

Lysik's contract extended/Luff to retire

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

LAKE FOREST HIGH SCHOOL - At the regular meeting of the Lake Forest School Board on Monday night, the Board voted 4-1 to extend Superintendent Lysik's contract one more year. He has currently served slightly less than a year on a three-year contract. The extension in effect gives him a four year contract overall. The lone dissenting vote was by Wallace Caulk. Nothing was mentioned about a salary raise. One housewife challenged the decision from the floor and was told this could come under Board policy. Principal Margaret Phelps gave a brief discussion of the matter to extend the school day. "I have it on good authority that DPI (Department of Public Instruction) will vote to make it mandatory to extend the school day to 3:30 p.m. It will mean, I believe, for us, a 50-minute period", said Principal Phelps.

There would be proposed 7 periods of 50 minutes each. DPI, according to some discussion by some Board members "is looking to have more classroom instruction."

Board member Wallace Caulk said he felt that it would not mean a whole lot by extending the class period now from what it is to another 5 minutes.

The longer day brought a lot of mixed discussion from the audience composed in part by teachers in the District. Coach Jim Fleming said it would put a burden on him and his coaches if this comes about. "We are already working late into the evening during practice sessions now. This would mean even more time into the evening," he said.

Assistant Superintendent Melvin Luff will retire no later than December 1, 1984 unless a suitable replacement is found beforehand. More on Mr. Luff's life and background in next week's paper.

In political matters, HB 429 is before the Delaware Legislature for passage. If passed it would call for a new distribution of funds from the State. In the first year school districts around the state could expect to see some monies filtered down from a gross sum of possibly $12.9 million dollars. The amount of money going to each district is based on granting the most to the school district that has the hardest time raising funds. Lake Forest ranks on the bottom of this list. It would get first preference and in the first year could expect to obtain from the state an estimated $900,000. The school boards can dispose of the monies in any way they so choose. They could even give the money back in the form of teachers salaries. But it would mean a slight increase in taxes again for the taxpayers of the Lake Forest School District.

The Board met three times in special session since the last Board meeting.

The Board took the following action on employees of the District: Patricia Mathis, English teacher at LFHS, resignation; Resignation of Colette

Moder, special ed teacher at LF EE; Resignation of Elneta Harrington, internal suspension aide LFHS; Retirement of Evelyn Lare, classroom aide with 16 years service at LFSE; Retirement of Nancy Knutkowski, 5th grade teacher LFEE; Rehiring of

Barbara Fitzpatrick, instructional resource center manager; Rehiring of Ralph Fitch, school psychologist, LF District; Rehiring of Richelle Porter, music teacher LFNE and LFEE; Rehiring of William Billings, driver-ed teacher LFHS; Virginia Angstadt rehired as halftime teacher LFHS; Rehiring of Stanley Borowski, teacher coordinator LFHS; Margaret Sparks, crisis counselor, LFHS; Rehired Phyllis Kohel, English LFHS; Rehired

Geraldine Spiker, math teacher, LFHS; Rehiring of Sherry Antoneti, speech and hearing pathologist, LF School District; Gary Sparks, Social Studies/English teacher LFHS to be rehired and rehiring of Laurel Luper, special ed teacher, LFSE.

The school milk contract was re-awarded to Hi-Grade Dairy of Harrington after a year's absence.

Tri-State Insulation was awarded the low bid of $65,700 to remove all fibrous asbestos from the buildings at North-South Chipman and East Elementary.

All-Rite Rubbish Removal was awarded the District contract for garbage removal with a low bid of $6,700.

Warners drove 50 years without accident

by William T. Ficka

Wilbur "Bill" Warner and his wife Emma were presented with certificates and gifts at a Lake Forest East Elementary School staff luncheon on June 8 in appreciation of "their fine work for the district over the years."

And it was fine work indeed. For Bill and Emma drove district school buses for a combined total of 50 years (31 years for Bill and 19 for Emma) without an accident.

The Warners retired in December, 1983.

In his morning and afternoon runs over 31 years, Bill transported 669,000 students, and drove approximately 200,000 miles.

Emma, in the morning and afternoon runs over 19 years, carried 410,400 students while driving approximately 100,000 miles, according to figures computed by Ray Stoops, school district transportation supervisor.

The Warners went to the school luncheon without knowing it was being given to honor them for their long years of service.

"We couldn't imagine why we were invited," Emma laughed.

In addition to their certificates com-

Bill and Emma Warner

memorating their many years of accident-free driving, the Warners received a miniature replica of a school bus which serves as a cookie jar, and a coffee mug carrying the inscription, "Anyone can drive a car, but it takes someone 'Special' to drive a school bus."

Although Bill never had any close calls, Emma did on two occasions come close to marrying her accident-free driving record.

"One time after dropping the kids off at school, my bus skidded on the ice and turned completely around," said Emma.

"Another time I was going up the driveway to the school, and a boy was riding a bike on the edge of the grass. A wheel of his bike slipped and the boy fell on the grass. I ran over the back wheel but the boy wasn't hurt," she added.

The Warners have seen a whole generation of youngsters go from kindergarten through high school graduation and beyond.

"I often run into them," said Bill. "They say 'Hi, Mr. Warner,' and you wonder who they are, but they always tell you."

Bill not only drove the school buses but also serviced them at his Frederick garage, which he operated for 33 years. He sold the garage in 1982.

The Warners have a grown son and daughter, three granddaughters, and one grandson.

If Bill and Emma become bored in retirement, they can always open a driving school.

Burris visits Journal on campaign tour

by William T. Ficka

John M. Burris, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, visited The Harrington Journal Friday in a whirlwind campaign tour through Harrington, Felton and Dover, stopping in stores, supermarkets, shopping centers and businesses.

Burris, at a press conference earlier in the day in Dover had challenged his rival, the incumbent U.S. Sen. Joseph R. Biden Jr., D-Del., to limit their campaign spending to $1 million each.

At The Harrington Journal, Burris repeated his challenge.

"Two million dollars for a single race in Delaware is outrageous, but in view of the money that Senator Biden has received to date, especially from out-of-state contributors, I thought it was a sum we could agree on," Burris said in a prepared statement released Friday.

Burris quoted words delivered by Biden in 1973 when he wrote: "...there is a condition in politics best described as the 'Tyranny of incumbency.' Large contributors are nearly always inclined to favor the incumbent. Since the incumbent already enjoys the limelight of office, it's often too difficult for a challenger to get a fair shake. The cost of getting elected to public office — in other words, the influence of money in politics has become outrageous. It disqualifies many otherwise well-qualified persons who do not have the means themselves and are unwilling to rely heavily on large contributors."

Burris has raised nearly $400,000 and spent more than $300,000. Biden has raised about $1.3 million and spent about $650,000.

Burris said the National Taxpayers Union had labeled Biden as a "big spender" in its annual report of the voting records of senators.

