Harrington man charged with sodomy

by William T. Ficka

Michael J. Gerrick, who operated the Boardwalk Video Games at 104 Delaware Avenue, Harrington, was charged on March 1 with first degree sodomy; two charges of endangering the welfare of a child; receiving stolen property; and offensive touching involving a 46-year-old Harrington man.

The 27-year-old Gerrick was arraigned at Magistrate Court No. 6 in Harrington and committed to Sussex Correctional Institution at Georgetown in default of $25,000 bond.

The case involved two separate arrests. Sgt. Harold Brode of the Delaware State Police arrested Gerrick on the sodomy and endangering the welfare of a child charges, and Patrolman Guillermo Flores of the Harrington City Police arrested him on the receiving stolen property and offensive touching charges.

The proprietor of the building which houses the video arcade has closed the building as a result of the police investigation.

The victim of the alleged sodomy was a 13-year-old Dover boy. Two Harrington boys, aged 12 and 15, were involved in the endangering charges, according to police.

According to newspaper and court files, Gerrick was arrested in Elizabethtown, Pa. in 1982 and charged with five counts of deviate sexual intercourse involving boys aged 11 to 14. He pleaded guilty to the charges in May, 1983. In August, 1983 he was fined $1,000 and costs and placed on four years concurrent probation on all five counts in addition to one year concurrent probation on corrupting the morals of minors. The court stipulated that Gerrick should seek psychiatric counseling. Gerrick also operated a video arcade while in Elizabethtown.

A preliminary hearing on the Harrington charges will be held in the Court of Common Pleas in Dover on March 15.

More arrests are expected in the case, police said.

Food Rite store to undergo extensive renovations

HARRINGTON - The Harrington Food Rite located in the Quillen Shopping Center in Harrington will undergo extensive renovations during the next two weeks, according to Don Dadds, the owner and proprietor. Dadds said "...the whole store is getting a new facelift. We are painting the interior...making changes in lay out...adding some new items to our inventory. When we finish, it should be most appealing to our valued customers".

Dadds also expressed concern that he wanted his valued customers to know that the renovations would not be at their inconvenience. "The store will remain open the usual times. There will be no changes there. I don't feel our customers will have to shop around workmen. The transition will be smooth, and hopefully the customers will not be bothered at all", said Dadds. The renovations should take about two weeks.

On Saturday at the Milford High School Cafeteria, a retirement reception was held to honor retiring physicians at Milford Memorial Hospital. Over 100 people were in attendance as Drs. John B. Baker, Leslie M. Dobson, George H.S. Chen, Oliver A. James, and Felix Mick were honored. In this picture, Dr. Oliver A. James, right, and his wife, left, came to Harrington Sunday morning to present Mrs. Lagatha Hill Farrow with an orchid. Mrs. Farrow was one of the invited guests at the retirement reception. "Now...Miss Hill [Mrs. Farrow] when you told me you would not be able to attend the reception due to a sore throat...I suspected the sore throat was more a severe case of stage fright...right?" said Dr. James. "I was there when your father delivered you. He said to me, my headache is over now...now you take over from here", said Mrs. Farrow. Photo by HGF

Harrington Council tables two bids, enters two Executive sessions

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.
HARRINGTON - The Harrington Council met on Monday night for its regularly scheduled monthly meeting. Bids for a new air compressor and a new dump truck were opened and read. Councilman Jackie Wyatt moved that the decision should be reached in a workshop meeting on with bid to accept since each bid was "...and there is a need to compare what we have presented to us", said Wyatt.

The Council passed a parking ordinance making an area in front of the Salvation Army store a loading zone for commercial vehicles loading and unloading between the hours of 10 a.m. and 12 noon Monday through Saturday.

The council went into executive session on two different occasions during the meeting. First on a "...matter labeled...for legal discussion", and the second time to discuss "...procedure concerning matters that the Planning & Zoning Commission renders an opinion". The point in question was a matter brought to the Planning & Zoning Commission regarding the land owned by Townsend Masten and located on the north side of his home between the home and Clark's Corner Project in which the developer requested a zoning change from R-1 (single family property) to R-4 (zoned for apartments). The Planning & Zoning Commission turned the site down as being undesirable due to its close proximity to Clark's Corner Project. The land owner and his agents objected to the ruling and the procedure followed.

Local woman fights for humane animal death

by William T. Ficka

Marion Liska of Harrington is conducting a one-woman crusade in local areas to ensure a dignified and humane death for unwanted animals.

Liska has circulated a petition calling for the abolition of the decompression chamber as a method of putting animals to death.

Liska had secured 104 signatures on the petition as of last week.

Those signing the petition are calling upon Delaware legislators to enact a law that would abolish decompression chambers and restrict the method of animal euthanasia to lethal injection.

When animals are put to death by the decompression chamber method, they are put into a round metal air-tight chamber. All air in the chamber is withdrawn in 58 seconds by a vacuum pump. About a minute later, sometimes longer, the animal becomes unconscious. Two minutes later the chamber is returned to normal pressure for ten minutes and the dead animal is removed. It has died of hypoxia, which is a lack of sufficient oxygen to the brain.

According to literature distributed by Liska and printed by People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA) in Wilmington, many animals suffer in the chamber.

Upper respiratory or middle ear infections can cause air to be trapped in the middle ear, which can cause excruciating pain during decompression. Abdominal bloating associated with expanding gas also causes great pain for the animals. Middle ear hemorrhage and extensive lung damage occur during recompression, according to PETA. The PETA says older animals and those younger than four months should not be placed in the chamber.

If the machine malfunctions, the animal may survive the cycle, only to be run through again, according to shelter workers who have testified before the Delaware Senate.

"This cruel, inhumane method of putting helpless animals to death makes my blood boil," said Liska.

State Representative G. Robert "Bobby" Quillen (R-Harrington, 30th District) said he would vote to abolish the decompression chamber if a bill comes up for a vote in the House of Representatives.

All Delaware SPCA shelters employ injection of sodium pentobarbital while the Delaware Humane Association continues to use the decompression chamber.

Advocates of the injection method say it is cost effective compared to the chamber and death can be achieved quietly, calmly and rapidly. Bady injured animals may have to wait 20 minutes for the end of the decompression cycle before being euthanized whereas the injection method can be performed almost immediately. There are fewer man-hours, freeing shelter workers for other duties such as medical care of adoptions. Since shelter workers are more personally involved, they have the satisfaction of knowing that the animal received some comfort before its death, according to PETA.

Liska has placed petition forms at the Harrington Journal office.

