring and the Ladies Aid meeting once a month to take care of the needs of the local church.

Occasionally during the winter there would be a Quilting Bee at someone's home. The ladies quilted around the frame, the children played tent underneath, and someone prepared a hearty evening meal. The men returned for their families after their evening chores were done and that was a happy time. But, school picnic, Ladies Aid and a quilting party...no wonder they had time to sit and rock!

And while they rocked in the long winter evenings, they pieced quilts. The fathers and grandfathers often whittled whistles or made cornstark dolls for the kids. My own grandfather used to carve me tiny, exquisite baskets out of peach kernels. Why on earth weren't they saved?

Yes, in some ways, they were the good old days, but one thing we are not anxious to go back to is the outdoor plumbing! How did we ever cope with that in zero weather? And how did we ever manage to keep tiny babies alive in bedrooms where the water froze? Dr. Gray used to say that it was small wonder that babies suffered so with croup, taking them from a hot kitchen into a cold bedroom. Grandmother used to tell me how she would get up on a cold night with anyone of the seven and rake over the fireplace coals, and sit in the little rocker with the baby. Then she would roast an onion for the earache, take a tiny piece as hot as possible and insert it into the small ear, then cover it with a small salt bag which held the heat better than our hot water bottles of today.

Harrington Rotary News

by Melvin L. Brobst

The regular meeting of the Harrington Rotary Club last week was held at the home of Gayle and Thelma Smith on Commerce Street when the annual wild-game dinner was served. This was the fourth year this event took place.

The meal consisted of wild goose, dove, scalloped oysters, macaroni and cheese, peas with mushrooms, cold slaw, turnips, sweet potatoes, rolls and butter, mustard pickle, dressing, strawberry jam, coffee, and blueberry cheese cake for dessert. The dinner was proceeded with a shrimp appetizer.

The dinner was prepared by Thelma and her staff consisting of Mrs. Marie Davis and her daughter Eldora, as well as Greg Smith, the Smith's son. Grandson Brandon added moral support to the proceedings. The evening coincided with Gayle and Thelma's wedding anniversary which added to the gaiety of the evening.

Mel Luff, president of the club, presided during the business session that followed the dinner, and adjourned until the next meeting night, which occurs each Monday evening at 6:15 p.m. at the Harrington Restaurant and Newsstand, 100 Delaware Avenue, when all interested persons are invited to attend.

It was further noted that Mel and Charlotte Wyatt were in Colorado last month where they attended the semi-annual meeting of the International One Call Systems Committee at Keystone. Among the highlights was a dinner in a ranch bunk house and a horse-drawn sleigh ride.

Mel Wyatt also will be one of the officials when the runners bearing the torch for the summer Olympics pass through Delaware from Naaman's Corner to Glasgow in May. The project is being backed by AT&T.

ENERGY

Why use a solar water heater?

The sun makes free fuel deliveries daily — in unlimited supply. By using that fuel source for water heating you will reduce your monthly utility bills, save energy, and probably increase the resale value of your home.

A properly sized solar water heater can save you between 50 and 80 percent of your annual hot water costs.

For example, if the cost of electric hot water for your family this year is $20 each month, a solar water heater could save you $15 a month. As electric rates go up your savings increase proportionately.

How Does it work?
A solar water heater operates in much the same way as a standard electric one.

With a standard electric water heater, turning on a "hot" faucet in the house causes cold water from your main water source to enter the tank. A sensor inside the tank determines when the overall water temperature drops and activates an electric heating element. That element then heats the water in the tank to the desired temperature (120°F to 140°F) and shuts off automatically.

A solar water heater, on the other hand, has two temperature sensors, the second one being at the collector panel.

As the sun heats the panel to a temperature higher than that of the water in the tank, the circulating pump turns on to force the cooler water up to the panel. Once heated there, it then flows back into the tank. When the water in the tank reaches the desired temperature the pump automatically shuts off.

This process will continue as long as the panel remains hot enough to elevate the water temperature. On very cloudy days, or at night, the electric heating element takes over.

During cold winter months, collector panels and plumbing can be protected from freezing in several ways. The two most common are the DRAIN DOWN system (water drains from the panels when near-freezing temperatures occur) and the CLOSED LOOP system (an anti-freeze solution — separated from household water by a heat exchange device — is used in the exposed areas).

ENERGY TIP - Weather-strip and caulk around all entrance doors and windows limit air infiltration which could account for 15 to 30 percent of space-conditioning energy requirements.