"I'm going to tell the voters about Biden's liberal voting record. Then, if he still gets elected as a liberal, I can only say he deserves it," Burris said.

Burris, known as a moderate conservative, said, "I'm going to stick to the issues. Joe says we're pretty much the same on the issues. Actually, we couldn't be further apart."

While in the state House of Representatives, where he served three terms, the 38-year-old Burris was a major force in the passage of a $22 million tax cut, the largest in Delaware history.

Burris quoted an unnamed Frenchman who said: "If the politicians find out they can bribe the people with their own money, then we're in trouble."

Asked if he would cut defense spending, Burris said, "yes, there's no part of government that's sacred."

Delawareans are basically conservative, according to Burris.

"They have to realize how liberal Joe is. Roth is conservative. How could you vote for both Roth and Biden?" Burris said.

Biden responded to Burris on Friday.

saying he shared Burris' concern over campaign expenses and out-of-state-contributions.

"But to be fair, we will have to find some way to positively guarantee that none of the $250 million war chest that national Republican organizations have raised is spent independently on John's behalf in Delaware and some way to guarantee that those outside groups

Downstate blonde is Miss Delaware 1984

by William T. Ficka

REHOBOTH BEACH - Twelve Delaware beauties promenaded on the stage and runway at Convention Hall Saturday night as they vied for the coveted Miss Delaware 1984 crown.

When the judges tallied the votes, it was Nancy Ball, Miss Cape Henlopen, a striking 24-year-old, blue-green eyed blonde who walked off as the new Delaware beauty queen.

Ball will represent Delaware in the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City in September and will receive over $7,000 in scholarships and prizes.

Ball is a graduate of De Pauw University in Greencastle, Ind. She has a bachelor's degree in communications. A former account executive at WMDT-TV in Salisbury, Md., she plans to study for her master's degree and then return to the television field.

Fifty percent of the point total was awarded for the talent competition and the remaining fifty percent for the swimsuit, evening gown, and interview with judges competitions.

For the talent segment, Ball, a dance teacher at the Dance Factory in Dagsboro, gave a graceful, energetic performance of a self-choreographed jazz ballet en pointe to a medley from "That's Entertainment."

First runner-up was Delilah Christy, Miss Hockessin. Second runner-up was Carol Lessey, Miss Greater Wilmington.

Campers to show at Smithsonian Fair

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

The Campers, Lillian and Jehu, have made it to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

It was a personal invitation that came straight from the Institution itself asking for the Campers to show off the wood carvings by the master of folkwork, Jehu Camper.

The folklore festival will be held over a two-week period, beginning this week....in which the Campers will attend, and the last week of June.

Upon the acceptance of the invitation, the Institution will arrange for transportation to and from Washington, housing and meals. "This will be a real treat for us", added Jehu Camper. The Campers were asked to bring enough of his wood carvings, which depict rural America almost a century ago, to cover a 6 ft. table. Mr. Camper is noted throughout for his knowledge of rural life before the turn of the century and his ability to carve these scenes to life-like likeness. He is regarded as being one of the few craftsmen who have this knowledge and talent.

The Institution having full knowledge of Mr. Camper's abilities, stated in the letter to him that "...it will be a treat for us to show your exhibition for it will give our children the idea how things were done by our grandparents".

The Festival will be held at the Georgetown University campus.

Jehu and Lillian Camper...in the Smithsonian Institution. It is almost like getting into the Hall of Fame.

CORRECTION

A story in last week's issue incorrectly stated that the city budget was approved unanimously by City Council members. Actually, the vote was not unanimous, but 5-1 in favor of the budget.

VanVorst Bass Fishing Tournament Draws large crowd

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

BLAIR'S POND - The 1st Annual Bill VanVorst Open Bass Buddy Tournament was held on Sunday June 3rd at Blair's Pond, the headquarters for the tournament, Griffith's Pond and Haven Lake.

There were 54 participants using 27 boats. The boats were required to meet standards set by U.S. Coast Guard.

There were 24 fish weighed in. They were all returned to the water. To pull a bass out of the water to be weighed, it must meet minimum standards set by the State, which say the fish must be 12 inches in length. A participant needed to have State fresh water fishing license or under the age of 16 must be accompanied by an adult, and an ordinary rod and reel. This is slated to be an annual event.

The boats which participated ranged in price from a $15,000 bass boat to a canoe.

The tournament was also sponsored by the Williamsville Store and the Mispillion Bass Club, of which there are 15 members.

The prizes for the tournament were as follows: 1st Prize of $250 - David Rankin and Curtis Wright of Milford, catch of 6 fish weighing 12 lbs. 1 oz.; 2nd Prize of $150 - Skip Burnham and Pat Quillen of Milford with 2 fish weighing 5 lbs. 12 oz.; 3rd Prize of $60 to Allen Brooks and Calvin Jones of Milford with 2 fish weighing 5 lbs. 4 oz.; 4th Prize of $25 - Ted Hubbard, Milford and Phil Dubbs, Baltimore, who traveled the furthest with 2 fish weighing 4 lbs. 3 oz.; and 5th Prize of $15 to Ron Benton of Milford and Bob Wyatt of Harrington with 1 fish weighing 3 lbs. 7 oz.

The winner of the Lunker Pot, meaning large fish was won by Skip Burnham with a catch of a 4 lb. 2 oz Bass, and the pot was worth $92 to Mr. Burnham. Any bass 5 lbs. or more is eligible for a State citation, which gives one some idea about the size of bass.

Steve Calvert, age 13, was awarded the "Youngest Participant Award" for his catch of a bass weighing 2 lbs. and 7 oz.

Horse Pull-A new State Fair feature event

Don't be alarmed if you are out driving during the last week in July and meet a giant Percheron coming down the road toward Harrington. What's a percheron you ask - a foreign make car or perhaps a mischievous giant-sized version of a leprechaun? No, percherons are just a behemoth giant of a horse weighing about 2,000 pounds and standing about six feet high. More than likely, the ones you'll be seeing out on the highways are heading toward the Delaware State Fair to take part in the Fair's "first ever", Horse Pulling Contest on Wednesday, July 25th.

that could pull the boat the farthest in one pull was hailed the champion. The contest often ended in a fistfight. Although today's contests are much more civilized, the basic premise of a horse pull remains the same and the rivalry just as fierce.

It's only been the past few years that the draft (or work) horse has seen a resurgence in popularity and today they command a premium price. Not only are they used for exhibition in parades and other commercial events, but they are also out in the fields again, working for their oats so to speak.