Those interested in signing the petition to abolish the decompression chamber can do so at the Harrington Journal Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Powers returned as Frederica Mayor

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

FREDERICA - At last Monday election in the Town of Frederica five citizens had filed for the three seats available on the Town Council. Leonard Benson who was running for the first time garnered the most votes with 111, Helen Powers got 100, Ezekiel Dill pulled 96, Gail Forbes received 17 and Virginia Simpler got 7. Normally the candidate who receives the most votes is automatically the Mayor, but in this case Leonard Benson felt his lack of experience on the Council should be grounds enough for him to not accept the Mayor's position. Powers in turn was appointed Mayor again.

Although condemnation of certain houses and buildings were matters that should get a lot of attention, newly elected Ezekiel Dill felt that the more people who sit on council become more familiar with the water situation in the Town the better for all. "The more we have working on this matter and participating in it...the more people we have who will know what to do in an emergency", said Dill. The pump giving the main source of water lost its prime on Sunday, March 4th. The Town of Frederica was without water for a short time.

N.L. Wilkins got the trash contract again. It is to be noted that the bulk items are to be picked up the last Monday of the month.

Councilman Tom Wilmore again called for the Council to begin work with the County on a comprehensive zoning plan for the Town.

Possum Point Players

The Possum Point Players production of the Broadway musical Gypsies and Dolls will open this Friday night at the Del Tech Theater in Georgetown with the fanfare befitting a Premier Night, including press coverage.

Players and friends will come dressed in their finest formal attire. A group of 10 theaterlovers from Milton called ticket chairman Til Purnell to ask specifically for opening night tickets so they could wear their finery and join in the spirit of Premiere Night.

Formally dressed doormen will open car doors at the curb and at the entrances to the theater building. Hollywood style spotlights will illuminate the entrances and uniformed bellhops will be scurrying through the sellout crowd, running messages and ushering theatergoers to their seats.

With just a few seats left for Friday and Saturday nights, the Players are expecting a sellout crowd for the first two of six performances planned this Friday, Saturday and Sunday and next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. All performances are at 8 p.m. except for Sunday's show, a 2 p.m. matinee.

Seats are still available for the Sunday matinee and next week's performances. Tickets are $6 each, $5 for senior citizens and full time students attending the matinee.

For ticket reservations, call Mrs. Tilly Purnell at 945-1317 or Mrs. Sally Andersen at 629-2571 after 5 p.m.

Department of Public Safety

DOVER - Robert J. Voshell, Director of the Division of Motor Vehicles, has issued the statistics for the first year of Delaware's new drunk driving laws. The number of drunk driving arrest reports received from all police agencies in the State was 6,626 or an average of 552 per month.

Of the total arrested, 6,018 (90.8%) drivers were revoked under the administrative part of the law which is conducted by the Division of Motor Vehicles. 5,189 (78.3% of the total arrested) were revoked within 16 days of the date of arrest with no hearing requested, and 829 (12 1/4%) were revoked as a result of the hearing.

Voshell said the law, which was enacted on February 19, 1983, has a two-part process. One part is administrative and is conducted by the Division of Motor Vehicles. The other part is conducted by the courts.

Under the new law, the officer immediately takes the driver's license of the individual arrested. The officer issues a revocation notice which also serves as a temporary license for 15 days. If the driver does not request a hearing in writing within 15 days, the revocation becomes effective immediately. If a hearing is requested, the Division schedules the hearing at which the arresting officer must be present. The Division's Hearing Officer will listen to the facts and render a decision. The decision will be whether or not to revoke the license of the driver.

In addition to the administrative procedure conducted by the Division of Motor Vehicles, the arrested person must also appear in court. The court action may result in the arrestee being found innocent or guilty and may also result in the driver's license being revoked.

A person's refusal to take the breath test can also result in the revocation of the license.

David Jarrell and Pam Kroer perform a duet in Anything Goes.

Mr. Alex Becton, musical director for Anything Goes, is excited about the show.

Becton lends talent to Anything Goes

by Sherry Roberts
"This year's musical is coming along very well. I'm quite pleased", commented Alex Becton, the music director for Anything Goes, the spring musical being performed this year at Lake Forest High School on March 16 and 17 at 8:00 p.m.

"It's really going to be a good musical", added Becton. "The only thing that needs work is volume. The cast isn't used to singing over a pit band, but other than that, it's going really well."

When asked if he would help again with a musical (if one is done next year) he replied, "I would have to think about it. It's awfully time consuming and it keeps me away from home a lot. Plus it runs right smack into tennis season. And I don't get paid a penny for it", he joked.

Becton feels that the musical will be a success because "we have an excellent choreographer in Pastor Ranney and an excellent director in Curt Stickle."

Recently, the cast has been practicing with the pit band to become accustomed to working together. The pit band includes clarinet, alto saxophone, flute, trumpet, trombone, drum set, timpani, bass guitar, lead guitar, piano, xylophone, and several other miscellaneous percussion instruments.

The pit band includes Professor Cooper (from Delaware State College), Oye Skaggs, Phillip Cataldi, Ivan Coleman, Gary Price, Chris Cessna, Scott Dill, Chris Shaffner, Mark Home-wood, Jerry Thompson, Crystal Shockley, Laura Lee Richter, Rebecca Brown and Dave Reirder.

Becton discovered his talent for music when he joined his junior high school band. "That's the thing that took up most of my time", he explained. "I used to skip my classes just to go down to the band room", he admitted.

"Before I graduated from high school, my band director told me I should try out for a music scholarship and I did," he explained. Becton accepted a scholarship from Delaware State College. He added that he was "in chorus as well as band".

Becton belongs to the Singing Players, which is "a group of singers whose home base is in Dover, but it has several members from different towns throughout Kent County". Each year they do two shows, a Christmas and a Spring musical. Becton added that he "thoroughly enjoys it".

According to Becton, "Nobody should miss this musical. Some of the best talent around is right here at Lake Forest High School. Considering the fact that not any of the students are professionals, they are doing an admirable job of singing, dancing and acting. And that's the truth!"

Police Beat

Scott Holland of Harrington was charged with inattentive driving when he crashed his car into the pole in front of Harrington Food Rite. Holland received 4 points for the driving mishap.

On March 18th, Harrington Police Department will lose two men who are going to the Police Academy. During that period until they return to active duty, Councilman Donald Jarrell made a motion that the City contract to have 40 hours a week of coverage in the area to compensate for the loss of the two men. No mention was made where the contract might come from.