"Reno is like me in many ways. She likes to help her friends. She is carefree on the surface. But I think that underneath she is looking for some security in her life."

Working on the musical has been great fun for Pam, although she was surprised at how time consuming it has been. And she doesn't mean just the rehearsals. She says the show is always on her mind. "Every day someone will say something that reminds me of a line from the play. I walk around school with Cole Porter's music going through my mind."

She finds Porter's music somewhat complicated while the lyrics are simple. "The tunes are catchy, and I think they'll be familiar to many people who may not recognize the titles." Even though she is a senior, Pam has hopes for the future of theater at Lake Forest. She hopes the audiences will be large and will enjoy themselves. "A lot of work has gone into bringing musicals back to Lake Forest. Whether or not there'll be more depends on this year's support." Even though that puts more pressure on her and her fellow actors, Pam feels confident. "The work has paid off and I'm sure we'll have a good show."

Anything Goes will be performed in the high school auditorium at 8:00 P.M.

Hopkins named U.S. National Award winner

The United State Achievement Academy announced today that Amy L. Hopkins has been named a 1984 United States National Award winner in Student Council.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students.

Amy, who attends Central Middle School was nominated for this National Award by Patricia Russell, English teacher at the school. Amy will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

Amy Hopkins is the daughter of the late J. Lynn Hopkins and Ann & Claude Bowden of Dover, Delaware. The grandparents are Ethel and Louis Hopkins of Magnolia, Delaware and Jewel and Arthur Hoffman of Dover, Delaware.

Do you know what is written on the cap (or top) of the Washington Monument? Give up? Well it is -- "Praise Be The Lord."

Do you remember any of the quotes on the rises of the Washington Monument? Answer -- two are: "Bring up a child".....etc. and "Suffer the Little Children".....etc.

Do you remember when your treat was a big -- big ice cream cone for your hard-earned 5 cents?

Do you remember your favorite little girl friend? Jo remembers hers as a little dimpled face girl. She told her mother she wanted holes in her face too! Hazel Langrell and I used to share our penny's worth of candy when we were little kids. Also Marian Harrington used to join us. Lorelle Lewis was Hazel Riley's constant little girl companion. They were neighborhood pals.

Kathryn Smith and Hazel Smith were high scorers at our card party Wednesday afternoon. Hazel Langrell, Mildred Wagner, Ethel Rapp, Ruth Powell and Dorothy Graham all had loads of fun at Mary E. Nelson's!

Refreshments pretty as a picture and delicious! Chatter friendly. Didn't mind the howling wind outside for eight women in our room can make noise a plenty! No comments! We had fun!

Bowling, pool, Spanish, ceramics, Barbara Evans and several ladies were busy Thursday doing crafts. Myra Hargrove brought a monkey made from socks. Cute as can be. I used to see a lot of them at Trinity Bazaars.

Bingo with several participating and enjoying.

Menu's good, come in and see and taste! Sign up the day before you come in if at all possible.

Best wishes to all and I do mean ALL! Be kind to each other! See you at the Center. Faith!

St. Bernadette's Catholic Church

NOTES FROM CHARLIE BROWN: The holy season of Lent begins with the imposition of ashes on our foreheads on Wednesday as a sign of our commitment to prepare ourselves to celebrate the Paschal Mystery—the passion death and resurrection of the Lord. And the best preparation is to model our lives on that of the Lord - to become more caring, more concerned, more compassionate; to seek justice and right; to be a peacemaker. Intensified prayer, penance, and self-denial, almsgiving are the means we use to follow Jesus more closely.

The Easter Genesis booklet, prepared so ably by the Lent/Easter Committee of our parish Liturgy Committee will help us all grow through Lenten and Easter Seasons as a community of faith and love. Please keep it handy and use it daily.

RCIA: An integral part of the Lenten season is the final preparation of the catechumens to be received into the church during the Easter Vigil liturgy. Next Sunday at the 11:00 a.m. Mass the Rite of Election will be celebrated during which our catechumens will be presented to the parish for our prayer and support. Please pray for them daily.

ASH WEDNESDAY: Ashes will be distributed by the pastor and the Eucharistic ministers during the services on Ash Wednesday. You will be asked to affirmatively respond to the question, "Will you turn away from sin and be faithful to the Gospel?" before the ashes are placed on your forehead. St. John's - 9:00 a.m. Prayer Service; 7:30 p.m. Mass.