Three men were found safe on Thursday at Port Mahon, Delaware after being reported lost in the Delaware Bay. Officials at the scene were advised that the men and their boat were towed into Port Mahon twenty-five miles north of Slaughter's

Letter to the Editor

June 5, 1984
Dear Editor:
We often hear derogatory comments and publicity about today's youth. I have always felt that young people do not receive the credit they deserve for their many fine characteristics and kind and thoughtful acts. Two such young people stepped into our lives briefly June 3, 1984. J.R. Kimmey and Mike McColley responded to an emergency call for an ambulance from our family. J.R. is a present graduate and Mike is a present Junior at Lake Forest

High School. They are members of the Fire Co. and have evidently been putting their spare time to very good use. Both young men were quick responding to the emergency, quick thinking and acting, gentle and reassuring with their patient. The gratitude of our family is immeasurable. To J.R. and Mike, we love you, keep up your invaluable service to this community and we appreciate the Harrington Volunteer Fire Company more than ever before.

Senior Center

Smile! Guess where I am writing this epistle? At Milford Memorial Hospital! Amid the clinking, clanking of bedpans, Archie Bunker-sounding hoppers, bells tinkling, ice, calling Dr., nurses aides, custodians and all staff members doing their special thing. I've decided that to enter a hospital, you must be a secretary, accountant, lawyer, computer operator and as my first roommate said, "in good health". It is, we decided, a good place to be when you need it!

My second roommate came in Monday morning. She was in lots of pain. Both roommates were very congenial.

Mildred Vincent reported to me that Rev. Koning of the Nazarene Church was leader of Bible Study Monday morning at the Center. Virginia Smith did the honors at the piano. Those present, Cecil and Sylvia Meredith, Virginia Smith, Mildred Vincent, Gladys Hill, Frances Wright, Tony Perrone, Elwood Morris, Marion and Roxanne Brown, Bertha Dean, Mamie Adams, Anna Mae Short, Ethel Holden, Amy Poynter, Gertrude Morgan, Cleora Vincent, Thelma Legates, Catherine Donovan and Florence Minner, all enjoyed the several hymns as well as prayers and Bible reading by Rev. Koning. He left the group with a word of advice, "The Bible brings comfort and transforms people."

Members Meeting Monday afternoon with Dave McCracken being nominated as president; Maurice Adams, Vice President; Merle Roth, Treasurer and "Andy" Anderson, Secretary.

Grandson Lester, "The Marine", was in to see me before he left for camp. Grandson Richie, "The Navy", has gone back to his base in Hawaii.

Gracie, "My Daughter", called and said to tell everyone at the Center a fond hello and let them know she was thinking of them.

In my mind, I can see everyone busy as a bee at lunchtime, all scampering around, getting homebouds food out, fixing trays for those who can not go through the line. Everyone doing their bit to make "The Center" a most pleasant place to be. It is cool too. Food good! Friends conversation along with ceramics, pool, bingo, cards, bowling, crafts of all kinds, trips are just part of what makes "Harrington Senior Center" tick!

Well honey, they just brought in my calorie chart - 1000. Sure don't give you much room for pecan pie! Woe is me!! Jolly Timers with Ina Hughes tickling the ivories and Tony Perrone at the Mandolin. Sylvia and Cecil Meredith, Mildred Vincent, Ella Golt, Mamie Adams, Gladys Hill, Bertha Dean, Virginia Smith, Mildred Morris, Annabel Morrow, Andy Anderson and Florence Minner kept the rhythm with their respective instruments.

My roommate has a contraption over her bed that looks for all the world like a gym set.

Had a chat with Lelia Taylor. She looked real pretty in her soft pink robe.

Had a chance to catch up on some whereabouts of former students at Milford School of Nursing when I was there. That was nine happy years. Several are working at Milford. Some as far away as California. Remembered fond memories with Mrs. Purcell. She was a teacher when I was House-mother at the dorm and there were many. Lots of pranks too!

The X-Ray and Emergency Addition is some project. Watched from my window as the men worked.

Thanks for all the visits, cards, calls, flowers and all other acts of kindness. I appreciated each and everyone! Believe me, for it is true! Now if I just had a nice slice of pecan pie and a cup of hot decaf. coffee, life would truly look rosey again.

Best wishes to all! Thank all volunteers. Hope by the time you read this, I'm back at the Center. Be kind to each other. Thanks again for everything!!

Miss you and love you!

Don't just be good - be good for something. A.B. Faith!

and hostess at a Smorgasborde dinner for a nice group of appreciative people at Richard's Hill on June 12 at 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Booth has retired from service from the Woodbridge School Cafeteria after 24 years.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Alton Breeding, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carroll, Mrs. Dot Lofland, Mrs. Helen Wilson, Mrs. Helen Workman, Mrs. Grace Brown, Mrs. Ruth Thompson, Mrs. Carol Baker, Mrs. Florence Jones, Mrs. Joyce Hughes, Mr. Frank LeCates, representing his wife, Mrs. Helen LeCates, deceased, Mrs. Thelma Schulze, representing her mother, Mrs. Buell, deceased, and Mr. and Mrs. John Lloyd, son and daughter. Mrs. Buell served as cafeteria manager for years.

Graham A.M.E. Church, Greenwood observed Layman's Sunday, June 9, with a Spring Banquet and lovely program.

Sister Mary Stevenson, of Whatcoat U.M. Church, Dover acted as Mistress of Ceremonies. Sister Lucille Smith of Graham A.M.E. Church welcomed the group, after which the congregation sang the old hymn, "Leaning on the Everlasting Arms". The Rev. Levi Jones, pastor of Mt. Calvary A.M.E. Church, Concord, gave the invocation and table blessing.

Everyone enjoyed the delicious banquet meal.

On the program following the meal, Sister Rose Mary Martin, of Macedonia A.M.E. Church, Seaford, presented two solos. And appropriate reading was presented by Sister Emma Mitchell in her own delightful way.

Mr. George Matthews presented the speaker of the evening, Sister Ethel Weal who gave a most stirring address, taken from Peter, using the text, "It is Time to Remember."

There were final remarks by Sister Lucille Smith and Sister Catherine Matthews, followed by a final word from the pastor, the Rev. Louella Jones. The evening ended with the benediction by the Rev. Levi M. Jones.

Don't forget to reserve July 14 to come out and enjoy Greenwood Day with us.

The Greenwood Public Library schedule is as follows:

The film "The Railrodder" starring Buster Keaton will be shown on June 20 at 4 p.m. The second film program of the month will be on Saturday, June 23 at 10 a.m. with two films; "The Great Chase" and "The Red Bicycle".

The Greenwood Library will sponsor a summer reading program between June 18 and July 14 at the Library. The children will be encouraged to read at least 10 books to qualify for a surprise gift at the end of the program. One program will involve the children from grades one up and these children will read books for themselves. The second program will be for those children of kindergarten age and under and they will have someone read the stories to them. All the children will report on the books read in one of several ways: an oral report to one of the library staff, writing 30-40 words about the book or one of the characters from the book, illustrating a scene from the book, or drawing your idea of what one of the characters looks like. Of course, there are other ways to tell us about the book, the children are encouraged to use their own ideas. Along with the reading program, "Jungle Adventures" the library will have special activities each week. In June the activities include: June 25 - Two films, "Andy and the Lions" and "Elmer Elephant". On this day, the children may bring in a tee shirt and decorate it to suit themselves. Both of these activities will begin at 3:30 p.m.