Court 6 at Harrington will go to parttime at the end of this month when Judge Cohee retires. Police Chief told the Harrington Council on Monday night that it was necessary to have letters written to politicians urging them to keep the Court open for case disposition by the Harrington Police Department.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

We the newly chartered Felton Jaycee Women's Chapter would like to thank the "sister" chapter for all their help and guidance. Several dedicated members of the Harrington Jaycee Women's Chapter were very patient with a few interested women who wanted to form a chapter.

We attended a District Meeting, but things were a little shaky at first, we almost lost interest and all hopes of forming a chapter. With the help of a few special ladies; Sue Ellen Dennis, Gail Ralph, Janet Rettig and Lynn Outten, these women attended several of our meetings as we tossed the idea around of starting a chapter. Finally, we put the pieces together.

The Town of Felton, not only has a fine group of Jaycee Men but as of February 15, 1984, it now has a growing group of JAYCEE WOMEN!

Again, thanks to these ladies of Harrington for all their time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Donna K. Calhoun, President

Secretary Steiner introduces Cordrey Rule

by Edward J. Steiner

On Tuesday, February 28, 1984, I began in inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the incident involving Senator Richard S. Cordrey on January 12, 1984. I interviewed all Delaware State Police personnel involved in the matter last week and completed preparation of my findings over the weekend.

On March 5th I met with Attorney General Charles M. Oberly III and Chief Deputy Attorney General Bartholemew J. Dalton to discuss the results of my inquiry and provide the Attorney General with a copy of my findings, and to seek advice on whether legal action should be initiated against Senator Cordrey.

cease. DUI cases should not be considered ordinary traffic violations in any sense. When inadvertent errors are made and later discovered, the case should be resumed unless legal constraints prevent such a resumption.

2. In conformity with the law, intoxilizer tests at the Troop resulting in a test of .10 or more shall result in arrest with no exceptions.

3. All DUI evidence from the intoxilizer tests (cards produced by the intoxilizer test) shall be retained and secured for a period of 90 days (or longer should subsequent review so indicate) regardless of test results.

4. All intoxilizer test results, regardless of level, should be logged in the activity book at the time they are administered.

5. All officers shall, in accordance with the rules and regulations of the State Police, perform their duties without consideration for a subject's position, rank or influence.

6. The situation presented by the events in this case will become the subject of training experiences for State Police and used as part of annual in-service training emphasizing proper procedure, peer support, supervisory techniques and responsibility. This training will emphasize every individual's responsibility for seeing that the law is enforced impartially. Those not directly involved in problem cases must know that they have a responsibility to support other members to that end.

7. The Council on Police Training will be asked to consider the problem and make appropriate recommendations for changes in recruit training.

8. The Department of Public Safety will recommend that legislation be introduced and considered which would prohibit a State Police Officer's career from being unduly influenced as a result of the performance of his duties when such duties are performed within the specific requirements of the rules and regulations of the State Police and the laws of this state.

I was advised by Attorney General Oberly that I should take no further action, and that the Attorney General's office would conduct a formal investigation into the matter and determine whether prosecution is warranted. According to the Attorney General, his investigation should be completed within a week to ten days.

In light of this investigation, I am not releasing the portion of my findings concerning the events surrounding Senator Cordrey's case.

However, the issue of further action in Senator Cordrey's case aside, I have concluded that the matter was not properly handled. I have therefore directed action to be taken regarding policy, procedures and attitudes within the State Police to avoid repetition of such an occurrence. To that end I am directing immediate implementation of a number of changes in police operations, practice, and training:

- The practice of not rearresting when inadvertent mistakes are committed in DUI cases shall cease immediately.
 - Intoxilizer tests at a troop showing a blood alcohol level of .10 percent or more shall result in arrest with no exceptions.
 - Evidence in such cases will be retained for at least 90 days.
 - All intoxilizer tests will be logged when they are administered.
 - Legislation will be sought, and training will be designed, to make it clear that a subject's position, rank or influence shall have no effect on police procedures.
 - The full text of the recommendations is available from the Department of Public Safety.
- As a result of my analysis of the Cordrey incident, I intend to implement the following recommendations with regard to policy, procedures, and attitudes within the State Police:
1. The practice of not rearresting when inadvertent mistakes are committed in DUI cases shall immediately

It is clear from this incident that there is an expectation, perhaps from previous attitudes affecting State Police, that certain groups of people including elected officials are to be protected from the inconveniences of enforcement of the law. Delaware needs and the State Police are becoming a sophisticated, impartial, full service law enforcement agency. It is essential that the Division continue to be operated strictly on the basis of merit, and that these merit principles become institutionalized. It is also essential that no actions be permitted to undermine the confidence in and ability of the State Police to impartially and fairly enforce all laws.

MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Drivers) favors Cordrey Investigation

by Marcene Gory

MADD is pleased that the Department of Public Safety and the Department of Justice are conducting an investigation of the incident involving Senator Cordrey. The public has overwhelmingly stated to us directly and through the media that they want to know what happened. We hope that Misters Oberly and Steiner will complete their investigations as quickly as possible and inform the public fully of their findings.

Polls have shown clearly that the public supports Delaware's DUI law. We know from first hand experience how committed the police have been in carrying out the law. We know that the police, being professionals, will not permit this one incident to change their commitment to saving lives.

It would be advantageous to Senator Cordrey, and to everyone involved, for the issue to be resolved as quickly as possible.

While attention is focused on this one incident, everyone should keep in mind that 4 out of the 8 traffic fatalities this year involved alcohol, and that in January of this year, there were 80 personal injury crashes involving alcohol, a 29% increase compared to January of last year.

We are still a long way from solving the problem of drinking and driving.

"Quillen for Governor" leaders chosen for Sussex County

NEW CASTLE, DE - Bill Quillen, Democratic Candidate for Governor 1984 announced today the selection of Frank B. Calio of Laurel and Robert Tunnell, Jr., of Millsboro as the Co-Chairmen for his campaign in Sussex County.

"I am delighted to have these two effective and active Sussex County Democrats leading my effort for Governor in their County", Quillen said.

Calio and Tunnell both have been active in the Democratic Party both at the Statewide level and especially in Sussex County.

Calio is the former Sussex County Democratic Chairman, and former member of the Laurel Town Council. He was most active as the Finance Chairman in the recently completed drive for the Nanticoke Hospital.

Commenting on his selection as Co-

Chairman for Bill Quillen for Governor 1984, Calio said, "Bill Quillen is a man for all the people, trusted by Democrats, Independents, and Republicans, alike. They believe that Bill Quillen is the man to lead Delaware forward in the '80's and not lose the progress that we have already made, and I am proud to be supporting him", Calio concluded.