St. Bernadette's - 6:00 p.m. Mass

FAST AND ABSTINENCE: Ash Wednesday is a day of fast and abstinence. If you are over the age of 14 you may not eat meat. If you are between the ages of 18 and 59 you may only have one full meal. The other Fridays of Lent are days of abstinence from meat.

PENANCE SERVICE: In order to prepare for the celebration of Easter and to come closer to the Lord, there will be a Penance celebration on Tuesday, March 13th at 7:30 p.m. in St. John's Church. Four priests will be available for Confessions. Please make plans now to attend.

Asbury U.M. Church

Ash Wednesday Worship Service will be held at Asbury United Methodist Church on March 7 at 7:30 p.m. The traditional Service Of The Ashes will be celebrated. This is the beginning of the Lenten Season which is a time of self-examination, confession and purification. Through our Lenten observance, we may more fully enter into the joy of Easter. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

In The Pocket

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
Eddie Crowson had a $98,200 winner on Friday night with Tara Can. The time for the mile was 2:09. Explaining what happened he said, "They trotted my race. They went down to the half in three and a piece....and I was eighth. They kept the same pace up so my horse came on the last quarter. I guess we trotted the last quarter in :31 and a piece....and I just out-trotted all of them." For a while in the early '60's, Crowson worked for the venerable Frank Irvin.

On Friday at The Meadowlands, it was a race card which featured all sub-two minute miles. It had happened once before on a Friday night at The Meadowlands when the weather was a little cool. They came back again on Saturday night with all sub-two minute miles except for one. In the 3rd leg of the Four Leaf Clover Pacing Series for $17,500 it was Gallion Skipper for Ted Wing in 1:56.2 over American Freedom. Fortune Skipper driven by Eddie Davis also was a $17,500 winner in 1:58.5. He paid $30.40 to win and made the Trifecta a cool $3,336. Recently at Yonkers the Trifecta paid over $17,500. Life Styles won the $20,000 for Fillies and Mares for Sonny Patterson in 1:59.1.

At Rosecroft in the 4th leg of the Representative Pacing Series the winners were Comic (2:00.3), Past Line (2:01.4), Wratu (2:05.3), Stonegate Polara (2:06).

At Yonkers on Saturday night in the $50,000 1st leg of the George Morton Levy Pacing Series it was Soky's Atom for Sonny Patterson in 1:58.1 over Hobart's Star and Vac's Happy Cress. Doc's Fella and Mike LeChance win in 2:00.2.

At The Meadowlands in the $30,000 Open Pace Silver Dollar wins for John Campbell in 1:57.4 while Ron Waples wins with Sporting Boy for the third straight in 1:57.1.

At Maywood Park a world record for a half mile track was set by Bensometer a four year old gelding by Ben Hur Hanover in 1:56.1 despite the temperatures in the teens. It was his 13th life time start with Lavern Hostetler in the bike.

The "Iron Man" Mickey McNichol set a track record at Pompano Park on Saturday night with a record 7 victories. McNichol set fast miles of 1:57.1 in two of the feature races.

At Rosecroft on Saturday night in the $6500 Open Handicap pace it was Spriggy and Randy Truitt winning in 2:00.2.

At Liberty Bell on Saturday night Buster Trouble win in 2:02 for Al Stafford. On Sunday at The Bell in the $7500 Preferred Pace the fastest mile of '84 at the 5/8ths mile oval was set by Treiskaldeka in 1:58.1....driven to

Spartans downed in State Tourney

Lake Forest's Spartans carried their 83-84 basketball season into the opening round of the state tournament on Friday where they were downed by the Spartans of St. Mark's, 70-59.

Their fate was shared by nearly all the remaining downstate girls teams in the tournament as Milford lost to A.I. duPont, Mt. Pleasant beat Indian River and Glasgow defeated Laurel, Cape Henlopen was the lone survivor defeating Wilmington by one point. The Vikings were ousted in the second round on Monday night when they fell to A.I. duPont.

Lake Forest fell in the first quarter when St. Mark's built a thirteen point lead. Thereafter, the play remained close with Lake Forest scoring 20 points to St. Mark's 19 in the second quarter and 11 to 10 in the third. The final quarter was an 18-18 standoff. At one point the downstate Spartans narrowed the gap to light points, but they did not succeed in erasing the early deficit.