The activity on July 2 will be making a monkey mask or a mobile and the film, "Animals Unlimited" will be shown.

On July 13 the final program will be presented with a film, and the activity of "Noah's Ark" will be offered.

Remember there are several ways of reporting on the books you have read. Talk these over with your librarian.

Maybe lightning doesn't strike twice in the same place, but it can come close to it. This could well be the credo of Edgar Stubbs, who lives on the Masten's Corner road just north of town. Lightning struck twice at his home early Sunday evening. The first time it killed a horse, cow and heifer which were under a shed without leaving a mark on the shed. A little later, another stroke knocked out the top of a tree in Stubbs' front yard. Stubbs said he was milking in an area between those visited by the lightning.

Saturday night Gary Homewood was given a surprise birthday dinner in honor of his 18th birthday by his mother. Those present were: Jeanne Lander, Millie Ann Minner, Elva Rae Smith, Charles Cain, Carole Ann Sharp and Wayne Cooper. Gary expects to enter the University of Delaware in September where he will study chemical engineering.

Gab Fest

What a heat wave we have been going through! For several days we sweated, sat in the yard chairs, and tried to breathe and concentrate on how cold it was last winter. It really got to me yesterday when the thermometer hit 100 here at Trail's End, and I was breathless and nauseated. But we survived. And there is always a bonus somewhere if you look for it. When the nights were too hot to sleep, I listened to the mockingbird singing his heart out in the moonlight.

I keep meaning to ask our Karen if she heard the nightingale sing during the four years they were in England. It is said that the song of the nightingale is the most beautiful bird song in all the world, but when I listen to our mockingbird, I wonder if anything could surpass him. And yet, there are people who have said to me that they can't stand the mockingbirds singing all night and disturbing their sleep.

I was talking to my friend, Tess, this morning and she said that usually the purple finches who come around in October or November and stay at the feeder all winter, generally go somewhere and she does not see them in the summer. But this summer she has two pairs who are visiting each day. Always something new to wonder about in the bird world.

This early Tuesday morning is so beautiful I wish I had been given the gift of song, so I could express my joy in that manner. The East wind has come bringing its delightfully cool and refreshing breezes. I am sitting at the breakfast bar by an East window just drinking in the cool, saltiness of it. The mockingbird is quiet now, probably having his breakfast in the strawberry patch.

Our strawberry crop promised to be the best ever and due to the weather conditions we ended up with nothing. First it was too cold, then a week of standing in water, then intense heat. What is out there is food for the birds and that's all.

Now is the time for cool salads and frosty ice cream desserts. But I am a believer in at least one hot meal or one hot dish each day, no matter what the heat. I think it is healing and comforting to the stomach.

Soups answer the need very well. There is a restaurant in the Dover Mall that often serves Cream of Broccoli Soup, and it is very delicious. I usually keep a half ham or a big roast of beef around in summer. We are not much for luncheon cold cuts. Perhaps a bit of liverwurst, if it is especially fresh and occasionally I like garlic bologna.

Did you ever babysit a hamster? That's what I've been doing this week. Ever since Ellen was a little girl, I've had a fairly close relationship with hamsters, along with various other members of nature's world. But "Sniffles" has not been a mite of trouble. I treat him to a couple of raisins now and then, and a tiny taste of chocolate. He is so tiny, so perfect and so self-sufficient that I marvel at his tiny world. Hamsters are night animals, so about the time I am getting our breakfast, he goes to bed, burying himself under a big mound of cedar shavings and wrapping his wee self into a ball. I wish everyone was as contented with their lot in life as he is.

Asbury United Methodist Church gets new pastor

by William T. Ficks
The Rev. Kyle N. Smith is the new pastor at the 500-member Asbury United Methodist Church in Harrington, succeeding the Rev. C. Jackson Robinson.

Rev. Kyle N. Smith

Robinson will assume pastoral duties at Chester Bethel Church in Wilmington, the church formerly headed by Smith. "We swapped," laughed Smith, who assumed official duties June 8.

Smith was born and raised in Mt. Airy, N.C. He served in the U.S. Army from 1942 to 1946, taking part in the Philippines invasion.

In 1946 he married Margaret Poore, his high school sweetheart. They have two daughters, Miriam and Rebecca, both of whom married ministers, and four grandchildren.

Smith has served on the Board of Hospitals, the Commission on Equal Salaries, and as District Director of Evangelism. Between 1976 and 1979 he was Peninsula Conference Statistician.

Referring to his wife, Smith said, "She'll run the house and I'll run the church." Smith made his decision for the ministry in 1953, and was educated at High Point College, High Point, N.C.; Wesley Seminary, Western Maryland College, Westminster, Md.; and American University, Washington, D.C.

As we left Smith's parsonage, he called out, "Did you see the one word I put on the bulletin board-Welcome-and that means everybody."

Smith is not a stranger to the area, having served at Calvary Church in Milford from 1974 to 1981. "My wife and I liked it in Milford, and

Asbury U.M. Church

On Thursday evening, June 14, a reception for the Rev. and Mrs. Kyle N. Smith was held in Collins Hall at 6:30 p.m. The United Methodist Women served as hostesses and Ruth Layne delighted the fellowship with her talents on the piano.

Our teachers were very ably assisted by Janet Hendricks, JoAnn Outten, Tracey Hughes, Sue Beauchamp and Tawnya Minner. Our sincere thanks to everyone responsible for helping to make this a very successful V.C.S.

On Friday, Asbury U.M. Church concluded their Vacation Church School with a program under the direction of Mary Jean Mason, assisted by Ruth Layne. The 37 children enrolled, collected $53.00 for the Ronald McDonald House in Philadelphia.

The Milder Class with Cheryl Harrington as teacher, was kept busy making unleavened bread, producing a play, and cleaning up around the parsonage and church parking lot. The Primary class, under the leadership of Gale Vogelien, spread the "Good News" through song, discussion and several craft projects. Hope Minner was the Beginner class teacher working enthusiastically on family trees and creating their own rhythm instruments.

In The Pocket

by Harry G. Farrow, Jr.

The question has been raised why wasn't Guts....the promising 3-year-old champion in the Cane at Yonkers on Saturday. There were several reasons for him not being in the big race. The owners did not keep the payments up for him for this race, but he could have supplemented with a $25,000 fee had the owners so decided. But this was not the controlling decision. According to Barry Abrams who trains the Raven Hanover product, "...he has never raced on a half mile track and he has never gone two heats before. So the decision was obvious. Why take the chance at this point when there is so much at stake." He was shipped to Canada for a few races up there. He has lifetime earnings of $255,339 with winnings this year of $243,500.