Robert Tunnell, Jr., Millsboro businessman and Managing Partner of Tunnell Co. (L-P) Mobile Homes, and former Democratic Committeeman, said, "Bill Quillen is a lifelong Delawarean, who knows the problems of the State and is especially knowledgeable about the needs of Lower Delaware and Sussex County, and has promised to help solve them as Governor. I am proud to be one of his supporters and workers."

Carper to hold March 30 Navy Procurement Conference to benefit Delaware businesses

WILMINGTON - Congressman Tom Carper announced plans to hold a special conference designed to help Delaware businesses successfully compete for contracts with the United States Navy.

The Carper conference on Naval procurement opportunities for Delaware's business-people interested in attending the conference. Interested persons should obtain a registration form from Congressman Carper's Wilmington office: 5021 Boggs Federal Building, 844 King Street, Wilmington, DE 19801; 573-6181.

"The Navy buys more than just battleships and airplanes," Carper, a current Commander in the Naval Reserve, said. "They also buy thousands of smaller items — from nuts and bolts to micro-circuitry — items that are produced in Delaware every day."

Noting that Delaware has not been as successful as neighboring states in generating business activity with the Pentagon, Carper said that his conference "is aimed at giving Delaware businesspeople the technical 'know-how' to effectively compete for Navy contracts."

The Congressman pointed out that representatives of the Dover Air Force Base, the Wilmington Air Guard, and the Small Business Administration will also make presentations at the conference.

The Navy presentation will be led by Commodore John R. Ruehlin, commanding officer of the Navy's aviation supply office and an acknowledged procurement expert.

Moore takes last bow in "Anything Goes"

by Phillip Kensington

Jeff Moore will be playing his second straight leading role when he portrays Billy Crocker in Anything Goes this Friday and Saturday in the Lake Forest auditorium. It will also be his last role at Lake Forest. He graduates this June.

Jeff is the most experienced actor at Lake Forest. As a freshman he played Beverly Carlton (a character based on Noel Coward) in The Man Who Came to Dinner. The following year he played Victor Velasco, the eccentric neighbor, in Barefoot in the Park. Last year, he played the male lead, Roddy Fitzgerald, who faced the threatening ghost in The Uninvited. In addition, he has appeared in the three Christmas productions and had a major hand in writing this past year's Christmas play.

"Jeff has really developed his acting abilities over the last four years," says director Curt Stickle. "Even as recently as two years ago I would not have considered casting him in a role as demanding as Billy Crocker. But now Jeff could play most any part."

Billy Crocker is business manager for a Wall Street stock broker. He stows away on the liner American because the girl he loves is sailing to England with her fiancé. In order to evade the ship's efficient purser, he must assume a variety of disguises.

"I am really enjoying playing Billy," says Jeff. Roddy Fitzgerald was steady and practical, but Billy does things on impulse. In each of the disguises, I have to change, not only my costume, but also my personality and voice while remaining Billy underneath."

Jeff has found performing in a musical more challenging than in a straight play. "I don't have much singing experience, so I had to work hard on it. Acting is still my favorite part of theater, but I would love to do another musical."

Billy Crocker (Jeff Moore) tries to convince Hope (Sondra Warren) to break off her engagement in Anything Goes. In background are Dawn Cohee, Jeff Minson and Bambi Biggs. [Photo by Doug Huffstutler].

Jeff is pleased to be singing Cole Porter's music. "It's timeless," he says. "The songs were written in the thirties, but people of all ages will enjoy them. They just don't seem dated."

After graduation, Jeff would like to Happy St. Patty's Day! Smile! Just for the ability to be able to read this! Believe me it is something to be thankful for!

Louise and I were talking of things you rarely see now-a-days - a few we remembered - glass milk bottles, straw stacks, steam driven engines, the little red caboose, a horse and buggy horse pulled tractor, wringer type washer, sit down ironer, $1.00 visits to the doctor, grass matting, fountain pens, black bloomers, dirt roads, washboards, crank handle phone, a side car motorcycle, yard swings and hammocks and do you ever, ever see a birdseye diaper??

by Pat Hatfield

The early Romans began their year with the spring, and their first month was named Martius, after Mars, the God of War. Thus we get the name, March.

We often say, "It's a small world", but some humorist has said, "It's not a small world to the man who is chasing his hat on a windy March day!"

Signs of spring are everywhere. Longfellow said, "If spring came but once in a century instead of once a year, or burst forth with the sound of an earthquake and not in silence, what wonder and expectation there would be in all hearts to behold the miraculous change."

So now we are coping with March. Old March is a trickster, giving us warm sun for a few hours and cold, black clouds in the next hour, snow flurries and raindrops and sometimes blummy breezes. Martin Luther once said a thing I like to remember: "Our Lord has written the promise of the Resurrection, not in books alone, but in every leaf in springtime." And once again it is coming to pass.

I have been writing this column for so many years, and many of you have walked with me through all the seasons many times. Perhaps this is just the time to tell you all how much I have loved and appreciated this love and fellowship. The joy and the beauty is doubled when it is shared.

One of my favorite authors, Winston Abbott, has said: "Beauty has a thousand different faces." We know this, don't we? You have shared with me the stark beauty of black branches against a cold, gray winter sky...the old Japonica bush decorated with bowknots of wee gray sparrows...the first golden daffodils of spring, holding in each small cup the mystery of eternity...the fragile spider webs glistening with dew on a May morning...the rich fragrance of the plowed fields and the mewing of the gulls as they fly over them...the muttering of distant thunder on a hot summer afternoon...the gorgeous sunsets, with never two alike...and the moon and the stars to bind us ever closer to the eternal mystery.

If we did not have this beauty we could not see the beauty of our daily tasks, preparing the food, dressing the beds with clean linen, decorating our homes with the colors and arrangement that give us serenity.

Well, the lemon pie has all been eaten. It struck a responsive chord in my kitchen friends, and so many of you called or wrote to say you enjoyed it, and you all agreed with me that it was worth the effort.

We have different names for foods now. When my grandmother was growing up they called bacon, "Fritch". I do not know why. And when I was a little girl my mother did not make creamed dried beef. She made "Fried beef gravy". Our grandparents did not speak of eggs benedict or omelet. Eggs were fried or scrambled or, in case of an invalid, they were dropped on a pan of boiling water and poached. Sassafras tea was served both for enjoyment and as a good tonic for the blood. No one connected it with cancer. The herb "Pennroyal" was served as a medicinal tea, but the natives spoke of it as "Pennrile".