Lake Forest played without the help of scrappy point guard Karen Sipple. Sipple saw a few brief moments of action, but a sprained ankle suffered during practice, kept her on the bench for most of the game.

Foul trouble threatened both teams. Lake Forest senior Pam Pierce was benched after getting her fourth foul in the third quarter. She returned to action late in the game. The remaining senior starters, Stephanie Tolson and Beverly Weaver, also accumulated four before game's end.

One St. Mark's player was ousted after her fifth foul, and several others had four.

Lake Forest scoring was led by Stephanie Tolson and Pam Pierce who had 21 and 18 points respectively. Teresa Taylor turned in 8; Angela Molohan, 6; Elisabeth Senter, 4; and Andrea Molohan, 2.

Downstate boys' teams fared much better as Caesar Rodney, Delmar, Cape Henlopen and Seaford all won in their first round games on Saturday night.

RACEWEEK

Towers gets the 30 car ride of Blue Hen Racing

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
MILFORD, DE - This Sunday at Bridgeport New Jersey Fairgrounds the stock cars will take the track and officially open dirt track modified racing in the east. There will be...like always some new faces...some new cars...and most importantly...just like Grand National Racing there were some driver switches.

This year campaigning in the #30 Modified race car of Blue Hen Racing will be ever popular Delmarva Stock Car driver Billy Towers.

Since 1968 the likeable resident of Milford, Delaware has been on a stock car racing program somewhere in the east. It was in those early going years that he frequently showed up at Bridgeport. "I've always felt that he got the most good out of the experience he gained from there with a lot of the real hot shoes", said his father William E. Towers, Sr. recently. Many race goers and enthusiasts say that the young slender driver can put the car there. "He isn't afraid...and he won't back off", says many fans who have watched him drive the famous #21 of Ken Covey's Race Team.

Towers and Covey teamed up in 1977 and became not only a first rate race car team, but consistently running near the top or winning. "I think you can we did it with a low dollar budget...but we all pitched in to make it a real success", said Towers. He makes it known he will be bringing the element of team work and the importance it plays in making a winning car possible as well as a winning season. Towers says it is still a hobby for him. "The owners are interested in projecting a good image for the race team and the Delmarva Peninsula as well as for the City of Milford," said Towers. The car which Towers will be piloting will be the Bud Olsen Eagle, which was rebuilt several times during last season. The #30 car never got to the winner's circle last year due to what racing experts call the worst luck ever. "It was just one of those things. Small parts would break and keep us from winning as well as large parts. But basically no luck at all...everything went against us," said one spokesman for the team. They were leading the Flemington 200 and crashed on the 189th lap. At Nazareth they qualified twice on the pole. They set a new track record of 31.06 on the mile-tri-oval. In another prestigious race, the Eastern States 200, they were running extremely strong and about to make a move on the leaders when a tire went down. "For no reason...it just went down", said one disgusted team member.

The Blue Hen Race Team has been in existence for the past 5 years. The principals still involved in the support of the race team are Bobby Fischer and George Chaney (Diamond State Truck Brokers) whereas Fischer heads up the sprawling Milford Fertilizer company. In 5 years the cars of the Race Team have averaged over 80 features a year and they have won 59 features. The team won 28 the first year out.

The team will again this year be led by Crew Chief, Danny Schurman with mechanics Eddie Walls, Paynter Lynch, Jerry Brittingham, Marion Mitchell and Jim Hayes. Tony Feil and J&J Balancing (John Boelander) will build the engines. "We have received great cooperation from Bud Olsen... and he has been most accommodating", said Schurman.

Towers is now employed at I.G. Burton Chevrolet and Oldsmobile in Milford with Danny Schurman as the Sales manager of the firm.

The eyes of the motor racing work from Delaware will be on the 30 car at Bridgeport on Sunday. The car likes the Bridgeport oval...Towers likes it, and the Bridgeport fans like him. We wish them a safe and successful season.

Allison gets 80th career win at Rockingham

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. - Defending 1983 Grand National Winston Cup Champion, Bobby Allison, the leader of the Alabama Gang, pulled away as the sun set on the stars of NASCAR in the Warner Hodgden Carolina 500 at the North Carolina Motor Speedway at Rockingham on Sunday. It was Allison's 80th career win since entering NASCAR Grand National Racing 28 years ago. Allison did it by besting defending Terry Labonte who won the event last year.