On Friday at the Meadowlands in the $80,820 each division of the Historic Cup for 3 year-old c&g trotters it was Speed Merchant and for Anthony Quartarolo in 1:56.4 with the other going to Delvin G. Hanover for Hakkan Wallner in 1:58.4. Gentle Stroke was 10th after getting locked in. In the $20,000 3-year-old pace That's My Fella wins it in 1:54.2. Green With Envy wins the 3-year-old pacing mares division in 1:55.4 for Jim Doherty.

At Pocono Downs on Friday in the $72,012 Pa. Sires Stakes for 2-year-old filly trotters Davita Hanover wins it for Gary Lewis in 2:05.2.

At Greenwood on Friday in the $83,000 Ontario Jockey Club Maturity for 4-year-old trotting mares, Segriff wins it for Gord Waples in 2:01.1.

At Latonia on Friday in the all-age track record rewritten twice in the $13,850 each division of the Kentucky Sires Stakes for 3-year-old colt pacers goes to Balance The Books driven by Alan Riegler in 1:55.3. Tuff Choice gets the other in 1:54.1.

On Saturday at Buffalo in the NY Sires Stakes for 3-year-old pacing fillies in the $24,100 each division, it was Inflation Collins winning in 2:00.2 and Highland Song getting the other for Tom King in 2:01.4, which is owned by RF Richardson, Jr. of Salisbury, Md.

At Saratoga on Friday in the $125,000 E. Roland Harriman Trot for 3-year-old c&g goes to Baltic Speed for Jan Nordin in 2:00.1 over Arnie The Turk and Speedy Lamar.

At Liberty Bell on Saturday in the Pa. Sires Stakes for 3-year-old pacing fillies, each division of $37,625 with first div. to Miss Unicorn for Del Richards in 1:57.4 with the other to Margaret Turner for driver Jim Conine in 1:58.2.

At Meadowlands on Saturday in the Ladyship Pace for 3-year-old fillies in division of $73,472 it was Witsend's Patty with Ben Webster getting it in 1:56.1. The other goes to Beachbottom driven by Cat Manzi in 1:55.3. In the $20,000 each division of the North American Series, Country Fiesta wins it in 1:55.2 for Carl Allen. Hierarchy wins the second one for Steve Warrington in 1:56.

At Yonkers on Saturday night it was the start of the $600,000 Cane Futurity which is part of the triple crown of harness racing. The elimination winners were Hobo's Willy (John Campbell) in 1:57.3, Farmstead's Fame for Billy Houghton in 1:58.1. and On The Road Again with Buddy Gilmour with a stakes record of 1:56.4. Back with the second heat which was the final it was On The Road Again and Gilmour again by a head over Holmes Hanover in 1:56.4.

At Freestate on Sunday in the Washingtonian Pacing Series, winners were Shelley A. Turner in 2:00.3 and Adorable Yankee in 1:59.2.

At Buffalo on Sunday in the $16,000 final of the Red Jacket Pacing Series, Nafirst by Niatross, wins it in 2:04.4.

At Liberty Bell on Sunday in the Pa. Sires Stakes, $83,000 among 3 divisions of 2-year-old pacing fillies with the winners Seven O'Clock in 2:01.2, Miss Allison Plato in 2:01.4, and Puney Honey in 2:03.2 all over a good track.

He was quoted recently as saying he would not shoot for the driving title this year....just go for a good money earned year.

Fred Gunner Jr. of Harrington bagged this black bear during a hunting trip in Canada in June.

Fred Gunner, Jr. bags a bear

by Harry G. Farrow Jr.

ST. CHARLES ONTARIO, CANADA - There were just five in the hunting party with each man one mile apart. This was necessary to insure the hunter's safety, because the rifles they use are 30-06, which are high powered weapons.

It was around 8 p.m. when a young black bear wandered into the baited area, 10 miles deep into the Canadian forest. The sun sets real late this time of the year in Canada. But on the last night of the great hunt, darkness was creeping up on the sun.

Fred Gunner Jr. of East Street, Harrington was one of the five members of the hunting party. He and the other members of the party were all members of the "One In All Gun Club". It was Fred's first trip.

Fred Gunner Jr. was familiar with hunting....having hunted most of his life. This was a new experience though, and he knew the slightest movement or cough....or for that matter the slightest noise....would spook a bear. A bear's quickness enables him to get to cover fast.

He heard a noise that sounded like an animal breaking twigs underfoot. He gradually turned his head in the direction of the noise. And there heading for the baited area was a black bear. Gunner raised his 30-06 slowly....took aim....and squeezed off a round.

As he squeezed the trigger the bear jumped.....turned and fled into the bush. Was he hit....wounded or dead? He couldn't tell!

"I decided that I would wait one hour before searching for him....I would wait just one hour", said Gunner. The hour passed rather slowly, but just as the watch reflected 8 p.m., Gunner started down the stand in the tree.

He proceeded to the area where the bear had been shot. From there he proceeded cautiously in the general direction the bear had headed. A few yards into the bush, Gunner discovered the bear stretched out under a low bush. He was dead. The bear turned out to be about 2 years old and weighed between 125 and 150 pounds. The first shot had been a mortal one.

The hunting trip began at Harrington on Friday, June the 1st, and they returned on Sunday morning, June the 10th. "We stayed at the West Arm Lodge, which was right along the river. The weather was real nice.... warm but not real hot like we had back home here," said Gunner.

Fred Gunner Jr. has just retired after 30 years as a civil service employee at the Dover Air Force Base. Four of those 30 years were spent in the US Navy during WWII. Fred Gunner Jr. whom I have known all my life as the easy-going guy who always spoke, spent some very unpleasant moments in the Navy. "We left the States (Calif.) on January 26th, 1944, headed for the Far East. We were all scared, because we knew we were going to war....but we didn't know where," Gunner confided. He and his shipmates spent 21 days and 21 nights aboard ship. "I was in the bottom of the ship, and they put me way in the back....far from the ladder and hatch to the deck. I guess I dreamed of being torpedoed every day and every night," he said. Gunner was assigned to a PT boat division in the Pacific when they landed at New Hebrides. They unloaded barges at New Hebrides and as they were leaving port, they and another transport collided putting a huge hole in both ships. "We stayed at New Hebrides for 9 months, waiting for another ship," he concluded.

Fred Gunner Jr. suffered as an enlisted man, but he braved it. It turned out his way finally. On October 20th, 1944, he participated in one of the most important invasions of the War in the Pacific....the invasion of the Leyte Gulf, and more importantly "...the invasion of the Philippines". "I eyeballed him (General of the Army Douglas MacArthur) as he got off the landing barge and waded ashore. Words cannot describe the moment for me and particularly for him as he waded ashore. For some felt that he was returning to his people. He was back", said Fred Gunner Jr. proudly. Although Fred Gunner Jr. was not permitted to use a weapon in the service, he got his chance 40 years later when he bagged his bear last week in Canada.

The recently married champion swimmer and diver took his bride down to the pool at the honeymoon hotel.