A lot of our meat came from the wild...muskrats, opossums, racoons, squirrels, rabbits, turtles, wild ducks and geese and my grandfather Bennett's favorite was blackbird pie. Groundhog we did not eat in our neck of the woods, but I have eaten it in Pennsylvania since I grew up. And I have had "Bearburgers". Deer steaks are good and venison stew is tasty, but I would rather let them live and eat something else.

Jesus has entrusted us with the responsibility of telling others about salvation. Christians show God's love by caring for people in need. Being a Christian is a 24-hour-a-day, 7 days-a-week job. No one knows when Jesus will return. The challenge for the Christian is always to be prepared to stand before the Lord and give an account of his or her faithfulness.

Soon the pipe organ will be completed. Many unique problems were encountered during the rebuilding but, they have been resolved.

The console could not be rebuilt with the standard parts due to the fact that it varies from the A.G.O. standard. Hence, all of the parts for the console had to be handmade, causing some delays.

The "pneumatic system" of which there are 516 tiny bellows, (one for each pipe) was entirely rebuilt when Mr. Lent noted that some of the leather was not up to par. Therefore, rather than take a chance, he had to do these sections over again.

Now, the rebuilding is in its final stage, but it was noted that the pipe structure was sagged and must be re-supported. One pipe has fallen out twice so far and had to be repaired and we wish the organ to be right so this problem is being worked on now.

However, when it is complete, the public will be invited to the special "Rededication Service" which will have special music, guest organists, and refreshments.

Lenten sacrifice to be observed in local Catholic Parishes

During Lent, parishes and their members in the Catholic Diocese of Wilmington will participate in the 1984 Operation Rice Bowl hunger awareness campaign, "Shaping a Peaceful World." The program renews the traditional Lenten practices of prayer, fasting and almsgiving for the poor. Catholics in Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland last year gave $32,700 to feed the hungry at home and around the world. Grants amounting to $8,550 were awarded to groups in the local diocese last year.

Families who participate in Operation Rice Bowl are asked to fast or eat a reduced meal once each week and to donate the savings to the program. The theme this year "Shaping a Peaceful World" was chosen in response to the U.S. Bishops' Pastoral Letter on War and Peace. In the letter, the Bishops call for concerned Catholics to help lay a foundation for peace by promoting justice and providing for unmet human needs.

According to the Rev. Joseph McMahon, diocesan coordinator for Catholic Relief Services, the program is now in its ninth year. Focus of the campaign is a cardboard symbolic rice bowl distributed through parishes at the beginning of Lent. The bowl, to be filled with contributions, also serves as a reminder that many people daily suffer from poverty and hunger in this country and around the world.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church

St. Stephen's Church marked the beginning of the Lenten season with the Litany, Holy Eucharist and the Imposition of Ashes on Ash Wednesday, March 7, at 7:00 p.m. Following the service and on the Wednesday evenings during Lent, a special study group entitled "Death in the Light of the Resurrection" will be held. Participants will examine Christian attitudes toward dying and death, current trends aimed at a more caring atmosphere for the dying, such as the hospice movement, what a Christian should include in his or her will, how does a Christian prepare for death. We invite the community to attend both our weekday Lenten services and our Lenten study group.

Morning Prayer is read each Wednesday morning at 7:00 in the Vicar's study. Bible Study Group is currently studying St. Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians. This group meets at 9:00 on Wednesday mornings. The Choir is preparing special music for the Easter Vigil and Easter Sunday services. They meet on Thursdays at 8:00 p.m. Interested singers are invited to attend.

Every Sunday, religious education classes are offered for children and adults. These classes begin at 9:30 a.m. and are open to all interested children, young people and adults. The Holy Eucharist is celebrated the first, second, and third Sundays of each month at 11:00 a.m., and the fourth Sunday of each month at 8:00 a.m. Morning Prayer is offered at the 11:00 service on the fourth Sunday of the month. We welcome visitors to our services and to coffee hour after each service.

Our thanks to Ralph and Viva Poore, Inez Robertson and all the members of St. Stephen's who worked so hard to make our annual Shrove Tuesday Pancake Supper a success.

Slater, Schuelein win 1983 Hervey Awards

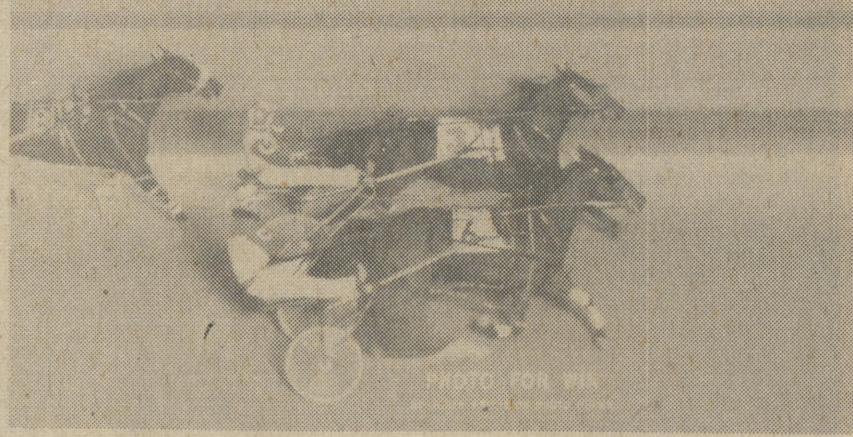

COLUMBUS, Ohio - Chuck Slater and Steve Schuelein have been selected the winners in the newspaper and magazine categories, respectively, of the 1983 John Hervey Awards competition.

The Hervey Awards, annually sponsored jointly by the U.S. Trotting Association and the U.S. Harness Writers' Association, honor outstanding harness racing journalism. The awards are named after one of the most distinguished and respected scribes in the sport's history.