Allison's only other win this year was in one of the Twin UNO-125 milers at Daytona during Speed Weeks. He started one of his worst seasons in many a year. So often has this been the case with Darrell Waltrip who in prior years doesn't seem to be able to dial in except during the last half of the season. Waltrip has shown how patience and will to win has paid off despite tremendous setbacks.

Shortly after the green flag was dropped by Flossie Johnson (Mrs. Junior Johnson) Waltrip slowed to almost a crawl. The sudden slowdown brought out the first caution of the day when skidding cars came roaring up through traffic on the first lap only to get lag jammed as they got near Waltrip. As it turned out, Waltrip would be sidelined for the next 15 laps while Junior Johnson replaced the broken rear axle. Waltrip finished 10th just 14 laps off the pace. Allison's previous two starts in the Daytona 500 and the Miller Time 400 at Richmond finished him 34th and 30th respectively with blown engines.

The win for Allison broke a tie for third place in the NASCAR standings behind Richard Petty and David Pearson.

Allison who finished all but two of the 30 races last year on the NASCAR circuit raced to victory at an average speed of 122.931 which broke his old record set in March of 1979. There were a series of crashes which slowed the time of the race considerably. There was a 35 minute stoppage of the race when a broken guardrail in the third turn...the treacherous third turn was repaired.

Allison qualified 15th in the race but led five times for 118 laps. But it was race hard Dick Brooks who led for 169 laps in the Junie Dunlavey Thunderbird. Brooks looked like a sure winner as he and Allison battled for third spot on lap 357. The two cars touched and banged together while going through turn two resulting in a lot of sheet metal damage on Allison's car...but the collision sent Brooks' car careening up into the wall. Although Brooks limped around the 1.1017 mile oval and appeared still to be able to stay up with the leaders eventually had to call it a day...and parked the Ford.

On lap 373 a wild-six car crash when Lennie Pond blew an engine causing rookies to see for the first time a Grand National car go spinning in front of them. Thus Clark Dwyer and Mark Stahl got initiated into NASCAR's series of sudden impacts. With oil and water all over the racetrack, cars began to hit it and start spinning. First it was Connie Saylor...a relief driver for Dale Earnhardt who was complaining of being sick right before the start of the Warner Hodgden Carolina 500 of eating something which did not agree with him or just the plain old flu. But nonetheless the nausea caused him to climb out of the race car. Rusty Wallace and Harry Gant, the latter sat on the pole, both came sliding through the slick stuff striking the wall rather hard. Neither driver was injured...but only Saylor's was able to continue.

On lap 431 with Allison on the lead...and apparently having the race well in hand, the caution came out for the last time as NASCAR officials detected debris on the old racetrack. Again where was the debris? The only ones who saw it were the officials...but my oh my how it makes for a tighter finish.

But for the second week in a row, a NASCAR driver has come back from adversity. First it was Ricky Rudd who took that wild tumble at Daytona... only to come back and win at Richmond...the second event on the NASCAR schedule...and now Allison who has come back after two dismal finishes. Allison got the lead on the 437 lap for good and held on to record his 80th win. The lead change resulted in the sixth and final caution flag of the day. Very briefly on lap 439 Terry Labonte squeezed by the hard charging Allison...but only briefly, for Allison gave her the gun and shot by Labonte. The latter finished second with Lake Speed getting up for third. The defending champion Richard Petty got fourth while Buddy Baker in the Wood Brothers prepared Thunderbird got fifth. The win for Allison broke a tie for third place in the NASCAR standings behind Richard Petty and David Pearson.

Rezoning application for racing at Wildcat denied

DOVER - Last Tuesday night before a packed Levy Courtroom, arguments were heard from each side whether to permit motor racing at The Wildcat Landfill Track by the Wildcat Recreation & Club, Inc. An overwhelming number of residents in the area through letters to Levy Court members, State Representatives and other officials connected with the matter voted 5 to 1 to deny the petition by the Racing Club.

The biggest complaint by the residents in the area was "the noise factor". For the longest time, the argument used was that the Wildcat Landfill area was unsuitable due to toxic and ecological objections. Thomas W. Mercer, a resident of the nearby development of Penwood acres, vehemently voiced the objection to permitting auto racing at Wildcat. The Levy Court went along with his presentation. Levy Court Commissioner, Jack Walls of Milford, was the only vote "nay" vote against the denial for the racing permit.

Wildcat was scheduled to begin racing sometime in April. But now without a track plans to race by the Wildcat Club will be uncertain until a track is located.