He got on the diving board and proceeded to perform a series of half-gainers, jackknives, swans, double twists, and other fancy dives.

He than swam the length of the pool in record time. When he got out of the water he was beaming proudly at his bride.

"Very good," she said, kissing him, "Now I think I'll take a dip."

She approached the diving board and went on to give a remarkable exhibition of fancy diving. For a finish she swam the length of the pool — underwater.

"Where on earth did you learn to swim and dive like that," asked the incredulous groom.

"I was a streetwalker in Venice," she replied.

The race is not always to the swift, nor the battle to the strong — but that's the way to bet. Damon Runyon

The 40-year-old man was having a love affair with a rich 85-year-old woman. He called it a football romance. He was waiting for her to kick off.

Speedy Crown with Howard Beissinger in the bike was 3 years old when this picture was taken in 1971. Speedy Crown had just won the 1971 Hambletonian in 1:57.2 at DuQuoin Fairgrounds. Perfect Beauty has been turned out at Lana Lobell Farm in New York, and she has been bred to Speedy Crown. Two significant changes have happened to Perfect Beauty. Allen and Wendy Leavitt, the former is president of Lana Lobell Farms, now join Paul Nigito and The Crown Stable as owners of Perfect Beauty. According to a spokesman for Lana Lobell, Perfect Beauty will return to racing "...if Howard Beissinger gives the go-ahead..." in time for the Roosevelt International Trot to be held on Aug. 25 which is for a mile and 1/4 even though she is in foal. The foal is due in May of 1985.

Kozak two in a row at US 13 on June 9th

John Kozak maneuvered the Foolish Pleasure Racing Special to victory for the second week in a row in the 30-lap Modified feature at U.S. 13 Saturday night. John held off the challenges of the legendary Harold Bunting to triumph over a sterling field of cars including the likes of Freddie Brightbill, Walt Breeding and Billy Towers.

Bunting finished second with Breeding third, Richard Jarvis fourth and Towers fifth.

Ron Keys sat on the pole in his Keys Trucking, Delmarva Fabricating #39. Keys, the fifteen-year-old star on the horizon in Modified racing, took the green like a pro and proceeded to lead the next 18 laps of the event. In previous weeks, Ron has thrilled the fans with his unique style of driving and as the laps wound down, the young Pennsylvania pilot claimed the low groove as his own and used the track to his best advantage to hold off the charges of the Taylor & Messick #7 of Walt Breeding and the 19D of Harold Bunting.

Only two cautions marred the feature and these both occurred before the halfway sign was given. On each restart, Keys' fast reaction to the green flag enabled him to maintain his lead, but as lap 19 went into the record books, Bunting, who had been a threat for the previous 9 laps found his chance and moved under Keys to take the lead. On the very next lap Kozak dropped Keys to third. The #31 Foolish Pleasure racer had started in the twelfth spot and had given the fans a show as it had battled to the front doing away with the cars of Ocean City's Richard Jarvis, 1983 MODCAR Champion Freddie Brightbill and Del-marva Legend Walt Breeding.

Kozak's move into second set the stage for a battle that would last the rest of the race. Leader Bunting finessed his way through the turns with the yellow and orange #31 close behind. They traded the lead on lap 23, but the 19D still crossed the line in front. By this time, the track had started to dry, and the changing surface conditions combined with the savvy of the veteran from Wernersville determined the outcome of the contest for Kozak found his chance on lap 25 and put the 19D of Bunting behind him for the rest of the night. For the remainder of the event Kozak used lap traffic and skill to maintain his lead and win his third feature event at U.S. 13 this season.

PIT NOTES: The Ken Tarczewski T&T Racing Team and driver Bob Toreky endured the original "Hard Luck Weekend". After breaking the power plant in their Lee's Auto Parts, D&L Photos #14 at Georgetown Friday night they worked through the night to repair the car so they could compete at U.S. 13 and maintain their fourth place points standing. They started the feature in eighth spot and showed some strength only to have the car break again leaving Toreky to watch the feature from the infield.

Feature results: Kozak, Bunting, Breeding, Jarvis, Towers, F. Brightbill, Jack Sapp, Gary Trice, Keys, Clifford Todd, Charlie Phillips, Tony Damato, David Trice, Gary Gollub, Hal Browning, Toreky, Lacey Lafferty, Tom McGrane, Tom Daggett Jr., Mark Passen.

Heats were won by Keys and Kozak with the consi going to Lacy Lafferty.

Sprint cars return to kickoff summer season at Wall

WALL TOWNSHIP - For the fourth time this year, the United Sprint Car Club will return to Wall Stadium Saturday night to kick off the big summer season at the Jersey Shore Speedway.

The club will once again have a competitive field of cars on hand, and as a special added attraction, the first 100 children through the gates will receive a free United Sprint Car Club penant compliments of the club. Club president and three-time feature winner at Wall this season, Dan McMahon will be out looking to keep his undefeated record on the high banks in tact.

Those who will be looking to stop McMahon will be Bruce Runyon, Rich Guy, George Scheir, Larry Drake, Nick Bock, Chuck Dublick and many more. The club will compete in an eight-lap heat race before taking part in their fifteen lap feature event.

The powerful modifieds will kick off the first of the five features as they compete in a thirty-five lap feature with the winner receiving $1,000 of the $6,000 purse. Following the modifieds will be the sportsman and modern stock campaigners. The sportsman division, which is limited to 318 c.i. engines will compete in a big thirty-lap feature while the modern stocks will conclude their evening with a twenty-five lap feature. Also included in this show, as they are every week, will be the strictly street stocks.

All divisions, with the exception of the street stocks, will see action in qualifying heats and consis en route to their respective feature events. The action gets underway at 7 p.m. with the gates and warmup action scheduled for 5 p.m.

On Wednesday night, July 4th, Wall Stadium will present a special show featuring the Jake Plumstead & Tonny Petersen Hell Drivers Auto Thrill Show. This exciting show, which features twelve of the finest stunt car drivers in the country, is one of the best today. Joining the thrill show will be the open cockpit campaigners of the American Three Quarter Midget Racing Assoc., the United Sprint Car Club, and the Strictly Street Stocks. This special show will begin at 6:00 p.m. For further information, please call the Stadium office at 201-681-6400 any time between 10 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Rain puts end to super night at US 13

by Don Allen

All the ingredients were there for a great Saturday night show at U.S. 13; full fields of Modifieds, Late Models and Limited Late Models plus 33 of the finest Super Sprints that URC had to offer. The track was heavy, temperatures were cool and the stands were full of anxious fans. Mother Nature was not in the mood for racing, however, and before the heat races could be completed, a steady drizzle set in and put an end to everyone's party.

Only the Modified and Late Model heats were completed before the rains came, but if the competition in those races was anything to go by, the features were bound to be something to remember.