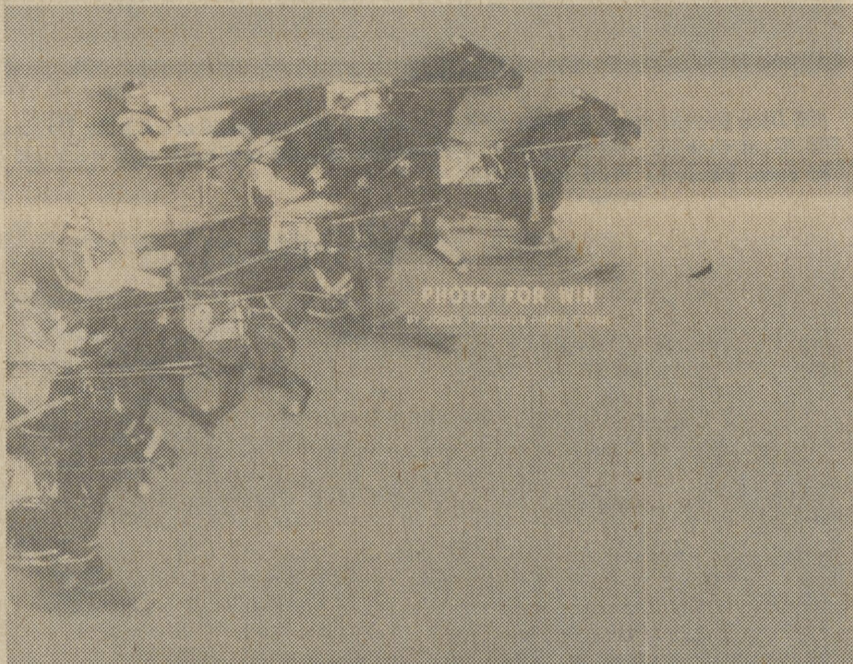

Slater, a sports reporter for the New York Daily News, won for his story entitled "Death of Dancer's Crown Saddens Hambletonian." Rogers praised Slater's "moving account of (the) tragedy" that befell Hall of Fame trainer/driver Stanley Dancer when his prize colt died just before harness racing's premier event.

Second in the newspaper category was Steve Blust of the Sacramento Union for his article "Waddell Learned to Drive After He Couldn't Walk," marking the second straight year that Blust earned second-place honors. Third went to a former national winner, Jack Kiser of the Philadelphia Daily News, and his "Warrington, Vankirk 'Battle' To Record."

Afton Khaki [6] with Dover Downs' driver Walt Callahan noses out Linda McKnatt with Ruby's Boy [3] and Walt Shahan driving Shadydemon [8] in 2:04.3 on Tuesday night, March 6th.

Nice to See You [2] with Bob Botsch with the reins beats Shelly's Minster [6] [R. Murphy] and Fiedelbaum [3] [D. Myer] to the wire ahead of.....the whole field so it would appear in 2:05.2 at Dover Saturday night.

The Belote's enjoying "City Life"

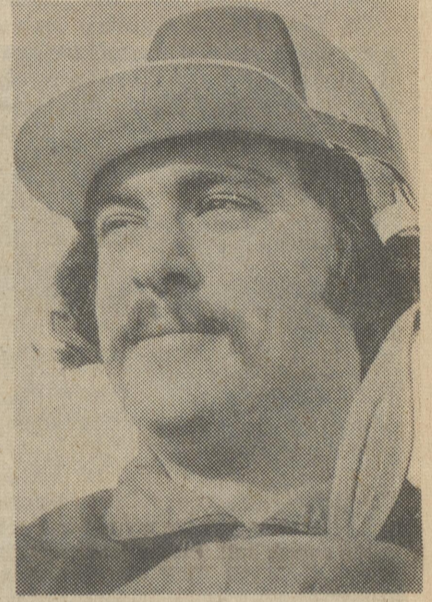

by Scott Cooper, Public Relations, Yonkers Raceway

The latest pair of driving brothers to enter the Yonkers Raceway backstretch, Sam and Harold "Hal" Belote, are the first to admit that they are just a "couple of country boys trying to make it in the Big Apple." They aren't to be compared with some of the other top brother acts to drive at the Hilltop.

Not yet, anyway. But, in the past two weeks these "country boys" have made a distinct impression on the "city folk." Sam, 31, and Hal, 29, have arrived in New York from their native Delaware with very solid credentials. Both have garnered more than their share of driving titles from smaller ovals such as Ocean Downs, Harrington and Dover Downs. After numerous outstanding campaigns, they decided to head north and "get their feet wet" in the big-time.

"The money is really good up here compared to the other small tracks," Sam said. "And when I was growing up, I always heard that New York was the place to be and race."

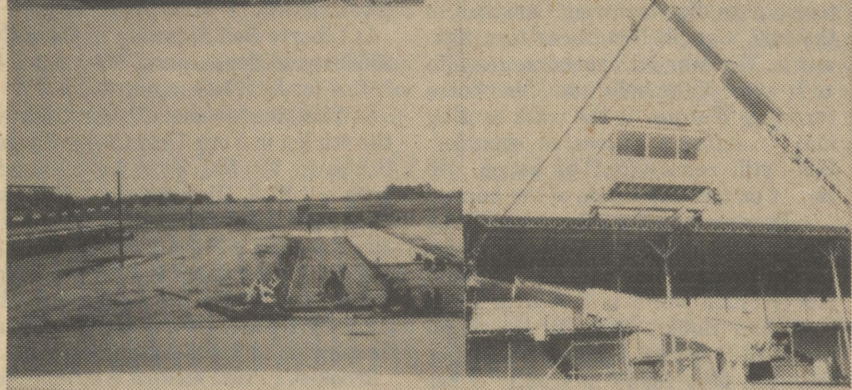

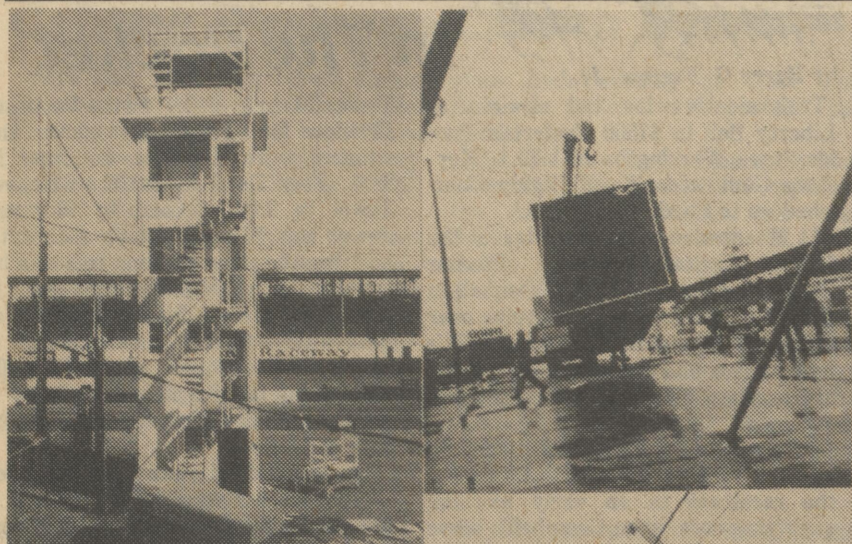

Hal had his own reason to migrate to New York. "My main owner, Edward Wainwright, wanted me to come up here. I have always done well driving for him and it seemed like a chance for me to get in up here."

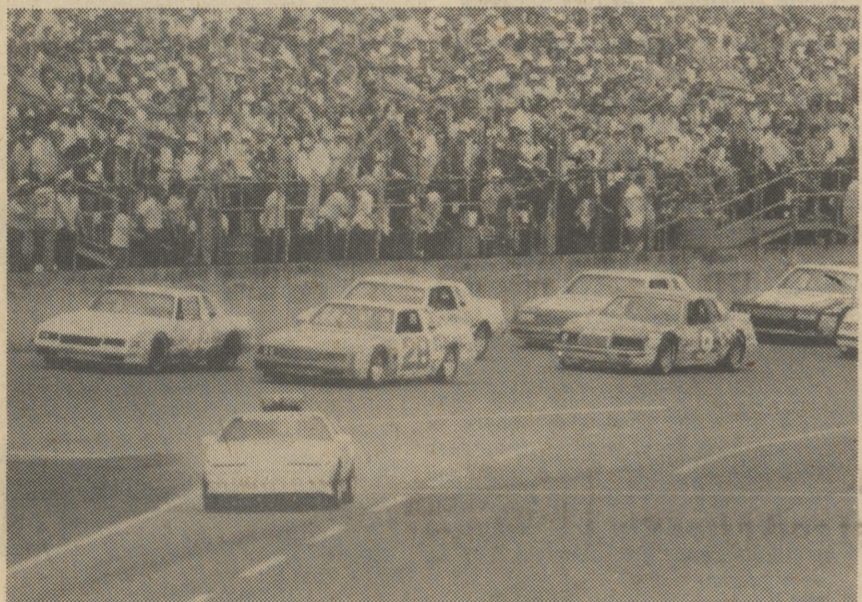

Sammy Belote

Both have enjoyed a great deal of success in the past two weeks, despite only driving here a few nights a week. Sam's top charge, the classy Big Shift, recently defeated a top-notch field of pacers in the featured $20,000 Open Handicap, and at the time of this writing, has reeled off three straight impressive triumphs as he ascended through the class ranks.

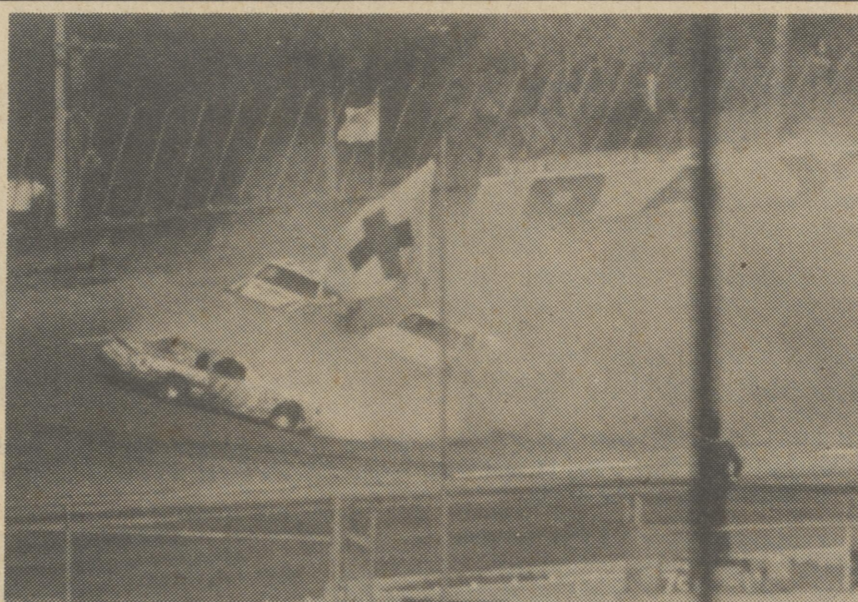

RACEWEEK

Pit Chatter

Sam Ard, on the verge of leaving stock car racing three years ago, is at the top of the hill of NASCAR's Busch sponsored Late Model Sportsman Division.

The 45-year-old Ard won his first LMS divisional crown after 28 years as a driver in 1983.

In sportsman competition last year, Ard won 10 races and 10 pole positions in 35 starts, including five of the final six events.

Ard, driver of the Thomas Brothers Country Ham Oldsmobile, grossed almost $200,000 in winnings for the season.

The 1984 NASCAR Busch Series Late Model Sportsman schedule is taking on some new looks including a second event at Darlington Raceway.

"Now you're talking about a place I like — Darlington. I hear those other drivers talking about it being "Too Tough To Tame" and all that stuff, but I like it. I guess it likes me cause I respect it," Ard said.

Charlotte Motor Speedway has announced a record $1.5 million in purse money will be paid to drivers competing in their five major racing events in 1984.

Of the record payoff, $525,000 will be distributed among the 42 starters in the May 27 World 600.

Other races included in the record purse figure are the May 20 IMSA Camel GT 500, the May 26 Mello Yello 300, the Oct. 6 Miller Time 300 and the Oct. 7 Miller High Life 500.

The enthusiasm from Rockingham carried over to Atlanta International Raceway last Monday, creating the largest ticket sales in a single day in the 25 year history of the popular Georgia speedway.

"We closed the day (March 5th) at nearly $25,000" said the ticket manager for the facility.

The addition of two complete sections of the main grandstand has created an additional 3500 seats for the 25th annual Coca-Cola 500. Therefore, plenty of choice seats still exist at the 1.522 mile oval that has a unique bowl shape that allows fans anywhere in the grandstand to see the entire track any time during the 328 lap or 500 mile NASCAR Winston Cup event.

The Coca-Cola 500 will begin the Silver Celebration at Atlanta International Raceway when drivers arrive at the Hampton, Georgia track on Thursday, March 15th, to qualify for the Busch Pole Position at 3:00 p.m. Practice and qualifying will continue on Friday along with qualifying for the first ever ARCA 150, which will run on Saturday, March 17th, at 3:00 p.m. The 25th annual Coca-Cola 500 will start on Sunday, March 18th, at 1:30 p.m.

Cale Yarborough said, Waddell Wilson: "He could get 200 horsepower out of a sewing machine."

Geoff Bodine had this to say on the perils of short-track racing: "You have to learn how to control your temper because leaning on each other's car is part of the game. Drivers will try and intimidate other drivers, and you have to accept it. Putting a guy into the wall isn't the answer to anything. In Grand National racing, there's too much at stake to start that stuff."