Harold Bunting had his hands full

Michel masters Wall Stadium for victory

WALL TOWNSHIP - Tom Michel took advantage of his outside pole starting spot and grabbed the lead when the green flag flew starting the 35 lap modified feature event Saturday evening and drove onto victory without losing the lead during the event. It was not easy for Michel to stay in front for on lap 10, Jamie Tomaino moved into second spot and began applying pressure on the leader looking for room to get by on the inside or the outside, but could not find the power, and at the checkered flag it was Michel in for the win followed by Tomaino with third going to Lenny Boyd of Farmingdale. Rounding out the top five were Ed Brunnhoelzl and Gil Hearne.

In the Sportsman 30 lap feature Steve Ferrara took the lead as the caution flag flew completing a wreck strewn first lap followed by Kevin Cranmer. When the green came out again, Cranmer took over the front with Ferrara in second. On lap 10, Donny Ling, Jr., of Bricktown, moved into third and began closing on the leaders with Walt Breeding fresh off his first season win Friday night at Georgetown Speedway, in winning the first Modified heat, but Kenny Brightbill seemed to be on rails as he worked his way through the field to win the second Modified heat.

The Late Model heats went to Lou Johnson who also won his first feature of the season Friday night at Georgetown and Eddie Pettyjohn.

The rains came halfway through the first of three Super Sprint heats and were just heavy enough to cause the red flag to be thrown.

The Super Sprints will return to U.S. 13 on July 26 and all rain checks will be honored then or at any other show, including the twin twenty show for Modifieds scheduled for June 30.

Walt Breeding driving car #7 owned by B. Myers picked up his first win in Modified feature at Georgetown Speedway Friday night.

Johnson, Breeding and Joseph take checkered flags at Georgetown Speedway

Race fans turned out Friday night for an action-packed, full field of stock car racing at Georgetown Speedway. Drivers in three divisions competed for a total purse of $8,000.

In the 20-lap, late model feature, Lou Johnson of Georgetown fought six other drivers for the trip to victory lane in a race where the caution flag stayed in its rack. Eddie Pettyjohn, a Milton favorite, took second and Brett Givens, of Laurel, placed third.

The 25-lap modified bout featured a field of 20 drivers looking for a top prize of $1,000 to the winner. A minor collision in the third lap forced a re-start, with Harold Bunting of Milford, grabbing the lead.

A spin-out in the fifth lap gave Tom Capie an opportunity to take over the lead. Bunting followed but trouble caused him to go to the pits in lap 18. Walt Breeding, from Federalsburg, Md. then moved into second place.

In lap 21, Capie, riding high into the third turn lost control and spun down to the inside. When the dust cleared, Breeding had taken first position with Bunting second.

Despite another caution, Breeding held the lead, Bunting finished second, Gary Trice third with Gar Gollub in fourth.

In the 15-lap, limited late model feature, Mel Joseph of Georgetown took an early lead among a total field of 18, drivers. Frank McKinney lost a wheel in lap 3, forcing a yellow flag.

A stop in the next lap forced a re-start with Steve Dutton making a strong bid for Joseph's lead position. Bunky White dropped a drive shaft in lap 16, forcing the yellow but Joseph held the 1st place position.

A tight battle between Jim Mitchell and Gerald Jester in the last lap forced Mitchell into a spin and another caution flag. Joseph held the lead, Dutton second, Gerald Jester third and John Macklin took fourth when the checkered came down.

Joseph, driving #49, is the only double winner so far into the season.

Dover's tough goal: Topping the Budweiser 500 weekend

DOVER - The word is out from race fans in the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington market area who attended last month's Budweiser 500 and Budweiser 200 at Dover Downs International Speedway: the races at Dover keep getting better and better.

to see if even the spectacular Budweiser race weekend can't be topped by the September 15th and 16th Delaware 500 and Late Model Championship 200.

last month Sam Ard edged Ron Bouchard after a side by side duel in the closing laps.

Dover Downs President and General Manager Denis McGlynn agrees that it will be difficult to top the excitement of Sam Ard's half car length triumph over Ron Bouchard in the Budweiser 200 or Richard Petty's dramatic 199th career win in the Budweiser 500.

"The first thing we've decided to do is immediately treat our track to be sure we maintain the excellent surface we've groomed in recent years," explains McGlynn. We already are at work locating and repairing freeze affected areas so we will have a top notch, multi-groove speedway ready in September."

"Our Budweiser 500 field was tremendous," notes McGlynn, "and Richard Petty's 199th win was a real crowd pleaser. We had 26 lead changes and cars running three and four wide in the turns. The 60,000 plus who attended the two races really saw a show! It's hard to top this but we're determined to keep it up. Our speedway improvement program is just part of the effort," adds McGlynn.

Letter to the Editor The Children become the losers

Dear Editor:

Offense or defense, which position usually wins a battle? If the teams are both playing from the same book of rules, ultimately the best team should win. What happens when the rules are not clearly defined from the beginning? What happens to questions left unanswered? Why, it simply makes playing the game extremely frustrating and seemingly unfair.

position unless one is under attack by the offense. Once the offense moves, then the defense comes into play. And so the battle continues until there are winners and losers.

for merit? Like cancerous sores the offense overtakes, decay sets in, and the painful process of death eliminated that last glimmer of hope.

According to the Webster's Collegiate Dictionary an offensive position is "the set on attitude of an attacking party"; a defensive position is "one of resisting attack or defending an argument in support or justification of."

The losers in this case are hundreds of children. Children who have been tossed like cards upon a table of decision by the offense. Countless times the defense called "time out" for unanswered questions, redefining of the rules, reexamination of the merit and worth of the issue at hand. But alas, "ignorance is bliss" and the offense marched on to victory.

This battle will long be remembered. And as happens so often throughout history, its lessons will not be learned by this generation. I wonder just what the outcome could have been if the questions had been answered truthfully and honestly. I wonder what the Woodbridge School District would be like without deceit, prejudice and jealousy.

MODCAR to return to Delmar on July 18

U.S. 13 Speedway in Delmar, Del. it was announced that the modified organization will be returning to southern Delaware on Wednesday evening, July 18th. MODCAR opened their season at Charlie Cathell's plant on May 9th, and are looking forward to the return trip.

Great Fish Stories

Latest Lures Whet Fish's Appetite

In that feature, John Kozak nipped Billy Ellis on the final tour, thus gaining his first career MODCAR win. Since then, Kozak has fared better than anyone at the oval, winning the last two features and assuming the point lead. However, the list of challengers for Kozak will be long and talented. Kenny and Freddy Brightbill, both former MODCAR titlists and feature winners at "13" will be there.

When man first baited a hook, more than 20,000 years ago, he threw in his line on a never-ending quest for a better, easier way to catch fish.