From CBS spokesman Rick Gentile when the network learned the Daytona 500 ratings topped the Olympics on rival ABC: "People in our office were dancing in the hallways."

Rudd said after winning at Richmond: "You don't have a tendency to feel much pain when you win."

Nazareth National Motor Speedway to open March 25th

The news that thousands of racing fans are waiting for has finally arrived. Nazareth National Motor Speedway OFFICIALLY will open its gates for 1984 on schedule. As originally planned Nazareth National will host the Modifieds on Sunday afternoon, March 25th. The program calls for heats and consolations capped off by a 40 lap feature paying $4,000 to win.

Winner of the green will earn a guaranteed spot in the World's Richest Dirt Race paying $50,000 to win in October. On hand will be defending winner Kenny Brightbill and the 1983 Driver of the Year, Jack Johnson. Both drivers have already earned their berth in the 200 KM race by tying for the Florida Tour Championship at Volusia County Speedway in Daytona Beach in February.

With the seven events scheduled for Nazareth National and the 20 MODCAR qualifying events proposed, modified drivers will be competing for purses ranging from $13,000 to $250,000 totaling to $700,000 in cash awards for purses alone. Nazareth National modified and sportsman schedule:

shades." We were told to come in by way of the hall down to wait for our Daddy for supper. And for the BIG SURPRISE! for supper. Mother called us for supper - we clapped our hands, danced into the big kitchen as Daddy lit the "coal oil" lamp in preparation for main meal of the day at our house. Grandpop Bill twisted his huge handle bar mustache into place. We were all anxious to see what had caused Daddy to groan and mother to say, "Now Ed you be still!" Light the lamp, now the table is set - lamp lit - chairs in place - ham, cabbage, potatoes and hot biscuits, postum poured, we marched jubilantly into the kitchen. There on the table in the glow of the Aladdin lamp stood a big four layer light green cake all decorated with dark green shamrocks. Did you ever have a dream shattered? Well, honey, that was the first green cake we had ever seen. It was a great surprise. My mother cut the cake for dessert. The only slice that was eaten was by my mother. That green St. Patrick's Day cake lasted and lasted and lasted. The birds finished it. I guess birds didn't care about the color of the cake. Neither do I, now!

Sports reporters loved Casey Stengel.

The flamboyant Casey had a great sense of humor and was always a good source for colorful stories.

But the reporters could never decipher his meaning when they interviewed the double-talking Casey.

The following remarks are typical of a Stengel interview. If you know what Casey means, drop me a postcard and explain it to me.

Casey was asked what he thought of the 1954 American League race. He said "The Red Sox changed their methods and have come in with a young and old established ball club that's gonna make itself. I can't put the White Sox as high as they put themselves, see, but I'll say the Red Sox have done pretty good. Cleveland has done great, the Yankees will be the same or better and so, they should strengthen themselves and if they win, great, and let's hope everybody in New York it's the greatest city in the world. I worked for three of em they all do well and that'll be better for New York. Thank you."

The fat, awkward kid dreamed of being an Olympic speed skater.

"There's only two things that will prevent you from realizing your dream," said the coach.

"What are they?" asked the kid.
"Your feet."

stay involved in theater. He would like a career in theater but knows how tough the job situation is. Nevertheless, he intends to take courses in theater and music in order to improve his dramatic abilities.

Jeff feels that four years in theater at Lake Forest has improved his sense of responsibility. "When you're playing a role, the rest of the cast depends on you as you do on them. I enjoy being depended on and then successfully doing what I am supposed to do."

"Jeff is one of the most responsible people I've worked with," says his director. "Not only does he not miss rehearsals, but he is always 'up.' Most actors go through periods during rehearsals when their acting is flat. But Jeff gives his utmost at every practice."

There is no doubt Jeff will be "up" this Friday and Saturday. Billy Crocker is full of energy and is a demanding role, and Jeff will do his best to fulfill his responsibility. In addition, it is the last chance for most people in the area to see this talented young man perform.

Anything Goes will be performed at 8 p.m. on March 16 and 17 in the Lake Forest auditorium. Tickets may be purchased at the school this week or at the door. Cost is $3.00 adults and $2.00 students.

"The home building industry could learn a few things from a Perdue breeder house."

Kenneth Bennett, Delmar, Delaware

"I built my first Perdue breeder house in January, 1981, and now I'm building a second one. That's how convinced I am that I made the right decision becoming a Perdue egg producer.

Before Perdue, I tried the construction industry. I even had my own business. But there are so many fluctuations - and it seemed there was no buffer between a builder and a slumping market. But Perdue protects its growers with a guaranteed income. They absorb fluctuations. That means security for me and my family. And that's something rare in the construction business.

I was impressed with Perdue before I ever started getting my paychecks. Even before my house was built. Perdue helped me get financing for the house. They went to meetings with bankers, prepared papers and did more than any other poultry company would ever have thought of doing. Without them, I might not have this house.

And what a house! It's modern, clean and, thanks to the evaporative cooling system, very comfortable. The system cuts down dust, flies, ammonia smell and provides very energy efficient air conditioning. That not only makes it more pleasant for the grower, but nicer for the hens too. And they respond by producing more eggs!

The only kind of house I'll be building from now on will be Perdue breeder houses, right here on my own farm."

Give yourself a raise, raisin' with Perdue.
I'd like to meet with a Perdue housing representative, and learn how I can earn at least $26,634.00 per year by staying at home.

Happy St. Patrick's Day!

The Legend of St. Patrick's Day

Don't forget to wear your "green" this Saturday, March 17, 1984, to celebrate St. Patrick's Day. This St. Patty's Day celebration is in honor of the patron saint of Ireland, St. Patrick. If you don't have any green to wear, you could wear a shamrock. Legend has it that the shamrock illustrates the idea of the Trinity. St. Patrick died on March 17, around the year 461, and has been observed in America since colonial days. Observance of the day nationwide has been celebrated since 1845. Many merchants take advantage of this holiday to sell special wearing apparel, flowers, greeting cards and shamrocks. Many cities hold St. Patrick's Day parades to honor this patron Saint.

The Shamrock

The Shamrock is especially brought to mind this time of the year because of St. Patrick's Day on March 17th. The Shamrock is the national flower of Ireland and according to legend, St. Patrick planted it in Ireland because its three small leaves represented the Holy Trinity. All loyal citizens of Ireland still wear a shamrock in their lapel on St. Patrick's Day. The Shamrock appears with the thistle and the rose on the British coat of arms because these are the national flowers of Ireland, Scotland and England.