In fact, although not competing regularly, Kenny has 4 wins at the track in 1984, leading all others. Gary Gollub, another ex-MODCAR point champ, who just recently picked up his first modified win in Ken Covey's #21 at Georgetown, will make his presence felt also. Drivers that compete regularly at "13" set to put the heat on include Richard Jarvis, Harold Bunting, Hal Browning, Walt Breeding, Ronnie Keys, Billy Towers and Bob Toreky, just to name seven.

The first "fly," "spoon" and "plug" lures were developed through trial and error. However, modern scientific research on the feeding habits of fish has taken over in recent years, spawning the development of such things as paint-on artificial scents, lures with built-in scents and, most recently, a lure that looks, smells and tastes like real fish because it is actually made from real fish.

The Ancient Lure of the Lures

The new scented and "tasteful" lures represent a state of the art in artificial lures that took thousands of years to evolve. Archaeologists think the ancestor to the modern "spoon" lure might date back to 200 B.C. Fly fishing dates back as far as 300 A.D., when Macedonian fishermen developed the original Red Hackle, ancestor to the still popular "Gray Hackle Peacock" fly.

The "out of town" challenge will be provided by the likes of Meme DeSantis, Billy Pauch, Ellis, Harold Miller, Charlie Shire, Jay Stong, Kenny Wismer, Bob Becker, to name eight more.

In side-by-side tests, fishermen caught as many fish on Flavorol as on live minnows. Since the scent and taste are properties of the material itself, they won't wash off or wear off.

Many of today's most popular fly designs were first published by Dame Juliana Berners. Priores of the Sopwell nunnery, Berners fished to feed the sisterhood on days the Catholics weren't allowed to eat meat.

Since this is a mid-week special, MODCAR is busy contacting many other teams for their participation. Surely, the field will be full and talented for this 40 lap championship type race, that carries the $12,000 purse. $2,000 goes to the winner and the last place finisher gets $200.

Julio T. Buel patented and began production of the first American spoon lure in 1848, after watching a large fish dart after a tablespoon he'd dropped overboard.

Fishermen have come a long way since the stone fish hook, but it will be a long time before modern methods take the sport out of fishing. Until then, the search for the ultimate lure will continue to thrive.

Events to follow on the MODCAR schedule include the July 20th and 21st dates at Williams Grove and Lincoln, and Jennerstown on August 10th.

Pointers on Blueberry picking and packing

Lower Delaware blueberry farms offer some of the best fields in the country for the popular family "sport" of picking-your-own blueberries, according to a feature on berries in the June Country Magazine, the Mid-Atlantic regional monthly.

Late in June hundreds of berry-lovers swarm the fields of pick-your-own farms that advertise in the local weeklies. The McCabe Blueberry Farm, near Selbyville, Delaware, even has a recorded telephone message advising callers of picking conditions. The pickers are an enthusiastic lot. In a couple of hours, two people can pick over 20 quarts of berries — not counting fruit consumed on the job.

Picking Delaware berries is easy, because they are the high-bush type and the picker doesn't have to crawl or bend over. Helpful hints on how to test for ripeness and on freezing berries are explained in the article.

Bill Roth news Roth-Chiles bill

Editor's Note: In this day of much needed restraints on government spending, U.S. Senator Bill Roth is making a supreme effort to do just that. Unless we emit government spending, the debt of this country will never be brought under control.

WASHINGTON - Saying he is "very unhappy" with a decision by the Reagan Administration to hold up a bill limiting federal benefits for former Presidents, Senator William V. Roth, Jr., R-Del., vowed to make sure action is taken on the bill by Congress.

"I was prepared to bring it (the bill) to the floor for a vote," Roth said. "Now I understand that Administration has succeeded in having a hold put on the bill and I must say that I am very unhappy with its action. It has taken five years to arrive at this legislation... This is a very reasonable bill and I intend to make sure action is taken."

The Roth-Chiles bill includes a limit on the size of future Presidential libraries, which are maintained and operated by the federal government. It would cut back Secret Service Protection to five years for former Presidents unless an extension is granted by the Secretary of the Treasury. A cap of $300,000 would also be established for staff salaries, office supplies, postage and travel. That amount would be reduced to $200,000 after ten years. "Let me make clear that the American people want their former Presidents to be treated with dignity and grace," Roth said. "By introducing S.571, and pushing for its enactment, Senator Chiles and I do not in any way intend to tarnish or downgrade the respect that should be accorded to our former Presidents who continue to provide valuable advice and service to our country," Roth said.

THE BOY FROM THE NOTCH IN THE ROAD
By J. Harvey Burgess
(Also published in 1942)

*On a country road, in a day long gone, Came a boy, just ambling along;
A smile in his eye, a laugh on his lips, In his heart — the tilt of a song;
A one-gallus boy, and that gallus frayed, And homely as any mud fence—
Just a good galoot, with a ready quip—And a scornor of all pretense.*

*A country boy from a notch in the road, And the notch wasn't wide at that,
And the road was long, but it led right up to the seats where the mighty sat,
Yes, it led right up to the very top, To the gifts that the gods bestowed—
But the higher it climbed, the more enshrined, The home at the notch in the road.*

*A country boy from a notch in the road—He followed that road through his days;
And he didn't care if earth called him crude, He didn't care much for its praise—
But he helped all folks he met here below, And he tried to lighten their load.
He was at his birth, he was when he died, a boy from a notch in the road.*

*HE stood before kings—and talked with the kings— And his dress was cheap hand-me-downs;
And he didn't care, for he knew that kings, were only sad men, wearing crowns!
And gladly would they, the shackled of earth, have thrown down the burdens they bore,
To walk among men, exchange all their crowns, for that old hat Will Rogers wore!*

Bill Roth news Roth-Chiles bill

Editor's Note: In this day of much needed restraints on government spending, U.S. Senator Bill Roth is making a supreme effort to do just that. Unless we emit government spending, the debt of this country will never be brought under control.

WASHINGTON - Saying he is "very unhappy" with a decision by the Reagan Administration to hold up a bill limiting federal benefits for former Presidents, Senator William V. Roth, Jr., R-Del., vowed to make sure action is taken on the bill by Congress.

"I was prepared to bring it (the bill) to the floor for a vote," Roth said. "Now I understand that Administration has succeeded in having a hold put on the bill and I must say that I am very unhappy with its action. It has taken five years to arrive at this legislation... This is a very reasonable bill and I intend to make sure action is taken."

The Roth-Chiles bill includes a limit on the size of future Presidential libraries, which are maintained and operated by the federal government. It would cut back Secret Service Protection to five years for former Presidents unless an extension is granted by the Secretary of the Treasury. A cap of $300,000 would also be established for staff salaries, office supplies, postage and travel. That amount would be reduced to $200,000 after ten years.

"Let me make clear that the American people want their former Presidents to be treated with dignity and grace," Roth said. "By introducing S.571, and pushing for its enactment, Senator Chiles and I do not in any way intend to tarnish or downgrade the respect that should be accorded to our former Presidents who continue to provide valuable advice and service to our country," Roth said.
